AS TO WHO ARE VOTERS.

Read, Consider, Then Cast Your Ballot as a Patriotic Citizen—Some Very Important Instructions to Voters—Read them Carefully.

THE DEMOCRAT has been requested to republish the statement of the financial condition of the county. These figues have been carefully compiled, so can be relied upon as being correct:

The gross debt of Clallam county on January 12th, 1891, when the present county administration took charge, was $23,754.88 There was then cash in the treasury and cash held for redemption of county warrants (a call for which was made five days later) to the amount of $13,726.26, which left the net debt of the county $10,028.62.

Of the $23,754.88 gross debt, $18,081.20 had been incurred for work done on the Dungeness-Angeles road by Contractor W. C. Williams and by Anthony O'Brien and W. H. Carey, and not for ordinary running expenses of the county.

On the 11th day of August, 1892, nineteen months after the present administration began, the indebtedness of the county was as follows:

Road bond debt	$ 90,000.00
Accured interest on same	6,690.00
Total road debt	96,690.00
General county fund warrants outstanding	53,485.00
Accrued interest on same	5,314.84
Total general fund	58,799.84
Indebtedness Middle division as per Auditor's statement of May 1st, 1892	3,021.22
Estimated accrued interest on same	100.00
Total debt Middle division	3,021.22
General road warrants outstanding	5,910.03
Estimate of interest on same	162.00
Total road warrants	6,072.03
Bridge fund warrants outstanding	923.00
Estimated interest on same	1,30
Total bridge warrants	924.30
Giving a grand total debt of	165,607.39

On August 11th, 1892, there was cash on hand as follows:

General county fund	$1,082.12
Salary fund	701.85
Road fund	1,557.80
Total	3,341.77

Which, deducted from the gross debt on that date leaves the net debt of the county, August 11th, 1892, $162,265.62. Deducting from this amount the net debt on January 17th, 1891, which was $10,028 62, shows the increased indebtedness during nineteen months to be $152,237.00.

During the present administration and up to August 11th, 1892, there was collected from all sources and paid into the county and road funds the sum of $38,392.91, which added to the present net indebtedness gives the sum of $200,658.53. Deduct from this sum the amount of warrants redeemed, which was $7,940.56, and the net debt January 12th, 1891, $10,028.62, we have the expenses of the county for the nineteen months $182,689.35, deduct from this the road bond debt, $96,690.00, which leaves $85,999.35. Deduct from this sum the amount issued by the present administration out of the road and bridge funds which was with interest $19,766.88, and it leaves $66,232.47, which less the accrued interest added above leaves $60,918.23, the amount expended during the period from January 12th, 1891, to August 11th, 1892, for the ordinary running expenses of the county.

The amount expended for the same purpose during the entire two years of the former administration was less than $16,000.00.

To arrive at this conclusion in another way we take the amount of warrants issued by the present board, without considering the road bonds, which is as follows:

County fund	$39,394.30
Bridge fund	35,506.1
Road fund	13,997.55
Salary fund	22.267.60
Total	$81,165.49

Deducting from this the $19,503 58 on the road and bridge funds we have $16,661.91 as the ordinary running expenses of the county to Oct. 12, 1892 under the

In order to make the comparison entirely fair, we deduct the amount of fees collected by the present county offices, $10,391.65, which leaves $51,270.26 expended by the present board against less than $16,000 expended by the last board during the entire term.

Be careful how mark your ballot. Place your X in the first column to the right of the candidates name on the Democratic ticket.

Interesting Paragraphs From the County Press.

Port Crescent Leader.

Mr. George W. O'Brien, the intelligent and public spirited editor of the Clallam Bay Record, had occasion to go to Port Angeles Tuesday afternoon and was embarrassed by the fact there would be no passenger steamer till Wednesday night. With the enterprise that distinguishes the newspaper profession in James Gordon Bennett style Mr. O'Brien chartered a large Government steamer which conveyed him in royal style to Port Crescent, where he was sumptuously entertained over night at the Markham house, the best hotel west of Seattle. Wednesday morning he sped away to Port Angeles on the county road, mounted on a spirited horse from the Port Crescent livery stables. He returned Wednesday afternoon bringing back the horse on the Garland. Editors do things in an enterprising style.

Surveyor F. E. Semon is making excellent progress in the survey of township 30, range 10 west, the township south of Twin. The south line of the township runs more than a mile south of the Solduck river and crosses to the north side a short distance above Moore's store. This township will therefore take in a number of settlers in the Solduck valley, who have been waiting for a survey for several years. The progress of the new surveys is a matter in which the people generally take the liveliest interest.

The majority of the people here favor the re-election of Sheriff Gould. It pays to keep good men in office, and no county official stands higher in the estimation of the people of the west end of the county than William B. Gould.

Instructions to Voters.

The following instructions have been issued by the Democratic State Central Committee:

The so called Australian Ballot system has worked such a complete change in the previous methods of voting that a person who has only voted under the old system must forget the rules by which he was formerly governed in voting.

Under the old system a voter had a ticket prepared by the political party to which he belonged. If he wished to vote for every candidate on it, he simply deposited the ticket in the ballot box without making a mark on it. If, on the other hand, he desired to vote for some whose name appeared on another ticket he was required to run a line through the name of the person on his own ticket for whom he did not wish to vote and to write the name of the person for whom he wished to vote in the place of the one "scratched."

All this is done away with by the new system. The voter is now presented by the officers of the election with a ballot on which are arranged in columns the candidates of all the different parties.

The law allows him to indicate his choice in but one way. He must not scratch, tear or otherwise mutilate his ballot. He must simply put a X in pencil or ink before or after the name of each person for whom he desires to vote. Use no other mark. A X is the mark prescribed by law, and it is doubtful if any other mark can be used. The courts of several states have held that only the mark prescribed by law can be used.

An impression seems to exist that a voter who desires to vote for every candidate on the Democratic ticket may do so by simply placing a X opposite words "Democratic Ticket." This is a great mistake, a voter who so marks his ballot might just as well have remained at home, since he has cast but a blank ballot. A X MUST BE PLACED OPPOSITE THE NAME OF EACH AND EVERY CANDDIATE FOR WHOM A VOTER DESIRES TO VOTE. The only exception to this rule is in the case of presidential electors. In that case a vote may be counted for all of the electors on the Democratic ticket by marking a X in the Democratic column opposite the words "for presidential electors."

Another caution.—It will be better for every Democratic voter to make his X in the first column to the right of the candidate's name, that is after each candidate's name; if you place it to the left you are liable to give the vote to the Republican candidate. By placing the X in the first column to the right of the Democratic candidate you will not make any mistake.

This promises to be a good year for Democratic success in this state.

Do not by failing to mark your ballot correctly be the means of losing a victory. Do not listen to anyone who advises you to mark your ballot in a different manner from what has just been stated.

The Democratic State Committee has had these instructions prepared by Democratic lawyers who have examined the law and decisions of the court for that purpose.

A REPUBLICAN SOURCE.

The Corrupt Ring Mercilessly Condemned.

IN THE REPUBLICAN

Household—A Band of Venal Pot-House Politicians—A Chapter of Interesting Reading for the Taxpayers of the County.

Before the purchase of the Times by the Tribune-Times Publishing Company and the consolidation of the Tribune-Times, the Times very severely criticised and condemned the Republican management of county affairs. The editor of the Times was a fearless, independent, upright man, who possessed too much honor and manhood, to indifferently permit crookedness, corruption and wrongdoing and not defend the interests of good government.

When this gentleman denounced that band of merciless squanderers, adventurers, ransackers of the county treasury, "as a corrupt and venal ring of small and unscrupulous though marvelously ambitious pot-house politicians." he spoke from the full light of experience, personal observation and an accurate knowledge of facts; he spoke as a patriot who loved country more than party, he spoke as a bold, fearless defender of decency and good government, he spoke in defense of a noble cause, in behalf of a people that he loved, in the interests of his country to which he owes abiding allegiance and loyalty.

The condemnatory expressions are of the present Republican county administration.

Taxpayer read and ponder these truths:

From the Times, February 4, 1892.

"To begin at the beginning there is in and about the court house in Angeles a corrupt and venal ring of small and unscrupulous, though marvelously ambitious, pot-house politicians, who, not content with already having endangered party success by their reckless and improvident management, are attempting to capture the machinery of the present campaign for purposes of their own."

"But what of the gang and its game? The nucleus of this high-binders outfit is, as everyone knows, in the auditor's office where a brace of as cold-blooded and unscrupulous boodlers as ever looted a public treasury are ensconced by virtue of the party's mistake two years ago. The remarkable official career of these party misfortunes during the first six months of their incombence, is already familiar to Times readers. Since last we had occasion to pay our respects to them, these Iscariots, who have looted everybody, friend and foe, for their own financial aggrandizement, have gone on piling up a record which is furnishing barrels of valuable ammunition for the Democratic campaign, and will down the whole Republican party locally if it attempts to carry them. The lesser of this beautiful brace of patriots officially, but the greater in self-importance, and esteem, sets himself up as a leader. He poses as a dispenser of patronage, and posts off to Washington to make it appear that he controls appointments. He holds secret meetings in his room with a handful of his chosen conferers to direct the management of the party, and, as amazing as it may seem to the Republicans of the county at large, this petty boss from Beaver has had the audacity to already portion out all local officers for the ensuing election.

* * *

"For some months past the Times has permitted things to go on quietly at their present gait in the hope that some inate sense of decency would prompt these ringsters to change their tactics, and that a harmonious front could be presented at campaign time. From the present loud-mouthed blatings of the emboldened leaders of the gang we find this to have been a mistake. So safe do they feel in their present entrenchment that they have taken the bit in their mouths and go plunging and rearing over the tender places in the party economy like so many mad bulls.

"In a desperate exigency of this sort there is but one policy to be pursued. The party must resort to desperate and heroic measures of remedy.

"It must step into the breech and pitch the gang out bodily.

"The Times calls upon every fair-minded, decent and justice-loving Republican in or out of Port Angele in Clallam county to lend a hand to this end. Will anyone wish to invite defeat when the alternative is so cheap? We think not!"

THE DEMOCRAT during the present campaign, drawing to a close has steadfastly avoided anything of a personal nature. A local Republican journal has accused THE DEMOCRAT of indulging in personalities. These accuastions were, however, utterly without foundation. THE DEMOCRAT has made its fight purely from a position of reform. It has shown, with reliable, accurate statistics, taken from the county records that the present Republican administration has been extremely and unnecessarily wasteful and extravagant in the expenditure of county funds. The fact that the present has expended $51,270.26 as against $16,000 expended by the former county administration is conclusive evidence of the truthfulness of the charges. The figures abundantly prove the statements of THE DEMOCRAT.

The criticism of the Times, a Republican journal, of the present Republican administration, is reproduced that the reader may understand that THE DEMOCRAT is not the only journal in the county that discovered the shameful abuse of public trust by the party in control of county affairs.

These are serious questions, taxpayer. They are not empty charges, an unwarranted, unjustifiable attack upon a condition existing only in fancy. But they are real truths condemning a condition existing in fact. They have not been uttered in the heat of passion, in the hour of intense political hatred but in a calm, dispassionate moment when true, tried, patriotic men see clearly before them a duty outlined, and believe whatever the cost they must perform that duty with firm, determined, positive resoluteness that is not overcome, no matter what obstacles arise in the pathway leading to righteousness and good government.

The truth has been revealed to you taxpayer.

Do your duty and the reward will be an era of honest, economical and sound government, sheding its blessings of peace, happiness, contentment, plenty and prosperity upon an oppressed people.

Vote for Democracy and good government.

The great year of reform—of Jeffersonian reform—of Democratic reform.

The band of abandoned squanderers, of adventurers, who have been responsible for plunging the county so deeply in debt, should be relieved of any further opportunity to misadminister the affairs of the county.

Any man who loves his country, reverences its institutions, believes in pure, wholesome government, conducted in the interests of all classes, will rebuke the party that has ignored the interests of the many to subserve the interests of the few.

The Republican press of Clallam county has not condemned the shameful squandering of public funds by a Republican administration. The misdeeds of that party have silently been approved by the press. Do the taxpayers of the county desire a continuance of Republican extravagance in county affairs?

Vote for Mallette and elect a man to the legislature identified with the best material interests of Clallam county.

Mallette is pledged to use his best endeavor for the repeal of the vicious, oppressive tax-collection law. His opponent on the Republican ticket is not pledged to labor for any legislation that will relieve the already overburdened taxpayers of the state.

A stinging rebuke is deserved by the present Republican county administration for its flagrant abuse of public trust.

Rise in your majestic wrath, voter and smite the party that has abused the trust you reposed in it. The present Republican county administration has squandered public funds. The press of that party has not condemned its wayward course; its acts of extravagance. The duty before you is to rebuke the party so reckless of your interests.

Vote for the Democratic candidates for county commissioners, and elect men to administer the affairs of the county who are pledged to economy and fair, impartial distribution of public road improvements throughout the county.

The voters of the county should severely rebuke the Republican county administration that has shown such gross favoritism in public road improvements, discriminating against one section in favor of another. This is a rank injustice that should be most positively condemned.

Vote as a patriot, vote for good government, vote for low taxes by placing your X in the column to the right of the Democratic candidates.

3rd District, HANS HANSEN.

ALL hail to Cleveland and reform.

SNIVELY is fighting a winning battle.

IT is the great tidal wave of Democracy, the year of reform.

GET together Democrats and strike a decisive blow for Democracy and reform.

A VOTE for Wm. B. Gould for sheriff is a vote for a capable, honest official.

R. N. WILSON should receive the entire Democratic vote for commissioner for this district.

A VOTE for Dan Bryan is a vote for an honest, capable, competent man for county attorney.

VOTE for Wm. B. Gould for sheriff. He has made an excellent record and should be re-elected.

VOTE your convictions, vote for good government, vote for honest men, vote for men identified with the town and county next Tuesday.

IT would be a mistake to elect a man to the legislature who has no property interests in the county.

Do your duty taxpayer. The Democratic candidates are pledged to labor for the reforms you demand

VOTE for Mrs. Lena Wilcox for school superintendent, and elect a thoroughly efficient person to that office.

IF you desire that an able jurist, a thoroughly qualified lawyer shall don the judicial ermine, vote for Lemuel M. Lane.

CLALLAM county is in the triumphal march of reform with the banner of victory majestically floating over her.

EVERY patriotic citizen will vote for Mallette for the legislature. He is closely in touch with the best interests of Port Angeles and Clallam county.

THE opportunity to severely rebuke squandering and extravagance in public office will be presented next Tuesday. Will you embrace it, taxyayer?

PLUCK and courage, skill and tact, directed with intelligence and enthusiasm will win the battle, Democrats. You are right and right will triumph in the end.

THE silly, unfounded charge of ineligibility against Mr. Mallette is absolutely the only charge made against him by the opposition press. And that utterly failed.

CAST your ballot for the Democratic ticket. The candidates on that ticket are pledged to conduct their various offices upon a basis strictly within an economical limit.

NEXT Tuesday will dawn an era of reform, of prosperity, the breaking of the morning of an honest and an economical administration of national, state and county affairs.

BE patriotic of home interests, and support Mallette for the legislature. As a property owner he is closely identified with the material interests of Port Angeles and Clallam county.

A VOTE for Robt. N. Wilson, Hans Hansen and J. B. Dick for county commissioners, is an indorsement of the economical plank these men have been pledged to redeem if elected.

MR. MALLETTE has expended thousands of dollars in public improvements in Port Angeles. Is this not abundant proof that he is identified with the best material interests of the town and county as well?

CHARLES E. MALLETTE is identified with Port Angeles and its best interests, with everything that is for the material advancement of Clallam county. Is he not the man you want to represent you in the state legislature?

RISE as patriots and smite the party that attempts to win a victory by slander, abuse and falsehood. From such depravity good government can never flow. It is rather the abiding place of wicked, degenerate evildoers.

EVERY Democrat who is true to his principles, his convictions, will vote the straight Democratic ticket. There is no good reason why you should not support every candidate on your ticket, as they are honest, capable and deserving.

A REPORT utterly without foundation has been circulated that if Mrs. Lena Wilcox, candidate for school superintendent, is elected, she will have to employ a deputy, and that will unnecessarily increase the cost of that office. Mrs. Wilcox emphatically denies the report, and says that if she is elected and is compelled to employ a deputy, she will pay for such service out of her pocket.

DEMOCRATS be true to your principals next Tuesday. Vote your ticket. You have a representative ticket. The candidates are men of unquestioned integrity, qualifications and ability. Support your ticket, fight for your principles.

THERE certainly should be that degree of patriotism, love of home, and home interests to give Charles E. Mallette, candidate for the legislature, an overwhelming majority. Citizens of Port Angeles will you prove loyal to your home and your county?

No more extravagance, no more plundering of the public treasury, no more unjust favoritism. Away with such flagrant abuse of public office. The people have determined to severely rebuke the Republican party for its misuse of public power.

As brave, determined, undaunted men, Democrats, to battle Tuesday moning for the reform absolute to the perpetuity of this government. Fight with the valor, skill and courage of the warriors of old, and victory will crown the cause you so valiantly fought for.

THE people of a great nation have turned their eyes to New York That state occupies the strategical point of the presidential election. As goes New York so goes the nation. The prospects of carrying that state are overwhelmingly in favor of the Democracy.

EVERY citizen who is interested in good government, will support the candidate for the legislature who is identified with the community, interested in its material welfare. For these reasons and many others every patriotic citizen should vote for Charles E. Mallette for representative.

MR. HANS HANSEN, Democratic nominee for commissioner, has made a thorough canvass of the county and will certainly be elected commissioner for the Third district. The citizens of Clallam county may well congratulate themselves on the prospect, too, as Mr. Hansen is a man peculiarly qualified for this position. By education and by training he is especially fitted for the complex duties of this office, and being a man of courage and honesty, to corrupt him will be impossible.

CAST your ballot for Charles E. Mallette, the Democratic candidate for the legislature. Mr. Mallette is thoroughly identified with Clallam county and its best interests. He favors the repeal of the oppressive tax-collection law, of the Pinkerton iniquity, and the passage of such laws as will relieve the people. Mr. Mallette is pledged to labor for such reform. His opponent was nominated upon a platform that approved the Republican national, state and county administration. Which position do you approve, tax-payer? Who will you support?

JUDGE FRANK T. REED, of Tacoma, made a strong argument for the populists yesterday. Mr. Reed is an orator of the first class. He is a clear thinker and logical reasoner, by far the ablest man on his ticket, and if he should be elected as a member of the state supreme court, the state would have no cause to feel ashamed of its choice. Mr. Reed's summary of America's condition was graphic and too true. He is a free trader and wants more money. Mr. Reed would make a stalwart Democrat.

REMEMBER!

The efficacy of that word. The magnitude of its importance. The infinite significance of its meaning. Voter remember on election day to do your duty. Remember the scandals of the late Republican legislature; rememcer the extravagance of the present county administration; remember that you can not hope for economy, lighter taxation from the reelection of the Republican party; remember the iniquitous tax-collection law; remember the Pinkerton infamy is one of Republican conception; remember with your ballot you can rebuke the party that has had so little regard for your welfare.

THESE things are as nearly settled as is possible to settle anything before election:

Grover Cleveland will be the next president. Indiana has been given up by the Republicans. New York would be given up by them if they did not realize that that would be to give up the fight.

The next house of representatives will be Democratic.

The next senate will be controlled against the Republican party by Democrats and Populists.

Now, will Washington and Clallam county be in line with the nation? All that will be received as benefits by this county will have to come through Democratic channels—therefore to get the most good out of the incoming administration, Clallam county should give her vote to the Democrats.

SNIVELY has completely refuted every charge made against him by the venomous and false charges of the Post-Intelligencer. Notwithstanding this, that journal continues to viciously attack him. This gang of plunderers are madly desperate and bound to retain their grasp upon the state no matter at what cost. The disreputable means employed to accomplish that end must be apparent to every sensible citizen of Washington. Will the intelligent, patriotic citizens of this fair state longer permit this depraved, abandoned band of adventurers, political schemers to prostitute public office to such unworthy purpose? Government dominated by such an element cannot otherwise than become corrupt.

THE DUTY BEFORE YOU.

The great political contest is drawing to a close. Before another week rolls around the battle will have been finished and, the people of a great nation will greet their chosen leader, renew their allegiance to the constitution, their faith, loyalty and fealty, cast aside for the time being political difference and unite as one people, in a common cause resolutely bent upon the betterment of the condition of humanity generally. In battle array the great political parties have firmly entrenched their forces. He would indeed, be very stupid, positively ignorant, did he not realize that the pending struggle will be fierce, bitter and extremely intense. The generals on either side are giants in intellect, old-time warriors, who have faught many a bitter struggle, and enter the contest with the light of years' of experience in political warfare. The plan of battle has been studied and outlined, every position carefully weighed, the strategical points in the situation profoundly considered, and the contestents calmly, hopefully and confidently awaiting the dawing of the morrow that shall send them to battle for the victory that will come to the strong and valiant sons of men.

The situation is, indeed, most favorable to Democratic success. In some of the Republican strongholds, there is an apathy, indifference, that evidences an alarming degree of demoralization. There is an unrest, dissatisfaction among the people that foreshadows a political revolution. A change is imminent, a change will surely come. The people of the country have appealed to the Democratic party for relief from the oppressive and iniquitous legislation the Republican party has inflicted upon them. To the party in power they have appealed time and time again. And they have appealed in vain. Their petitions have not been granted; their requests have been ignored. They now realize that the relief sought must come through the Democratic party.

They hail as their leader matchless Grover, and with renewed energy, courage, determination and zeal enlist in the cause of Democracy and reform to achieve a glorious victory.

But eternal vigilence is the price of liberty. Success will not be attained without united, earnest and an intelligently directed effort. Every man must do his duty fearlessly, courageously and with an enthusiasm that will overcome every obstacle. Do not underestimate the strength of the enemy. The battle will not be won without a fierce struggle. Equip yourself for such a contest and you will win.

Your duty is plainly outlined.

Prove yourself a worthy champion of so grand a cause.

At the Non-Partisan Ball.

The non-partisan ball given at the opera house last Saturday evening was, indeed, a decided success, socially as well as financially. The attendance was unusually large, and partisan feelings and partisan differences, strange as it may seem, had for the time being been laid aside, and every person did all in his power to contribute to the pleasure of others. The non-partisan ball will long be remembered as one of the "silver bells of memory."

Go and hear an able address by the next governor of Washington at the opera house Monday evening.

That Angeles is steadily advancing finds abundant proof in the increasing importation of general merchandise.

A grand Democratic rally will be held in the opera house Monday evening next. Prominent speakers will address the meeting.

Sunday morning subject at the Congregational church will be "The Elect" Evening subject will be "God Fighting in the Battles of the Nations."

A boom of logs containing about 500,000 feet, was towed into the harbor for Mr. Peter Mohndick, of Gettysburg. The logs will be sold to some of the up-Sound mills.

The outrageously loose manner in which county affairs have been conducted during the present administration has cost $51,270.26. The former administration only expended $16,000. Isn't it about time for a change?

The Northern. Union Pacific and Great Northern railways are having circulars, phamphlets and other advertising matter scattered broadcast throughout the Eastern and Western states, advertising Port Angeles and the Soldier Colony proposition.

Judge Frank Reed of Tacoma, delivered an able address to the populace Thursday afternoon. A stirring speech was also made by Mr. Ennes. The remarks of these gentlemen were unnecessarily cut short as they had to leave for up-sound on the steamer Monticello.

The machinery for a new steam launch that is being built by Mr. Wm. Dawson, for use on Lake Crescent, has been received by the builder. The launch will be about fifty feet in length, and constructed with a view to accommodate pleasure-seekers, who desire an excursion on the lake.

The affairs of Clallam county must be conducted on a sound, business basis. Squandering of public funds, useless expenditures, discriminations in the improvement of public highways, are some of the gross abuses that have characterized the present county management. Taxpayer, you have a duty to perform. Will you perform that duty as a patriotic citizen?

There is certainly no baking powder so well known and generally used as the Royal. Its perfect purity, as well as its superiority in leavening power, are matters of fact no longer disputed by honest dealers or makers of other brands. Its virtues are so well known to every housekeeper that the slanders of the dishonest makers of cheaper goods fail to touch it.

The Monticello resumed her place on the Angeles-Seattle route last Sunday. Since the withdrawal of this steamer from this route she has undergone a thorough overhauling. A powerful new boiler, of the first-class make has taken the place of old one, and other improvements which will result in making this steamer more serviceable have been made.

Several of the girls of the Baptist Sunday school will give a social and entertainment at the residence of Rev. M. N. Squire, on Fifth street—next door to Squatters Hall this Friday evening. One of the features of the evening will be the sale of a collection of fancy articles, made by the girls, for the benefit of the church. A nickle baited hook secures some one of the articles. A cordial welcome to all.

"Happy" Dick McDonald, proprietor of the Lake View house at Lake Crescent, has of late been pestered much by martens, they having killed for him an even dozen of pullets, calling upon Mr. John Harding, whose claim adjoins "Happy Dick's," together they devised a trap to catch the annimals, setting it over night, they succeeded in catching two more pullets. "Happy Dick" is now casting about for a better marten trap.

The connecting link between the county Burlingame road and Port Crescent is now completed by the county under the carefull eye of the road supervisor of that district, Mr. J. H. Albright. A better piece of road in general, the county has not within its limits, particularly about 100 yards of planking, which is simply first-class. The master builder of county roads, Mr. Burlingame, might well receive pointers from Mr. Albright.

Surveyor Blackwood, while running the south boundary line of township 30 north, range 9 west, narrowly escaped, from consequences unpleasant to himself as well as to the settlers in the township. The line, is a very difficult one to run, being on the main range of the Olympics, many offsets are necessary, owing to perpendicular cliffs, in working up one of the cliffs, he lost his footing, but luckily caught a root which saved a fall of many feet, and, was hauled up by his assistants. He says he thought he was hanging a couple of hours—but probably the time wouldn't exceed as many minutes.

AT THE COUNCIL.

The city council held their regular meeting last Wednesday night. The mayor, Councilmen McInnes and Lewis being absent.

They granted a petition for a sidewalk out Lincoln street to the city limits.

It was ordered that John Cain, who had received a franchise for a wharf at the foot of Tumwater street be notified to file a bond for $1000 for the faithful carrying out of the conditions of his franchise, before the 23rd of November.

THE BOARD OF TRADE.

The Question of Transportation Seriously Discussed.

The question of better transportation facilities has been for some time past under serious consideration by the board of trade. Port Angeles has arrived at that point in her progress that she demands and must secure better transportation.

For some time past Col. Coolican has been in correspondence with T. G. Shaughnessy, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific railway, relative to that gentleman using his influence to secure throught his system better transportation facilities to Port Angeles. Mr. Coolican asked that the Canadian Pacific railway co-operate with Port Angeles and provide this city with the transportation its importance demands, and it would not only secure the transportation of the soldier colonists, but other patronage that citizens would extend.

Mr. Shaughuessy at once communicated with General Passenger Agent McNicoll to investigate the matter McNicoll in turn wrote to J. G. Knuckey, general traveling agent at Tacoma, instructing him to go to Angeles at once and ascertain what was demand of that road, and assure the people here that they would do as well by them as any other system.

While here Mr. Knuckey made arrangements for the transportation over the Canadian Pacific railway of the next soldier colony excursion party, that leaves Michigan the 10th inst.

The Canadian Pacific railroad management has also taken under consideration the proposition to provide Angeles with better steamer service.

Mr. S. G. Yerkes, agent of the Northern Pacific railroad, visited Angeles last week in the interest of his company. The object of his visit was to thoroughly investigate the transportation question, and ascertain the volume of business done here, the extent of frieght and passenger traffic, so as to report to his company whether or not in his judgment the amount of business would justify the regular calling in at the port of the Puget Sound Steamship company's boats.

Mr. Yerkes will again be in Angeles to meet the committe on transportation, when he will make a proposition looking to the placing on this route of the Alaska & Puget Sound Steam Ship company's boats.

It was the unanimous sentiment of the board that no pledges be made to any transportation company. That the patronage be given to the system that extends a helping hand.

Mr. Louis Williams was of the opinion that citizens of Angeles could hope for more from the Canadian Pacific railroad than from any other competing system.

Mr. G. V. Smith stated that he had done a great deal of business with the Canadian Pacific railroad. That he had brought one thousand persons from the East to Port Angeles over that road, and had never had a pledge from the company, but the treatment received was fair, honorable and just. That company always did their duty.

Mr. Lewis Levy believed that railroads should be treated as they treated us. Did not favor giving Northern Pacific railroad anything until that company recognized our rights. Must show the Union Pacific and Northern Pacific railways that we are independent of them. Then we can hope for decent treatment.

When in Tacoma, recently, Dr. Gore called upon General Agents Nadeau and Chandler, of the Northern Pacific railway and elaborated upon the growth and the material advantages of Angeles, and suggested that these gentlemen look into the matter of having the Alaska & Puget Sound Steam Ship company's steamers call in here. These gentlemen assured him that they would at once take they would at once take the matter under consideration.

A proposition has been made to the Western Washington Development company by Chicago firms that they will take one hundred carloads of shingles, if that company could fill the order. An effort is being made to secure a 53 cent rate from Angeles to Chicago, and in the event it can be secured, arrangements will at once be made for the establishment of a large shingle mill.

Mr. Chas. Peters, of the World's Fair Commission, requested the co-operation of the board of trade to secure a creditable exhibit for the World's fair. A committee was appointed to assist him.

There will be a joint meeting of the board of trade, soldier colony association and citizens at the opera house next Thursday night for the purpose of formulating a plan to work G. A. R. movement in the most comprehensive measures possible.

THE SHINGLE MILL A GO.

Let Citizens Do Their Part and the Mill Will be Built.

Mr. Thos. Malony has at last enlisted Seattle and Tacoma capitalists in the shingle making enterprise. His trip to the above places resulted in much. About $5000 has already been subscribed by Port Angeles people and Seattle men are willing to take a good portion of the stock. All they ask is that the home capital procure right of way and grade the tramroad. They are willing to provide all the machinery necessary for the plant, all rails, spikes, etc., and one engine. Much of the right of way has already been gotten and the remainer has been promised.

If those owning property along the promised route, which is up the west branch of Ennis creek, will at once come forward and guarantee right of way for a logging railroad, the whole thing can be completed this winter.

It is very important that this project be pushed at once. It means a plant that will begin with an output of 100,000 shingles per day. and this means employment for from forty to sixty men.

Mr. Malony has heard from the sample car load he sold at Nepance, Ind., while east and the parties receiving it are well pleased with the shingles. They report that they are much better in every respect than any thing they ever received before from Michigan, and much better than they expect to receive from here.

They want to enter into a contract for two hundred car-lords for the year ending Jan 1st, 1893—A dispatch was also received from a firm at St. Joseph, Mo., who want one car load at once, and two carloads next year. This signifies that that there is a market, and as we have the raw material in abundance there is no reason why we should not supply it.

Now let us quit the work of "politics" and go at the legitimate and necessary work of earning "foreign" money.

COLUMBUS DISCOVERED

America in 1492. Everybody knows that; but who Discovered Columbus?

We will not try to answer this question, but judging from the number of BOOTS and SHOES we are selling we know that the people of Port Angeles and Clallam County,

HAVE DISCOVERED

That the NEW YORK BOOT AND SHOE HOUSE is the best and cheapest place in town to buy their footwear.

WHY?

BECAUSE—Bright folks take heed of other people's experience. Few things cost more in this world than experience. Now our experience in the shoe trade has been quite extensive. All our customers get the benefit of our experience. for by it we are able to sell the best goods for the least money.

THE BELLBUOY.

Like a restless, troubled spirit,
Self accused beyond excusing,
Seeking rest where none is offered,
Vainly striving for release—
Writhes the bellbuoy in the ocean
As each wave in mad commotion
Buffets it without relenting,
Or a whispered word of peace.

Sunbeams may each day caress it,
Or the storm king howl above it,
To each one the wail goes upward
In a never ending moan,
And the glistening sea gulls hear it
As they hover and pass near it,
And the rocky shores repeat it
In a muffled undertone.

Oh, the pathos of its life song,
Changing not as years roll onward—
Its one note of weary wailing
Outward borne unceasingly!
Prisoner in Neptune's clasping,
Chafing under cord and hasping—
Angel thou of mercy! warning
Countless sails that pass thee by.

A Battle with a Bee.

An observer writes us that he is satisfied that there is just as much rivalry between humming birds and bees in their quest for honey as there is between members of the human race in their struggle for the good things of life, and describes a recent quarrel that he saw in a Portland garden, where a humming bird with an angry dash expressed its disapproval of the presence of a big bumblebee in the same tree. The usually pugnacious bee incontinently fled, but he did not leave the tree. He dashed back and forth among the branches and white blossoms, the humming bird in close pursuit.

Where will you find another pair that could dodge and dart equal to these? They were like flashes of light, yet the pursuer followed the track of the pursued, turning when the bee turned. In short, the bird and the bee controlled the movements of their bodies more quickly and more accurately than he could control the movements of his eyes. The chase was all over in half the time that it has taken to tell it, but the excitement of a pack of hounds after a fox was no greater. The bee escaped, the bird giving up the whole chase and alighting on a twig.—Portland Transcript.

The Stomach of a Fish.

Mr. Hyman Herman, who has been fishing in Keg creek, near Sandersonville, Ga., during the past week, has returned. He had most remarkable luck in the piscatorial sport, and brought to some of his friends large assortments of fish. He gave one string to Mr. Mack Duggan, and while the cook was cleaning a large channel catfish she was dumfounded by discovering two brass buttons in the fish's stomach. On close inspection the following inscription could be discerned on one of the buttons: "Gen. Wheeler, 1864." The other button contained these words. "Sherman bound for the sea."

They were scratched on the under side of the button by some sharp pointed instrument.

It is an historical fact that during Sherman's raid through Georgia he camped one night on the banks of Keg creek, on the same ground which General Wheeler had occupied the night before, and soon after a freshet washed the buttons in the creek. Mr. Duggan has the buttons and intends sending them to the World's fair. He has been offered twelve dollars for them, but refused the offer.—Atlanta Constitution.

Summer Dress of Congressmen.

Visitors to congress are not struck by the dignity of attire affected by senators and representatives in these warm days. True, the atmosphere of both chambers is almost unbearable lately, but that need not deter the senators from maintaining a little care in assuming negligee. To see a great legislator strolling around in limp trousers that would aptly costume a Joshua Whitcomb is not edifying. The absence of waistcoats is not a crime; indeed, it is a sensible fashion if proper care is bestowed upon the arrangement of the garments that remain. In this connection the fashion bulletins for congress should advise gentlemen who lay aside their waistcoats to supply themselves with ample belts, or even the despised "Gordon sash," if they wish to preserve the admiration of visiting constituents. It is very hard to have any veneration for a body of men costumed with the lack of care displayed by the senate for the last few weeks.—Mrs. McGuirk in Kate Field's Washington.

Pope's Villa for Sale.

Another historic house is in the market. This is Pope's villa, Twickenham, which once belonged to the great poet, and was the scene wherein he composed many of his works. It has been occupied for nearly a quarter of a century by Mr. Henry Labouchere, M. P., and was some years ago associated with the performance of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" by a company of amateurs and professionals, which formed quite an epoch in the history of pastoral plays.

The grounds are extensive and run down to the river's edge. The show place in them is the grotto which is supposed to have been Pope's favorite resort. The villa is prettily situated in a nest of trees and faces toward Ham house, the residence of the Earl of Dysart.—London Star.

Motors for Hot Weather.

It is not merely an aggravation when a pedestrian, with pleasing expectancy, seeks the sidewalk shaded by great buildings, to find, instead of the coolness belonging to shade, outrushing volumes of hot air through grating and basement window. How much more comfortable it would be for the occupants were the hot furnaces and boilers allowed to go fireless through summer, and to grow cool, cold, frigid—until the latter sort of weather came again! This might be accomplished by bringing in a cold electric motor or two and a couple of cold wires. It would not only conduce to the bodily comfort of all in the vicinity, but be a profitable change for power users.—Practical Electricity.

A Big Project.

The government of Holland has a project on hand to drain the Zuyder Zee. It is a vast lagoon of some 700 square miles superficial area and is useless on account of its shallowness for purposes of navigation, while as agricultural land it is estimated to be very valuable. The cost of the dam is estimated at £3,675,000 and of the draining at £13,000,000. It is estimated that thirty years will be required to complete the whole.—Paris Letter.

The rose crops in Bulgaria and France have been so severely damaged by hoar frosts and cold rains that there is scarcely enough to supply the demands of the pomade manufacturers.

Rubber heels, to facilitate marching, are to be attached to the shoes worn by French soldiers. Experiments with them have given decided satisfaction.

A Monster Structure.

I spent a long time in wandering about the Manufactures building. It is the biggest building ever planned, and it will have one roof covering thirty acres. Senator Ingalls came out and looked at it the other day, and as he gazed, astounded at its immensity, he said: "It is an exhalation! Yesterday it was not, today it is and tomorrow it will have passed away. I can see how you can fence it in, but to roof it almost surpasses human conception!" Think of putting a massive glass and iron roof over a thirty acre field! That is what the men are doing here today, and I saw them at work putting up the great iron trusses which will support this roof.

You cannot conceive the size of this structure without seeing it. Three hundred thousand people could be seated on the floor and in the galleries and 80,000 could be seated on the floor alone. The Coliseum at Rome, with all its galleries, could only seat 87,000 people, and it was never roofed except with canvas. You could put four coliseums on that floor, and two pyramids as big as Cheops would sit upon it side by side and leave room for the Capitol at Washington. If the great pyramid was taken to pieces and carried here its material could be stored in this building and you could look down upon its masses of stone from the galleries.

This building is about a third of a mile long. Thirty great staircases, so wide that two carriages could be driven up them side by side, will lead to wide galleries and there will be a street fifty feet wide running through the center. With its galleries it will have forty acres of floor space, and it tires one even to think of its possible contents.—Chicago Cor. Lancaster Examiner.

Electric Light on Battlefields.

The ubiquity of electricity is becoming almost proverbial. From the "brightest spot on earth" to the blood stained battlefields is rather a far cry, but there is no end to the application of electricity. A recent telegram from Austria described some experiments of great interest which have recently been carried out successfully there. The difficulty of searching for the wounded on the night after a great battle has been one which has long occupied the attention of military reformers, and the army medical service in Austria has been endeavoring to determine how far the electric light may be utilized for this humane end.

The value of powerful search lights with reflectors has been proved in naval affairs, and at Suakim and elsewhere soldiers have found them very effective on open ground. They would be equally effective under similar conditions for assisting in picking up the wounded, but when the battle has raged over a wide extent of country, or when the fighting has occurred amid woods and brushwood, the use of this class of light is attended with difficulty.—Electrical Review.

A Dog's Political Preferences.

Out at Abilene the man who runs a transfer wagon and smashes the drummers' trunks owns a dog. He is just a common, old fashioned cur. But the dog votes, and votes right. His master every morning upon the arrival of the Texas and Pacific train gets his dogship to show off before the crowd. "Do you vote for Clark?" the canine is asked. He rises up on his hind feet, his front ones high in the air, his body perfectly erect and nods his head. "Do you vote for Hogg?" the master inquires. The dog gets down flat upon the floor and buries his face in his front legs, the very picture of negation. These daily performances have come to be well advertised in Abilene and always draw a crowd. Should Judge Clark be successful that dog will be installed in state at Austin next January, and for two years at least will be the best fed animal in Texas.—Dallas News.

A Boiling Hole.

In Noble county, W. Va., there is a fathomless sea, composed of salt water and oil, from which gas escapes with a tremendous roar. Twenty years ago a well was drilled there to the depth of 1,900 feet. Some years later water and gas escaped from the hole with great pressure, tearing out the tubing and cutting a cavern apparently hundreds of feet deep and forty feet in diameter. After it ceased to flow a farmer filled it up and built a barn over it, and again a few days ago a terrific report announced another explosion of the well, oil and water pouring out in abundance. In a single day the hole became fathomless and about forty feet wide.—Chicago Herald.

An Animal Tramp.

Mark Twain made the coyote famous—or notorious, if you please. In "Roughing It" the poor animal is described as the sneak thief of the plains, a tramp of the desert. Whether he is as bad as he is painted or not, the California legislature has put a price on his head. As a result within the six months just passed 20,299 of these lank animals have been killed in the Golden State at a cost to the government of $101,995.—Kansas City Times.

Will Be Heard All Over Paris.

A monster bell, one of the largest of its kind, specially cast for the new Church of the Sacred Heart on the heights of Montmartre, has been completed at Annecy, in Savoy. This immense instrument, which, when hung in its lofty position, will be audible all over Paris, weighs, with its clapper, nearly twenty-five tons.—Paris Cor. London Telegraph.

The Best Man Was Late.

The best man was late at one of last week's weddings, and his appearance after the ceremony had begun created a sensation.—Boston Saturday Gazette.

Sunstroke Stops the Wedding of 75 and 25.

A marriage was interrupted Thursday night by the groom becoming suddenly overcome with the heat and he had to be taken to his hotel, where he has been confined to his bed ever since.

The groom in question is Mr. W. S. Fowler who boards at the Enterprise hotel. Until a short while ago he conducted a livery stable on East Market street, but retired about a year ago with a comfortable fortune. Mr. Fowler is a widower, seventy-five years old, and has several grown children. A short while ago he met Miss Lillie Townsend, a young woman twenty-five years of age, who is employed by J. Bacon & Sons at the glove counter.

The courtship did not last long till the engagement was announced. Mr. Fowler's children, it seems, objected strongly to the marriage and did everything in their power to break off the match. They were unsuccessful, however, and June 15, the day set for the marriage, arrived. The wedding was to take place where Miss Townsend has boarded for several years. Everything was in readiness at the time appointed—the guests, the minister and the happy couple.

Just before the time for the ceremony Mr. Fowler became very faint and would have fallen but for the support of one of the guests. He soon lost consciousness and was taken to the Enterprise hotel in a carriage, where he was put to bed and the doctor summoned. His condition was found not to be serious, but he was suffering from a slight case of sunstroke.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

An Imprisoned Genius.

Alberto Lopaz, who was taken to Yuma recently to serve a two years' term for burglary gave his personal effects to his friends about the jail. Deputy Barry was presented with a facsimile of the Episcopal church made out of pasteboard. Lopaz could see the church from one of the jail windows, and he reproduced it almost perfectly. He borrowed a knife from Deputy Sheridan with which he cut up the pasteboard, and then made paste from flour with which to stick the pieces together. It is a piece of workmanship to be proud of. The greatest production of Lopaz while confined in jail here is a reproduction of the magnificent Merchants' exchange building in Guadalajara. The entire affair is constructed of paper. On the inside of the building are the stairways, etc., each perfect in its construction. The prisoner must be possessed of a memory much stronger than most men are, to remember every detail of that large structure for a number of years. However much genius the man possessed, he has made bad use of it.—Phœnix Herald.

Troublesome Seals.

The salmon fishermen down the river and bay are having trouble this spring from the seals, as usual. These pests are multiplying rather than decreasing and are causing great losses to the weirs. While the seals of the arctic regions have the reputation of being slow, stupid animals, hunters killing them with clubs, those on the Maine coast are the sharpest game to be found. They will go in and out of the salmon weirs, either by force or strategy, and eat all the fish they want. They are very hard to get a shot at, and when hit sink to the bottom, the carcass thus being lost to the gunner. One fisherman remarked on a recent Saturday that there was a small fortune in store for the man who would invent a trap that would catch seals and hold them. The bounty upon them doesn't seem to do a bit of good.—Bangor (Me.) Commercial.

No Buyer for Raleigh's Youghall House.

Sir Walter Raleigh's Irish home in Youghall, County Cork, which belonged to the late Sir John Pope Hennessy, M. P., was put up for sale by Messrs. E. & H. Lumley, in the Auction mart, Tokenhouse yard. The house is a fine specimen of Elizabethan architecture. It was there that Sir Walter smoked the first pipe of tobacco in Ireland and received an unexpected bath from a faithful servant maid, who, on seeing the blue smoke emerging from her master's mouth and curling around his head, thought Sir Walter was falling a victim to spontaneous combustion and threw a pail of cold water over him to extinguish the conflagration. Only £1,250 was bid for the property, which was accordingly bought in by the auctioneer, who said he could not think of selling a historical mansion like it for such a figure.—London Telegraph.

Telephone from Paris to Bordeaux.

At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon the new telephone line between Paris and Bordeaux was opened. Complimentary messages were exchanged between the presidents of the chambers of commerce of both cities, and the minister of commerce, and the mayor of Bordeaux. The telephone works exceedingly well, every word being clearly heard. Before concluding the Elysee telephone was hitched on and a complimentary message sent through from Bordeaux to President Carnot, to which he replied in suitable terms.—Galignani Messenger.

Snow in June, but None in Winter.

Persons returning from the hills report that a foot of snow fell Wednesday. It extended down within 2,000 feet of the plains. A shower of "round" snow fell in the vineyards between Fresno and the base of the Sierra Nevada mountains, where no snow fell at any time last winter.—Fresno Cor. San Francisco Chronicle.

W. C. Crawford is now, at the age of eighty-six, living in destitution at Alvarado, Tex. He is the sole survivor of the band of patriots who signed the declaration of Texas independence at Washington, on the Brazos river, March 2, 1836.

During a masked ball at Covent Garden theater thieves made off with valuable diamonds and jewelry which they are said to have cut from the ladies' dresses.

What We Want Is Sounds.

We have no symbols to represent the sound of a sigh, a kiss, a chirp, a groan, though characters expressive of these would be of great service to novelists; but, on the other hand, we have three distinct characters—f, ff and ph—expressing exactly the same sound.

Then how imperfect and arbitary we are in the use of those symbols which we possess; th is all we can do to express the initial sound of thing and thine, though a Welsh writer can show the difference by making the former an aspirated t, the latter an aspirated d; yet in this repect we are better off than the French, who cannot employ the aspirated dental at all. Englishmen are inclined to wonder why the Chinese, with all their ancient civilization, have no symbol for the consonant r, and are apt to forget that, except at the beginning of a syllable, that letter has become in their own language a mute redundancy.

The following sentence, for example, might be perfectly well expressed in Chinese characters, "Sour barts are more alarming than certain earls," for, in colloquial English, not one of these seven r's would be trilled.—Blackwood's Magazine.

Early Railway Traveling.

The first regular train service in England commenced on the Liverpool and Manchester railway on Friday, Sept. 17, 1830, two days after the opening of the line. It was not on a very ambitious scale; three trains each way on week days and two on Sundays were deemed quite sufficient. The novelty of the thing, however, at first and very soon its proved safety and efficiency, led at once to a much larger traffic than had been anticipated, and as soon as the company could obtain more rolling stock the service was increased.

For a time people who had ventured to risk their lives by the new mode of conveyance were the objects of admiration for their courage or of contempt for their foolhardiness; but one by one the coaches had to be taken off the road, and everybody went by rail.

The time occupied in the journey was at first seldom more than two hours and often less, the distance being thirty-one miles; but even this rate was too fast for some people, for a gentleman, writing about six weeks after the opening of the line, says the speed was too great to be pleasant and caused him to feel somewhat giddy.—Cornhill Magazine.

The Girdle Is Useful.

A most useful article for ladies to have in their possession is a girdle, the like of which a friend of mine has just brought from Paris. The girdle is made of gold lace or filigree, substantial, but not harsh, and is studded all over with jewels of various colors. The ends are passed around the waist from the front, crossing behind, and, again coming forward, are allowed to fall in front or on one side, being fastened loosely shortly below the waist. The ends are finished off with gold fringe.

The girdle is most adaptable and can be worn with a morning wrapper, a tea gown, or an evening dress. When I saw it, it was associated with a summer tea gown of pretty design. The material was a combination of cotton and wool in pale blue, with white stripes. It had a sailor collar, with narrow lace edging and lace cuffs. The garment was decidedly loose, and of fair length behind.—Philadelphia Press.

The Jews and the Moon.

Dr. Goldziher refers to the occasional luniolatry of the Jews. "Queen or princess of heaven," he writes, "is a very frequent name for the moon. Even in the latest times the Hebrews called the moon the 'Queen of Heaven,' and paid her divine honors in this character at the time of the captivity. What was the antiquity of this lunar worship among the Hebrews is testified (as has long been known) by the part played by Mount Sinai in the history of the Hebrew religion. The mountain must in ancient times have been consecrated to the moon."

The peculiar symbol of Ashtaroth and the other lunar deities appears to have been a heifer or a figure with a heifer's head and horns resembling the crescent moon.—London Standard.

A Bright Little Animal.

Taking his size into consideration, the mole is the strongest animal we know. Whatever he does, too, he does with all his might. One can see the reason of the comparison "blind as a bat;" but why folks should ever say "blind as a mole" is incomprehensible to me. Watch him as he runs about in the bright sunshine, after a spell of underground work, and tell me whether you think those eyes of his, small though they are, do not serve him in good stead. And that beautiful coat never shows any dirt upon it, no matter how clayey the soil may be among which he works.—Pall Mall Budget.

When White Stockings Were Worn.

Those who are middle aged well remember when white and balbriggan were the two colors universally worn. In those years colored stockings, except in silk, were very rarely seen, and a large item in everybody's wardrobe was dozens of stockings, a clean pair being often as necessary as a clean collar. At the present day Germany manufactures the greatest amount of hosiery.—Dry Goods Economist.

A Woman Editor for a "Funny" Paper.

A Miss Murphy edits the Melbourne Punch, one of the funniest and most flourishing of colonial comic papers. She joined the staff some years ago in a subordinate capacity, and has attained to her present position solely by her ability. She is a great advocate of woman's rights, and is exceedingly handsome.

One of the Earliest Weapons.

The sling was one of the earliest inventions in the way of a weapon, and was itself an improvement on the stone thrown by hand, which was the rudest and most primitive method of fighting.—Harper's Young People.
