THE CITY'S LAW MAKERS

Newly Installed Mayor and Council Have a Long First Session.

The new mayor, Dr. T. J. Appleton, and councilmen Bown, Brophy and Thompson, were installed Tuesday evening; the new council having its first regular session Wednesday.

Mayor Appleton appointed the following committees:

Streets — Thompson, Brophy; Finance—Brumfield and Brophy; Electric Light—Polhamus, Grubb; F., L. & W.—Grubb, Polhamus; Franchise—Hallahan, Thompson; Ordinance — Brumfield, Bown; Fire Wardens — Hallahan, Polhamus; Health — Brophy, Bown, and Health Officer McGillivray.

Report of the Electric Light Committee showed that the total expense of running the plant for December had been $387.50 and the total revenue derived had been $285. The city has had the use of lights which, if charged for at regular rate, amounts to $54. This leaves a deficit of $38.50 for the month. The revenue from the new plant has been increasing since its installation, that of December being $20 greater than that of November. It is estimated that by March 1st the plant will be on a paying basis.

The Treasurer's report showed the condition of the various funds to be as follows:

Indebtedness Fund — Balance from last report $327.03; cash from taxes 437.39; warrants paid 502.65; balance on hand $261.77.

Electric Light Bond and Int. Fund — Balance 1943.05; from taxes 434.02; coupons paid $360; on hand $2017.07.

Municipal Bond Int. Fund — Balance from last report $1290.91; cash from taxes 648.19; on hand $1939.10.

Current Expense Fund — Balance on hand 186.79; saloon licenses collected 1200.00; police court fines 40.00; from taxes 972.14; pool table licenses 10.00; sale lots 250.00, machinery 300.00, power house 55.00; warrants paid 1822.55; 10 per cent paid to State on licenses 120.00; balance on hand $1071.38.

Lighting fund — Balance 1091.09; rents collected 641.36; warrants paid 1613.04; balance on hand $119.41.

A petition was read from the residents on First street asking that the franchise to right-of-way on that street, held by the P. A. P., be revoked. Mr. Brumfield introduced an ordinance to revoke this franchise and the matter was turned over to the city attorney to settle with the P. A. P. It is understood that the railroad company are perfectly willing to give up this part of their franchise.

The ordinance granting the P. A. Stone Co. a railroad franchise was referred to a committee of the whole council for revision and amendment.

The claims of the water company for the months of July, August and September were not accepted, all voting no to the motion of Polhamus to allow. It is claimed that the city had no fire protection during those months.

Mr. Polhamus made a motion to have the time of meeting of the council changed from Wednesday to Tuesday, stating that the present night conflicted with that of the K. P., which he had not been able to attend since he has been councilman. This motion was seconded and carried, it being held that as the councilmen gave their services without compensation and hence it was no more than right that their convenience should be looked after.

The mayor made the following appointments: Marshal, K. Y. Church; city engineer, E. R. Gehrke; street supt., C. Wise.

Proposal received from Del Church to continue in employ of city as electrician was read and filed.

Application from S. P. Carusi regarding police justice read and filed.

A motion was made and carried to repeal the resolution adopted by the council three weeks ago to grant new water company until January 2, 1905, to begin work and still hold their franchise. This leaves the matter in its former condition; however, their franchise would be good should they commence work in the immediate future.

RILEY CASE REVERSED

Supreme Court Decides Jurors Objectionable.

The Supreme Court of the State handed down its opinion in the somewhat celebrated case of State of Washington vs. Tilley Blanch Riley, on Friday, December 30th, wherein the judgment of the court below was reversed and the cause remanded for a new trial. This case, with its companion one of State vs. Priest, were the most hotly contested in the history of Clallam county, each having been tried three times in the court below, before being appealed to the Supreme Court.

The information in the Riley case charged her with the crime of perjury, alleged to have been committed on the first trial of the case of State vs. Priest. On the first trial the jury disagreed; on the second trial the jury returned a verdict of guilty, but Judge Hatch set aside the verdict and granted a new trial for errors committed on the trial.

On the third trial Judge Joiner of Skagit County presided and the jury again returned a verdict of guilty.

On the trial the defendant's counsel interposed challenges to a number of the jurors, which challenges were overruled by the Court, and it is upon these rulings of the Court that the Supreme Court hangs its decision, saying:

"We are of the opinion, therefore, that the appellant did not have a trial before a fair and impartial jury, such as is guaranteed to her by the constitution and laws, and that for this reason the judgment against her must be reversed and a new trial awarded."

Messrs. Trumbull & Trumbull of this city represented the defendant throughout the litigation.

REPLIES ALL SHOW ROAD LAW

To Be a Decided Improvement on the Old System, but Suggest Change.

Commissioner D. A. Christopher is receiving many answers to his circular letter sent out to the commissioners of the different counties of the state, regarding the practicability of the 1893 Road Law. These communications, coming from all parts of the state, are very interesting. It will be, when completed, the first intelligent consensus of opinion ever gotten together regarding the new law in its workings.

So far, about forty of the letters sent out have been returned with the questions answered, many of the commissioners having written long letters, showing the matter was given marked attention.

To the first question, Is the present road system satisfactory to the people of your county? all answer in the affirmative except one commissioner of Columbia county.

To the second question, as to what part of the system, if any, is objectionable, there are a few minor objections to parts of the system, but the general opinion so far seems to be that the only objectionable part of the law is the power given the surveyor. To sum it all up, it would seem that most of the commissioners think there is too much surveyor.

In answering the question, Do you have more work, or less, done for the money, under the present system, than under the former systems? all agree that more work is done under the present system, the old system being several times termed the "grafting" system. The estimate of the amount of work done under the present, compared with the old, runs from an estimate of 40 per cent more to five times as much. Sander, of Columbia county, the only man replying, "No," to the first question, says that in his county fully as much work has been performed under the new as could have been done under the old. He says in a letter that the new system has not been given a good trial as yet, and the chief objection in his county is that there are not enough supervisors, the territory being too large to be properly handled by three.

To the fourth question, What effect do the ex-road supervisors of former systems have upon the popularity of the present system? a few say that they have none or very little effect, but the majority say that they are the only persons who do object.

Regarding the last, Give any other information on the subject, the following remarks from commissioners of different counties will give an idea of the general trend of the answers received by Mr. Christopher.

Fleming of Snohomish says: "We have done more work as regards building good roads this year than could be done in 500 years under the old system."

Smith of King county says: "I am satisfied if the present law is retained for two years longer that the people will never desire it repealed."

Mead, Pierce county, says: "The rail against the law was made by office seekers to get votes from the rural districts."

The Washington State Horticultural Association is in session at Wenatchee this week. The association has been organized less than a year but it includes the leading fruit growers of the state. The character of the exhibit at Portland came up for discussion, State Horticulturist VanHolderbeke believing the state will have the most complete exhibit at Portland of fruits, small fruits and berries it has ever had at any fair. A great deal of the exhibit used at St. Louis will be taken to Portland.

Swift's Pride Soap

Swift;s name in the American home is an accepted synonym for honest dealing. His products are recognized as of the highest quality. No product leaves the Swift factory that has not undergone the most rigid examination as to its absolute purity.

Now that the great Swift Company has placed a laundry soap on the market no question as to its intrinsic value will arise.

Swift's name on each bar is a guarantee that its value for laundry purposes is unexcelled.

Swift's Pride Soap, besides its tested superior quality, is whiter and of larger size bar than most other soaps on the market. The price is even cheaper than other soaps of recognized value, therefore more economical.

We are satisfied that it has no competitor in the market and want to introduce it into every home in Port Angeles and offer the following inducement to each 50c purchaser of Swifts

We'll give 12 bars for 50c and a prize package of the best quality needles each package containing 40 darning, zephyr, glove and sewing needles, an assortment of needles that could not be purchased for less than 10c.

The soap is worth the price — the needles are a premium.

While here he learned of the two Miller children, who have been in charge of the county, and adopted the little girl, taking her home with him. Today H. P. Brown arrived and will take the boy to the Washington Children's Home, of which he is superintendent.

Sunday, the freighter Edith, Capt. Hall, bound for SanFrancisco from Victoria with a cargo of coal, put into this harbor with a bad list to starboard. She had encountered heavy weather off the cape which tossed her about so that the cargo shifted. She made directly for Port Angeles where an extra crew was set to work righting her. By Monday morning they had her trimmed and she started again for San Francisco. This is the second time an accident has caused the Edith to seek our sheltered harbor. Two years ago she came here with a bad leak, necessitating her unloading into another steamer.

PEARLS TO STRING

Bits of Philosophy Which Apply to the Daily Life of Us All

Be gentle, and keep your voice low.

Be at peace with yourself, and you will be at peace with the world.

We are advertised by our rabid enemies no less than by our loving friends.

Getting time to mind one's own business is often more difficult than to mind it.

There is no charity that is equal to the charity that is charitable to the uncharitable.

So long as we love, we serve; so long as we are loved by others I would almost say we are indispensable; and no man is useless while he has a friend.—Stevenson.

All the world admits that the man who preserves his poise and sanity to the last and goes Hence with only love upon his lips, is a most superior individual.

Human hearts are full of love and tenderness and sympathy — hold the right mental attitude and you have the key that unlocks them all. We are afloat upon an ocean of Good Will —let down your buckets!

Hate is another thing; and when you find an individual who indulges it, feeds upon it, and hugs it to his heart, he is one for whom Hell yawns. Hate is a toxin: it poisons the well-springs of the soul: its end is madness and the grave. Hate hurts most the ones who hate. To be hated may be annoying, but to hate is a calamity. And if hate is a ptomaine, good-will is a panacea.

MONTESANO TO ANGELES

Nothing has struck a more responsive chord in the minds of the people of this vicinity than Senator O'Donnell's intention regarding efforts to be made to get a state road located from Montesano to Port Angeles by way of Grays harbor.

With County Commissioners Davis and Sherwood actively engaged in and doing their best to get a good road from Montesano to the beach it should certainly be possible to get the amount proposed to be asked for the project mentioned. All our representatives should keep their eyes open to the action of congress this winter in the matter of aiding the states to build good roads. The probabilities are the state will be called upon in order to avail itself of the $250,000 it is proposed by the general government to donate to each state, irrespective of population, to appropriate a like amount. This being the case they should all work for a state road running from the eastern to the western boundary of the state. A road from Grays harbor to Port Angeles would open up for permanent settlement the best body of land in Western Washington. This, with the opening of the Quinault reservation, would almost double the population.—Olympia Standard.

HAS NINE LIVES

The Old Brig Tanner Tougher than the Proverbial Cat.

Instead of being laid up in San Francisco practically a wreck from the strenuous nature of her voyage down the coast. the old brig Tanner, just to show 'em, says the Townsend Call, fairly flew back up again to Port Angeles, leaving the Golden Gate December 26 and surprising everyone by arriving under her own canvas at Port Angeles December 31. This passage of four days and a half is just about the record, and when it is negotiated by the Tanner, an oldtimer that has sailed the briny for fifty years or more, it becomes all the more remarkable.

It is only a few days ago that dispatches were sent out from Frisco telling of the arrival there of the Tanner, after a most tempestuous trip from Port Angeles. It told of her sails being torn to shreds, her hull flooded with water, her pumps having been kept going for days, and the demand of the crew upon the master of the vessel to put back to the port of departure. The impression one received from reading the article naturally was that the old brig was done for at last, and that her owners who took her when she laid a wreck on the beach near the Elwha river two years ago, had spent their money in repairing her uselessly.

The Tanner seemingly leads a charmed life, and even tho she leads her crew a merry chase occasionally and gives them cause to give thought of the hereafter, she always comes out smart and spry and ready for more.

The prospects for a good year in the lumber industry are gradually improving. The Burlington, Chicago & Northwestern and other lines that have been using great quantities of eastern lumber are placing orders for Washington fir. Bids are asked for a large amount for the Panama canal. Crops in the middle west were better the past year than for two or three years previously and that demand, with the increased home consumption, will greatly aid the market.

Prof. A. H. Yoder, of the state university, in addressing the teachers' institute at Spokane last week, advocated more and longer vacations, a shorter course of study, fewer years in school, more freedom in choice of studies by the pupil, and said the public school scholar should be ready to enter high school at 12 years of age.

HARRIMAN LOST THE SUIT

The decision of the United States court of appeals, reversing that decision of the circuit court which restrained the Northern Securities Company from distributing certain stock of the Northern Pacific Railway Company, will be read with the keenest interest on Puget sound. Unless the United States supreme court shall allow the case to be reopened on a writ of certiorari, the decision may be taken to mean the virtual settlement of merger litigation.

As it stands, it means that the railroad interests represented on this coast by the Great Northern railroad will control the railroad situation on the North Pacific coast; that the interests local to Puget sound will not be made subservient to the interests local to San Francisco. It means, further, that the railroad interests most friendly to Seattle will be in control of the transportation interests on the east side of Puget sound. But there is more than this to be expected if the decision shall stand. In all probability, with the Great Northern interests in full control here, it is very likely that some other road will be driven to Puget sound at as early a date as possible.—P.-I.

The cargo already contracted to be shipped on the Minnesota's maiden trip to the Orient consists of the following:

14,000 barrels of raw cotton.
21,000 barrels of piece goods.
23,000 cases of canned goods.
1,000 cases of cigarettes.
600 tons of flour.

This makes a total of 22,000 tons.

Ten cent tea strainers at the Second Hand Store.

The final surrender of Port Arthur marks the close of the longest fighting-siege in history, and places the Japanese race in front rank for military ability, courage and patience. Port Arthur was one of the most strongly fortiffed positions in the world, both by reason of the topography of the country and the modern system of fortresses. The Russians now control but one-third of Manchuria.

Back east the ice king has started in on his winter stunt, and is pretty vigorous after a rest of several months. Out here that potentate rules with a velvet hand. While we are not exactly in the orange belt, we are not far removed and winter usually is only fall weather a trifle emphasized.—Loomis Prospector.

Imported Rain Coats!

WE HAVE the domestic garment and could recommend it both as to quality and finish. But the Maudleberg garment, the Imported Rain Coat, we especially recommend as particularly adapted to this climate, A Maudleberg Rain Coat is absolutely water-proof. In finish and quality it is the height of cultivated elegance. It outlasts oll other rain coats and is never shabby. It is practically indestructible. The price, from $9.00 to $35.00, is reasonable for so serviceable a garment.

SOCIAL, CLUB AND LODGE NOTES

Mrs. T. J. Appleton Entertains the Book Club at their Annual.

On January 3rd the Book Club Annual was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Appleton. The ladies each represented some comic character from Dickens' stories. Mrs. H. E. Lutz as Mrs. Gamp, with band box, created quite a stir; Mrs. FitzHenry, as Madam LaFarge sat knitting, knitting; Mrs. A. Cosser, as Rachel with her basket, always lunching; Mrs. Ware, as Widow Bardell, always watching for a chance to fall on Pickwick's shoulder; Mrs. H. White, as Peggotty, with her buttons always dropping, wherever she went; Mrs. Johnson as Mrs. Tibbs, the boarding house keeper, and Mrs. Appleton as Mrs. Bloss, her boarder, created quite a laugh among the gentlemen, who thought to have escaped all such things themselves. So, after a hearty laugh, they were asked to choose from several bundles one for themselves, and when said bundles were undone, they found an immense necktie about two feet across, a sash, with bows and streamers hanging to the floor, and garters with huge bows to fasten below the knee, in which the ladies proceeded to dress the gentlemen. The laugh was then on the other side. After the laughter had somewhat subsided, games were indulged in until train time, when the entire party took the train for —— and after an hour and a half's ride the highly eminent and cultured gentleman, conductor William Jacob Ware, announced twenty minutes for refreshments at Port Angeles, where they found a genuine railroad eating house with counter and side-tables, and walls covered with maps, posters, time tables, etc., and Mr. Johnson, as depot master, calling trains, etc. In the twenty minutes they were allowed for lunch they had time to sample:

Chicken Salad. Hot Rolls.
Pickles, sour and sweets. Olives.
Ice Cream, vanilla, chocolate.
Cake, angel food, nut.
Coffee. Tea.

After the refreshments the entire party again boarded the train and returned to the starting point, where they danced the Virginia reel, valse, two-step, until the wee sma' hours.

TIMOTHY TIMSON,
A speckled tater.

Dr. and Mrs. N. K. Mead entertained the Manhattan Whist Club Tuesday evening at their home on 7th St., between Oak and Laurel. The diversion of the evening was progressive whist. About 10:30 playing was carried to an end and the score was reckoned up. Mr. C. J. Farmer, it was discovered, had made a phenomenal score and Judge Hatch was in favor of an investigation, but inasmuch as no one was able to say how he did it, cooler judgment prevailed and the matter was dropped. Until midnight the jolly crowd enjoyed themselves. Delicious refreshments were served. Those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames C. J. Farmer, H. M. Fisher, Elmer Fisher, E. A. FitzHenry, W. F. Delabarre and Judge and Mrs. Hatch. Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Trumbull and Mr. Sauer were guests of the club.

The New Year's Eve Masquerade given by the base ball club was a great success. The boys' persistent and well directed advertisiug brought everybody out to a dance well worth the while. The music was fine. Misses Jensen, Appleton and Gould, dressed as Irish scrub women, were awarded with a box of fine candies. An awkward squad, led by a Jap general, took a case of Pilsener as the best men's group; hey were Messrs. Hutchinson, Pringle, Grubb, Nichols and Mastick. "Sandy" Fowler got a box of cigars as the best sustained character. The best waltzers were judged to be Mrs. Bork and Mr. Fred Brant, each receiving a season ticket to the ball games for the ensuing year.

The Degree of Honor held open session last Tuesday evening and installed their new officers elected for the year. After the installation they all adjourned to the opera house and enjoyed a bountiful repast. The remainder of the evening was spent at Odd Fellows' hall in playing cards, dancing and general merry-making. The new officers are: Mrs. Sarah Mitchell, chief of honor; Mrs. Mollie Phelps, past chief; Mrs. A. T. Martin, lady of honor; Miss Grace McIvor, chief of ceremonies; Mrs. Ida Baxter, recorder; Mrs. Grace Dilling, financier; Miss Lizzie Mitchell, receiver; Miss Josie Phelps, usher; Miss Lottie Clegg, inside watch; Mrs. Tom Olson, outside watch.

The meeting of the Musical Club was postponed on account of the late arrival of music ordered for that occasion. It will be held next Monday, when the program prepared for last Monday will be given. The meeting will be at Odd Fellows hall. The German composers Shutz and Keiser will be taken up and the following program rendered:

Paper on Shutz, Mrs. Trumbull.
Piano solo, Mrs. Geo. Wiggins.
Vocal solo, Mrs. C. E. Cushing.
Piano solo, Mrs. C. E. Nailor.
Paper on Keiser, Mrs. D. W. Craig.
Vocal solo, Mrs. J. Lloyd Aldwell.
Piano solo, Mrs. Chas. Hirsch.
Vocal solo, - - Mrs. Hamilton.

Tonight, the G. A. R. and W. R. C. will install their officers for the coming year. The following are the officers already chosen by ballot: Com., Maj. R. R. Harding; S. Vice-Com., Tom Boland; J. Vice-Com., V. C. Kepler; Chaplain, Maj. Crooks; Adjt., J. A. Smith; Q. M., L. D. Stewart. In the W. R. C., Mrs. Watkins is the newly elected president; Mrs. Burdick, seinor vice; Mrs. Fowler, junior vice; Mrs. Merrill, chaplain; Mrs. Silverwood, sec'y, and Mrs. French, treasurer. The remaining offices are appointive, by Commander and President, respectively.

The meeting of the Parliamentary Club, held last Saturday at Mrs. John Hanson's, chanced to be co-incident with the hostess' birthday anniversary, and the Club surprised her with a gift, presented by Mrs. McKay, on their behalf, as a mark of esteem and appreciation. Mrs. Hanson had also prepared a surprise for the members, in the way of dainty refreshments. Mr. G. V. Smith's paper on The Source of Taine's English Literature was a masterly effort, and greatly enjoyed, as were the other features of the program.

On last Friday, at an open meeting, the G. A. R. and Relief Corps entertained Department Commander Davis and Mrs. Davis, president of the Department of Washington and Alaska of the Relief Corps. The program for the evening was opened by Rev. Whelan. Commander Davis and Mrs. Davis both gave very interesting talks on the work and progress of the different pos s they have visited. It is their intention to visit all the posts in the department. Supper was served to nearly one hundred and twenty-five people.

Port Angeles Local, Socialist, gave a New Years dinner Sunday at Odd Fellows' hall, about one hundred being present in response to the invitations sent out to members and friends. In addition to the feast of good things provided for the dinner, an essay was read by Mistress Frank Miller, addresses were given by Mr. Baldwin and Rev. J. A. Baldridge; Mistress Richardson presided at the piano.

Taesday afternoon the Civic Club met with Mrs. John Trumbull. The fair which they had intended to give was postponed for the present. It is the intention of the Club to give a fancy dress ball on St. Valentine's Day, at which lady dancers will be expected to represent some flower. A shadow social was also arranged for, to be given the present month. The Club will not meet again until March.

The newly elected officers of Esther Chapter, No. 19, Eastern Star, will be installed on the 13th. They are: Mrs. Short, W. M.; Mrs. Ed. Short, W. P.; Mrs. Ella Mathewson, A. M.; Mrs. Bown, Treas.; Mrs. Mahaffy, Sec'y; Mrs. Richardson, Conductor; Mrs. Merrill, Ass't Conductor. It is not decided whether the installation will be public or private.

The young people on Lincoln Heights gave their friend Miss Annie Filion quite a surprise last Tuesday evening. They met at the home of Mrs. LaFlower and with well filled baskets started for the Filion home, completely surprising the young lady. All kinds of games and amusements were indulged in until a late hour.

The Ladies' Guild of the Episcopal Church met last Wednesday with Mrs. Carusi and a most enjoyable day was spent, Mrs. Carusi entertaining the ladies with luncheon. After settling up all business the rest of the day was spent sewing, the ladies making a fine lot of aprons for sale.

The Woman's Literary Club met Friday afternoon with Mrs. VanKuren on Lincoln Heights. A very good paper was given by Mrs. Al Filion, as a part of the interesting program prepared. This was the first meeting the club has had for some weeks.

The Baptist Ladies Aid will meet at the home of L. H. Mitchell, 7th and Cherry, on Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 11th, at 2 o'clock, and a 10c lunch will be served to all.

The gentlemen's Duplicate Whist Club met at Dr. F. A. Cooke's on Tuesday night. Close scores were the result of a very interesting and pleasant evening.

A ten cent tea will be given by the ladies of Episcopal Church at the home of Mrs. Mead from three to five, on next Wednesday. Everybody invited.

The ladies of the Episcopal Church find, after deducting all expenses, that their little operetta, Snow White, cleared them something over $36.

RECIPES BY ANGELES FAMOUS COOKS

Edited by Mrs. Webster

TOMATO SOUP.

1 quart can tomatoes, put through the colander; then add 3 quarts of boiling water. Allow this to come to a boil, then add piece of butter size of an egg and ¾ cup of rice. Boil one hour. Season with bay leaf, salt and pepper. Serve with croutons.

MRS. W. F. DELABARRE.

ASPARAGUS SOUP.

3 cups of white stock, 1 can asparagus, 2 cups cold water, 1 slice onion, ¼ cup butter, ¼ cup flour, 2 cups scalded milk, salt and pepper. Drain asparagus, reserve tips and add stalks to cold water; boil five minutes, drain, add stock and onion; boil thirty minutes, rub through sieve, and bind with butter and flour cooked together; add salt, pepper, milk, and tips.

MRS. E. J. OVINGTON.

CLAM SOUP.

Boil one quart of new milk, and thicken it with a tablespoonful of flour and one of butter, thoroughly blended. Immediately before serving, stir in one pt. of clams and their juice, after having them either chopped very fine, or run through a meat grinder. Season with salt and pepper according to taste.

MRS. CARUSI.

PINK VELVET SOUP.

Boil and grate two large red beets. Heat to a boiling point a quart of milk. Melt two tablespoons of butter in a saucepan; stir in two heaping tablespoons of flour; then add milk slowly. Season with salt, pepper and a little nutmeg. Stir in, then, enough of the grated beet to give it a dark pink color, as it fades in standing. Strain through a fine sieve and when ready to serve add two-thirds of a cup of whipped cream.

MRS. F. A. COOKE.

CLAM SOUP.

Three small potatoes, one onion, and a piece of fat pork size of walnut, all chopped fine. Add to this one quart of water and cook until tender. Then add the clams, chopped fine, pepper and salt and another quart of boiling water and cook for about fifteen minutes. Before serving add a teacup of cream.

MRS. L. H. MITCHELL.

CLEAR VEAL SOUP.

The day before using, boil about four pounds of veal shank, or other portions, in a gallon of water, with two onions, two carrots, celery stalks or tops, a few whole cloves, allspice, piece of mace and a stick of cinnamon. Allow this to boil slowly all day, then strain through a colander. While still hot, strain again through a cloth, and set aside until next day, when any grease may be easily removed. Chop fine, two hard boiled eggs, and put them in the soup when wanted at the table; also a lemon sliced very thin, a tablespoonful of Worcestershire Sauce, and about a gill of sherry. Salt and pepper to taste. Be careful not to let the lemon be in the soup any time before serving. It is best to put egg, lemon, sauce, and sherry in soup tureen, and then pour the hot soup over them.
