A JUNETIME ROSE SHOW

As Suggested By Prof. Von Holderbeke Would Be A Revelation to All.

Those who were so fortunate as to be in attendance at the Horticultural Society on Saturday afternoon had the opportunity of listening to one of the best addresses ever given by Prof. A. VonHolderbeke, the State Horticulturist. It was not only replete with useful information and advice, but was a scholarly effort, delivered in a very entertaining manner.

An appeal for the rights of our children constituted the first portion of his talk, in which he contended that it was the plain duty of the home maker to so improve his holdings that his children might receive the benefit, even though he himself might not live to enjoy the fruits of his work. And he would so raise the children, by interesting them in flower and vegetable gardens of their own, that they would remain on the farm and continue its improvement, instead of drifting off into logging camps, mills, and other lines of work. Nothing is easier to cultivate in a child than a love for the beautiful in nature; but something more than a few packages of seeds and a little plat of ground should be furnished them; they should have plants of various kinds to love and care for—rose bushes, vines, flowering shrubs, etc., as well as the seeds.

He spoke of the excellence of our air drainage, a most important factor in the growth of plant life, of the abundance of our sunshine and the quality of our soil, all favorable to the successful growing of fruit, but stated that we lacked moisture. In July and August, at the time when fruit bearing plants most require it, we have no root soaking rains; no refreshing showers. Trees should be watered, even if possible to a limited extent only, during those months. With irrigation there is no reason why our lands should not be as productive and become as valuable as those of eastern Washington, where $1,500 an acre is not an unusual price, and irrigation is in most cases a very simple and comparatively inexpensive matter. With irrigation we could grow peaches and grapes in profusion; without, we can never have them, for they requre moisture during the dry season. The fruit buds on grape vines are formed during the month of August, and water is essential to their development.

In regard to fertilizer, he would depend chiefly on barnyard manure which acts as a decomposer of the soil, by virtue of the bacteria it contains. But the food ration furnished a tree should be well-balanced; too much humus is a detriment. He would apply the humus in the fall, thoroughly mixing with the soil, and should it develop that too much had been used, would stir in air-slacked lime or muriate of potash—not too much of either—the following spring.

The best insecticide he stated to be concentrated lye, one pound to five gallons of water, which used as a spray will kill all insects, and also, falling on the earth beneath, will be absorbed by the roots and benefit the tree.

For mildew, use as a spray a bar of common soap to five gallons of water. Plant-life frequently lacks potash, hence the mildew; if there were sufficient potash in the soil, if the soil were well balanced, mildew could not endure.

For aphis he recommends a spray of warm soap suds. The soap suds being sticky covers the aphis, closing their breathing pores and effectually disposes of them— as simple as a, b, c.

Three sprayings, a week apart, with kerosene emulsion will kill the oyster shell; the three sprayings are necessary because of this pest hatching out in relays.

He spoke at some length of the San Jose scale, stating that great care was necessary to prevent its getting a foot-hold, instancing an orchard at Renton where the bark was coated to the depth of one-fourth an inch. The benefit of tree inspection very largely lies in keeping this scourge out of our orchards. In this connection he stated one should never take home an old fruit box; all boxes were certain to contain insects or eggs of some kind. When inspector for Snohomish county he paid particular attention to this practice, and for the second offense caused the arrest of the violators of the law.

For borers, the flat-headed apple borer and the peach borer, a very strong kerosene emulsion should be used; when leaves wither and die look for the fine saw dust left by the borer and if found to be present cut off the

APPLY FOR A RECEIVER

For the P.A.P. Railroad People Given Until April 6th to Show Why Not.

M. F. Bachus, President of the Washington National Bank, of Seattle, has applied through his attorneys, Kerr & McCord, for a receiver for the P.A.P.R.R. The complaint bears the date of March 22nd. Judge Hatch has given the railroad people until April 6 to offer reasons why a receiver should not be appointed.

The complaint states that a coupon for $25.00 interest on one of the railroad bonds was presented and not paid for lack of funds.

Also, that no part of the money which the railroad company agreed to pay the Smith-Mastick Construction Co., for the first five miles of road has been paid and that the only assets of the railroad are franchises worth $1,000 while their liabilities are $50,000. Unless a receiver be appointed these franchises will lapse and cease to be of value.

DON'T BE A KNOCKER.

If there is a chance to boom business, boom it. Don't be a knocker. Don't pull a long face and get sour on your stomach. Hope a bit. Get a smile on you. Hold up your head. Get a hold with both hands. Then pull. Bury your hatchet. Drop your tomahawk. Hide your little hammer. When a stranger drops in tell him this is the greatest town on earth. It is. Don't get mulish. Don't roast. Be jolly. Get popular. It's dead easy. Help yourself along. Push your friend with you. Soon you'll have a whole procession. Be a good fellow.

E. A. SNYDER APPOINTED

Committee Considers Automatic Pump for Salt Water to Be Very Good Idea.

At the Council meeting the Fire, Light, and Water Committee reported on the matter of salt water fire protection which was brought up at the preceding meeting. Their report is as follows:

"Your committee, to whom was referred the salt water fire protection, has investigated the pump partly installed at the Craig Fish Products Co., and in our opinion it is a very good fire protection. It will give as much and more water with better pressure than three of our present fire plugs when they are new and the water system at its best."

The committee was instructed to make a more extended investigation and learn the approximate cost of establishing such a system and what proportion of this cost would be borne by the interested property owners.

A letter was received from the Seattle office of H. R. Worthington proposing to sell the city the pumps should this mode of fire protection be adopted.

Eleven residents of Tumwater petitioned the council to restrain citizens from allowing geese to run at large. The city attorney will endeavor to find what laws there are governing geese.

A liquor license was granted the Port Angeles Mining Co.

Three applications were handed in for employment at the city light plant. They were from W. B. Ross, W. E. H. Lyster and E. A. Snyder. Mr. Snyder was appointed and will take charge April 1st at a salary of $110 per month.

Councilman Brumfield moved that the marshal instruct all Front St. property owners having defective sidewalks, or walks needing repair, to have them put in proper shape.

Street Com. Wise was instructed to report at next meeting as to whether repairs should be made on Peabody street.

On the motion of Mr. Bown, it was decided to devote $200 to work on C street in connection with the county work on the Boulevard.

Illustrated Booklets Should Be Prepared Setting Forth Our County's Advantages.

A traveling man is reported as saying that the Pacific Chinaman is much keener than the Chinaman of New York. He says: "On my last trip I stopped at Santa Barbara, not in itself a very lively town, yet there are several all-night resorts there. In an old adobe building that was originally the home of the first governor of California under Spanish rule, Hi Lung now conducts a laundry. It may have other adjuncts, but it is primarily a laundry. On one side of Hi's establishment is a saloon, in front of which is a huge sign reading 'Open All Night.' On the other side is a restaurant with the sign, 'We Never Close.' Hi Lung recently determined to be as progressive as his neighbors, the result being a rudely lettered sign of his own manufacture, announcing, 'Me wakee, too.'" About every county in Washington except Jefferson has already taken steps to advertise themselves at the Lewis and Clark Centennial. Such communities show that they are "open all night." Jefferson should imitate the Chinaman and indicate that she is "wakee, too."—Call.

Engineer James E. West Killed by Train.

Word came tonight that James E. West, the engineer at the Filion mill was struck by a train today at McMurray, Wash., and killed. No details are to be had at present, but it is supposed that his extreme deafness prevented his hearing the oncoming train. Mr. West left here yesterday to get the body of his son-in-law, Charles Greennold, who was killed in a logging camp at Ehrlich. Both bodies are now at Arlington and will be brought here.

At the regular weekly meeting of the Board of Trustees of the P. A. E. R. R. Co. last Saturday, a resolution was passed complying with certain requirements of the U. S. Treasury Dept., preliminary to the granting by the Department of a right of way across the Hospital Reserve east of the town.

GET OPINION OF PEOPLE

There does not seem to be any great rush on the part of the patriotic citizens of this city to do their part towards solving the electric light problem by becoming patrons of the city light.

We cannot understand why any business man, or any householder who is within the present limits of the system, should not be using the city light.

The city light is the cheapest light that can be had, taking into consideration the amount of light consumed.

It is the safest light that can be used. If a building is properly wired the danger of fire is reduced to a minimum.

It is the cleanest and most convenient. There is no cleaning of lamps, no smoke and no handling of oil. It is always ready for use and the children can't upset it. It won't explode. And it saves your wife a lot of dirty work.

We believe that the people of this city want to use the light and would use it if the conditions were made right. The difficulty lies largely in getting at what the people think; in bringing the matter home to them so that they can form a definite idea as to what they can afford to do and what they want to do; and in arriving at what the city is able to do for the people in the way of rates and accommodations.

As we conceive the proposition, if the city plant could be put on a basis where it could pay all operating expenses and put a little by for the redemption of existing indebtedness, it would be all that the city could in justice ask for. If, that being accomplished, the city could reduce its rates, at least for a time, we believe it should do so, and we believe it would result in a much more general use of the lights, particularly in the residence district.

In order to get at the situation and ascertain what our people will be willing to do, so that the matter could be put to the council in definite shape, we would suggest that each councilman take it upon himself to call a meeting of the residents of his own ward and effect an organization and have the matter of the extension of the system thoroughly discussed; ascertain what patronage could be secured, and the feeling of the people as to existing rates. This done, each councilman could represent to the council the ideas and wishes of his own people and the probable amount of patronage to be secured, and the council would then be in a position to take some definite action in the premises.

It begins to look as though the new plant would put the city in an even worse position than when the old one was in operation and that the large expense incurred would be to no purpose as far as the financial situation is concerned.

It looks as though it were up to the council to do something.

A FIGHT

At Dungeness Proved a Pleasant Surprise to Friends of Mr. Kempf.

The wrestling match between Lou Kempf, of Port Townsend, a former resident of this place, and Chris Person, of Tacoma, champion wrestler of the Pacific coast, was won by the latter. The first fall was in 17 minutes and the second in 22 minutes. While Mr. Kempf lost the bout, he greatly surprised his many friends and acquaintances who witnessed the contest by his cleverness, strength and endurance. He certainly gave a good account of himself, and Mr. Pearson stated he was the best local man he had met on the mat. The bout was very ably refereed by Mr. Jas. Dick of this place.

Mr. Kempf is matched to wrestle a Mr. Price, of Sequin, on the 14th of April at above named place. Mr. Price is one of Farmer Burns' pupils and the match promises to be a very interesting one.

MUSKETT IN THE BAY

Takes a Regular Morning Dip in the Surf. B-r-r-r!

The little flurry of cold weather Wednesday morning was a surprise to our eastern friends, but no more than to see R. A. Muskett of the Times Clothing Mart in bathing on the beach at six a. m. Mr. Muskett is immune to colds and la grippe, as a result of his morning swim every day summer and winter.

Mr. Wood Will Buy Fish Co.'s First Steamer.

Mr. Wood of the Fish Co., goes upsound tommorrow morning to arrange for the purchase of a small steamer. Capt. H. E. Soule returned from Seattle today having successfully passed the examination for pilot on Puget Sound; he will command the steamer. The launch now being built at the company's plant by Will Race will be completed in two weeks; it is 26 feet long and will be equipped with a kerosene engine.

Cableship Burnside Will Repair Cable.

The tug at work on the W. U. cable found one end of it Thursday. The cable was found to have been badly cut on the rocks and as about three-fourths of a mile of it is missing, a new cable will be laid. The Burnside will do the work. Communication cannot be had with Victoria via Port Angeles for probably two months.

W. F. Delabarre arrived home Wednesday after a long stay at his old home in Massachusetts; Mrs. Delabarre and Margaret came with him from Seattle, where they had gone to meet him.

L. F. Person of Seattle was down over Sunday to assist his brother, Peter Grubb, in celebrating his 50th birthday. Mrs. Person accompanied him; both returned home Monday morning.

The Walloa came down Monday on her first trip since having new boilers and engines installed. She is now one of the most powerful tugs on the sound. Mr. Earles was aboard.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Govan of Dungeness will be deeply grieved to learn of the death of their four months old baby, an only child.

SAYS IT IS FALSE.

Resident of Upper Elwha Denies That Elk Are Slaughtered.

ELWHA, Wash., March 20, 1905—Editor Tribune-Times:—My attention was recently called to a statement in a newspaper of late date by which the editor would have his readers understand that the elk are being slain in great numbers for their teeth by "residents of the Upper Elwha." I wish to state, through the columns of your valuable paper that the above report is misleading, false and entirely without foundation; that elk are not being nor have been slaughtered for their teeth or for any other purpose by the "residents of the Upper Elwha."

Yours truly, G. W. HUMES.

The article above referred to was published in The Olympic two months ago. Our information that elk were being slaughtered on the upper Elwha for their teeth and heads came from a perfectly reliable source—and our informant, who, by the way, is a resident on the upper Elwha, saw the carcasses.

But he did not say, nor did he believe, that these elk were killed by residents on the Elwha; and we did not state that they were killed by "residents of the upper Elwha," nor use any language which could be so construed.

Mr. Humes has caused to be published a statement which is "misleading, false and entirely without foundation," to use his own words.

We also notice that the headlines of the above article seek to convey an impression which Mr. Humes is very careful not to give utterance to.

Frank Dustman and wife will start Saturday night for a three months' vacation to Mr. Dustman's old home in Salem, Ohio, where he will visit his brother and friends. SEGUIN NOTES.

The fine weather of the past few months still continues.

Mrs. E. T. Huff is able to be about the house again, after an illness of two months.

Miss Mary Priest has accepted the position of teacher at the Myers school near Angeles.

The funeral of the late Mrs. John Bush, of Lost Mountain, took place here last Sunday, the Reverend Winey officiating. Mrs. Bush was 78 years of age and leaves a large number of grandchildren and other relatives to mourn her demise.

Dr. McGeorge was called to the residence of Mr. Tiller on Monday last to attend their grandson, Otto Anderson.

Work has been commenced on the Eureka Irrigating and Milling Co.'s ditch at Seguin; they propose enlarging the flow of water considerably.

E. T. Huff, the genial storekeeper and postmaster, has taken out notary papers and we can now have our legal work done at home.

The base ball season is opening early; the nines of Dungeness and Seguin played a six inning game here last Sunday, the score being two to three in favor of Dungeness.

Seguin will celebrate May Day in the same Royal manner as in the past. Base ball and other sports will be engaged in in the day time and a grand ball in the hall at night. The neighboring communities are all invited to join with us. Programs will be issued later.

Quite a number of the local sports attended the wrestling match at Dungeness Tuesday night and were well pleased with the exhibition given. Mr. Person won the match from Louis Kempf in two falls.

Mr. Price then challenged Kempf to wrestle him at Seguin in two weeks for the gate receipts and $50 side bet. Kempf accepted.

F. Roberts of Happy Valley has purchased a piece of land of George McConnell and will move thereon this fall; he is now on the Knapman farm.

E. P. Blake is installing a large separator, etc., on his ranch to be worked by a turbine boiler, the first in this locality.

The Seguin Trading Co. have a force of men and teams hauling gravel into the big pond which existed in front of their store and in the main road. Thanks, Mr. Seal.

The Seguin Literary Club give a dance in the hall alternate Saturday nights. Next Saturday, April 1st, is their night.

EAST CLALLAM.

From the Record.

The Angeles Olympic says: "Tom Watson is furnishing Angora goats to Clallam ranchers; it is said a herd of goats can clear up a piece of land of everything save timber in a remarkable short time." Tom is trying to do all he can to save the Clallam county rancher from doing any hard manual labor. Clallam county ranchers have always had to make a living by the sweat of his brow and Tom proposes hereafter to make the billy goat do the sweating and let the rancher rake in the money at his ease. Its a great scheme.

Miss Hazel Belt, who has just finished teaching a six month's term at Royal was in town the first of the week on her way to Seattle. Miss Belt taught school here last summer and has been again engaged to teach here this summer. School will commence April 3d.

A. E. Heath, repair man in charge of the Bureau office at Twin for the past two years has resigned his position and with his family will start shortly for their former home at Ilwaco, Wash. P. J. Hopf will take Mr. Heath's place at the Twin station.

Ernest Huscke and three children, arrived in town from Idaho yesterday. Mr. Huscke went out in the country this morning to look over farm property with the intention of buying.

A Miss Dyer former school teacher at Forks has been appointed teacher of the Indian school at Neah Bay and took charge March 20th.

Wm. Kemper of the west side caught several halibut this week among which was a 200 pounder.

J. A. Kennedy has completed the bridge across the Clallam river in town.

SOCIAL, CLUB & LODGE NOTES

WHIST AND SURPRISE PARTIES, ENTERTAINMENTS AND SOCIALS

Mr. Grubb Given Surprise on 50th Birthday.

It does not always happen that a surprise party is a pleasant affair. As a matter of fact, to be taken unawares is seldom a pleasant experience. But when the wife of your bosom joins hands with a band of conspirators for the purpose of perpetrating a pleasant surprise on you it is different.

Mine host, Grubb, of the Commercial Hotel was the victim on Saturday evening of a conspiracy in which his good wife was a leading spirit, and it is needless to say that it was a complete success.

The party was to commemorate the 50th birthday of Peter, and if he don't remember it until he is an hundred it will be because he has suffered an entire loss of memory, for nothing else could eradicate the deep and pleasant impressions left by the jolly crowd who made merry with him on this occasion.

Peter is an enthusiastic member of the Eagles and this fact was taken advantage of to get him out of harms way until all arrangements had been made and the appointed time had arrived.

It is reported that Peter became so absorbed in lodge business, manufactured for the occasion, that difficulty was experienced in inducing him to leave off. However, about ten o'clock the Eagles closed their session and proceeded to the Commercial where the guests who had not already assembled were smuggled into the spacious dining room. After all were assembled and seated at the table, Peter was inveigled into the room and to say that he was surprised would be to put it mild. Mr. Grubb was placed at the head of the table and an attack was made upon the good things to eat and drink that put the assault that the Japs made on Port Arthur completely in the shade.

After the keen edge of the appetite had been eased, in response to the call of toastmaster Elmer Fisher, C. J. Farmer arose in his place and, after voicing the sentiment of regard and friendship in which Mr. Grubb was held by the Elks, Eagles and K. P.'s, presented to him a handsome charm bearing upon the two sides the insignia and emblematic letters of these orders. This was the second surprise for Peter and he responded in a fitting manner.

From this time on until one o'clock the occasion was enlivened by jest and anecdote with kindly words and good wishes for the genial host.

There were between fifty and sixty of the friends of Mr. Grubb present and before dispersing all signed the hotel register.

The occasion will certainly serve to mark one of the most pleasant events in the life of Mr. Grubb.

A Surprise Party.

The members and friends of the Baptist Church surprised Mr. Samuel Orr, Friday evening last, at his residence, and presented him a fine golden oak rocking chair, as a mark of appreciation for his unselfish services in the care of the church building and interests, for several years past. An appetizing lunch was brought along, and with games and social conversation a pleasant evening was passed. It was a fitting testimonial of the high esteem in which Mr. Orr is held by the church and community in general.

High School Girls Gym Club

The girls of the High School Gym. Club gave an entertainment at Haning Hall Tuesday evening, which proved a great success socially and financially. The program included a dialogue, several recitations, and singing by a quartette composed of Fred Farmer, Josie Phelps, Lyman McDonald, and Frank Chambers. The program ended with the high school "yell." Ice cream and cake were served and the rest of the evening was spent in dancing. The receipts were $35.60.

Its now up to the Cadets to return the compliment.

Hard Times Social

The Grand Army boys and Women's Relief Corps will hold forth with a hard times social at which refreshments will be served, at Masonic Hall on Friday, 31st. Admission ten cents.

Whist at McClinton Home.

Judge and Mrs. J. G. McClinton and Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Webster gave a progressive whist party at the former'e residence on Tuesday evening. Fourteen tables were played, Mrs. Ware receiving first favor, on cutting with Mrs. Hatch, they having made an equal number of points, and Mrs. H. Maurice Fisher winning the consolation. Messrs. Haswell and Frank Fisher won the men's favors. After refreshments a program was given, contributed to by Mrs. C. E. Cushing, Mrs. C. J. Farmer, Mrs. J. Trumbull, Dr. Cooke and Dr. Appleton.

Those present: Messrs. and Mesdames H. E. Lutz, A. L. Johnson, Farmer, Payne, Cosser, Brophy, A. A. Smith, Gutenberg, Hamilton, Ovington, C. E. Cushing, T. T. Aldwell, N. W. Hawkins, Trumbull, Haswell, H. M. Fisher, Frank Fisher, E. E. Fisher, Major and Mrs. Harding, Dr. and Mrs. Cooke, Judge and Mrs. Hatch, Dr. and Mrs. Appleton, Dr. and Mrs. Mead, Dr. aud Mrs. McGillivray, Mesdames McDougall, Wm. Church, J. Trumbull, Ware, FitzHenry, Miss Helen Cook, Miss Lizzie Mitchell, Capt. L. Pope, D. A. Christopher, John Chenery.

A "Stone Quarry" Party.

A jolly party of eight ladies, guests of Mrs. Hamilton, boarded the train about two o'clock Thursday and were soon speeding towards the stone quarry, where a very pleasant afternoon was spent in examining the rock, hunting for specimens to be preserved as souvenirs, and in a general frolic and good time. One of the ladies had taken her camera and several interesting pictures were taken, one with the ladies all busy at work among the rocks with picks in hand. They returned to the city about six o'clock feeling well repaid for their visit. The ladies were Mesdames Hamilton, Brophy, H. M. Fisher, E. E. Fisher, T. T. Aldwell, McGillivray, Smith and McDougall.

Elks Elect New Officers

Thursday night the Elks elected their new officers, who will be installed at the next meeting. They are as follows:

Fred C. Poole, E. R.
Ray McLaughlin, E. L. K.
Frank Merritt, E. L. K.
E. D. Elliott, Secretary.
John D. Hickok, Treasurer.
J. D. Mosher, Tyler.
W. B. Smith, Trustee.

W. F. Delabarre was chosen as delegate to the National Convention and N. M. Hawkins alternate.

After the regular session a social was enjoyed with a varied and bountiful spread furnished by L. E. Cole.

The Civic Club is planning to present a play sometime in May, "Bibi, A Comedy of Toys," the arrangements being under the management of Mrs. Brophy. The play is of the musical spectacular order and the latest songs and dances will be introduced.

The Saturday Reading Club was pleasantly entertained by Mrs. H. Lutz last week in the study of Russia; several very interesting articles were read. The meeting tomorrow is with Mrs. Carusi.

The Woman's Literary Club met with Mrs. Hickok last week and further plans for their entertainment on May Day were perfected. This week the hostess is Mrs. Iron on Pine Hill.

A pleasant session of the Parliamentary Club was held with Mrs. Hansen last Saturday; tomorrow the meeting is with Mrs. Mahaffy. Parliamentary law is the subject for study.

INSANITY CAUSES SUICIDE

Tragic Ending of Man Who Feared He Might Harm Others When Insane.

William Bowers shot himself, on Saturday last, at his ranch on the Lost Mountain road. The shooting was done with a high power rifle and death was instantaneous.

He told his wife, upon taking the rifle, of his intention to make way with himself, fearing that he might do harm to her or the children in one of his insane moments. She pleaded with him and tried to get the rifle, but he, being a man of powerful build, wrenched the gun away and, going about twenty-five feet from the door, placed the muzzle in his mouth and pulled the trigger.

Mr. Bowers came here from Pennsylvania. He has been subject to fits of insanity; about six months ago he was taken to the asylum, where he remained a month, returning apparently better. He was in town a week before his death and it was noticed that his actions were peculiar. His wife and eight children are left with very little property and a ranch upon which they had not yet proved up.

THOS. FITZGERALD KERRIHART

The community was shocked to learn of the sudden death on Thursday morning of T. F. Kerrihart. While Mr. Kerrihart has been in poor health for some time, his friends were unprepared for such a quick taking-off. He had just completed his morning work and had sat down to the breakfast table when death overtook him.

Mr. Kerrihart was born in Davenport, Iowa, August 10th, 1856. He has been twice married, marrying his first wife in 1874; his present wife in 1889. He leaves four children, three of whom live in Red Oak, Iowa, and one in Waverly, Neb. He came here from Iowa in June of '98 and in December of 1903 was taken with heart trouble which has afflicted him since his 17th year. Since that time he has been unable to attend to business although lately he was employed at the Willson Hdw. Co.'s store and seemed to be in better health.

Port Angeles Whist Club

The Port Angeles Whist Club met with John Chenery at C. A. Cushing's last Monday evening. Two tables were in play. The score was: Cooke & Sawyer vs. Brophy & Chenery, 115 to 111; Ovington & Payne vs. Lewis & Mathewson, 112 to 110. The play was very uneven, there being but four ties at each table in the sixteen hands. The club will meet next week with Mr. Ovington.

Nautical Lecture.

Rev. W. H. Whelan will lecture on Friday, the 14th of April next, for the benefit of Clallam Lodge, I. O. O. F., in their hall. The lecture will be "A Trip Around the Horn" and is one of the besr the speaker has. Singing and recitations will be had, and a general good program furnished. Admission 25c. No reserved seats.

The Ladies Aid of the Baptist church will meet with Miss Fanny Draper, at her home, Wednesday afternoon next. A ten cent lunch will be served from 3 to 5 o'clock.

VON HOLDERBEKE'S TALK

limb and use the emulsion on the tree. As the borers lay their eggs on the trunk of tree near the ground, wrap a newspaper around, having the lower edge an inch or so down in the soil. Borers will kill a young tree in a year.

Prof. Von Holderbeke is evidently a great admirer of the rose as a beautifier of the home and he devoted considerable time to the enumeration and description of the leading varieties which do well in this climate, which was of great interest to the ladies present. In thus beautifying the home, however, he would have the man buy the plants, prepare the ground, and care for the bushes—the lady might pick the flowers.

His advice concerning pruning of rose bushes was also of great value; some varieties being pruned to eight buds, others to two buds, and still others cut down to ground. He stated that the proper pruning of the various kinds was something of an art, to be learned by experience, but he kindly volunteered to make a practical demonstration at some future visit. Certain varieties should be budded three feet from the ground on stout stalks of wild rose bushes to prevent freezing of roots. The soil for rose bushes should be very rich and plenty of moislure furnished, not by spraying, but by soaking the ground. The hose should be allowed to run an hour once a week on each five or six square yards of ground, and the soil should be frequently stirred to get the air into the earth in order that the fertilizer may be decomposed, but not, of course, when the ground is water-soaked. No sacks or straw should be used to protect roses in winter. If protection is needed, use fir boughs which will allow a free circulation of air.

Cut roses should be laid in a cool place and sprinkled with cold water; kept thus 24 hours, they will last several days, other-wise they usually wilt very soon.

Roses should be propagated by planting in sand, the slips being three buds below the surface and one above; when rooted, plant out and shade with a newspaper a few days; this is the easiest country on earth in which to raise the rose.

The professor suggests the holding of a Rose Show in June. The ladies gave such an exhibition in the little town of Sumner last year, and it proved a success beyond their anticipations. Many ladies came even from Seattle to see the display—all the flowers were labeled and thus one had an excellent opportunity to judge as to what varieties they wished to plant for themselves.

He also gave suggestions and directions for the growing and preparation of an exhibit of fruits and flowers for the Portland Fair; but, as he stated, it is now rather late to get the best results. However, if our orchardists desire to make an exhibit of fruits, he would come down this summer and give instructions in its preparation. If such an exhibit were made, he would loan the county the jars of Port Angeles strawberries he prepared last year for said centennial, to be a part of its exhibit.

Favorite Recipes Used By Port Angeles' Cooks

MRS. S. J. LUTZ' CREAM PIE.

Line the pie tin with a rich pastry, then sift over it two tablespoons of flour, three cups of sugar, and a little grated nutmeg; dot this over with bits of butter and then add enough sweet milk to half fill the pie tin. Put into hot oven and stir occasionally. When done the filling should be the consistency of thick cream, and is delicious if properly made.

MRS. MITCHELL'S SUET PIE.

Use pie crust as for any other pie; one-half cup chopped suet, one-half cup of currants, one cup of raisins, one-half cup sugar, nutmeg to taste. Bake and serve warm.

MRS. C. A. CUSHING'S RIPE TOMATO PIE.

Pastry.— Three cups of flour; one full cup of one-third butter and two-thirds lard; one-half teaspoonful baking powder and one tablespoonful salt. Mix with very cold water and handle as little as possible.

Ripe Tomato Pie. — Slice enough tomatoes to make a pie the thickness of an apple pie, and put them in a cold place for one hour. Then drain off the juice, which should be saved. After lining a plate with pastry, sprinkle it with flour and put the sliced tomatoes in as you would apples. Then sweeten and salt, and add a little nutmeg and bits of butter. Sprinkle generously with flour and bake very carefully so that the juice will not run out.

The juice which was drained off the tomatoes may be used to make soup.

MRS. S. P. CARUSI'S CHOCOLATE CREAM PIE.

Into a double boiler put one cup of milk, a pinch of salt, and two squares of chocolate, previously melted. Mix together two tablespoonsful of flour, and five of sugar, with enough milk to make it like thin batter, then pour into the hot milk stirring constantly for about eight minutes. Beat two eggs well and pour this hot mixture into them; add a teaspoonful of vanilla. Line your pie tins with a rich crust and fill with the above mixture. Bake in a hot oven until crust is done. When cold, cover with whipped cream, sweetened, and flavored with vanilla.

PRUNING AND SPRAYING.

It is now high time to prune and spray your fruit trees, rose bushes, etc., also for grafting. I can do the work for you in GOOD shape, and charges reasonable. Will refer you, by permission, to Mr. Randall, your tree inspector, as to whether I understand the work or not. Drop me a postal or leave orders at Globe Hotel.

SOCIAL, CLUB & LODGE NOTES

WHIST AND SURPRISE PARTIES, ENTERTAINMENTS AND SOCIALS

Musical Club's Open Session

The Port Angeles Musical Club gave their first open session last Thursday evening, in Haning Hall, and it will be remembered as one of the most pleasant entertainments of the year. About one hundred guests accepted the hospitality of the members of the club and a very happy gathering it was.

The bright carpet on the floor, the dainty bouquets scattered about the room and the bright lights all tended toward making the hall present a very pleasing and homelike appearance, and to add to the brilliancy of the scene were the many handsome gowns worn by the ladies.

The program was exceptionally good and thoroly appreciated by the audience, each number received a hearty encore and was graciously responded to. Following is the program as given:

Piano solo..... Miss Grace McIvor
Vocal solo.....Mrs. Troy
Piano solo.....Mrs. Brophy
Mandolin and piano .....Misses Lange
Vocal solo.....Dr. Cooke
Recitation.....Mrs. Lovejoy
Vocal solo ..... Mrs. C. E. Cushing
Piano solo..... Miss Maude Hirsch
Piano duet.....Misses Lange

After the program a social session was enjoyed and the buzz of conversation was mingled with laughter and all were unanimous in saying the entertainment was a great success and hoped the ladies would "do it again," soon. Ice cream and cake were served and some of the more gay remained to dance awhile.

Port Angeles Whist Club

The Port Angeles Whist Club met at Mr. E. J. Ovington's last Monday evening. Three tables were in play. The scores were: Griswold & Moore vs Chenery & Mathewson, 103 to 87. Appleton & Sawyer vs Cooke & Trumbull, 99 to 89. Aldwell & Brophy vs Payne & Ovington, 98 to 98. Next meeting will be held with Mr. Payne.

Musical and Literary Social

The Ladies' Aid of the M. E. Church will give a social Tuesday evening, the 11th, at the residence of J. J. McKechnie, corner of 8th and Laurel streets. A musical and literary program will be given, also light refreshments will be served, all for 15c. A cordial invitation to all.

The Poverty Social.

The Civic Club at its meeting on Tuesday decided to give a Poverty Social on Wednesday, 19th inst. As far as can be ascertained the poverty part is not very much in evidence, except that the dinner will be served on broken dishes, for the menu is very liberal and generous. Experienced waiters will also be employed. Following this supper there will be an entertainment and the sketch, "Don't Borrow a Baby," will be presented. The admission to everything, including supper and entertainment, will be 35c, and the proceeds are to go to the bridge fund. It is a very worthy cause and besides you will get a 35c supper with the entertainment thrown in. There is no good reason for not going.

The Saturday Club

The Club spent a pleasant afternoon with Mrs. S. P. Carusi. She entertained the club with a Port Angeles Day as it was the 18th anniversary of the colonization; she had many interesting views and pictures of Angeles which entertained the guests for some time; then several contests were enjoyed. The refreshments consisted of delicious clam soup, cookies and tea and the ladies will remember it as a most enjoyable afternoon. The meeting this week is with Mrs. J. G. McClinton.

Manhattan Whist Club.

The Manhattan Whist Club met with Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Lauridsen Monday evening and a pleasant time is reported. The monthly prizes were awarded as follows: Mesdames E. E. Fisher and C. J. Farmer head lady prizes and Messrs. E. E. Fisher and Judge Hatch gentlemen's prizes. Mrs. Mead and Mr. Lauridsen received the consolation prizes. The next meeting is with Dr. and Mrs. Meade.

The Parliamentary Club spent last Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Mahaffy in the study of parliamentary law. This week Mrs. Marquardt will be the hostess.

Do you like nice sweet ham? If so, get one of those Diamond C Hams of Seevers, 16c per lb.

Entertained Luncheon Club

Mrs. H. Lutz proved herself a most charming hostess, to the former Angeles Luncheon Club, on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Lutz was prevented from entertaining the club, before it disbanded, on account of illness, hence the happy reunion they had this week. Mrs. Carusi acted as steward and Mrs. Church as chef, and about two o'clock the twelve ladies present sat down to a very dainty as well as delicious luncheon. After ample justice had been done to all the good things, the company adjourned to the parlors.

Roll call was responded to by each member with some clever or witty saying, and a contest of forty-six "old sayings" exercised their memory for some time. Mrs. Appleton received the prize, which was a neat edition of the Altruian Club Cook Book.

Those who enjoyed the pleasant afternoon together were: Mesdames Delabarre, Mead, Carusi, Church, Appleton, Brown, Brophy, Farmer, Fisher, Carrigan, Foster, and Miss Moon. This included all the members but three, who were unable to attend.

Mr. & Mrs. Bradshaw Surprised

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Bradshaw, to the number of over thirty, planned a little surprise for them and gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Button last evening, loaded with a goodly supply of all kinds of nice things to eat, called at the Bradshaw home shortly after eight. Their surprise was indeed great upon beholding such a multitude; all were welcomed and a most happy evening was begun. Card playing, music and a general social time made the hours pass swiftly by and at a late hour the friends bade Mr. and Mrs. Bradshaw good night. The guests were: Messrs. and Mesdames C. S. Bown, J. G. Malone, J. E. Cochran, R. C. Button, R. H. Denning, Harding, E. B. Flemming, Anderson, Orin Mason, McMillan, P. McGoff, Mesdames S. Miller, Richardson and daughter, VanKuren, LaFlower, J. B. Flemming, I. Filion, A. Filion, Campbell and Evans.

Odd Fellows Lecture.

At Odd Fellows Hall, on Friday evening, April 14, the Rev. W. H. Whelan will deliver his lecture on "A Trip Around The Horn," for the benefit of the lodge. There will be an olio of song and recitation in which Mesdames Engesser and Silverwood will sing, and Mrs. Mollie Phelps and Mr. Scott Perkins will recite. Miss McKee will preside at piano. Tickets 25cts; no reserved seats.

Mrs. Iron entertained the Woman's Literary Club at their last meeting, when an entertaining literary program was given. The next session will be held with Mrs. LaFlower.

W. H. Hamilton has left the employ of the Stone Company; he intends, however, to make this place his home for some time, and we hope permanently.

J. B. Flemming has purchased the Lawson property on Pine Hill and is building a residence thereon; Mr. Lawson will go to Vancouver, B. C.

The uniforms for the new members of the high school cadets have arrived and now over thirty of the boys are dressed in the soldierly suits.

Capt. T. Soule and Mrs. McMillan, of Hoquiam, were guests of Capt. and Mrs. H. E. Soule this week.

Mrs. Lucy Jordan returned from Seattle this week after a visit with her daughter.

Dr. Lewis returued from Seattle Tuesday.

THE CIVIC CLUB.

A Park Day to Be Arranged for Last of April.

The Civic Club met at the railroad office Tuesday afternoon, when the question of bridges was further considered. The report of the bridge committee, which had met with the advisory board the preceding afternoon, showed that the business men generally considered the project feasible. Mr. Lauridsen was elected, at committee meeting, trustee of bridge fund.

A series of entertainments have been planned for benefit of this fund, announcement of the first, a poverty social, being given in another column.

The little park, or "green spot" proposed at the bottom of the gulch near Peabody bridge will be commenced upon during the last week of this month, when all interested in the work of the club will turn out and assist in the clearing; a picnic dinner will be served.

Much of importance to civic advancement depends upon the Civic Club, and men and women from every section of the city are requested to aid the cause by enrolling their names. Meetings are held the first Tuesday of each month, in the railroad offices.

JAMES E. WEST AT REST.

The funeral of James E. West, the veteran engineer of the Filion mill, killed by the train on Friday at McMurray, took place Monday from the chapel of McKee & LaFlower, at 1:30 p. m. Charles Greenwold was buried at the same time.

The services were perfectly carried out under the direction of the Foresters of America. Rev. W. H. Whelan officiated and the impressive rites of the order were conducted by Fred C. Poole. The friends of the family crowded the little chapel to overflowing, and both caskets were covered with flowers.

Mr. West was born February 2, 1852, in New York state. He moved here from Michigan in 1893 and has ever since been more or less connected with the Filion mill, where he was such a tireless and constant worker that he earned from his fellow employees the title, The Iron Man. Through the trials and sorrows of a life of more than the average troubles he worked quietly and steadily on, creating for himself a regard from his fellow citizens that has become strikingly apparent since his death. Everybody seems to know of his trials and to express admiration for the fortitude shown in the loss of his dear ones, of his property, and in his affliction of of deafness which cost him his life. Three daughters, two of whom are married, survive him.

Mr. Dale, the gentleman who was injured on the railroad some time since, has had to employ help in his cigar and fruit store, owing to poor health, and has been fortunate in securing Miss L. Johnson to assist.

L. Henderson and Wm. Fowler commenced work Tuesday to put the large hall over Martin's sash factory in order for occupancy by the Odd Fellows who will remove there shortly.

C. P. Brown and family returned Wednesday after a long visit with Mr. Brown's mother at Corning, N.Y. Their many friends are glad to welcome them back.

HEARD JENNY LIND.

Graphic Description of a Maine Man's Sensations.

Throuh the courtesy of Mr. Llewellyn Morrill, says the Waterville Mail, we are able to publish an exceedingly interesting letter written by C. Nason to his half brother, S. F. Hubbard, of Canaan. Mrs. Morrill is a daughter of Mr. Hubbard. Mr. Nason was in Cincinnati at the time of Jenny Lind's visit there in April, 1851 and his account of "the Swedish Nightingale's" reception there and of the concert he attended is well worth reading. Mr. Nason's penmanship is almost like copperplate and the letter is as well preserved as on the day it was written 73 years years ago this month. The letter:

Cincinnati, April 19th, 1851.

Dear Brother:

It is now little more than two weeks since I received your letter, and without waiting longer I shall endeavor to answer it. I have no particular news to write, save that the city is nearly run crazy with the singing of "Jenny Lind." She has given three concerts, and is to give two more, when she leaves for Pittsburg. The tickets have sold very high, the first one bringing five hundred and seventy-five dollars, the others ranging from five, ten to twenty dollars. The receipts from the first two concerts were over thirty-five thousand dollars. Of the third I have not ascertained the amount received, probably as much however as at either of the other two. I attended her third concert given on Thursday evening last, and have hardly been myself since. Such astonishing power and sweetness of voice I never before had any conception of, nor can I now bring myself to realize that such music could be made by mortal powers; she sang five pieces, and it seemed as if each was more astonishing than the other. I sent to David yesterday a programme of the songs, translated into English, together with the German and Italian; she sang but twice in English and then she seemed to captivate the whole house; but her great triumph was reserved till the last. It was a Sweedish melody, and the prolonged notes made to resemble a bugle in the distance; she sat at the piano and played an accompaniment, but in prolonging the notes she raised her hands and appeared as if listening herself to the enchanting strains; not a movement of a muscle was to be seen; her lips slightly parted and pouring forth such a volume of sound as at once filled the whole theatre with a melody to soft, and yet so sweet, that it seemed as if a seraph sang. It was not louder than a whisper and yet it thrilled on the nerves, as if the whole air for a great distance around was ringing with a strange, delightful music. I would defy any one by the mere sense of hearing to tell from whence the sound proceeded. But why attempt to describe what my imagination even is not able to fathom. Suffice it to say, that though I had to pay a large price I was never so well repaid. I received the full value of my money.

C. Nason.

Favorite Recipes Used By Port Angeles' Cooks

MRS. S. J. LUTZ' CREAM PIE.

(In last week's paper, the following recipe called for three cups sugar, instead of three-fourths cup—a mistake of the printer.)

Line the pie tin with a rich pastry, then sift over it two tablespoons of flour, three-fourths cup sugar, and a little grated nutmeg; dot this over with bits of butter and then add enough sweet milk to half fill the pie tin. Put into hot oven and stir occasionally. When done the filling should be the consistency of thick cream, and is delicious if properly made.

MRS. J. E. BEAM'S APPLE CUSTARD PIE.

Stew sour apples until soft, press through the colander and add sugar and seasoning to taste, also butter the size of an egg and the well-beaten yolks of either two or three eggs. Bake until crust is done and then spread over top the beaten whites and brown slightly in oven.

MRS. SMITH'S COCOANUT PIE.

One pint milk, three eggs, one scant teacup sugar, one heaping teacup grated cocoanut; mix with the yolks of the eggs and sugar; stir in the milk, filling the pan even full, and bake. Beat the whites of eggs to froth, stirring in three tablespoons pulverized sugar, pour over pie and bake light brown.

MRS. DELABARRE'S CURRANT PIE.

One cup fresh currants, one cup sugar, one tablespoon flour, two tablespoons water, two eggs. Mash currants with sugar, add flour, then water and beaten yolks of eggs. Pour in crust and bake until done; then pour over the whites beaten stiff with two tablespoons sugar; brown lightly in oven.

MRS. T. F. TRUMBULL'S LEMON PIE.

One cup of sugar, one heaping tablespoon of corn starch, pinch of salt, juice of one large lemon and a little grated rind, one cup of hot water. Let boil; then remove from stove and add yolks of two eggs; put in crust and bake. Beat whites of eggs with tablespoon of sugar and spread over top; brown lightly.

MRS. WEBSTER'S CREAM PIE.

One pint milk, scalded; two tablespoons cornstarch, three tablespoons sugar, yolks of two eggs. Wet the starch with a little cold milk, beat the eggs and sugar until light, and stir the whole into scalding milk. Flavor with lemon or vanilla and set aside to cool. Line a plate with pie crust and bake; fill it with cream and cover it with a frosting made of the whites of the eggs, beaten dry, with two tablespoons sugar. Bake a delicate brown.

THE OLYMPIC PENINSULA

Extracts From Article in Wilhelm's Magazine, The Coast for April.

Extending from Olympia, Washington, northward to the Straits of Juan de Fuca, bordered on the west by the Pacific Ocean and on the east by Puget Sound, lies the Olympic Peninsula. The backbone of this region being the range of mountains after which it receives its name—the Olympic Mountains.

For beautiful and magnificent scenery, for a summer climate which is unexcelled in the world, this region stands among the first. Here are lakes in the high altitudes where the mountains are covered with everlasting snows and the banks are fringed with trees whose leaves never die, and even amidst the snows of winter greet the eyes with a restful green and abundant verdue. Here are dashing and splashing streams tumbling down rocky gorges, where ferns and wildwood grow in amazing profusion. Here are murmuring brooks which babble over mossy rocks and lazily wind through meadows of beautiful flowers budding and blooming amidst banks of shining snow. Here are nooks and turns in rivers where beneath the cool shade of some protecting rock a saucy trout may lurk and leap to catch the flies and insects which skim the surface of the still waters, seemingly at rest. Here the wildwood may ring with the shrill cry of the mountain lion, or a herd of elk may be seen in the distance ready to rush away into the hidden fastnesses of the forest at the least sign of danger. Here the light breezes of the mountain altitudes may caress the cheek cooled by the icy embrace of a glacier or a snow-field, while at the same time it is ladened with the rich exhilaration and salty fragrance of the sea. Ah me! For wild and ecstatic enjoyment and the bewildering pleasure of mingling with and reveling in the sublimity and vastness of gorgeous and unbounded nature, the Olympic Peninsula is the place.

But as yet the only means of reaching that region is by water transportation and trail from the various landings on the coast of Puget Sound and the Straits of Juan de Fuca. The rough and unwelcome shores of the Pacific Ocean provide no haven and the railroads with their bands of steel which unite the places of the earth in the bands of commerce and social intercourse, as yet have not entered this rich region. However, it prospers and its development and growth is as certain as it may be considered slow.

A very pleasant trip which one can make in two days is to leave Seattle and go to Victoria, when stops are made at Port Townsend and Port Angeles, and in the making of this trip one can gain a very accurate and comprehensive idea of the Olyimpic Peninsula. The start may be made early in the morning, when the sun is just appearing in the east, and casting its first and sweetest rays of light over the Cascade Mountains, in the east. A bright and heavenly glow beams over the Olympic Mountains as the boat slowly steams out of the harbor and starts on its way. The sides of the towering, silent monitors of the Sound glisten with snow, perhaps, and the peaks are agleam with the dazzling glory of a crown of everlasting snow. As this stands out against the imperial blue of the salubrious skies of the Pacific Ocean beyond, a thrill of delight and an impulse of gladness bursts over the beholder's being. The soul thrills with wildness and the heart leaps with joy.

The Olympic Peninsula! Words might be multiplied and then multiplied again ten fold, and the grandeur and beauty, the vastness and sublimity, the wealth and greatness of the resources, the glories and delights of the region would be but faintly outlined. The reader must visit and the student must explore; the tourist must traverse and the homeseeker must investigate. The object of this article is to merely call your attention to the fact that there is an Olympic Peninsula and that it is a rich, wonderful and beautiful region.

A NEGLECTED OPPORTUNITY.

Clallam County has been advertised to the world as a county which has for its principal source of wealth its immense tracts of the finest timber that grows. That its timber resources are at this time the greatest source of wealth is true, but it is also true that at the present rate of cutting the day is not very far distant when hundreds of thousands of our forest covered acres will be denuded.

The mainstay of every country is the man who tills the soil. As a matter of fact, the earth is the source of all wealth and the man who tills the soil is the only real producer of wealth. The day is fast coming when our principal source of wealth will be agricultural and dairy products, and Clallam will then, as now, be in the front rank.

The east end of the county is now attracting the progressive farmer and dairyman from the eastern and middle states and the wealth of that section of the county has more than doubled in five years.

For many years the Dungeness country has been famous and has poured a steady stream of wealth into the laps of the fortunate farmer and dairyman. A few years ago the barren prairies around Seguin were considered worthless, but by the application of a few progressive ideas and plenty of water they have been made to blossom like the rose, and lands which were hardly salable at $4 or $5 per acre are now worth $40 or $50 per acre and hard to get at that price.

The same movement is going forward in every portion of the county; every spot where the timber is not of too great value has its rancher clearing and preparing the ground for crops or pasture. If evidence were needed as to what the ultimate industry of this county is to be, it is to be found in the rapidly increasing territory in which ranching in its various forms is being pursued.

In view of these facts it has seemed to us that the people of Clallam county, and particularly of Port Angeles, have not been fully alive to their duties toward what is now at least our second great industry and source of wealth, and have overlooked an opportunity to encourage and help the growth of this great industry.

For many years the agricultural communities in the east have recognized that the County Fair was one of the greatest incentives to progressive farming and as a means of educating the tillers of the soil, by bringing the skill of the individuals in competition. It brings the farmers together and gives them an opportunity to observe and discuss new methods. And it provides the most effective method of disseminating the knowledge which the farmer gains from experience.

Nearly every county in the state has its annual fair. The Jefferson County Fair association is now in its third year and has constantly gained in favor and met with a larger measure of success. It will not require argument to show that such a movement would be of great benefit to Port Angeles and her business men and we believe that a little effort and encouragement would be all that is necessary to successfully launch the enterprise.

We would suggest that this is a matter that the Horticultural Society is directly and vitally interested in and it would seem as though the members of that organization would be the proper ones to take the matter in hand.

The time is now ripe to be moving in the matter and a little well directed effort will put the matter in shape so that the first Fair could be held this coming fall.

The Olympic stands ready to do its share toward the success of such a movement and believes that substantial encouragement will be given by every business man in the town and county.

Let us try and get together.

STONE AS FREIGHT

It is beginning to become apparent how the development of the stone quarry is to benefit Port Angeles and Clallam county. The Federal Building contract calls for the delivery of 500 cubic feet of stone per day.

Reduce this proposition to a question of freights and its application to the railroad situation becomes forcible. This contract means 50 car loads per month, or at the rate of about 600 car loads per year. This is about one-third the present capacity of the plant. The securing of this contract assures the prosperity of the business, so that it is reasonable to assume that within six months the plant will be working to its full capacity and turning out approximately 2,000 carloads per year.

This means sufficient freight money to pay the interest on bonds sufficient to build, equip and operate at least ten miles of railroad. Someone had better be moving.

THEY AGREED PERFECTLY.

They tell a good one Mr. Pugh, who is doing part of the city news on The Olympic. It seems that Joe, who is anything but a knocker, met and made the acquaintaince of a stranger at the boat the other morning, and of course lost no opportunity to impress the gentleman with the advantages of Clallam county. Among other things he told him of the vast deposit of the finest stone on earth, and taking him over to the Angeles Grocery Co.'s store, Joe showed him the beautiful turned stone urns as a sample of the product. The gentleman had been greatly interested, as was quite natural in view of the fact, as he then told Joe, that his name was Heath, the man who had been furnishing a large part of "tallow" that had gone into the quarry.

AROUND THE HORN.

Rev. W. H. Whelan will lecture on Friday, the 14th of April next, for the benefit of Clallam Lodge, I. O. O. F., in their hall. The lecture will be "A Trip Around the Horn" and is one of the besr the speaker has. Singing and recitations will be had, and a general good program furnished. Admission 25c. No reserved seats.

A FIGHT

SEGUIN NOTES.

Supervisor Wooding has finished grading the road from here to Washington Harbor and now has a force of men hauling gravel on the soft places. When finished this will make one of the finest short drives in the county, as it leads to a magnificent picnic grounds and sea beach.

The Seguin Civic Club has been showing their hand lately and as a result several trees and large stumps have disappeared from the center of our main street. It is to be hoped that other property owners will take the same action on stumps and trees which may be in front of their homes.

Dr. McGeorge was a visitor to the county seat Monday last to attend the meeting of the county commissioners in the interest of good roads for Seguin.

Mrs. J. F. Nebergall is visiting her daughter in Port Townsend this week.

Robert Baker has returned to work at the Cougar Shingle Mill and is building himself a house, so we may expect to receive an invitation to a wedding soon.

P. S. Govan, foreman on the Eureka Ditch, announces that he will have the water turned in, in a few days.

Messrs. Roper & Mayer, representing the firm of John B. Agen, of Seattle, were visitors to Seguin last Tuesday. Mr. Agen is going to erect a big creamery and cheese factory either at Dungeness or Seguin and had his representatives looking at the merits of the two places preparatory to deciding on the location.

Mr. Joe Baker of Dungeness is to be the resident manager for the new creamery. Mr. Baker has been a resident of this district for a number of years, during a part of which time he conducted a creamery at Dungeness, which he sold to the Glendale company and has been in their employ ever since. All wish him success in his new undertaking.

Wm. Peterson, manager of the Sequin Trading Co., has been quite ill with a cold the past few days.

The funeral of the late Mr. J. Consalous of Blyn was conducted at the Seguin cemetery on Sunday last, by his reverence, Wolfgang, of Port Angeles.

On last Saturday night the many friends of Mr. C. W. Carpenter called on him at his home and reminded him that time was fleeting, and that they proposed to give him a good time on this, his fiftieth birthday. Music, games and dancing were indulged in till twelve, when all partook of refreshments in the shape of coffee and cake of many kinds. Soon after which they took their departure for their homes, all wishing Mr. Carpenter many more such birthdays.

DUNGENESS

Lloyd Hemstreet, a long time resident of this place and a prominent member of the Yeoman lodge, departed for Seattle last Monday morning where he will make his future home.

Richard McDonnell, one of the familiar figures on the streets of Dungeness, has accepted a position with the Merchants Hotel of Port Angeles.

For the famous Billy Buster School Shoes call on Knight & Eby.

For the past two weeks rumors of a new creamery at either Seguin or Dungeness have been afloat. It is no longer a rumor, however, as it is now definitely known that the creamery will be located at Dungeness, with John B. Agen of Seattle at the financial end of the proposition and J. C. Baker, a former employee of the Glendale creamery, will manage the business affairs of the creamery here. To say that Dungeness is on a boom is putting it mildly.

Aden Knoph takes the position of butter maker lately vacated by J. C. Baker, and Jack Wilcox, who recently resigned his position at the fish hatchery, will take Aden's place.

It is quite a common occurrence nowadays to see mining prospectors with their outfits on the streets of Dungeness.

If you wish to purchase a swell turnout, call on Knight & Eby, agents for the Mitchell buggies and wagons.

Rev. Geo. F. Graham went to Seattle Thursday on a business trip.

Mrs. Sam Rhodefer came down from her new home on the Swanson ranch to attend the meeting of the Royal Neighbors Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Blake spent a portion of last week with friends in Seattle, returning home Friday morning.

Mr. Herbert Graham is officiating in the post office during Mr. Blake's absence.

The Woodmen held their county convention here Wednesday to elect delegates to the state convention. Mr. Thos. Knoph was elected; the convention will be held in Spokane May 3rd.

Mr. and Mrs. Barrett and a party of friends of Victoria are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ellis this week. Mrs. Barrett is a sister of Mr. Ellis.

Mrs. J. E. Ellis was down town Monday morning for the first time since she met with her accident two months ago.

C. W. Thompson has rented his ranch for a term of years to Peter McNamara. Peter is not saying anything, but we all expect to hear bells ringing soon.

EAST CLALLAM.

From the Record.

Deputy Assessor Withrow is out assessing in this district this week, making personal property assessments.

W. M. Johnson, one of the prosperous Hoko river farmers was in town buying supplies yesterday. He also bought one of Bill Crawford's thorough-bred Jersey cows.

A petition is in circulation over the west end of the county asking the postmaster general to give the people along the mail route between East Clallam and Mora a daily mail service. At present the service is three times a week.

The light house tender Manzanita was in port last night and landed one of the light house keepers and his family also an engineer for the fog signal station. H. P. Score is the new keeper. He has been transferred from Arago and is accompanied here by his wife and two children. E. S. Sherman the engineer comes from Portland. Another keeper is due to arrive in a few days.

Friday's Session

Board contracted with Clallam Co. Abstract Co. to write up acreage, townsite, subdivisions and principal additions on 1905 tax rolls.

County attorney ordered to take measures to declare Albert Iverson, a minor child, a county charge.

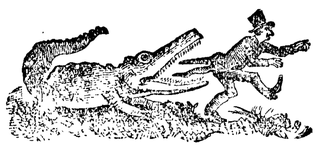
Board ordered County Home fenced. Commissioner Christopher directed to have lands put in shape for cultivation and grading completed. Superintendent instructed to use his own discretion in planting; said work to be done without extra charge.

Auditor was instructed to notify the Eureka Irrigation and Milling Co. and the Seguin Prairie Ditch Co. to keep culverts where crossed by roads in good repair.

Individuals are also notified to keep their culverts in good condition where roads are crossed.

CITY IS COMPLETING ROAD

City street commissioner Wise and a crew of men and teams commenced work Monday morning to make the connection on C street with the county road near the Filion mill. This is work that has been badly needed for a long time and will be duly appreciated by the residents of that part of the city.



PORT ANGELES NURSERY

Don't make any mistake in buying your trees. The Port Angeles Nursery trees grown at Ennis Creek without irrigation, are large, have perfect roots, clean smooth bodies, with thrifty tops, and are immensely superior to the small trees grown by irrigation brought from east of the mountains and don't cost any more. Nice trees of all choice varieties of fruit. Inspection invited and catalogue free to those interested.
