TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

Will Be Held at Opera House May 1st to 5th; Harlin E. Risley, Superintendent

The Sixteenth Annual Session of the Clallam County Teachers' Institute will convene Monday at the opera house, with Supt. Harlin E. Risley as conductor, May W. Smith musical director, Caroline Hogan, secretary, and the following corps of instructors: Prof. W. G. Hartranft of Seattle, Prof. J. T. Forest of Bellingham, F. M. McCully of Olympia, Prof. Huntsworth of Seattle, Miss Emma Page of Tacoma, and Rev. Winey of Seguin.

The forenoon sessions will be held from 9 a. m. to 12 m.; afternoon from 1:30 to 4, and evening commencing at 8 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all friends of education and especially to school officers.

The first session opens with invocation by Rev. Williston, followed by Mayor Appleton in an address of welcome. Prof. Forest will then hold forth on the study of geography and Emma Page on "Our Helpers of House and Barn." Prof. Forest delivers an address on "Attention" in the afternoon and Prof. Huntsworth takes up arithmetic.

On Tuesday Rev. Whelan gives the invocation, followed by an address on "How to Improve the Memory" by Forest, the study of history by Huntsworth, and "Harmless Animals" by Page. In the afternoon Forest takes up school sanitation and Hartranft sense training. The committee on entertainment will conduct a social session in the evening.

Rev. Fulmer will deliver the invocation on Wednesday, and the day will be devoted to school management, the question box, the status of the teacher, current history, responsibilities of the teacher, and, in the evening, steps in human progress.

Thursday is to be "School Officers' Day." Rev. Cheal will open the morning session with invocation, and F. M. McCully will give an address to school officers. Other subjects are on the use of school libraries, centralization, aim of education and the question box. "Glimpses of New England" will doubtless prove very interesting as the evening address.

Rev. Winey gives the invocation Friday morning. Topics of the day are primary reading, music in nature, certification, the recitation, and report of committees. In the evening, Rev. Winey will give an illustrated lecture on "Music in Nature."

The committees are: Entertainment: Chas. S. Bown, Isabelle McLaughlin, Ina McNutt, Herbert Babcock. Music: Mrs. W. J. Ware, Sup't L. E. Mahaffy, I. L. Ullery, Miss Addie Thomas. Introduction: Samuel Treby, A. N. Taylor, Mrs. Grace Babcock, Miss Grace Kennan. Resolution: E. A. Lamoreux, Miss Anna V. Smith, Miss Hazel Belt, Miss Sarah E. Brown.

Picked Up Indian Canoe

Capt. Nielsen of tug Pioneer was here Tuesday, having on board a 35 ft. Indian canoe, picked up adrift thirty-five miles off the Cape. The canoe is new and apparently was made by the Indians of Vancouver Island.

SAYS HE WAS NOT KILLED

One Ray of Truth in a Tissue of Falsehood.

E. D. Short received this week a copy of the Reno (Nev.) Journal containing an article with a big head line reading, "A Baron Going Into Tonopah." It is none other than Martin von Schlosser, whom the Journal styles as being of one of the oldest houses in Germany with the blood of the Hohenzollerns in his veins.

It seems that the Baron was on his way to the new mining country, when he heard of the prevailing sickness there and stopped at Reno. He was very communicative to his interviewer and some of his information may be of interest here. He says in part that he came to the state of Washington from Germany for his health, being afflicted with skieditis and many other complaints. He purchased a ranch of 160 acres and proceeded to live an out door life which entirely cured him except for two maladies, lazyitis and boozeritis. The Journal speaks admiringly of his six feet of well knit manhood. The Baron's present residence is in San Francisco, but twice a year he visits his shooting lodge at Port Crescent. It was while there that he had his encounter with the bear and again the Baron asserts that he was not killed, but only severely used up, carrying away scars which he exhibits to the Journal reporter as evidence.

BELVIN GOT 30 DAYS

Called One Man Too Many a Liar and Rascal.

Boston, Apr. 26. — After conviction by a jury, W. Wayne Belvin, a New York capitalist, said to be a lineal descendent of "Mad Anthony" Wayne, of Revolutionary fame, and promoter of the Port Angeles & Portland railroad, was sentenced in the superior criminal court this afternoon to thirty days in jail for criminal libel. Belvin's offense occurred February 21, when he sent a telegram from New York to Allen Nye, a business man with offices here, with whom he had been associated, as follows:

"You lie, when you say you wrote me a letter on February 9. I am prepared to show that you are unquestionably the worst rascal I ever came in contact with."

A number of friends interceded for him, asking that a fine instead of imprisonment be imposed, but Judge Pierce declared he must be sentenced, as would any man of less standing.

Capt. Dowling Visits Friends

Capt. W. G. Dowling was in here a few days this week with the St. David. She changed her papers and proceeded Wednesday to Comax to load with coal for Dutch Harbor. Capt. Dowling was here nearly all winter two years ago with his ship.

Raises Blisters on Trout Ranch

P. J. Williams was at Lake Sutherland over Sunday; he says he has been farming and as evidence shows a badly blistered hand. Blisters are also often made by rowing, and as he bro't back no fish the farming story is good.

CITY PARK PICNIC DAY

Civic Club Will Start Park Improvement on Friday, the 5th of April.

The Civic Club will hold their Park Picnic Day on Friday, May 5th, when everyone is invited to turn out with suitable tools for cutting up logs, digging stumps, and clearing underbrush. Workers are requested to meet at the corner of First and Chase streets at 9 a. m. sharp. A picnic dinner will be held, but if you don't happen to have a good wife to put up your lunch, don't let that prevent your coming for there will be plenty and to spare; coffee will be furnished to all by the ladies.

The park committee, consisting of Dr. Appleton, Dr. Lewis, Mrs. Harding, Mrs. Cooke, Mrs. Trumbull, Major Harding, Capt. Pope and Mrs. Cushing, have planned a big day's work and they urge everyone to come and assist in making this the beauty spot of the city, a place in which all citizens will take pride. The grounds will extend from Peabody bridge to the court house, a locality particularly adapted by nature as a picnic and playground for children.

NEAT AND EFFECTIVE

Mr. Davis' Booklet So Styled By Advertising Expert.

The Thomas G. Plant Company of Boston, manufacturers of the famous Queen Quality shoes, in acknowledging receipt of Mr. Alf. A. Davis' booklet, the "Story of Our Campaign," add their congratulations on "this neat and effective bit of advertising." They say that it "certainly does Mr. Davis much credit," and that "many a shoe concern that complains of 'just ordinary' business would, if they adopted your method, find very soon there was 'something doing.'" As they operate the largest factory in the world, containing seven acres of floor space, a business built up and maintained by extensively advertising a meritorious article, their opinion regarding effective advertising is good.

Cougar is Getting Bolder

The Olympic's article, concerning Mrs. Brophy's and Mrs. McDougall's encounter with the cougar, printed two weeks ago, has been traveling over the country and gaining like a rolling snow ball. The San Francisco papers have it that Mrs. McDougall barely escaped the cougar's spring as she took down the bars. By the time the article reaches New York, one of the ladies will undoubtedly be killed.

Took on Lumber and Shingles

The Andy Mahoney, after taking on 450 telephone poles, tied up at the City Wharf and loaded 400,000 shingles and 30,000 feet of lumber, the product of the Filion mill; she goes up-sound to complete her cargo.

The Ladies' Aid of the Baptist Church will meet with Mrs. Hemme on Pine Hill on Wednesday afternoon, May 3rd. A fine lunch will be served from 3 to 5.

U.P. WILL CROSS QUINAULT

Work Again Commenced on Line Belting Peninsula.

The Northern Pacific is again actively engaged in extending the peninsula railroad northward from the southern limit of the Quinault Indian reservation, to which point it had previously been graded from Grays Harbor. The work was stopped there awaiting the surveying of the reservation by the government for the purpose of allotting to Indians and throwing the balance of the reservation open to settlement. The survey was completed last week, but it is not known when the lands will be open for entry.

It is reported that 200 men went to work on the line this morning. About 50 tracklayers had been at work previously completing the line to the reservation. It is expected that the road will be built across the reservation by next winter, and in time will reach the Straits. It will open up a magnificent agricultural and timber region west of the Olympics, and a large part of which is in this county.—Townsend Call.

ROUNDS UP CHINAMEN

Sam Chinaman's Case to Be Heard Here on May 20th.

Immigrant Inspector Nicholson returned from Dungeness Tuesday where he had been looking up the case of Jew Cue, commonly known as Sam Chinaman, whom he arrested last February for having no certificate. This Chinaman has been in Dungeness for 23 years and had his certificate six years ago when it was checked up by Inspector Fisher. He claims to have lost it and explains that it may have been carried away by children who had free access to his room. Thro' his attorney and bondsmen, Fisher & Hickok, he has been endeavoring to get a duplicate certificate from the government, but so far no action has been taken. He is now out on bail and his trial will be held May 20th before H. E. Lutz, U. S. Court Commissioner.

While there, Mr. Nicholson checked up all the Chinamen in the Seguin and Dungeness country, finding them all to have proper certificates.

JEFFERSON CO. FAIR

Established by Foresters Lodge at Quilcene and Has Proven a Great Success.

The ease with which an annual agricultural or horticultural exhibition may be started and brought to a high degree of perfection is well illustrated in the case of the Jefferson County Fair, which was fathered by the Forester's lodge of Quilcene.

The first exhibition was talked of by the members in much the same spirit as any lodge entertainment, the amusement and dancing features to be the chief drawing cards. But just at this opportune time Editor Satterlee, of the Townsend Call, who formerly lived in Quilcene, learned of their intention and induced them to consider the promotion of the agricultural interests of the Quilcene Valley by a bona fide fair. This they readily agreed to, on condition that Mr. Satterlee would look after and direct the work as acting secretary—the lodge having already chosen the officers for their fair, so-called.

No extensive premium list was issued; nor was any great amount of advertising done outside the columns of the Call. In fact, the Call was the only paper to take up and push the project.

On the morning of the first day set for the exhibition, when Mr. Satterlee arrived on the scene, practically nothing had been done towards caring for exhibits should any be brought—and not an exhibit nor an exhibitor was in sight. The members of the lodge were discouraged and considered the project a failure.

But not so the venerable editor, who rolled up his sleeves for work and soon injected a considerable amount of enthusiasm into his co-workers, with the result that by the following day tables had been made and the small building prepared for exhibits. Nor was Mr. Satterlee's confidence in the project and understanding of the needs of the farmers at fault, for about noon the exhibits began to arrive, until those in charge had literally to throw up their hands and acknowledge their inability to cope with the situation.

And such exhibits! Vegetables and fruits of larger size and finer quality were never shown even in the irrigated deserts of Eastern Washington. The ranchers themselves could hardly believe their eyes.

In response to telegrams from Mr. Satterlee, a large delegation of Townsend people came out on the P.T.Southern. Their surprise was complete and they then and there wanted to adopt the exhibition and the idea, and move the whole concern to Port Townsend. But neither the Foresters nor Mr. Satterlee could see it in that light and the addresses made advocating such a change fell on deaf ears. Since then, 1902, the annual exhibitions have increased rapidly, both in size and in value to the farmer and gardener, and, considered as an advertising medium, to the county as a whole.

However, it is not of present conditions we wish to speak, but rather of the splendid success made of the first fairs—and that with a minimum of effort. They were not amusement enterprises, nor jockey and horse affairs, but agricultural exhibitions; they were the people's fairs, and as such were bound to succeed.

The second year's exhibition was held October 1st to 4th, 1903, in a new hall the Foresters had just completed and fitted up for the purpose. Premium lists had been printed and extensively circulated, and considerable advertising was done, resulting in a display of fruits and vegetables, as well as poultry, incomparably better than the first. The cream of these exhibits were on display months afterward in the windows of the leading stores in Townsend, attracting a great deal of attention from all visitors to that city.

In considering such an undertaking—the success of which as an exhibition being taken for granted as a matter of course—the first thought is naturally of the probable financial success. Nothing could be more simple than the methods adopted by those in charge at Quilcene. The public spirited merchants of Townsend were found to be not only willing but anxious to do their share towards its encouragement, and all contributed cash or articles of merchandise to be used as premiums. This lodge, if we remember rightly, set aside a sum sufficient to pay the lesser premiums, which was to be returned to their treasury, after incidental running expenses had been paid, out of the proceeds from sale of tickets of admission—the which was only a mere matter of form. A small charge per page for advertising space in the premium list paid for the pamphlets as well as for the other printing required. And as no amusements were required, save such as were conducted by private parties and for which privileges they paid the lodge, the financial success was assured weeks before the opening date.

In the way of premiums we might mention the following as illustrative of the inducements offered by the Foresters and the merchants:

On poultry $52, of which $31 was in cash and $21 in merchandise. Of this there were two premiums of $5 each by Max Levy on best pairs of light and dark brahmas, and one of $5 by C. L. Intermela on best trio of white leghorns; also a $4 pair of shoes by The Red Front on pair of bronze turkeys — premiums that made it a financial object to poultry raisers to compete. The best collections of poultry were also awarded $5 and $3.

On vegetables the total premiums offered amounted to $35, most of them being 50 cts. or 25 cts for best displays of the various kinds. But the best display of all kinds was awarded $15.

And the list in the fruit, flowers, and pantry stores, fancy work, young peoples' department, and fine arts averaged up about the same—all being contributed by the public spirited citizens of Port Townsend and Quilcene. Fifty-five dollars, which included two ten dollar washing machines contributed by the hardware firms, were offered as special premiums on articles not properly enumerated in any department. In all fifty premiums of a value of from two to ten dollars each were offered. Several well-known Seattle manufacturers, such as the Crescent Mfg. Co., and Lilly, Bogardus & Co., contributed liberally of their various lines of goods to be used as the lodge thought best.

That which the Foresters lodge in the little village of Quilcene, situated in a very narrow valley thirty miles from Townsend, was able to do so successfully, can surely be equaled if not excelled here in Port Angeles. All that is necessary to permanently establish an annual exhibition which will prove of immense value to our town and county, is for the horticultural society, or some one of our clubs, having one or more energetic members, to give the ball a push and start it rolling.

And it is our opinion that here, where a very considerable attendance would be assured, such club or society would find itself in possession of a neat little cash balance to be devoted to the "Bridge Fund," or to needed charitable work.

NEW FOREST FIRE LAWS

Closed Season From June 1st to October 1st on Burning Slashings.

The Forest Fire law of 1903 was repealed at the last session of the Washington legislature and a new law substituted. The new law provides for a State Board of Fire Commissioners consisting of five members, one of whom is the State Land Commissioner, and the other four are appointed by the governor; all to serve without compensation. This State Board of Fire Commissioners has absolute control of all fire wardens and the general policy of carrying into effect the law. The state fire warden is to be appointed by the commission, and a deputy fire warden in each of the timbered counties; the latter at a compensation of four dollars per day, from June 1st to October 1st of each year. The deputy fire wardens will be under control of the state fire warden. The deputy fire wardens in each county will have power to grant permits to burn slashings (during the closed season); under the old law the county commissioners granted permits.

The "Closed Season" is from June 1st to October 1st of each year, during which time it is illegal to burn slashings without a permit. Spark arresters must be used on all locomotives and logging engines from June 1st to October 1st of each year. The law provides penalties for burning slashings without permit during the closed season; for refusing to aid deputy fire wardens, and for operating locomotives without suitable fire arresters. One-third of the expense in each county is to be defrayed by the county and the remaining two-thirds by the state. The law becomes effective June 1st, 1905.—Port Townsend Call.

Wiggins, W. Mathewson, H. Mitchell, Kearney, Ed. Dilling, H. Nichols, Rasmussen and Dr. Mead. The court house team will comprise R. D. McLaughlin, W. B. Smith, N. M. Hawkins, E. A. FitzHenry, Frank Thompson, Frank Sullivan, Ray Maxfield, James Gallagher, Maurice Fisher, A. I. Filion, A. R. Pringle, E. E. Hopkins,

THE CITY COUNCIL

Council to Clear Slate Ready for New Water Works Proposition.

At the last council meeting the matter of the resolution adopted by the council on February 7th regarding the forfeiture of the Lingenbrink water franchise was brought up. The city attorney was directed to report an ordinance repealing that ordinance.

Fire Chief Hawkins made a verbal report as to the efficiency of the chemical fire extinguishers. He recommends their use in the early stages of a fire before it has gained headway. He called the attention of the council to the worthless condition of some of the hose which was discovered to be of little use at the fire. He was instructed to have the hose carefully tested and a report made to the council of cost of replacing the worthless hose.

Councilman Hallahan reported the wires down on 2nd street, which cuts off the lights from Muskett's and Harding's residences. Three new poles, he reports, are required for permanent repair. Referred to electric light committee.

The following claims were ordered paid:

D. O'Brien, wood,.....$ 56.25
C. Wise, streets,..... 286.15
Firemen, cld. $39, allowed, 36.00
Dem.-Leader, printing,... 39.42

Mr. Morris, who was here collecting data for an article which has since appeared in the Commonwealth, appeared before the council asking them to endorse his services in writing up Clallam county and Port Angeles. Council passed a resolution heartily endorsing his work.

Mayor Appleton reported on the dangerous condition of the Front St. extension, but no action was taken on the matter.

BEST ON PACIFIC COAST

Delabarre's "Sandy" Won Everything in Sight.

As announced in the Olympic last week, Port Angeles has a prize winning representative at the Bench Show now on at Seattle in Mr. W. F. Delabarre's Ayredale terrier "Sandy."

The Ayredale strain is a breed that is highly prized among dog fanciers and everyone posted on the breed who has seen "Sandy" has enthusiastically pronounced him the finest specimen on the coast.

While everyone in Port Angeles conceded the excellent points of Sandy and that he was bred in the purple, it detracted nothing from the pleasure and surprise of the receipt of the following telegram last evening:

Seattle, April 27th.
W. F. Delabarre,
Port Angeles.

Sandy won first all classes. Three silver cups. Specials for best in show. R. M. Palmer.

It is needless to say that "Dele" will be buying wine on the strength of this remarkable victory. Sandy is only a year old and he was up against prize winners from British Columbia, Washington, Oregon and California.

NEW FREIGHTER FOR ANGELES

SOCIAL, CLUB & LODGE NOTES

WHIST AND SURPRISE PARTIES, ENTERTAINMENTS AND SOCIALS

The Saturday Club.

The handsome home of Judge and Mrs. J. G. McClinton was thrown open on last Friday evening for the entertainment of the Saturday Reading Club, its friends and guests. Each member had the privilege of inviting three guests, so there were about seventy-five in attendance, and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed by everyone.

The color scheme of the entertainment, both for refreshments and decorations, was yellow and white; the home presented a beautiful appearance with flowers and plants everywhere. The program was opened with an instrumental duet by Miss Helen Cooke and Miss McIvor; next was a "rare musical treat" consisting of six different songs sung at once by six members of the club behind the scenes, and the audience was asked to guess who the singers were, and what the songs. Dr. Cooke and Mrs. Mead each sang two very pretty solos, and Mrs. Jno. Trumbull recited Van Bibber's Rock.

The evenings program was closed with a literary contest, which was very novel and interesting, the whole thing being in rhyme, and the answers being titles of modern books. Miss Lou Crooks won the prize—a pretty picture.

Refreshments were next in order and consisted of egg sandwiches, coffee, orange ice cream, and yellow and white cakes. In each napkin was a dainty souvenir of the occasion. A pleasant social time was then enjoyed and all departed feeling that they would long remember this evening at home with the Reading Club.

Literary League Banquet

The Eighth Grade Literary League of the Central School closed its year's work last Friday evening with a banquet at Haning Hall. The following program was given, Leland Beam presiding:

Music—"Mollie Shannon,"....Orchestra
Recitation—"Turner Stebbens' Foot Ball Game,".....Jennie Finch
Dialogue—"The Potato Pudding," Alice Swanson, Myrtle Madison, Laura Polhamus, Leland Beam.
Piano Solo—Fifth Nocturne, Ley Bach.....Maud Hirsch
Recitation—"The Pied Piper," Robert Browning. Part first, Helen Trumbull; part second, Maud Hirsch.
Duet, Piano, Robert and Laura Polhamus.
Recitation—"The Three Bells," Whittier Trevore Bayton, Walter Smith, Gene Myers, Robert Gould, Leland Beam.
Chorus—"The Whip-poor-will," Christy. Flora McGill, Leah Myers, Ferdinand Malchiou, Ned Taft, Leland Beam, Miss Brown, Robert Polhamus.
Recitation, "The Owl Critic," Daphna McLaughlin.
Recitation—"How they brought the good news from Ghent to Aix," Robert Browning...Robert Polhamus
Concert Recitation—"The Bugle Call,".....The League
Chautauqua Salute,.....The League
Music—"Killarney,".....Orchestra

After the program, all sat down to an elegant banquet provided by the "parents" of the "League." Ned Taft acted as toastmaster and the following toasts were heartily applauded.

The 8th Grade,.....Miss Brown
Our Orchestra,.....Grace McKechnie
Our Library,.....Ned Taft
Ventilation in Room 6,.....Daphna McLaughlin
Robert Major,.....Robert Minor
Robert Minor,.....Robert Major
Our Parents,.....Mr. W. Polhamus

After an hour spent in playing games the members of the League voted the evening a decided success and reluctantly departed.

Much credit is due the general committee, Flora McGill, Jennie Finch, and Robert Polhamus. Their faithful work and skillful management made the banquet a success to be remembered with pleasure.

Easter Egg Party.

A happy time was enjoyed by the little tots of the Episcopal Sunday school the Saturday before Easter at the home of their teacher, Mrs. McGillivray. Everything was done to make it an ideal party and the little ones will long remember it and the the good time they had. All kinds of games were played and a jolly egg hunt resulted in a pretty egg for each one to carry home, besides several other little souvenirs. "If you make children happy now, you will make them happy twenty years hence by the memory of it."

The ladies of the Relief Corps entertain members of Pacific Post this evening with a social, ice cream and cake being served.

The date of the Cadets entertainment has been changed to Friday, May 19th.

COLONIAL DAY ENTERTAINMENT

A Decided Success in Every Way. Cleared $105 for Their Bridge Fund.

The W. L. C. entertainment was a grand success, drawing out a packed house and giving everybody the worth of their money in a good hearty laugh. All the standing room at the back of opera house was occupied but people seemed willing to stand and enjoy the fun.

After the singing of America, Mrs. McGill sang John Alden from behind the scenes and the curtain then rose, showing the pretty tableau of John Alden, represented by John Chenery, and Priscilla, at the spinning wheel, represented by Mrs. Lovejoy. The next tableau was, "How Betsy made the flag;" Mrs. Ross sat busily sewing on the flag while Mrs. Hickok prettily recited the poem.

Winding of the May Pole was a very pretty sight, with the actors all in Colonial costumes impersonating the great people of that time and each one appearing very graceful. Mrs. Hickok was dressed in buckskin and represented Pocahontas.

The "old skewl" was now called to order and proved most laughable. Mr. Richardson, as school master, was wonderfully attired and the pupils were all gotten up in a comical manner. The ladies' costumes consisted mostly of the big old-fashioned sack apron and pantelettes, with their hair hanging in braids down their backs. Their recitations were very good, "reflecting great credit upon their instructor." Mrs. McGill as Miss Hornwell, a visitor, and Mrs. Hickok, as her neice Penelope, were highly entertaining and their costumes were gotten up in "ye good old style."

After the first part, Miss Grace McIvor and Miss Josie Phelps played an instrumental duet which was very much enjoyed. Skewl was then called again and a special program of compositions, speaking, etc., was given for the benefit of their visitors, it being the closing day of school. They were all given in a very funny manner and everything was heartily applauded. After the awarding of prizes and presentation of a cane to the master, school closed with the singing of Auld Lang Syne.

Barbara Fritchie was recited by Mrs. Irons in a very pleasing manner, after which the winding of the May pole was given by the younger generation of girls and boys. The girls looked very pretty in their white dresses and purple sashes.

A tableau of the assembled company closed the evening's program, and then all who wished remained to dance.

The ladies took in over $120 and they certainly deserve great credit for their successful effort. It is encouraging to all to see the "bridge funds" growing so rapidly and to see how well the public turns out to patronize the entertainments. Each and every one did their part so well in the "Old Skewl" that we could not mention each, but congratulate all on their proficiency, and hope to see them before the public at some future time. Those taking part were as follows:

Pianist, Mrs. Geo. Wiggins.
Schoolmaster, A. A. Richardson.
School committee: Messrs. Wm. Ritchie, L. H. Smith, Frank Sullivan.
Visitors: Mesdames H. Fisher, Christopherson, Fuller, Ross, McGill and Hickok.
Scholars: Mesdames Irons, Shaffer, Lovejoy, Campbell, Flemming, Sr., Van Kuren, Mitchell, and Flemming, Jr. Messrs. Mitchell, McMillan, Ross, Campbell, Clokie, Hall, Wise, Martin and Earnest Wagner.
1905 May Pole Dance: Misses Phelps, LaFlewer, McGill, McMillan, Ross and Filion. Messrs. Filion, McKenzie, Earnest and Martin Wagner, Wise and McMillan.

Mrs. Hirsch Entertains With Whist Party

A most delightful afternoon was given to about fifty of the friends of Mrs. Chas. Hirsch on Thursday in honor of Miss Suder, who will soon leave for her home in Chicago. Upon entering the house, the delicate perfume of flowers, with which the spacious rooms were artistically decorated, making doubly attractive the beautiful home, was most pleasing. The score cards were dainty and unique, being of pansy leaf shape and having a buttonhole bouquet of these flowers attached to each. Ten tables of whist were played and the ladies were refreshed during the game with delicious fruit punch and candies. At five o'clock an elegant luncheon was served, consisting of rolls, salad and olives, coffee, nestle rose pudding, and delicate cakes. The highest scores were won by Mrs. W. L. Church and Mrs. E. B. Webster, each receiving a very pretty picture. The consolation was awarded Mrs. T. Aldwell. The invited guests were: Mesdames Appleton, T. T. Aldwell, J. L. Aldwell, Bayton, Brophy, C. P. Brown, C. A. Cushing, C. E. Cushing, Cosser, Craig, Church, Carusi, Cooke, Day, Delabarre, E. E. Fisher, F. Fisher, H. M. Fisher, Farmer, Grubb, J. Gutenberg, H. Gutenberg, Harding, Hart, Hatch, A. Jensen, F. A. Jensen, Miss Jensen, Johnson, Lovejoy, Lange, Lutz, Lauridsen, Moore, Meade, McGill, McGillivray, McDougall, Mathewson, Morse, Metcalf, Nailor, Ovington, Ritchie, Ryman, Smith, B. Smith, Stewart, Miss Suder, Trumbull, Wiggins and Webster.

Given a Rare Treat

The entertainment given at the opera house Thursday evening by Prof. Daggy of Seattle, with music by home talent, was a grand treat and greatly appreciated by all who had the pleasure of hearing it. Prof. Daggy is a fine impersonator and speaker and will always be sure of a warm welcome from a Port Angeles audience after this very pleasing introduction.

The music furnished was a piano solo by Maud Hirsch, a piano duet by Misses Cook and McIvor a vocal solo by Mrs. Troy, and an instrumental selection by Misses Florence Elliot, Joliet Glenn and Hazel Hopkins on the violin, accompanied on the piano by Miss Frankie Chambers.

Twenty-fifth Anniversary

There was a very enjoyable party last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Clegg, the occasion being the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding. Many friends were invited and the evening was spent with music and games. A sumptuous supper was served. Those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames Lew Gherke, John Gutenberg, Lease, Madison, McIvor, C. S. Stakemiller, and Dilling and son; Mesdames Phelps and Welch; Misses MacClure, Phelps and Welch; Messrs. Dodge and Ed Dilling.

"Belvine" will give you a good strong talk.

LAUNCHING OF KATHERINE

Miss Sadie Goldwater Christened the Fish Products Co.'s Launch.

A most successful launching took place Saturday at the Craig Fish Product Co.'s plant, when the gasoline launch Kathryn was slid into the water. The launch was brought down the dock from the building where she was built and let into the water down the slip.

Miss Sadie Goldwater broke the bottle over the launch's bow christening her Kathryn and the boat was slid slowly into the water at 2:45 amid the cheers of the launching party. "Capt." Smith then took the party for a trial spin about the bay and then to town. The new engine performed remarkably well, and the launch presented a very trim appearance in her bright brass work and new paint. Her first appearance and evident seaworthy qualities speak well for the designing and superintendance of Mr. Smith. Those present at the launching were:

Gen. Mgr. W. H. Wood, Supt. H. M. Smith, Pres. D. W. Craig and wife, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Ovington, Capt. and Mrs. H. E. Soule, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Frye, Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Cooke, Miss Sadie Goldwater. Miss Clarissa Waterhouse, Capt. Hoare and Edward Hoare.

DOES NOT TORTURE HORSE

A Norwegian Bridle that Should be Universally Adopted.

"Mrs. Oscar Brun, a native of Norway, is a lover of animals, and takes great interest in the work of the Humane Society in the prevention of cruelty to dumb beasts. She is an expert horsewoman, and can be seen almost any day on the streets of Portland, riding a horse which she controls with a humane bridle that is used almost exclusively in Norway. The bridle, as shown by the picture, has no bit, but controls the animal by means of a tightening noose about the nose. Mrs. Brun says that with this bridle it is possible to control even the most fractious horse without cruel treatment. This bridle is one which the Humane Society of Oregon will endeavor to put in use throughout the state."—Portland Telegram.

Mrs. Brun, whose picture as she appears at the riding academy was given in connection with the above article, is a sister-in-law of Mr. Axel Rustad. Mr. Rustad expects to visit Portland soon and will doubtless bring back one of the bridles for exhibition here.

HAND CARVED LEATHER.

Gifts That Have Utility as Well as Beauty.

L. E. Cole, of the Lincoln Restaurant, has been filling in his spare time of late in the production of some beautiful pieces of hand carved leather, which work, though new here, he has done more or less for a number of years, notably in Everett, where there was considerable demand for the articles. The coin cases, pocket books, card cases, tobacco pouches, and particularly a fine belt, all show him to be an artist of unusual merit; the designs and workmanship are certainly beautiful, and one cannot help but wonder how the work can be done with the few simple tools he uses. Being made of heavy durable leather, a coin case or belt, for instance, would be practically everlasting, and would retain its beauty to the end. Such articles with the monogram initials of one's friend embossed thereon, would make a very appropriate gift, particularly should the recipient chance to be a lodge member, in which case special designs could be selected from among Mr, Cole's many patterns.

Fire Starts From Ashes

What might have been a serious fire, if it had not been soon discovered, occurred in John Bell's office Thursday morning. Mr. Bell took the ashes from the stove, when he opened his office, and placed them in a wooden box in the back room. Not long after, smoke was seen coming from the back room where the box was found to be ablaze and the flames just starting in on the walls and paper. It was soon extinguished; no alarm was rung.

Mrs. Emory Epperson was examined before Judge Hatch today and pronounced insane; she has been growing more and more out of her right mind for the past five months and will be taken to the asylum for treatment.

The Woman's Literary Club met last week with Mrs. John McKee, but the time was mostly taken up discussing the entertainment and making plans. This week Mrs. H. L. Mitchell will be the hostess.

The first Park Day, given today by the Civic Club, was most encouraging. A great amount of work was done, a large space being cleared of everything but the alders, which will soon make a fine grove. A trail was made to First street.

A committee from the Civic Club met with the teachers of the institute today to arrange for a meeting on May 27th of the Club and the teachers of Clallam county, at which time they will form a permanent organization in order that social meetings may be held for the benefit and advancement of both.

FROM REV. BALDRIDGE

We have received a letter from Rev. J. A. Baldridge which, owing to lack of time, we have been unable to put in type. However, Mr. Baldridge states that the reports concerning Rev. Whelan were the result of a case of mistaken identity, that the mistake was "honestly made, with no licious intent or purpose to wrong any man, but which, in the nature of things, would be none the less damaging." Mr. Baldridge states that the matter "was not intended to reach the public, being committed to a few personal friends, absolute secrecy required and promised, but unfortunately, in an unguarded moment, it was given out by one of the number." That to err is human and that he is "profoundly sorry for the whole matter, for all that has grown out of it, and will endeavor in every legitimate way to correct any mistakes that have been made, to amend any wrong that may thus have been committed against any one, and to heal the social hurt."

SEGUIN NOTES.

The May Day picnic was a grand success in every particular. The crowds began to gather at an early hour and by noon everyone was enjoying themselves at various games and sports. Mrs. Dawson and Miss Lizzie Fitzgerald gave a dinner in the grove which was partaken of by over two hundred.

Then the base ball game was started and proved to be very exciting and hotly contested game. The Dungeness team had two veteran ball players from Port Townsend with them, but the plucky Seguin Stars held them down well and walked off the diamond with the score 7 to 5 in their favor. The purse was $20.

The races were quite exciting. Brown Little Mare beat Bert Ward's Dungeness Beauty which was a great surprise to all the sports.

The dance in the hall was attended by about sixty couples.

The people of Seguin and the ball team in particular wish to thank their neighbors from Dungenes for their hearty support, which contributed so largely to the success of the undertaking.

Mrs. F. B. Morgat is in the hospital at Angeles undergoing treatment with Dr. Hart.

The sick list is growing smaller this week. Most of those reported ill last week are able to be out again.

The paint brush is receiving quite a bit of exercise in this section at present.

Joe McKissick is doing quite a business here with his photograph gallery. He will be here about two weeks longer.

Messrs. Miller & Whitney expect to start their mill at Bear Creek next week.

The ball teams of Seguin and Dungeness will play a game at the latter place Sunday, May 6.

Do not forget the Spider-Web Social of the King's Daughters of the Baptist Church, at Hanning Hall, Friday, 12th. New games and original pastimes. Ladies free; gentlemen 25c. Fine lunch will be served.

E. J. Ovington is spending Sunday at the lakes.

DUNGENESS

J. A. Woll, Jas. Dick, Geo. Davis, Frank Lotzgesell and Jack Wilcox accompanied Aden Knoph to Port Angeles Thursday night of last week to assist in initiating Aden into the Elks lodge.

Mrs. Mamie Rogers was at home the fore part of the week from her duties at the Angeles hospital.

Mr. Eby was in Seattle over Sunday and Monday, buying goods for the new store.

Thos. Knoph left for Spokane Monday to attend the State Convention of the Woodman lodge.

You can do better at Knight & Eby's.

Prof. A. N. Taylor is attending the teachers' institute at Port Angeles this week.

The ball game between the Dungeness and Seguin teams last Monday was won by the latter, seven to five. Jesse Evans and Henry Cline did the twirling for Dungeness and Leslie Town was behind the bat with the big mit. Pat Cassalery and Henry Wachendorf were in the box for Seguin and Ed Cassalery and Jim Henderson held the sack. The game was a good one to witness, as there were numerous brilliant plays and few errors.
