THE CITY BEAUTIFUL

Civic Improvement the Grandest and Most Attractive of Life's Economies.

The Olympia Recorder presents the following thoughts concerning the value of Civic Pride, which makes the home and city a thing of beauty, and goes farther towards enhancing the value of property than all else combined:

"In attempting to benefit our city by trying to make it beautiful we may not always fulfill our desires; but we are certain that there will be pleasures and benefits attending our work. This civic improvement should not alone be a pleasure but a matter of serious import, as it affects the life and health of the community.

This civic improvement is one of the grandest and most attractive of the economies of life in which we can all rejoice and take pleasure in pardonable pride. The civic pride once acquired by a city teaches each citizen to strive to make home more beautiful and attractive, revealing to the outsider how blessed the surroundings of its people and needing but succeeding improvements to make home and city a thing of beauty in the eyes of the traveler.

It is not cost, for there is nothing so cheap as the beauties in growth of the trees and shrubs surrounding us as the gift of creation. Native beauty cleaned and cleared is the gift for all times and seasons of the year. Civic beauty is a great thing in life. This betterment of our surroundings is a continuous lesson to cleanliness and godliness that even the animal creation craves. Every instinct of our nature shrinks from noxious surroundings. A well kept natural lawn, or a cleanly kept back yard, is more pleasing to the eye than a plot of flowers where fences are awry and scrub fills the landscape.

Look at our school grounds. Why these treeless, unsightly lawns? There should be taught in our schools the practical way of planting of the tree and shrub. The lesson of the tree, its food, how it breathes, its transpiration and its growth. These lessons are of more value than those of Latin and Greek. In some of the Illinois school grounds there are growing more than one hundred varieties of trees and shrubs.

As a city Olympia is in its childhood. Its opportunities for the future are the work of today. Throughout the city there are squares of little value as property. What a blessing if these were given to the city for little parks. They would return blessings to the givers in days to come.

In every ideal city the question of color, both natural and artificial, resolves itself into grass, trees and shrubs. A strip of green grass in a city street will work wonders. Here we have streets partly overrun with grass where the law of necessity demands but eighteen or twenty feet in width. Why should not these streets be parked and lined with shade and fruit trees, as they are in other parts of the country?

It is not with phenomena that the civic improvement of a city has to deal. It is the order of the commonest materials of the earth, so constructed as to place them in such ways as will enable the citizens of a city to appreciate the work which from year to year will ultimately end by beautifying the city of this great commonwealth."

MEMORIAL DAY ANNOUNCEMENT

Memorial Sermon by Rev. W. H. Whelan at Opera House Sunday, May 28th.

At a meeting of the joint conference committee of Pacific Post No. 48, and Pacific W.R.C. No. 21, Department of Washington and Alaska, G.A.R., the following arrangements were made for memorial exercises:

The memorial sermon will be delivered by the Rev. W. H. Whelan, at the opera house at 2:30 p. m., Sunday, May 28, 1905.

On Tuesday, May 30th, a detail of the G.A.R. will leave the corner of Front and Laurel sts. at 8 o'clock, a.m., for Ocean View Cemetery, to hold special service, and decorate the graves of deceased comrades.

All ex-union soldiers and sailors, strangers or otherwise, the honorable mayor and city council, all civic societies, citizens, and public schools, are cordially invited to participate in the observance of memorial day.

All organizations desiring to take part in the parade will report to Maj. R. R. Harding, marshal of the day, at 2 o'clock, p. m. sharp.

The parade will form on Front st., the right resting on Laurel st. in the following order:

1. Martial music.
2. High School Cadets under arms.
3. Pacific Post, No. 48, G.A.R.
5. Pacific W.R.C. No. 21.
5. Mayor and City Council.
6. Civic Societies in the order in which they report.
7. Public Schools under command of Supt. Mahaffy.
8. Citizens.

The parade will move at 2:15 o'clock p. m., sharp; west on Front to Oak, south on Oak to First, east on First to Laurel, north on Laurel to Front, east on Front to opera house.

In the opera house, at 2:30 p. m. the impressive memorial service of the G.A.R. will be rendered, followed by an address by the Rev. W. H. Whelan.

At the close of the exercises in the opera house, Pacific W.R.C. will hold their beautiful ceremony of scattering flowers on the water, in honor of the sailors who were lost at sea, which will close the exercises for the day.

PORT ANGELES CIRCUIT

Rev. Owen F. Tovrea Assigned to New Circuit and is Now Here.

At the last session of the Puget Sound Conference the Church at Lincoln Heights was separated from the Port Angeles Society and made the head of a new charge that is to be known as the Port Angeles Circuit. The Rev. Owen F. Tovrea of Seattle has been appointed to this work and will preach at Lincoln Heights on Sunday at 3 p. m. As soon as practicable he will extend his work to East Clallam, taking in several intermediate points.

"ANGELES BOOSTERS"

Boost; Don't Knock. Just the Motto We Need Right Here in Angeles.

The spirit expressed in the motto "I Will" has made Chicago what it is today, one of the first of the world's great cities. The same spirit has had as much, if not more, to do with the rapidity of growth of Seattle. It has been largely the cause of Minneapolis obtaining the lead over St. Paul, and of the difference between Tacoma and Seattle.

No man could, nor can today, meet a resident of Chicago and be in his company five minutes without knowing that he came from Chicago and that Chicago is the only town on earth. And he would be prepared with a string of facts and arguments as long as a knocker's face to substantiate his claims. Chicago has never known a knocker.

Not a year ago the Tacoma Ledger contained an article to the effect that, while Tacoma possessed many natural advantages over Seattle, and while she was in the lead commercially in many ways, no one outside of Tacoma knew the facts; that wherever one went in the east Seattle was Puget Sound and Puget Sound, Seattle; that no matter where one met a Seattle man he was loud in his praises of his home town, and claiming everything from Frisco to the north pole as being part of and tributary to his back yard.

This writer deplored the lack of energy and push in Tacoma, and the fact that even her wide-a-wake citizens had no ready means of getting information concerning her industries and advantages.

The boosters' club, recently organized in Tacoma, has for its object the remedying of such condition of affairs. They propose to bring Tacoma citizens together to learn the facts about Tacoma and work for the good of the city; they will strive to push along all good movements and make boosting contagious.

C. A. Engesser, appreciating the fact that a club similar to the Tacoma Boosters is just what is needed here in Angeles to counteract the influence of the knockers, has been talking the proposition over with the young men of the town and finds encouragement on every hand. He believes a sufficient number will soon be interested to give the club a good start, when it can be organized in an enthusiastic manner. All citizens with faith in Port Angeles who are willing to help "boost" will be eligible to membership, and we would suggest that they step to the front and enroll early.

COLUMBIA MILL STARTED

Will Cut Forty to Fifty Thousand Shingles Daily.

The Columbia shingle mill, located a short distance above the County Home, started up this week, under the new ownership of Wm. Tyrrell, who, while not a practical shingle man, has the business ability to make a success of the venture. He has been fortunate in securing the assistance of Albert Smith, one of the best men in the business. The machinery is just getting in good running shape again and the cut will soon be from forty to fifty thousand a day. Fifteen men or more will be furnished steady employment, which means considerable to the welfare of the town.

THE DUNGENESS HATCHERIES

R. J. Cochran and Henry Knapman Are Hatching Millions of Salmon Yearly.

Mr. R. J. Cochran, manager of the Dungeness fish hatcheries was in town Tuesday. He states that the prospects for a record year were never better at this season of the year. Last year with ten out of the eighteen hatcheries in operation, Dungeness hatchery led.

Since April 1st over one million steelheads have been hatched and the season for that species has several weeks yet to run. Last year 937,000 steelheads were hatched, and the year before over two and a fourth million. It is very likely this year's production will even exceed the latter amount.

They also turned out 2,100,000 Tyee or Chinook salmon and over 2,000,000 Silversides the past year. A total of 5,000,000.

The average time required for hatching is from forty to fifty days; in warm weather less than a month is necessary, and in the winter up to five months. Those hatched in the winter are the strongest; the little fish are kept until the food sac is absorbed, when they have grown to about two inches in length, and are then ready to take chances in the river. The loss, when hatched in the trays, is not more than five per cent; but probably not five per cent of the eggs laid in the river are hatched.

The hatchery is located near Seguin, being a mile above the Cougar Mill.

PARK PICNIC DAY

Saturday, May the 27th, Assigned for Third Park Picnic Day.

The Civic Club will hold a third Park Picnic Day this month, in order to complete the work of clearing park grounds and building road way from First street. The day has been changed from Friday to Saturday this time, and it is hoped many who have been unable to attend heretofore will do so this time. All ladies are requested to bring baskets of luncheon; coffee will be provided by the club for all.

Grocery Changes Hands.

E. W. Merrill has succeeded S. G. Morse in the grocery business taking possession Tuesday. Mr. Merrill has had experience in the grocery line in Maine and, having lived here a number of years is acquainted with everyone and will doubtless do a good business. The firm name will be E. W. Merrill & Co.

Mr. Morse has another proposition in view, but he intends to enjoy a rest for three or four weeks first.

DUNGENESS

[Received too late for last week.]

J. A. Hall went to Forks Prairie Wednesday to assist in the construction of the new creamery building which the Glendale is erecting at that place.

Knight & Eby have just installed a cold-storage room and will now be able to supply their customers with first class fresh meats.

A large crowd of people assembled at Woodman Hall Monday evening to bid farewell to Rev. Geo. F. Graham and wife, who resigned his charge here to accept a more lucrative one in Kansas in the same district from whence he came a little more than a year ago. A fine musical program was rendered, after which refreshments were served. Everyone regrets very much to see Mr. Graham leave, as his work here, although handicapped to some extent, has been very satisfactory indeed. Our loss will be someone else's gain, and all join in wishing him success which he richly deserves.

Dave Troy is shaking hands with his many Dungeness friends again.

Mrs. Gertie McDonnell went to Seattle Tuesday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilkins, who are in business there now.

Miss Ella Manson, a nurse in the Wayside hospital, Seattle, is taking care of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Wm. Monson, who has been indisposed for some time past.

Allie Evans is confined to his bed with lagrippe.

The wrestling match on Seguim last Friday night between Louis Kempf of Port Townsend and Tom Price of Bellingham was won by the former.

Frank Lotzgesell has been confined to the house for the past week or ten days with chronic tonsilitis. Dr. Hart of Angeles was attending him.

Fred Ward is sporting a Babcock rubber tired buggy, bought from Knight & Eby.

Mrs. Alex Henderson, better known as grandma Henderson, is quite ill.

Knight & Eby's new store building is now adorned with a Clark roller awning, which adds much to its general appearance.

You can do better at Knight & Eby's.

SEGUIN NOTES.

The Seguin "Stars" ran an excursion from Dungeness and Seguin to Hadlock on Sunday last; they had the steamer Dauntless chartered for the trip, and took about sixty-five of their friends along to see them "do things" to the Hadlock team. It was not the best of weather, but the same spirit that prompted the Dungeness boys to get up at three o'clock and churn a half ton of butter at the Glendale creamery so that the employees could get off, carried them through, and when they reached Hadlock after stopping at Townsend to take on a number of "Fans," it was pouring down rain, but the boys went to the diamond and played their best, thereby entertaining about one hundred and fifty spectators. The only errors made were wild throws which were caused by the condition of the ball, it being very wet. These, however, were costly and the Stars were defeated by a large score. Manager Bugge of the Hadlock team had the band out and they rendered several fine pieces.

The excursionists then went to Townsend for supper returning at seven-thirty; all voted a good time altho some were bothered with unpleasant sensations on the trip up, as the boat seemed to dance and bound about considerable. The Hadlock team will play a return game here on June 4th, when the Stars expect to show them how lucky they were to win the last game.

Dr. Butler of Angeles has been doing considerable dental work in Seguin the past week. He says he will make regular trips here hereafter.

C. P. Rollins of Seattle, and previously of this section, was shaking hands with his old schoolmates here the first of the week.

Born, to the wife of Mr. Wm. Wilder, a boy of seven pounds. Congratulations, William.

There will be a ten round glove contest at the Seguin Hall Friday, May 26th, between two local amatuers.

The Ladies Aid gave an entertainment and ice cream sale at the M. E. church Wednesday evening which was quite liberally patronized.

J. F. Angavine has started his camp again, which is quite a benefit to this town.

EAST CLALLAM.

From the Record.

Miss Estelle Blair went out to Shuwah on Sunday to resume teaching there.

The Robinson logging camp lately received a new donkey for use on the water front.

Miss Mary Nelson, Miss Ella Dyer of Forks and Miss Marsh of Quillayute, returned on Tuesday from a trip to Neah Bay.

K. O. Erickson, the Mora merchant, went to Seattle Monday evening to charter a schooner and bring down a cargo of merchandise.

The machinery and supplies for the Forks creamery were unloaded here from the steamer Alice Gertrude Wednesday night and yesterday four four-horse teams started out to Forks with the outfit. There are three more wagon loads here yet to be taken out.

James Smith of Forks received ten head of young Jersey cows this week which he will stock his farm with.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Fairservice have removed here from Crescent. Mr. Fairservice is working in Robinson's camp.

Allie Mahurter arrived overland with two horses from Angeles on Wednesday which he has purchased to do general work with here.

Mr. Sutton at Port Crescent has been made chief operator of the telegraph line.

CHARLES E. PEABODY,
Gen'l Manager

J. O. MORSE, Agent at Port Angeles.

A London paper has traced the careers of five boys who were lazy about getting out of bed in the morning. One of the bunch was the manager of a large business at the age of thirty, another at twenty-seven was a successful physician, the third at twenty-three was at the head of his class in college, the fourth had passed every examination in a medical school at twenty and the fifth was head boy in school at fifteen years of age. Perhaps these lads would have beaten those records had they been earlier risers. Anyway it goes to show that lay-abeds are not hopeless. Many a boy with stuff in him is slow about waking up to the earnestness of life and the importance of hard work; but, all the same, he arrives in the end.

There is nothing suspicious in the fact that the title of "general" is so often brought before the public eye in one way or another these days. There were over 2,000 generals commissioned in the Federal army alone during the civil war. The Confederacy was not stingy about general commissions either. Then there are the regular army, the Spanish war volunteers, the provisional army of the Philippines and the militia of all the states. Every two or three years each of the forty-five new state administrations appoints two or more staff officers with the rank of general. The title sticks upon whom it once lights, the same as "colonel" and "judge" in the south, but with better reason, for as a rule it is legitimate.

The corn product is put to so many uses that the great yield of 1904 will prove a boon to multitudes. Besides directly and indirectly feeding and nourishing millions of the human race and subsisting millions of cattle, swine and sheep, it furnishes material for mattresses, for plaited goods, for pipes and paper. It yields valuable oil and cellulose and also material for the armor of warships. The pith of the cob is used for filling between the armor plates below water line. When perforated this filling contracts and expands the same as cork and rubber and closes the opening against water.

The number of Yale graduates who are busy in other than strictly learned pursuits shows that higher education does not necessarily lead to bookishness. About 25 per cent of the graduates now in active life have taken to manufacturing and commercial pursuits. There are 254 farmers among the graduates as against 330 journalists and authors, a few more manufacturers than doctors and as many financiers as ministers. The law holds the greatest number, but the lawyers are outnumbered by those engaged in nonprofessional callings.

James Jeffrey Roche, the editor and poet, enters the ranks of literary diplomats as consul at Genoa. The elder Hawthorne and Howells, the novelist, served the country as consuls. Perhaps Mr. Roche's abilities will lead to his appointment as minister to one of the great courts of Europe. Three of America's eminent writers have had foreign missions—namely, Washington Irving, George Bancroft and James Russell Lowell.

The St. Louis police report that the city contains but forty-eight persons who are destitute of proper food, clothing and fuel. There should be at least 100,000 St. Louisans in the grip of want to maintain the average of persons in this country alleged to be in distress by Mr. Robert Hunter in his book, "Poverty." Evidently the world's fair brought the good things of life within the reach of the lowliest in that favored city.

Venice, according to United States Consul Bliss, has decided that gondolas are out of date and is calling for cheap motor boats.

SOCIAL, CLUB & LODGE NOTES

WHIST AND SURPRISE PARTIES, ENTERTAINMENTS AND SOCIALS

The Saturday Club.

The Saturday Reading Club met with Mrs. J. Trumbull last week and held the annual business meeting, electing the following officers:

Pres., Mrs. W. Delabarre.
V.-Pres., Mrs. N. K. Mead.
Sec'y, Mrs. Herbert Babcock.
Cor. Sec'y, Mrs. H. C. Miller.
Treas., Mrs. R. D. Willson.
Librarian, Mrs. E. J. Ovington.

Mrs. J. Trumbull and Mrs. Delabarre were elected delegates, Mrs. H. E. Lutz and Mrs. W. L. Church alternates, to the State Federation.

The club meets this week with Mrs. R. D. Willson for a short session only, as all wish to attend the entertainment given by the Parlimentary Club in Haning Hall. The meeting next week is with Mrs. Will Ware.

Will Go to Dungeness.

The Civic Club are preparing to attend the Old Settlers' meeting at Dungeness on June 1st, on which occasion the people of Angeles and Townsend will unite with those of Dungeness and Seguin in celebrating our state holiday in commemoration of the Lewis and Clark exploration. The Club expect to give an entertainment in the evening for the benefit of their bridge fund—which bridges will be of benefit to the whole county—and a musical and literary program is being prepared; the farce "Don't Borrow a Baby" will also be given.

The Civic Club.

The Civic Club hold their annual meeting the first Tuesday in June at which time the chairmen of all standing committees are requested to be present with a written report of the two years' work for the secretary to record.

Woman's Literary Club

The Woman's Literary Club held a very pleasant meeting with Mrs. Mollie Phelps last Friday and will meet this week with Mrs. Richardson for the election of officers.

The young people of the Baptist church are well pleased with the result of their first entertainment as they made over ten dollars.

The Parliamentary Club

The Parliamentary Club met with Mrs. Wiggins last week and enjoyed a delightful musical program. This week they give a program and social in Haning Hall to raise funds for current expenses.

Mrs. G. V. Smith, as one of their oldest members, has been chosen as delegate to the Federation of Clubs to be held at Walla Walla in June.

The new officers are:
Pres., Mrs. E. J. Nailor.
V.-Pres., Mrs. C. E. Nailor.
Rec. Sec'y, Mrs. W. Brumfield.
Cor. Sec'y, Mrs. G. V. Smith.
Treas., Mrs. E. E. Hopkins.
Auditor, Mrs. J. C. Hansen.

Book Club Outing.

Through Mr. Stewart, librarian of the Port Angeles Book Club, and the courtesy of Mr. Barnett, the whole club and a few invited guests spent a delightful day at the stone quarry Wednesday. They took luncheon with them and went out on the train, returning late in the afternoon, a jolly, happy crowd. Those who went were: Messrs. and Mesdames Hatch, Frye, Craig, Ovington, Moore, Mesdames Mead, Church, Morrisey, Delabarre, Payne; Mr. Stewart, Mr. Graves; Misses Ruth Church, Helen and Janette Hatch, Margaret Delabarre.

To Bid Them God-Speed.

Mr. and Mrs. McGill and Mr. and Mrs. Lovejoy entertained a large company on Wednesday evening, at whist, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Christensen before their departure for Europe. A most pleasant evening was enjoyed by all present. Nine tables of whist were played; the color scheme for decorations, etc., was pink and green. Head prizes were won by Mrs. McGillivray and Mr. J. Gutenberg and consolation by Mrs. J. Gutenberg and Judge Hatch.

Mrs. Henrick Hansen and her two infant children spent a few days this week at the lighthouse as guests of Mrs. Rustad. On Tuesday the Rev. Horace Williston was called over and baptized the Hansen children.

NAILOR-HAYNES WHIST PARTIES

Afternoon and Evening Affairs Which Proved to Be Very Enjoyable.

Mrs. L. T. Haines and Mrs. Elmer Nailor entertained a party of ladies at whist on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Nailor; and on Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. E. Nailor entertained a party of ladies and gentlemen, also with whist.

Mrs. Nailor's dainty home was beautifully decorated with garlands of pink and white crepe paper festooned across the ceilings and about the walls, and with white lilacs and pink and white roses. The two parlors and dining room with their profusion of flowers and dainty pink festoons were a study in decoration, and had the artistic effect of making all the ladies look, if possible, prettier than usual.

The tally cards corresponded with the general scheme, and were tiny fans decorated with spider webs, and each accompanied with a beautiful rose for a buttonaire.

The first prize, in the afternoon, a dainty little oil painting by Mrs. L. T. Haines, was won by Mrs. G. V. Smith; the second, a handsome deck of cards, was won by Mrs. Dr. McGillivray. The consolation prize was won by Mrs. H. White.

In the evening both ladies' and gentlemen's prizes were given, Mr. W. D. Moore winning the first gentlemen's, which was a silver mounted ash tray, and Mrs. Ben Smith winning the ladies', a beautiful sterling silver ink well and stand. The second gentlemen's by Frank Dilling—a cigar holder—and by Miss Lou Crooks—a sterling silver pin tray. The consolation prize was won by Mr. Lou Gherke. There was no consolation prize for the ladies, and it was universally conceded that no lady that evening played so poorly as to need consolation.

The refreshments for both afternoon and evening carried out the color scheme—ice cream and cake. Everybody had a good time and went home feeling that Mrs. Haines and Mr. and Mrs. Nailor were royal good entertainers.

Whist Club Entertains Friends

The Port Angeles Whist Club entertained a number of invited guests, at the close of their first year, at Haning Hall on Monday evening with a dancing party.

The beautiful and artistic decorations were the handiwork of Mrs. Brophy and Mr. Sawyer, and were greatly admired. They contisted of ferns, vines, and wild flowers, draped and festooned from the ceiling to the platform, ending in large sprays of sword ferns.

Four tables of cards were played and dancing was enjoyed. Mrs. Geo. Wiggins furnished the music for the dancers. Lemonade was served during the evening, and ice cream during intermission.

The invited guests were Messrs. and Mesdames J. P. Christensen, Harding, Day, Ritchie, Lutz, Smith, Ovington, H. M. Fisher, Cooke, C. E. Cushing, Craig Farmer, Hatch, Soule, McGillivray, Appleton, Hirsch, J. Gutenberg, Delabarre, Elmer Nailor, Mead; Mesdames Tait of Seattle, W. L. Church; Miss Waterhouse; Capt. Allan.

Happily Surprised.

At the home of Mr. J. E. Beam and bride, the members and friends of the Baptist Church, in crowds, assembled Wednesday evening to do them honor and to celebrate their recent wedding. A beautiful quarter-sawed oak center table was presented the happy pair, and felicitous speech-making followed. Games, music and general conversation, with excellent refreshments, filled out a very pleasant evening.

Mr. & Mrs. Watkins Surprised

The Women's Relief Corps planned a surprise for Mrs. S. L. Watkins on Wednesday evening, the anniversary of her birthday, when a large party of ladies and gentlemen met and entered their home, they being absent. No hint of the affair had reached Mr. and Mrs. Watkins and their surprise was complete. Of course all had an enjoyable evening.

Another Surprise Party.

Mr. and Mrs. LaFlower were taken by surprise on Thursday evening by about forty of their friends and neighbors on Tumwater Hill. Dancing and games of various kinds made the evening pass quickly and merrilly away, and a very jolly time is reported by all in attendance. Fruit and nuts made a pleasant change from the usual luncheon.

And Still Another.

Miss Mabel Gherke was delightfully surprised last Saturday evening by some thirty of her friends who had learned that that was the 13th anniversary of her birthday. They left her a dainty china tea set as a momento of the occasion. Refreshments were brought by the young people, and the evening was spent in enjoying some very nice music and playing games.

Passed Beyond.
