SANITARY CONDITIONS BECOMING MATTER FOR GRAVE CONCERN

Building Permits, Sewerage, and Tent Houses, of which There Are Hundreds, Engage Attention of City Council.

All members of the city council were present at Tuesday night's session. The city attorney was absent from the city. Considerable work of more or less importance was transacted.

A number of permits for buildings and general improvements were granted, these being mostly intended to meet the demand for more or less temporary quarters pending the construction of suitable houses for rental purposes:

To J. H. Middleton, to construct a 12 room apartment, 31x72, on lot 1, Block 72, to cost $1600.

To J. V. Samples, to blast 20 or more stumps from his property at Front and Ennis streets.

To Chris Kuppler, to tear down old barn in rear of Palace Bakery, and to construct in place thereof platform of 3-inch plank, 38x50, and to build open shed to one side with corrugated iron 8x38, this will make a vast improvement in the looks of that lot.

To T. T. Aldwell & Co., to improve street in front of lots 5 and 6, block 378.

To Mrs. A. Blin, to build a three room house in front of lot 13, block 348, 14x32, to cost $200.

To Jas. Dockings, to build two room house, 12x26, lot 6, block 242, to cost $100.

To D. D. Huddleston, to blast several stumps in front of lots 1, 2 and 3, block 283.

To Albert T. Johnson, to construct coal bunker on lot 117, harbor area, 25x26, cost $500, referred.

To Wm. Gallaway, to construct a four room house on lot 17, block 349, 20x24, cost $200.

To Albino Mattozzi, to build dwelling on lot 18, block 226, to cost $500.

To Albert Wilson, to construct 1½ story dwelling, 20x35,on Sampson tract, $300.

Offer of W. R. Maxfield of $10 for down timber on park at I and 18th streets, was referred to park commissioner for report.

The ordinance directing that the portion of Ediz Hook Light Reserve, commonly known as the spit, under lease from the government, be annexed to the city and made a part of the sixth ward was read and referred for one week. Also ordinance authorizing the mayor and clerk to issue local improvement bonds in the amount of $8,938, to cover the cost of improving C street.

New cemetery ordinance, fixing rules and regulations, was discussed at some length and adopted. During this discussion it developed that there was a very incomplete record of what lots were sold and what were not, and the matter was referred with the view of getting the records of the past decade or more put in shape so that city would know just where they were at in the matter.

Mr. Fowler called attention to impassible condition of Peabody street between bridge and First street and moved that same be put in condition by hauling of gravel. Mr. Filion stated that people were going to ask that district be improved by grade, and thought this should be done at once. Street superintendent was directed to put in permanent approach to north side of bridge and temporary plank approach to north side, and city engineer, upon motion of Bigelow, was directed to take necessary steps to create an assessment district to improve district by cutting to grade.

Lou Hucke appeared before the council to protest against conditions in vicinity of his home at Second and Valley. There are dozens of families living there with little water and practically no accommodations, with

JITNEY BUS LINES NEW PROBLEM FOR STATE'S SOLONS

Street Car Companies Have Strong Lobby Working to Secure Drastic Legislation. Natural Outgrowth of Automobile Business.

Olympia, Wash., Jan. 26,—Bursting out of a clear sky and with such startling suddenness as to cause the ordinary traffic man to catch his breath, the jitney buss lines, organized in the last few days in the larger cities of the state, have become one of the monumental problems with which the present legislature will have to grapple.

Governor Lister himself is keenly following the inception and evolution of the new carrying industry. The miracle of the jitney innovation to public utility people and transportation men of the state is the phenomenal quickness with which the idea was sprung and the sweeping manner in which the fields of service have already been covered. In all the first and second-class cities of the state today jitneys are operating and their numbers increase with each twenty-four hours. That they will produce a profound change in the present highly organized street railway carrying system everyone agrees,, and there are those among the legislators here who look for the street car to be relegated to the scrap heap. Transportation men who have closely scrutinized the conditions admit that the jitney has already developed into a whale, considered from a transportation angle. Street car companies, finding their earnings enormously hewed down, practically overnight, have a strong lobby here working for drastic legislation that will put the jitney out of business. But it is practically certain prohibitive legislation will not be passed, as the many statesmen interviewed look on the innovation as one of the natural outgrowths of the automobile industry and bound to come sooner or later.

As it now stands, street car companies in Tacoma and Seattle claim the jitney has already wrested the cream of the business from them, which is the short haul over paved streets and the business can hardly be said out of its swaddling clothes. Street railway companies are pulling off cars and cutting down their forces, and threatening to construct no more railway extensions. The jitney men reply that such extensions would now never be used anyway, and declare the time is near when very few street cars will be seen even in downtown districts in cities.

Governor Lister is receiving many favorable comments from different parts of the state on his message to the present legislature. A consensus of these expressions, coming from both newspapers and public men of prominence give the message place as one of the really great documents of Washington in the soundness of policies advocated, the justness of opinion advanced, and its unbiased and non-partisan handling of affairs of the state which have heretofore often been used as political footballs.

This is the main reason why that although the present legislature is overwhelming republican the governor's influence is so strongly felt in all the legislation that is going forward. From the present outlook Governor Lister will be as much consulted and his wishes as highly re-

GRAND OPENING DAY CATHOLIC SOCIAL HALL

Favorite Local Artists Will Participate in Program to Be Given February 11th.

The Catholic Social hall on 11th street, which was begun December 12th, is receiving the last touches from the painters. It is beyond doubt the best built and finest arranged of its kind in the city and is a credit to the architect and builders —Reid & Cotton. The rapid growth of the parish will however force the congregation out of its old church building and temporarily it will occupy the new building, beginning with the services of Sunday, February 14; but before Moving Day it it was decided to give the general public a glimpse of the splendid hall, and to do this becomingly February 11 has been set aside as Grand Opening day with an instrumental and vocal concert. A choice program is being arranged under the able direction of Professor William Lange, and the best local talent will participate. Rehearsals have begun, and and no lover of music and song can afford to miss this treat. All the local favorite artists will be there, and to mention but a few will be a guarantee of the excellency of the program:—Professor William Lange, George Parks, Charles I. Thompson, Mrs. M. E. Troy, Miss S. Robinson, West Nelson, Miss Francis Hoare, Miss Mary Stecklen, etc. Tickets for the concert are on sale at all drug stores. The proceeds of the concert to go to the building fund.

Garfield Davis has bought the Chas. Forsberg's ranch on the Lower Elwha and moved out last Monday.

CHIPPEWA TO GO ON THE ANGELES RUN

Fifty-eight Staterooms Being Put in Palatial Steamer to Accommodate Tourist Travel.

The steamer Chippewa, owned by the Puget Sound Navigation Company, will soon be placed on the route from Seattle to Port Townsend and Port Angeles, according to announcement just made by the company's local agent. Before placing her on the route the company will remodel the vessel and place fifty-eight staterooms in her, which will involve an expenditure of $35,000, the contract having already been let.

Shortly after the Chippewa was brought from the Great Lakes to Puget Sound her staterooms were taken out and she was operated as a day boat between Seattle and Tacoma and also as an excursion steamer. As she is an expensive boat to operate and the travel by water between Seattle and Tacoma has decreased to a considerable extent, the company had decided to place on a route where she will be money maker. It is not known whether she will relieve the steamer Sol Duc or the Sioux, but it is thought that she will take the Sol Duc's run.

The alterations will be completed in about thirty days, when she will be placed in service.—Townsend Leader.

At the regular meeting of Esther Chapter E. O. S., held last Saturday evening, the new officers entertained the members with a little reception. After a program consisting of music and speaking a dainty luncheon was served.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR FARMER'S NEW GARAGE ON FIRST STREET

Fireproof Concrete Building, Two Stories, Will Be Finest of Its Size in the State. Preparing for Big Tourist Trade This Year.

The building plans for Farmer's new garage to be located on First street have just been completed and building is to be started at the earliest possible date after excavation has been completed.

The garage is to be the finest of its size in the state and is being equipped to cater to the tourist traffic and give quickest possible service to the motoring public.

The first floor has accommodations for 30 cars together with machine shop and store. The store has 21 feet of plate glass windows and Mr. Farmer is already drafting plans for attractive windows.

On the second floor will be a modern and well equipped tire repair room 30x25, in charge of a competent tire repair man. On this floor will also be located the office and ladies' rest room with toilets. There is but one other garage in the state with accommodations for lady tourists.

The building is to be concrete thruout, being absolutely fireproof. The front is a beautiful piece of designing and does credit to the architect, Mr. J. W. Smith.

Mr. Farmer will continue the handling of the now popular GOODYEAR TIRE, together with Hudson Motor Cars and Kelley-Springfield Trucks.

It is hoped that the building will be ready for occupancy by April 1st.

BAND CONCERT PROGRAM HAD SEVERAL STRIKING FEATURES

Organization Pronounced One of Best in the State; Hoped Delightful Concerts May Become Regular Sunday Afternoon Attraction.

"We were merrily remarking only a few evenings ago, while enjoying a phonograph record of that quite difficult bit of shifty music, "The Hungarian Rag," that we'd like to hear the Port Angeles Marine Band try something like that and show what it could do with or to it.

"Well, last Sunday afternoon we went to the Opera House to hear the concert, but we failed to find the "Hungarian Rag" on the program, which, however, proudly proclaimed a number of other high-class selections usually considered even more unmanageable. Then, all of a sudden, we were straightened up in our seats with tingling ears as the local musicians, in response to an encore, sailed into the "The Hungarian Rag" with such facility and mastery of the sincopation and rippling runs, and with such dash and splendor in the beautiful crashes of melody, that they have transformed our phonograph band record of the piece into little better than a tin-pan imitation."

That's what Dr. Daniel H. Craig, president of the Commercial Club, had to say about one striking feature of the concert given by the Port Angeles Marine Band last Sunday afternoon.

The concert was attended by many prominent citizens and was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone. Fully 200 persons were present and they were all enthusiastic in their applause and in their praise of the excellence of the band at the close of the concert, which lasted without intermission from 3 till 4:30 p. m. The voluntary contributions showered into the bandsman's cap which was left upturned at a convenient place near the rear of the hall were quite encouraging, $35.65, to which Mr. G. M. Lauridsen next day contributed $10.00, he being unable to attend the Sunday concert.

It is the consensus of opinion among good judges of music that our band is one of the very best in the state, and it is hoped that these delightful concerts may become a regular Sunday afternoon attraction of the city, indoors in winter and outdoors throughout the summer.

CHORAL CLUB CONCERT THIS EVENING

Program One That Will Give Pleasure to All; Includes Several Very Popular Numbers.

The members of the Choral Club held their last rehearsal under the direction of Mr. R. Festyn Davies last night on the stage of the Opera House, everything running smoothly as tho they had been a professional company rendering a regular program. They are feeling jubilant in anticipation of a full house as nearly all the tickets have been sold. Mr. Davies will sing the songs that he sang last Tuesday night at the Schubert Club concert in Seattle, all of which were enthusiastically received. Port Angeles should be proud of having the opportunity of entertaining such a distinguished artist. The program follows:

The Last Watch, Pinsuti; The Link Divine, Piccolomini; It Was Not So To Be, from Der Trompter Von Sak-Kingen—Nessler, Mr. Festyn Davies.

Piano Solo, Am-Meer, Schubert-Liszt—Miss Katherine Robinson.

Celesta Aida, from Aida, Verdi—R. Festyn Davies.

Piano Solo, Mazurka, in E flat, Lischitizky—Miss Katherine Robinson.

Lullaby, from Joclyn, Goddard; Believe Me, If All Those Endearing Charms; The Minstrel Boy; A Farewell, Fisher—R. Festyn Davies.

A. The Dearest Spot, Wighton; B. Old Farmer John, C. A. White—the Choral Club.

Oft in the Stilly Night—R. Festyn Davies.

Kentucky Babe; Good Night Beloved, Pinsuti—the Choral Club.

MORA TEAM COMES 50 MILES TO PLAY BASKET-BALL

An exceptionally interesting basket-ball game, or rather two of them, is promised for this evening at the Athletic Hall on Fourth and Laurel, when a number of young people from Mora, both boys and girls, under the chaperonage of Miss Morse, who is teaching at that place, meet the High School teams of Angeles. The young people from the West End are said to be fast players and as they're taking the round trip of over a hundred miles to show us what's what in the basket-ball line, it behooves every lover of clean sport to turn out and not only encourage the visitors but assist in defraying the expenses of the trip. Admission 25c, as usual.

AGED PIONEER CALLED HOME

Wm. Everett, One of the First Men to Locate in County, and Highly Respected Citizen.

John Everett, for sixty-odd years a resident of Clallam county, coming here from Ohio in 1855, died at the Olympic Hospital Monday, at the ripe age of 84 years and nine months, and was buried in the Freshwater cemetery, which tract of land he donated years ago from his own farm.

Mr. Everett was one of the first men to locate in this vicinity, coming here from Olympia in company with John Sutherland. Together they explored the new country, being the first white men to visit Lake Sutherland, which they named Crystal Lake. Mr. Everett located on the shores of Freshwater Bay, west of Port Angeles, where he has since lived, loved and honored as a stalwart citizen by all his neighbors. His son, William Everett, one of the proprietors of the Olympic Hot Springs Hotel, and family, are the only surviving relatives, who have the sympathy of the entire community.

ANDREW MACK IN "THE RAGGED EARL"

A five act Famous Player feature, Andrew Mack in his greatest success, "The Ragged Earl," will be the attraction at the Dream on Feature night, Tuesday, the 2nd. Over 300 scenes are shown.

Tonight, Friday, the 11th episode of the Adventures of Kathlyn will be shown. Tomorrow, "The Brass Bowl," after the book by Louis Joseph Vance is another good picture. Sunday, "Into the North," a 2-reel special picturing northern snow scenes and Northwest Mounted Police. Monday, King Baggott in "Turn in the Tide." Everyone a splendid attraction.

NEW PASTOR AT THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The installation of Rev. A. H. Burkholder, as pastor of the Presbyterian church, will take place on next Sunday evening, January the 31st. Ministers from Seattle will take the different parts of the service. Rev. W. A. Major, D. D., will preach the sermon; Rev. W. O. Forbes, D. D., will propound the constitutional questions and charge the people; Rev. J. Marhoff, D. D., will charge the people. Special music will be provided. One of the visiting ministers will preach on Sunday morning.

STILL BROADER CONCEPTION OF PORT DISTRICT PROJECT

Last Monday evening Mr. Remsberg and Mr. Higday, in their talk to the Congregational Brotherhood, brought out many of the already familiar reasons why Port Angeles should have a Port Commission improvement, and also three particularly good reasons.

Their advocacy of a small-boat haven for local fishermen and work boats is obviously good. Anacortes and other Sound points have found that such havens are instrumental in making the city attractive as a home to owners of small boats—in other words, a sure means of increasing population and the volume of business.

Secondly, the suggestion that if we have any space in our lofts not then needed for storage, such space can be left to small manufacturers or similar enterprises to which the leasing or purchase of sites and erection of buildings is inexpedient, and which would therefore otherwise be unable to operate and locate here. This suggestion applies the principle of the Busch Terminals to our own spare space in the harbor project.

Thirdly, the suggestion of establishing a public market upon the docks of the Port District. Mr. Remsberg repeatedly referred to the well known fact that nothing would so speedily upbuild a city as a relatively cheap supply of staple food stuffs, and that nothing would so retard a community's growth as relatively high cost of living. This relatively low cost of living can be provided by the public market, with advantage to all and injury to none.

It is often said that the man with the dinner pail makes the city. And it is the man with the dinner pail and incidently with a thrifty wife, to whom the pay envelope is handed, and usually a large family of children, who must seek out the city giving him greatest value for his dollar in order to provide for his family and his old age. He's the man we want, and he's the man who wants the public market.

Our city, like other cities, is made up of three main classes in respect to the cost of living. First, the class who want what they want when they want it and as they want it, irrespective of cost, within reasonable limits and with the least effort.

Second, the class which comprises the vast bulk of our population: The man of family who is busily occupied from early morning until late at night and whose wife is fully occupied from morning till night with her house and her children. Neither of these have the time to go to market and bring home the needed purchase of supplies. To them the ordinary retail dealer who delivers his goods at their door is, and ever must be, an absolute necessity.

Third and last, proletariat, the man with the dinner pail whose wife, when time permits, must take advantage of the public market.

But this is not the only source of benefit of the public market Fully as great is its benefit and utility to our whole country, for when the farmers and dairymen of our county have a place to which they can transport their products by land or water without additional cost and sell directly to their customers or consumers, the condition of those residents of our county is going to be advantageous as a capricious wholesale market now renders it disadvantageous.

EARLING SAYS BUSINESS CONDITIONS ARE IMPROVING

Business conditions in the East and Middle West are showing a significant improvement in almost every line of trade, owing to a restoration of public confidence, and the coming year will undoubtedly make for material advancements in the lumber industry, according to A. J. Earling president of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, who arrived in Seattle this morning with a party of prominent railroad men and New York bankers, says the Seattle Times.

That the Union Pacific has decided to give all tourists and others buying a round trip ticket to the exposition via Portland a free trip to Seattle from the Oregon city, if they wish it, is the news brought to town by traffic Director Winchell.

Mr. Rockefeller agrees with President Earling as to the business outlook. In an interview this morning he said New York and other cities in the East are now recovering rapidly from the first effects of the war and that business men in all parts of the country are optimistic of the future in the belief that substantial prosperity is on the way. This opinion is also shared by Mr. Adams.

The Earling party came to the Northwest direct from Chicago, where all of the railroad officials mentioned have their headquarters, to inspect the new Milwaukee tunnel in the Cascade Mountains, through which the first trains were operated last Sunday.

Discussing business conditions, President Earling said:

"Business men are feeling much better. There has been a marked improvement in the East and Middle West in all lines. I attribute this more than anything else to a return of public confidence. I also found that the lumber industry is in very good shape in Idaho, and I believe the whole Northwest will be included in this general upward trend in this section. We expect a heavy tourist travel over the Milwaukee as a result of the exposition. but this will not reach its maximum until the vacation period along in June."

Mr. Earling said the Seattle, Port Angeles & Lake Crescent line of the Milwaukee on the Olympic Peninsula would be completed this summer.

UNPRECEDENTED PROSPERITY FOR THIS PENINSULA

Dear Port Angeles:

I call myself "Imagination." I am looked upon as nought. Some people disbelieve in me, while others, as they lay their bodies to rest at night, forget the busy restless scenes of the day and pass into my kingdom. They, those in my realms, forsee the possibilities of the future. They see you fair city, as you will be tomorrow.

Realization follows in my wake. Opportunity and realization are the blood of my veins, and extend their hands from my environment to yours.

You, the progressives, who believe in the upbuilding of Clallam county, from any source whatever, are the boosters. You, the "dead ones," who are failing to join your own neighbor at this convenient time in the exploitation of the wonderful resources that surround you, do not comprehend that the choicest fruit of your lifetime is being plucked.

I can see that a great era of unprecedented prosperity is at hand. I can see the thousands of people raising their hands to the call of opportunity—but by far the greater throng stands at the portals of this undeveloped region. They stand there, biting their lips, because hesitation is my enemy. Suspicion is the king of this multitude—but when the folds of this great curtain are parted, this horde will disband. The greater majority will unite with the vast army and march over the land, sharing the spoils of the earth that have long been lying useless. Are you one of this clan? Don't let the dust of old volcano hesitation fill your eyes and blot out a chance in a lifetime. Wake up to the fact that this is getting close to the end of the United States.

There is plenty of undeveloped land thruout the U. S. The best has been taken. Clallam county lies practically untouched. For instance, the remaining part of this story will give a fair idea what many of the wise ones look for in a few years.

"I, Imagination, with my followers, the progressives, retreat to the top of the beautiful mountain, Mount Angeles, and from there will be able to discern from the towering heights the future of this wonderful city and county.

"Night has befallen us ere we arrive at the summit. White cirrus clouds float gently down along the Straits of Juan de Fuca. The moon betrays itself from behind some silvery lining. We turn around and sit down upon a shining rock. There, to the north, lies the city, enveloped in its noisless brilliancy of lights and shadows. Plainly visible to the eye lie three great lumber mills on Ediz Hook. The smoke from the chimneys rises straight into the clouds and travels to the southwest. Many ships lie in the sparkling waters of the bay. Some are made fast to the moorings of the great municipal dock. Others are seemingly banked against the long, shadowy spit.

"Our eyes are drawn from this beautiful scene to the business section of the town. Tall buildings, well lighted, glimmer in the soft night air. Streets decorated with arc lamps, bespeak for themselves the beauty of this land. The many beautiful residences peek out from the tall, stately fir and cedar trees, as the clouds drift under the moon. And, there before us, like a streak of light, is the boulivard, crossing the entire length of town—from northeast to southwest—the envy of all cities. Hundreds of street lamps illuminate the busy scene. The picture grows more vivid as the headlamps of autos flash up in the air at every rise of the ground. Street cars, loaded to the steps, are carrying the people to town for the evening's entertainment or to the shows, parks and moonlight boat excursions. All the paved streets loom up like a lane of ice. All this we see in utter amazement. But, when we draw our eyes farther back, the honking of auto horns is heard. The noise grows nearer and nearer. Almost in language inexpressible, we find a road has been created to the top of the mountain on which we stand. Hotels, inns, and restaurants cover the massive peak. The roadway is of hard brick, a feat of engineering which attracts thousands of people every year.

"Looking toward Sequim, we find well cultivated farms yielding crops in abundance. And, turning to the west, there shines in our eyes, the silvery lakes, Crescent and Sutherland. Many summer resorts, well lighted, indicate the benefit to be derived from the land of health, or, let it be joy and bliss. Onward to the west, we see the hundreds of farms, feeding thousands of souls in this great wide, free land. This country we would find it hard to believe, if someone told us, was once a veritable, impassible region of timber. We at once determine that this is the land in which to live and die, and jump in and realize that we are on the top looking down.

"This town and county have been growing, are growing and will continue to grow. The dawn of the new day is here. The pessimist is taking to flight."

IMAGINATION.

Certain changes in the laws relating to newspaper publications of legal matter, recommended by the members of the Newspaper Institute, recently held in Seattle, were embodied in bills introduced in the Senate last week by A. A. Smith. One of these, fixing the size of a "square" in newspaper measurement, will do away with the "inch" basis in vogue in this and other counties. Another very meritorious bill introduced by Senator Smith provides that actual obstruction of justice shall be necessary to contempt of court.

Now that the open season for ducks has closed, the county game commissioner should take steps to declare the Dungeness marshes a game preserve closed to hunting of any kind in the future. The systematic feeding of ducks there, by Seattle sportsmen on leased grounds, has practically put an end to the sport all along the strait. The private preserve is un-American and the sooner we are rid of it the better.

Recent sales by the government totalling 126,000,000 feet of sawtimber in the Olympic National forest, in western Washington, mark the opening of this hitherto inaccessible storehouse of timber, estimated to contain a stand of 33 billion board feet.

Forty-six housewives of Skagit county attended the first housekeepers' short course, given at LaConner by Miss Mary F. Rausch, of the University of Washington extension division.

Governor Ernest Lister has received a letter from President Wilson stating that he cannot definitely tell as to whether he will be able to include Washington in his forthcoming itinerary when he visits the Panama canal and the Pacific coast.

SEQUIM CONSIDERS COUNTY PORT PLAN

Commissioner Dick an Enthusiastic Supporter, Believing It Would Aid Development.

Sequim, Dungeness and Blyn were pretty well represented at a mass meeting held in the Sequim Opera House last Friday afternoon to hear members of the Port Angeles Commercial Club present the subject of the proposed Port District for Clallam county and to discuss the subject with them. About thirty well-known residents of the Sequim and Dungeness country were present and they freely and frankly discussed the project, practically all being more or less skeptical as to the likelihood of the farmers of the east side receiving sufficient benefit from the harbor project to warrant their interest and support.

Unfortunately, the men who have made the closest study of the Port District project and who were expected to deliver the addresses in support of it were unable to attend. Chairman J. W. Lindsay of the Port District Committee, was confined to his home by illness; H. Maurice Fisher, another member of the committee, was detained at home by the illness of his wife; Frank L. Plummer, the legal authority of the delagation, was detained by private business at the last hour. Thus, the project had to be presented by substitutes, who were President Craig, former president G. M. Lauridsen, and Secretary Teck, each of whom did as well as he could under the circumstances.

County Commissioner James Dick presided as chairman of the meeting and Dr. Craig delivered the address outlining the Port District project and its probable benefit to the county. He was followed by Mr. Teck, covering other phases of the subject. Then Mr. Lauridsen delivered a very interesting and impressive address in which he brought out many strong points in favor of the project, to which, he admitted, he was but a recent convert.

J. L. Keeler, P. S. McGovan, R. F. Taylor, Rev. Johnson and Clinton McCourt frankly questioned that part of the county favoring the project as outlined, altho they admitted they were not yet fully enough informed to qualify them to pass final judgment.

Charles Fitzgerald doubted whether small lumber mills could make a sufficient profit selling their output for cargo shipment over the proposed deep-water dock.

Chairman Dick strongly supported the Port District project and thought it would be greatly beneficial to the eastern part of the county and would immensely increase the volume of business and the real value of property all over the county by expanding the opportunity for industry and development.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENT

Under the firm name of "Seevers-Norman Co." E. E. Seevers and G. E. Norman have opened in the large storeroom of the Odd Fellows building, on First and Cherry streets in this city, an up-to-date "cash," sanitary grocery.

It is our ambition to make this store a paying investment for ourselves, a paying investment for our customers and a credit to the community. In Mr. Seevers' 18 years experience as a grocer in Port Angeles he feels that he has learned many of the things which make for efficiency in that line—and we want you and your family to give us at least a part of your trade and to share with us the success, which we are sure will be ours, because we are going to sell you better goods for less money than our competitors. Come and buy from our fresh new stock.

Respectfully,
SEEVERS-NORMAN CO.
By E. E. Seevers and G. C. Norman.

CORRESPONDENCE COURSES PROVING POPULAR

The correspondence courses offered by the State College are proving very popular, and the enrollment is steadily increasing. The courses now ready are Dairying, arranged by Prof. J. N. Price; Poultry Husbandry, Mrs. Helen Dow Whitaker; Cereal Crops, Prof. E. G. Schafer. For information regarding these courses address, Extension Dept., State College.

A pair of rubber heels will save many a fall these slippery mornings. Get them at the Harness Shop.

MYSTERIOUS CARCASS OF DEER ON ELWHA

An elk carcass, minus hide and teeth, but from which no meat appears to have been taken, has been found some two miles above McDonald on the Elwha, where some two hundred elk are wintering. The elk have become quite tame these last few years and a few miles further up the river may be approached very easily. Sid Hartsell reports having to set the dog on them to drive them out of his orchard, where they were breaking down the trees. Unlike the Mercer Island farmers, whose gardens are annually destroyed by deer, Sid is not clamoring for the privilege of exterminating the "pests" and any stray poachers will do well to give his wild-woods friends a wide berth.

FREIGHTING FACILITIES WITH ISLANDS ARE NEEDED

John F. Herzinger of the Port Angeles Commission Co., left on Monday morning aboard the launch Crystal, for a business cruise of the San Juan Islands, having chartered the launch for the enterprise in the hope of making business connections that will result in requiring permament freighting facilities between Port Angeles, Friday Harbor, Lopez and other trade centers of the San Juan country. The Crystal is a 45-foot gasoline cruiser, able to carry eight tons of freight.

THOUSANDS OF AUTOISTS PLAN TRIP OVER HIGHWAY

P. J. O'Brien, proprietor of the Olympic Hotel, spent the early part of the week in Seattle, returning here on Tuesday. He is making preparations in anticipation of more tourist business this year than was ever known before on the Olympic peninsula. He says that automobile club authorities report thousands of motorists planning trips over the Olympic Highway during the coming summer.

HON. D. W. HIGGINS INSTALLED AS BRITISH VICE-CONSUL

Hon. D. W. Higgins, recently appointed British Vice-Consul, was installed Tuesday by J. P. Trant, vice-consul at Portland, who came up for the purpose and was a guest of Mr. Higgins over Sunday.

MONTHLY CLUB MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Port Angeles Commercial Club will be held next Monday evening, February 1, at 8 o'clock. It is expected that there will be a large attendance and there will be a large and varied lot of interesting business to occupy the attention of the members.

There have been several new projects in the hands of committees and the Board of Directors, and these will probably come up for discussion and necessary attention at this monthly meeting of the Club.

LUTHERAN CHURCH

Services will be conducted on Sunday at St. John's Lutheran Church, Ninth street, between Oak and Laurel, at 11 a. m., in German, and at 7:30 p. m. in English. Rev. Otto George Geibich of Victoria, B. C., will be the preacher for the day, speaking in the morning on "Three Ways to Christ," in the evening on "The Secret."

"PICK-UPS"

By O. Stockmar.

Earnie Merrill of the Merrill Grocery Co., is adding an extensive line of Luther Burbank seeds. Burbank is the noted agriculturist and is also known as the first man to have created a seedless orange. The many farm products he has treated are in great demand. The reason for this is that the different seeds will bear earlier and give larger crops. It will be the best thing that you ever did when you test the Luther Burbank seeds.

Mr. Gutenburg of the Gutenburg Hardware & Furniture Co., who has been sick for some weeks past, is slowly improving and is able to make his appearance at the store once in a while.

J. D. O'Connor's Peninsula Piano Store is becoming one of the real live business establishments of the town. Pianos are selling like peanuts and he will soon have to send for another shipment. Friday, Mr. O'Connor will make a trip to the west end of the county, where he has taken several orders in the past. He will carry with him on his trip four pianos, which he intends to sell to the citizens of Forks. Add another hustler to the list.

The first real manicurist who ever entered the harbor of Angeles, is now firmly settled in her white palace, Pettit's new barber shop. Miss McIntosh, as befalls the young lady's name, has many customers and they are all firm believers that beauty is only skin deep. Look at your fingernails—go get converted—and Miss McIntosh will set you right.

Mrs. Hyde, of the Bungalow Inn, is building a new bungalow at the corner of Fourth and Lincoln streets.

The Dream and Star Theatres are running films nowadays that can compete with any that the large houses are showing in Seattle. Remember the days when you had only one run of films a week? Now, don't say that the service is "punk." Good films cost more money than second-class films and the more patronization you give these houses the better masterpieces they will be able to show for the same price.

Again the Toggery says Angeles is the only town. 'Twas a little bird that set Mr. Van Brocklin right.

All clocks and time stamps in the new court house will be regulated and run by the tower clock, which is a self winder, and operated with electricity. The tower is being made dust-proof, so that the intricate parts of the time-piece will run automatically and correctly. Schaible & Hutchinson have the agency for watches and clocks made by the same Eastern firm.

Money may not bring happiness but it brings life a sort of snappiness. It puts "pep" into it.

It is believed that the Gregory Mining Company's property will be worked on a large scale. 100 feet of tunnel has been bored. Recent tests from the face of the gold vein show a value that runs into the thousands. This test was made on the basis of one ton.

Just realize for a moment how much good the papers of the town did for the Marine band concert. Then people ask us if it pays to advertise.

Who keeps your Tires in good running condition?

Tires are like people, they need attention and care,

WHO TAKES CARE OF YOUR TIRES?

Are you forced to do it yourself, or do you run around to any garage and mechanic you happen to be near?

Would you like to know the reason that GOODYEAR TIRES are becoming more numerous on our streets?

Would you like to know why GOODYEAR Owners are always so perfectlv sure they have the "greatest tire on earth?"

Would you like to have a tire that would give you the satisfaction your neighbor gets from his GOODYEARS?

Then come in and investigate onr SERVICE SYSTEM that goes with evevy GOODYEAR TIRE.

It will give you an entirely new idea of motor-car satisfaction.

It will explain to you just why GOODYEARS are so tremendously popular.

CITY AND PERSONAL

E. J. Walton spent Monday and Tuesday in Seattle on a business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Gierin spent Saturday and Sunday visiting friends in Seattle.

Mrs. W. K. Clark returned from Seattle Tuesday morning, after a two weeks' visit.

City Attorney G. V. Smith was in Olympia this week, looking after needed legislaton.

A. J. Cosser is in Seattle attending to court business this week; is expected home tomorrow.

Miss Alice Nailor has returned to Angeles, after a two years' absence, for an extended visit with Mrs. Madge Nailor.

Mrs. H. M. Fisher, who has been very ill for the past two weeks, is reported improving and slowly regaining strength.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Mitchell have a new automobile—and they tell us business was poor at the Lakes last summer, at that.

Charles J. Tucker and D. J. McCarthy have been working like the original pioneers this week, clearing their lots on Tumwater Hill.

G. W. Muck returned on Wednesday morning from a visit of three days in Seattle, where his aged grandfather is seriously ill.

John Lotzgesell, of Sequim, was among the out-of-town folks who enjoyed the concert number of the lecture series at the High School on Monday evening.

Six new members were added to the Rebekah Lodge last Wednesday evening and eight the previous meeting, an increase of which the ladies may well be proud.

Miss Hazel Hooker, who is teaching at Sequim, enjoyed the concert given by the International Operatic Company in the High School auditorium on Monday evening.

Lewis Levy has been in Olympia for more than a week now and is evidently doing all he can to promote the interests of Clallam county while the solons are in session.

The Ladies of the Book Club held their annual meeting at Mrs. Nailor's Monday, electing Mrs. Delabarre president, Mrs. Morganroth vice-president, Mrs. A. L. Johnson recording secretary and Mrs. W. B. Smith corresponding secretary.

Wm. Sawyer, suffering from want of food, committed suicide at his home in Seattle Friday night by drinking carbolic acid. Mrs. Sawyer, wife of deceased, it will be remembered, formerly ran the Welcome Cafe here in Angeles, having been in partnership with Mrs. Livingston.

Councilman J. W. Hooker spent Saturday in Seattle. He says that the action of Representative Howard Taylor to repeal the Port Commission law is regarded there as a political attack upon Port Commissioner Robert Bridges, whose friends put up a strong fight against the return of Taylor to the legislature last fall.

Mrs. Capt. Jackson went up to Seattle Wednesday to see her father and mother, Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Thompson, before they leave for Los Angeles to spend the remainder of the winter; it will be remembered they left Port Angeles some weeks ago, but the doctor has been detained in Seattle by poor health, an operation having been necessary.

The W. L. C. met last Friday, 22nd, at the home of Hattie Harding, twenty-four members and one visitor being present. The program proved to be very interesting, especially the paper by Mrs. Hickok. After current events and roll call dainty refreshments were served, towhich all did ample justice. Ajouined to meet in one week with Mrs. Mitchell instead of Mrs. Harley.

Someway, we couldn't help but feel sorry for Brother Sult of Ellensburg, who returned home Wednesday after an all too brief visit with his sister, Mrs. Lafe Mitchell. Bright, warm sunshine, bursting buds, hyacinths, and tulips peeping forth, and downy chickens running about in the gardens, appeal to us as being far preferable to thirty inches of snow and an ice-locked river. If we care for winter sports we can have them a few miles back of town—but who wants snow, anyway?

One price to all and one system of doing business with all is our hobby—Whether millionaire or pauper you will pay cash and we will make it to your interest to trade with us.

The Book Club has purchased two Victrola records for the primary grades of the Central school.

Mrs. H. D. Cox, wife of Mr. Cox of the Fulmer & Cox Undertaking Co., and little son are expected home soon from Granville, Idaho, where they have been visiting relatives.

The Angeles Steam Laundry Co. are installing a new 80-horsepower boiler. This addition to their already first class plant insures them plenty of steam and hot water so essential to clean clothes.

J. W. Lindsay, who had been suffering for several days from the effects of what appeared to be ptomaine poisoning left on Friday for Seattle in order to rest and recuperate.

At the Presbyterian Christian Endeavor on last Sunday evening, the life and custom of the people of Japan were presented in a miniature reproduction of a house and its equipment.

The Pythian Sisters gave a banquet Wednesday evening in honor of their newly installed officers and the initiation of Mrs. Duncan of Dungeness and Miss Lynn into the mysteries of the Order. A splendid time was had, the party breaking up in the wee hours of the morning.

R. F. Amett of Seattle, Asst. Mgr. Puget Sound Machinery Depot, was here this week visiting Secretary Teck and incidentally looking up business for his house.

The chemistry classes are beginning the term with a good fighting spirit. They have analyzed the flames of gasoline gas, lamps and candles. It is of interest to us all, and one of the topics that makes chemistry useful in everyday life.

The regular social afternoon and tea will be held on Wednesday of next week at the home of Mrs. Lyle Beam, on Pine street. All ladies interested are invited.

Mrs. Isabella Taylor, mother of Drs. W. J. and W. H. Taylor of the Olympic Hospital, passed away Monday afternoon at 5:30 p. m., her death resulting from an attack of pneumonia. Mrs. Taylor, who was 63 years of age, came out here last June from London, Ontario, where she was born, to spend her remaining years with her sons. She will be laid at rest in the family burying ground at London, her sons accompanying the casket for the funeral services.

Mrs. Agnes Earles, wife of Lawson Earles, passed away Monday evening at their home at 10th and Cherry, while sitting in a chair, her death coming as a result of heart disease. She was a young woman, only thirty years of age and leaves three small children, as well as her husband, to mourn her loss. Funeral services were held Wednesday at ten, being conducted by Rev. C. E. Fulmer; interment in Ocean View.

LINCOLN HEIGHTS

The friends of Rev. J. A. Avery and wife, who were former residents of this place, will be glad to hear that they are pleasantly located near Vancouver, Washington. They are well and happy and always glad to hear from Port Angeles.

"Uncle Johnnie Ferguson," was a caller at J. B. Fleming's Tuesday evening.

Miss Mabel Whitmore returned home from Seattle Monday morning and will now be a pupil at the Angeles school.

The Hemme family arrived at their new home at Walker, Oregon, on the 21st, with no mishaps on the way.

Miss Annie Ferguson has resumed work at the telephone office. Her duties are the night work.

We are enjoying delightful weather. Cool frosty nights, with much bright sunshine during the day. Have had but two rainy days in more than three weeks and they were mixed with intervals of sunshine.

No sickness except colds which seems to come from the dry weather.

The women of the W. L. C. are anticipating a jolly time Wednesday, when they will sew carpet rags at the home of Mrs. Hannah Chambers.

MT. PLEASANT.

Mrs. Ruby Greaves and Misses Nina Draper and Hattie Race were visitors at the Race home, returning to Angeles Sunday morning.

Miss Sadie Dietsch visited at the home of her parents from Saturday until Sunday.

Joe and Ernest Harding made a short visit at the home of their sister, Mrs. Hall, returning to Angeles Saturday morning.

Mrs. Copoto, who was visiting in Angeles for several weeks, returned home Thursday.

Miss Martha Dietsch went to Angeles Tuesday, expecting to remain for some time.

Mr. Ray Haynes and daughter were visiting at the home of his sister, Mrs. C. N. McLaughlin, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Graham and son were business visitors to Mount Pleasant Saturday.

A dance was held Saturday evening at the Cameron home; a good crowd was in attendance and the usual good time was had.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy McLaughlin arrived Sunday to visit at the Oscar Lee home.

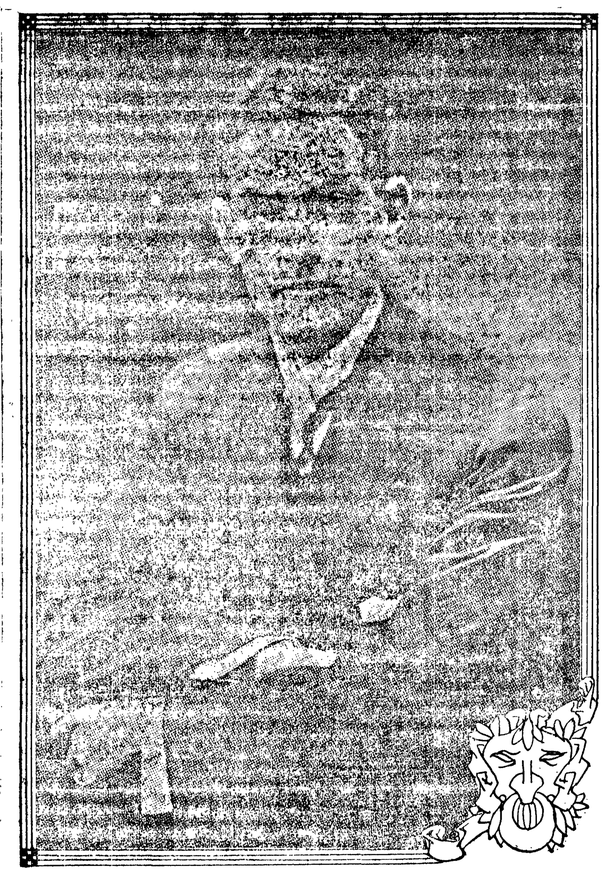
DUDLEY WAGNER, STAR AMONG MONOLOGUISTS

Lecture Course Number, High School Auditorium, Saturday Evening, February 6th.



DUDLEY WAGNER.

THE art of impersonation has been widely developed in the past few years, and an increasing number of talented artists are interpreting life through the medium of the monologue, which represents one of the most artistic developments of the drama. In the monologue, unassisted by stage accessories, the artist creates his own atmosphere, impersonating in turn many characters, and presenting the play so as to make it a complete picture solely by the force of intellect, imagination and personality. Dudley Wagner is among the artists who have been winning a justified fame in the ranks of the impersonators. His work is a joy to those who appreciate real art. He has a winning personality, and gives a most pleasing impersonation of all his characters, making contact with the characters seem personal rather than impersonal. His entertainment on the local Lyceum Course, which is an event of the near future, will be a feature event.

spected by the present legislature as though its political complexion were the same as his own. So far there has been but a slight disposition to heckle or filibuster against any of his measures by republican members, and no opposition has shown head beyond reasonable differences of opinion normally from individual viewpoints, and that shown by a very few members of the legislature who feel they have a grievance against the governor on account of some pet measure of theirs having been defeated as a result of his efforts at the session of the legislature two years ago.

Many members of the legislature favor legislation providing stricter supervision and regulation of Washington irrigation companies, and it is likely an act embodying the more desirable features of the California law covering this subject will be proposed. Advocates of such new legislation believe the public interests can be best conserved, and the development of arid and semi-arid lands quickened by stricter state supervision and a more careful regulation of irrigation companies. Such a law, they claim, will protect legitimate enterprise and tend to prevent wild-catting.

In an important decision in the Seattle Strap-hangers' case the public service commission holds that the traction company cannot transport, standing, a number of persons in excess of 25 per cent of the seating capacity of the street car. By adopting the twenty-five per cent rule the Washington commission follows the rule enforced in New York and other large urban centers. In practice the rule applies only during the hours of mornings and evening when cars carry peak loads.

A Committee bill revolutionizing employment bureau service will be introduced the last of this week at the instance of Labor Commissioner Olson. The bill has been worked out by Commissioner Olson with a view of bringing the laboring man in direct touch with the job at no cost to him, and in so far as possible, giving the man hunting work as wide a latitude of occupations to choose from as there are fields of endeavor in the state's confines. The proposed act provides for a board of advisors consisting of seven members, without pay, a director, superintendents and employes. It will have a central organization in Seattle and each of the first and second-class cities of the state will have branch office. All sources of labor supply in the state will be carefully sounded, and the bureau will also keep in close touch with all employers of labor in the state.

Following Governor Lister's recommendation in his message the house committee on appropriations has authorized a bill providing for the transportation of alien insane patients of Washington hospitals back to their native countries. There are 450 of these aliens, according to Governor Lister, in the Western institution and 350 in the Eastern Washington asylum. It requires an appropriation of $75,000 to deport them, which is just one-half the amount the state pays to keep them one year.

To carry out the pledges of the republican party platform, enunciated at the last state convention, a bill was introduced this week amending the election laws of the State of Washington .The republican convention in its platform asked that radical changes be made, one of which was that each person registering as a voter should then and there declare his party affiliations as one of the essentials establishing his eligibility to vote.

In the first budget ever submitted to a Washington legislature Governor Ernest Lister pruned nearly a quarter of a million dollars from appropriations for all departments and institutions under his supervision as compared with appropriations for these departments two years ago. This big reduction is in line with the governor's pronounced economy policy. The budget system instituted by Governor Lister will, in all liklihood, hereafter be a feature of legislative sessions, as it gives that body a definite idea of the administration's departmental requirements.

Representatives of the Taxpayers' league and of the Good Roads congress are measuring blades before joint committees of the legislature on the question of the reduction of road levies. These levies will result in a road building fund of over $50,000,000 for the coming biennium. Those advocating lower taxation declare it absolutely essential to lop a chunk off this total, while supporters of good roads asseverate that that any reduction in the levy will cause a big curtailment in the elaborate prospective highway plans inaugurated by the legislature two years ago and give the good roads propaganda in the state a permanent set-back.

Movie picture men and pool hall owners are here in force fighting the bill introduced by Senator French, of Clark county, closing Sunday theatres and pool rooms.

Representative Lane, of Seattle, a a Bull Mooser, has introduced a blanket primary ballot bill, a leading feature of which is that it obviates the necessity of the primary voter declaring his political faith when calling for a ballot. All party tickets, according to the terms of the bill, shall be printed on one ballot, but the voter is not permitted to climb party fences, and votes but one political affiliation.

A universal 8-hour law will be introduced before the end of the present legislature. The State Federation of Labor is fathering the measure, having appointed a committee of five to formulate it.

In order that the primitive sport of chasing the festive clam shall not be relegated to the myths of pioneer life, Representative Cal Barlow, of Tacoma, will introduce a bill setting aside "clam parks" at points along the shores of Puget Sound—these to be held in perpetuity by the state for the use of the public. Barlow believes the "No Trespass" signs of private owners who are rapidly monopolizing tide frontage will eventually do away with the clam hunter's occupation.

The Taylor bill, now before the senate, upon which there is a hard fight, empowers the public service commission to issue "certificates of necessity and convenience" in cases where it is proposed to construct and operate a new "public utility" in territory already having a utility of similar character. No such utility could be constructed under the Taylor bill until the commission had investigated the entire matter and issued a certificate stipulating the propcsed new utility was a necessity and would promote the public convenience.

Grade crossing cards to be sent out by the public service commission which, when complete, contain all the data relating to such crossings in the state, along with a rough sketch showing the railroad and highway alignment, are being rapidly prepared and with the coming of good weather the commission will put engineers in the field to check up on all such crossings. When the the record is complete the commission will find it easy to rapidly eliminate the more dangerous crossings.

A rather revolutionary educational bill is being considered by the senate, the main feature of which is the abolishment of county superintendents the state over. The bill calls for the educational systems of counties to be administered by the state superintendent of education.

A 10-year registeration law to be kept alive by voting at every election is embodied in a measure now being considered by the senate. Another registration provides for absentee registration intended to benefit traveling men and railroad men.

Returns from state land sales in twenty-seven counties on January 5 show that less than sixty per cent of the property offered found a purchaser, the total amount for which the property sold footing $110,529.

A far cry back to the old convention system of party nominations is being fathered by Senator Sharpstein and half a dozen members of the legislature. The bill they will submit provides a combination of the convention and primary system.

STATE COLLEGE HAS SEED FOR DISTRIBUTION

The division of farm crops at the State Experimental Station at Pullman is offering to send out seed corn to persons who want to get a start with corn from seed grown in the Northwest. There will be no charges except for postage. The amount sent to each person (five pounds) will be sufficient to plant over one-half acre. Persons making requests for seed are expected to give the crop the best attention and make a report of its success.

The two varieties. Windus white dent and Thayers yellow dent, have been grown successfully at the State College for a number of years. They have also been grown to a limited extent by a large number of farmers. Most of these farmers, telling of their results, have given favorable reports. Some, however, have given adverse reports. These two varieties of corn are being distributed to determine the various localities in which they are successful. The white corn is larger than the yellow and is suited for a longer season. Where the seasons are likely to be short or unfavorable, the yellow corn is more likely to be more successful. Requests for corn will be filled in the order in which they are received until the supply is exhausted.

The department is also offering a limited amount of field peas for distribution. Field pea orders will be received in amounts up to twenty-five bushels for one person. A price of four cents per pound f. o. b. Pullman, Washington, will be charged.

A limited amount of Swedish Select oats will be distributed at a charge of two cents per pound.

Seeds of other farm crops will be distributed in small quantities, under the same conditions as those given for corn, to parties desiring to make a trial test in localities where the value of such crops is not understood. Parties interested should address

PEACE BEFORE A YEAR PASSES

The German Crown Prince is quoted as saying: "Undoubtedly, this is the most stupid, senseless, unnecessary war of modern times." Undoubtedly everyone of the belligerents will agree with him in that—each, however, claiming, as he does, that somebody else was responsible for it. Undoubtedly this war has sickened the whole world, includ-those engaged in it, as no other war ever did.

There are differences of opinion as to who is responsible, but the reaction of civilized men from its monstrous cruelties and wastes is almost universal. So we do not believe it will last a year. No matter what the fortunes of the battlefield are, a cumulative load of disgust and abhorrence and a steadily increasing economic pressure will stop it. If the situation of the first week of December could have been forseen in the last week of July, if European chancelleries could have had at the former date the same consciousness of what war means that they had at the latter date, there would certainly have been no war.

In the first days, of course, they all talked about dying in the last ditch, as everybody does when he begins to fight; but after half a dozen kicks in the stomach the belligerent begins to comprehend the beauties of peace.—Saturday Post.

There has been some talk of asking the students to share in the financial support of the state university, which has grown so rapidly that the resources from the mill tax are inadequate. Especially has it been urged that students from outside the state might justly be asked to assume their part of the burden of conducting the university.

There is, among even the state universities, abundant precedent for the levying of some sort of a tax upon students, particularly those from outside the state. Sometimes this is done by the charging of a matriculation fee; sometimes by a contingent fee; sometimes by an outright tuition fee. Whatever the nature of such a tax, it is acknowledged by the university that the establishment of, say a $10 matriculation fee and a $10 contingent fee, would net the institution probably not much less than $80,000 next year. Needless to say, this would aid very materially in solving some of the financial problems faced by President Landes and his associates.

A corporation has been formed to work Acme coal fields.

COMPARATIVE TROUBLES

We are full of affliction and complaints. Our salary is too low, our rent too high. Somebody of less merit gets a better job. Our investment has gone wrong. Our children are disobedient and extravagant. The street cars are slow and crowded. The wheat crop has failed. Cholera gets the hogs.

Every now and then, however, we get the real measure of these tribulations. This neighbor is not worrying much about salary or rent, because the doctors have told him he must soon die of cancer. That neighbor finds no fault in his child, because it lies dead. The poor ventilation of our house seems quite tolerable in contrast with that other house where snow beats thru the cracks and there is neither fuel nor food.

Before such comparisons we are dumb and contented for a day or a week. So in our national life; how manifold and poignant are the causes of complaint—until we look across at those places in Europe where death, wounds and beggary are the common lot!

Then—well, we shall complain as often and as bitterly as ever; but we shall whistle Hail Columbia! under our breath while doing it.

THINK THIS OVER

When a newspaper gives you a lot of free advertising in order to boom some concert or entertainment in which you are interested, keep track of the lines that are printed week by week and multiply that number by the regular advertising rates of the paper. Compare the results with the actual money value of any favor that you get from any other business concern. Then take into consideration the fact that advertising and circulation are the only two things a newspaper has to sell. Now, in these days of higher prices, how much do you think it ought to give away?

Subscriptions to all magazines solicited, especially wish to make up a large list of subscribers to the Saturday Evening Post, Ladies Home Journal and Country Gentleman. Phone me your orders. Mrs. Jessie Webster, Agent. Phone 92.

CALL FOR BIDS

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received by the Board of County Commissioners of Clallam county, Washington, at the office of the County Auditor, up to the hour of 10 o'clock, a. m., Tuesday, Febuary 2, 1915, for the gravelling of the Bonded Road from Sequim to Blyn, according to the direction and supervision of the County Engineer. Said bids must be made upon a yardage basis.

Each bid must be accompanied by cash or certified check in an amount equal to 5 per cent of the estimated cost of the work.

The Commissioners reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

WINNING CARDS IN THE GAME OF LIFE

LIFE'S a game, and we are all players in it, to paraphrase Shakespeare. And the best two cards in any hand are illustrated above—first, the PAY ENVELOPE; second, the BANK BOOK. Without the pay envelope there can be no bank book. Without the bank book the pay envelope is robbed of its FULL VALUE. The BANK BOOK is the LOGICAL, SENSIBLE SUPPLEMENT of the PAY ENVELOPE.

DO YOU HOLD THESE WINNING CARDS?

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

the result that the district is getting worse than should be allowed. Referred to health committee. This also brought up the matter of tents in the streets at Valley above Second and this too was ordered investigated.

Street superintendent reported that council had been premature in directing him to put in Jensen sidewalk. When he got his lumber on the ground, he was appraised of this fact, and the further fact that Mr. Jensen was about to put in his own sidewalk. The lumber was ordered sold to Mr. Jensen.

$15 was allowed to put the approach to the alley, at L. T. Haynes, in shape to allow supplies to be hauled in there.

Mr. Bigelow submitted a resolution of Intention to create an assessment district on First street between Laurel and Peabody for the purposes of putting in a sewer of concrete or brick or other suitable material. Hearing on same was ordered for February 16th.

It being reported by the health committee that Block one of Tide Lands, east of Laurel and Block one west of Laurel are in a very unsanitary condition because of property owners who are not taking care of their sewerage, council declared the same a nuisance and it was ordered that city marshal notify offenders to take care of their drains at once or be subject to prosecution.

City clerk directed to notify the Peoples' Wharf Co. and the City Dock Co. to light their wharves at the railroad crossings; also city marshal to have Railroad Avenue kept free from standing wagons.

Mr. Larkin, upon a reconsideration of his application, was granted permit to make improvements on his property east of City Hall.

Ordered that alley between Georgiana and Caroline streets be improved.

Councilman Fisher reported that Senator Jones had introduced a bill into congress granting to the city lots 1, 2, 17 and 18 in Block 69, opposite the court house, in lieu of the city giving up its claim to the government lots which it is now using in Block 32.

ANOTHER BARGE LOAD OF FEED FROM THE ISLANDS

J. O. Morse, having recently increased his facilities at the Chase street dock, is going into the feed and hay business on a more extensive scale than ever. Another barge shipment of feed, received Tuesday night, from the Islands, gives him the largest stock in town and enables him to make correspondingly low prices on ton lots. It would not be surprising if he should conclude to enter the retail field in this line.

COURT GIVES RAILWAY RIGHT-OF-WAY OVER DISCOVERY

The condemnation proceedings brought by the Chicago, Millwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company for a right-of-way over certain oyster lands at the head of Port Discovery bay, owned by the state, was heard yesterday in the superior court by Judge J. M. Ralston, says the Port Townsend Leader.

After hearing both sides Judge Ralston ordered the petition for right-of-way for railroad granted.

McINNES SAYS CLALLAM HAS REACHED PARTING OF WAYS

Donald McInnes, the distinguished dairyman of Dungeness, who is spending much of his time this winter in Seattle and Olympia, writes as follows to Chairman J. W. Lindsay, of the Port Angeles Commercial Club's special committee in charge of the Port District project:

Seattle, Jan. 20, 1915.

Mr. J. W. Lindsay, Port Angeles.

Dear Sir:

I am in receipt of your letter of the 18th, just forwarded from Dungeness, and am sorry to say that I cannot attend the proposed meeting on Saturday.

As I view the matter, Clallam county has reached the parting of the ways and must now choose whether it is preferable to pursue a progressive policy, with large home markets and storage facilities, or to drift along slowly, and never, within the lifetime of anyone now living, reach the position of importance that her geographical situation and natural resources entitle her to.

Very truly,
DONALD McINNES.

ANGELES GIRLS WIN FROM SEQUIM GIRLS

The Angeles Girls beat the Sequim High School Girls in a one sided game Friday evening at the A. A. A. Hall, by a score of 23 to 7. The Angeles girls started the game off by making the first score before a minute of playing had gone on. The ball was in the hands of the Sequim girls but a small part of the game, the Angeles girls keeping it at their end of the hall.

The High School and Faculty game was won by the Faculty, 13 to 7.

There will be two games played tonight between the Mora Ladies team and the Mora Gents. These teams played with Sequim Wednesday and Dungeness Thursday and when they play Angeles tonight, they will be in trim to give our boys and girls a hard game.

County Treasurer Wood is sending out this week notices of personal taxes due and requesting that payment be made before March 15th, as upon that date they become delinquent and subject to the penalties provided by the revenue law.

Taxes upon real estate become delinquent after May 31st, and interest at the rate of fifteen per cent per annum is charged thereafter until paid. A rebate of three per cent is given all those who pay taxes on real estate before the 15th of March, if the entire amount be paid at one time. If one-half the taxes be paid on or before the 31st day of November, but if not paid by the latter date the second half becomes delinquent with interest attached from the preceeding June.

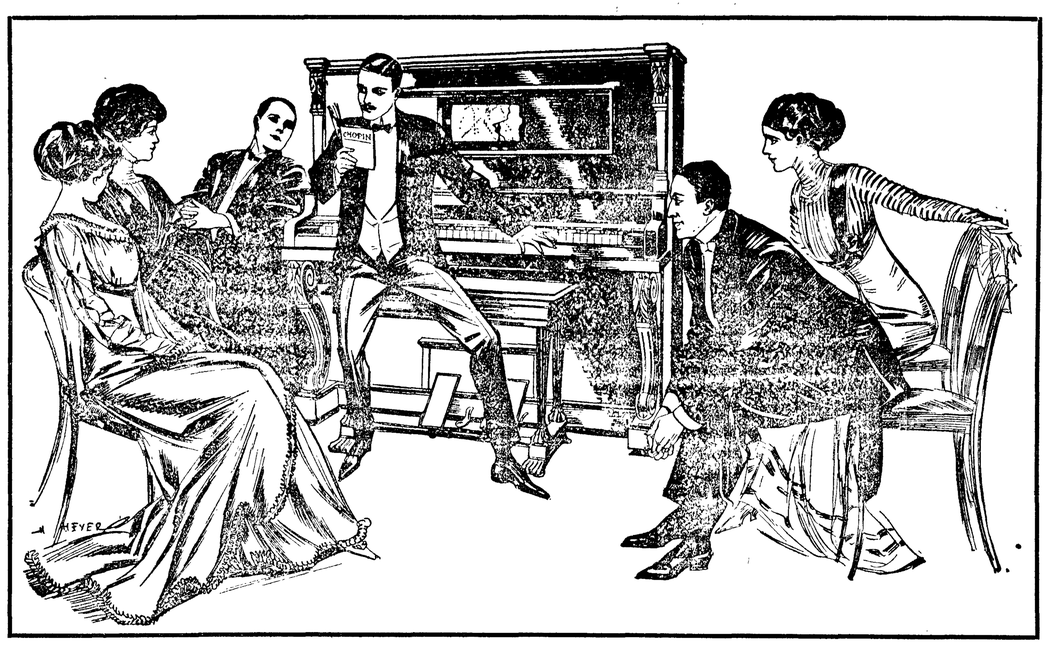
THE DIFFERENCE

Our Player Pianos are not the ordinary cheap Player with a three point motor requiring a strong man to play it; with only a 15 to 18 inch bellows capacity that plays irregular, sounds like a machine and not a piano; with 88 rubber tubes that will all play out in a short time; with a player action simply set in on top of the piano action; with a downward draft by which the bellows simply pulls the action; with four or five different levers and buttons to handle to manipulate it. I find this is the kind of Player that has been sold in and around Port Angeles.

Piano merchants seem to have taken delight in unloading a class of Players in Port Angeles that they could not have sold at any price in the City, because they were not a high class, modern, up-to-date player.

Port Angeles is the only City in the world in which we are interested, hence we sell only the very best and latest style of Player made.



Our Players.---The Difference

Our Players all have a Five point motor. A small child can play it, it runs so light. Have a 36 inch bellows capacity which runs the player action easily and regularly and brings out the tone which makes it round like a piano. Have all metal tubes that will never play out. Are built four inches deeper than the ordinary piano, allowing ample room for the player action, giving the bellows a direct draft and not a push and pull. Have only 2 buttons to handle to manipulate it. Other pianos taken in exchange, easy terms allowed.

Come in and let us show you the difference whether or not you are contemplating the purchase of a player. It will be well worth your time to see and know the difference.

BIGELOW NO FISHERMAN

Councilman Bigelow has our sympathy. Every Sunday for the past fortnight, or maybe it is two weeks, he has inveigled two or three of his friends to accompany him over to the spit on a fishing trip, in the hope of learning the modus operandi of those successful in bringing home those long strings of mackerel. Patiently his alleged friends have coached him, the while filling their own creels, pails, or potato sacks, or whatever was required to hold their respective catches, but nary a mackerel, not even a dead one, could Councilman Bigelow lure within reach of his little hook. Last week, tired of the gibes of those more successful, he employed John Rychner to put him next and the twain departed at an early hour for the grounds near the government coal bunkers. All day the Hon. Councilman, and Rychner as well, fished faithfully but without success, before it dawned upon Bigelow that his instructor was as hoplessly ignorant as he regarding the ways of the slender mackerel, Rychner's ability as a fisherman having been acquired on the cod banks where one throws over a hunk of bait and waits 'till the cod comes along and gulps it down. Just to prove that he could catch fish, of a kind, Rychner pulled in three cod while the Doctor, with visions of Harry Stiles' mackerel kit, was reeling in his line for the last time. City Clerk Beam, who lives over in Bigelow's neighborhood and has a fancy for fresh fish, but is tired of being invited out to salt mackerel dinners, has ordered a wire smelt net with the intention of presenting it to the Doctor as being more fitted to his ability.

Don't forget to take your "bosom friend" down to Shields Cigar Store to be sent to the laundry.

NOTICE OF SETTLEMENT OF FINAL ACCOUNT

No. 640.
