ST. ANDREWS DEDICATION

Handsome New Building Consecrated to the Worship of God.

Sunday, September 17, 1905, was a red letter day for St. Andrews Episcopal Church, Port Angeles. The day was all that could be desired, even Dame Nature smiled, inviting the good people to participate, by their presence, in the ceremonies that were to make the day memorable in the annals of this Church. The large outpouring of the people and members of the church was to witness and take part in the impressive ceremony of laying the corner-stone of the handsome building, and dedication and consecration of the church to the worship of God.

Promptly at the appointed hour, Rev. Cheal, rector of the church, opened the morning service. After a short service of music and prayer, the congregation, led by the choir, officiating clergy, and officers of the church, repaired to the outside of the building to witness the ceremony of laying the corner-stone, which is a beautiful specimen of Port Angeles blue sandstone, bearing this inscription: St. Andrews Episcopal Church, A. D. 1905.

Right Rev. Fredric W. Keator, D. D., Bishop of Olympia, assisted by Rev. John Cheal, Rector of the church; Rev. John B. Alexander, Tacoma, and Chaplain A. W. Stone, United States Navy, officiated at the laying of the corner-stone and conducted the consecration and dedication service, in accordance with the canons of the Episcopal Church of the United States. Bishop Keator offered a fervent prayer and then read a list of memorials, consisting of a roster of the communicants of the church, list of present officers of the church, list of membership of the different organizations of the church, and a copy of the Convocation Journal of the district, which he placed in the aperture prepared for them, and being handed the necessary implement cemented them in, afterwards turning the implement over to the workmen who laid the corner stone in its place.

At the close of this impressive ceremony, the people again resumed their seats.

J. Lloyd Aldwell, as clerk and secretary of the church, read the instrument of donation; the instrument of acceptance being read for the Bishop by Rev. John B. Alexander. The consecration and dedication services were then proceeded with. The music was especially fine; the large choir rendering several beautiful anthems.

Bishop Keator delivered a forceful and eloquent consecration sermon from the text:

And Jacob awakened out of his sleep and he said, Surely the Lord is in this place; and I knew it not.

And he was afraid and said, How dreadful is this place! This is none other but the house of God, and this is the gate of Heaven.

And Jacob rose up early in the morning and took the stone that he had put for his pillows and set it up for a pillar and poured oil upon the top of it.

And he called the name of that place Bethel.

From these words Bishop Keator's discourse touched upon the beautiful privilege of dedicating and consecrating this house to the worship of God. He gave a word of congratulation to the builders of St. Andrews church, so beautiful in all its appointments. "This building stands as a living witness to the true and living God." This Church not only is a witness of God, but a witness for our need of God, what we ought to be; of the highest ideal of mankind; not what we are, but what we ought to be. The Church is the knowledge of Heaven here among men. He thanked God that this was not a worldly Church, not given to fads, but a Church of God.

The Bishop paid a high tribute to the memory of the late Mr. W. L. Church, and Mrs. J. Lloyd Aldwell, and of their work for the Church. He could have paid no higher tribute than when he said: "This church would not have been possible only for the good efforts and work of dear Mrs. Aldwell."

WILL ORGANIZE BOOSTERS' CLUB

Public Spirited Citizen Has Started Movement in Favor Everywhere.

The Boosters'Club idea, which originated in Denver and which has since spread with marvelous rapidity throughout the Northwest, has at last become an assured fact in Port Angeles. It has been repeatedly said, when the Olympic was advocating the establishment of a club here and giving information as to the methods of work and results in other places, that such a movement would not be successful here, and even that a committee could not be found large enough to rustle members sufficient for a fair start.

But the truth is quite to the contrary. Every man, and also every woman, in Port Angeles is a born booster, and the city is recognized throughout the sound country, if not in so many words, at least in fact, as a boosters' town. That this is a fact, was never made more apparent than when Mr. Barnett, having a few hours' leisure between orders at the quarry, started out to secure pledges for faithful attendance and work at meetings of a boosters' club. Everyone he approached on the subject was heartily in favor of the scheme and not only willing, but anxious, to do his part in the good work. Twenty-five or thirty business men have already pledged themselves to give it some of their time during the year. Without this pledge no one can become a member. If Mr. Barnett had the necessary time, a list of members could be secured which would include practically every man in town, but instead a meeting will be called in the course of a few days, the organization started, and an urgent invitation extended to everyone to join.

One of the first things to come before the meeting will be the selection of a suitable name, as expressive, if possible, as the terms boosters and hustlers, which are used by other clubs, and yet having the advantage of being different. A number of good suggestions have already been made and others doubtless will be forthcoming. Also a suitable catch-word or phrase, expressive and snappy.

TO IMPROVE SIDEWALKS

Civic Club Will Inaugurate General Construction and Improvement.

The Civic Club has decided to take up the matter of sidewalk improvement and extension in earnest the coming year, and are planning a series of entertainments for the raising of necessary funds. The first Sidewalk Day will be held sometime in October.

The initial entertainment will be a dance, given in about two weeks, the exact date of which will soon be announced.

A series of sidewalk days, initiated before the fall rains, will prove of even greater benefit to the city as a whole than the "Stump Days," for not only will broken walks, from which the city is in constant danger of heavy damage suits for possible injuries, be repaired, but the new walks will save many a sick spell among the several hundred school children. The residents in the Fourth Ward are particularly anxious to have new walks built and will contribute liberally in money and time for the purpose.

If this sidewalk movement works out anything like that of street clearing, and it will, the results will be manifest in every portion of the city, for individual work will soon be under way on every hand.

The Civic Club also decided to organize a Dramatic Circle, auxiliary to the Club, for the purpose of personal improvement, and also for the purpose of training a number of those most interested in order that the Club may be enabled to give dramatic entertainments. Hereafter, the Civic Club will divide its work, creating a fund in the winter and devoting its entire energies to the improvement of the city in the summer.

Mrs. Jno. Trumbull, as president, and Mrs. T. J. Appleton, as first vice, Mrs. S. P. Carusi as secretary, and Mrs. G. V. Smith as treasurer, will have charge of the general management of the Club's affairs this year. They will be ably assisted by the following committees, appointed at the last meeting, held Tuesday afternoon:

Mothers' Department—Mesdames Jno. Trumbull, Willson, Cochran, W. B. Webster, LaFlower, L. H. Haines, Morrisy, Dening, E. E. Fisher, Fleming. Mrs. Cochran, sub-chairman for Tumwater.

ANGELES STONE FOR COURT HOUSE

Yakima County Building Will Be a Magnificent Stone Structure.

N. C. Gauntt of North Yakima, supervising architect on the new county court house now being built in that city, was in town yesterday inspecting the stone quarries with a view to using Port Angeles stone in the new building. Mr. Gauntt furnished the plans for the building and from photographs shown it will be an imposing structure and would be a credit to any community. The first story will be native blue basalt, the second and third stories to be Port Angeles sandstone. The dark blue-black basalt will contrast beautifully with Port Angeles sandstone and experts think it will be the most sightly county court house in the West. The building will cost in the neighborhood of $100,000.00.

HOUSE BUILT IN ONE DAY

Mr. and Mrs. Barrowman Are Provided With a Neat Little Home.

If there is one thing more than another Port Angeles people are noted for, its their generosity to those in need of assistance in any way. This was again illustrated this week when Mr. Barrowman was provided with a comfortable home in place of the one destroyed by fire. The idea originated with Mr. Merritt and was made a success partly thru the energy of Mr. Bradshaw and partly by reason of the enthusiasm of all connected with it. The lumber, doors, windows and supplies were contributed by the people of Eden Valley and of Angeles, and a party of willing workers put up the house, which was finished complete with good floors, inside ceiled, shingled roof, and even to the locks being put on, in one day. Of course it was small, sixteen by fourteen, and yet amply sufficient for the time being. The workmen were: Ed Elliott, chief carpenter, John Gutenberg, C. F. Merritt, Chas. and James Gallagher, Frank Drumb, Peter Germo, C. C. Bradshaw and Orin Babcock.

Advertising Our Resources.

The Townsend Call, in a recent issue, puts forth the best suggestion in regard to advertising a particular section of country that we have ever seen, namely, by the insertion of a ten line adv. in the auxiliary papers of the middle west.

An auxiliary, or ready-print paper, is one which has a portion of each issue printed by a company which makes that their business. There are a number of such "ready-print houses" and each has branches scattered throughout the country; on the coast there are branch auxiliary houses at Seattle, Spokane, Portland and San Francisco.

The companies putting out these auxiliaries have become very wealthy since the Civil War, during which period the industry started, and they now furnish a summary of the week's news and a line of miscellaneous reading ahead of anything the country publisher can obtain in any other way. The ready-print upon which this Olympic-Leader is printed is a splendid example of the service furnished. It's expensive for the publisher, but so immensely superior to the boiler-plate and dead legal, railroad, and magazine advertising sometimes used to fill up a sheet, that no progressive publisher would think of issuing a paper in a small town without it.

As the Call says: "Combined, the auxiliary establishments probably print two or more pages of 12,000 country newspapers with circulation ranging from 500 to 2000 copies weekly. They serve subscribers in towns and cities from 500 to 5000 inhabitants and throughout the agricultural and timbered regions of the United States."

"The auxiliary house charges the publisher for the ready-prints, and also reserves a certain amount of advertising space. Thus each house makes its own rates on space. The last rate the Call has seen quoted for a list of 1300 papers, aggregating a million circulation, was $4 per line one insertion. Say the price is now $5 per line, a ten line adv could be placed before a million readers in any desired section of the country for $50. The same adv placed with each publisher direct would cost probably $1000; in each office the adv would have to be set, making 1000 advs. Dealing direct with the auxiliary house, there would be but one setting to supply 1300 papers."

By far the largest portion of the readers of these papers take no daily, and even among those who do, the excellence of the ready prints is so pronounced that they are thoroughly read; hence even a small adv would be noted and if the reader were at all interested in this western country, would be the means of opening correspondence. It would of course be necessary to provide a folder or booklet setting forth the general advantages of this region and the possibilities in the way of farming and dairying to furnish information to those requesting it. The eastern homeseeker must be instilled with a desire to see our country for himself before he will ask to be ticketed through.

In no other way could such results be obtained from such a small expenditure.

Lumber Will Be King.

A Mississippi valley lumberman, W.I. Ewart, who has been making a study of the amount of standing timber, in the U. S., for the past two years, stated at the semi-annual meeting of the Pacific Coast Lumber Ass'n, held recently in Tacoma, that the annual consumption of lumber in the United States is fifty billion feet; the amount of standing yellow pine in the South is placed at three hundred billion feet, and the stumpage of the West, including British Columbia and Alberta, eight hundred billion feet. Were there no other source of supply, and there is no other source from which can come any considerable amount, the timber in the South would be practically exhausted in six years, and that in the Northwest in fifteen years thereafter. From which facts he reasons that the stumpage value of western timber must soon advance from $1.50 per 1000 to at least $3.00 per 1000, the price of yellow pine now. Western lumber now brings the manufacturers eight dollars at the mill, which sum includes stumpage, logging and manufacturing, and sells in Minneapolis at twenty dollars. Mr. Ewert believes that the price to the consumer will not be materially advanced, but that freight rates will be lowered. Whatever happens, it looks as if the owner of timber would receive the greatest benefit, and that the big end of the deal will go to the man who owns the trees.

Named for Lake Crescent

Plans for the new steamer to be built for the Angeles-Seattle run are being prepared by the Alaska Steamship company. The vessel will be built by the Morans, says the Call.

The steamer will be named the Crescent, and cost $150,000. The plans and specifications call for a steamer 171 feet in length, twenty-three feet at the water line and thirty-three feet at the deck line, with draft of ten feet six inches.

Oil will be used for fuel on the vessel, and on the lower deck several big tanks will be built to carry the liquid.

When the Crescent is in commission the service to Port Townsend will be doubled. The steamer Whatcom will call in there, leaving Seattle on the morning trip, and the Crescent will make that port leaving Seattle about 5 o'clock in the afternoon. The return trip from Angeles will be at 7 a. m.

The Inland Transportation Company closely identified with the Alaska steamship company and Puget Sound Navigation company, has about completed a deal for the purchase of a steel steamer on the Atlantic for the Bellingham run.

When in town call on Baker, the Second Hand Man.

Opportunities for Farmers

The Seattle P.-I., taking as its text our account of L. C. Dey's success on the Seguin prairie, comments editorially thereon as follows: (And we submit that it is the best boost Clallam county has received in the Seattle papers for many a day.)

"There is no mystery in the logged-off lands of this state. The country is new and practically undeveloped. Few of the first settlers attempted to promote agriculture. They were satisfied with the fishing and lumbering opportunities that gave exceptionally good cash returns. When the timber was taken away from one section the workmen removed to another field of operations. There was plenty of work for all in the commercial demands created by the natural industries. Many of the best producing farms and orchards have been cultivated less than ten years.

The Clallam county farmer has succeeded in establishing a home and independence on a small tract of land. When a neighbor sought ten acres of the original forty he sold the tract, and with only thirty acres is satisfied. Others have made mistakes in attempting to clear larger areas. The small farm holds the secret of success. It gives the desired result in a few months. There is no necessity for a man to spend a lifetime in pulling stumps and burning brush from his domains. A few acres well tilled yield abundantly, and fill the barns with surplus crops.

A gold mine lies hidden in the forests of the logged-off lands. The industrious man can bring out its valuable nuggets by diligent and well directed efforts. The timber can be marketed at good prices. There is all the material required in building houses, barns and fences. The water is pure and at the the doors of the home builders. No epidemics of disease can penetrate the pure atmosphere surrounding a home in the forest. Vegetation grows every month in the year. Fruits are produced to perfection in a short time. Nature is profuse in granting of favors to man and beast. The lands are cheap and the landlords satisfied with long time payments. Certainly this is a land of opportunities."

A Pretty Home Wedding.

One of the prettiest home weddings was solemnized last evening when Miss Irma Beam was married to Mr. Horace Hortsman at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Beam, 816 North street. The home was tastily decorated in fall flowers, golden rod and asters, with ferns. The Rev. H. K. Chatten, uncle of the bride, of New Lancaster, Kansas, read the service in the presence of the immediate relatives and a very few friends of the bride. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served after which the couple were driven to Neosho Falls, from where they will go to Denver, Colo., for a short wedding trip, and will be at home October 1, at 1382 Burdette avenue, Cincinnati, Ohio. The bride has been in Iola only a few months, having come from the state of Washington to her grandparents' home. Yet in that time every one who has known her loves her. The groom is junior partner in the law firm of Hortsman & Hortsman, in Cincinnati. The best wishes of a host of friends will attend the young people to their new home, in which the Record joins.—Iola (Kan.) Weekly Record, Sept. 15.

Correct clothes for young men and boys sold by The Times Clothing Mart have that attractive style and comfortable fit that reduces the efforts of the salesmen to a minimum. One of those smart, double-breasted suits for $10.00.

CHURCH DEDICATION

It was an eloquent address, teeming with good thoughts and high ideals, and was well received by the large audience present.

Following the consecration services, communion of the Lord's Supper was observed.

Again in the evening the church was filled to its fullest seating capacity for the confirmation service. Bishop Keator addressed the class from the words, "All sufficiency is of God." He also preached a strong sermon from the text found in St. Luke. 5:3.

CONFIRMATION CLASS.

Mrs. Julia Delabarre, Mrs. Elizabeth Mead, Mrs. Corrinne McGillivray, Mrs. Lizzie Metcalfe, Miss Matilda Fowler, Miss Alice H. Swanson, Miss Lorna Smith, Miss Angeline Ritchie, Miss Helen Trumbull, Miss Mabel Griggs, Miss Clio Appleton.

Thus closed the services of the day in the pretty little church on Peabody street, a day long to be remembered by the people of Port Angeles.

The work of building the church was commenced in 1904 and was pushed to completion during the year, with the exception of a few minor details. These were completed and the debt all paid before dedication day, which latter is necessary in the Episcopal Church of America in order to have consecration. Hence the pleasant surprise at the absence of the begging program so usual on such occasions. An offering was received, however, to raise the necessary funds with which to paint the exterior of the building.

Much praise is due the building committee for their untiring efforts. This committee was composed of the following gentlemen:

Rev. James Cheal, E. E. Day, R. A. Muskett, T. T. Aldwell, G. W. Thompson, P. Grubb, J. L. Aldwell.

The church is a handsome structure, built of native woods in the old English style of architecture. The interior is furnished with all the modern conveniences and is elegant and home-like is all its appointments. A large memorial window of colored glass ornaments the front of the building. The window bears this inscription: "Sacred to the memory of William L. Church. Died May 14, 1904, aged 44 years. Erected by his wife."

The present officers of the Church and societies are as follows:

OFFICERS OF THE CHURCH.

Rector, Rev. James Cheal; Warden, R. A. Muskett; Secretary, J. L. Aldwell; Treasurer, W. W. Payne.

ADVISORY BOARD.

The advisory board consists of the officers of the church and Mrs. W. L. Church, Mrs. S. P. Carusi, Mrs. Herbert Babcock and Mr. Peter Grubb.

Weak Hearts

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which falls of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, puffing it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased.

Mr. D. Kauble, of Nevada, O., says: I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me.

A WORTHY COUPLE

Mr. Roy McClinton and Miss Mary Willson United in Marriage

On Wednesday evening at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Willson, occurred the marriage of their only daughter, Miss Mary, to Mr. Roy McClinton of Seattle.

At precisely 7:30 o'clock the bridal party marched into the parlor to the sweet strains of the wedding march played by the bride's little cousin, Miss Gertrude Willson, and took their positions in the bay window under a large bell made of canary colored dahlias and white chrysanthemums, a most artistic piece of work. The bride was lovely in an exquisite gown of canary and white silk mouseline over white silk and carried a large bouquet of white carnations and smilax. The bridesmaid, Miss Helen Hopkins, was very prettily attired in pure white, while the groom and groomsman, Mr. John Willson, brother of the bride, wore the conventional black. The beautiful ring ceremony was used and the solemn words pronounced by the Rev. Fulmer.

After hearty congratulations all repaired to the spacious diningroom where an elaborate course dinner was served. The decorations in the diningroom, as in all other parts of the house, were canary and white and were very artistic and beautiful. The color scheme included the bill-of-fare also as far as possible, and a most elaborate centerpiece was the wedding cake sent by a friend in Seattle, which was as lovely to taste as it was to look upon.

The bride is one of Angeles' most popular young ladies, possessing a cheerful and lovable disposition, which has endeared her to all who know her. She has had most excellent success as a primary teacher both here an in Seattle where she has taught the last two years; and also possesses the many rare qualities which help to brighten and make the ideal home.

The groom is well known in Angeles where most of his life has been spent, and where he has won the respect and esteem of all who know him. He was engaged in the practice of law here until a few months ago, when he went to Seattle to enter into partnership with his brother in a large grocery and express business.

The best wishes of a host of friends follow these young people to their new home where it is hoped their brightest possibilities may be realized. They left on Thursday morning's boat for Portland and upon their return will go right to housekeeping in a cosy cottage just waiting for their occupancy on Woodland Park Ave., 3,813.

Mr. and Mrs. McClinton were the recipients of many elegant and costly presents from their relatives and friends. They also have their home partially furnished in elegant style—is a gift from the parents of each and the bride's brother.

Besides the relatives of the two families the only other guests were:

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Stakemiller and daughters; Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Short, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Lauridsen, Mr. and Mrs Howey and son, of Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. Ambey McClinton, of Seattle; the bride's grandmother, Mrs. John Harrison, of Pittsburg and her aunt, Miss Harrison, of Pittsburg.

New Pastors for M.E. Churches

The Conference made a general change in the pastors of this district this year. Rev. Williston goes to Townsend in place of Rev. Sutton, who will try Juneau, Alaska, for a year. Rev. G. F. Graham will take Mr. Williston's pulpit. Rev. Voris of Seguin will have the Port Angeles Circuit. Rev. Bell was returned to Dungeness.

Rev. Graham was until recently pastor at Dungeness; he was extended and accepted the pastorate at his old home town, Sylvan Grove, Kansas, and, to the great regret of everyone in Dungeness, left early in the year for his former home. Evidently the inducement of a higher salary did not balance the superb climate of Puget Sound, and he decided to return. He has left for Angeles and is expected to be here for Sunday services.

Four Boy Burglars

Four little urchins, whose names it were best not to mention for their parents sake, were rounded up by Marshal Church this week and put in the city jail as a curb to their propensity for acquiring property belonging to others. For the past few days Ken has been having no end of trouble unearthing guns, gold watches, razors, and most everything else that kids have no earthly use for, the which have been unwillingly contributed by the Second Hand Store, the shooting gallery, Raymond's, and others. Their case will come before the Juvenile Court.

Rev. Edwards Here Sunday

Rev. Geo. N. Edwards, the new Congregational minister from Jewett City, Conn., is expected tomorrow and will hold services both morning and evening on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Edwards will be entertained by Mrs. Dave Morse.

THREE JURORS CURED

Of Cholera Morbus with One Small Bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Mr. G. W. Fowler, of Hightower, Ala., relates an experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, county seat of Clebourne county, Alabama. He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some souse meat and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drug store for a certain cholera mixture, but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead, saying that he had what I sent for, but that this medicine was so much better he would rather send it to me in the fix I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one small bottle cured the three of us." For sale by W. J. Mathewson.
