COLD STORAGE PLANT WILL BE PUT IN AT ONCE

Mr. Craig's Trip East Could Not Have Been More Completely Successful. Means a Great Deal for the Future of Port Angeles.

The proposed cold storage plant in connection with the Craig Fish Products plant is an assured fact — and that fact means nothing less than the initial step that will result in making Port Angeles the Gloucester of the Pacific; that will bring and hold for us the wealth of the Northwest Coast fishing industry which is ours by virtue of Nature's gift.

Mr. Craig, President of the Fish Products Co., returned yesterday from his extended trip East and reports not only that he was able to obtain the very considerable sum necessary to put in the new plant and complete the present, and also to build up the business to a successful enterprise, but that he found it a very easy matter to secure the capital without being necessary to make inducements or concessions of any nature whatever. The character and prospects of the business make it a gilt-edged investment.

Mr. Craig visited a number of the largest Fish Products plants on the Atlantic, finding none to be more up to date than the Angeles plant. The present plant is not, however, completed and is now to have every modern facility. A deodorizer will be one of the first improvements. This alone will cost from eight to ten thousand. It will as entirely do away with the offensive odor as is the case in Eastern plants, or in the Chicago packing houses, whose systems Mr. Craig also inspected. Among other improvements a clam-shell shovel will be put in at end of dock, doing away with all hand work, and a system of tracks will be so laid that cars may be run to every part of the works.

But the improvement having most to do with the future of the business, and of the greatest advantage to the city, is the cold storage plant. The first warehouse built will be 270 by 58 feet, with an ell 50 by 70. The peculiar construction necessary to secure requisite air spaces — each wall really consisting of eight walls — makes it a very expensive building. A contractor who understands the work is expected tomorrow.

The ice plant will have a capacity of 20 tons per day, and there will be storage for 200 tons, in order to supply fishing boats and pack fish for shipment.

There will be a smokery and a saltery.

It is not the intention of the company to engage in the fishing business for food fish, but to be able to handle food fish in order to secure the other varieties for other purposes. Within a year after the completion of the cold storage plant there will be, it is entirely within bounds to say, 150 additional families living in Port Angeles, and with the coming railroad connections, the number will be greatly increased.

Speaking of railroad prospects and of the Peninsular in particular, Mr. Craig is apparently certain that we will have rail connections in the very near future, and from the fact that he was several times called upon to assist in the negotiations to that end, it is very likely he speaks with a full knowledge of conditions.

BREAKS UP AND IS LOST

Valencia Succumbed to Waves and All on Board Are Drowned

There is but little to add to the first account sent out of the wreck of the Valencia, as given on page 2 of this issue. Only 33 people of the 156 on board were saved; 70 lost their lives in the first attempt to save the passengers in boats; the others dropped off one by one or went to their death in a furtile endeavor to navigate the breakers in small boats, or went down with the ship.

When the first boats were swung outwards from their davits, the first instincts of men trained to the sea— the rescue of the women and children aboard —commenced. And here the tale becomes harrowing. To those who remember the awful scenes attending the lowering of boats off the ill-fated Clallam two years ago, it is sufficient to say that whatever may have been the conditions attending the placing of the boats in the water, the results were the same. As the boats with their human freight touched the water they were caught by the breakers and thrown against the hull of the larger craft, and were broken to pieces as fast almost as they were placed in the water, and the occupants went down.

Every effort was made to rescue those on the doomed ship. The City of Topeka was dispatched from Seattle; the Queen left her passengers at Victoria and hurried to the scene; the Salvor, the Lorne, the Tzar, and other tugs were sent at full speed. But the vessels arrived too late to render assistance; besides, there was half a gale blowing, and with the cloudiness of the sky and rain it was unsafe for a near approach. Being high tide the deck of the stranded vessel was completely submerged, and as far as could be seen there was no one in the rigging; all were lost. Even if any one was then on the vessel it would have been perilous indeed for the rescuers to have gotten sufficiently close to pass a line to the deck of the wreck. As one Captain remarked, "Rescue from seaward is impossible, if there is anyone still on board, aid must come from shore."

It is the opinion of navigators who have had maay years of experience along the Washington coast that Captain Johnson over-ran his distance and was carried into the breakers on the Canadian shore before realizing his danger. They say this is a very easy matter in thick weather, owing to the heavy current drifting in towards the Canadian side.

PUGET SOUND

From Wilhelm's Coast.

Go out to the wide brown prairies,—
If you tire of wood and hill,
The rain and the misty sunshine,—
Where the strong winds sweep at will,
And look at the bunch grass waving
On a long dry stretch of sand;
Then long, with a heart-sick longing,
For this green, sweet April-Land.

Go out where the snows are falling
And the trees stand bare and brown;
Or ice-coated branches crashing
Are by storms tossed up and down;
Where hills and low levels glitter
Chill and white on every hand,—
Then turn with a heart-contented
To this warm, green April-Land.

Go, then, where it pleases your fancy,
O'er the whole, wide world to stray,
But the April songs and voices
Will recall your heart each day
To shadows of snow-capped mountains,
Where the graceful pine trees stand,
And clouds are sunshine rifted,
In this fair, sweet April-Land.

The Railroad Survey.

The taking of elevations along First and Front streets by the surveyors of the proposed Peninsular railroad Wednesday caused no little comment. It is remarked, and justly, that the thoroughness of the work done in this line is a splendid indication of earnestness on the behalf of the promoters. A line that would have answered every purpose save that of utility could have been run in a couple of weeks. Instead, sufficient time has been taken to secure the best possible route from the city to Lake Crescent. Between the spit and Dry Creek four lines have been run in order to secure the necessary two per sent grade. The proposed road will cross the base of spit at an elevation of about twenty-five feet, we understand, being trestled for some distance.

The soothing and comforting effects of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, when applied to piles, sores, cuts, boils, etc., subdues pain almost instantly. This salve draws out the inflamation, reduces swelling and acts as a rubefacient, thus circulating the blood through the diseased parts, permitting or aiding nature to permantly remove the trouble entirely. W. H. Macy Repaired Here.

The surveyor who came down to look over the ship W.H.Macy, which rammed the tug Wanderer last week, decided to have repairs made here, letting contract for a new bow sprit to Messrs. Franck and Smith. Permanent repairs will be made after she reaches her destination, Sidney. The bowsprit, over fifty feet in length, has been hewed out of a huge fir log, planed perfectly smooth, fitted with the various clamps and running gear, being a strictly first class piece of work, and, moreover, was completed in less than four days time.

Perfection can only be attained in the physical by allowing nature to appropriate and not dissipate her own resources. Cathartics gripe, weaken—dissipate, while DeWitt's Little Early Risers simply expel all putrid matter and bile, thus allowing the liver to assume normal activity. Good for the complexion. Sold by C.E. Nailor & Co.

STEAMSHIP VALENCIA LOST OFF CAPE BEALE

Frisco Liner Strikes on Rocks and Large Number of Lives are Lost--Heavy Weather Encountered,

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 24.—The steamer Valencia, which left San Francciso at 11 a. m. Saturday in clear weather, en route to Victoria, with ninety-four passengers and a crew of sitxy, went ashore on the west coast of Vancouver island at midnight Monday night during a thick fog, and a large number were drowned when attempting to leave the ship.

The steamer is on the rocks against a high cliff, between Cape Beale and Cloo Ose, and is likely to go to pieces at any time.

One boat's crew of six men reached Cape Beale at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and nine men got ashore near the telegraph huts about fifteen miles from the lighthouse.

According to the survivors, the Valencia encountered thick weather after leaving San Francisco, and Capt. Johnson had consequently to navigate by reckoning.

The officers of the steamer thought they were near Umatilla reef lightship when the vessel drove in on the Vancouver island coast. Soundings had been taken, thirty fathoms having been secured a few minutes before the ship struck.

The steamer was successful in backing off the rocks into deep water and the hope was felt that the Valencia would be able to proceed on her course. This hope was soon dispelled, however, and the hold beagn to fill, proving that the vessel was doomed. The engine room quickly filled, driving the firemen and enigneers out. The captain saw that there was no chance to save the vessel, and as the only means of saving the lives of the passengers and crew, drove the steamer on the rocks again.

When the six survivors who have arrived at Cape Beale left the Valencia she was lying head on to the sea and about thirty yards from the high bluff on shore. with the water over her main deck.

What were left of her passengers, many of whom had been drowned, were huddled on the saloon deck.

Seven boats and two life rafts were lowered and only two of them have been heard from.

The steamer Queen, which arrived here at 4:30 p. m. from San Francisco, landed her passengers and left at once for the scene of the wreck. Other boats have also left for the scene, to render assistance, if possible.

The Valencia was one of the best known boats on the Pacific coast. She first came into prominence in 1898, when she was bought by the Pacific Steam Whaling Company and brought to this coast from the East. The vessel was placed on the run to the Copper river country in Alaska during the season of 1898. At that time Capt. Omar J. Humphrey, now connected with the Alaska Commercial Company, was her master. The vessel was used to handle the rush to that section. After making several trips north the steamer was chartered by the government for the transport service and carried troops to Manila until 1900, when she was placed on the Nome run by the whaling company.

Next year she was sold to the Pacific Packing and Navigation Company, and after a few trips north was bought by the present owners, the Pacific Coast Steamship Company. Since then the vessel has been used on the run from Seattle to San Francicso, with the exception of a short time last summer, when she was placed on the Nome run to help handle the business. On her last trip north the vessel went ashore near St. Michaels and had a narrow escape from being a total loss.

The Valencia was built by the Cramps, in Philadelphia, in 1892, and used on the run to the Carribean islands as a fruiter. She is a vessel of 1,598 tons. Her hull is of wood. Her speed is about 13 knots an hour.

THE FRENCH ANSWER

THREE FRENCH WARSHIPS OFF VENEZUELAN COAST.

Delicacy of Situation Increased by Attitude of Castro Toward Mr. Russell, the American Minister—France Adopts Simple Plan for Treatment of Situation.

Washington, Jan. 20—Three French warships are now off the Venezuelan coast, preparing to deliver the answer of France to President Castro's treatment of M. Taigny, the French representative at Caracas, by a naval demonstration in Venezuelan waters. Two additional warships will join them as soon as they can make the trip across the Atlantic.

Until the demonstration has been initiated the French government will share with the president and Secretary Root the knowledge of the exact form which this expression of her displeasure at President Castro's action will take.

Meantime the delicacy of the situation at Caracas is greatly increased by news which has recently reached here from Caracas, regarding the attitude President Castro now appears to be assuming toward Mr. Russell, the American minister. Unless this attitude is radically modified it may be necessary to dispatch an American warship even nearer the Venezuelan coast than has already been planned.

President Castro, it is said, will be given to understand that any treatment of an American representative such as that accorded M. Taigny will not be tolerated.

Action Toward Mr. Russell.

The only cause which can be ascribed here for Castro's action toward Mr. Russell is that the former insists on regarding as personal rather than official the efforts which Mr. Russell has made to assist in a peaceful settlement of the Franco-Venezuelan troubles.

The request of the French government that its interests in Venezuela be looked after by Mr. Russell was immediately granted for the reason that such a request is invariably granted by a friendly nation, however difficult the task. France has adopted a simple plan for her treatment of the Venezuelan situation. It provides for an immediate apology by Castro for this treatment of M. Taigny, which treatment the affairs officials regard as insulting and intolerable. Until this apology is made discussion of the claims and other grievances which France has against Venezuela will be withheld. The French government regards the action of President Castro agents in La Guaira in refusing to permit M. Taigny to return to shore after he had boarded a French liner, as an act of war. France demands tha her representative shall receive the same treatment at Caracas as is given the Venezuelan representative in Paris.

M. Jusserand, the French ambassador, had a long conference with Secretary Root during the day.

One dispatch sent to Mr. Russell last Sunday had not been delivered up to the time the last dispatch was sent by him to the state department. This is being inquired into by the department American Consul Moffat, at La Guaira, has cabled to the state department in reference to the deportation of M. Taigny, the French charge at Caracas, that there has never before been any interference with foreign officials boarding ships of their own nationality.

In his cablegram the consul says great alarm exists at La Guaira; that M . Taigny was carried away on the Martinique on Sunday night, and that no communication was allowed with the ship previous to his sailing.

INDIAN BILL PASSED.

Payment of Big Attorneys' Fees Out of Chickasaw Fund Criticised.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 22.—After paying a tribute to the frigate Constitution and ordering an investigation in order to ascertain the annual amount necessary to preserve the ship, the house devoted Friday to the perfection and passage of a bill providing for the final disposition of the affairs of the five civilized tribes in the Indian Territory. With one or two minor amendments, the bill was passed subsequently substantially as it came from the committee. The bill provides for concluding the enrollment of Indians of the tribes and the allotment of lands to them. The enrollment and allotment is made the subject of many restrictions and provisions.

During the discussion of the bill, tne $750,000 attorneys' fees paid out of the funds of the Chickasaw nation to Attorneys Mansfield, McMurray and Cornish was characterized by Mr. Mann of Illinois as highway robbery.

Mr. Lacey of Iowa explained the payment of this feee, which he agrees was excessive. It was paid as a contingent fee on a contract with the attorneys to purge the allotment rolls of the tribe from fraudulent enrollment.

GREAT CLASS WAR PREDICTED BY RIIS

Toledo, O., Jan. 22.—War between special privileged interests on one side and the people on the other is predicted by Jacob Riis, a close friend of the president, who is in this city today.

This war, Riis says, may last three, five and even ten years, before the people are victorious. It will wipe out parthisanship in parties, the first indication of which, he says, will be seen at the congressional elections to be held in 1907.

"But suppose the fight isn't finished when Roosevelt's term is finished in 1908?" he was asked.

"If duty demands of Roosevelt to continue this fight he would do it. I know he does not want to become a candidate for another term, but at the bottom of his heart he believes in the people and will fight for them.

"We have had three great struggles in this country," said Mr. Riis. "The first was led by Washington; the second by Lincoln. The third—oh, this is the greatest struggle of them all. It is the fight against the money powers, the organized special privilege grabbers, and Roosevelt will lead the people to victory in this struggle. He is fighting the greatest tyrant of them all. Slavery affected only the South. but the money power means the enslavement of all human beings and all homes. The product of human hands is controlled by this power, and this means slavery for the entire human race.

"When it comes to a question of righteousness and uprightness, you know where the president stands." This was said apropos of a suggestion that party lines would be wipel out in this fight."

"Outwardly party lines will be maintained, but it would not surprise me to seee partisanship disregarded entirely," replied Riis.

WASHINGTON OATS ARE BEST BY OFFICIAL TEST

Wsahington, Jan. 22.—The scientific test of oats raised in California, Washington and Minnesota, which was made by the agricultural department at the instance of the quartermaster general of the army, upon a protest from St. Paul bidders for Philippine forage contracts, has shown the decisive superiority of the Washington product. The samples from Washington proved to be much better than the best of the samples from Minnesota and California.

FOOTBALL EDICT

"BIG NINE" WESTERN COLLEGES REACH DECISION.

Professionalism in the College Game Appears to be Boomed—Rules of Game to be Revised, Hired Coaches Barred, Players Must Study or Leave Team.

Chicago, Jan. 22.—College football was dealt a staggering blow by the representatives of the faculties of the "big nine" Western colleges, who, at the conclusion of a two days conference, recommended many changes in the conduct of football and other sports. The aim of the professors, apparently, is to curb as far as possible all tendencies toward professionalism in the different universities, and the various recommendations announced after the meeting adjourned have this idea uppermost.

It was recommended that the game of football as played at present be abolished as an intercollegiate sport in the conference colleges; that the American football rules committee make such modifications of the playing rules as will free the game from brutality and unnecessary danger; that in the event such alterations are not sufficient the conference will delegate a committee to draw up rules of its own, and that, if a satisfactory game can be thus established, the recommendations of this conference shall apply to its conduct and management.

No Study, No Football.

The money end of football was strongly condemned in a set of resolutions, and in the future the faculty will have charge of the gate receipts. One of the new rules compels the football player to have as many recitations during the football season as at any other time of the year, and at the end of the school year he must be able to show a clean record to be eligible for the team during the next playing season. Any man who has received his bachelor degree or other academic degree will not be eligible to play on a football team, no matter by what institution that degree has been conferred.

In the future the coach of any team belonging to the "big nine" colleges must be a member of the faculty. The purely professional paid coach is not to be employed. Among other recommendations were the following.:

Only Five Games a Season.

The number of intercolleigate games played by each university team shall be limited to five.

The admission to all athletic meets shall be limited to 50 cents for students.

No training table shall be maintained for the athletes.

That no one shall play for more than three years in the aggregate in any intercollegiaet sport, and that this participation shall be confined to undergraduates.

That no team consisting in whole or in part of college students shall play with high schools, academies or independent professional schools.

That it is recommended to the college conference that its rule which allows the first three games of the season to be uncounted in participation be eliminated.

That freshmen teams and second elevens shall play only with teams from their own institutions.

GIRL LABOR UNDER LIGHT.

Investigation of Conditions to Be Made by Congress.

Washington, Jan. 24.—Congress may decide to have the bureau of labor conduct an exhaustive investigation into the conditions surrounding girl labor in the United States. The president urged in his message that some action be taken. Miss Jane Addams, head of the Hull Settlement, of Chicago, and Miss McDowell, connected with the Chicago University settlement, have been conferring with members of conrgess for some days, and are very much gratified over the progress they are making.

The women have a bill carrying an appropriation of $200,000 for the work. It is unlikely that congress will go as far as this. What has been advised by the congressional leaders is that an appropriation be made to bring out a good knowledge of conditions. It is quite likely Secretary Metcalf will recommend a limited appropriation.

Against Phillipine Bill.

Washington, Jan. 22.—The senate committee on the Philippines, according to a canvass just made, is against the Philippine tariff bill recently passed by the house. Four Republicans and three Democrats were opposed to the bill, only five senators supporting it. Unless the attitude of the committee changes, the bill will probably be defeated, largely because of the opposition of the beet sugar men.

Odessa Is Terror-Stricken.

Odessa, Jan. 22.—The populace has been terror-stricken by an order issued by the governor general that all the pupils of the high schools must resume their studies January 25, and that the penalty for disobedience or incitement to disobedience will be exile to Siberia.

Saturday Reading Club

A social session of the Reading Club was held at the pleasant home of Mrs. McClinton on last Saturday afternoon. A musical and literary program was given which proved very enjoyable and entertaining. The refreshments were pronounced most excellent, and the "after dinner speeches" by each one present caused a great deal of laughter and good cheer. The pleasant afternoon closed with the singing of old familiar airs by the entire company and so absorbod did they become in this happy diversion, it was really necessary to sing Home, Sweet Home just as a reminder that that there was such a place and that the hour was growing late. All declared they had spent a most delightful afternoon and hoped they might have many more such happy gatherings. The program committee consisted of Mesdames McClinton, Delabarre, Ware and Webster. Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

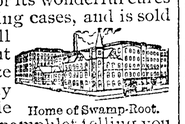
It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.



Home of Swamp-Root.

Now is the time to order your trees and plants. I have them in the choicest varieties; large stock to select from. A fine lot of extra early seed potatoes for sale. Call and see me or address,
