HALLAHAN GAINS DESIRED POINT

Fifteen Consecutive Miles to Be Graded East of Morse Creek This Year.

At the council meeting Tuesday report from the committee of the whole, recommending the passage of railroad wharf franchises was read. Franchises were read second and third times and passed, all members present voting in the affirmative.

Councilman Hallahan, who, as we stated last week, stood out for more favorable terms for the city, had investigated the matter and become convinced it was impossible for Mr. Carrigan to concede the desired points. In order to obtain Mr. Hallahan's vote, making it unanimous, Mr. Carrigan consented to a change in the franchise as accepted by committee of the whole, so that fifteen consecutive miles grading east of Morse Creek will be done this year.

Complaint was made by several residents of Tumwater Hill of the "disgraceful conduct of drunken boys from 16 to 18 years of age," at a dance, and afterward in breaking with whiskey bottles, windows in a private residence; referred to Marshal.

Councilman Bown was instructed to investigate the question of lights for Tumwater Hill more fully and report to council.

The Boosters Club, through Mr. Caldwell, agreeing to stand portion of expense of labor incurred in putting up street signs, in addition to furnishing material and stencils, the council voted employment of labor to extent of $10.

Ordered that ex-clerk Smith be notified to have his annual report corrected and presented at next meeting of council.

Ordered that Lineman Church collect from delinquent light consumers, or shut off lights.

Clerk was ordered not to issue license for shows in the Morse building until the doors were arranged to open outward, and Marshal had reported building in safe condition for such purpose.

Bills allowed: J. D. Sanford, lt. pole, $1.50; Gutenberg Bros., mdse., $10.30; D. O'Brien, wood, $69.75; Dell and Alex Church, work on light line, $31.05; Lowman & Hanford, session laws, $2.50; Pioneer Printing Co., city accounts, $16.50.

Odd Fellows Entertained.

The Rebekahs kept open house Wednesday evening for their brother Odd Fellows, their wives and sweethearts. The lodge room was tastefully decorated with the lodge colors. There was a short program, after which a number of valentines, both sentimental and comic, were distributed to different parties from the post office, but no one took offense, but, rather, enjoyed the diversion. The most amusing feature was the art gallery, which caused no end of merriment. Cards were played, and after a delicious lunch, dancing was indulged in till a late hour. All went home satisfied it was the best of the season.

Seattle Times Says Indianapolis Will Be Re-Named.

The Indianapolis, on her voyage around the Horn from Chicago and New York to the Pacific, reached our harbor about midnight Friday last. A number of our citizens were at the wharf to greet her officers. General Manager Peabody of the Alaska Steamship Co., and Capts. Horn and Robbins came down from Seattle to meet her. She left here for Seattle about nine o'clock Saturday morning. C. J. Farmer, F. A. Jensen, C. H. Hirsch, P. B. Grubb, Ed Graves and John Trumball were guests of the officers of the vessel to Port Townsend and Seattle, Judge Hatch joining the party from Townsend

The Indianapolis made the trip from New York in from seven to ten days quicker time than any vessel of her size brought to the Pacific.

The Indianapolis is the most roomy and comfortable steamer on the sound. Being a daylight boat with few staterooms, she would have to be rebuilt for the Alaskan traffic, hence much speculation has been indulged in regarding the intention of her owners. Mr. Peabody will make no statements for publication. The Seattle-Tacoma field is well occupied, which leaves but three logical runs for the sound—either to Port Angeles, Victoria, or Bellingham, with the chances in favor of the former. One report states she will go on the Townsend-Angeles run early in March, and this seems quite likely as she is to be re-named the Crescent. It would be possible for her to make a daily round trip including Victoria in the summer, tho this is not likely as the Whatcom goes back on that run Sunday.

County Land Sale

Treasurer Burnside's auction sale of county real estate came off on Tuesday, as advertised. There were fully forty persons present when the sale opened, and the number increased largely as the sale progressed. The sale was held in the court room; the bidding was quite spirited, and good prices prevailed. D. A. Christopher, Mrs. Susan M. Morse and E. A. FitzHenry were the largest and best bidders for acreage, Mr. Christopher taking everything offered within three miles of the city. In the afternoon the bidding was still more animated, and prices on town lots went soring. The Congregational church society bid in a lot within two blocks of the church for parsonage purposes, paying $164 therefor. The sale brought a grand total of $2,535.-25. Clallam county dirt is looking up.

The Womans Relief Corps celebrated the 16th anniversary of the organization at Masonic hall Thursday evening of last week. A half hundred old soldiers and their wives and daughters were in attendance, enjoying a fine program of music and recitations, many of which were appropriate to Lincoln's birthday. Dinner was served.

PARLIAMENTARY CLUB "AT HOME"

Seventy-five Guests and Members Spend an Enjoyable Afternoon.

In response to invitations sent out last week by the Parliamentary Club, about seventy-five ladies gathered together in Hanning Hall Wednesday afternoon and spent a most enjoyable session with these congenial ladies.

The invitations requested each lady to come wearing something to represent an author's name, and an hour or more was spent in seeing who could guess the most of these representations, some of which were very good indeed. Mrs. Hatch was awarded the first prize—a very beautiful valentine. After the contest the following program was given and very much enjoyed:

Piano Solo—"Fete Champenoize," Mrs. C.P. Brown, who graciounly responded to a hearty encore.

Recitation—"Five," Mrs. Hickok.

Vocal Solo—"O, Happy Day," Mrs. E. E. Day; Mrs. Day also very pleasingly responded to an encore.

Reading —"A Welsh Classic," Mrs. Lovejoy.

Daintily spread tables were then scattered about the hall and the guests were treated to most delicious ice cream and cake, while they merrily visited and chatted with each other, all declaring they were indebted to the Parliamentary ladies for a most delightful afternoon.

Plays the Baby Act.

We had occasion in our last issue to review the special edition of the T.-T. and to some extent criticise it. We had heretofore thought that no man was so good that he was above criticism, or any work so perfect that it could not be improved upon. We commended the special edition in some particulars; we condemned it in others. We do not think that because a man is willing to pay for a writeup, that that makes him a leading citizen. We do not think the saloon business is the principal dustry of this county or city and we said so.

If there is any reason for a special edition of a newspaper, aside from a matter of graft, it is to advertise the advantages of a community to those who are not acquainted with the surroundings and resources. It occurred to us among other things that the special edition misrepresented and libeled this community, and we said so, with the result that the editor of the T.-T. delivers himself of a very foolish and childish screed.

There is a period when the child calls other little boys names such as our contemporary indulges in; we have long since passed that stage and we will not go backward. As St. Paul says, "when I became a man I put away childish things."

There is a class of persons, familiar to the police of every city, who rush to the station in great excitement and with staring eyes declare to the officer that some one is following them to rob or kill them, or they think they hear people talking about and slandering them, and they ask for protection. The fact is, it is all a delusion; they are the victims of paresis and need a doctor's care. Let us advise our contemporary to get rid of his fixed ideas and delusions about "sour grapes," "chinamen," and such, and as the Philistine says, "do your work as well as you can, and be kind;" otherwise Nemesis in the shape of paresis waits for you around the corner.

Madison Mill Burned.

Madison & Sons shingle mill, near the Westphal Co. Home, burned Saturday night about twelve o'clock. The mill building being a temporary affair, so built because of the intention to cut but a short time in that locality, the machinery was not damaged to any great extent and can be repaired at a cost of about $300. They have been cutting about thirty thousand and were making fair wages and profit, so will rebuild, possibly in another locality, and be ready for business in about six weeks.

James M. Epperson, brother of B. C. Epperson and grandfather of Lee Boyd, Mrs. Rube Martin and Mrs. Mike Vitel of this city, died at the home of his daughter at Lind, Wash., Saturday, Feb. 10th. Mr. Epperson came to this state from Iowa four years ago, living here two years, and leaving again last year for the Soldiers Home. After his wife recovered her health, both went to make their home with Mrs. Boyd at Lind.

Prune Your Trees Now !

If you haven't the time to do it yourself, or don't know just how to go at it, I should be pleased to do it for you. I know how to prune trees JUST RIGHT, and will not mutilate and disfigure your orchard, but on the contrary will make good trees out of some of your old cripples.

If you want roses trimmed I will promise to leave them as if a Kansas cyclone had gone through them, but you need not settle with me for that kind of work, either with a rolling-pin or otherwise, until the daffodils bloom in the springtime and the roses will have recovered from the terrible shock and show evidence in my favor.

Spraying will be in order next month sometime. I shall be prepared with a good big outfit to do the work properly, and if you have any poor, worthless fruit trees that you want grafted to better fruit, I can do it for you. I am now cutting my scions (or slips) from some of the best bearing trees I can find in city and country, and shall get some new varieties from Pullman and other places to try.

Can furnish fine strawberry plants from $3 50 to $5.00 per 1,000. Clark's Seedling, Hood River, Sharpless, Marshall, and others. $2.00 extra per 1,000 set and a full stand guaranteed first season; dead and sick plants replaced and planted free of charge.

Leave word at the Port Angeles Grocery or at Seevers' store and I'll call and see what you want.

Itch--Ringworm.

E. T. Lucas, Wingo, Ky., writes, April 25, 1902: "For 10 to 12 years I had been afflicted with a malady known as the 'itch.' The itching was most unbearable; I had tried for years to find relief, having tried all remidies I could hear of, besides a number of doctors. I wish to state that one single application of Ballard's Snow Liniment cured me completely and permantly Since then I have used the liniment on two separate occasions for ringworm and it cured completely. 25c, 50c, $1.00.

Atlas Engines

Many prospective purchasers of engines and boilers are under the impression that because the Atlas Throttling Engine is of such high grade, and because it is fitted with a balance valve and a main bearing, such as only Corliss engines of other makes contain, it is necessarily of such price that it is quite out of their reach. This is not true. An Atlas engine is no higher in price than any other engine, except, perhaps, one that is made entirely in a foundry.

For your information, therefore, we give for the present an approximate price upon a 12x16 Throttling Atlas Engine, range 43 to 60 Horse Power of $350.00

This includes engine complete with band wheel, governor, throttle valve, and all regular trimmings and represents the price delivered f. o. b. cars factory, or, if in stock at our Agencies at any of the following points.

RHEUMATISM

CAN NOT BE RUBBED AWAY

When the joints are sore and swollen, and the muscles throbbing with the pain of Rheumatism, relief must be had at once, and it is natural to rub the affected parts with liniments, oils, etc. This treatment does good in a way, by temporarily relieving the pain and reducing the inflammation, but has no effect on the disease itself, because Rheumatism is more than skin deep; it is in the blood and cannot be rubbed away. Rheumatism is brought on by indigestion, weak kidneys, poor bowel action, stomach troubles and a general sluggish condition of the system. The refuse and waste matters, which should be carried off through the natural avenues of bodily waste, are left to sour and form uric acid and other irritating poisons which are absorbed by the blood, making it thin, weak and acrid. Then instead of nourishing the different nerves, muscles, joints and tissues it fills them with poison to produce the aches, pains and other disagreeable symptoms of the disease. Rheumatism is usually worse in Winter for the reason that cold and dampness are exciting causes. The nerves become excited and sting with pain, the muscles are sore and drawn, the joints swollen and stiff and the sufferer lives in intense agony; and if the disease is not checked it often leaves its victims helpless cripples for life. Rheumatism cannot be rubbed away but it can be driven from the blood by S. S. S. Being a perfect blood purifier this great remedy soon produces a complete change in the entire circulation; the thin, acrid blood is made pure and rich, and as it goes through the body nourishes and soothes the irritated nerves, eases the throbbing muscles, and dissolves and carries out of the system the irritating particles in the joints which are keeping up the pain and inflammation. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism permanently, and in addition tones up the digestion and stimulates the different members of the body to their full duty so there is no cause for another attack. Do not waste time trying to rub Rheumatism away, but get it out of the blood with S. S. S. so that the cold and dampness of Winter will not keep you in continual pain and agony. Special book on Rheumatism and any medical advice will be given free.

While at work for the F. C. & P. R. R. in the swampy region, I contracted Rheumatism and was completely helpless for about four months and spent over $150.00 with doctors, but got worse every day, and finally quit them and began S. S. S. I took a few bottles and was cured sound and well. My health is now splendid, and I weigh 175 pounds. There is a lady living near me who is now taking S. S. S. for acute Rheumatism. For two months she could not turn herself in bed, but since beginning your medicine about three weeks ago has improved rapidly, and is now able to sit up. I can recommend S. S. S. to all suffering from Rheumatism.

Ulah, N. C. S. C. LASSITER.

I was severely troubled with Rheumatism. I had it in my knees, legs and ankles, and any one who has ever had Rheumatism knows how excruciating the pain is and how it interferes with one at work. I was truly in bad shape having been bothered with it for ten years, off and on. A local physician advised me to use S. S. S. I did so. After taking two bottles I noticed the soreness and pain were greatly reduced. I continued the medicine and was thoroughly cured; all pain, soreness and inflammation gone. I recommend S. S. S. to all Rheumatic sufferers.

PURELY VEGETABLE.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA

The struggle to get away from poverty has been a great man developer. Had every human being been born with a silver spoon in his mouth—had there been no necessity put upon him to work—the race would still be in its infancy. Civilization owes more to the perpetual struggle of man to get away from poverty than to anything else. It is not poverty itself, but the effort to get away from it, that makes the man. We are so constituted that we make our greatest efforts and do our best work while struggling to attain that which the heart longs for. Power is the result of force overcome. The giant is made strong in wrestling with difficulties. It is impossible for one who does not have to struggle and to fight obstacles to develop fiber or stamina. "To live without trial is to die but half a man."

Esperanto, the artificial "universal language," has a new following in this country, owing to the interest in this very modern tongue of Prof. Wilhelm Ostwald, the German chemist who is lecturing at Harvard. An Esperanto club has been formed, and any day one may hear amid the babble of the old savage tongues in the college yard sentences that sound like this: "Piedpilko ne estas la sole interesa afero en Harvard." This high sentiment translated into English means, "Football is not the only interesting thing at Harvard." Esperanto can be learned, they say, in a few hours. Newspapers are printed in it. Classics have been translated into it. Professor Ostwald is not the only scientist to take it seriously, for Sir William Ramsay believes that "Esperanto has come to stay," nor is Esperanto the only universal language that has not become universal. Where now is Volapuk?

She—How beautifully Miss Heavyweight dances! She doesn't seem to touch the floor sometimes! He (whose feet are still suffering from the last polka with her)—She doesn't!—Punch.

This is a world of beauty not to them who have money to pluck and wear its roses, but to them who have souls sensitized to the sweet odors. With love of the beautiful in man and in nature no one can be rich. Happiness is carried not in the pocket, but in the heart. The millionaire may make his thousand-acre park in the rich valley and by a fiction of the law call it his own; but it all is the front yard of the poorest squatter in the rudest cabin on the rugged hillside. The one who has paid for it owns it? No! It is most truly possessed by the one who most enjoys it. What can a beautiful park mean to a man whose heart is smothered in a money bag? And to one who loves the trees, the brooks, the hills, the sky, what matters it who holds the title? Why, Adam and Eve never had a deed to Eden. Descendants of theirs to-day hold deeds, but not possession. It was not the land itself which was taken away, but the power to enjoy it. What we love is ours—and nothing more. We can really possess nothing that we sacrifice to our own selfish purposes. It is only to the man who is poor that wealth glows like a bright star in the night. The law of recompense always is in force. It is only when darkness shrouds our world that we can see the light of a million others. Scientists tell us that if we could approach a star its glow and glamour would vanish and the star itself dissipate into dust. Did we not learn in babyhood that the bubble is brilliant only until we grasp it? The gems in the fine lady's hair and at her throat sparkle not for her eyes, but for the eyes of others. She owns only some stones, never the light that dances in them. This priceless treasure is only for them who love it, and for them it is scattered broadcast at their very feet in countless myriads of frost flakes on the brown winter earth and in the morning dewdrops in the summer grass. Yes; what we love is ours, and in the same degree as we love we own. All that is good in the world we may own, if we will.

WHAT JOY THEY BRING TO EVERY HOME

as with joyous hearts and smiling faces they romp and play—when in health—and how conducive to health the games in which they indulge, the outdoor life they enjoy, the cleanly, regular habits they should be taught to form and the wholesome diet of which they should partake. How tenderly their health should be preserved, not by constant medication, but by careful avoidance of every medicine of an injurious or objectionable nature and if at any time a remedial agent is required, to assist nature, only those of known excellence should be used; remedies which are pure and wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, like the pleasant laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. Syrup of Figs has come into general favor in many millions of well informed families, whose estimate of its quality and excellence is based upon personal knowledge and use.

Syrup of Figs has also met with the approval of physicians generally, because they know it is wholesome, simple and gentle in its action. We inform all reputable physicians as to the medicinal principles of Syrup of Figs, obtained, by an original method, from certain plants known to them to act most beneficially and presented in an agreeable syrup in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to promote the pleasant taste; therefore it is not a secret remedy and hence we are free to refer to all well informed physicians, who do not approve of patent medicines and never favor indiscriminate self-medication.

Please to remember and teach your children also that the genuine Syrup of Figs always has the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package and that it is for sale in bottles of one size only. If any dealer offers any other than the regular Fifty cent size, or having printed thereon the name of any other company, do not accept it. If you fail to get the genuine you will not get its beneficial effects. Every family should always have a bottle on hand, as it is equally beneficial for the parents and the children, whenever a laxative remedy is required.

SEGUIN NOTES.

It seems that the chances of our having a graded school and later a high school, are very small. Several parties have worked against a consolidation of the districts, we believe, through a mistaken idea as to taxes. Each district is now up to the limit of ten mills, so it could not be any higher, and instead of their children getting four or five months schooling, they would receive nine months, and get a ride to and from school. Of course the argument for a high school is in favor of the more advanced scholars. The smaller ones can get along very well at present, but they, too, will grow up and want a good education, and how nice it would be if we could give them that advantage right at home. And it would be a fine inducement to parties looking for a future home. We hope that the public will give this question very serious thought.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Common Colds are the Cause of Many Serious Diseases.

Physicians who have gained a National reputation as analysts of the cause of various diseases, claim that if catching cold could be avoided a long list of dangerous ailments would never be heard of. Every one knows that pneumonia and consumption originate from a cold, and chronic catarrh, bronchitis, and all throat and lung trouble are aggreviated and rendered more serious by each fresh attack. Do not risk your life or take chances when you have a cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure it before the seed diseases develop. This remedy contains no opium, morphine or other harmful drug and has thirty years of reputation back of it, gained by its cures under every condition. All druggists.

CLALLAM BAY

From the Record.

Earl Wilson of Forks, was in town on Wednesday and reported that he and James Clark had a narrow escape from being drowned in the Quillayute river. While out in a canoe they capsized and clung to the bottom of the canoe until they floated down stream for over a mile before they were able to get ashore.

Tony Fernanez, of Pysht, shot one of the largest cougars that has ever been seen in these woods. Bill Crawford claims that it measured eighteen feet from the point of its nose to the tip of its tail when it was stretched out, and the paws were as large as a man's hat.

A. Falls rvice & Co., are shooing logs in the Clallam river from the high bluff just west of town. They come down with such force that causes a spray to be thrown a hundred feet in the air.

Proceedings Board of Commissioners

Thursday, the 15th day of February, 1906, at 1:00 p. m. The Board met pursuant to adjournment, all members being present.

It appearing to the Board that Block 8, McGill's Addition, had been vacated on July 6, 1904, and it further appearing that said Block 8 had been assessed as lots for the year 1905, the Board hereby orders the County Treasurer to cancel the taxes assessed against Block 8, McGill's Addition, and extend and collect taxes against said Block 8, assessed as acreage.

The matter of the hearing of Road No. 58, Frank Lotzgesell et al, came on, and all the waivers of claims for damages not being filed the Board continued the hearing to Monday, the 5th day of March, 1906, at 2:00 p. m.

On application of the Sheriff, he was instructed to appoint a night jailor.

The matter of the hearing of the appeal of School District No. 36 from the decision of School Superintendent H. E. Risley came on for hearing after due notice of the time and place of hearing had been given to all parties as required by law.

H. L. Heath, Clerk of School Dist. No. 36, appeared on behalf of said district and Dr. McGeorge appeared on behalf of School District No. 3.

The Board heard the evidence and arguments of the parties.

The Board adjudges that the consolidation of said districts is against the wishes of a majority of the patrons of School District No. 36 and not for the best interest of the children of said district by reason of the great distance to the school house in Dist. No, 3, and the action of said Superintendent H. E. Risley on Dec. 23rd, 1905, consolidating said districts is vacated and set aside; and the districts maintain their separate organizations as heretofore, and that the Auditor be authorized to notify Superintendent H. E. Risley, the Clerk of each district and the County Treasurer of said action of the Board.

By virtue of Judgments of the Superior Court of Clallam County duly rendered upon verdicts returned into Court assessing damages for the taking of lands for public highways, against Clallam County, and in favor of the parties as follows:

Peter Nilson and Mrs. Peter Nilson	$78.75
David Eltrich and Mrs. David Eltrich	63.58
C. E. Russell and Mrs. C. E. Russell	30 80
M. S. Frick and Mrs. M. S. Frick	22.00
O. W. Smith	1.00
A. Y. Fernandes and Mrs A. Y. Fernandes	50.00
Manuel Almaden and Mrs. Manuel Almaden	12.00

The County Auditor is instructed to draw warrants on the Current Expense Fund in favor of himself, and cash the same, and deposit the cash with the Clerk of the Superior Court in payment of said respective judgments, upon their receipt to said Clerk in full satisfaction of said judgment.

The Board adjourned to meet Monday, the 5th day of March, 1906, at 9:00 a. m.

I wish to state that one single application of Ballard's Snow Liniment cured me completely and permantly. "WE AIM TO PLEASE"

A Stone Quarry Party

On last Saturday afternoon we had the pleasure of a delightful trip to the stone quarry. The party consisted of the following:

Helen Hopkins	Pearl Stakemiller
Carrie Mock	Alta McDonald
Jolliett Glen	Lorena Fulmer
Hazel Hopkins	Paul Barnett
Juanita Glen	Gertrude Willson
Ruth Fulmer	Frank Baxter
Willie Barnett	Irene McDonald
June Stakemiller	Eunice Stakemiller
Ruth Barnett	Geo. F. Graham

Manager Barnett put a special excursion train at our disposal, two o'clock was the hour. We were at the depot a little early and played "Thumbs up" until the train came which arrived on schedule time and we were soon aboard; train was crowded and our party rode on the engine; our car had no roof over it and we were sorry, for the engine, just like some men, would not quit smoking even in the presence of ladies. It was a novel trip; we sat on cord wood, upholstered with newspapers. There was no regular conductor, and no tickets nor cash was handed in, yet we never did see such a "collecting of fair" on a railroad engine before.

Well, we were soon at the quarry, and what a wonder it was to us. Mgr. Barnett, though busy, took great pains to entertain and instruct the party. One feature which astonished us was the lifting machinery. Two great derricks which he has installed, and while of ponderous proportions, are so exact that one man operates them with impunity. The engines, saws, drills, machine shop, lighting plant and all were duly stared at and questions promptly asked by members of the party. We took it all in, climbed the hills, wrote our names on the rocks, put our fingers on the hot steam pipes, took them off again, and hoped nobody was looking, and had a general good time until the whistle blew when we boarded the engine and were off for home, tired, happy, and convinced that the stone quarry is one of the great features of the leading industries of Port Angeles. Washington Tea

The Washington tea given by the ladies of the Episcopal Guild at the home of Mrs. Herbert Babcock on Thursday afternoon was a very delightful affair. A large number of ladies called during the afternoon to pay their respects to Martha Washington and drink her health in a cup of tea. She was most charmingly impersonated by Mrs. Payne, whose lovely lace gown over white satin was the admiration of all the ladies. The lace was left Mrs. Payne in a will by a relative in England and is considered an heirloom in the family. Several vocal as well as instrumental selections were given during the afternoon, and a feeling of patriotism was inspired by the tasteful decorations of the rooms in red, white and blue. The ladies cleared about $7.00.

WOMEN AND FASHION

Growing Old.

Old, do you say? What is it to be old?
What metes and bounds define our life's freehold?
When shall we slacken pace or reef the sail?
Not while the strength is ours to breast the gale,
Not till our limbs shall totter on the brink
Of the grave's gulf, where soon enough we sink.
A temperate youth to age shall sweetly glide,
And faith and courage waft us down the tide.
The soul that's wedded unto love and truth
Shall live and flourish in immortal youth.
—J. A. Torrey.

Fur Evening Coat.

Among the smart set in Paris many women are appearing in sealskin coats in the evening. These are made just like a man's coat in straight tailor fashion and are very "chic." They are worn when the dress is rather informal, usually for the theater. Their popularity is due to their comfortable warmth, which is not always found in other evening coats. The price will prevent these garments from becoming in the slightest degree common, but there are plenty of American women who can indulge in this fancy.

A Novel Scheme.

A woman in London has hit upon a novel scheme in establishing a school for training young women in household management and making them proficient in home duties. She advertises for the daughters of professional men, whom she takes into her family circle, and provides, each with a sum approximating $1,200, the average yearly salary of young men of their class and the men they are likely to marry.

With this sum they are expected to cover the living expenses of two persons for a year rent, taxes of all kinds, food, clothing and sundries, and to do it to the best advantage is the aim of every pupil. Weekly price lists are studied carefully and periodical trips to market are insisted upon. The girls are taught to cut and make most of their clothes, to cook toothsome dishes and make home attractive.

Gloves.

The vogue of the Suede glove seems decidedly on the wane, glace being much preferred, though both are worn. For the long evening glove glace is the newest and most elegant.

Pure white gloves are less popular than they have been. Pearl gray, fawn, champagne, "old lace" tints and other slight deviations from pure white are preferred. And this in face of the fact that white furs were never so much worn as at present.

Fashion Notes.

The rage for beads runs merrily on.

Pompadour ribbon garters are pretty.

Every other hat is loaded with plumes.

Handbags of tapestry are among the prettiest seen.

Belt buckles have mounted the front by several inches.

Bows of plaited tulle are again worn under the chin.

The newest veil trails off at the back in loops and bows.

The green hat and the gray gown get along well together.

Coats of caracul fur dyed the color of the gown are a novelty.

A dainty stock of white silk has forget-me-nots painted on it.

Embroider your gold belt in colors if you wish it to be distinctive.

White gloves are going and pale yellows and grays are taking their place.

Bar pins set with red or blue stones are newer than the rhinestone bars.

Elbow sleeves are prevalent on the first frocks shown for spring and summer wear.

A cloak of gold net-lined with ermine is one of the magnificences for the opera.

There is a lovely frock of white cachemire embroidered with colored butterflies.

The most charming little theater head-dresses are made out of gold and silver lace.

The popularity of gray, so marked in every sort of costume, has held chinchilla—which threatened to go out—firmly in favor.

Boleros of fur are wonderfully popular. But for that matter every length coat comes under the head of popularity this winter.

To Frame Photos.

A photograph taken by a good artist in these days is something more than a mere likeness. It has picturesque qualities which make it a thing of beauty as well as a reproduction of a loved one's face. It is a portrait strongly expressing individuality, and an artistic picture. In one. For photographs like this the ordinary ornamental frame is not in the least favored. Instead, they are framed in dull brown woods, without mounts, exactly as reproductions of famous paintings are done. The effect is extremely good, and the portrait itself rather than the frame, is thus given the prominence it ought to have.

About Colors.

Colors, like flowers, have a meaning of their own. White signifies purity, faith, joy and life; red, the ruby, typifies fire, love and royalty; blue, the sapphire, expresses heaven, truth, constancy and fidelity; yellow represents the sun, marriage and faithfulness; green is the color of hope and victory; violet is the hue of passion and suffering; purple and scarlet are for holy things and black is the attendant of despair, earthliness, mourning and death.

She Has Earned Half a Million.

When Flora Davis was 12 years of age she started a little millinery business in Shelbyville, Ind., attending school morning and trimmings hats waiting on customers afternoons. At 19 she was at the head of the largest business in the city. A few years ago she purchased one of the largest blocks in Shelbyville and she was enlarged it twice. To-day she is worth half a million dollars. Recently she was married to Harry Carson, a broker and real estate dealer, who will be her business manager.

Dainty Shirt Waist Design.

This pretty shirt waist can be made with little expense and has the advantage of being exceedingly smart. Simple French flannel is the material used and the trimming is of silk vegetable braid stitched on perfectly flat. The braid outlines a Dutch yoke in which is embroidered a pretty pattern. The fullness of the sleeves stops at the elbows and stitchings of braid outline the cuffs.

The Girl's Den.

To girls who work or who are trying to improve themselves in any way a "den" is a necessity. This is a place where work may be left about without fear of interruption. The mother of the family should consider the "den" as the property of her daughters, and only visit it at their urgent invitation. It is well for the different members of a family to keep some place to themselves; for the mother's boudoir to be a sacred place to which the husband and children feel it an honor to be admitted; for the daughter's room to be a sweet, homely place where the whole family, if the girls wish it, may assemble when the day's work is done.

Health and Beauty Hints.

Pimples are often induced by tight lacing and overeating.

A teaspoonful of table salt in a glassful of cold water, taken immediately on arising, is one of the best known and simplest of remedies for constipation.

A powder that will clean the hair and help to keep it light is made of four ounces of cornstarch, one-quarter of an ounce of powdered orris root and two drops of oil of rhodium. After mixing sift three times, forcing through the lumps.

Lemons are excellent for curing colds or allaying feverishness. Their citric acid supplies the blood with a cooling agent, making this fruit a febrifuge. Oranges act in the same way, but with slightly less strength.

Tomatoes are among the fruits rich in potash, especially good for the blood and with a marked action on digestive operations. They provide alkaline matter for the bile and are wholesome for people who suffer from jaundice or sick headaches.

The Electrified Lamp Chimney.

A very simple but beautiful experiment may be made by any bright boy with a straight lamp-chimney, the kind used with the Argand or the Welsbach gas-light. First, cut a narrow strip of tin-foil and paste it around the chimney, in the middle. Then paste a strip of the same from one end of the chimney to within about half an inch of the band in the middle.

Now take a bristle brush, the kind made to clean lamp-chimneys with, and over its bristles wrap a perfectly dry silk handkerchief. Hold the chimney in your left hand so that your fingers do not touch the tin-foil anywhere, and putting the silk-covered brush into the chimney, rub it briskly back and forth.

This part of the experiment should be made in the dark, and if, while rubbing the chimney, you take the brush out now and then, you will see, every time you do so, a big spark of electricity jump from one piece of tin-foil to the other. In other words, the friction made by the rubbing has turned the lamp-chimney into an electrical machine.

Another pretty experiment may be made with this little device. Wrap a piece of iron or brass wire around the middle band of tin-foil, letting one end hang down five or six inches. To this end attach several strips of cigarette paper in a bunch. Now put the brush into the chimney at the opposite end to that used at first and rub it briskly. The electricity thus generated will go into the strips of paper, and make them stand out from each other as if they were alive and were struggling to get as far apart as possible.

If the paper be cut to form two cats the result will be very amusing.

These experiments are best made in perfectly dry weather, and it is well, also, to warm both chimney and handkerchief at the fire.

Kids.

I wonder why some pas have none,
And others have so many.
It seems the poor pas have the most,
And rich ones haven't any.

The richest man I know in town
Has just one small boy only;
But pa says, Gad! he pities him
In that big house so lonely.

It seems to me 'twould be so nice
If kids all come out even;
And when I asked pa why they don't,
He said, "Be quiet, Stephen."

Then fam'lies all'd have bills like pa,
For us five kids together,
He says, would bust a cattle man,
We wear out so much leather.

But when the circus comes to town
Pa's glad he has so many,
For he has more fun takin us
Than if he hadn't any.

My pa says some day that he'll be
Too old to go on workin',
And then he hopes that none of us
Our duty will be shirkin'.

You bet we won't! We all love pa,
But wouldn't it be funny
To have your father hangin' 'round
And askin' you for money?

I've 'most a quarter in my bank
To buy a bullet moulder,
But now I think I'll save it up
For pa when he gets older.

Crazy Pictures.

"Never mind if it does rain. Mamma always thinks of something extra nice for rainy days," said Harold.

"I have thought of something now," said mamma. "Get some pieces of smooth brown paper for Frankie and little Helen, and some of that pretty green cardboard for Esther and Mabel and you and Leon may use your scrap-books. I will pick out some old magazines, and Leon may get some paste. Esther, you may take the cloth off the dining-table, and spread out some newspapers. I am going to show you how to make crazy pictures."

The children ran to collect the things, and mamma sent Harold for both pairs of scissors and the shears, and Esther for some empty boxes and covers to lay the parts of pictures in.

"Now," said mamma, giving the things round to the different ones as she spoke, "you may cut the brown paper into sheets about six by eight inches; you may cut the cardboard the same size.

"Now all you little ones may cut out the pictures of everything in the advertisement pages that is alive, but don't try to cut them close to the picture; let the older ones do that. Harold may punch the sheets on one end, so they can be tied together to make a book when they are done. You could make a book at first, but if you spoil a page it looks badly to cut it out, so I like sheets best."

Then mamma cut out several pictures quickly, and cut off their heads and arms and legs, putting the heads into one box, the arms into another, the legs into a third, and the bodies into a fourth. Sometimes she left the arms with the body, as it would spoil some of the bodies to have them cut off.

As soon as all the children had pictures enough to cut so there were quite a number in each box, mamma gave a body to each child, and then while one was picking out a pair of legs, another was choosing arms, and another a head. As soon as any one had a picture ready he pasted it on his sheet or book, and a crazy-looking set of pictures they were!

The little children's were the funniest, for sometimes they placed feet where hands should be, and they made the body turn one way and the head another. Sometimes a girl had a dog's head, or a man had the body of a child and the skirts of a woman. One boy drawing a sled had the legs of an ostrich.

They were all surprised when Maggie came to set the table for luncheon. "Let's send these pictures to the Children's Hospital," said Mabel, "and they will make the children there laugh, too."—Youth's Companion.

The Shells Were Easy.

Mildred, who was visiting her grandmother in the country, was asked to bring an egg from the hennery. After several minutes she returned with her apron full of eggs. While yet a distance away the grandmother asked:

"Well, did you break any eggs on the way?"

"No, grandma," was the prompt answer, "but the shells came off a few."

Willie's First Pockets.

Willie is a bright 5-year-old boy, who, in his first trousers, could only thrust his hands through his belt, having no pockets. He had his heart rejoiced at last with a pair of trousers which had real pockets in them. His first act was to come down to a male relative with his hands stuck proudly in these pockets and cry gleefully: "Look, I've got pockets with floors in 'em!"

From the Mouths of Babes.

A little girl came into the house with very dirty hands, and her sister made fun of them. The little culprit raised her blue eyes to her sister's with an expression of grief, and said, reproachfully: "Don't you know mamma said you mustn't talk about any one's ''formities (deformities)?'"

MARRIED THE WRONG MEN.

Two Queer Instances Where Women Wed Their Lovers' Doubles.

A strange case of matrimonial fraud has lately occurred in Vienna. A woman of the lower middle class married a man whom she took to be a Herr Weiss, her fiance, returning after a year's absence in America to make her his wife. In less than a month he robbed her of her savings and then suddenly disappeared.

A month later she received a letter from America regretting that the writer had been too ill to return at the time agreed, but stating that he was about to sail and that immediately on his arrival would fulfill the promise by leading her to the altar. The leter was signed "Hermann Weiss."

The poor woman was thrown into a sad condition of perplexity and apprehension and her worst fears were realized when, on her correspondent's arrival, she recognized that she had been imposed upon by a callous impostor whose resemblance to the real simon pure was marvelously striking. It subsequently transpired that the genuine Hermann Weiss had while in America foregathered with his double, who had ascertained sufficient of the former's history and prospects to enable him to carry out with success his base scheme of deception and heartless robbery.

When Claude Bonnat, a baker of Marseilles, was in hiding from the police, who held a warrant for his arrest on a serious charge, he managed to communicate with an acquaintance, one Leriot, who in every respect was his exact double, and conjured him on the strength of their old friendship to promise that should any misfortune befall him he would, by impersonating him—an easy enough task by reason of the striking resemblance existing between them—keep from the young woman to whom he was engaged the knowledge of her lover's shame. Leriot gave his promise, which sat out lightly on his conscience as one to be kept or broken as whim might direct.

However, when Bonnat a day or two later fell into the hands of justice Leriot sought out the young woman, of whom he had no previous knowledge, with the result that his susceptible heart was so touched that he entered into the fulfillment of his promise with surprising zeal. So well, indeed, did he enact the role of Bonnat that he in a short time espoused the latter's fiance. The couple led a life of complete happiness, which was in nowise dimmed when some years later, on the convict's release, the wife first discovered the fraud of which she had been the victim.—Tit-Bits.

RESTRICTS ROADS

SUPREME COURT HANDS DOWN NEW DECISION.

By Its Terms Railways Cannot Deal in Supplies they Convey—To Allow them to Do So Would Be to Supply Means for Discriminations Which Are Prohibited by Law.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 20.—Justice White yesterday delivered the opinion of the supreme court of the United States in the case of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad against the interstate commerce commission and the interstate commerce commission against the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad, affirming the decision of the United States circuit court for the Western district of Virginia.

The case involves the question of discrimination in freight rates on coal by the Chesapeake & Ohio in favor of the New York, New Haven & Hartford road, as against other shippers. The decision was against the railroad company.

Justice White said that to permit a carrier to become a dealer in the commodities carried by it would be to supply a means for the perpetuation of the evils which the interstate commerce commission is intended to remedy.

The case grew out of complications existing in connection with a contract made between the railroad companies in 1898. The Chesapeake & Ohio road agreed to deliver "2,000,000 tons of bituminous coal to the New Haven between July 1, 1897, and July 1, 1902."

The delivery in the last year fell short 60,000 tons on account of a strike in one of the coal fields. The New Haven road purchased coal elsewhere and presented a bill to the Chesapeake & Ohio company for $103,000, representing the difference in cost.

Instead of paying the money the Chesapeake & Ohio company delivered the 60,000 tons of coal, notwithstanding the price of coal and of transportation had advanced. The case was brought to the attention of the interstate commerce commission and the charge made that the transaction constituted a preference in the matter of freight rates against the New Haven road. The copmany contended that it was acting in the capacity of a vender and not as a carrier, and that it was merely supplying the coal to pay a debt.

Justice White upheld the decision of the court below in declaring that both the contracts made by the Chesapeake & Ohio with the New Haven were contrary to public policy and void because in conflict with the provisions of the act to regulate commerce.

COMPLICATIONS GROW FROM THASOS CESSIONS

London, Feb. 21.—Actions of several of the great powers indicate that Germany is on the point of stealing a march on other European powers by obtaining great industrial concessions and a coaling station on the Aegean sea.

Germany, promising the sultan of Turkey financial and diplomatic support in several stipulated contingencies, has asked for the cession of a coaling station. It is reported that this either has been or is about to be granted. The British government is thoroughly aroused, and Sir Nicholas O'Connor, the British ambassador to Turkey, is using all his power to defeat Germany in this purpose.

Thasos is rich in gold, silver, marble, oil, honey and fruits, but its chief importance is strategic.

Bulgarians claim that Germnay has just secured another 200'mile railway concession in Asia Minor and add that if she can establish a maritime stronghold on Thasos she can well afford to abandon her Moroccan contentions.

The sultan of Turkey, to whom Thasos belongs pontifically, issued an irade last September granting concessions for a number of gold mines on the island to German sbujects. Austria and France immediately protested on the ground that the same mines had already been conceded to Austrian and French subjects.

Great Britain also protested, declaring that the first khedive of Egypt bailed from Thasos and that the island belonged to the jurisdiction of Egypt. Turkey practically ignored England's claim, but agreed to indemnify Austrian and French subjects whose concessions should be seized.

La Follette Cannot Serve.

Washington, Feb. 16.—Senator La Follette has declined the invitation extended by Thomas W. Lawson to become a member of the committee to vote the proxies of a number of policy holders of life insurance companies at their meetings this year. The senator found it impossible to undertake the work because of the pressure of public business.

Lowther Re-elected Speaker.

London, Feb. 15.—James William Lowther has been unanimously re-elected speaker of the house of commons. In accordance with precedent there was no opposition. The swearing in of members will occupy the rest of the week. Nearly 300 of the members are entirely new to parliamentary life as a result of the upheaval caused by the general election.

BOYCOTT ONLY AN INCIDENT

Merely Indicates Intensity of Anti-Foreign Sentiment in China.

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 16.—According to advices by the steamer Pleiades, Chinese vernacular newspapers are daily devoting more and more space to vilifying foreigners, and strong anti-foreign feeling was being shown.

Japanese correspondents at Peking, in noting this, state that anti-Japanese feeling is also growing in China, and considerable feeling is displayed by prominent officials because of the continued influx of Japanese into Manchuria, Mongolia, Shinkiang and Kiangsi within the past few months.

Cantonese literati recently spread a amnifesto that the real menace of Chinese intergity came from Japan, and this, augmented by the reports of the recalcitrant students who have returned to Shanghai from Tokyo, as well as the statemenhts of politicians, wbho detect in Japanesess action in Korea the germs of an extensive aggressive policy, has fanned the anti-Japanese sentiment.

Everywhere the feeling of aggressiveness against the foreigner is being fostered, the boycott being but an incident, and where Russian activity was borne passively before this feeling of Chinese national spirit came into being, China is now deamnding indemnities from Russia for riots which involve Chinese susbjects and for Chinese losses consequent to the war and its effects.

GERMANY READY TO MAKE CONCESSIONS

Berlin, Feb. 19.—The government will go before the reichstag within three or four days with a proposal to give the United States the same treatment under the new tariff, which becomes operative March 1, as that given to countries with whom Germany has arranged reciprocal treaties. The precise terms of the government's bill will depend somewhat on the result of negotiations still continuing at Washington as to modifications in the American system of invoicing and valuing, some features of which are considered by German exporters as vexatious and unjust.

The German government's proposal to give the United States this favored treatment only for a limited period, probably a year, so as to afford time to conclude a more permanent arrangement.

The position of the German government is one of uncommon difficulty because both industrial and agricultural interests have been pouring in memorials and petitions to the chancellor and other ministers urging the government to stand firm and not hand over to the United States for nothing or next to nothing privileges for which other countries have given equal returns in kind. The government therefore faces a reichstag nearly as unfriendly to the tariff concessions as is the United States senate.

ELECTRIC LINE FROM SEATTLE TO VANCOUVER, B. C.

Seattle, Feb. 19.—James A. Moore will, on Monday night, ask the council of the city of Seattle for a franchise for the construction of an electric railway line to be operated partly within the limits of the city.

According to Mr. Moore's statement the road will extend from the center of the city to the center of the city of Vancouver, B. C., and it is the same line for which Col. E. M. Day, of Bellingham, has just asked a franchise from the council of that city.

Mr. Moore states that there is adequate capital back of the project. He also said that the enterprise is in no way connected with any steam railway line, nor is it a revival of the Whatcom-Skagit Interurban project of a year or two ago.

The road is promoted by Mr. Moore and will be operated entirely by electricity. A good grade will be had for the line and the best of steel will be used.

Good Roads Material Free.

Washington, Feb. 15.—It is announced by Samuel Hill that an arrangement has been made with all the railroads for the free transportation of machinery, materials and, so far as state laws will permit, of men, in connection with the proposed construction of specimen roads by the government. Preparations have already been made for building a specimen mile of highway in King county, Wash. The federal road experts will do the work free, furnishing all the necessary machinery.

Much Wheat Burned.

Duluth, Minn., Feb. 19.—One of the warehouses of the Duluth elevator plant of F. H. Peavey & Co., of Minneapolis, was burned to the ground with its contents, consisting of about 1,000,000 bushels of grain, principally wheat, Saturday. The loss on the grain and house is estimated at $1,000,000, and is fully covered by insurance. Fortunately there was no wind blowing towards other improved districts on the waterfront or the loss would have been tremendous.

Work on Culdesac Extension.

Spokane, Feb. 19.—"Actual construction work on the Northern Pacific spur from Culdesac to Grangeville, Idaho, will begin next week. It will take a year to complete the contract." This is the statement made by T. H. Croswell, assistant engineer. The spur will be built under the general supervision of Mr. Croswell.

ROUTE NOT SETTLED

UNION PACIFIC OFFICIALS CONFIRM REPORTS.

Road Will Build to Seattle Within the Coming Year, But Whether from South or East is Not Decided—Canadian Pacific Denies Intentiou to Build at Present.

New York, Feb. 17.—The Canadian Pacific railway again denies any intention to reach Seattle and is satisfied with the Northern Pacific arrangement.

The Union Pacific confirms the statement that it will build a line into Seattle this year and has secured its terminals. The road has not yet given up the line across Washington from near Umatilla, but is making surveys direct north from Portland to Tacoma and Seattle. Decision on the route will follow reports to the executive committee from Mr. Mohler, of the Oregon Short Line.

No one here seems to know the Washington Northern, which is perhaps due to the fact that the whole thing is being handl ed from Portland by the staff of the Oregon Short Line.

This is the first official admission in New York that the Union Pacific will go to Seattle. All financing will be done here, but it is probable that the road into Seattle will be organized as a Washington company.

WITTE OR DURNOVO---CZAR MUST CHOOSE

St. Petersburg, Feb. 19.—Information has reached the Associated Press that the desperate struggle which has been raging in the government between the reactionary and the progressive forces is approaching the culmination and must end within a few days in the resignation either of Minister of the Interior Durnovo, who is leading the movement for thoroughgoing repression, or of Premier Witte and several other members of the cabinet.

The question at issue is the withdrawal of the extraordinary powers confided in governors throughout Russia, which in many cases, it is alleged, have been exercised for the repression of not only political disorders, but also of the political activity of the parties.

The discussion has reached such an acute and passionate stage in the cabinet that no other issue than the fall of one faction or the other is possible.

The chances of victory incline in the side of Count Witte, who sists to that the governors must be deprived of their extreme powers within a fortnight in order to remove the restrictions upon a free electoral campaign.

Minister of Agriculture Kutler has resigned on account of influential opposition to his project fonr expropriation of private lands at a price dependent on actual market values and their distribution on easy terms of payment to peasants whose land hunger is too intense to be satisfied with the promised partition of crown and church lands.

Rumor is busy with other changes to follow the first break in the cabinet of Count Witte. The most persistent story is directed at the premier himself, who, acording to general report is credited with having bluntly informed the emperor that he must choose between himself and Minister of Interior Durnovo.

Battleship Crew Praised.

Washington, Feb. 15.—The state department has received a letter from the United States legation at Tokyo praising the crew of the battleship Wisconsin for their exemplary behavior during their visit to Yokohama. The Wisconsin took part in the celebration of the return of Admiral Togo in Yokohama harbor, and though the men were given full shore leave not a single case of drunkenness or disorderly conduct was reported.

Smelter on Chuckanut Bay.

Seattle, Feb. 19.—The smelter to be constructed on Puget sound by the Copper Lead Smelting Company, a corporation composed of Seattle and Chicago capital, will be located at Chuckanut bay, near Bellingham, and on the line of the Great Northern railway, providing both rail and water shipment.

John A. McCall Dead.

New York, Feb. 19.—John A. McCall, until recently president of the New York Life Insurance Company, died yesterday afternoon at the Laurel house in Lakewood, N. J., where he had been taken three weeks ago in the hope that the change might benefit his health, which suffered a breakdown two months ago.

Balfour Yields to Chamberlain.

London, Feb. 19.—Former Premier Balfour finally has crossed the bridge which Joseph Chamberlain held out for him, and in correspondence which has been published he takes his position practically on Mr. Chamberlain's tariff reform program.

Lambert Trial Postponed.

Spokane, Feb. 15.—The trial of the case against Albert F. Lambert, former cashier of the failed Davenport bank, has been postponed for the rest of the present term by Judge Whitson of the federal court.

CAPITALS MADE TO ORDER.

New Cities to Be Built in Remote Interior of Australia and Brazil.

Ever heard of Dalgety? No? Well, you will soon. In a year or two the name of this city that is to be will be as familiar as is London or Paris or New York. For Dalgety has just been selected as the federal capital of the new Australian commonwealth. To-day it is but a tiny township, 300 miles south of Sydney, on the Snowy River, with a population all told of less than 300 souls. To-morrow it will take rank as one of the world's great cities, the social, legislative and business centers of a country as big as the United States and only about one-fifth smaller than all Europe.

Brazil is about to build for itself a brand new capital, and this, too, must of necessity become one of the cities the world will presently be talking about. Just now, of course, Brazil's capital is Rio de Janeiro. But an article recently incorporated in the constitution decrees that another shall be built on the lofty central plateau. It is to be called Gorgaz, after the name of the state in which it will be situated, and, almost directly under the equator, it will enjoy, owing to its altitude, a delightfully cool and wholesome climate.

Britons, in particular, are likely to hear a good deal in the not distant future of Murghab, the great fortress city which Russia is about to build on the northern frontier of Afghanistan and which will form the southern terminus of the Merv-Murghab railway, now practically completed. Murghab will be within easy striking distance of Herat, the traditional "key of India," and there can be only one reason for building such a city and constructing such a railway.

It is agreed on all hands that where is now Victoria Falls station, on the Cape to Cairo Railway, there will arise in due course the "Chicago of South Africa."

That is to say, the site is designed by nature, as was the site upon which Chicago stands, for a great commercial distributing center via rail, road, river and lake. But this is not all. The mighty waterfall, twice as broad as Niagara and more than twice as high, is able to furnish energy equal to 30,000,000 horse power. It follows, therefore, that the banks of the Zambesi hereabouts are bound to be lined sooner or later with factories and workshops. In other words, the coming metropolis of South Africa will not only be a Chicago, but a Pittsburg, a Manchester and a Sheffield into the bargain.

Farther south, in Mashonaland, there is already rising from the midst of a wilderness of prehistoric ruins another African city of which the world will soon be talking. Its name is doubtful. At present it is known as Havilah. But Ophir has been suggested, and Sheba. The natives call it Zimbahwe.

Three thousand years ago there was a city there which must have rivaled in extent and magnificence the glories of Babylon and Nineveh. And—for there is much gold there—the twentieth century is setting itself, with a stout heart, the task of resuscitating these ancient glories.

To Canadians first, and afterward to educated people the world over, the name of the little village of Moncton, in New Brunswick, will shortly be as familiar as is that of Quebec or Montreal. For it has been selected to be the Atlantic terminus of the great trancontinental railway which the Canadian government is building fron Ontario, through Manitoba and the Northwest Territories, to British Columbia and the far-away Pacific. Also, on the shores of the last named ocean, there will arise in due course an as yet unnamed city, which, as the western terminus of the new line, will presently be a rival to Vancouver, and as well known.—Pearson's Weekly.

"Jerry" Simpson's Spats.

Congressman Joseph Cannon at a dinner recently contributed to the general gaiety with the following reminiscence:

"On a fine day I walked along Pennsylvania avenue, with a companion, and as we proceeded we were laughing. A pair of spats worn by my friend, a statesman famous the length and breadth of the country, was the subject of our talk.

"'I am wearing them on a challenge,' he said. 'If my constituents knew it, I'd certainly lose my seat, and if any journalist sees me I shall have no reputation after to-day. But I have nerve, and I mean to walk down this avenue with these spats, if it is my last act on earth. How do they look?'

"'Very imposing,' I replied; 'but pardon me for laughing. I can't reconcile them with you, any more than you can reconcile them with yourself. You are the last man I should expect to meet wearing spats.'

"Just then a small boy ran up breathlessly and touched my companion on the elbow. 'Hey, mister!' shouted the urchin, 'your socks are down!'

"My companion drew himself u, with pride. 'My lad,' he said with solemnity, 'I am the Hon. Jeremiah Simpson!'"

Diamond Cut Diamond.

"Borem makes me weary. He's always talking about his novels and stories."

"I never had any trouble with him. He called on me last night and only stayed ten minutes."

"Great Scott! What did you do to him?"

"I talked about my poetry."—Cleveland Leader.

Troubled with Phantasmagoria

A few slightly tart acerbitations and inky eccentricities written concerning us by our neurotic friend, the editor of the T.-T.

"The Chinaman job printer,"

"The sneaking disposition so apparent in his personality and his methods of trying to do business,"

"Here's your knocker,"

"The chinaman job printer who runs the knocker organ up street," etc., etc.

The above are a few specimens of the product of the thinkery under the hat of poor Art Smith. God help him, such a beggarly array of mental furniture is not to be found outside of Steilacoom.

We know what is the matter with you, Smith, you are troubled like Hamlet with bad dreams, dizzy spells, and loss of memory. Take our advice, like a good fellow, and with all convenient speed get yourself onto the top of Mount Angeles, "away from the madding crowd," select a spot where the breeze will fan your fevered brow, gaze steadily at the tip of your nose, and try to concentrate your mind on your big toe. If this be kept up long enough, we are assured by very ancient authority, you will cease having dreams about that infernal chinaman job printer and the other phantasmagoria that troubles you.

You will return from your probation on the mountain with your face shining like unto Moses when he descended from Mount Sinai after his sojourn of forty days; all the mists that have obscured your poor addled brains will have rolled away; the furniture of your thinkery will be set in order; the hate, the petty spite and meanness will be driven out of your heart; and better than all you will realize what an unspeakable ass you have been making of yourself, and will give thanks that you are cured and in your right mind.

You will become conscious of how utterly mean and contemptible it is to garble and deliberately misconstrue, like a low demagogue, what another has written or said, and for your past sins in this respect you will feel like the man in the Bible who rent his clothes and tore his hair. In conclusion, if you follow our advice there is hope for you; if not, as we told you last week, Nemesis is waiting for you around the corner.

Capt. Tozier, formerly of revenue cutter Grant, and well known here, has been tendered a sword by the government of Great Brittian. The United States requires that officers of the government must obtain consent of congress before accepting gifts from foreign nations. The applications run into the hundreds every year; it being said that in some cases the gifts represent distinguished deeds and in others gallant action as dinner guests of foreign potentates.

OPENING WEEK AT PARLOR THEATER

Company of High Class Artists from Star Theater.

The doors of the Parlor Theater will be thrown open Monday night and for one week thereafter a company of picked artists will entertain the amusement loving public; the principal features being:

Morgan & Chester in comedy sketch.

Bessie Allen, the great dancer,

La Petite Ruth, acrobat singer and dancer.

J. Brown, Chinese impersonator and musician.

Moving Pictures and Illustrated songs will also be a feature.

These people are all from the East and have been selected by the management of the Seattle Star Theater as the best talent to be obtained. Mr. J. O. Morse, proprietor of The Parlor, has seen them and vouches for their superiority. As all are high priced artists, one gentleman drawing $150 per week, the opening week here will not pay expenses even tho the house be packed nightly. Upon their reception will depend, in large measure, the quality of future attractions to be obtained from the circuit, so all should turn out and patronize The Parlor's opening week. Prices will be 15c and 10c; as the floor is raised all seats are equally good and there are no reserves.

City Council Proceedings

Councilman Bown reported on lighting Tumwater Hill grade, recommending gasoline lamps for the present, the cost of installing being five or six dollars and lighting about 20 or 25c a night. Referred to electric light committee with power to act.

Petition of P. J. Woods for permit to build flume on Valley St. was granted until further order from the council.

Chn. Thompson of street committee recommended following expenditures on streets: $50 on Front between White creek bridge and Albert; $60 on First between Race and Valley; $10 on Albert between Front and Fourth.

Extension of one week given ex-clerk in which to make report.

Acceptances of franchises by railway company were read.

Ordinances regulating construction and repair of public buildings, and requiring the payment of money to city by applicants for franchises (repealing Ord. No. 306) were referred to committees.

Bills allowed: D. O'Brien, $65.-25; T.-T. Co. $31.85; Filion Mill Co., $2.25; C. Wise, $17.80; C. E. Nailor, recharging extinguishers, $3.75; N. M. Hawkins and J. F. Dilling, testing water pressure, $1 each.

The Olympic-Leader is sorry to learn that Rev. W. H. Whelan of the First Baptist Church is contemplating a change of pastorate, and that he left for Seattle yesterday to attend a conference of his church with that end in view. While it is true that a man of his ability as a public speaker and ardent worker for the uplift of humanity is worthy of a better and larger charge, and that his parishoners wish him all success, it is also true that our people are loth to see him go. Rev. Whelan is not only a zealous worker in the vineyard of his Master for the saving of souls, but he is also a public spirited citizen, always foremost in all good works and his going away would leave a void not easily filled.

Aberdeen's street superintendent reports 11 miles of planked streets and alleys, laid at a cost of $2.50 per foot, or $194,000. He places the average life of planking without repair, to be about three years, and the annual cost of renewals and rebair some $20,000. It would appear they have no stone for macadamizing at Aberdeen.

They never gripe or sicken, but cleanse and strengthen the stomach, liver and bowels. This is the universal verdict of the many thousands who use DeWitt's Little Early Risers. The Tribune-Times calls the editor of this journal of civilization a knocker. While the Olympic-Leader trusts and believes that the Port Angeles and Olympia railroad will be built, it might be just as well for the T.-T. hireling to remember that we do not have to sneeze everytime Mr. Carrigan, or any other railroad promoter, or federal office holder, takes snuff. We reported the action of the council, giving a statement of facts as they existed, without opinion or comment.

This is an independent newspaper, fearless in its utterances, is not owned body and breeches by any corporation or set of men, and does not have to say that any projected railroad is a sure thing until after the facts in the case will warrant the assertion. Can our down street neighbor say the same?

Prune Your Trees Now!

If you haven't the time to do it yourself, or don't know just how to go at it, I should be pleased to do it for you. I know how to prune trees JUST RIGHT, and will not mutilate and disfigure your orchard, but on the contrary will make good trees out of some of your old cripples.

If you want roses trimmed I will promise to leave them as if a Kansas cyclone had gone through them, but you need not settle with me for that kind of work, either with a rolling pin or otherwise, until the daffodils bloom in the springtime and the roses will have recovered from the terrible shock and show evidence in my favor.

Spraying will be in order next month sometime. I shall be prepared with a good big outfit to do the work properly, and if you have any poor, worthless fruit trees that you want grafted to better fruit, I can do it for you. I am now cutting my scions (or slips) from some of the best bearing trees I can find in city and country, and shall get some new varieties from Pullman and other places to try.

Can furnish fine strawberry plants from $3 50 to $5,00 per 1,000. Clark's Seedling, Hood River, Sharpless, Marshall, and others. $2.00 extra per 1,000 set and a full stand guaranteed first season; dead and sick plants replaced and planted free of charge.

Leave word at the Port Angeles Grocery or at Seevers' store and I'll call and see what you want.
