FRANCHISES TO COST $100 EACH

Applicants Must Pay Amount Into Treasury Before Getting Consideration.

Ordinance requiring payment of money to city by applicants for franchises was passed, all voting in the affirmative. According to the terms of this ordinance, all applicants for new franchises, or for renewals or extensions of old, must pay into the current expense fund of the city one hundred dollars; when in any case a larger sum be deemed advisable the same shall be fixed by resolution and payment thereof required before any action be taken on franchise. If franchise fails to pass council, the sum paid to be returned to applicant.

Communication was read, from the Commercial Club, asking the appointment of committee to confer with like committee from the club in deciding upon proper measures to be taken in securing a re-appraisement of the 10-acre blocks lying in the western section of the townsite. The high price put upon them by the government precludes their sale; it would be better, says the Club, to have these lots pass to private ownership, thus securing control of the territory by the municipality. Mayor appointed Grubb, Thompson and Bown as committee.

Ordinance regulating the construction of public buildings was referred to committee of the whole.

Councilman Grubb called attention to dangerous condition of railroad crossing near brewery and moved that matter of repair be referred to street com.

On motion of Councilman Bown city engineer was instructed to prepare estimate of approximate cost of improving, by grading and trestling, of Tumwater from 2nd to 4th and of Tumwater to A; trestle to be 16 ft. wide and road 24 ft.

Clerk instructed to issue show license to Oscar Morse for $10 per month.

Bills allowed: J. D. Sanford, light poles, $23.50; Lewis Supply Co., $98.52; Geo. Porter, $110; Fire Co., Front St. alarm, $42.

Coal Found Near Town

L. T. Haynes is exhibiting at Brophy's grocery a sample of coal picked out from the outcropping with a penknife, which he found about two miles back of town; it is Mr. Haynes' opinion a coal bed will be found in the valley this side of Coleman's ranch. At any rate, the coal is evidently of splendid quality, and gives additional evidence of what we may expect with the development of the country.

TURNER BUYS TIMBER

Takes Up Option Given by Sheriff Hopkins on Indian Valley Land.

$3200 was the agreed price on two quarter sections of Indian Valley timber land, as specified in an option given by E. E. Hopkins to the Peninsular railroad people, which option expired yesterday. And yesterday Mr. Turner wired for the deed to be sent him, on receipt of which money would be forwarded. This was the only option held by the railroad people taken for so short a time, we are told, and hence came near being overlooked. $3200 is considerable of an investment in timber which can only be gotten out by the construction of the Peninsular, and yet, as an investment it was a bargain in any event, ten dollars per acre being considered a low price for over three million feet of timber and the splendid dairy land on which it stands.

A number of options have been given on town property, and sales made, recently, at fair prices. Among these might be mentioned a lot on Front street, 25 x 300, on which Attorney Richardson gave an option this week for $175 cash, at $3,500, a price considerably in advance of that heretofore asked for similar property.

D. G. Harvey sold the old Ed. Foster place on Front street hill, joining John Dyke's on the west, for $1600, to Miss LaFollette, who acted as agent for her sister.

Comrade Eblin received $800 for his two lots on Fourth and Race, selling to Mrs. Ewing.

Orlin Burdick has sold his home to "Sandy" Thompson, the Twin lumberman, whose family moved into their new home the first of the week.

GRAPE CULTURE IS NEGLECTED

Successfully Raised in Other Western Counties; Why Not Here Also?

The possibilities of grape culture in Washington, says the P.-I., are almost without limitation. There are markets at home and abroad for the fresh grapes, canned and dried products, and the jams, jellies and wines; such products are now imported.

Grape culture is a comparative new industry in this state. The official report for 1905 gives the entire output of the 37 counties where they are grown at 1,194,700 lbs. Chelan, Walla Walla, Whitman and Yakima raise upwards of 150,000 lbs. each per year. Only a small portion of the grape product is placed on the general market.

That grape growing in an irrigated country is profitable is shown by the experience of J. H. Lebeck of Wenatchee who marketed 1,200 crates of choice table grapes and made 4,000 gallons of wine from three acres of six year old vines. This was in 1904; he now has seven acres in vineyard and will add two more this year.

Western Washington is supposed to be a grapeless country. It is said the vines need moisture during the early fall when the fruit buds are forming for next year. Such being the case, they could easily be grown on the irrigated lands of eastern Clallam county, or in Port Angeles. At the Quilcene Fair, Jefferson county, as fine grapes as one could wish are shown at the October exhibitions.

Clarke and Mason counties, in this part of the state, report 30,000 lbs. each last year. If these counties can produce good grapes why not other sections. There is a future to the grape industry. It offers a good field for investment by those desiring to engage in intensive cultivation of the soil.

MURDER SYNDICATE

GOV. GOODING OF IDAHO ISSUES A STATEMENT.

Officially Confirms Reported Confession of Harry Orchard, Which Tells the Story of Twenty-Six Murders Which Resulted from Conspiracies.

Boise, Idaho, Feb. 26.—Gov. Gooding has issued the following statement with respect to the Gov. Steunenberg assassination:

"I want to state officially that Harry Orchard has made a full confession as to the manner and motive of the assassinatiion of ex-Gov. Steunenberg, telling of the plans made and giving the names of those making them. The assassination of ex-Gov. Steunenberg, which occurred at his own gate, on the evening of December 30, 1905, was the third attempt that Orchard made against his life.

"This confession was made to Capt. James McPartland. It included the history of his life from his early boyhood up to the time of his arrest. In that confession Orchard implicated all those now under arrest, and others, including J. L. Simpkins.

"He told the story of twenty-six murders, the result of conspiracies, in which all the accused parties were interested. When the story is given to the public I believe it will be the greatest narrative of crime which the world knows.

"There has never been any doubt as to the truth of Orchard's confession among those who are familiar with the crimes committed in Idaho and Colorado and charged to the inner circles of the Western Federation of Miners.

"I have seen Orchard myself since this confession was made. He told me that he was not promised either clemency or reward by Mr. McPartland or any one else. Mr. McPartland was aided in his work of securing the confession by Orchard's early training. The impression of his early religious training came up and smote his conscience when he was brought face to face with his God.

"He told me that he believed in the Supreme Being and a hereafter, and that now his one thought was to make peace with his maker.

"The finding of the bomb at Judge Godard's gate, and many other things which will be made known at the trial, have proved the truthfullness of Orchard's confession beyond all question to those familiar with the story. The state desires to secure justice. There is no thought of punishing the innocent or waging war on any labor organization.

"In the assassination of ex-Gov. Steunenberg a grave offense against the state of Idaho was committed. As its executive I felt it my duty to bend every energy towards the discovery of the guilty parties and their fitting punishment.

"I wish to announce that I have withdrawn the offer of $5,000 reward made by the state for the punishment of the assassins.

"A reward of $1,000 is now offered by us for information leading to the arrest of J. L. Simpkins, and this is the only reward now offered in connection with the Steunenberg murder."

ENGLAND MAY ISSUE WARNING TO GERMANY

London, Feb. 26.—After yesterday's cabinet meeting it was asserted in ministerial circles that Great Britain, at the proper moment, will, if necessary, inform germany that the Moroccan policy of the Fatherland is a source of deep anxiety to this government, since it exhibits tendencies which threaten ultimately to reqiure Britain to dispute its further progress.

The statement has been confirmed that in the event of France's abandoning Morocco to Germany in preference to risking a war, the British government will oppose directly Germany's plans.

It is categorically asserted that Great Britain is ready at a moment's notice to reply with force to any forcible measrue which Germany may take to "change the political map of Western Europe and Northern Africa in any essential respect."

The kaiser is accused of seeking to neutralize the British Gibraltar in the West, while he himself is building up a German Gibraltar in the East on the island of Thasos.

In some quarters it is believed that Germany, at the last moment, finding that all of the powers excepting possibly Austria, are sympathizing with France, will agree to the compromise offered by the French delegates. On this account France will be urged to allow a continuance of the conference, giving the representatives of the powers an opportunity of expressing their views on the subject upon which Germany and France could not agree.

Hague Tribunal Suggested.

Madrid, Feb. 23.—An important Spanish statesman is authority for the statement that the question is now mooted of charging The Hague arbitration tribunal with the settlement of the Moroccan controversy, owing to the apparent inability of the delegates at Algericas to secure an accord. The newspapers say that while war is not likely the Franco-German controversy keeps Europe in a constant state of uneasiness.

DENVER TO SEATTLE.

D. Y. & P. Interests Have Organized Second Subsidiary Company.

Denver, Feb. 26.—The incorporation of the Denver, Laramie & Northwestern Railway Company for $5,000,000, in Wyoming by Robert H. Dwyer, of Pueblo, Sydney J. Kent, of Lincoln, Neb., and J. D. Milliken, of Kansas City, has caused the trunk line people in Denver much worry over the probable interests that are behind the Denver, Yellowstone & Pacific, which is the parent of the new enterprise.

Recently the Denver, Yellowstone & Pacific Company recorded in Denver a mortgage deed of trust secruing $8,000,000 of first mortgage bonds for the constrcution of the line. The same syndicate recently formed in Denver a terminal corporation, a subsidiary concern, to secrue facilities here. It is the purpose of the syndicate, whose head is in Boston, to build from Denver through Wyoming, Montana, Idaho and Washintgon, the objective point being Seattle. The distance is 1,700 miles. Surveys have been made through Montana, Wyoming and Colorado, and rights of way secured.

SUBSTANTIAL AID FOR JAPAN FAMINE VICTIMS

Seattle, Feb. 26.—The movement to send to the famine sufferers of Northern Japan 1,000 tons of wheat from Seattle and the state of Washington, March 12, started last Friday, is gathering momentum daily. With interest growing at the phenomenal rate already manifested, the committee is hopeful that the cargo will easily be gathered, going far in connection with other donations from the people of the United States, toward the relief of the 3,000,000 heroic little people of the three stricken provinces, who with their food spuply cut off, are suffering so silently andp atiently. The aid of the people of Seattle and Washington will save thousands of lives.

Following is the result of the first three days of the collection of the fund:

Thirty-one tons of wheat.

One thousand six hundred and two sacks of flour.

Two hundred pounds of corn meal.

Eight hundred and nienty-eight dollars in cash.

Free transportation on two thousand tons of cargo to Japan.

Stevedoring on one thousand tons of cargo.

The subscriptions are being received at the Post-Intelligencer office.

TO LIGHT CANADIAN COAST.

Lightship to be Located Between Carmanah and Cape Beale.

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 26.—Immediate construction is to be commenced of a lightship to be established by Canada on Swiftsure bank, between Carmanah and Cape Beale, about seven miles from the coast, and a number of leading lighthouses of the first order will be built on the Vancouver island coast between Race rocks and Cape Cook.

A new light will be established near Sherringham point, between Carmanah and Victoria. Carmanah will be improved by the addition of a perpendicular ray similar to those on the French coast and off Cape Hatteras, N. C., thrown high in the air and visible for forty or fifty miles, and lights will be placed on Entrance island and in Barclay sound with a red sector across Danger rocks, on Estevan point at Ucluclet, and on the small island off Cape Cook the most prominent point on the Vancouver island coast, this to be a great leading light for ships coming from the southeast.

Wireless stations will be established at many points, about ten in all, connecting with a Victoria headquarters.

Foghorns of the diaphone system will be established at all lights, and two self-propelled lifeboats of the modern type will be constructed as well as a surf lifeboat. The self-propelling lifeboats will be stationed, with a life-saving crew at each place, at San Juan harbor and Bamfield.

MUCH LAND STILL DUE TO THE STATE

Olympia, Feb. 28.—Attorney General John D. Atkinson has returned from Washington, where he had gone with Land Commissioner Ross, to assist in the matter of the selection of public lands, including those of the Carey land grant, and also the selection of lieu lands for school purposes.

The state has due it yet from the United States government over 300,000 acres of land, which should come to it in lieu of sections 16 and 32 that have been cut out of the state's list by reason of forest reservations and land occupied by the Puget sound waters of the state.

Mr. Atkinson said that Mr. Ross has carefully revised the lists of land formerly made for those lieu selections, and that the state will now receive attention and be given much land on account of these lieu selections without much further delay.

Canada Sends Much Flour.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 26.—The Canadian ministry has purchased $225,000 worth of wheat flour to send to Japan for the famine sufferers in Northern Japan. The first shipment starts from the Pacific coast on March 5. The bags bear an inscription in Japanese stating that the flour is a gift from the government of Canada to famine sufferers. Directions in bread making and samples of yeast used in the process are also being sent. The flour selected is from the wheat of Manitoba and Alberta.

INITIATIVE UPHELD

STATE SUPREME COURT SUSTAINS LAW OF 1903.

Gives to Voters of Cities of the First Class the Right to Take Franchise Matters Out of Hands of City Councils—Decision Was in Telephone Franchise Case from Spokane.

Olympia, Feb. 27—The state supreme court has sustained the law of 1903, which gives to voters of cities of the first class the right of initiative with respect to granting franchises. The decision was rendered in the much discussed Spokane telephone case of W. W. Hindman against Mayor Boyd and the council of that city. Hindman, as attorney for the Independent Telephone Company, brought proceedings in the superior court demanding the issuance of a writ of mandate requiring the council to submit to the voters an amendment to the Spokane charter governing the manner of granting franchises. The petition for the writ was based upon the contention that a petition of 1,700 voters, or more than 15 per cent of the number of those who had voted at the previous city election, had been presented to the council under the 1903 law for the charter amendment, and that the council was neglecting or refusing to submit the proposition.

There were many technical points raised before the Spokane court. The city, which was represented in the defense by the attorney for the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph Company, contended that the petition did not contain the 15 per cent of the voters named, that many of the signers were secured through fraud and misrepresentation.

This defense the lower court overruled, and therein committed error, says the supreme corut. The writ was granted and appeal was taken. Efforts were made to dismiss the appeal, but the court holds that the appeal was properly taken.

Various Points Discussed

The court takes up the various questions raised and discusses them at length. It first finds the act is not unconstituional and holds the objections taken to the title to be without merit. It declares that the people have the right to take the matter of granting or rejecting franchises into their own hands, and that the citizens are greater than the charter and may amend the charter to keep that power if they desire.

The corut holds also that registration is not a necessary element in the qualifications of a voter to entitle him to sign the petitions provided by the 1903 law referred to. In other words, the 15 per cent of the number of qualified voters may be made up of voters, whether they are registered or not. Because of the denial to the defense of an opportunity to submit proof against the sufficiency of the petition, the supreme court decides as follows:

"The case is remanded with instructions to take testimony upon the necessary facts concerning the validity of the petitions and to enter findings thereon. If these findings show that the petition is in compliance with the law then the order heretofore made (that granting the writ of mandate) shall be confirmed and ratified "If the facts are found to be as contended by the defense, that is, that not enough signatures appear on the petition or they were obtained through fraud and misrepresentation, the writ will be vacated and the action dismissed."

DEMOCRAT TO REPORT REPUBLICAN RATE BILL

Washington, Feb. 26.—By a vote of 8 to 5 the senate committee on interstate commerce agreed to report the Hepburn rate bill without amendment, but the resolution reserved to the members of the committee freedom of action concerning amendments offered in the senate.

By a vote of 5 to 3, Republicans prevailing, Senator Tillman, a Democrat, was given the honorv of reporting the bill. This establishes a precedent in that a Republican senate committee has given to a Democrat control of an important measure passed by a Republican house and indorsed by a Republican president.

HITCHCOCK DECIDES AGAINST CAREY SELECTIONS.

Believes Interests of All Will be Best Served by Rejection of the State's Claim—State Has No Means of Its Own by Which to Irrigate Lands Selected.

Washington, Feb. 24.—The applicatiion of the state of Washington for 55,584 acres of land under the Carey act in the lower Yakima valley has been disapproved by Secretary ot the Interior Hitchcock. This ends the long contest of the state to secure these lands and to provide for their reclamation. There is no appeal.

The letter, which is really a brief prepared by the law officers of the department, in which the secretary rejects the state's application, consists of six typewritten pages. The letter says:

"It is asserted by the state, and not disputed, that the Washington Irrigation Company has a water location or locations on the Yakima river sufficient to reclaim this land, but the data collected by the reclamation service raise grave doubts as to whether there is sucffiient water in the stream in the latter part of summer and early fall to satisfy its claimed appropriations."

Objection is made also, because the area in question is a checkerboard area.

Quotes Railroad Company.

"The railroad company, through its land commissioner," says the decision, "has expressed to this department the opinion that the bes interests of all concerned demand that the United States reclamaion service be given full opportuniy to investigate and determine the best method to further the development of the irrigating possibilities of the valley named and that in the meantime the exising status of all lands be maintained."

It is declared that the Washington Irrigation no longer regards the agreement with the state as binding, the company having put up a forfeiture bond of $250.

The paragraph relating to the objections of the reclamation service says:

"The reclamation service proposes, if given full opportunnity in this valley to reclaim, by impounding the flood waters in certain natrual basins, a much larger area than is possible by the state under the proposed scheme. The government's enginers report that this project is feasible, that sufficient funds are available for its accomplishment, and the reclamations service assures the department that it will be undertaken at an early date, unless the proposed contract be made with the state, in which event, it is said with considerable reason that the government project must be abandoned."

Had Hoped to Grant Request.

The secretary's letter says in regard to the contention of the state that the government's Yakima valley project and the reclamation of the state's selected lands may stand together and that a contract be made between the secretary of the interior and the secretary of the interior and the state for the reclamation of the state's lands:

"The contention has been most carefully considered, not only because it is novel, but because it was earnestly hoped that the department might see a way to follow it, but it beleives this cannot be done. Not only are there grave doubts as to the legality of such procedure, but it is thought as a matter of administrative policy, that this department would not be justified in approving this very complicated, questionable, and, perhaps impracticable scheme, which, in the end, would necessitate patenting to the state of a large body of lands, which will not have been reclaimed by the state, but which, in fact, will have been reclaimed by the United States."

Exercises Discretion.

In conclusion the decision says:

"Under all the circumstances of this case, looking to what are conceived to be the best interests of the whole people, and in the exercise of the discretion thus vested in the secretary of the interior, I must decline to enter into the proposed contract with the state, and the state's list is herewith returned without my approval."

Issue Bonds to Retire Warrants.

Olympia, Feb. 28.—The state of Washington will again go on a cash basis March 1. This announcement was made yesterday at the capitol. The governor and auditor have issued $75,000 in bonds, which were at once purchased by the state permanent school fund. The state treasurer has called the balance of the outstanding state warrants issued within the year, as the money derived from bonds, together with collections from different counties, have produced enough to take them up.

Idaho Gains Territory.

Grangeville, Idaho, Feb. 26.—The line dividing Montana and Idaho, which is now being run by engineers, has so far been completed from Lolo pass to Regis pass. By this survey Idaho has gained 430 square miles of territory over that shown in the most accurate maps made. It is estimated that when the surveys are completed Idaho will have gained enough territory to make a large county.

HATED FENIMORE COOPER.

Perpetual War Waged Between Author and Village Lads.

Not so many boys read J. Fenimore Cooper nowadays as three or four decades ago, but if it were possible to have an accounting to-day it would pretty surely be found that no one, barring only Captain Marryat, has pleased and delighted so many lads with his stories.

It is more or less of a shock, therefore, to those who remember him as one of the chief patron saints of their boyhood, to learn that in actual life Cooper and the boys of his village were sworn enemies. N. C. Brewer, who was one of the boys, but is now an elderly man living in Cleveland, gave the world this interesting bit of personal reminiscence the other day. He lived at Cooperstown, Otsego County, N. Y., when Cooper made his home there.

"There was not a man in the town whom the boys hated as they did Mr. Cooper," said Mr. Brewer. "He was a typical Englishman of the austere sort, surly to boys and very liberal in the use of his walkingstick on their backs when he got the chance.

"He was probably very irritable, and the boys knew this and made matters worse by going out of their way to annoy him. We used to get into his orchard and steal his apples, more for the pleasure it gave us to make him angry than for the sake of the apples.

"His manner seemed to indicate to us that he had a very exalted sense of his own importance and that he thought we boys ought to take off our hats to him every time we met him in the street. I was about 10 years old at the time and had not read any of his stories.

"Perhaps it may seem odd, but it is a fact that while I have all his works in my library, I have never read any of them, and the only recollections that I have of him are the boyhood feelings of dislike caused by his manners and by his treatment of the boys of Cooperstown. This seems strange when the fact is considered that his stories have pleased so many thousands of boys."—New York Sun.

Old Gentleman—Do you mean to say that your teachers never thrash you? Little Boy—Never. We have moral suasion at our school. Old Gentleman—What's that? Boy—Oh, we get kep' in, and stood up in corners, and locked out, and locked in, and made to write one word a thousand times, and scowled at, and jawed at; and that's all.—Tit-Bits.

The Empress of Japan.

At the age of 50 the Empress of Japan still considers that she is entitled to her family name of "Haruka," the "spring," and no one will deny it to her. Her majesty belongs to the favored class of women who never seem to grow old, and who in the autumn of life possesses the charm of knowing how to preserve the smiling loveliness of their youth.

She is a devoted friend of literature, and she is never so happy as when she can celebrate the three great festivals of the year, surrounded by the poets attached to the court. These festivals are those of the New Year, the Church and the Chrysanthemum. The Empress is herself a poetess, and has established a competition for Japanese poets, and for this competition she fixes the subject.

But it is for her works of charity that the Empress is the most renowned, and she is at the head of all national efforts in this direction. The Red Cross Society claims a great deal of her time, and during the war with China she was often found attending the wounded Japanese.

Ingenuous Answer.

"Excuse me," he said to the applicant for the typewriter's position, "but I would like to know your age?"

The young woman looked astonished.

"May I ask what that has to do with my fitness for the place?" she inquired.

"Nothing," he promptly answered. "You see, it's my wife that wants to know."

"In that case," said the applicant, who was pretty as well as young, "tell her I am 47."

And the smile that followed this ingenuous statement brought out four delightful dimples.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Repaid.

At a certain ball in the country the other evening a gentleman undertook to introduce a companion to a young but somewhat stout lady who seemed to be pining for a dance.

"No, thanks, old fellow; I don't care to waltz with a cart."

A "cart" is understood in the district referred to as a partner who does not do her share of the dancing, but has to be drawn round.

A few evenings later the same young lady, who had overheard the conversation, beheld the young man seeking an introduction and asking if he might have the honor, etc.

"No, thank you," she replied; "I may be a cart, but I am not a donkey-cart."—London Tit-Bits.

RHEUMATISM

CAN NOT BE RUBBED AWAY

When the joints are sore and swollen, and the muscles throbbing with the pain of Rheumatism, relief must be had at once, and it is natural to rub the affected parts with liniments, oils, etc. This treatment does good in a way, by temporarily relieving the pain and reducing the inflammation, but has no effect on the disease itself, because Rheumatism is more than skin deep; it is in the blood and cannot be rubbed away. Rheumatism is brought on by indigestion, weak kidneys, poor bowel action, stomach troubles and a general sluggish condition of the system. The refuse and waste matters, which should be carried off through the natural avenues of bodily waste, are left to sour and form uric acid and other irritating poisons which are absorbed by the blood, making it thin, weak and acrid. Then instead of nourishing the different nerves, muscles, joints and tissues it fills them with poison to produce the aches, pains and other disagreeable symptoms of the disease. Rheumatism is usually worse in Winter for the reason that cold and dampness are exciting causes. The nerves become excited and sting with pain, the muscles are sore and drawn, the joints swollen and stiff and the sufferer lives in intense agony; and if the disease is not checked it often leaves its victims helpless cripples for life. Rheumatism cannot be rubbed away but it can be driven from the blood by S. S. S. Being a perfect blood purifier this great remedy soon produces a complete change in the entire circulation; the thin, acrid blood is made pure and rich, and as it goes through the body nourishes and soothes the irritated nerves, eases the throbbing muscles, and dissolves and carries out of the system the irritating particles in the joints which are keeping up the pain and inflammation. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism permanently, and in addition tones up the digestion and stimulates the different members of the body to their full duty so there is no cause for another attack. Do not waste time trying to rub Rheumatism away, but get it out of the blood with S. S. S. so that the cold and dampness of Winter will not keep you in continual pain and agony. Special book on Rheumatism and any medical advice will be given free.

While at work for the F. C. & P. R. R. in the swampy region, I contracted Rheumatism and was completely helpless for about four months and spent over $150.00 with doctors, but got worse every day, and finally quit them and began S. S. S. I took a few bottles and was cured sound and well. My health is now splendid, and I weigh 175 pounds. There is a lady living near me who is now taking S. S. S. for acute Rheumatism. For two months she could not turn herself in bed, but since beginning your medicine about three weeks ago has improved rapidly, and is now able to sit up. I can recommend S. S. S. to all suffering from Rheumutism.

Ulah, N. C. S. C. LASSITER.

I was severely troubled with Rheumatism. I had it in my knees, legs and ankles, and any one who has ever had Rheumatism knows how excruciating the pain is and how it interferes with one at work. I was truly in bad shape having been bothered with it for ten years, off and on. A local physician advised me to use S. S. S. I did so. After taking two bottles I noticed the soreness and pain were greatly reduced. I continued the medicine and was thoroughly cured; all pain, soreness and inflammation gone. I recommend S. S. S. to all Rheumatic sufferers.

THE LAXATIVE OF KNOWN QUALITY

There are two classes of remedies: those of known quality and which are permanently beneficial in effect, acting gently, in harmony with nature, when nature needs assistance; and another class, composed of preparations of unknown, uncertain and inferior character, acting temporarily, but injuriously, as a result of forcing the natural functions unnecessarily. One of the most exceptional of the remedies of known quality and excellence is the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., which represents the active principles of plants, known to act most beneficially, in a pleasant syrup, in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to contribute their rich, yet delicate, fruity flavor. It is the remedy of all remedies to sweeten and refresh and cleanse the system gently and naturally, and to assist one in overcoming constipation and the many ills resulting therefrom. Its active principles and quality are known to physicians generally, and the remedy has therefore met with their approval, as well as with the favor of many millions of well informed persons who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual experience that it is a most excellent laxative remedy. We do not claim that it will cure all manner of ills, but recommend it for what it really represents, a laxative remedy of known quality and excellence, containing nothing of an objectionable or injurious character.

There are two classes of purchasers: those who are informed as to the quality of what they buy and the reasons for the excellence of articles of exceptional merit, and who do not lack courage to go elsewhere when a dealer offers an imitation of any well known article; but, unfortunately, there are some people who do not know, and who allow themselves to be imposed upon. They cannot expect its beneficial effects if they do not get the genuine remedy.

To the credit of the druggists of the United States be it said that nearly all of them value their reputation for professional integrity and the good will of their customers too highly to offer imitations of the Mayor Appleton's Mother Celebrates 88th Birthday.

Mrs. Mary Ann Appleton, mother of Mayor Appleton of this city, and one of the oldest residents of Escanaba, Mich., celebrated the eighty-eighth anniversary of her birth at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. B. Wilkinson, in that city, Feb. 24th, last. The Escanaba Daily Mirror reports the event as follows:

Several old friends of Mrs. Appleton, together with relatives attended the dinner party which was given at the home, and although Mrs. Appleton has not enjoyed good health for some time she was in excellent spirits to day and enjoyed greatly the celebration plans that were carried out.

Mrs. Appleton in addition to enjoying the distinction of being one of the oldest residents of Escanaba is believed to have more living descendants than any other woman of the city.

A total of 107 people now living in Escanaba and in other cities, trace their descent directly to Mrs. Appleton. She has 10 living children, 43 grandchildren and 54 great grandchildren.

Mrs. Appleton has lived in Escanaba since 1871, making her home with her daughter, Mrs. Wilkinson, for a portion of that time.

She was born at Warington, Eng., on Feb. 26, 1818, and came to the United States when she was 25 years of age. She settled with her husband, first at Dover, Wis., and after living at that place for a short time moved to Freedom, Wis., where she lived until shortly after the death of her husband when she came to Escanaba and has made this city her home continuously since that time.

Mrs. Appleton has been confined to her bed much of the time during recent years but her mind is as active as ever and with a particularly retentive memory discusses with ease events of half a century ago.

A gain of sixteen has been made in the living descendents of Mrs. Appleton since 1903.

The "national board for the promotion of rifle practice" naively asks congress to appropriate $1,000,000 a year to teach young men to shoot straight as a means of national defense. But it should not be overlooked that record making at a still target is quite a different affair from scoring on a target that has the draw on a fellow and is a record shooter too.

Modern Indian language is as far removed from the sublime oratory of the noble red man of yore as the white's everyday English is from the mother tongue in the classics. Poor Lo's "talks" are few in words, and the ideas expressed show that he is striking the pace of his practical white neighbor.

The Railroad Outlook

The railroad outlook never appeared better, never was in as good condition than it is at present. This is not guess work on our part, or an attempt to manufacture news, but is founded upon information that is reliable.

We are not given to undue elation over every rumor or scrap of news that may come to hand, but have heretofore counselled moderation, and while maintaining the same attitude, we are prepared to say that everything points to the successful termination of the labors of Messrs. Carrigan and Turner in the financing of their railroad propositions, if, indeed, they are not already completed by the time we go to press.

Some people have curious ideas about these things, they seem to think that it is a very simple matter, this one of interesting capital in a new railroad project. In fact, as we have heretofore pointed out, it is a very difficult and slow process. Capital is proverbially timid, and everything must be made plain before they let go of the money. Franchises and titles have to be closely inspected, and every phase of the proposition carefully gone over to demonstrate that it will pay the interest on the bonds. Difficulties will arise, here and there, which require remedying or explaining, and all this takes time. At this end we are apt to become impatient, and then discouraged because we do not see the men at work. This is childish. We should remember that we have had within six years two railroad enterprises that started construction before completing their financial arrangements, with the result that hundreds of thousands of dollars were virtually wasted without any tangible results. It is much better to go slow and be sure of your ground than to start out with a hurrah, and a brass band, and wind up in the hands of a receiver.

The men who are pushing this are sparing no pains or expense in their efforts. The men who will furnish the money, we are assured, are pleased with the report of Mr. Southworth, their representative. The terms of the contract between them has been agreed upon, if not concluded by this time, and what remains to be done is probably a mere matter of detail. It is then no matter of importance whether actual construction commences next week or next month. The important thing is that men have hold of it who not only can but will build it.

The annual school election took place last Saturday. Mr. J. C. Hansen and Mrs. John Trumbull were the candidates. After an unusually hot contest Mr. Hansen was elected, by a vote of 315 to 166. We publish elsewhere a statement by Mrs. Trumbull, certain portions of which are, to say the least, peculiar. Next week we will have something to say on our schools, teachers, and school elections.

TO THE PUBLIC.

To let sleeping dogs lie is usually a a wise thing to do, however, like all good rules it has its exceptions.

In the case of the school election held on last Saturday, I should certainly let "the dead bury the dead" were it not that in justice to myself, to the ladies who placed my name before the public, and to those who supported me, a statement of facts seem to be necessary.

The platform upon which I stood was this: "That the women of Port Angeles should be represented on the board of school directors." There was absolutely none other. But I am told that the public have been given to understand that there was quite a different issue. I have learned that it was given out and used in a most effective manner against my election, that the following resolutions constituted my platform:

1st. Mr. Mahaffy, Prof. Treby, Miss Nevin, Miss Palmer, Miss Baker were to lose their positions in the school, and so were the janitors, Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Hitch.

2nd. Every teacher who was a church member should be turned out of the schools.

3rd. The Bible and Lord's Prayer should be prohibited.

4th. No married woman would be allowed to teach.

If it were not so serious a matter, the above statements would be laughable, and surely if viewed with a calm mind free from the excitement of an election contest must strike any sane minded as simply absurd and ridiculous. Altogether too ridiculous to call for any refutation on my part, but as they seem to have been circulated maliciously and regarded seriously I wish to make the following statement:

I denounce these statements, each and every one, as absolutely false.

I was asked for and made no promises to any one. I uttered no threats, the only platform upon which I stood was simply the one that I have stated—that the women of Port Angeles wanted representation.

I had no fight with any one, not even with my opponent, who is a gentleman for whom I have always held the greatest respect.

How such statements could have been attributed to me I cannot understand. I have never heard any serious complaints in regard to these teachers with the exception of Mr. Mahaffy. And for three consecutive years past I have refused to run for school director though I had a fair assurance of success, because each time the issue was a personal one, the turning down of Mr. Mahaffy. I said "No, I will accept no nomination for any public office with my hands tied. I shall make no promises of what I shall do. When the people of Port Angeles have confidence enough in me to nominate me, without any strings on me, and are willing to trust to my free judgment in any matter that may come up, I will accept the nomination, and not before."

In the present instance I did not know when the election was to come off; supposed it was to be in April; I was away from home, was gone nearly two months, and was absolutely ignorant of what was being done until Thursday afternoon when I received a telegram stating that I was up for election for director and I had better come home. This was the first of March, and was the first time I knew that I had even been talked of.

I came on Friday, and I immediately asked the ladies with whom I met in the afternoon how they had put me up, stating that I would run on no personal issue. I was assured that the only issue was that the women of Port Angeles wanted representation on the board. That they had no fight with any one. I immediately 'phoned Mr. Hansen that I believed we were to be rivals, but I hoped friendly ones. I also stated to him that I went in on no personal issue, but simply to try to give the women representation on the board of school directors.

Every citizen of Port Angeles who has given the matter any thought whatever, knows that there has crept into the public mind a spirit of discontent and dissatisfaction with regard to our public schools.

That certain conditions exist, and that certain changes should be made we all know; but just what determines those conditions, or what changes should be made or in what manner it could best be done could only be determined by a closer study of the schools and the existing conditions than can be afforded from without.

For this reason, and because of the great gravity of the situation, and because we women as mothers, are vitally interested in the well-being and well-doing of our schools, inasmuch as they teach our nearest and dearest interest, our children, and believing that we might do much to bring about better conditions, we have been particularly anxious to have representation on the school board.

During the seven years that I have lived in Port Angeles I have done much public work. During that time have doubtless made many mistakes, and perhaps not always acted wisely; but I have been true to my convictions of what was right. I have never considered my own personal interest, withheld my hand from doing, or tried to subsidize public opportunity to personal advantage or profit, and how any one could for one minute believe that I would lend myself to such abominable a scheme of wholesale slaughter, or that I would discriminate against any church or religion, or allow myself to be used in any manner, by any person or faction, to gratify any personal revenge or spite, passes my comprehension.

Further, how any one could believe of me that I would accept any office of public trust with my hands tied, or my independence of action limited, also passes my comprehension.

I have been proud of Port Angeles and her people—jealous for the advancement of her schools; and while I deeply deplore that her earnest public spirited women have failed to obtain representation on the board of directors; I deplore more than all else the fact that the election of a director for our schools—an organization that should stand for all that is highest and best in our community—degenerates year after year into a personal issue.

Our object was and will be the building up of our schools, because that lies at the foundation of good citizenship; it has been so recognized from the foundation of the government.

That for some reason, as before stated, there is widespread dissatisfaction in regard to the schools of this city can admit of no doubt. Men and women who were active in defeating me have for years said that, and have repeatedly solicited me to run for school director in the hope of remedying these evils. Wherein these evils are, and what is the remedy, is beside the question at this time, but this is certain, we have started out to remedy them and sooner or later we will succeed; it may be that the present shaking up will accomplish that purpose; if so, well and good; we shall be satisfied, if not we shall continue to work, and in the end we will prevail, because our cause is a righteous one, and all the forces of falsehood and slander, and appeals to the inate selfishness of human nature in the shape of prequisites, jobs, positions, etc., will be as powerless to influence the public conscience as such appeals would be to President Roosevelt to stay his hand in the investigations of the frauds in the various departmente of the government.

If we have to accomplish this through the means of an election next spring, everyone can rest assured that it shall not be done by false and malicious statements about any one, or that we will contaminate ourselves or our cause by resorting to wire pulling and the chicanery of debauched municipal politics, or that we will ask any employer of labor to bring his men and vote them like so many "dumb, driven cattle." In short, we will not forfeit our self respect; we are philosophers enough to know that good cannot come out of evil, and that an apparent victory gained by such methods is but dead sea fruit, which turns to ashes in the mouth.

We cannot better conclude than in the words of the immortal Lincoln, "With malice toward none, and charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us finish the work we are in."

Prune Your Trees Now!

If you haven't the time to do it yourself, or don't know just how to go at it, I should be pleased to do it for you. I know how to prune trees JUST RIGHT, and will not mutilate and disfigure your orchard, but on the contrary will make good trees out of some of your old cripples.

If you want roses trimmed I will promise to leave them as if a Kansas cyclone had gone through them, but you need not settle with me for that kind of work, either with a rolling-pin or otherwise, until the daffodils bloom in the springtime and the roses will have recovered from the terrible shock and show evidence in my favor.

Spraying will be in order next month sometime. I shall be prepared with a good big outfit to do the work properly, and if you have any poor, worthless fruit trees that you want grafted to better fruit, I can do it for you. I am now cutting my scions (or slips) from some of the best bearing trees I can find in city and country, and shall get some new varieties from Pullman and other places to try.

FOR COAST DEFENSE

PRESIDENT SENDS SPECIAL MESSAGE TO CONGRESS.

Need of Action, Especially With Regard to Insular Possessions. He Says Is Urgent—Endicott Board Report Basis for Estimate, Supplemented by Special Report.

Washington, March 6.—President Roosevelt sent a message to congress yesterday accompanying plans for coast defense prepared by a joint board of army and navy officers in which he emphasized the necessity for fruther defenses, and reviews the history of the defensive works of the country.

The president calls special attention to the recommendation of the board that the entrance of Chesapeake bay be added to the list of places in the United States to be defended.

He says the insular possessions cannot be longer neglected if the United States desires to hold them. Defenses are recommended for Manila bay, Pearl harbor, Guantanamo, Guam, San Juan and Honolulu, because of their strategic location. Defenses are also recommended for entrances to the Panama canal. The message says:

"Our coast defenses as they eixsted in 1860 were not surpassed in efficiency by those of any other country, but within a few years the introduction of rifled cannon and armor in navies against which smooth bore guns were practically useless, has rendered them obsolete.

"For many years no attempt was made to remedy the deficiency of these seacoast fortifications. There was no establishment in the country equipped for the manufacture of high power rifled guns. There was no definite adopted policy of coast defense, and congress was reluctant to undertake a work the cost of which could not be stated even approximately and the details had not advanced—so far as could be ascertained—beyond the experimental stages."

Value of Endicott Report.

The president gives a review of the history and work of the "gun foundry board," and of the "Endicott board," which considered coast defenses, and dwells upon the value of the Endicott board's report, which "sets forth a definite and intelligible plan or policy upon which the very important work of defense should proceed and which is as applicable as when formulated."

Improvements in the art of war, however, have rendered some of the plans of the board obsolete, and the board's report omitted the cost of land that must be purchased for fortifications and the cost of reserve ammunition. The president continues:

"The omissions in the etsimates of the Endicott board and the changes in the details of its plans have caused doubts in the minds of many as to the money that will be needed to defend completely our coast by guns, mines and their adjuncts.

New Plans Necessary.

"New localities are pressing their claims for defense. The insular possessions cannot be held unless the principal ports, naval bases and coaling stations are fortified before the outbreak of war. These connsiderations have led me to appoint a joint board of officers of the army and navy to recommend the armament, fixed and floating, mobile torpedoes, submarine mines and all other defensive appliances that may be necessary to complete the habror defenses with the most economical and advantageous expenditure of money; the board was further instructed to extend its examinations so as to include estimates relative t o the defenses of the insular possessions and to 'recommend the order in which the proposed defenses shall be completed so that all the elements of harbor defense may be properly and effectively co-ordinated.'

"The board has completed its labors and its report, together with a letter of transmittal by the secretary of war, is hereby transmitted for the information of the congress.

"The letter of the secretary of war contains a comparison of the estimates of the Endicott board with the amounts already appropriated for the defenses and the estimates of the new board, from which it appears that a complete defense of our coasts, omitting cost of ammunition and sites, can be accomplished for less than the amount stated by the Endicott board, even including the additional localities not recommended by it.

Transpacific Bases.

"In the insular possessions the great naval bases at Guantanamo, Subig bay and Pearl harbor, the coaling stations of Guam and San Juan, require protection, and in addition defenses are recommended for Manila bay and Honolulu, because of the strategic importance of these localities Defenses are recommended for the entrances to the Panama canal, as contemplated by the act of June 28, 1902(Spooner act), and under the terms of this act the cost of such forticfiations would be paid from appropriations for the construction and defense of the canal. "The necessity for a complete and adequate system of coast defense is greater today than twenty years ago, for the increased wealth of the country offers more tempting inducements to attack, and a hostile fleet can reach our coast in a much shorter period of time. The fact that we now have a navy does not in any wise diminish the importance of coast defenses, but on the contrary, that fact emphasizes their value and the necessity for their construction."

The president says the most valuable lesson of the Japanese war was the securely defended condition of the Japanese coast, by which her fleet was left free for offensive work against the Russian navy. He concludes:

"The security and protectionn of our interests require the completion of the defenses of our coast and the accompanying plan merits and should receive the generous support of congress."

FUTURE OF FRANCE A PROVINCE OF GERMANY

London, March 5.—Advices from continental capitals quoting newspaper expressions in regard to the Algericas conference show better than anything else the strained relations existing between France and Germany.

Paris Temps, commenting on the situation, says: In France there is neither weakness nor nervousness, only a unanimous resolution to safeguard the national interests. It is to her interest to preserve the security of Algeria, because in the event of trouble arising in Algeria it would be necessary for France to send 100,000 or 150,000 men there, and this would disorganize the home defenses, leaving France at the mercy of continental aggression.

The German view is set forth in the Staatsbuerger Zeitung, a Pan-German organ, which says: The Moroccan controversy must lead to war sooner or later. Even if the conference disperses without a very acute crisis, war must inevitably come, and the end will be the death of France. France will share the fate of Alsace and Lorraine and become a German crown province, being ruled absolutely by the German emperor.

PHILIPPINE ELECTIONS TO CHOOSE GOVERNORS

Washington, March 5.—Governor General Ide has cabled the war department from Manila an account of the outcome of the Philippine elections Wednesday. The provincial elections being in a way educational, and the Filipinos unused to suffrage in any form, the results are watched with the keenest interest by the war department. The text of Gov. Ide's dispatch follows:

"Provincial elections satisfactory. Not a single instance of disorder, although many ballots were required to elect in numerous instances. Have confirmed all elected except three suspended for investigation, charged with bribery and intimidation. Sandiko and Deveyra were elected and confirmed, as was also Reynolds, an American, who was elected on the seventh ballot. Eight of the present governors were re-elected."

Sandiko is a leading agitator for independence. Deverya is a prominent newspaper man among the Filipinos. Reynolds was a captain of the Thirty-first volunteer regiment and subsequently appointed treasurer of the province of Albay, of which he has doubtless been elected governor.

SEATTLE ELECTION WAS EXCEEDINGLY CLOSE

Seattle, March 7.—The votes of yesterday's election have been counted and on the face of the returns William Hickman Moore, municipal ownership candidate, is elected by the narrow margin of fifteen votes.

The result is a surprise, as Ripllinger, the Republican candidate, was conceded to be the strongest man who could be placed on that ticket. Ripllinger money was plentiful, with few takers even at good odds.

Should the official count overcome this narrow majority there will no doubt be a contest, as the municipal ownership men charge frauds in the First ward.

Said U. P. and C. P. May Join.

New York, March 5.—A report is current here and semi-ocffiial from Montreal that the Canadian Pacific will have a joint use of the Harriman terminal in Seattle and will co-operate with the O. R. & N. railroad at Spokane against the Hill and Milwaukee roads. Vice President Kruttschmitt, of the Union Pacific route from Portland to Seattle will not be used, but a new right of way is being sought. The real location of the Harriman line will not be known for two months probably.

May Relieve Coal Shortage.

Washington, March 7.—The fuel famine in Nome was the subject of a conference yesterday between Secretary of War Taft and Representative Hull, chairman of the house committee on military affairs. Later in the day Mr. Taft sent to the house an urgent request that a bill be passed authorizing the sale of the surplus coal at Fort Davis to residents of Nome for domestic use.

Milwaukee Buys at Everett.

Everett, March 7.—A piece of property containing seven and one-half acres on the bay front, adjacent to the Everett flouring mills, has been purchased by the Milwaukee railroad for $25,000, on which they will build their yards at this place. The property was bought from the Everett Terminal Company, of which Rucker Bros. were the sole owners. The location is adapted to terminals and to deep water docks and lies immediately in front of the city.

AIDS TO NAVIGATION

VALENCIA COMMISSION MAKES PRELIMINARY REPORT.

Urges Lights and Fog Signals of the First Class at Several Points, Wireless Telegraph Stations and an Ocean Going Life Saving Tug—Seys These Things are Urgent.

Seattle March 2.—The special commission appointed by the president to investigate the wreck of the steamer Valencia and to recommend proper aids to navigation on the North Pacific has made public the following report, a copy of the suggestions it contains having been forwarded to Secretary Metcalf, of the department of commerce and labor:

"The federal commission on the wreck of the Valencia has substantially finished its inquiry and will in due time make a complete report of its findings and its recommendations thereon.

"The commission, however, considers that certain recommendations for the improvement of aids to navigation should at once be made by it, without waiting for the issuance of its final report. The final report must necessarily be delayed for some weeks, and the urgency of the actual needs of such aids, and the necessity for presenting the questions thereof at once to congress for action is so great that no delay should be allowed."

The recommendations are as follows:

"First—Such changes in the present equipment at Tatoosh island as will insure the establishment there of a light of the first order and highest possible efficiency, and a fog signal also of the highest possible efficiency. The form of fog signals to be determined later, with the purpose of making both the light and fog signals there equal to the best in the world.

"Second—Umatilla reef light. The same provisions as regards the lightship at Umatilla reef as have been enumerated for Tatoosh island.

"Third—A lightship to be established on Forty Fathom bank, at the entrance to the strait, with a light of the first order, and corresponding fog signals. The question of this light to be taken up in connection with the Canadian government.

"Fourth—A first class, life saving ocean-going steamer or tug, officered and manned by the most skillful life saving men available, to be stationed at Neah bay, with the best possible appliances of surf and lifeboats, equipped with the wireless telergaph apparatus, and also a launch tender. In conjunction with this there should be a telegraph and telephone line skirting the coast from the life saving station at Grays harbor through Tatoosh to Neah bay, and then to the nearest town on Puget sound. The said line of wire to run along a practicable foot trail, to be kept open continuously and marked at frequent intervals by sign boards indicating locality and direction; also intermediate telegraph and telephone huts along the said line of wire at intervals of a few miles.

Wireless System.

"Fifth—A system of wireless stations has already been thoroughly planned by the navy department, including stations at Tatoosh ilsand, Point Wilson and Point Partridge, Seattle and at the Puget Sound navy yard, and down the Pacific coast to San Diego. The commission urges the immediate installation of this entire system, with special emphasis on the specific points above named.

"Sixth—The question of the recommendation of the establishment of a new lighthouse district is under consideration by the comimssion, such district to be composed of part of the Thirteenth district, but the exact limits and headquarters thereof to be determined later.

"Seventh—The commission also has under consideration the question of recommending the establishment of additional lighthouses on the above named stretch of coast, from Grays harbor to Cape Flattery.

"Eighth—In the matter of the details of lights, fog signals, etc., the commission has considered various appliances, to-wit: Vertical electric beams, submerged bells, and other methods of fog signals, and, while these matters are highly technical in their nature, the commission will probably feel it deisrable to make some suggestions later thereon."

N. P. Branch Announced.

Seattle, March 7.—C. M. Levey, third vice president of the Northern Pacific, who is in charge of the construction work of the company in this section, has made public announcement of the fact that the Northern Pacific would, as soon as possible, build a branch line from Pasco to a point opposite Riparia, on the Snake river, to connect with the Riparia and Lewiston line, tapping the rich region of the Camas Prairie and Nez Perce reservation in Idaho.

No Bid for Zafiro.

Washington, March 5.—No bids have been received at the navy department for the steel 1,000-ton steamer Zafiro, although it has been advertised for sale for six weeks past. The vessel was appraised at $27,000.

Timber and Stone Repeal Tabled.

Washington, March 5.—The house committee on public lands has voted to lay on the table the bill for the repeal of the timber and stone act.

BOISE IS ALARMED

THEFT OF DYNAMITE STIRS UP IDAHO CAPITOL.

Gov. Gooding Has a Hundred Armed Guards Placed Throughout the City—Men Surround Homes of Officials Who Have Recently Received Threatening Letters.

Portland, March 5.—The Oregonian's correspondent at Boise, Idaho, says:

"On the heels of Steve Adams' confession comes the news that between 600 and 800 pounds of dynamite and dynamite caps have been stolen from the various powder houses located in the hills northeast of the city.

"Last night employes of a hardware company found upon going to their powder house just beyond the Boise barracks that about 400 pounds of dynamite and caps had been stolen from their powder house. The news that the powder house had been robbed spread like wildfire over the city, and the officials and men about town who were discussing the confession of Adams turned their minds from this subject. With the same prompt action which characterized his movements in the assassination of ex-Gov. Steunenberg, Gov. Gooding immediately had a hundred or more guards thrown over the city, and especially around the penitentiary.

Inner Circle Letter.

"These guards were placed because almost all of the men whose names have been mentioned in connection with the prosecution of the officers of the Western Federation of Miners had received threatening letters signed 'Kneebone,' a name alleged to have been adopted by the inner circle to strike terror to those whom they wish to frighten. Armed men were also placed around the homes of Gov. Gooding, Special Prosecutor James H. Hawley, W. E. Dorah and a number of others.

"The receipt of threatening letters and even the theft of dynaimte has not frightened Gov. Gooding and the men who are aiding him in the prosecution, the guards being placed not because of fear, but as a precaution.

"The excitement attending the discovery of the theft mentioned was hardly passing away when it became known that all the other powder magazines back in the hills had been broken into. In all there are about half a dozen magazines situated in the hills beyond Boise, and while the authorities will not adimt it, they have all been entered and powder stolen.

Took High Explosives.

"The circumstances surrounding the dynamite thefts are being closely guarded, as are the alleged confessions of Orchard and Adams. It seems, however, that when the first robbery had been committed guards were sent out to see if the others had been molested. They were found to be all right, and the fact that they were later found broken into shows that the job was done after daylight.

"The theft of blasting powder at this time of year is not uncommon, it is said by dealers in explosives. Miners, it is stated, who are without means, make it a business to steal what powder they want. Usually, however, the dynamite stolen is the grade known as 'No. 2.' This time it is 'No. 1' which was taken. A citizen here who is familiar with explosives is confident that had it been miners who stole the explosives they would have taken 'No. 2,' because all miners know that this is the less dangerous of the two. 'No. 1' contains about 75 per cent of nitro glycerine, while 'No. 2' only contains about 40 per cent.

"Since it became known that the dynamite was stolen detectives have been hard at work trying to discover the thieves. With the strict guard which has been posted about the penitentiary it will be practically impossible for a dynamite outrage to be attempted there. It was rumored about the streets here during the afternoon that evidence of an attempt to blow up the penitentiary had been found on the walls of the prison, but this was emphatically denied by Warden Whitney and Gov. Gooding."

LAST OF OLD COMMANDERS.

Lieutenant General Schofield Dies at St. Augustine.

St. Augustine, Fla., March 7.—The body of Lieut. Gen. John M. Schofield, U. S. A., retired, who died Sunday night, has been shipped to Washington for burial.

Gen. Schofield was secretary of war during 1868-69 and his career was marked by a continuous service in the army from the time he entered West Point until he retired September 29, 1895, with the rank of lieutenant general, the highest military honor permitted by law of congress.

During the war, after commanding in Arkansas and in the army of the Cumberland, he was assigned by request of Gen. Grant to the command of the army of the Ohio, forming the left wing of Gen. Sherman's army in Georgia. With this force he took part in all the battles of the entire Atlanta campaign. At the time of his death Gen. Schofield was the only living soldier who occupied a very high position of command in the civil war.

He was 74 years of age.
