TO BRIDGE THE GULCHES

Effort to Be Made to Clear the Way so that Commissioners May Act.

Under a resolution presented to the Council by Councilman Hallahan, and adopted, City Attorney Smith has been directed to take the necessary steps to request and if necessary compel the County Commissioners to construct bridges across Valley and Tumwater gulches. The resolution states that since the incorporation of the City the county has colleeted from the city tax payers for the construction, maintenance and repair of bridges about $60,000.00; that they have never expended any money in construction or repair of any bridges within the limits of the city, although "the necessity for at least two bridges has been felt by the tax payers of both the city and county to connect the east and west ends of said county;" that owing to the tax city has paid to build bridges all over the county and the further fact that city is now taxed to the limit permitted by law, it cannot undertake to build bridges; that grade in leaving business section of city is 25 per cent to the west and crosses private property, and grade east 15 per cent; that in law and equity, we are advised by the city attorney and other able lawyers all over the state, the county commissioners are obliged to construct bridges necessary to facilitate travel to and from both ends of county.

City engineer E. R. Gehrke's report on cost of opening a 24 foot roadway up Tumwater Hill gives the grade at about 8½ per cent; the total amount of earth to be removed 21,043 cubic yards, costing $6,312.90; cost of trestle including bridges from 2nd to 3rd $1,230, or with piles instead of mud sills $1,660; cribbing on Tumwater and 3rd $50. As a supplemental report he suggested a roadway on Tumwater from 2nd to 3rd, estimate for which was included in above at $1,660; cut through hill from 3rd to 4th $300; cut down brow of hill on 4th to make approximately a 11 or 12 per cent grade from Tumwater to A, $500. Report referred to street committee.

Petition was presented from owners of property abutting on Laurel street, asking to have said street graded from Railroad avenue to Boulevard by cutting through the bluff at First and back as far as a convenient grade can be made by a cut and fill below said point on Laurel, and asking that the same be effected by the establishment of an improvement district and the issue of bonds for payment of same, under the law allowing bonds to issue in such cases. Signed by Thos. T. Aldwell, C. E. Cushing, Laurel Land Co. by Lewis Levy, D. W. Morse, C. W. Thompson, A. H. Thompson, S. E. Stakemiller, E. A. FitzHenry, M. A. Cain, James Fitzgerald, F. F. Miller and W. T. Polhamus. Referred to city attorney and street committee.

Street committee recommended expenditure of $60 on C street from 7th to Boulevard and $30 on streets with road grader. Adopted.

Petition for renewal of licenses at Commercial Hotel and Miller's granted.

Unsafe condition of foot bridge on 6th between Chase and Peabody referred for report.

Bills allowed: Chas. Buchanan fire service $3; wood $49.50. New bills: Engineer $110; wood $29.25; streets $170.40.

MANHATTAN PACKING PLANT IS SOLD

New Owners Said to Intend Increasing Capacity Before Making Fall Pack.

The plant of the Manhattan Packing Co. has been sold to Gorman Bros. & Co., a large packing concern, Messrs. Farmer and Delabarre having gone to Seattle Monday for the purpose of completing the sale. Gorman Bros. & Co. own salmon canneries at Anacortes and on the Columbia; they acquired the Angeles cannery particularly because of its favorable situation with respect to the fall run of fish. The Manhattan Co. had its pack of 1906 contracted for and all arrangements made for the season's business; it is understood the new owners will engage upon operations on a more extensive scale, enlarging the plant and increasing the pack.

Mr. Farmer does not intend to withdraw from this field of endeavor, but in disposing of this industry which he has built up to a solid and dividend-paying institution, has but cleared the to give wider scope to his energies.

New Advertising Design

The new design, showing Angeles harbor, townsite, and Olympics, and intended for use upon the stationery of the business men of the city, is a beauty and elicits admiration from all who see it. The idea, being something after the general style of the large painting in the County Treasurer's office, has been evolved by Mr. FitzHenry, as special committee of the Boosters Club for the purpose, and the drawings made by Mr. Lehman. It will bear the Club motto.

Bovee Potatoes

TEN ACRE BLOCKS RE-APPRAISED

Entire Washington Delegation Has Promised to Aid in Passing Bill for Relief.

At a called meeting of citizens with the Boosters Club held at the city hall Thursday evening, for the purpose of selecting two representatives to be appointed by the Secretary of the Interior on the special board to re-appraise the acreage in the western part of the townsite, Deputy Collector Aldwell was nominated by Wm. Ritchie and County Clerk FitzHenry by Mayor Appleton, both nominations being unanimously approved. Addresses were made by a number of those present as to the best method of preventing the acreage from falling into the hands of speculators, and steps will be taken to that end.

This matter of re-appraisement, which the Boosters Club committee, appointed last November, has been engaged upon, obtaining facts as to amount of acreage in each block, their appraised valuation and their comparative value, considering quality of soil and cost of clearing, and ascertaining that an act of Congress would be necessary to secure a re-appraisement, was brought to a focus about March 1st, when the state's representatives and senators were applied to for assistance and the data laid before them. A portion of the correspondence is published herewith.

No small degree of credit is due Sec'y Aldwell and Mr. FitzHenry for their efforts to get this large tract on the tax rolls, and into the hands of the dairy farmer and fruit raiser.

Word was received today that the Cushman bill had been favorably reported to the House.

House of Representatives,
March 22, 1906.

Hon. J. Lloyd Aldwell,
Port Angeles, Wn.

Dear Aldwell: — I have introduced the bill providing for the appointment of three men by the Secretary of the Interior, whose duty it shall be to re-appraise the ten acre suburban tracts lying on the west of Port Angeles

READY FOR THE MACHINERY

Cold Storage Plant Rapidly Nearing Completion and Machinery Bought.

D. W. Craig and Superintendent Carlisle have been up-sound this week purchasing the new machinery required for the improved facilities at the Craig Fish Products Plant. Equipment for a third rail electric road along the wharf and into the various buildings was ordered; also a hoisting engine and another engine for the McKinley. A complete electric plant will be put in and the buildings and grounds thus lighted. The new building for cold storage purposes will be completed in a week or ten days, some interior work yet remaining. Ice plant machinery has been ordered some time and is expected early in April.

WRANGEL WIPED OUT

ALASKA TOWN ALMOST COMPLETELY DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Citizens of the Town Left Destitute and Appeal Is Made for Help—Steamer Al-ki Carries Temporary Relief from Juneau.

Juneau, March 27.—The town of Wrangel was almost completely destroyed by fire late Saturday after noon and evening. A tug arrived at this place yesterday bringing the news and an appeal to the coast cities for assistance for those left destitute of food and shelter.

The fire started in the second story of the Pioneer hotel. Only the government buildings, one dock and a store are left standing.

While the fire was under way Indians ransacked the buildings, stealing large quantities of goods. An armed party is now in pursuit.

The Carlyon store carried $10,000 insurance. The other buildings are a total loss. Many houses were dynamited by the fire fighters in a vain attempt to head off the flames.

Thirty-eight houses, that composed the town's residential district, were burned to the ground. Wrangel has a population of 400 persons, half of whom are Indians. The town has no waterworks and no fire fighting apparatus and was at the mercy of the blaze. The total loss is at least $100,000.

The following were burned out: Carlyon, Sinclair, Patenaude, Milligan stores and the Haley saloon, owned by Grant Hughes, and the two drug stores of Wheeler & Hughes, the Wrangel and Pioneer hotels, the postoffice, the Sentinel newspaper office, the Olympic restaurant, the Sylvester estate buildings, the wharf warehouse, owned by Robert Reid, the residences of Messrs. Warden, Fletcher, Coulter, Weber, Loftus, Lamue, Barnes, Campbell and many others.

The fire was stopped at the St. Michaels Trading Company's store, which was saved, and at the Cassair saloon on the opposite side of the street.

STEAMER AL-KI CARRIES PROVISIONS FROM JUNEAU

Seattle, March 27.—Officers of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company yesterday received a cable dispatch from Juneau stating that Wrangel had been practically wiped out by fire and that the citizens of Juneau had raised about twenty tons of provisions. The message also requested the company to allow the steamer Al-Ki, which was then in the harbor of Juneau, to transport the clothing and provisions free.

The company at once authorized the master of the vessel to take all the stuff which was being sent. It is also probable that the company will also donate some provisions and other articles which are required in the stricken town.

The message received by the company failed to give any details as to what was being sent by the citizens of Juneau, but officers of the company presume that it is mostly food.

The Al-Ki is due to reach Wrangel this morning. It is also probable that she will bring down some of the people who have been burned out.

CHINESE REVOLUTIONISTS PLANNING AN ATTACK

Victoria B. C., March 28.—Advices were received from China by the Empress of Japan yesterday that revolutionaries are planning an anti-dynastic coup at Peking. A dispatch to the Tokyo Hochi says many revolutionaries are congregating, and recently, it is learned, caravans of arms and ammunition purchased from Belgians at Tientsin, have been conveyed to Mongolia.

The finding of a parcel of bombs by gendarmes at the Peking railway station has again caused consternation to the court, and the forces of newly organized foreign model Manchu troops in Peking have been trebled and artillery mounted in the palace precincts. The military preparations caused alarmist reports and Peking was for a time panic stricken.

The Kokumin, official organ of the Japanese government, publishes a significant article stating that America is over nervous concerning the situation in China. The Kokumin thinks there will be no serious national disturbances, although local outbreaks may occur, and says Japan stands with America in all respects regarding China.

The Tokyo paper refutes allegations that Japanese are engendering anti-foreign feeling in China and says: "Intelligent Americans will not entertain such a mistaken idea."

To Regulate Log Rafts.

Washington, March 28.—A bill has been introduced by Senator Piles authorizing the secretary of commerce and labor to fix the size of log rafts to be towed in coast and inland waters. It provides that licensed masters and pilots shall forfeit their licenses for violating the law.

BERING TUNNEL PROJECT.

Opposition of Russian Bureaucracy Said to Be Breaking Down.

St. Petersburg, March 26—The sympathy of Emperor Nicholas, Premier Witte and other mebmers of the ministry, as well as powerful influences at court, have been enlisted by Baron Lobel in the project of the American-Transalaskan-Siberian Company for the construction of a tunnel under Bering strait from East cape to Kansk and three thousand miles of railroad to connect it with the Siberian railroad, and the opposition of a portion of the bureaucracy which fought the scheme bitterly because the negotiations were conducted over their heads is breaking down. The outlook for a favorable decision is now bright.

In addition to the benefits which will accrue to the nation by the development of the resources of the waste of Northeast Siberia, the imperial family owns an immense extent of land which will be benefitted.

The national defense committee also considers the project essential from a strategic point of view, and, more important still, there is in the higher government spheres a distinct disposition to cultivate the United States as Russia's natural ally in the far East.

It is believed that by interesting Americans materially in Siberia the political ties between the two countries will be strengthened. A statement to this effect has been submittedby Foreing Minister Lamsdorff to the commission under the presidency of Zeigler Von Shaffhausen, minister of ways and communications.

SUNNYSIDE AND TIETON FORMALLY APPROVED

Washington, March 28.—Mr. Ryan, acting secretary of the interior, yesterday affixed his signature to an order finally approving the Sunnyside and Tieton irrigation projects. Thus nearly four years after the enactment of the reclamation law the struggle for irrigation in the state of Washington was brought to a close.

So far as anybody can perceive there no longer exists any excuse for delay in carrying out the Washington projects.

Specifications for the construction of works in the Okanogan project are already in preparation. A lot of surveying and minor topographical work must be done in the Yakima valley, but this ought to be completed during the summer, and there would be cause for complaint if the reclamation service is not ready late in the present year to advertise for construction contracts in that valley.

The concluding act performed by Assistant Secretary Ryan yesterday consisted simply in approving a legal opinion written by the assistant attorney general, declaring that all the conditions imposed by the secretary of the interior at the time the funds for Washington irrigation were set aside had been complied with. The department will, before the end of the week, close the deal for the purchase of the Washington Irrigation Company, the proposition of sale peing approved yesterday.

Representative Jones, who had been by common consent the leader of the state delegation in matters relating to irrigation, is much pleased over the final outcome.

"The people of the Yakima valley are to be congratulated," he said, "not only upon the inauguration of this great work, but upon the amicable adjutsment of a multitude of existing water claims.

"Every water right is definite, certain and perpetual. I venture the assertion that the projects in our state will come nearer to vindicating the wisdom and beneficence of the reclamation act than any others approved and undertaken by the government."

WASHINGTON COAL OUTPUT FOR 1905

Seattle, March 26.—State Mine Inspector D. C. Botting, of Black Diamond, has prepared his report for the year 1905, as far as the mines have handed in their reports to him. The report, while incomplete, is approximately full, since almost all of the mines have given their output, only five out of the thirty-eight failing to report, and these the smaller mines.

The figures show the total production for the year to have been 2,818,045 tons. The total number of employes was 4,912, of whom 4,055 worked inside and 857 outside.

Only five counties of the state produce coal in any considerable quantities—Kittitas, King, Pierce, Thurston and Lewis. Kittitas, the home of the big Roslyn and Cle Elum mines, leads with a production of 1,379,636 tons, while King, with the Black Diamond, Renton and Ravensdale mines, is second, with 1 083,785 tons. Commenting on his report Mr. Botting says: "I believe that this output could be increased to 5,000,000 tons by the mines already in operation."

Hawthorne Manuscripts Damaged.

New York, March 28.—A score of original manuscripts of famous works of Nathaniel Hawthorne were damaged by a fire which destroyed the home of his son, Julian Hawthorne, in Yonkers. Several of the manuscripts were destroyed and others were badly damaged by water. Among the manuscripts which were damaged were those of "The Scarlet Letter," "The Blythedale Romance," "The Marble Faun," "Twice Told Tales" and Septimus Felton."

NAVY IS CRITICIZED

HEPBURN SAYS DISCIPLINE IS FAR FROM GOOD.

House Passes Bill for Graduated Penalty for Hazing—Discussion Brings Out Some Severe Comment on Blunders of Officers of the Navy.

Washington, March 26.—Hazing at the Annapolis naval academy was dealt with by the house Saturday in the passage of a senate bill with a house substitute. The action was taken after a protracted debate, which placed on record the impressions of the special committee which investigated the subject recently and a severe criticism by Hepburn of efforts to condone hazing. Several amendments were proposed, but all were rejected save one, it being made the duty of cadet officers, as well as other academy authorities, to report infractions of the rules. The bill repeals that portion of existing laws which makes it compulsory to dismiss midshipmen guilty of hazing in any degree, and substitutes punishment according to the nature of the offense. Cruel and brutal haizng may be punished by dismissal.

Present Penalties Too Severe.

The hazing question came up on the motion to pass the senate bill. Rixey, of Virginia, proposed a substitute, and Vreeland, of New York, chairman of the special committee on hazing, took the floor to detail his impressions referring to the inquiry.

Vreeland condemned the present hazing law, which left no discretion but to dismiss a boy for hazing, when ten demerits might be a sufficient punishment for the particular offense.

W. W. Kitchin, who made a minority report of the bill, explained his views. The measure, he contended, was too great a modification of the present lattw in the direction of leniency. It would, he said, greatly encoruage hazing.

Bad Discipline in Navy.

Smith, of Iowa, made the observation that if political interference with the naval and military academies should cease, the officers in charge could absolutely abolish hazing.

A speech by Hepbuurn, of Iowa, was a severe criticism of what he said was a perversion of the real object of the training. These cadets were being prepared at the expense of the nation to command the ships of the navy. They were, as a matter of fact, living in constant and open rebellion against a plain law of the land with which they were more familiar than any other. The result of such a course of training, he said, was shown by the inefficiency of naval officers. He called attention to a list of twenty-five ships which had met disaster by bad navigation, and added a reference to the recent mixup in New York harbor. Yet, he said, there was no punishment ever inflicted on a naval officer. They were tried by their friends and former classmates.

Big Brewers Now at War.

San Francisco, March 28.—Seattle, Tacoma and Portland brewers, with the reoorted backing of J. J. Hill, have begun a finish fight against the local beer combine. Northern breweries are shipping 50,000 barrels of beer here annually and expect to double that output. Owing to the increasing demand for northern beer, the northerners have offered special inducements to saloonkeepers to handle their goods. As a result the sales of local breweries have fallen off and they propose to retaliate by flooding northern cities with San Francisco beer, in the hope of forcing thier rivals to withdraw fbom the local field.

Bounties for Ground Squirrels.

Spokane, March 28.—Ground squirrels have appeared in the Palouse country in unprecedented numbers. The rodents are in millions, and many times more numerous than ever before. Wheat growers are greatly alarmed lest the hordes of squirrels work incalculable damage to crops. The grange has taken the matter up and plans are maturing for a united effort to exterminate the animals. Farmers are setting out large quantities of poisoned wheat, some supply free ammunition to all who will shoot squirrels and others offer bounties of from 1 to 5 cents each for squirrel tails.

Loop Line to Mines.

Vancouver, Wash., March 26.—The loop line between Vancouver and the St. Helens mines will be built and active construction work will begin within less than three months. As soon as the surveyors have definitely located the line two large gangs of men will be set to work, one starting the grading at Vancouver and the other at St. Helens. Much of the right of way has been given to the company by the farmers, who are enthusiastic over the proposed electric line and willing in every way they can to help it along.

Large Reserve of Coal for Strike.

New York, March 26.—The anthracite mine operators have on hand within a radius of less than 100 miles of New York city a reserve supply of more than 9,000,000 tons of good, marketable grades of anthracite coal. This is in addition to the supply held by the dealers and large consumers. The operators declare that, should a strike come, there will be no inconvenience such as attended the disturbances in the anthracite region in 1902.

EMBODY PRINTING REFORMS.

Congressman Landis Introduces Resolutions Aimed at Glaring Abuses.

Washington, March 26.—Two joint resolutions designed to correct some of the most "glaring abuses and iniquities" in the present system of public printing and binding have been introdcued by Representative Landis, of Indiana, and were accompanied by a preliminary report of the printing investigating committee explaining the necessity for immediate reforms.

One resolution provides that public documents and reports printed for congress may be issued in numerous editions, instead of one edition, as is the case at present, and authorizes the joint committee on printing to establish rules and regulations from time to time for the guidance of the public printer. This resolution, the report says, is necessary to cure the extravagant printing of documents which are never distributed.

The second resolution introduced by Mr. Landis provides a complete change in the allotment of the expenditures for printing and binding, with a view to making the heads of departments responsible. In the last fiscal year the appropriation for printing and binding for congress and the executive departments was $6,081,395. Of this sum, $2,745,750 was allotted to the departments and $3,345,645 to congress.

Under this statement congress stands charged with more money for printing than was expended in all government departments and independent offices. The report states that this showing is absolutely erroneous and conceals one of the chief causes of department extravagance in printing. Under the present rules, all reports to congress by the executive departments and bureaus are printed as congressional documents are charged to the allotment of printing and binding for congress.

To cure this, Mr. Landis' resolution provides that the congressional allotment for printing and binding shall only be charged with its pro rata share of the expense of the department publications, based on the number of copies actually furnished to congress for distribution. The resolution also provides that all department heads shall get an estimate from the public printer each year of the probable cost of the documents they will require and that the amount needed shall be specificallfy set aside.

S. A. D. PUTER CAPTURED IN BOSTON, BUT ESCAPES

Boston, March 27.—Stephen A. D. Puter, of San Francisco, who is wanted by the United States government as a witness in the land fraud cases in Oregon, was arrested here last night by Secret Service Officer W. B. Burns, of Washington, D. C., but after being in custody less than half an hour Puter drew a revolver and succeeded in escaping.

Portland, Or., March 27.—S. A. D. Puter, who was arrested at Boston yesterday and subsequently escaped from custody, is under conviction in the United States courts for having conspired with others to defraud the United States of part of the public domain by securing fraudulent entrymen to timber lands. Puter was convicted on December 6, 1904, but it was understood that the government secured a confession from him which was instrumental in the securing of evidence which led to the indictment of the late United States Senator John H. Mitchell, and by reason of that fact the government had not pressed the matter of his being sentenced.

Puter frequented this city for several months after his conviction until some time last fall when the wholesale forgeries of state school land certificates were discovered at Salem, when he disappeared.

Senator Piles Introduces Bill to Investigate Claims.

Washington, March 28.—After a consultation with the officials of the department of justice, Senator Piles introduced a bill authorizing the attorney general to apoint a commissioner to investigate the defalcation of Cashier Adams of the Seattle assay office. He is to take testimony and determine the amount due each claimant and submit his findings to the attorney general within six months after commencing work.

The findings of the commissioner as to the amount due each claimant is to be binding on all claimants. When the report is received Senator Piles will take steps necessary to have congress enact legislation to settle the claims in full, providing the proceeds of Adams' estate are not sufficient for that purpose.

Chinese as Strike Breakers.

New Orleans, March 26.—One hundred Chinese, huddled in a Southern Pacific car, passed through New Orleans on their way from California to ainsboro, Fla., to take the places of the striking men in the turpentine fields. They are to receive 80 cents a day, while the strikers asked $1.50 and $2. The strike is over a reduction of wages. This is the first importation of Chinese to the South as strikebreakers.

Hoggatt Nomination Confirmed.

Washington, March 24.—The nomination of W. B. Hoggatt to be governor of Alaska has been confirmed by the senate without opposition. The secretary of the interior has received a telergam from Mr. Hoggatt saying that he will arrive here March 27.

The World a Stage.

All the world's a stage,
And all the men and women merely players;
They have their exits and their entrances;
And one man in his time plays many parts,
His acts being seven ages. At first, the infant,
Mewling and puking in the nurse's arms;
And then the whining schoolboy, with his satchel,
And shining morning face, creeping like snail
Unwillingly to school; and then, the lover,
Sighing like a furnace, with a woful ballad
Made to his mistress' eyebrow. Then a soldier,
Full of strange oaths and bearded like the pard,
Jealous in honor, sudden and quick in quarrel,
Seeking the bubble reputation
Even in the cannon's mouth. And then, the justice,
In fair round belly, with good capon lin'd,
With eyes severe and beard of formal cut,
Full of wise saws and modern instances,
And so he plays his part. The sixth age shifts
Into the lean and slipper'd pantaloon;
With spectacles on nose and pouch on side;
His youthful hose, well sav'd, a world too wide
For his shrunk shank, and his big manly voice,
Turning again toward childish treble, pipes
And whistles in his sound. Last scene of all,
That ends this strange eventful history,
Is second childishness and mere oblivion;
Sans teeth, sans eyes, sans taste, sans everything.

—William Shakspeare.

Watchman, Tell Us of the Night.

Watchman, tell us of the night—
What its signs of promise are!
Traveler, o'er yon mountain's height
See that glory-beaming star!
Watchman, does its beauteous ray
Aught of hope or joy foretell?
Traveler, yes; it brings the day—
Promised day of Israel.

Watchman, tell us of the night—
Higher yet that star ascends!
Traveler, blessedness and light,
Peace and truth, its course portends.
Watchman, will its beams alone
Gild the spot that gave them birth?
Traveler, ages are its own—
See, it bursts o'er all the earth!

Watchman, tell us of the night,
For the morning seems to dawn.
Traveler, darkness takes its flight—
Doubt and terror are withdrawn.
Watchman, let thy wondering cease;
Hie thee to thy quiet home.
Traveler, lo! the Prince of Peace—
Lo! the Son of God, is come.

—Sir John Bowring.

HABITS OF THE RABBIT.

Bunny Does His Moving About at Night—Out of Sight in Daylight.

One morning after a light fall of snow, during my walk through the fields and woods, I saw a rabbit track and a mink track together, says John Burroughs in Outing. I followed the trail to see what had happened. I had not gone far when I discovered tufts of rabbit fur upon the snow; a few yards farther and there were drops of blood, the rabbit's leaps growing shorter and shorter, and in a few moments I came upon the half-devoured body of the rabbit lying in the open. That the mink had run the rabbit down and caught it was as plain as the snow record could be. There was no hiding under the snow by the mink and not the least evidence that the rabbit had been surprised. Rabbits see behind them quite as readily as before, and no animal could steal upon a moving rabbit at night and not be seen.

And rabbits are always moving at night. It is a nocturnal animal. It does not sit in its form at night to be stalked by its enemies or to be taken by any sapping and mining process. In daylight a weasel might steal upon it and seize it in its form, but not by night. In my part of the country the rabbit runs to hole in the winter and passes the day there. The boys catch it with ferrets. The minks and weasels catch it in its hole also. My hired man, who is an old hunter, tells me he once saw upon the snow where a mink had brought a rabbit out of a hole and carried him a long distance to his den. He followed the trail and saw by the imprint upon the snow that every little while the mink had to lay down his burden and rest.

Don't Wait for Map.

About 100 years more will be required to complete the work of making a topographical map of the country, which was begun by the United States government in 1882. This work is being carried on in co-operation with the States, New York, for example, having appropriated annually $20,000 to $25,000 as its share. There has never been a topographical map of the United States published other than rough sketches.

RHEUMATISM ## CAN NOT BE RUBBED AWAY

When the joints are sore and swollen, and the muscles throbbing with the pain of Rheumatism, relief must be had at once, and it is natural to rub the affected parts with liniments, oils, etc. This treatment does good in a way, by temporarily relieving the pain and reducing the inflammation, but has no effect on the disease itself, because Rheumatism is more than skin deep; it is in the blood and cannot be rubbed away. Rheumatism is brought on by indigestion, weak kidneys, poor bowel action, stomach troubles and a general sluggish condition of the system. The refuse and waste matters, which should be carried off through the natural avenues of bodily waste, are left to sour and form uric acid and other irritating poisons which are absorbed by the blood, making it thin, weak and acrid. Then instead of nourishing the different nerves, muscles, joints and tissues it fills them with poison to produce the aches, pains and other disagreeable symptoms of the disease. Rheumatism is usually worse in Winter for the reason that cold and dampness are exciting causes. The nerves become excited and sting with pain, the muscles are sore and drawn, the joints swollen and stiff and the sufferer lives in intense agony; and if the disease is not checked it often leaves its victims helpless cripples for life. Rheumatism cannot be rubbed away but it can be driven from the blood by S. S. S. Being a perfect blood purifier this great remedy soon produces a complete change in the entire circulation; the thin, acrid blood is made pure and rich, and as it goes through the body nourishes and soothes the irritated nerves, eases the throbbing muscles, and dissolves and carries out of the system the irritating particles in the joints which are keeping up the pain and inflammation. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism permanently, and in addition tones up the digestion and stimulates the different members of the body to their full duty so there is no cause for another attack. Do not waste time trying to rub Rheumatism away, but get it out of the blood with S. S. S. so that the cold and dampness of Winter will not keep you in continual pain and agony. Special book on Rheumatism and any medical advice will be given free.

While at work for the F. C. & P. R. R. in the swampy region, I contracted Rheumatism and was completely helpless for about four months and spent over $150.00 with doctors, but got worse every day, and finally quit them and began S. S. S. I took a few bottles and was cured sound and well. My health is now splendid, and I weigh 175 pounds. There is a lady living near me who is now taking S. S. S. for acute Rheumatism. For two months she could not turn herself in bed, but since beginning your medicine about three weeks ago has improved rapidly, and is now able to sit up. I can recommend S. S. S. to all suffering from Rheumatism.
Ulah, N. C. S. C. LASSITER.

I was severely troubled with Rheumatism. I had it in my knees, legs and ankles, and any one who has ever had Rheumatism knows how excruciating the pain is and how it interferes with one at work. I was truly in bad shape having been bothered with it for ten years, off and on. A local physician advised me to use S. S. S. I did so. After taking two bottles I noticed the soreness and pain were greatly reduced. I continued the medicine and was thoroughly cured; all pain, soreness and inflammation gone. I recommend S. S. S. to all Rheumatic sufferers.

Apple Butter.

Cover peeled and sliced apples with cider and cook, stirring often to prevent scorching. When boiled soft, lift out the apples with a perforated ladle. Put more apples into the cider and boil in the same way. Repeat this until the cider is too much reduced in quantity to cover any more apples, then put all over the fire together and boil down to one-half the original quantity. Spice to taste and keep in stone jars.

Head Cheese.

Boil the pig's head, ears and tongue together in salted water. When very tender, strip the meat from the bones and chop it fine. Season with salt, pepper, sage, sweet marjoram, a little powdered cloves and a gill of strong vinegar. Mix all well, pack in molds, inserting bits of tongue cut in fanciful shapes, such as squares or triangles. Press hard, put a plate on the top of each mold, and a heavy weight on top of that. Stand in a cold place for at least two days before turning out of the molds and using.

WHAT JOY THEY BRING TO EVERY HOME

as with joyous hearts and smiling faces they romp and play—when in health—and how conducive to health the games in which they indulge, the outdoor life they enjoy, the cleanly, regular habits they should be taught to form and the wholesome diet of which they should partake. How tenderly their health should be preserved, not by constant medication, but by careful avoidance of every medicine of an injurious or objectionable nature and if at any time a remedial agent is required, to assist nature, only those of known excellence should be used; remedies which are pure and wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, like the pleasant laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. Syrup of Figs has come into general favor in many millions of well informed families, whose estimate of its quality and excellence is based upon personal knowledge and use.

Syrup of Figs has also met with the approval of physicians generally, because they know it is wholesome, simple and gentle in its action. We inform all reputable physicians as to the medicinal principles of Syrup of Figs, obtained, by an original method, from certain plants known to them to act most beneficially and presented in an agreeable syrup in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to promote the pleasant taste; therefore it is not a secret remedy and hence we are free to refer to all well informed physicians, who do not approve of patent medicines and never favor indiscriminate self-medication.

Please to remember and teach your children also that the genuine Syrup of Figs always has the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package and that it is for sale in bottles of one size only. If any dealer offers any other than the regular Fifty cent size, or having printed thereon the name of any other company, do not accept it. If you fail to get the genuine you will not get its beneficial effects. Every family should always have a bottle on hand, as it is equally beneficial for the parents and the children, whenever a laxative remedy is required.

A Trite Saying.

It is a trite saying that no man is stronger than his stomach. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach—puts it in shape to make pure, rich blood—helps the liver and kidneys to expel the poisons from the body and thus cures both liver and kidney troubles. If you take this natural blood purifier and tonic, you will assist your system in manufacturing each day a pint of rich, red blood, that is invigorating to the brain and nerves. The weak, nervous, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people suffer from, is usually the effect of poisons in the blood; it is often indicated by pimples or boils appearing on the skin, the face becomes thin and the feelings "blue." Dr. Pierce's "Discovery" cures all blood humors as well as being a tonic that makes one vigorous, strong and forceful. It is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes that contains neither alcohol nor harmful habit-forming drugs, and the only one, every ingredient of which has the professional endorsement of the leading medical writers of this country. Some of these endorsements are published in a little book of extracts from standard medical works and will be sent to any address free, on receipt of request therefor by letter or postal card, addressed to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. It tells just what Dr. Pierce's medicines are made of.

The "Words of Praise" for the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed, by leaders in all the several schools of medical practice, and recommending them for the cure of the diseases for which the "Golden Medical Discovery" is advised, should have far more weight with the sick and afflicted than any amount of the so-called "testimonials" so conspicuously flaunted before the public by those who are afraid to let the ingredients of which their medicines are composed be known. Bear in mind that the "Golden Medical Discovery" has THE BADGE OF HONESTY on every bottle wrapper, in a full list of its ingredients.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, invigorate the liver and regulate stomach and bowels.

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 31 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

SEGUIN NOTES.

E. T. Huff and family left for their future home in B. C. Friday last. In the passing out of Mr, Huff Seguin loses one of its most energetic and progressive citizens, which is shown by the fact that he came to Seguin almost penniless and after residing here but a few years leaves with a comfortable fortune. May success continue to be with them.

Jens Bugge has taken charge of the Seguin post office pending the confirmation of J. B. Knapman's appointment.

George Sophie lost a child seven years old on Wednesday last.

J. L. Keeler and wife have the distinction of bringing in the first string of fine trout of the season. (Wonder where they bought them.)

Mark Gibson has bought the herd of milch cows of Mr. Hamilton.

The summer weather still continues and everything is growing nicely.

Jense Bugge took charge of the Seguin store, formerly conducted by E. T. Huff, on April 1st.

Herman Sindars is putting in about twenty acres of potatoes on the old Henderson place, occupied by J. L. Keeler.

Wanted, a good milker. Apply to Joe Kierner.

Farmer Roy Grant is busy plowing and picking rocks. He says the rock picking is a snap as he does not have to move to fill his wagon.

Good barley hay for sale. H. F. Sindars, Ind. phone.

Messrs. Humes & Burrowes have bought a fine timber claim on Johnson Creek and will log it off this summer.

The extensions recently finished by the Independent Telephone Co.'s crew will bring in about twenty new subscribers.

The road crew's work on the prairie resulted in a general overhauling; it is now good bicycling to Dungeness.

The party who repaired (?) the Happy Valley road should be compelled to remove the pile of debris with which he has made the road dangerous. Such work is merely burning up the county money. We have no complaint to make about the work done by the road supervisor and crew; it is all very good, but some of his sub-contractors should be investigated before they are paid.

Fine Burbank potatoes for sale by J. L. Keeler.

George Hansen, a nephew of A. O. Nelson, arrived in Seguin from Denmark Thursday last.

Prune Your Trees Now!

If you haven't the time to do it yourself, or don't know just how to go at it, I should be pleased to do it for you. I know how to prune trees JUST RIGHT, and will not mutilate and disfigure your orchard, but on the contrary will make good trees out of some of your old cripples.

If you want roses trimmed I will promise to leave them as if a Kansas cyclone had gone through them, but you need not settle with me for that kind of work, either with a rolling-pin or otherwise, until the daffodils bloom in the springtime and the roses will have recovered from the terrible shock and show evidence in my favor.

Spraying will be in order next month sometime. I shall be prepared with a good big outfit to do the work properly, and if you have any poor, worthless fruit trees that you want grafted to better fruit, I can do it for you. I am now cutting my scions (or slips) from some of the best bearing trees I can find in city and country, and shall get some new varieties from Pullman and other places to try.

Can furnish fine strawberry plants from $3.50 to $5.00 per 1,000. Clark's Seedling, Hood River, Sharpless, Marshall, and others. $2.00 extra per 1,000 set and a full stand guaranteed first season; dead and sick plants replaced and planted free of charge.

Leave word at the Port Angeles Grocery or at Seevers' store and I'll call and see what you want.

One would think the Laxative idea in a cough syrup should have been advanced long before it was. It seems the only rational remedy for coughs and colds would be to move the bowels and clean the mucous membranes of the throat and lungs at the same time. Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar does this. It is the Original Laxative Cough Syrup, the best known remedy for Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, etc. Tastes good and harmless. Sold by C.E.Nailor.

Indigestion is much of a habit. Don't get the habit. Take a little Kodol Dyspepsia Cure after eating and you will quit belching, puffing, palpitating and frowning. Kodol Digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Sold by C. E. Nailor & Co.

Notice of Receiver's Sale.

Notice is hereby given that, in pursuance of an order of the Superior Court for Clallam county, made and entered on the 6th day of April, 1906, in the cause of Puget Sound National Bank of Seattle, plaintiff, against Elmira Logging Company, a corporation, (insolvent) defendant, I will sell at private sale to the highest and best bidder or bidders, for cash, at the front door of the court house in the city of Port Angeles, Washington, on Friday, the 14th day of April, 1906, at 10 o'clock a. m. of said day (subject to the confirmation of said Superior Court) all the right, title, interest and estate which said Elmira Logging Company had at the time I was appointed receiver thereof on, to-wit, the 5th day of December, 1903, and which has come into my hands and is still in my possession, as such receiver, since said date, and which may come into my possession as such receiver before said day of sale, to-wit:

The SW¼ of SE¼ of Section 12 and NE¼ of NW¼ of Section 13, all in Township No. 30 north of range No. 8 west.

Also the equitable interest of said defendant corporation in land contracts on divers and sundry lots and parcels of land in Clallam county too numerous to mention herein.

For further particulars and for examination of abstracts of title to said lands, call at my office in Port Angeles, Washington on or before Thursday, the 12th day of April, 1906.

Sealed bids for all of the property of said corporation as a whole, or for any one or more specific articles or lots or parcels thereof, may be delivered to me, or left for me, at the Citizen's National Bank, at Port Angeles, on or before April 13, 1906, at five o'clock p. m., and all bids must be accompanied with certified checks for ten per cent. of the sum or sums bid, balance of bid to be paid in cash by successful bidders on confirmation of sale and tender of receiver's deed or bill of sale or assignment.

Names of successful bidders and the amounts bid by them will be announced at the Court House door aforesaid on said 14th day of April, 1906, at 10 o'clock a. m.

C. J. FARMER, Receiver,
Elmira Logging Company.

Weak Hearts
Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, puffing it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased.
Mr. D. Kauble, of Nevada, O., says: I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me.

The Angeles Spirit

Henry Shomer's house, Oak and 14th, was burned Wednesday, the family losing everything but an armful of clothing. The fire is thought to have started by sparks falling on the roof, which the recent fine weather had made dry as tinder. It was not noticed soon enough and the entire inside was a mass of flame in a few moments, so that nothing could be saved. Mrs. Shomer, we understand, particularly regrets the loss of her sewing machine, which is an absolute necessity with a family of children. Here is an opportunity for another display of the "Angeles Spirit" for which our good people are noted. Both Mr. and Mrs. Shomer are hard working people and had made a cosy, comfortable home.

Yesterday the Fire Department took up the matter of rendering assistance and have already raised a considerable sum; every resident of Angeles should hand in his contribution to the boys.

Millinery Opening

Miss Peddicord's millinery opening held last week Friday was a grand success, very gratifying in every way to the proprietor and also to the many ladies who called to look over the elegant display of hats and leave their orders for new Easter bonnets. The millinery parlors presented a very cheerful and inviting appearance with the walls tastefully decorated in green vines and bright flowers and vases of the dainty spring flowers scattered about.

A great variety of beautiful hats were on display and the ladies all expressed themselves as being delighted with the excellent taste shown by Miss Peddicord in the selection of her stock, and she in turn feels very grateful for the generous patronage shown her, and says her prospects for an excellent spring trade are very promising. She says also that many of her best orders come from ladies in Dungeness who prefer to give their trade to Angeles rather than Seattle.

A. J. Burroughs and J. A. Withrow were among the arrivals today.

It is rumored the Bellingham is to be put on this run as an extra boat for the summer.

OPINIONS OF GREAT PAPERS ON IMPORTANT SUBJECTS

THE METRIC SYSTEM.

AMERICANS who have tried to add British pence and pounds have been glad that our money is measured by a decimal system. Yet we still use inches, feet, yards, miles, acres, ounces, pounds, pints, quarts, gallons and bushels, while European nations, except Great Britain and Russia, and most of the rest of the civilized world buy and sell by the metric system.

Great Britain and the United States have legalized the system, but popular habit, unmoved by sufficient scientific and official influence, clings to the old, irregular systems.

To make the change to the metric system in this country would cause confusion at first and some expense. Manufacturers, mechanics, merchants would have to readjust their computations, buy new instruments, and reestablish their scales of prices, costs and quantitative measures of products. For instance, all the relations beween the weight of wool and the length of carpet for a room would have to be figured anew from the sheep to the parlor.

It is hard to replace old practices, interwoven with the whole structure of popular thought, of manufacture and of mechanics. But Germany adjusted itself in a few months to the metric system. America, which is proud of being progressive, can do as well. Our own scientific men and our neighbors in Continental Europe are already "reconstructed." It ought not to be long before we follow the intellectual and numerical majority, and adopt the metric system.—Youth's Companion.

SAVE NIAGARA FALLS!

IT would be an everlasting disgrace to the United States and to every person in it if Niagara falls should be destroyed. Yet it is seriously proposed to destroy them, and there is imminent danger that the outrage will be committed if a universal protest is not raised against it.

Already the falls have been greatly disfigured and some of the water stolen from them by electric power plants. Unless steps are promptly taken to prevent further robbery, the falls that are the glory of the continent and the wonder of the world will disappear and in their place will be only a barren precipice of ugly rock.

The National Society of Daughters of the Empire State has patriotically taken up the cause of the falls and has presented to President Roosevelt a petition bearing 2,500 signatures, against the proposed vandalism. The President says he is in cordial sympathy with the movement, as, indeed, every good American must be. He urges the people to work with Congress, which alone can interfere. Every State should join in the good work. The members of Congress should be made to understand that they must do all in their power to preserve the falls.

Here is a task for our woman's clubs, the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Sons of the Revolution, the Colonial Dames and all other patriotic organizations. Let them aid the movement and spread all over the country the sentiment that Niagara falls must and shall be preserved inviolate.—Chicago Journal.

SHEEP VS. DOGS.

JUST now the attention of farmers throughout the Northwest is turning toward the raising of sheep. For years the leading stockmen of the country, the professors in the schools of agriculture and the writers in the agricultural papers have been telling them of the stability and profitableness of this industry. Experience, too, has demonstrated the truth of the old saying that "a sheep never dies in debt to himself." But for one obstacle it would also have demonstrated that a sheep never dies in debt to his owner. That obstacle is the sheep killing dog.

In every farming district where the raising of sheep has been attempted the ravages of this pest have caused loss of money and temper to the owners of flocks. The sheep-killing dog is a worthless mongrel, a coward and a sneak. He is, generally speaking, of no earthly use as a watchdog or for any other legitimate purpose. He finds his woolly victims game to his liking, because they are timid. They offer no resistance and it is great sport for him to chase and kill them. He could not be induced to attack a tramp or any animal that would fight, if one should invade his master's premises. When he is needed at home, he is sure to be wandering abroad in search of sheep.

Now, everybody values a good, faithful dog. Man has no better or more loyal friend, but that is no reason for the protection of the sneaking, worthless mongrels that do their utmost to make the raising of sheep unprofitable in so many localities. They should be hunted as wolves are hunted, and killed without mercy.

The remedy is to kill worthless curs and leave the valuable dogs in peace. Until this is done, sheep raising will not be the profitable industry that it should be.—St. Paul Weekly Dispatch.

FIELD'S SECRET UNKNOWN.

"HOW Marshall Field Made Millions" is the text for many a business homily and yet, very naturally, not one of the writers has come anywhere near revealing the precious secret. Indeed, were the key to his success known at all, it would be worth a cool million in itself. The personality of the great merchant was, of course, the prime factor in his remarkable achievement. The opportunity offered by the city of Chicago was the second great factor, and, possibly, worth 50 per cent of the problem. Had the dispensation of Providence sent Mr. Field in 1852, to New Mexico, or Mississippi, for instance, it is hardly possible that he would have died worth $150,000,000. Doubtless, he would have been a leader and made his mark wherever he might have located. His physical, mental and moral value could not but have told in any community. Nevertheless it was the Chicago opportunity and his start in the dry goods business simultaneously with the beginnings of that phoenix-like city, that was his greatest aid.

The story of his buying and selling—the specific details of the early transactions which netted him his first pile—has not been told at all. Just exactly how he got hold of the first $10,000, which was the corner stone of his phenomenal structure, remains to be narrated. Many a man succeeds after he gets that amount, and many of the Napoleons of finance have moved close to earth and far from heaven—to get the $10,000 start.

Will some one give us the particulars of the great merchant's preliminary transactions? That would be the most valuable lesson in "How Marshall Field Made Millions."—Indianapolis Sun.

TEN THOUSAND A YEAR.

"TEN thousand dollars per year is sufficient, in the way of a salary or income, for any man on earth."—Governor John A. Johnson, of Minnesota.

Surely. Ten thousand a year is enough for any man. It is enough and to spare. It is ten times as much as thousands of the best men on earth receive for an entire year's labor. It is more than twenty times as much as the average workingman receives for the hard work he does annually. Ten thousand a year is sufficient for the man and his family—"and then some." With an income of ten thousand dollars per annum a man ought to be a philanthropist.

Other things being equal the man with ten thousand ought to be very happy. Because—He can have the joy of making others happy. Theer is no enjoyment comparable to that. He can be a special Providence to the helpless. On the other hand—The man who has an income of ten thousand a year, and spends it all for self, is only a human hog snouting in his trough.—Des Moines News.

PA JONES

"What have you been buying this time, Henry?" queried Ma, in a chirpful voice, as the esteemed lord and master of the Jones Family airily flitted into the house and laid a package on the table. "Have you been blowing in your money on another bargain lot of grip medicine disguised as hair tonic? Have you been getting some more of that rheumatism cure which is guaranteed to make your kinky legs walk more crooked than they ever wobbled before? Have you——"

"What do you suppose I have been buying, madame? What do you suppose I have been buying?" interrupted Pa, in a disturbed tone, as he glared at his little Mary. "What would any man buy who has sweetful harmony in his heart? What would any man buy who has the aesthetic sentiment of an artist in his sighful soul? Do you think that I would be foolish enough to lug home a hod and a cart load of plaster without first joining the Bricklayers' Union? Do you imagine for one moment that I would be silly enough to carry around a life-size calliope unless I had a circus and a side show to go with it? Not on your angel face, Mrs. Jones! Not on your angel face! I have been buying a cornet! I have been——"

"A cornet!" was the shoutful ejaculation of the astonished Ma. "What in the world are you going to do with a cornet? What——"

"There you go again, dear wifey! There you go again!" exclaimed Pa, with a painful expression of annoyance. "Why don't you talk sense? Why don't you make your head save work for your tongue? What do you suppose I am going to do with a cornet? What would any one do with a cornet? Do you think that I got it to hang on a gas fixture for an ornamental ash receiver? Do think that I would be Smith enough to shove a sword fern in it and put it in the parlor for a jardiniere? No, darling! Decidedly no! I am going to use it to make charmful music! I am going to use it to toot the toots! I am——"

"Hen Jones!" cried the exercised Ma, throwing a wild-eyed look at the old man, "do you mean to tell me that you have taken the last degree and become a full-fledged fool? Do you mean to tell me that you are going to blow that squawkful horn around this house, and stir up dogs and indignation? Do you——"

"You are jealous, Smithy! You are jealous!" was the snapful rejoinder of Pa, as he started to unwrap the precious package. "You are hot in the collar because there is no music in your make-up! You have got a crossful kink in your temper because you cannot even play 'Annie Laurie' on a B flat dishpan! You are only mad because there isn't a Smith on earth who can start a tune with a ton of dynamite! You are——"

"Is that so, you conceited beaut?" interposed Ma, irritably. "Well, if I don't know more about music than any Jones that ever broke loose from a bug house, I want you to pickle me for a canned sardine. If I——"

"What's that, madame? What's that, woman?" roarfully thundered Pa, with quivering thrills of great emotion. "What are you trying to say? What are you trying to warble? You don't know what you are talking about! You never did know what you were talking about! I want you to distinctly understand that I am a past master in the art of music! I want to tell you right here that for years I was leader of the Hedge Corners Brass Band, and played second alto! You think that I don't know anything! You think that my classical education is superficial! You think that I am sugar-coated like the Smith pills! But wait until after dinner, Mrs. Jones! Wait until after dinner! I will show you how much of a dub I am! I will show you what a musical Jones can do! I will play you solos that will make you sigh, and perform sentimental whispers that will make you weep! I will have Edythe accompany me on the piano, and——"

"Bah!" was the contemptuous interjection of the unfeeling Ma. "You mean that you will have cops accompany you to jail as soon as the neighbors get wise to the cause of the riot!"

Pa Jones, as usual, let Ma have the last word, but as soon as dinner was done he invited all hands, including Mother-in-Law Smith and little Fido, to the parlor, where he fondly caressed the peace-destroying brass.

"Strike the chord, Edythe! Strike the chord!" remarked Pa, impressively, as he ran his hand through what few remaining sprouts of hair he had, and rolled his eyes toward heaven like a real inspired artist! "Strike it gently! Holy smoke! Can't you wait a minute? Don't fall all over yourself! You are just like your mother! Before we begin, Mrs. Jones, I would like to inform you that I am going to play 'Old Dog Tray,' one of the most sympathetic masterpieces of the famous Wagner! I will give it to you in U G I sharp, with a little crescendo on the side! Now, then, Edythe, let her go!"

So saying, Pa put the cornet to his lips and blew like a blizzard at the Breakwater, but never a sound came from the balky horn.

Taking another long breath and bracing himself against the piano, the eminent soloist blew and blew again, and even though his cheeks bulged out like a toy balloon, and his face got as red as blushful embarrassment, there was nothing doing in the musical line.

"I told you so, you chesty heathen! I told you so!" exclaimed Ma, with a sweet and joyous smile. "I told you that you couldn't play a cornet! I told you that you couldn't play anything but poker! I told you——"

"Fade away, woman! Fade away!" yelped the disappointed Pa, ragefully. "You make me sick! You make me sad! It isn't my fault because the cornet won't work! It isn't my fault because the blundering salesmen gave me an H hard instead of a C soft! Just wait until I get another one, and I will——"

"What's the use, Pretty?" rejoined Ma, scornfully. "What's the use of exciting yourself? You couldn't play a cornet if it had a hurdy-gurdy attachment and a crank to turn it!"

It was then that the family battle began in earnest, and during the next few hours the buzz of a boiler foundry would have sounded like a small noise in comparison.

Meanwhile little Johnny Jones and little Willie Jones had sneaked the cornet, extracted the putty with which they had plugged it, and were playing brass band on a vacant lot.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

GEN. JOHN M. SCHOFIELD.

One of the Country's Dintinguished Soldiers Who Is Dead.

The death recently in St. Augustine, Fla., of Gen. John M. Schofield, U. S. A., retired, removed another of the famous commanders of the Civil War. His death was due to cerebral hemorrhage.

John McAllister Schofield was born in Gerry, Chautauqua county, N. Y., Sept. 29, 1831. He entered West Point from Illinois, was a classmate of Phil Sheridan, James B. McPherson and John B. Hood, and graduated in 1853. He was assigned to the First Regiment of Artillery and was stationed in South Carolina and in Florida in 1853 and '54. He was assistant professor of natural and experimental philosophy at West Point from 1855 to 1860. While he was on leave of absence in 1860 and '61 he became professor of Physiology in Washington University, St. Louis. Gen. Schofield went to the front at the outbreak of the Civil War as major of the First Missouri Volunteers and was chief of staff for Gen. Nathaniel Lyon, until the latter was killed at the battle of Wilson Creek. He served in the department of Missouri until February, 1864, which he commanded for a year. He was then assigned to the department of the Ohio, and in April, 1864, joined the forces under Gen. Sherman near Chattanooga, for the invasion of Georgia and took part in the Atlanta campaign. Gen. Schofield was ordered back to Tennessee with the Twenty-third Army Corps, when Sherman began his march to the sea, to join the forces under Gen. George H. Thomas. He conducted a skillful retreat before Gen. Hood's forces and checked Hood's advance in a battle at Franklin, for which he was made brigadier general and brevet major general in the regular army.

Gen. Schofield took part in the battle of Nashville and rendered distinguished service in the army until June, 1865, when he was sent to Europe on a special mission in regard to the French intervention in Mexico. On his return in May, 1866, he was assigned to command the department of the Potomac and had charge of the first military district from March, 1867, to May, 1868.

He succeeded Edwin H. Stanton as Secretary of War, and held that office until March 12, 1869, when he was appointed major general in the United States Army, and was ordered to the department of the Missouri. He commanded the division of the Pacific from 1870 till 1876 and from 1882 to 1883, and was superintendent of the United States Military Academy from 1876 till 1881. He was in charge of the division of the Missouri from 1883 till 1886, when he took charge of the division of the Atlantic. Gen. Schofield was sent in 1873 on a special commission to the Hawaiian Islands. He was president in 1878 of the Board of Inquiry on the case of Fitz-John Porter.

Gen. Schofield was commander of the army from 1888-1895, and in the latter year was made lieutenant general, retiring from active service under operation of law Sept. 28, 1895. Since his retirement he had lived principally in the summer at Bar Harbor, Mich., Me., and in the winter in St. Augustine, Fla.

He Swung His Lantern.

Representative John Sharp Williams tells a tale of the days when he was counsel for a railway line in one of the Southern States.

It appears that at one point on its line the company had stationed an old negro watchman, whose duties consisted in warning travelers down a highway crossing the tracks when a train approached. One night a wagon belonging to a farmer was struck, resulting in a bad accident. The company was of course sued for damages, and at the trial the old darky was the principal witness for his employers. He replied to the questions put to him in a clear, direct fashion. Among these questions was one as to whether he was sure that he had swung his lantern across the road when he perceived the train approach. The negro replied:

"I sho'ly did, sah!"

The trial resulted in a verdict for the company, and Mr. Williams, as counsel, took early occasion to compliment the aged negro on his excellent testimony. To which the latter replied:

"T'ankee, Marse John, but I was sorely skeered when dat lawyer man begin to ask me about de lantern. I was afeard for a minute dat he was goin' to ask me if it was lit or not. De oil done give out some time befo' de accident."—Success Magazine.

Love Me Little, Love Me Long.

Love me little, love me long!
Is the burden of my song;
Love that is too hot and strong
Burneth soon to waste.
Still I would not have thee cold,
Not too backward nor too bold;
Love that lasteth till 'tis old
Fadeth not in haste.
Love me little, love me long!
Is the burden of my song.

If thou lovest me too much,
'Twill not prove as true a touch;
Love me little more than such—
For I fear the end.
I'm with little well content,
And a little from thee sent
Is enough, with true intent,
To be steadfast, friend.

Say thou lovest me, while thou live
I to thee my love will give,
Never dreaming to deceive
While that life endures;
Nay, and after death, in sooth,
I to thee will keep my truth,
As now when in my May of youth;
This my love assures.

Constant love is moderate ever,
And it will through life persevere;
Give me that with true endeavor—
I will it restore.
A suit of durance let it be,
For all weathers—that for me—
For the land or for the sea;
Lasting evermore.

Winter's cold or summer's heat,
Autumn's tempests on it beat;
It can never know defeat,
Never can rebel.
Such the love that I would gain,
Such the love, I tell thee plain,
Thou must give, or woo in vain;
So to thee—farewell!

Worship of Nature.

The harp at Nature's advent strung
Has never ceased to play;
The song the stars of morning sung
Has never died away.

And prayer is made, and praise is given,
By all things near and far;
The ocean looketh up to heaven
And mirrors every star.

The green earth sends her incense up
From many a mountain shrine;
From the folded leaf and dewy cup
She pours her sacred wine.

The mists above the morning rills
Rise white as wings of prayer;
The altar curtains of the hills
Are sunset's purple air.

The blue sky is the temple's arch,
Its transept earth and air,
The music of its starry march
The chorus of a prayer.

AN ARCHITECTURAL FREAK.

The curious structure herewith pictured stands on the right bank of the Mississippi river, about fifty miles south of St. Paul, Minn., near the village of Minnetska. It is the work of a single man, and he has been forty years in building it. During the civil war Putman Gray began collecting logs, driftwood and wreckage, and constructing with his own hands the great building which has become known to all who pass that way as "Crazyman's Castle." He still lives in it at the age of 75. He is a hermit in his disposition, and no one has discovered the secret of his early life.

British Sailor's Collar Goes.

The reformed uniform for the bluejackets, which is to make the handyman of our navy a different looking sailor lad, came into force at Christmas. The familiar caps and blue collar will disappear, and Jack will be given a peaked cap and a jacket.

Sailors have several objections to the old-time picturesque costume. The baggy trousers were liable to catch in machinery, the open jumper was nicknamed the "pneumonia catcher," and the white straw hats for hot weather were difficult to stow away.

A jacket loosely fitting, comfortable around the neck, with a turned-down collar and five buttons; a peaked cap, light, ventilated, with broad, flat top and, for use in hot weather, a cover to protect the back of the neck; trousers moderately loose; this was the reconstruction favored by the lower deck of the home fleet.—London Mail.

The most convincing evidence of present American prosperity is the apparent ability of the labor market to absorb the shiploads of immigrants that are arriving daily. Between the 1st of January and the 1st of September 766,645 aliens—566,729 males and 199,916 females—landed in this country. Most of them, judging from the countries whence they came, must have been unskilled laborers. There came from Austria-Hungary 215,000, from Italy 208,000, and from Russia 130,000. One would suppose that the demand for rough, unskilled labor had been fully met by the earlier immigrants and that there was nothing left for the newcomers to do, but presumably they have been able to turn their hands to something. In London the bitter cry of tens of thousands of unemployed is heard. Their sufferings are so acute and prolonged that they can no longer remain silent. No such cry is heard in the United States, not even in New York City, where the poorest and least enterprising among the immigrants take up their abodes. If any number of them were in such straits as the starving Londoners, who recently sent a deputation to plead with Arthur Balfour, they would be heard from. There is a manifest and unprecedented demand for skilled labor. It is known that manufacturing plants are not only being run on full time but are being enlarged so that they can meet the demand for their products. That does not explain why it is that the unskilled laborers who are pouring in so rapidly are able to get work at wages that will enable them to live. Perhaps one explanation is that many of the men who were rated as unskilled laborers a few years ago when they came to this country have gone up a step in the economic scale. They have become skilled, or partly skilled, workmen in some industry, and the cheaper work they used to do has fallen into the hands of others. There have always been immigrants who have remained at the foot of the ladder, but the smarter, brighter ones have gone ahead, especially when they have acquired a little knowledge of the language of the country. Notwithstanding the seeming ability of the country to take care of a great mass of unskilled labor, a decrease in immigration would be desirable. There is a falling off when times are hard here and the fact becomes known abroad, but immigration keeps up until then. The result is that as prosperity declines and the labor market is inactive it becomes painfully apparent that the influx of unskilled laborers has been excessive. At present every able-bodied workingman who wants work can get it. There are idle men to be seen, but they are, as a rule, the loafers and the drinkers. So long as the present phenomenal prosperity endures there apparently will be something for the rawest, greenest immigrant to do.

RATE BILL MODIFIED

PRESIDENT CONSENTS TO LIMITED COURT REVIEW.

Amendment Limits Suit to a Determination of Whether the Order Complained of Was Beyond the Authority of Commission.

Washington, April 2.—Friends of the house railroad rate bill, in conference with the president at the White House Saturday agreed on an amendment providing specifically for judicial review of orders of the interstate commerce commission. This amendment was presented this morning by Senator Long, a pronounced opponent of any amendment which would permit the railroads to obtain a review of a character amounting to a retrial of the merits of the commission's orders.

Senators Allison, Cullom, Dolliver, Clapp and Long, Attorney General Moody and Interstate Commissioners Knapp and Prouty were called to the White House late in the afternoon. Soon after they assembled the president submitted the court review amendment that was afterwards endorsed by all present. A number of the conferees previously had seen the draft, but its authorship was not disclosed.

Wants to Ascertain Sentiment.

The president announced that he had decided upon the meeting because he desired to ascertain the present state of feeling in congress regarding a judicial review feature in the legislation. It was made clear that he had not changed his views regarding the pending bill, and similar stands were taken by the others. The president thought, however, that in deference to the large number of senators who honestly believed that the bill without such a feature would be unconstitutional, the bill should be amended if it could be done without a surrender of the purpose of the legislation. This could be done, he believed, by an amendment which he then read. It proposed to strike out paragraph 14 and insert as part of section 16 the following:

"That all orders of the commission, except orders for the payment of money, shall take effect within such reasonable time as shall be prescribed by the commission and shall continue for such period of time, not exceeding two years, as shall be prescribed in the order of the commission, unless sooner set aside by the commission, or suspended or set aside in a suit brought against the commission in the circuit court of the United States, sitting as a court of equity for the district wherein any carrier plaintiff in such suit has its principal operating office, and jurisdiction is hereby conferred on the circuit court of the United States to hear and determine in any such suit whether the order complained of was beyond the authority of the commission or in violation of the rights of the carrier secured by the constitution."

Discretion of Commission Absolute.

Discussion continued for an hour. It was analyzed to ascertain whether under its terms an order of the commission lowering a rate could be delayed in taking effect. Attorney General Moody and other lawyers pointed out that the discretion of the commission is absolute. Without specifically declaring against restraining orders, it makes it extremely doubtful whether a court would attempt to interfere with an order except in the manner provided.

When the president asked whether an amendment of that character would be adopted by the senate, the senators present said they thought they could promise twenty-nine Republican votes for it and that there is little doubt that practically the whole minority would support it.

Senator Long had given notice that he would address the senate on Monday, and therefore he was chosen to offer the amendment and speak upon it. He said that the amendment meets the demands of those who opposed the pending bill on the ground that without a provision for judicial review the measure is unconstitutional, and that it is satisfactory to the real friends of the bill. Others who participated in the conference have pledged themselves to support the amendment. They believe that if it is shown that there is a majority in favor of the bill as it is proposed to amend it, it will be adopted by a large majority.

Salmon Annual Is Out.

Seattle, March 31.—The Trade Register has issued its annual salmon review for the season of 1905. The edition is well up to the standard set in former years. It consists of 52 pages of data relative to the salmon industry in all its details, from the catching of the fish to the packing and the marketing. The book is designed to answer any possible question that may be asked about the salmon of the Pacific, commercially speaking. Figres compiled by the Trade Register show the total pack of the Coast for the season of 1905 to have been 4,696,976 cases, against 3,310,668 cases last year and 5,056,980 in 1901, the previous "big year."

Considering Status of Porto Rico.

Washington, April 4.—The senate comimttee on Pacific islands and Porto Rico yesterday considered the Porto Rican citizenship bill and finally referred it to Senator Fraoker to put the measure in shape to meet the views of the committee. The indications are that the bill will be favorably reported to the senate.

GAME IS DEFINED.

Wild Birds Raised in Captivity May Be Killed and Sold.

Seattle, April 2.—Attorney General Atkinson has submitted an opinion defining what constitutes game. The opinion is addressed to State Auditor Clausen and is in reply to a letter from Charles A. Kinnear, of Seattle.

Mr. Kinenar has investigated the matter of pheasant raising on small farms and logged off lands of the state and has concluded that it could be made a source of great profit to the small farmer or rancher.

As showing the possibilities of the industry he points out that the value of the various plumage pheasants runs all the way from $5 to $28 per pair; that they are less difficult and no more expensive to raise than chickens, and that the market, both for the plumage and flesh of the birds is practically inexhaustible.

In his letter to the attorney general Mr. Kinnear says:

"In behalf of several farmers and other individuals of the state who desire to raise in captivity pheasants, grouse or quail for the market and for bench show purposes, I ask the following questions:

"In your opinion, is there anything in the laws of the state of Washington prohibiting the offering for sale in the open market of grouse, pheasants or quail that have been hatched and reared by a hen in captivity?"

"I have to advise you," says the opinion, "that the statutes regulating the hunting or killing of wild animals and wild birds in this state, relate and depend specifically in title and body on the word 'game.' In the construction of these laws, it then becomes necessary in this instance to know the proper definition of that term. The English and American Encyclopedia of Law, volume 14, page, 654, gives the following definition:

" 'Game has been defined as birds and beasts of a wild nature, obtained by fowling and hunting. Game is a general term for animals or birds of a wild nature usually pursued or sought by sportsmen for amusement.'

"It is my opinion that our laws in this state covering the subject, were intended by the legislature to relate strictly to game, meaning animals and birds in their wild, free, roving state; and these statutes were not intended in any manner to limit or prevent any probable or possible occupation or industrial development relating to the growing and raising and domesticating of any kinds of birds or animals for food products and the general use of the people.

"I therefore conclude that there is nothing in our game laws as they stand at present, that will prohibit private raising of grouse, pheasants, quail and similar birds when they have been hatched and reared in captivity; nor is there anything to prohibit their sale in the open market."

BUREAUCRATIC BARRIER STILL STRONG AS EVER

St. Petersburg, April 2.—Dimitri Shipoff, of Moscow, who is generally recognized as one of the most rational of the liberal leaders, takes anything but an optimistic view of the future of the empire.

M. Shipoff took a middle position after the manifesto of October 30, seceding at that time from the radical wing of the zemstvos. He regarded the promises of the manifesto as sufficient for the present.

Now, however, M. Shipoff believes that the government is showing bad faith. In the course of an interview he severely condemned the manifesto of March 6, saying it did not make of the council of the empire a second chamber of the national parliament, but interposed between the monarch and the people the same old bureaucratic barrier, robbing the people's branch of the parliament of rights which it is supposed to have and not realizing the promise of a responsible ministry, leaving the parliament at the mercy of the government, through sovereign power of prorogation.

He predicted that the struggle between the government and the people, while having been long in unfolding, was far from being ended. He saw only strife ahead when the parliament meets.

Only a parliament elected on the basis of universal surffage, M. Shipoff declares, will satisfy the peasants' land demands. M. Shipoff bewails the lack of moral conscience and sense of responsibility to a high principle among the Russian people as a whole, but says that this is only the natural result of long oppression by the bureaucracy

He says that it is already apparent from the progress of the elections that the peasants are possessed of a single idea, the getting of land together, and with the small land class combining against the big land owners. In a large number of the provinces, M. Shipoff says, the combination will be able to select members of parliament with their undeveloped political ideas. As a consequence the parliament will become a tower of Babel.

Commerce Committee to Visit Coast.

Washington, March 30.—The house commitee on interstate and foreign commerce is planning to visit the North Pacific coast during the summer recess of congress. Some of the members may be so busy with campaign affairs in their own districts that they will be unable to make the trip, but the majority of the committee will go. The purpose is to examine into the needs of the Coast in regard to lighthouses, life-saving stations and kindred matters.

STEEL WORKS SURE

MINING ENGINEER WILL MAKE A FAVORABLE REPORT.

Representative of Eastern Men Says His Examination of Iron and Coal Deposits Satisfies Him, and that He Will Recommend Immediate Action.

Seattle, March 31.—Walter Kennedy, a mining engineer and iron expert, who has been in this section for the past month making an examination of the iron and steel possibilities in the West in the interest of New York and Pittsburg capitalists, states that a $5,000,000 steel plant will be built on Puget sound, and that its construction will begin in a few weeks. The Post-Intelligencer quotes Mr. Kennedy as saying:

"I have been here for the past month making an examination of the iron deposits of the West and am sent by New York and Pittsburg capitalists who were interested in the proposition of Mr. J. A. Moore. I will leave tonight for the East to make a personal report to my associates, and I can say positively that within six weeks I will return ready to begin the construction work.

Large Iron and Coal Deposits.

"The people I represent have secured deposits of iron amounting to 100,000,000 tons and more than that amount of coking coal. These iron deposits are scattered from California to Vancouver island and the coal is for the greater part in Pierce county. The location of the plant has not yet been decided upon, but Mr. Moore will attend to this end of the matter while I am in the East and will probably have it decided by the time I return. Tacoma and Everett have both offered good propositions, but up to this time none of them have been accepted. The plant will require a vast area of land. The one I have in mind will cover nearly, if not quite 3,200 acres.

"The plans for its construction are based on an expenditure of $5,000,000, but additions will be made every year, and there is no question but that in time the West will be far ahead of the Atlantic coast in the production of iron and steel. These industries had a gradual growth in the East, but the conditions here are such that the capitalists I represent consider it not necessary to feel their way along so carefully and will go into the business on a large scale at once.

"This is possible for the reason that all of the properties that have been secured are close to water, thus lessening the expense of transportation; and another circumstance that makes the establishment of the plant here certain to prove a good investment is the fact that the heavy shipments of iron and steel to the West every year make it certain that the market for the product exists. In fact this is, I think, the greatest opportunity I have ever seen for the quick establishment of the steel industry.

Great thing for the West.

"The results of the opening of this industry in the West are so great that it is impossible to estimate them. In its wake will come all sorts of concerns that depend on the steel and iron products and the increased transportation will mean thousands of dollars annually to the West. More than this, the city that secures the plant will receive as a result an addition to its population of thousands of people. One of the greatest results, however, will be the impetus that will be given to Western shipbuilding. Heretofore it has been a serious drawback to have to bring material from the East for the construction of ships, but I predict with the establishment of the steel manufacturing plant shipbuilding will in a few years develop into one of the greatest industries in the West

"All the money necessary for the construction and development work is raised and all that is delaying the matter at this time is my report. I will report favorably on the conditions, and this will be the signal for beginning active work on the plant.

"I am so thoroughly satisfied with the conditions that I can say positively that the establishment of the iron and steel industry in the West will be worth more than all the gold mines that have been or will be discovered. Already we have begun work with a small force of men on the development of the ore properties, and more will be placed on the work at once. I consider that we have enough mineral secured to operate a 1,000-ton plant for 300 years. I leave for the East tonight, but will return in six weeks."

COLONISTS INDIGNANT.

Natal Government Considers Colonial Office Has Meddled.

Petermaritzburg, Natal, March 31.—The interference of the colonial office in London with matters which the Natal government considers to be outside the imperial government's jurisdiction, has led to the resignation of the ministry headed by Charles John Smythe.

London, March 31—Dispatches from the South African colonies show that the colonists are boiling with indignation and calling meetings to protest against a procedure which they regard as being calculated to interfere with the safety of the whole white population. The conservative papers are nold in denunciation of the governments action.

NEW RAILROAD COMBINE.

New York Central and Pennsylvania to Be Dominant Factors.

New York, April 4—The Curb News says:

The Curb News can state that the New York Central and Pennsylvania roads have practically agreed upon a policy of extension and consolidation that will unify the transcontinental service between New York and the Pacific coast and place immense combinations of important and extensive railroad systems under single managements, simplifying the operations of the different lines, and to a great extent nullifying present and prospective rate legislation.

These combinations have been under consideration and in process of development for many years. At various times they have been almost consummated when unexpected obstacles caused their postponement, but under the present national administration conditions have arisen which make the final adjustment of the relations of the various roads imperative, and in a short time the railroad map of the United States will be very radically changed.

Central's Side of Plan.

On the New York Central's side of the policy of combinations, the composition can easily be guessed. The New York Central, Lake Shore, Northwestern, Union Pacific, their branches and connections, will make the Vanderbilt-Harriman system, with Harriman in absolute and supreme control and the Vanderbilts simply security holders.

For the Pennsylvania, according to those in touch with the dominating financial and railroad interests, the Atchison has already been acquired, and a large amount of the stock of that road will go to the Baltimore & Ohio treasury, to be paid for by the issue of Baltimore & Ohio bonds, guaranteed by the Pennsylvania road.

St. Paul, according to the best information, will complete its lines to the Coast and will also be absorbed by the Pennsylvania.

FOLLOWERS OF DOWIE CAST HIM OUT OF ZION

Chicago, April 4.—John Alexander Dowie, head of the "Christian Catholic Church in Zion," has been deposed as a religious leader, suspended from membership in the church he founded, shorn of his temporal possessions, as far as they are located in Zion City, the home of his church, and warned to accept the situation quietly lest worse things befall him.

The formal announcement of Dowie's overthrow was made Monday by Overseer John G. Speicher, who presided over a meeting of 7,000 members of the church in the tabernacle at Zion City.

The meeting opened with the quotation by various church dignitaries of passages from the Bible expressive of the sentiment which has grown up against the self-styled prophet.

The crowd, which filled the great structure and which formerly answered "yes" or "no" when Dowie nodded or shook his head, applauded when he was accused.

Telegram Sent to Dowie.

The following message was sent to Dowie, informing him of the change in the situation:

"Dowie, Ocotlan, Jalisco, Mexico: Telegram received here and Chicago. Practically all, including Cincinnati, reports indorse Voliva's administration, Speicher's reinstatement, Grainger s retention, emphatically protesting against your extravagance, hypocrisy, misrepresentations, exaggerations, tyranny and injustice.

"You are hereby suspended from membership for polygamous teaching and other grave charges. See letter. Quietly retire. Further interference will precipitate complete exposure, rebellion, legal proceedings.

"'Your statement, in view of stupendous magnificent financial outlook, is extremely foolish in view of thousands suffering through your shameful mismanagement. Zion creditors will be protected at all costs."

Regarding the polygamous teachings mentioned in the message to Dowie, Overseer Voliva said he would issue a statement regarding them later, when Dowie had been given an opportunity for reply. He said, however, that the teachings had not been public but were of a private character.

New Creed and Financial Policy.

Chicago, April 4.—Voliva and other directors of Zion have adopted a new creed and financial policy to save the residents of the community from suffering for necessities: Voliva said:

"The church is to be conducted as a Christian co-operative community, continuing to respect Dowie for the good he has done. We now see he never possessd divine power. We don't believe any man among us is a direct authorized agent of God. We are all humble workers for the common good."

It is planned to raise $1,000,000 immediately. No word has been received from Dowie in answer to the telegram sent Monday.

Entitled to Subsidy.

Victoria, B. C., April 2.—Chief Justice Hunter, after hearing a two days argument, decided that the Midway & Vernon Railway Company was entitled to the subsidy refused by the provincial government. During the argument it was intimated that the Canadian Pacific railway was back of the obstruction. The company will now push the work on the rival road.

FARMS AND FARMERS

For Fattening Fowls.

We herewith illustrate a foul-fattening crate, used at the Ontario Agricultural College. This crate is 6 feet 6 inches long, 18 to 20 inches high and 16 inches wide. It is divided into three compartments, each holding from four to five birds, according to the size of the chickens. The crate is made of slats, except the ends. The slats are usually 1½ inches wide and five-eighths of an inch thick. The slats in front are run up and down and are two inches apart to allow the chickens to put their heads through for feeding. The slats on the bottom are three-fourths of an inch apart, so as to admit of the droppings passing through to the ground. Care should be taken not to have the first bottom slat at the back fit closely against the back, as this will hold the droppings. The feeding and watering are done by means of a trough in front running the entire length of the coop. This trough is from two to three inches deep and is made of three-quarter inch lumber.

THE FATTENING CRATE.

Churning When Weather Is Cold.

Let the milk stand thirty-six hours; then skim. If it stands longer than this, especially in a cold room, the cream is liable to be bitter, and consequently you will have bitter butter. Once a day turn into the cream a quart of new milk warm from the cow, then stir thoroughly. If the cream does not sour by the time the bucket is nearly full, set it on the stove reservoir of warm, not hot, water, stirring frequently until soured. Then add sweet cream, or new milk enough for a churning. Let this stand twelve hours; then warm on the reservoir of warm water, stirring often, so that the cream will warm all through.

As soon as the right temperature is obtained the cream should be churned. A little salt added to the cream after it is in the churn is a great help in separating the butter from the milk, and it also aids in gathering the butter. If there are bubbles in the cream after churning a while, add a little warm water frequently until the butter is gathered. This is a favorite method in cold weather, and if followed you will always have sweet, solid, salable butter.

Muzzle for Horses.

Horses sometimes act disagreeable when working in the orchard or when cultivating corn or grain by trying to get a mouthful of the growing crop. The best way to overcome such a habit is to muzzle the horse, but in doing this extreme care should be used that the horse is not injured nor seriously discommoded by the muzzle. Take heavy white canvas, such as grain bags are made from. Cut this in eighteen-inch lengths and wide enough to go around the jaws of the horse comfortably loose. Cut two oval airholes three by four inches, braid the edges with strong braid and make a lattice work over the opening by weaving knotted hard twine through it. Bind the top, add strings at the side, hem the bottom edges and it is complete.

MUZZLE FOR THE HORSE.

Good Rations for Cows.

The following ration and its variations or substitutes have been found profitable, yet not expensive: The first one is perhaps more nearly a balanced ration than the other. It consists of twenty pounds of clover hay, eight pounds of corn and cob meal and two pounds of cottonseed meal. The other is composed of ten pounds of alfalfa or of cowpea hay, ten pounds of corn stover, eight pounds of corn and two pounds of bran. In sections where neither clover, alfalfa or cowpea hay is obtainable, and a mixed of timothy hay or corn fodder is used, the balance may be maintained by increasing the quantity of the concentrated foods, whether bran, oats, gluten meal or cottonseed meal. It is an excellent plan to experiment with the different rations until one is obtained which gives the desired results.

Starting a Flower Garden.

Spring is the time when the average amateur flower gardener makes his worst mistakes. Too often he buys seed which he does not handle properly, with the results that bare spots in the garden show where he expected beautiful blossoms. The young plants that he expected to flower are killed by the hot sun or choked under heavy or dry soil.

The amateur who would rival the professional florist in the radiance of his garden, should make a start now by sowing the seed of many kinds of showy annuals in boxes or pots, to be kept indoors for awhile. The boxes should have holes for drainage in the bottom, but should not be so open as to keep the soil dry. Ordinary garden soil may be used in the bottom, but at the top there should be a lighter soil, well mixed. The small seed should be sown on the surface; then fine soil spread over them and pressed down, but not so hard as to cause the soil to bake. Coarse seed can best be planted in little drills, or each seed pressed down into the soil, and the whole covered with a thin layer of earth, as with the small seed. The soil should be gently sprinkled with water immediately after the planting. Only the quantity of water which the soil can absorb without becoming soggy should be given. The box should be watered subsequently whenever the soil becomes dry a little below the surface.

It is a good practice to sow the seed in rows, as this enables the soil to be stirred to prevent it from baking. The box should be set by the window and given plenty of light, but at the same time shielded from the hot sun. When the plants have grown to a fair size, it will be warm enough outdoors to set them out in the garden. Only the stronger plants should be chosen for replanting. Agortums, sweet alyssum, shapdragons, heliotropes, lobelias, nasturtiums and verbenas can be treated successfully this way.

The Hog That Jumps.

In almost every herd of swine there is one or more that is inclined to scale fences and usually is more successful in breaking the fence down than in getting over it. The device illustrated will break this bad habit very quickly and needs little explanation. Two rings an inch or more in diameter and two straps with strong buckles are needed.

The strap should be wide enough so that it will not cut the legs of the hog. Place one of the straps over the front leg, after placing the ring in position, and the other over the hind leg on the same side. Be sure and buckle the straps tight enough so that they will not come off. Then take a strong rope and tie in the rings as shown, being careful that it is long enough so that the hog can walk comfortably.

After trying one or two jumps while this attachment is on the hog will give it up as a bad job, but the device should be kept on until the animal is completely broken of the jumping habit.

Dehorning Cattle.

Dehorning has passed the experimental stage and has now become a necessity. Practically no one now denies the benefits derived from having a herd deprived of the dangerous weapons of defense. The question arises as when and how can it best be done. The fall, or preferably early spring, are the best seasons of the year for doing the work, say the middle of March. The idea is to get the wounds thoroughly healed before the flies come. Animals dehorned in early spring and cared for, usually shrink but little and the wounds very soon heal over. It is not necessary to put anything on the wounds.

Hauling Manure to Field.

While it is admittedly the better plan to get the manure to the fields as soon after it is made as possible, the plan has its greatest value when the manure is spread as soon as placed on the soil—that is, do not put it in heaps to spread at some later period, but, if possible, load it from the stable directly into a spreader, so that as soon as it reaches the field it can be put on the soil, where it will leach in during the winter. The idea of carting the manure direct to the field is to have it improving the soil instead of letting a portion of its virtue go into the air, as is the case when it lays in the barnyard all winter.

Profit in Berries.

A prominent Illinois strawberry grower finds it costs him $40 per acre to grow the crop. An acre yields him from one to two hundred crates, which net around $1 per crate. He finds the Warfield in great demand because it stands distant shipping. The favorite varieties in his section are Warfield, Dunlap and Tennessee Prolific.

The Lake Crescent Travel

A meeting of business men was held with the Commercial Club yesterday forenoon and a committee arranged for, with Mr. Lauridsen as chairman, to take the matter of lake travel up with Mr. Peabody personally; they will go up to Seattle Monday for that purpose.

It is Mr. Peabody's desire to give people a choice of routes, and it is understood arrangements have been made for a stage route in from Port Crescent. Mr. Chambers says he cannot make a rate on a part of the business only. Mr. Johnson cannot consider a contract under any terms. Hence it naturally follows all the business will go by Port Crescent. And the supplies will also go by the same route direct from Seattle.

Naturally, the business men feel that the lake trade is theirs by right of being tax payers working for the best interests of the county as their home, and being engaged primarily in the retail business. They state that Earles of Seattle will reap all the benefit from the hotel patronage at Port Crescent, the trade at the company store, and the stage line; that every dollar thus expended will go out of the county to be again used against the county's best interests.

They say there always has been and is great dissatisfaction felt by the lake tourists over being compelled to undertake the trip by the rough Port Crescent road, and being compelled to sit up at that port on the return trip waiting for the steamer, and again to have to take a berth and breakfast aboard when they might have passed the night comfortably here in Angeles. Those who are accustomed to enjoy the peerless fishing at the lake will go elsewhere for their outing, and those who are led to undertake the trip for the first time will return home disgusted with the hardships encountered. Instead of a gradually increasing travel, it will decrease. The steamer company derives its chief revenue down this way from this city and in cancelling their rate via Port Crescent they will be working for their own best interests by aiding the business men. It is thought when Mr. Peabody knows that the stage traffic, divided, will not pay, and that no one will undertake the contract, he will not further consider the Port Crescent end.

Remedy Lies in Conventions

The question of giving the large timber owners their proper share of the burden of expense should be considered a matter of vital importance to every resident of the county. It has been recognized for years that the timber interests have controlled the rate of assessment, and that in this county they have wielded powerful influence against railroad construction and development in general. It is a matter in which this county must act along lines of its own.

The first step necessary would appear to be the obtaining of an actual cruise of all the timber lands. The people will have to make a departure from the policy of indifference which obtained a few years ago when they elected a timber man, Mr. Geirin, on the Board, and vote only for men pledged to have an honest cruise made, and to employ a cruiser who cannot be bought and who is not dependent on the timber interests for a livihood. They will have to elect men pledged to stand strictly by the county's interests when acting as a board of equalization — men incapable of being bribed, directly or otherwise.

The assessor must likewise be pledged to employ deputies who are not connected in any manner with any timber owners, but rather the contrary. He must be pledged to place the timber lands on the same basis as he does other investments, and likewise, he should be a man who commands respect as one incapable of accepting a bribe. It is our opinion, also, that he should be a resident of Port Angeles, and some other county office assigned to the country districts.

In the coming campaign the Olympic-Leader will only support men of known integrity, men who cannot be accused of grafting, even in small matters, and who will pledge themselves along the above lines. The question is too all-important to admit of party lines unless the parties nominate equally good men.

Advertising Pt. Crescent Route

A very attractive announcement of the Ovington camp on Lake Crescent, copies of which were received in the city this week, has been the cause of no small amount of unfavorable comment, the objectionable feature being the advertising of the Port Crescent route to the lakes. The steamer company has made a rate of $5.00 via this port and $5.50 via Port Crescent. Mr. Ovington gives the stage ride as 16 miles from Angeles and 6½ from Port Crescent through beautiful scenery. The reader would draw the inference that the latter is the scenic route, which, coupled with the shorter drive, would make it the choice of all who might be attracted by his advertising.

The business men of Angeles have only just succeeded in getting this lake business routed through this city; it has cost them several hundred dollars in cash in building a fine carriage road, part of the way as hard and smooth as asphalt and part through dense timber, or over a spur of the mountain. They have been working up a proposition for a third road along the beautiful Elwha. They have been considering ways and means of advertising the lakes and the enjoyable drive out from Angeles. It has been due to the efforts of the business men that the lake travel has become of sufficient moment to make Mr. Ovington's camp possible. The residents of Angeles cannot consistently patronize the Ovington camp while he is thus advertising a route which will deprive us of a part of the legitimate results of our expenditures and efforts — and they wont.

The Present Assessment

The question is frequently asked, are the assessors placing timber land values sufficiently high so that when the tax levy is reduced as promised in raising valuations on other property, the assessed value of timber will have shown a decided gain? Such, we believe, is the intention. At a recent meeting of the assessors with the commissioners, and the taxation committee from the Boosters' Club, it was agreed to be the sense of the meeting that timber valuations should be raised, the only difficulty being in the lack of reliable information as to the value of each individual quarter section. The result of the work of the assessors will be published, and if any discriminations have been made they will be shown up. It is our belief, however, that most of the assessors will do their work conscientiously and as well as possible under the circumstances.

Twenty thousand persons of all ages took part in the greatest city cleaning movement ever known in a Western community, in Spokane on the 31st. Banks declared a holiday and city and county offices closed. School children were organized for the work. Besides the cleaning, it is estimated that 5,000 trees were set out. The movement was planned by the City Beautiful committee of the 150,000 Club. This is the spirit that should be aroused to enter into the work now being planned by the Civic Club, as a "cleaning up day."

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.
