NO "IF" ABOUT THE N. P. RY.

Construction Authorized and Work Will Proceed As Rapidly as Possible.

The "If" which has ever been a stumbling block in the progress of Port Angeles has been eliminated. "If" Angeles is to have railroad connections, and similar expressions, are of the past. Uncertainty has given way to certainty and property values and business plans have a definite basis upon which to adjust themselves. This is the all-important fact brought out by the visit of C. M. Levey, vice-president of the Northern Pacific, to our city this week.

But we are not to expect the work to be done in a day. Surveys will be made in a business-like manner, contracts will be let as soon as practicable, and completed as soon as may, in the nature of things, be possible. It is very likely that it will be two years before we have eastern connections by rail.

In the meantime our little city will prosper as never before, tho in a gradual and healthy manner, for work will be commenced at Angeles, independent of the eastern line, and the Lake Crescent branch be built.

Mr. Levey was accompanied by Joseph Smith, right-of-way agent for the N. P., and by Wm. Bethel, engineer. They arrived yesterday, and have devoted their time to an examination of the routes selected by Engineer Rice. Expense of construction had to be considered by Messrs. Carrigan and Turner, hence Mr. Rice, in his survey, left the water front on a one and a half per cent grade. As Mr. Levey says, the Northern Pacific does not consider expense in securing the best route. Mr. Bethel thinks it likely a one per cent grade can be obtained. Hence the ground between here and the Elwha will be resurveyed.

Mr. Smith will at once proceed to acquire right-of-way from the Elwha to the lakes. The road will cross the river between the canyon and McDonald, Mr. Aldwell having brought the Leonard ranch, at point of crossing, the past week.

Mr. Bethel, who has just been transferred from the position of first assistant engineer of the Columbia line to that of superintendent of work on the peninsula, will select the route out of town at once, when Mr. Smith will return and buy the balance of right-of-way. A surveying crew now on the Columbia, will be sent here for the purpose; Mr. Levy expects them to be thru there in two or three days.

The gentlemen held a meeting with the city council this afternoon and the plans were outlined to the members. The meeting had nothing to do with franchises but was merely a semi-formal announcement of purchase of the Carrigan and Turner interests and a talk on the N. P. plans.

Of course if another route be selected out of the city, an exchange of streets would be necessary.

Mr. Levey could not say just when construction work would be commenced on the western line, but he hoped to let contracts this fall; would if a lower grade could be readily secured. The line will be well built, as a portion of the belt line which, in the course of years, will encircle the peninsula. It will be extended to the western part of the county.

As to the eastern line, the route has not been decided upon. It has been the experience of roads that hasty surveys later caused great expense in rebuilding lines. A surveying party has just been started at Quilcene; if they find a favorable route along the Canal to Summit, it will be adopted; if not, another will be chosen. This route would be via Summit, Elma and Centralia, and not Olympia. It would be a direct route east via the Columbia river.

Among other interesting facts given us by Mr. Levey is that until this year it would have been folly for the N. P., or any local line, to build on the peninsula, as they have been unable to handle the additional freight. A train passes thru the Cascade tunnels every forty minutes; they have never been able to secure sufficient rolling stock to keep pace with the demands. Now, however, the Columbia route will solve one difficulty and it is hoped the ten million dollars worth of rolling stock ordered this year, will solve the other. Thus has it been possible to develop new territory.

Mr. and Mrs. Levey and Mr. Bethel return to Tacoma in the morning.

EACRETT'S MILL BURNED

Loss $5,000. Fourteen Men Were Employed

The Dry Creek lumber and shingle mill burned Wednesday night, being a complete loss, with no insurance. About 140,000 shingles in the dry kiln and 7,000 feet of cedar finishing lumber, worth about $40 per thousand, were also burned.

It is thought the fire spread gradually thru the sawdust under the building during the afternoon and evening, and when a strong wind came up, shortly after midnight, the whole premises burst into flames at once, but fifteen minutes being required to complete the destruction.

The mill at Dry Creek has been successfully operated by the Eacrett Brothers for a number of years, until the available cedar has all been cut; it was intended to close down, so far as that location went, at least, by October 1st.

The Parlor Theater

The Parlor Theater, formerly managed by Mr. L. E. Cole, but now under the management of Edward O'Connell, of the Topsy Turvy Trio, is giving firstclass vaudeville shows every Wed., Sat. and Sun. evenings; the performances are clean cut and up-to-date in every particular. These people are residents of Angeles for the summer, keeping house, and the money thus paid for amusement remains in the city; they are drawing full houses, every seat being occupied Wednesday night, thus demonstrating that there is a demand for light entertainment at popular prices.

OPERA HOUSE BLOCK SOLD

J. C. Hansen and C. E. Cushing Pay About $30,000 for Property.

The biggest deal in Angeles realty took place last Saturday when J. C. Hansen and C. E. Cushing bought of S. J. Lutz & Co. the Opera House Block. The price paid is said to be in the neighborhood of $30,000, and is considered a low figure for one of the best corners and the best block of buildings on the street. It includes the store rooms occupied by the post office, Mathewson's Pharmacy, T. S. Brophy & Co.'s grocery, A. G. Frye's real estate office, P. J. Williams' jewelry store, Port Angeles Grocery Co., Citizen's National Bank, Hickok & Fisher, abstracts and insurance, and the Pacific Co.'s double store. On the upper floor is the opera house and several suites of offices. It is said H. E. Lutz bought the property, a few years ago, for less than $7,000.

James Page lost his home by fire Wednesday, the house, furniture and out-buildings being burned. Mr. Page is a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Winters, his home being on the Winters ranch. He is employed at the Freshwater bay mill as engineer and as his wife was in town under the doctor's care, the origin of the fire is a mystery. They carried no insurance, and owing to Mrs. Page's illness and the fact that they have a family of small children, the loss will be keenly felt. Here is an opportunity for the kind people of Angeles to give assistance in need.

To Make High Dive.

Among the many attractions presented by the Pacific Carnival Co. during the present week the high dive by Kirby, the prince of high divers, is easily the best of all. While Kirby has not the national reputation of Steve Brodie, still he has a local reputation for fearless diving excelled by none in the United States today. He has jumped from many bridges on the coast in the past, but his highest dive so far was from the top of the Morrison st. bridge in Portland, Oregon. Saturday, 7:15 p. m. he will dive from the Gate City pile driver alongside Morse wharf. This will be a sight worth seeing and should be missed by none.

RUSSIAN REVOLUTION BEGINS IN FINLAND

Sveaborg, "Gibralter of the North" Is Seized By Revolutionists---War Vessels Join in Bombardment.

Helsingfors, Aug. 1.—According to the latest news received, Sveaborg is entirely in the hands of the mutineers, who now have possession of every kind of armament. Horrible scenes occurred last night, when the fierce fighting was continued. The heaviest artillery was used during the conflict.

Helsingfors, Aug. 1.—A gigantic military conspiracy, aiming at the simultaneous capture of Russia's three great fortresses, Sveaborg, Cronstadt and Sevastopol, arranged by the revolutionary military league, was prematurely sprung here Monday night by an attempt to arrest members of a company of sappers who had mutinied on account of the death of one of their comrades, alleged to have been due to ill-treatment.

The entire garrison of the fortress at Sveaborg flamed out instantly in revolt. All the artillerymen and sappers garrisoning the place were involved. Only four companies of infantrymen remained loyal. The mutineers seized forty machine guns and nearly all the quick-firers and light artillery in the fortress, but even with this aid they were unable to hold the main forts against the loyal infantry.

The fight continued all night long. The heaviest firing was heard from 10 p. m. until 1 a. m. Yesterday morning a detachment of civilian revolutionaries entered the marine barracks on Skatuden island, hoisted the red flag and were joined by the marines.

War Vessels Take Part.

Nine cruisers, torpedo boats and destroyers lying in the harbor opened fire on the barracks. This fire was answered from the third story windows of the barracks with machine guns and rifles. The torpedo boats and destroyers, which were lying closer to the shore, were subjected to such a hot fire from the barracks that their crews were driven below decks. They finally steamed out and joined in the bombardment by the cruisers.

This sea attack was in co-operation with the attacks by Cossacks and infantry from the land side, which began at 9 o'clock in the morning and continued through the whole day. Finally toward evening the firing ceased and the authorities announced that the barracks had been recaptured.

The exact situation at Sveaborg is not known. Rumors are in circulation that the entire fortress has now fallen into the hands of the insurgents, but they lack confirmation. It is believed that this cessation of fighting is only a prelude to the renewal of the battle between the mutineers and the government troops.

Casualty List Heavy.

An authoritative estimate of the killed and wounded cannot be obtained, but the casualty list on both sides must be heavy, for the fighting was waged with desperation.

Various rumors are heard regarding the fate of the officers who were at Sveaborg and Skatuden barracks. According to one rumor almost all of the officers, and according to another, almost all the junior officers, sided with the mutineers

The marines at Skatuden are said to have convened an elective courtmartial which condemned several officers to immediate execution.

The "red guard," who were cognizant of the plot, dispatched an expedition by a special train as soon as the revolt broke out, to cut the railroad track outside of the city in order to prevent the arrival of reinforcements. A general strike was called yesterday afternoon and was obeyed by the workmen of all the factories

WAITING IN VAIN FOR GOOD NEWS

St. Petersburg, Aug. 1.—No report of the suspension of the great revolt of the garrison of Sveaborg fortress, the "Gibraltar of the North," has been received in St. Petersburg up to this hour. The secondary uprising among the marines and troops stationed at Skatuden barracks on the peninsula communicating with the main land, was crushed out at a late hour yesterday afternoon by loyal troops after heavy fighting in which nine cruisers, destroyers and torpedo boats took part.

The sound of firing on the islands and from the fortresses has ceased and in spite of the fact that the occupation of the entire water front by Cossacks prevents obtaining positive news, it is announced at Helsingfors that the mutinous artillery men and sappers still are holding their positions. The outlying islands and the fortress appear to be in their possession and they have perhaps all the machine guns, quickfirers and movable artillery of the fortress.

Government Holds One Fort.

Gen. Lamong, the commandant of the fortress, is holding onto the main fort on Commander island with a force of loyal infantry The last dispatch of the correspondent of the Associated Press, which has just arrived here, was eleven hours en route from Helsingfors. The military received a telegram from Helsingfors during the morning from Maj. Gen. Lamong announcing that the fortresses and artillery had opened fire upon Commander island. The insurgents seized all the machine guns and took possession of one of the islands.

Almost the entire fortress is in the hands of the insurgents, and there were comparatively few loyal troops in Helsingfors. The entire district population is led by the "red guard."

PARALYZED BY SUDDEN REVOLT

St. Petersburg, Aug. 1.—The following dispatch has just been received from Helsingfors. It is dated July 31, 2 p. m:

"A hundred revolutionists, armed and half uniformed, have just marched to the Socialist Club on George street They demanded that the Socialist red guard mobilize and join a movement to relieve the thousand marines who are held within a cordon in Skatuden barracks by the loyal troops. The chiefs of the red guard are undecided whether to commence an armed uprising or not, as many of the population are completely out of sympathy with such a movement.

"The authorities apparently are paralyzed by the suddenness of the revolt. They were quite in ignorance as to which troops could be depended upon.

FIELD ESTATE TAXES

Executors Will Be Asked to Pay Two and a Halt Millions.

Chicago, July 28.—Marshall Field's executors will be asked to pay taxes amounting to about $2,500,000. This will be by far the greatest sum ever levied upon the property of an individual taxpayer and is practically the result of a decision by the board of review fixing personal property on which the Field estate must pay taxes at $130,000. The real estate is worth $50,000,000 additional, making the total amount of property on which that estate must pay taxes approximately $180,000,000.

The larger portion of the assessment against the Field estate is for back taxes upon which the late Mr. Field is held by the board of review to have avoided paying taxes. The board has gone back seven years and levied back taxes against the Field estate for the entire period of the existence of the present taxing machinery, which was created in 1899.

Crazy Snake Again Busy

Guthrie, Okla., Aug. 1.—Four thousand Snake Indians in Indian territory have formed a government of their own for the purpose of resisting the encroachments of whites on their lands. A full quota of officers has been elceted. The leader is "Crazy Snake," who has several times led rebellions against the federal government.

HEARST HAS CLEAR FIELD

Said to Be Little Doubt that He Will Be Nominated Governor.

New York, July 28. —The Press says:

"William R. Hearst will be nominated for governor in Carnegie Hall on Tuesday, September 11, or on the following day. At the close of the convention the nomination will be tendered to Mr. Hearst at a mass meeting in Madison Square Garden and then the campaign of the Independence league will be formally under way.

Justice William Gaynor will not be a candidate against Hearst. The state Democratic leaders know Justice Gaynor's position and have been informed that his name must not be used to obtain delegates to the state convention.

The Hearst program was finished Thursday night after a conference of the leaders. It will be ratified on next Tuesday at a meeting in this city of delegates from every county in the state. A complete state ticket will be named by the delegates.

Teachers Had Long Trip

New York, July 31.—The party of about 100 New York teachers, which started from here on the last day of June, have returned, after having made a highly interesting and instructitve tour of the United States, including a number of large cities of the Middle states, the South and West, the Yellowstone park, the Cripple Creek mining region, the Grand canyon, San Francisco, Portland, Seattle, Spokane, etc.

TO EXTEND ROADS

Hammond Interests to Build Over Three Hundred Miles of New Line.

Portland, Or., July 30.—The Oregonian says that the Corvallis & Eastern railroad is to be extended by the Hammond interests, its present owners, from the terminus at Idanha, Linn county, across Central Oregon to some point on the Snake river, probably Ontario. Another Hammond road, the Astoria & Columbia River, will be extended south along the coast from Seaside to the Nehalem and Tilamook country. Both these projects will aggregate over 350 miles of new construction, and it is expected the roads will be in operation within a few years.

During the past year there have been many rumors of the sale of the Hammond lines, first to one and then to another of the great transcontinental systems, but in this connection the Oregonian says:

"Not only is Mr. Hammond not contemplating the sale of either of his lines, but he intends to add a very large mileage to them. Many believe this move assures the entry of the Gould lines into Oregon. It is said that the destination of the Corvalis & Eastern may not be Ontario, but a point in the Klamath country, where a junction will be affected with the California, Nevada & Oregon, an alleged Gould line running north from Reno, Nerv., to a point in Northern California near Altruras, the county seat of Modoc, just across the Oregon line."

GRAVES UNDERLIE HOVER

Excavation for New Church Disclose Some Rare Indian Relics.

Hover, Wash., Aug. 1.—It has just been discovered that the present townsite of Hover was once an Indian burying ground. While the excavations were being made for the First Presbyterian church the workmen unearthed several Indian relics, among them being tomahawks, beads, peace pipes and peculiar shaped dishes, which resemble ordinary bone dishes. The strangest articles brought to light, however, were a dozen or more large copper spheres, about the size of a baseball, and which were strung together with copper chains. Dangling from each bass is a spangle about two inches in diameter, and each contains hieroglyphics unknown to any of the persons who have seen the chain, which has been purchased by Theodore J. Kersten, of Moran prairie, Spokane, and taken to his home.

Mr. Kersten, who has spent considerable time in archaeological research in Minnesota and other middle Western fields, says the chain is undoubtedly the work of Aztecs. It is supposed that the chain was carried by the Aztecs up along the Pacific coast and captured by the Indians during one of their raids and kept as a trophy of war. Mr. Kerston purposes sending the chain to Mexico to be examined by experts for their opinion.

The ancient burial place in which this strange emblem of an early race was hidden in the prettiest site along all the Columbia, according to the statements of old river men. From a bank of ten feet at the water's edge it rises to a gentle slope until it meets the foothills of the Horse Heaven country.

Indians who are now seen occasionally at points along the valley, say the great Horse Heaven country received its name from the fact that the Indians had selected what is now the present site of Hover as the happy hunting ground for their horses. It was also at this point that Clarke stopped for his great feast with the friendly tribes before continuing on his way down the river to the sea.

BLACK SAND STEEL

Shaw Company Tests Works at Hoquaim Results Satisfactory.

Hoquiam, Wash., July 30.—Seven or eight months since the Shaw Crucible Steel Company established on Damon point an experimental steel making station, with the black sands of the ocean beach as raw material. The process is a secret, but no electricity is used. The works were tested last week, and within a run of two and one-half hours steel was produced to the satisfaction of the experimenters. This is the same time of manufacture claimed by Dr. Day in his experiments for the government with an electrical apparatus. The Shaw company is soon to commence the construction of furnaces for the manufacture of steel direct from the black sands.

H. M. DOUGHERTY

H. M. Dougherty of Eden Valley, one of the best young men of Clallam county, was drowned at Lake Crescent on Sunday last. He had gone over to the lake to spend the day and was wading, with one or two others, along the beach in front of Barnes' Hotel. A short distance from shore the bottom drops off abruptly and being unable to swim, when he stepped beyond the safety line he went down.

The alarm was immediately given, but as he only came up once and then not entirely to the surface, he could not be rescued. The body could be plainly seen in thirty feet of water and tho Don. Adams, of Port Crescent, made every effort, he could not force himself down to that depth in the lake. Probably fifteen minutes passed before the body was secured by means of a pole, and life was extinct, tho Dr. Stimpson, of the U. S. marine hospital at Townsend worked at recusitation for a couple of hours.

The funeral was held Wednesday, services under auspices of Port Angeles Aerie, F. O. E., of which he was a member, being held at Ocean View cemetery.

Mr. Dougherty's father died about 18 months ago and since then he has cared for the ranch and been the mainstay of the family, there being, besides, Mrs. Dougherty, two brothers and a sister younger than himself.

This is said to be the first case of death by drowning—except that of Major Cherry last winter, whose boat was found overturned as the only clue to his fate—ever in Lake Crescent.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

STATE REPRESENTATIVE.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination of State Representative, subject to the action of the Republican county convention. C. W. THOMPSON.

BOARD HEARS ARGUMENT

Chairman Filion, refering to the three square miles which Port Angeles occupies on the county map, said he should demand a reduction in the valuation of the city, or an increase in that of the county to correspond. There was no justice in the realty of these three square miles paying taxes on a valuation of $684,000, as great as the first and second districts combined.

The point of first importance to be considered by the Board, is the reduction of the tax levy. We are paying about 7½ per cent in the city and about 4½ per cent outside. Its one of, if not the, highest rates in the state. It prohibits investment in all lines and retards the county's growth. A certain sum is necessary to run the county and pay indebtedness. To raise more is prohibited by law. We can only have a lower levy by increasing the valuation. The valuation of the city's realty has not greatly increased; the bulk of it is entirely unimproved, yet it pays a tax equal to that on some 200 square miles of the east and middle districts. The realty of the county should be raised at least sufficiently that the rate of levy may be cut in half. The law provides for this; there is every precedent for it; the state board recommends it; every other county except Jefferson has done so.

The second point for consideration is the increase in assessment of timber lands, that they may pay their just proportion in accordance with recent increase in value. This will require good judgment and considerable time, but it is what the Board is elected for, and for that it draws its salary. The timber men have employed the best legal talent in an endeavor to keep their assessment as low as possible. It is a regrettable fact that the Board is not in harmony on the question. All the more reason, then, why the other members should refuse to be influenced and should see to it that all interests pay their just proportion.

In Snohomish, the average valuation of timber is placed at $20, and it runs up to over $50 per acre. Other counties have also placed valuations on a fair basis. In this county but two or three tracts are placed at $20, and the average is $6 or $7. There is no question, but that even at this increase, they are yet too low. These lands are not bought for speculation; the business principles of the real estate dealer do not enter into their calculation; they do not propose to remove the timber, but as in the case of the Robinson purchase or of the reputed deal on between the Laceys and the P. S. Mills & T. Co., for the Port Crescent holdings, they cease operations; their investments are made as investments pure and simple, and they should pay somewhere near their fair score.

The August issue of The Coast, Seattle, is a lithle better and larger than any prior one. The increase is due to the natural growth and stability of the support the publisher is receiving. The present publisher, Honor L. Wilhelm, has continued the magazine over five years, during which time it has been a local, representative magazine of the entire Pacific Northwest, and he has brought it, single-handed and alone, to the point of influence and standard which it now occupies.

County Surveyor Walker, of Townsend, who was at Quilcene last week, says he learned from the engineer in charge that a one per cent grade was being located. It has been supposed nothing less than an average three per cent route could be found. The force is divided into three crews, and are cross-sectioning the proposed route to permit final calculations for giving construction contracts.

The Lewis and Clark Exposition paid its stockholders 23½ per cent. on the par value of the stock. A good financial investment, with untold additional advantages to the city and the entire Northwest.

Thurston county republicans adopted a resolution, last Friday, favoring the direct primary movement.

King county democratic central committee has endorsed the direct primary system.

The first test of the new Illinois primary law was held at Chicago, August 4th.

The Training School

The manual training school enrollment has reached sixty, being about the limit of pupils the present institution can do justice to. The girls are evincing great interest in the work, finding the sessions all too short. The physical culture class has been divided, making two classes; three lessons will be given in this branch next week. The Civic Club would be pleased to receive assistance from any ladies who can devote a portion of their time to the work, in order that the greatest good may be done during the short term.

New Game Warden

The Board appointed Chris. Armandt as county game warden, vice F. Snow, at their session this week. Mr. Armandt is a native of Sweden, a lover of nature and out-door life, and a gentleman who has always been interested in game protection. He will give his entire attention to the duties of the office and enforce the laws without favor. His appointment is a long step in the good work of perpetuating the elk and deer of the county.

A. Goldwater Buys

T. T. Aldwell sold the lot and building on the north side of Front street, occupied by Merritt's barber shop, to Albert Goldwater for $4,250 on Monday; it was owned by Mrs. Constance of Townsend.

The price paid by J. T. McChesney, last week, for lot 2, block 15, being just east of Mrs. Phelps', owned by the Olympic Land Co., was $3,000. Mr. McChesney also took up his option, thru Mr. Aldwell, for lot 9, block 13.

The Balboa, a lumber schooner, went ashore below Port Crescent, Monday afternoon, during the fog, and was pulled off by the Alice Gertrude Tuesday, making the steamer ten hours late on her regular run. The Rosalie was also ashore on Protection Island, but the rising tide floated her after a delay of five hours.

Twenty thousand dollars was paid out by a fruit cannery at Puyallup this year for red raspberries, all being for fruit that, owing to shortage of pickers, had become over-ripe and unfit for shipping. It cost 30c per crate for picking, and the cannery paid 3½c per pound for fruit. The cannery plant cost $4,000.

T. J. Gorman of the Porter Fish Co., Anacortes, says the canneries of the sound would be able to put up a pack equal to that of 1902 in a week's steady run, should the salmon came in sufficient numbers; 326,000 cases was the pack of four years ago, and 100,000 have already been packed. Prices have ranged from 25c to 35c per fish.

Wardens' Strenuous Life

Captain Fred. Hanson, of Hoodsport, the supervisor of this portion of the Olympic Forest Reserve, has one of the most difficult divisions in the reserve to keep clear of fire, owing to the heavy timber and sparcely settled condition of the country. He has several good men, tried and true, serving under him as rangers and he manages to keep them on the "hustle" looking out that Uncle Sam's valueable holdings in Clallam county are taken care of.

Forest Ranger, John Dyke, Sr., reports severe and extensive forest fires at and near the base of Blue Mountain, in the east part of the county, he having had a number of men under his supervision fighting fires the past week. Owing to the extremely dry weather and scarcity of water, the fires are very hard to control, keeping the rangers busy day and night; and in one instance, having to work three days and nights almost without intermission, finally succeeding in controlling the flames.

Ranger Dyke wishes to impress upon all ranchers, prospectors and campers the necessity of being careful with fires, and as the law, governing such cases, is very severe, he will enforce it where it has been wantonly violated in letting forest fires get started.
