PROSPECTS WERE NEVER BRIGHTER

MILWAUKEE SURVEYS ARE MADE FOR IMMEDIATE USE

Work Planned so that All Pacific Coast Points Will Be Reached Without Delay and at About Same Time.

According to information received by the Townsend Call from the Hoh river section in Western Jefferson, the several railroad engineering corps operating there are rushing surveys with remarkable energy. The work is being done with a thoroness that will obviate the necessity of having the same ground gone over again. The route of the proposed railroad has been cross-sectioned, grade stakes driven and cuts and fills estimated so that when grading the road bed is commenced there will be no delay. The Call informant says he has talked with the heads of the several corps in the employ of the Milwaukee and they state they have no definite knowledge of the plans of their company but they have orders to rush the survey as rapidly as possible and the work must be thoro in every respect. They, however, gave it as their opinion that it is the intention of the company to reach Port Angeles as soon as possible and that grading and track-laying would commence in a short time. The road to to Angeles would be rushed and for a time it would be utilized as a logging road and later it will be thoroly ballasted and put in as good condition as any of the company's system. After Angeles is reached then the road will be built to Port Discovery and to Port Townsend.

This corresponds to the recent dispatch to effect that at a meeting of Milwaukee directors the proposition to suspend active railroad construction in the west was voted down and on the other hand it was decided to rush the work. This meeting was of more than ordinary significance as it means that the Milwaukee intends reaching all its Pacific Coast points without delay.

The several railroad companies have complained of the scarcity of labor which has seriously handicapped their Pacific coast operations. This trouble can now be overcome owing to the shutdown for a couple of months, on account of over-production, of a large number of logging companies. This will relieve the labor shortage to a considerable degree and enable railroad construction to progress much more rapidly.

That the Northern Pacific is alive to the situation is shown by their placing an order in the east for 35,000 tons of steel rails. A short time ago it placed an order for 60,000 tons of rails, these orders being presumably for its Peninsular line, work on which has already been quietly commenced at Summit.

FORT CASEY AT THE BAT

The Fort Casey ball team will be here Sunday for a game with the home team; as an excursion will be run from the forts it is expected there will be a large attendance of the boys in blue.

Prof. Bond Released.

Prof. C. E. Bond, of Blaine, who was engaged by the Angeles school board early in May as city superintendent, has been released. The Bellingham Normal offered him a better salary and prospects for rapid advance, and he, of course, accepted. The Normal school, it might be stated, asked for and secured Prof. Bond's release, (the Angeles board not wishing to stand in the way of his advancement), before offering him the position.

EXCURSION SUNDAY GREAT SUCCESS

SIX HUNDRED SEATTLEITES ENJOY THE TRIP

Many Come Down to Visit Relatives and Old Time Friends. And Many More Were Left at Seattle Dock.

The steamer Whatcom was crowded to the limit on the Seattle-Angeles excursion Sunday, bringing down six hundred people, and disappointing half that many more who had planned on a delightful ride down the strait to the little city in the shadow of the Olympics.

But two hours were had in the town, barely sufficient for the former residents of this place to say "dowdy" to old friends, and fill their lungs with pure mountain air and their hearts with a longing for the restfulness of the old home.

Some three hundred attended the ball game; six innings were played, Angeles scoring ten and McDougal & Southwick seven.

Among the Angeles people, temporarily residents of Seattle, who took advantage of the excursion, were Mr. and Mrs. "Gov." Shields, Mr. and Mrs. Jack A. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fenn and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carter, Mr. and Mrs. "Doc" Griswold, Miss Dye, Mrs. George Phelps, Miss Hypotia Dermul, Miss Ethel Ferguson, Mrs. Henry Gutenberg, Harry E. Lutz and sons Harold and Hugh, Fred Foster, Fred Ulmer, Lloyd McKechnie, Rupert Bowman, Clifford Clementson, W. A. Goff and others.

DAILY BOAT NEXT MONDAY

The Whatcom comes down Saturday on the Rosalie's run, and begins her daily round trip schedule Monday the 10th, leaving Seattle at 7:30 a.m., Port Angeles at 2:00 p. m., arriving at Port Crescent at 4:00 p. m., and returning, leaving Port Angeles between 8:00 and 9:00 p. m. She lays off Tuesday. The Bellingham takes the Neah Bay run, arriving in Port Angeles Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Excursion tickets will be sold thru the summer, Saturdays and Sundays, at $2.00 round trip from Seattle.

BOARD LETS 3 CONTRACTS

The Board of Commissioners let the contract for Road No. 64, known as the Draper road, to A. G. Draper for $550.

Harry Covington and E. H. Isbell were awarded the contract for the McDonald bridge at $3,975; the Gate City Contracting Co. were the next lowest bidders, theirs being $4,775. It is said the lower bid was very close to the engineer's estimate of cost of construction, leaving no margin for possible loss, which it is hoped they will not incur.

Representative Dave Govan of Dungeness was a visitor before the Commissioners Tuesday in the interest of a road contract for which he put in a bid of $500. He was awarded the contract.

Residents having petitioned for the old road in the De Witt Burns neighborhood, road No.68 was laid on the shelf for the present and obstructions ordered removed from the old road.

The Lecture Well Attended.

The lecture by H. C. If he should return to Port Angeles he will be greeted by a large audience. The ladies of the church are to be congratulated on being able to present to the public two such speakers as Mr. Mason and Dr. Van Horn, who will lecture at the same time and place next week.

WHAT IS YOUR PERSONAL OPINION

SHALL CITY HAVE UNLIMITED SALOONS ?

Do You Feel that You Have Been Misrepresented by the Councilman of Your Ward ? Tell Him So !

Councilman-at-Large Ritchie's resolution to limit the number of saloons to seven, thus turning down the application now before the council for another permit, which was lost by a tie vote a week ago, was again lost, by a vote of two to three, Tuesday night. Mr. Ritchie believed he was voicing the sentiment of the people of the city as a whole, who elected him to guard their interests, when he took the stand that seven saloons were enough drinking places for the thirsty in a town of 3,000 quiet, law-abiding people. He said we had no police justice, had no use for one, nor for a jail either, and that the entire fees of the justice of peace wouldn't keep him from starvation. Every additional saloon would have a tendency to lower the moral character of the town, a fact which is amply demonstrated by the striking examples which have and are being turned out by one of the last additions to this line of business here.

Councilman Grubb, who voted in favor of the resolution two weeks ago, is at the lakes, or the vote would have been a tie. He represents the business district — the merchants who believe their business will be injured by the addition of further saloons; the real estate men who see menace to their business in the unfavorable impression created upon visitors and intending investors; the property owners who do not wish the sale of their business lots or rental of their buildings to be affected by the near proximity of another saloon, and the saloon men themselves, most of whom are endeavoring to conduct their business in an orderly manner and have the right to demand that their business be not further disgraced by questionable resorts, such as must follow the unlimited granting of licenses.

The cleanup on the Seward peninsula will be $6,000,000, the Nome district leading withabout $47,000,000. But for labor troubles in the camps the cleanup would have been greater. EXTENSIVE PLANS FORMULATED BY DOMINION GOVERNMENT.

Coast Guards Every Four Miles, Huts Being Connected by Telephone, Good Roads Along Coast and a Patrol Steamer Among Improvements.

Victoria, May 31—Ralph Smith, M. P., who has arrived here from Ottawa, is arranging for the construction of a road between Carmanah and Bamfield creek, on the west coast of Vancouver island, at a cost of between $30,000 and $40,000, for the use of a coast guard patrol equipped with horses, carts and life saving apparatus for use in event of shipping disasters there. Coast guards will be placed every four miles, their huts being connected by telephone. The work is to begin at once and be completed ready for this winter. A patrol steamer will be built similar to the cruiser Canada, on the Atlantic, to be used to safeguard shipping on the Vancouver island coast in winter and the fishery protection service in the summer.

An acetylene beacon thirty feet high, with automatic bell and whistle, will be placed on Swiftsure bank, and three life boats, one motor-propelled, will be established, all to be ready for use next winter.

Arrangements have also been made for extensive wireless telegraph stations in British Columbia. The central station will be at Clover point, Victoria, and other depots will be located at Port Simpson, Bamfield creek and Triangle island, westernmost of the Scott group at the northwest of Vancouver island. This station will be equipped with Marconi apparatus, but arrangements are expected to be made to allow of communication when ships calling are equipped with other systems.

The Dominion government proposes to send experts to Vancouver island to investigate the iron ores, with a view to the establishment of electric smelting.

SOLDIERS' HOME WILL BE AT PORT ORCHARD

Seattle, June 3.—Port Orchard is the unanimous choice of the legislative soldiers' home commission and the state board of control as the site of the proposed branch soldiers' home. This was the result of a joint meeting of the two bodies held in the Arlington hotel here.

The state is to pay $8,000 for the site, which comprises forty-three and a half acres of land, and upon which stand three residence buildings, and which is adjoining the town of Port Orchard. The buildings go with the real estate. The selection was made because of the advantages the site possessed over the others in competition in the way of transportation facilities, accessibility, scenic beauty.

The last legislature appropriated $50,000 for the proposed home and it was officially announced at the close of the meeting that the work of establishing the home would begin immediately. The home is to be maintained in conjunction with that already established at Orting, and is to be built with especial attention to the care of old soldiers with families.

TEXAS FINES OIL TRUST AND ASKS FOR OUSTER

Austin, Texas, June 4.—A jury has found the Waters-Pierce Oil company of Missouri guilty of violating the anti-trust laws of Texas, convicted it of having entered the state by fraud, fined it $1,023,000 and granted the prayer of the state for ouster proceedings.

The defense immediately filed a motion for a new trial and the case will be taken into the federal courts. The state filed a petition with District Judge Brooks for the appointment of a receiver, also an injunction to restrain the company from moving any of its property from the state. The judge granted a temporary injunction and set the receivership case for June 8.

Druggists Must Label Compound

Olvmpia, June 4.—Physicians' prescriptions compounded by druggists, as well as other medicines, must have noted on the label the percentage of alcohol, morphine, opium, etc., under the law passed by the 1907 legislature, in the opinion of Assistant Attorney General J. B. Alexander. The opinion is given W. P. Bonney, of Tacoma, secretary of the State Pharmacists' Association. He also holds that the 1907 law providing for a state liquor license does not repeal the law providing for liquor licenses for drug stores.

More Money for Railway Clerks

Chicago, June 1.—The Record-Herald says: "Before the end of the summer more than 200,000 unorganized laborers and clerks employed by Western railroads will receive voluntary increase in wages that will average 10 per cent. The aggregate increase will be several million dollars. The increases are said to have been apportioned in a manner intended to show that it is unneccessary for labor to organize to receive proper recognition."

ADDITIONAL LIQUOR LICENSE

New State Law Goes Into Effect this Month.

Olympia, June 1.—State Treasurer Mills has issued a public statement relative to the new law which goes into effect on June 12 requiring all persons selling liquor in the state of Washington to pay a license of $25 into the state treasury. The state treasurer urges all liquor dealers to make remittances immediately and send formal application for the new license, on account of the fact that his office will be swamped with this work if the applications are not made until the new law actually goes into effect.

The new license law applies to all liquor sellers, including those on board steamboats plying in the waters of this state, and also parlor or buffet cars, as well as saloons and other resorts. It is expected to add at least $100,000 per annum to the revenues of the state The state treasurer has prepared no regular form of application for this new license and requires only a description of the premises, steamboat or car in which liquor is to be sold, together with the remittance of $25.

RAILROAD STRIKES ORE IN SALTESE TUNNEL

Helena, Mont., May 31.—A report has reached here of one of the richest strikes ever made in the Coeur d'Alene mining district. The report is to the effect that a fourteen-foot ledge of rich galena ore has been encountered in the Saltese tunnel, now being driven by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway Company through the Montana-Idaho divide.

To lend color to the rumor there was filed here with the county clerk and recorder Saturday last a notice and affidavit of location of a tunnel site by the Montida Mining Companys a Washington corporation, which iknown to be controlled by the Milwaukee people, wherein the name of F. E. Williams appears as locator and president of the company, and that of C. E. Bailey as secretary.

The location of the claim is identical with the location of the Saltese tunnel through the Montana-Idaho divide. The claim extends 3,000 feet long and 750 feet wide. In the affidavit it is claimed that there has already been expended in prosecuting the work of a tunnel now in a distance of 248 feet, and in constructing a power plant and other improvements the sum of $25,000. The Montida Mining Company has already located numerous claims along both sides of the tunnel site.

FIGHT TWO-CENT FARE IN MINNESOTA

St. Paul, Minn., June 3.—The eight so-called "friendly suits" have been filed in the United States district court against the Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Milwaukee, Northwestern, Omaha, Minneapolis &S t. Louis, the Soo and Chicago Great Western railways asking that they be enjoined from putting into effect the commodity rate recently ordered reduced by the state railroad and warehouse commission. The state of Minnesota is made a party to the suits.

The suits are brought by the stockholders of the various roads and briefly they allege that the recent laws enacting two cent passenger fares and the reduced freight rate, which were to have gone into effect June 1, are contrary to a provision of the United States constitution. The complainants ask for an order restoring the old rate.

Judge Lochren granted a temporary injunction restraining the putting of the rates into effect.

EVERETT PEOPLE MOVE TO BUILD CITY DOCK

Everett, June 1.—A mass meeting of Everett citizens at the courthouse last night voted unanimously in favor of the city council proceeding with the construction of a city dock in preference to leasing the property to private parties. The estimated cost of the new structure is $22,600. It will probably be 60x300 feet in size with a twenty-four foot driveway 450 feet in length. A float will be placed on one side to accommodate the gasoline boats and other smaller craft now comprising the mosquito fleet between Everett and the islands.

An additional two or three mills are to be added to the assessment to meet the cost, as the city is not financially able to carry out the scheme without so doing.

No Strike of Telegraphers

New York, June 4.—The threatened trike of 20,000 telegraphers against the Western Union Telegraph Company will not take place. Officials of the company and Samuel J. Small, national president of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America, have been in conference over the situation affecting the operators several days, and Small now announces there will be no strike at the present time.

FEDERAL CONTROL

PRESIDENT DELIVERS HIS LONG AWAITED SPEECH.

Would Have Exclusive Federa Control of All Railroads Carrying Mail---Protection for the Honest and Prosecution for Dishonest Officials.

President Roosevelt delivered his long-awaited railroad speech at the unveiling of the Lawton monument at Indianapolis. The president declared for:

Exclusive federal control and supervision of all interstate railways.

Exclusive federal control of all mail carrying railroads, including those which operate wholly within the borders of any state.

National supervision over future issuance of stocks and bonds.

A national incorpration that would give the roads the seal of government approval, such as national banks now enjoy.

Criminal prosecution of men who plunder others by issuing great masses of securities and sell them for fraudulent or selfish interest, instead of applying the money so acquired to the legitimate use of the road on whose property the securities were issued.

Protection of the honest railroad manager, whose aim is to maintain a high standard of efficiency for his road and to seek an honest and legitimate return on the money invested.

Allowing railroads to acquire connecting lines, but forbidding them to combine with parallel lines.

Public traffic agreements in the interests of the people, subject to the approval of the interstate commerce commission.

Physical valuation of railroad properties, such valuations not to be retroactive, and present securities to be tested by the laws under which they were issued.

The divorcing of railroad management from stock speculation.

The president declared against government operation of railroads, save in "wholly exceptional cases."

ADVOCATES FEDERAL CONTROL OF ROADS

Indianapolis, June 1.—President Roosevelt insists that there must be vested in the federal government a full power of supervision and control over the railways doing interstate business. This is the substance of his address here at the unveiling of a statute to Gen. Henry W. Lawton, who was killed in the battle of San Mateo, Philippine islands, September 19, 1899.

In many respects, the president said, he would have a power exercised over the railroads as complete as that exercised over national banks by the federal government. Continuing, he said:

"It must possess the power to exercise supervision over the future issuance of stocks and bonds, either through a national incorporation (which I should prefer), or in some similar fashion, such supervision to include the frank publicity to everything which would-be investors and the public at large have a right to know. The federal government will then be able to prevent, all overcapitalization in the future; to prevent any man hereafter from plundering others by loading railway properties with obligations and pocketing the money instead of spending it in improvements and in legitimate corporate purposes; and any man acting in such fashion should be held to a criminal accountability. It should be declared contrary to public policy henceforth to allow railroads to devote their capital to anything but the transportation business, certainly not to the hazards of speculation.

To Discourage Manipulation

"For the very reason that we desire to favor the honest railroad manager, we should seek to discourage the activities of the man whose only concern with railroads is to manipulate their stocks. The business of railroad organization and management should be kept entirely ditsinct from investment or brokerage business, especially of the speculative type, and the credit and property of the co poration should be devoted to the extension and betterment of its railroads nd to the development of the country naturally tributary tot he lines. These principles are fundamental.

'R'ailroads should not be prohibited from securing connecting lines, but it is already well settled as contrary to public policy to allow railroads to acquire control over parallell and competing lines of transportation. Subject to first giving to the government the power of supervision and control, which I have advocated above, the law should be amended so that railroads amy be permitted and encouraged to make traffic agreements when these are in the interest of the general pbulic, as well as of the railroad corporations making them. These agreements should, of course, be made public in the minutest dean dtail, should be subject to securing the previous assent of the intererstate commerce commission.

Movement Comes to Stay

"The move-ment to regulate railways by law has come to stay. The people of country have made up their minds—and wisely made up their minds—to exercise a closer control over all kinds of public service corporations, including railways. Every honestly managed railway will gain and not lose by the policy. The men more anxious to manipulate stocks than to make the management of their roads efficient and honest are the only ones who have cause to oppose it.

"We who believe in a steady and healthy progress stand unalterably for the new era of the widest publicity, and of fair dealing on the part of the railroads with stockholders, passengers and shippers. We ask the consent of no man in carrying out this policy, but we gladly welcome the aid of every man in perfecting the law in its details, and in securing the enactment and the faithful observance of its wise provisions.

"We seek nothing revolutionary. We ask for such laws as in their essence now obtain i n the staidold common wealth of Massachusetts; such laws as now obtain in England. The purpose of those of us who so resolutely believe in the new policy, in its thorough carrying out and in its progressive development, is in no sense punitive or vindictive. We would be the first to protest against any form of confiscation of property, and whether we protest or not, I may add that the supreme court could be trusted in any event to see that there should be nothing done under the guise of regulating roads to destroy property without just cmpensation or without due process of law.

No Scheme of Vengeance

"As a matter of course we shall punish any criminal whom we can convict under the law; but we have no intention of confounding the innocent many and the guilty few by any ill-judged and sweeping scheme of vengeance. Our aim is primarily to prevent these abuses in the future. Wherever evildoers can be they shall be brought to justice, and no criminal high or low, whom we can reach shall receive immunity

"The man who builds a great railroad and those who invest in it render a great public service; for adequate transportation facilities are a vital necessity to the country. We favor full and ample return to such men; but we do not favor a policy of exploiting the many for the benefit of the few.

"Ample provision should be made," the president added, "to enable the interstate commerce commission, by the employent of a sufficient force of experts, to undertake the physical valuation of each and every road in the country."

The president declared that the greatest need of the country today is more railroads, more terinals, rolling stock and better transportation facilities generally. He said that to bring this about millions of dollars must be obtained from investors and to secure this money reasonable safeguards must be thrown around the roads and the securities. He said it was the intention of the administration, without doing anything revolutionary, to do everything possible to make such investors safe and bring about honest and efficient railway operation in this country, divorced from speculative and stock gambling Wall street methods of running railroads.

SCHOOL OFFICERS URGED MAKE CENSUS COMPLETE

Olympia, June 3.—State Supebrintendent Bryan has issued a letter of instructions to all county superintendents urging that special efforts be made this year to make a complete census of the school children.

"Owing to increased assessment," he says "it is now possible to secure the maximum of $10 for every child of school age. Heretofore the limitatoin of a maximum levy of five mills has prevented the levying of a sum sufficient to produce $10 for every child of school age."

The state superintendent's letter also notifies the county superintendents to send in a list of all outstanding school bonds in their respective counties. The idea of this is to furnish the list to the state board of finance for the purpose of giving the state board an opportunity to buy up outsanding bonds; this will serve the double purpose of giving investment of state school moneys and will also reduce the interest paid by most school districts.

A DYING SOLDIER.

To the tune of "Just Before the Battle, Mother."

Just as the moon rose o'er the hill,
There on the battle field lay
Many a soldier wan and still,
Fell mid the glories of the day.
One's tho'ts were for mother at home alone,
Whom he would nevermore see,
And these were the words that he murmured
As he turned his gaze toward the sea.

Cho. Farewell my darling mother,
You will see me never more;
But, mother, you'll not forget me
When I've reached that golden shore.

Mid the battle's roar today I fell,
Shot thru the breast by the foe;
But I've tried to do my duty till
God thought 'twas time for me to go.
And many a soldier old and young,
Both dying and dead around me lie,
For they know the victory we have won
And now in peace we die.
