ATTENTION! NOTICE!!

To the Electors of Clallam County.

If you approve of the policies as outlined on political page under the head of "paid advertisement," I ask for your support and vote at the primary election September the 8th, and on election day November 3rd, 1908.

Two articles, nine and ten, were left out of my platform under the head of section B. Please re-read the whole of it and file it away for future reference. Every one of the measures advocated is of vital interest to the people of the state and nation. Very truly yours,

LEWIS LEVY.

Some busy-bodies are circulating the story that I have disqualified myself by permitting my announcement to remain in the papers after declaring my candidacy before the county auditor. I want to say that I have complied with the primary law strictly as interpreted by the attorney-general of the state. Some of the candidates, I am aware, have become scared because of the opinion of a prospective candidate for attorney, and have withdrawn their notices, but it seems to me they are easily frightened. Nothing could be more absurd than the proposition that the legislature intended that a man could not announce his candidacy in the papers. Such a proposition would mean that the poor man would be barred, and the rich man would have to graft plentifully to make expenses. A. J. Cosser.

WAADDAH STATION NEARLY READY

KEEPER IS NOW AT NEAH BAY

G. W. McAfee, Well Known in the Pacific Coast Service, Has Been Appointed to the New Position.

George W. McAfee, who has been appointed keeper of the Waaddah Island life saving station, arrived in Port Townsend Tuesday enroute to Neah Bay to take charge. The gasoline life boat for the station was received at Townsend two months ago.

Mr. McAfee has had ten years' experience as surfman in the United States life saving service, and comes direct from the Arenas Cove life-saving station, ninety miles north of San Francisco. Prior to that he saw service at the Grays Harbor station, and other places. He was with the life boat that took thirteen men from the wrecked four-masted bark Poltalloch, off Willapa, and also assisted in the rescues at the wrecks of the five-masted schooner Lewis, off the Farallones, and the schooner W. F. Wetzer, off Fort Point.

"We will have eight men in the crew of the life-saving station at Waaddah," said Mr. McAfee last evening. "I expect that Capt. Howard Emory, the inspector, will be at Waaddah within the next ten days to look over the completed station, and if he is satisfied the station will be opened at once. I do not anticipate much work for us of a serious nature until the stormy season, but we will keep the coast well patroled all the time."

AN ANGELES BOOSTER

E. K. McMichael, who has been here the two weeks renewing acquaintance with his family, returned to Portland yesterday where he is manager of the Depot Pharmacy. Mr. McMichael is an enthusiast on the climatic conditions and possibilities and prospects of Port Angeles and took with him a large amount of advertising matter for distribution. Bert Wagner, the young Californian, who accompanied Mr. McMichael here, purchasing twelve lots in the 2nd Syndicate addition, will remain and improve his property for a home.

MAKING GOOD SHOWING

The framework of the hall being built by the Angeles Athletic Association is now well along and it becomes apparent the club will have as neat a home as any organization in the city. The floor, built especially solid, is forty by seventy feet, with an annex fifteen by twenty. Being of bungalow style, the roof will be a prominent feature, giving room for the various kinds of apparatus. Two porches will relieve the severity of the general outline, one of these being enclosed later, with ornamental doors and windows.

A MISSION FESTIVAL

On Sunday, August 16th, the Ev. Lutheran Church will celebrate a mission festival in Civic Park. Arrangements have been in progress for some weeks and a splendid festival is promised. There will be an address in the German language by Emil Lehmann, stud theo., and in English by Rev. Luther Feeger of Seattle. All our friends are cordially invited.

WILL VOTE FOR PRESIDENT

County Clerk E. A. FitzHenry returned Wednesday from a business trip to Seattle where he attended the meeting of the democratic state committee. One of the surprises of the visit was the withdrawal of Mr. FitzHenry from the position of presidential elector and the substitution of Dr. N. K. Mead, also of this city, to his place on the ticket.

Rev. G. N. Edwards will preach at the Congregational church next Sunday. Rev. Edwards was formerly pastor here, and has many friends in the city who will be pleased to hear and see him again.

MILWAUKEE HAS INSIDE TRACK

BEST LINE ON THE PENINSULA

Gets Right-of-Way Through the Heavy Timber Belt From Grays Harbor To This City for Water Frontage.

In the scramble for the most favorable route through the Olympic peninsula, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, although the last in the field, has beaten the Hill interests, according to railroad men, says the Tacoma News. Instead of putting surveyors in the field, staking out a line and buying right-of-way, the Milwaukee is said to have worked the other way. Representatives of the railroad or friendly interests are said to have secured control of a strip of timber land extending from Grays Harbor almost to the straits. Through this the Milwaukee road will be built.

This route is some distance from the ocean with heavily timbered land on each side. The route selected for the Hill extension from Moclips to the straits runs along the beach with timber only on one side. The latter has the advantage of easier construction of the main line, but will have to go farther with the feeder lines.

In conjunction with the Union Pacific, the Milwaukee plans a belt line around the peninsula and a connection with the terminals at Tacoma by means of a car-ferry system operating between this city and Gig Harbor.

Four railroad companies made surveys on the peninsula two years ago, but the Milwakuee and the Northern Pacific have been the only ones to make a definite location.

HELP THE CARNATION GIRL

Miss Ruth Bown has entered the P.-I. scholarship contest in an effort to obtain one of the twenty-five prizes offered those who secure the greatest number of credits for obtaining new subscriptions. At Kent, her present home, where she graduated from the high school this summer, there is considerable rivalry between the patrons of the two condensing factories, Miss Bown being known as the "Carnation Girl." Though she has but started on the work, she already ranks among the twenty-five at the head of the P. I. list. Special inducements in the way of discounts are offered new subscribers who place their order with one of the contestants, thus making it an advantage to the subscriber to assist the students. Miss Ethel McMillan will receive subscriptions, either by the month or year, from Miss Bown's friends here.

NEW ATHLETIC CLUB

At a Citizen's Meeting held at Parish Hall Thursday evening of last week, steps were taken towards the organization of a club to carry out the general scheme for which the hall was built. Messrs. Grubb, T.T. Aldwell, Cosser, Carlisle, Fowler, McGillivray, Trumbnll, Owens, Corsan, Mead, Luppen and J. L. Aldwell were selected as a committee to take charge of the work. The club will be of a social and athletic nature and non-sectarian, membership being open to everyone of good moral standing. Gymnasium appliances will be purchased.

SIX PER CENT GRADE

Engineer Rixon reports the securing of a six per cent grade from Fairholm on Lake Crescent to the summit of the ridge, or two per cent. less than the new grade up Tumwater hill, which is considered very slight for a wagon road. Beyond the summit the road will be practically level for several miles, making one of the finest automobile trips in the country.

Judge C. G. Austin, one of the old-time state politicians, spent Tuesday in the city. Judge Austin is a candidate for lieutenant governor.

The Owls have rented the hall over the Port Angeles Grocery and are having it fitted up for their nest.

MAKING PERSONAL INVESTIGATION

TO AID BOARD IN EQUALIZATION

Each County Will Be Visited and Information Obtained at First Hand. Will Insist on Sixty Per Cent Valuation.

State Tax Commissioner Frost, who, in company with Commissioner Rockwell, returned to Olympia Saturday from eastern Washington where they have been investigating the relatives values of property, gives in an interview, the following outline of their method of procedure for this year:

"In the equalizing of assessment values for the basis of the apportionment of state revenues the state board of equalization will proceed this year upon an entirely different method than that followed heretofore, and we hope to accomplish much more equitable results.

"Heretofore the state board has entered upon its work of equalizing values with little other reliable information before it than that contained in the returns from the several counties. Before the board each year there are representatives from the counties, each urging that the assessment of his own county be reduced and that of the other counties be either sustained or increased. In the absence of reliable specific information, as to the character of the assessment in each county, the state board could do little else than make a few haphazard guesses, disturbing increases or reductions where they appeared to be justified. On this account the equalization has been largely a farce.

"This year we are holding hearings in each of the counties, at which we get sworn testimony from the best authorities as to the actual value of specific properties of the different classes. When this information is secured we compare the actual values obtained with the assessed values shown upon the assessment rolls.

"When the board convenes it will have placed before it all of the testimony thus accumulated and the deductions to be drawn therefrom. The state board can determine upon an average uniform basis for the state assessment and increase or lower the figures returned by the several counties, so as to make the assessment uniform for state purposes. If the uniform basis selected should be 50 per cent. of the actual value of the property, for instance, a county which has returned a 60 per cent. assessment will have its figures reduced by one-sixth and a county returning a 40 per cent. assessment

SHERIFF INVESTIGATES FULLY

And Finds that Religious Prejudice Has Much to Do with Murder of Joseph and Attitude of Family.

In view of the conflicting stories that have been published in the Seattle and local papers regarding the murder of R. W. Joseph in Seattle on the 18th inst., Sheriff Cosser has fully investigated the facts in the case and finds by the statements of Mrs. Joseph and others in position to know the following to be about the straight of it.

Mrs. Joseph was married about seven years ago to A. E. Rose; immediately she learned that he had married her for her money, and stole from her at every opportunity; that he did not contribute one cent to her support during the five years of their married life; that she supported him during all of this time; that he forged her name to a note for $100 at one time and transferred her valuable property with the aid of another woman whom he represented as his wife; that through her generosity he was kept out of the penitentiary for this; that instead of getting a divorce by mutual agreement to beat the claim of C. H. Lilly as alleged by Rose, Mrs. Joseph settled his debt with Lilly and recovered her property two months before she secured her divorce from him. That she suffered personal indignities and abuses at the hands of Rose and tolerated him much longer than most women would; that he threatened to kill her and the man she married in the event of her marrying again; that Joseph appeared on the scene after the divorce and won her attentions by his kindness to everybody; that the threats of her people were added to those of Rose because Joseph was not of their race or church, but an Afghanistan; that because of these threats they married by contract, later by law, came to Port Angeles and to cover their identity went by the name of Thompson; that Joseph was later seen in Seattle and arrested for murdering Mrs. Joseph, and thus was compelled to tell of her whereabouts, that persecutions followed, culminating in the death of Joseph; that the brothers of Mrs. Joseph and most of her race now seek to shield Rose, believing that he has done them and their church a service by ridding one of their families of an outsider who dared to invade their sacred sphere; that if she had dared to marry the president of the United States and the president had dared to marry her he would have been killed as was Joseph.

Official County Paper

FRIDAY, JULY 31, 1908

Voters should not overlook the fact that in order to enjoy their franchise they must be registered before the primary.

A. R. Coleman of Port Townsend has filed his declaration of candidacy for the position of superior judge for the judicial district, embracing Jefferson Clallam and Island counties, with the state auditor as required by the primary law. Judge Lester Still filed his declaration sometime ago and it is probable that these will be the only declarations filed for the important office.

Former Governor McBride, accompanied by Judge Dalton, was in the city Tuesday meeting those interested in state politics and endeavoring to ascertain the feeling of Clallam county people with reference to the governorship. Mr. McBride has visited many of the counties of the state and reports the outlook most encouraging for his nomination. They drove to Sequim later in the day.

If the population of the state asylums is not increased abnormally before the day of the primary election it will be a wonder. Various puzzles in the past have driven people to insanity, but none of them ever contained the possibilities for wrecking sound minds that is found in the second choice provision of the direct primary law. If you don't believe it just allow one statistical partisan of each of the respective leading candidates for governor to figure it out for you for thirty minutes. It would make Old Man Percentage himself bug-house. A good figurer can show you how his man will get thirty per cent of the first choice vote, five per cent of one man's vote on second choice, ten per cent of another's, seven and three-eights of anothers, and so on. It is a fine plan of campaign, and the only real weakness it has in practice is the fact that the figurers won't guarantee the salaries of the offices.

The steam schooner Charles Nelson loaded eleven hundred thousand shingles here this week, sailing Wednesday for San Francisco.

DUE TO RELIGIOUS FANATICISM

Mrs. Joseph returned to Port Angeles last Friday and from the time of her arrival till Tuesday she was in a state of menial collapse, sometimes being completely out of her mind because of her great trouble. She wanted to die, she said, she wanted the slayer of her husband to kill her. Kind friends and neighbors did every thing possible for her comfort but could help little; in fact, some kind attentions proved a source of discomfort to her, as at such a time it was hard to tell friends from foes with soft words. We are pleased to note at this writing Mrs. Joseph is perfectly rational and only needs sleep and food and something to divert her mind from her trouble to regain her heretofore robust health. It is her desire to remain here, she says, but her relatives wish her to return to Seattle. During the week Mrs. Joseph has been visited by her sister, mother and younger brother, all of whom are now here.

Mr. and Mrs. John McRoberts were tendered a farewell, Wednesday evenning, July 29, at the I. O. O. F. hall, nearly one hundred brother and sister Rebekah's and friends being present. During the evening Mary McClure led Mrs. McRoberts to the center of the room where U. G. Arnice Harris in a few well chosen words presented her with a past noble grand jewel a token of remembrance from the brothers and sisters of Mountain View Rebekah lodge number 34. Refreshments were served, after which dancing was the feature of the evening. Mr. and Mrs. McRoberts expect to leave soon for Everett, where they will make their future home.
