THE OLYMPIC-LEADER'S TICKET

CANDIDATES FOR WHOM WE VOTE

Men, Rather than Party, Should Be First Consideration in Selecting County Officials.

COUNTY TICKET.

Representative—E. E. Fisher.
Auditor—N. M. Hawkins.
Clerk—Horace White.
Sheriff—A. J. Cosser.
Treasurer—Hayes Evans.
Superintendent—Annette Trumbull.
Assessor—D. A. Christopher.
Prosecuting Attorney—W. B. Ritchie.
Engineer—E. A. FitzHenry.
Health Officer—D. E. McGillivray.
Commissioner 1st Dist.—H. J. Bugge.
Com'r 2nd Dist.—K. O. Erickson.
Game Warden—L. G. McBurney.

The above ticket is composed of men who are in every way worthy and well qualified for the political preferment they are seeking, and are conducting their campaigns in a manly and honorable way. That they, one and all, have the requisite qualifications to conduct the business affairs of the county successfully and acceptably to the people will not be disputed.

The Olympic-Leader is not in sympathy with those who worship the party label in county politics, but would suggest to the voters of Clallam county that they scan their ballots closely and pick out the men, rather than the party. There is no doubt that many of the failures in county government are traceable to the system of voting a "straight ticket" regardless of who is on that ticket. The day of the "party label" voter is rapidly passing. Speed the day when men are chosen for political offices the same as they are for positions of trust under private management—solely for merit and fitness

The prudent voter will study all candidates and vote for those who seem best to him.

State Representative the Only County Office which Should Be Purely Political.

One of the important things for all good republicans to consider on November 3 when casting their ballot for representative in the state legislature is the fact that the legislature elected on that date will select a United States Senator who will represent the great State of Washington for six years after the fourth of March next. Everything else being equal, the election of a United States senator should overshadow all other considerations for the election of members of the state legislature. True, the selection of the senator at the primaries largely eliminated the choice by the legislature of the man for the senatorship, nevertheless it is always best to be on the safe side and the prudent voter will act accordingly.

Mr. Fisher, the republican nominee, is a representative man of the county. He is an energetic business man, a ready thinker, and from his experience as a man of affairs is well equipped to represent Clallam county in the lower house of the state legislature.

No Better Selection than Hayes Evans, the Candidate of the People for County Treasurer, Could Be Made.

Hayes Evans, to whom the democratic nomination for county treasurer came entirely unsolicited, enjoys the respect and confidence of all who know him. He first saw the light of day on the old home farm near Dungeness, in 1877. Like the product of the soil of which he is a native, he is first-class in every particular. He is a modest, unassuming young farmer and dairyman who has grown up to man's estate here in Clallam county, and been trained in a school in which exertion is a necessity; a self-made man who has been successful in attending to his own affairs, who has become possessed of considerable property, and is a large tax payer. For these reasons he is entitled to the strong support he is receiving. But there are other reasons, chief of which are his fitness and ability. About this there can be no doubt. In this respect he may not be superior to his opponent, but he is assuredly his equal.

Mr. Evans states that if elected he will demand that the books of the treasurer's office be immediately experted and examined, to the end that the people of the county may know the condition of affairs. Not that Mr. Evans believes there is anything wrong—no one would think of breathind a word of suspicion against any county official—but for the reason that the people have a right to know. We are told that it is seventeen years since there was an expert examination of the books in the treasurer's office, not since the Clump defalcation, and there has been a desire expressed on the part of the public that there should be such an examination.

Several counties in the state, during the past few years, have employed experts to exploit the books of their respective counties, and their work has invariably given the best of satisfaction to the people at large and created a feeling of security among the tax payers. In Pierce county, during the past year, experts have gone over the official records with the result that the rascality of former county officials was unearthed, and the defaulters compelled to make good. We havn't the figures at hand, but, if we remember correctly, the defalcation in one instance was something like $6000; the other not so large. Besides this, it was found that a bridge contract or had been overpaid over three thousand dollars!

The sagacious business man does not trust his private affairs for a long term of years to another without knowing how that business is prospering; then why should the people of the county?

In Iowa and Wisconsin they have what is known as the "tax ferret" laws, under which counties may hire experts to go over the books of the county and ferret out tax dodgers, as well as give an expert examination of all the records of the county, which works well.

Politicians usually "gobble" up all the "fat takes" in a county. The affairs of the treasurer's office in Clallam county have practically been in the same hands for nearly seventeen years. Have not the laboring man, the rancher, and others voted long enough for the politician? Now that they have a chance to vote for this "horny handed son of toil," in the person of Mr. Evans, a good man and true, they should embrace the opportunity and elect him by a handsome majority.

As county treasurer Mr. Evans will have no boss other than the laws governing the office.

Men of Sound Judgment Who Have Made Efficient Officers.

The election by the primaries of K. O. Erickson and H. J. Bugge to succeed themselves as members of the board of county commissioners, was a proper recognition of their services as faithful and efficient officers. Both Mr. Erickson and Mr. Bugge are strong men on the board. Their judgment is good, their business qualifications thorough. Their experience and knowledge of the needs of the county amply fit them as their own successors. The Olympic-Leader is pleased to know that the disposition of the people of this county is to continue to have a board of commissioners with the best sort of qualifications, and in electing Mr. Erickson and Mr. Bugge they will continue to manifest that disposition.

Sheriff Cosser's Record Has Been Satisfactory to All Fair-Minded Men.

Two years ago we supported the candidacy of A. J. Cosser for the office of Sheriff. He was elected by a substantial majority and in the face of somewhat the same fight that is being made upon him this year. His record during the term he has been in office proves to all fair-minded people that the confidence that we and the people put in him at that time was in nowise misplaced. There is no reason why any person who voted for him two years ago should not vote to continue him in office for the balance of the term allowed by law. There are many reasons why many who did not vote for him two years ago should vote for him this year. There is every reason why every lover of law and order should stay with him to a man, irrespective of political affiliation; the opposition to him knows no politics and that is why they often win out tho in the minority. If every person who agrees that Mr. Cosser has done what the law requires, and as is his bounden duty under penalty of impeachment, would vote as they believe they should vote there would be nothing to it—his election would be a foregone conclusion—his victory would be overwhelming. But there are those who will not take the trouble to vote; there are those who will not "scratch" even though their own home were at stake; there are those who will forget the principle at stake, who will for-

OUR REASONS WHY

Capability, Experience, Past Record, and Unequivocal Pledge Are All that Could Be Asked.

We have been asked why, in view of the fact that we believe in the spirit of the law that a man should hold office but one full four year term and then give way to someone else, we are supporting D. A. Christopher for assessor.

The answer is easy. Because he has been our friend, and the man who will go back on his friend isn't worthy of being called a man. Because we intend to vote for him, and we support no man for whom we do not intend to vote. Then, too, it will be remembered that his opponent has also held office once in this county.

Because Christopher owns property in the county — in each of the three districts—and his interests and the people's interests are identical. Because he owns no timber, can be affected in no way by a fair assessment on timber lands. In no way? Well, hardly! When a piece of timber stands on the assessment roll at $2250, as does 320 acres in 17-30-9, the owners of other property must make up the difference. It takes just so much to run the county. With this particular half section assessed for next year at $19,435, the owners of other property will have less taxes to pay.

Because Christopher has always been in favor of a higher assessment on timber. He was a member of the Board of Equalization that raised, to use this particular piece for example again, the assessment, upon which it is paying taxes in the present year, from $1800 to $2250—the 25 per cent raise made on all timber two years ago.

Because experience has made him thoroly capable. Familiar with timber lands thru his work as forest ranger; familiar with the values of other property thru his two years' as deputy assessor and four years as commissioner; familiar with the inside office work of the assessor's office.

Because, having no other irons in the fire, he can give his undivided attention to the duties of the office, an advantage to every tax-payer. The custom of relegating the bulk of the work to deputies, who thru inexperience or a desire to make the office a private snap, pile up expenses on the county, will be largely done away with. Only experienced men will be employed. At Port Crescent this

THE BOND OF SYMPATHY

Old Adage of a Friend in Need Particularly Applicable in the Present Instance.

Have you ever taken a hard day's tramp back away from beaten trails, traveling on for hours without seeing even the slightest sign of anyone's ever having been that way before? If not, hunting and fishing, and the lore of the woods, are not to your liking, and its not to you these words are addressed. But if you have, the chances are ten to one that just as you began to realize you were the first man who had ever passed that way, you found unmistakable evidence of previous visitors — perhaps, as has frequently occurred to the writer, the evidence would be a fragment of the Olympic-Leader with egg shells and other remains of a recent lunch. You've wondered who it was that enjoyed life in the open as well, or perhaps even more than you.

Have you ever, while driving or riding along a lonely stretch of road, thru an old burn, seen two or three scantily clad, brown little children scamper like timid fawns for cover, and seen the bright eyes peer over a log or from behind a stump? Have you ever wondered where their home might be, and for that matter, not having seen any house, are you still wondering?

Have you ever heard the city man or woman, when passing by some tiny log house, set in the center of a little clearing — the start towards a better home — express their wonder that one could stand it to live in so lonesome a place, or wonder how the people could make a living? Let us hope not, for if there is anything that jars on one's sensibilities, it is the thought that there are people — dwellers in cities—who cannot appreciate the strength of the ties that bind Mother Nature and her children.

Have you ever enjoyed the hospitality of such a home—the two-roomed house, the partridge-brown children, the cheerful mother, the wholesome dinner, and above all, the genuine, wholesouled welcome? If not, you have yet to live! There is something in the very air of such a place that makes one feel that this, this is home!

Did you ever stop to think of the bond of sympathy, the strong fellow-feeling, that should and does exist between the owners of such homes—the pioneers who are working for better things? If there is sickness,

ELECTION IS AT HAND

STATE TICKETS IN TWENTY EIGHT STATES ADD TO THE INTEREST.

National Election Decides Not Only Who Shall Be President, But the Complexion of Congress as Well—Terms of 32 Senators Expire March 4.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—Elections will be held in the various states and in the territories of Arizona and New Mexico November 3. Three states, Oregon, Maine and Vermont, have held their state elections and have named members of the next congress—the Sixty-first. Arkansas and Georgia have named state officers only and will select congressmen at the coming election. In twenty-eight states governors and other state officers are to be elected; a number of these states will also elect members of the legislature. Six states will choose justices of the supreme court or minor state officers. In seven congressmen only are to be elected, and in two congressmen and a legislature only.

The terms of thirty-one United States senators, eighteen Republicans and thirteen Democrats, expire March 3, 1909. Alabama, Arkansas, Louisiana and Maryland have chosen Democrats and Kentucky a Republican, while Vermont has chosen a legislature which will name two Republicans. The present senate is composed of sixty-one Republicans and thirty-one Democrats.

Members of the national house of representatives are to be elected. Oregon, Vermont and Maine have already chosen Republican representatives. In some of the Southern states Democrats only have been nominated, while in others Prohibition, Socialist and Independence party nominees will oppose Republicans and Democrats. The present house is composed of 391 members, 223 Republican and 166 Democrats. There are two vacancies.

Elections in the Various States.

South Carolina, as usual, has only one ticket—the Democratic—for state officers. Louisiana also has but one ticket—the Democratic. In this state, however, a justice of the supreme court and a railroad commissioner are the only state officers to be elected.

The Prohibition party has tickets in twenty-one states, the Socialists in twenty-seven, the Independence party in eleven, the Socialist Labor in six and the People's or Populist in five, including Nebraska, where they have fused with the Democrats.

The prohibitionists have tickets in Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, New York, Ohio, South Dakota, Texas, Washington, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

The Socialists have tickets in Colorado, Connecticut, Florida, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, Texas, Utah, Washington, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

The Independence party has tickets in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Idaho, Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Nevada, New York, Ohio and Texas.

The People's or Populist party has tickets in Indiana, Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska and Ohio.

The Socialist Labor party has tickets in Connecticut, Massachusetts, Michigan, New York, Ohio and Texas.

The American party has one ticket, in Utah.

Constitutional Amendments

In twenty-three states a total of ninety proposed constitutional amendments, laws, questions or propositions, will be voted upon. This does not include Michigan, where a revision of the present constitution will be submitted to the voters for adoption or rejection.

The amendments or proposed laws of the several states are of general interest. In South Dakota the proposition of repealing the "one year residence" act, which was passed by the last legislature in order to stop rapid divorces, will be submitted to the voters. Formerly, suit for divorce could be brought after six months residence in the state. Opposition to the short term of residence resulted, and the one year act was passed. The latter has been objected to in certain quarters and petitions were finally secured for the submission of the one year act to a vote of the people at the coming election.

In Illinois the question of a lakes-to-gulf deep waterway will be before the people in the form of a constitutional amendment authorizing the state to issue bonds of $20,000,000 for the enterprise.

A proposed income tax will be voted upon in four states, South Dakota, North Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

California is one of the latest of the states to agitate election reform. To there will be submitted a proposed constitutional amendment, among others, empowering the legislature to enact a direct primary law providing for the direct nomination of all candidates for public office.

Woman Wins Land Prize

Dallas, S D., Oct. 20.—The first name to be drawn in the Rosebud reservation land drawing is that of May A. Metzer, of Kennebec, S. D., who gets first choice of all the lands thrown open by the government.

WILL SOON RULE ON STATE GRAIN RATES

Olympia, Oct. 20.—It is announced by the state railroad commission that it is the intention, if possible, to promulgate findings as to the reasonableness of grain rates in this state before December 1.

This is one of the culminating tasks of the commssison and its ruling on the question will effect about 40 per cent of the freight traffic in Washington.

The commission has named October 27 as the date for finally determining the valuations to be placed on railroad property in the state and at that time the commission will divide the values for the state and interstate traffic purposes. This division will also include a division of operating expenses as applied to state and interstate traffic and figures will be submited by experts showing the cost of hauling each commodity handled by the railroads of the is state per ton miles, or each ton one mile.

With these figurves at hand it will be a matter of exact calculation to determine whether or not the net profits on freight hauling are giving the railroad a fair return upon the value of their property.

If it should be found that the returns are excessive, it does not follow that the entire reduction ordered by the commission will be on the grain rates. It will be necessary to determine what portion of the reasonable profits should be paid by the grain traffic and the findings will be made accordingly.

It is planned to follow the division of values hearing about two days later with the rate hearing for which a basis has been acquired in the Ritzville hearing last summer. It is anticipated that if the decision of the railroad commission calls for a reduction of grain rates the railroads will appeal to the courts, but the commission is proceeding with thoroughness toward reducing rate making to an exact science, and it believes that if its findings are tested in the courts they will stand the test.

PRIZE CARIBOU STORY ARRIVES FROM NORTH

Bellingham, Oct. 17.—John Padden, of this city, who has just returned from a three years' stay in Alaska and the Klondike country, tells the prize caribou story of the season.

Mr. Padden says he was up half way between Forty-Mile and Dawson when he saw the caribou so thick they reminded him of salmon running up a river to the spawning ground. They rushed by all the time he was in that locality for several days. A month after, Mr. Padden says, he saw in Dawson a prospector at whose cabin he had stayed while in the Forty-Mile country.

"How long did it take those caribou to pass your place?" he asked the prospector.

"Fourteen days," was the reply. "They packed the trail as hard as a concrete pavement." This heavy movement was a part of the annual migration of the caribou to more temperate climate when the cold weather begins to come on.

HAWAII PLANS NOVEL EXPOSITION EXHIBIT

Honolulu, Oct. 17.—A miniature group of paper maiche Hawaiian isles in a tank of real water will be a feature of Hawaii's exhibit at the approaching Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition. The relief map will illustrate the relative size of the islands, their direction from one another and their relative distances apart. The water will be given the typical blue tinge of the tropical seas that surround the group and an appliance to keep the water in agitation will add to the reality of the exhibit.

Sugar plantations, coffee ranches and pineapple regions will be indicated. Pearl Harbor, with the improvements and fortifications already under way will be represented, and the crater of Kilauea will be shown in action by the employment of chemicals. The exhibit will be housed in the main Hawaiian building.

ENGLISH METHODS ARE NOT ENDORSED

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 19.—The fortieth annual convention of the National Woman Suffrage Association was called to order by the president, Rev. Anna Howard Shaw. Mrs. Shaw called attention to the program adopted by the workers for woman suffrage and predicted even more rapid advancement of the cause in the future.

The letter from Mrs. Annie Cobbden Sanderson, the English suffragist organizer, advising American suffragists to "introduce into your organization more of the fire of revolt, more denunciation and more insistent demand, that the women of the country may have the power and the liberty to work for the world's moral regeneration," was given out.

"American suffragists do not countenance the methods in vogue in England." This opinion, voiced by one of the prominent delegates, reflects the general feeling among the suffragists here.

Grand Trunk to Run Steamers

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 17.—President Hays, of the Grand Trunk Pacific railroad, announces that a steamship line to Victoria is being arranged. Waterfront property for wharfages was secured on the inner harbor some time ago.

MEMORABLE EDICT

MIKADO URGES PEOPLE TO CEASE "WAR OF WORDS."

Pacific Coast Business Men Are Welcomed in Japanese Capital and Are to Be Lavishly Entertained by Orientals During their Stay.

Tokyo, Oct. 17.—The arrival of the Pacific coast business men at Japan's capital was marked by the issuing of an imperial edict by the mikado calling on the people of Japan to cultivate friendly relations with America and the Western hemisphere and to cease the "war of words" that may result in the disruption of international relations.

The edict is one of the most remarkable ever handed down from the throne, and is said by diplomats here to mark a new era in the history of the Orient.

The emperor calls on the people to elevate the morals of the Japanese nation.

"We must avoid the evil results of a war of words starting with the people," says the edict, "and must endeavor to embrace international friendly relations and cultivate good will and mutual trust between the West and the East."

The Pacific coast business men arrived here Wednesday and were welcomed by an immense crowd of people at the depot, including the officials and representatives of all the chambers of commerce in Japan. They were entertained with excursions to pionts of interest, and in the evening were guests at a dinner at the famous Maple club by the combined Japanese chambers of commerce. Everything in the dinner was Japanese, and the Americans expressed themselves as delighted with the reception.

HONDURAS TO BE HINDUS' REFUGE

Portland, Or., Oct. 19.—A special dispatch from Vanncouver, B. C., to the Evening Telegram says:

J. B. Harkin, of the department of the interior of the Dominion government, has solved the Hindu question so far as the province of British Columbia is concerned. The entire Hindu colony, consisting of more than 2,000 persons, is to be moved from British Columbia to British Honduras. The plan is being carried out between Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Lord Strathcona, Canadian commissioner in London, and the governor of Honduras. The latter was in London recently and personally talked over the details of the scheme with Lord Strathcona. Harkin goes at once with two Hindus to arrange the details of the employment of the colony there.

The Hindus are anxious to move, and the imperial government will assist in the cost of transporting them to their new homes. Scores of members of the Hindu colony here are not only out of work but actually starving. Much suffering will result this winter if they are not moved. The present plan is to charter two ships to carry them to Panama and send them across the isthmus, thence to destination.

Packers Satisfied With Inspection Law

Chicago, Oct. 17.—Among the prominent packers gathered in Chicago for the annual meeting of the Amreican Meat Packers' association, there was no outward sign of dissatisfaction over the operation of the feneral meat inspection law. The members of the association declare that they are entirely satisfied with existing conditions and in papers and addresses at the convention the fullest co-operation was urged between the packers and the government in order to hold up the grade of meat.

Resumes Pacific Traffic

San Francisco, Oct. 20.—The announcement of the resumption of the Oceanic Steamship Company's service between this port and New Zealand ports has just been made here, travel to be started in January, 1909. Wellington will be the point of destination of the Oceanic steamers, instead of Auckland, as was the case before the route was abandoned a year ago; and the American line will operate in conjunction with the Union Steamship Company of New Zealannd. Tahiti is named as a port of call on the new schedules.

Hindus Object to Arrangement

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 21.—The Hindus at Victoria object to deportation to British Honduras, and have had a telegram sent to the secretary of state for India and a copy to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in which they say that the Sikhs in Victoria protest against their possible removal to British Honduras. They declare they are willing to stay in Canada, and if forced to vacate Canada they prefer to return to India.

ELIMINATES DECAY IN SHIPPING FRUIT

San Francisco, Oct. 21.—The Southern Pacific Railroad Company has announced its determination to expend a million dollars in the near future in the construction ofp lants for pre-cooling fruit and vegetables according to the Roy Sprague system, the object being to permit long hauls of perishable freight with little rks of decay. The company has been experimenting with the Sprague device for a year, and has found it satisfactory. Two large plants, one at Rosevile and one at Colton, will be erected, the first capable of chilling 20 carloads in four hours and the latter having a capacity of 40 carloads in the same time. To accomplish the same result in an ordinary ice plant would require four days. The company's scientists have demonstrated that the sudden chilling of vegetable matter causes an absolute suspension of the process of decay, and the company announces that the new method practically will do away with the loss of time and consequent loss by decay in shipments of California fruits and vegetables to Eastern markets.

The Sprague device consists of a plant equipped to force through the loaded cars under vacuum pressure blasts of air that have been previously passed over ice. The vacuum removes the warm air, thereby removing the immediate cause of decay. The plants will be operated in conjunction with the new refrigerator cars adopted by the company recently.

Green deciduous fruit shipments this year are 3,000 carloads in excess of any previous year, according to railroad figures, and it is thought that the use of the Sprague process will raise the total to 20,000 per year. The plants are within 4 hours of any part of the state, and it is believed that by means of the better preservative process it will be possible to pick fruit when much riper than has been the custom thereby securing a better flavor and consequently higher value.

SHIFTING OF WINDS BRING SOME RELIEF

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 20.—Shifting winds are bringing relief to the fire-swept districts in the upper and lower peninsula. The flames are being forced back over territory already charred and blackened, and are burning themselevs out in the devastated districts

Gangs of men, aided by the wind, are out from the coast towns fighting the smaller fires and endeavoring to save some of the lumber and timber from destruction. It is estimated roughly that the loss of lumber, buildings and standing timber will reach $2,000,000. The list of victims is growing, and will be above fifty.

AUSTRIANS FAVOR STATE RAILROADS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—Government ownership of railways is regarded favorably by the general public in Austria, reports Consul General Rublee, of Vienna.

The operation of the state railway, however, in 1906 resulted in a deficit of $16,849,000. This was due to the state being forced to assume the ownership of lines that were worked at a loss, as well as being obliged to construct railways mainly vaulable from a strategical point of view and also to a considerable extent doubtless due to the policy of granting in some cases minimum rates below the actual cost of operation in order to foster certain industries.

The freight rates granted for sugar formed a striking instance of this, the Austrian beet sugar industry owing its importance mainly on account of its great export trade, which amounts to three-fourths the entire output. This export of sugar is only rendered possible by the reduced rates by the state and by the steamship interests.

AMERICAN FLEET WELCOMED IN JAPAN

Yokohama, Oct. 20.—Sixteen American battleships, contsituting the Atlantic fleet, on its peaceful cruise, are riding at anchor in the Bay of Tokio, occupying a post of honor in front of a like number of Japanese men-of-war, the white hulls of the American vessels making strong contrast with the somber hued ones of the Japanese.

In the bay, alive with bunting, gaily decorated tugs and steamers loaded with sightseers are steaming to and fro and launches from the shore and the war vessels are bearing uniformed officers on their official visits of welcome.

Preceded by its tender, the Yankton, the American fleet entered the harbor in a fog that hung over the bay and dropped anchor at 9:30 o'clock, half an hour later than the time scheduled. This was due to the fog.

When anchors were cast, a reception committee representing every department of the Japanese government and accompanied by attaches of the various foreign emrbassies and legations and the mayor of Yokohama boarded the flagship Connecticut and officially welcomed Rear Admiral Sperry, his officers and men to Japan.

Marked Increase in Business

New York, Oct. 20.—The National Association of Manufacturers announces that every branch of industry is showing marked increase of business, and that during the past three months the business conditions have taken on new activity. In an active canvass among the 3,000 members of the association, the returns bear out the prediction that practically every manufacturing business will be upon a normal basis of production during 1909.

get that it is not a question of party or personal like or dislikes, and will vote to REBUKE an officer when they know in their hearts that they should vote rather to REWARD him by re-electing him. To serious minded people who believe that it is a serious thing to rebuke an officer who does his duty, the defeat of such is taken as a slap at the liberty of the people of the community. Are laws on the books to be obeyed, or are they there to be ignored at will? Practically the same people who are forninst the enforcement of certain laws are forninst the enforcement of any law, and it only remains for them to be caught violating any law on the statute books to have th.m assail that law as unjust.

W. B. Ritchie, Candidate for Attorney, a Man of Ability.

When the republican electors named W. B. Ritchie as their candidate for county attorney they acted wisely and well. As Mayor of the city of Port Angeles, councilman-at-large, citizen and lawyer, he has always been found to be public spirited, honest, and on the side of justice and right. Mr. Ritchie has succeeded in building up a reputation for himself as a cautious, painstaking attorney with the ability, shrewdness and legal knowledge necessary to serve his clients successfully, and the voters of Clallam county will make no mistake in securing his legal advice in conducting its business affairs and in the prosecution of such criminal matters as may arise in the courts of the county.

The Office of County Engineer Is Now One of the Most Important in the County.

The last legislature passed a law making the county suryeyor's office one of the most, if not the most, important offices in the counties of the state and changed the name of the officer to County Engineer.

Under this new law the county engineer has full charge of the location, construction and maintenance of the roads and bridges in each county of the state, thus eliminating the dictations of impractical men to a professional officer, which was often the case under the old law.

Just previous to the primary election it appeared that the people would not have an opportunity to choose between two or more men for this office, as Mr. E.A. FitzHenry had announced that after the middle of next January he would again take up the Government surveying and engineering work, and therefore would not run for county engineer.

This announcement would not be received by the people of the county as they wanted Mr. FitzHenry for county engineer, and after several weeks of the most persistent efforts and assurances that political lines would not be drawn for this office, Mr. FitzHenry consented to run and is now the candidate upon the democratic ticket.

We have many assurances that politics will be eliminated in the selecting of this officer, and that E. A. FitzHenry will be elected county engineer by the will of a great majority of the people.

if there is trouble, if a helping hand is needed — how quick the response; how cheerful the aid !

This little sermon, if such it may be called, is not all a plethora of words — it has its moral. The description is not all ideal — the lonely road thru the burn is real; the log house on the bench above is real; real are the efforts of the owner to improve his home and get a patent from Uncle Sam; the bright-eyed little children are real; the broken doll's head on the stump by the lonely road is real (or it was when last we passed that way), and the rough sign above, which bore the name of the owner—"L. G. McBurney, Mountain Guide"— was also real. But more real than all of these is the need of Mac—genial, whole-souled Mac— for your vote on election day! For McBurney, tho republican, is on the Socialist ticket — the only man on the Socialist ticket for a county office.

The office of game warden should not be a matter of politics; no man could be more competent than McBurney. If you ever scratch your ticket, if you ever vote for the best man, if you ever lend a helping hand where help is needed, remember Mac, for he needs your help, and he needs it mighty bad. And so, too, do the brown-eyed children.

year, the timber values being based on cruises, the work of the deputy assessor, which could have been easily done in two or three weeks, cost about two hundred dollars. A man who can give his personal attention to the work, and who knows what is fair on the part of others, can effect a decided saving.

Because Mr. Christopher has made a plain, unequivocal statement of his position, and has given his pledge to impartially and faithfully perform his duties—we know where he is at.

Because this "balance of power" which has so often controlled nominations and elections in this county —well, for those who like that sort of thing, that's the sort of thing they like. We don't.

The sentiment in favor of an entirely "new deal" in county affairs in this county is growing stronger every day. "Why should those fellows at the court house imagine that they have a right to hang on forever," asks one man, and the sentiment finds an echo in the minds of hundreds of voters.

SALOONS GO ON RECORD

State Organization Declares for Enforcement of All Laws Regulating Liquor Traffic.

A great many people get the question of law-enforcement mixed up with prohibition and blame the present wave of reform along this line to what they term some temperance "erank." Nothing could be further from the truth. The laws now on the statute books governing these matters were passed many years ago, as a matter of regulation, with no thought even of prohibition in any form. In direct recognition of this fact the saloon interests as a whole in the state, at a meeting held in Seattle last Monday declared its belief in the enforcement of all laws and ordinances regulating the liquor traffic and denouncing the toleration of "that disreputable class of persons known as keepers of dives, also drug stores and other places where liquor and beer is sold without license, commonly known as 'blind p gs,' and loosely conducted cafes and saloons where liquor is sold in violation of the Sunday closing law," adopted a resolution "That this organization request that the authorities enforce the Sunday closing law and all laws regulating and pertaining to the sale of liquors, and vigorously prosecute violators thereof, and cause the revocation of their licenses."

Collier's Weekly of October 17th sums up its reasons for supporting Mr. Taft for the presidency in a way that should set everyone to thinking. That paper says:

"Our reasons for preferring Mr. Taft to Mr. Bryan are known. They can be reduced to the belief that he is better equipped for the presidency. Either would be free from improper influences. Either would be conscientious. Mr. Taft is of better experience and of sounder mind. Mr. Bryan is a believer in panaceas. His latest—the insurance of bank deposits—seems to us full of peril; almost as clearly as his free silver; and we are rather afraid of the supreme court appointments he would make. Mr. Taft is less addicted to theory, more sure-footed, of more proved ability. His appointments in all departments will probably be excellent. Other things being equal, we should, this year, have inclined toward the democratic nominee. But other things are not equal. Mr. Taft is exceptionally equipped for the office. Mr Bryan has not the kind of mind to which we like to see the American people entrust themselves.

Never has a political campaign in this county been more replete with humorous incidents than the present year. The curtain has again been drawn from before the stage of action with our loyal democratic friends in the limelight—the hub of another apparently costly joke. It would bring to one's mind the legend of the Thracians, who at the close of each day deposited in an urn, if life had been happy, a white pebble; or if otherwise, a black one. In like manner the democratic candidate, returning from a most glorious tour through the western part of the county in the after-Republican weather— or shall we call it a chaser—arrived home in the early morning in an enviable frame of mind and proceeded to deposit with his tried and true friend in the Citizen's National Bank a pebble — whether a w ite or black one we did not learn, but presume the former, as their trip must have been happy one.

FOR ASSESSOR,

To the Voters of Clallam County:

As the Republican candidate for County Assessor, I have not been promised the votes or backing or help in any manner whatever, of any corporation or company of any kind in this county, nor have I made any promises to any one, excep' this pledge: If elected I will impartially, diligently, and faithfully perform all the duties of County Assessor according to the best of my judgment, skill and ability as the law requires me to do.

D. A. CHRISTOPHER.

The Raymond Herald exhorts its readers to vote the republican ticket straight. This is the song that has been sung in this county for years past, and experience has taught us that it has a false note which has proven very expensive to the tax payers. The Pilot would suggest to the voters that they scan their ballot closely and pick out the man rather than the party. There are good men on both tickets, but the man who votes "a straight ticket" regardless of who is on that ticket has much to answer for and should have very little to say when one of his party nominees goes wrong. The day of the "yellow dog" voter is rapidly passing and we may yet see the day when men are chosen for office just as they are for positions under private management—solely for merit and ability.—Willipa Harbor Pilot.

Florence Gertrude Smith, the Arline of the Love Tale (Bohemian Girl), drew admiration like the Orpheam Pipe, and encore after encore was the rapacious tribute levied on "I Dreamt I Dwelt in Marble Halls." Her voice was in glorious compass, with archness, vivacity and the gypsy abanment of youth. Miss Smith delighted thoroughly.—Pittsburg Post.

TO THE VOTERS

Of the City of Port Angeles, Wash.

I beg to announce that I am a candidate for the office of Mayor of your beautiful city. If, on the tenth of next month, I have the honor of being your choice and am elected to represent your interests, my policy will be for good government which is to your interest, and at all times it will be a pleasure to me to have any citizen confer with me pertaining to the welfare of our city. I will part cularly favor any enterprise that will elevate our city and furnish work to our citizens, as labor is the upbuilding of all cities. The success of any city depends upon the employment of labor. The laboring man builds the cities — fine blocks, street improvements, water works, electric plants, street car and rail roads. Without employment of labor there can be no successful merchants, banks or real estate values. Give work to the laboring man and you will have prosperity.

Yours very respectfully,
W. H. PETER.

CLALLAM COUNTY FARMERS' INSTITUTE

Lectures on Subjects of Great Importance to Every Home Owner Will Be Given.

The Clallam County Farmers' Institute, which is to be held in this city on Monday and Tuesday, October 26th and 27th, will be of great interest to the farmers and fruit growers of this section and should be largely attended as a good attendance shows the interest taken and encourages the state officials to pay more attention to the district. The institute is held under the direction of the State College of Washington, upon invitation of the leading farmers of this vicinity. The speakers will be O. M. Olson, Farmers' Institute Specialist, Dr. F. J. Soule, Poultry Expert, of Spanaway, Mrs. W. H. Lawrence, Prof. of Domestic Economy, and Prof. W. H. Lawrence, Supt. Western Washington Experiment Station. Lectures will be held on Monday at 1:30 and 7:30 p. m. and on Tuesday at 10 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. on the following subjects: General agriculture, dairying, general horticulture, fruit raising, care of orchards, how to kill insect pests, methods of controlling plant diseases, spraying, chicken raising, cooking, sewing, laundry work. Everybody is urged and particularly invited to attend.

THE DEVIL AT THE OPERA HOUSE

No bold account can give a proper idea of the genuine cleverness of this wonderful play, "The Devil." It is full of youthful cynicism. Herr Molner was only thirty when he wrote it, and it suggests not too profoundly that the devil of today is only a personification of man's evil inner conscientiousness. Twice, when asked where he comes from, the Devil bows courteously and replies, "I come from nowhere; I go nowhere; I am here," and he touches his forehead politely. That is the idea of the play in a nutshell—at the same time there is nothing supernatural in his actions most of the time. Though he plays with those human pawns with humor, any meditating cynic might have done no worse, and there you have another moral.

Mr. Burroughs makes the devil a gentleman in the conventional sense of the word. He is faultlessly dressed and merely suggests diablerie in his points; his shallow face, with the expression of the eyes surmounted by soaring eyebrows, is by no means impossible in a near-mortal, wears a look of ingratiating worldliness. Mr. Burrough's gestures offer a delightful contrast in their shadowy suggestion of the ordinary operatic Mephisto. He doesn't lay on the red too thickly and his neat inflections and polished manner are quite beyond criticism. There is European finesse and delicate sneering courtesy in his acting. His gay zest in the game of life veils the sinister aspect sufficiently to keep the play a comedy still, in spite of its philosophic pessimism.

The scenery carried by the Burroughs company is specially constructed for this wonderful production, also the electrical effects are both wonderful and mysterious. This will in all probability be the only chance the citizens of Port Angeles will have to see this play of the Devil. The Burroughs company has secured all rights and privileges to it and are on their way east.

THE "WEST END" OF CLALLAM COUNTY

A Visit Convinces One There is Vastly More Than Timber in That Section.

A correspondent for the Clallam Bay Press with the republican candidates on their tour of the west end of the county, has this to say of that region: The resources of western Clallam was what impressed me most. Everybody has come to regard the section merely as a timber country but one has only to make a visit over the country and keep his eyes open and he will soon be convinced that there is vastly more than timber in that section.

Besides the Forks, Quillayute and Beaver prairies, there is an enormous amount of land that some day will be used for agricultural purposes and the river bottoms and most of the timber land possesses a soil nearly as fertile as the prairie lands. When the railroads invade the country, and it does not look far off, then Western Clallam will begin a period of development and prosperity that will be amazing.

With the greatest body of timber in the world, the most fertile soil, coal and oil deposits, unlimited water power, numerous rivers and lakes, beautiful scenery and mild climate, it is bound to become the battle ground of vast industrial enterprises and the rallying point of the tourist and the homeseeker.

This section is fast securing the best roads in the county and in another year one will be able to go by automobile from Clallam Bay to Forks and Mora. There is the finest gravel available all along the roads, and the roads are being straitened, grades cut down and filled and bridges built and when the gravel is well packed the roads will be as good as the streets in a city. It is a great work and is being done in the right way.

A visit was made to the Clallam coal mines, five miles east of the town of Clallam Bay, and your correspondent must confess to a degree of astonishment that could hardly be expressed in words. The work that has been done there, under the apparently almost insurmountable obstacles, excites amazing wonder at the ingenuity and bulldogged perseverance of man. A trip was made within the main tunnel some 600 feet, and we saw the beautiful, shining coal taken from its centuries-old home.

There are unlimited quantities of it and as fast as the conditions permit it will be taken out. The owners of the mine some months ago sent 20 tons of the coal to the government officials at Bremerton to have a test made of its qualities. The report of the officials was received at the mine a few days past and it shows that the coal is superior in all respects to any coal produced on the Pacific coast.

The company is shipping about 200 tons a month, all of which goes to Seattle. They already have a market for any amount they can get out, and in another year expect to be in shape to do business on a great scale. A new six-foot vein will be opened at once besides several other smaller ones.

It would seem that even the saloon man should favor the re-election of the present sheriff. Certainly any saloon man whose ambition is to live within the law—a very laudable ambition—should be for him for the reason that the saloon trade now goes to the party who pays the licenses, whereas, at least one-fourth of it in the past decade went to those who paid no license. Can it be that in their efforts to defeat Mr. Cosser the saloon interests hope to keep the trade they now have and at the same time infringe upon the laws of the land? The proposition is not fair to say the least.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

Prevalency of Kidney Disease.

Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalency of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patient and physicians, who content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease undermines the system.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

New York spends $225, or more, each year for every family of five persons. Where does the money come from? In the first analysis 90 per cent of it comes from real estate. But real estate produces incomes and taxes by means of rents which tenants must pay. The tenant, if a storekeeper, makes his customers pay his taxes; if a manufacturer and employer, he makes his business pay the additional bill. In the last analysis the tax is assessed upon the entire community, and the man with the least opportunity to collect his tax from some other pereson—that is, the workingman—ultimately pays the major share of the bill.

Whiskey for Rhumatism

The increased use of whiskey for rheumatism is causing considerable discussion among the medical fraternity. Warning Notes Calling the Wicked to Repentance.

Religion, pure and undefiled, is only another name for love.

Character depends more upon what we think than upon what we do.

You will not find it hard to get as much truth out of the Bible as you are willing to live.

The test of relationship to Christ is obedience to Him.

Faith is trust with its coat off and its sleeves rolled up.

What we can do to-day depends upon what we did yesterday.

It is a great mistake to try to do the Lord's part of our work.

A warning against a real danger is always the work of a friend.

The man who goes out to meet trouble will not have a long walk.

It will make our losses smaller to remember how much we have left.

The man who is unequally yoked with unbelievers always has a heavy load.

Character is the only thing that has any weight on the scales they use in heaven.

Don't forget that faith can move any kind of mountain that gets in the Lord's way.

One of the greatest giants in the world is a good man filled with the Holy Ghost.

When housecleaning and a protracted meeting come at the same time, we all know which gets the worst of it.

There is something wrong in the meeting where the people watch the clock closer than they do the preacher.

AN IMPORTANT HAT.

In recalling his student days in Paris, Will H. Low, the artist, tells, in Scribner's Magazine, a story of a well-known living sculptor, who had at that time just received his first medal in the Salon. It is the custom for the recipients of that honor to make a formal call upon each member of the jury, and on such visits a high hat must of necessity be worn.

"I had early learned," writes Mr. Low, "that however eccentric one's costume as a student might be, a high hat, no matter how shabby, covered a multitude of sins. Contumely visited upon a sealskin cap which the winter before my arrival in Paris had been a not unfashionable head-covering in New York had taught me a lesson that resulted in the adoption of the high-crowned, straight-brimmed head-gear, which from the time of John Leech, if not before, had been popular in Paris.

"Worn at all times, in all weathers, my hat in any other quarter would not have excited envy. But my friend, the sculptor, who had confided to me that to receive a medal would mean for him an extension of credit at the restaurant and a new hat like mine, had been apparently half-rewarded; for passing through the court one day, I was called into his studio, and, in view of the official visits, he explained that he must borrow my hat.

"He proffered his own in temporary exchange, a most lamentable covering. Originally black, it had passed through different gradations of tone until it was a dingy yellow-brown. It was of the soft variety, with a flapping brim, and so large that its passage from the top of my head to my shoulders was intercepted only by my ears.

"My own hat perched jauntily on the apex of my friend's curling locks, and thus arrayed, he sallied forth for the day on his ceremonial visits.

"Instead of one day, the visits, and doubtless various celebrations of the honor received, lasted four days. Much of this time I sought the seclusion of my studio, where I could hide the hated object from my sight, but hunger drove me forth from my den at least twice a day, when my appearance was such that the whole populace of the quarter gave itself up to unlimited joy.

"At the end of the fourth day my friend reappeared, but his declaration that my kindness had assured his whole future was but slight balm for the wounds of my dignity."

Magnesia Preserves Teeth.

One who has tried the experiment says that if the teeth are thoroughly brushed at night the last thing before retiring and a piece of magnesia the size of a filbert taken into the mouth and chewed so as to bring it in contact with all of the teeth at all points it will prove of great advantage.

The magnesia not only corrects the acidity of the mouth, but forms by some chemical action not fully understood a coating over the enamel, which remains overnight and protects the teeth from any injury from the stomach acids. It also assists in preventing the recession of the gums, which is such an unpleasant trouble.

Brushing the teeth with a six part solution of dioxide of hydrogen is extremely advantageous. A few drops of myrrh used daily to brush the teeth is an old and favorite corrective of bad teeth and decay.—Health.

Short Suggestions.

A little whiting put on a damp cloth will clean paint easily and well.

To properly mix spices through a cake mix it with the sugar and sift both several times.

Bottles that must be air tight should have the corks dipped in melted paraffin until thoroughly coated.

Should cakes stick to the pans put a hot cloth on the bottom for a minute or two. If papers are used sticking is infrequent.

Grass stains on clothing should be soaked in paraffin. The garment may then be sent to the laundry as usual.

A weak solution of turpentine poured down the water pipes once a week will drive the water bugs away.

Try kerosene oil to clean the rubber of your clothes wringer. This will succeed where many other agents fail.

When filling bottles with catchup or chile sauce allow about an inch from the top and fill with vinegar and no mold will form on top.

Boiled green corn and cold boiled rice tossed together in equal parts and served on lettuce leaves with mayonnaise is used as a salad in one family.

If porcelain vessels are placed directly over the gas flame they will clean much better by rubbing lard over the outside of the pan before putting it over the flame.

If the shoes become wet, slip them immediately over the shoe trees and wipe them as dry as possible. When the leather has dried rub a little oil into it with an oiled rag. Rub in more oil before polishing the shoes.

Mothers will find Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup the best remedy to use for their children during the teething period.

Every American had a great-grandfather who once owned a farm on Broadway, New York, or almost bought the place where Chicago now stands, if we may believe the boasts of their descendants. It is interesting to see these magical opportunities in embryo at the present time. The population of the town which will be the terminal of the Hudson Bay Railroad is said to consist of four half-breed families, one mounted policeman and one white settler, who is entitled to one hundred and sixty acres. Will he sell out, or will his grandchildren own the sites of enormous business blocks when the metropolis of the north is built?

Only a few years ago the only article tasting of maple was maple sugar. There is now an article on the market that is so like real maple sugar that even old Vermonters are unable to tell the difference. In fact, on account of its healthful qualities, being a purely vegetable product, neither sticky nor sickly, it is preferred by many people who formerly used only thhe regulation maple sugar.

This new extract is called Mapleine. It is a Seattle product and can be used to advantage by the housewife in a variety of ways. For instance, a syrup like maple can be made by simply dissolving granulated sugar in water and addinga few drops of Mapleine.

The Crescent Manufacturing Company who make Mapleine have published a booklet called Mapleine Dainties. This will be sent free on request to anyone who asks for it. It is full of wholesome recipes.

THE PORT ANGELES SCHOOLS

A Series of Concert-Entertainments to Be Given for Benefit of Piano Fund.

Arrangements are under way for a series of Concert-Entertainments to be given by the City Schools under the direction of the supervisor of music and the city superintendent. The proceeds of these entertainments are to go toward the payment of a piano for the High School. December 4th is the date set for the first number. The success of the "Cantata" given last year by the Public School children and the generous patronage accorded every effort on the part of the pupils of the schools of this city leads us to hope that two numbers will be sufficient to raise funds for the purchase of a piano. The first entertainment will consist chiefly of music by the High School Orchestra, H. S. Chorus, Boys' Quartet and a chorus of children from the grades, together with one or two literary numbers. We hope that as many as possible will come out on December 4th and hear what our music organizations can do and incidentally help pay for a much needed piano for the High School.

The following is an extract from the City Superintendent's report for the month ending Friday, Oct. 9, 1908: Total enrollment, boys 209, girls 255, total 464. No. enrolled last day, boys 204, girls 248, total 452. Average daily attendance, boys 198-.35, girls 241.87, total 404.2 Per cent of attendance, 97.7. No. days attendance, boys 3967, girls 4837.5 total 8804.5 Total enrollment in High School, boys 17, girls 48, total 65.

Miss Agnes Maloney, who has had charge of the intermediate department on Lincoln Heights the past month, resigned last week and Miss Ella Pederson of Seattle has taken her place.

Miss Marsh has organized a class in free hand and mechanical drawing in the High School. The class consists of about 16 pupils. Many more signified their intention of taking up the subject but were advised not to because their work was not of sufficiently high grade to warrant taking time for another subject.

The increased attendance in the Eighth grade and High School over last year made it necessary for the Board of Education to get the League room of the Methodist church for school use. It is now used as the superintendent's office and drill room for the music organizations.

Electric class bells have been installed in all the High School rooms and in the office. Fred Farmer and Floyd Hayne did the work.

The following are the members of the High School orchestra: Helen Trumbull, piano; Jolliette Glen, 1st violin; George Nestle, 1st violin; Lucia Laufeldt, 1st violin; Herman Swanson, 2nd violin; Edna Land, 2nd violin; Frances Hoare, 2nd violin; Fred Farmer, trombone; Floyd Hayne, cornet; Lorena Fulmer, alto horn.

The following are the members of the Philomathean Society: Pres., Miss Mabelle Gehrke; 1st Vice Pres., Leland Beam; 2nd Vice Pres., Alice Swanson; 3rd Vice Pres., Alice Finch; Censor, Miss Vaupell; Secretary, Robert Polhamus; Critic, Mr. Ullery; Assistant critic, Fred Farmer; Treas., Jolliette Glen; Cataloguer, George Nestle; Assistant cataloguer, Leola Foster; Librarian, Lucia Laufeldt; Assistant librarian, Herman Swanson; Chorister, Miss Marsh; Organist, Helen Trumbull; Ushers, Burns Thorpe and Paul Farmer.

4 GREAT MUSICAL ARTISTS

First Number of the Entertainment Course to Be Given November the 16th.

Our people are promised a rare musical treat with the first number of the Entertainment Course, which comes November 16th, in the opera house, under the title of "Four Great Musical Artists." Forrest Dabney Carr, the eminent basso cantante, is said to be an artist of exceptional ability, possessing a voice of remarkable compass and power. As a concert singer he is exceptionally fine. Florence Gertrude Smith has a beautiful soprano voice. These two artists give duets from scenes in grand and English opera that are simply wonderful.

Earl J. Pfouts is a violin soloist of great merit, having played with success in many of the large cities of the country.

Edwin M. Shonert is one of the few pianists who possesses plenty of temperament with a great technic, consequently his success is always instantaneous.

Secure your seats early for this opening entertainment.
