OPPOSED TO THE TAX AMENDMENT

COMMERCIAL CLUB OF TACOMA

Creation of Classes Implies Favored Classes—Idea Repugnant to Uniform Taxation.

The question of the tax amendment is a simple one — whether the people desire to have all propery in the state assessed and taxed alike, as at present, or would prefer to have different classes upon which higher or lower taxes could be levied. It is a matter which should be carefully studied and the arguments weighed before casting a vote for or against the amendmennt.

The action of the Tacoma Commercial Club, by a "unanimous and enthusiastic vote, "pledging its members to use their utmost efforts to defeat the proposed amendment, would seem to have been based upon a thorough understanding of the subject. It is conceded the change would be detrimental to King, Pierce and other counties having large railroad mileage, and at the same time of benefit to those counties with little or no mileage. Present laws provide for a uniform assessment of all property according to its present value. Framers of the constitution expected that a fair and equitable administration of this provision would make the rich and poor, corporation and individual, bear a just share of taxation according to their holdings.

The new scheme contemplates the segsegration of property into two classes, one of which is to pay taxes only to the state and the other only to the county. This plan might relieve the residents of those counties having no railroad mileage from state taxes; but on the other hand it would take away from certain counties a tremendous proportion of their taxable resources.

Members of the present state tax commission, who originated the amendment and are doing all they can to gain votes for it, are seeking to amplify its vague provisions by saying, "It is the purpose of the tax commission under the new law, etc.," or "It is not the purpose of the tax commission, etc." There is no way to guarantee that the whole new scheme of taxation as planned by the present commissioners will be enacted into laws by any legislature. Tax payers who stop to think must realize that the purposes of Commissioners Rockwell and Frost may have little to do with the case. Their intentions may be ever so good, but there is no assurance against successors being appointed with radically different ideas and purposes. Esterday, of the commission, has already resigned; Rockwell and Frost were appointed by Governor Mead. The next governor may appoint others, and succeeding governors will make all sorts of changes. Tax payers — who are now being asked by the commission to grant it unlimited and unrestricted power — have nothing to say as to who shall compose the commission and do not even know who will compose the commission at this time next year.

It must also be remembered that not only will the amendment wipe out four whole sections of the constitution and substitute a brief paragraph in lieu thereof, giving the state tax commission almost absolute control over all matters of taxation, but should the proposed changes prove unsatisfactory, and yet not sufficiently so to be felt during the life of the next legislature, no return to the present system will be possible until the fall of 1912.

J. C. Lawrence, a member of the state railroad commission, in pointing out the dangers of the amendment, says:

"Whenever we depart from the proposition that all property should be assessed and taxed on the same basis, we get on dangerous ground.

"This indirect form of taxation for state purposes was urged when the true value of corporation property was an unknown quantity. The railroad commission of this state hav-

PAYING HIGH PRICES IN ABERDEEN

Milwaukee Completing Right-of-Way in Order to Cross River on Way North to the Straits.

Aberdeen, Oct. 23.—Through the Grays Harbor & Puget Sound railway the C., M. & St.P. and U.P. are closing the gaps in the right of way for the line to Grays Harbor. Several pieces of property have lately been acquired and condemnation suits have been commenced where negotiations have not progressed satisfactorily.

Fifteen condemnation suits were filed this week and the cases will be tried in November. The property involved in the suits is valued at $200,000.

As soon as the railroad began buying, prices went up to boom figures. The Vulcan Iron works was offered $100,000 for the property between G and H streets, but $150,000 was demanded. This property was purchased about three years ago for $25,000.

Anderson & Middleton ask $40,000 for right of way through their property at the foot of Market street. The railroad offered $20,000.

The Vulcan Iron works property is wanted for bridge and terminal purposes. It was selected for this purpose after consultation with the government engineers in regard to the most feasible point for crossing the river.

TO COMPLETE CANAL ROAD

The commissioners of Jefferson county have instructed the auditor to ascertain what the commissioners of Mason county will be willing to do in the way of combining to complete the road along the west side of Hood Canal, giving the northern Olympic peninsula an outlet by wagon road. Many people who take outings like to travel by auto or carriage, but are now prevented from reaching this section by the necessity of shipping their outfits by steamer.

PLACER MINE AT MORA

The Summit Mining Co., which owns four claims some nine miles north of Mora, on the ocean beach in the western part of this county, now has its flume completed and is panning out $4 in gold dust per hour from the gravel bed alongside the stream. It is estimated that the eighty acres owned by the company will yield over $150,000.

ORDERED 45 MILES OF WIRE

The Peninsula Telephone Co. of Clallam Bay has ordered 45 miles of wire and complete equipment for the line to Forks and Mora. Geo. Clark has been engaged as foreman and, with a crew of five men, it is estimated the line can be up in 36 days. Stations will be established at Sappho, Beaver, Shuwah, Forks, Quillayute and Mora, and a local system extended to those who want phones when the main line is completed.

PATENTS TO TOWN LOTS

Postmaster Harding has posted in a front window of the office a long list of lots in the townsite of Port Angeles for which the government has never issued patents. Receiver Twitchell writes that these patents are now in the Seattle Land Office and may be had upon presentation of the original receipts or satisfactory evidence that such receipts were issued. Full instructions are contained in the letter.

RALLY SATURDAY NIGHT

The Democrats held forth at Dungeness Wednesday night, at Rena Thursday, and at Sequim tonight. Tomorrow night, Saturday, the final rally in this city will be held at the opera house when the individual candidates will give their little personal speil and make their bows to the voters of this vicinity. It is expected the band will be out for the occasion.

CITIES NOW HAVE LOCAL OPTION

Supreme Court Rules Councils May Regulate Traffic Without Court Interference.

An Olympic dispatch of the 24th says: What in effect is almost equivalent to a local option law is already contained in the statutes of this state, under a ruling of the supreme court in an opinion just handed down. This law, as construed by the supreme court, gives city councils authority to regulate, restrain, license or prohibit the liquor traffic, without having their proceedings subject to court review. The City of Puyallup last June revoked all outstanding liquor licenses and provided for the refund of license money advanced.

In a previous case the supreme court had held that the city council had exclusive jurisdiction in revoking a license for cause. In the Puyallup case the order of revocation was not based on cause.

A writ of review was sought in the superior court, and the city applied to the supreme court for a writ of prohibition restraining the lower court from proceeding under the writ

The supreme court grants the writ of prohibition, holding that the jurisdiction of the city is exclusive.

Under this provision it is therefore only necessary for the people to elect an anti-saloon city council to abate the liquor traffic in the city.

THE SALOONS' CONFESSION

Sheriff Cosser makes a strong point when he says, "If the saloon was sincere and wished to live within the law, and become as amenable to the law as it asks others to be, it would be supporting him instead of fighting him. It rather, by its action, confesses that it does not wish to legitimize its business, to live under the same law it wishes others to live under. It wants special privileges. It secretly applauds the action that puts the drug store and blind pig out of the saloon business, then seeks to evade its own responsibility.

The Pacific cruiser fleet, commanded by Rear Admiral Swinburne, sailed from Honolulu Thursday, with the accompanying torpedo boat destroyers in tow, for the Pacific coast. The cruisers will proceed to Magdalena bay for target practice, after which they will visit the west coast of South America.

MANY TO ATTEND FARMERS' COURSE

Pullman, Wash., Oct. 27.—A large number of inquiries coming in from various parts of the state indicate that the winter school for farmers, which commences sessions the first week in January, will have a record-breaking attendance. Last year forty-five farmers were enrolled in the winter school, and up to the present date one hundred and fifty inquiries have been received from prospective students.

This year a distinctly new phase of the work of this school will be the use of textbooks and the assignment of lessons by the professors in charge. In years heretofore the course has consisted mainly of lectures. Prof. George Severance, head of the department of agriculture has just outlined the courses of instruction, which largely deal with dairying, fruit growing, soil and farm management, bee-keeping, poultry raising, the care of livestock and many other subjects of more or less intreest to persons following the agricultural pursuits. Especial emphasis will be placed on instruction on the available literature published nowadays on farming topics.

"A good many farmers say they are too busy to read the papers, but they cannot afford to be that busy," said Prof. Severance. "There are many important things which can be learned by carefully reading and studying the carefully written articles on agricultural topics that are nowadays so prominently featured in a majority of our larger publications."

New Gift of $5,000 for Whitman

Watlla Walla, Wash., Oct. 24.—The latest contribution to the "New Whitman" college announced by Dean A. W. Hendrick, is in the form of a gift of $5,000 from Mrs. Frederick Billings, of New York city, as a nucleus of a fund for the establishment of a chair in Biblical literature in Whitman college. It was through Mrs. Billings that the Boys' dormitory, known as Billings hall,,in honor of her two sons, was built.

Washington State News

A new Baptist church was dedicated at Columbia last Sunday.

Bellingham "tag day" brought in about $2,000 for local hopitals.

The turning out of 75,000,000 to 80,000,000 salmon fry is the mark set for the state of Washington hatcheries for this year, according to Fish Commissioner Riseland.

Local men have purchased the Ellensburg lines of the Sunset Telephone company and will try to improve the service. The new owners will install modern instruments.

Fire at Harrington destroyed the McInnis Brothers' livery barn, one of the largest in Lincoln county, and did other damage aggregating $50,000. Fifty-eight head of horses were burned.

The land owners of the Horse Heaven country, the territory lying in a portion of the counties of Klickitat, Yakima and Benton, are forming an organization to promote and hasten the irrigation of that country.

The total salmon pack of Bellingham for the two canneries for the season just ended is approximately 115,000 cases. Of this amount the Pacific American Fisheries company packed 90,000 cases and the Bellingham Canning company 25,000 cases.

The New Washington hotel, at Seattle, was formally opened last Wednesday evening. The scene was one of the most brilliant in Seattle's history.

Experts working on the books of the City of Spokane have reported that the shortage in the water department is $3,300, in the police court department $614, in other departments $500, and $33,500 in the street department. The last named shortage iis due to old and uncollected bills. The experts find there has been gross carelessness and crudeness in keeping the city's books.

BIG LEAGUES MADE ENORMOUS PROFITS

The professional baseball season, recently brought to a dramatic termination, surpassed any in the history of the game. The total number of paid admissions for the National league was 3,3142,85, as against 2,7377,93 the previous season.

For the American league the gain was less, owing to the fact that the American league had nearly as closely fought a pennant race last season as this. The figures for the American league are 3,554,837, as against 3,398,764 last season.

Even with hard times the game flourished as never before, until the two major leagues will clean up nearly a million dollars on the season on an investment of less than $2,000,000.

Some clubs made more money this season than their plants cost them, and yet there were extravagant methods usded in many cases, in the way of carrying a large number of players wholly unfit for the big leagues. The secret of success has been the well matched teams in both leagues, where championships were not settled until the very last day, and the leaders came together for the final count, something never before heard of in major league baseball.

Paroles Not All Allowed

Olympia, Oct. 28 —The prison board at its recent session in Walla Walla, recomended thirty-one paroles, thirty-seven final discharges, one commutation and thirteen final discharges from parole. Gov. Mead has approved all but six of these recommendations. The six that were denied were paroles for James Moran, Nellie Marney, Ralph Shelton, Charles Moonaw, Lee Wilson and Oscar Worthington.

CLIMAX OF SPLENDOR

FIFTY THOUSAND IN MONSTER LANTERN PROCESSION IN TOKYO

Demonstration Crowns Unbroken Series of Luncheons, Receptions, Dinners and Garden Parties---American Tars Behaving Splendidly.

Tokyo, Oct. 24.—Last night the reception to the officers and men of the American battleship fleet reached a climax. A spontaneos outburst of enthusiasm in which 50,000 of the populace participated, crowned the unbroken series of luncheons, dinners, ball and garden parties that have marked the five days since the warships anchored in Yokohama harbor. The people of Tokyo did honor to their American visitors in a demonstration that eclipsed any in the history of the city, not even excepting the celebration that followed the signal successes of the Japanese army or navy.

A torchlight procession, arranged as a surprise, was the concluding feature of the day. For hours the principal streets were packed with paraders who numbered upwards of 50,000 and who wound their way through the city like a crooked river of running fire. Every individual of the vast multitude carried a lantern, and, in addition, the Japanese and American flags. At intervals there were huge illuminations of costly and striking design.

Are Cheered Everywhere.

Everywhere the Americans were cheered, and nowhere was the enthusiasm aroused to a wilder pitch than when the great procession reached the American embassy. For over an hour the pageant wound through the grounds cheering the admirals of the American fleet and calling by name for Ambassador O'Brien, who, as it chanced, was in attendance at the dinner of Count Komura.

Commencing at noon officers and men of the American battleship fleet were constantly in motion to keep pace with the rapidly succeeding features of the entertainment in their honor.

The mayor of Tokyo presided at a banquet at noon, attended by Rear Admiral Sperry, Ambassador O'Brien, members of the diplomatic corps and half the fleet's officers. Half an hour later the gates of Hibiya park were opened to 3,000 American bluejackets and marines, who found every variety of entertainment provided in their honor. Altogether 5,000 invitations to this function were issued. There were besides many entertainments of minor character, which kept all ashore busy the entire day.

AMERICAN FLEET HAS SAILED SOUTHWARD

Yokohama, Oct. 25.—The Atlantic battleship fleet sailed out of Yokohama harbor promptly at 8 o'clock this morning to continue its voyage around the world, and the send-off that was accorded the Americans as the ships put out to sea was such a celebration as has never before been heard of or esen in Japan.

At earliest daylight the last launches of the fleet and small harbor craft were speeding back and forth between the ships and the shore, carriyng the belated men of the fleet to their respective vessels, while other boats of the harbor, brilliant with color and laden with crowds gathered to bid the fleet godspeed, steamed slowly about the anchored ships. Larger steamships loaded with excursionists, steamed about, ready to follow the fleet out to deep water.

The official farewells were said at 7:30. This ceremony over, Rear Admiral Kaito, who was of the party which boarded the American flagship, was taken back to his own flagship, the Mikassa, and immediately thereafter the Connecticut weighed anchor, and, heading the long line of American ships in single file, steamed down the harbor and out past the breakwater, while the guns of the Japanese fleet thundered the last goodby of the nation.

There was not a single desertion from the fleet here and not one bluejacket was absent from his ship last night, and the conduct of the men was remarkably orderly.

Receipts From Lake Shore Lands

Olympia, Oct. 28.—Receipts of the state land office yesterdey aggregated $51,485.45, which amount was turned into the treasury by Land Commissioner Ross. The bulk of this came from payments on Lake Union shore lands, being $46,827.96 principal and $65.81 interest. Rentals of state lands brought in about $1,100 more, and the remainder was payments on contracts of sale.

Honolulu to Have Mayor

Honolulu, Oct. 28.—After the approaching election the city of Honolulu will be an incorporated municipality with a mayor and board of aldermen and the incidentals of American city life, such as political machines and civic problems.

Rush to Gold Strike

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 24.—Many El Paso people are joining in a rush to the new gold fields at Sylvanite, N. M. Where last week was only a barren prairie, there are now 700 inhabitants. Sylvanite is 200 miles from here.

LIBERALS WIN IN CANADIAN ELECTION —MAJORITY REDUCED

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 27.—Elections for the federal house of commons were held yesterday throughout Canada. Of the 221 constituencies in the Dominion only two—Rouville, Ontario, and South York, Ontario—returned members by acclamation. In all the others, with the exception of five, which will hold their elections later, there were contests.

The returns show that Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the present premier, who in the last house had a majority of sixty-six, will be returned to power for another five years with a safe, although slightly reduced majority.

French-Canadian Quebec remained loyal to the premier, electing a membership almost solidly Liberal.

Ontario, where the Conservatives expected to make their heaviest gains did not come up to the opposition's expectations. The returns indicate an almost evenly divided membership, compared with thirty-nine Liberals and forty-seven Conservatives in the last house. The opposition gained slightly in Manitoba, but the Liberals carried the remainder of the West, with few exceptions.

Conservatives Win in B. C.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 27.—Conservatives carried three of the four constituencies in which the election was held yesterday, Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster, while the Liberals won in Nanaimo. The most signal victory was that of Cowan in this city, defeating McInnis, Liberal; Martin, Independent, and Kingsley by a majority of 1,400 in a total vote of 10,000.

The second feature was the defeat of Hon. William Templeman in Victoria, where the minister of inland revenue and minister of mines went down and out before C. H. Barnard by a majority of five.

Templeman Asked for a Recount

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 27.—Hon William Templeman, minister of inland revenue and mines, was defeated in the election here yesterday by the small majority of five. A recount will be held, which may reverse it or give G. H. Barnard a larger majority. There are ninety rejected ballots, and in the recounnt some of these may be restored. Returns show that the Liberals have been returned by a majority of fifty-two. Latest returns show 133 Liberals and 81 Conservatives elected in a house of 221.

MANY "DON'TS" HANDED OUT TO JAPANESE

Yokohama, Oct. 24.—The visit of Admiral Sperry's warships to the ports of Nippon has caused an apprehensive overhauling of the codes of etiquette. The governor of Kanagawa has compiled a code of etiquette that surpasses any "don't book" of the Occident.

"Due recognition must be given the fact that it is the custom with foreigners to walk hand in hand" is a precept to the children upon observing any inclination to spooniness on the part of the visitors.

"Impediments shall not be given to the foreigners at play or on bicycles by arraying many children in the street.

"The finger shall not be pointed at foreigners," is a striking admonition.

"Those who are learning foreign languages should not try unnecessary talk with foreigners for the mere purpose of practicing their tongue."

For the protection of women the governor writes: "The age of a foreigner shall not be asked unless some special necessity demands it."

"It shall be understood that when a foreigner looks at his watch he suggests that he has some urgent engagement."

The Japanese weekly Gazette, in which the governor gives his advice to the unmannered, contains nearly a column of polite hints that include certain observances of cleanliness deemed to be particularly pleasing "to the foreigner."

RUSSIA IS ASKED FOR REVISION OF TREATY

New York, Oct. 27.—A letter from Secretary of State Root to Jacob H. Schiff, of New York, has been made public, dealing with the attitude of the government in securing equality of treatment for American citizens visiting Russia, and also explaining the government's position in the case of Jan Jan of Pouren, the Russian refugee now detained in New York city by the federal court. Mr. Root's letter brings out for the first time that the United States has asked Russia for a complete revision and amendment of the treaty of 1832, which provides for reciprocal rights of residence and travel of the citizens of the two countries.

Secretary Root declares that this government does not for a moment contemplate sending Pouren or anyone else back to Russia or to any other country to be tried for a political offense.

Seattle.Tacoma Highway Opened

Tacoma, Oct. 28.—King and Pierce counties are now united by a direct thoroughfare running from this city to Seattle. Pierce county has just completed an extension of Lincoln avenue up what is known as Julia's gulch to the King county line. There the road workers met construction crews sent out by the King county commissioners, who had worked out and put in good shape a road running south from Seattle, and in a general way paralleling the Sound shore.

TAX BOARD OPPOSED

ATTEMPT TO ABOLISH COMMISSION MAY BE MADE.

Proposed to Combine Work With that of Railroad Board if Tax Amendment Should Fail of Adoption — Railroad Commissioners Oppose Such Action.

Olympia, Oct 27.—An attempt in the next legislature to abolish the tax commission is being seriously talked of in several counties of the state, the plan being to transfer the duties of the tax commission to the railway commission.

The effort to create sentiment in this direction, it is said, will not probably take definite form until after election. At that time the fate will be known of the constitutional amendment, submitted by the last legislature at the suggestion of the tax commission.

If the vote is against the amendment the arguments for the abolishing of the commission can be made stronger, as the adoption of the amendment would mean such a change in taxing methods that the guidance and direction of a commission would be almost necessary.

The combining of the work of the two commissions will be opposed by the railway commission, particularly if the legislature carries out the recommendation of the Republican state platform and converts the railway commission into a public service commission similar to that of New York. In the latter event the railway commission would have its hands full without the added burdens of taxation matters.

Much Criticism Expressed

The movement to abolish the tax commission finds its impetus largely in dissatisfaction in many counties over the new method of equaliizng state taxes devised by the state tax commission and adopted by the state board of equalization.

The total state taxes to be raised by this years levy will be $246,326 less than last year, yet the state taxes of thirteen counties have been raised. These counties are Chelan, Clallam, Chehalis, Franklin, Kittitas, Lewis, Mason, Pacific, Pierce, Skagit, Skamania, Thurston, and Wahkiakum.

Pierce county stood a raise of $26,050, Chehalis $42,000 and the others in varying amounts, while King county got a reduction of $215,000 and Spokane county a reduction of $11,400.

The tax commission, however, claims that the old method, and not the new one, was unfair.

In this connection they are supported by J. C. Lawrence of the railway commission, who, though publicly opposing the tax commissions proposed constitutional amendment, expresses the opinion that the state could not afford to do without the tax commission. He favors retaining the commission regardless of the fate of the amendment.

One Commission Enough

The principal argument in support of repealing the law creating the tax commission is that the railway and tax commission's principal work has been in laying the foundation for future proceedings that will not be arduous in comparison; and that one commission, after this year, can do all the work and save the money biennially voted for the tax commission.

FRANCHISE DEFEATED BY CLEVELAND VOTERS

Cleveland, Oct. 27 —The franchise under which the Municipal Traction Company was operating the local street railway lines on a three-cent fare basis, the result of consolidation of all the lines of the city, was defeated by a majority of 879 in the referendum vote. The total vote cast was more than 75,000.

The defeat of the franchise may mean that the railway poperty will revert to its original owners and that the strife which has lasted for many years will be renewed.

It is stated by some observers that the franchise was defeated not so much upon the issue involved as upon the general dissatisfaction of the public with the service given by the operating company, which was greatly curtailed in order to place the property on a paying basis at the lower rate of fare. It is also admitted that the labor trouble which occurred upon the advent of the new operating company was largely responsible for the outcome.

Milkman Sentenced

Seattle, Oct. 27.—A. Z. Erickson, connvicted in the superior court of conspiracy to control the price of milk in Seattle, was yesterday sentenced by Judge Frater to pay a fine of $500 and serve ten days in the King county jail. His attorneys gave notice of appeal, and upon the filing of a supersedeas bond Erickson will secure a stay in the sentence until the supreme court passes on the appeal.

Good Pottery Clay at Olympia

Olympia, Oct. 28.—Extensive deposits of pottery and vitrified brick clay of exceptional quality exist on the west side of Budd's inlet, within the corporate limits of Olympia, according to tests made by A. Bannerman, an English expert, who has been working with thelocal chamber of commer ce on the matter.

STANDARD OIL CO. HAD SECRET RATE

New York, Oct. 28.—That secret tariff rates which were not filed with the interstate commerce commission were issued by the Pennsylvania railroad company and that only the Standard Oil compatny profited by the illegal rates, was testified to yesterday in the hearing of the railroad phase of the government suit to dissolve the Standard Oil company.

Edward T. Johnson, of Baltimore, division freight agent of the Pennsylvania railroad, was the only witness called on the stand during the entire session. On cross examination by F. B. Kellogg, senior counsel for the government, Mr. Johnson testified that the Standard Oil company was the only shipper from Olean to Rochester, a distance of 106 miles, and that the rate, which had never been filed with the interstate commerce commission or posted as requied by law, was 9 cents a barrel. Independent concerns in the same territory, it was brought out, paid rates as high as 28 cents a barrel for virtually the same distance.

WASHINGTON HAY PLEASES OFFICIALS

Washington, Oct. 28.—The superiority of Washington hay, ranking as it does with the high quality of oats and other forage produced in that state, has again been brought to the attention of the war department. A considerable amount of hay is about to be purchased by the civil government in the Philippines.

Bids were opened both here and in Manila. Those opened here were for American hay delivered either at New York, Seattle or San Francisco. The bids opened here have been forwarded to Manila, where they will be compared with bids opened in the Philippines for hay raised there.

The war department hardly makes a secret of the fact that Washington hay is in highest official favor. Eastern Washington timothy is regarded as the standard seldom equalled in the proposals of bidders in California and other states. The respective bids lately opened here have not yet been made public.

TO SWEEP BACK MODERNISM WAVE

Rome, Oct. 27.—Catholics here are discussing an announcement in the Observatore Romano, the Vatican organ, that the congregation of the propaganda, which has hitherto nominated the American bishops, has been dissolved and superseded by the consistorial congregation, which is to be presided over by the pope himself. This announcement is taken to mean that the recent trouble over the appointment o' a coadjutor for the San Francisco diocese has led Pope Pius to take the reins of government of the American church into his own hands, so that there will be no more discussion of modernism.

The appointment of Dr. Hanna to the San Francisco position was not made because of the pope's objections to Dr. Hanna's modernistic views, and later all the objectionable articles writtten by Dr. Hanna were put on the "index expurgatory.'

POWER RESTS WITH COUNCILS OF CITIES

Olympia, Oct. 28.—That a city council has the exclusive power to regulate, restrain, license or prohibit the liquor traffic, is the ruling of the supreme court in a decision just handed down.

The decision goes to the extent of holding that a city council may revoke a license without cause and that the courts have no jurisdiction to review the proceedings.

In effect the construction is that the state has now what is not far removed from a local option law. Whether there shall be saloons or not in a city is dependent upon the city council and the councilmen are elected by the people.

The opinion is in the case of Washington ex rel., City of Puyallup et al., petitioners, plaintiffs, vs. Superior Court of Pierce County, respondent.

SEATTLE WOMAN GETS A CARNEGIE MEDAL

Seattle, Oct. 27.—In recognition of her heroism and self-sacrificing devotion to duty in re-entering the burn-in building of the Washington Children's Home to rescue two babes committed to her care, the Carnegie hero fund commission, at a meeting held in Pittsburg last week, awarded a silver medal and a cash gift of $1,000 to Mrs. Minnie L. Meyers, matron of the Washington Childrens home, now at Ravenna.

Demand Ballot for Women

Chicago, Oct. 28.—Two women's organizations combined at a meeting yesterday to conduct an aggressive campaign in Illinois for woman suffrage. It was decided to placard the city with posters demanding the ballot for women in presidential campaigns and to secure 200,000 names for a national petition of 1,000,000 names to be forwarded to congress.

Esch Opposed to Cannon

La Crosse, Wis., Oct. 26.—A sensation was created here when Congressman John J. Esch, one of the authors of the famous Esch-Townsend bill, declared unequivocally against the reelection of Joseph G. Cannon for speaker of the house of representatives.

ONE MAN'S VOTE CUTS LITTLE ICE

In National Affairs, but Here at Home One Vote May Decide Between Candidates.

His opponent is a good man.

Were he not he couldn't have held his job at Port Crescent.

Were he not he couldn't have made his five dollars per day.

His opponent is a popular man at home.

Were he not he couldn't have received the nomination.

His opponent has the "edge"—a big bunch of votes at Port Crescent for a starter.

The salary is small, far too small for a man, able to earn the highest wages, to put in his time bothering about.

Its a position, the satisfactory filling of which requires time — time to several times the amount of the salary.

Any man can respond to occasional calls—and draw the salary.

But the position needs a man who is here today and there tomorrow — a man who is always on the job.

Mac is earning his right to a homestead; he cannot leave his family for steady work elsewhere.

He has the advantage of location; his home is within two rods of the main thoroughfare to the hills. In a short time he can be at the lakes, up the Elwha, or over to the head of the Dungeness.

He has the advantage of being a thorough sportsman and mountaineer, the man par excellence for the position.

He is on the Socialist ticket (way down at the bottom with a long column of white space above him, for he is the only Socialist nominee for a county office). But you'll have to hunt up his name and that's another handicap.

Remember the edge possessed by his opponent, the big Port Crescent vote—remember Mac's handicap, the third column of the ticket — remember there is no question of his qualifications for the office — but above all remember Mac needs your individual vote, and needs it mighty bad.

Remember election or defeat is a matter, comparatively speaking, of indifference on the one hand — on the other it is a matter of family and home.

Your one vote on national affairs cuts little ice in this great country, but whatever ticket you cross at the top, remember, when you approach the bottom, what your one vote may mean to the home whose doorplate is a broken doll's head.

Twenty-fifth Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Getchell wish to express their appreciation of their neighbors and friends who so happily surprised them on the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. The evening was very pleasantly spent with music and singing, which was enjoyed by all present. After which all gathered around a sumptuously spread table; judging from the way they all partook of the many dainties, they were all well satisfied. After supper Mr. R. L. Haynes, in behalf of the many friends, presented Mr. and Mrs. Getchell with a present consisting of several silver dollars. There were several other presents sent by friends who could not be present. Owing to the lateness of the hour, the company, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Getchell many pleasant and happy years, bade them good-night.

The names of those present were Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Haynes and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lusk, Mr. and Mrs. McCloud, Mrs. Hickson and daughter, Mrs. A. J. Cosser, Mrs. Dermul, Mrs. Wm. Smith, Mrs. McKechnie and daughter Lucy, Mrs. Burdick, Mrs. McKee, Miss Selma Linn, and Miss Bessie Waite.

Later, Judge Penniman presented them with a souvenir spoon.

By one who was present.

Certain interests opposed to my reelection are endeavoring to make political capital against me out of the fact that informations have been filed against certain sea-farers. I can only say that when a warrant is placed in my hands I am compelled to serve it, whatever the merits of the case at issue may be. A. J. Cosser.

MUST GIVE A SQUARE DEAL

Attempt to Profit by Judge Morris's Decision Nipped in the Bud and Nominees Have Fair Show.

Judge Morris, of the Superior Court of Seattle, decided Friday last that the three legislative nominees of the Democrats in the Fortieth district had not complied with the primary law in the provision requiring the filing of certificates of candidacy, and their names should not be printed on the general election ballot. The judge said:

"We must bear in mind that the primary law simply changes the method of nominating candidates, and does not change or alter the existing election laws. The supreme court has decided that the primary law is a new and complete act by itself; the court has also decided that an elector cannot write in the name of a candidate direct on a primary ballot and have it effective. The machinery of the primary law must be used for nominations, and the legislature has the right to say how nominations shall be made. No man can be nominated to office in the state unless he has used the machinery of the law as described the primary act. The candidate of a majority party must announce his candidacy, and he must pay his fee. The supreme court decided, in the White case, that nominations could not be made by petition because that was not the method prescribed by the primary law. The same rule must apply to the case at bar.

The announcement of the Morris decision was hailed with delight by the perpetual court house politicians, who saw therein an opportunity to force the democratic nominee for treasurer — Hayes Evans — off the ticket and render his defeat an absolute certainty, and the printers had to hold up the ballots for a time until the matter was decided.

It appeared, however, that the auditor of King county had refused to accept the filing fees and certificates of nomination, while here in this county the auditor had not only accepted the certificates and fees but had published the certificate of nominations. He was advised that his discretion was at an end with the publication of the certificate and he had no option but to give all parties a square deal. The ballots will appear as published on page 6 of this issue.

John Palmer Collins.

John Palmer Collins, an early resident of Port Angeles and a man beloved by all who knew him, died Thursday night, October 22nd at his home on Victoria street.

Mr. Collins was born July 4, 1840, at Morristown, N. J. On the 11th day of August, 1862, he enlisted as a member of Company A, 15th New Jersey Infantry, serving his country as a faithful soldier until the close of the war, being honorably discharged the service, May 13, 1865. He came to Port Angeles November, 1889, and on the 18th day of September, 1904, he was married to Miss Emma Loyal Ritchie, of this city, who survives to mourn the loss of a loving and devoted husband. He leaves besides, three sisters, two brothers and several neices and nephews in the east.

Funeral services were held Sunday at the Catholic Church, at 11 a. m., by Father Wolfgang.

CARD OF THANKS.

I wish to express my most sincere thanks to the many friends, and especially his comrades for the many acts of kindness; also for the beautiful floral tributes, and to Messers. Willson & Fulmer for their kind and efficient services in my bereavement.

Emma L. Collins.

Mrs. Laura J. Andrews passed away yesterday morning after a lingering illness covering a period of several years. The funeral services take place today from the family home, corner 12th and Laurel streets, to which friends are invited.

Deceased leaves a husband and daughter, both residents of this city, Mr. W. B. Andrews and Mrs. W. T. Polhamus. She was a devoted wife and mother and leaves a host of friends to mourn her demise.

WORSE THAN HE EXPECTED

Claim Credit for Raising Property Worth Seventy Millions to Five and a Half Millions.

The Tribune-Times, in a recent issue, gave some interesting facts and figures showing that the Crescent logging company was assessed only one dollar an acre for some of its valuable timber land, when home builders were assessed at four dollars an acre for logged-off land. It is worse than we expected — and all the time Republicans have been in control. That record does not look good. And then the paper proceeds to say that the present board of equalization took the bull by the horns and did things. No, Mr. Tribune-Times, you are mistaken; the present board of equalization has got the bull by the tail and they are not scared half to death of the big fellow either, as you would have us believe. The timber owners think the present board of commissioners is the best ever. They don't want Democrats. Didn't the commissioners head off the state from building a state road from Port Angeles to Pysht, and aren't we building an automobile road for the big fellows where the farmers can't get in the way. And we have it from the Clallam Bay Press, another hide bound partizan organ, that it would be an easy matter for the county to prove the value of the timber in the county, outside the reserve, is at present worth seventy-five million dollars. It is assessed by the county board at five and a half million.

And so the Tribune-Times proposed to lay it on Republican and Democrat alike for voting a mixed ticket, and insists the Republicans shall all vote a straight ticket. Now, Mr. Tribune-Times, we should not look on the ballot as a commodity; voting at election carries a responsibility with it and a duty, first to the whole people; no man should be persuaded or coerced to vote against his own judgment.

Remember we are acting for three-fourths of the people who have no right to vote. If I believe the saloon interest is the biggest enemy laboring men have; if I have seen children go to school in snow and rain, barefooted and hungry, and their mother half starving, because their father was a victim of the saloon or the blind pig and perhaps gambling away what does not go for drink, and if I know the saloons have two or more men on the ticket, then it is my duty to vote against those men.

TO THE VOTERS

Of the City of Port Angeles, Wash.

I beg to announce that I am a candidate for the office of Mayor of your beautiful city. If, on the tenth of next month, I have the honor of being your choice and am elected to represent your interests, my policy will be for good government which is to your interest, and at all times it will be a pleasure to me to have any citizen confer with me pertaining to the welfare of our city. I will particularly favor any enterprise that will elevate our city and furnish work to our citizens, as labor is the upbuilding of all cities. The success of any city depends upon the employment of labor. The laboring man builds the cities — fine blocks, street improvements, water works, electric plants, street car and rail roads. Without employment of labor there can be no successful merchants, banks or real estate values. Give work to the laboring man and you will have prosperity.

Yours very respectfully,
W. H. PETER.

OPPOSED TO THE TAX AMENDMENT

ing found the value of this property, such reason for changing the method of taxation does not now exist. Gross earnings tax laws and such like were expedients adopted in ignorance of true values.

"If such average rate of value produced an excess of funds for state requirements, as it would do when added to funds now derived from other sources, one of two things must follow, as the night follows day. Either there will be an extravagance in state expenditures or the rate of levy will be lowered so that this class of property will not bear its just burden of taxation."

The Constitution says: "A uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation on all property in the state, according to its value in money," etc., must be provided. The proposed amendment says "Taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects." It is barely possible that there are interests pushing this amendment who want something different from the "equal and uniform rate of assessment on all property," which the constitution provides for. It is asked that taxes be uniform on the same "class" of property, not on all kinds of property. Railways would be one class, public service corporations would be one class, farm lands, city property, manufacturing property, each would have its class.

And timber land would also be in a class by itself. Already has been heard the argument that timber lands should receive special leniency in taxation (the U. S. government thru its forestry department is recommending this) so that owners "can afford to hold the timber." If this amendment is adopted it would be altogether possible and altogether probable that timber lands would be a "class" by themselves and that a strong effort would be made to return to the days, not so far past as to be wholly forgotten, of low taxation on timber. Under the amendment proposed, any discrimination of this kind would be legal, and such discrimination would lie in the hands of two or three men. It sounds fair enough to say taxes shall be uniform on the same "class" of subjects, but it sounds fairer to say that "a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation on all property in the state" shall be provided for — and the voter should consider whether or not the individual, corporation, or "class," who is not satisfied with this guarantee, has an axe to grind. He should ask himself, has there developed, within the past two years, any reason why such an amendment would seem to be an object to any particular class ?

Wm. Buell, proprietor of the Merchants lunch counter, was taken into custody Sunday last charged with selling liquor without a license. A search of the place revealed several quart flasks of whisky hidden in a lime barrel, and about a dozen bottles of beer, together with twice as many empties. Mr. Buell stoutly maintains that he is not guilty of selling while the officers as freely state that they have positive proof and that they would have gotten considerable more stuff had the raid been before late in the evening. The hearing will come up next week.

THE CUSHMAN MEETING

Address a Splendid Effort, Logical and Masterly. Large Audience in Attendance.

Last Tuesday night Hon. Francis W. Cushman, our member of Congress, entertained a large audience of enthusiastic republicans at the opera house. The principles upon which the parties divide this year were discussed in a manner so fair, forceful and candid that the democrats referred to the gentlemanly manner in which it was conducted. Not that mud throwing was expected, but some of our friends on the other side have had an idea that all republican speakers were abusive. In this they were disappointed. The Olympic-Leader is pleased to know that so far the campaign has been conducted by both parties entirely free from abuse and that Mr. Cushman did as well or even better along this line than either speaker who has preceded him. The speech was a splendid effort, logical and masterly, and so pronounced by many of those present. Could every voter of Clallam county have heard it the majorities for the national and state republican tickets would be materially increased.

Geo. W. O'Brien, of Clallam Bay, gave a short address on the issues that most vitally concern the people of Clallam county in a way that was convincing and to the point. Taken altogether, the rally last Tuesday night was a vote-getter and a pronounced success.

What do you expect, Mr. Voter, if you refuse to endorse by re-election the officer who has done his duty fully and well? Can you expect the officer you put in in his place to hew strictly to the line when he knows that in his election you repudiated his predecessor whose record in this line was without a flaw? It is a serious proposition and worthy of your thoughtful consideration.

VOTE AS YOUR JUDGMENT DICTATES

ADVICE THAT IS GILT EDGED

The Free Man is the Man that Has Ceased to Be Used as Any Party's Rubber Stamp.

The Olympic-Leader is pleased to note that the Tribune-Times has decided to cast aside its old party hidebound theory of always voting "straight" and advises its readers, in its issue of October 9th, to support its candidates for county commissioners regardless of party ties, when it says: "the people, regardless of political affiliations should rally to their support (Mr. Bugge and Mr. Erickson) and see them vindicated in their work by a triumphant election." That sounds good. The advice is gilt edged.

True, the T.-T. occasionally advises its readers to "stand pat," but, we take it, since that paper is so insistent that its readers should support these two men upon the theory of good government and justice, its advice above quoted should go as regards its support of all efficient public officials.

The T.-T. also says this is a republican county, therefore only republicans ought to be allowed in office. Now this is a very narrow proposition. We cannot say that we believe in it fully. Principles and not party must be recognized if we are to be a free people. One of the first principles that we must learn and stick to with a vim is the principle of standing by those officers who have done their duty—and especially those who have done their duty in the face of danger to their future. We are very much of the opinion that county officers should be selected "irrespective of their party affiliations" with the sole idea in view of the best man for the place—the man who will prove true to his pledges and the people; the man whose record shows that he does not change color after the election is over; the man who is known against the man who is not known.

Even that staid old republican newspaper, The Seattle Post-Intelligencer, believes in voting as one's conscience dictates. In its issue of October 23 appeared a cartoon representing the laboring man with a full dinner pail being importuned by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, demanding of the laboring man that he "Vote as I dictate," — the old party rule, the rule of the bosses. On the other hand is John Mitchell, representing the advanced thought of today, advising, "Vote as your judgment dictates," a principle that will not admit of discussion.

Pope defined party feeling as "the madness of the many for the gain of the few." To which Collier's Weekly adds: "The worst failures of the government in America have been connected with worship of the party label. In emacipation from this stupidity the Northwest is leading, but the signs become more favorable everywhere. The free man on November 3 will be the man who votes from judgment and ceases to be used as any party's rubber stamp."

A. J. Cosser possesses every qualification that can be desired for the office of sheriff. He has made an efficient officer, has fulfilled all of his election pledges of two years ago. He has done his duty as he saw it without fear or favor, and is clearly entitled to a re-election. Moreover, his habits, honesty and integrity are additional guarantees that he will continue to be a safe man for the place, and this is said not in disparagement of his opponent, but to place Mr. Cosser in the right light before the voters of the county. In pursuance of his duties as sheriff Mr. Cosser has come to have the acquaintance of a very large majority of the people of the county and numbers his friends and well-wishers by the hundreds. There is no doubt whatever but that the affairs of his office will be administered during the next two years, as in the past, in a manner beyond criticism.

Do not forget the county superindent of schools when casting your ballot next Tuesday. Miss Trumbull's name is on the democratic ticket. If you are a republican and voting a republican ticket, pass over to the democratic column and vote for Miss Trumbull. She has made one of the best, if not the best, superintendents Clallam county ever had, and is clearly entitled to another term, and to your vote. Your party managers realized this and placed no name on the republican ticket in opposition to Miss Trumbull. Do not neglect to vote for her.

Don't make up your minds that good crops, bright railroad prospects, popular candidates and plenty of enthusiasm insures the success of your favorites this time, but don't stop work until the last man has cast his vote. "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

What we said last week in regard to having the books of the county examined by an expert seems to have struck a responsive chord among many of the voters of Angeles and vicinity, if we may judge from the many who have expressed their approval of the suggestion. On every hand we have been met with words of encouragement to continue the agitation of this matter until that agitation brings results.

It is not enough for county officials to say that they welcome a public examination of the books of their respective offices. The greatest rascal in office says that. No one will accuse any official of Clallam county of misconducting the affairs of his office. On the contrary, they are all believed to be honestly and efficiently conducting the business of the county entrusted to them.

This expert examination of county records is merely a matter of good business procedure and should be attended to occasionally. Elect Mr. Evans county treasurer and he will not only welcome an expert examination of the books of his office, but he will demand it as a matter of public policy and as a protection to the people.

It is universally acknowledged that D. A. Christopher is the best equipped man in the county today for assessor. Not only his friends, but those opposed to him concede this. The only opposition to him is the large timber interests, which object to paying their just proportion of taxes, and those who do not like his make-up—his well known determination to do that which he considers right, regardless of consequenses or the dictates of any individual or corporation. If elected, and he surely will be, Mr. Christopher will owe that election to the people at large, not to any set of men or interests, and all property will be assessed independently and upon identically the same ratio to its cash value, regardless of who its owner may be. The large timber interests will oppose him to the uttermost, but the people are for him. A vote for D. A. Christopher will be a vote for an equitable assessment and a square deal to all.

There is no disputing the fact that the office of commissioner is the most important within the bestowal of the voters of the county and every man should take a special interest in the selection of his choice for candidates for this office. Mr. Bugge and Mr. Erickson have been tried and not found wanting. "Well done good and faithful servants" should be the slogan of every voter in the county and he who studies his interests well will act accordingly.

The integrity and public spirit of both of these men are known and appreciated everywhere. In Messrs. Bugge and Erickson the voters of Clallam county have before them two unimpeachable candidates for the most important offices on the ticket. This is a matter that especially appeals to the taxpayers. It means dollars and cents to them. It is now up to the taxpayers to decide. They should study the question well and be careful how they vote.

Every day sees an increasing sentiment in favor of Hayes Evans for county treasurer. Mr. Evans is making a winning campaign by his manly and straight forward policy. Everywhere he goes he meets with assurances of good-will. He has lived in the county all his life. Not a charge of any kind has ever been brought against his name. He is known everywhere as an honest and conscientious citizen, a man of good judgment, good clerical and executive ability, and, above all, a man who puts his citizenship above party considerations.

A vote for Mr. Evans means a vote for good government, honesty in the transaction of the affairs of the treasurer's office, and a determination to treat all alike, friend or foe—without the advice or consent of any political boss or party manipulator.

E. E. Fisher has many of the qualifications that should stamp him as a good man to represent Clallam county in the state legislature. He is a shrewd business man, a ready thinker, a sound reasoner and a hard worker, and could easily bring to his assistance support for any measure that he might favor for his home county. Mr. Fisher is not a champion of a single industry, but is familiar with all the resources and needs of Clallam county and is broad minded enough to represent all its interests and all its people.

In the words of Congressman Cushman and Geo. W. O'Brien, speaking at the opera house Tuesday night, "The constituency that will not stand by and protect an officer who has done his duty and protected its interests is very lax in its duty to say the least." These words were not uttered in behalf of our nominee for sheriff but the force of them is just as applicable, and even more so, for the reason that an officer on a minority ticket has no votes to throw away by displeasing any considerable number of voters.

THE PORT ANGELES SCHOOLS

Board of Editors: — Robert Polhamus, Fred Farmer, Lucia Laufeldt, Mae Webster.

There has been much difficulty in determining of whom the editorial staff shall consist for high school notes. The Seniors were thought at first to do the editing, as that class did last year; but one of these wise students suggested a much better plan, which was pleasing to most of his classmates. The matter was brought before the Philomathean in the form of a sudden motion that the Juniors bear the burden. The motion was carried. Its success was due largely to the fact that the speaker created sympathy among the students of the other classes, excepting the Juniors, with his eloquence, for the now over worked Seniors. He even went so far as to point out the originality of his scheme.

Supt. Geisness, however, who was not present at this particular meeting, had a plan of his own, and thus the bickering between Seniors and Juniors comes to an end. The result was a compromise to the effect that the presidents of the various classes compose the editing board, the president of the Seniors being editor in chief. They are in order as named above.

The Sophmores held a meeting last week in which they elected the following officers: president, Lucia Laufeld; vice president, Ruth Raymond; secretary and treasurer, Margaret Fitzgerald. The number of Sophmores has increased, Mr. Clyde Lewell having entered the class.

The High School Chorus, Orchestra, and Boys' Quartet are practicing diligently and making rapid progress. We expect them to make a good showing on Dec. 4th, the date of the first Piano Fund Entertainment.

The teachers of the city schools met in the Superintendent's office Friday, October 23rd, at 4:15 p. m. At this meeting the list of pupils between the ages of eight and fifteen who are not enrolled in any of the City Schools but whose names appear on the "Census Dist." for this district was carefully revised. Ten names still remained after striking out all those who were found to have left the district or who had given a legal excuse for non-attendance. These names have been sent to the truant officer.

A circular letter has been issued by State Supt. Dewey notifying city and county superintendents that the Educational Department of the State will have an exhibit at the A.-Y. P. Exposition next summer. Efforts will be made to have an exhibit sent from the Port Angeles schools.

Burns Thorpe has been elected captain of the High School foot ball team lately organized and Thos. Geisness manager. If satisfactory arrangements can be made the boys will meet Port Townsend Thanksgiving.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

AN ACT providing for the amendment of section 16 of article one (1) of the Constitution of the State of Washington, relating to the exercise of the power of eminent domain.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

Section 1. That at the general election to be held in this State on the Tuesday next succeeding the first Monday in November, 1908, there shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State for their adoption and approval an amendment of section sixteen (16) of Article one (1) of the Constitution of the State of Washington so that the same shall read, and it is proposed that the same shall read, when so amended, as follows: Sec. 16. Private property may be taken, under such terms conditions and limitations as shall be prescribed by the Legislature for drains, flumes and ditches for agricultural, domestic and sanitary purposes, and for rights of way for the removal of timber or timber products, and the appropriation and use of property for such purposes are hereby declared to be public usage, even though such appropriation and use may inure to the special benefit of some individual, firm, corporation or association: Provided, however, That this declaration as to public uses shall not be construed to limit the right to appropriate property for other public uses. Private property shall not be taken for private use, except for private ways of necessity. No private property shall be taken or damaged for public or private use without just compensation having first been made, or paid into court for the owner, and no right of way shall be appropriated to the use of any corporation other than municipal until full compensation therefor be first made in money or ascertained and paid into court for the owner, irrespective of any benefit from any improvement proposed by such corporation, which compensation shall be ascertained by a jury, unless a jury be waived, as in other civil cases in courts of record, in the manner provided by law. Whenever an attempt is made to take private property for a use alleged to be public, the question whether the contemplated use be really public, shall be a judicial question, and determined as such, without regard to any legislative assertion that the use is public, except as to the uses which are herein declared to be public.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

AN ACT to amend article VII of the Constitution of the State of Washington, relating to the assessment and taxation of property within the State.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

That at the general election to be held in this state on the Tuesday next succeeding the first Monday in November, 1908, there shall be submitted to the qualified electors of this State for their adoption and approval an amendment to Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Washington, by striking from said article VII all of sections 1, 2, 3 and 4, and inserting in lieu thereof the following, to be known as section one: Section 1. The power of taxation shall never be surrendered, suspended or contracted away. Taxes shall be uniform upon the same class or subjects, and shall be levied and collected for public purposes. The property of the United States, and of the State, counties, school districts, and other municipal corporations and personal property to the amount of three hundred dollars for each head of a family, liable to assessment and taxation under the provisions of the laws of this state of which the individual is the actual and bona fide owner shall be exempt from taxation.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and official seal, this 17th day of October, 1908.

N. M. HAWKINS,
Auditor of Clallam County, Washington.
(Seal).

Where Is My Boy Tonight?

Where is my wand'ring boy to-night—
The boy of my tenderest care,
The boy that was once my joy and light,
The child of my love and prayer?

CHORUS.

O, where is my boy to-night?
O, where is my boy to-night?
My heart o'erflows, for I love him he knows;
O, where is my boy to-night?

Once he was pure as the morning dew,
As he knelt at his mother's knee;
No face was so bright, no heart more true,
And none was so sweet as he.

O, could I see you now, my boy,
As fair as in olden time,
When prattle and smile made home a joy,
And life was a merry chime!

Go for my wand'ring boy to-night;
Go search for him where you will,
But bring him to me with all his blight,
And tell him I love him still.

Nobody Knows but Mother.

Nobody knows the work it takes,
To keep the home together;
Nobody knows of the steps it takes,
Nobody knows—but mother.

Nobody listens to childish woes,
With kisses only mother;
Nobody's pained by naughty blows,
Nobody—only mother.

Nobody knows of the sleepless care
Bestowed on baby brother;
Nobody knows of the tender prayer,
Nobody—only mother.

Nobody knows of the lessons taught
Of loving one another;
Nobody knows of the patience sought
Nobody—only mother.

Nobody knows of the anxious fears
Lest darlings may not weather
The storm of life in after years,
Nobody knows—but mother.

Nobody kneels at the throne above
To thank the Heavenly Father
For the sweetest gift—a mother's love;
Nobody can but mother.

It is said that vegetables and fruit which have been hermetically sealed should be opened a couple of hours before using, in order that the oxygen may return. This plan will take away the peculiar flavor that nearly all canned things have, says a contributor to the June Delineator.

IN THE HOSPITAL.

Mrs. Milne, the wife of a troop sergeant, was buried a few months ago with full regimental honors. She was entitled to military recognition, for she went with her husband to the Crimea and served as nurse with Miss Nightingale in the hospital at Scutari. She was one of the brave women who overcame the horros of that ill-ordered barracks, and tranformed chaos into healing and comfort. Sarah A. Tooley gives an account of the hospital transformation in her "Life of Florence Nightingale."

When Miss Nightingale and her nurses arrived at the Scutari hospital they found it a scene of filth, pestilence and misery. Fighting against all odds, they brought it into a place of comparative comfort. Supplies were scanty, and the men suffered from the cold. Said one woman:

"When a man opens his mouth with, 'Please, ma'am, I want to speak to you a minute,' my heart sinks, for I am sure it will end in a request for a flannel shirt."

One Crimean victim describes his experiences in the hospital under its new regime:

"When I first arrived in the morning I was given a basin of arrowroot. Says I to myself, 'Tommy, my boy, that's all you'll get in your blessd inside this day, and you can thank yourself lucky to get that.' But two hours later if another of those blessed angels didn't come, entreating of me to take a little chicken broth!

"Well, I took that, thinking it was an early dinner, and before I was well done wondering what would happen next, round came the nurse again with a bit of jelly. All day long they kept bringing he a 'little nourishment.' In the evening came Miss Nightingale herself and took a look at me.

"'I hope you're feeling better,' she said.

"I wanted to answer, 'Madam, I feels as fit as a fighting cock,' but I managed to get out something more polite."

From the number of mysterious shooting affairs throughout the country recently, it appears that some people are trying to check the affinity craze with a rather drastic remedy.

Rockefeller's autobiography is to be published in several languages, but for candid expressions concerning the distinguished citizen English will remain the vehicle.

DOES NOT CONCERN US.

That Much-talked-of Question of the Coal Supply.

The question of the exhaustion of the coal supply of the United States is not one which can affect the present generation or the next, says a writer in Harper's Weekly. Yet the American supply is likely to be exhausted before that of Europe, and particularly before that of Great Britain. Looking at the matter from the point of view of national providence or provision, covering generations and generations, America should beyond doubt be a little saving of its coal.

It has been estimated that Pennsylvania has about enough anthracite coal to last at the rate of production that prevailed last year, a little less than 200 years. Probably the supply will be exhausted much sooner than that, unless some profitable substitute is found for anthracite. As to bituminous coal in the United States, the supply is very great and widespread. It is estimated that it will last, at the rate of consumption which prevailed during the last decade, something less than 450 years.

If the coal supply of the world at large were likely to be exhausted in any such way as to make a considerable drain on American coals for foreign consumption, the situation might be regarded as alarming if we could put ourselves in the place of our great-grandchildren. But there is not likely to arrive a time when we shall have to "feed the world" with coal.

In 1880 Great Britain had "in sight," so to speak—although it was all below the ground—an available coal deposit estimated at nearly 885,000,000,000 tons. At the rate of production and consumption then prevailing, the supply would last about 900 years. The coal measures of Lancashire are 9,000 feet in thickness.

Moreover, there are many countries which possess coal deposits that have never been touched. Besides the great coal fields of Europe and America, as now worked, there are undoubtedly coal deposits in China, in the Philippines, in Australia, in South America, in British North America, in Alaska, in the Indian archipelago and elsewhere.

With one circumstance the American people, looking at the matter from the consumer's standpoint, may well be pleased. Europe does not want our anthracite coal—the best fuel, on the whole, that the earth has ever produced. Europe does not understand the use of anthracite, and is apparently not willing to learn it. It calls on us for bituminous coal, which we can spare more readily.

The asumption that the coal fields of Great Britain and America will be exhausted even at the end of several centuries is founded on the further assumption that heat will continue to be made and power generated in the future much as they are now. But our inventors and chemists hold out the assurance that great changes may be looked for in the methods of producing heat and mechanical energy.

Breaks a Cold Promptly

The following formula is a never failing remedy for colds:

One ounce of Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, one ounce Toris Compound and one half pint of good whiskey, mix and shake thoroughly each time and use in doses of a tablespoonful every four hours.

This if followed up will cure an acute cold in 24 hours. The ingredients can be had at any drug store.

Canned Peas.

Pour peas into a colander. Rinse them thoroughly and put in saucepan. Add three very large cooking spoonfuls of cold water, salt, a little sugar, enough to make them taste like a sweet pea, and a lump of butter. Set the saucepan in another of hot water, cover and cook for thirty minutes.

Cocoanut Souffle.

Bring a pint of milk to scalding and stir into it a cupful of grated cocoanut. Set aside until cold, add five eggs, beaten light, and one teaspoon essence bitter almonds. Bake in a pudding dish and serve with sweetened whipped cream.

Habitual Constipation

TO THE VOTERS OF PORT ANGELES

Gentlemen:—

I again come before you as a candidate for the office of mayor of the city of Port Angeles, to be voted on at the city primary election to be held Tuesday, Nov. 10th, 1908.

Should you, by your votes at that primary and also at the regular December city election, decide to make me your choice for that office, it will be a pleasure to me, as well as my duty, to endeavor to conduct said office in a practical and business-like manner. I shall always favor street and other improvements just as far as the city finances will permit and I shall always favor making those improvements where they will be of most service to our citizens.

I believe my past record will bear me out in saying that I am not a vision-a-ry boomer, but believe in the city getting value received for all money expended, just as I would in my own private business.

The future prospects of Port Angeles are bright and if we, as citizens, will seize the opportunities which, I am satisfied, will be presented to us in the near future, we may all feel proud that we have stayed by, and helped to build up, this beautiful City by the Straits.

I am not one of those who think, neither would I have you believe, that only my election to the office of mayor would save the city from chaos—I simply come to you as one of your citizens with the best interests of our city at heart, and whether you elect me as your next mayor or not, I know that you will all have used your ballots in accordance with your best judgment, and when you have done that you have done your duty.

Respectfully,

E. E. SEEVERS.

ITS UP TO YOU

To my Friends:—The battle is won if those who believe in the policy inaugurated will now but do their part. I have done mine, fearlessly and impartially; it is now up to the voters to say whether they approve of that policy or whether they will repudiate it. However it goes, I can look any and every man in the face who supported me in the last campaign and say, I have kept my promises—I have done my duty!

I have assurances from every part of the county that I will be re-elected, particularly from the section east of the Elwha river. I believe, and it is conceded, that I will carry every precinct outside of the city and east of the Elwha, with possibly two exceptions; and it is conceded that I will carry the city by a good lead. Indications are that I will go to the Elwha with 100 to 150 majority. If this proves true, my election is certain. At Port Crescent and a few precincts in the west end I will lose, by a little stronger than two years ago when I went to the Elwha with about 150 plurality, winning by 106.

For this splendid showing I have friends in all parties to thank, so that the victory was in no sense a partizan triumph. This year more than ever it is a question of principle, and not of personality and party—the principle of standing by an officer who has done his duty. Whatever the outcome, the friends that I have made so far overshadow those who blindly accuse me that I have no regrets, no grievances, and no petty revenge to inflict. If elected I will be in a frame of mind to continue to give all a square deal; if defeated I can only say "it should not be so." All I ask is that the electors will consider the question impartially and without bias. I stand on my record.

Thanking all for their good wishes and assistance, I am

Sincerely yours,

A. J. COSSER, Sheriff.

With the increasing growth of a community, one of the county officers that has often been considered of minor importance and given little consideration—that of county health officer—has come to the front and is now demanding the same respect and the same care in the selection of a suitable incumbent that is accorded any other office. Of course it is generally conceded the health officer should be a licensed physician of good qualifications and his fitness for the position should be fully established.

Dr. D. E. McGillivray, who will succeed himself in this important office, possesses every qualification that can be desired. He has been a practicing physician in the county many years and during all that time has occupied a foremost position in medical circles and enjoyed a wide practice.

That Clallam county is rapidly advancing to the forefront in all that pertains to civic righteousness and public spiritedness is known. Progress and prosperity are in evidence everywhere. With this advanced movement, new roads are being opened and others are to be opened through the wilderness of forests and logged-off lands that abound within the limits of the county. Mr. Fitz-Henry, in his profession of civil engineer, has made a study of road and bridge work and would bring to the office of county engineer ripe experience and splendid executive ability along these lines. His knowledge and fitness as a civil engineer is known throughout the breadth of the county. Moreover, the affairs of this office would be conducted in the some economical manner as has marked the affairs of the clerk's office during the term now drawing to a close. There is not, nor should there be, any politics in this office. The only test should be the best man for the place. You, Mr. Voter, are the judge.

That long practice makes efficient is no reason why any set of men should be continued at the public crib for a long term of years. Just because a set of men have been in office many years and become proficient at public expense, is no reason why they should hang on forever; neither is it any reason why there are not others in the county equally as competent and worthy. If this business of office holding and drawing a fat salary is a good thing, pass it around. If we are going to permit a certain class of men to run our county affairs for an indefinite period, why not adopt the policy of imperialism and set up an independent principality and be done with it?

"Will you Reward or Rebuke an officer for doing his duty?" is the caption of a poster gotten out by this office for Sheriff Cosser, that is attracting some attention. "There is no middle ground," adds the poster, "It is Reward if elected, Rebuke if defeated." Truly spoken. It is little consolation to know that a majority of the people of the county approve of an action taken, if that majority will not vote for the principle, and thereby Rebukes the officer whom they otherwise applaud. How any one can vigorously approve a proposition, and then deliberately vote to annihilate it, is more than one can understand.

W. B. Ritchie, candidate for county attorney, needs no introduction to the people of this county. He is many years older in this county than is the writer of these lines. His name and his face is familiar to almost every voter in the county. Of his fitness for the office of which he is the nominee it would be superfluous for us to speak. That, like himself, is also too well known. We hope he will be elected—and he will be.

A vote for Mr. Evans means a vote for a man who will be the county treasurer in fact—not in name only. He will not defer to an assistant the business of the office when a tax payer calls for advice or information.

FOR ASSESSOR, D. A. CHRISTOPHER

To the Voters of Clallam County:

As the Republican candidate for County Assessor, I have not been promised the votes or backing or help in any manner whatever, of any corporation or company of any kind in this county, nor have I made any promises to any one, except this pledge: If elected I will impartially, diligently, and faithfully perform all the duties of County Assessor according to the best of my judgment, skill and ability as the law requires me to do.

D. A. CHRISTOPHER.

We are reliably informed that our county attorney has procured such evidence of fradulent registration and voting at the primary election that he is preparing and filing information against quite a number of men who so fradulently registered and voted, with the intention of prosecuting them for the violation of the registration and election laws.

It is understood that prosecuting officers have also been looking into the alleged illegal voting at Port Crescent and other points, and have data showing the probably legal voters at these places. This data will be used for the purpose of preventing any illegal voting at any point, and any attempt at false swearing will be summarily dealt with. The prosecutor says that he desires that every man who has a legal right to vote shall have the privilege of voting, but intends to see to it that no illegal or fraudulent ballots are cast.

Married Man in Trouble

A married man who permits any member of the family to take anything except Foley's Honey and Tar, for coughs, colds and lung trouble, is guilty of neglect. Mr. Forrest Daubney Carr's reci last evening was artistic, finish and thoroughly delightful. His pr gram was one that elicited great v satility, and in no instance was t artist disappointing. In the serio part of Tonio in "Il Pagliacci" a the satirically humorous essay Mephistopheles in "Faust" the singe met the demands in a thorough satisfactory manner. Mr. Carr sa Gothe's "Wedding Song" and V Pielitz's "Eliland." In the latt selection there were sudden chang in motif and manner of treatme which Mr. Carr handled with co summate art.—Los Angeles Expre At opera house Nov. 16.

CROUP

begins with the symptoms of a comm cold; there is chilliness, sneezing, s throat, hot skin, quick pulse, hoarser and impeded respiration. Give freqn small doses of Ballard's Horehound S up, (the child will cry for it) and at first sign of a croupy cough apply quently Ballard's Snow Liniment to throat. Mrs. A. Viet, New Castle, Co writes, March 19, 1902: "I think B lard's Horehound Syrup a wonde remedy, and so pleasant to take."
