MONTESANO-ANGELES ROAD RECOMMENDED

Commissioner Snow Also Approves Jefferson County Road Along Hood Canal.

In his biennial report, State Highway Commissoner Joseph Snow terms the Montesano-Port Angeles road a "worthy project and entitled to consideration," though declaring that it can not be opened for traffic for less than $1,000,000, and recommends the abolishment of the present state highway board, composed of the state auditor, state treasurer, and highway commissioner. If a board is to be maintained, says the commissioner, it should be composed of engineers.

Mr. Snow doubts if the results obtained would justify the additional expense of a highway board of engineers, and as a highway commissioner is held entirely responsible for the execution of the details of construction work, he recommends that all matters connected with the department be placed in the hands of the highway commissioner.

At present the state has 1,081 miles of state road established and surveyed. The estimated cost of building these roads is $4,500,000. With the present revenue of $374,000 per annum, one half of which goes to state roads and the other half to state aid roads, it will take approximately twenty-four years to complete these established roads. Mr. Snow therefore recommends that the levy for the highway fund be increased to 1 mill.

Approval is given the proposed road beginning at Hoodsport, in Mason County, and extending to Duckabush, Jefferson County.

SENDS TWENTY MORE CRUISERS

About twenty timber cruisers arrived here this week from up sound, says the Clallam Bay Press, to cruise in the neigborhood of Ozette and Dickie lakes. All the men are under Mr. Kennedy, of the Milwaukee company. They will work in separate crews, with four or five men in each crew. The indications are that the big Milwaukee Company will absorb some of the smaller companies owning timber in this county, and will own the largest portion of the standing timber before it quits buying.

W. I. Bassett, chief of the Milwaukee surveyors here, returned on Friday from Seattle where he visited his family.

ADVERTISING NORTHWEST

Six tons of advertising matter, and the highest possible grade of advertising matter at that, was forwarded to the East by the Portland Commercial Club last week. This remarkable addition to the advertising the Pacific Northwest is already receiving tells of the resources of this section of the United States through picture and text, and comprises 5,040,000 full newspaper columns, certainly a great accomplishment and one which five years ago would have been considered impossible.

ONLY BY COMPARISON

We are rich and happy in this world only by comparison and contrast. For years Washington and Oregon have had ideal weather. For instance, 25 degrees above zero was the coldest weather experienced by the coast cities of these two states in 1908, and disagreeable as we have found our little shiver of a few days, the temperature is from twenty to fifty degrees warmer than it has been at the same time in the sections that most of us came from.

The Bank of Clallam County has just installed the latest Ely-Norris burglar proof manganese steel safe, supplied with triple time lock and three combinations.

GAMBLING BILL GETS QUICK START

Majority of Senators Are in Favor of Hanson's Bill Making Pool Selling a Felony.

Olympia, January 12th.—The Hanson anti-race track gambling bill will be introduced in both houses tomorrow. Senator Pliny L. Allen, of King county, will introduce the bill in the senate and Representative Ole Hanson, author of the bill, will take care of it in the house.

The bill is designed to make wagering on horse races or selling pools a felony, punishable by not less than one year or more than three years in the penitentiary. Aside from prohibiting pool selling and book making, the measure provides that the owner or lessee of the house in which the offense is committed is also guilty of a felony.

A staff correspondent of the Post-Intelligencer took a canvass last Monday of the House and Senate in regard to the standing of members on the race track question. Of sixty-six members of the House, asked as to their position on the Hanson anti-race track bill, forty-four expressed themselves as favoring the bill or against race tracks or gambling. Two expressed opposition to the bill, and twenty were either doubtful or said they were insufficiently familiar with the Hanson measure to give an opinion publically. Representative Fisher's name does not appear on the list.

The bill declares that the emergency exists and that the bill will become effective immediately after its passage.

WINTRY SPELL ENDS WITH WELCOME RAIN

Period of Cold Weather Longer than Memory of the Oldest Inhabitant Comes to a Close.

The longest and most severe spell of cold weather we have experienced for a number of years terminated yesterday with the arrival of a warm south wind followed by a thrice welcome rain, which is speedily clearing of the snow. Four days of 12 to 20 above zero, with a snowfall of perhaps sixteen inches, is quite enough winter for one year; we can bid it adieu without regret.

It is not often that Port Angeles is given a taste of old-fashioned Eastern winter weather, it being more common to have the flowers blooming in our yard at this season of the year than to have the snow on the ground. The past week has been a trying one for all whose ordinary work keeps them out of doors. Not because the weather has been particularly cold considered from the point of view of persons who have lived in other parts of the country, but because we are not accustomed to such weather, and have not made provision, either mental or physical, to meet the emergencies. The sleighing was excellent and there was a great demand for anything with runners, most of the contrivances being simply a couple of plank with boards nailed across. Youngsters have had the time of their lives coasting down the hill sidewalks.

Dr. W. F. Taylor is a recent arrival in Angeles; his former home being London, Ontario. The doctor is assisting Dr. McGillivray at the hospital and is contemplating taking an interest in the same. In that event he will remain here permanently. Dr. Taylor was under the impression that this was a land of winter roses and perpetual flowers instead of winter's blasts and deep snows.

PORT ANGELES HAS REAL EARTHQUAKE

Two Distinct Shocks, Each of Brief Duration, and Either One Amply Sufficient, Thank You.

On Monday afternoon at about ten minutes to four o'clock, Port Angeles was visited by an earthquake. The quake was preceeded by a deep rumbling sound, some people claiming that the noise sounded like the crushing or grinding of great boulders, others that it was like distant thunder. The shock was felt all over the city, in the resident sections as well as in the down town district. The disturance lasted about twenty two seconds. The general movement of the earthquake was from east to west.

Buildings swayed to and fro with a vibration of about two inches. When the people felt the shock and heard the rumbling noise, it did not take them long to reach the streets. However, the precautions were unnecessary, as no serious damages have been reported. Several peculiar stories are related. One lady was hanging out her washing when she heard the rumbling noise, and looking up into the sky to discover the cause, found her clothes line dancing a jig. Another family possessed a clock which had stubbornly refused to "run." The vibrations started the clock, and, it is said, it has kept correct time since. Dishes and small articles were thrown off bookcases and shelves in a number of homes.

In Seattle, accordinig to the seismograph record at the University of Washington station, the quake lasted seven minutes and thirty seconds. Henry Landes, professor of geology of the University, said that the indications showed that the center of disturbance was north, probably in southeastern Alaska. "The cause is evidently the slipping and breaking of the bed rock of the country," said Prof. Landes. "I believe it to be entirely local. Seattle is not in an earthquake center, and I do not believe that this quake is the prelude to any more and there is certainly no cause for apprehension."

The breaking of the cable off Cape Flattery, in my opinion, has no connection with the quake felt in Seattle. The time given for the breaking of the cable is said to be 2:05 o'clock in the afternoon, while the shock at Blaine was at 3:58, according to the report received, and that at Seattle was at 3:50 the last probably being the correct time."

Of Waverly, Texas, writes: "Of a morning, when first arising, I often find a troublesome collection of phlegm which produces a cough and is very hard to dislodge; but a small quanity of Ballard's Horehound Syrup will at once dislodge it, and the trouble is over. I know of no medicine that is equal to it, and it is so pleasing to take. I can most cordially recommend it to all persons needing a medicine for throat or lung trouble."

DEVELOPMENT WILL RECEIVE VAST IMPETUS

Fortunes Will Be Made in Next Few Years in Parts of Washington Now Undeveloped.

The development of southwestern Washington, the Olympic peninsula and the Puget Sound country generally, says the Tacoma Ledger, will receive a great impetus by the construction of the Grays Harbor branch of the Union Pacific Railroad. It is a vast and rich country the branch will permeate. A great deal of it is now remote and thinly populated because of a lack of transportation facilities. Thousands of homes will be built as a result of the extension and thousands of new ranches will be opened to produce dairy products, poultry and eggs, beef, fruit and berries and hay for the teeming cities of the Northwest.

The Olympic peninsula, rich in timber and minerals, will be penetrated by the Union Pacific as well as the Northern Pacific. A great country along the Strait of Jaun de Fuca, which has never had any other connection with the outside world than by steamboats will thrill with new industry when the railroads run daily to Grays Harbor and Tacoma.

Fortunes will be made in the course of the next few years in parts of Western Washington now undeveloped. We have land for the land-hungry hordes that will come hunting from the East, and we will have timber on which the nation will chiefly depend for the next twenty or thirty years. No wonder the great railroad managers are losing no time in extending their lines. The Grays Harbor Country, Southwestern Washington and the Olympic Peninsula are to be congratulated.

REV. MR. GARRETT RESIGNS

Rev. J. S. Garrett has tendered his resignation as Rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, to take effect with the close of the present month. This will be sad news for many of his parishioners. Rev. Garrett is a consistent, enthusiasic Christian gentleman, and, withal, an eloquent and forceful speaker. St. Andrews can ill afford to lose him, and our people generally will be sorry to have him go. We are not advised as to his future plans.

SOLONS AT OLYMPIA

ELEVENTH GATHERING OF STATE LAW MAKERS AT CAPITAL.

Olympia, Jan. 11.—The state senate was called to order by Lieutenant Governor Coon at 12 o'clock.

The list of members as certified by the secretary of state was read by the secretary of the senate. Then the new senators were called up in front of the president's desk and Chief Justice Rudkin administered the oath of office to the 22 men.

A. S. Ruth, of Thurston county, was elected president pro tem; William T Laub, of King, was elected secretary and James W. Hayes, of Pierce, sergeant-at-arms.

Joint resolutions introduced included one by B. D. Minkler, Skagit, memorializing congress against the removal of the duty on forest products; by W. G. Potts, King, petitioning congress for $1,000,000 for Alaska road development, and by John L. Blair, of Jefferson, San Juan and Clallam, asking congress and the war department to grant to the state university for a biological station a site on the militray reserve on San Juan island. All were carried and transferred to the house.

Olympia, Jan. 11.—Declaring that he believed that under the operation of the direct primary law, legislators were elected by the people and not by parties, Lester P. Edge, of Spokane county, leader of the minority in the house, voted for L. O. Meigs, the Republican choice for speaker. The Democrats placed no candidate in nomination, and in the organization of the house voted with the Republicans solidly.

L. O. Meigs, who was chief clerk of the house during the last session, called that body to order at noon. He named T. J. Bell, of Pierce county, clerk pro tem. Judge Mark A. Fullerton, of the supreme court, administered the oath to the members. Loren Grinstead, the choice of the caucus for chief clerk, was temporarily called to the chair while the house considered the question of selecting the speaker.

After the nomination of Mr Meigs, Mr. Edge, the Democratic leader, said that his party had decided to place no candidate in nomination for speaker.

"We feel that in this case the majority has chosen wisely and well," said Mr. Edge. "We recognize in Mr. Meigs those qualities which make an efficient officer. On this matter, as well as on others that will come before this body, I wish to assure the Republicans of the assistance of the minority on any question that will benefit the people. We feel that under the operation of the direct primary law that we have been chosen by the people and not particularly by any party. Any measure that is good will receive the six Democratic votes in this house, and any measure that is not in the interests of the whole people will be opposed by those votes." After Mr. Meigs had taken the oath of office Loren Grinstead, of King county, was elected chief clerk, Joseph Wilson sergeant-at-arms. The house rules of 1907 were adopted until the new rules have been formulated The senate resolution memorializing congress to retain the duty on forest products was adopted by a vote of 88 to 3. The committe appointed to notify the governor that the house was in session reported that the governor would send a message to the house on Wednesday

The senate resolution asking congress to appropriate $1,000,000 for the construction of roads in Alaska was unanimously adopted.

A bill appropriating $85,000 for the expenses of the legislature was passed.

Secretary of State S. H. Nichols sent notification to the house that Wesley L. Jones, of North Yakima, was the choice of the Republicans of the state for United States senator at the primary election, and that George F. Cotterill, of Seattle, was the choice of the Democrats.

EXPOSITION TO HAVE MODEL GOVERNMENT ASSAY OFFICE

Washington, D. C., Jan. 9.—The directors of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition have for several days been making an effort to have the treasury department co-operate with the exposition company in operating a model government assay office at the exposition to show that portion of the travels of the gold which comes to Seattle from the North.

The department has decided that if the exposition managers will agree to have such an institution placed in the government building, they will bear the entire expense and make of it the most attractive exhibit of its kind ever undertaken.

The directors have accepted the offer.

Apples Bring 40 Cents Apiece

Wenatchee, Jan. 9.—C. L. Green, an exhibitor at the apple show, received $44.80 for one of the boxes he had on exhibition. There were 112 apples in the box, and he received 40 cents apiece for them. Nearly all who had apples on exhibition received fabulous sums for their fruit.

PROTESTS DISMISSAL OF TACOMA TIDE LAND SUIT

Olympia, Jan. 9.—The following telegram has been sent by E. W. Ross, state land commissioner, to Congressman Wesley L. Jones, at the national capital:

"Newspapers report that a bill has been introduced by you for Congressman Cushman, authorizing settlement of the government suit on behalf of Indians involving tide lands at Tacoma.

"This state is interested to the extent of a quarter million dollars, and has intervened with a cross bill in the suit, asking a decree quieting the state's title.

"The suit therefore cannot be dismissed without the state's consent. I desire to protect the state's interest in tide lands sold and unsold, and harbor area leased and unleased, affected by the suit. I will not, however, question any arrangement consistent with title in the state for both tide lands and harbor area reserve."

The suit referred to is generally known as the Bedford suit, inwhich a Tacoma attorney under an arrangement with the Puyallup Indians and with the consent of Secretary Garfield, sued to establish title in the Indians as a part of their reservation to tide lands at Tacoma, much of which had been deeded by the state to private individuals, and is now held or sought by railroad companies.

GREAT NORTHERN PLANS LINE UP OKANOGAN VALLEY

Vancouver, B. C., Jan. 9.—It is announced that the Great Northern railway, early in the coming spring, will undertake the work of building a line from the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern railway east of the Cascades, south through the Okanogan river valley to Wenatchee, Wash., on the main line, a distance of about 160 miles. The final surveys have been approved and already one-third of the right-of-way has been acquired. The Northern junction point will be at Oroville, a station in the state of Washington a few miles south of the international boundary. Owing to engineering difficulties a portion of the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern railway, extending from Laurier, B. C., in the Boundary district, to Keremos, in the Similakameen district, makes three or four detors into United States territory.

Mr. Hill's program would indicate that the financial situation has improved and that he anticipates an early return of commercial prosperity. The proposed line "hooking up" the Canadian and American portions of his railway system will cost upwards of $2,000,000. It will not only open up rich ranching and fruit country, but will provide an alternative route for through east and west bound freight, thus relieving the congestion of traffic over the heavier grades across the Cascade range. The Okanogan river valley is situated east of the Cascades The river joins the Columbia at Wenatchee. The valley has long been famed for fruit growing and for its vast horse and cattle ranges.

SECURITIES CLASSIFICATION GIVEN OUT BY TREASURY

Washington, Jan. 9.—Secretary Cortelyou, of the treasury department, in conformity with an act of March 4, 1907, has announced the classes of securities which will be accepted in case additional deposits of public funds in national wbanks are made. They are as follows:

United States, Philipppine, Porto Rico and District of Columbia bonds at par. Bonds of Hawaii territory at 90 per cent and, at the option of the treasury, Philippine railway bonds and those of states, municipalities and high grade railroads, such as are legal investments for savings banks in New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut or New Jersey, at 90 per cent of their par values. For initial or first deposits, United States bonds are required. No additional deposits are, however, now in contemplation.

HORTICULTURIST SAYS COLD SNAP HELPS FRUIT

Tacoma, Jan. 9.—A. Tonneson, one of the foremost horticulturists of the Northwest, says the present cold snap is one of the best things for the standing timber and the fruit orchards of Western Washington and Oregon that has happened in years. Due to the prevailing mildness of the winters west of the Cascade mountains, trees grow, Tonneson says, throughout the year. East of the mountains and through all the Eastern states the cold winters arrest growth and annually cause a ripening of wood that induces a quality of toughness. The present hard freeze will drive the sap of trees in all the Sound region well down to the roots and give the timber and orchards of the Sound region a rest such as they have not had for years.

Harriman Plans Mexcian Line

El Paso, Texas, Jan. 9.—According to private information received here from New York, E. H. Harriman has decided to build a railway line from the main line of the Southern Pacific south into Mexico. The proposed new line will extend through the new oil fields in Northeastern Chihuahua and thence through the timber region of North Central Mexico to a connection with the Guaymas and Guadalajara.

SAYS ROOT IS UNFIT

STATE BAR ASSOCIATION COMMITTEE MAKES ITS REPORT.

Hold Supreme Court Justice Acted in a Manner Not in Accordance With the Dignity of His Office. Recommends Call of Grand Jury.

Seattle, Jan. 11.—The State Bar Association committee appointed to investigate the conduct of Judge Milo A. Root, who resigned as justice of the supreme court two months ago, has made its report. The committee finds that Judge Root has been guilty of gross impropriety, which unfits him for the supreme court. The report, which is a lengthy document, makes the following findings of facts, conclusions and recommendations:

That Judge Root had correspondence with M. J. Gordon, attorney for the Great Northern Railway company, concerning a money transaction.

Gordon Dictated Opinion

That Judge Root accepted from the Great Northern, through M. J Gordon and from other railroads, free transportation.

That Judge Root filed as the opinion of the supreme court an almost verbatim draft of an opinion dictated by M. J. Gordon, attoreny for the Great Northern, in the case of Harris against the railroad company.

The committee is unable to obtain any facts to substantiate the rumor of the giving out of advance information concerning the decisions of the supreme court.

The committee is unable to obtain any facts to substantiate rumors of bribery and corruption.

The committee holds that the conduct of Judge Root in receiving free transportation is highly censurable.

The conduct of Judge Root in the Harris case is characterized as a "gross breach of judicial and professional propriety."

The committee declares that the action of Judge Root in the Harris case "shows such a want of appreciation of the duties of a judge of the supreme court as to unfit him for occupying that position."

Calls for Grand Jury

That the State Bar Association request the judges of the superior court of Spokane county to call a grand jury to investigate fully the rumors of corruption.

Believing that its suggestion will be acted upon, the committee feels that it is fairer to withhold any other recommendation.

Whether such inquisition be held, the supreme court and the State Bar Association will have the evidence before them upon which to base any further action or proceedings.

Judge Root was elected at the recent election for another term of six years. His resignation affected only the term to which he was elected two years ago. If he fails to qualify today for the term for which he was elected, the office will be declared vacant.

M. F. GOSE, OF POMEROY, TO SUCCEED JUDGE ROOT

Olympia, Jan. 13.—Judge Milo A. Root yesterday notified Gov. Mead that he would not qualify as justice of the supreme court for the term to which he was elected in November. Judge Root will begin the practice of law immediately. In the afternoon Gov. Mead announced the appointment of M. F. Gose, of Pomeroy, to fill the vacancy on the supreme bench. The appointment was made out of deference to the wishes of Governor-elect Cosgrove.

M. F. Gose is an old-time friend of Governor Cosgrove. He has a profound knowledge of the law and is well qualified for the high position to which he has been appointed

TO ASK AID FOR TACOMA AND SEATTLE WATERWAYS

Seattle, Jan. 9.—At the joint meeting between committees from Tacoma and Seattle, who met to discuss the improvement of waterways adjacent to Tacoma and Seattle, a resolution was adopted recommending that the coming session of the legislature provide funds and authorize the commencement of the improvement of the Duwamish and Puyallup rivers and tributaries. The resolution asked that the improvement be made along the line of the report made May 13, 1907, by the special board of engineers appointed to investigate the floods and recommend a means of preventing their recurrence.

The resolution also carried with it a clause calling for the expenditure of all moneys realized by the state for the sale of tide lands in front of cities for the purpose for which such funds were intended, that is, in the improvement of the harbors of those cities.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 9.—The secretary of the interior has sent to congress a recommendation that $10,000 be appropriated for the protection of game in Alaska. This sum is to be expended under the direction of the governor and includes all salaries.

Mineral Output Placed at $19,600,000, About a Million Less Than Last Year---One Great Need Is Transportation Facilities---Geological Survey Report.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 9.—The geological survey report on the mining industry of Alaska in 1908, which is being prepared by Alfred H. Brooks, geologist in charge of the division of Alaskan mineral resources, will be issued by the survey about the 1st of May. The following is a summary of the more important features of this report. Accurate statistics of the mineral production are not yet available, but the error in the figures here presented for gold production is believed not to exceed 15 per cent, while in those for the copper output it is probably less than 10 per cent.

The value of the mineral production in Alaska for 1908 is estimated at $19,600,000, as compared with $20,871,771 for 1907. This decrease is to be charged to the gold placers and copper mines, as most of the other mining industries show an increase in value of output. The value of the total mineral production from 1880, when mining first began, to the close of 1908 is, in round numbers, $142,000,000; the silver output is valued at $1,[illegible]0, and the copper at $4,100,000. The balance represents the value of the marble, gypsum, tin and coal products.

Causes of Decreased Production.

Measured either in terms of production or of dead work accomplished, 1908 was not a prosperous year for the mining industry of Alaska as a whole. The causes which brought about this retardation were in part those that affected the mining industry everywhere; in part they were due to certain conditions peculiar to the northern territory.

Gold placer mining, which was affected to only a small degree by the financial depression, experienced a very decided setback because of the drought which prevailed throughout the summer months in nearly all the important districts. The lack of water so curtailed the output of all the Yukon and Seward peninsula districts that the value of the total output of placer gold from these sources was probably nearly $1,500,000 less than in 1907. The decrease of the placer gold production for Alaska as a whole is, however, but temporary, for the maximum annual output of the auriferous gravels has not yet been reached.

In spite of the business depression the production of the auriferous lode mines of the territory in 1908 was about 27 per cent greater than in 1907.

Among the conditions that are retarding the advancement of the mineral industry are the inadequacy of the public land laws under which placer ground is acquired and held, and the impossibility which has thus far existed of obtaining title to coal lands.

Transportation.

Improved transportation facilities are among the most urgent needs of the mining industry of the territory. Much progress was made during 1908 in the construction of wagon roads and trails, but these can only supplement and not supplant railways. The inadequacy of river transportation lines in seasons of low water was emphasized by the conditions on the Yukon last summer.

As the railways in Alaska are of much public interest at present, the following table of mileage has been compiled from the best data available:

Mileage and Terminals of Alaska Railways, December 4, 1908.

Council City and Solomon River. Council to Penelope creek, 35.5 miles.

Wild Goose railway, Council to Ophir creek, 5 miles.

Fairbanks: Tanana Valley railroad, Fairbanks and Chena to Chatanika, 46 miles.

Copper River: Copper River railroad, Cordova to Childs Glacier (September 17), 47 miles. Probably eleven miles have been built since September 17.

White Pass: White Pass and Yukon railroad, 20.4 miles. Terminal at Whitehorse, Yukon Territory.

Lode Mining.

The tonnage of all the lode mines in Alaska for 1908 is estimated to have been between 1,650,000 and 1,700,000 short tons, as compared with 1,308,506 short tons for 1907.

The copper ores in 1908 yielded an average of $1.30 per ton for gold and silver and 3.18 per cent in copper. It is probable that the copper percentage for 1908 has been slightly increased, as with the low price of copper only high grade ores could be profitably mined and shipped. It is estimated that the copper production of Alaska in 1908 was about 4,800,000 pounds, as compared with 6,308,786 in 1907.

OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER

FRIDAY, JANUARY 15, 1909

The announcement was made last week that President-elect William H. Taft will visit Seattle and the A.-Y.-P. Exposition next summer. Port Angeles' clubs should get busy and invite the President to visit our city and have a try at the famed Beardslee trout. Possibly the effort might be of no avail, but the advertising would do Port Angeles no harm.

If you have an eastern friend who is interested in Washington, send him a copy of the Olympic-Leader for six months or a year. Interest him in the Puget Sound country and in this particular section. There are many people now living here who became convinced that Port Angeles was a good place to live by reading the local papers.

There never was a time when greater activity was needed on the part of the city's commercial organization than at present. There never was a time when united activity along the right lines would result in so much good. Big things are doing thruout this section and opportunities are offered which should not be neglected. That is the way the Skagit County Courier sees it. The same is true here in Angeles.

It is authoritatively stated that the shingle mills of the Northwest will resume business in February. Practically all the mills are closed down. Prices of shingles are looking up. It is predicted that prices will advance until the price of stars reaches the $2.00 mark. A general revival of the shingle industry would mean much for Clallam county. With all its shingle mills in full operation a larger force of men would be employed at good wages, and everybody knows what that means.

The State Legislature convened in Olympia Monday. The organization of that body was effected by the unanimous selection of Senator A. S. Ruth of Thurston as president pro tem of the Senate, and of L. O. Meigs of North Yakima as speaker of the House. The present legislature will be one of the most important held in the state. The members which comprise that august body were elected under the new order of things — by a direct vote of the people; and from them they have derived their power. They are not answerable to any machine, clique, or political bosses, and are therefore free to legislate for the people and not for special interests. The senatorial contest was settled at the polls — the legislature will simply ratify that action. Among the most important measures to come before the legislature are the local option, anti race-track gambling and good roads measures. These ought to be made strong and effective. Other laws are demanded and their need is both plain and imperative. We believe that the men sent to Olympia are equal to the task before them.

From every quarter comes the settled conviction that, following the A.-Y.-P. Exposition, the State of Washington is to be the center of the greatest business activity ever experienced in the Pacific Northwest. In this day and age people take no stock in the theory that periods of depression follow in the wake of expositions. That was not the case with the Worlds Fair at Chicugo, the Omaha Exposition, the St. Louis Fair, or the Lewis & Clark Exposition at Portland. None of these cities were visited with any great business depression following their expositions. On the contrary, Portland, Omaha, St. Louis and Chicago enjoyed great prosperity before and after their expositions and they are still growing with wonderful rapidity, especlally the three northern cities. Seattle will continue to do the same. And not only Seattle, but the entire state and the Pacific Northwest will be greatly benefitted by the visit of the thousands of Eastern people to our state next summer. The railroads will make low rates and people will flock here from all parts of the country. They have read of the great possibilities of this section for future greatness and they are coming to attend the exposition — which is going to be a great success — and to see the country.

The Tacoma Press well says: "It is the prediction of far-seeing and conservative men, who have given the matter thought and study, that the state of Washington will fairly boom with business activity after the A.-Y.-P. Exposition. Every section in the state will receive substantial benefit; eastern as well as western Washington, is is predicted, will fill up more rapidly with new people the year following the Exposition than in any previous year since statehood."

Managers of the Exposition are already overwhelmed with letters of inquiry from people who want information concerning the Puget Sound country, of which they have heard so much. Many of these people are coming, not only to visit the exposition, but to investigate for themselves the possibilities of the Northwest. "The local exposition is a chance of a life-time for the people of the state of Washington," says Director of Exploitation James A. Wood. "Fortunately, they seem to realize this fact and are doing everything in their power to make the Fair a success."

Are the people of Angeles and Clallam county doing their share towards making the Exposition a success? Are we to receive any of the benefits to accrue from the visit of our friends from the East? Is Clallam county to be benefitted by this business activity? Are you doing your part and thereby assisting in the upbuilding of Clallam county?

The ordinary "Commercial Club advertising" is good enough in its way; it sets forth the main features of the particular city putting it out. But its principal circulation is among those who are buying, or may buy, property to hold as a speculative investment. Very little of it reaches the man who is actually thinking of coming West or going South, as the case may be. Very little of it reaches the man who is undecided between Eastern Washington and the Puget Sound country. The man thinking of locating in a particular section wants to know more about it. The papers he is familiar with publish the local news exclusively; their country is already fully settled and there's no object in boosting it. Consequently the prospective homeseeker has no thought of the amount of interesting information concerning this locality to be obtained from the local paper in the course of a few months. If you have a friend in the East who is interested in this western country, send him the Olympic-Leader for six months or a year. Get him interested in your own particular town and county. Do your share of the missionary work that is so much needed. Every additional settler means better roads, better schools, and better conditions in every way.

Pacific county is to have a new courthouse, to cost not less than $50,000. Pacific county's court house, like the old rookery that stands on Sunrise Hill in Port Angeles, is out of date and inadequate for the purposes for which used. Four enterprising citizens of South Bend have agreed to donate a block in that city for the purpose. Other citizens have entered into a contract with the county to take the old courthouse and grounds, the proceeds to be used in the construction of the new building. The contracts have been duly signed, the commissioners voting unanimously in favor of the new building. Is Clallam county to remain behind the procession? Who will start a move in the right direction?

A Religious Author's Statement.

For several years I was afflicted with kidney trouble and last winter I was suddenly stricken with a severe pain in my kidney's and was confined to bed eight days unable to get up without assistance. My urine contained a thick white sediment and I passed same frequently day and night. I commenced taking Foley's Kidney Remedy, and the pain gradually abated and finally ceased and my urine became normal. I cheerfully recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy.

Race track gambling received a decided set-back at a mass meeting held in Seattle by the Anti-Race Track Gambling League on last Friday. Business men representing millions, presidents of banks, heads of great manufactories, presidents of railroad companies, in fact all of that energetic body of men which has made Seattle's name famous were there to aid Ole Hanson in his movement which has now become a matter of national interest. Speeches were made by Judge Burke, Geo. H. Walker, Mayor Miller, Ole Hanson, Thos. P. Revelle, and Rev. Matthews. It was the consensus of opinion of the vast assemblage of people that Ole Hanson's bill should be enacted into law without a change of any kind.

The legislature will be asked to pass a bill prohibiting the burning of slashings during the Exposition. One of the greatest attractions of the Exposition will be the scenery of the Puget Sound country. A clear atmosphere will cause thousands to take side trips who otherwise would not think of it. The unsurpassed view of the Olympics, to be had from the hills of Seattle in clear weather, will cause every visitor who has any love of the Out-of-Doors to think with a great longing of the beautiful lakes and mountain streams that lie beyond, and will result in a greatly increased travel down this way. The bill has been endorsed by officials of the Exposition and is approved by lumbermen generally.

The year 1909 should be the best in Port Angeles' history. All signs now point to a year of prosperity, but that prosperity will not be extensive or great unless our citizens take an active interest in its welfare and upbuilding. Not merely the real estate men, but all the business men—the men and women, the boys and girls; all can do something. The best citizen takes good care of his own business, but the busiest man can devote a little time to the welfare of the town. All should go to work. Get the habit; you will be surprised at the result. When confidence is once established, the rest is easy. Push Port Angeles.

CLALLAM NOTES

Between three and four o'clock p. m. Monday, heavy earthquake shocks were felt here. The waves appeared to come from the south. There were four heavy waves and some lighter, causing objects to jar from shelves, stoves to "walk," etc.

Cold winds from the East prevailed for nearly a week, bringing from about seventeen inches of snow near the Bay to nearly thirty further back.

Last Friday, Mr. Belden, the Ozette mail carrier, together with Mr. Buckles started out on foot with several mail bags, and had gone a short distance past Mr. Lamb's when a spruce limb struck him on the head rendering him unconscious. After reviving he returned to the Bay and made the trip the following day.

All departments of the Angeles public schools were closed on last Friday, and again on Monday of this week, on account of the depth of the snow and because the various rooms could not be kept at a proper temperature during the cold weather. It was also thought better to await the arrival of moderate weather before subjecting the children to the journey to and from school in the cold. And, besides, the heating systems of our school buildings are not sufficient for the kind of weather the clerk has handed out to us during the past week. The bell rang Tuesday morning for the High School and the eighth grade, and the other grades again went to work on the following morning.

There's a difference of opinion among the trans-continental railroads as to the rates to be made to Washington and Oregon during 1909, but there is assurance that the regular rate will be cut so as to make travel exceedingly heavy as a result of the Exposition, and every indication that one-way colonist tickets will be cheaper than for two years past.

The steel freighter Riverside, Capt. Ramselius, was in port Saturday and Sunday loading shingles at the Morse dock from the Filion & Wright, the Madison and Tyrrell & Wolf mills. The Riverside sailed for San Francisco late Sunday afternoon.

State Auditor Estimates That But Little Over Half the Amounts Desired by Heads of the Various State Departments Will Be Available.

Olympia, Jan. 9.—According to estimates prepared by State Auditor C. W. Clausen, the estimated state revenues in the general fund for the coming biennial period are $3,811,425, while the amounts the various state offices, boards and institutions will ask the legislature to appropriate total $6,021,184.77. In other words, the estimated revenues are about 63 per cent of the estimated demands, and the estimated demands only take account of existing institutions, boards and commissions, not calculating on the possible new bodies or institutions that may be created by the legislature. The estimates, both in the columns of revenue and expenditure, do not take account of highways or military expenditures, both of these being provided for by special taxes, they having their own funds apart from the general fund.

President's Salary Bill Reported.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 9.—The senate committee on finance has reported favorably Senator Bourne's bill providing for an increase of the president's salary from $50,000 to $100,000, and that of vice-president and speaker of the house to $20,000 annually. Senator Bourne believes his bill will pass and become a law in time for President-elect Taft to receive the benefit of it.

SHADOWED TILLMAN

Land Fraud Suspicions Given As Reason—Detectives' Work Due to Attack in Senate on Oregon Company—Tillman Welcomes Chance to Be Heard.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 9.—By direction of President Roosevelt, secret service men shadowed Senator Tillman of South Carolina on the theory that he possibly was interested in an Oregon "land grab," and the result of that investigation is now before the senate.

The information was contained in a communication from President Roosevelt sent in response to a request made by Senator Hale for a statement of the activities of the secret service men. Extended replies were made by the various departments, and all of these were forwarded to Senator Hale by the president. They have not been made public, and Senator Hale announced that they would not be given out until after they had been considered by a sub-committee of the committee on appropriations, which will be charged with the duty of acting on that portion of the president's annual message relating to the secret service.

Soon after President Roosevelt's communication to Senator Hale was received at the capitol, it was said that contained a reflection on a senator from a Southern state.

Curiosity Aroused.

The name of the senator in question was not divulged at the time and, as a result, the senate was surcharged with curiosity. When it finally became known that Senator Tillman was the member named, further efforts were made to procure information concerning the character of the charges, but they were unavailing.

Through the fact that several senators had advance information of the character of the report, it was learned that the investigation of Senator Tillman followed an attack he made in the senate nearly a year ago on an Oregon land company which had used his name as one of the persons interested in the concern.

Previous to that attack Senator Tillman had introduced a resolution directing the attorney general to prosecute suits against the Oregon railroad corporation that had received land grants for a line from California points to Portland, Ore. Mr. Tillman had said the use of his name was without authority, and, as a result, it is declared, several persons interested in the land grants became angered.

President Has Letters.

Some of the interested parties are reported to have sent to President Roosevelt copies of letters alleged to have been written by Senator Tillman, indicating either that he had an interest in one of the land companies or would be benefited through land companies obtaining possession of the grants in question. After receiving this information, the president directed a secret service operative to investigate the part Senator Tillman was alleged to have taken in the land cases.

The report is understood to contain an account of the investigation. It is known that the secret service prepared photographic copies of Senator Tillman's correspondence, but whether these exhibits were sent to Senator Hale is not known.

Senator Tillman was not aware that his name figured in the reports until late in the day. He then assured himself that the reports were well founded, but said that he would not make any statement until the fact of the use of his name had been officially promulgated, when he would discuss the matter in the senate.

Promises a Reply.

It is known, however, that Mr. Tillman regards the mention of his name as an attack on himself by the president, and he has indicated to friends that he will not mince matters in his reply. He also has declared to those with whom he conversed that he would welcome the opportunity to express his views and explain the situation.

Urges Nebraska Exhibit at Expo

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 9.—The governor of Nebraska, in his message to the state legislature, recommended that a liberal appropriation be made for representation at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition to be held in Seattle from June 1 to October 16 this year.

The governor fought the appropriation last year, but now he urges that money be appropriated so this state may be well represented at the big 1909 fair.

Everett "Recall" Case Appealed

Everett, Jan. 9.—The case in the superior court involving the recall of Councilmen Hilsinger and Powers has been appealed to the supreme court by the councilmen after Judge Black overruled a demurrer to the complaint and dissolved the temporary injunction. The injunction restrained the city comptroller from certifying the recall petitions to the city council and calling a special election.

HISTORY MADE DURING THE YEAR OF GRACE 1908

Record Is of Change and Death, but Also of Peace and Prosperity.

NATIONS HAVE NEW RULERS.

Many Persons Known in Statecraft, Politics, Music and Letters Pass Away.

The year 1908, like most of those preceding it, has brought about many changes in all parts of the world. Death has taken rulers and governments have been changed, men and women of prominence and achievement in many lines have passed into the silent hereafter, fire and flood have levied their toll upon human life and property, greed and hate have incited to grave crime in numerous instances. But the record is not all dark. Man's activities along peaceful ways have gone steadily forward, achievement has made decided headway, the quiet lives of the majority of earth's people have moved on unvexed by war, pestilence or famine, and a grateful material prosperity seems to be the portion of most of the civilized nations.

Early in February the king and crown prince of Portugal were assassinated in a street of Lisbon and the crown passed to a young son and brother, the present King Manuel. The deaths, in November, of the Emperor and the Dowager Empress of China caused a change in the ruling head of the Celestial empire. A new president has more recently taken hold of affairs in Hayti, Bulgaria has declared itself independent of Turkey, and the last-named country itself has made radical innovations tending toward a constitutional government.

The necrology of the year is memorable for the number of notable men and women of prominence in the world of art, letters and music who have passed away. Among those to succumb during 1908 were ex-President Grover Cleveland, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, ex-premier of England; Tomas Estrada Palma, Cuba's first president; Bishop Henry C. Potter and Rev. Morgan Dix of New York, Ira D. Sankey, Pablo de Sarasate, August Wilhelmj, Edmund Clarence Stedman, "Ouida," Joel Chandler Harris, Murat Halstead, Bronson Howard, Victorien Sardou, Louise Chandler Moulton, Harriet Hosmer, Chas. Emory Smith and Wm. B. Allison.

A destructive theater fire and panic in Boyertown, Pa., the burning of a school house in a Cleveland suburb, mine explosions, forest fires in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, and storms and floods in various parts of the country caused the loss of many lives.

The year witnessed the starting of Admiral Evans' fleet of warships on its triumphal tour of the Pacific.

The horrible developments upon the murder farm of Mrs. Belle Gunness, near LaPorte, Ind., the unlawful activities of the night riders in Tennessee and Kentucky, and the race riots in Springfield, Ill., are dark spots upon the record of the year.

The principal events of 1908 may be thus epitomized:

Operation Reforms Drunkard.

By a simple operation on the head, removing pressure on the brain, caused by an injury, Dr. Herbert L. Northrop of Philadelphia has changed a man from a drunkard and a thief to an honest, industrious man, respected by his employers. The patient declares that his desire for drink and theft has entirely disappeared and during twenty-two months he has lived an upright life and been twice promoted by his employers. He was a man of good habits when at the age of 48 a timber struck him on the head, causing contusion of the scalp and a hematoma in the upper frontal region close to the middle line on the right side. He was unconscious for sixty seconds. During the twelve years following he developed drinking and stealing habits, neglected his family and was finally discharged from a good position for drunkenness and for misusing the company's funds. The operation was then performed, and after twenty-two months of well doing with no relapses, Dr. Northrop announces a complete cure.

A Wonderful Fossil Bed.

An expedition directed by Prof. H. F. Osborn of the American Museum of Natural History has recently returned from the Fayoum desert in Egypt laden with new skeletons of prehistoric animals. The Fayoum district is the bed of an ancient river, and in the sands are found the bones of all kinds of animals mixed indiscriminately. They are so soft that they can be removed only by pouring shellac over them. One of the most important finds is the skull of the giant arsinoitherium. The dominating feature is a long pair of sharp-pointed horns protruding upward and outward from the snout for nearly two feet. This animal was the brute king of its time. The body combined the shape of the elephant and the rhinoceros. The monster was named after the Egyptian queen Arsinoe, famed for her beauty. The animal stood six feet high and nearly ten feet long. The feet were adapted to walking on sandy or sinking ground.

Readers Want Facts First.

Prof. W. D. Scott of Northwestern university, in his new book on the "Psychology of Advertising," gives the results of a set of questions sent to 4,000 readers of the modern daily newspaper. From the answers sent by 3,000 men he has reached the conclusion that readers do not care to have a paper serve as interpreter of the news or as advocate of the truth. All that they want is a brief but comprehensive publication of the news. In his opinion that editor will be most appreciated who selects news most wisely and presents the unvarnished truth in all matters in which the constituency are interested. He adds: "The ideal paper would have to do only with facts. The news would have to be well written, but the interest would be mainly in the news itself and not in the reporter's or the publisher's views concerning it." The answers showed that local news leads all other features in interest. Then came in order named, political, sporting and financial.

Russell on the Firing Line.

In the November Everybodys, Charles E. Russell, known in two continents as one of the greatest of muckrakers, and who has been criticised for not doing something constructive, comes to the front with three specific proposals for civic betterment. They are: To establish a new standard of public service by discontinuing the practice of paying our public officials salaries, to abolish the political boss by establishing everywhere the system of direct nominations and "to clear our minds of the singular superstition that so long obsessed us concerning the public utility franchise" by adopting the simple plan of the annual lease. His belief is that "the best way to abolish the muckraker is to abolish muck."

Comforting though it is to know that the hunting fatalities during the open season in Michigan and Wisconsin were fewer in 1908 than in the preceding year, it is a mournful reflection that they exceeded in number those of any other year. And yet this seems to be one of the times when the patient—in other words, the hunter—must minister to himself. Men will hunt, as men always have hunted, and men will occasionally in their sport kill themselves or one another, just as men will fish and sometimes fall victims to a storm or a treacherous lake or river. Legislation, by drawing the lines of the closed season and otherwise prescribing penalties for gross carelessness, has done what it could to minimize the casualties. If the fatalities seem to be increasing, may it not be because the population is growing, because the number represented in the hunting grounds is larger, and not because hunters are more careless or indifferent to human life? A certain percentage of casualties must be looked for wherever the element of danger or risk is encountered. In the case of the hunter it is almost invariably a matter of personal precaution for which he must provide. As long as men handle firearms or dangerous explosives, so long must human lives pay the penalty. The law can do no more unless it abolishes hunting altogether, and that evidence of the millennium is not appreciably near at hand. The man behind the fowling piece remains arbiter of his destiny.

One of the most interesting conclusions reached by the first International Congress on Good Roads, recently held in Paris, is that automobiles do little harm to the roads if their average speed is not more than ten miles, and their maximum speed fifteen miles an hour. If that is the case, the remedy looks simple.

CURES

Mailbag's Long Pursuit of the U. S. Cruiser Milwaukee.

A sack of mail which left here four months ago has just landed in Bremerton, Wash., says the New York Times. Since it left New York it has traveled over 16,000 miles in an effort to overtake the United States armored cruiser Milwaukee, for the officers and men of which it was intended. Before it finally caught up with the big cruiser this sack of mail had been to San Francisco, then to Honolulu, and back to San Francisco; next to Panama, then to Honduras, back to San Francisco again, and finally to Bremerton.

When a ship is at sea and the length of its stay in any one port is uncertain the navy department directs the relatives and friends of the officers and men of that ship to address all letters for the ship in care of the postmaster at New York. In the general run of things the Milwaukee's mail in the New York postoffice accumulated until there was a well-filled sack of letters and parcels waiting for shipment.

One day in last July this sack of mail was placed aboard a fast mail train and hurried to Chicago, where it was transshipped to one of the transcontinental expresses for San Francisco, where the Milwaukee was in port. But before the mail arrived Commander Rogers of the Milwaukee received a hurry-up order from Washington to sail for Honolulu.

On the day before the Milwaukee was due in Honolulu the sack of mail was started on the same journey in a fast mail steamer, but the Milwaukee was 1,000 miles out, bound for Panama, 5,000 miles away, when the mail steamer was sighted off Honolulu. Two days later the sack was on its way back to San Francisco, where it arrived in due time, and as the Milwaukee was still between 1,500 and 2,000 miles out of Panama then, the San Francisco postmaster hustled the bag on a Panama-bound steamer. The cruiser, however, reached Panama first, only to be ordered to Amapala, Honduras, a thousand miles to the north, and was well on her journey when the mail steamer arrived.

The Panama postmaster found that a vessel was leaving for Amapala within forty-eight hours, and he transshipped the sack of mail to that steamer, but the Milwaukee was steaming full speed back to San Francisco when the sack reached Amapala. The postmaster there forwarded it to San Francisco. Again the sack missed connection, as the Milwaukee had sailed for Bremerton, Wash. Arriving there, the cruiser was put in reserve, and the bag of mail again forwarded from San Francisco—this time by rail—finally reached the boat and was delivered to the men.

CLOTHES AND THE STAGE.

What an Actress Learns About the Art of Individuality in Dress.

The actress soon learns to approach the subject of dress in a way that rarely occurs to the average woman upon whom its necessity is not enforced—though that necessity exists in ordinary life quite as much as on the stage, and overlooking it is the secret of much of the bad dressing we see, says Julia Marlowe in Women's Home Companion. The actress is bound to wear clothes that will keep her in the picture, and such favorable attention as she attracts by her clothes is due to the design, material or style of the gown itself only so far as these all melt into the scene in which they are worn.

How much the average woman could learn in this one particular from the hard school of stage experience! How few women know how to choose even a house gown that is in harmony with the surroundings of their own homes. Of course, dressing for the street is more difficult, but even there ordinary forethought would prevent many of the selections in dress which American women allow themselves. Dressing for the social function is the most difficult of all, on this very account, for there each woman is at the mercy of other women present, most of whom have dressed with no thought of the environment, while on the stage the actress knows that every other costume, like her own, has been calculated for the picture.

And this principle allows plenty of latitude for individual taste and judgment in dress. Even we stage women develop ideas of our own and have our favorite kinds of costumes. I don't know of a part in which I take more comfort than Parthenia in "Ingomar," and I believe in the artistic lines and graceful freedom possible in the loose, flowing style of dress in vogue before the days of stays and princess gowns.

One Thing He Could Not Have.

Although there was no sort of toy which could be bought and for which Harold had expressed a desire that was not in his possession, he still had his unsatisfied longings. "I know what I wish I was, mother," he said one day, when his own big brother had gone away and the little boy across the street was ill.

"Yes, dear," said his mother. "Perhaps you can be it, Harold; mother will help you. Is it to play soldier?"

"No, indeed!" said Harold, scornfully. "I just wish I was two little dogs, so I could play together."

These Dreamy Fellows.

Malthoid Roofing

Mr. W. T. Somes, Proprietor of Bimini Hot Springs Hotel, Los Angeles, Cal., U. S. A., writes as follows: "Our hotel building, a flat roofed structure covered with Malthoid Roofing, is situated quite near the large Bimini Bath Houses that burned so fiercely the night of November 15th. The wind carried blazing shingles and red hot cinders in showers to my building, where they simmered on the Malthoid Roofing and went out, doing no damage beyond a number of small blisters raised on the surface of the roofing. We have had one rain since the fire and the roof is tight."

embodying the most correct style and perfect workmanship, now comes only from the great metropolitan centers.

A small local tailor shop is today impractical and unprofitable—

It has no labor market from which to secure desirable cutters and tailors—

It cannot afford to install a modern plant designed to reduce cost of production—

It doesn't do sufficient business to enable it to buy woolens direct from the mills—

It cannot keep abreast of metropolitan styles and workmanship.

Clothes we supply in our custom tailoring department are made exactly to the measure of the individual by the "House of Over a Thousand Tailors," Ed. V. Price & Co., of Chicago, and cost you about half the charges of a small tailor.

Bad Symptoms.

The woman who has periodical headaches, backache, sees imaginary dark spots or specks floating or dancing before her eyes, has gnawing distress or heavy full feeling in stomach, faint spells, dragging-down feeling in lower abdominal or pelvic region, easily startled or excited, irregular or painful periods, with or without pelvic catarrh, is suffering from weaknesses and derangements that should have early attention. Not all of above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Neglected or badly treated and such cases often run into maladies which demand the surgeon's knife if they do not result fatally.

No medicine extant has such a long and numerous record of cures in such cases as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. No medicine has such a strong professional indorsement of each of its several ingredients—worth more than any number of ordinary non-professional testimonials. The very best ingredients known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments enter into its composition. No alcohol, harmful, or habit-forming drug is to be found in the list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath.

In any condition of the female system, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can do only good—never harm. Its whole effect is to strengthen, invigorate and regulate the whole female system and especially the pelvic organs. When these are deranged in function or affected by disease, the stomach and other organs of digestion become sympathetically deranged, the nerves are weakened, and a long list of bad, unpleasant symptoms follow. Too much must not be expected of this "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles; will not cure tumors—no medicine will. It will often prevent them, if taken in time, and thus the operating table and the surgeon's knife may be avoided.

Women suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Doctor Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
