WILL HILL MAKE HIS THREAT GOOD

Great Northern May Make Terminal Rates on Shingles to Every Sound Port.

The supreme court has handed down a decision that is of far reaching effect among railroads, and one that will interest every resident of the Olympic peninsula because of the results that may follow. The decision was in the case where the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound railroad company sought to condemn right-of-way across tracks of the Great Northern at Ballard.

The Milwaukee in its endeavor to secure the shingle hauling from all points on Puget Sound had built a slip where cars could be run onto barges, and a short track to reach the shingle mill at Ballard. When it reached the Great Northern track at the mills the latter stopped operations by legal proceedings. The court has rendered a decision in favor of the Milwaukee road.

As the Quincene Magaphone says, "where the greatest interest attaches to the west side of the Sound is the threat reported to have been made by James J. Hill in connection with the Ballard case.

"Mr. Hill made the threat that if this case should be decided in favor of the Milwaukee the Great Northern would invade every port on the Sound with car-barges. Now, if Hill is going to make his threat good, the decision of the Ballard case is of the utmost importance to the west side, as the Milwaukee, although not at present running car-barges to this side, is reaching out for the big shingle traffic of the Olympic peninsula by absorbing the lighterage charges across the Sound, and this is a part of the tonnage Jim Hill proposes to keep out of the clutches of the Milwaukee."

Here is a dispatch from Olympia that speaks of the matter:

"If the state railroad commission sustains the fight of the Milwaukee Terminal Railway Company for connections with the Great Northern's "Mill Spur Track" at Ballard, the Hill road immediately will put into effect retalitory measures and may prepare to invade every port on the Sound with a car-barge service.

"Threats have been made by the Great Northern that it will not permit the Milwaukee to enter the Puget Sound field through a subsidary terminal railway scheme and go sharpshooting off its traffic. If the railroad commission sustains the Milwaukee, the Hill road has declared that it will find means to make the fight interesting to the new railroad.

"That the Ballard mill fight is regarded by the railroads with far more seriousness than was indicated at the time of the original hearing is shown by the fact that the Great Northern has just filed an extensive brief with the commission, presenting its case. The commission had taken the Ballard case under advisement and was puzzling over the original character of the suit."

DAIRY BUSINESS OF THE STATE

The dairy and food commissioner, replying to a request for information from the governor, presents some figures showing rapid growth in the dairying industry in this state. The report shows that the bulk of the dairying business is carried on in counties west of the Cascades, where the soil and climate conditions particularly favor dairying operations.

The commissioner estimates that the present value of the dairy products of the state will total about $15,000,000 per annum.

Nearly 10,000,000 pounds of creamery butter, valued at about $3,000,000, are now produced each year in this state, but this falls very far short of supplying the demand in the home market, as $7,000,000 worth of butter and other dairy products are shipped into the state annually.

LAYING A MILE OF RAILS DAILY

Aberdeen, Oct. 12.—For the four days ending last Saturday night more than four miles of steel on the Grays harbor branch of the Union Pacific had been laid, and the work is proceeding westward at the rate of more than a mile a day at the present time.

It is expected that work will be prosecuted even more rapidly before many days. A modern track-laying machine is in use and a large gang of men is employed.

Track laying began at Rochester, where the harbor line connects with the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound.

BRYAN PRAISED CLALLAM'S EXHIBIT

Display of Grains and Forage Plants Awarded Gold Medal; Building Stone a Silver Medal.

The exhibit of grains, grasses and forage plants in the Clallam-Jefferson booth at the agricultural building, which attracted a great deal of attention because of the handsome arrangement, was awarded a gold medal. A silver medal was also awarded the display of Port Angeles stone.

The display of mammoth potatoes, celery and other vegetables was so striking that W. J. Bryan, while passing thru the building on his two or three hours tour of the Exposition grounds Tuesday, halted his party for several minutes while he made inquiry of Mr. Corsan concerning the country where such products were possible. A display of agricultural products that elicits the admiration of a man so well informed, himself a resident of a great agricultural state where big vegetables are the common thing at all county and state fairs, must have merit.

SHELTON'S NEW CANNERY A GRATIFYING SUCCESS

Last week the announcement was made in this paper that a few of our enterprising fruit growers and business men had quietly gone to work upon preliminaries looking toward the establishing of a fruit cannery at this place for the canning of the surplus fruit that cannot be otherwise disposed of profitably, and that the project was meeting with every prospect of ultimate success. Such a cannery is in operation in Mason county, with gratifying results. The Mason County Journal speaks of the cannery as follows:

"The record run of the Shelton cannery was made Monday, when 1200 cans, or 100 cases, of beans and prunes were put up by the crew of seven women and three boys, assisting foreman Holman. The cannery now has a stock of about 12,000 cans, valued at $2,500, put up, which is being labeled ready for market. Part of the stock is being put in small cans for shelf goods, under a lithographed label, and it is expected that a good demand will be worked up for the family trade.

"The plant is now at work on pears, and prunes are beginning to come in freely. The growers are beginning to appreciate the advantages of the cannery, and it will doubtless be kept busy during the rest of the season. Nearly all kinds of fruits were handled this season, including a supply of rhubarb and blackberries and it is hoped that the product of all small fruits will be greatly increased for next year. Besides employing labor the local cannery affords a market for all surplus fruit and vegetables, and is the beginning of an important industry to Mason county farmers and fruit growers.

NO BETTER APPLES ARE GROWN

Another striking evidence of the fact that good commercial apples can be profitably grown in Western Washington, and right here in Clallam county, is shown in the fine specimens Mr. E. D. Prim, a successful rancher and orchadist on Sequim, left at the Gate City Grocery last Tuesday. The apples are the Wolf-river, Baldwin, Spitzenberg and Fall Gravestein varieties. The fruit is of good size, highly colored and magnificent specimens of their kind. The Spitzenberg and Baldwin varieties are the same as are extensively grown in all the noted fruit belts of the country, which always command top prices. The flavor of these apples grown by Mr. Prim is fully equal to that of the best grown of the same varieties in Northern New York and Northern Michigan, and their coloring equal to the justly famous Wenatchee Valley fruit.

As it is a well known fact that the farther north an apple is grown, the better the flavor, as well as the keeping quality, the time is not far distant—when Northwestern Washington comes into its own as one of the apple belts of the country—that Clallam county apples will be in demand as a commercial product in the markets of the world. There are no finer apples grown anywhere today than those grown on Sequim and in the Dungeness district. This shows what a little private irrigation will do, and there is practically not a foot of tillable land in Clallam county that cannot be irrigated with small expense.

SEATTLE SCHOOL BOARD WINS VACINATION FIGHT

Seattle, Oct. 10.—The fight made by Dr. J. E. Crichton and Dr. Frank S. Bourns, commissioner of health and chief medical inspector, respectively, of Seattle, for compulsory vaccination in the public schools has been won, the supreme court having sustained the decision of the superior court of King county on the appeal of Dr. J. C. McFadden, who sought to have declared unconstitutional the compulsory vaccination law.

McFadden delclined to have his son, who was attending the Franklin school here, vaccinated, and sought to compel the board to allow the boy to enter school. He stated tonight that he had not changed his views on the subject.

Members of the school board stated that they would not compel wholesale vaccination of children unless the necessity should arise.

GREELY BELIEVES BOTH REACHED TOP OF EARTH

Lowell, Mass., Oct. 10.—In an interview in this city, Gen. A. W. Greely, the Arctic explorer, said:

"I can see no preesent reason for doubting that both Peary and Cook succeeded in reaching the pole, or for holding that it was impossible for Cook to do so with such equipment as he claims to have had."

A Greenland clergyman named Luswinds, who is acquainted with both Cook and Peary, has opened a campaign against the latter, reiterating some old allegations as to his ill-treatment of the Eskimos. Among other charges, he alleges that Peary once left a band of women and children on the ice without food because they hindered the rapid advance of his expedition.

MAYSTILL GO TO FAIR

EXPOSITION ENDS SATURDAY BUT PUBLIC WILL STILL BE ADMITTED.

Price of Admission to Grounds to Be Reduced—Beauty of Grounds to Be Preserved—A Scheme Also on Foot to Keep State Exhibit Intact.

A post-exposition season will be inaugurated at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, beginning Sunday, Oct. 17, and lasting for probably six weeks, while exhibits are packed and buildings are cleared out. For at least a month the directors of the fair promise almost as good a show, so far as exhibit buildings are concerned, as during the regular season. The executive committee has decided on an admission charge of 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children, to go into force on the Sunday following the last day.

The elaborate exhibits of the exposition will require much careful handling and considerable time to remove. The government exhibit, particularly, will take time to move, and the directors of the fair believe there will be many who will find it worth while to revisit some of these showings gathered from the four corners of the earth before the fair becomes only a memory.

During this post-exposition period the beauty of the grounds will remain intact. Toward the close work will begin in wrecking those buildings which are not chosen for preservation by the regents of the State university, and the public can watch the demolition of a great fair, a sight fully as interesting as its building, which attracted great crowds in the early spring.

"It will be expressly stipulated in wrecking contracts that all ground on the sites of buildings must be leveled and planted," said Director General I. A. Nadeau last night. "The landscape features will not be harmed and the grounds will be just as beautiful as they have been during the summer.

"The exposition will not be open during the evenings. There will be no out-of-door attractions, but the buildings will still be worth a visit, and without the distraction of the carnival features of the summer we believe more careful attention and appreciation will be shown toward some of the wonderful exhibits."

The Pay Streak will be the first feature of the big show to vanish. The big joy trail will be a deserted village by the Monday following the close, and the showmen will fold their tents like the Arabs, and what tents are not folded will be speedily wrecked and carted off.

On Sunday, Oct. 17, Ellery's band will give a farewell concert in the evening at the audiotrium. This will be the last echo of the splendid musical attractions which have drawn thousands all summer, and many are expected to take advantage of the occasion to say good-bye to the band.

Gov. Hay will shortly meet with the Washington State A.-Y.-P. commission, and the question of the disposition of the State's exhibits will be definitely settled. The commissioners believe that the exhibit should be preserved for display at future expositions, and as Gov. Hay has voiced the same sentiment it is probable that the exhibit will form the nucleus of a permanent Washington exhibit.

L. H. Burnett, of Aberdeen, one of the commissioners, stated that the question which will probably give the commission most trouble is whether or not they have legal authority to lay aside about $5,000 out of the $25,000 to $35,000 that still remains out of the $400,000 appropriation to take care of and store the exhibit until the convening of the next legislature. The amendment to the act making available the $400,000 provided that the surplus should revert to the Lake Washington canal improvement fund. Attorney General Bell will be asked for an opinion on the subject.

"Our exhibit should be made permanent," said Mr. Burnett. "This would save the State great expense, as the State will probably be represented at the California exposition and at the Japanese exposition. The expense of collecting and preparing an exhibit is great. I believe that the university should have the care of the exhibit, maintaining it at its own expense."

Life Term for Kidnapers

Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—Kidnapping will be punished by a life term in prison, according to the provisions of a bill drafted by the district commissioners and which they will ask congress at its next session to adopt. Another section of the bill provides that any one who imprisons in the district for the purpose of extorting ransom shall suffer life imprisonment.

No Sunday Ball in Indiana

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 9.—The jury in the case of Charles Carr, manager of the Indianapolis Baseball Club, charged with having played professional baseball on Sunday, returned a verdict of guilty tonight. The proceeding was brought to test the constitutionality of a Sunday baseball law.

GRAIN ACREAGE OF STATE NEAR 3,000,000 MARK

Olympia, Oct. 10.—Replying to a request for information recently addressed by Gov. Hay to the State grain commissioner concerning the grain producing sections of the State, that official has submitted some interesting data on the subject. According to the commissioner's figures there are 2,995,000 acres of land in this state devoted to the production of cereals yielding about 49,565,000 bushels all told, of which 35,095,000 bushels is wheat, 9,290,000 bushels oats, and 5,180,000 bushels barley. The average yield of the different grains throughout the State gives wheat, 20 bushels to the acre, and oats and barley, 60 bushels each. The average price paid for these cereals for the past ten years has been 60 cents a bushel for wheat, $1.10 per cental for oats, and $1 per cental for barley.

Whitman and Lincoln lead all counties in the area devoted to the production of grain, with 550,000 acres each, Whitman leading in the yield of wheat with 8,500,000 bushels, and Lincoln a close second with 8,000,000 bushels.

Whitman has first place in the production of oats, with a yield of 3,000,000 bushels, and Skagit second with a little over half that amount.

The heaviest production of barley is credited to Columbia county, which shows a yield of 2,240,000 bushels, while Garfield ranks second, with 1,800,000 bushels.

The commissioner states that about one-quarter of the wheat produced in Washington is consumed locally and three-quarters shipped out of the State. Of the oats, about one-half is consumed locally and one-half exported, while one-fourth of the barley produced is marketed at home and three-fourths exported. About 9,000,000 bushels of wheat, 1,000,000 bushels of oats and 750,000 bushels of barley are milled in this State annually, the principal milling centers being Tacoma, Seattle, Spokane and Everett.

The average farm unit in the grain-producing sections of the State is about 375 acres, with, at the present time, an apparent tendency to increase.

LLOYD-GEORGE WARNS LORDS TO KEEP HANDS OFF

London, Oct. 11.—David Lloyd-George, the chancellor of the exchequer, gave an audience to 4,000 persons Saturday and received a popular welcome, in what he called a "plain talk" on the subject of the budget.

"We are going to send that bill up to the House of Lords and get all the taxes or none," said the chancellor. He did not know what would be the final action to be taken by "poor Lord Lansdowne, with his creaking old ship and mutinous crew," but, if the lords tore up the constitution by interfering with the money bill, they would force a revolution.

"The lords may decree a revolution, but the people will direct it, if it is begun, and issues will be raised that are now little dreamed of, the answers to which will be charged with peril for the order of things which the peers represent," said the chancellor.

When Lloyd-George was leaving the Palace theatre a crowd of suffragettes made a dash toward his carriage. Lady Constance Lytton, who was armed with a hatchet, Mrs. H. N. Brailsford and Miss Davison were arrested. Earlier Saturday four other sympathizers with the suffragettes were sentenced to 14 days at hard labor for indulging in a window smashing campaign at the local Liberal Club.

INTERNATIONAL UNION FOR LABOR PREDICTED

Washington, Oct. 10.—"The visit of President Samuel Gompers to Europe will mean the early establishment of an international federation of labor, the autonomy of the trade union movement of each country being ordained and guaranteed," said Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor.

"The general purpose of an international federation of labor," continued Mr. Morrison, "will be for the protection and the advancement of the rights, interests and justice of the wage-workers of all countries and the establishment of international fraternity and solidarity. The organization may not be consummated this year, but it will not be long delayed."

I. M. HOWELL TO BE ACTING GOVERNOR

Olympia, Oct. 9.—Secretary of State I. M. Howell, of Tacoma, will be acting governor of Washington from about October 18 to the middle of November. Gov. Hay is going to Seattle to spend a week, after which he will return to Olympia for a few days to clear up important business before departing for St. Louis, where he will join the Taft party and accompany it on its trip down the Mississippi river. The governor does not expect to return to the state until after November 15. Under the constitution, in the absence of the governor and lieutenant governor, the duties devolve upon the secretary of state. Howell will not only perform the executive duties, but will also certify thereto as secretary of state during the absence of Gov. Hay.

OUR DAIRY INDUSTRY

WASHINGTON PRODUCT ESTIMATED WORTH IS $15,000,000.

Dairy and Food Commissioner Gives Information in Reply to Request from Governor—Butter Alone Valued at $3,000,000. Condensed Milk Industry.

Olympia, Oct. 10.—The dairy and food commissioner, replying to a request for information from the governor, presents some figures showing rapid growth in the dairying industry in this State. The areas chiefly devoted to dairying are in Whatcom, Skagit, Snohomish, King, Pierce, Thurston, Lewis, Clarke, Wahkiakum, Spokane, Walla Walla, Kittitas and Yakima counties. As this list shows, the bulk of the dairying business is carried on in counties west of the Cascades, where the soil and climatic conditions particularly favor dairying operations. Statistics for a number of years show that the dairying industry has grow in proportion as the logged-off land area has been extended.

The dairy and food commissioner estimates that the present value of the dairy products of the State will total about $15,000,000 per annum, which is very close to the annual product of this industry in Oregon.

A remarkable growth has taken place in the last five years in the condensed milk business, the value of the product of the condensaries having increased from $250,000 in 1905 to $3,250,000 this year. This alone is creating a continually increasing demand for milk, which is resulting in rapid extension of dairy farms.

The city milk demand is also increasing very rapidly, the value of the milk so consumed amounting to not less than $3,500,000 annually.

Nearly 10,000,000 pounds of creamery butter, valued at about $3,000,000, are now produced each year in this State, but this falls very far short of supplying the demand in the home markets, as $7,000,000 worth of butter and other dairy products are shipped into the State annually. Besides the local markets, there is a continually increasing demand for dairy products coming from Alaska.

It is estimated that there are about 150,000 milch cows in the State, representing a total cash value of over $7,000,000. The commissioner's figures show that there is over $300,000 invested in creameries alone in this State.

TEST REFORESTATION TO CONSERVE WATER SUPPLY

Portland, Or., Oct. 10.—Reforestation to increase a city's water supply is being tried here. Within the next two weeks one ton of Douglar fir seeds, capable of growing 80,000,000 big fir trees, will be planted by the national forest service. One-third of this seed will be sown in the forest reserve through which flows Bull Run river, the source of Portland's water supply, which starts in the glaciers of Mt. Hood.

This will be undertaken to see if the water supply of the city can be increased by covering bare slopes with woods. It is expected that when the fir trees have attained a fair growth the flow of the stream during the dry season will be doubled. It is thought this will protect the city water supply for the coming three hundred years at the present rapid growth in population. The city authorities say that, with no increase in the flow, the stream will give abundant water for Portland during the next half century.

When that period shall have elapsed they say, the bare hills will be covered with big fir timber that will conserve the surplus moisture of the winter and absorb it like a gigantic sponge, giving it out slowly throughout the dry periods of the year.

The remainder of the seed will be planted in other portions of the forest reserves in the State. While the work is largely of an experimental nature, it is believed much good will result from it. Strange to say, the work of the forest service is handicapped because of the difficulty in securing the necessary seed. There are but two people in the West who are gathering Douglas fir seed for sale.

The total crop collected by these two men is bought by the forest service at from $1.50 to $2.50 per pound, but the amount is inadequate, and the service is anxious to interest others in harvesting the seed, and will gladly furnish instructions to homesteaders and others who have an opportunity to gather it.

To Fight Increased Rate

Tacoma, Oct. 9.—Citizens of the valley towns along the Seattle-Tacoma Interurban railroad will make a hard fight against the proposed 2-cent flat rate the road announces it will put into effect. Mass meetings have been held with the people of Jovita, Valley City, Fife, Milton and Edgewood, protesting. Attorneys will be employed to raise the issue with the State railway commission.

In India the estimated area under sugar cane for 1909 is 387,300 acres, as against 365,700 acres last year.

WESTERN WASHINGTON CAN RAISE ALFALFA

State College, Pullman, Oct. 10.—That alfalfa growing is possible in Western Washington, if the necessary requirements are observed, is the belief of H. W. Sparks, superintendent of demonstration farms for the college, who, during the past two months, has made an exhaustive examination of this subject in the Western Washington counties. Mr. Sparks returned to Pullman today, and in submitting the data he has collected, will favor the continuance of the alfalfa investigation till the experiment station is in possession of as much reliable data as is available on this subject.

"My investigations lead me to believe that the failure to grow alfalfa in Western Washington has heretofore been due more to improper inoculation of the soil or seed than to natural conditions unfavorable to alfalfa," states Mr. Sparks. "In many instances I learned of successful alfalfa culture in the western counties, and where I found those who had failed, in the majority of instances failure could be traced directly to improper inoculation of the soil or seed.

"For instance, several years ago Elmer Shearer, residing near Chehalis, believed his alfalfa field was a failure, and plowed it up, leaving, however, a few plants around stumps. The plants that were left struggled on for a few years, and then Mr. Shearer, with the correct idea of what was required, inoculated some of his soil from the soil around the stumps. The result was successful alfalfa growth on the inoculated soil. I regarded Mr. Shearer's experience as very significant, because it was made on some of the moist, unpromising soil in the New Wahkiakum valley, in which kind of clayey soil alfalfa has often been considered an impossibility. It would indicate that alfalfa can be grown with profit on many of the 'hill clay' soils.

"Hidden Bros., of Vancouver, have about fifty acres of alfalfa. They have harvested as good as three crops per year without irrigation. C. T. Jabusch, of Kelso, has a small field three years old. He also has harvested three good crops without irrigation. There are several other small fields in the vicinity of Ridgefield that are reported as doing well. Joseph Wingart, who lives on Harstine island, in Mason county, has succeeded with a field of alfalfa sown on upland hill soil with no possibility of irrigation. Here, too, three good crops per year without irrigation are reported.

"As to why the people in the Vancouver region have succeeded so well with alfalfa I suspect that the waters of the Columbia have carried down the alfalfa bacteria from the upper alfalfa growing regions, and that in some way it has been deposited on the soil. The bacteria will be transmitted with dust through the air, on seed, by water, and in many ways. In proper inoculation lies the secret of successful alfalfa-growing in Western Washington. Of that I am convinced."

FAVORABLE REPORTS FROM NEARLY ALL LINES OF TRADE

New York, Oct. 10. — Bradstreet's says:

Favorable reports are received in nearly all lines of industry, with conservatism brought on by high prices of raw and manufactured products and full order books of manufacturers the only apparent bar to an even wider distribution in most wholesale lines.

Iron and steel are active, pig iron production is at record maximum, and the railroads are buying rail material and rolling stock freely.

Wheat, including flour, exports from the United States and Canada for the week ending Oct. 7 are the largest for any week this year, aggregating 4,139,662 bushels, against 3,222,760 last week, and 5,562,652 this week last year. For the fourteen weeks ending Oct. 7, exports are 33,555,485 bushels, against 55,756,424 in the corresponding period last year.

Corn exports for the week are 167,622 bushels, against 113,841 last week and 15,759 in 1908. For the fourteen weeks ending Oct. 7, corn exports are 1,516,875 bushels, against 642,502 last year.

New York, Oct. 10.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

From every large business center throughout the country comes reports of progressive improvement in trade. In some cases the volume of trade is described as equal to or in excess of previous record. In the iron and steel trade, full productive capacity appears to have been approached.

Slight improvement has appeared in the footwear market. Hide prices hold steady, but sales are not as large of packer hides.

Ordinance No. 365.

An ordinance granting to the "Port Angeles Water Supply Company" the franchise to construct, operate and maintain water works in the city of Port Angeles, and to regulate and fix the rates to be charged the said city and its inhabitants for water supplied by said company.

Whereas, the Port Angeles Water Supply Company, a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of Washington and having its principal place of business at Tacoma, in said state, has acquired the water works plant and property of the Port Angeles Water Company for the purpose of continuing and operacing same, and of enlarging the present facilities for supplying said city and its inhabitants with water, including the procurement of a new and better supply from Ennis creek; Now therefore the City Council of the City of Port Angeles do ordain as follows:

FRIDAY, OCT. 15, 1909

One of the peculiar things about business on the Sound, which has been generally noted by men of affairs, says the Sultan Star, is, that with the advent of the fall rains business in all lines revives after the summer vacation and takes on new life. This year indications are that this will be more pronounced than ever, and that a season of unusual prosperity is ahead.

At Prosser on last Monday the local option election resulted in the drys carrying the day by a majority of 31 in a total vote of 261. Much interest was manifested at Prosser and those opposing the saloon wound up their campaign with a rousing mass meeting Sunday night. The decisive vote is taken to indicate a considerable advantage to the reform party at the city election to be held next December. It is a noteworthy fact that wherever the question has come to a vote in the state since the enactment of the local option law, with possibly one exception, that community has invariably gone dry.

Filings for city officers to be voted upon at the primary election to be held November 9 closed last Saturday evening, the city clerk's office being kept open until ten o'clock for the accommodation of those late in filing. The following filed:

Mayor, Dr. F. S. Lewis.

City Attorney, Geo. V. Smith.

City Treasurer, Chas. E. Nailor.

City Clerk, C. E. Shields, C. W. Fields.

Councilman 2nd Ward, P. Grubb, W. Graham.

Councilman 3rd Ward, G.M.Rouse, E. E. Hopkins.

Councilman 4th Ward, W. H. Elliott, John Hallahan.

Councilman 5th Ward, James Fitzgerald.

Councilman at Large, Geo.Meyers, W. Brumfield.

PUGET SOUND THE COMING APPLE COUNTRY

Vashon Island farmers held their annual fair last week and the fruit exhibit proved conclusively to visitors as well as to the farmers themselves that as fine apples can be raised in Western Washington as in any other section of the state. The exhibits of apples in many varieties of high quality demonstrated the growing contention that the soil of this section is especially adapted to the growing of apples for commercial purposes.

The advance made in the growing of apples on Vashon was brought out out by the statement of the manager of the fair, that at the first annual fair held nine years ago only one box of apples grown on the island was exhibited. This year shows the first good results of the persistence of several of the farmers in their belief that the island is capable of producing a fine quality of apples. One man exhibited fifty varities.

In Clallam county the fault lies with the would-be horticulturist; he has not taken proper care in the selection of varieties planted, and has not taken proper care of the trees after planting. There is no better plan to advance the agricultural and horticultural interests of a community than when the farmers get together at these meetings and learn what the market demands in the way of fruits and other products, what to raise, how to take care of it and how to grade and pack it. In speaking on this subject, the Seattle P.-I. says editorially:

"Enterprising farmers on Vashon have cultivated their orchards with the same amount of care and attention as is given in the commercial orchards of Eastern Washington, in the irrigated belt, and have produced fruit which does not fear comparison with any.

"What they have done is precisely what the average Western Washington farmer does not do with his orchard. He plants a few fruit trees, which are rarely thereafter cultivated, pruned or sprayed. The trees grow to maturity without care or attention, and when they come into bearing the fruit is picked, packed in any old boxes which may happen to be on hand and sent to market without grading. This fruit naturally commands a low price and compares unfavorably in appearance with fruit from districts where fruit raising is made a business, and the disappointed farmer declares that fruit cannot be raised here to compete successfully with that of the irrigated districts.

"There is more idle land of fine capabilities in Western Washington than almost anywhere else on this continent, and in its present condition it can be had at very low prices. It costs a good deal to clear it and to put it to orchard; but it, likewise, costs a good deal to put a piece of sage brush land under irrigation, even after the water has been led to it. There certainly is a splendid opportunity, or, rather, a host of splendid opportunities open here in Western Washington for entering the fruit growing business, with no heavy investment of capital. The pioneers in the industry, who are devoting real attention to it, are certainly doing well.

The editor of the Aberdeen World is becoming optimistic over the election of Judge McCredie to Congress. That paper says:

Democrats of Clark county and of Klickitat county pledged Judge McCredie their support and their votes at the reception in the judge's honor at Vancouver Tuesday night. If this keeps up, it is just possible that his election to congress may be unanimous. The judge likewise remarks that, if elected, he will be a representative for the whole district, and that he has no idea of revolutionizing congress, but that he will work for the welfare of the district and all its ports.

Beginning Tuesday, October 19, and continuing for five days, San Francisco will celebrate with the Portola Festival the rebuilding of the city and will commemorate the discovery in 1769 of the Bay of San Francisco by Don Gasper de Portola, first Spanish Governor of California. The celebration will be more than a local one, embracing California and the entire West. As the blow to San Francisco in 1906 was keenly felt throughout the West, so its recovery will be acclaimed and the entire west will join in the celebration.

We wonder if all the teachers in Clallam county have complied with the Denman law which, among other things, provides that a teacher must forward to the state superintendent letters of recommendation for successful work from superintendents, principals or school directors. State superintendent Dewey calls attention to the fact that there are over 100 teachers holding positions in the state who have not complied with the law, and are therefore not entitled to teach. He says that unless the law is complied with teachers will have to stop work.

E. W. Merrill & Co. have put in a private phone system of four phones, connecting the grocery and meat market with the warehouse and their new dock.

AND NAT KISSED THE BRIDE

The County Auditor's office was the scene of a quiet wedding last Saturday afternoon when Mr. Dan Tucker and Miss Virginia Kates of Neah Bay were united in marriage by Rev. H. Jackson Hartsell, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of this city.

The county officials and employees of the court house made up a small purse and secured a handsome token of their esteem and Mr. Dave Govan made the presentation speech with credit to the occasion, while our esteemed friend "Nat" played the hero act of a Hobson in kissing the blushing bride—an Indian lass of eighteen summers. Miss Annette Trumbull, county superintendent of schools, was bridesmaid, and Mr. Liban was best man. All joined in a hearty good wish for the "tillicums" a long and happy life.

FIRST TRIP IN 45 YEARS

Geo. Watts, who has lived a hermit for the past forty-five years at Dungeness, paid a visit to the A.-Y.-P. exposition last week. He fell in with a reporter and the following appeared in the daily press.

"Forty-five years ago George Watts deserted and jumped overboard from a British ship bound for Puget Sound and swam ashore on Dungeness spit. He lived a hermit and farm hand, never leaving sight of the beloved spit until today, when he brought up in Seattle, seeing for the first time an electric light, passenger elevator and other evidences of modern civilization. Several times he came near being run down by autos, one of which he pressed into service as a means of transportation to the exposition, where more wonders in plenty awaited him."

HUNTING GOOD AT CRESCENT

Captain Buck and another officer at Fort Flagler returned last week from a successful hunting trip in Callam county in the vicinity of Lake Crescent, and report deer plentiful, but say that it is a hard country in which to hunt, owing to the dense growth of underbrush and the immense amount of fallen timber. Captain Buck returned Thursday after killing two deer. The other officer returned Saturday evening bringing with him four fine venison as the result of his trip.—Townsend Call.

Little Miss Marion Day, the four year old daughter of Mr and Mrs. E. E. Day, met with what might easily have been a fatal accident last Sunday afternoon. She was playing on the roof of the Merchants hotel with another child when she fell through the skylight, striking on her feet upon a pool table standing on the first floor, toppling over on to the floor. The little girl was unconscious for some four hours but is now on the rapid road to recovery.

Mrs. Day, who was in bed a very sick woman, when the distressing accident occurred, hearing the breaking of glass and inquiring the cause was told that one of the dining room girls had dropped a tray of dishes, and was not informed of the accident until after her little daughter had recovered consciousness.

Mr. Day, who was at Sunshine Lodge, Lake Crescent, was called by telephone and an auto dispatched to bring him to the city.

Mr. F.G. Fritz, Oneonta, N.Y., writes: "My little girl was greatly benefitted by taking Foley's Orino Laxative, and I think it is the best remedy for constipation and lives trouble." The county engineer having reported that C. W. Grader had completed his contract of building Big River bridge, and that he had accepted said bridge, the Board instructed the auditor to draw warrants in favor of said contractor for the balance due on his contract.

The Board transferred the saloon license of August Baar, issued July 7th, 1909, at Dungeness, Wash., to Chas. Kleahn & Gotleib L. Blank, said parties having bought Mr. Baar's saloon.

The Board adjourned to meet at 1.00 p. m.

The Board met pursuant to adjournment, all members being present.

The Board examined and allowed the following claims and ordered warrants drawn for same on Game Protection fund.

F. Snow, protecting game	$ 17 00
J. B. Knapman, protecting game	17 50

The Board allowed the following claims on the River Improvement fund and ordered warrants drawn for same.

Andrew Semanski, labor	$ 28 00
K. O. Erickson, labor	21 00

The Board allowed the following claims on the General Road fund, and ordered warrants drawn for same.

Andrew Jacobson, labor	$ 54 00
Oscar Jacobson, labor	45 00
Jacob Jacobson, labor	45 00

The time having arrived for opening the bids on the Port Crescent and Lake Crescent road, the Board opened same, which were as follows:

Louis Hahn's bid, $23,750.00; Woodcock & Govan's bid, $16,995.00.

On account of certain claims for damages for right-of-way, on file, and other right-of-way not secured, the Board deferred the letting of the contract until all such matters have been settled.

The matter of hearing of road No. 86, known as the East Side River road, was deferred indefinitely, pending the settlement of damages for part of the right-of-way.

The Board rejected the claim of T. C. Alexander, $2.05, J. P. fees, case State vs. Alex. Henderson.

It appearing that out of the $1,500 appropriated by the county for the A.-Y.-P. E. exhibit, $1,000 had been paid to H. D. Hopkins, treasurer of the commission in charge of said exhibit, and that just bills against said $1,500 appropriation amounting to $152.62 had been paid by the Board of county commissioners, the Board therefore instructs the county auditor to draw a warrant in favor of said H. D. Hopkins, treasurer of the commission, in charge of the exhibit, for $347.38 the balance due on said $1,500 appropriation.

Whereas the state highway commissioner in conformity with state laws cannot let the contract for building the state aid road No. 53, of the Morse creek hill road until the entire right-of-way has been obtained by the county, and whereas, the road crosses over worthless lots, hard to designate and describe owing to a large shortage in the lands of section 8, and whereas the county is anxious to go ahead and complete this road, be it therefore resolved: That the county will stand responsible and do hereby guarantee the state against any loss whatever regarding right-of-way over state aid section No. 53.

The Board examined and allowed the following claims and ordered warrants drawn for same on the funds of R & B Dist. No. 3.

The Board adjourned to meet Tuesday the 9th day of November 1909.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Niemeyer of Galveston, Tex., arrived last Saturday to visit with his sister, Mrs. Frank Merritt. He is quite an extensive lecturer and moving picture man and believes there is quite an opening here for his kind of business. He owns over 70,000 feet of films and plate and machine for using same. They are more than pleased with this part of the world and having made the trip from nearly extreme southern parts of the U. S. to the far north, seem to be quite a leap, but the climate is enough better to make them wish to stay with us. He has not fully decided as to investment but has an eye on the Star Theatre for a few performances each week.

All persons holding Mirror coupons of the Fulmer Studio are requested to make arrangements for an early sitting.

We could make clothes expressly for you here at home, but a local tailor shop today is impractical and unprofitable.

It has no labor market from which to secure desirable cutters and tailors—

It cannot afford to install a modern plant designed to reduce cost of production—

It doesn't do sufficient business to enable it to buy woolens direct from the mills—

It cannot keep abreast of metropolitan styles and workmanship.

Therefore, we send our orders for fine made-to-measure clothes to Ed. V. Price & Co., of Chicago.

We can take your measure the same way we would if running shops here, and furnish you your clothes, made as you want them, at 50% less than we could make them locally. Won't you call today?

good health, with its blessings, must understand, quite clearly, that it involves the question of right living with all the term implies. With proper knowledge of what is best, each hour of recreation, of enjoyment, of contemplation and of effort may be made to contribute to living aright. Then the use of medicines may be dispensed with to advantage, but under ordinary conditions in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invaluable if taken at the proper time and the California Fig Syrup Co. holds that it is alike important to present the subject truthfully and to supply the one perfect laxative to those desiring it.

Consequently, the Company's Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna gives general satisfaction. To get its beneficial effects buy the genuine, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and for sale by all leading druggists.

Sour Milk a Preservative.

Most housewives do not know that sour milk is a preservative. Even oysters will keep in it for some time. A piece of beefsteak was found to be perfectly fresh after an immersion of four or five months. Prof. Elie Metchnikoff of the Pasteur Institute, Paris, explains that the sugar in the milk encourages the growth of certain germs which form lactic acid. This acid destroys the germs of putrefaction. For this reason sour milk and buttermilk are often beneficial in alimentary disorders which are accompanied by bacterial infection.

Sore throat leads to Tonsilitis, Quinsy and Diphtheria. Hamlins Wizard Oil used as a gargle upon the first symptoms of a sore throat will invariably prevent all three of these dread diseases.

The American woman is in a category of her own. She is sui generis. Our national institutions, the air of liberty which we breathe, the character of our people have made her so. But that as a class she is depraved, or blase, or hoydenish, or even spoiled, is not for a moment to be admitted. Max O'Rell once said that the eyes of a French country maiden are wide open like a daisy because her heart is pure. Will any one deny that the same reason applies to the frank and honest gaze of the American girl?

Cream together a cup of powdered sugar and a heaping tablespoonful of butter. Add a cupful of milk, three eggs, beaten light, and three cupfuls of flour, sifted well, with a teaspoonful of baking powder. Bake in a greased tin, covering it for the first half of the time. Uncover and cook until a straw comes out clean from the thickest part of the loaf. Eat hot with a hard or liquid sauce.

COUGHED ALL NIGHT

Till This Recipe Was Tried. Cure Followed in 5 Hours.

A prominent medical man, who suffered with a severe cough and cold on the lungs, often being kept awake all night, and weakened by loss of sleep, finally discovered a simple formula which will cure any cough in five hours by the clock. It is a laxative tonic cough syrup which can be made at home by any one and the formula is here given for the benefit of those who pass sleepless nights in painful paroxysms. Those who have tried it say it is magical, and beats any high-priced, slow-acting cough medicine ever sold.

Mix in a bottle, one-half ounce fluid wild cherry bark, one ounce compound essence cardiol and three ounces syrup white pine compound. Take twenty drops every half hour for four hours. Then take one-half to one teaspoonful three or four times a day. Give children less according to age. This will tone up and rid the system of deep-seated coughs every time.

These cakes may be made successfully as follows: Mince a pound of veal or beef well with half a pound of bacon, and add four cream crackers (powered) and a seasoning of pepper, salt and a quarter of a grated nutmeg. Add two well-beaten eggs and an ounce of butter; then press the mixture into a well-buttered paper, and steam for two hours.

Butter lightly timbale molds and pack into them hot rice that has been boiled tender and seasoned to taste. Press this rice down hard and set the molds in an outer pan of boiling water. Put in the oven and cook for ten minutes, then run a knife about the rice, turn out the forms upon a hot dish and serve with meat or with tomato sauce.

SORRY PRACTICAL JOKES.

Cruelties Supposed to Be Humorous Inspired by Evil Natures.

That was a poor sort of joke played by a New Yorker who inserted in a paper an advertisement advising that thirty able-bodied men could find employment at a certain address, the Indianapolis Star says. The able-bodied men and some whose attempts to appear able bodied were pathetic, flocked in numbers to the place. There they were informed by the proprietor of the shop that their services were not needed; that, in fact, he had inserted no advertisement. Evidently some person burdened with a peculiar sense of humor had been responsible for sending these men on their forlorn quest with the idea uppermost in his small mind that he was playing a good joke on the supposed employer. The joke, if it was a joke, worked completely. The shop owner was vexed and chagrined, and the footsore men turned sadly away.

The humor of the thing will be seen at once when it is understood that some of these men tramped wearily many blocks, only to meet rebuff, while others, not able to walk, spent for car fare the few pennies they had managed to pinch together for such an emergency. It meant wasted hopes for men already, some of them, near the shoals of despair. It meant a loss of faith in mankind.

It is unpleasant to think that such jokers exist, but it is none the less true that they are to be found here and there, an incubus on society. These are the persons who rock the boat, who point the loaded gun "in fun," who pin crape on the doors of the living, who anonymously insert false marriage notices, and they are all of them blood brothers to those who wag the tongue of slander. Most of such offenders give thoughtlessness as their excuse, but the real truth is that persons who do so offend are wanting in the milk of human kindness—they are of evil nature.

A. (N. S.), 1221, not to be liable for breach of warranty by the consignor in the sale of the property.

The derailment and overturning of a freight car in a train is held, in Henson versus Lehigh Valley R. R. Co., 194 N. Y., 205, 87 N. E. 85, 19 L. R. A. (N. S.), 790, not to be such evidence of negligence toward its brakeman as to cast upon it the burden of exonerating itself from the charge of negligence to absolve itself from liability for injury to him thereby.

One who, without paying fare, voluntarily attempts to ride in the cab of a locomotive at the invitation of those in charge of the train, is held, in Clark versus Colorado & N. W. R. Co. (C. C. A.), 165 Fed. 408, 19 L. R. A. (N. S.), 988, to assume the known hazards incident to such exposed position, and he is held not to be entitled to hold the railroad company liable for injury caused by the collision of the cab with a car negligently left on a side track so as not to clear the main track, where the negligence was not wanton, and no injury occurred to anyone else on the train.

S.), 1094, to be liable for injury thereby caused to a child not guilty of contributory negligence, who has been permitted to play upon it where the car is on a grade down which, if it starts, it cannot be readily stopped, and the injury is caused by the child's being caught and crushed while attempting to stop the car after it has been set in motion down the grade.

Futile Dieting.

The doctor's made me cut out pie and every kind of berries;
He tells me that I'll quickly die if I indulge in cherries;
I've had to give up cake and meat and all preserves and sauces;
A doc can be,
It seems to me,
The worst of all one's bosses.

I've had to put my pipe away and cease to smoke Havanas;
I may eat, if I like it, hay, but I must spurn bananas;
I must avoid all starchy foods, all stuff
containing acid;
I have to strive
To keep alive
On nothing and be placid.

Yet I would not complain nor kick nor even view things gravely,
I'd deem it lucky to be sick, and bear
my troubles bravely,
If I were saving anything while suffering privations;
But all I make
They blithely take
For furnishing my rations.

The Knock-out Blow.

The blow which knocked out Corbett was a revelation to the prize fighters. From the earliest days of the ring the knock-out blow was aimed for the jaw, the temple or the jugular vein. Stomach punches were thrown in to worry and weary the fighter, but if a scientific man had told one of the old fighters that the most vulnerable spot was the region of the stomach, he'd have laughed at him for an ignoramus. Dr. Pierce is bringing home to the public a parallel fact; that the stomach is the most vulnerable organ out of the prize ring as well as in it. We protect our heads, throats, feet and lungs, but the stomach we are utterly indifferent to, until disease finds the solar plexus and knocks us out. Make your stomach sound and strong by the use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and you protect yourself in your most vulnerable spot. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures "weak stomach," indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, bad, thin and impure blood and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" has a specific curative effect upon all mucous surfaces and hence cures catarrh, no matter where located or what stage it may have reached. In Nasal Catarrh it is well to cleanse the passages with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy fluid while using the "Discovery" as a constitutional remedy. Why the "Golden Medical Discovery" cures catarrhal diseases, as of the stomach, bowels, bladder and other pelvic organs will be plain to you if you will read a booklet of extracts from the writings of eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients and explaining their curative properties. It is mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. This booklet gives all the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines from which it will be seen that they contain not a drop of alcohol, pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead.

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 31 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.
