WESTERN STEEL FINANCED AT $40,000,000

Reported that Moran's Plant Will Be Moved to Irondale. Union Iron Works to Enter Consolidation.

The following press dispatch, sent out from San Francisco, outlines the future of Irondale, at the head of Port Townsend bay.

"Negotiations were practically completed in New York today be tween Herbert B. Law, the San Francisco capitalist and realestate operator, James A. Moore, of Seattle, and a group of Eastern financiers, thro which a $40,000,000 steel manufacturing industry on the Pacific coast is assured.

"Behind the formal terms for the present deal lies one of the most important industrial projects in the iron and shipping trade on the coast. Here are the chief points of the transaction:

"The Western Steel Corporation, of which Moore is the president and Law the vice president, and which now owns a steel plant at Irondale, near Port Townsend, Wash., has been fully financed through the joint backing of Eastern and Pacific coast capital.

"The plan of the Western Steel Corporation, made possible through today's deal, is to develop a great steel plant at Irondale, on the lines of the steel trust's plant at Geary, Ind.

"The corporation will not confine itself to the making of crude iron and steel, but will enter the steel manufacturing industry of the coast on far reaching lines. It has purchased the Moran Shipyards of Seattle in whose yards the battleship Nebraska and many other vessels have been constructed. The price paid was about $2,000,000.

"The entire Moran plant will be moved to Irondale, adjoining the corporation's steel plant, and the present site of the Moran shipyards in Seattle is to be sold to one of the great transcontinental railroads for terminal. The final details for this transfer will be closed in New York this week.

"It is understood that Western Steel will ultimately consolidate the Union Iron Works of San Francisco with its other holdings, thus forming a huge independent steel concern of more than $50,000,000 value.

"This, in brief, is the deal which was virtually settled today. Those conversant with the steel and iron situation on the Pacific coast declare that it constitutes one of the most important moves that have been made in industrial projects there for many years. Hitherto the bulk of steel and iron manufactured products have come from the East, a large part by rail, and the amount of money the people on the Pacific coast have paid for this freight alone totals a staggering sum.

It is understood that the Western steel also has an option on the Bullen Shipbuilding works at Esquimalt. This plant has profitable contracts with the Canadian and British governments.

ASKS FOR $25,000 FOR GOV'T BUILDING HERE

Senator Piles on last Friday introduced bills in the Senate for public buildings at Olympia and Port Angeles, carrying appropriations of $30,000 and $25,000 respectively. Last year Olympia got $20,000 for a site for the building. The government already owns a magnificent site for the Port Angeles building.

Representative Humphrey introduced a bill in the house appropriating $500,000 for an immigrant station at Seattle, that sum to cover site and building.

It will be remembered that the Collector of the District was down this way some months ago and selected the west half of the present city hall block — government reserve — as a custom house and postoffice site. It is believed that inasmuch as the government has received sufficient money from its little real estate venture in the townsite of Port Angeles to pay for a public building here, Senator Piles will be able to secure the appropriation.

"Guilty as charged" was the verdict of the twelve men selected to try Ortis Hamilton, former adjutant general of the national guard, on a charge of larceny by embezzlement in collecting $1,188 of the state's money and converting it to his own use. Penalty for the act is one to ten years.

NEW FRANCHISE ASKED FOR OAK STREET

Ask for Ten Year Grant Paying City $1.00 a Year for First Five Years and $10 a Year Thereafter.

A new deal in connection with the Oak street wharf franchise was asked of the City Tuesday night, Councilman Harding introducing an ordinance "authorizing and empowering A. I. Filion and F. F. Miller, their successors and assigns, to construct, operate, and maintain a wharf for wharf and warehouse purposes on Oak street for a period of ten years from the date of passage of this ordinance. The grantees to have the right to collect and receive only such rates of wharfage and charges for storing and dockage as the City Council shall from time to time establish, and shall be lighted as directed by the City. The grantees shall pay as rental for the rights and franchises granted, the sum of $1.00 per year for the first five years, and the sum of $50 for the balance of the term of the franchise, to be paid annually in advance after the completion of the wharf. The grantees shall within ten days after assignment or transfer file with the City Clerk a written notice setting forth the name, grantor, or assignor. They are to be given fifteen days in which to file a written acceptance. The City shall not be charged wharfage

The salary ordinance, which was introduced and referred to the ordinance committee on October 5th, was again read and passed.

Saloon license held by Saxton & Owen was ordered transferred to M. J. Kerkes.

VonRiegan & Stoelt were granted a license.

COAL WILL BE DELIVERED HERE THIS WEEK

Repairs to the Craig Fish Products Co.'s wharf have been completed and the first cargo of Wellington coal is expected today. The Frank Waterhouse Co., by maintaining bunkers at this place, under their contract to supply coal to the Snohomish, Tahoma, and other revenue cutters, will doubtless build up quite a business with the tugs and other steamers, which frequently make the long run upsound for the one purpose of taking on coal.

SAME OLD BLUFF ?

It is reported that the steamer Ramona, formerly of the Seattle-Vancouver run under Cook & Co., may be chartered by a local company for the Straits run, says the Seattle Times. Neither the Pacific Coast Steamship Company nor the Kitsap County Transportation Company officials will discuss the matter in any way, but it is learned that negotiations are pending between the two companies; The Ramona is rather a large boat for the route. Some weeks ago the Puget Sound Nav. Co. invaded the route to Poulsbo with two boats, one carrying passengers for nothing and the other at cut rates. A counter move on the part of the Kitsap Company is expected and it would be only natural that they should place a boat on the favorite run of the Navigation Co., to Port Angeles and straits points.

SHOULD BEGIN TO GET READY

Washington, Dec. 11.—John Barrett, director of the International Bureau of American Republics, before the Southern Commercial Congress, at the New Willard hotel, delivered a speech, of which the following are extracts:

"It is of the highest importance not only to the South but to the whole country that we should begin to get ready for the Panama canal. We are now actually confronted with a serious danger to our commerce and our prestige abroad—namely, that we shall complete the canal only to find that other countries will gain greater practical benefits from it than will the United States.

"The one great thing, therefore, that our people and our congress now should do is to study and set in motion such activities and policies as will place the entire land in readiness to enjoy, and profit from, the new routes and facilities provided by the canal. It will be almost criminal lack of foresight to spend four hundred millions of dollars ($400,000,000) digging this waterway and then awaken at its completion to find that we are not in a position to utilize fully its much discussed advantages.

Twenty-one States on Coast.

"There are twenty-one states of the Union bordering on the high seas and having ports from which vessels ought to steam through the Panama canal, and yet hardly one of them realizes the opportunities which the canal offers, with its completion only five years distant. There should be started a slogan 'Get ready for the canal,' which would be heard all along the Gulf, Atlantic and Pacific coasts and inaugurate a national movement to prepare for it in a way that will be effective and practical. Every city and commercial center having any interest in foreign commerce should acquaint itself with actual trade conditions in the parts of the world to be reached by the canal.

"Every section of the country—especially the South and Central West—should familiarize itself, for instance, with the great West or Pacific coasts of South and Central America and the possible wants and resources thereof. Conditions of demand and supply, capacity to sell what is desired or purchase what is for sale, starting of new industries, conservation of resources, improvement of coast harbors and interior waterways, betterment of steamship facilities, the sending of qualified agents abroad, study of the Spanish language, travel among these heretofore distant but future close neighbors, and acquaintance with their social and racial characteristics—all have a direct and important bearing on 'getting ready for the canal.'

Commercial Opportunity.

"The Southern states abutting on the Gulf and Atlantic coasts, the first tier of states back of them and the Central Western states have a great and rich commercial opportunity before them in Latin America. Without enlarging upon the vast east coast of South America, which includes the mighty areas of Venezuela, Uruguay, Brazil, Paraguay and Argentine, with an annual foreign trade valued at one billion dollars ($1,000,000,000), let us bear in mind that there reaches directly south from Panama to Patagonia a Pacific coast line of 5,000 miles, in the very infancy of its development, blessed with a marvelous variety of resources and climate, and one which, though comparatively isolated, is already conducting a foreign trade valued at three hundred millions of dollars ($300,000,000) per annum. In other words, the five republics of Columbia, Ecuador, Peru, Bolivia and Chile, practically debouching on the Pacific, bought and sold in one year products equal in value to two-thirds of the entire cost of the canal. If a trade of such volume can be maintained without the canal, it is difficult to predict safely its valuation a few years after the canal is completed.

"Northwest from Panama is the Pacific coast line of Central America and Mexico, with a reach of nearly three thousand miles, which will be put into direct and intimate touch with the South when the canal is opened. This coast line from Panama to San Diego now carries on a foreign trade valued at approximately one hundred millions of dollars ($100,000,000). It is hard to prophesy what total this will become a few years after the isthmian waterway is done.

Cuba on Direct Route.

"Directly en route from the Atlantic coast to the canal are Cuba, the Dominican republic, Hayti and Porto Rico, with an annual foreign trade valued at nearly two hundred and fifty million dollars ($250,000,000).

"Speaking of all Latin America and what it offers to the South and Central West, I would have every chamber of commerce or board of trade from the Roanoke to the Rio Grande and from the Potomac to the Platte organize committees or subordinate clubs to awaken interest in everything pertaining to Latin America, its history and development, its commerce and industries, its peoples, institutions and government, and then to study methods of building up exchange of trade with all parts of our sister republics and of taking advantage in a practical way of the great canal. I wish we could start a Pan-American league, with branches in every important city and town of the South and West and supported by the best citizens of each community. Good results would surely follow both for our trade and for our influence. Such a movement—a tangible evidence to all Latin America of our growing interest in our sister republics—would accomplish wonderful results in removing any distrust and suspicion which is often described as existing among the masses of people from Mexico and Cuba south to Argentina and Chile.

"If now we can actually start a bona fide Pan-American movement in the South and popularize the cry, 'Get ready for the Panama canal,' we will astonish ourselves and the world with the good accomplished and develop a unanimity of sentiment in favor of a suitable celebration in 1915 which will appropriately make the opening of the canal a far-reaching and historical national and international event."

LIBERAL PARTY ENDORSES HOME RULE FOR IRELAND

London, Dec. 13.—Home rule for Ireland— the dream of the Emerald Isle for two centuries—is promised by the liberal party of England.

The Irish patriots have won their long, and apparently hopeless, fight for self government, or come so near to it, it lies within their grasp.

At a monster meeting in Albert hall last week, Henry Asquith, premier of Great Britain, laid down the policy on which the liberal party is appealing to the country.

First—If the government is returned to power, it will demand the limitation of the power of the house of lords.

Second—That the liberal party would grant self government to Ireland.

The meeting was marked by great enthusiasm of the audience, entirely composed of men, women having been denied admission in the fear that there might be counter demonstrations by suffragettes. Every corner of the hall had been searched for women, and a small band was routed out.

Vindicate Republican Government.

"I tell you, in the name and on behalf of the liberal party," Mr. Acquith proceeded, "we have at this moment laid upon us a single task. That task is to vindicate and establish upon unshakable foundation the principle of republican government."

Upon the topic of woman suffrage, Mr. Asquith said his views were well known. He had no reason to alter them, despite the suicidal excesses of a small section of the advocates for such a change.

Turning his attention to Ireland, which, he said, had been fortunate for once because the measure sent up in her behalf did not come violently athwart prejudices of the house of lords, Mr. Asquith continued:

Irish Policy a Failure.

"Speaking last year before my accession to the premiership, I described the Irish policy as the one undeniable failure of British statesmanship. I repeat tonight that this is a problem to be solved in one way—by a policy which, while explicitly safeguarding the supreme, indivisible authority of the imperial parliament, can set up in Ireland a system of full self-government as regards purely Irish affairs.

"There is not and cannot be any question of separation. There is not and cannot be any question of rivalry or competing for supremacy. That is the liberal policy. For reasons which we believe to have been adequate the present parliament was disabled in advance from proposing any such solution, but in the new house the liberal government at the head of a liberal majority will be in this matter entirely free."

TO START CLEARING HOUSE OF APPLE INFORMATION

Spokane, Dec. 11.—Trustees of the National Apple Show, incorporated, headed by E. F. Cartier Van Dissel, second vice president and chairman of the board, have made arrangements for the establishment of a clearing house of information for growers and handlers of apples in the Northwest.

The tentative plan is to keep the growers in touch with market conditions, as well as with each other, by means of bulletins and special letters.

Ren H. Rice, secretary-manager of the organization, announces he will have regular correspondents in every commercial orchard district in Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Washington and the province of British Columbia, also receiving special reports from other states and provinces.

Ice Company Gets Fine Limit.

New York, Dec. 11.—The American Ice Co. was found guilty in the state supreme court of violating the state anti-monopoly law. The company was found guilty of restricting competition and attempting to create a monopoly in ice. The jury was out one hour and forty minutes. The court immediately imposed the maximum sentence of $5,000 fine, under the provisions of the Donnelly anti-monopoly law of this state.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

ATTORNEY GENERAL WICKERSHAM TO PROSECUTE RELENTLESSLY

Annual Report Is Made Public—Fifty Thousand Dollars Asked to Carry on Sugar Trust Prosecutions—Further Test of Commodities Statute—Land Fraud Cases.

Washington, Dec. 13.—That the department of justice intends a vigorous prosecution, in the efforts to recover all money due the government as a result of sugar frauds at New York, and to punish all who may have participated in them, is shown by the annual report of Attorney General Wickersham, made public Saturday. After briefly reciting the facts in the cases, which are of public knowledge, he says:

"The evidence has disclosed a network of corruption, not confined to the American Sugar Refining Company Extending over a period of years, affecting both importers and officers of the government, it is as yet premature to state the precise extent of the conspiracy or the amount of the revenues of which the government has been defrauded.

Asks $50,000 for Prosecution

"While it is feared that the statute of limitations may have run in favor of many of the malefactors who are responsible for these frauds, yet no effort will be spared to ascertain the precise amount of which the government has been defrauded, to recover all moneys due and to punish all those who may be found to have participated in any respect in the frauds, whether as officers or agents of the importers, or as officials of the government. I earnestly request a special appropriation of $50,000 to enable this work to be effectively prosecuted."

Further litigation touching the "commodities clause cases," arising under the interstate commerce law, is promised by the attorney general. Discussing the decision of the supreme court in those cases, Mr. Wickersham says it does not "necessarily determine the application of the statute to cases where the commodities transported are owned by a corporation, all, or substantially all, of whose stock is owned by the carrier corporation at the time of transportation, and especially where the carrier shall have transferred all of its interest in such commodities to a corporation formed for the express purpose of evading the prohibition of the commodities clause, and all, or substantially all of the stock in which is owned by the carrier.

"Those questions will be presented for determination in the courts. If the prohibition of the statute successfully can be evaded by the simple device of transfer of ownership of the property to a corporation all of whose stock shall be owned or controlled by the carrier, congress should amend the statute so as to make it an effectual, and not a merely illusory prohibition, or else repeal it."

To Undo Land Frauds.

In the matter of public land fraud prosecution, the attorney general makes clear his determination in no respect to abate the effort to undo, so far as may be, the frauds "which for so long a time have been perpetrated in the procuring of the public domain contrary to the conditions under which congress has authorized these lands to be patented."

Important recommendations contained in the report include those for a broadening of the right of appeal of the government in criminal cases; a repeal of section 860 of the revised statutes regarding evidence in criminal cases; the enactment of a general immunity statute to meet the conditions which arise in the endeavor to procure testimony for the government; favoring a national law providing for indeterminate sentences; and a modification of the statute fixing the punishment for embezzlement or misapplication of the funds of a national bank at imprisonment for five years.

To Rebuild Mountain Lines.

Vancouver, B. C., Dec. 11.—During the next couple of years a total expenditure of $5,000,000 is to be made by the Canadian Pacific railway in the rebuilding of portions of its trackage in the mountains. The first work to be done next spring is that of straightening the line through the Fraser canyon. After this various sections of the railway east and west of Revelstoke will be rebuilt on a permanent basis, and large amounts of money will be expended in the operation.

Will Abolish White Light.

Pittsburg, Dec. 11.—The lure of the white light by the wayside of railroads will no longer be held responsible for railroad wrecks. The white light as a signal for a cleared track is to go. The New York Central system is preparing to make the change general. Engineers of fast trains have often been confused by white lights in dwellings and other places and have passed colored lights which were set. Roads throughout the country have agreed to the change.

Blackburn Quits Canal Job.

Washington, Dec. 11.—It was announced Thursday at the war department that former Senator J. C. S. Blackburn had resigned as a member of the isthmian canal commission and that his resignation had been accepted by President Taft.

NORTHWESTERN TO HAVE TERMINALS AT SEATTLE

Tacoma, Dec. 11.—The Chicago & Northwestern Railway has determined upon Seattle as the location for its Pacific terminals and already has begun the acquisition of tide land property for that purpose. Buying in Seattle is being done through the Investment Company. These facts were learned from a local railroad man thoroughly conversant with all the moves which have lately been made by the two additional transcontinental lines seeking an entry into the Puget Sound country.

According to this source of information, Tacoma had been selected by the Northwestern officials for the terminal point, and efforts were made to acquire tide lands here. The railroad became impatient at the delay over getting the title to the lands settled because of the Bedford tide land suit in behalf of the Puyallup Indians, or rather in behalf of the assignees of their claims, and decided to transfer their activities to Seattle and select a different route for reaching the Sound.

The new survey branches from the old one at a point on the Naches river west of North Yakima, and follows the middle branch of the Snoqualmie to North Bend. No information can be had at present on the route from North Bend into Seattle, though it is believed the Cedar River Valley is the approved route.

AMERICAN WASTEFULNESS IMPRESSES JAPANESE

Tacoma, Dec. 11.—That the people of the United States waste enough annually to keep in comfort and even luxury the entire Japanese nation is the sweeping criticism of the members of the Japanese commercial commission which has just completed a tour of this country.

"The members of the commission were profoundly impressed," said Charles H. Hyde, the Tacoma representative who traveled with the commission, "with our extravagant mode of life, and I suppose two or three Japanese families would live on what an average American family uses and wastes.

"The members of the commission were astonished out of all measure with the great resources and wonderful cities they saw. All told they visited 55 large cities, and everywhere they saw incalculable wealth, railroads, manufacturing plants, machinery such as no other country in the world can show, and the longer they traveled the more their astonishment grew upon them.

"I guess they will carry back to Japan the same message the queen of Sheba brought her people after visiting King Solomon's court, 'The half has not been told.'"

Condemn Boom Literature.

Watsonville, Cal., Dec. 11.—The practice of sending out "boom literature" to attract colonists and homeseekers to California is severely attacked in a committee report presented to the California Fruit Growers' convention here. The report declares that statements made in some this class of literature, advertising the resources and advantages of the state, are frequently misleading and states that the postal authorities have been requested to investigate some of the extravagant claims made in these appeals to colonists from the East.

CORONER ASKS DEATH MASKS TO IDENTIFY UNKNOWN DEAD

Vancouver, Wash., Dec. 13.—That the identification of the persons who meet a violent death and who are unknown may be more readily established, the coroner of Clarke county is advocating the making of a death mask of the features of all such persons before burial.

The ever-increasing number of accidents in and about Vancouver among strangers is the cause of this agitation.

Want Inaugural Day Changed.

Washington, Dec. 11.—A change in the date of the inauguration of the president of the United States from March 4 to the last Thursday in April is strongly urged in the annual report of the commissioners of the District of Columbia and has been presented to congress. The commissioners point out the danger due to bad weather and call attention to the last inauguration day, when many persons died as a result of exposure to the blizzard.

Klickitat Project Takes Form.

Husum, Dec. 11.—The big Klickitat river canal project, which is considered one of the most stupendous irrigation undertakings ever launched in the state of Washington or the entire Northwest, has reached a stage when actual construction is close at hand. The project, which covers an area of 600,000 acres located in the Horse Heaven country in the counties of Klickitat and Benton, has been under consideration for five years.

Chief Red Cloud Dies.

Washington, Dec. 11.—Red Cloud, the famous old Sioux Indian chief, is dead. This information has been received by Supt. Brennant, of the Pine Ridge Indian agency, who is in Washington attending the meeting of those interested in the education of the Indian. Red Cloud was 86 years of age and for the last 25 years had lived at the Pine Ridge reservation.

LUMBER, LATH AND SHINGLES

The census bureau has just issued a pamphlet on "Lumber, Lath and Shingles, 1908," in which a graphic presentation of the lumber industry of the country is given.

Washington, which has ranked first in lumber production for several years, still held this place in 1908, though in quantity the cut of this state was closely approached by that of Louisiana. Nearly all of the lumber manufactured in Washington was of Douglas fir, while Louisiana was first in rank in the production of two important kinds, yellow pine and cypress. Heavy decreases in the production of Douglas fir and yellow pine were general in 1908, while the cut of cypress was nearly the same in both years; hence the decrease in total production in Louisiana was less marked, being only 8.4 per cent., while the decrease in Washington was 23.8 per cent.

Washington's cut of fir is given as 2,307,212,000 feet B. M., of a total of 3,675,114,000. While not a pine state, Washington's cut of white pine was seven-tenths of one per cent of the whole; the state's cut of hemlock was 2.1 per cent of the total. In what is termed "Western pine", including lodge-pole pine, Washington ranked third, or 15.2 per cent. Washington at the top of the column under the head cedar, with 42.2 per cent of the whole. This state supplied 31.8 per cent. of the larch cut in 1908, and 11.3 per cent of the white fir.

In lath Washington leads the list of producing states with 15 per cent. of the total.

When it comes to shingle statistics, Washington is most prominent in the figures. "Cedar," says the report, is preeminently the shingle wood. Nearly 76 per cent., or more than nine billion of the shingles manufactured in 1908, were of cedar. Of the Western cedars, and chiefly the Western red cedar, furnished 7,594,492,000, or nearly 83 per cent. Of the Western cedar shingles, Washington supplied 7,285,761,000 or nearly 96 per cent.

WILL HELP ENTIRE WEST SIDE

The announcement in the daily press last week that negotiations were practically completed whereby a 40-million dollar steel manufacturing industry on the Pacific coast is assured, and that the plan is to develop a great steel plant at Irondale, at the head of Port Townsend bay, means much to the Olympic peninsula, as indeed it means much to the whole Pacific Northwest. The gigantic enterprize includes the removal of the Moran shipbuilding plant to Irondale where it can be operated in conjunction with the corporation's mammoth steel plant.

With this great industry located and in active operation at Irondale the West Side is sure to come into its own even more rapidly than the most ardent enthusiast dare predict. Not only will the Milwaukee road soon commence constructive operations in an effort secure the hauling of this immense tonnage, as well as the tonnage of the great lumber industry of the peninsula, but other transcontinental roads, the Northern Pacific and the Union Pacific, already headed this way, by way of Grays Harbor, will be active competitors for this traffic. The dream of the old timer of great industrial activity for the Olympic peninsula is about to be realized.

COULD FIND WORK HERE.

M. J. Carrigan, member of the board of commissioners for King county, is after the saloon keepers of that county who are not obeying the law. In fifty saloons in the county slot machines have been maintained contrary to law, which went into effect June 15, last. Mr. Carrigan proposes that these violators of the law shall lose their licenses. He says that saloon keepers who refuse to obey the law are not safe custodians of a liquor license. This is in line with the action of the King county board which sometime ago adopted the policy of refusing to renew the licenses of saloons whose proprietors had been convicted of selling liquor on Sunday. It is also proposed to reduce the salary of officials to $1 per month whose duty it is to see that the law is enforced and have neglected to do so.

"It seems to me to be time to inquire whether or not the law of the state or city means anything," says Mr. Carrigan. "If officials are to disregard law, certainly a poor example is set for those who may break them. There is only one thing for an honest official to do, and that is to enforce the law as he has sworn to do. If the law is bad the people will repeal it, but while it is law it should be respected and regarded. Any other test would be to hold up to ridicule the whole fabric of our institutions."

It would be interesting to know how many saloons in Seattle obey the law as regards screens and other devices at their front windows and doors. Not much attention is paid to this section of the law in some places.

"PERSONAL LIBERTY"

The liquor dealers, recognizing that their very obvious pecuniary interest would lessen the weight of any argument which they might publically advance, are making their fight under cover of organizations purporting to represent those who use liquor. Many well-meaning men have been misled into believing that every attempt to lessen the evils of intemperance is a "fanatical attack" on "personal liberty."

It is time the phrase "personal liberty" were defined.

What is meant by personal liberty?

Does it mean that a person has a right to drink in any quantity, at any time, and in any place, no matter what injury he may inflict upon others? If not, with whom rests the right tc fix limitations?

A drunken man is a menace to the lives and property of those about him; have his neighbors no right to protect themselves?

A drunkard robs his wife and children, and he may finally make his family and himself a charge upon society; has society no right to protect itself?

The saloon is next of kin to the brothel and the gambling hall; it is a rendezvous for the criminal element and the willing tool of the corrupt politician; has not the body politic a right to protect itself from the demoralization which the saloon works?

The right to drink does not necessarily include the right to demand the establishment of a saloon. The right to drink is sufficiently protected by any arrangement that permits the reasonable use of liquor under reasonable conditions; and it must be remembered that the right to drink, like any other right, can be forfeited. Nothing is more sacred than the right to life, and yet one may forfeit his right to life if he uses it in such a way as to threaten the life of another. So, the man who drinks to excess may forfeit the right to drink; even the moderate drinker may forfeit the right to drink in moderation if, not content with reasonable regulation, he insists that liquor shall be sold under conditions that constitute a menace to the home and the state.

The man who desires to drink moderately ought to join with those who seek to reduce the evils of drink to the lowest possible point, instead of allying himself with those who ignore the evils of intemperance and resist every effort put forth for the protection of society.

Now that William Jennings Bryan and the Olympic-Leader have gone over body and breeches to the Prohibition party that party ought o sink or swim, and we don't know which.—Tribune-Times.

Isn't that a literary gem! How it must have racked his brain to conceive it! Anyway, a wayfarer, tho a fool, would not have to guess twice on which side of the fence for temperance and moral reform that fellow is on. Holy Writ says: "He that is not for me is against me: he that is against me scatterth abroad."

THE LAWS BE DAMNED!

A very entertaining exhibition of unadulterated jobbery was presented at the last meeting of the City Council, when Hallahan and Rouse, by motion, caused the salary ordinance, which has so long been held up by the ordinance committee, to be put upon its final reading and passage, in defiance of the law prohibiting the raising or lowering of the salary of any elective officer after his election.

It is the more surprising that other members of the council should have participated in such open violation of the law after being warned by the mayor, and after asking the advice of the city attorney, who was bound to concur with the mayor. Even then the solon of the council, who apparently presumed to know more law than the mayor and city attorney, indignantly denied that the advice of the mayor and city attorney was correct; so the reading of the law was demanded, and it was found to be exactly as stated by the mayor and attorney.

It was then declared, in an evident effort to mislead other members of the council, that the ordinance under which present salaries depend was also passed after the election and for the same reason was illegal. But notwithstanding they were told that the old ordinance was legal, as it did not increase or diminish the salary of a single elective officer—it being passed to increase the salary of the marshal, an appointive officer—they proceeded to pass the ordinance raising the city clerk's salary $300 a year.

The ordinance, which was originally introduced by Mr. Stakemiller, was not drawn by the city attorney; no provision is made for its publication as required by law, or for its becoming effective a certain number of days after publication. The attention of the council had been directed to this defect.

These questions are therefore pertinent:

Why was not the salary ordinance passed before the election?

Was there a fear of the result of such passage upon the vote for Hallahan?

Would the ordinance have been passed at all if any other person had been elected clerk?

Was not the ordinance introduced, and was it not brought up and its passage secured in fulfillment of a political agreement?

If so, is not this the very kind of political jobbery that the law was passed to prevent?

Councilmen Brumfield was absent, and Councilman Harding, stating it to be his belief that the additional expense to the City was unwarranted, voted against the ordinance.

The man who is so small that he refuses to speak to some fellow creature on account of some fancied wrong is not a happy man, and a woman who thinks her troubles outweigh every other consideration is in for a long and unhappy life, no matter if her days are few. We can not hope to have our friends take up our troubles. We must care for our own wrongs and let the other fellow look out for his. To refuse to speak to a man or woman does not hurt the other party. You don't have to excite yourself or work up a fit of temper to greet a fellow being with a pleasant "good morning"; even if your advances are repulsed you can be assured that the party feels like kicking himself. If someone wrongs you, forget it. If you wrong someone, an apology and a smile atone. These do not cost much and they go much further than tears or anger. Live for today. It may be hard at times to meet those with a smile who have wronged you but in the end you are the winner.

It would be interesting to know what the present Oak street wharf company, in which Mr. Grubb is said to be one of the leading stockholders and in which Messrs. Frye, Martin and others own small interests, and whose franchise has still three years to run, think about the application now before the council for a new franchise. It is quite within the possibilities that the Oak street franchise may become valuable within the next three years. The present ordinance required a payment to the City of $50 a year, as rental, for the first five years, and $75 per year thereafter; the proposed ordinance provides for a rental of $1.00 per year for five years and $50 thereafter. To the average citizen, an extension of the present franchise would appear to be the preferable way of getting at it.

The Citizens' Independent party at Bremerton, which party won a sweeping victory at the recent city election, is openly in favor of a local option election, and advocates of a dry town gave this party its support at the polls, says a dispatch from Bremerton. Accordingly, a petition was put in circulation on the day following the election, asking the city council to set a date for a local option election. There are now five saloons in Bremerton.

The editor of the Tribune-Times, in an effort to put himself right on the question of clean city government and a proper restriction of the liquor traffic, in his last issue, snarls and snaps at the Olympic-Leader, the ladies of the W.C.T.U., their press correspondent who failed to write up a public meeting for him, and pretty much everything else—and after all is still stuck in the saloon mire.

Bad Symptoms.

The woman who has periodical headaches, backache, sees imaginary dark spots or specks floating or dancing before her eyes, has gnawing distress or heavy full feeling in stomach, faint spells, dragging-down feeling in lower abdominal or pelvic region, easily startled or excited, irregular or painful periods, with or without pelvic catarrh, is suffering from weaknesses and derangements that should have early attention. Not all of above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Neglected or badly treated and such cases often run into maladies which demand the surgeon's knife if they do not result fatally.

No medicine extant has such a long and numerous record of cures in such cases as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. No medicine has such a strong professional indorsement of each of its several ingredients—worth more than any number of ordinary non-professional testimonials. The very best ingredients known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments enter into its composition. No alcohol, harmful, or habit-forming drug is to be found in the list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath.

In any condition of the female system, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can do only good—never harm. Its whole effect is to strengthen, invigorate and regulate the whole female system and especially the pelvic organs. When these are deranged in function or affected by disease, the stomach and other organs of digestion become sympathetically deranged, the nerves are weakened, and a long list of bad, unpleasant symptoms follow. Too much must not be expected of this "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles; will not cure tumors—no medicine will. It will often prevent them, if taken in time, and thus the operating table and the surgeon's knife may be avoided.

Women suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Doctor Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Why Glasses Are Needed.

"Old age doesn't affect the sight exactly," said an oculist. "It affects certain sight muscles.

"An old man, for instance, can sit down the same as a young man, but he sits down slowly and stiffly, because his sitting down muscles are no longer supple. So it is with an old man's eyes. They see quite as well as a young man's, but the muscles that do the focusing—the muscles, that is to say, that alter the degree of convexity of the crystalline lens—are hardened and don't work well. The strain that the managing of these muscles demands of an old man gives him a headache. Hence he adopts glasses, which do his focusing for him—one pair focusing for reading, another pair focusing for long distances.

"Old age glasses don't actually improve the sight. They only take the place of certain muscles that age has stiffened. They don't even do that, though, unless they are cleaned frequently. Glasses should be kept perfectly clean—should be cleaned, when in use, once an hour, with a silk handkerchief, never with a linen one."

When people sit around their firesides, in the sacred precincts of the family, they say a whole lot of things about you they never say to your face.

"Prove all things; hold fast that which is good." This is a rule which governs all intelligent physicians. Whatever progress the healing art has made has been due to its observance. There is an opportunity now for some physicians elsewhere to show that they hold to it. Dr. Lambert, a New York physician who stands high in his profession, says that seemingly hopeless victims of the liquor or drug habit can be cured physically and mentally. He specifies cases he has treated and cured at Bellevue Hospital. Following the custom of reputable physicians, he has made public the ingredients of his remedy, their exact proportions, and his method of treatment. He has told everything which another doctor who wished to try his remedy would need to know. There are everywhere habitual drunkards and men and women who are users of morphine or have contracted the cocaine habit, which has been regarded as incurable, but which Dr. Lambert says he has proved is not. All that remains is for some alert, open-minded medical man to see whether they can be equally successful when following in his footsteps. Some doctors have asked why a mixture of belladonna, hyoscyamus and prickly ash should rid a man of the inclination to drink. Dr. Lambert says he does not know. Uncertainty on that point should not stand in the way of their use if the results be good. If Dr. Lambert's remedy is as effective as he says it is quacks will have less to do and reputable practitioners more, while thousands of hopeless creatures will be saved to themselves and their families.

Vegetable Soup.

Two quarts of water, 2 ounces of haricot beans, 2 ounces of split peas, 1 onion, 1 carrot, half stick of celery, parsley and herbs, pepper, salt, 5 cloves and a blade of mace. Boil in two quarts of water for three or four hours all the above vegetables, spice and herbs. Strain it off. It will keep for some time if it is let to stand and poured off from the sediment.

BREAKS A COLD IN A DAY

This prescription is one of the very best known to science. The ingredients can be gotten from any good druggist, or he will get them from his wholesale house.

"Mix half pint of good whiskey with two ounces of glycerine and add one-half ounce Concentrated pine compound. The bottle is to be well shaken each time and used in doses of a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful every four hours."

The Concentrated pine is a special pine product and comes only in half ounce bottles, each enclosed in an air-tight case, but be sure it is labeled "Concentrated."

Brains.

Boil in salted water twenty minutes brains that have been well washed and tied in a piece of cheesecloth. Let them cool, then cut in rather thin slices, and dip in beaten egg. Fry brown in hot lard. They taste very much like oysters.

In case of pain on the lungs Hamlins Wizard Oil acts like a mustard plaster, except that it is more effective and is so much nicer and cleaner to use.

Broiled Sweet Corn.

Take tender, juicy ears, steam fifteen minutes, then lay on a well-greased broiler and toast over a good bed of coals, turning them as they need it until nicely browned.

Nesselrode Pudding.

Take one quart of milk and eight eggs and make a custard. Then stir in a quart of heavy cream, and freeze in the ice cream freezer until it is half stiff. Chop a pound of marrons glaces, remove the dasher and stir them into the cream, thoroughly close the freezer, pack in salt and ice as you would ice cream, and let stand for three hours. Serve on a chilled platter with whipped cream poured around it.

Physicians Recommend Castoria

CASTORIA has met with pronounced favor on the part of physicians, pharmaceutical societies and medical authorities. It is used by physicians with results most gratifying. The extended use of Castoria is unquestionably the result of three facts: First—The indisputable evidence that it is harmless: Second—That it not only allays stomach pains and quiets the nerves, but assimilates the food: Third—It is an agreeable and perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It is absolutely safe. It does not contain any Opium, Morphine, or other narcotic and does not stupefy. It is unlike Soothing Syrups, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, etc. This is a good deal for a Medical Journal to say. Our duty, however, is to expose danger and record the means of advancing health. The day for poisoning innocent children through greed or ignorance ought to end. To our knowledge, Castoria is a remedy which produces composure and health, by regulating the system—not by stupefying it—and our readers are entitled to the information.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. B. Halstead Scott, of Chicago, Ills., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria often for infants during my practice, and find it very satisfactory."

Dr. William Belmont, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "Your Castoria stands first in its class. In my thirty years of practice I can say I never have found anything that so filled the place."

Dr. J. H. Taft, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I have used your Castoria and found it an excellent remedy in my household and private practice for many years. The formula is excellent."

Dr. R. J. Hamlen, of Detroit, Mich., says: "I prescribe your Castoria extensively, as I have never found anything to equal it for children's troubles. I am aware that there are imitations in the field, but I always see that my patients get Fletcher's."

Dr. Wm. J McCrann, of Omaha, Neb., says: "As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine, and aside from my own family experience I have in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home."

Dr. J. R. Clausen, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "The name that your Castoria has made for itself in the tens of thousands of homes blessed by the presence of children, scarcely needs to be supplemented by the endorsement of the medical profession, but I, for one, most heartily endorse it and believe it an excellent remedy."

Dr. R. M. Ward, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Physicians generally do not prescribe proprietary preparations, but in the case of Castoria my experience, like that of many other physicians, has taught me to make an exception. I prescribe your Castoria in my practice because I have found it to be a thoroughly reliable remedy for children's complaints. Any physician who has raised a family, as I have, will join me in heartiest recommendation of Castoria."

Major Sylvester, Washington's chief of police, has made what the Post calls "a wise and timely suggestion," that the horde of guides in the capital be subjected to examination as to their fitness and be compelled to pay a license fee. The Post says: "It is a step which should have been taken long ago, and the proposal can not be put into execution too soon, for some of the Washington guides have displayed a fund of information which, if generally accepted, would necessitate the rewriting of many of the chapters of national history. Not so long ago one of these historians was heard describing to an open-mouthed gathering of credulous victims how Sherman marched his army to the sea over the Anacostia bridge, pointing to the bridge in the distance to prove his new rendering of history, while his auditors responded with a chorus of 'Ohs' and 'Ahs.'"

THE NEWS FROM THE COUNTY

SEQUIM

The Sequim Ditch Co. held their annual election last Saturday. Lew Goldsmith and George Bracket were re-elected, and Peter Govan was elected to take the place of F. T. Balch who has held the office of secretary for over eight years, being elected the first time in May, 1901. He thinks it is time for a younger man to take his place.

The County Commissioners, County Engineer and the farmers of Dungeness met here to look over the situation since the great flood and to estimate the probable cost to make such improvements as would protect the farms along the banks of the Dungeness river. There is great danger of heavy damage to some of the best farms of this section when such freshets occur as the last one unless something is done.

Wm. Wright Sr., bought the Patrick Hill five acre tract, with all household goods, stock, chickens, three cows, 10 tons hay, horse, buggy and farm machinery and tools. It is reported that Mr. Hill and family will go South.

The people interested on the rural delivery route should enter a protest against the way the mail is being handled between here and Port Williams. The mail should be delivered according to the old schedule, in the morning, and then the mail would not have to lay in the post office here until the following day before it can be delivered. Who will make the proper move looking toward the betterment of the service.

Fisher's Bazaar has received direct from Germany a consignment of the original Port Angeles souvenir goods, suitable to send by mail to your friends.

The storms that have prevailed during the past week or ten days off the coast of Washington and Oregon are the worst for many years, according to reports of masters of vessels arriving here yesterday, says the Port Townsend Call, and it is expected that when full reports come in, the toll of the sea will be the heaviest for a similar period in the history of shipping on the Northwest coast.

According to reports brought by the Ethel Zane, arriving at Port Angeles Saturday night, the barkentine Benicia, Captain Hayes, is crippled and almost helpless and is battling with a high sea in an effort to reach the Straits. The Zane spoke the Benicia last Thursday. Her deck load was gone and there was nine feet of water in the hold. When the news of her condition reached Captain Levis of the life-saving tug Snohomish, and the Puget Sound Towboat company's tug Pioneer, both put to sea in search of the distressed craft. When the Zane spoke her she was about 170 miles southwest of Flattery. Since that time a furious storm has prevailed and shipping men express grave doubts as to whether the searching vessels will be able to find her.

Mrs. E. M. Rogers participated in a generous program prepared by the Ladies Musical Club, Seattle, last Monday afternoon. The Seattle P.-I. of Tuesday honors Mrs. Rogers by presenting a very good half-tone of Port Angeles' most accomplished pianist, and says of the lady's work: "The unaffected gracefulness and certainty of touch of Mrs. E. M. Rogers, pianist, made the rendering of the difficult numbers she selected especially pleasing."

Last Saturday night as Mr. Fred Machenheimer and sons were driving home up the Blue Mountain road east of Seibert's creek, their team became frightened at an approaching white cow and doubled back on them, tearing the wagon apart and throwing the occupants out. The elder Machenheimer sustained a broken leg; he was taken to a neighbor's and Dr. Turner called from this city.

QUILLAYUTE BACHELORS' CLUB

QUILLAYUTE, WASH., Dec. 1,'09.

The Bachelor's Club of Quillayute held the first meeting of the season at the residence of Mr. Jas. F. Clark when a splendid time was spent. Speeches and songs were the order of the day, and several new members were initiated. Since the last meeting several of the members have left to worship at the hymeneal altar, and it is to be hoped that as the female population of the county is so small that the present members will be able to pursue the even tenor of their way without passing by on the other side when one of the enemy is seen approaching. Our friend, Jas. F. narrowly escaped the toils this summer, but it is now thought the aforesaid gentleman has too many irons in the fire to get burnt by one. Mr. Jos. Marsh also made a few trips not a hundred miles off but he found it hard on his saddle horse, and right now a saddle horse is valued high.

The Bachelor's Club was inaugurated three years ago for the mutual protection of the bachelors of the west end of the county and has evidently been a success, as all of the young ladies have captured outside game. The club meets on the first and third Saturdays of each month, and any of the bachelors of the West End who would wish for protection against the common foe are cordially invited to join. A dance will be given by the members at the hall at Forks on New Years Eve. The following were chosen officers:

LIMERICK FOR CHRISTMAS

There was an old fellow named Santy
Who had of nice presents a plenty;
But the best went to greed—
And the poor ones indeed—
To the people who hadn't a "centa."

For old Santy said none should be greedy
And most anything does for the "seedy"
But his wife changed the tags—
So the rich got the rags—
And the best of all went to the needy.

We could make clothes expressly for you here at home, but a local tailor shop today is impractical and unprofitable.

It has no labor market from which to secure desirable cutters and tailors —

It cannot afford to install a modern plant designed to reduce cost of production —

It doesn't do sufficient business to enable it to buy woolens direct from the mills —

It cannot keep abreast of metropolitan styles and workmanship.

Therefore, we send our orders for fine made-to-measure clothes to Ed. V. Price & Co., of Chicago.

We can take your measure the same way we would if running shops here, and furnish you your clothes, made as you want them, at 50% less than we could make them locally. Won't you call today?
