ASK FOR FRANCHISE FOR POWER PLANT

Seattle Men Want Contract to Furnish City with Electric Juice for $6,000 per Year.

The Port Angeles Power & Electric Company, a corporation, submitted to the Council Tuesday evening a proposed franchise granting them the right to erect poles along the streets and to construct conduits therein and use them for the purpose of transmission of electrical current, and to charge and collect tolls for the same, for a period of twenty-five years. The company would commence construction within one month after acceptance of franchise of an hydro-electric power plant on or near Little river, capable of producing ultimately 500 horse power, and is to install machinery capable of producing 250 h. p. for immediate use.

Grantee is to deliver to the city, within six months, for its use and sale to customers 75 h. p. of electrical energy, and shall furnish additional power, as city may require from time to time, up to 1000 h. p. Grantee to have right to sell electricity for power and industrial purposes in amounts of ten horse power and upwards, but to furnish electricity for any other purpose or in any other amount, within limits of city, only by permission of city. Grantee not to charge in excess of $50 per horse power.

City may, at its option, at any time within ten years, purchase system for the sum of $100 per horse power, the power factor to be determined by the actual capacity of plant at peak load at low water.

City to pay $500 per month for the 75 h. p. furnished, of any less amount, during life of franchise. Additional amount to be supplied at rate of three cents per kilowatt hour.

Acceptance to be filed within fifteen days after approval.

Grantee gives privilege to assign or mortgage franchise.

Mr. Aldwell, after the reading of the franchise, asked permission to address the council and stated that he wished to speak of a proposition that he was both directly and indirectly interested in, but that he was interested far more indirectly than directly, as while he owned an interest in the Elwha power, the development of which meant less of hard work, and of course the taking of some chances that the financial reward of development might go to his successors, he was also directly interested in it with every citizen of Port Angeles, by reason of the fact that this power, when developed, would mean the building of a large manufacturing city. Mr. Aldwell said he had been here a number of years and that the Council could see that he is interested in the future of the city by the way he has endeavored to develop all properties in which he is interested, but that his belief that we will have a large city is based on the fact that when the Elwha power is developed it will bring factories here.

He said he had just lately interested George A. Glines of Winnipeg in the power, and that Mr. Glines, likewise believing that the Elwha power will build a city here, has invested in the neighboorhood of $100,000 in this city. Mr. Glines is now in the East making arrangements to secure the money for this development, but as it is a large proposition it would take a little time; it could not be done at a moment's notice. Mr. Glines had shown his good faith by paying Mr. Ware $6,000 for a piece of property to use as a reservoir, the transfer being reported by the local papers last week.

Mr. Aldwell also stated that it is his belief there are three factors which enter largely into the building of a town. One was cheap power; another was agricultural lands, and the other railroad terminals. He stated that while we have good land around Port Angeles, we do not have sufficient of it to build a large city, and that we do not have the railroads, but that we do have on the Elwha river one of the finest resources for the upbuilding of a town that exists anywhere on the coast, and that in his estimation this is one of the principal factors which will work towards building a city here. But, said Mr Aldwell, to develop this power it will be absolutely essential for us to have a contract with the city, as that is the nucleus upon which we are now working, and which will be a great factor in securing the money to do the work. A great effort is now being made by the commercial bodies of every city to get cheap power in order that factories may be induced

ASSESSORS CONSIDER TIMBER LANDS

Decided to Assess Land as Well as Timber. No Action Taken on Stumpage Values.

The county assessors of the timbered counties of the state of Washington met Thursday of last week at the Diller hotel, Seattle, for the purpose of a reeing on a minimum assessment on stumpage on lands aside from the timber thereon, and on other matters in which it was deemed desirable that uniform action be taken.

It was agreed that the minimum amount of timber on a forty-acre to constitute it timber land for assessment purposes should be 300,000 feet board measure, and that the minimum assessment on timber land acreage, additional to the assessment for timber, should be $1 per acre.

In the past, timber lands were assessed at $24 an acre in one county and $12 an acre in another, showing that unless each county made the same classification they would not be equally assessed.

The actual cruise of timber lands is the only fair way to assess, and this means an immense amount of work, with a probable cost to Clallam county of $50,000.

The assessors agreed to send to the state tax commission copies of the public timber cruise of each county, with topographical maps and other full information designed to aid the board in making the equalization of taxes.

No definite conclusion was reached as to the proper value of stumpage in each county.

The actions taken are designed to secure uniformity in assessments as between the counties when the values are placed before the members of the state tax commission.

A like session was held in Seattle two years ago and a lot of lumbermen were present, and some of the members of the association said that after all the lumbermen of the state got through talking to them it was impossible to tell whether the lumber interests of the state were an asset or a liability.

Twenty counties were represented in the convention. Assessor David Govan, and Commissioners G. M. Lauridsen and H. J. Bugge were present. Another meeting has been called for Bellingham on March 20.

PLANS OF ELECTRIC COMPANY

The plans of the Port Angeles Electric Company, as outlined by its representatives, contemplate the building of a dam in Little river canyon at an elevation sufficient to bring the water by gravity over the divide into the Tumwater valley and thence by a wood and iron pipe convey the water to a point in the hills outside of the city limits on the 450-foot contour where a power plant will be installed, the water from this plant being discharged into a reservoir to ultimately be utilized by the city or some corporation for the benefit of the city. Later, the pipe line, it is planned, will be extended to tide water and the water not required by the water system will be used for the generation of power.

The initial development will be at Little river, will be of 500 horse power capacity and will be used as an auxiliary station during about ten months of each year, to use the waters of the stream which are then available in excess of the low water flow of the river.

The Electric Company does not contemplate entering the field as a water works company and agrees to sell the water delivered on the 450 foot level above the city to anyone securing a franchise for waterworks in the city or to the city itself at a wholesale rate representing but a small fraction of the cost of piping it from the mountains.

The franchise covers concisely the points of the company's proposition relative to supplying electricity to the community. Some points in favor of this contract as against the present arrangement are: The city will secure at least one-half more current to retail to its customers for the amount of its present expenditure; will receive it 24 hours every day in the year, and will also be assured of an abundant supply at all times to meet all demands for power and light. Another big benefit that cannot be too strongly pointed out is that the company proposes to sell power at a low price for factory use.

Postoffice will be closed Saturday, Lincoln's Birthday, except for one hour after distribution of mail.

AMERICAN WAY DEFECTIVE

WATERWAYS COMMISSION MAKES PRELIMINARY REPORT.

Some Weaknesses of Our System Outlined in Comparison With Other Countries—Increase o Army or Other Trained Engineers Urged.

The national waterways commission, which spent last fall investigating river and harbor questions in Europe, in a preliminary report to congress declares that the existing organization for the carrying on of waterways improvements is defective. The supply of army engineers it says is inadequate and engineers are detailed for too short a time on important projects. Two plans are proposed for remedying this condition: first, to create a corps of civilian engineers, under a department of public works; or, second, to enlarge the present engineer coprs of the army, charging their maintenance to the river and harbor work and not, as now, to the army.

The European System

Relative to methods of financing waterways work the commission would like to see tried in the United States a system of division that has operated very successfully in Europe. Under tha system local authorities pay an adequate portion of the cost of improvements benefittng their immediate localities. It is unfair, the commisson believes, that inland cities should bear a share of the cost of improving cities situated on waterways, especially when such improvements will increase the opportunities of the latter cities to become competitors of the former. The commission believes there should be some method of participation in proportion to the local benefits to be derived. This is the plan all over Europe, where it works to the entire satisfaction of all concerned. Such a policy, it is pointed out, diminishes the number of unwise and unprofitable schemes proposed. Schemes that are not all right will not be pushed if the promoters have to pay their share of the cost; and what is equally important, worthy schemes will be pushed faster, because of the reduced drain on the general treasury.

Concerning the method of financing, the commission says it does not believe in issuing government bonds.

As to the kind of improvements that should be made, the commission commends the system in operation in the United States for more than a generation, and shows it is as good as any in operation anywhere in the world. The commission favors the "open river" system—that is to say, no locks and dams where they can be done away with. This is the German policy, and is peculiarly adapted to the upper Mississippi river, which, the report says, is perhaps better adapted to this kind of improvement than any other stream in the world.

The report strongly urges that local communities have necessary terminals and levee facilities, the charges for them to be regulated by the secretary of war. If this is not done the commission thinks congress should go slowly in the matter of improvements.

Inland Canals Not Favored

The report condemns the construction of canals in the United States under present conditions as being too expensive and not warranted by commercial requirements. It especially recommends that the United States should provide only the main channels leading to central anchorages in rivers and harbors, the local communities to provide the necessary lateral channels leading to docks and wharves The government, the commission believes, ought not to benefit private property by constructing channels to that property. There has been a great difference of practice in this respect, as shown by appropriation bills from time to time, but the comission expects that hereafter there will be no more appropriations for private benefit in the direction just mentioned.

Attention is called in the report to the fact that on all American rivers, the Ohio excepted, terminal facilities are inadequate. Conveniences for loading, unloading and handling freight on these rivers are not as good as in Germany or on the Great Lakes of this country, or along the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. These conveniences, the commission believes, the local authorities ought to provide.

The commission discusses the control of dams in navigable waters and seems to hold that permission ought not to be given for the construction of dams in navigable streams for power purposes. Where the United States owns a dam full charge should be made to anybody using power created by that dam.

A careful comparison is made in the report between conditions in this country and in Europe, and reasons are given why American waterways have not been used as freely as the waterways of Europe.

Relations of Railroads and Waterways

The relations between the railroads and waterways are discussed, showing that the commission is not a unit on this question. The majority seems to hold that there is merit in a system of minimum rates below which the railroads may not go in competing with the waterways for traffic. But this recommendation is opposed on the theory that the public should always have the right of accepting the lowest possible rate for service of this character.

The commission holds that waterway conditions will be benefitted by a system of through bills of lading, through routes and rates and the transfer of traffic at terminal points.

Four bills now pending in congress will be affected by this preliminary report of the national waterways commission—the river and harbor bill, the interstate commerce bill, the general dam bill and the conservation bill providing for the disposition of water on government property within the states.

ABERDEEN CARRIES BALL FIGHT INTO THE COURTS

Seattle, Feb. 5.—Aberdeen's threat to take into court its fight for a base ball franchise in the Northwestern league has been made good. Yesterday, on behalf of the Aberdeen club, Bridges & Brunner, Aberdeen attorneys, filed a complaint in Judge Fraters' department of the superior court of King county. Judge Frater thereupon issued an alternative writ or mandate, requiring the members of the Northwestern league to reinstate Aberdeen or show cause for refusal.

This hearing is set for next Friday at 9:30 o'clock.

At the same time Judge Frater set next Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock, for a hearing on the application of the Aberdeen club for an injunction restraining the league from making up its schedule of games.

The complaint is a long one. Stripped of its legal phraseology and boiled down it means that Aberdeen has appealed to the courts to get back into the league, and that the Aberdeen stockholders will try to prevent the Northwbestern league from operating unless the Black Cats are included in the 1910 circuit. The injunction, if issued, will keep the directors from making up their schedule for the season.

SEATTLE CHINESE TO HAVE NEW LOCATION

Seattle, Feb. 5.—The principal portion of Chinatown, for years located on Washington street, is to be moved. The Chinese propose to move because the present quarters have been outgrown and do not afford opportunity for the local Chinese merchants to develop their trade as extensively as they desire.

An entirely new Chinatown is to be built. Old, out-of-date buildings, with dark basements and small cluttered-up rooms, are to be abandoned for modern buildings carefully designed to house the Chinese population of Seattle.

The site for the new Chinatown will be on King street, between Seventh and Ninth avenues. Work on two of the new buildings has already been commenced. The Quong Tuck Company has a tract 120 by 140 feet at Seventh and King streets. The Wa Chong Company recently purchased the southeast double corner of Seventh avenue and King street. Chinese have purchased double corners at Eight avenue and King, and have nearly a thousand feet of street frontage in that vicinity.

All of this property is vacant, being recently regraded as part of the Jackson street rergade contract. The electric line of the Seattle, Renton & Southern railway passes through the heart of the district.

STATE COLLEGE ARRANGES SERIES OF FRUIT INSTITUTES

State College, Pullman, Feb. 5.—Arrangements have been completed for two series of farmers' institutes, the first on the Yakima valley circuit, February 14 to 19, inclusive and the second on the Okanogan, Ferry, Stevens and Spokane counties circuit February 1 to March 5, inclusive The dates for the Yakima circuit are: Ellensburg, February 14-16; North Yakima, February 15-17; Sunnyside, February 16-18; Grrandview, February 17; Prosser, February 18-19; Kennewick, February 18-19.

Fruit growing and the local problems relative thereto, the treatment of insect pests, irrigation practice and poultry and dairy farming will be the general range of topics.

ASK COMMISSION TO DECIDE

SPECIAL COMMITTEE FAILS TO SETTLE TRANS-SHIPMENT QUESTION.

All Parties to Controversy Agree to Ask Interstate Commerce Commission to Investigate and Settle Matters at Issue for All Time.

Seaattle, Feb. 5.—Railroad officials, lumber and shingle manufacturers and wholesalers, sitting as a special committeeto consider the transit-shipment question in all its angles, yesterday gave up all hope of solving the various questions at issue themselves, and instead decided to request the interstate commerce commission to institute an investigation on the Coast at once and promulgate a ruling settling for all time the transit-shipment questions now disturbing the lumber industry of the Northwest.

Railroad officials representing all the lines serving Northwest lumber and shingle manufacturers heartily concurred in the suggestion advanced by the manufacturers that the aid of the interstate commerce commission be invoked, much to the surprise of many who thought the carriers would resist any attempt to secure the interference of the commission.

Acting on the conclusions reached yesterday, the lumber and shingle manufacturers will at once assume the initiative and invite the interstate commerce commission to institute an investigation and hearing in the Northwest and issue a ruling bidding all the railroads to observe certain rules covering transit shipments and the privileges attending them.

Agreement Not Possible

At the outset of the connference it became apparent that an agreement on the question of transit shipments was impossible. It was shown that there was a diversity of opinion on the part of the railroads between Chicago and the Minnesota Transfer over the question of abolishing transit shipments that could not be overcome by ordinary means. It was shown that these connecting roads fear that they will lose business if the transit shipments, storage and diversion privileges were abolished.

The manufacturers submitted that the transit shipments were a menace to the industry, and that the carriers need only to look to the demoraliaztion of the yellow pine industry and the shingle trade of the northwest to see that it is only a question of time when the Northwest lumber trade will be similarly upset.

Carries Welcome Inquiry

The carriers submitted that they desired nothing so much as to see the lumber industry, which furnishes so large a tonnage, in a prosperous condition, and admitted that, in view of the signed protests recently made by the lumber and shingle shippers of the Northwest, something must be wrong with exisitng shipping rules, and that they would welcome an investigation of the entire question by an unbiased body, such as the interstate commerce commission.

PEACE HAS BEEN ARRANGED

TAFT PROGRAM OF LEGISLATION AGREED TO BY BOTH FACTIONS.

Statehood, Postal Savings Banks Federal Incorporation, Giving President Authority to Withdraw Lands, Creating Court of Commerce on List.

Washington, Feb. 5.—The administration program, as revised by leaders of the senate and house, and given the stamp of White House approval, comprises the following legislation:

Statehood for Arizona and New Mexico in the form of the senate bill, which provides for ratification by congress of the constitution of the new states after approval by the president.

Postal savings banks with safeguards against funds being transferred from sections where originally deposited to the money markets.

Giving the president authority to withdraw from entry public lands desired for conservation purposes or for classification, the withdrawals to remain in froce until revoked by him or by act of congress.

Federal incorporation open to the voluntary application of concers engaged in interstate business and willing to subscribe to federal regulation.

Creating a court of commerce and amending the interstate commerce act as provided by the Townsend-Elkins bill.

Creating a legislative council for Alaska, members to be appointed by the president.

Later in the session it may be decided to make additions to the administration program by adding measures now deemed of secondary importance.

For instance, President Taft has told hiis advisers that he is inclined to come out strongly for ship subsidy in some form, and it is possible he also may urge for passage the bill providing for certificates of indebtedness to the amount of $300,000,000 to provide money to carry on reclamation work.

It was stated by a number of senators that the president had the situation in the house well in hand, and that Republicans, regulars and "insurgents" alike, have agreed to put their shoulders to the wheel and roll the Taft policies through that body.

Assurances were given that there would be no coniflct between "insurgents" and the rules committee. This would be avoided, it was said, by caucuses to be held to design new machinery where any is found to be necessary for the passage of administration bills.

In return for this concession to the "insurgents" it was stated that Mr. Taft had been promised that they would not permit their antipathy for Speaker Cannon to interfere with the program.

ANTI-REBATE LEGISLATION BEFORE SUPREME COURT

Washington, Feb. 7.—The big railroads in the territory north of the Ohio river and East of the Mississippi and the "forwarding agencies" of the East are about to engage in the final round before the supreme court of the United States of the fight over the rights of these shipping agencies.

The contest results from the anti-rebate legislation. The question to be decided is whether the railroads, in refusing to allow the agencies to ship a carload of merchandise made up of parcels from various individuals on carload rates, are unjustly discriminating against them in favor of shippers who own the entire carload shipment.

The interstate commerce commission held that such was an unjust discrimination.

Hay has received a letter from the president of the Hazlewood Company, of Spokane, containing an unusual proposal, which might assist in solving the much discussed problem of the present high price of eatables. The letter has been referred by the governor to the secretary of the agricultural department at Washington. It says:

"As our national government has decided to invetsigate the cost of living, particularly that part pertaining to the distribution of food products, we would like to propose that the United States senate or secretary of Agriculture, or both, put a representative in charge of Hazlewood plant to dictate pirces for ninety days or one year.

"As our plants throughout the Northwest do a business in the neighborhood of two million dollars a year in food products that enter into the actual cost of living, we believe that ours would be the best to demonstrate what is right in the way of profits."

STATISTICS ON IMMIGRATION SHOW ENORMOUS INRUSH

Washington, Feb. 7.—Interesting comparative facts are disclosed in a study of the immigration into the United States for the seven years ended June 30 last, in which time 6,617,155 aliens were admitted, more than 70 per cent of whom came from Southern and Eastern Europe and Western Asia, composed largely of Southern Italians, Greeks, Hungarians, Hebrews, Roumanians, Slavs, Bulgarians, Turks, Armenians and Syrians.

The addition to the population in those seven years was nearly 1,000,000 more than the combined population of California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico, Utah, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, the two Dakotas and Nebraska at the last census—5,878,735.

Estimates are that immigration to the United States in the present fiscal year will aggregate more than 900,000.

This means the commission will assume jurisdiction over all lines that operate outside of the city liimts of any town, whether called interurban or suburban lines.

NEW SOCIETY FOR WORLD PEACE

OBJECTS ENDORSED IN LETTERS FROM PRESIDENT AND OTHERS.

American Society for the Judicial Settlement of International Disputes To Begin Vigorous Campaign of Education—Letters from Taft and Knox.

Baltimore, Feb. 6.—There was organized last night at the residence of Theodore Marburg, the American Society for the Judicial Seattlement of International Disputes, which will devote itself pirncipally to issuing articles by leading men of all countries on subjects indicated by the title of the organization and to organize meetings of national scope in various parts of this country from time to time with a view to educating the people as to the desirability of promoting the peace of the world by settling points of international controversy in the same general way in which differences between individuals are now settled. In the meeting the following letters were read:

"The White House, Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.

"My Dear Mr. Marburg:—I have learned with interest of the plans to form an 'American Society for the Judicial Settlement of International Disputes.' The leaflets which you propose to publish, together with the meetings of national scope which you are planning to hold from time to time, may have a very great influence on the development of public opinion on this important subject. If the proposed court of arbitral justice at The Hague becomes an accomplished fact, there will still remain the task of securing the adhesion of a number of powers to the court, and the very importantt ask of so cultivating public opinion in various countries as to incline governments to resort to the court when the occasion calls for it. There is no other single way in which the cause of peace and disarmament can be so effectually promoted as by the firm establishment of a permanent international court of jutsice.

Sincerely yours,
"WILLIAM H. TAFT."

"Department of State, Washington, D. C., Feb. 3, 1910.

"My Dear Mr. Marburg:—You are quite right in assuming that I take not only a keen personal, but official interest in the movement for which your society is to be organized, for, as you are doubtless aware, I have, in an identical circular note, dated Otober 18, 1909, urged the powers to invest the International Prize Court with the jurisdiction and functions of a court of arbitral justice, thus completing the work of the second Hague peace conference by carrying into effect its recommendation that the court of arbitral justice be constituted through diplomatic channels. Should the identical note be favorably received, and should the court of arbitral justice be thus constituted, the consenting nations would have a permanent international tribunal for the judicial determination of controversies arising out of peace as well as war, and it cannot be doubted that such a tribunal would, in large measure, render to nations the services which national courts have performed for private litigants. By the settlement of controversies susceptible of judicial determination before they have reached an acute stage, the cause of war would be minimized and a first step taken toward the gradual decrease of armament.

"Regretting my inability to testify by my presence the great interest I have in the organiaztion of your society, I am very sincerely yours,
"P. C. KNOX."

Mr. Marburg has also received letters from senators and repesentatives endorsing his plans, including one from Senator Elihu Root, of New York.

LABOR MAYOR SAYS HE IS READY FOR RECALL FIGHT

San Francisco, Feb. 5.—"If the Bohemian and Pacific Union clubs and the gentlemen in skirts who frequent another club in this city want a fight, I will give it to them and to a finish.

"If they ever start the recall, I will see that they get the necessary signers for their petition. We will find out where we stand with the people."

In these words Mayor P. H. McCarthy replied to rumors reaching him that a movement was on foot to invoke the recall system against him as a result of his numerous dismissals from office of holdover city commissioners.

Many Corporations Delinquent

About 15,000 corporations now delinquent in the annual corporation tax will be stricken from the records in the office of the secretary of state on February 23. Attorney General Bell says in an opinion that any method Auditor Howell decides to adopt will be sufficient to strike off the names. Mr. Howell wants simply to mark the index record to show the license had been cancelled, and the attorney general says it is sufficient.

Removal of Flood Tariffs Urged

New York, Feb. 5—Passaage of bills now pending in congress, absolutely removing all tariffs from foodstuffs of whatever description, is declared by President Mahr of the Mercantile Exchange, to be the only real solution of the "higher-price-of-food" problem.

COATS for COLD WEATHER

Fur-trimmed coats are in first favor. They equal the entire fur coat in popularity and are considered a trifle smarter for everyday street wear. The sketch shows three of these coats and one Buster Brown coat, over which is worn a fur mantle.

Women and Civilization.

Woman had little to do directly with the shaping of old civilization, but we can not help thinking that our modern sense of life and its more real and human investment are largely and directly due not only to spiritual qualities and distinctively feminine, but to feminine initiative. In the clarified light of the soul womanhood has been translated.

The woman is still the mother, but maternity has for our modern vision a significance which is not merely physical, but spiritual—in its fullest meaning it is the liberation of humanity for finer uses. She is nearer than man to the new Nature, as she was to the old. But our ultra-modern naturalism has a pellucid atmosphere, full of light, and there is a clearer vision of truth. The humanities and, we might also say, the divinities, have been transformed. A delusive network of sophistication has vanished. The terms "masculine" and "feminine" have no longer their old elemental or conventional meanings.

There is, or there is becoming, a new woman and a new man, and the distinction between them is not one of "spheres." No exaltation of life, here or hereafter, could be humanly interesting or at all human in which woman did not have her proper share and her peculiar distinction. This share and this distinction woman has had in the great modern renaissance. She first brought the creative imagination within homely bounds. But here we touch upon a field to which we must give separate consideration. —Harper's.

Fads and Fancies in Dress

The new colors are all subdued, delicacy and refinement adding charm to their beauty.

Wide wale serges and other coarse weaves are worn by girls more than the smooth cloths.

The newest coiffure is flat in front and piled heavily over the ears. It is called the Brittany.

The new felt hats are lovely, the felt in many cases being difficult to distinguish from cloth.

Many of the handsomest silk gauzes have printed borders which work well into the new draperies.

The spherical button in gilt and also in silver is appearing among the novelties in dress trimming.

Coats for fancy wear have lace insertion on the collar. It is usually placed to form an inset panel. Again, lace is used on the cuffs, entirely covering them, and a belt is designed of lace on the cloth and cut to point low at the front. All pieces are stitched to the jacket.

About the Baby

Food for the Baby.

Make a thin paste with two tablespoonfuls of flour and boil it in a quart of water for fifteen minutes (pour paste in water while it is boiling). Then skim half pint of cream off a quart of milk. To this cream add one and one-half pints of the above gruel and two tablespoonfuls of granulated sugar. If milk sugar can be obtained substitute four tablespoonfuls of it in the place of the granulated. This amount is for twenty-four hours, one-quarter of a pint to be given every two and one-half hours as a feeding.

If the baby won't retain the milk, feed it the plain gruel mixed with the sugar.

This is an old nurse's recipe and has stood the test of time, bringing little ones back to strength and health when all other foods have failed.

Back to the Curves.

Couturiers are following closer the lines of the figure than at the beginning of the season. That is to say that now since Parisians have returned from the country and invested in new corsets, their figures are somewhat more reasonable. The corsetiers have decided that they have been murdering the feminine figure long enough, making only lines and angels where curves ought to be. However, things have not yet adjusted themselves, and the normal figure will not be with us until next spring.

Only Woman Surgeon.

Dr. Rose Ringgold is the only woman contract surgeon in the United States army. When on duty she wears a divided skirt and a uniform coat. She is especially interested in the hospital problem of an army in the field, and has made a study of the work of the Japanese hospital corps in the war with Russia.

Folding the Skirt.

To fold a dress skirt properly for packing and so avoid the crease down the middle of the front breadth, fasten the skirt band and pin the back to the middle of the band in front. Lay the skirt on a table or other flat surfact, right side out, with the front breadth down. Smooth out all creases and lay folds flat. Then begin at the outer edges and roll each side toward the center back until the two rolls meet. In this way the hang of the skirt is not injured, there are no wrinkles and the front breadth is smooth and flat. If the skirt is too long for the trunk fold it near the top and place a roll of tissue paper under the fold.

For Invalids.

Beef Juice.—Take lean round steak. Heat it slightly in a pan over the fire, then squeeze in a warm lemon squeezer. Season with a little salt. Serve in a colored claret glass, as invalids often object to beef juice on account of the color.

Baked Milk.—Put the milk in a jar, covering the opening with white paper, and bake in a moderate oven until thick as cream. May be taken by the most delicate stomach.

Glycerin and Lemon Juice.—Half and half on a piece of absorbent cotton is the best thing to moisten the lips and tongue of a fever-parched patient.

Onion Gruel.—Boil a few sliced onions in a pint of fresh milk, stirring in a little oat meal and a pinch of salt; boil until the onions become tender, and take at once.

Hairdressing Styles.

The Explanation.

"That," explained Charlie, "is to keep his shirt front from getting mussed when the ball knocks his teeth out." —Chicago News.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN CLALLAM COUNTY.

OFFICIAL PAPER

FRIDAY, FEB. 11, 1910

Governor Hay has appointed Att'y J. E. Cochran a delegate to represent Clallam county at the good roads convention to be held at Aberdeen Feb. 23-4.

A Chicago University professor says Chicago has the worst slums on earth. That may be true, professor, but don't you know you'll kill your town if you don't shut up talking that way, exposing corruption.

Out of the one hundred and thirty-four indictments returned by the King county grand jury there were one hundred and twenty-three true bills against saloon keepers, sixteen for violation of the anti-saloon screen law.

The Irondale News, the new paper of the Irondale steel city, issued its first copies last Saturday. To promote the steel industry at home and throughout the Pacific Northwest, is its declared mission. May its success be phenomenal. In this connection we might add that the county board of Jefferson is helping along as much as possible, having agreed to build a road along the beach from Port Townsend to Irondale and to put in a $10,000 bridge over Chimacum creek, as soon as the work can be legally ordered.

That prohibition will be the vital issue at the next session of the legislature is the belief of Governor Hay, according to statements made at Spokane, says the Spokesman-Review. He predicted that a hard fight will be made by the liquor forces at Olympia next winter. He said that he was informed that representatives of the liquor interests have come to Washington from California and are now making a tour of the state, listing the voters in each county. This, in the belief of Governor Hay, indicates that the saloon forces have already begun a systematic fight to control the next legislature.

Since the water cask superceded the whiskey barrel at Dayton drunks and divorces are few compared with the record a few years ago. Prosecuting Attorney R. M. Sturdevant of Columbia county says that one habitual drunkeness case was filed in 1909 for every six the previous year, when Dayton was "wet." The decrease, he claims, is due to the fact that Dayton is now "dry." His report shows only nine divorce cases, as against more than three times as many the preceding year. As most of the complaints of 1908 were for drunkeness, a "dry" town is believed to be conducive to better martial relations.

Mr. Christopherson, who was buying goods in Seattle last week, reports that one of the large outfitting concerns there, handling camping equipment, had orders for specially made goods for surveying crews, from each of the three railroads interested in the development of the Olympic peninsula, and he was told that the house had orders to ship one of the outfits to Clallam Bay, and that they understood the other outfits were to be used in this section. As the preliminary surveying has all been completed and the rights of way largely secured, the returning of surveyors to this field can mean only one thing, and that the setting of grade stakes.

to locate; 50,000 horse power, the cheapest on the coast, can be supplied by the Elwha power. By granting us the right to furnish the city with power at a reasonable rate, the city will be doing its part towards the development of the power, which will build the city, but if they grant the franchise now being asked for by these other gentlemen, said Mr. Aldwell, the city will gain but little, for it will be paying out more than it is now, the money will be going out of town instead of staying here, and the city will be getting nothing in return, as the amount of power that can be developed on Little river would do nothing toward getting industries in, as one good industry would use more than they could develop.

Mr. McKean, replying to Mr. Aldwell, said he had been associated for twenty-five years with power propositions and found they were hard to finance. Mr. Aldwell had been here twenty years waiting for something to be done. He had arrived in town a week ago Saturday at three o'clock, had carefully gone over the ground, had arranged for finances and was ready to build. He said he admitted that it was something of a one horse proposition but it would supply the electrical energy required by this town for the next thirty years If the town should ever require more power, they would be in a position to go and get it. He said they understood how to build water power plants; one had got to have capital; results were the things that count; they were praying for a franchise that was fair

Mr. Aldwell replied, saying that while Little river would develop 500 horse power, they could develop 50,000 and hoped it would require all of that in a few years. All he asked was to be given a chance; he had worked here for years, all that he had been able to make he had invested in improving the city and in acquiring title to the lands along the river. He had just been able to purchase the last of the necessary land; he had interested Mr Glines; they had had the plans drawn; Mr. Glines is now arranging for the money with which to build the plant, and their proposition was all but ready to submit to the city. The possibility of securing a proposition of such magnitude, which would mean so much in the development of the city, deserved serious consideration. If the other company was sincere it could wait a little while.

Mr. Bethel, civil engineer, a member of the company asking for the franchise, stated that they had the money and were ready to go to work at once; they could ultimately develop 2,000 horse power, all the city would need, and he believed the city has already waited a sufficient number of years.

The franchise was then referred to the committee and the city attorney.

The editor of the Tribune-Times threw his forty-seventh spasm last week in the effort to conceal the real state of affairs in the city's lighting business and cover up the sins of omission and commission of members of his bunch. It will take about forty-seven more such spasms to convince the people of this town that the plant hasn't been run to the advantage of private interests.

The T.-T. admits by its failure to deny, every one of the many points we have made in showing up the rotten management of the plant.

The Council admits, by its provisions for improvement of the plant, by its arrangements for a business-like administration in the future, and by resolution (See proceedings, page 6, this paper.) that the accounts of the plant, as kept by its electric light committee since 1907, are in a confused state.

The Olympic-Leader admits that its statement that the plant has cost the city $10,000 in three years was wrong. The taxpayers of the city have paid, are paying, and will have to pay $7,841.16 (less $574.82 indebtedness at the beginning of '07). The total amount of warrants issued for the lighting business in three years is $22,563.89. Total warrants paid from receipts of the plant $14,722.73. In other words, the plant has cost the taxpayers eight thousand above receipts instead of ten thousand.

One of Sequim's prominent booze fighters who spent Saturday in Angeles, got himself into such a pickle that in his sober moments he would hardly have the world at large or even his friends generally know of his condition. He got to bed all right sometime in the wee sma hours, and someone left a call for him for the early morning boat. He was awakened after considerable difficulty and left to reach terra firma alone. Reaching the staircase he plunged head foremost, reaching the bottom on short notice. Here he found himself in an awful predicament, offering the city marshal a dollar to clean him up. "Mon," said Scotty, "I wouldn't touch you for $5." He was picked up after a while and stowed away until he could sober up, when he stole out of town very quietly.

THE ELWHA WATER POWER

What Such a Power Means in the Development of Port Angeles.

Port Angeles is fortunate in having on the Elwha river, right at the city limits, an almost unlimited amount of cheap water power, and this is now the principal recognized factor in building up a large manufacturing city; the country is rapidly growing, old factories are seeking new locations, new factories are coming into the field and the foremost question with them is always where can they get cheap power, as this is an annual charge on the plant.

Commercial bodies in all cities now recognize this and encourage in every way the development of large water powers, which have a capacity sufficient to supply cheap power to large manufacturing concerns. Many cities, where they can, bond themselves for millions for the purpose of developing cheap power to sell to factories. Winnipeg is bonded for three and one-half millions to bring a power 65 miles. Seattle has developed Cedar river power and Hi Gill made his campaign for mayor of that city principally on the promise to further develop Cedar river power to supply cheap power to industries. Other cities are encouraging in every way possible the development of large powers.

The power on the Elwha river is not mythical, as many supposed power propositions are, as a large constant flow of water is essential to have sufficient power to develop economically so that it can be sold in competition with other cities and enable them to secure the establishment of manufacturing concerns.

This power has been examined by F. H. Newell, chief in charge of the hydrographic department of the U. S. Geological Survey, and in the 18th annual report five pages are devoted to it and the power is placed at 10,000 horse power without reservoirs. Mr. T. A. Noble who has had charge of the government power and irrigation work in this state, has also made an examination and reports easily 25,000 h. p. available with reservoirs. Mr. E. W. Cummings, one of the foremost engineers in the state, has also made an examination and reports 25,000 h.p. easily developed. These engineers, three of the most prominent in the country, have signed reports stating these conclusions and have also emphatically stated that this power is one of the best and cheapest developed powers in the United States.

Mr. T. T. Aldwell has been several years in gathering all the essential parts together in order to make it possible to develop the power without endless litigation in securing the properties required. He has had associated with him for several years Mr. R. M. Brayn, a power man in Oregon, who supplied a great part of the money required; within the past year, Geo. A. Glines, a wealthy real estate operator of Winnipeg, has purchased the interest of Mr. Brayn in the power and has undertaken its development. Mr. Glines, seeing the opportunity for building a city here by developing the power, has invested about $100,000 in Port Angeles and vicinity. He is now in the East making arrangements to secure the money for the development, but being a large proposition it takes some time to close the financial negotiations. Mr. Aldwell is also one of our most progressive citizens as demonstrated by the many improvements he has made on his properties, and also one of our heaviest taxpayers, his taxes running well over four figures. Both gentlemen are vitally interested in the upbuilding of the city. And they have both invested relying on the development of the power to build a city here. In financing the development of the power they have found it is absolutely necessary to have the income which will be derived from supplying the city with power, which is the one assured customer here now; with this taken away their success would be impossible until the city has grown large enough to require its development for other purposes, and this might be many years; but with the power developed the city will have a strong inducement to offer manufacturing industries to locate here and assist in building up the city.

ECONOMICAL BUYERS

With prices soaring beyond the reach of the purse of the average man, there is no wonder at the discontent among the bread winners. But natural laws will control this as well as they have controlled other crisises in the history of all people.

We are trying to help, all that is in our power, and will quote you the cheapest goods to buy, everything quoted we will absolutely guarantee.

Gold Star Oleomargarine, 35cts. per pound.

Excelsior Oleomargarine, 25cts per pound.

This is largely creamery butter, the other components are highly nutritious pure animal fats, repeatedly refined, highly pastuerized, making it better and cleaner than most of the creamery butter.

Gladiator Flour, fifty pound sacks, $1.40. This flour is not suitable for yeast bread but makes fine biscuits; is better than the high patents for cakes, pie crust and all pastry.

Compound Lard, 15 cents per pound. The compound we are selling we guarantee to contain more hog fat than any other brand on the market, together with vegetable and animal oils, made perfectly pure by steam.

We have bought enough beef to last us for the next two months and at prices that will enable us to sell as we have in the past.

Boil beef, 8 and 9 cents, roasts 10 to 12½ cts., leg lamb 15cts, leg pork 15cts, loin pork 15cts, corned beef 8 to 10cts, round steak, 12½cts, loin steaks 15cts, porter house 17½cts, chops 15cts.

"Butterfat Alfalfa Meal" can be used to feed any kind of stock without mixing with any other kind of feed; contains three parts carbohydrates to one part protein which makes it a better balanced ration than bran or shorts.

For dairy cows it costs ten per cent less and produces twenty per cent more butter fat than any other feed.

Keeps horses fat, glossy and in fine condition the year round.

There is no waste in feeding, costs less to handle and all stock will eat it to the last particle. One sack, 80 cts., five sack lots, 75 cts. each.

We must have your patronage, for we must have a large volume of business to be able to sell all of our lines very close.

Yours truly,

The Junior Prom held in the A.A.A. Hall, Friday night, February 4th, was in the words of the poet, a "howling success;" not only financially, but also socially. The hall was beautifully decorated with green and white and from each beam was hung large festoons of evergreens making an almost complete covering. The corners were attractively decorated by the respective classes, the Senior's having a college den, the Junior's a forest, the Sophomore's a valentine and the Freshmen showing their patriotic spirit by a national booth. All these added very much to the beauty of the hall.

THE CITY COUNCIL

Electric Light Accounting to Be Done on Business Basis.

A revised draft of the ordinance providing for appointive officers and fixing their salaries was substituted for the one previously introduced, and was passed at the council Tuesday evening. It cuts out the feature of an auditor to keep the books of the electric light plant, as, under the ordinance previously proposed, the mayor might, and might not, appoint the city clerk as auditor. The ordinance is given its official publication in another column.

The council then passed a resolution making Clerk Shields book-keeper of the light plant and fixing his salary at $25. a month, the resolution being as follows:

Whereas, no officer of the city is by law or ordinance required to keep the accounts of the Electric Lighting Plant and said accounts have long been neglected and are in a confused state and it is necessary that a clerk be employed to keep the same, therefore,

Resolved, That C. E. Shields be and he is hereby appointed as the clerk of the Electric Lighting Plant of this city, whose duties shall be,

First. To keep full and detailed accounts of all receipts and expenditures thereof.

Second. To keep all accounts between said plant and the city.

Third. To keep all accounts of its funds and the warrants representing each fund.

Fourth. To keep all accounts between the employees and said plant.

Fifth. To keep all necessary accounts of the property belonging to said plant, with a list of the same.

For his services he shall receive the sum of $25.00 per month, term ending January, 1911.

The council also defined the duties of the electrician to be to collect all dues from consumers, pay the same every twenty-four hours into the city treasury and file duplicate receipts therefor with the city clerk; to read, record and correct all meters, keep in good condition all poles, lines, transformers, and make necessary extensions; to make all necessary inspections of lights in service, electricity consumed, and to correct all abuses which may come to his knowledge and generally superintend the furnishing of lights to consumers; on the 15th of each month he shall furnish the city clerk a full report of all accounts of his collection and file stubs of all receipts. He shall give a bond of $1,000. Salary $40. per month.

Engineer Gehrke reported on the condition of White Creek bridge, that feet of bents are rotten, caps rotten and will have to be replaced, ends of twenty foot stringers resting on caps are badly decayed and one or more spans may drop out at any time, planking and hand-rail must be replaced. Cost of new structnre about $2,200; cost of repairing $800 to $1,000 Structure extremely unsafe and dangerous. Councilman Grubb thought it should be left as it is till the question of raising Front street was settled, as its cost could be included in assessment district. Ordered that sign be posted to effect that bridge was used at peril of drivers.

Attorney G. V. Smith reported that he was unable to find any legal objection to proposed regrading of Front street, especially if improved according to present established grade. As a means of lessening probable litigation he advised that a petition for the regrade either according to the established grade or by a newly established grade be first secured and signed by as many of the abutting property owners on Front street as can be obtained.

Councilman Fitzgerald believed the county should put in the bridge, as it was on the road to Dungeness, and a main thoroughfare, and the State gave the commissioners that power; the taxpayers of the city had already paid into the county bridge fund many times cost of bridge. Commissioner Lauridsen was reported as saying county would pay one-half expense of new bridge; committee was appointed to bring matter before the Board.

M. J. Kerkes addressed the council, saying there were two meters in his his place and he had been compelled to pay 10c. per kilowatt on each meter, the same as though two separate firms were using the current. The council afforded him no relief for the over-charge.

One of the happy social events of the past week was the marriage, in Seattle on Feb. 2nd, of Mr. Frank E. Kallach and Miss Mamie Tyler, both of Piedmont, Lake Crescent. Mr. Kallach was formerly associated with Fred Eacrett as part owner and manager of the launch Olympus, and will have charge of the same next season, Messrs. Mitchell and Christopher of Crescent Hotel, having taken over the ownership of the launch. Mrs. Kallach was the efficient teacher of the school at Piedmont, coming to Clallam county from California, and is gifted with those charms that make and grace a home. Both are popular among their friends, who will wish them a life of happiness and prosperity.

TEACHERS' MEETING AT SEQUIM

The Teachers' Meeting for the teachers in the east end of the county was held in the principal's room at Sequim last Saturday, according to notice sent out to the teachers. The meeting proved to be very instructive and interesting.

Mr. J. C. Meyers, Prin. of Dungeness schools, handled in an able manner the subject, "Assignment of Lessons;" especially instructive was his talk on history.

Miss Jessie Lawrence of District No. 48 gave a very interesting talk on Phonics, which plainly showed she had been putting it into use in her schools.

Mr. Carson, principal of Sequim schools, had a splendid paper on Discipline and the suggestions he gave to the teachers were well worth remembering.

Miss DeVoigne, primary teacher of Dungeness, gave a very instructive talk on Art Work for the 1st grade.

Mr. Carson and Miss Rienhart arranged for a class of children who were taught a 1st grade reading lesson.

The County Superintendent wishes to thank the teachers for taking such an active part in making the meeting a success, both those who took part in the program and those who did not. It is certainly gratifying to have teachers show such a professional spirit.

All the members of the Sequim school board, Dr. L. A. Cook, F. L. Balch and J. H. Jones, were present. Their interest in the school work was certainly manifested. There were also two other visitors. The teachers present were: Mr. Carson, Adella Albers, Ethel Smith and Levina Rienhart and L. Kopa of No. 3, Alyce Durkan 36, Jessie Lawrence, 48, Clara Edwards of 34, J. C. Myers and Elsie DesVoigne of 29. The teachers not prerent were: Edith Moore of 41, J. Engle of 4, Clara Albers of 31, Ida Albers of 1, Louise Higgins of 53, L. Watson of No. 14.

GETTYSBURG

School opened here Feb. 7th for a nine months term.

Everybody is happy over the financial standing of the district. Under the old rule for assessment of timber we had to pay a five mill special tax for a three months term; under the present rule we have only a one mill tax, and have money enough so that we have painted the school house and put up a fine fence around the school ground, and can have a nine months school and be able to pay the teacher decent wages, more in keeping with a rich and prosperous country.

In a recent issue of the Tribune-Times it was erroneously stated hat Green Lake Shingle Co. had bought out Hall Bishop's old logging works. That is not correct, the land is still owned by Seattle Logging Co. O.N.

Should a wife forgive her husband—everything? Should the husband forgive the wife in the same measure? Does the fact that there are children affect matters?

These questions, suggested by Olga Nethersole's new play, "The Writing on the Wall," were asked by a Seattle paper last week, and prizes promised for the best answers.

Miss Marjory Weeks, the sixteen year old daughter of H. J. Weeks of this city, won the third prize, $5.00, in the following:

"A mother may and must forgive in the father what it might be folly to overlook in the husband. For the object of marriage being social as well as personal, the raising of upright men and pure women is primary to its merely personal function. Children sanctify and strengthen this relation by creating new obligations in parents which reach beyond the child to the state.

A wife forgives much to the breadwinner of her child because faithless husbands are often good fathers, while faithless wives rarely make good mothers!

True, there should be moral equality between the sexes. But this does not exist. The reason seems to be that a faithless wife is more disastrous to the stability of family relations upon which rests both the integrity of home and state.

Hence society, while lightly censuring the faithless husband, inflicts its direct penalties upon the faithless wife."

Several very important meetings of the Sequim Athletic Club have been held lately. At a recent meeting the club incorporated and is now recognized as a legal body. The following officers were elected:

W. H. Carson, president.
J. S. Bugge, vice president.
Miss Albers, secretary.
Jim Knight, treasurer.
Dave Dey, S. St. John, Roy Stone, trustees.

Secretary of State I. M. Howell, has authorized the club to do business pending the receipt of the certificate.

There is a rumor in the air of a first class play to be put on by the club in the near future; hope this is true. Everyone should turn out and help the young people pay for the land recently bought from Mrs. St. John, back of the school house, and intended for a park.

HINTS FOR BERLIN FRAUS.

Flapjacks and Pumpkin Pies to Be Made at Exposition Next Year.

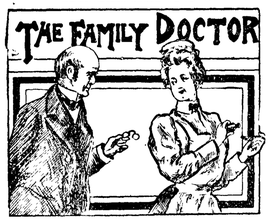
The American woman in all her glory is to be shown at Berlin's American exposition in 1910. Preliminary arrangements for such an exhibit have just been made by Mrs. Norma Knupfel-Lutge, who, despite her Teutonic name, is a native-born American, having just left New York to take up her residence in Berlin, the New York Times correspondent says. She is well known in a managerial capacity in the United States through her connection with important musical enterprises. The celebrated Leipzig Philharmonic orchestra, under the conductorship of Hans Winterstein, toured the country in 1900 under Mrs. Knupfel-Lutge's direction, and Daniel Frohman intrusted Kubelik's first tour of America to her hands a few years later.

Mrs. Knupfel-Lutge's plan is to exhibit feminine America to Germany from all sides, but particularly in the home, in order to show that the hausfrau flourishes in the United States, too. She has proposed to transplant interiors of model dwellings representing every stratum of Yankee womankind, from the working woman to the society queen. Characteristic American kitchens will be seen in the act of turning out such world-famous specialties as flap-jacks, corned-beef hash, pumpkin pies and other things mother used to make.

Special attention will also be bestowed on American feminine toggery, which is so admired by German and other European women.

The department in short is to be a composite of things which make American women, in the estimation of their husbands, the best housekeepers and the best dressers and, all around, the best women in the world.

The promoters of the exposition welcome Mrs. Knupfel-Lutge's project enthusiastically and promise to devote to the department enough space to make it one of the prime attractions of the show. If the management carries out its purpose of having a bevy of typical Gibson girls recruited from various sections of this country to preside over the department, the success of the enterprise is assured beyond the question of a doubt. Maj. Carson, chief of the bureau of manufactures of the United States department of commerce and labor, sends word that the department is doing its utmost to interest American merchants and manufacturers in the Berlin show.



Pellagra.

The dreaded disease called pellagra is common in Northern Italy, in the south of France, in Spain and in countries further east in Southern Europe. It begins with an eruption on the skin, which breaks out in spring, continues till autumn and disappears in winter. It affects those parts of the surface which are always exposed to the sun and the air. The disease is accompanied or preceded by remarkable lassitude, melancholy, moroseness, hypochondriasis and not seldom by suicidal mania. With its progress and duration the disorder becomes more aggravated, with shorter and shorter intervals in winter. At length the surface ceases to clear itself, and becomes permanently enveloped in a thick, livid, leprous crust, somewhat resembling the dried and black skin of a fish. By this time the vital powers are reduced to a very low ebb, and not seldom the intellectual functions as well. The victim loses the use of his limbs, especially of the palms and soles, tormenting the victim day and night. To these severe afflictions are often added strange hallucinations. The disease, when advanced, takes the form of many other maladies, such as tetanus, convulsions, epilepsy, dropsy, mania and marasmus, the patient being at last reduced to the appearance of a mummy. It is mainly confined to the poor residing in the country districts, and is seldom seen in very young children. The cause of the disease is traced to the eating of altered maize, in which putrefaction occurs during the warm season.

Eve and the Apple.

Princess Duleep Singh at a dinner in New York said that she found the American woman a marvel of beauty and the American man a model of good looks and kindness.

"The American man," said the charming princess, "is rightly held up to the world as the pattern husband. In Europe they have a saying about Eve and the apple which shows how wretched a failure the European husband is. This saying is unknown in America, I am sure. It would have no point, no application, here in the land of pattern husbands. The saying is this: "'The evil one didn't give the apple to the man, but to the woman, because the evil one knew well that the man would eat it all himself, but the woman would go halves.'"

Aisle of the Car in Railroad Wreck.

"If you ever get into a wreck," he said, "and have time to follow out this suggestion, remember this: Always stand in the aisle. Most of the injuries that are suffered occur because the victim is crushed between the seats. If you are in the aisle you may be thrown forward and bruised a little, but there is much less chance of receiving serious hurts. It isn't always possible to get out of your seat before the crash comes, but if it is follow that advice."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

PILES

"I have suffered with piles for thirty-six years. One year ago last April I began taking Cascarets for constipation. In the course of a week I noticed the piles began to disappear and at the end of six weeks they did not trouble me at all. Cascarets have done wonders for me. I am entirely cured and feel like a new man." George Kryder, Napoleon, O.

When Man Was a Marine Animal.

It was M. Quintan, a French physiologist, who several years ago wrote a paper to show that the colorless fluid in which the red corpuscles of our blood float and which is called the "blood serum" is the same fluid as that which constituted the primeval sea. The earliest forms of life which floated in the primeval sea were such that the cells and tissues of which they were constituted were always bathed by this primeval fluid. When silica became a constituent of the sea these animals may have coated themselves with silicious coverings, but many of their cells were still bathed by the fluid, and some of them as they passed from the sea to the land may have closed up their alimentary canals, so that a distinction arose between their internal organs and their outer superficies, but still, for the good of their cells, they still bathed them in the saline fluid. To do so more effectively they took the saline fluid ashore with them in the form of a blood serum, and it is this blood serum which we carry about with us to-day, the most evident relic of the age when we were marine animals.

Coin, bonds and jewels, valued at more than thirteen million dollars, have been recovered from the ruins of Messina and are now in the hands of the Italian government. As whole families were destroyed by the earthquake and fire, the claimants of this treasure will find it difficult to prove their title, especially if they are distant kinsfolk of the dead. The government will therefore have to retain possession of a large part of it.

THE NEWS FROM THE COUNTY

SEQUIM

Last Saturday, the 5th, most of the teachers of this end of the county showed their appreciation by gathering at the Sequim school house to discuss the best methods of teaching the different branches in the schools. A number of the teachers gave some fine talks that were greatly appreciated by other teachers. Our directors showed their interest by all three being present. Everyone took an interest and enjoyed the meeting. It is a pity the teachers could not get together more often to discuss their different methods of teaching; much benefit would result to teachers and schools, and parents would oftentimes also receive instruction as well as encourage school work if they would more generally attend these meetings.

Herman Sindars, Sr., has his fine home at Sequim nearly completed. Sequim township is being settled up very fast and everyone is getting their lots finely improved. We will soon have a town to be proud of.

Mrs. Ida E. Dinsmoor of Port Angeles was visiting with Mrs. F. T. Balch Sunday and Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Stuart are very proud of the nice little girl that came to them Jan. 30. Both mother and baby are well.

Lewis, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Goldsmith, while playing with his smaller brother, fell out of the buggy and broke a leg, Tuesday. Dr. Cook was called; the child is getting along finely.

George Brackett is using dynamite and will soon have his place cleared of all stumps.

Robert Long has his tram car ready and is putting down a long track into some fine timber where he will soon be using his donkey engine to haul in the big logs.

LeRoy G. Wilber is doing some slashing on his fifteen acres.

L. C. Dey will soon have his ranch near town cleared of all stumps.

Charley McDougal is also cleaning out the stumps on his place with the aid of dynamite.

FORKS.

Ben Hagadorn, son of Mrs. M. E Hagadorn of Quillayute, was undoubtedly drowned in the Dicky on Tuesday, Jan. 25, although at this writing his body has not been recovered. On the above date he left his mother's place, to go to his house on the Dicky, intending to visit his traps. Not returning that night, as he was intending to do, the family became alarmed and, on Wednesday morning, his brother Harry went to his place, finding the house locked and no trace of Ben. Following down the river, about a mile below the house, Harry found Ben's boat lodged near the shore. In it were his overcoat, gun, and the boat paddle. It is supposed that he was poling, and getting into deep water, lost his balance and fell overboard to his death. As soon as a searching party could be summoned, every effort was made to find the body. But the river was high and muddy, and the search was unavailing. The following week the river was lower and Mr. Wesley Smith gathered a party of Indians and the search was renewed, but without success. Fred Hagadorn has since returned home and further efforts are being made. The family have the deep sympathy of all who know them, in the sad affliction which so suddenly has removed a son and brother. The deceased was universally respected for his genial spirit and industrious and upright life.

Roy Whitcomb and family left on Tuesday last for Neah Bay, where Mr. and Mrs. Whitcomb will be teachers in the Indian school. Roy's health has been considerably improved lately, and his friends hope that the change of occupation, with medical treatment, will lead to his entire recovery.

There was a good audience at church last Sunday night, Pastor Oakey paying a glowing memorial tribute to the great Emancipator.

MOUNT PLEASANT

Mr. and Mrs. Cameron are moving here; they have brought four two horse loads of furniture, a new wagon and a fine $300 horse.

The friends of Mr. Edward Dorr gave him a birthday party on his 89th anniversary. Mr. Dorr is hale and hearty, and it does one good to meet and talk with such a man as he.

The neighborhood gave a farewell party to Mr. and Mrs. Teague, who are going to take charge of a large wheat farm in Eastern Washington. We are sorry to lose them; they are jolly people and were good neighbors.

We surely hit "Pioneer" in the right spot, as she bellowed like a spring calf, and that lie coming from "One of the Bunch" is no surprise, as that is the only stock in trade any of that bunch deal in. Cindy.

DUNGENESS

Mrs. L. Campbell, of Seattle, organizer for the Good Templars, was in town this week and organized a junior temperance lodge in the school. Twenty-two of the children joined with Miss Des-Voigne, the superintendent. The children are all very proud of their badges. We hope and believe this organization will be of help to the children.

Miss Ada Mathewson, of Port Angeles, visited Mrs. F. E. Knight, Sunday.

Mrs. H. R. Merrill has been confined to her bed since Friday.

Mrs. T. Evans has returned to her home after a week's visit with Mrs. Al. Evans.

Mr. James Dick is in Seattle on business.

The steamer Lucy Neff from San Francisco unloaded fifty tons of alfalfa for the creamery Wednesday.

Mrs. A. H. Fitzgerald died Wednesday morning of dropsy. Mrs. Fitzgerald has been here four years. Her sudden death comes as a shock to all her friends. She was the mother of Mrs. LeRoy Alexander.

Chinese new year is at hand and the smiling sons of the Celestial Empire are making merry in their usual manner with fire works and feasts.

Mr. Wm. Race, of Port Angeles, is here building a thirty-five foot four horse power gasoline launch and several skiffs for Mr. C. Haines.

Mrs. Alfred Cays has charge of the table at the hotel now. Mrs. Cays is known as a good cook and expects to furnish good board for her guests and boarders.

The Improvement Club held a card party Saturday in the hall. A large crowd was in attendance and all had a good time. Mr. E. A. Brooks won the prize, a gold scarf pin. He must have been born under a lucky star. He won a fine doll Christmas and expects to win about everything worth getting—and he seems to be doing it.

A Valentine social is planned by the Ladies' Aid, Monday.

Miss Lucille Bunnell, of Lost Mountain, has been visiting Mrs. F. Wingo. She expects to return home next week.

Tuesday night, Mr. L. Roberson died at his home of congestion of the brain. Mr. Roberson leaves a wife and two small children and a large number of friends to mourn their loss. Early in the fall he was operated on by Dr. McGillivray in the hospital at Angeles. The operation revealed the nature of the disease that has been troubling him for several years. The family have lived here for twelve years or more. Mr. Roberson was but a young man and his death was a shock to the community. The funeral was conducted at the house Friday afternoon by the Rev. H. R. Merrill.

BLYN.

Mr. Spearing came home Sunday but left again for Seattle the same day. He expects to bring back two more scows of machinery for the camp. Three came in for them last Sunday.

Mr. De Barros has sold his place to Mr. Zaccardo. Mr. De Barros and son Charlie are now in Port Townsend looking for a new place.

Mrs. Laura Wallace has been very sick but is now on the road to recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Odell's youngest boy, Floyd, aged 5, has been paralyzed in his left side.

A foreign boat arrived at quarantine station last Sunday and is now being held there on account of smallpox.

Many young folks think they are having a hard life when they have a good home and parents to take good care of them. But what about Laura Reposa, a girl of 12, who has to be mother to seven younger brothers and sister, the youngest 3 years old. She keeps house, sews, cooks, bakes and washes for them all. She has a brother 14 who is head man on the place and runs the ranch by himself. Last Sunday while Laura was trying to build a fire she poured kerosene in the stove and started to blow upon the cinders when it blazed up in her face, burning it to a blister; but still she kept right on with her work but is much better now. Their mother has been dead a little over a year and the father works in Hadlock. They have an older sister, 16 years old, who lived with them until last fall when she got married. There are also two older brothers one of whom is married and the other works in camps.

"THE STUPID CITY ATTORNEY STILL IN THE FOG"

If he had studied the plain provisions of our statutes, the constitution and our earlier Supreme Court decisions more, and depended less on the opinions of the eminent counsel of Tacoma and Seattle who doubtless had never studied the questions and cared little about them, he could at least have known better than to get the city into this useless litigation.

His vision seems as bad as ever, when after reading the plain clean cut decision on the questions raised, he can with any honesty say, as he did, "the ruling against the city is an empty technicality not previously announced by that court, and not made clear by statutory law, the result of a theory", or as he did "if Morse can keep possession others can take possession of all our streets by any unholy method and use them for other than wharf purposes and there could be no municipal administration of their use and control", whatever he means by that term, or that "the decision has forced a responsibility upon the council, involving the muncipal control of the water front at the terminus of the streets" etc. All wild vagaries—childish nonsense—driveling rot.

While the court need only have decided the one question, the first one decided, that, as contended by my counsel, the alleged franchise was not a franchise, at the special request of the city attorney (and the court no doubt supposed it to be an honest request) and the request of my attorney, in order that future litigation be avoided, it did go on and decide the other two vital points raised and discussed before it, viz: That Sec. 938 of Ballinger's Code is, as contended by my attorney, limited to and applies only where the city owns or has title to tide land water front, as in case of individual or other fee or lease ownership therein.

And that Sec. 4077 of Ballinger's Code, as contended by my attorney, which was the only other section upon which the city claims or can claim any such power, has been done away with by reason of the adoption of the Constitution and the state laws passed governing tide lands and harbor area in front of them.

To make and publish such contention can be but for one object, to deceive the council, and the taxpayers who have been so wronged by such action, and to inspire in them a desire that he further pursue his spleen against me and to get their money with which to do it.

He and this council should have done as the scores of city attorneys and hundreds of city councilmen (in fact all attorneys and the city councils of every Puget Sound city on Puget Sound waters) have done, not only since statehood but ever since the year 1854 of territorial legislation. And our city attorney and council are the only people in Washington who have not and do not take the Constitution and the laws as they plainly read and have been plainly interpreted by decisions of the court similarly to its decision now rendered.

The Constitution says: "This area (harbor area) shall never be sold or granted by the State, nor its rights (the rights of the State) to control the same ever relinquished, but all of such area (not that part only in front of lots) shall be forever reserved for landings, wharves, streets and other conveniences of navigation and commerce."

The 1895 laws creating the Board of State Land Commissioners and defining their duties, place harbor area (all harbor area) within their absolute control the same as school lands, tide lands, oyster lands and shore lands of the state. And all are equally and entirely controlled by the Board just as completely and solely when any such lands or harbor area is within as without the limits of the city.

That is why other cities have paid no attention to it; other cities have seen fit to attend to their business and let the Board of State Land Commissioners attend to its business. The framers of the Constitution and law makers since could not have used language plainer.

Among the early decisions of the Supreme Court was a decision that the law of which said Sec. 4077 was a part, was done away with by the Constitution and later laws, and it could do nothing less than to so hold as to this particular section.

It is no wonder that no other cities got so muddled; no wonder that no other cities ever conceived the brilliant idea of selling rights in plain violation of constitutional and legislative acts of our law makers; no wonder that in all the territorial days of Washington no other city even then attempted or thought of such folly, or piracy rather, for there never has been a section of territorial or state law whereby cities could make merchandise of wharf rights, and in fact there have always been plain statutes that forbid such being done.

There is no wonder that no other city has so openly defied the Constitution and laws of Washington as to take from the State Board its powers to regulate all wharf charges and delegate them to the city council, as by Sec. 4 of its pretended franchise the city council of Port Angeles has assumed to do.

Besides, the tax payers will not appreciate your appeal to be permitted to pursue further your folly, while they are wading streets of which its Front street even is reported as the worst mud hole from Sequim Bay on the east to the ocean front on the west, and our sidewalks used at our peril.

Neither will the long suffering public much, if any, longer permit its money to be used in such manner, when it knows from your actions and those of some of the council that they are letting others pay one dollar a month for which you are suing me to pay ten.

Neither will they be satisfied with your flimsy excuse that it is because the other dock had bad luck or misfortune, for even if you were right in your contention, you have no more legal right or moral right to allow them a credit of ten dollars a month for five years (less one dollar a year), or $595.00, than to donate them a like sum; and that they have no more right to donate the city's money to the construction or operation of a private dock than to donate a like sum to Frank Miller, Merrill, Gray, or Grubb, in case their places or business were washed away or burned down.

The City Council has absolutely no right to compel the Morse Wharf Co. to keep up the street leading to its dock. The Council knew this when, the first of 1909, it paid back to Grub and his associates $100 they had spent on the approach to their wharf, but they refused to either repair the street or return the money that the Morsr Wharf Co. was compelled to spend to make the street safe.

The further you go, the higher you climb, the plainer the exterior view or spectacle you present to the taxpayers whose interests you have so flagrantly misrepresented.

If your demonstrations of honesty were sincere you would, instead of seeking to wreak further vengeance on me, you and the council would rather see that I was in some way made whole for the $800.00 the city has unlawfully and in so high handed a manner wrenched from me.

You have no more right to hold me up for cold cash to operate a wharf over harbor area waters than to hold up the vessels as they sail over them, as they voyage up and down the sound.

Neither does the suggestion made by the court that streets may be platted through harbor area waters have any more application to the law questions involved in this case than does the law as to community property rights, or legal rate of interest. That would only affect the city's right insofar as relates to police control and regulation, but would vest it with no rights to make merchandise of the harbor area waters in front thereof, or to demand or receive money therefor.

The city attorney says if the Morse wharf had been extended in capacity to meet the growing needs of freight shipments it would not have been necessary for the city council to encourage the building of the other dock. The truth is that the City Dock was built for the express purpose of taking away the business of the mail and passenger steamers from the Morse dock. There was no business for another dock for the shingle industry had not been developed. One of the principal stockholders boasted that he would make the grass grow in the street in front of Day's hotel, at the approach to the dock. When he failed to secure the landing of the mail steamers the dock simply had to lie idle; it was nearly a dead loss for years. Save for a short time, and in a limited way, it never handled any freight but shingles. Had it not been built, the Morse dock would have been enlarged; if it be not rebuilt the Morse dock will take care of the freight. We have always been ready to enlarge our dock at any time to accommodate the business.

The city attorney would not be more stupid if he were to avdocate, in case Mr. Grubb's hotel should burn down, that his saloon license should be reduced to one dollar a year, as an encouragement to him to rebuild, because Day could not accommodate the entire business. It would be no more of an injustice for the council in which Grubb is a controlling spirit to make Grubb's license one dollar a year and compel the others to pay $300 a year each, than it was for the council to discriminate between the dock in which Grubb had a large interest, and the Morse dock.

In conclusion I would suggest that the stupid city attorney resign his office. This would give the present city council an opportunity to select competent legal advice.

Respectfully,
D. W. MORSE.
