County Citizens Welcome at PenPly Open House Saturday

The officers and directors of the Peninsula Plywood Corporation are inviting the citizens of Clallam county to an open house Saturday afternoon between the hours of one and five, to inspect the new office building on Marine Drive and tour the manufacturing plant.

Starting at one o'clock corporation officials will be at the office to conduct visitors through the office and plant.

Occasion for the open house is the completion of the office building constructed of 11 varieties of exterior and interior plywood, six varieties of which are native woods peeled here. Being observed also is four years of successful operation of the plant that manufactured its first plywood here in November 1941.

Present for the open house will be representatives of other western plywood plants and notable figures in the industry and representative of civic groups here.

Hosts for the afternoon will be Philip Garland, general manager and the officers and directors assisted by other members of the corporation.

In honor of the event, the Port Angeles Evening News is publishing a 22-page special plywood edition with 15 pages devoted exclusively to stories and pictures about the local plant and the plywood industry in general.

Saturday afternoon from 4:30 to 5 o'clock there will be a special broadcast over station KONP by direct hookup from the PenPly office in which corporation officers will participate.

Dial Telephones Start Operating At Lake Crescent

Lake Crescent telephone subscribers began dialing their telephone numbers today, according to Claude W. Molchior, manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company for the Port Angeles district.

The new dial system, the first of its kind here, which is of a type especially designed for small telephone exchanges, cost approximately $10,000 including the cost of a small building. The building, which is 10 by 15 feet in size and of concrete construction, was completed last winter.

There are 25 telephones in the exchange now, with several more to be added during the summer season. The new equipment is large enough to provide for estimated growth for several years. Power is furnished by a gasoline engine and generator. After the cutover to the new dial equipment, the company plans to dismantle and remove the old telephone building, Mr. Molchior said.

Mrs. Minnie Lewis, who has been agent and operator at the Lake Crescent exchange for the past 17 years, will move to Port Angeles and be employed in the traffic department of the company, Manager Molchior announces.

FIREMEN DOPE IT BY INTUITION?

TACOMA—(AP)—Fire completely destroyed the home of Wayne G. Bullock in the Midland area of Tacoma last night while Bullock and his family were absent.

Midland fire department officials said they believed the blaze was started by field mice chewing their way into a box of matches. The loss was estimated at $5,000.

After Half of Disabled Tanker Leaves This Port

In tow of three tugs, the after half of the wrecked oil tanker Donbass left Port Angeles Thursday afternoon in time to be hit by the strong southwesterly wind that blew in this area. The tugs were due at Winslow, near Seattle, early this morning.

After retrieving the heavy anchor chain used as a hawser to tow the disabled hulk from the north Pacific to this port, the American tanker Puente Hills left here late Thursday and arrived at Seattle at 11:05 last night.

Titania (it means "child of the gods") Pervina, slept today, cradled in the 10,000 ton steel tanker Puente Hills aboard which she was born on the stormy Pacific eight days ago when act of God wrecked the Russian tanker Donbass aboard which her mother was a baker.

Twenty-three-year-old Galina Pervina, the mother—wife of a Russian army captain serving in Berlin—had planned that her babe would be born in Vladivostok. But the Donbass, caught in an Aleutian islands storm, broke in two and its after section was taken in tow by the Puente Hills.

The Puente Hills arrived at Seattle with five Russian women, 18 men and Titania, after surrendering her tow at Port Angeles yesterday to seagoing tugs. The stern section of the Donbass also has 24 Russians aboard.

Titania already has captured the hearts of all aboard the Puente Hills, a Los Angeles tanker, and is "a cute little ol' kid," according to Thomas Glynn Morris, Houston, Tex., chief steward, who assisted Jerry Bradbury, Cleburne, Tex., purser and pharmacist, at her birth. Edward (Irish) Kozlowski, third assistant engineer, from Chicago, the only Russian-speaking member of the Puente Hills' crew, acted as interpreter.

Mrs. Mary Jane Wangenheim, wife of a Puente Hills crew member, was waiting on the Seattle dock with a complete layette for the infant, purchased with a telegraphed donation of $100 by the Puente Hills crew.

The baby's outfit was sent aboard immediately, but customs and immigration officials were the only persons allowed aboard the tanker.

It was learned last night that Mrs. Pervina is the wife of a Russian army captain who is on duty in Berlin.

UNLOADED GUN AGAIN

TACOMA — (AP) — Robert Ourtell, 24, and David G. Rose, 30, were injured by one bullet from an "unloaded" gun here last night. Both men were admitted to a hospital and were reported to be recovering.

Lake Sutherland Gets Half Million Silver Fingerlings

The planting of half a million fingerling silver trout in Lake Sutherland, is anounced by Boyd King, protector for the state department of game. The silver trout were hatched and reared in the state game department's hatchery at South Tacoma and it took two trips of the big tank truck to bring them here.

Protector King said that 50,000 young rainbow trout will be planted in Lake Aldwell before the end of March. The trout will be brought here from the state hatchery at Aberdeen.

Protector King said that unless some fingerlings become available from source not known at this time, the plantings in Lakes Sutherland and Aldwell will complete the state game department's 1946 plantings in Clallam county.

200 Visiting Eagles Expected Here for District Meeting

Port Angeles Aerie of Eagles will entertain 150 visiting Eagles Saturday and 200 Sunday afternoon when a district meeting will be held from 1:30 to 4 p.m.

Arrangements have been made for a short parade through the business district at 7:15 this evening by the Seattle Eagle band, and a short band concert in front of the Eagles' hall after the parade.

Seattle Aerie officers will take over the initiatory ceremonies Sunday afternoon when a large class of new members will be initiated. Several state Aerie officers will attend.

Frank Cohen, past president of Port Angeles Aerie, now living in Bremerton and a member of the Aerie there, will preside over the meeting Sunday afternoon as district director.

P. A. General Hospital Purchased By Local Doctors

The Port Angeles General Hospital has been sold by Dr. Will H. Taylor and Dr. D. E. McGillivray to a group of four local doctors. The purchasers are Doctors L. A. Schueler, R. S. Hamilton, James McFadden and Quentin Kintner, who took over the management the first of the month, according to Dr. Schueler, spokesman for the group.

Built prior to the first world war by John Cain as part of a development of the Francis street area for a business district, the building stood idle for many years until renovated and opened as a hospital in 1927 by Dr. Walter Taylor, Dr. Will Taylor and Dr. McGillivray.

The institution has continued under the direction of the latter two since that time, Dr. Walter Taylor having passed away some years ago.

Present owners are continuing operation with the same staff under direction of Mrs. Margaret Buss, Dr. Schueler said.

It is an approved hospital meeting the requirements of the American Hospital Association and will be operated in this manner with a plan of gradual improvements, he declared.

Must File Tax Returns Tonight

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Millions of Americans — possibly 20,000,000 or more — must file tax returns by midnight tonight or face penalties.

A revenue bureau spokesman hazarded a "rough guess" that hardly more than half the approximately 50,000,000 individuals who must file returns on 1945 income did so before today.

Of those who did, however, 7,500,000 already have received refunds totaling more than 300,000,000 — an average of $40 each — the bureau said, promising all refunds will be paid by July 4.

A minority of those yet to file before midnight deadline — perhaps a fifth of them — must also file estimates of 1946 income. In general, these are:

1. Persons earning more than $5,000 in wages annually.

2. Wage-earners getting more than $100 income from other sources.

3. Non-wage earners earning over $500 a year, who do not have taxes deducted under the withholding act.

Treasury figures show all income tax collections since the start of the year have been higher than last year, running around $6,300,000,000 so far this year against around $6,000,000,000 for the corresponding period of 1945.

VA and Medical Men Work on Details of 'Home Town Care'

SEATTLE—(AP)—Washington and Oregon medical officials met with Col. R. E. Elvins, deputy surgeon general of the Seattle branch area of the veterans administration, today to work out details of planned "home town care" of veterans with service-connected disabilities.

Contracts have been signed with the Washington State Medical Bureau and the Oregon Physicians' Corporation to provide such services, starting April 1. The meeting may run over until tomorrow, a spokesman said.

Meeting with Colonel Elvins were James P. Neal, executive vice president of the Washington State Medical Bureau, John Steen and J. P. Connors, managers of the Olympia and Spokane offices, Willard Marshall, manager of the Oregon Physicians' Corporation, Portland, and Drs. L. O. Carey and A. W. Schulz, medical officers of the Portland and Seattle regional offices of the veterans administration.

A full outline of what veterans must do, the number of doctors available and similar information will be worked out and should be ready for announcement early next week, the veterans administration office said.

ALCOA PURCHASES ALASKAN CAMP

KETCHIKAN, Alaska—(AP)—The Alaska Spruce Log Program has sold buildings and equipment at "camp three" on the west side of Edna bay, Kosciusko island, to the Alcoa Mining Co., a subsidiary of the Aluminum Company of America, C. M. Archbold, supervisor of the U. S. foresty service said yesterday.

Alcoa geologists have completed surveys of a limestone deposit in the area and a contract has been awarded for diamond drilling equipment. Drilling crews are expected to arrive in mid-April.

It was reported unofficially that the limestone would be used in aluminum production by the Kaiser interests, which also use it in production of cement.

Pilot Says Russ Fired at Him Near Darien, But Apparently 'Wasn't Trying to Hit' Him

PORTLAND, Ore.—(AP)—An American pilot said today a Russian fighter fired at his navy plane near Darien, Manchuria, last October but apparently "was not trying to hit us."

The navy disclosed March 1 that the United States had protested to the soviet for two attacks on navy planes off the Manchurian coast—one last October, one in February.

Lt. (jg) Roscoe W. Duncan, Portland, said today his unarmed Mariner patrol plane was fired upon between October 12 and 15, and "I assume it is the same incident the navy has anncunced."

ROUTINE PATROL

Duncan, first pilot on the plane, said they were flying a routine patrol out of Tsingtao, China, and had approached to about three miles from Darien when they turned and headed back to sea.

"About 20 to 25 miles out this plane came alongside," Duncan recounted. "We classified it as a Stormovich, single-seater fighter. We thought at first he was just playing with us. Then he climbed to about 1,000 feet and we saw him test fire his guns. Then he came down head-on at us and opened with a burst. He made only one pass at us and I don't think he was actually trying to hit us."

HAD NO AMMUNITION

The crew was "plenty burned up," Duncan said. "He could have shot us down. The war was over, and we were carrying no ammunition for our guns."

Duncan said the soviet plane left after the one burst of fire. The crew reported the incident upon return to the base. "The next day an order was issued stopping our patrol flights," Duncan said.

Patrol Plane Commander Lt. (jg) W. F. Fox of Boston was piloting the Mariner.

STUDENTS 'AIR TOUR' SEATTLE

SEATTLE—(AP)—Thirty Prosser high school seniors "air toured" Seattle today in eight planes and all were enthusiastic over what was in most cases a first airplane trip.

"They got a big thrill out of looking down on a city as big as Seattle," F. L. (Frosty) Allread, operator of Aero Service, said. They also visited various points of interest and were to return home tonight.

President Says He's Not Alarmed By Russ Moves

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A Russian communication delivered to Secretary of State Byrnes today by Nikolai V. Novikov, soviet charge d'affaires, dealt with economic and commercial matters and had nothing whatever to do with the American notes on Iran and Manchuria, the state department said.

This development on the diplomatic front came in the wake of President Truman's comment yesterday that he does not consider the current international situation as fraught with danger as many people believe.

WE'LL WORK IT OUT

"I'm not alarmed by it," he declared, giving his permission for direct quotation. "I'm sure we'll work out of it."

Sensitive to the current drift of foreign affairs, the house leadership sought quietly meanwhile to stem the flood of members' speeches rapping Russia and other wartime allies. The time is not appropriate, one of these leaders told a reporter privately, for "Russia-baiting."

Some lawmakers, too, cross their fingers on what might develop in the speech Winston Churchill makes tonight in New York.

There was considerable speculation over the reasons behind the decision of Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson to cancel his plans for attending the dinner in honor of the former British prime minister.

HEATED RUSS REACTION

Pressure of other business was given as the reason. However, legislators were not unmindful of Moscow's heated reaction to Churchill's Missouri speech or of the significance the soviets might attach now to the presence of a high government official at a follow-up address. Mr. Truman introduced Churchill to his Fulton, Mo., audience.

The chief executive voiced his confidence of bettered world relations yesterday at a news conference in which he scotched reports of trouble between him and Secretary of State Byrne.

Iran Will Fight If Russ Move on Tehran

TEHRAN, March 14—(Delayed)—(AP)— Gen. Ahmed Sepehbod Amir Ahmedi, minister of war, said today the Iranian army was "ready to fight to the last man" if Russian troops move toward Tehran from Karaj, 20 miles northwest of here, where he said trainloads of troops and ammunition are arriving nightly.

"Iran has shown to the world it is a peaceful nation, but if Russia commits an overt act, not only every soldier but every boy and girl in the streets will fight to defend their capital," the general said in an interview immediately following an audience with Mohammed Reza Pahlavi, shah of Iran.

The shah, he said, plans to present the Iranian question again to the United Nations security council, which will meet in New York city later this month.

Ahmedi said the Russian garrison at Karaj had been "increased fourfold" and that there were "three times as many Russians in Azerbaijan as a month ago."

British Say Soviet In War of Nerves

LONDON —(AP)— Britain considers that the reported Russian troop movements in Iran are a part of a "war of nerves" and attributes the tension to the soviet breach of the agreement to withdraw from the country by last March 2, qualified diplomatic sources reported today.

These sources said the British take the position that one of the consequences of soviet troops remaining in Iran is that any reports of troop movements inevitably give rise to every kind of anxiety.

A body of troops, a foreign office spokesman said, was reported by British representatives to have left Tabriz toward Tehran but 'the capital is a long way down the road, thus it is impossible to draw any conclusion.'

"All I can say," he concluded, "is that Russian troops are in Iran and they should not be there."

SLIGHT QUAKE HITS SO. CAL.

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— A slight earthquake jarred southern California early today but no damage was reported. The first shock was felt at 5:30 a. m., Pacific time, and a second about 20 minutes later.

They set light fixtures swinging in downtown Los Angeles buildings and in some localities stopped clocks.

They were felt from Niland, in the Imperial valley of extreme southern California, to the San Joaquin valley in the center of the state. San Bernardino, to the east, and Ventura and Santa Barbara, to the northwest of Los Angeles, also reported shocks.

Canada Arrests House Member in Espionage Case

By Harry T. Montgomery

OTTAWA—(AP)—Canada accused a member of its parliament today of violating the official secrets act and charged four government scientific workers with transmitting confidential war secrets to Russia, including details of a super-explosive known as "RDX."

Fred Rose, known as the only communist ever elected to the Canadian house of commons, was arrested after a parliament session last night and formally charged today. Rose belongs to labor progressive party, which absorbed the communist party when it was banned in wartime. The Montreal labor leader had held communist offices in Canada and had spent six months in Russia, lecturing youth groups.

Supt. Josephat Brunet of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police said in Montreal that charges against Rose "most definitely" were connected with the espionage case.

PROFESSOR IN ADMISSION

The royal commission, in a second interim report depicting soviet agents as trying to ferret the war secrets of Canada and the United States, said Dr. Raymond Boyer, assistant professor of chemistry at McGill university, had admitted giving Russia full information on his secret work with "RDX."

"He said that with this information, competent persons would be in a position to design a plant to produce the material in quantity," the commission said. Boyer was accused of transmitting his secrets early in 1942 and into 1944, while Russia and Canada were allied in the death struggle against Germany.

WIDE ESPIONAGE RING

The four persons previously accused were minor governmental workers, who were charged with working with the Moscow-directed espionage ring to obtain data on the atomic bomb, radar, electronics and the disposition of numerous United States corps and divisions which lately had fought the Germans. Five persons, other than the eight already named, still are under investigation.

"Some witnesses holding strategic positions have made the significant statement, under oath, that they had a loyalty which took priority over the loyalty owed by them to their own country and, for that reason, they acted as they did and would have continued so to act had they not been detected," the commission said.

Today's royal commission report elaborated on the general charges made public March 4, giving "spy thriller" details of operations under pseudonyms. The earlier report said the military attache of the soviet embassy had sought to obtain secrets of the atomic bomb, radar, electronics and the whereabouts of numerous United States military units.

OTHERS NAMED

In addition to Boyer, the commission named these:

Harold Samuel Gerson, assistant to the head of the production control department of Allied War Supplies, Ltd., a government company concerned with the production of chemicals and explosives. Gerson was known in the spy ring under the cover name of "Gray," the report said.

Squadron Leader Matt Simons Nightingale, employed as a telephone technician in the construction of military airports by the Royal Canadian air force.

Dr. David Shugar, a Ph. D. in physics at McGill university, who was employed in the navy on research in anti-submarine detection.

Ickes Wants Truman To Push Roosevelt's Friendly Russ Policy

NEW YORK (AP)—Harold L. Ickes wants President Truman to "stand up aggressively for the foreign policies of President Roosevelt" including agreement with the Soviet Union "based firmly upon mutual concessions and a willingness to give and take."

Ickes also declared the American people "do not feel comfortable with the sniping at Russia which is being indulged in" and that "they know that without Russia we would still be fighting the war. They cannot envisage a peaceful future without an understanding with Russia."

WANT COMPETENT MEN

The former secretary of the interior, who resigned in a dispute with the President over the latter's nomination of Edwin A. Pauley as undersecretary of the navy, said the American people looked to the president for the appointment of "fit and competent men for high public office."

Ickes spoke at a meeting of the Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, of which he is executive chairman.

JAMES ROOSEVELT SPEAKS

James Roosevelt, eldest son of the late president and director of political organization for the committee, told the meeting:

"I call upon our president and the secretary of state to take whatever action may be necessary, no matter how dramatic to convince the Russian people and the British people that we are not siding for or against either of them, and that we believe that as in war, so in peace."

Attlee Declares India May Choose Full Independence

LONDON —(AP)— Prime Minister Attlee told the house of commons today that if India chooses full independence from Britain "in our view she has the right to do so."

"It will be for us to help to make the transition as free and easy as possible," he declared during debate on the mission of three cabinet members who will go to India shortly to take up again the problem of self-government for India.

But, he said, "I hope the Indian people may elect to remain within the British commonwealth.

"If she does so elect," he added, "It must be by her own free will, for the British commonwealth and empire is not bound together by chains of external compulsion."

Attlee said the cabinet mission was going to India "in a positive mood."

The three cabinet members who compose the mission are Lord Pethick-Lawrence, secretary of state for India; Sir Stafford Cripps, president of the board of trade; and A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty.

They will leave next Tuesday and are due in India March 23.

Attlee said the government intended to give the mission "as free a hand as possible" in negotiating with Indian political leaders and that the three "are going out to India resolved to succeed."

REPEAL POWERS

The house earlier advanced to third reading a bill repealing emergency powers of the British central government in India and providing for an all-Indian council to advise the viceroy, Lord Wavell. There was little discussion.

The bill, already passed by the house of lords, also grants wider legislative powers to the Indian legislature, which can modify laws passed by proclamation during the war emergency.

The greater legislative powers are to become effective April 1 and to extend for one year, with authority to the British government to extend them an additional year by proclamation.

Churchill Will Answer Stalin On Air Tonight

NEW YORK —(AP)— Winston Churchill—who drew cheers and boos on a motor tour of New York City's rain-swept streets—said today "The road to the future is open to all the people of the world if they will but tread that path in harmony and in justice."

The former British prime minister spoke before 600 persons at an official reception in City Hall after riding up lower Broadway.

Churchill speaks tonight (7:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. PST) at an official city reception at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Sitting in an open car, smoking his habitual cigar and waving a "V for Victory" salute, Churchill received cheers along most of his route but was booed as his 10-car motorcade passed certain points.

Umbrella-holding crowds lined the route of the former British prime minister who sat in an open automobile, second in a 10-car motorcade.

Churchill alternately pulled his hat down to shield him from the downpour, then removed it to acknowledge shouts from crowds, in some places four persons deep.

Along lower Broadway the colorful war leader held up his arm and gave the familiar "V for Victory" salute.

Shouts of "hurray for Winnie" echoed through Wall street as the caravan headed north to city hall for a city ceremony. Ticker tape fluttered down.

HE WANTS YOUR SON

Prior to the motorcade's appearance in Broadway, persons handed out circulars along the street headed "Churchill wants your son." The handbills bore the name of the New York state committee, communist party.

Approximately 3,000 rain-soaked persons were in City Hall plaza when the Churchill motorcade drew up. Immediately 25 placards were raised over spectators' heads proclaiming:

"No American shall die for Churchill, no world war 3."

About 200 persons chanted, "we want peace; Churchill wants war."

Extraordinary precautions were taken by Scotland Yard men and city authorities to guard the doughty Briton.

Churchill was expected to reply tonight to critics of his Fulton, Mo., speech and possibly to Generalissimo Stalin's denunciation.

ELABORATE PROTECTION

Contents of the talk were secret. A member of Churchill's staff said the one-time war leader had the only copy to use in delivery at an official city dinner.

Police, meantime, put into effect elaborate protective measures. The hotel police detail was augmented to bring the total to 24 detectives and 52 uniformed policemen. Two detectives and a uniformed policeman now are stationed day and night outside Churchill's suite and three detectives are posted around the clock in the hotel package room, to inspect every package addressed to the Churchill party.

U. S. UNREPRESENTED

Occupying the dias with Churchill will be 42 foreign ambassadors and ministers to the United States and official representatives of the United Nations organization.

The United States itself, however, will not be represented officially. Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson, originally scheduled to make one of the welcoming addresses, will be unable to appear because of pressure of other business, the state department said last night.

Congress Hears Yukon Crew Members Drunk When Ship Foundered

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Congress heard today that on the day the liner Yukon foundered off Alaska last month, with a loss of six soldier lives, ranking crew members "were so drunk that they could hardly get around."

The assertion was made by a Texas soldier-passenger aboard the Alaska Steamship Co., vessel in a letter to the parents of an Altoona, Pa., soldier, Sgt. Lester S. March, who disappeared from the Yukon and is presumed dead.

In inserting the letter from Phillip W. Moss, Denison, Tex., in the Congressional Record, Rep. Brumbauch (R-Pa) said it indicates "gross criminal negligence."

CREW WOULDN'T HELP

Moss, who has since been discharged from the army, said he and Sgt. March became acquainted when both were stationed an Anchorage, Alaska. They were en route home together.

He wrote that when 20 persons, Sgt. March probably among them, were swept overboard by a 50-foot wave, "the crew (of the Yukon) would do nothing at all to help those in the water.

"In fact, they were not equipped for any kind of emergency. It was 32 hours before a line was put ashore and a soldier had to do it then. We were seven miles off course and had only made 39 miles in 12 hours.

AS BEST THEY COULD

"* * * The sea was rough but it wasn't such a storm that would put us in the position we were in," he added. "That was my first boat trip, but I * * * believe there could have been a lot more done by the crew. At no time was any instructions or orders ever given.

"The passengers were just left to do the best they could. Up until 9 or 10 o'clock the morning we went on the rocks, the ranking crew members were so drunk that they could hardly get around. However, a few of them, I would say about 10 or 12, were doing what they could."

Little Austria in Very Tough Spot

By DeWitt Mackenzie
(Associated Press World Traveler)

VIENNA—(AP)—The little state of Austria is on a mighty tough spot, for her geographical position makes her a pawn in the great and dangerous readjustment of balance of power which is going on in Europe.

That is a personal tragedy for Austria. But for the rest of the world it is—or should be—a sharp reminder that the remolding of Europe and Asia constitutes a peril to international peace.

Austria lies just within the strategic zone which observers generally have recognized as the Russians' minimum objective in their westward sweep across Europe. Moscow's tentative goal—as it emerged in the closing days of the war—was a line running from the strategic German port of Stettin on the north, southward to the head of the Adriatic. East of that line lay the enlarged Poland, Czechoslovakia and Austria.

The Muscovites have consolidated all that vast area with the exception of Austria. This country remains in occupation by the four Allied powers, and so is neither fish, fowl nor yet good red meat.

I understand, as reported in yesterday's column, that the Americans, British and French would like to terminate four-power occupation at an early date and turn the country over to the newly elected Austrian government. The Russians, however, aren't prepared for such a move, and are keeping in their zone a force of troops which is far bigger than all the other Allied contingents together.

Well, this stalemate is easy to understand if you don't forget that Moscow regards Austria as an essential part of the Russian zone of influence. It means, however, that as things now stand, the four powers will continue to hang on here. Either all go out together, or all stay together. From the Russian standpoint, of course, a withdrawal of the other three allies would provide a happy solution, for the red line could then be moved forward to the western boundary of the country, and the tentative boundary of the new zone of influence would be complete. Whether the boundary would remain there is a question of hot speculation in many parts of Europe.

Reconversion Leaders Invited to Discuss Pine Lumber Ceilings

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Government reconversion experts have been invited to discuss price lumber ceiling prices with western congressmen next Monday.

At a meeting of congressmen and industry representatives Tuesday, it was asserted present ceilings for western pine are inadequate, causing production to decline.

H. C. McQuarters, secretary of the Western Pine Association, testified 1945 production was 25 per cent under 1944, and a recent sampling of 43 western pine mills showed 70 per cent are operating at a loss.

Senator Chavez, (D-NM), delegated to make arrangements, told a reporter Chester Bowles, economic stabilizer; Paul Porter, OPA chief, and John D. Small, head of the civil production administration, were invited to attend next Monday's meeting.

Gas Tax Funds Less For 26 Counties

OLYMPIA—(AP)—State Highway Department Director Clarence Shain announced yesterday new gasoline tax distribution factors which will result in smaller rebates to 26 counties.

Last year counties received $7,124,909 from the state in such allocations.

In effect April 1, under provisions made by the 1945 legislature the percentages are fixed by allowing 10 per cent equal distribution, 70 per cent on truck mileage and 20 per cent based on the number of automobiles and trucks licensed for unincorporated areas. Incorporated cities and towns receive their share separately.

Shain said an interim committee estimated trunk mileage—that travelled by school buses and rural mail carriers—for the previous tabulations. A recent survey added 3,000 more miles and resulted in a shifting of totals.

The other principal factor accounting for the change is the influx of population to some unincorporated areas which results in more licensed vehicles being operated.

Benton county's share for instance, will be up nearly one per cent under the new figures—due to its huge increase in population when the Hanford atom bomb project was set up.

CLAIMS HANDLED

OLYMPIA—(AP)—Director John D. Davis said yesterday 97,907 claims were handled by the state office of unemployment compensation and placement during the week ending March 8.

The 8.3 per cent drop in claims from the previous week was not indicative of the general trend, he said, because the previous week's load was increased by claimants unable to report on the Feb. 22 holiday.

Vehicles to Match Vast Transportation System on Russia's New Five Year Program

(In three previous articles Eddy Gilmore, Associated Press bureau chief in Moscow, has described Russia's gigantic plans for rail, highway, air and water transportation, and the oil, water and coal developments which will pump life into the system. Here he tells what is being done about production of the machines which will use them.)

By Eddy Gilmore

MOSCOW—(AP)—Russia, developing one of the greatest rail, highway, airway and waterway systems in the world, is driving forward likewise in production of the vehicles to make it useful.

If her plans in the automobile field are achieved, she may well rival the United States, not only in production for the folks at home, but in the foreign field as well.

The first soviet motor car rolled down its first dusty road only some 20 years ago, but by the beginning of the war with Germany the USSR had three large, modern plants in Moscow, Gorky and Yaroslavl. At that time Russia was fourth in the world in automobile making, second in the world and first in Europe for the output of trucks.

CONSTRUCTION WENT ON

Construction of auto plants was not interrupted during the war, when new works in the Urals and the Volga began producing for the army.

Now factories are being built at Dniepropetrovsk in the Ukraine, Kautaisi and Georgia, Minsk in White Russia and Novosibirsk in Siberia.

Existing plants are being enlarged. The Gorky intends to double its output to turn out 1,000 cars daily by 1950. Figures are not available on Moscow and Yaroslavl, but they will be correspondingly progressive.

The machinery of these factories is being modernized progressively on an almost day-to-day basis with a view to going over completely or almost completely to automatic machine tools. Through this, 1946 output is expected to be twice that of 1945.

Three types of trucks have been made in the Soviet Union, but six new models are now rolling over the roads of Russia, ranging from one to seven tons with the most powerful engines yet seen in the USSR.

The passenger cars are planned to match anything in the United States. The new Zis 110 is a flashy job, something between a Buick and a Cadillac. There is also the Victory, comparable to the Ford, Chevrolet and Plymouth.

There is also going to be a midget car called the "Moscovich," a four passenger sedan. The factory which is expected to turn out 200 daily is now almost finished in Moscow. Similar factories are to be put up in other cities.

The most interesting perhaps of the new auto plants is the one at Dniepropetrovsk, which will contain more than 7,000 automatic machine tools and presses, and cover 500 acres. The current is to be supplied by the plant's own heating power station.

This factory may in time naturally take over the leadership in car making, for it is located hard by the well developed iron and steel industry of Dniepropetrovsk.

PLANE CONSTRUCTION

With the exception of ball bearings, rubber and electrical appliances, this new plant will make every item for the car on the spot. First machines to come off the conveyor will be three and five-ton trucks.

The engineers are going along so fast with this plant that some shops already are going up for some trucks to be assembled this year from parts made in the Stalin works in Moscow. By the end of 1947 Dniepropetrovsk will be making its own machines on a 24-hour basis.

The Russians have not said much about what they are doing in the field of airplane construction, but they have indicated that they are experimenting once more with huge transports and medium transports built along the lines of C 54's. They are also toying with ideas of individual planes, but there is nothing definite in this field.

A new locomotive has already found its way to the tracks out of the Kolomna Engineering Works, a locomotive which is said to be 12 to 15 per cent cheaper to operate than previous types in use on soviet lines. It has been selected as the main model for manufacture during the coming five year plan. It will be made in large numbers on the production line principle of which train makers are very proud.

COSSACKS ON MOTORCYCLES

The Russians are not experimenting yet with diesels, but some new style electrics are coming out of the factories for the electrification program.

Engineers are working on a new type passenger car, which is something in great need on Russian railways. There has been little wholesale improvement in sleeping cars for many years here, despite Russia's great distance.

Even the bicyclist is being looked after in today's vehicular construction. A big new factory has gone up in Siberia. Kharkiv, which was ruined by the Germans, is now producing. At Riga in Latvia the Republic Red Star bicycle plant is pledged to make 100,000 standard types of bikes this year, and 170,000 by 1947. It is also specializing in a new racing model.

At least two new factories are being constructed to turn out that devil of the Russian highway, the motorcycle. There is nothing quite so dashing, or from my observation so reckless as a Cossack on a motorcycle. Cossacks seem to go for them.

TRUCKING PERMITS

OLYMPIA—(AP)—A program of setting all applications for trucking permits for hearings before departmental examiners was announced yesterday by the state department of transportation.

Director Paul Revelle explained there have been an unprecedented number of applications for such permits by persons seeking to enter the motor freight business and that many of them were considered unqualified.

UNKNOWN LOSES $196,000 AT DICE

RENO, Nev.—(AP)—For 36 hours, onlookers reported, an unidentified man sat at a table and played dice, sending for coffee and never eating, and lost $196,000.

That comes to spending money at the rate of $5,444.44 an hour.

The game ended with a role of a single dice. Each got an ace. In the roll-off, the house man got a trey, the guest—described as an easterner—a deuce.

Club owners would not identify the player nor confirm his losings.

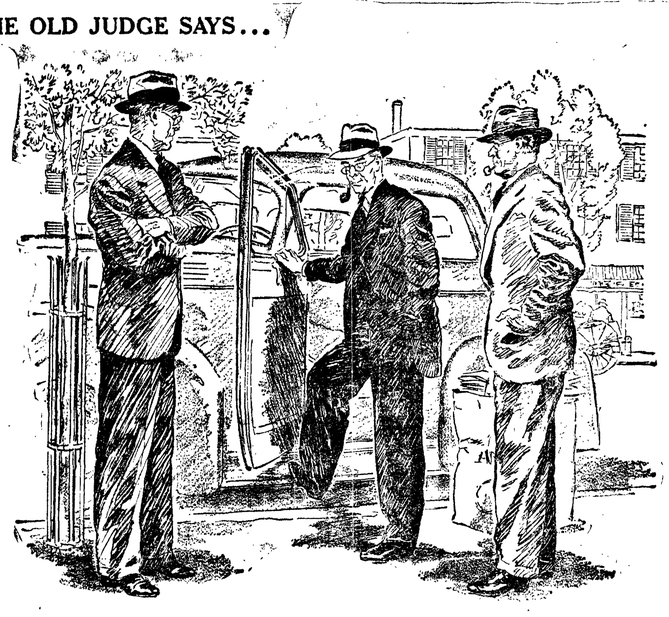
THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...



TED: "Clem and I were wonderin' what you thought of that new movie about the chronic alcoholic, Judge. Understand you saw it before we did."

OLD JUDGE: "Well... it's true most of us never see a case as extreme as that in real life because they are so few and far between. But it does point out one thing... chronic alcoholics are abnormal people and we've got to change our ideas about how to help them."

CLEM: "In what way, Judge?"

OLD JUDGE: "We've got to realize that excessive drinkers are suffering from more than a craving for alcohol. According to psychiatrists and medical men at one of our great universities, the alcoholic is a sick person. The study of hundreds of cases shows he is suffering from some physical, social or emotional condition... just as in the case of that poor chap in the picture. Fortunately, they represent only a very small percentage of those who drink."

TED: "Is anything being done to really help these folks, Judge?"

OLD JUDGE: "Yes... a great deal in clinics throughout the country. And with the cooperation of the beverage distillers who sincerely want their product used only in moderation."

Boyle's Column

By Hal Boyle

CAIRO —(AP)— Traveling abroad, you meet so many people they begin to look as much alike as ducks in a shooting gallery—all moved by the same mechanism and going the same way with the same set expression.

They forget you. You forget them. The only guy who remembers the occasion is the one who picked up the dinner check.

But there are a few odd ones that get filed in stray corners of your brain and pop out in memory sometimes like clothes from an overcrowded truck. Such was the young Russian in Hong Kong who used to lie abed of mornings and shoot cockroaches off the ceiling with a rifle. Or the army nurse at Tebessa who called the hospital ward for head injuries "the cabbage patch." Or the barber in Naples who gave free shampoos only to men with blue beards.

AFRAID OF SEA

Such certainly was "the captain who was afraid of the sea." We traveled as passengers together through the north Atlantic during wartime and the captain lived in mortal dread of submarines. Before the war he had commanded small steamers plying the American east coast and many of his friends from those peaceful times had gone under when German torpedoes began reaching across the Atlantic.

Their watery deaths were in his mind when he was summoned to Britain on a shipping mission. From the start of our voyage he was certain our convoy was doomed. I never knew a man who mentally exploded more thoroughly his prospects of dying. His morbid certainty of disaster was increased when he noted we were the tail end of the convoy.

DARK, MOROSE MAN

"We will never reach England," he said, "We will be one of the first ships the submarines pick off."

He was a dark, morose man of middle age who picked at his food as though he was afraid it was poisoned. At night he threw himself fully clothed on his bunk and lay there wide awake, staring at the bunk above him with weary eyes until after daybreak.

"They usually hit just before dawn," he said.

Then one mild and cloudless afternoon we heard a muffled explosion and saw a tower of smoke rise from the stern of a destroyer escort to starboard. Our convoy moved on and another escort went back to stay with the crippled vessel. Later, our radio operator said he had overheard messages indicating seven men had been killed in the explosion.

GRIPPED BY FEAR

After that my captain acquaintance stayed on deck each day until after dusk staring into the darkening waters.

"You can't see them coming at you," he said, "and I can't swim. We are helpless as worms on the pavement."

It was strangely disquieting to see this man gripped by fear of the sea that had been his highway and livelihood for 30 years.

When we landed safely in Britain he bought two hams from the steward for bartering and headed happily for London, self assured, his gloom gone.

"Aren't you worried about bombs?" I asked.

"As long as they don't come at me from under the sea I'm not afraid," he said cheerfully. "I just can't stand the thought of dying at sea."

SAME JOBS AND PAY FOR WOMEN

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach asserted yesterday women should have the same job and pay opportunities as men. At least one in every 10 working women, he said, now provides the entire support of a family.

Schwellenbach spoke at the opening of a labor department conference on women's employment problems. Representatives of some 70 organizations, including women's clubs, professional organizations and AFL and CIO unions attended.

He told the group certain "artificial restrictions that belong to a past age should not be allowed to handicap the contributions women can make."

For example, he said, no bars should be erected against the employment of women, married or single, and work they can do under physically healthful conditions.

Secondly, he added, pay scales should not discriminate against women.

Others who spoke at the session, which was closed to the public, included Senator Morse (R-Wash), former member of the war labor board.

Extinguished

CHICAGO —(AP)— The firemen named him Blaze and put him out.

A mongrel, Blaze wandered into engine house 51 a week ago. Fairly successful at mending a few of his milder bad habits—like chewing up the fire hose — the firemen had hopes for him until yesterday.

An alarm roused the men from their second floor bunks. As the last man slid down the brass pole, Blaze plunged after him, breaking his fall on Fireman William Newton's head. Then the dog tock up a stand in front of the thundering trucks, delaying their departure.

Blaze has been given to neighbor children. They promise to keep him away from engine house 51.

A Complete Directory

SAN DIEGO, Calif. —(AP)— Navy Yeoman Salvatore C. Del Vecchio, Jr., told police his father had been missing from Lodi, N. J., for 18 years.

They suggested Salvatore look in the city directory. He did and the Salvatore, Sr., turned out to be his father, now 70.

The average cost of drilling oil wells has increased more than one-third from the prewar price.

More Coulee Homes, Or Less Employes?

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Mrs. Leona Clevenger of Coulee Dam, Wash., told the house appropriations committee today unless more homes are made available for permanent employees of the reclamation bureau there "the employes are not going to stay."

She said several hundred employees are there now and when the Columbia basin irrigation project gets under way the total will be 1,000.

She said present employees are living in 77 permanent government houses. They are mostly one-bedroom homes, but some have one and a half and a few two bedrooms. The floors, she said, are soft wood and only a few have full sized basements.

She asked that the bureau be allocated funds for 450 new homes.

The witness said a plan was proposed to offer private contractors space on long term lease for constructing homes for workers.

MANGLED IN MIXER

YORK, Pa. —(AP)— Steel blades revolving inside a huge cement mixer fatally mangled 52-year-old Austin Buckingham today. Coroner J. Sell said Buckingham was cleaning the mixer when the motor was turned on by a fellow worker who collapsed upon learning of his mistake.

WILL INVESTIGATE DITCHED FOOD

SEATTLE—(AP)—Secretary of the Navy Forrestal called yesterday for immediate investigation of the reported destruction of food and clothing in the 13th naval district covering the Seattle-Tacoma-Bremerton area in Washington state, the Seattle Times said in a dispatch from Washington, D. C.

The navy acted at the request of Congressman Hugh DeLacy, (D-Wash), the dispatch said.

In recent weeks, many boxes and crates of food bearing navy markings have washed ashore on Puget Sound beaches and last week, the Times said, hundreds of pounds of rancid butter and turkeys were burned at the Seattle naval station.

Quarantined Troops Debark at Lawton

SEATTLE—(AP)—By special arrangements from the army, the 4,728 military personnel, including 135 army nurses, debarked from the quarantined transport General Pope late yesterday, and were transferred to isolation barracks at Fort Lawton.

The entire group will be held at least until Saturday when tests on a suspected typhus case are completed. A series of such tests by the U. S. public health service are still underway and if the case proves to be the dread disease, the quarantine period may be extended, officials said.

The 549 civilian merchant seamen will remain aboard the vessel in Elliott bay. The ship arrived from Yokohama with most of the veterans aboard due for discharge.

While the unhappy GI's and others sweated out their debarkation aboard the transport yesterday, the ship cruised around the harbor and out on Puget sound on a specially arranged "sightseeing" tour.

RUSS AMBASSADOR COMING

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Andrei A. Gromyko, Russian ambassador to the United States, is enroute to this country to participate in the New York meeting of the United Nations security council, the soviet embassy said today.

Nikoli I. Moliakov, embassy press secretary, said he had no information as to whether Gromyko or Soviet Vice Foreign Commissar Andrei Y. Vyshinsky would head the Russian delegation to the council, which meets March 25 in New York.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Our town has a Housing Shortage

Yes, sir, there's a real housing shortage in our town, as I guess there is in yours, too.

Keefer Cole, for instance, is sharing his home with a brother-in-law from Connecticut. Six children and a dog in one family; four children and three cats in the other.

I asked Keefer how they got along together — especially the grown-ups. Didn't they get a little edgey from the noise and crowding?

Keefer looks at me with a twinkle. "Sure," he says. "And when that happens, Sara and I just pass around four sparkling glasses of good beer ... and that reminds everybody that there are still a lot of friendly, gracious pleasures that can help us make the best of things."

From where I sit, it's great to be able to relax during this strain of postwar living with a beverage that's truly moderate and wholesome, truly friendly.

National Rehabilitation Committee Adopts 12-Point Program to Speed Veterans' Aid

The annual conference of the Legion's national rehabilitation committee concluded a five-day session in Washington this month by adopting a 12-point program designed to speed veterans' aid in many ways.

More than 500 in attendance during the conference heard experts of both the veterans administration and the American Legion.

The 12-point program adopted after hearing from all the speakers dealt to a great extent on methods by which the whole process of rehabilitation might be speeded up.

Points 1 to 11 covered important recommendations relative to: A more simplified process for veterans claiming disabilities; immediate availibility of forms for all types of benefits; improvements relative to medical examinations; insistence on speedier subsistence payments (a very sore subject with many who are at present attending institutions of higher learning); better and quicker ambulance and hospital service and student rates for veterans attending school under public law 346 — the GI bill.

Last and no doubt one of the greatest and most wide sweeping benefits to the veterans group as a whole is the twelfth point in the adopted program which reads: "That the American Legion endorse establishment of rehabilitation and convalescent hospitals."

Under this point in the recommendations thousands of additional beds can be made available for veterans because rehabilitation and convalescent hospitals can be opened up with only general medical staffs and not staffs of highly trained specialists who are so hard to get at the present time for veterans administration work.

A complete copy of the 12-point program adopted by the annual rehabilitation conference may be found in the March issue of the American Legion monthly paper "The National Legionnaire."

Smile When You Say That

KANSAS CITY—(AP)—Henry W. Johnson, police superintendent of traffic and safety, installed a "gripe box" where 187 speeders in a night police court session could submit written suggestions to aid law enforcement.

Only one suggestion from the offenders was turned in. A feminine complaint, it read:

"Get some better looking patrolmen. If one of them would smile it would crack his face."

That Did It

KANSAS CITY—(AP)—Floyd Harvey, deputy collector of internal revenue, tried to explain to a taxpayer that money paid to a veterinarian for care of the man's dog was not deductable from his federal income tax.

The taxpayer insisted the dog belonged to his family, was dependent on the family, that its medical expenses should be deducted.

"Well, I'll put it this way," Harvey sighed. "Just how is the dog related to you? Is it by blood, marriage, or adoption?"

That ended the discussion.

Private Shortage

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—The nine topkicks in battery G of the harbor defense won't have any buck privates to kick around this week.

The last private in the outfit, Walter Orndorff of Cumberland, Md., is being discharged, leaving 26 assorted sergeants, half a dozen corporals and four pfc's.

Cold Reception

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—Max L. Price, a butcher, literally put a housebreaker on ice until the police arrived. The man ran from Price's living quarters and attempted to hide in the butcher shop's refrigerator. Price bolted the door.

Field Marshal Model, Hunted Since His Army Was Crushed in Ruhr Year Ago, Shoots Self

By Charles Chamberlain

HERFORD, Germany—(AP)—Field Marshal Walter Von Model, who had been hunted since his army was crushed in the Ruhr trap a year ago, took his own life with a revolver, April 21, 1945, British intelligence officers said today.

They said he feared that if he surrendered himself to the western allies he would be turned over to the Russians as a war criminal.

Von Model, who was group commander on the Russian front prior to being transferred to the western front, was among the German officers accused by Russia of being responsible for deaths of 577,000 persons in concentration camps in Latvia and the deportation of 175,000 others as slave laborers.

ACCUSATIONS BY RUSSIANS

The accusations were contained in a report last April 9 by a soviet investigating committee.

The report said that "German fiends" under Von Model "spared no one. They murdered men and women, healthy and sick, children and old people" in mass extermination camps near Riga.

Von Model's suicide and secret burial occurred in Duisburg, Germany, after his German fifth panzer and 15th armies had been annihilated, the intelligence officers said. Model commanded army group G, which was trapped in the Ruhr by a first and ninth U. S. army junction April 1.

OWN CHIEF TELLS STORY

The officers added that a description of the death was given by the field marshal's own chief of intelligence, Lieut. Col. Michael, who was taken into custody recently.

The officers quoted Michael as saying:

"On April 21, 1945, Field Marshal Model shot himself in my presence in a wooded area near Duisberg. I buried him and am, as far as I know, the only person who knows where his grave is. He chose death because he had been accused of being a war criminal by the Russians.

"In the course of conversations I had had with him over a period of days, I expressed my opinion that the western powers would hand him over to the Russians—and it was this which decided him."

Cecil Solly's Garden Notebook

Sponsored by

WILLSON HARDWARE CO.

Did you have enough peas for home use and for the locker or canning, or did you run out in December. Count up the number of feet you planted last year and draw in more or less rows of peas on the new plan. On down the list, adjust the amounts to your needs.

Check up NOW when you picked your first garden peas. Find out if the later plantings grew so rapidly that they caught up with the November or February plantings and matured at the same time. Only by experimenting can you find if your soil is light enough to make early plantings an advantage.

Check when you started your seeds in flats indoors and when you transplanted them into the open garden. If the basement or porch window wasn't a satisfactory place for bringing seeds to husky, little plants, plan a different place for them this spring. Many gardeners have two or three window sills equipped to hold a flat or pots of seedlings and move them around to "follow the sun" throughout the day. There are inexpensive, clean and orderly flats on the market now to use indoors and they should entail no extra housekeeping. A gardener just the other day found a sudden need for a container to hold half-a-dozen small flower pots that held some tiny seeds. Looking around the tool shed she found a metal baby-chick feeder left over from last year. Taking out the metal protector across the top, she found the pots just fit into the rack. I judge it to be about 24 inches long and 4 inches wide, costs only 22c and fits a window sill to perfection.

Look around the seed and garden supply stores and in the back of seed catalogs for the new equipment now available. Often you can save many times the money spent in time saved with more efficient methods.

Keep in mind the amount of labor you plan to give your garden. Did you easily find the time to keep your garden clear of weeds last season or did you get way behind and lose some crops from neglect. Or perhaps there will be another pair of hands to help in the garden this season and you can plan a larger plot. This particular goal of "planting no more than you can care for" is seldom completely achieved. Every gardener's spring enthusiasm when looking through the beautiful catalogs results in very ambitious plans. Especially this year with the local fresh foods scarce and high-priced. However, I'll say again this year, try to keep the garden within your hand's reach. And too, remember it is easier to erase a row of beans on paper than to replant in the garden.

If you are a new gardener, here are the general rules for the vegetable garden. The location should have at least five full hours of sunlight a day; a gentle slope to insure good drainage in case we have heavy spring or early fall rains; a dark, sandy loam is ideal; rows should run north and south to get equal amount of sunshine on both sides of the rows, however, if the slope is very steep the rows should run across regardless of direction to save the top soil and moisture; don't let tall vegetables make too much shade for shorter vegetables that require sunshine.

Subject: "THINKING WITH GOD"

"Sanctify them through thy truth, thy word is truth." (John 17:17)

When Jesus uttered these praying words, the New Testament was not yet written. He referred to God's great truth in the Old Testament.

Winston Churchill's Fulton, Mo., speech was more prophetic than most people have any knowledge or understanding.

Bible prophecy definitely declares, that the Anglo-Saxon Celtic people will be joined into one great Commonwealth of Nations, and its opposition the Northern Confederacy with Russia as the leading Nation.

The not far off conflict will be "The Battle of That Great Day of God Almighty." (Read Rev. 16:14)

Approximately 275 mothers and their daughters attended the annual Girl Scout birthday party given by Girl Scout and Brownie leaders, Wednesday evening at the First Methodist Church.

Movies and a large program of performances were given by Girl Scout, Brownies and others to make the evening a memorable one.

The program opened with the Girl Scout and Brownie songs led by Mrs. Evar Halberg and Mrs. James Conrad. Four Brownies then sang "Johnnie Kubeck" and Karlene Stomberg played several accordion solos.

Others who performed solo numbers were Cleo Millikin playing her accordion and Clarice Pike singing a song.

Individual piano selections were played by Norma McGlenn, Rita Sutherland, Glenna Durham and Mary Porter.

A duet, "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," was sung by Janet Huff and Donna Knudsen. "A Letter to Her Dutch Cousin" was read by Joan Hender.

Mary Reid and Nancy Thurlow entertained with a dance and a tap dance was given by Harlene Underwood and Roberta Edris, accompanied by Mrs. Harley Underwood.

Brownie troop 15, led by Mrs. Otto Brodhun and Mrs. Laverne Smith, received an Azalea plant as an award for having the most mothers in attendance.

Parents Forum Group Meets

Members of the Parents Forum met Thursday, March 12 with Mrs. Wilma Schier. During the business meeting the group voted to give a donation to the Red Cross. Plans were made to entertain the Blue Bird group, which the Forum sponsors.

Mrs. Hazel Porter was appointed to represent the Parents Forum at the interview of mothers' clubs members over station KONP on Saturday, March 16. An invitation was presented from the Junior Mothers Club requesting the Forum to meet with that group on April 17.

After completion of the business session the meeting was turned over to Dorothy Beale, program chairman, who introduced the speaker, Judge Ralph Smythe, who gave an interesting and informative talk on proposed types of hospitalization which are being brought before the public at this time. Local Church to Have Youth Rally

The Assembly of God Church will be host to Christ Ambassador groups and visitors of the Olympic peninsula Wednesday, March 20, when a great Christ Ambassadors youth rally will be held.

Rev. Wesley Steelburg, who is the National Christ Ambassador Director for the General Council of the Assemblies of God, will speak. The Christ's Ambassadors is the name of the youth department of the Assemblies of God, whose headquarters is in Springfield, Missouri.

Rev. Steelburg is an assistant general superintendent of the General Council of the Assemblies of God. He is a powerful speaker and has a great vision for the young people. Rev. Steelburg has pastored some of the largest Assembly of God churches in America, according to Pastor Donald Fee of the local church.

In charge of the services will be Rev. Paul G. Trulin, pastor of Assembly of God church in Vancouver, Wash., who is also the northwest district president of the C. A.'s. We consider it a great privilege to have these fine men with us for this occasion, Pastor Fee continued.

The afternoon service, which is to be held at 3:00 p.m., is a service specially designed for pastors and C.A. presidents and officers. Rev. Steelburg will speak on the subject: "Youth Work and Youth Potentialities."

The evening youth rally will be at 7:30 p.m., Rev. Steelburg again speaking. Special music will be provided and there will be an inspirational song service by the congregation.

A special invitation by Pastor Fee is extended to the youth of Port Angeles to attend these meetings.

Campfire Founding Honored Today

Today the Campfire Girls are celebrating the organization's thirty-fourth anniversary and to honor the occasion Mayor Fred Epperson has issued a proclamation extending congratulations to the girls.

In his message he says, "This movement has become a constructive force in the community and has enriched the lives of all people of the community."

"Here in Port Angeles, Campfire Girls have cooperated in all community projects. The young girls have been leaders in national and community drives. They have proved themselves to be enterprising and responsible citizens."

"To the Campfire Girls of Port Angeles and to Campfire Girls all over the world, may I wish you every success and blessing."

The attorney-general was not a member of the President's cabinet until 1814.

Shrine Club Charity Ball Saturday Night

The Olympic Peninsula Shrine Club, operating under Nile Temple of Seattle, holds its annual charity ball Saturday evening at the Masonic Temple, according to Dean Wilmot, Shrine Club president.

Festivities will begin promptly at 8:30 when the famous chanters of Nile Temple will present a half hour program before dancing begins. This program will be broadcast in its entirety by station KONP.

Potentate Hal MacDowell and his entourage will arrive in Port Angeles early Saturday afternoon for various entertainment activities scheduled in their behalf. Then the entire group, some 55 in number, will be served dinner at the Masonic Temple.

One hundred percent of the net proceeds of this affair will go to the local hospital for having taken care of many needy cases during the past year. All of this money will be spent in Port Angeles for the benefit of unfortunate children of this city and surrounding countryside, Wilmott explained.

One of the fixed standards of the Shrine is to care for children whose parents cannot afford medical and surgical services for their children. It is from this benefit, that officials of the Shrine Club are anticipating a large turnout for this annual ball. Those who are fortunate enough to attend will have a complete evening of dancing and entertainment, he said.

It is understood that the Chanters will present another period of entertainment during the evening, and they are bringing some professional entertainers who will perform after the regular broadcast period, Wilmot concluded.

Tonight over KONP at 8:30 a program will be given by the local Shrine.

St. Pat's Dance Tonight at USO

A St. Patrick's dance at 9 o'clock tonight was announced today by Pop Miller of the USO, and Pop said the club will have a bevy of beautiful girls and each with a "Patty's Grub Box" for the affair.

The girls and the grub boxes will be for servicemen and veterans alike, he explained, issuing a special invitation to returnees to drop down to the party and share the fun.

The club was decorated in green and white streamers this morning in readiness for the Irish saint's party.

Steelheaders' Elwha Jamboree Sunday, March 17

The big jamboree of the Port Angeles Steelhead Club is on the banks of the lower Elwha river Sunday when the Knotheads, Capt. "Dutch" Headrick and the Scissorbills, Capt. Joe Mowbry, fish that stream in the last dinner contest of the season and have a picnic lunch at the Salmon Hole at noon. The day will end with the annual election-meeting and dinner at the Ediz hook clubhouse. The dinner-meeting will be preceded by weighing in of steelhead at the clubhouse at 6:30 p.m.

The extended winter steelhead season on peninsula streams ends tonight. After today it will not be legal to catch steelhead until the trout season opens in any waters but rivers that are open all the year around. The Elwha river is open from the mouth to the legal distance below the lower power dam all year.

The low-down on Sunday's contest, as given by President Larry Scheuler of the Steelhead Club is team competition on the Elwha river exclusively. At noon all club members are to meet at the Salmon Club with their lunches and the club will furnish the beverages. After lunch fishing will be resumed. The day winds up at the Ediz hook clubhouse.

SALMON FISHING

Salmon fishing in Port Angeles harbor was good early this week, Mel Ray, Ediz hook clubhouse manager says. Wednesday there were a number of salmon caught. There was one more salmon, weighing 24 pounds, put on the 50-rung Salmon Club summer ladder by Al Ruud.

UPSETS MARK PLAY IN N. Y. TOURNEY

NEW YORK—(AP)—Two upsets marked the opening of the national invitational college basketball tournament at Madison Square Garden last night before a record turnout of 18,458.

Rhode Island state, a 12-point underdog, eliminated second-seeded Bowling Green of Ohio, 82 to 79, in an exciting extra-period contest, after which West Virginia came through with a decisive 70-58 triumph over St. John's of Brooklyn, the five-point favorite.

The victories put the Rhodies and the Mountaineers in next Monday's semi-finals against the winners of the remaining first-round games on Saturday night when top-seeded Kentucky tangles with Arizona and third-seeded Syracuse meets Muhlenberg. West Virginia will meet the Kentucky-Arizona winner and Rhode Island the Syracuse-Muhlenberg victor. The winners of Monday night's games will play for the title on Wednesday.

Ernie Calverley, saved Rhode Island from defeat by sinking a long shot from past the center of the floor with only 10 seconds left to tie at 74-all and force the game overtime. Jack Allen's five points in the extra five minutes won for the Rams.

Bowling Green's chances were hurt when its star, big Don Otten, was banished on personal fouls three minutes before the end of the regulation game. Otten scored 31 points before he was ousted.

Leland Byrd, 18-year-old sophomore, tossed in 28 points to lead West Virginia to its decisive triumph. The Brooklyn Redmen, behind by 22 points at halftime, 45-23, rallied in the second half and cut the margin to eight points, 64-56, with three minutes left, but Byrd then dropped in two baskets to snuff out St. Johns' hopes.

WILLIE JOYCE MEETS IN GARDEN TONIGHT

NEW YORK—(AP)—Willie Joyce, one of the ring's most active fighters, goes after his second victory in five days at Madison Square Garden tonight when he battles Brooklyn's Danny Kapilow in a 10-rounder.

Joyce, a Gary, Ind., lightweight with an effective jab, knocked out Pittsburgh Jackie Wilson in Washington on Monday and agreed to meet Kapilow when the originally scheduled heavyweight bout between Tami Mauriello and Joe Baksi was cancelled. Joyce is favored.

Track Squad At Roosevelt High Out For Practice

Coach John Driscoll of Roosevelt high school has his track squad out on the cinder paths each day and has expressed the opinion that a good track team will emerge. The coach has just completed a successful basketball season and said that with the backing of the high school students and fans the track season can be succesful also.

Among the potential track stars are Norman Pollock, Lyle Nelson and Francis Broughton in the sprints with Nelson going in the high jump also.

The 440 and 220 yard runs will see Allen Adams, Bill Thompson and Jim Ohmert entered and in the distance events Phil Sutter and Benson will probably star with Donahue turning out for the half mile.

Bob Roening will specialize in the broad jump. Don Larrick, Darrel Fairchild and Don Hughto are specializing in the shot put and discus.

Allen Adams is trying out for the pole vault spot.

The track meet dates are to be announced later.

SPRING GOLF TOURNEY SCHEDULED ON SUNDAY

With more than 30 prizes to be awarded, the men's spring golf tournament and dinner, scheduled for Sunday, March 17th, shapes up as one of the major Peninsula Golf and Country club activities of the year, according to Dean Wilmot, club president.

"Through the courtesy of the Evening News, the pairings and tee-off times for contestants will be published in Saturday's paper and all players are requested to observe the starting time to prevent congestion on the course.

Reservations must be made for the dinner at five-thirty Sunday night either through Captains Ernie Heassler or Winnie Goss, of the competing teams or by calling the Peninsula Golf Club direct.

President Wilmot adds that any members not contacted who wish to play Sunday should check Saturday's paper for their starting time. Wilmot also states that all men are welcome for the dinner even though they do not take part in the play.

Pepperdine Wins From Cheney In National Tourney

KANSAS CITY—(AP)—George Pepperdine college of Los Angeles and defending champion Loyola university of New Orleans had the inside track on the 1946 national intercollegiate basketball title today as the six-day cage marathon moved into its semi-final round.

Remaining in the starting field of 32 teams with Pepperdine and Loyola after 28 games of play are formidable Indiana State teachers, Terre Haute, and Southern Illinois normal of Carbondale.

Pepperdine, whipped by Loyola in the championship game last year, outlasted Eastern Washington college of Cheney, Wash., 46-42, in last night's quarter-finals, while Loyola defeated Drury college of Springfield, Mo., 54-43.

Indiana state won its third game in beating South Dakota Wesleyan, 55-34. Southern Illinois shook off an 8-point deficit at the half to overcome the University of Nevada, 66-58.

Pepperdine, tallest of the quintets remaining in competition, is expected to lean heavily on its 6-foot 7½-inch center, Nich Buzolich, against Indiana State, a well balanced club, tonight.

Loyola pits its two-team system against Southern Illinois normal in the second semi-final contest. The southerners have stuck to their unit substitution routine in winning three games and start down the home stretch with perhaps more energy to burn than any of the remaining teams.

Southern Illinois packs a potent wallop, however, in the scoring abilities of forwards San Milosevich and Don Sheffer and may have what it takes to topple the defending champions. Milosevich counted 21 points in leading his team to victory over Nevada.

BABE BROWN WILL BE NAMED LEADING COACH

SEATTLE—(AP)—At a meeting here April 5, Coach Babe Brown of Idaho will be honored as "coach of the year" by the newly organized Seattle Cougar Club, they announced yesterday.

Brown will be the first recipient of an annual award for the coach of the northern division basketball pennant winner, said Huntley McPhee, program chairman.

Under Brown's tutelage, an Idaho hook team which was lightly regarded at the start of the season fought through to the division championship.

Coaches of the state high school class A and B basketball champs will also be honored at the April 5 meeting. Colfax high won the B title last week at Cheney and the A crown is being decided now in Seattle.

BIG CROWD EXPECTED

VANCOUVER, B. C.—(AP)—A sell-out crowd of better than 6,000 fans is expected to cheer the Vancouver Canucks into a needed win tonight when they meet the Portland Eagles in the second game of the best-of-five final series of the Pacific coast northern division hockey league.

The division leading Canucks dropped the first game to the Portlanders, 4 to 2, Tuesday night.

Winner of the series meets the southern division champions for the Pacific coast championship.

MEXICANS SEEK UMPIRES

BOSTON—(AP)—The Mexican league is reported bidding for unattached umpires with experience in the higher classes of organized baseball. Gene Sullivan, former umpire in the eastern league, said he had rejected an offer of $4,600 a season and all expenses to don his mask and pads across the Rio Grande.

Sound Teams Are Leading State In H. S. Tournament

GAMES TODAY
10:10 a.m.—Mt. Si vs. West Valley.
11:10 a.m.—Longview vs. Ellensburg.
2:10 p.m.—Hoquiam vs. Everett.
3:10 p.m.—Gonzaga vs. Battleground.
8:00 p.m.—Anacortes vs. Bremerton.
9:00 p.m.—Roosevelt vs. Puyallup.

SEATTLE—(AP)—The state class A high school basketball tournament became a Puget sound picnic today as the last teams from elsewhere in the state were bounced out of the championship running yesterday.

The host city, which won the flag in 1945 on a great show of power by Lincoln high, got a bad scare last night when its current entry, Roosevelt, was nearly upset by Gonzaga. Roosevelt rallied to win, 33 to 31.

Puyallup, with a small, fast club, reached the semi-finals with a hairline decision over Battleground, 37 to 36. Anacortes was extended by Longview to win, 42-39, and Bremerton, ranked as the team most likely to stop Roosevelt, trimmed Ellensburg 57 to 44.

Thursday games in a nut shell:

Bremerton 57, Ellensburg 44. The Wildcats from the navy yard city took this one in stride on their march toward the crown, running away with the game after a close first quarter ended at 12-10 for Bremerton. It was a whistle-burdened tussle despite the high score, with 27 personal fouls called against Bremerton and 23 against Ellensburg. The winners held a 38-21 edge at halftime and expanded this to 45-32 by the end of the third quarter. Darwin Gilchrist counted 16 points for the winners and Don Swangler had 13 for Ellensburg.

Hoquiam 41, Stadium 29. Hoquiam knocked the Tacoma entry, making up a lack of height with superior speed and alertness. It was close only in the first quarter, Hoquiam breaking an 8-all tie to move into a 12-10 lead at the recess and win from there in a runaway. The halftime margin was 27-13 and the third quarter score 38-19. Dwayne Westlin of Stadium topped the scoring with nine points.

Roosevelt 33, Gonzaga 31. This was entirely unexpected by a Seattle crowd which believed Roosevelt would breeze through the tourney as easily as this town's Lincoln did last year. It could be ranked as the top tilt of the tourney to date, with five ties, Gonzaga ahead six times and Roosevelt in the lead four times. After the first period ended at 7-all, the Zags scooted to a 17-9 halftime lead and moved on to a 25-19 edge before Roosevelt got its rally in the groove. Gonzaga still held the lead at 27-25 as the third period ended. There was a quick flurry of basket swapping and Roosevelt went ahead to stay just before the gun on a goal that broke a 31-31 tie.

Everett 51, Selah 27. An Everett team which had only one sharpshooter in losing its opening game came back with a raft of them to smother the Yakima valley entry. Reggie Scodeller, who counted 20 points as Everett lost Wednesday, had 10 last night and was matched by John Rognan, with all others contributing generously. The winning Seagulls piled up a 13-6 first quarter lead, ran it to 29-13 by halftime, spread that to 42-20 at the close of the third period and romped to the finish. Everett had the advantage in height, speed and—for this tilt at least—shooting ability.

Puyallup 37, Battleground 36. Last to reach the semi-finals, Puyallup had just as tough a time getting there as did Roosevelt. The teams swapped the lead furiously and went into the final minute in a 35-35 tie. Ken Storey, Battleground center, put his club ahead with a free toss and elected to take a second giftie cut of bounds. Dick White intercepted for Puyallup, passed to Ralph Thronton and the latter angled in the winning goal with just 20 ticks left in the clock. Puyallup had led at halftime 23-20 and it was that close all the way.

CHAMPIONSHIP ROUND
Anacortes 42, Longview 39.
Bremerton 57, Ellensburg 44.
Roosevelt (Seattle) 33, Gonzaga (Spokane) 31.
Puyallup 37, Battleground 36.

CONSOLATION ROUND
Mount Si 45, Walla Walla 41.
West Valley 39, Mount Baker 29.
Hoquiam 41, Stadium (Tacoma) 29.
Everett 51, Selah 27.

HOLDOUT LISKA WILL HAVE TO PAY FINE

SAN JOSE, Calif.—(AP)—Pitcher Ad Liska's holdout is costing him a $100 fine and a day's salary for each day's absence from training camp, General Manager William H. Klepper of the Portland baseball club announced.

The sinker ball artist ranked No. 4 in the Pacific Coast League in 1945, winning 20 games and losing 12 for an average of .625.

Klepper described Liska as the "top money man" in the league and said his 1946 salary was "a boost over last year's."

The manager said the pitcher was notified

Sudden Southwest Storm Brings Snow, Rain and Sleet

A sudden southwest storm, during which the wind reached a velocity of more than 30 miles an hour, hit Clallam county at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Southwest storm warnings had been displayed earlier in the day by Leon Sutton, volunteer weather observer, but few were prepared for the storm that brought a driving rain, snow flurries and sleet here and heavy snow on the near-by hills and west of Lake Crescent.

West of Fairholm hill on the Olympic highway, state highway department maintenance crews cleared the highways late yesterday and there was no remaining snow on the roads today.

Due to the wind driving the snow, driving conditions west of Lake Crescent were risky and many reports have been received of cars skidding from the highway.

The wind blew hard only a short time and the rain ceased late in the day but the temperature dropped during the night and went to around 30 and there was a very heavy frost on the ground at daylight. Much of the frost, except at the higher spots adjoining the city, left the streets and roads today.

Two Plead Guilty In Superior Court

Two men, Murphy Charles, 27, and William H. Rathbun, 25, alias Clinton Borden, were arraigned in superior court before Judge Ralph Smythe, Wednesday.

Charles plead guilty to a charge of taking a motor vehicle without the consent of the owner and not guilty to driving without a license. Charles is on a deferred sentence from the Pierce county court. The local court ruled it will not interfere with any action taken by the Pierce county court on the deferred sentence, but if no action is taken, the case will be set for jury trial. In the meantime, Charles is being held in the county jail in lieu of $100 bail.

The court deferred sentence until Saturday on Rathbun who plead guilty to a charge of second degree burglary and on recommendation of Prosecuting Attorney Max Church the second charge of grand larceny was dropped.

DICKEY AND NELSON IN USED CAR BUSINESS

Ross Dickey and Pete Nelson, both experienced service station men, have joined forces and are now operating the Mobile station at Sixth and Lincoln streets. In addition to service on cars, they are handling used cars and a line of tires and auto accessories.

Dickey was formerly at the Sixth and Lincoln station and Nelson operated a station at Eighth and Lincoln.

Newsmen on Tour Find Longview Picture Bright; Two Largest Mills Working Steadily

LONGVIEW, Wash.—(AP)—The Weyerhauser Timber Company has made plans for the early construction of a large plywood mill here, the company announced yesterday to touring newsmen.

J. P. Weyerhauser Jr., said the mill, scheduled to be in operation by June, 1947, would provide permanent employment for 200 persons and have a capacity of approximately 40,000,000 square feet annually.

LONGVIEW, Wash.—(AP)—Newsmen starting a statewide tour of manufacturing plants in Washington yesterday were presented with a bright picture of community confidence in the future by industrial and business leaders.

The two largest lumber mills in the world, the Long Bell and Weyerhauser operations, are working steadily, with plans calculated to continue indefinitely at approximately current rates.

Visiting the Long Bell mill, newsmen found production at about 70 per cent of capacity. The company was looking for several hundred more men to speed operations as soon as more logs could be brought in from the woods, where bad weather, bad roads and shortage of loggers were holding back the flow of raw material to the mill.

MORE CONFIDENCE

To newsmen who had just finished a similar tour in Oregon, the start of the Washington tour under pilotage of the National Association of Manufacturers produced less evidence of concern and less eagerness to discuss the varied problems rising out of government controls than they had found previously.

Extensive research activity into new uses for wood waste, and new plants being put up by the giant Weyerhaeuser firm were evidence of a confidence in the future of this area and, to a degree, a like confidence in the nation's economic destiny.

NEW WOOD PRODUCTS

The Reynolds Metals Company aluminum works, producing aluminum pigs at capacity rate, reinforced the community prospect.

Weyerhaeuser showed the party newly developed machinery and told of new wood products. He announced a new plywood plant to cost around $1,000,000, and several other new plants, including two for the use of small logs, one here and one at Everett.

Neither Long Bell nor Weyerhaeuser is exporting any lumber, their officials said. Weyerhaeuser said the return of war veterans had improved labor efficiency at his plant and that about 1,200 workers were vets.

'God's Word For Today'

"The Greatest in the Kingdom"

AT THAT time the disciples came to Jesus, saying, "Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven?" And calling to him a child, he put him in the midst of them, and said, "Truly, I say to you, unless you turn and become like children, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven. Whoever humbles himself like this child, he is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven.

"Whoever receives one such child in my name receives me; but whoever causes one of these little ones who believe in me to sin, it would be better for him to have a great millstone fastened round his neck and to be drowned in the depth of the sea."—Matthew 18:1-6.

The picture above shows ceremonies of the Port of Port Angeles terminal when ground was officially broken for the construction of the Peninsula Plywood plant here in the summer of 1941. The ceremony was sponsored by the Port Angeles Chamber of Commerce with company officials, Chamber of Commerce members and officers and officials of the city of Port Angeles present.

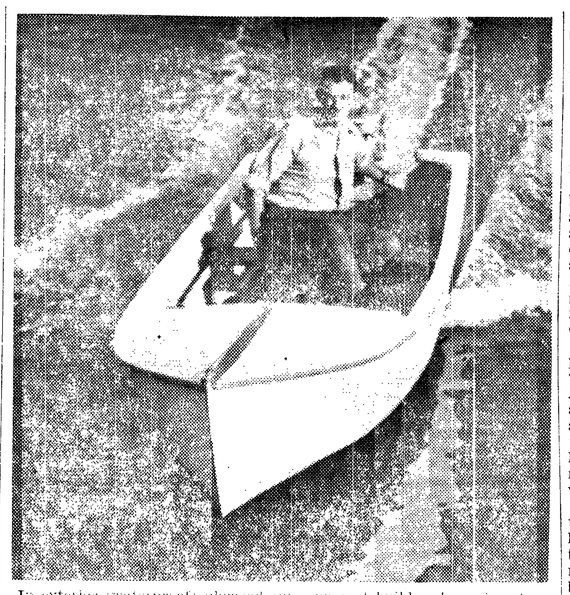
Tobacco Cured In Plywood Panels

Paced by orders for 25 million square feet of plywood for building tobacco hogsheads—those large barrels in which tobacco is cured—the "unusual" uses for the material are destined to be greater than ever.

In 1941 tobacco companies started using plywood sheets for the first time to make the big containers in which tobacco is stored for three-year periods as part of the curing program. Prior to that time, heavy oak boards were used for these hogsheads.

So successful was the trial of plywood for this specialized job that the cigarette and cigar manufacturers placed orders for shipment of 500 railroad cars of plywood to them during 1941. In each car there were about 50,000 square feet of Douglas fir plywood.

To meet the demands of this peculiar purpose, plywood has undergone a tough test and proved its worth. In forming the hogsheads the plywood must be bent to the desired curve. Then, when the panels are later stripped as the tobacco is taken from the barrels, the split-proof sheets remain in perfect condition so they may be used over and over again.



In exterior (waterproof) plywood amateur boat builders have found a ready ally which simplifies the building of dinghies, rowboats, sailboats and cruisers. Plywood construction eliminates tedious caulking of seams and provides a lighter, stronger boat. Here is a 14 foot, V-bottom, all-plywood outboard built from a stock plan offered free to amateurs by Douglas Fir Plywood Association, Tacoma 2, Wash.

BOILING FOR BETTERMENT. As a part of the laboratory test to determine that adhesives in exterior fir plywood are completely waterproof, tiny samples are boiled and re-boiled. While still wet, samples are destroyed in a shear-testing machine; glue line must be stronger than wood to be accepted.

Sportsmen Find Plywood May Be Used for Boats

In a sense plywood for all its building and industrial applications, is a plaything, too.

A list of the sports equipment built of plywood substantiates that statement at a glance. Here are some of them: pleasure boats from dinghies to yachts, paddle boards, aquaplanes, tennis tables, tackle boxes, spools for fishing line, tables, game boards and many other sporting equipment items.

CABINS, AUTO COURTS

Add to the tabulation the other plywood applications that facilitate vacations and outdoor activities. Among them is the construction of auto courts, beach houses, cabins and other types of lodgings. Further, most of the trailers—both house trailers and equipment carriers—are mostly or partly of plywood.

Not to be overlooked as contributing to enjoyable trips are the highway signs that direct tourists to other destinations. In addition, resort operators use plywood billboards and signs to attract would-be customers.

HOBBYISTS' MATERIAL

Probably more important than any other single playtime use of plywood when considered from the standpoint of satisfaction gained therefrom is the use of plywood in home hobby shops. No matter whether the person is making cabinets or small pieces of home furniture or turning out toys, lawn gadgets or equipment for games, the so-called "work" in a home shop is recognized as true recreation.

REMOVABLE FLOORS

There are specialized applications of plywood that contribute toward indoor and outdoor athletic events and social activities. For instance, the basketball court of University of Washington athletic pavilion is of plywood because it provides a smooth, rigid playing surface yet it can be taken up quickly when the pavilion is to be used for other purposes.

Removable, dance floors at resort hotels often are of plywood. Stadiums and ball parks frequently have plywood buildings — and plywood walls, too, that definitely detract from the pleasure of youngsters, who would like to peek through cracks and holes.

Plywood Notes

There are two types of fir plywood. One is exterior (waterproof) type used for boats, siding of buildings and homes and all other outdoor uses. The other is for interior walls, cabinets and various inside applications.

The cross-grain construction of plywood makes it splitproof so nails may be driven near the edge without danger of splitting.

Farmers line old silos with exterior type (waterproof) plywood to get a smooth, tight inner surface. New silos are entirely of plywood.

Lawn ornaments can easily be cut from sheets of exterior (waterproof) fir plywood with a jig saw.

About a billion and a half square feet of fir plywood will be manufactured this year.

Reclaimed Space Gives New Room

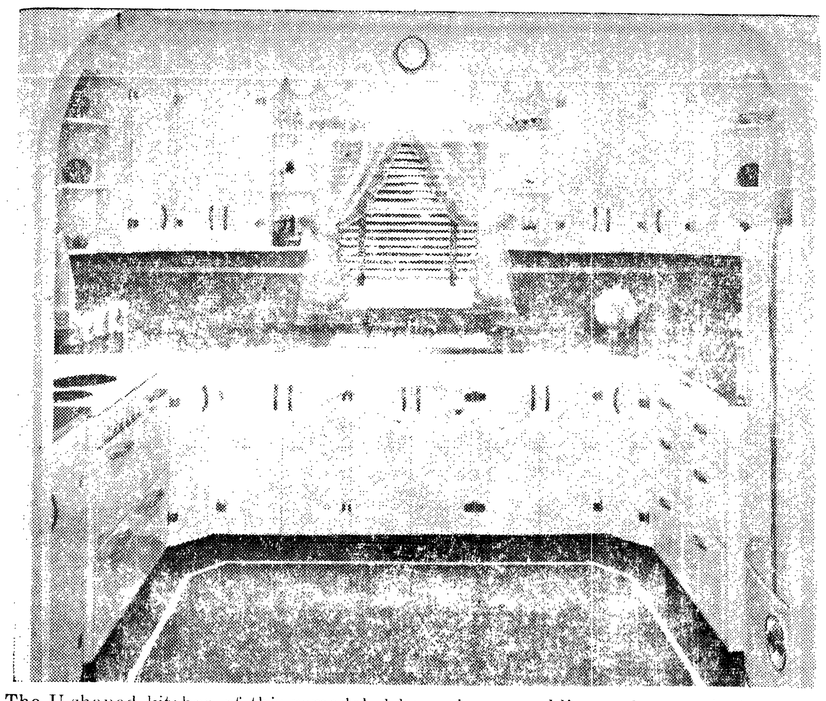
Home owners who heeded the recent fire prevention week in many cases re-discovered that there actually is space in their houses for building a playroom for the all-important younger members of the family.

With rubbish cleaned out of the basement or attic and spare pieces of furniture, trunks and luggage stored properly, the house just seems to be bigger, that's all. And right now is an opportune time to line these "waste" parts of the house so Jim and Mary can play indoors during winter months without literally "destroying" the routine of their mother's day.

Plywood panels were made to do just this kind of a building job because they come in big sheets that go on quickly to cut labor costs. Or the amateur can nail them in place. Mighty important, plywood is kick-proof, crackproof. The walls can be stained, painted, papered.

With a little planning and with inclusion of a few built-in plywood cabinets to house toys, the newly recovered space can serve also as a recreation room for grown-ups or a spare bedroom.

First commercial use of fir plywood, now an all-purpose building material, was in 1905 for door panels.



The U-shaped kitchen of this remodeled home is as sparkling and convenient as any in the newest houses. The battery of plywood cabinets above and below the work surface gives an abudance of storage space. Color scheme is geranium red and white.
