Olympia-Angeles Daily Bus Service Starts Monday

Daily round trip bus service between Port Angeles and Olympia will commence Monday on a 3½ hour schedule each way, Secretary George H. Swanson of Bremerton-Tacoma Stages announced today.

The bus will leave Port Angeles at 9:15 a.m. and arrive at Olympia at 12:45 p.m. Directly connecting buses will arrive Bremerton at 1:00 p.m. and Portland, Oregon at 5:54 p.m.

Returning the bus will leave Olympia at 2:05 p.m. and arrive Port Angeles at 5:45 p.m. Connecting buses leave Bremerton at 2:00 p.m. and Portland at 9:00 a.m.

The fare between Port Angeles and Olympia is $3.25 one way and $5.85 round trip, plus 15% federal tax.

NEW PARLOR COACH

A new 29 passenger Flexible Clipper Coach, the latest type parlor car, will inaugurate the Port Angeles-Olympia bus service, Swanson said.

Temporary bus station here is the Lee Hotel, with the hotel acting as ticket agent. The bus will be stored overnight and maintained by Janish Motor Co.

Swanson said he will come here in the new bus Sunday for the first trip south Monday morning, and a committee of the Chamber of Commerce, which worked for the new service, will be on hand for the initial send off.

TRAIN CONNECTIONS SOUTH

The Olympia bus schedule permits direct connections with trains to Oregon and California. A railroad bus leaves Olympia at 1:35 p.m. to connect at East Olympia with the fast train south that arrives Portland at 4:35 p.m., and continues to California as the Cascade and Beaver, fastest trains on the Southern Pacific Shasta route.

Northbound the Southern Pacific's west coast train, which leaves Portland at 8:15 a.m. arrives Olympia at 12:05 p.m.

PORT TOWNSEND CONNECTION

The new Port Townsend Southern Stage Line will have direct connections with the Olympia bus at Quilcene. This service will leave Quilcene daily at 8:30 a.m. for Port Townsend and leave Port Townsend at 9:30 a.m. to connect with the southbound bus for Olympia.

It will leave Quilcene again upon arrival of the bus from Olympia at 4:15 p.m. and will leave Port Townsend at 5:10 p.m. for return to Quilcene.

The Port Townsend Southern company organized by Jefferson county people, was granted a state franchise last week simultaneously with the Port Angeles-Olympia grant to Bremerton-Tacoma Stages, Inc., a Bremerton firm.

Bremerton-Tacoma Stages operates buses between Bremerton, Gig Harbor, Tacoma, Shelton and Olympia. It has long been operating up Hood canal as far as Hoodsport and applied several years ago for extension to Port Angeles. The new service will not handle local traffic between Port Angeles and Discovery bay, but will carry through passengers. It will handle local traffic between all points south of Discovery bay.

NEW INFORMATION

Information regarding new premium cost for national service life insurance policies has been received by the state veterans' office, Robert A. Fleming revealed today.

The state office is now prepared to process applications for insurance under the new liberalized provisions of the insurance, such as lump sum payment, total disability clause and endowment feature. Rate changes were made with the new provisions on converted policies, and the premiums were not previously known.

County Property Assessed Value Totals $13,290,535

The total assessed value of all property in Clallam county is $13,290,535, according to figures released by the county assessor.

Of this amount, $12,893,461 is locally assessed and $297,074 assessed by the state tax commission.

County Assessor A. J. Cosser comments as follows:

"Local figures show an increase of $229,929 over last year. This represents a natural growth, as the assessed value of no land or improvement in the whole county has been increased, despite the high values prevalent the past year. A rise in valuation is contemplated as not only justified but imperative owing to the greatly increased cost of doing the same upkeep work," Cosser declared.

GAINS MADE

"Gains were made on acquired timber separate from lands, new acreage, new and improved buildings, leaseholds, contracts, rolling stock, contractors' machinery, store stocks, furniture and fixtures in offices and apartments, sheep and poultry. Heavy losses were sustained in logged timber lands, ($113,675), farm stock, cattle, horses and hogs, manufacturers and agricultural machinery, and in products on hand. The net loss totals $236,820.00. Incidentally, the building boom of the past year is not reflected in the figures, there being little or no value in these buildings on January 1, the date of all assessments.

"Inasmuch as timbered land assessments were raised last year some $300,000, (by closer figuring not by rise in rate), the loss of some $200,000 sustained in logging operations was overcome in this one item. This year this loss in cutting of timber, together with other heavy losses, therefore had to be made up from other sources. Happily new sources were found. It seems to be a law in natural development that losses in one field are made up by additional fields of endeavor.

"Assessed values of Clallam county have remained around $13,000,000 for the past decade or so, despite the fact that millions of dollars of assessed value in timber have been removed from the rolls because vast areas of the west end have been denuded of their natural growth. In other words, the maintenance of the $13,000,000 assessed valuation is gradually being shifted from the natural resources of the heavily timbered section to the development and growth of the denser populated eastern part of the county."

AMBASSADOR ILL

SPOKANE —(AP)— Lord Inverchapel, British ambassador to the United States, was confined to bed with a cold and fever after his arrival here today on a tour of the northwest.

John B. Ridland, British vice consul in Spokane, said Lord Inverchapel had cancelled all engagements for the next two days, including a trip planned tomorrow to Pendleton, Ore.

His physician said the ambassador was ill when he arrived here from Seattle and probably would be in bed two or three days.

PORT TOWNSEND REDSKINS

Makah Tribe At Neah Bay Is Governed By Youthful Council

Youthful Indians, educated in the state's public school system, have taken over the Makah tribal government at Neah Bay, and some notable changes are under way on the northwesternmost reservation in the USA.

This was a striking point in evidence when the tribal council had as their honor guest Wednesday night Congressman Henry M. Jackson, chairman of the house Indian affairs committee (himself still on the youthful side—he was 28 when first elected to congress in 1940).

Impressed by the youthful faces around the table at dinner in Neah Bay's Presbyterian Church, Editor C. N. Webster of the Port Angeles Evening News polled the council members and listed their ages as follows: 30, 35, 27, 45, 27. Average for the five members, 33.

Charles Peterson, chairman, and a member of the tribal council for 10 years, is 30. (He and another Makah, Robert Soenoke, and the Standard Oil agent, James Hodson, own the Bay Fish Company which operates the fish dock and ice plant formerly run by W. W. Washburn and E. C. Horton and known then as Neah Bay Fish Co.)

Eustace Markishtum, vice chairman of the council, a carpenter, is 35.

David Parker, a logger, is 27. His wife and Peterson's wife participated in the dinner. Parker was a logger before the war and since returning from military service is working on his new house.

The other two councilmen are Frank Ward, logger, 45, and Henry Watchendorf, oil dock employe, 27. While these two were not at the dinner, another youthful officer, George Bowchop, tribal clerk, age 25, was there. He is a full time tribal employe, located in the tribal office on the main or waterfront street of Neah Bay.

EFFECT OF PUBLIC SCHOOL

Asked to explain the young men on the council, Markishtum said it has come about only since the old U. S. Indian service day school for Indians was replaced about 14 years ago by the state public school.

This school, attended by both whites and Indians at Neah Bay, has shifted the attitude of the young Indians toward modern ways of living taught in the state system, and a majority of tribesmen have recognized the value of letting these young people take the lead, although of course many of the elders have also resisted the change. But generally the elders, who mainly led the discussions, have helped groom the younger, educated men for responsibility, Markishtum said.

A FORMER COUNCILMAN

Noting two of the young councilmen's wives at the table, the editor asked if the Indians never elect women to the council, learned that Councilman Parker's mother Mrs. Tom (Hazel) Parker served three terms on the tribal council.

Asked why she was singled out for election, Markishtum ascribed it to the active part she always took in the discussion at general meetings of the Makah tribe. "She was an excellent interpreter, frequently called upon to translate between English and the Makah language for the benefit of those who understood only one language well," he said.

To this young Parker added that he finds it difficult to follow conversation in Makah, and that the native language is not learned by many of the Makah children today. It is not taught in the public school which they all attend, and now is seldom heard in tribal meetings.

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT

The tribe holds general meetings annually, the last Thursday in December. Councilmen are elected then by ballot, from the two highest nominees for each vacancy as chosen at a previous nomination meeting. Council terms are three years, with only one or two terms expiring each year. This elective council meets monthly, adopts ordinances and is the governing authority of the tribe, subject to federal laws.

The Indians have the aid and advice of the U. S. Indian service, a bureau in the interior department. Many Indian service employes, such as Superintendent George Lavatta of Taholah agency, are Indians. Mr. and Mrs. Lavatta, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood LaRonge, and Mr. and Mrs. Celestine Hopkins of the Indian service were present at the dinner Wednesday night. Hopkins, the forester, and LaRonge, who came from a Wisconsin reservation, are both stationed at Neah Bay.

Rev. Perry Ides, a Makah, and Rev. Robert Baldwin, who are past and present Presbyterian ministers at Neah Bay, completed the Neah Bay people at the dinner honoring Congressman Jackson.

BROILED SALMON

Preparing and serving the dinner, consisting of salmon, vegetables, salad, coffee, cake and ice cream, were Mrs. Ada Markishtum, Mrs. Matilda McCarty, Frances Bowchop, Esther Ides, Joan Parker and Edith Markishtum.

Ada Markishtum, widow of the late Luke Markishtum and mother of Councilman Eustace Markishtum, broiled the salmon Indian-fashion over a fire behind the church. The salmon is first split open, flattened out on a long stake with cross pegs to hold it in position, and then broiled upright before an outdoor fire—a method which makes the most of the delicious king salmon flavor.

In the entry of the Presbyterian church, a modern wood building, are the names of about 48 men—a majority but not all of the Makahs who have served in the armed forces during the war. Several were wounded but none were lost in the war, and nearly all have returned to Neah Bay. Several men liked the military life so well that they reenlisted, and one young Makah likely Italy so well that he entered the allied government service in order to remain in Europe.

BERMUDA ALERTED FOR HURRICANE

MIAMI, Fla. —(AP)— Bermuda was alerted for a hurricane today as the first major tropical storm of the year increased on Friday the 13th to a force of some 90 miles an hour.

Hurricane hunters flew into the disturbance and located its center at mid-morning near latitude 28 degrees north, longitude 75 degrees west. The storm was moving northeastward at 16 miles an hour.

Tempers Flare In Two Balkan Commission Meets

PARIS—(AP)—Tempers flared in two peace conference commissions considering Balkan questions today and the Bulgarian political and territorial group broke up in disorder.

A. V. Alexander, first lord of the British admiralty, walked out of the military commission just before a 15 to 2 vote to invite Albania's representatives to make an unrestricted statement on military provisions of the Italian treaty. Alexander had argued the Albanians should be given only 30 minutes.

In the Bulgarian political and territorial commission, the delegates of the Slav bloc and the western states split on a British proposal to vote immediately on a Greek demand for border changes. Finally Kouzma Kisselev of White Russia, the presiding officer, declared the meeting adjourned. He said the Greek demands were too complicated for immediate action. Western delegates protested vainly.

Delegates of eight nations, however, reconvened later on the suggestion of Jefferson Caffery, U. S. ambassador to Paris; F. A. Warner of the United Kingdom, and W. R. Hodgson of Australia. Hodgson and the Greek delegate, Panaghiotis Pipinelis, asked that the commission note the disagreement with the chairman over the adjournment order.

The Australian delegate said earlier the United Nations security council was in disrepute through arbitrary use of the veto power and should not be permitted to govern the proposed free territory of Trieste.

ON VETO POWER

"The use of the veto power in the security council has been arbitrary, irresponsible and dictatorial and has brought the council into disrepute throughout the world," said Col. W. R. Hodgson, who has served as a delegate to the council.

"It would make the Trieste port question a threat to world peace."

To put the Trieste question in the hands of the security council, as suggested by the four-power foreign ministers council, "would insure making the plan unworkable," Hodgson argued. He said Trieste should be governed by a council representing the United States, Great Britain, Soviet Russia, France and three other nations.

"This problem belongs for decision and approval in this 21-nation conference here and the port should be administered by a council of the big four and three other nations," he said in debate before the Italian political and territorial commission.

MAYOR SALMON STEAK

ILWACO, Wash.—(AP)—Ilwaco residents can't vote for Tacoma's mayor C. Val Fawcett but they'll see his name every time they eat out during the next 12 months.

Menus in each of the city's cafes will include the "fried Mayor Fawcett Salmon Steak." The Tacoman won the Pacific Coast mayor's salmon derby held here Labor Day weekend.

Fishing Fleet Getting Offshore Weather Forecasts Through KONP, Starting Today

Quick results followed commercial fishermen's appeal to Congressman Henry M. Jackson at Neah Bay Wednesday night for daily radio broadcasts of offshore weather forecast to the fishing fleet.

Instead of waiting until a proposed radio broadcast service can be started from Tatoosh island, the weather bureau at Seattle commenced preparing a daily offshore weather forecast this morning and sending it to station KONP, Port Angeles, for immediate broadcast to the fishing fleet.

KONP broadcasts it at 10 a.m. and noon along with the forecast for Port Angeles and vicinity which comes in the same weather bureau telegram from Seattle.

The Port Angeles Evening News is also publishing the offshore forecast along with other weather information. The first day, today, started with a storm warning to small craft off the coast (see local page for details).

The weather bureau advises that the offshore forecasts will continue to be sent to KONP for broadcast until a radio broadcast transmitter is installed at Tatoosh to send the weather reports on the 2638 kc channel used by the fishing fleet for intercommunication.

Regional Director J. C. Smith said plans are well advanced to start the service from Tatoosh as soon as a radio transmitter, to be purchased by the fishermen's associations, can be obtained and installed. Weather bureau personnel at Tatoosh will operate it on a schedule as requested by fishermen, probably sending reports twice daily with extras in emergencies, Smith said.

KONP has expressed interest in continuing the offshore weather broadcasts indefinitely, so long as the weather bureau sends them to the station along with other weather information, and would also include reports of existing weather off the cape if these can be supplied to KONP now by the weather bureau and coast guard.

This morning KONP telephoned storekeeper R. M. Mansfield of the Fishermens Cooperative Association at Neah Bay to notify the fishing fleet to listen for the daily forecast on KONP, which broadcasts on 1450 kilocycles and has a strong signal throughout the strait and off Cape Flattery. Its signal strength declines rapidly down the coast from the cape, as land intercedes, but the fishermen can arrange for their own vessels to rebroadcast the reports now for the benefit of those who may be too far south to hear them direct from KONP.

At the meeting with Congressman Jackson in Neah Bay Wednesday, fishermen declared 3000 fishing vessels are operating off the Washington coast, 900 of them out of Neah Bay which is the only all-weather harbor they can easily enter when storms prevent crossing the bars of the river-mouth harbors from the Columbia north to Cape Flattery.

They said the weather conditions 30 to 50 miles offshore may be good for fishing when it does not look good at Neah Bay, and vice versa; also that before the war the Swiftsure light ship broadcast valuable reports of weather at the lightship but has not done so since.

They said the only radiophone weather broadcasts they have been getting are from the Canadian government stations, notably Estevan which is considerably farther north on Vancouver island, and which sends reports of weather off Canada to the Canadian fishing fleet on 1630 kc.

Communists Reported Routed From Two China Strongholds

PEIPING—(AP)—Chinese communists were reported routed today from two army strongholds and two railway cities in north China by a government power drive backed by artillery and aerial bombardment.

If confirmed, the government seizure of Tsunhwa in Hopeh province, Chihfeng in Jehol and Tsining and Fengchen in Inner Mongolia would weaken communist grasp on strategic areas in north China's civil war.

Independent Chinese press dispatches asserted five government columns had seized Tsunhwa, communist army headquarters for eastern Hopeh 90 miles northeast of Peiping.

An estimated 50,000 communist troops had been reported deployed in that area to defend Tsunhwa, which because of its position near the government's rail lines to Manchuria, was of great strategic value.

The Catholic newspaper Social Welfare asserted that this all but completed the government mop-up in eastern Hopeh.

Four Chinese newspapers in separate dispatches reported the government's north-bound armies in Jehol had overrun Chihfeng, to which the communist forces retired after yielding the provincial capital of Chengteh, 120 miles to the south, without a battle last month.

None of these accounts mentioned any severe fighting around Tsunhwa or Chihfeng, which is the second largest city in Jehol, but the communists had announced previously they meant to defend both cities.

Social Welfare said government troops attacked with artillery and aerial bombardment in Inner Mongolia, where closing government lines menace Kalgan, communist regional capital 80 miles northwest of Peiping.

Four Killed In Palestine Bank Robbery By Gang

JAFFA, Palestine —(AP)— At least four persons were killed and four injured today when two armed bands, believed by police to be members of the Jewish Stern gang, raided the Ottoman banks in Tel Aviv and Jaffa, escaping with $6,000 from Tel Aviv.

Twelve of the 15 attackers in the Arab city of Jaffa were apprehended and the $2,000 taken here was recovered from the arrested Jews. All the casualties were in Jaffa.

Both Tel Aviv and Jaffa were placed under rigid curfew for an indefinite period after the daring daylight robberies.

The simultaneous raids were staged shortly before noon. Diversionary incidents at Jaffa, synchronized with the attacks, included the firing of an oil drum in the street to block traffic, an exchange of fire with police at a nearby substation, and a machinegun volley from a moving automobile against an Arab crowd.

Police said casualties included one Arab police officer, two Arab civilians and one Jewish raider killed, and three arrested Jews wounded. An eyewitness said James Annett, English bank manager, also was shot through the leg.

BRANDISH GUNS

A dozen armed men walked into the Tel Aviv bank brandishing pistols and tommyguns, scooped up the $6,000 in cash and escaped on foot.

But in Jaffa a similar band ran into opposition from Arab civilians and the gunfire of police.

Police said they had information the band had planned to rob the Arab National Bank in Jaffa also, but their plans went awry.

David Douglas Duncan, photographer for Life magazine, was standing in a crowd of civilians on the corner near the bank in Jaffa when a passing automobile opened fire with machineguns.

"The man standing right next to me was killed outright and another man on the other side was badly shot up," Duncan said.

An Arab policeman was shot when the attackers returned the fire of police in a substation a short distance from the Jaffa bank.

SUGAR PRICES UP

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The OPA announced increases in sugar ceilings today with a resulting boost in retail prices of about two cents a pound.

CIO Maritime Workers Out On Strike With AFL

NEW YORK —(AP)— CIO national maritime union workers went out on strike at noon today after unanimously voting the action in a demand for wage parity with AFL maritime workers.

The workers agreed to the plan after NMU President Joseph Curran declared at a mass meeting:

"We will go on strike until the shipowners agree in writing to wipe out all wage differences. We won't go back until all seamen have parity in wages."

Earlier, Curran had said the strike would be supported by 200,000 members of the six CIO and one independent unions comprising the committee for maritime unity in protest against the "deliberate creation of inequities" by the government-granted pay raises to AFL maritime workers.

The CIO members agreed to walk out despite some indication the government appeared ready to cut them in on wage boosts opened to AFL maritime workers by a White House ruling.

In Washington, J. Godfrey Butler, labor relations director for the maritime commission told a reporter he thought the commission "would seek to extend to the CIO the same increases as were given to the AFL."

NMU seamen received a wage rise of $17.50 monthly in June. AFL seamen—first out on strike—negotiated with operators an increase to $27.50 for east coast men and $22.50 for west coast seamen. This was rejected by the wage stabilization board, but last night Dr. John R. Steelman, economic stabilization director, ruled the government might pay seamen any raise negotiated by private shipowners.

The NMU has 90,000 members, 30,000 of whom are located in the port of New York. They claim to be operating 1,200 to 1,400 of the 1,800 ships now tied up in the AFL strike.

A strike fund of $1,000,000 has been collected, the union said, and about 2,000 pickets thus far have been signed up for duty on a 24-hour basis.

Three Sailors Drown After Attempt To Make Car Go 100 MPH

BELLINGHAM—(AP)—Three U. S. sailors drowned and three swam ashore after an automobile bringing them to Bellingham plunged into Lake Samish, south of this city, about 9:45 o'clock last night.

The driver of the car was trying to make the speedometer register 100 m.p.h., one of the survivors said, adding "he had her up to ninety-three."

The dead: W. H. Cabe, 26, AMM 1/c, Ault field, Whidby Island, driver of the car; J. L. Parker, 19, fireman 2/c, USS Lexington, Bremerton; K. L. Hill, 18, fireman, 2/c, USS Lexington.

In St. Luke's Hospital here, suffering from cuts and shock, are C. B. Parker, 18, fireman 2/c, USS Lexington; J. L. Neil, 22, Pr 1/c, Ault Field; F. H. Paulson, 21, AMM 1/c, Ault Field.

The survivors said the Ault field sailors had picked up the three from the Lexington while the latter were hitchhiking north. Cabe said his auto would do 100 miles an hour, according to their story, and one of the sailors in the front seat was calling out the speedometer reading as the arrow pointed above 90. He had called out 93 as Cabe passed two other automobiles along the Lake Samish shore.

OUT OF CONTROL

Then, as Cabe sought to steer the car back into its own lane, it went out of control, turned over twice and plunged into the lake.

Neil was quoted as saying he kicked out the windshield as the car started to sink into the water and he and Paulson swam ashore. Parker, the third survivor, was thrown from the car near the water's edge, he reported. Two other sailors may have escaped from the car in the water but failed in the try for shore, he said.

Fenders, headlights, a tool box and clothing were spread 150 feet along the roadside as the automobile turned over. One of the door handles was found in a clump of brush. The auto was believed to be in about 30 feet of water.

Divers from Whidby island base arrived this morning in an effort to recover the bodies and place a cable on the wrecked car.

TOBACCO TYCOON DIES

NEW YORK—(AP)—George Washington Hill, 61, who rose from a $5-a-week helper in his father's tobacco firm to president of the American Tobacco Company, died today at his fishing camp in Matapedia, Quebec province, Canada.

Announcement of his death was made here by the company. He had been ill for a short time but the cause of his death was not announced.

Hill, whose company popularized Lucky Strike cigarettes, made the tobacco business his life work and rose to become one of the highest paid corporation executives in the nation, averaging more than $400,000 annually for years as president.

He earned $5 a week when he joined the company at the age of 20 and once disclosed that his salary and bonuses netted him $6,500,000 between 1926, when he became president of the firm, and 1939.

Scribe's Juneau Visit Continues; More Meetings With Old Friends

JUNEAU, Alaska, Tuesday—Met Richard Harris, Jr., son of Richard Harris, who with Joe Juneau, discovered gold here in 1883 and founded the town of Juneau. Young Richard and I worked together at Treadwell almost 40 years ago when I was a locomotive engineer and he was one of the crew. We had quite a reunion.

Found much discussion here about statehood. At the election of October 8 folks are to vote whether or not they favor Alaska becoming the 49th state.

Last night at the home of a brother-in-law on Douglas island we heard a recorded program over station KONP. At times it came in good but there was some interference from the local station early in the evening.

There was a baseball game here last night in which a team from Canadian warships in the harbor beat a local Elks' team. Days are longer here and they were able to play until 8 o'clock.

WORRIED OVER STRIKE

Folks are beginning to become worried about the steamship strike that will prevent food from being shipped here if it lasts very long.

Yesterday I met Mrs. Ted Doogan, one of whose daughters is a nun teaching in the Queen of Angels parish school at Port Angeles. She is well and sent her love to her daughter.

This morning at breakfast I met Mrs. Frank Buckner who works in the Baranof cafe. Frank Buckner, her husband, who formerly operated a saw mill on the Port Angeles port mill, is foreman at the Juneau Lumber mill. Mrs. Buckner came here from Port Angeles about a year ago.

It was quite a relief when the bartenders strike ended that had the city's thirst quenching emporiums closed for a number of days. Some old timers had to get back to drinking out of a bottle while the bartenders had a holiday. There was a quick settlement when folks heard two Canadian warships were coming for a visit with 1000 men aboard. So the bar men took the offer of $14 a day and seem to be earning it by drawing thousands of glasses of beer for the Canadians who fill the beer taverns until late at night.

ALASKA MUSEUM

The Alaska museum is housed in beautiful new quarters in the new federal building since I was last here. Visited with Mrs. "Stroller" White, widow of an old friend there. The museum is a wonderful place where I had only a few minutes, but I could have browsed a whole day. Mrs. White is assistant curator and at one time lived in Port Townsend. Her late husband was a mail clerk on the old steamer Evangel in the 90's. He was later a famous newspaperman who inspired Robert Service to write some of his most famous poems, and Service in his recent biography gives him credit for it.

Weather remains perfect here and there was a beautiful full moon last night and the air was balmy. Sourdoughs are beginning to say that the Japan current must have changed its course and made the territory into a sissified semi-tropical country.

U. S. Bid For Passenger Shipping Dies

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NEA)—For the last few years American shipping interests have had reason to believe they would be able to move in on the world passenger business with the revival of tourist trade after the war.

Before the war it was never considered fashionable to travel on American lines. That feeling demonstrated America's second-rate position on the high seas as far as passenger lines went. The Dutch, Swedish, French and English lines were considered better and got most of the business.

Then during the war the Maritime Commission went ahead with plans to build some new liners which would be able to compete in luxury and speed with foreign passenger ships. It proceeded with approval of President Roosevelt and under authorization of the Maritime Act of 1936. Part of the plan was to help ease the shipping industry back to a peace-time basis.

But the other countries had the same idea. England started building new and faster passenger liners before the war ended. Sweden got new luxury ships launched even before peace came and they're carrying passengers right now.

THEN a couple of weeks ago came the blow which now has the American shipbuilding industry all in a lather. Reconversion Director John R. Steelman suddenly ordered construction halted on two U. S. superliners which would have been used for South American trade. He said the work was taking materials away from the veteran housing program.

H. Gerrish Smith, president of the Shipbuilders' Council of America, wrote a sharp letter to Steelman charging him with striking a "serious and unwarranted blow at the shipbuilding industry, as well as the American Merchant Marine, at a most critical time."

Steelman's answer made it clear that he had President Truman's backing in the move and that he had no intentions of backtracking. He further explained what apparently will be Truman's future policy on the whole question. He wrote:

"Frankly, it seems clear to me that a healthy United States Merchant Marine will be developed, not by the government taking the initiative and sole financial responsibility for building and operating uneconomic vessels, but by private operators developing, with the aid of the shipbuilders, vessels in which they are willing to invest their capital."

TRUMAN'S position on this matter is all right if he would have America remain a second- or third-rate nation in the passenger line field, officials at Maritime Commission say. U. S. passenger lines cannot compete with foreign lines on a profit and loss basis. It is known that the English and Swedish governments feel it important enough to have top-flight passenger lines to the extent that they underwrite losses.

The ships on which Steelman ordered construction stopped were to be America's first bid for the big money in the passenger business.

The whole dispute is likely to result in another re-evaluation of just what America's basic policy should be toward its passenger and

WALLA WALLA OPEN OCT. 2

WALLA WALLA —(AP)— Opening of Walla Walla College was set back one week yesterday to Oct. 2 to assure completion of housing projects for increased numbers of students already enrolled. Dr. G. W. Bowers, president, announced last night.

The annual Thanksgiving vacation will be eliminated to make up the lost time.

The Alamo, noted for its heroic dtfense during the war between Texas and Mexico, was built as a mission chapel.

FRUIT GROWERS MAY LOSE FROM STRIKE

EDMONTON, Alta. —(AP)— Possibility of a substantial loss to British Columbia fruit growers as a result of the strike of 20,000 Alberta farmers union members loomed today as Edmonton fruit wholesalers disclosed lack of demand at country points.

Fruit officials expressed belief the lack of demand stemmed from retailers cutting off credit to striking farmers who ordinarily would buy the fruit. Alberta importations normally total in the thousands of dollars.

One dealer said a continuance of the farmers strike and lack of demand by rural communities would result in the fruit being dumped.

Meanwhile, the projected 30-day strike in the farmers' quest for establishment of a fact-finding board to determine parity prices went into its seventh day.

Virtually all agricultural deliveries appeared near normal in most Alberta communities despite strengthened picket lines.

At Dawson creek and Pouce Coupe in British Columbia's Peace river country, butchers meeting with AFU strike officials agreed to close their shops next Tuesday for the duration of the 30-day strike.

PAPER CO. PRES. DIES

SPOKANE —(AP)— Mrs. B. Gard Ewing, 75, former president of the B. G. Ewing paper Company founded by her husband, died Wednesday. A native of Ontario, Canada, Mrs. Ewing attended the University of Washington and was the first graduate of Cheney Normal school, now Eastern Washington College of Education. She was a member of the first Hill Guild of the Orthopedic Hospital in Seattle and maintained a summer home at Winslow on Bainbridge island.

Balkan War Not Imminent Now

By J. M. Roberts, Jr.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Military alarms in the Balkans which once would have been taken as the harbingers of immediate war must be studied in a new light today.

There are reasons for believing that military displays are merely being substituted for the diplomatic notes of former times, and that, right now, there may be even less explosive.

The red army has been concentrating in the area surrounding Greece; Russia is reported equipping 70,000 Albanians for war and there has been a little wild shooting along the Greek - Albanian border; Russia's servants in Belgrade are reported seeking a unified Yugoslavia-Albanian military area for defense; Bulgaria, Albania and Yugoslavia are presenting claims against Greece, and Russia is doing likewise against Turkey. Yugoslavia is making motions around Trieste.

While Russia may be using "all means short of war" to further her program, she is believed by observers within and without Russia, to be carefully remaining within that limit.

NO DESIRE FOR WAR

As a matter of fact, amid all the talk, there are few who attribute to Russia a desire for war, now or at any time. Instead, observers in Moscow agree with communists both there and abroad that the Soviet is determined upon peace for now, and for the future if it can be made compatible with Russia's conception of her needs.

Where the rub comes—and when you hear conservative diplomats talking about the possibilities of a third world war this is what they mean—is the fear that Russia, conducting a military diplomacy which she intends to strengthen with every year, will eventually be emboldened to take a chance, such as Germany took in Poland, which she will be mistaken in thinking she can get away with without war.

When you ask a European communist why Russia, in spite of all her peaceful protestations, uses her army as a diplomatic weapon, with all the danger that such a policy involves, he will reply:

MEN INSTEAD OF MONEY

"Britain and America use money. We don't have the money. We have men. We use the red army."

American observers who met and cooperated with the red army in Europe, who have surveyed Russia's war-devastated areas and who are familiar with the Soviet economic situation, say it will take years of industrialization and rehabilitation to put Russia in a positon to conduct nother important war.

WOULD REGAIN CHILD

TACOMA —(AP)— Action to regain custody of their three-year-old daughter, Margo, was filed in superior court yesterday by Mrs. Ellen Lou Van Tongeren, Centralia, against Russell J. Burke of Orting.

The mother asserted in her complaint she was given custody of the child when her marriage was annulled in California two years ago but placed it in custody of Burke's sister until she was able to provide the proper care. Burke, she said, has assumed custody of the daughter.

Superior Judge E. D. Hodge, set Sept. 16 as the date for Burke's appearance to show cause why the child should not be turned back to the mother.

Harold ICKES

OPA STATUTE PHONY; FIRST CLASS DE-CONTROL BOARD

By Harold L. Ickes

Although, as a price control measure, the new OPA statute is as phony as, at the time of the upstage veto of its immediate predecessor by President Truman, I predicted that it would be, it is a pleasure to record that the president has appointed a first-class de-control board, the members of which are: Roy L. Thompson, New Orleans banker, Daniel W. Bell, former undersecretary of the treasury, and George H. Mead, Ohio manufacurer.

These appointments go to prove that President Truman's expostulations that he cannot get "good men" to accept office because of the wickedness of Senator Tobey of New Hampshire and this writer in defeating for undersecretary of the navy that "great and good' man and 'transcendant" public servant, Edwin W. Pauley, had a hollow ring to them. In this connection it is difficult to reconcile with President Truman's jeremiad with respect to Pauley his able veto message of the tidelands bill which was both sired and dammed by the said Mr. Pauley.

LOST ABLE MAN

When Harold D. Smith resigned as director of the budget the government lost an able public servant who was practically irreplaceable. Mr. Smith recommended as his successor Paul H. Appleby who had been assistant director of the budget and who was able, competent and highly experienced. After serving in that post, to the entire satisfaction of the country, Mr. Appleby resigned to take a job in private life, as so many capable officials have found it necessary to do on account of the inadequate salaries that the federal government had been paying and, in some respects, still is paying.

Director Smith considered Appleby's services so efficient that he besought him to return as assistant director. He asked President Truman to add his pleas, pointing out to him that, in the event of a vacancy in the directorship, Appleby would be on hand to succeed him as director. Apparently in support of this thoroughly sound idea, President Truman did urge Appleby to return.

I was willing to bet that the president would not appoint Paul H. Appleby. And I was right. The man who was named has had no experience or training in responsible budgetary duties. But doubtless it was considered by President Truman to be a good political appointment since the appointee was a protege of under secretary of the treasury, Max Gardner.

So at least in this instance, the complaints of President Truman that he cannot get "good men" to accept federal office are somewhat insincere. For this important post he could have appointed a "good man" and insstead he made a political appointment. Moreover, it was not even a "good" political appointment. North Carolina is a fixture in the democratic column and Undersecretary Gardner, not only as an inveterate democrat, but as a federal official, would necessarily have to go along with the administration.

MUST BE REASON

But there undoubtedly was a reason for the president's appointing as director of the budget a man whom he had not even met until the appointment was signed and sealed and ready to be delivered. The secretary of the treasury is hiding in the wings somewhere. When John W. Snyder was given that big pair of treasury boots, which he is not competent to fill there were rumors that, in disgust, Under Secretary Gardner would resign. So Mr. Gardner had to be appeased. Accordingly James E. Webb was appointed. But Snyder had to have the first bite of the apple. Snyder wants to get the budget back into the treasury, where it was until President Roosevelt and Harold Smith took it out and made it responsible directly to the president.

My prediction is that Snyder and Gardner between them will take over the budget, lock, stock and barrel. They ought not to be allowed to do this because the budget should be the good right arm of the president himself, free to do his will. Properly it is not an adjunct of any single department but an agency of the whole government. However, it is being regarnished to serve on the table of the already overfed Mr. Snyder.

Resplendent in a red velvet top spread to match the headboard upholstery and dust ruffles to match the wall paper, these twin beds with their single headboard are ideal for the master bedroom. Both husband and wife can have mattresses which conform to their own individual ideas of sleeping comfort. The headboard and spread may be obtained in either more or less elaborate styles than the one pictured above, to fit into any room setting.

GOTTA BE CAREFUL

CHICAGO —(AP)— Sol Gertz lost $5,000 in a gutter today but got it back from a "careful" woman.

A clerk at his liquor store who saw Mrs. Clara Ashley pick up something from the street outside the store steered Gertz to her rooming house.

"Did you find my $5,000?" Gertz asked.

"I found $5,000," Mrs. Ashley replied calmly, "but how do I know it's yours?"

"Honest, I lost it. Just got it out of the bank—"

"Prove it."

Police corroboration and Gertz' description of the $100 bills convinced Mrs. Askley, who accepted $200 reward and said:

"You got to be careful about these things, you know."

WOULD BAR FROM BALLOT

MONTESANO —(AP)— The application of W. O. Perry, Hoquiam, for a writ of prohibition to bar the name of Blanche Pennick from the general election ballot was taken under advisement yesterday by Superior Judge Charles Hall. Miss Pennick is democratic nominee for county auditor.

Efforts by Prosecutor Donn F. Lawill, representing Miss Pennick and the election board, to have the action quashed as "political chicanery" were denied.

The suit, filed by Attorney Doane Brodie, charged that Miss Pennick was ineligible for candidacy because she was a member of the last legislature which voted salary increases to county officers.

Only Four Residents Living On Shores Of Lake Ozette: Hansens and Mahoneys

By Henrietta Haugland

There are only four residents on the Ozette lake shore at present: Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Hansen who purchased Keller's resort at the north end of the lake last year and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Mahoney who occupy a tract homesteaded by Mahoney's father-in-law, Mr. Mulholland, just inside the parkway west of Hansen's.

Hansen, discharged in December after three years in the seabees, works daily for the Ozette Timber Company five miles east, and he and Mrs. Hansen (the former Margaret Peterson Huffman of Port Angeles) have made many improvements to the cabins since we were there last year.

Some of their cabins were built by the coast guard during the war, to house families of servicemen; the main coast guard barracks for the Ozette area are just over the line in the parkway, and have been turned over to the national park.

The Hansens live in the former Charles Keller home. Their cabins have been half to three-quarters full all summer, Mrs. Hansen stated, most folks coming to fish on the lake. At a float a few feet down the bank to the lake front the Hansens keep a few boats for rent. They have opened a small store, and keep a few staple groceries on hand.

FISH CAUGHT

At times this spring and summer, fishermen at the lake have caught perch, suckers, cutthroat, and an occasional blueback salmon that came up the river. Very few otter have been seen cavorting on the lake this year. Last week, no fish were caught on the lake; and Richard had no luck whatever in the streams—although he fished the Ozette, the Big, the Hoko, Dunham creek, Umbrella creek, Palmquist creek, and had a few small ones on the hook from time to time.

We hired a boat from the Hansens and rowed to the south end of the lake and around Tivoli island, where Tivoli Nelson once homesteaded. We could find only an old table from Nelson's cabin; if the cabin-remains were still there, they were hidden in the impenetrable tangle of bushes and vines. We saw glimpses of yellow maple-leaves back in the thick masses of trees, presumably some of those Nelson imported from the east.

Anthony Mahoney later pointed out in his garden a mountain-ash he had removed from the island a few years ago, and mentioned the walnuts, butternuts and other species Nelson grew, which Mahoney has also transplanted.

On the three sides of Tivoli island, the rocks and steep cliffs drop down sheer into the water; on the fourth is a small sandy beach whose coarse sand, under our hand-lens, proved to be full of clear quartz crystal fragments such as one finds on Appleton peak, as well as much agate.

COAST GUARD CABIN

We stopped enroute at the tract just south of Preacher's point owned by Fred and Felicia Holmer of Port Angeles, on which the coast guard had erected a good-sized comfortable cabin to use during the war. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Haller of Port Angeles had taken shelter there the night before when a thick fog closed down. They had been on the lake the past four days, with a rowboat rented from Hansens—the first real vacation Earl and his wife had had in fourteen years—and they were about ready to head back up the lake homeward, Earl adamant that linoleum laying couldn't wait another day, Mrs. Haller begging that they stay out longer.

We hinted with no delicacy whatever that we'd be hungry by night, (our husky lunch that had been packed for the whole day, had evaporated after seven miles of rowing) and the generous Hallers immediately pressed odds-and-ends on us—the most delicious we'd ever tasted, we vowed late that night.

We had wanted to hunt for the settlement of "Swan" on the west side of the lake, but a pea-soup fog closed in at midafternoon, and we headed the skiff northward, with the dim sun for a bearing. Swan, marked on some maps as "Little Pete," was said to have been the first store on the lake, run by a little man named Peterson, with supplies brought in by ocean-going steamer to a point just south of Sand point where the distance is only two miles overland to the lake.

We landed for a late Haller-provided supper at Eagle point. The cabin erected by the coast guard is rapidly falling to pieces.

From this point it was two miles through the fog to the north end, and the estuary up to the Hansen float whose entrance is hidden even in daylight. However a party was camped on the beach just west of the river bank, (near the site where K. O. Erickson had his store) and it was their campfire, we later found, that had been our mysterious beacon the last half-mile of the row.

The next morning, on the edge of this same beach, we noted what appeared to be a small overgrown orchard; the only fruit on the trees were tiny apples, about the size of a good-sized pea. The remains of the Erickson buildings are in the woods to the south.

TO INTRODUCE WAR BRIDES

EVERETT —(AP)— John Salter, secretary to Rep. Jackson, today received a message from General Mark Clark, who returned to Washington, D. C., from Europe yesterday, that he would fly to Seattle about September 28 and would introduce the approximately 50 foreign war brides residing in Snohomish county at a reception honoring the young women here the evening of October 1.

His address at that time may be his only prepared speech during his United States visit.

The dinner-reception also will be attended by the British consul, a representative of the French consul-general, and other dignitaries.

California was the first state west of the Mississippi to produce oil in commercial quantities.

Wartime Shipbuilding Under Scrutiny By Second Committee

WASHINGTON —(AP)—This country's wartime shipbuilding operations came under the scrutiny of a second congressional committee today.

Chairman Bland (D-Va) of the house merchant marine committee said his group will open hearings September 23 to determine whether the profits made by operators of 19 government-owned shipyards were "reasonable."

The senate war investigating committee already is probing into the gifts given sponsors of vessels built by those of other yards.

Bland told a reporter his committee's hearings will last "at least a week."

Marvin J. Coles, counsel for the house body, said the investigation is an outgrowth of the committee's inquiry into accounting methods of the U. S. maritime commission and the war shipping administration.

ON BOOKKEEPING

Several members suggested it might be a good idea to look into the shipyard profits after general accounting office witnesses testified they had encouraged gross bookkeeping inefficiencies in both the federal agencies.

Maritime commission and WSA representatives responded that the immense volume of work plus manpower difficulties made it impossible to meet all standards set by the GAO.

Coles told a reporter committee accountants now are making an independent study of the agencies' accounting procedures, and this phase of the investigation will be pursued when the report is completed.

Shipyards asked to send witnesses to the profits inquiry include the Kaiser Co., Inc., which operated yards in Washington, Oregon and California, and the Oregon Shipbuilding Co., Portland, Ore.

27 MILLION MOVED SINCE PEARL HARBOR

WASHINGTON —(AP)— More than 27,000,000 Americans pulled up stakes and moved to new surroundings in the period from Pearl Harbor to March, 1945. And the census bureau says its a safe bet that millions more will be on the move in the years ahead.

A census official, writing in the current issue of Domestic Commerce, says the bureau doesn't think that the war was wholly responsible for the migration and believes the postwar rate is going to continue high because the forces impelling people to move—high birth rates and employment opportunities—are still in operation.

Among his observations:

The south "has an exportable surplus of workers who find a ready market for their services in the industrial north. The jobs don't come to the workers, so an increasing number of workers each year move to new jobs.

"The west has been making a strong bid for industrial power in recent years. New industries—aircraft, shipbuilding, steel, and a host of lesser manufacturers—are drifting to the west, pulling a stream of workers in their wake.

"Among these three regions, the main migratory drift has been from south to north and from north to west. If birth rates in the south continue high, the stream of migrants will continue south to north and north to west, by the hundreds of thousands each year."

FIRST SHIPMENT OF PLYWOOD BY AIR

EUGENE, Ore.—(AP)—An air shipment of 16,000 pounds of plywood, believed the first such commercial shipment in the country, will be flown to Salt Lake City today because of the shortage of boxcars.

Three more plane loads of lumber—flooring, door and window sash—will be shipped later. The plywood, in 4 by 7 feet sheets, will be lifted into the plane by an electric hoist and tied down.

Harry Aldrich, whose lumber company is making the shipment, said his Salt Lake City customers were willing to pay the extra air costs to obtain needed lumber which cannot be shipped by rail. The United Air Lines plane will carry no other cargo because of load limits.

Today's consignment is for the Granite Mill and Fixture Co., Salt Lake. Others will go to Romney Lumber Co., and Stover Bedding Co.

Prospect of More, Cheaper Canned Food

WASHINGTON —(AP)— More and cheaper canned fruits are in prospect.

The agriculture department reported today that this year's pack is expected to set a new record with slightly lower prices, a possibility.

Significant increases are expected, the department said, for canned apples, apricots, sour cherries, peaches, and canned citrus segments.

Likewise, some increase in imports of canned fruits, especially pineapple from Hawaii, was forecast for the year ahead.

The department said export demand may increase slightly, but most of the supplies will be obliged to sek domestic markets. The agency added that the demand for canned fruits and juices is likely to be relatively strong, but it predicted that prices may weaken along with prices for other foods and commodities in general.

Looking to the 1947 production and marketing season for fresh and processed fruits, the department said prices probably will average from one and a half to two times pre-war levels, although not quite as high as this year. Some drop from the high fruit prices of 1945 and early 1946 already has occurred, notably for apples, because of larger supplies this season.

LARGE CROPS

The department said that even with average weather in 1947, large crops of fruits and tree nuts again can be produced, because of heavy plantings in the last decade and increased bearing surfaces of older orchards and vineyards.

The department said imports of tropical fruits, especially bananas, are likely to increase further in 1947, but may not quite reach prewar levels.

Supplies of dried fruits for the 1946-47 season are nearly as large as those for the previous season.

SECOND POLIO VICTIM

SEATTLE —(AP)— Mrs. Helen Duthie Rose, 32, of Bellevue, daughter of the late J. F. Duthie, Seattle shipbuilder, died here Thursday of acute bulbar poliomyelitis. She became ill August 29 and was placed in an iron lung September 5. It was Seattle's second "polio" death this year. Mrs. Rose leaves a son, John Frederick Rose, 6, and her mother, who lives in La Jolla, Calif. She is the former wife of Dr. Hilton W. Rose, Seattle, a former navy captain.

SCHWELLENBACH INJURED

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The labor department reported Thursday that Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach entered the naval hospital at Bethesda, Md., this afternoon for treatment of back injuries suffered in a fall a few days ago.

The department described the injuries as minor, but said Schwellenbach would be a patient for three or four days.

ANTS

Of all the teeming millions of insects which abound in and around our gardens, the Ants are one of the most populous and are found in every part of the world. Yet, scientists state they are the one family of insect which apparently have no value or use on earth.

Generally the first ants to make their appearance in the spring are the very large black ants. Later on the little red ants seem to come from nowhere and are found in large numbers in the kitchen or cooler and are feeding on "sweets" such as jams, jellies, etc.

Actually there seem to be three different groups of ants: (1) The large black ants which either live in old stumps or logs or in the house woodwork and build the large "twig"nests. These are called the "Carpenter Ants." (2) The medium-sized ants which are known as "grease" lovers and are often found indoors feeding on fat meats or bacon rind. (3) The "sugar" eaters which are found on maple and willow trees, peonies and rose buds and feeding on the aphis "honeydew" on many other plants. When found indoors they are the ones that enjoy the jams and honey.

CONTROL

There are several ways of disposing of ants. Nests of twigs or nests in old wood stumps and logs may be eliminated by the use of carbon disulphide but this method is a rather arduous one and needs great care to insure a 100 per cent kill.

The ant group that builds a nest is most easily eliminated by the use of Rotenone powder or Sodium fluosilicate powder, which may be blown from a duster gun into any place where they nest or live.

One good dusting generally is enough although sometimes a second dose is required. This same "dust" may be used wherever the smaller ants are found migrating in the well-known "ant-path" or dusted very lightly where ants are found walking in the kitchen or other parts of the house.

All one has to do is to powder a very minute quantity of the dust where the ants walk. Never put the Sodium fluosilicate on plants and do not put the dust where it will get wet or it may necessitate a second application.

SWEETS-EATING ANTS

The nesting and feeding habits of Sweets-eating Ants cause damage to lawns, gardens, seedbeds, fields and orchards as well as making them a household pest. Their presence is generally associated with several species of "honeydew" producing insects, such as Aphis, Mealbugs, and Scale Insects. Ants make use of this "honeydew" as food. Because of this. Ants will protect these insects from their natural enemies and also transfer them to young succulent growth to increase and continue their food supply.

In order to exterminate Ant colonies, the Queen Ants, which are prolific egg layers, and which live in the nest, must be controlled. This can be done by getting the worker ants to feed on poisoned syrup which is more palatable than their regular food and yet not strong enough in poisn content to kill the worker ant immediately. The poisoned syrup is then carried to the nest and consumed by the Queen and her young, causing mass destruction.

For the "grease loving" ants there are special poison materials which, for safety's sake are now sold in little glass containers. These "jars" are placed in strategic places around the outside of the house, where ants are found or expected to try to enter. The ants do not only eat the tasty poison themselves but also take a good supply home to the nest to kill off the colony.

These materials for ant extermination are sold at the store where you buy your garden supplies. The Rotenone powder is, as everyone know, the same material that is used for dusting plants in the vegetable garden. The sodium fluosilicate is generally sold as "ant and earwig powder." The poison syrups are found under such names as Antrol, Ant-b-gon and Ant Kill.

D.D.T. FOR ANTS

Just lately, several reports on a 100 per cent kill of Ants of all kinds have been received from gardeners who have tried it out.

One lady says: "Some days ago we found that large ants had got into our chest of valuable old linens which had been brought over from the old country year ago. They had chewed up the linens. We used D.D.T. on them and all were killed within 24 hours. Please tell everybody to check against ants in their irreplacable linens and warn them to use D.D.T. BEFORE the ANTS DO ANY DAMAGE . . . ." Mrs. Hansen, Bellingham.

Another letter says: "I had a large ant hill in my orchard for many years and tried to destroy them unsuccessfully. I finally went at them with D.D.T. mixing it one to three and sprinkling the hill with a small brush. As soon as the spray touched them, they went out of sight and I followed them in the hill with more spray and left a few sticks painted with D.D.T. in the hill. The next day the entire colony was dead."—Mr. Hedegard—Port Angeles.

Traffic Safety Talk Heard

Wednesday evening City Council PTA members heard City Patrolman Harry Kochanek recount recommendations made on traffic safety at a recent meeting held by Governor Mon C. Wallgren at Olympia.

Lectures, movies and signs were used at the meeting to emphasize the importance of educating the public to observe traffic regulations, Kochanek said. This education is being given in some state schools and is planned for all schools. A survey has shown most accidents in this state are caused by drivers not yielding the right of way at the proper time, he declared. He also explained all citizens should report traffic violations to the police department.

The council voted at the business meeting to ask theatre managers to be present at the next city council meeting to discuss the feasibility of movie censorship here.

One of Every Five High School Students Retarded, Says Strayer in Education Report

OLYMPIA—(AP)—One out of every five high school students in the state has been retarded until he is overage for the grade he is in, Dr. George D. Strayer revealed today.

Turning the spotlight of his educational survey on junior and senior high schools, the New York educator also found a tendency to over emphasize college preparation in high schools.

Retardation of backward students was traced to ill health, irregular attendance, moving from school to school and other causes.

To prevent retardation, Dr. Strayer suggested a more careful diagnosis of basic learning difficulties—particularly in the field of reading—and greater use of motion pictures, maps and other visual aids.

Concerning over emphasis on college preparation, the report maintained that 75 percent of the students go directly to work upon leaving high school and should, therefore, receive more training for occupation needs of the community.

In this connection the report advocates that students be given actual work experience under supervision—as well as formal education in skills and knowledge of their occupations.

CREDIT FOR WORK

By the same token, Dr. Strayer placed his stamp of approval on the practice of giving high school credits for class work and job experience combined.

The report acknowledged that the secondary education program in the state is based on sound principles and foresaw a new free public school organization of a six-year elementary school, a four-year junior high school, and a four-year combination senior high school and junior college running through the 14th grade.

In another phase of the report concerning school administration, Dr. Strayer recommended that more of the schools' business transactions be consolidated with educational administration on the county and city school superintendents.

Noted California Philatelist Guest Of Local Stamp Club Last Night

"Loyal San Franciscans are not supposed to mention the 'earthquake'—the word 'fire' is supposed to cover everything," said Ross O'Saughnessy, internationally known stamp dealer and collector yesterday.

O'Shaughnessy, who is the only dealer in business in the Golden Gate city today who was doing business there before the big 'quake in 1906, and his sister, are visiting the T. J. Dickinson family here.

O'Shaughnessy was the guest of the Port Angeles Stamp Club at their meeting last night.

The veteran philatelist, who began collecting stamps as a hobby at the age of six, is noted for his collection of Wells-Fargo Express covers, which were franked by agreement with the government in the days of the California gold rush due to the fact that the government couldn't give efficient service. The postal clerks were all in the gold fields, and Wells Fargo and smaller express companies used their own franks in delivering mail.

Among O'Shaughnessy's best known items are a collection of "kicking mule" cancellations bought from Mr. Learned, postmaster at Port Townsend around 1878 when that city was a big army town.

The Port Townsend post office was one of few which used a kicking mule design to cancel stamps, and some of these now valuable items show George Washington getting kicked in the face by the mule.

In 1900 O'Shaughnessy was curator of the late Henry J. Crocker's collection. Crocker, then king of the stamp world, assembled the finest collection of stamps of the Hawaiian islands in existence.

The philatelist and his sister attended the famous 1923 auction of Count Ferrari's stamps in Paris, which brought $3,000,000.

"This was the only real money the French got out of Germany after the last war," O'Shaughnessy revealed. "When the count died in 1916, he willed his collection to the Postal Museum, Berlin, and it was seized by France as alien property."

Among the famous stamp collectors of recent years were Franklin D. Roosevelt and King George V of England, whom O'Shaughnessy met at a tea given for stamp collectors at Buckingham palace.

Miss Betty Simpson Wed at Victoria

At a quiet wedding in the presence of a few Victoria friends, Miss Betty Merigold Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Simpson, Port Angeles, was married to Alf Henry Ruud, Vancouver, B. C., Friday afternoon, September 6. The ceremony was read by the Rev. Comley at St. John's church.

Miss Simpson wore a dressmaker suit of grey wool with black accessories and a rosebud corsage. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Louis Elterich of Port Angeles and her niece, Ellen Elterich, was flower girl. Louis Elterich was the groom's attendant.

A wedding supper was served at the Empress Hotel in Victoria after the ceremony.

Following a honeymoon on the island, the couple will make their home in Vancouver.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Ruud had lived at Woodfibre, Mrs. Ruud having gone there two years ago. She was employed in the office of Rayonier, Inc., Port Angeles, for several years previously.

Albania Accuses Greece of Provoking Armed Conflict

By John A. Parris, Jr.

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(AP)—Albania, in another appeal to the United Nations to use its influence to end alleged "Greek provocation," charged today that the "monarchist-fascist rulers of Greece' are aiming at provoking an armed conflict between Albania and Greece.

Lt. Gen. Koci Xoxe, Albanian minister of foreign affairs, telegraphed U. N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie that the Greeks aimed to provike an armed conflict with Albania to "enable Greece to occupy and annex southern Albania under the pretext that it is part of the Epirus."

The charges came as the U. N. security council postponed the meeting set for today until 2:30 p.m., EDT, Monday at the request of the United States delegation because of the temporary indisposition of Herschel V. Johnson, United States delegate.

The council is considering Soviet Ukrainian charges that the Greek government aided by British troops, is a menace to the peace of the Balkans.

Last week Col. Tuk Jakova, Albanian minister of state, appeared before the 11-nation body to back the Ukrainian charges.

Xoxe said he wanted to draw the security council's attention to "the situation created on the Greco-Albanian frontier by the continual provocations due to the action of Greek soldiers."

HISTORY-MAKER

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—(AP)—Tom Sunkel, 35-year-old St. Paul southpaw, pitched what is believed to be the first no-hit, no-run game in the history of the American Association baseball playoffs when he set down the Louisville Colonels last night 3-0.

Sunkel's masterpiece under the lights gave St. Paul its first win in the semi-final round of the Shaughnessy playoffs. Louisville won the first two games.

The Literary Guidepost

By W. G. ROGERS

THE TALE OF TANGLEWOOD: SCENE OF THE BERKSHIRE MUSIC FESTIVALS, by M. A. DeWolfe Howe, introduction by Serge Koussevitzky (Vanguard; $2).

Tanglewood from Hawthorne to Koussevitsky is the subject of this pretty little book, written by a Boston Symphony trustee and Pulitzer prize winner in a prose which is limpid and sparkling, as indeed it ought to be since the author, luckier than most, has had 82 years in which to perfect it.

It was time for a bound record of the Berkshire Symphonic Festivals and Music Center, and Howe has admirably filled the need. He supplements his interesting story with index, photographs and complete festival programs from the first year, 1934, to this, when concerts start July 25.

The change from "Tanglewood Tales" of a century ago to "Tale of Tanglewood" of the present is infinitely greater than the similarity in the titles would suggest. Hawthorne was pure American and so was the Pittsfield-Stockbridge-Lenox area, known to Longfellow, Harriet Beecher Stowe, James Russell Lowell, Emerson and, above all, Melville.

Tanglewood today is international. It's music leader was born in Russia, its beautiful Music Shed was built by a Finn. And, accordingly to a hasty check of the last pages of this book, out of 275 compositions played there in 13 years, only 15 or 16 have been by Americans.

HONG KONG HOLIDAY, by Emily Hahn (Doubleday; $2.75).

Stories about gibbons . . . not monkeys, about hospital life, Bubbles the spy, the enemy captain who believed in serious conversation, the acquisitive maid, fortune tellers, the girl who kept explaining that the Japanese did not harm her, and, finally about the return of expatriates aboard Teia Maru and crippledom comprise this volume by the well known author of "China to Me."

These experiences couldn't have been so much of a holiday to Miss Hahn as they will be for you, who get them second-hand without the extraordinary difficulties of carrying on in occupied China.

They are more important for their matter, I find, than for the writing.

The New York Yankees initiated the San Francisco 49ers to big time professional football by "drubbing" the westerners 21-7 at Kezar Stadium in San Francisco, Calif., before 40,000 fans. In the second quarter Orben Sanders (81, Yankees) is stopped by tacklers Bruno Banducci (33, 49ers), and Edward T. Balatti (57, 49ers).

Looks More Like Cards To Meet Red Sox In Series

By Joe Reichler
Associated Press Sports Writer

More than ever today it looks like the St. Louis Cardinals will be the Boston Red Sox' world series opponent next month.

Not so much because the Cards beat the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday in the opener of their "fight for the flag" three-game series to increase their National league margin to two and a half games, but because of the easy manner in which they bowled over the flock. The score was 10-2.

It was absolutely no contest. In fact, the game was over barely five minutes after it started. Kirby Higbe, the Dodgers' ace righthander and possessor of the best won and lost record in the league, retired the first two batters to face him, but then the roof caved in over his head. Stan Musial doubled, Enos Slaughter walked, Whitey Kurowski and Dick Sisler singled, and Rookie Catcher Joe Garagiola homered to make it 5-0 for St. Louis before Howie, Pollet, who was to gain his 19th triumph, made his first pitch.

The victory was number 14 for the Cards in 20 meetings with the Dodgers.

The pennant-bound Red Sox failed again to clinch the American league flag when they bowed to Bobby and the Cleveland Indians 4-1. It was the sixth straight defeat for Joe Cronin's frustrated nine which needs a victory plus a detroit defeat to cop the championship.

Feller held the Sox to eight hits and struck out seven batters to boost his season's total to 308.

TIGERS MOVE UP

The Tigers moved two games in front in their battle with the Yankees for second place by defeating the New Yorkers 6-4 in Detroit.

The Chicago Cubs earned a split with the Phillies in a doubleheader in Philadelphia, winning the second game 5-4 in 10 innings after the Phils had come from behind to cop the opener 4-3.

After losing 1-0 to Pittsburgh, the Boston Braves edged out the Pirates 2-1 in the second game of a double bill.

A six-run eighth inning gave the Washington Senators a 9-6 victory over the Browns under the lights in St. Louis.

Rookie Monte Kennedy yielded only two hits in pitching the National league cellar-dwelling New York Giants to a 4-1 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Cold weather in Chicago forced the postponement of the White Sox—Philadelphia Athletics game.

Petroleum is a mineral—complex mixture of compounds made up primarily of hydrocarbons.

'Weekend' Golfer In Semi-finals Of Amateur Tourney

SPRINGFIELD, N. J.—(AP)—The weekend golfer can stand up and take a big bow today because one of his kind is sitting squarely in the semi-finals of the biggest amateur tournament of the year, the national championship.

The linksters who tuned up for this mecca of all simon pure parbusters by playing Saturdays and Sundays is blond Bob Willits of Kansas City, Mo.

Willits, whose lone title boast is that of Kansas City country club champion, made the round of four yesterday with S. E. (Ted) Bishop, New England amateur winners; Smiley L. Quick, national public links champion, and A. Fred Kammer, Jr., Detroit district titlist.

The Kansas City contender knocked off Bob Sweeny of Palm Beach, Fla., former British amateur champ, 3 and 2, to win a pairing with Bishop for today's 36-hole semi-final lower bracket battle.

Bishop, from Dedham, Mass., gained the quarter finals by ousting Dick Chapman, 1940 national amateur winner, 2 and 1, and then rode into the semi-finals with a 4-and-3 triumph over Charles (Babe) Lind of Edgewater, Colo.

NIPS WARD

Lind, Denver university student provided the surprise of the morning's third round play when he nipped defending champion Marvin (Bud) Ward of Spokane, Wash., one up.

Kammer, who is paired with quick in today's upper bracket test, turned in the best golf of yesterday, shooting below par for a 5-and-4 surprise win over favored Capt. Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn., in the quarter-finals.

Quick, on the other hand was pressed to 19 holes to beat Alpheus Winter, Jr., of Bridgeport, Conn., in the third round and then edged Maurice McCarthy of Cincinnati, former Walker cup team member, one up in the quarter-finals.

SURVIVAL OF FITTEST

PULLMAN—(AP)—With their opening game against Southern California at Los Angeles only two weeks away, Coach Phil Sorboe intends to make the Washington State College starting lineup race a "survival of the fittest."

Sorboe, describing offensive backing in recent workouts as "none too satisfactory," ran his charges through their third successive day of scrimmage and announced he would discard blocking dummies until his charges showed improvement.

Quarterback Dean Eggers and lineman Dave Swanson, Bob Arps and Jim Wright were benched with sprains and bruises yesterday.

Like any WAC, WAVE or SPAR, the first thing "Big Lizzie" wanted after her honorable discharge from war service was a nice outfit of bright-hued "civvies" to replace her drab wartime garb. Seattle Wins Could Jeopardize Seals' Pennant

By Bill Weathersby
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The Pacific Coast Baseball League showed promise of a battle to the finish today unless the San Francisco Seals can keep the lowly Rainiers of Seattle from chopping away at their three-game margin.

While the Rainiers in the role of giant killers last night tripped the Seals 3-1, Oakland's second-place Acorns climbed to within three games of the loop leaders by outlasting the San Diego Padres for a 6-4 decision in 12 innings.

The Seattle victory put the Rainiers ahead two games to one in the series which could reduce San Francisco from its position at the first of the week as the choice with overloaded odds to win the pennant.

Tony York, pinch hitting for Seattle, produced last night's death blow for the Seals in the ninth inning. Lou Novikoff opened the attack with a double, catcher Bob Stagg bunted pinch hitter Kermit Lewis to third, and pinch hitter Bob Kahle was walked. Lewis was nipped at the plate as Joe Buzas grounded, and then York stepped up and slammed a triple that wrapped up the game.

In the hit race for third place, the Los Angeles Angels regained a tie with the Hollywood Stars by a double whitewash of the Sacramento Solons, 3-0 and 4-0.

Bill Fleming held the Solons to four hits and struck out 13 in the opening, seven-inning game, and Red Lynn, yielding only three hits, pitched his eighth shutout of the season in the nine-frame finale. Eddie Sauer paced the Angel attack with a homer, triple and double in the two games.

The Portland Beavers, behind the six-hit chucking of Vince Di Biasi, blanked the Hollywood club 3-0, evening their series at two games apiece. Portland got to Art Cuccurullo for 12 safeties, bunching three in the seventh and the same number in the ninth for the Beaver tallies.

TRIM DOWN HUSKIES

SEATTLE — (AP) — After today's football practice, Coach Ralph (Pest) Welch expects to have his bulky University of Washington varsity football squad trimmed down to workable proportions of 50 to 60 players. The balance of the large squad will be relegated to the "B" squad, which will have a schedule of its own and from which a promising player will have a chance to graduate back to the varsity squad.

Welch had his punters concentrating on their specialty yesterday as he sought a stand-out performer for the job against St. Mary's two weeks from tomorrow. On the kicking assignment Welch had Alf Hemstad, Dick Ottele, Larry Hatch, Marshall Dallas and Fred Olson, with Hemstad and Olson holding an edge.

FRANCES PERKINS APPOINTED

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The appointment of Frances Perkins, former secretary of labor in the Roosevelt administration, to membership on the civil service commission was announced today by President Truman.

Miss Perkins succeeds Mrs. Lucille Foster McMillin. Announcing the appointment at a news conference, Mr. Truman said Miss Perkins will not be chairman of the commission.

The president saw Miss Perkins earlier in the day.

Capt. John Smith, whose adventures in colonial Virginia won his niche in history, also wrote a number of travel books.

Drive Under Way Among Senators To Kill OPA Next April

By Francis J. Kelly

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A drive to kill OPA next April 1—three months ahead of its scheduled death date—is shaping up among senators.

Discussed quietly by some members of both parties, the proposal was brought into the open by Senator Taft (R-Ohio).

He told the Ohio republican state convention at Columbus Wednesday that price and wage controls should be "completely abolished" by April 1, with rent control for not to exceed one more year transferred to the national housing administration.

Expanding on a plan in an interview, Taft noted today that under the current OPA act all food subsidies must come to an end by April. He said he saw no reason why the price administration could not be liquidated at the same time.

An influential democratic senator, heretofore closely allied to the administration, told a reporter on the condition his name not be used that "the greatest mistake" he had made in his long congressional career was to vote for extension of the price control law last July.

He predicted a successful drive to abolish OPA as soon as congress reconvenes next January.

Told of his statement, Taft said it seemed doubtful to him that the control agency could be cutoff that quickly unless President Truman acquiesced. But Taft predicted such a drive would succeed by April, "if resentment against OPA continues to pile up."

There is no indication that Mr. Truman would accede willingly to abolition of OPA ahead of the present June 30, 1947, deadline.

OPPOSE 'SIMPSON CIRCLE'

ABERDEEN —(AP)— The proposed "Simpson Working Circle" will meet with vigorous protest from Grays Harbor interests when it comes up for hearing in Shelton next Wednesday, it was announced last night.

Opposition to extension of the "Simpson Circle" into Olympic timber, regarded as a rightful Grays harbor source of supply, is lead by the Grays Harbor Industries, Inc., backed by AFL and CIO unions, Chambers of Commerce in Aberdeen, Hoquiam and Cosmopolis.

If the plan goes through the forestry service will enter into a cooperative agreement with the Simpson Logging Company, guaranteeing the company an annual cut of about 100,000,000 board feet of timber until 1956 and 90,000,000 board feet a year thereafter. The contract would run 100 years.

The proposed "Simpson Working Circle" would be established in eastern Grays Harbor, Thurston and Mason county areas. Harbor interests assert that the western boundary, along the Wynoochee river, encrouches on the natural and economic timber working circle for western Grays Harbor communities.

A German monk, Berthold Schwartz, is credited with inventing the cannon. Stones and darts first were used as projectiles.

THE BEAR WENT OVER THE MOUNTAIN—

Survey Shows Meat Scarcest Item Throughout Nation; Long Waiting Lists For Housing

(By The Associated Press)

Meat is the scarcest food item in the Nation's cupboard; hundreds of thousands of workers are unemployed in strike-hit cities, and the housing shortage has reached critical proportions in many communities.

These facts were disclosed today in a nation-wide survey conducted by The Associated Press.

Samplings of conditions in cities from coast to coast also showed that the family larder was short of sugar, soaps, fats and oils.

In the housing field, public housing authorities said they had long waiting lists from applicants for practically non-existing living quarters, and that apartments were "impossible to find" in some places.

This is how the situation stacked up in the various cities before the end of the AFL maritime strike on the west coast and before the start of the nation-wide strike of the CIO National Maritime Union:

Seattle—Strikes, three, involving 2,750 persons, unemployment: state agency figures show 60,000 out of work in the entire state; housing: Public housing authority director said Body has had a steady list of 2,400 applicants for project homes each month this year.

Portland, Ore. — Strikes: Maritime affecting possibly 5,000 persons. Unemployment: USES estimated 17,000 jobless. Foods: Pork, lard and honey scarcest items. Housing: Scarce with apartments "almost impossible to find."

Salt Lake City—Food: Meat, except lamb, scarcest item. Strikes: None. Unemployment: 2,578 receiving unemployment, readjustment benefits. Housing: Mayor's committee says 4,500 units needed. War housing agency says 1,600 units needed.

New York—Food: OPA investigators found only about 55 per cent of retailers had meat for sale. Housing: Highly critical, according to local authorities. Strikes: Largest port at standstill through maritime strike. Truck strike cutting food supplies. Unemployment: State department of placement and unemployment insurance said 150,000 workers out.

Washington, D. C.—Food: Meat fast dwindling, with sugar and shortening equally scarce. Unemployment: Estimated 20,000 to 25,000 jobless with available positions put at 4,400. Housing: Individuals needing adequate living quarters estimated "in excess of $100,000."

San Francisco—Food: Meat scarcest. Strikes, five, 14,000 on strike affecting 260 firms with an estimated 134,000 laid off. Housing: Chamber of Commerce estimates housing is short 35,000 family units.

Chicago — Food: Meat scarcest food in this important livestock center. Strikes: 12, involving 1,675 workers. Unemployment: Unemployment compensation commission reports 75,000 compensation claimants. Housing: Metropolitan Home Builders Association said work started on 11,000 homes and priorities issued for 19,000. Lack of materials has brought work on 8,500 units to a standstill.

LEFT-WING ELEMENT OF IWA IN VICTORY

PORTLAND, Ore.—(AP)—The left-wing element of the CIO International Woodworkers of America clasped a victory today, as the union's convention entered its fourth day.

After a bitter debate and close vote, delegates yesterday adopted a statement of policy declaring that "we ask no man his national origin, his color, his religion, or his political beliefs."

Opponents declared the statement conflicted with the union's constitution which excludes communists from membership.

James Fadling, union president, declared that the constitutional provision banning communists, nazis and fascists will still hold, and called the issue "a matter of politics and nothing else." The resolution, backed by Harold Pritchett, former IWA president, Vancouver, B. C., was supported chiefly by unions from British Columbia, northern Washington, and Minnesota; and opposed by most unions from Oregon, southern Washington, the Middle West, and south.

The convention adopted a resolution urging establishment of a political action committee in every district.

Fadling announced that wage negotiations with Douglas fir operators would begin next Wednesday.

PUYALLUP FAIR TO OPEN

PUYALLUP, Wash. —(AP)— The Western Washington Fair, one of the largest such expositions in the west, will open here tomorrow for a nine day run. More than a half million persons are expected to attend the first fair since 1941.

Unusually high interest in the event has been reported by officials, who said all exhibition and concession space has been sold out for weeks and hundreds of persons turned away.

Pre-judging of exhibits, ranging from automobiles to zuccini squash, began today. Afternoon and evening shows will be a daily event.

Poliomyelitis epidemics usually begin in June or in early July, reach their peak in September and taper off in October.

EXECUTED IN OREGON FOR KILLING OFFICER

SALEM, Ore.—(AP)—Kenneth William Bailey, 27, was executed in the state's lethal gas chamber today—Friday the thirteenth—for the slaying of an Oregon state policeman.

Bailey went silently into the chamber, without making a statement. The gas pellets were dropped into the room at 8:34 a.m., PST, and he was pronounced dead at 8:37.

Wardens said Bailey did not sleep in the death cell last night. A Catholic priest spent the night with him, and accompanied him to the death chamber.

Bailey made no last request, and ate only an ordinary breakfast this morning. His stepmother, of Klamath Falls, spent a final hour with him yesterday.

State Police Sergeant T. R. Chambers was killed April 29, 1945 in a gun battle at an Ontario, Ore., schoolhouse where he and another officer had cornered two fugitives: Bailey and Robert Duffy.

Duffy was also killed in the battle. The officers had gone in pursuit of the men after they were seen in a stolen car.

PUNISHES SON BY HANGING IN SACK

EAST CHICAGO, Ind.—(AP)—John Robinson, 44 year old steel worker, who police said, placed his naked seven year old son in a burlap sack and hung him from a rafter in a shed, was in jail today under a $2,000 bond on a charge of gross cruelty.

Police said they found Robinson's son, Eddie, after they had received a call from Robinson's wife, Mae, who told police she had protested the punishment. Police said her husband punished his son "the way my mother used to punish me," and he accused the boy of having taken 25 cents from his mother.

Police said the boy's head was sticking out of the sack, which was tied by a rope and hanging seven feet above the floor. He was not hurt.

DAIRY PRODUCTION INCREASED IN ZEALAND

AUCKLAND, N. Z.-(AP)-New Zealand's production of dairy produce will be greatly assisted by the resumption of phosphate shipments from Nauru and Ocean Islands, two rich phosphate islands near the Equator, which were captured by the Japanese during their advance in the Pacific.

From the enormous deposits of phosphate on the two islands about 1,250,000 tons were shipped every year before the war. Farming economy in Australia and New Zealand rests very largely on extensive use of phosphate as fertilizer to keep the pastures in good condition.

WAR BRIDE TAKES HUSBAND BACK HOME

MORGANTOWN, W. Va.—(AP)—A European war bride who's homesick is taking her husband back with her in a reversal of the usual order.

She is 17 year-old Madeloine Jacobs Falkenstine who met her husband when he strolled into her parents' bake shop in Maastricht, Holland.

Her husband Lawrence Falkenstine is a veteran of the Battle of the Bulge.

Madelaine wants to return to Maastricht to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jacobs, and her 26-year-old brother at the University of Delft.

Falkenstine said he would accompany his wife and try to land a job as a civilian employe of the war department in Europe. He was honorably discharge from the army last February and Mrs. Falkenstine came to this country soon afterward.

TISSUE CEILING UP

WASHINGTON—(AP)—OPA today lifted ceiling prices on facial tissues, effective next Wednesday.

The rise is eight percent at all levels and OPA said this will mean a two cents boost for boxes now selling for 25 cents.

Higher labor and material costs necessitated the increase, OPA said.

IS YOUR HOME WORTH MORE TODAY ?

Of course, your home is worth more than it was a few years ago! That's just the point we want to make. Your fire insurance policy is like a price tag on your house and its furnishings. The amount of the policy is the maximum amount you can collect if your home is destroyed.

Compare your present insurance with the increased cash value of your possessions. Unless you have changed your insurance recently, you may be woefully underinsured. It costs so little to be fully protected! Why not see us about it?

RFC CHARGES SLAUGHTER

TACOMA —(AP)— Alleged failure to keep accurate records and to substantiate the accuracy of his claims resulted yesterday in the filing of an action by the Reconstruction Finance corporation against J. Schmuder, Chehalis slaughterer, for restitution of $23,270.

The RFC alleged in its complaint that the sought-for sum had been paid Schmuder between June 1, 1943 and Jan. 18, 1946, as subsidies for the slaughter of cattle, calves, sheep and hogs. The payments were made on preliminary approval only, the RFC asserted.

THE MACHINE PLANS ONE MON'S EMPIRE!

It is commonly known that the Governor is grasping to get the schools and school lands under his control. The $100,000 Educational Survey's report certainly coincides with the Governor's theme that more taxes must be levied on property!

The Survey estimates that it would take only $100,000,000 to modernize all state school buildings. The $70,000,000 THE MACHINE voted in only one bill to be spent at the pleasure of the Governor would almost do the complete job!

If we did submit to more taxes do you think the schools would get any of it?

Wallace Booed as Calls for Independent Foreign Policy in White House Approved Talk

NEW YORK —(AP)— Secretary of Commerce Henry Wallace, was interrupted by booing and heckling in a White House approved speech at a Madison Square Garden rally last night where Senator Claude Pepper (D-Fla) was applauded by attacking our "blundering foreign policy."

The two men, who have been on the same side in many foreign and domestic issues, spoke before an audience of 19,000 at a rally sponsored by the national citizens political action committee and the independent citizens committee of the arts, sciences and professions.

Wallace, who said the United States must adopt a clear and realistic policy of its own to avoid another war, first was greeted by hisses and hoots when he said he was "neither anti-British nor pro-British, neither anti-Russian nor pro-Russian," and added:

"Just two days ago, when President Truman read these words, he said they represented the policy of his administration."

Another round of heckling broke out when Wallace, speaking of Russia, said "her type of land reform, industrial expropriation and suppression of basic liberties offend the great majority of the people of the United States."

NOT IN SPEECH

At this point Wallace laid aside his text and declared: "Well, it's true outside New York City, as any Gallup poll will show."

He resumed his speech and said "the Russians have no more business stirring up native communists to political activity in western Europe, Latin America and the United States"—

Loud hisses interrupted him and he shouted: "Get the whole sentence" adding to complete his remark, "than we have interferring in the politics of eastern Europe and Russia."

He said British "imperialistic policy" in the near East together with Soviet retaliation would lead the United States to war unless it set up an independent foreign policy. He urged that we "look abroad through our own American eyes."

Asked after the speech for comment on the heckling Wallace said: "It was to be expected," adding in explanation, "I was following a straight American line."

PEPPER DISAGREES

In contrast to the White House approval, Sen. Pepper (D-Fla), in a speech preceding Wallace's at the rally indicated disagreement with the cabinet member, and some of his criticism of the Soviet Union, and said:

"You and I know that today the reason we have got so much republican unity behind the foreign policy is because there is so much McKinley imperialism in our foreign policy."

He called for a "special session now" to consider "our blundering foreign policy" and in a line apparently inserted into his prepared address at the last minute said:

"We do not want well-prepared official speeches 'explaining' our foreign policy."

SOLDIER FOUND DEAD

GORIZIA, Italy—(AP)—The U. S. 88th division reported today a man believed to have been an American soldier was found strangled northwest of Gorizia in the Venezia Gieulia area disputed between Italy and Yugoslavia.

A piece of wire had been wound five times around the neck of the victim. One hand bore a ring of the third infantry division. The body was clad only in olive drab shorts and was partly buried in a shallow grave. The body was found yesterday.

A. L. Duxbury Dies Suddenly at Sequim

Abraham Lincoln Duxbury, 81, of Sequim, died suddenly at his home Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at Trinity Methodist Church in Sequim, with the Rev. R. Clinton McGaffee in charge, and a Masonic Service to follow with Worshipful Master George Godfrey in charge. Interment will be in Sequim View Cemetery under the direction of Sequim Mortuary.

Mr. Duxbury was born at Sechlerville, Wisconsin, July 24, 1865. He came to the state of Washington 37 years ago, settling first at Des Moines, where he engaged in road building contracting. He moved to Sequim 16 years ago, and settled on a farm in Happy Valley.

On April 10, 1938, he was married to Mrs. Bertha Sprague of Sequim. About four years ago they moved into the town of Sequim to reside.

Surviving relatives include the widow, Mrs. Bertha Mae Duxbury; two sons, Fred Duxbury of Seattle, and Guy Duxbury of Bellingham; three daughters, Mrs. Boyd Ellis, Arlington, Mrs. Mildred Anderson, Seattle, and another daughter in Washington, D. C., and nine grandchildren.

Pershing, 86 Today, Says U. S. Should Enforce With Strength

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Gen. John J. Pershing is 86 today and an old artilleryman who helped him whip the Germans in 1918 has a date to say, "happy birthday."

President Truman arranged to call in mid-afternoon on his old A. E. F. commander. Mr. Truman served with a Missouri national guard artillery regiment in the first world war, coming out with the rank of major.

Pershing, retired with the rank of general of the armies, has lived at the army's Walter Reed hospital here since he suffered a severe illness in 1938.

In a birthday statement, the old warrior gave this admonition to his fellow citizens:

"In this postwar period of international differences, it is incumbent upon our country to enforce our diplomacy with continued strength.

"The first world war would have insured peace had we dictated our terms in Berlin and brought home the suffering of occupation to the German people, and, at the same time had maintained a respectable posture of defense on land and sea and in the air."

Pershing has an apartment at Walter Reed and usually is up daily, but uses a wheel chair to get about.
