Game Department Gets $125,000 For North Olympic Trout Hatchery

Allocation of $125,000 by the state development board to the game department for construction of a modern trout hatchery "on the Olympic peninsula in the vicinity of Clallam county," was announced today by State Game Director Don W. Clarke. This is part of a $1,053,000 grant to the game department for 11 new projects.

Clarke emphasized that completion of this program is dependent upon reappropriation by the present legislature of the development board's allocation.

No definite site, construction plan or date has been determined for the proposed north Olympic peninsula hatchery, Assistant Game Director John Biggs said in answer to an Evening News inquiry today.

He said the department is not satisfied with any of the possible north Olympic sites considered in its preliminary investigation, so that further study will be necessary.

The department proposes a complete hatchery and rearing pond installation here (including living quarters) to plant state-controlled streams and lakes on the north peninsula. Asked about its size, Biggs said the sharp rise in costs since the department requested this $125,000 last summer make the size uncertain. But he indicated the plan is to build a medium sized plant here. The state hatcheries range in size from 24 to 96 troughs, and from 10 to 20 rearing ponds. Pond capacity must depend upon available water supply, he pointed out.

If the legislature grants the game department"s request for a reappropriation, at least a year would be required to complete the north Olympic hatchery, Biggs said.

LIST OF PROJECTS

The development board's allocation to the game department announced today includes money for construction of six trout hatcheries, three game bird farms, a trout-rearing pond east of Ellensburg at a cost of $70,000 and a $20,000 trout egg taking station on the Stehekin river in Chelan county.

The hatcheries, other than the one on the peninsula and their estimated cost will be in Mason county, $175,000; near Puyallup, $175,000; in Walla Walla county, $100,000; in Kittitas county near Cle Elum, trout fry hatchery, $38,000.

Each of the game farms is to cost an estimated $75,000. They will be on Whidby island, near Ellensburg and near Yakima.

Director Clarke said work has started on the Mason county hatchery and the Whidby island and Ellensburg game farms and is expected to start soon at the Puyallup hatchery.

He said it was expected that $757,000 of the total would be unexpended by the end of the biennium March 31, 1947 and that the department was requesting a reapportionment of this amount.

LAKE CRESCENT HATCHERY

When asked about the proposed bill to transfer the state's Lake Crescent hatchery to the United States, Biggs said today he thought this proposal will be dropped due to lack of assurance that the federal government would operate the hatchery. He said the national park service has advised the state game department that it cannot give such assurance.

The hatchery, which is inside the Olympic National Park, has been idle for several years and is in a highly depreciated condition. Asked what purpose could be served by retaining the hatchery property in state control, Biggs said no use of it is planned because it is inside the park and too small for economical operation by the state in any case. He said the state does not seek payment for the property, but would like to see the national park use it to stock park waters, none of which is being done.

Military Training Needed To Back Policy—Marshall

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Secretary of State Marshall declared today that he considers a system of universal military training necessary in the United States to back up American foreign policy with positive military power.

At his first news conference since he took office, the wartime army chief of staff asserted that unless the United States has universal military training it will not have any real, positive military power to back up its foreign policy.

He called present methods for securing military power impractical and ineffective.

Congress Must Okeh Supplies for Reds, Comptroller Testifies

WASHINGTON—(AP)— Comptroller General Lindsay Warren testified today he will not approve a financial deal for shipping $25,000,000 of supplies to Russia unless congress specifically authorizes.

Warren appeared before the senate appropriations committee. Afterward, Chairman Bridges (R-NH) told reporters it appeared to him that a majority of the members are "hostile" to a state department proposal to clear the way for shipment of supplies originally contracted for under lend-lease. Russia has put up cash for them.

Bridges said he asked the state department for a legal ruling on the contract responsibility of the United States toward Russia and other foreign governments involved, as well as this government's responsibility to the contractors who produced the equipment.

Much of the equipment has been manufactured and stored since V-J day, when President Truman cut off lend lease shipments. Under existing law, it was necessary to ship all materials—even those paid for by the foreign governments as in the current case—by last December 31.

To insure delivery, the state department asked the foreign governments to pay for the shipping costs, but Warren said even this could not be done until congress specifically approves the deal.

The committee made public transcriptions of testimony at a previous closed hearing, disclosing that Russia had agreed to pay 90 per cent of the cost of the $25,000,000 in supplies.

Unborn Baby Pawn In Divorce Case

SEATTLE—(AP)—An unborn baby, a pawn in a divorce case, found a staunch defender in Superior Judge Roger J. Meakim today.

When Glann H. Stokes, 21, war veteran seeking a default decree from his 20-year-old wife, Iva, testified yesterday he would pay towards the child's support but wanted to give it to her and another man she is interested in, Judge Meakim exclaimed:

"What is this, a lottery? I am not impressed by a man who won't fight for his own child."

His wife wants to marry the other man and he has given permission, Stokes said, for him to adopt the child after its expected birth in April. His parents, in Ellensburg, are unable to care for it and he can not do so himself.

"I will represent the child, and will take this case under advisement until after the baby is born," Judge Meakim ruled.

The Stokes were married at Ellensburg Oct. 31, 1944.

TAX LEVY FOR A BAND, ORCHESTRA SOUGHT IN A BILL

The musical organizations would furnish "free musical entertainment to the public for educational and recreational purposes.

THREE TEEN-AGERS DIE IN COLLISION

PLAINVIEW, Tex. —(AP)— Three Floydada teen-agers died in the flames which followed an automobile-truck collision five miles south of Tulia, Tex., about 8 p.m. last night.

They were identified this morning at Nita Merle Patterson, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Pattersan; Glenn Carmack, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Carmach, and Kenneth Finley, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Finley, all Floydada, Tex., residents.

Both boys were well known football players for Floydada which school, Miss Patterson and Carmack were students and Finley had graduated.

Pilot Robert Dixon, hired to drop three bundles of magazines aboard the liner Matsonia as a publicity stunt, completely missed the ship on all three attempts. Dixon, formerly with the Army Air Force, found a cub plane doesn't make bombing easy. The Matsonia was bringing the first post-war group of tourists from the mainland to Hawaii.

GOP Presidential Possibilities in '48 Collide Sharply Over Labor Legislation

By Marvin L. Arrowsmith

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Two leading republican presidential possibilities for 1948 collided sharply today on labor legislation.

Harold E. Stassen, an announced candidate for the top GOP nomination, went before the senate labor committee and proposed a secret majority vote of workers as the last step before a strike.

Committee Chairman Taft (R-Ohio) whose name has been linked with presidential talk, called Stassen's suggestion "trivial," and a lively exchange followed.

Stassen told Taft that "if you believe in the democracy of workers, you must have confidence" in a secret ballot.

Taft argued that in such a vote the workers "do not go against their leaders."

Senator Ball (R-Minn), who was appointed to the senate by Stassen when the latter was governor of Minnesota in 1940, criticized Stassen's proposal on the ground that a majority vote requirement would be too drastic.

Stassen countered that "it would be too drastic" if Ball's legislation to outlaw the closed shop were enacted. By this he apparently meant that in an open shop, a smaller vote for a strike would suffice.

STASSEN OPPOSED

Stassen opposed Ball's bill to outlaw the closed shop and its modifications saying it would restrict the freedom of contract.

Stassen and Ball also differed over another proposal by Ball—to prohibit industry-wide bargaining.

Stassen said that breaking up industry-wide bargaining would permit employers to compete in lowering wage rates, perhaps leading to a lag in purchasing power which he said was one factor in the 1929 economic crash.

Ball said: "It seems to me your statement is the classic argument for monopoly wherever it occurs. I don't see how we can maintain a free competitive economy while we permit monopolies to go unchecked."

WANT RECESS?

Ball then said: "I assume from your statement that you would have congress recess and leave no effective legislation to deal with situations such as exist in the steel and coal industries, where one union controls the workers."

Stassen: "Quite the contrary, senator. The proposals I have made will effectively deal with the situation. I am not condoning the monopoly of union. I am not for stopping competition.

"I am saying that the American competitive system shall not compete in lowering wages. It shall compete in raising productivity. It shall compete in raising standards, not lowering them."

Ball asked: "Where in your recommendations is there any effective way of meeting the situations in steel and coal?"

Stassen: "The provisions for negotiations prior to a strike, and then having the whole question taken back to the men in secret ballot."

AND LEWIS TOO

Ball: "You think that if (John L.) Lewis and the coal operators can't agree, and Lewis says the contract ends, that there is much chance of the majority of the miners disagreeing with him?"

Stassen: "Yes, if you went to the end of negotiations, then had a last proposal from the operators and submitted it to a secret vote. Senator, you would find that with this procedure the leadership would no longer act so dictatorial. The knowledge of such a ballot at the end of negotiations would be a restraining influence."

Stassen said there is "no better basis on which to build our industrial society in a free economy" than to give workers democracy in their unions and allow them to determine in secret ballot whether they would accept a final proposal or strike.

"It'll mean some strikes," the witness acknowledged. "But you can't have your cake and eat it too."

Concerning the secret ballot, Taft said: "I have no confidence that the men are going to take a different position from their leadership, that is, in 99 out of 100 cases. That proposal is trivial as far as a final solution of the problem is concerned."

At one point Taft said the "real wage" of workers was higher in 1929 than in 1921.

"No, it wasn't," Stassen said.

"Oh, yes, it was," Taft snapped.

Britain Faced With Power Breakdown

LONDON —(AP)— Fuel Minister Emanuel Shinwell said today Britain's overstrained electric power system would break down early next week of an acute fuel shortage aggravated by bitter winter weather.

He told the house of commons the result would be that, beginning Monday, no electricity would be supplied to any industrial consumer in London and southwestern districts. The electricity supply to domestic cosnumers will be cut off from 9 a.m. to noon and from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. daily, he announced.

Shinwell said the labor government hoped the curtailment— certain to cause far-reaching disarrangements in the nation's export program—would not last longer than three or four days.

Hundreds of ocean-going ships were tied up in British ports by a government conservation order earmarking the dangerously low coal supplies for domestic consumption only. Domestic electricity and gas rations already have been slashed.

General Election Is Ordered for Japan

TOKYO —(AP)— General MacArthur took indirect note today of the increasingly insistent and widespread opposition to the conservative government of Premier Shigeru Yoshida and ordered another general election for Japan.

The supreme commander's edict was delivered to Yoshida in a politely couched letter expressing the belief that "the time has come for another election" to "once more advance the process of democracy which now governs the state."

However, there was no doubt that the "belief" carried the full weight of the supreme commander's order.

The letter likewise omitted reference to the political friction which has made the Yoshida government largely ineffective, but it left scant doubt that the doom of the ultra-conservative cabinet had practically been sealed.

AVERAGE INCOME FOR STATE'S FAMILIES LISTED AT $4,314

SPOKANE —(AP)— The average annual family income in Washington state is $4,314, fourth highest in the nation, it was disclosed today in Redbook's 1946 survey, copies of which were received by the Spokane Chamber of Commerce.

IT PAID HEIDERMAN TO PLANT A TREE; HE FOUND OLD COINS

VANCOUVER, Wash. —(AP)— A can filled with old coins was dug up by Arthur Heiderman while planting a tree on his property and today he was spading the rest of the lot, looking for more.

The group of coins dated back to 1834. Their value was set at $200, most of it made up of an appraisal of $10 each for 16 half-dollars minted in 1856. The can was about a foot under ground.

Heiderman bought the porperty as a brush-covered lot in 1940 and subsequently built a house on it.

'Second Term For Truman' Boom Is Hannegan's Idea

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Democratic Chairman Robert E. Hannegan said today the "second term for Truman" boom he launched last night in New York was "strictly" his own idea.

"I was just expressing my own views," the postmaster general told reporters at the White House after a cabinet meeting.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Senator Bridges (R-NH) protested in the senate today that democratic Chairman Robert E. Hannegan launched a 1948 "Truman boom" with a speech to government workers subject to the Hatch act.

The Hatch act prohibits political activity by federal employees.

Bridges to the senate that just prior to the speech the postmaster general had been vacationing in Florida for many weeks.

Under Hannegan, Bridges went on, the post office department has piled up a deficit of $359,000,000.

Instead of Hannegan's launching a Truman boom, Bridges declared, the president should be hunting a "more competent successor" to Hannegan.

Other cabinet members reported that Hannegan's speech at a postal supervisors' dinner was discussed at the cabinet session and that both Attorney General Clark and Navy Secretary Forrestal had congratulated him on it.

All the cabinet members appeared in good humor as they left the White House. The subject of politics arose when a reporter asked War Secretary Patterson whether the cabinet "talked about '48."

"Yes, and about '52," Patterson quipped. "It was long range planning."

Forrestal commented he thought Hannegan made a "good speech."

A broadside of Lincoln day addresses appeared likely to provide the republican answer to Hannegan's assertion that the democratic party is ready to call on Mr. Truman to seek re-election.

TRUMAN DIDN'T KNOW

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters last night that Hannegan had made the statement without Mr. Truman's knowledge.

Rocky Graziano Loses His Boxing License; Title Bout Cancelled

NEW YORK —(AP)— The state athletic commission today revoked the boxing license of Rocky Graziano and ordered his forthcoming title bout with champion Tony Zale cancelled for his failure to report a $100,000 bribe offer.

Commission Chairman Edward Egan read the decision—tantamount to barring Graziano for life from boxing in New York rings—to Graziano at the conclusion of a three day hearing.

"The commission finds from the evidence and from your own admission that on three separate occasions, with suggestions or requests to engage in a sham of collusive contests, you never reported these requests or suggestions to this commission."

The three occasions referred to an offer of a $100,000 offer to Graziano to throw the fight in May 1945 with the late Al (Bummy) Davis and two such offers to take a dive in the Dec. 27 bout with Ruben Shank. The latter fight never was held.

PLEADS FOR CONTROL

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman today renewed his plea to congress for authority to continue rubber controls in order to assure synthetic production sufficient to meet the emergency.

TOO COLD FOR PUGET SOUND WATER IN ST. PAUL; IT FREEZES

ST. PAUL, Minn. —(AP)— A bottle of Puget sound water used today in the christening of the Great Northern Railway's new streamlined train couldn't take St. Paul's six above zero chill—it froze solid on the engine pilot.

The streamliner, which is to inaugurate 45-hour service between Puget sound and the midwest, now goes on a tour which will take it to Seattle Feb. 16 — and if the weather holds, that water from Peter Puget's diggings may ride all the way home.

Helen Duffy, 21-year old "Queen of Snow" who christened the streamliner, also cracked a bottle of Mississippi water on the train. It froze, too.

32 Billions Expected To Be Budget Limit; Provides for Tax Cut

WASHIGTON —(AP)— Republican congressional leaders were said today to be near agreement on a $32,000,000,000 top limit for next year's budget—a figure they contend would leave $7,000,000,000 for tax cutting and debt payments.

The 2 per cent "across the board" tax reduction plan would cost $3,500,000,000.

Persons in a position to know said that GOP members of the senate-house budgetary committee, meeting in secret sessions, arrived at the $32,000,000,000 figure by listing a possible cut of $2,000,000,000 in President Truman's $11,20,000,000 item for national defense.

Mr. Truman proposed an over-all budget of $37,500,000,000. He estimated revenues at $37,700,000,000. However, Colin Stam, revenue expert for the point committee has estimated that these revenues will be $200,000,000 higher.

To this, the republicans have added the $1,100,000,000 in additional revenue that will be available if the senate, like the house, approves the wartime excise taxes on luxuries after July 1.

Thus, by the republican figuring, revenues will total $39,000,000,000, a $7,000,000,000 spread over outgo. If this were split equally, it would take care of the 2 per cent income tax slash proposed by some party members and still leave $3,500,000,000 to apply on the national debt.

It was emphasized that final agreement is yet to be reached on the proposed $2,000,000,000 slice in defense appropriations. Some republican members of the joint committee were reported to have opposed vigorously any trimming of the army-navy outlay.

American Personnel Moved to Tangku In Special Train

PEIPING—(AP)—A seven car special train took 303 American executive headquarters personnel to the port of Tangku today, starting the withdrawal from China without incident except for an hour's breakdown of the locomotive.

The group began loading aboard the army transport General Weigel immediately upon completion of the 115-mile 8-hour trip. It was reported the ship might sail within 24 hours.

Communists who had been attacking the railway left it alone for the second consecutive day, having promised not to interfere with the American evacuation.

Lt. Gen. Alvan C. Gillem, Jr., U. S. commissioner at truce headquarters, turned out to see the contingent off, but neither national government nor the communists sent representatives to wish God-speed to the first of the 2,000 Americans to depart.

Precautions were taken even though the route was reported quiet. The train carried water and provisions for two days and a marine guard took positions at strategic places in the cars. Two marine planes flew escort, keeping in constant contact with the fighter squadron at the airdrome here.

Chinese press reports said that fighting flared in other sectors, particularly between Paoting and Shihchiachuang on the Peiping-Hankow railroad.

Mother Sobs as Son Sentenced To Hang

SEATTLE —(AP)— Mrs. Margaret Wilson of Hayden Lake, Idaho, wept softly today as she heard her son, Garland Wilson, 27, sentenced to the gallows May 5 for slaying his former employer, J. N. Raybould, 70, a West Seattle butcher, December 29, 1945.

It was the second time Wilson was sentenced to death for killing Raybould in the latter's meat market, with a piece of hardwood and a butcher knife. He took $600 as he fled. An appeal cancelled the first execution date, last May 20. Last November the supreme court affirmed the conviction.

"I've spent many nights upstairs in the jail hoping and praying that all this would turn out to be a bad dream," Wilson told Judge William J. Wilkins. "Now I know that it wasn't. I've come to the conclusion that what is to be is to be . . ."

"I'm sure everything turns out for the best in the end," the judge told him.

Enroute back to jail to await transfer to the state prison, Wilson stopped briefly to converse with his mother and his sister, Mrs. Paul Rust, Clarks Fork, Idaho.

Stones Being Stones the Reason Several Of Hollywood's Elite Nurse Headaches Today

ABOARD A BARSTOOL AT CIRO'S RESTAURANT, Hollywood —(AP)—Jim Moran, the professional screwball, whose accomplishments include changing horses in midstream and selling an Eskimo an icebox, turned the topper today.

And if there are headaches among some of Hollywood's elite, it won't necessarily be the liquor.

Moran, his getup bearing a close resemblance to that of Crown Prince Saud Al-Saud of Saudi Arabia, who has been visiting in these parts recently, strode into this sunset strip night club shortly before midnight. Ciro's is accustomed to dignitaries, but there was much fussing as he and his two cohorts swept across the floor to a ringside table.

Wearing an embroidered cape, meticulously applied black whiskers and a stern expression, he gazed regally around the room. The band played a couple of numbers, but all eyes of the blase crowd—including those of a few newsmen who were in the gag—were on the 6-foot, 4-inch "prince."

Finally he sent one of his emissaries to Bandleader Jerry Wald with a note. Wald blanched a bit as the stooge—who wore the unarabic name of Patrick Desmond Begorra—handed him a ruby-red stone with the request. Then, a bit shakily, the band swung out with "Begin the Beguine."

At its conclusion, Moran stood, gathered in his robes, bowed to the orchestra and started for the door. Half-way there, a handful of stones clattered to the floor. His retinue hesitated, but Moran motioned them imperiously to come along. There was a hushed silence, then someone gasped "they're jewels." The scramble was on.

They were glass, of course, as some may learn later today from their jewelers. They may also learn that Prince Saud left for San Francisco a couple of days ago.

President Truman is pictured clasping the ribbon of the Medal of Honor around the neck of Comdr. Richard N. Antrim, USN, of Peru, Ind., one of the nation's most unusual war heroes. In Jap internment camp, a fellow officer was beaten into unconsciousness by a guard and Comdr. Antrim intervened, offering to take the rest of the officer's punishment himself. His act so amazed the Japs that it not only saved the beaten officer's life but won new respect for the Americans.

Talmadge Loses In Court Fight Over Ga. Governorship

McDONOUGH, Ga. —(AP)— Superior Judge Claude H. Porter ruled today that Lieut. Gov. M. E. Thompson is Georgia's acting governor and that Herman Talmadge's election by the legislature was invalid.

The decision handed down at Rome, Ga., ordered the state pardon and parole board to turn over records on budgetary matters to Thompson. An appeal to the Georgia supreme court was announced quickly.

Judge Porter held that the legislature could only declare Eugene Talmadge, Herman's father who was lected but died before his inauguration, had received the majority of the general election votes and that Ellis Arnall held over in the office until his resignation.

Arnall resigned four days after the legislature elected the younger Talmadge. Judge Porter ruled that when he did so Thompson succeeded to the governorship.

Counsel for Talmadge said the appeal to the supreme court would be perfected before the 10-day deadline. Talmadge, at the state capital in Atlanta, declined immediate comment and started preparing a formal statement.

Associates of Talmadge have said, however that he will retain the governor's office until the state supreme court rules and that in event a decision adverse to him the fight will be taken to the U. S. supreme court.

Vet Groups Oppose General Rent Hike

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Two veterans organizations urged today that congress reject proposals for a general rent increase.

At a news conference, Frnaklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., national housing chairman of the American Veterans Committee, declared "the claim of landlords for higher rents is completely unnecessary."

He suggested that congress give the office of temporary controls $6,000,000 to employ the staff and handle on an individual basis cases where landlords contend they are suffering hardship due to low rents.

NO AGREEMENT

NEW YORK —(AP)— Warren R. Austin, United States delegate, and Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet representative, conferred by telephone today without reaching an agreement on a deadlock over arms reduction machinery, it was reported authoritatively.

Austin, it was said, called Gromyko and talked with him about five minutes. The United States delegate to the United Nations security council was reported to have inquired if there was any form of words acceptable to Gromyko on the disputed clause in a proposed arms limitations solution.

Gromyko, it was added, replied there was none acceptable.

CONSIDER COMPROMISE

LONDON—(AP)—Informed sources said today the British cabinet was considering a compromise Palestine formula which would allow 100,000 Jews from European displaced persons camps to enter immediately a semi-autonomous Jewish province in the Holy Land.

This plan was attributed to Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Colonial Secretary Arthur Creech Jones.

There was no immediate indication from Ten Downing street whether the cabinet had accepted it.

President Truman told Jewish leaders in Washington last July the U. S. government was willing to assume technical and financial responsibility for the transportation of 100,000 immigrants from Europe to Palestine.

Hold Soldier After Fatal Stabbing At Palmer, Alaska

PALMER, Alaska —(AP)— A Fort Richardson soldier was held by the U. S. marshal's office here today in connection with the stabbing death of Melvin Beckwith, formerly of Olympia, Wash., whose slashed body was found yesterday near Wasilla, about 60 miles from Anchorage.

Beckwith, about 35, died within a few mintues of discovery without regaining consciousness. His throat was slashed and he had been knifed in the heart. He was employed by the war department at Fort Richardson.

The soldier, Wilbur E. Keith, about 20, was in the custody of the marshall less than an hour later after being overpowered by Kenneth Bloom, a cab driver, and trussed up with the help of Ruth Clemetson, Palmer public health nurse, who chanced to be driving along the scene.

Both Bloom and a native girl companion of the two men, Kitty Curtis of Anchorage, were held as witnesses.

The marshal's office said the slaying followed an argument during an all night party which started in Anchorage and moved on to Wasilla.

Bloom told officers, they said, that he was ordered by Keith to drive away from the scene after they dumped the body. He said he purposely "ditched" the car four miles down the road and ran to a nearby house where he borrowed a rifle.

Returning to the cab, officers said they were told, Bloom struck Keith over the head and overpowered him.

A coroner's inquest was to be held today.

ARMY PAPER DECLARES YUGOSLAVIA NOT TO SIGN PEACE TREATY

PARIS —(AP)— The U. S. army newspaper Stars and Stripes, quoting a Yugoslav embassy spokesman, said today that Yugoslavia would not sign the Italian peace treaty here Monday.

Yugoslav officials at the Paris peace conference said they would abstain from signing the Italian pact unless it was made satisfactory to Premier Marshal Tito's regime. The action presumably will delay transfer of Italian territory and reparations to Yugoslavia.

The amount of money taken was not disclosed.

REVAMPING OF STATE PARKS COMMITTEE URGED AFTER HEARING

OLYMPIA — (AP) — Possible revamping of the state parks committee was being considered by the joint committees of parks and public buildings today after hearing two members of the present committee condemn the existing system.

State Treasurer Russell Fluent and Land Commissioner Otto Case, both members of the present parks body, spoke before the committee last night. They described the state's as a "run down lot of places, dying of dry rot."

Fluent said conditions in the parks "are deplorable. Trails are overgrown, lavatories are blocked by weeds and a great bulk of the employes are merely patronage men who spend their time the year round campaigning."

The treasurer recommended park committee duties to be transferred to the highway department, but Case suggested the present committee be retained but restored to its "old efficiency and competence." He did not say how this was to be done.

Legisaltors generally expressed approval, however, of a suggestion by Rep. J. P. Simpson (D-Kittitas), that a new park committee be formed of one representative of each congressional district.

BOY SCOUT WEEK

Nearly 2,000,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Senior Scouts will observe the 37th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America during Boy Scout Week, Feb. 7th to 13th. Through their World Friendship Fund of voluntary gifts the Boy Scouts of America have given $110,464.36 to help Boy Scouts overseas rebuild their organizations. During the first year of their "Shirts-Off-Our-Backs" project more than 400 cases—or twenty tons—of Scout Uniforms and equipment collected from Scouts were contributed to Scouts in 13 nations. Scouting has always been an active force in promoting better understanding and mutual goodwill among the nations. Above is the official poster marking the event.

Grand Officer Visits Local Rainbow Assembly

For the pleasure of Margaret Arnold of Renton, grand worthy advisor of the state of Washington, Idaho and territory of Alaska, Order of Rainbow for Girls, the local assembly officers conducted initiatory rites of the order for Shirley Ross, Sandra Brown, Jean Harlow and Joy Ann Swenson Wednesday night at the Masonic temple.

The ceremony was witnessed by Rainbow girls from Port Angeles, Sequim and Port Townsend, who attended with their respective mother advisors, and by local Eastern Stars and Masons.

As the ceremony began, Marian Adams and Joan Sanbakken lit the four floor candelabra while Elsie Critchfield sang "The Lord's Prayer" followed by a trio composed of Bernice Johnson, Elsie Critchfield and LaVerne Bartholomew singing "Bless This House." Mardell Mattson was accompanist. The choir also sang appropriate selections during the ceremony.

To honor the official visitor an addenda arranged by Marilyn Carr, worthy advisor, was given by the line officers Norma Anderson, Nora Bork, Charlene Mattson and Joan Parr. Miss Arnold was presented a gift for which she graciously thanked the assembly and then delivered a message to all Rainbow girls.

Refreshments were served in the dining room at tables decorated with fern, evergreens and candles. Those responsible for the arrangements were Mrs. John Gallacci, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Charles A. Anderson, Mrs. Fritz Sutter and Mrs. F. M. Carr.

T. C. McDonald, worthy patron of Esther chapter No. 19, Order of Eastern Star, spoke briefly and humorously to the assembly and Rainbow girls responded by singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The evening ended with group singing.

During her visit to Port Angeles, Miss Arnold was a guest at the home of Mrs. Theo R. Mattson, mother advisor of the local assembly.

Preceding Wednesday evening's affair, Mrs. Mattson, Mrs. Charles Hanify, assistant mother advisor, Marilyn Carr, worthy advisor, and the four line officers were hosts at a dinner party for the visitor at Lloyd's cafe.

Program Follows Church Women's Luncheon Wednesday

A 1:30 luncheon was served at the First Methodist Church Wednesday by the Mary Martha Circle to 80 ladies of the Women's Society of Christian Service. A program and business meeting followed.

Devotions were led by Mrs. E. H. Gribble, secretary of spiritual life. Mrs. Clarence Johnson entertained the group by singing "The Lord Is My Shepherd" by Liddle. She was accompanied by Mrs. Otto Kocman.

Theme for the year's program "Of Such Is the Kingdom of Heaven" was introduced by Mrs. J. T. Albertson, program chairman.

Mrs. Fred Beal then discussed Christian race relations and used as a basis for her talk material from a recent article by Pearl S. Buck entitled "Do We Want Our Children to be Tolerant?" and one by James Lee Ellenwood on "One World Begins at Home." Both articles are a challenge to the church and home on tolerance, Mrs. Beale declared.

A poem entitled "Incident" by Countee Cullen, a negro poet, was read by Mrs. Donald MacDonald.

A brief business meeting was conducted by Mrs. J. J. Marshall, president of WSCS and year books listing the society's meetings and activities were presented to each member.

SEEK VALENTINES TO DECORATE WINDOW

The first American commercial Valentine was produced in Worcester, the city known as "The Heart of the Commonwealth" where today Valentines are still being produced. These early creations of cut paper designs, flowers, trees and birds ingeniously joined together so they would separate and stand, were the work of a Worcester stationer's daughter. Two Valentines of this type are in the window of a local stationer's store, loaned by Mrs. H. E. Mix. Also displayed is a mellowed album of pressed flowers from the Holy land, property of Judge J. M. Ralston, which shows the exquisite handcraft of bygone times. Anyone with interesting valentines is asked to contribute to the display.

Becomes Bride Of Jess M. Sinnes

Choosing the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of her parents as the date of her own marriage, Marion LaVern Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Johnson of this city became the bride of Jess M. Sinnes of Mount Vernon in an evening ceremony at the First Baptist Church Tuesday, February 4. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sinnes of Mount Vernon.

Lighted candles, white stock and green leaves graced the interior of the church for the 6 o'clock double-ring ceremony performed by Rev. Herbert R. Cederberg. Mrs. Cederberg sang "Because" prior to the ceremony.

Attendants wore princess-style gowns of taffeta and carried bouquets of carnations. Betty Jane McDonald, maid of honor, was in pink with blue carnations and Agnes Johnson, bridesmaid, wore blue with contrasting flowers.

When the bride was escorted down the aisle by her father she was gowned in white taffeta also in princess style with high neckline, ruffled yoke and long sleeves. She carried a fragrant bouquet of carnations and narcissuses surrounding an orchid.

Earl Sinnes was best man and ushering were Merle Sinnes, Ed Johnson and Cliff Groomer.

For the occasion Mrs. Johnson, mother of the bride, wore an orchid corsage, Mrs. Sinnes, the groom's mother, chose gardenias.

At the reception held in the Woman's Literary Clubhouse, individual tables were set about the room. A long table for the bridal party held two cakes, a four-tiered one topped by a small bride and groom and a white and silver cake for the bride's parents. Serving at the reception were Mesdames R. Backland, M. W. Backlund, Emil Carlson, August Anderson, Art Mickelson, Olaf Longstrom, Leonard Olson, Arvid Sodergaard and Miss Ethel Mickelson.

For the wedding trip to Victoria, Mrs. Sinnes wore a brown suit with snakeskin shoes and bag. Mr. and Mrs. Sinnes will live at 510 South Chase in a home presented to them as a wedding gift by the groom's parents.

Mrs. Sinnes attended Roosevelt high school and her husband attended Mount Vernon schools and served in the army for four years, part of the time in the Pacific area.

Moa and Mrs. Arnold Moa came from Stanwood and Mrs. Vick Strom and Mrs. Leonard Johnson from Algona.

GOP Legislators Launch 3-Fold Attack on Demos

OLYMPIA—(AP)—A three-fold attack on the state's democratic administration was unleashed yesterday by the republican-led legislature.

Two of the actions—passage of the bi-partisan legislative council and a proposal to investigate the "Capitol Club"—were fostered in the house. It was the senate's action, however, in voting to bar legislators from executive branches under gubernatorial control that provoked the liveliest oratory.

The bill, which appeared on the floor covering both state and county jobs, was turned into a direct blow at Governor Wallgren when Sen. John McCutcheon (R-Pierce) offered an amendment substituting a whole new bill barring legislators from 18 departments, boards and commissions under direct executive control.

McCutcheon supported his amendment with assertions that legislators could not be wholly free in lawmaking action if a job held in the balance. Sen. Keiron Reardon (D-Snohomish) backed him, declaring:

"I think the last election showed the people felt the governor was willing to prostitute the members of this body.

Minority democrats maneuvered unsuccessfully against the measure, insisting it should include county jobs if enacted. Sen. Barney Jackson (D-Pierce), who held a position with the department of fisheries between sessions, shouted the bill "smells to high heaven with politics."

The bill passed 37-9 with Sen. Dayton Witten (King) disqualifying himself on the ground that he had a personal interest in the county job issue.

The proposed investigation of the Olympia "Capitol Club" was approved by the house after Rep. Parry Woodall, (R-Yakima) declared state employes had reported it was "purely for the purpose of collecting large sums for political campaigns."

Jack Ballow, director of the department of finance, budget and business, denied that membership cards in the club were sold, that large sums have been collected, that regular meetings were not held and that the purpose was other than social. Ballew's signature appeared on a photostatic copy of a membership card which Woodall exhibited to the house.

Altitude at this portal of the suggested 2.03-mile-long tunnel would be 2,329 feet. Singstad suggested a 24-foot roadway with clearance of 14½ feet.

Statewide Hospital Program Proposed By Sen. Earlywine

OLYMPIA —(AP)— Sen. Ross W. Earlywine, (R-Snohomish), today introduced a bill which would lead to the development of a statewide hospital construction program "to afford hospitals adequate to serve all people of the state."

The legislative grist mill slowed down though, as only eight bills were introduced in the house and 14 in the senate, considerably less than the average during the last week.

Earlywine's measure would establish a section of hospital survey and construction to make an inventory of existing hospitals and develop a program of hospital construction. The state department of health, under which the survey section would operate, is charged in the bill with the task of developing and administering a state plan for the construction of public and other non-profit hospitals.

The director of health would be required to make an annual report to the governor and legislature, detailing actions taken in making recommendations for legislation deemed ntcessary to furnish adequate hospital, clinic and similar facilities for the people.

FEDERAL FUNDS SOUGHT

The bill directs that federal funds shall be sought to implement those appropriated by the state in carrying out the proposed survey and construction program. An initial appropriation of $25,000 is provided for meeting administration expenses and $50,000 for the survey fund.

LOOT $110,000

SEATTLE —(AP)— Police said today that a check revealed the lone white man who looted the safe of the Yick Keong Association early January 21, after binding two elderly Chinese members, obtained more than $110,000. They said much of the money was "banked" with the association by Chinese who preferred not to deal with U. S. banks. About a dozen of them were unable to embark for China Monday as they had planned.

DYE TRACES WATER 40 MILES UNDERGROUND

RAWLINS, Wyo. —(AP)— Green water has appeared in the taps of Rawlins homes, to the great delight of Ben G. Davis, city pipeline superintendent.

Dye was dropped into a test well 40 miles south of here and reached Rawlins two months later, having traveled an underground water course.

Davis explained that the water's arrival proved the existence of a subterranean trough atop the continental divide and opened the way for valuable supplementation of the city's water supply.

Says Jap Removal Was Unjustified; Wants Government Amends

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Dillon S. Myer, former director of the Japanese - American war relocation camps, declared Thursday the mass wartime removal of 110,000 Japanese from the west coast was unjustified and the government should make amends.

He said congress should permit Japanese-Americans to become citizens and should create a commission to receive claims for "several million dollars worth" of property loss or damage from those forcibly removed from their homes and businesses.

In a report to Secretary of the Interior Krug. Myer asserted that Lt. Gen. John L. DeWitt, western defense commander who ordered the 1942 evacuation, "was by no means free of racial feeling" in taking this step.

Myer said the war relocation authority "believes that in all probability a selective evacuation of people of Japanese descent from the west coast military area was justified."

But, he added, "it does not believe that a mass evacuation was ever justified and it feels most strongly that the exclusion orders remained in effect for months and perhaps for years after there was any real justification."

The report quoted DeWitt as telling a house committee on naval affairs at San Francisco in April, 1943:

Lem's Dogs vs Thad's Chickens

Running a newspaper, you get to know a lot about human nature.

Thad Phipps was in the other day, all burned up. Wanted me to run an item on how Lem Martin's dog had raided his chickens again, and ought to be put away by law.

I told him: "Lem was in on Saturday. Said you shouldn't be allowed to keep those chickens so close to his house—and in a residential zone, at that."

Thad shuts up right pronto then. And that very evening I see him making his peace with Lem at Andy Botkin's Garden Tavern —over a friendly glass of beer.

From where I sit, anyone can find something in his neighbor to complain about. (Some folks may even disagree with Thad's right to enjoy that glass of beer with Lem!) But where would we be if everybody tried to have a law passed against everything they disagreed with? We wouldn't have many neighbors left!

BUGLE CALL TO SAVE THE CUSPIDOR

NEW YORK —(AP)— News item: "Refusal of 6,000 New York scrubwomen to clean cuspidors may doom these symbols of masculinity."

Today we hymn the cuspidor,
A target etched in nicotine,
Which union ladies say no more
They'll labor with fair hands to clean.

The brass bowl on the barroom floor,
The rubber mat that caught the errors,
Are heirlooms of that vanished yore
When germs and microbes held no terrors.

The bright new world for which we burn
May cheer the dainty—I deplore
Its sanitary blight adn yearn
To keep the robust cuspidor.

O sing unto it roundelay,
O chant a saddened dirge with me,
The cuspidor has had its day—
And so have men who once were free.

Turning from verse to perhaps worse, I want to blow a verbal trumpet to save the old-fashioned spittoon, a maligned relic of a braver day.

Since man first quelled the saber-toothed tiger with firebrand and spear, he has seen a steady whittling down of his area of masculine superiority.

From a glorious wild animal of unlimited power and freedom he has been ground down through the centuries to the status of a caged squirrel by the long disapproval of womenfolk, laws, and traitorous tame males—the "judas goats" of their own sex.

He used to hunt, this son of nature, and ate first from the family pot, being followed by the women, who gnawed the bones, did menial tasks and collected wood for the fire. Now man passes the first plate to his mate. Helps dry the dishes afterward and carries in the coal and hauls out the ashes.

He used to learn how to be a man from the older men, proven hunters. Now old maids and young girls teach him the feminine etiquette they invented.

He used to wear the brightest feathers--like the wild male bird still does. Now he wears a suit of dun and channels all his lost flamboyancy into a piddling red tie.

He used to sing the tribal songs and jump high in the tribal dances by the light of an October moon. Now he sits by a radio listening weakly to an ear-beating sporano.

He used to preserve the sanctity of his home with a flint hammer he made himself. Now he can't take a pot shot at a moose or his wife's lover with a bean shooter without buying a hunting license.

He used to throw out his chest. Now he is two paces behind his stomach.

Women have forced him to give up his beard, his barroom stool, his seat in the barber's chair.They have taken away his wonderful oaths and reduced his rich earth flavored language in these old retreats to the hyprocratic level of co-educational prattle.

Yea, they have followed him even into the ball game and the wrestling match, and denied him the onion on his hamburger.

Decadent man has been stripped to the last bare privilege—the right to spit (excuse the horrid word). It is the sole masculine prerogative left.

Women don't like to spit—(there's that word again). They say so. The truth is, they don't know how and for some reason can't learn. They probably have a physiological defect. No woman ever looked more helpless and inefficient than when she tries to—you know the word now.

So they want to deny man the one thing he can do more ably than they.

Men of America—fight to save the cuspidor! It is the chalice of your final freedom. It is the only cup left to express your disdain of the world's injustice. Defend it! If the union ladies will have no further hand in this problem—and that is their privilege, too—then let's impress firehoses or steam jets to keep a golden polish on the cuspidor, the respository of liberty-loving men.

Discard these masterpieces of floorboard architecture, men, and you—the cutdown parody of hairy, free-booting ancestors — will soon yourselves join the great auk, the dodo and the passenger pigeon.

Our slogan must be: "As the gobbon goes, so goes mankind!"

Ask your girl friends to give you one for Valentine, fellows. And keep 'em shining.

The world's ten largest islands are Greenland, New Guinea, Borneo, Madagascar, Baffin, Sumatra, Honshu, Great Britain, Victoria and Ellesmere.

FOREST SERVICE WILL USE SCALING BUREAU'S LOG SCALE HEREAFTER

Chief Forester Lyle F. Watts has authorized the forest service to use scaling bureau water scale on logs in connection with the sale of national forest timber. Supervisor Carl B. Neal of the Olympic National Forest said here today.

This will eliminate the duplicate work of scaling logs by government scaler, heretofore required, and will thus release scalers for work in the forest developing future timber sales, Neal said.

The use of bureau scale will apply only at points where a scaling bureau is operating, but this means nearly all the volume of government timber sales.

Unlike the state, which sells timber in a bulk lot on the stump, the national forest sells on a price per thousand feet applied to the quantity actually taken out of the forest.

The use of bureau scale on existing sale contracts will be subject to purchaser's consent.

In the commercial market it is common practice for both buyers and sellers of logs to accept the independent scaling bureau's figures on log content.

Supervisor Neal was here today to attend a meeting of the timber committee of the Port Angeles Chamber of Commerce. He was to return to Olympia tonight.

The law governing the present design of the United States flag was passed in 1818.

RAZOR CLAM LIMITS FOR COMMERCIAL CATCHES OUTLINED

The quotas or amounts of razor clams that can be dug from each beach by the commercial fishermen in Washington have been set by Milo Moore, director of fisheries. A commercial take of 800,000 pounds will be allowed from Copalis beach, 400,000 pounds from Long beach and 350,000 pounds from Grayland beach, making a total of 1,550,000 pounds. This is 450,000 pounds less than the commercial catches of about 2,000,000 pounds taken in each of the years 1945 and 1946.

The quotas are smaller for 1947 than in the preceding years because unusually heavy digging by tourists and non-commercial diggers has taken many clams from the beaches in the last two years and also the number of young clams surviving from the spawning of the last two years has been less than normal. Therefore, this curtailment is needed to keep up the high level of production in future years.

The quotas are set as a result of biological surveys made by the research division of the department of fisheries under the direction of Joe A. Craig, chief biologist. This system of regulated production has resulted in increasing the total razor clam catch from about 200,000 pounds in 1943 to about 2,000,000 pounds in 1945 and 1946. The razor clam season will open on March 1 and no commercial digging will be permitted on Saturdays or Sundays.

Searches End With Finding of Bodies

(By Associated Press)

A week-long search for Dan Cornell, 62-year-old Manson rancher, and four of his orchard workers, and the three-months hunt for a 37-year-old Kent mother were ended today.

Deputy Sheriff Mario Faletto said oil bubbles sighted on the surface of Lake Chelan and a broken piece of windshield carrying the 1946 license sticker tab on Cornell's car gave definite indication that the five had plunged off a 15-foot embankment and rolled into Lake Chelan during a blizzard.

The body of Mrs. Frank Dunham, mother of four who disappeared Nov. 15, was found caught on a snag in Green river. She was reported to have been nervous and despondent before her disappearance.

Mario said a forest service lake boat was to take soundings today in an effort to locate the car and an airplane will try to sight it from above. The accident occurred six miles up the north shore of the lake from Chelan.

With Cornell when the car disappeared were Lawrence Badten, Slim Walker, Milford Heller and Kenneth Couchman. Badten was married and had a small child.

At the same time, searchers in British Columbia reported finding the bodies of three of seven Indians missing for eight days in a small fishing boat out of Prince Rupert. The bodies were discovered in Telegraph passage, 12 miles from the point where wreckage of the vessel had been located earlier yesterday. The four other occupants of the boat still are missing.

Scouts Decorate Store Windows For Their Anniversary

All over America today nearly two million boys began the observance of 1947 Scout Week, February 7 to 13, annual celebration of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America February 8, 1910. Clallam county cub scouts, boy scouts and senior scouts are beginning their participation in the 37th anniversary with the decoration of 11 business windows in Port Angeles, three in Sequim, and two in Forks, according to a check made by District Commissioner Henry Charnell.

Tomorrow between 1:30 and 2:30 in the afternoon each of the competing units will conduct a demonstration near their window, featuring some of the skills and achievements of their group. Judges for the window contest have been appointed by the camping and activities committee, according to Walt Brazel, chairman, and award plaques for winning units will be presented at court of honor ceremonies February 25. Plaques have been made available for annual Scout Week presentation by Naval Lodge of Elks, Brazel said.

'SCOUT SUNDAY'

Sunday, February 9, is "Scout Sunday" and boys are expected to attend their own church services in uniform in observance of this nation-wide recognition. Here in Port Angeles four of the 11 units are sponsored by churches, including: troop 470, Methodist Church; troop 471 and explorer post 471e, First Baptist Church; cub pack 473c, Queen of Angels Church. Next week cub scouts and boy scouts will wear their uniforms to school, with suitable recognition being planned by the various schools. The other four cub packs in the county are sponsored by Parent-Teacher groups, according to Ralph Symthe, chairman of the organization and extension committee. These include: cub pack 471c at the Jefferson school, cub pack 474c at Lincoln school, Washington school cub pack 476c, and pack 490c which is sponsored by the Sequim school association.

Several units are planning parent-scout dinners as part of the anniversary month celebration, Brazel said. Those of which the local office has been informed to date include: a Lincoln's birthday dinner at Sequim for cub and boy scout units there; a Washington pack dinner on February 21; and a Jefferson pack dinner February 26.

LISTS DIVISIONS

Brazel announced today that judges for the various classifications in the window contest are as follows: Cub Scout Division—John Glann, Ray Warren, and Carl Laudenbach, representing the public school administration; Boy Scout Division—a Chamber of Commerce committee of Mayor Fred Epperson, John Nicholson, and Jack Henson; Senior Scout Division, Rotarians Curtis Barnard and Jim Bussing. Judges for the East Section include: Mayor Bill Alton of Sequim, County Commissioner Fred G. Evans and high school principal Leonard Lawson.

Assistant District Commissioner Evan David of Forks has arranged the following committee of judges for the West section: Bert Jones, Margery Motteler and Berle Frazier. Judges will report their decisions to Brazel by Monday night, with the winners in the various classifications being announced during Scout Week, and the awards being made at the February honor court.

Units which have reported their window locations to date include the following: pack 471c, Kaufman-Miller Company; pack 473c, Dr. Frank Nigro window; pack 474c, Park and Shop Market; pack 476c, Hankins Men's Store; troop 470, Swindland's Music Store; troop 471, Miller's Department Store; troop 472, Western Auto Supply Co.; troop 474, Kaufman-Miller Company; troop 476, Willson Hardware; ship 593s, J. C. Penney Company; troop 467, Groffman Dry Goods in Forks; troop 469, Rule and Vedder Hardware in Forks. Scout officials expressed their appreciation to local merchants who are cooperating with the plans for the window decorating contest.

TWO NEW CHARGES

SEATTLE —(AP)— County Commissioner Joseph A. Whetstone faced yesterday by a King county grand jury.

The latest indictments accused the third-term commissioner of accepting two bribes, of $100 and $500, and contained a count charging him with grand larceny in connection with the alleged receipt of bribes. Bail was set at $1,500 on each indictment.

Whetstone already had been indicted on a charge of misconduct of a public officer.

Blames Lover, Then Admits Killing Mate

PLYMOUTH, Mass.—(AP)—Attractive Mrs. Bertha Surprise Cote was indicted today for murder in the death of her husband—Rene, 34—bringing to a climax a bizarre case in which she attempted to blame her alleged young "lover" for the slaying.

For the first time since her arrest, the brown-haired 28-year-old widow appeared on the verge of collapse as the Plymouth county grand jury returned the indictment.

Looking pale and nervous, she immediately entered a plea of innocent. Judge Felix Forte granted her request of a 10-day continuance for the filing of special pleas.

Mrs. Cote appeared before the grand jurors just before they heard the testimony of Walter E. Steele—the 24-year-old mechanic whom she accused of the slaying and named as her "lover."

Steele was originally arrested for the crime but was freed in a dramatic court hearing on Jan. 20 when Mrs. Cote herself was charged with murder.

Forest Products May Be Short for Years, Despite Recoveries

Despite the fact that wartime manpower and equipment shortages are being progressively overcome, it is not likely that industry will be able to meet the consumer demand for forest products in full for many years, Lyle F. Watts, chief of the forest service, said in his annual report to Secretary of Agricuture Clinton P. Anderson.

He predicted the present shortage of timber products will last until we grow a great deal more timber, because "you can't grow trees of saw-timber size overnight."

The chief forester said that in the past 36 years the nation's wood pile has been reduced by more than 40 percent. The total stand of saw-timber in the United States was estimated at 2,826 billion board feet in 1909 against 1,601 billion board feet at the present time.

At the present time, "we are overdrawing our saw timber bank account by about 18.6 billion board feet a year." The amount of sawtimber grown annually is 35.3 billion board feet and the amount cut or destroyed each year is 53.9 billion.

KEY TO TIMBER SUPPLY

The key to a permanent timber supply, said the chief forester, is a realistic and comprehensive nationwide program aimed at keeping our forest lands productive and building up our growing stock of timber. Such a program would:

(1) Bring organized fire protection to the 136 million acres of forest land still without it, and build up the forces now fighting forest pests and parasites so as to put the full effectiveness of science and research findings against these evils.

(2) Step up our planting program so as to bring into productiveness millions of non-productive forest acres now being carried as dead weight.

(3) Reduce waste through more complete utilization of trees harvested.

(4) Stop destructive cutting practices and encourage wider adoption of good forest management by carrying the technical know-how into the woods.

REGULATION VITAL

Denying that the proposal was in any way akin to "regimentation, socialism or dictatorship," the chief forester held that some measure of public control over cutting and related practices was vital to the successful development of an effective forest conservation program.

He said the proposed regulatory program contemplated only requirements sufficient to prevent destructive cutting and to keep the land reasonably productive.

He suggested that the regulatory program might well be administered by the individual states, with federal financial assistance, and in line with basic standards set up by national legislation; but that there should be provision for direct federal administration in states which fail to take appropriate action within a reasonable time.

FEDERAL AID

Coupled with public regulation, as equally essential, the chief forester advocated extension of the present federal aid to encourage better management on private forest land and the inclusion through public ownership of certain additional land in national, state and community forests.

Typical of the federal aids listed in the report are an expanded program of technical research, increase of the 156 state and federally employed trained foresters now advising farm-woodland owners, and more help to the states for the growing and distribution of tree-planting stock.

The type of land which the report said should be purchased, managed, and protected by public agencies includes land where the public values are of high importance because of acute problems of watershed protection or other needs vitally affecing the welfare of dependent communities; also lands not suited for permanent private development due to scanty rainfall, poor soil, inaccessibility, or deterioration caused by unwise cutting of fire.

FIRE RECORD

The chief forester reported that the nationwide fire record in 1945, last year for which complete records are available, was one of the best in years. State and federal increases in fire-control funds, more effective state suppression programs, favorable weather and wartime limitations on forest visitors helped keep fires down.

He pointed out, however, that recreational use of the forests rebounded rapidly after the war and is expected to continue high for years, and warned again that it is the obligation of every forest visitor to be careful with fire, since nine of ten fires are man-caused. The cost of protecting all state and private forest land was estimated before the war to be $18,729,000. The comparative estimate today is $31,249,000.

Of the 80,000,000 acres of national-forest land suitable for livestock grazing, the report says 26,000,000 are in need of remedial action, such as adjustments in livestock numbers, more fence and water developments or better handling of livestock.

DAM CONSTRUCTION

COULEE DAM, Wash. —(AP)— Simultaneous construction on three large earth and rock dams now is under way in the Columbia basin irrigation project—the first triple construction ever undertaken in the west, the bureau of reclamation said today.

The dams are the 1,900-foot long lake dam, the three and one-half mile potholes dam and the 10,000-foot south dam. The long lake and south dams are to be completed by February, 1949, and potholes dam by 1950.

'SELLER'S MARKET' IN AUTOS; FIRM NOT REQUIRED TO HIRE VET

SPOKANE —(AP)— Declaring the sale of new cars is now a "seller's market, and it is no longer necessary to solicit in order to sell," Federal Judge Sam M. Driver yesterday ruled an automobile company was not required to re-hire a veteran as a salesman.

"It is not the purpose of the act to compel employers to create useless jobs for employes," the judge said.

Maj. William H. Richards had asked the court to order the Utter Motor Company, under the selective service act, to give him back his job as salesman of new cars. Th company said he had refused a jo as a used car salesman.
