Morrison Says New Restaurant Survey Coming

Olympic Health District Sanitarian Donald Morrison said today that he decided not to make public the individual reports of Port Angeles restaurants contained in a state department of health survey, but a subsequent follow-up survey will be made.

Since Tuesday, when the Evening News carried a story revealing that 11 out of 14 restaurants surveyed were Grade C (poor) and that the state department recommended that they be cleaned up or closed, many people have visited the health department to inspect the records, Morrison said.

When he first talked to the Evening News, Morrison agreed that the survey was a public document. In explaining his reasons for deciding not to show the individual reports, Morrison said "Out of fairness to the operators, who have made an attempt to comply with regulations since the April survey, I do not believe that the results of that survey should be shown at this time."

Morrison said no check of the restaurants has been made this week, but that he believes conditions have improved since April and particularly since the public became aware of the conditions after the results of the survey appeared in Tuesday's Evening News.

"Olympic health district sanitarians will make another survey of the restaurants soon to inform the public about their present condition," Morrison said. "The health department will release the results of this inspection as soon as it is completed."

The spot check survey here in April was the first of its kind made by the state department of health in over two years. Local sanitarians have made other inspections more recently, but results of these surveys have not been made public.

Two Port Angeles restaurants of the 14 checked by the state in April were rated Grade A (clean), one restaurant rated Grade B (medium) and the remaining 11 received Grade C (poor) ratings.

Start Exploratory Drilling For Oil At West End Location

Exploratory drilling for oil started Wednesday at the intersection of the Oil City road and the Olympic highway.

The Filmore Drilling Company of Bakersfield, Calif, contractor for the Union Oil Company, was down 200 feet Thursday evening and according to Fred W. Bush, field director for the oil company, has contracted to drill to 5,000 feet.

The drilling contractor has a crew of 14 men and is drilling 24 hours a day. A rotary drill is being used with a 110-foot steel derrick.

The drilling site is near the banks of the Hoh river, from which water is pumped for drilling and into which surplus water flows. The Filmore company drilled several holes for Union Oil Company in Grays Harbor county and were the drillers when oil indications were struck at Ocean City.

Site of the operation is ten miles from Oil City, where extensive drilling was done in past years and where crude oil with a paraffin base is pumped in small quantities.

'Nothing Like This in Los Angeles,' Visitor Says of Local Fish

Stanley Quinlan and his son Stanley Jr., vacationers from Los Angeles, Calif., are favorably impressed with Lake Crescent fishing. The Quinlans have been here a week and have landed two fine Beardslee trout.

On Sunday Junior caught a 10 pounder, and Wednesday Quinlan caught a 14½ pound Beardslee. Both fish were caught while trolling with green flatfish and using a one ounce weight.

"We're shipping them home," Quinlan said proudly today. "The folks down in Los Angeles have never seen anything like this!"

Visiting Firemen Start Session Here

Approximately 75 members of the Washington State Council of Firefighters from 16 cities and towns are in Port Angeles to attend the three-day session of firefighters here.

This afternoon the men and their wives were taken on an automobile trip around town and to Heart o' the Hills. Tonight local firemen, guests and civic officials will have a banquet at the Salmon clubhouse at 7 o'clock.

Saturday the visitors will view west end scenery, guided by Fire Chief Clay Wolverton.

Thursday night business activities got underway with a meeting of the 12-man executive board at the American Legion hall. The board decided to recommend that the state council promote legislation to get insurance tax money allocated to cities. Fireman Walter Madsen explained that through an error at the last state legislative session the money was set aside but no definite regulations for distribution to cities were made.

GET ROUGH

PIEPING—(AP) — Peiping's city council threw ash trays and ink wells at its commissioner of police today when he appeared to make his report.

The council was sore at the commissioner, Maj. Gen. Tang Yung-Hsien, because it thinks he's too dictatorial. Also it didn't like all those armed police he had stationed around city hall.

Olympic Highway At Its Best As Berries Line Roadside, Clear Water Invites Anglers

By Jack Henson

Little, ripe wild strawberries are along the shoulders of the Olympic highway between Ruby beach and Kalaloch and big, lumbering black bear are squabbling with tourists for the tasty berries.

Minus tides on the ocean beaches paralleling the highway make razor clam digging good, and silver smelt are hitting the beach each day.

Foxglove flowers of varied colors line the highway between Lake Crescent and Forks, and rivers that were flooding are back to normal and running clear, waiting for anglers.

Lakes Crescent and Sutherland were clear and their shores green Thursday, and Crescent was showing off its most charming shade of blue.

Stopping on the roadside enroute to Clearwater Thursday, we found thousands of ripe strawberries on the shoulders of the road and along the sides of the ditches.

An old timer said they were more plentiful nearer to Ruby beach and that the black bear are coming out of the jungle-like underbrush to get them.

Stopping near Ruby beach on the return trip we found the oldtimer was right, because we ate our fill. Sure enough, on the road ahead was a huge black bear. The animal, when he saw us, stopped berry picking, whirled around and faded into the underbrush.

The same oldtimer said low tides this week have made razor clam digging, restricted to non-commercial, good. Wednesday afternoon a strike of silver smelt on the beach near Kalaloch made commercial fishermen happy.

More than 50 miles of the Olympic highway between Port Angeles and Clearwater is being oiled and is in good condition for travel. Delays because of oil spreading are short. On work days cars are piloted through one-way traffic zones.

Contractors Pouring Highway Bridge Piers

Three of the four concrete piers have been poured for twin concrete Olympic highway bridges south of Snider ranger station, across Soleduck river.

Paul Jarvis and Son, contractors, were pouring the concrete decking of the westerly pier of the east bridge Thursday. The other pier for that bridge has been poured. One pier for the west bridge remains to be constructed.

Workmen are building a pile driver head-rig for driving piles across the river at the site of the easterly bridge. Steel will be erected by use of the piling falsework.

Considerable grading remains between Riverside and the westerly of the two bridges. At that point the Olympic highway is straightened and routed across the two bridges instead of around rocky points near Snider ranger station.

Road and bridge construction is scheduled to finish early this winter.

SHERIFF AT TOWNSEND SEVERELY BEATEN

PORT TOWNSEND—(AP)—Jefferson County Sheriff Peter J. Naughton thwarted a jail break attempt last night after being beaten severely on the head with a piece of pipe.

The sheriff said his assailant was John Kern, 17, who was being held on a car theft charge. He said his attacker hid behind a door when the sheriff entered a corridor to transfer him to a cell for the night. Naughton succeeded in closing and locking the door. Twelve stitches were taken in his scalp.

Warren Accepts Post of V-P

CONVENTION HALL, Philadelphia — (AP)—Gov. Earl Warren of California today accepted the republican vice-presidential nomination before cheering delegates of the national convention.

He came to the convention hall after being nominated by acclamation to run with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York on the GOP presidential ticket.

Warren got the nod from Dewey after a GOP "brains board" canvassed the whole field of possibilities.

Warren and the governor's three daughters, Virginia, 19, Dorothy 17, and Nina, 14, accompanied him to the platform.

The smiling family group posed for five minutes for photographers. Mrs. Warren wore a blue suit and a wide-brimmed white hat.

Warren took the speaker's stand and drew a laugh at the outset by saying:

COUPLE OF JOLTS

"For the first time in my life I know what it feels like to get hit by a streetcar.

"Yesterday, I received something of a jolt. I had no idea I am sure that there was any such shock awaiting me as today. And before you change your mind I want to say—I accept.

"Now the reason that I am so quick to say that is that I have not yet recovered my breath, much less my thoughts.

"If I let it go any longer, I'm afraid I'll forget to say even that.

"I am more grateful to you than you know for the great honor that you have given me.

"And then I pledge to you that if the people place their confidence in us, as I believe they will, that during the next four years, I will give every bit of loyalty in my makeup."

FLOODS PRODUCE NO TYPHOID

SEATTLE—(AP)—The state health department reported today that Washington's flood conditions have not produced any typhoid fever cases.

"If no cases appear within the next two weeks," said Dr. W. R. Giedt of the department, "the strenuous efforts of everyone concerned will have been completely effective."

REDS STOP FOOD INTO W. SECTORS

BERLIN —(AP)— The Russians struck another blow at the western allies in Berlin today, stopping food shipments from the Soviet zone into the western sectors. Traffic already was suspended on the railroad supplying those sectors with food from the western occupation zones.

Under the four-power agreement, the western zones have furnished about two-thirds of Berlin's food and the Soviet zone one-third. The food was distributed through a central German agency to insure even supplies for all areas.

American and British experts said that, while no immediate danger of starvation exists, the food situation eventually will become impossible if the Russian blockade continues.

Col. Frank L. Howley, commandant of the U. S. sector of Berlin, said:

"We are living off food reserves which should last a month. If the blockade against shipments from the west continues, that will require action by higher authorities."

There was indication that such action was already under way. The British deputy military governor, Maj. Gen. Nevil C. D. Brownjohn, flew to London for talks with British authorities. He left after his chief, Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, held discussions with Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American military governor.

'DELICATE STATE'

In London Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin told the house of commons a "delicate state of affairs" exists in Berlin. The British cabinet was summoned into special session, presumably to discuss the Berlin situation.

The blockade left only the airways for bringing food from the west to the 2,000,000 residents of the British, French and American zones in Berlin. Allied experts acknowledged this would not work in the long run.

Col. Howley said the western allies had anticipated the latest Soviet move and had accumulated food stocks sufficient to meet rations through any normal period of difficulty."

He said these included 50 tons of whole powdered milk and 200 tons of condensed milk.

Chicago Financiers Study State's Plans For Ferry Operation

OLYMPIA — (AP)—Representatives of a Chicago syndicate of investment bankers were to tour the Puget sound area with Governor Wallgren today to study routes of the proposed state-owned ferry-bridge system.

Plans for the trip were announced by the governor last night. It follows conferences with the syndicate regarding possible financing of the project, he said.

The governor said also that several shipbuilding firms have been asked to submit preliminary bids on construction costs for the 12 needed ferries.

Options obtained on diesel-electric power plants for the proposed vessels will cut $6,000,000 from construction costs, he said.

NEW BRIDGE PLANNED

Wallgren revealed for the first time that present plans call for construction of a 3,500-foot floating bridge at Fletcher bay, connecting the Kitsap peninsula and Bainbridge island south of Agate pass.

A reporter asked whether the state toll bridge authority had considered purchasing boats of the Puget Sound Navigation Company.

"We'd rather not do that as our program is a little different than the present set up," Wallgren replied.

He said the ferry company has made no advances or offers to sell. Even if an offer were made, he added, the toll bridge authority would have no comparative bargaining figures until it receives figures on cost of new boats.

RUNNING MATE - Governor Earl Warren of California, selected by Governor Dewey of New York as his running mate in concluding session of GOP convention in Philadelphia today. Warren, candidate for presidential nomination, released California's delegation to Dewey after the second ballot yesterday. Truman Looks, Listens, But Remains Silent Officially, Over GOP Action

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Senator James E. Murray (D-Mont.) today quoted President Truman as saying the republican national convention has shown that "conservative interests" are in control of that party.

Officially Mr. Truman has maintained silence about the GOP convention and the selection of New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey as republican presidential nominee.

Murray was asked about Mr. Truman's reaction to the GOP meeting after he had talked with the president at the White House.

Murray told reporters:

"He (Mr. Truman) seemed to think the convention illustrates how the servative interests of the country are in control of the convention and dominating its actions.

"He seemed to regard the platform as a reiteration of promises the republicans have failed to carry out in the past."

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross said Mr Truman had no comment officially on Dewey's nomination.

Ross added Mr. Truman saw and heard the nomination over television in his White House study.

Co. Commissioners Of State Adopt Series of Resolutions

RAINIER NATIONAL PARK — (AP)—The Washington State Association of County Commissioners today seated Pierce County Commissioner Paul Newman as president, then continued to grind out resolutions generally aimed at improving their financial situation.

Newman succeeds Spokane county's Wylie W. Brown, who has presided over the three day session of more than 100 county officials of the state. The meeting concludes tonight.

Resolutions thus far passed call for mandatory hiring of a purchasing agent by class A counties; reduction of county welfare levies from the present level of 2 mills to ½ mill; a revision of fees paid clerks, auditors and treasurers; payment of county auditors to taxing authorities only the portion of taxes actually collected after rebates have been paid; elimination of the coroner's position and substitution of a medical examiner, and quick extension of aid to flood-stricken counties.

Sprague Mentioned As New GOP Chairman

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—The name of J. Russel Sprague was being mentioned among republican convention delegates today as the possible new GOP chairman.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, as the party's presidential candidate, will choose the chairman. The committee will meet this afternoon to ratify his decision.

Close Dewey associates said that someone else will be designated to take the place of Carroll Reece, the present chairman.

Speculation turned to Sprague, one of Dewey's campaign advisers. Some observers believed that the fact that Sprague made the announcement of the selection of Gov. Earl Warren of California as Dewey's running mate indicated that it would be Sprague.

Warren of California Is Vice-Presidential Choice

By JACK BELL

CONVENTION HALL, Philadelphia —(AP)— Thomas E. Dewey and California's Earl Warren are the republican presidential ticket.

Dewey was unanimously nominated by the 24th national convention last night.

He picked Warren to run with him as vice president and the convention today by acclamation confirmed that choice.

No other name than Warren's was presented for the vice presidency.

Arizona gave notice of nominating Harold E. Stassen but a few minutes later withdrew it.

Chairman Joseph Martin put Warren's name before the convention and declared him nominated by acclamation.

New York's Dewey, getting his second chance at the presidency, made it an east-west all-governor ticket after an all-night series of conferences.

The word quickly spread to Convention Hall and the delegates didn't take long to whoop through Warren's name.

Leaders of camps of other disappointed presidential hopefuls were quick to line up behind the Dewey-Warren combination.

Dewey, the New Yorker, who unanimously was given a second chance at the presidency, made known his choice of California's governor after an all-night series of conferences at his hotel headquarters.

Hal Boyle's colorful description of convention hall scene when the Deweys made their appearance is carried on page 4

Delegates waiting to wind up his last business of the convention and go home made it clear Warren would be nominated when his name came up. The ticket which republicans hope will end 16 years of democratic rule in Washington was completed at a series of conferences that went on most of the night and continued through the morning.

There was tense waiting throughout the downtown political camps as Dewey, unanimously given a second chance at the presidency, kept the convention waiting for his choice of a running mate.

SLOW IN SHOWING

At 7:30 a.m. (PDT) the hour set for his convention to consider nominations for vice president, there was scarcely a major politician in the hall.

Chairman Joe Martin had not put in an appearance. The GOP bigwigs who sit on the platform were absent.

They were waiting downtown for the word from the New York governor, quarterbacking the republican drive to gain full control of the national government.

Most of the delegates were in their places, but there was tier after tier of empty seats in the galleries. It looked like Shibe Park when the Athletics are playing Washington on a rainy day.

DEWEY ON THIRD

The final, clinching break for Dewey which brought his unanimous nomination late yesterday apparently came after the Kleig-lighted, sweating convention had recessed after a second ballot which showed these important results:

Dewey, 515, only 33 short of the nomination. Senator Taft, the nearest contender, 274. Stassen, 149.

HOW IT HAPPENED

Almost everybody in the closely packed hall—including Aunt Emma on the top row of the third tier—knew it was all over.

Down on the milling, noisy, littered convention floor—where the delegates sat melting in their shirts—Senator Raymond A. Baldwin of Connecticute sensed it quickly.

Baldwin—sitting a row ahead of Herbert E. Brownell, Dewey's campaign manager—had been under a lot of pressure as a favorite son who still was holding on to Connecticut's 19 votes.

They weren't enough to put Dewey over, so Baldwin went hunting for others who might feel as he did.

He found a willing companion in Senator Irving Ives of New York, a Dewey backer. They got together with Ferguson of the Michigan delegation which had been holding out 41 votes for Senator Arthur Vandenberg.

SUBMIT RAPIDLY

They collected Senator Knowland of the California delegation, which had been casting 53 solid votes for Gov. Earl Warren.

They surged onto the platform and milled around in an attempt to get a poll of the Connecticut delegation.

They decided in a sweating conference to let it go for the time being, recess the convention for a couple of hours and see what happened.

When New York (Dewey) raised no objection, House Speaker Martin, the republican chairman, banged the recess through.

It didn't take long to settle the issue.

The Connecticut delegation met in a hotel caucus. Nobody said publicly what happened.

But in a hotel room a few blocks away, at about 6 p.m., Governor Warren signed a letter to the California delegation releasing their pledge to him.

Knowland, who had beat the bushes in a futile effort to get the nomination for Warren, thus became a possibility for the vice presidential nomination.

Baldwin, the man who may have turned the trick, was relegated to the sidelines. So were the rest of the easterners who backed Dewey's stretch drive—Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey, Gov. Robert F. Bradford of Massachusetts and others.

They couldn't, in the language of politics, run with a New Yorker as top man on the ticket. The pill was hard to swallow in some cases.

Taft, making his second unsuccessful bid for the nomination (he tried first in 1940) seemingly resigned himself to a life as a legislator.

"Of course, it was a disappointment," the Ohio senator told his delegates, "but I am probably better off personally."

In any event, Dewey knew that if he is elected president he may have to deal in congress primarily with four men who were candidates of one sort or another for the nomination he got—Taft, Vandenberg, Halleck and Martin.

He had a ready-made secretary of state, however, in John Foster Dulles of New York. Dulles was one of the back-stage architects of the United Nations charter.

Long a foreign affairs adviser to Dewey, he has been active in international conferences and UN meetings. He and Vandenberg see eye to eye on bipartisan foreign policy.

Dewey took his nomination in stride—as though it were an old story for him.

After the third ballot had sealed the issue, he strode into the convention accompanied by his pretty wife.

Surrounded by a tight cordon of long-time helpers who fended off new-found friends, the New York governor grinned widely as he mounted the dias.

Highlights of Dewey's Career

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Highlights of the career of Thomas E. Dewey:

Born in Owosso, Mich., March 28, 1902, son of George and Annie Dewey.

Graduated from University of Michigan with A.B. degree in 1923. Graduated from Columbia University law school in 1925.

Married Frances Eileen Hutt of Sapulpa, Okla., in 1928. They have two sons, Thomas E., Jr., and John M. 12.

Legal residence is a suite in the Hotel Roosevelt, New York City, Albany residence is the New York estate executive mansion, but he and his family call their Pawling, N.Y., farm "home."

In 1931 became chief assistant U.S. attorney for southern New York state and later served briefly as U.S. attorney In 1935 became special prosecutor of New York county. Was elected district attorney of New York county in 1937 and won fame as a racket buster.

In 1938 republican nominee for governor of New York, Gov. Herbert H. Lehman defeated him.

In 1940 sought republican presidential nomination. Wendell Willkie won it.

In 1942 elected New York's first republican governor in nearly 20 years.

Republican presidential nominee in 1944, defeated by President Roosevelt.

Re-elected governor by a record majority of 687,151 in 1946.

Last night, nominated for president by republican party.

Demo Leaders Agree: 'We'll Lick Dewey'

(By Associated Press)

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's unanimous nomination as the republican presidential candidate brought this equally unanimous reaction today from democratic leaders: We'll lick him.

Senator J. Howard McGrath, national democratic chairman, said:

"This nomination comes as sort of an encore for Governor Dewey on his unsuccessful 'me too' campaign of 1944. The American people also will play an encore in November."

Paul F. Fitzpatrick, chairman of the New York state democratic committee, said "we've licked him before and we will do it again." He added:

"Dewey's lack of success in seeking the presidency has become a habit without parallel in American history. Americans of both parties . . . when they go to the polls this November, will make certain that this habit remains unbroken."

House Democratic Leader Rep. John W. McCormack declared that "Gov. Dewey is politically vulnerable and with the weak republican platform and the high cost of living as the paramount issue we can hurl at the republicans, we can start out with our chances of victory most favorable.

McCormack said the "strongest candidate the republicans could have nominated would have been Senator Vandenberg."

Polio Season Here, Local Health Officer Advises Precautions

Summer is the chief danger period for outbreak of infantile paralysis. So parents should heed the counsel of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis on how to avoid the disease and what to do when it strikes, says Dr. Quentin Kintner.

Dr. Kintner, acting health officer, said today that although Port Angeles has had one case of polio this year, Seattle three cases and Cle Elum one case, all these have been very mild with no serious complications.

According to Dr. Kintner, doctors treating the cases say that "as near as can be determined the disease seems to be the mild type of polio."

Dr. Kintner added that the Port Angeles polio victim is returning home from the orthopedic hospital in Seattle this week and suffers no paralysis or weakness.

FACTS FIGHT FEARS

In connection with preventive measures and precautions to be taken, the national paralysis foundation points out the following facts:

"Infantile paralysis—often called polio—attacks few people; 20 cases per 100,000 population usually is considered an epidemic.

"Half of those who get the disease recover without crippling. Another one-fourth, with good care, recover with slight, permanent crippling. Deformities may be prevented and crippling lessened by prompt, complete and sometimes prolonged medical care."

Precautions to take are listed by the foundation as follows:

"PRACTICE CLEANLINESS—Wash hands before eating, before handling food and at all other times they become soiled. Teach children not to exchange bites of candy or to put dirty hands or objects into their mouths. Keep flies and other insects away from food. Don't leave garbage uncovered. Good personal health habits keep the disease from spreading.

"AVOID NEW CONTACTS—If infantile paralysis comes to your community, try not to mingle with crowds. Local health authorities decide whether school or gathering places may remain open. If you can help it, don't take children to theaters, on trains, busses, boats or to beaches where they mix wtih strangers.

"DON'T ALLOW CHILDREN TO GET OVERTIRED—Extreme fatigue makes easier victims. Too strenuous play, late hours and irregular schedules are possible invitations to attacks of polio. Avoid chilling, such as staying too long in cold water.

"DON'T SWIM IN POLLUTED WATERS—Check with your local health department if in doubt about the purity of swimming waters."

LOCAL CREEKS UNSAFE

In Port Angeles, Tumwater and Valley creeks have been declared contaminated by the health department sanitarian. Don't let children play in these waters or swim in the Port Angeles harbor, which is also pollutted, Donald Morrison says.

The foundation advice continues: "Call your doctor at once if, in addition to fever, any of these symptoms appear in any member of the family: a cold, upset stomach, muscle soreness or stiffness. Infantile paralysis starts in many different ways, most of them just like a lot of other childhood diseases. Be on the safe side."

ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING

YAKIMA — (AP)—Wounded by the accidental discharge of his .22 caliber rifle, Dr. Philip Pope, Whitman University professor, was receiving treatment today in St. Elizabeth hospital here. He was shot above his right breast when the rifle slipped from a rock. His condition was reported as "good."

Merchants Hope To Leave Cellar This Weekend

City League	Won	Lost

Rainier District	6	1
Italian Club	2	1
Lake City	2	2
Elks Club	2	3
Teamsters	1	2
Port Angeles	0	4
Heatlex	0	4

Shaken by their experiences in the hot semi-pro City league, but long on spirit, the Port Angeles Merchants open their third two game series Saturday night against the Lake City Eagles.

The Eagles, guided by Mike Hunt, the former Seattle Indian who used to rattle the fences of the old Seattle Civic Field with his lusty blows, have a formidable squad rated as one of the league's surprises.

Hunt's aggregation has come through with two one-run victories over the Seattle Elks and Teamsters. They have suffered an 8-5 defeat at the hands of Matheny and a 6-5 loss to Rainier District.

With a little luck and some patching here and there the Merchants may pull out of the doormat position they now occupy—at least, player-manager Gene Williams hopes so.

"We'll meet a different class of club from now on," Williams said. "We should be able to hold our own and the fans will see a better type of baseball the rest of the year."

In an attempt to strengthen his lineup Williams inaugurated several player shifts this week.

In the infield the Merchant coach indicated Don Lannoye will be at third, Sam Haguewood at shortstop, Widge Black on second and Ken McInnes on the initial sack.

The Merchant mound corps received a shot in the arm when it was announced that Chuck Palmer, ace hurler from Forks, had signed with the club and probably will see action in the opener Saturday.

Another new acquisition is Clary Adderley, Bellingham mound star. Adderley set the Bellringers down with six hits in Bellingham but was shelled from the mound in Sunday's tussle with Matheny. However, according to Williams, he shows much promise and will see action in the approaching series.

Lefty Schmuck is slated to handle the hurling chores in Sunday's windup game.

Oklahoman Accused Of Killing Wife, Arraigned Today

EVERETT —(AP)—Wayne Williams, the Oklahoma father who is accused of having beaten his wife to death with a rock, was to appear in superior court today to enter a plea to a charge of first degree murder.

The body of his wife, Hallie Lucille, was found on a cliffside ledge near here last Friday.

Meanwhile hospital attendants reported that their daughter, four-year-old Mary Bernice, was making a rapid recovery from skull fractures and other injuries received when she was beaten and thrown over the cliff. She was found with her mother.

Sheriff Tom Warnock said individuals from California to New York have sent contributions totaling $204 to start a trust fund for the girl. Two other persons have offered to adopt the child.

LIVE TO 100, GET A REWARD

BERN, Switzerland — (AP) — Any Swiss who this year lives to be 100 years old has got a little surprise coming from the federal government. The federal council has decided to award special honors, the exact nature of which was not given.

FISHING EXODUS STARTS

SEATTLE—(AP)—The annual exodus of more than 2,000 northwest fishermen toward the Bristol Bay, Alaska, salmon run was under way today with the announced settlement of a dispute over fish prices.

The one-month season opens today, but Walter Sharp, industry spokesman, said "three or four days" probably will be lost.

The settlement between the Alaska Salmon Industry Inc. and the Alaska fishermen's union calls for what Sharp described as a 28 per cent boost over last year's prices.

AFTER INDIAN RELICS

SEATTLE — (AP)—The Moses lake area will be probed for Indian relics this summer—possibly for the last time before it is flooded by Columbia basin waters.

The search will be made by six University of Washington students led by Richard D. Daugherty, university teaching fellow and part-time archaeologist for the Smithsonian Institute.

The party includes Ray L. Schutt of Bremerton.

Freedom for Men Everywhere, Dewey's Acceptance Theme

By Harrison Humphries

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Thomas E. Dewey solemnly set a goal of freedom for men everywhere in accepting the republican presidential nomination last night.

"As long as the world is half free, we must peacefully labor to help men everywhere achieve liberty," he told cheering GOP national convention delegates who had just nominated him unanimously.

"Above all other purposes," he said, "we must labor by every peaceful means to build a world order founded upon justice and righteousness. That kind of a world will have peace. That kind of peace will be worth having."

World freedom and an appeal for unity to help achieve it were the two central themes of the New York governor's 15-minute acceptance speech.

PARTY UNITED

"We are a united party," he told the republicans, but "our nation stands tragically in need of that same unity."

The unity to be sought is "most of all spiritual," he said.

"We have found the means to blow our world, physically, apart. Spiritually we have yet to find the means to put together the world's broken pieces, to bind up its wounds, to make a good society, a community of men of good will that fits our dreams.

"We have devised noble plans for a new world. Without a new spirit our noblest plans will come to nothing. We pray that, in the days ahead, a full measure of that spirit may be ours."

LAUDS LOSERS

Dewey referred to the six other candidates for the nomination as "high minded men of character and ability and deeply devoted to their country."

"Never has a political party produced such distinguished men," he said.

The convention gave a burst of applause to each, as he named them, alphabeticaly.

"There has been honest contention, spirited disagreement, hot argument," Dewey said, "but let no one be misled. You have given moving and dramatic proof of how Americans, who honestly differ, close ranks and move forward for the nation's well being, shoulder to shoulder."

At that point he deviated from his prepared text to say:

"Let me assure you that beginning next January 20 there will be teamwork in the government of the United States."

Dewey said he is "free" and "unfettered" from any commitments and is "proud" to support the party platform unanimously adopted at the convention.

Local Health Officials Explain Finances To Jefferson Groups

(Port Townsend Leader)

Olympic health district and Port Townsend and Jefferson county officials plan a meeting next Thursday night in Port Townsend to work out some sort of a plan for carrying on public health activities here next year, Don Morrison, district sanitarian, announced.

Morrison and Doris Stuart, district nurse supervisor, appeared before the Port Townsend city council Tuesday night. Miss Stuart presented figures showing that Port Townsend, Jefferson county schools and the general county administration supplied $7,268 for the current year, compared with $11,580 supplied by the state and $23,224 by Port Angeles and Clallam county health district operation.

Reports of excessive costs, including the rumor that each visit of the sanitarian to this county was costing $75, were spiked by Morrison and Miss Stuart, whose figures showed that the average salary and traveling expense was $17.71 on each of the sanitarian's 30 trips to Port Townsend in the first five months of 1948.

Services now given Jefferson county, as listed by the health officials, include a full-time nurse for county schools and general public health; part-time health officer, supervisory nurse service (21 visits this year to help and advise the local nursing program), visits of sanitarians to both eastern and western Jefferson county, and visits of a public health nurse to the west end of Jefferson county.

The city council and county commissioners at Port Townsend have indicated intentions of withdrawing the city and county from the health district at the end of this year.

BOEING HEARING WEDNESDAY

SEATTLE — —(AP)—A charge of unfair labor practices, filed against the Boeing Airplane Company by the striking Aeronautical Mechanics Union (Ind), will be heard next Wednesday, Thomas Graham, national labor relations board regional director, announced.

Graham said the hearing, set earlier for July 7, was advanced because a trial examiner will be available at the earlier date.

DYER ACT INDICTMENT

SEATTLE—(AP)—A federal grand jury indicted Walter H. Connaughton Jr., yesterday for allegedly transporting a stolen car from Klamath Falls, Ore., to Everett.

Also indicted was Ronald D. Tittard who is accused of pretending to be an army major to obtain goods and money from persons in Everett.

Neighbor Quizzed In Fatal Shooting

BREMERTON — (AP) — Kitsap county sheriff's officers questioned John A. Drivas, 58, of Bainbridge island today in connection with the fatal shooting of his neighbor, Severin Thomasen, 69, last night.

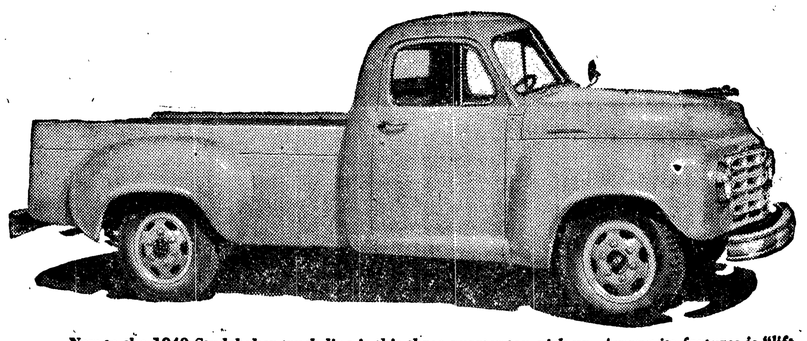
Deputy Charles Burrows said Drivas told him he was watering his lawn just before 10 o'clock when Thomasen came over and began berating him. Drivas said Thomasen followed him into the house and struck him twice.

"I went into another room and got a revolver and told him to leave," Drivas said. "I followed him as he went out. Then he turned and came at me, shouting 'I'll kill you.' I fired without aiming."

The bullet struck just above the heart.

Coroner A. H. Segerquist said an inquest is set for 9 a.m., Monday.

Both men lived alone at Seabold, a community on Bainbridge island. Thomasen said they had been friends for seven years and had got along well.



New to the 1949 Studebaker truck line is this three-quarter-ton pick-up. Among its features is "lift-the-hood" accessibility which makes for ease and convenience in servicing and replacing engine accessories and instruments. Studebaker '49ers are available in a wide range of models and capacities.

Tiny Pittsburgh Suburb Gets Awakening With $1,500,000 Racetrack

HEIDELBURG, Pa. —(AP)— Usually it takes the whirring wheels of industry to rouse a sleepy little town, but for this borough on Pittsburgh's outskirts the awakening may be done by the wheels of auto race cars.

Although present plans call only for stock and midget car racing, the track could be converted for horse racing should the Pennsylvania legislature approve pari-mutuel betting.

What Heidelberg doesn't have would make it news even if there wasn't a $1,500,000 track being built there.

Chartered in 1903, the community has a population today of only 2,930. Besides having no church, jail, drug store, dentist, doctor, undertaker, bank, or lawyer, the borough has a unique mail and freight system.

The post office uses the code name Loupurex, from "Louisiana Purchase Expedition." Freight sent to Heidelberg must be addressed to Leetsdale and all 'express is addressed to nearby Carnegie.

About the only thing marked Heidelberg that enters the borough direct is the street car running from downtown Pittsburgh.

The race track is principally the work of two Heidelberg men, David Wright and Henry Miller, veteran racing starter.

'When the track is completed," says Wright, "there will be seats for 26,000 persons, and parking space for at least 8,000 cars. The main track is a half mile oval. Inside this is a quarter mile oval in the center of which a football field will be laid out.'

"We are hoping to have Ringling Brothers circus here next year if we can make the arrangements far enough in advance," adds Miller.

A sleepy little town is awakening and thinks perhaps the whirring of fast spinning wheels will eventually sound just like clinking gold.

Hal Boyle says

YOU WIN OR LOSE IN A WOMAN'S EYE

PHILADELPHIA — (AP)—Convention sidelights:

There is a look that doesn't come every day into a woman's eyes. It came at 8:19 p.m. last night into the eyes of one woman.

She is a handsome dark-haired woman and was wearing a pert black hat—the kind men like because it ain't foolish—a neat black suit, and a rope of pearls.

She stood on the platform in convention hall beside a man who had just won the republican presidential nomination. He was also the first republican since the party's founding in 1856 who had gained a second nomination after losing to a democrat.

The woman was Mrs. Thomas E. Dewey, who once told an interviewer that the only career she desired was to be "my husband's wife."

And she was living up to her career. As Governor Dewey threw up a confident hand to the cheering crowd, she turned on him the look that every husband who loves his wife sometimes hopes to see in her eyes.

Her eyes said in shiny eloquence: "Look at my man. Isn't he something? My Tom. They're cheering you again."

And she knew that every woman in the vast crowd of 14,000 people there knew the pride she felt, for all women see these things in other women's eyes. And so do a lot of men, too.

The average man gets it from his wife only on their night out together when he tells a snooty waiter to take her steak back and cook it the way she said. Her hero! Or maybe when he reaches down their small child's gasping throat and pulls out the chicken bone choking her.

The funny thing about getting that wifely look of "you're-the-only-man-in-the-world-for-me" is that you don't have to be a winner to get it.

You are as likely to get it from the old girl when the world tabs you a loser as when you are the people's crowned savior of this-or-that.

Senator Arthur Vandenberg may have wondered at the last moment whether he shouldn't have made a real grab for the nomination that would have crowned his long career of public service. There were many, many people who wanted him to.

But I think Mrs. Vandenberg was completely honest when she said she hoped her husband wouldn't get it. Her man, after all, had given years trying to build an America and a one-world-for-all he believed in. She knew he would keep on doing that.

To her and to him, fighting for international unity is more important than to head one segment of a world—even our own big segment. I think she thought that the last best gift of life to her was his:

"Honey, you're my presidency—and I've had you for a long time. Now we can have more time together."

I think, being all my life fundamentally juvenile and in love with my own wife, Frances, that in this—our busy civilization—the thing that wives desire most is to be more with their husbands, and to share more in the worries they try to hold to themselves.

That is why I think that even witty Martha Taft must have gone to sleep last night with a feeling of relief.

MONEY BILL SIGNED

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Appropriations of $549,774,876 to meet clean-up expenses of various government offices before the end of the current fiscal year, June 30, were signed today by President Truman.

The bill also carries $25,000,000 to get the revived selective service system into operation, and $2,000,000 for the displaced persons commission.

Vic Johnson in Fourth Place on Salmon Ladder

When Vic Johnson weighed in a 30½ pound chinook salmon at 9:30 this morning at Ediz hook, he took fourth place on the 50-rung summer qualifying ladder of the Port Angeles salmon derby.

The ladder, which ends Wednesday night, is headed by Tommy Thompson's 35-pounder, while the bottom rung has one weighing 13 and three-quarters pounds.

Fishing on this morning's tide was fair, Mel Ray, Ediz hook clubhouse manager said. Besides Johnson's salmon, several other smaller ones were added to the summer ladder.

When fishing closes next Wednesday night, the 50 largest salmon will qualify Port Angeles Salmon Club members for derby finals. Largest salmon on the ladder wins $25 for the successful fisherman, second largest $15 and third $10.

LAKE FISHING

Trolling in Lake Crescent was "hot" this week, Neil Purvis of East Beach says. Don Horton caught 8 and 5 pound Beardslees trolling with a flatfish Tuesday.

A Los Angeles man caught a 14½ pound Beardslee Wednesday and his son took a 2-pound Crescenti. Local fishermen caught Beardslee and Crescenti weighing 11, 5, 4, 6, 3 and 8 pounds the same day.

Early this week a fly fisherman took 19 trout up to two pounds in the P. J. Williams cove at the west end of Lake Sutherland.

Fishing in Lakes Aldwell and Mills has improved as the Elwha river has receded from its flood stage. The river itself is fairly high but clear, and may be fair bait fishing.

Rivers west of the Elwha are clear and not unusually high.

Portland Parks for Trailer Camps Bring Objections

PORTLAND—(AP)—Vanport flood refugees today found they still had troubles.

Portlanders rushed to the city council to object when it was proposed to convert some city parks into temporary trailer park sites for the refugees.

"Put those trailers in the parks for a year, and they'll be there forever," said Commissioner W. A. Bowes.

It was suggested the Vanporters should be placed outside the city. The Portland housing authority said there were no out-of-city sites with water, sewer systems, schools, stores and transportation.

The Red Cross said that meanwhile Portlanders who had taken in the refugees were coming with pleas for housing to be found quickly to get the Vanporters out of their homes. Many Vanporters were coming in with similar requests.

The Vanport people apparently did not want the trailers, either. Groups representing the refugees have protested the trailers are inadequate housing.

The flood itself was less of a problem. The water dropped to a level in the Willamette river that allowed the Morrison street bridge to be used. It had been closed three weeks, creating a jam on other city bridges.

The water was low enough in the stockyard area beside the Columbia river north of Portland to allow fire-fighting equipment to reach a blaze at the Swift & Co. packing plant last night.

LOST IN WOODS 22 HOURS; FOUND SAFE

ESTACADA, Ore.—(AP)—Two-and-a-half year old Suzanne Story was rescued from the brush lands west of here yesterday after being lost in the woods 22 hours.

She was unharmed except for scratches.

The girls wandered away Wednesday afternoon. It was feared she had fallen into the swift Clackamas river, 300 yards from the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne W. Story.

While the river was dragged, a number of searchers spread out in the brush lands. She was found near River Mill dam, a mile downstream from her home.

BABE'S KIN A QUEEN

TACOMA — (AP) — Vera Ruth, 21-year-old Longview music store employe, singer, baseball player and reportedly a distant relative of Babe Ruth, last night was named queen of the 1948 encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Washington department. Miss Ruth was sponsored by the Cowlitz Valley Post No. 1045.

Book On Thrifty Meals Available

Every homemaker who tries to keep down the high cost of living by thrifty buying and wise use of economical foods, will like a new booklet, "Money Saving Main Dishes," No. AIS-69. It is available to homemakers at the local extension office in the postoffice. This booklet includes recipes for about 150 main dishes. It also gives suggestions for completing the meal, keeping in mind what is needed for good nutrition and family likes and dislikes.

FREEZING STRAWBERRIES

Ruby Knudson, home demonstration agent, offers some tips on freezing strawberries now that the season is approaching.

1. Carefully sort and cap strawberries. Do not use berries that are green, crushed or overripe.
2. Wash berries a few at a time in cold water. Lift the berries from the water into a colander to drain. Reasonably clean berries are best washed before capping.
3. Mix whole or sliced berries with sugar, using one cup sugar with five to eight cups of berries. Turn over and over until all sugar is dissolved.
4. Pack in moisture-vapor-proof containers. Leave head space.
5. Seal and label with name of product, date, method, and locker number.
6. Spread packages in the locker and freeze at zero F. or lower. Be sure they are completely frozen before stacking.
7. Stack and store at zero F.

Berry varieties Miss Knudson recommends for freezing are Brightmore, Catskill, Fairfax, Dorsett, Improved Oregon, Marshall, Narcissa, Redheart, Rockhill and Wray Red.

PRESIDENT SIGNS

WASHINGTON — (AP)—Two funds of major importance to the northwest are included in the appropriation bill signed today by President Truman.

They make available, for immediate use, $6,500,000 for emergency flood relief and $15,000,000 for forest roads.

Robert A. Yothers (above), 35, of Seattle, is expected to be the new state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, now in session at Tacoma. He is now senior vice commander. The election will be held Saturday. (AP Photo).

Master Dennis Shore and Mrs. Shore reported to members on the recent Grange convention which they attended.

At the June 8 meeting, entertainment was furnished by Georgia Tinkham doing a ballet dance and Barbara George and Patsy Randkley singing, and playing the piano.

County Library Sponsors Summer Reading For Juveniles by Presenting Certificates

It's vacation reading time, according to Mrs. Evelyn Bowen, county librarian.

Boys and girls who patronize the branches, stations or bookmobile of the Clallam county library can read for pleasure this summer and earn an attractive certificate, Mrs. Bowen says.

Boys and girls from the fourth through eighth grades are eligible to become members. The only requirements are that reading must be done during the school vacation period; and books are to be selected from the juvenile and "Y" collection, suitable to each member's age and grade.

Colorful bookmarks will be issued to each child when one book has been read. This also will serve as a record for the names of the books, as titles of those read can be written on the reverse side.

For each set of eight books read, an additional gold seal will be added to the certificate, according to Mrs. Bowen.

The library has an excellent collection of books for boys and girls, and the librarian says a summer of profit and enjoyment is in store for all county boys and girls taking advantage of the library's services.

LEWIS SIGNS CONTRACT

WASHINGTON — (AP) — John L. Lewis and most of the soft coal operators today signed a new coal contract providing a $1-a-day wage increase and twice as much money for the miners' welfare pension fund.

An official of the steel industry-owned coal mines had announced earlier he would not sign the agreement.

A joint announcement by Lewis and the operators who signed said the new contract—except for the increased wages and pension fund—kept "all other terms and conditions of the previous wage agreement."

This includes an outright continuation of a union shop provision, despite a Taft-Hartley labor act ban against the union shop unless it is authorized by the national labor relations board.

SECOND ESTATE CLAIM

SEATTLE — (AP)—A second court action was on record today against the estate of the late J. G. Von Herberg, Seattle theater and restaurant man.

The action was filed by John G. Von Herberg, a son by a first marriage, for $180,000. He said his father had planned to buy for him the White Center Theater here, but died before he could acquire it.

Another of his children by the first marriage—Mary Philomene Von Herberg Van Wyck, now of Olympia—recently filed action to break the will which left the estate to the children by the elder Von Herberg's second wife. Children of the first marriage were cut off with $1 each.

PUD Calls Bids For Line Work From Forks to LaPush

Clallam county public utility district is calling for bids July 12 for clearing along a proposed new PUD line extension from Forks to LaPush. Specifications call for completion of work 30 days after letting the contract.

Clearing will be along approximately 18 miles of new line. The contractor will remove trees, brush and rubbish in a line from 10 to 20 feet in width along the right of way. All trees felled will be left in eight-foot commercial lengths for the landowner.

SELL BONDS

Last week the PUD sold $125,000 worth of bonds to raise money for improvements. Among these will be the necessary construction to connect with the Bonneville power line, expected here in 1949, a new substation at Sequim, and central station improvements.

Improvements to the central station here are designed primarily to handle increased system loads and provide better system protection. Most of the new work will begin next spring, and assemblage of materials is now underway, Manager S. A. Payette said.

Last week the PUD received a letter from Puget Sound Power and Light Company acknowledging official notice of cancelling the contract between the PUD and PSPL. Termination date is July 15, 1949.

50 Registered For Camp David Junior

The boys are away out in front today on registration for Camp David Junior.

So far 50 youngsters, 8 to 14 years old, have registered throughout the county to go to the county-owned summer children's camp on Lake Crescent during July. Over forty of those registered are boys, who will enjoy the first camping period from July 6 to 14.

Claude Phifer, who released the registration figures today, urged more children to register as soon as possible for camp. The girls' camping period will be from July 15 to 24. Registrations will remain open until the day before each camping period starts.

A full staff of qualified personnel has been obtained for the camping sessions, according to Phifer. A workday this Sunday will put the camp in shape for the opening July 6, he added.

Boys and girls attending Camp David Junior are instructed to bring their own bedding and necessary items of clothing and personal belongings. Everything else will be furnished.

FULL PROGRAM OF FUN

Included in the plans for entertainment at the camp are the following sports: Badminton, archery, tether ball and baseball. Campers also will enjoy swimming with free instruction, hiking and evening campfires. Every precaution is being taken for the health and safety of campers, Phifer said.

Transportation to the camp will be furnished to all children in the county free of charge, according to Clay Wolverton, in charge of Kiwanis buses.

Food charge for each child for the camping seasons is $15. A $2 deposit is required at the time of registration, and this will be applied on the camping fee.

FREE CAMPSHIPS

A number of free campships is offered to any boys or girls desiring them, Phifer said. Applicants for these campships should apply to Phifer at the City Fuel office, or to any of the regular registration places listed in yesterday's Evening News.

Kiwanis Gets $250 Donation to Fund For Housing Buses

The drive to raise $4,000 for a Kiwanis Sunday School bus garage received a $250 donation last night, to boost the total raised so far to $1,400.

"Estimating that the glass jars about town contain about $200, we now have a total of $1,600," Rev. James Albertson, in charge of the drive, said today.

"An additional $1,500 minimum will be necessary before the new garage can be built. We need and will appreciate additional contributions," he added.

Harry Beetle, Kiwanis club secretary, asks that all the glass collection jars be turned in at the club meeting next Tuesday. These jars may be given to Rev. Albertson or to Beetle at the Owl Drug Company before Tuesday if they cannot be brought to the meeting.

The Sunday school buses are operated by the Kiwanis Club as a community project. In addition to carrying children to and from Sunday school free of charge, they are available to community organizations or groups needing transportation facilities.

Kiwanis started the drive to raise funds for a garage after the buses were turned out of their temporary shelter and onto the street. Plans for permanently housing them call for a new garage, which the Kiwanis Club will own.

Naval Reserve Plans July 10-11 Cruise

Local naval reservists will get a weekend cruise aboard a navy patrol craft July 10 and 11, Scott Marshall, commander of the naval reserve composite unit here, announced today.

The cruise will be aboard the PC 553, a 165-foot steel-hulled patrol craft accomodating from 60 to 75 men. The boat is fully equipped, and naval reservists will man it for the cruise. Marshall said the cruise will provide opportunity for training in operations, servicing and maintaining equipment, and handling the boat's guns.

Only present naval reservists or those signing initial papers for the reserve prior to the cruise are eligible to go along. Marshall said about 20 billets are still unfilled.

The boat will leave here Saturday, July 10, and cruise in the San Juan islands, anchoring at Orcas overnight. It will return to Port Angeles July 11. While at Orcas the reservists will enjoy a liberty with time for fishing and swimming.

Further information on the cruise is available from Commander Marshall, phone 777; Ensign Howard Sharnbroich, phone 536; or Lieut. John Woodson, 1342.

Marshall said the local unit hopes to have future cruises, if enough interest is shown in this one.

Local Women Start Canvass for Hungry Children of World

A group of local women headed by Mrs. William E. Clark will start a campaign for funds next week to feed hungry children abroad.

They will solocit funds for the Crusade for Children, the American Overseas Aid-United Nations Appeal for Children. This is the only national body through which cooperation with the United Nations Appeal for Children will be carried out in the United States, according to Charles P. Taft, chairman of the advisory committee on voluntary foreign aid.

Women actively engaged in the local crusade besides Mrs. Clark are Mrs. James Schreiner, Mrs. Ray Scheidt, Veryl Showhill, Midge Howard and Margaret Jane Liddane.

They plan a bake sale to raise funds, and will set up sidewalk booths downtown to sell calorie coupon books. Donations may be left at Willi-Lou's Circus, Mrs. Clark said.

President Truman lending his support to the crusade said: "Millions of people, particularly children, helpless and suffering in lands laid waste by war, need assistance now if they are to survive. We must try to help them through this crisis."

WHICH TWIN HAS THE TONI?
(See answer below)

- Easy as rolling your hair up on curlers but the wave stays in for months.
- Yes, your Toni Home Permanent will last just as long as a $15 beauty-shop wave.
- No frizzy stage. No brittle ends. Your Toni wave is soft, smooth and natural-looking.
- The twins pictured above are Lucerne and Suzanne McCullough, well-known New York artists. Suzanne, the twin at the right, has the Toni.

One day—soon we trust—we will be "watching the Fords go by" in greater numbers than ever before, and you probably will be driving one!

Why? Because the Ford of the future is going to be the sort of car you have always liked . . . and bought. It will be big, smartly styled, with real comfort and plenty of power. Naturally, it will be a car you can depend on . . . reliable in the finest Ford tradition.

We hope you won't have to wait long for your Ford of the future . . . but it will be well worth waiting for.
