Civic Clubs Join In Promotion Of '48 Derby Week

Red derby hats will be admittance passes to Derby Week events this year!

The hats will go on sale for 50 cents each as soon as the Derby Week bands are stapled on them, the committee announced this week. Derby Week buttons will not be sold, but persons not wearing derbies and fishing togs during the celebration will be subject to trial by kangaroo court, the committee added.

Other plans for Derby Week, which will be held this year from September 1 to 5, are progressing satisfactorily, Chairman Hal Wenzler told organization representatives at a Derby Week committee meeting Tuesday.

Scheduled events include a no-host kickoff breakfast at 8 a.m. on opening day, a children's parade and main parade, a dance, kangaroo court, and entertainment at Ediz hook and Civic Field Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, followed by the Salmon Derby Saturday and Sunday.

Local civic organizations, under the Junior Chamber of Commerce's sponsorship, will handle Derby Week events.

Joan Duncan will be Derby Week queen. High school girls, selected by votes of the student body, will compose her court. Phyllis Fulkerson of the Venture Club heads the queen committee.

COMMUNITY PROJECT

At Tuesday's meeting, Chairman Wenzler stressed that Derby Week is a community project. He said a Derby Week bank account has been set up separately and a financial statement will be published as soon as possible after the event.

"All of this year's profits will remain in the account to help finance next year's Derby Week" Wenzler said. "This year we started out with only $370 balance. We hope when this year's celebration is over the fund will be much larger."

Other officers of the 1945 Derby Week organization include Vice Chairman Leonard Schroeder, Secretary Hugh Macaulay, Treasurer Ray Scheldt, and committee members Arnold Hirsekorn, Dr. A. C. Hileman, George Cunningham, Don Schelshear and W. F. Morrish.

Publicity and advertising will be handled by a Jaycee committee with William Clark, chairman and James Shannon and Kenneth Schweitzer. The ticket sales committee also consists of Jaycee members, assisted by the Venture Club, Soroptomists, Lions, Hi- and Tri-Y, Business and Professional Women, and the Tavern Operators Association. William Morrish is chairman, with members Gordon Matteson, Harry Fulkerson, Al Hileman, Tom Smith and Hugh Macaulay.

The Venture Club and the Jaycees will handle the Derby Week dance with Douglas Baker chairman, assisted by Miss Fulkerson.

James Glenn, assisted by the Jaycees, will be in charge of entertainment at Civic Field. Entertainment on Ediz hook will be under the Salmon Club auspices, assisted by Arnold Hirsekorn, Leonard Schroeder and Wyane Hegg.

OTHER COMMITTEES

The Rotary Club has charge of city decorations, which will carry out the salmon theme, according to Chairman Myron Scott. Don Schelshear will assist.

The kangaroo court will be under the direction of the Lions Club this year, with Robert Woodbury chairman, assisted by Lee Silverman.

Jack Ervin and the Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority will have charge of the children's parade. The main parade will be handled by junior chamber members William Morrish, Henry Menne, Donald Robertson and L. F. Spicer.

The kick-off breakfast will be arranged by the Business and Professional Women, with Mrs. Ruby Poulton in charge.

Window decorations for Derby Week will be planned by the senior Chamber of Commerce, with the Business and Professional Women supplying judges for windows and costumes.

Weekly noon meetings every Tuesday, to be attended by all chairmen and organizations working on Derby Week, will coordinate these events, Wenzler said.

Home Burglarized In Daylight Hours

City police are investigating a daylight burglary Thursday at the home of Mrs. Edna Reed, 825 Georgiana.

Mrs. Reed told police when she returned home from work yesterday afternoon she found a table radio, radio-phonograph and two diamond rings missing. She estimates the loss at $300.

Police say the burglar entered by breaking the glass in a door and opening an inside lock.

Meat Sales Down in Northwest Cities

PORTLAND, Ore. —(AP)— Meat sales are down so much that packing plant production in Portland, Seattle and Tacoma is down 30 to 40 per cent.

William Weller, department of agriculture market news service reporter, said a buyers' strike wasn't to blame either.

"The meat-eating public just hasn't the money to buy," he said.

Nevertheless a buyers' strike was being organized here. A group of Portland women called a mass meeting of women's clubs for today to plan a boycott on "overpriced foods," including meat.

Coast Guard Navigation Aids Include Foghorns, Lightships, Rescue Craft

By Marge Davenport
(Fifth of a series)

Under the heading of "aids to navigation" come all coast guard lighthouses, lightships, fog-horns, fixed light beacons, radio beacons and radio voice communications stations for transmitting calls for aid.

Perhaps the most interesting of these are the lightships, two of which are tied to fixed moorings on the banks off the strait. They are Umatilla lightship, located west of Ozette lake, and Swiftsure lightship, located on Swiftsure bank in the entrance to the strait, approximately midway between Vancouver island and the tip of the Olympic peninsula. A third lightship, the Relief, plies between the two stations, bringing them supplies and replacing them when they come to port for repairs or refueling.

Painted a brilliant red, the lightships carry their names on each side in six-foot high letters and are easily distinguishable because of the lights carried in the masts, and characteristic coast guard colors. Each lightship carries a crew of about 30 men. These crewmen stay on the lightship for 42 consecutive days and then have 21 days liberty ashore.

All of the lightships have foghorns, light and radio beacons and radio voice communications. The ships themselves are sturdily built and have high bows to withstand the terrific storms that whip the coast in wintertime. All of them have what is called a "bow chock" or device which allows leeway for mooring line movement and makes them as stable as possible.

FOGHORNS BUSY

As the annual fogs start rolling in from the coast, the coast guard foghorns start getting lots of exercise. Port Angeles residents will recall hearing "old man Ediz" more frequently recently and other coastal and strait horns are getting their workout too.

Similiar foghorns at New Dungeness, Destruction island, Slip point, and Tatoosh island, play a two-fold role in aiding navigation. Besides warning ships away from the danger of running aground, they tell the crews their distance from land.

Synchronized with the lighthouse's radio beacon, the horns give a five-second blast every 40 seconds and every third minute they start with a short distance-finding blast.

Thus a shipmaster, who can hear both the horn and radio beacon, can calculate his distance from the horn by noting the time he hears the radio signal and the time he hears the foghorn signal, which travels slower.

The coast guard took over all lighthouses in 1939. The Ediz hook lighthouse and the New Dungeness lighthouses are under the supervision of the coast guard air station. The Tatoosh island and Destruction island lighthouses operate as separate coast guard groups, as do Swiftsure and Umatilla lightships. All these stations are equipped with lights, radio beacons and foghorns.

LIFEBOAT STATIONS

The coast guard lifeboat stations at Neah Bay and Quillayute river act as a group unit, under the command of Warrant Officer J. E. Keoughan. These two lifeboat stations play an important role in protecting the coastal fish boat fleet.

The Neah Bay lifeboat station operates with a complement of 15 men, and the Quillayute station with 11 men. Both stations are equipped with seaworthy lifeboats which can withstand rough water and make rescues under adverse conditions.

The Neah Bay station has two 36-foot lifeboats, one 25 foot self-bailing boat, a landing craft vehicle-personnel and one pulling boat.

The Quillayute station is equipped with two 36-foot motor-lifeboats, one motor surf boat and a pulling boat.

During the past year, both stations have taken part in important life-saving missions and are credited with many sea rescues.

The lifeboat stations work under the direct supervision of the district coast guard office in Seattle. All coast guard units are coordinated in this way to offer the speediest air-sea rescue possible in case of an emergency.

Power Shutoffs Will Affect Section of City Sat. and Sun.

Electrical power will have periodic interruptions Saturday and Sunday in the area south of Lauridsen boulevard and east of Laurel street, City Light Superintendent B. W. Lean announces.

Reason for the power shut-off is the installation of heavier lines by Crown Zellerbach Corp., from Chambers to Oak street along the boulevard.

First shut-off will affect residents of the Mount Angeles road between 9 and 9:30 a.m. Saturday as workmen start on the east end of the line.

Other shut-offs throughout the two-day period depend upon how fast work progresses, Lean said.

He added that workmen will try to have power on so housewives may prepare meals.

Texan Gets Medal At Ceremony Here

Cmdr. William H. Snyder of the Ediz hook coast guard air station presented the air medal to Le Roy A. LeNarz, Jr., at informal ceremonies at the station this morning.

Cmdr. Snyder made the award in behalf of President Truman for "meritorious achievement by Aviation Ordinance Man LeNarz as a member of coast guard reserve patrol squadron 6, operating in the north Atlantic in 1944 and 1945."

The citation said that LeNarz took part in scouting missions against submarines and flew protection for convoys under adverse operating conditions.

The ex-coastguardsman, who was accompanied by his family at this morning's presentation, resides in Shreveport, Texas.

3,500 Die; 400,000 Homeless in Flood

NANKING —(AP)— Flood waters of the Yellow river drowned nearly 3,500 persons and left 400,000 homeless in the rich North Honan province, official reports released here today said.

The water conservation commission said reports from North Honan magistrates described the flood the worst in 100 years. More than 1,000,000 fertile acres were flooded.

(Frequently preliminary reports of this nature are exaggerated as to casualties.)

Nine districts north of Chenghsien were reportedly flooded when the dikes of the Tsinho, a tributary of the Yellow river, collapsed. Reports here from magistrates gave 3,489 missing or drowned, 400,000 homeless and 42,499 homes destroyed.

Get-Rich-Quick Radio Programs Scanned by FCC

By Jack Adams

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Like a stern but not too hopeful parent, the federal communications commission shook a warning finger today at the get-rich-quick radio programs popping out all over the dial.

The station-licensing agency said disapprovingly that "an almost infinite number" of these border on "illegal lotteries or gift enterprises."

So the commission announced a set of proposed new regulations aimed at curbing, if not eliminating, many of the programs currently offering fabulous cash, travel and merchandise gifts to lucky listeners.

In essence, the rules say there must be no more such give-aways based in any way "upon lot or chance." Nor can the winners be required to (a) furnish any money or other thing of value (b) possess the sponsored product or (c) be or have been listening — or viewing— the program in question.

The commission didn't say when the new clampdown will become effective. But it said it will listen to interested parties up to September 10.

Privately, commission sources said the agency fears that the prize programs are throwing the national radio picture "out of focus," and leading the industry away from "the broad basic purposes of broadcasting."

Skating Will Start At Erickson Playfield

Supervised skating to music will begin next Monday at Erickson playfield outdoor rink, the city park board announced today. This playfield also will have a new horseshoe court soon. The new picnic shelter already is in use.

Driving regulations at Lincoln Park are strictly enforced, and all violations promptly reported to the police, the board also reports.

At the regular monthly board meeting last evening, board members decided to add a horseshoe court to the Seventh street playfield between C and D streets.

They also reviewed the picnic schedule for August at Lincoln Park, presented by Caretaker F. Hayden Morris. He said 14 organizations plan to use park facilities for picnics during the month, with 500 to 1,000 persons expected at several of them.

Among the largest picnics planned are the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Peninsula Plywood, Pioneer, state highway department and Elks.

Main business of the evening was a discussion of next year's budget with Mayor Fred Epperson and Finance Commissioner E. C. Steele. The mayor complimented the board on the park work accomplished the past year.

The board met for the first time in the lower clubhouse at Lincoln Park, and were pleasantly surprised at the close of the meeting to have apple pie, cheese and coffee served by Mrs. F. Hayden Morris, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. J. S. Ross of Seattle.

State Fisheries Men Arouse Envy As They Haul 'em in—To Tag

Salmon fishermen in the Port Angeles area looked first with surprise then with chagrin at the state fisheries department boat, rigged with two outriggers, merrily dragging them in yesterday afternoon and today.

Some even went so far as to yell caustic remarks at the men aboard —Les Miller, fisheries inspector, and Hans Jensen of Seattle, fish biologist.

Today Miller figured it was about time to straighten things out. First, he explained, every fish caught is returned to the water, unharmed, after two small plastic tags are attached with stainless steel wire to their backs. It's another survey, Miller explained.

The state wants to know more about migration of salmon, particularly immature examples. Once the fish is caught, it is placed in a box, the tags are attached, and it is hurriedly returned to the water. A record of the fish's size and weight is recorded along with the number the fish carries on the plastic tags.

The tags are numbered, and a request is stamped thereon requesting that it be returned to the state fisheries department. Miller said he would like to have them handed to him or returned to the department.

The men started their survey Thursday afternoon and tagged a dozen fish. They were at work again today and intend to remain in this area 15 days. Their goal is to tag 50 fish a day.

Speed Pilot Dianna Cyrus of Santa Paula, Cal., has big plans. She will attempt flying her Mosquito bomber solo around the world next month, then marry Pilot Robert Bixby (right) on her return. 10 Navymen Die In Plane Crash

MIAMI, Fla. —(AP)—A navy board of inquiry today studied the charred wreckage of a navy transport plane in which 10 men were kilied.

The plane crashed and burned after a collision with a Stearman training plane 23 miles north of here late yesterday. The two occupants of the trainer parachuted to safety.

The plane, an R4D which corresponds to the C-47 and the DC-3 was enroute from Norfolk, Va., to Cuba, with a scheduled stop at the naval air station's master field in suburban Opa-Locka, almost within sight of the scene of the crash. It had reported to the control tower seconds before the collision.

Young Gunman Admits Killing Youth in Home of a Bishop

BOLTON, Mass. — (AP)—A brazen young gunman who, police said, admitted firing two wild shots at Suffragan Episcopal Bishop Raymond A. Heron and the fatal shooting and axing of a 17-year-old youth in the clergyman's home was held on open charges today.

Frederick S. Pike, 19, of Boston, was held after being brought from Providence, R.I., where he was captured yesterday in the bishop's car three hours after the shooting.

Pike waived extradition and was turned over to Massachusetts authorities after, Police Chief Charles A. Higgins and Capt. John J. Lang of Providence said, he admitted in a signed statement he shot at the bishop and killed Paul Zayka, a youth who lived with the prelate.

Pike, a Concord reformatory parolee, was taken into custody following a bullet-spattered 75-mile an hour chase through heavy traffic.

Higgins and Lang said the young gunman boldly admitted shooting Zayka three times with a .25 calibre automatic pistol and then striking the youth with an ax before dragging the body to the cellar of the bishop's home.

Pike was quoted as saying he shot Zayka when the latter put up a struggle after being robbed of $2.

After dragging the youth's body downstairs, police said, Pike waited an hour and a half for Bishop Heron to return from Boston.

Higgins said the gunman recounted how he confronted the bishop with a pistol in the driveway of his home, fired two wild shots at him as he fled, and then forced him to return to the house where he robbed him of $25 and keys to his automobile.

"I wish I hit him," Higgins quoted Pike as saying.

Guard Alerted After Election Trouble

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—(AP)—Governor Jim McCord alerted a national guard unit in southeast Tennessee today after the sheriff of strife-torn Polk county advised him conditions there had gotten beyond control in disorders touched off in yesterday's election.

Adjutant General Hilton Butler announced the alert had been directed to the first battalion, 278th regimental combat team at Cleveland, Tenn. Cleveland is in Bradley county, which adjoins Polk, and is about 20 miles from Benton, Polk county seat.

Butler said the troops would stand ready to move into Polk at the governor's order. The unit is commanded by Colonel Dwight McReynolds.

One man was slain last night and another was reported found dead early today, shot through the back, in Polk county.

Wreckage Off African Coast Believed French Flying Boat

NEW YORK — (AP) — Flame-charred, splintered wreckage, found off the African coast in the south Atlantic, was believed today to have come from a giant French flying boat missing since Sunday with 52 persons aboard.

The wreckage, including airplane seats, was found by the U.S. coast guard cutter Campbell, whose commander told headquarters here there was "little doubt" it was the remains of the 73-ton, six-engine Air France Lateorere 631.

The mammoth craft was enroute from Martinque to west Africa and was 1,200 miles off Dakar when its last radio signal was heard shortly after midnight Saturday. None of those aboard was an American.

Early yesterday a U.S. air force B-29 bomber, part of a large fleet of ships and planes searching many hundred square miles of ocean for the lost seaplane, spotted wreckage and radioed the cutter Campbell, searching nearby.

The Campbell reported later that it was steaming slowly "through a sea literally covered with debris."

B-29s Complete First Round-World Flight

TUCSON, Ariz. —(AP)—Two globe-girdling B-29s — the first to fly around the world—landed at their home base, Davis-Monthan Field, at 5:31 a.m. (MST) today.

They made the trip in 15 days, in 10 hops. But en route, a third superfort went down in a crash near Aden, southern Arabia, in which 17 of the 18 men aboard were killed.

Each plane came in with 17 men aboard today. One officer had been left behind at Aden to clear up matters pertaining to the crash of the third craft.

Piloting the big bombers in from Anchorage, Alaska, on the final leg of the journey were Lt. Col. Richard W. Kline of Haskell, Tex., commanding officer of the 64th squadron, and First Lt. A. M. Neal, Visalia, Calif., of the 64th squadron.

Earlier today, Davis-Monthan sent off eight planes of the 20th squadron, commanded by Maj. Bernard B. Ogas, Los Angeles, on a 6,000-mile flight to Lakenheath, England.

Each of these B-29s carried about 18 men, base operations reported.

Two other squadrons are scheduled to make the England trip, with the next takeoff scheduled for tomorrow. A third squadron leaves Sunday.

CHARGES RUSSIA RECEIVED URANIUM METAL FROM U.S.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Rep. MacDowell (R-Penn) said today a "significant" amount of uranium metal, a "vital component" of the atomic bomb, was sent to Russia in 1945.

In a house speech, MacDowell said these shipments were in addition to those he told the house unAmerican activities committee yesterday were made during war years.

MacDowell, at the committee's hearings on communist spying, had said 1,300 pounds went to Russia in 1943.

He said in his house speech that 1,420 pounds also were sent in 1945.

And he repeated to the house what he said at the committee meeting—that the materials were obtained "as a result of pressure of the highest kind."

Across the capitol, senators who have been looking into communist activities and alleged spying suspended their public hearings because they said the Truman administration refuses to give them necessary facts.

Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich) of the senate investigating subcommittee announced the decision. He made public also a refusal by Attorney General Tom Clark to supply officials FBI records on William W. Remington.

Meantime, the house unAmerican activities committee went underground for a secret meeting with a mystery witness in its own similar investigation.

A subcommittee was sent out of town to interview this witness at an undisclosed place. Rep. Mundt (R-SD), acting chairman of the full committee, said this man's testimony, together with other testimony already gathered, "will prove the existence of a communist spy ring which reached high into the government during the war."

ON TRUMAN'S ORDERS

Clark's refusal to turn over the FBI records on Remington was in line with an order from President Truman who denounced the congressional hearings yesterday as a "red herring" intended to divert public attention from what he calls the refusal of the republican-controlled congress to enact adequate anti-inflation legislation.

Remington, 30-year-old suspended commerce department official, was identified by Elizabeth T. Bentley as one of several government workers she says passed wartime information to her for a communist espionage ring.

Miss Bentley testified she was a courier, traveling between New York and Washington for the ring.

Although public hearings are being suspended, Ferguson said the senate group will continue to dig for facts on Remington and the entire government loyalty program at closed hearings and "by any legal means."

ACTIVITIES SECRET

The house subcommittee went to unusual efforts to keep its activities from being known.

Even the names and numbers of the members were kept secret. It was set up late yesterday after an investigator hurried into a locked-door committee session with word another key witness had been located.

Mundt predicted that as a result the spy ring case "will be cracked wide open" in public hearings next week. Hearings for the rest of this week were ruled out.

GROVES DENIES SHIPMENT

NEW YORK—(AP)—The man who headed America's war-time atomic bomb project says he never shipped any uranium to the Soviet Union.

Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, questioned yesterday about a congressman's statement that 1,300 pounds of uranium compound were shipped to Russia during the war, said:

"I did not ship it. As a retired army officer it would not be proper for me to answer that question fully."

Grove's statement was made in a radio interview over WOR. Asked whether, if such uranium shipments were made, they were made without his knowledge, he said:

"That would be a fairly good assumption."

Big-3 Envoys in Talk With Molotov

MOSCOW —(AP)— Envoys of the United States, Britain and France called today on Foreign Minister Molotov.

U.S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith entered the Kremlin first. Frank Roberts, special British envoy, and French Ambassador Yves Chataigneau followed him immediately. The same three conferred Monday night with Prime Minister Stalin, seeking a basis for ending the Berlin blockade and resolving other East-West differences.

Stalin was not believed present at this meeting, which the western diplomats had sought with the foreign minister.

(Diplomats in London said they expect a Big Four communique to be issued this weekend, announcing plans for a new meeting of the foreign ministers' council. The council is the four-power agency whose last two meetings broke up in disagreement.

(The Russian-licensed Berlin newspaper National Zeitung said the three western envoys intended to see Molotov today to "fix the time and place for a new four-power conference.")

Informed quarters said it was hoped that the last small differences among the United States, Britain and France over an agreement to be presented the Russians would be ironed out this morning.

Smoke Bomb Hurled At Ohio Guardsmen

DAYTON,O.—(AP)—A smoke bomb was hurled today among national guard troops patrolling the strike-trouble Univis Lens Co. plant today.

Ten guardsmen hit the ground as the missile went off some 100 feet from the company grounds and failed to see the occupants of a car from which the bomb was tossed.

Col. George Schiele of the Ohio guard said the bomb was government-made and commonly used to throw up smoke and cause confusion. It was wrapped in paper bags and was contained in a corrugated box, the guard commander added.

City police joined guard leaders in hunting occupants of the car which sped away from the plant area after the explosion.

The national guard totaling some 1,400 men was ordered to the Univis plant four days ago by Gov. Thomas J. Herbert after a series of picket line skirmishes.

Solon-Passed Housing Bill Moves to House

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The senate passed and sent to the house today a compromise housing bill aimed at speeding small home building.

The measure contains no low-rent or slum clearance subsidies.

Approval came on a voice after the chamber had voted 48 to 36 to substitute the measure for the Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing bill.

The senate thus overrode its banking committee which had approved the T-E-W measure.

The T-E-W bill would have provided for government aid in building public-owned low rent and slum clearance projects.

The housing action came after the senate banking committee voted two major changes in the republican anti-inflation bill as passed by the house yesterday.

Anything for a Story; Reporter Disrobes, Hears Nudists Wrangle Over Use of Mails

MAYS LANDING, N. J.—(AP)—An outsider found out what it's like to attend a nudist convention — the mosquitos have a field day.

You can't get into the sessions of the 17th annual convention of the American Sunbathing Association at a 115-acre private park near here without conforming to the rules. No clothes!

A uniformed policeman is the only one near the premises who keeps his clothes on. "Where could I hang my badge?" the officer pleaded.

A reporter, with the proper credentials, was greeted hospitably by officers of the association. They offered to show him around, if he'd strip, of course.

In exchange for his clothes, he accepted a dog-like disc bearing the inscription ASA, 1948, on one side and his name on the other.

200 IN THE NUDE

He joined the 200 nudist enthusiasts, delegates to the convention at Sunshine Park operated by 69-year-old Ilsley Boone, who have been holding most of their sessions indoors because of the rain. Topic of one of yesterday's main sessions was a fight between the association and the U. S. postoffice over sending the association's publication, Sunshine and Health, through the mail.

"The postoffice department is doing everything possible to strangle our magazine," Boone told the group.

The nudists greeted the arrival of the sun by swimming and playing athletic games.

With the sun came large, ravenous mosquitos, kept down by five days of rain. Ouch! The visiting reporter fled.

Ruth Fors Feted At Bridal Shower

On Wednesday evening a bride-elect, Ruth Fors, was honor guest at a treasure hunt in the Literary clubhouse. Pirates, sea chests, ships and flags lent atmosphere to the informal affair.

Mrs. Cliff Churchill and Mrs. Jess Sinnes as pirate chiefs helped the honor guest locate hidden treasure by means of a secret map.

A mock wedding, with Darlene Heller playing marital music, was a feature of the evening of fun. In the bridal party were Catherine Murphy, Rosalie Heller, Mrs. Jack Ketchum, Mrs. Reuben England and Mrs. Ward Ball.

A large cake, in the form of a ship, carried messages of happiness from the 40 guests around the refreshment table. Co-hostesses for the affair were Mrs. Otto Jacobson and Mrs. Carl Fors.

BODY TO MONTREAL

PORTLAND—(AP)—The body of a Canadian girl who died here after a cross-country trip interrupted by odd jobs to earn expenses, was en route to her home at Montreal.

She was Irene Jeanine Gates, 19. Her story, pieced together from remarks at the Volunteers of America rest home and at the hospital to which she was taken, was that she and her husband, Russell William Gates, 19, entered the United States at Detroit in an old car. It broke down in Montana and they worked on farms to earn money for its repair.

TRAVEL By Jean Earl

IV

Enroute East, August 1

One nice thing about train travel is the ease with which passengers can go through and enjoy country it would be very difficult to live in. The great rolling plains, for instance.

And what besides a train ride across America can give you any idea of its vastness?

Patricia Jarrett, the English girl who flew from London to Port Angeles, said flying over the plains in winter was most exasperating. The endless white below gave no indication of accomplishment. The air liner appeared to be standing still. As she was very eager to reach her destination, this bothered her considerably.

According to loud opinion voiced in the ladies' room, the air lines will win six to eight passengers "next time we travel." Children who cry day and night don't make for happ passengers. Several women who have reared families offer various logical-sounding solutions.

However, the sleeping car conductor, who seems most accommodating, refuses to change lower reservations to more remote, vacant uppers. It is against some Milwaukee rule, he says.

It is proving an excellent topic for conversation. Passengers are well acquainted now. Even the shy ones thaw out as they stagger into wrong seats, land on people's laps, and otherwise get thrown off balance.

We are tearing over the country as we approach the Dakotas, those superb rolling plains where the wind makes patterns on the grass below the vast sky.

Any change in the scenery calls for a trip to the club car. But those passengers who planned on living there are finding there are limitations. This club car serves food and drinks. Nature of the latter depends entirely upon the state the train is going through. In Washington the men pined for the good whisky they would get in Montana.

Because of the food serving, no magazines are furnished. Loitering customers, not in the process of eating or drinking are encouraged to be on their way.

And this brings up the very important question of tips. As prices have changed I decided to consult my travel agency.

The advice was emphatic. Stick to a straight 10 per cent. The old system which made the tip necessary is no longer in effect, it was explained. Train personnel are now well paid. Passengers who tip more are working a hardship on others unable to pay. Furthermore today's travel rates are intended to include adequate service.

What's more, after a little initial crumpiness, I'm finding this to be true.

CHILD DROWNS IN WELL

SEATTLE —(AP)— Six-year-old Jimmy Sather was found drowned last night in a well near his Lopez island farm home, San Juan County Sheriff P. N. Gerard reported.

Discovery of the body ended an 11-hour search by a party of up to 100 neighbors. The sheriff had requested bloodhounds from Seattle shortly before the body was found.

Gerard said the boy climbed over a wire fence enclosing the well, 100 yards from his home, and had plunged through a rotted wooden cover into about 12 feet of water.

POLIO IN 'HOME'

SEATTLE—(AP)—The King county juvenile detention home was under quarantine today after a 15-year-old girl resident was taken to King county hospital as a "possible" case of poliomyelitis.

Superior Judge William G. Long of the juvenile court said detention authorities were advised by the health department "not to admit other children until the girl's illness is identified."

Baptist Youth Leader Improvises Pancake Equipment From Shower Curtain, Tin Cans

The ingenuity of a female chaperone provided pancakes without aid of pans when a dozen members of Baptist Youth, on an overnight camping trip this week, found themselves at Lake Angeles with plenty of food but no cooking utensils.

When the youngsters found their equipment included nothing in which to mix or fry their breakfast hotcakes, Mrs. John Trumbull improvised a mixing bowl from a shower curtain used in her sleeping-bag.

For frying pans she adapted empty bean cans, and for a pancake turner she used the oval lid of a sardine can.

The youngsters rode between Port Angeles and Heart o' the Hills in a Kiwanis bus driven by their leader, Rev. Paul Logan. One of them, Arlis Haskins, had her own horse which she rode over the Little river road from Black Diamond. In addition the group had one packhorse.

When, after the first mile, Arlis saw Dan Janzen, smallest of the group, weighted down by three sleeping-bags (on a good packboard), she gave up riding and converted her horse into a packer. Not wanting to scuff her new $20 riding boots, she walked up the second mile of trail barefooted.

When Alice Bock, who is vacationing here from Chicago, saw this she supplied her gym shoes, carried as extras, for Arlis' last lap to the lake.

The youngsters sang their 100 Baptist songs frequently in bus, on trail, in camp and out on the lake.

While several got wet, only Bert Dollarhide succeeded in getting complete immersion in the cold alpine lake.

Others in the group, going up Monday and returning Tuesday, were Mavis Haskins, Donna and Livone Hunter, Dolores Davis, Robert Edwards, Robert Northrup, Jack Trumbull, Wallace and Myren Thomas and Norman Dollarhide of Freewater, Ore.

Five members were initiated into the Loyal Order of Moose at the lodge meeting Tuesday evening. Nine officers of the degree team from Shelton lodge served at the installation ceremony.

Those initiated were Frank Garvey, M. W. Jacobson, W. J. Summerville, Jack Driscoll and E. M. Christiansen.

Port Angeles officers presiding at the meeting were Lester White, governor; Cecil Rasler, junior governor; Oscar Baker, past governor, and A. J. Leonard, prelate.

PORTLAND —(AP)—The list of persons missing from Vanport was cut to 10 today, as two men turned up safe.

William Langley, 67, a retired carpenter, was found living quietly here—unaware that he was thought loss.

Frank W. Edgar was located working at Pasco. He, rather naturally, hadn't recognized his name on the list: because of a stenographic error, it had been consistently written for two months as "Edgar Franks."

State in Ferry Business in Month or Two—Wallgren.

SEATTLE —(AP)— Washington state may be in the ferry business "within a month or two," Governor Wallgren said last night, if the Puget Sound Navigation Company accepts a state offer to buy the system.

Otherwise, he added, the state would have to build its own fleets and bridges—at a cost of about $20,000,000.

Although company acceptance of the state offer would put the state in business almost immediately, the governor stressed that "the comprehensive bridge and ferry system we planned" probably would not be in complete operation for eight or nine months.

He said talks with the Chicago underwriting firm of Allyn and Company, negotiating with the ferry company on behalf of the state, indicated a substantial reduction in rates would be possible under state operation.

Proposed Amendments to the State Constitution

TO BE VOTED ON NOVEMBER 2, 1948

STATE OF WASHINGTON,
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE.

To Whom It May Concern:

In obedience to the State Constitution, and the Joint Resolutions of the State Legislature hereinafter referred to, there is hereby published for the consideration of the voters of the State of Washington, four proposed amendments to the constitution of the said state, as follows:

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 4

Proposed amendment to the Constitution to permit the legislature to fix the salaries of the elected state officials.

Be It Resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Washington in legislative session assembled:

That at the general election to be held in this state on the Tuesday next succeeding the first Monday in November, 1948, there shall be submitted to the qualified electors in this state, for their approval and ratification, or rejection, an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Washington, by adding thereto Article XXVIII, to be entitled "Compensation of State Officers," and section 1 thereof, which shall read as follows:

Section 1. All elected state officials shall each severally receive such compensation as the legislature may direct. The compensation of any state officer shall not be increased or diminished during his term of office, except that the legislature, at its thirty-first regular session, may increase or diminish the compensation of all state officers whose terms exist on the Thursday after the second Monday in January, 1949.

The provisions of sections 14, 15, 17, 19, 20, 21, and 22 of Article III and section 23 of Article II in so far as they are inconsistent herewith, are hereby repealed.

Be It Further Resolved, That the Secretary of State shall cause the foregoing amendment to be published for at least three (3) months next preceding the election in a weekly newspaper in every county wherein a newspaper is published throughout the state.

Passed the Senate March 7, 1947.

President of the Senate.
Passed the House March 5, 1947.

Speaker of the House.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 5

Proposed amendment to Constitution to permit counties to adopt "Home Rule" charters.

Be It Resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Washington in legislative session assembled:

That, at the general election to be held in this state on the Tuesday next succeeding the first Monday in November, 1948, there shall be submitted to the qualified voters of the state for their approval and ratification, or rejection, an amendment to Section 4 of Article XI of the Constitution of the State of Washington to read as follows:

Section 4. County Government and Township Organization. The legislature shall establish a system of county government, which shall be uniform throughout the state except as hereinafter provided, and by general laws shall provide for township organization, under which any county may organize whenever a majority of the qualified electors of such county voting at a general election shall so determine; and whenever a county shall adopt township organization, the assessment and collection of the revenue shall be made, and the business of such county and the local affairs of the several townships therein, shall be managed and transacted in the manner prescribed by such general law.

Any county may frame a "Home Rule" charter for its own government subject to the constitution and laws of this state, and for such purpose the legislative authority of such county may cause an election to be had, at which election there shall be chosen by the qualified voters of said county not less than fifteen (15) nor more than twenty-five (25) freeholders thereof, as determined by the legislative authority, who shall have been residents of said county for a period of at least five (5) years preceding their election and who are themselves qualified electors, whose duty it shall be to convene within thirty (30) days after their election and prepare and propose a charter for such county. Such proposed charter shall be submitted to the qualified electors of said county, and if a majority of such qualified electors votihg thereon ratify the same, it shall become the charter of said county and shall become the organic law thereof, and supersede any existing charter, including amendments thereto, or any existing form of county government, and all special laws inconsistent with such charter. Said proposed charter shall be published in two (2) legal newspapers published in said county, at least once a week for four (4) consecutive weeks prior to the day of submitting the same to the electors for their approval as above provided. All elections in this section authorized shall only be had upon notice, which notice shall specify the object of calling such election and shall be given for at least ten (10) days before the day of election in all election districts of said county. Said elections may be general or special elections and except as herein provided, shall be governed by the law regulating and controlling general or special elections in said county. Such charter may be amended by proposals therefor submitted by the legislative authority of said county to the electors thereof at any general election after notice of such submission published as above specified, and ratified by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon. In submitting any such charter or amendment thereto, any alternate article or proposition may be presented for the choice of the voters and may be voted on separately without prejudice to others.

Any home rule charter proposed as herein provided, may provide for such county officers as may be deemed necessary to carry out and perform all county functions as provided by charter or by general law, and for their compensation, but shall not affect the election of the prosecuting attorney, the county superintendent of schools, the judges of the superior court, and the justices of the peace, or the jurisdiction of the courts.

Notwithstanding the foregoing provision for the calling of an election by the legislative authority of such county for the election of freeholders to frame a county charter, registered voters equal in number to ten (10) per centum of the voters of any such county voting at the last preceding general election, may at any time propose by petition the calling of an election of freeholders. The petition shall be filed with the county auditor of the county at least three (3) months before any general election and the proposal that a board of freeholders be elected for the purpose of framing a county charter shall be submitted to the vote of the people at said general election, and at the same election a board of freeholders of not less than fifteen (15) or more than twenty-five (25), as fixed in the petition calling for the election, shall be chosen to draft the new charter. The procedure for the nomination of qualified electors as candidates for said board of freeholders shall be prescribed by the legislative authority of the county, and the procedure for the framing of the charter and the submission of the charter as framed shall be the same as in the case of a board of freeholders chosen at an election initiated by the legislative authority of the county.

In calling for any election of freeholders as provided in this section, the legislative authority of the county shall apportion the number of freeholders to be elected in accordance with either the legislative districts or the county commissioner districts, if any, within said county, the number of said freeholders to be elected from each of said districts to be in proportion to the population of said districts as nearly as may be.

Should the charter proposed receive the affirmative vote of the majority of the electors voting thereon, the legislative authority of the county shall immediately call such special election as may be provided for therein, if any, and the county government shall be established in accordance with the terms of said charter not more than six (6) months after the election at which the charter was adopted.

The terms of all elective officers, except the prosecuting attorney, the county superintendent of schools, the judges of the superior court, and the justices of the peace, who are in office at the time of the adoption of a Home Rule Charter shall terminate as provided in the charter. All appointive officers in office at the time the charter goes into effect, whose positions are not abolished thereby, shall continue until their successors shall have qualified.

After the adoption of such charter, such county shall continue to have all the rights, powers, privileges and benefits then possessed or thereafter conferred by general law. All the powers, authority and duties granted to and imposed on county officers by general law, except the prosecuting attorney, the county superintendent of schools, the judges of the superior court and the justices of the peace, shall be vested in the legislative authority of the county unless expressly vested in specific officers by the charter. The legislative authority may by resolution delegate any of its executive or administrative powers, authority or duties not expressly vested in specific officers by the charter, to any county officer or officers or county employee or employees.

The provisions of sections 5, 6, 7, and the first sentence of section 8 of this Article as amended shall not apply to counties in which the government has been established by charter adopted under the provisions hereof. The authority conferred on the board of county commissioners by Section 15 of Article II as amended, shall be exercised by the legislative authority of the county.

And Be It Further Resolved, That the Secretary of State shall cause the foregoing constitutional amendment to be published for at least three (3) months next preceding the election in a weekly newspaper in every county in the state in which such a newspaper is published.

Passed by the Senate January 28, 1947.
VICTOR A. MEYERS,
President of the Senate.
Passed by the House February 21, 1947.
HERBERT M. HAMBLEN,
Speaker of the House.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 4

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 13

Proposed amendment to the Constitution permitting the formation, under a charter, of combined city and county municipal corporations having a population of 300,000 or more.

Be It Resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Washington, in Legislative Session Assembled:

That, At the general election to be held in this state on the Tuesday next succeeding the first Monday of November, 1948, there shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the state, for their approval and ratification, or rejection, a proposed amendment to Article XI of the State Constitution by the addition thereto of a new section, to be known as section 16, which shall read as follows:

Section 16. The legislature shall, by general law, provide for the formation of combined city and county municipal corporations, and for the manner of determining the territorial limits thereof, each of which shall be known as a "city and county," and, when organized, shall contain a population of at least three hundred thousand (300,000) inhabitants. No such city and county shall be formed except by a majority vote of the qualified electors of the area proposed to be included therein and also by a majority vote of the qualified electors of the remainder of that county from which such area is to be taken. Any such city and county shall be permitted to frame a charter for its own government, and amend the same, in the manner provided for cities by section 10 of this article: Provided, however, That the first charter of such city and county shall be framed and adopted in a manner to be specified in the general law authorizing the formation of such corporations: Provided further, That every such charter shall designate the respective officers of such city and county who shall perform the duties imposed by law upon county officers. Every such city and county shall have and enjoy all rights, powers and privileges asserted in its charter, not inconsistent with general laws, and in addition thereto, such rights, powers and privileges as may be granted to it, or possessed and enjoyed by cities and counties of like population separately organized.

No county or county government existing outside the territorial limits of such county and city shall exercise any police, taxation or other powers within the territorial limits of such county and city, but all such powers shall be exercised by the city and county and the officers thereof, subject to such constitutional provisions and general laws as apply to either cities or counties: Provided, That the provisions of sections 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8 of this article shall not apply to any such city and county: Provided further, That the salary of any elective or appointive officer of a city and county shall not be changed after his election or appointment or during his term of office; nor shall the term of any such officer be extended beyond the period for which he is elected or appointed. In case an existing county is divided in the formation of a city and county, such city and county shall be liable for a just proportion of the existing debts or liabilities of the former county, and shall account for and pay the county remaining a just proportion of the value of any real estate or other property owned by the former county and taken over by the county and city, the method of determining such just proportion to be prescribed by general law, but such division shall not affect the rights of creditors. The officers of a city and county, their compensation, qualifications, term of office and manner of election or appointment shall be as provided for in its charter, subject to general laws and applicable constitutional provisions.

And Be It Further Resolved, That the Secretary of State shall cause the foregoing proposed constitutional amendment to be published for at least three (3) months next preceding said election, in a weekly newspaper in every county where a newspaper is published throughout the state.

Sternwheeler Yukon Heads For Auction

FAIRBANKS, Alaska —(AP)— The gaudy old sternwheeler Yukon, once queen of the river whose name she bears, is goings on the auction block.

The Alaska Railroad, present owner of the 651-ton vessel, called today for bids to be opened Aug. 10 at Anchorage.

The bid call stipulates that the vessel must be removed to dry land and be used only for reasonably priced living quarters.

The steamer has 45 staterooms with accommodations, including crew quarters, for 114 persons.

The broad,flat-bottomed packet, now unseaworthy, is at Nenana where she was built in 1913 as a luxury cruiser for the Canadian-White Pass-Yukon fleet. She carried thousands of gold seekers and later tourists between Nenana on the Tanana river and Whitehorse before being sold to Alaska Railroad during the war.

Two years ago, while hauling freight and passengers to Yukon downriver points the steamer was hung high and dry on a sand bar and caught in the early freeze. The ice tore a gash in her hull.

SPEAKING OF HEAT

WASHINGTON —(AP)— This capital's summer heat, Senator Magnuson (D, Wash.) said today, "is mild compared to the heat many members of congress will encounter back home if, in this special session, we fail to act positively and constructively" on anti-inflation legislation.

He so told Chairman Tobey (R, N.H.) of the senate banking committee in a letter urging committee action on a program aimed at combatting inflation. In the letter, which he made public, Magnuson said that he, "like most senators," had heard from the "people back home by letter and telegram."

EARL KUPER TAKES MANAGERSHIP OF TACOMA IN WIL

Player - Manager Earl Kuper could be stepping into the Tacoma Tigers' managership at a crucial spot for the downsound Western International League entry.

Kuper, a catcher, was named by San Diego last night to succeed Jim Brillheart, whom the Padres elevated into the Pacific Coast League spot to succeed ex-Manager Rip Collins.

Tonight Tacoma opens its final series of the season with seventh-place Salem, and pace-setting Bremerton moves into Yakima for a weekend set with the cellar-ranking Packers.

When the same teams met last week, Tacoma dropped three out of four to Salem and Bremerton swept its Yakima series. A repeat performance, while not dooming the Tacoma pennant hopes, wouldn't enhance them a bit.

The Tigers also will finish out the season minus one of their winning pitchers. The Padre shift gave Hank Sciarra, a converted shortstop, a chance to try out his pitching arm in triple-A ball. Sciarra had a 7-3 record with the Tacomans.

Both Bremerton and Tacoma closed out portions of their season last night with victories, leaving Bremerton still four games out in front. The Navy City Tars smacked out an 11-5 win over Salem, while Tacoma bested Yakima 8-4. It was the last time this season the clubs are scheduled to meet.

Spokane and Victoria also wound up season's activities with the Inland Empire nine taking a 5-1 decision.

Vancouver at Wenatchee was rained out.

Point Barrow Looks Like Beachhead

POINT BARROW, Alaska — a— America's northernmost base looks like an invasion beachhead today.

Out at sea, huge navy attack transports stand at anchor. Landing craft shuttle between ship and shore. Mountains of oil drums and crates pile up on the beach.

Portable generators whine on the shore as navy signalmen transmit messages by wireless and blinker to the "invasion" headquarters — the flagship. Weasels, tractors and cranes are a moving maze between supply stacks and warehouses.

The scene is the navy's yearly landings of supplies for its oil exploration base on the upper tip of Alaska.

The supply vessels anchored offshore here yesterday. They had raced here from Seattle with word of the ice breakup only to be barred from reaching Barrow for two days by shifting ice.

Today, helicopters and amphibians coursed the edge of the massive white thatch that cap the north, ready to warn the supply fleet to up anchor if it begins again to move toward shore.

The arrival of the ships was like Christmas in August to the natives as well as to the navy personnel here. Men, women and children trooped out of the native village onto the beach, shouting "umiakpuk, umiakpuk!"—the Eskimo equivalent of "big boat."

The vessels also brought 2,000 tons of freight for the village. It must last until next summer when the ice breaks up again for an all too short period.

Federal officials had reported the natives short of supplies before the navy expedition arrived. Native leaders said they expect shortages in many items before next summer despite the fact that the present shipment is the largest ever received.

Navy crews are scheduled to work 12-hour shifts, 24 hours a day until the supply vessels are unloaded. On their side in the race against the ice is the continuous daylight. The sun sets for only 90 minutes, and then barely beneath the rim of the earth.

Ford Car Price Hike Averages 5 Per Cent

DETROIT—(AP)—The Ford Motor Co. yesterday announced price increases averaging five per cent on all new Ford cars except one model. They amount to $75 on each car.

At the same time the company reduced the price of its six-cylinder business coupe by $5.

Ford said it was forced to raise prices for the second time in less than two months because of higher material and labor costs and the "necessity for reducing present production volume due to material shortages which cause production interruptions."

When the 1949 Ford models were introduced in mid-June prices were advanced $85 to $125.

Shortly after the new model introduction Ford and the CIO United Auto Workers' Union agreed upon a wage increase the unions said amounted to approximately 17 cents an hour for some 116,000 hourly-rated workers.

Jefferson County

(Port Townsend Leader)

No Political Ads at Field

There will be no political advertising on the fence of the new Jefferson County Memorial Field, county commissioners announced Tuesday. Commissioners declared such advertising "would not look good on the fence at the Memorial Field, which is dedicated to the memory of Jefferson county's dead war heroes." The action came after Mrs. Ruth Pyatt, republican candidate for the congressional nomination, inquired at the county engineer's office for location of a panel which she planned to use with the lessee's permission. Funds for the fence came from businessmen who leased advertising space, but the county commissioners reserved the right to rule out advertising they deemed objectionable.

Protest Trailer Park

A delegation of residents from Port Townsend's east side protested a proposal for a trailer camp in Chetzemoka Park before city council Tuesday night. One of them, Roy W. Hawkins, said 90 per cent of the section's residents opposed the trailer camp plan. The city-owned Sather Park on Morgan hill was suggested as an alternative.

Fete Miss Washington

Lorraine Lowder, former Port Townsend girl designated Miss Washington for the Atlantic City beauty pageant, was the honor guest at a series of events in her old home town Friday. At noon she was the central attraction at a no-host luncheon in the Palms Marine Room. She also was to attend a 5 p.m. retreat ceremony at Fort Worden, where her father formerly was stationed, and then be entertained at the home of General and Mrs. D. A. D. Ogden at their quarters.

By-pass Coyle Hill Road

County commissioners Monday let a $17,000 contract to Lige Dickson Company, Tacoma, for by-passing Jefferson county's hazardous Coyle hill road. The new road will reduce the maximum 17 per cent grade to five per cent, leaving the present Dabob bay road about a mile north of the bay's head, then traveling southeast to meet the present road at the top of Coyle hill.

The Papermakers acquired virtual possession of the Industrial baseball league's second half crown by defeating the Sequim Merchants, 4-0, at Civic Field last night.

The Papermaker's ace righthander, Don Lannoye, notched his third league win against no setbacks by besting Bob Baar, Merchant hurler. Although Baar gave up only six hits to Lannoye's nine the Merchants left 16 men stranded on the sacks during the contest.

Scoring fireworks occurred in the third and ninth innings. In the third Gene McLennan and Sam Haguewood singled to score on an error. Warren Main's ninth inning double boosting Haguewood and Ken McInnes home accounted for the final scores.

Bob Baar, losing hurler and Sam Haguewood, Papermaker shortstop, both hit two for four to pace the hitters.

ROME —(AP)— The stork delivered a bundle of joy—a 224.4-pound bundle—to Romeo and Juliet today.

The baby, a cute little trick with a curly 11-inch nose, is believed to be the first elephant born in Europe for 10 years. She came into the world at the Rome zoological gardens. Dr. Ermanno Bronzini, chief veterinarian, said there is every indication she will grow big and healthy. It looks like her name is going to be Roma, after the city of her birth.

AP's Kent Cooper Sees Nationalism Stronger Than Communism in E. European Countries

NEW YORK—(AP)—Kent Cooper, executive director of the Associated Press, says he believes nationalism will prove stronger than communism in countries of eastern Europe.

Cooper arrived here Wednesday aboard the Queen Elizabeth after a seven-week visit to Associated Press bureaus in the Scandinavian countries, Holland, Belgium, Germany and England.

He said he felt that "things will reach normalcy in eastern Europe because the Russians are going to find out that before people are communists they are Poles and Czechs and nationals."

The Russians discovered, Cooper added, that Tito "first wanted to be a Yugoslav rather than a communist."

"Although he is friendly to the Russian communistic ideology, this spirit in each country is going to reign supreme. They are going to remain Yugo-lavs, Czechs, Poles, Hungarians and their own nationalities."

Gardner Cowles, newspaper and magazine publishers, who also returned aboard the Queen Elizabeth, said his five weeks spent in England and France "reminds me a good deal of 1938, before Munich."

"There is no real peace in Europe."

SHIPS AT SINGAPORE

Cecil Solly's Garden Notebook

Sponsored by

WILLSON HARDWARE CO.

PEONIES ARE PERPETUAL

Last week's discussion of the troubles which beset Peonies, should not make anyone suppose that they are hard to grow. The Peony is one of the longest lived of all border plants. It is best described as being a perpetual and will outlast practically every other garden plant.

One of the reasons that peonies have remained popular is that they are such long-lasting cut flowers. The great value of the peony to the grower is that it may be cut in a tight bud and will slowly come out into full bloom indoors. The flower is actually better if opened as a cut flowers indoors than if left on the plant. There are many records of the peony roots being brought here by the first settlers. The big fleshy roots of the plant made it a simple problem to bring them across the Atlantic and the prairies.

At that time there were only two sorts of PINEYS growing in the gardens of Europe. They were both introduced there about the same time.

The still lovely double Red—officinalis rubra—was first introduced into English gardens from Switzerland in 1548 from Asia whence it came via the Mediterranean countries.

The double white sort—Albiflora—was introduced about the same time but came directly from Siberia.

These two sorts are unique in that they have only one flower atop each stem and no side-buds. They are intensely doubled but cannot be given the credit of a perfume that is very sweet. Both of these sorts, originating in districts where extremes of climate are experienced, were naturally able to be grown successfully in any of the very different types of Canadian climate, and able to withstand even the most severe winters.

Once planted, they invariably lived from years to year with little or no attention, other than the keeping down of weeds and a small amount of backyard fertilization and cultivation.

THEN CAME THE ORIENTALS

The two newer types of peonies are most easily grouped as:

Chinese—all double flowers.

Japanese—mostly singles and semi doubles.

When Chinese peonies were first taken to Europe about 1300 there were more than a hundred distinct varieties already existing in Chinese gardens. They immediately became exceptionally popular in England because they suited the climate. These new sorts were soon brought to America where they were able to thrive anywhere except in some parts of the South where the growing period is so extended as to prevent their properly ripening and going into the necessary two dormant or rest periods.

These Chinese and Japanese sorts are a little more temperamental and are more subject to disease than the old PINEYS described above, but provided the plants are given the little care and attention they demand, they are of the most easily grown and impressive of all the herbaceous perennials.

VARIETIES

There are several hundred beautiful sorts of Peonies in the Chinese and Japanese groups of "garden" or herbaceous peonies. All are easy to grow. It is not so easy, however, to select the sorts required unless they are actually seen growing in a garden or nursery.

All of them are wonderfully beautiful but of course each sort is different in color or form. It is recommended that one should go to one or more of the local nurseries and select sorts by actually seeing the plants in flower under field conditions and after having discussed their qualities with the grower. Many sorts are deliciously scented and since most gardens sadly lack perfume right now, it would be wise to choose those varieties that have this added value and charm.

Among the varieties that are outstanding in this Pacific Northwest are:

LE CYGNE—an early pure white that is very fragrant.

WALTER FAXON—Bright rose pink, lovely large scented flowers.

PHILLIPE RIVOIRE—a midseason full flowered brilliant red. This is the most fragrant red.

OTHER GOOD VARIETIES

BALL O' COTTON (Double); A pure white which comes into bloom in late mid-season. It is a perfect rose-type, pleasingly fragrant. The plant is of medium height, good foliage and strong stems.

CATHERINE S. FOX (Single). A delicately soft, appealing shade of rose. It has slender stamens of gold, rising from the center of the bloom, lending more grace to an already graceful landscape flower. It holds well in sun or rain.

EDWIN C. SHAW (Double): This is an exceptionally large and attractively shaped bright pink flower.

ELSA CHRISTIANSEN (Double). This variety is so distinct from other delicate pinks as to be a real acquisition. It is exceedingly large, has long petals which are narrow and heavily serrated on the edges. It opens cup-shaped, then becomes flat. It is irresistibly appealing and receives the unbounded praise of everyone who sees it.

FELIX CROUSSE (Double). A brilliant dazzling ruby-red flower consisting of a central bomb of incurved petals surrounded by broad, prominent guard petals. A late, midseason bloomer.

What It Means: Corn-Hog Ratio

By Robert E. Geiger

WASHINGTON —(AP)—There is a mathematical formula that seldom fails to produce more meat when it touches the "pork point." This formula is based on a set of figures known as the corn-hog ratio. It produces more pork when the ratio gets above 12 or 13 to 1.

This ratio got down to around eight to 1. Now it's back to about 11 to 1 and climbing higher toward that magic 13 to 1 level. Does this mean you can let your mouth water over the prospect of more bacon, more ham and more pork chops, at reasonable price, tomorrow or next week or next month?

No, sir, say the experts of the U.S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Nature just won't cooperate that fast. Here's why:

To figure the corn-hog ratio you take the price of 100 pounds of hog and divide it by the price of a bushel of corn. If it comes out less than 12 to 1 it is more profitable, usually, for the farmer to sell his corn instead of feeding it to hogs. When it gets around 13 to 1 farmers generally start raising more hogs and feeding them the corn. They can get more out of the corn that way.

Department of agriculture experts expect corn prices to go down to around the government support price. Last year this averaged about $1.37 a bushel. A big corn crop is one reason for the price drop. If the ratio gets around 12 to 1 the farmer will breed more hogs this fall. They will produce a crop of pigs next spring. But then the pigs have to grow up and be fattened on the corn. This means that probably not only until fall of 1949 will there be more pork on the market.

The big corn crop will permit farmers to put more fat on the animals they plan to market between now and next fall, but the agricultural experts say the extra meat this produces probably won't make pork much more plentiful. The corn also will be used to fatten cattle, but it takes longer to increase the supply of marketable beef than it does pork. So the corn isn't a big factor in producing an immediate increase in beef.

There probably will be a greater proportion of choice corn-fed beef this winter and next spring than there might have been if the corn crop was smaller and meat prices lower. But there will be fewer grass-fed cattle marketed, so the total supply of beef won't be increased substantially.

The number of cattle on farms is comparatively low, and if farmers slaughter an unusually large number this winter it means there will be less beef later on. Farmers can't sell their breeding stock and have their calves, too.

SUBMARINE LAMPS TRAP FISH

MOSCOW —(AP)— "Evening Moscow" reports fishermen are using submerged electric lights in catching sprat. The system, perfected by a Prof. Borisovas, allows the Caspian fishermen to lower a series of 800 to 1,000-watt lamps into the sea which attracts whole schools of the fish.

Once the sprat are near the lamps they are hauled quickly aboard nearby ships with nets. One expedition caught more than 3,000 pounds in an evening by the electric lamp method.

Hal Boyle Says

Happy Birthday To World's Biggest Juvenile Delinquent

NEW YORK—(AP)—Happy birthday to the atom age!

It's three years old today, but nobody's baking a cake for it.

Never did a new era in the story of man open more dramatically. It was like something out of the old testament or Greek mythology.

A big American firebird flew over Hiroshima and dropped a strange metal package. The package opened, and it proved to be a deadly new Pandora's box for the Japanese.

Up bloomed a towering destructive mushroom of death, flame and smoke. And beneath it a city had disappeared.

Three days later American airpower confirmed the arrival of the atom age by dropping a second bomb over Nagasaki. Another mighty mushroom blossomed. Another city, except the area protected by hills, lay stricken.

The two bombs killed 120,000 people—80,000 at Hiroshima, 40,000 at Nagasaki—and injured 320,000 more.

President Truman justified the dropping of the atomic bombs by saying they had saved 250,000 American lives by avoiding the need of a full-scale land invasion. But he said another global war would mean the end of civilization.

"We are not going to do that," he promised. "We are going to accept the golden rule and we are going forward to meet our destiny, which I think Almighty God intended us to have—and we are going to be the leaders."

The powerful baby, the most destructive prodigy yet conceived by man's inventive mind and the force of nature, was put into harness and dedicated to the paths of peace.

But the terrible infant also was given secret training to develop his muscles, like a fighter working out for his next battle. And he has grown stronger. Just how strong perhaps no one truly knows, because—like any baby—he is still growing.

His power for peacetime good, however, is growing more apparent. His radiant energy is helping medical men on a hundred fronts in their age-old quest for new methods of fighting disease. He has been put to work on the farm, helping to grow better food products.

And in a laboratory on Long Island by the end of this year, the atomic child will be producing enough electricity to serve the needs of a village of 3,000 people. In time he will supply power for people far removed from cheap sources of coal and oil.

Fear of him has dulled somewhat in three years. People who live under the threat of constant danger have to reconcile themselves to it—or go mad.

In every land the population now worries more over man's eternal problems of food, clothing and housing than over the potential disaster locked within the atom. But the shadow of another global war still lifts and settles like a vagrant cloud.

History's biggest juvenile delinquent—the atom—has done pretty well since he went to reform school.

During the current peace in the Palestine fighting, Israel's army keeps on the guard. Seeing all those soldiers around makes it easy for Israeli youngsters to find models for imitating, as these two in Jerusalem are doing. (Photo by NEA-Acme staff correspondent E. F. Ilani.)

Improved Sockeye Salmon Run Is Reported by Moore

SEATTLE —(AP)— An improved sockeye salmon run, compared to previous four-year cycles, was reported today by Milo Moore, chairman of the international sockeye commission

The total catch in American waters exceeds 1944 by 10 per cent, with nine days of the season remaining. In 1944 the total season's catch was 435,000 fish. This year's catch stood at 490,000 on August 2.

Moore said special closed seasons resulted in considerable improvement in escapement of early runs through the Hell's canyon fishways, which the commission built at British Columbia's Fraser river bottleneck.

MOTHS DISAPPEAR

WALLA WALLA —(AP)— Business men could turn on their lights without ducking today. The moths are gone.

The hordes of insects which "blacked out" the lighted business district Tuesday and Wednesday nights failed to show last night—and no one was disappointed.

Believed to have blown in from the nearby Blue Mountains, the invaders were identified as the spruce-bud worm moth which strips the needles from Douglas and white fir tree stands.

Douglas Fir Shows Higher Production

PORTLAND —(AP)— Douglas fir production last year totaled 8,749,028,000 board feet, the West Coast Lumbermen's Association reports.

The association said a mill-to-mill survey showed a higher total than previous estimates. It included 1,505 Washington and Oregon fir mills. The production was compared with the regional output of 15 years ago when there were 383 sawmills that produced 3,114,000,000 board feet.

For the tenth year, Oregon's lumber cut led the nation with 5,691,548,000 board feet; Washington was second with 3,057,480,000 board feet.

Oregon's Lane county (Eugene) topped the nation with 1,048,470,000 board feet of Douglas fir cut last year. The leading Washington county was Cowlitz with 624,533,000 board feet.

The number of sawmills in Lane county topped the region. There are 206. Oregon's Douglas county was second with 148. In Washington, Lewis county heads the total in production with 66 mills.

The association said 60 per cent of all lumber cut in the region came from 143 class A mills, those with a cut of 80,000 board feet each shift.

W. H. Loomis Tops Current Fish Ladder

A full 50-rung ladder greeted early fishermen Friday at the Port Angeles Salmon Club.

Highest rung was occupied by W. H. Loomis with a 38½ pound salmon to his credit while C. B. Miller's two-pounder was No. 50. Many changes are anticipated, with less than three days remaining to fish before the fifth qualifying ladder in the annual derby ends Sunday night.

Thursday morning only 22 rungs were occupied, the other 28 being slapped on during the single day's fishing. Mel Ray, Salmon Club manager, reported this morning. Ray said most of the fish are from 17 to 30 pounds.

The Evening News Monday mispelled the name of Victor Kulla in reporting his winning of the fourth ladder, which ended last Sunday night. Kulla's top-rung fish weighed 43 pounds, 12 ounces.

Ediz Hook Reports July Temperature Similar to June's

July's average temperature at Ediz hook was exactly the same as June's—57.4 degrees. Average maximum for the month was 63.5 and average minimum 51.3.

The mercury hit its highest for the month on July 30 at 76, while the lowest on the spit was recorded at 46 on the first day.

One inch of rain fell during July, compared to June's .99 inch. Eleven days saw rain, although three of them registered only a trace. July 6, with .34 inch of rain, marked the heaviest precipitation. Fog rolled in over the hook on nine days, one more than June.

The Ediz hook weather station reported 11 clear days, six partly cloudy and 14 cloudy. Prevailing winds for the month were from the west but no high winds were recorded.

Plywood Association Sponsors House Here

The Douglas Fir Plywood Association, Tacoma, and several manufacturers of home building supplies are sponsoring a demonstration house being built at Georgiana and Eunice. Plywood, made in the Peninsula Plywood mill, is used extensively throughout the house, in sub-flooring, sheeting and roofing. Inside finish also will consist entirely of plywood. Plywood forms were used in pouring the foundation.

Gordon Lynch is contractor for the project, and Thomas T. Aldwell & Co. sales agents.

A public demonstration of the house, which includes such modern features as a compact cabinet gas furnace and electric garbage disposer, will occur about the end of this month, when it is scheduled for completion.

Displaced Persons Liberalization Attempt Is Rejected

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Senator Revercomb (R, WVa) today reported rejection by a senate subcommittee of a personal plea by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey that congress liberalize the displaced persons law at the special session.

Revercomb told a reporter that Dewey, GOP presidential nominee, had telephoned him asking that the eligible date for European war refugees be revised at this session. President Truman also has recommended a change in the law.

The senator is chairman of a judiciary subcommittee handling immigration legislation. After two days of closed-door sessions, Revercomb said the Dewey suggestion was defeated by a 2-2 tie vote.

Revercomb added that Senator McCarron (R, Nev.), fifth subcommittee member, telegraphed from Reno that he is opposed to making any change in the DP act passed at the regular session.

Revercomb flatly denied a published report that Dewey or Gov. Earl Warren of California, the GOP vice-presidential candidate, had threatened to come to West Virginia and explain their views unless Revercomb agreed to the amendment.

Revercomb is seeking re-election to the senate.

The liberalizing amendment would change the date of December 27, 1945, now used for defining displaced persons able to come to the United States, to April 21, 1947.

Bank Robber Dead Because Aged Bulldog Didn't Like Intrusion of His Domain

BERKELEY, Calif. — (AP)—A bank robber lay dead today because an aged and testy bulldog resented invasion of his privacy.

The robber, who told police he was Isaac G. Fox and had served prison time in Tennessee, snatched an FBI agent's gun while being questioned, and killed himself.

It was 3:05 p.m. yesterday when Mrs. Levolne Ames opened the door of a branch of the Bank of America to let out a late customer. Fox rushed his way in.

Drawing a revolver, he covered the 11 bank employes and quickly collected between $7,000 and $8,000. Then he drove away.

But Fox did not know the city. A mile away he drove into a dead-end street. He abandoned his car and leaped into a backyard.

There lived Buggs, a 12-year-old toy bulldog. Buggs made an angry run at the intruder. Fox kicked him, and the dog's yelp of pain brought his mistress, Mrs. Frank J. Goldfuss.

Mrs. Goldfuss called her husband and together they pursued Fox in their car. They overtook him two blocks away.

"Why did you kick my dog?" Mrs. Goldfuss cried.

Fox drew his gun, took the Goldfuss' car and started to drive away.

Motorcycle Policeman Connie Poules roared up.

Fox put his gun to his head. Twice he pulled the trigger and twice the gun failed to fire. He was disarmed, the money was recovered, and Fox was taken to the north Oakland police station.

There Fox made his last snatch—for the FBI gun that killed him.

GIRLS BATTLE OVER NUDE BATHERS

HONG KONG—(AP)—The modesty of young women in a nearby Chinese village was the cause of a bitter battle recently between villagers and visiting nude bathers, in which seven were arrested and two hospitalized. The fight started over the bathers making their ablutions at a spot where the villagers go for their supply of drinking water. This so upset the young women of the place that they refused to go there for water and appealed to the village elders for assistance.
