Deer Park Skiing Area Will Open After December 15

Deer park will not be open for skiing until after December 15, according to Olympic National Park Ranger Charles Browne, who made the announcement at the Ski Club meeting Wednesday night.

The ranger said only about six inches of snow is on the Deer park slopes now, and this may melt before more snow falls. Last year when the skiing area opened on December 14, skiers found good snow conditions on the north slope and lower meadow. Depth of the snow varied from 18 inches to three feet.

TWO SKI TOWS

Deer park lodge will be operated this year by National Park Concessions Incorporated and managed by John Savage. The park service has remodeled and improved the lodge, so it is in better condition than previously, the ranger said. Larry Winters will run two ski tows at the recreation area this year—one in the lower meadow and one to the upper slopes.

The road to Deer park will be open officially only on weekends, the park service says. Crews will start opening the road on Friday afternoons. Park officials have not decided whether or not they will permit traffic on week days if the road is free of snow.

Representatitves forming a high school ski club were present at Wednesday's meeting. They plan to organize for the present as a branch of the Olympic Ski Club.

Following the meeting Park Naturalist Gunnar Fagerlund showed movies of the volcanic eruptions in Hawaii in 1940 and 1942.

The next regular meeting of the Ski Club will be December 8.

New Scoreboard Here For Tonight's Game

The new electric football scoreboard purchased by the Port Angeles Lions Club for Civic Field will be in operation at tonight's homecoming game between North Kitsap and Roosevelt high.

The board arrived here yesterday, and workmen started immediately on the complicated installation and hookup.

Chief feature of the board is the electric clock, eight feet in diameter, controlled by the timekeeper from the field and serving as the official game clock. The board, 16 feet wide and 14 feet high, also shows home and visiting team scores, down, yards to go, and quarter. It was designed and built by Ralph "Pest" Welch, former University of Washington football coach.

G. B. Chamberlin, president of the Lions Club, will present the board to City Commissioner William S. Johnson, representing the city, in a brief presentation ceremony tonight.

The club will dedicate the board to the late Nels Sutherland, its past president, who originally backed the move to put a scoreboard at the field. Later the club will affix a bronze plaque to the scoreboard in his memory.

The scoreboard cost $1,200. The club is helping defray the cost through ticket sales for its Civic Drama Guild play series here.

Safety Inspection Deadline Nears

The state patrol's safety lane on C street has been idle a good part of this week, although the deadline for inspection is getting close, Sgt. Clifford Aden said today.

Aden said all passenger vehicle licenses from Q-1 to Q-7000 will be delinquent after November 15.

The deadline was October 31 for truck licenses from TQ-1 to TQ-3000, and for all miscellaneous vehicles for hire, stages, buses, diesel trucks, commercial trailers, and city, county and state vehicles. All such vehicles are delinquent now.

Aden says patrolmen will start immediately to check for inspection stickers. Cars with red stickers which have passed their 10-day limit will be impounded, he declared.

How County Got the Strip of Lakeside Timberland Back On the Local Taxrolls

III.

By C. N. Webster

By selling 19 acres of taxtitle timberland at Lake Crescent in March 1938. Clallam county achieved the always desired result of "getting the land back on the taxrolls" where it would produce revenue for local government.

The harm which logging would do to that steep hillside, midway along the lake's north shore, evidently received no consideration.

Indeed, the nominal sale price of $175 suggests that the county government didn't even realize that the property contained any valuable timber.

But what other value could it have? Located on the hillside, it had no access to the lakeshore, nor even to the road.

Actually it contained somewhere near half a million feet of old growth fir. And even that wasn't the only value which the county's customer, J. M. Eyre, saw in it, as appeared later.

When Francis Jarnagin purchased the timber on the 19 acres from Eyre for $1,200, early in 1941, he had to buy adjoining land to obtain needed rights-of-way for removing the timber. He bought two acres from Clallam county for $30 and four acres from Frank Thompson for $400, making his total investment $1,630 on 25 acres.

That $1,630 was the sum which E. R. Nailor set out to raise the first of April 1941 in order to prevent further logging. Jarnagin had agreed to sell for the amount of his investment and to remove only the trees already cut.

But this $1,630 presently had to be increased to $2,030 because the logger's $1,200 had purchased only the timber rights on the main 19 acres.

FULL TITLE WAS COSTLY

Since their objective was to get the property into federal ownership, the group of temporary investors had to acquire complete title. Uncle Sam wouldn't buy timber rights only.

To acquire complete title to the 19 acres cost them $400 in addition to the $1,200 for timber rights.

That extra $400 was the Eyre family's price for title to the invisible mineral and surface value, which they had retained when selling the visible timber value for $1,200.

Manganese ore has been found scattered all along the high ridge ending at Lake Crescent narrows, but the only ore ever found worth mining was at the Crescent mine west of the lake—half a dozen miles west of the Eyre property.

Upon selling the timber rights, J. M. Eyre had deeded the mineral rights on the property to his three children. This deed was recorded at the courthouse March 17, 1941.

So with the additional $400 which Nailor raised in April, Jarnagin got deeds from J. M. Eyre to the land itself and from Harry Eyre, Jane Eyre Lawrence and Ella Eyre Peterson to the mineral rights. All of these deeds were recorded April 22, 1941, thereby clearing the title for transfer to the temporary holding group pending government acquisition.

COUNTY WAS SATISFIED

Jarnagin estimated the total timber stand on the 25 acres at 400,000 board feet. He said the trees which he cut and removed totalled 146,000 feet. He said he could have cleared about $5,000 by logging the remaining 254,000 feet, which he was free to do had he not chosen to cooperate with those who wished to protect the hillside above the lake.

The U.S. forest service cruise in 1944 showed 591,000 board feet of merchantable timber on the 25 acres.

But Clallam county was satisfied to take $175 in March 1938 for the 19 hillside acres which resold three years later for $1,600 cash.

All three county commissioners signed their approval of Eyre's $175 offer dated February 8, 1938.

Apparently they were satisfied to do so without any further evaluation because the offer exceeded the delinquency at foreclosure totalling $107.51 (taxes $65.57, interest $41.84); and because the offer was close to the last assessed valuation of $190. All of these figures were seven years old, but these items are the traditional sale value indicators used by county commissioners.

ASSESSED VALUE JUMPS

However, directly after Clallam county sold the 19 acres for $175, it valued them for tax purposes at $421.

This was not based on a cruise. The county never had a cruise of this property.

And since assessed valuation is supposed to be one-half the real value, that meant that the county considered the property which it sold for $175 was really worth $842.

But even if the county didn't get much sale price, it "got the property back on the taxrolls."

Not right away, though. When the county sells property it doesn't start to put it back on the taxrolls until the first of the following year. And the first tax doesn't become payable until March 15 of the second year.

Thus on the property which Eyre purchased March 19, 1938, no tax was payable until March 15, 1940. He had two years tax free. It takes time "to get property back on the taxrolls."

Meanwhile this property's only visible value—its timber—could have been logged off without ever paying any taxes. The county then would foreclose on the land again, in accordance with time-honored procedure, after five years taxes are delinquent.

In this case however the taxes had to be paid in order to show the clear title required by the United States.

In the 10½ years of private ownership, 1938-48, Clallam county received about $137 taxes on the 19 acres. Added to the $175 sale price, this made total revenue of $312.

This was not net gain because it costs the county something to levy and collect annual taxes, and to foreclose and sell property.

SEPARATE SALE

In fact this particular piece of property was sold at a special sale. It was the only county property advertised for sale on the day Eyre bought it for the minimum authorized price of $175—March 19, 1938. The regular monthly sale of county property had occurred a week earlier.

Normally this application would have been held over for the next monthly sale. But County Treasurer W. A. Baar chose to offer this item separately. That might have helped reduce the possibility of competitive bidding. But the sale was duly advertised three times, and anybody could have bid on it.

LOST FOREST REVENUE

Offsetting the county's $312 gross revenue on this Lake Crescent property was a subsequent loss of revenue from Olympic National Forest timber sales. Every year 25% of national forest revenue goes to the four Olympic peninsula counties. But when national forest timber is sold as "an exchange" for land, the counties do not get their usual 25% cut.

The United States acquired the 25 acres of Lake Crescent hillside this year "in exchange" for $3,000 of national forest timber elsewhere. Therefore the four counties lost the 25% portion ($750) of that $3,000 timber sale. Clallam county's share of the $750 loss was one-third or $250.

Thus the county lost in the end about as much revenue as it gained by selling that 19 acres of Lake Crescent hillside.

Owing to its high scenic value, Clallam county never should have let that strip of Lake Crescent hillside go back into private ownership.

Having decided to sell, the county was as heedless of the land's timber value as of its scenic value.

But, for a while, it did "get the land back on the taxrolls."

REACH COLD BAY

COLD BAY, Alaska —(AP)— After completing her flight up the Aleutian Island chain with a 700-mile hop from Adak to this "end of-the-line" community, a British round-the-world aviatrix planned today to continue to Anchorage.

Mrs. Richard Morrow-Tait and her navigator, Michael Townsend, arrived here in their single-engined plane shortly after 5 p. m Pacific standard time yesterday.

Tojo Must Die With Six Other Jap War Lords

By Russell Brines

TOKYO—(AP)—Death on the gallows was decreed today for Hideki Tojo, the cold, calculating Japanese who led his country to ruin in the world's bloodiest war, and six of his 24 top leaders.

Life imprisonment was meted out to 16 others, including the Marquis Kochi Kido, close adviser to the emperor.

Aging, peg-legged Mamoru Shigemitsu, the statesman who hobbled aboard the battleship Missouri to sign the surrender terms in Tokyo bay, got seven years imprisonment.

CONVICT 25 LEADERS

An 11-nation court convicted all 25 defendants of war crimes. It set for more than two and a half years.

It took only 21 minutes to read the sentences.

Sir William Webb of Australia, president of the court, pronounced the sentences in a deathly silent and packed courtroom. Each man filed in separately and stood in an otherwise empty prisoner's dock to hear his sentence. Each attempted to subdue emotion, but varied reactions were noticeable.

TOJO BOWS, SMILES

Tojo took his death sentence with a wan smile. He bowed politely to the court as did most of the other men.

Seventy-four year old Gen. Jiro Minami, former war minister, seemed befuddled and surprised with his sentence of life imprisonment. Gen. Hiroshi Oshima, former ambassador to Germany, stood arrogantly as he was sentenced to life and stalked away without the polite bow.

Japanese greeted the sentence in varied ways. Some said they thought more would be hanged and others said they were sorry for the defendants.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, allied occupation commander, set Nov. 19 as the deadline for petitions in behalf of the defendants to be submitted to him as reviewing officer of the tribunal's decision.

M'ARTHUR HAS POWER

MacArthur may reduce any of the sentences but he can not increase them.

No date for the carrying out of the sentences was set.

A close guard was placed on all of the Japanese for fear some might try to take their own lives.

Walla Walla Escapee Captured in Indiana

FORT WAYNE, Ind.—(AP)—A man who identified himself as one of two life term prisoners who escaped from the state prison at Walla Walla, Wash., was captured here today by two patrolmen, but a companion escaped.

The man gave his name as George Willard Madison, 38, of Spokane, Wash. He said the other man was Edward Griffith, 34, who he said escaped with him. He did not know Griffith's home city.

Patrolmen Elmer Gallmier and Carey King said they found the two men asleep in a car.

The officers said Griffith broke away while being questioned and ran to a nearby river. The officers fired several shots but they said Griffith apparently swam safely to the opposite bank.

The car in which the men were found belongs to Mrs. Mary Cairnes, Eagle, Idaho. The officers quoted Madison as saying he and Griffith stole it at Freewater, Ore., the day after they escaped from prison.

Madison told the officers he and Griffith came here yesterday after failing to find employment in Chicago. They hoped to obtain farm work here.

Madison said he had served 18 years and Griffith 14 years, both on murder charges. He said they had been trustees at the prison and walked away from the institution.

Russia Launches World-Wide Peace Offensive

By Frances W. Carpenter

PARIS—(AP)—High western delegation sources said today Russia has launched a new "propaganda peace offensive" around the world. The west, they said, plans to meet it at every point.

One leading delegate to the United Nations assembly told reporters privately that Russia is exploiting the reported possibility of a meeting between President Truman and Prime Minister Stalin for such propaganda purposes.

The delegate, who would not permit reporters to identify him, said the Russians are becoming more and more disturbed because, despite their propaganda, the line-up in the assembly against them is 52 to 6. Their propaganda had more effect when the assembly was meeting in New York, the delegate said, but here the west consistently has won bigger majorities.

SEEK TO DENT WEST

Therefore the Russians seized upon the Truman-Stalin conference idea in an effort to dent the western position, and turned all their propaganda guns loose on it, the delegate added.

The United States delegation to the assembly, meanwhile, refused to say anything on the reports of a possible meeting of Stalin and Mr. Truman. They maintained their position that they knew nothing about it here.

The delegation spokesman would not confirm or deny whether the subject would be discussed by U. S. Secretary of State Marshall and President Truman when Marshall returns to Washington.

There was no indication at the UN headquarters as to when Marshall will return to the United States.

Informed sources said they expected that the secretary of state would remain in Paris as long as developments warranted.

It is known here, however, that Marshall stands on his previously expressed desire to return to private life.

Informed delegation sources said Marshall took the job on condition that he would not serve beyond the end of President Truman's present term.

Milk Producer Group Believes Labor Law Should Be Tightened

PORTLAND, Ore. — (AP)—The National Cooperative Milk Producers Association believes the Taft-Hartley law "should be strengthened, rather than weakened."

The 700 delegates urged amendments preventing any attempt by unions to interfere with farm-to-market deliveries and to provide the right of injunction against secondary boycotts.

They also asked an anti-trust law to prevent unions from organizing farmers.

Demo Commanders Fly to Havana

Senator Alben W. Barkley, the vice president-elect; Senator J. Howard McGrath, democratic national chairman; and Leslie L. Biffle, director of the senate democratic policy committee, planned to be gone only a few hours, however.

McGrath flew here from Washington yesterday to step up the pace of discussions looking to a reorganization of the administration.

He would not comment on what recommendations he had in mind, but told reporters he believed the president would forgive the "venial" sins by democratic officials, if they were not the "mortal" sins that "kill the soul."

At the same time, other sources close to the president said there would be numerous changes in top level jobs, in addition to some in the cabinet, as the aftermath of the presidential election campaign.

Large Cargo of Arms On Way to China

BREMERTON, Wash. —(AP)— A naval attack cargo ship was reported to have sailed from the naval ammunition depot near here two days ago with a cargo of small arms ammunition for China.

The Bremerton Sun and the Seattle Post-Intelligencer both reported the sailing. The newspapers said the shipment was reportedly bound for China. Naval sources refused to comment.

The newspapers said loading into naval attack transports at the naval depot at nearby Bangor have been carried on the last eight days on a two-shift basis with 150 men employed. The cargo of the first ship was listed as 1,800 tons of .30 and .45 caliber ammunition. The Post-Intelligencer also quoted its Washington bureau as saying that the consignment was known to include 42 P-47 fighter planes.

Both Chinese and American sources in Washington have reported that the first major shipment of American guns and ammunition to China since the communist sweep in Manchuria was nearly ready for departure. The report has not been confirmed officially.

The Dewey Mustache Club is in a lather. Organized in the defeated Republican candidate's home town, Owosso, Mich., with members pledged to grow Dewey hair-lips, it recently held final rites, with victorious Democrats shaving off the GOP mustaches. Lee Janssen, president of the club, has his removed by Gino Caruso, a staunch Democrat. Looking on are William Mills and Dave Dreuth, right, the latter waiting his turn.

New Vandenberg Pledge to Help Friendly Nations Build Defenses Cheers Demos

By Jack Bell

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A new GOP pledge to help friendly nations regain their feet defensively raised administration hopes today for republican backing of the forthcoming arms-for-Europe program.

In a declaration aimed pointedly at Moscow, Senator Vandenberg of Michigan put his fellow congressional republicans on record—as nearly as any one man can—in favor of helping western Europe to defend itself.

The Michigan senator, who steps down in January as chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, told the Reserve Officers Association in Philadelphia last night:

"While never neglecting prudent conservation of our own resources, we shall aid other friendly, independent nations to stand on their own feet in the defense of their own freedom. Western civilization shall survive."

WARNING TO MOSCOW

Vandenberg put this warning to Moscow on top of another assertion: That it would be a dangerous miscalculation for the Kremlin to believe that President Truman's election means any softening in American opposition to further Russian expansion.

While he did not specifically promise support of any military aid plan, Vandenberg's statement seemed to represent a step beyond the point he was willing—or able—to reach in his United Nations resolution which the republican-controlled senate adopted last June. That resolution pledged only:

"Progressive development of regional and other collective arrangements for individual and collective self-defense in accordance with the purposes, principles and provisions of the (United Nations) charter.

"Association of the United States, by constitutional process, with such ... arrangements as are based on continuous and effective self-held and mutual aid, and as affect its national security."

It was under that rather vague mandate that the Truman administration began talks with western European nations about their arms needs. These talks are about to be stepped up—perhaps with 12 instead of the original seven nations taking part.

Administration leaders made it plain that, while they had few doubts about his views, they are happy to have this public word.

Mixed Drinks to Cost 60 to 75 Cents in Restaurants of State

SEATTLE—(AP)—Washington State restauranteurs who have been wearing out pencils since Nov. 2, figuring costs, prices and profits under the new liquor-by-the-drink law, have come up with this:

Mixed drinks will generally cost probably 65 to 75 cents.

R. W. Dale, manager of the Washington State Restaurant Association, said they will be somewhat higher than in eastern bars because holders of the new class H licenses must still buy stocks from the state liquor control board.

The new law allows license holders a 15 per cent discount from retail prices at state liquor stores, but all taxes and the state's markup will be figured in first.

Drinks in most eastern bars average 55 cents, Dale said.

Sophoulis Government In Greece Resigns

ATHENS—(AP)—Premier Themistokles Sophoulis handed the resignation of his coalition Greek government to King Paul today. The king accepted it.

Sophoulis said the king would summon Foreign Minister Constantin Tsaldaris, leader of the Populist party, to the palace to discuss the cabinet crisis before asking any leader or group to form a new government.

Sophoulis' coalition liberal-populist cabinet had been in power since Sept. 7, 1947.

Venizelos charged the government in 14 months had failed to suppress the communist rebellion and lacked the confidence of the Greek people. He claimed enough support from his followers in the liberal party to combine with opposition parties and overthrow the government in parliament.

Urges Special Session Over China's Plight

Bridges made the suggestion in a statement issued from his office here. Bridges himself was in Des Moines, Iowa, for a speech.

The republican senator is chairman of the special "watch dog congressional committee" on foreign aid. That group was set up to keep check on the multi-billion dollar expenditures of this country for foreign aid both in Europe and the far east.

Bridges said he fears that unless American aid is made effective immediately the communists will take "over the whole of China lock, stock and barrel."

A special session of congress, he said, would allow the administration "to place the real facts before congress and the American public" regarding the Chinese situation.

Nationalists in Victory Over Reds At Suchow

By Harold K. Milks

NANKING —(AP)— Savage nationalists attacks reportedly routed nine red columns at the Grand canal today in the mammoth Suchow battle.

The communists, pro-government newspapers said, withdrew in disorder, leaving 37,000 dead and wounded. They had tried to sneak 135,000 Tsinan veterans across the canal for an attack on Suchow's left flank, 30 miles east of the government bastion.

(The communist radio heard in Peiping, said the reds were annihilating the seventh national army corps east of Suchow and had cooped up the second army corps west of the town. The red radio said two national divisions went over to the communists on Monday north of Suchow).

FIGHT WAS BLOODY

The fight at the canal was bloody. The nationalists were credited with turning back more than 20 red charges. The reds, reports said, were using what the Chinese call "human sea" tactics—waves of men charging almost shoulder to shoulder.

Automatic weapons and low flying strafing planes took a heavy toll.

The newspapers called it a major victory. But observers agreed that at best it might only delay the red timetable by three weeks at most. The big battle of Suchow, largest in Asiatic history, is still to be decided.

More than 1,000,000 combatants have been committed by the warring Chinese factions.

The Catholic newspaper, Yi Shih Pao, said President Chiang Kai-Shek flew to Suchow, 170 miles to the northwest, during the canal battle. This report was not confirmed. But it was obvious that the government was now throwing as much prestige as possible into the struggle.

MAY MOVE CAPITAL

Foreign diplomats in Nanking generally expected Chiang to order the capital transferred southward in view of his decision to carry on what he calls his "eight years of war" against the reds.

Several said, however, that such a move "must be made soon or no diplomats will be able to accompany it." That was how critically they viewed Nanking's future.

American dependents were leaving in U. S. air force and marine transport planes operating from the same busy Nanking airfield used by Chinese war craft. They were being flown to Shanghai and Tsingtao to board ships for home.

All dependents in Nanking, originally numbering about 1,000, were expected to be out of the troubled city by midnight.

Red Newspapers Say Truman Obligated To Visit Stalin

BERLIN, —(AP)— Russian controlled newspapers contended today that President Truman "obligated" himself in pre-election promises to go to Moscow and see Prime Minister Stalin.

The papers hinted that at least Secretary of State George C. Marshall should go to Moscow for direct negotiations on east-west differences.

Goes Into Bus Business in Big Way, With a Stolen Vehicle; Walks Away With the Fares

NEW YORK—(AP)—An enterprising young man stole a big Eighth Avenue bus from a transit garage Thursday night and ran it over its regular route, collecting fares.

Business was fine until the negro free-lance operator sideswiped a taxicab near 42nd Street.

He kept right on going, but a few blocks farther on he crashed into a taxicab and overturned it at 2 a.m. today

No one was injured, but an ambulance and police radio cars converged on the scene.

That was the last seen of him. And the lone passenger in the bus at the time couldn't furnish a description.

Company officials called for their slightly-dented bus at a police station. They were glad to get it back, but couldn't help wondering how many fares they had been clipped for.

One of Labor Law's Parents Sees Some Big Changes Coming

WASHINGTON —(AP)— One of the Taft-Hartley law's parents expects to see his "baby" rechristened — but in a slightly different dress.

Retiring Chairman Fred A. Hartley (R-NJ) of the house labor committee made these predictions to reporters:

1. The ban on the closed shop will be junked by the new congress.

2. The prohibition against secondary boycotts will be modified.

3. Jurisdictional strikes will remain outlawed, and—

4. The injunction and other procedures for dealing with strikes affecting the national health and safety will be retained.

This is the way Hartley looks for that to come about:

"First, they will repeal the whole thing. They have to get rid of that Taft-Hartley name. Then they will write most of it back into law. Remember, if the Taft-Hartley law is repealed outright, all that remains of the new deal's Wagner act is repealed right along with it."

Poll Results Showed $60 Minimum Pension Favored Before Voting

PULLMAN—(AP)—A poll taken well ahead of the election—before voters "splintered" such polls generally—shows that 60 per cent of Washington residents queried favored a $60 minimum for old age pensioners.

Initiative 172, adopted by voters last week, contains such a provision. The Washington Public Opinion Laboratory, which took the poll last May on the state's pension program, released results Wednesday.

Other provisions of the initiative favored included:

The name of the state public asistance department should be changed from "department of public assistance" to "department of social security." Fifty-three per cent favored the change and 26 per cent opposed it.

Heirs of a pensioner should get all of his property when he dies. Forty-four per cent favored it; 10 per cent thought the state or agency should get part; and 23 per cent thought the state should take all.

However, 50 per cent thought the state should get any money advanced to the pensioner and only 42 per cent thought his heirs should get all the property.

Chrysler Auto Men Idled After Dispute

DETROIT — (AP)—A dispute over production standards kept approximately 12,500 Chrysler Corp. workers idle.

The disciplining of two men for failing to meet the rates was involved and three plants of the big automobile company were affected.

As a consequence, the company said, 100 machine shop employes quit.

This mushroomed into a series of plant closings and strikes of other workers. A pile-up of bodies at the Kercheval avenue plant also figured in the curtailment.

FIREMEN SAVE BABY

SEATTLE —(AP)— A Seattle woman credited two firemen today with saving the life of her four-months-old daughter.

Mrs. F. D. Hofius said she found the baby in its crib, eyes staring and body turning blue. She put in a rush call and said the firemen arrived within three minutes with oxygen apparturs.

Too worried to look on, Mrs. Hofius waited in an adjoining room while the men worked over her baby. In a few minutes, the child's cries told her the battle was won.

The firemen are Henry E. Magill and Elmer F. Gray. The baby is named Judith Anne.

Farmers Feed Hogs With Shovel Instead Of Spoon; Coming: More Meat—Eventually

By William Ferris

CHICAGO —(AP)— Corn today is fed to hogs with a shovel instead of a spoon. That's the opposite of last year at this time. And it's all right with hogs, which don't mind eating anytime they aren't sleeping.

Furthermore, the little pigs of next spring's crop are going to find living—and eating—just grand. In comparison with the number of animals to eat it, there's never been so much food around for livestock.

It isn't just hogs which will enjoy this increased feeding. Cattle and poultry also will share in it. And, eventually, it will mean more for humans.

RECORD CORN CROP

By now, nearly everyone knows about the record-breaking corn crop. But there's a lot of oats, barley and sorghum grain. There probably will be a good supply of molasses—it's sprayed on coarse grains because then the livestock eat more of them.

The agricultural department today estimated "the total supply of all feed concentrates for the year which began in October as 23 per cent larger than the 1947-48 supply.

"The big supply of feed in relation to livestock probably will mean a substantial increase in total quantity of concentrates fed to livestock. This increase will result principally from increased feeding per animal, although livestock numbers may also increase somewhat."

BETTER AS FEED

Much lower prices already have made it more profitable to feed corn to livestock than sell it as grain, even though hog prices are slipping. The careful spooning out of corn last winter, following the short crop, is no longer necessary.

In October, the agriculture department said, the average price received by farmers for each 100 pounds of live hog was equal to about 17.8 bushels of corn. This compared with the long-time October average of only 12.7 bushels.

Prices of dairy products are much higher than average in relation to feed prices. The department said in October dairymen fed their milk cows about 13 per cent more grain per cow than a year earlier, and about 10 per cent more than in 1946. Result: more milk per cow.

Eggs produced per hen in September, the department said, averaged about 8 per cent higher than last year, "and this also may be due partly to more liberal feeding per bird."

"At least as many cattle will be grain-fed this winter as last," the department added, "and the numbers of hogs and chickens are expected to increase in 1949."

R.B.'s Idea About Conserving Heat Was A Dandy Say Firemen

He placed a wall heat conductor around his coal furnace in the basement with the idea of directing all the heat to an opening leading to the first floor.

Firemen agreed the idea worked wonderfully. The floor above the furnace heated so well it caught fire. Firemen extinguished the flames without heavy damage.

Thanksgiving Turkeys For Much of Nation Shipped From Coast; Prices High This Year

SAN FRANCISCO —(AP)— Turkeys are moving from the Pacific Coast by the carloads for the Thanksgiving market.

Nearly a fourth of the nation's supply of the festive bird will come this year from Washington, Oregon and California.

The country's crop is short — smallest in 10 years. The department of agriculture estimates it at 31,710,000 birds. The record is 44,221,000, produced in 1945.

Cold storage stocks also are low, about half the 5-year average. The total on Oct. 1, latest figure available, was 14,881,000 pounds. A year ago it was 38,979,000 pounds. Those are the national figures.

So you can expect to pay a pretty penny for that Thanksgiving bird. Trade circles here hint at prices of 75 to 80 cents a pound for young, hens, the most in demand. The current wholesale price for dressed hens is 64-66 cents.

If you want more meat for your money, you can buy the heavier but cheaper tom turkeys. They usually sell for about 10 cents a pound less.

California, leading turkey state since 1943, is expected to raise 4,544,000 birds this year, 12 per cent over 1947. Washington's production is placed at 1,121,000, same as last year, and Oregon's at 1,557,000, down 5 per cent. The total of 7,222,000 compares with 6,817,000 last year and 10,400,000 in the record year of 1945.

Farm turkey receipts in the three coast states totaled just under $50,000,000 last year.

Strong market prospects, high prices and declining feed costs point to higher returns this year

Senator Predicts Repeal of Federal Tax On Oleomargarine

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Senator Fulbright (D-Ark) said yesterday the new democratic-controlled congress is certain to repeal federal taxes on oleomargarine.

Fulbright already is working on a bill which would knock out these taxes. Under the constitution, tax legislation must originate in the house, but Fulbright could offer his repealer as an amendment to any tax measure the house sent to the senate.

However, Fulbright said a number of house members are planning to offer repeal legislation soon after the new session begins in January.

There was a big scrap over the taxes in the last congress. Backers of the taxes succeeded in blocking a repealer.

"But I'm certain we have the votes as well as the groundwork completed for repeal in the new congress," Fulbright told a reporer.

Gasoline Price Hiked By Standard Oil

SEATTLE —(AP)— Standard Oil Co. of California announced yesterday a price boost of two-tenths of a cent a gallon on its tank wagon price of automotive gasoline.

The increase, effective tomorrow morning, applies to the company's entire system covering seven western states, Alaska and Hawaii.

Current tank wagon prices are 19.4 cents a gallon for regular grade, 20.9 cents for ethyl. Retail prices have been 23.4 and 25.4 cents, respectively.

Standard also announced boosts of four-tenths of a cent a gallon in diesel and heating oil prices and 10 cents a barrel in fuel oil. The company said the boost is "to meet the recent general wage increase, as well as rising prices for virtually all purchased supplies."

California Fires Are Under Control

SANTA ANA, Calif. —(AP)—Weary crews ending a week-long battle, late yesterday brought under control a brush blaze which burned over 47,000 acres in the Santa Ana mountains east of here.

Supervisor Hamilton Pyles of the Cleveland National Forest said, however, large crews would be required for several days to forestall any possible revival.

A new blaze in Woods canyon, behind the artists colony of Laguna Beach, also was reported controlled today by E. F. Austerman, associate state ranger. He estimated the burn at approximately 300 acres.

Residents returned, meanwhile, to Silverado and Modjeska canyons, 50 miles southeast of Los Angeles, from which they were evacuated Monday during the height of the fire.

NEW DIRECTOR

SPOKANE — (AP)—The appointment of R. E. Brown of Spokane as director of the Farm Credit Administration for the Spokane area was announced yesterday by Judge Dana E. Brinck.

He succeeds Henry Sheffels, Great Falls, Mont.

Second Memorial To FDR Unveiled Today in London

LONDON — (AP) — The second memorial to the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt dedicated this year in London will be unveiled in Westminister Abbey today.

The specially designed plaque is a more modest symbol of remembrance than the heroic statute unveiled in Grosvenor Square last April by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

It will, however, be an unusually significant memorial in that the late president will be the first head of a foreign state ever so honored in Westminster Abbey. Furthermore, the plaque will occupy the last remaining niche in the Abbey.

STOMACH AILMENTS, WEAK KIDNEYS, RHEUMATIC PAINS, ARTHRITIS, NEURITIS

Drugless Health!

NO MATTER how long you have been suffering from stomach, kidney and rheumatic distress, and what drugs you have tried before, you can, now, hope for relief if you take GEO-MINERAL. With your eyes SEE the results seven days after you start taking it.

DRUGGISTS, Chemists cannot make GEO-MINERAL. It comes from the earth — Nature's laboratory. Contains NO dope, NO alcohol, NO oil. ONLY Nature's minerals—the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments.

Wonder Minerals

FOR THOUSANDS of years sufferers, on advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to get cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Mineral Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there twice a year.

WE HAVE all heard of the miraculous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece, where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters, and bathed to be forever young.

IF YOU ARE a sufferer, and can not go to the mineral springs, try GEO-MINERAL which contains a blend of the same minerals that can be found at the world's best springs. The minerals in it may work miracles.

Amazing Results

WATCH your elimination from your bowels two or three days after you start using GEO-MINERAL. The waste, black as coal, will break away and you will SEE it! Also examine your urine. You may see impurities—poisonous waste—coming out of your kidneys, and feel the relief. Be sure to watch for all this to realize its priceless value.

MEDICAL records show 65% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional mineral-iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, tired, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite when your eyes lack that bright spark and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and life seems not worth living, with worry wearing you down—it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. GEO-MINERAL is then what you need.

Read What They Say!

"We wish to state that after selling Geo-Mineral for eight months, this product has broken all sales records in the medicine line in our drug store"—reports Jack Wright, owner of Economy Drug Co., Anderson, S. C. "Users report almost miraculous results, helping sufferers with rheumatism, arthritis, weak kidneys, and various stomach ailments. We believe that there exist very few items on the druggists' shelf with the merit of this natural mineral medicine. Of thousands of bottles sold on guarantee basis, there have been very few refunds.

100% Guaranteed!

WE URGE everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money.

REGARDLESS of how long you have been suffering, and how many medicines you have tried before, GEO-MINERAL may be the remedy you need!

TRY it today! It may do wonders for you—and be the best investment for your health. Make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better.

Battle of Networks Is Now War of Nerves

HOLLYWOOD —(AP)— The battle of the networks reached the war of nerves stage today as NBC tried to work out a several million dollar deal to keep Jack Benny in its stable.

CBS gave up on the Benny front, and went after Edgar Bergen. NBC is reported to have $4,000,000 or close to it ready for the Waukegan wit.

"They are paying out money to hold on to what they already have, while we have only to pay out to add to what we already own." CBS executive told the Hollywood Reporter, a movie trade paper.

NBC is countering efforts of CBS to raid its star list. The method: capital gains deals such as the one that switched Amos 'N' Andy to CBS.

"How is the Benny deal going to set with Hope, Cantor, Durante and other NBC stars who will want the same treatment!" A CBS man remarked to the reporter's Joel Murcott. He hinted that dissatisfied stars might turn to the younger network, joining successful shows such as Suspense, Arthur Godfrey. My Friend Irma and Crime Photographer, recently developed by CBS' programming division.

The big talent scramble—aimed at building up listener interest during the winter season—was intensified by the latest listener surveys. Hooper ratings gave NBC a 10-5 edge over CBS in the first 16 programs; Neilsen gave CBS a 9-4 margin in the first 20 shows it rated.

The ratings include Mutual and American Network programs.

Forks Logging Firm Has Contract For New PenPly Operation in Bear Creek Fir Tract

By Jack Henson

The Sandberg Logging Company of Forks is logging the Peninsula Plywood Corporation's 22,000,000 board feet of timber in the area tapped by the Bear creek road, completed November 1 by the Howard Clevenger Company.

The timber was purchased from the state and Olympic National Forests.

The company is operating what is known as a side and a half. The full side has two big donkeys, a yarder and a loader. The half side has but one donkey, supplemented with a cat and arch. Both have full-size spar trees.

When one side is closed for change of rigging or some other cause, crews can be used at the other side, Herman Sandberg, senior member of the firm, explained Tuesday.

Including the bucking and falling crews and drivers of the six logging trucks, 45 men are employed.

Tuesday the crews had two spar trees in the upper Bear creek valley, taking out logs from the south slope of a rather low hill. Much of the hillside was logged years ago by railroad, by the Bloedel-Donovan Logging Company. Two fires swept over a portion of the hillside, leaving many white snags. Timber now being logged is from small remaining patches, not accessible to railroad logging or not owned by the Bloedel-Donovan Logging Company.

At the half side crews are building a cat road along a draw in the hills where a fair stand of timber remains. High rigger Emil Hill had just completed changing the block far up on the other spar tree and a bulldozer was clearing away stumps and logs for a landing place for loading trucks.

From up along the ridge of the hill we could hear the fallers yelling "Timber!" and between crashes the sound of axes and saws. We had a momentary glimpse of bull bucker Chet Binkie as he left the filing shed for the woods after lunch.

Woods Boss Ernest Hanowell was bossing the block changing and the crew clearing the landing stage at the easterly spar tree.

CAN LOG IN WINTER

At the two spar trees the new road runs along the banks of Bear creek, at places following the old logging railroad grade. Winter logging will be possible because of the low altitude of the present operations. Trucks roll down a slight grade about six miles to the Olympic highway, and haul logs to the PenPly log pond here over that highway.

More than a million feet of timber is cut monthly. In the spring a setup will be made further along the road to log the stand of virgin timber near road's end in the South Bear creek valley.

Herman Sandberg, senior member of the firm, is an old time logging camp blacksmith who has worked in Olympic peninsula woods for a generation. Junior member is his son Olger Sandberg, an experienced logger.

Before starting at Bear creek the firm logged in the Bonnie Du valley east of the Calawah river, hauling the logs by way of the Riverside bridge across the Soleduck river and on the Olympic highway to Port Angeles.

The firm has three GMC diesel trucks, one Kenworthy and three Internationals and plans to keep six trucks hauling steadily. Tuesday, Clarence Hart, independent trucker also was hauling for the firm.

Other equipment includes two bulldozers, a Skagit 275 hp yarder, Skagit 125 hp loader and Washington 150 hp loader.

RECALLS BLACKSMITHING

Herman Sandberg cannot forget his blacksmithing days. He has a small open air shop beside the road and hammers out logging hooks and other items at his forge.

An interesting sight in upper Bear creek was several much battered spawning silver salmon that had fought their way up the Quillayute and Soleduck rivers and Bear creek. The salmon had gone through a half dozen culverts carrying Bear creek across the road.

Howard Clevenger Company, road builders, seemed to have built extra well on the project. Striking feature is the large size of culverts, up to 122 by 72 inches of corrugated iron. Another noticeable feature is the road's width and the smoothness and solidness of the road bed. Although heavy frost was present several days previous to Tuesday, the road was not badly cut up by the heavy trucks.

Three Speak At Lincoln PTA Meet

In observance of National Book Week, Lincoln school PTA heard Mrs. Evelyn Bowen, Mrs. Hazel Duncan and Helen Koster during its regular meeting Thursday evening. Mrs. Bowen is Clallam county librarian, Mrs. Duncan state PTA chairman for reading and library services and Miss Koster, Lincoln school librarian.

Mrs. Bowen stated the bookmobile has established a new record with the recent issue of 519 books in one day to county patrons.

She pointed out the county library contains 10,000 volumes and that 62,000 books have been borrowed since the library unit opened. Mrs. Bowen traced the development of literature and books from the time of the early horn book to the modern Newberry and Caldecott award winners.

Mrs. Hazel Duncan, from the Washington Congress of PTA and Kitsap county librarian, explained the development and history of the county library plan in the state.

More than 453,000 persons are still without library services in Washington, according to Mrs. Duncan, although 16 county library units are now in operation.

Miss Koster, discussing the value of libraries to school children, said the school library is the most powerful tool in a modern school. Interest in reading, establishing proper reading habits, and providing for rich reading experiences are the goals of the school library program, she declared.

PROGRAM

The Boys' Junior high school quartet, composed of Duane Pringle George Johnson, Duane Stanard and Billy Albright and directed by Robert Fowells, sang several numbers. They responded with the "End of a Perfect Day" for an encore.

During the business meeting Mrs Cyril Fitchard announced that Mrs. Pearl Harman's first grade won the membership drive contest with 82 percent of the parents of this class PTA members. She also stated that the membership total has reached 233.

Mrs. James Chernut, Mrs. Elmer Button, Kamilla Aarseth and Miss Koster were hostesses for the evening.

Grange May Support Oleo Tax Repeal

PORTLAND, Me. —(AP)— Repeal of federal oleo taxes may get the grange's support.

That would be a turn-about on the part of the big farm organization. It has sided with butter's champion's in the protracted margarine-butter war.

Now, State Master C. P. Key of South Carolina said last night, there's a "general feeling" for repeal in the organization, "providing, of course, means can be found to protect the consumer against fraudulent sales of margarine as butter."

Key is chairman of a special oleo committee that will report to the current national grange convention here.

It was formed after margarine supporters failed, in the last congressional session, to get rid of the 10 cents a pound levy on colored margarine. The grange fought repeal then.

Another committee member, State Master Harry B. Caldwell of North Carolina, said he thought the consumer could be protected by making sale of margarine as butter a violation of the pure food laws.

The committee has members from butter states and from state producing soybeans and cottonseed—whose oils go into oleo.

Fairview District Considers Sending Students to Sequim

Fairview school board is asking residents of the district to attend its regular meeting next Monday night at 8 in the Grange hall. The meeting will concern sending Fairview high school students to Sequim next term instead of to Port Angeles.

Many residents feel that the children from this farming community should have the advantage of the agricultural course offered at Sequim, Chairman Ray Peterson explained.

"We hope all interested persons of the district will attend and take part in the discussion so the board can consider the majority desire in this matter," he added.

Board members are Peterson, William Jones and Mrs. Lester Hulse.

Approximately 35 Fairview students now attend Roosevelt high in Port Angeles. They ride in a bus provided by the Fairview district.
