Liberal Government Lags Behind in B. C. Provincial Election

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP) — Defeat of Premier Byron Johnson's liberal administration in Thursday's provincial election is indicated by incomplete returns.

But what government will take its place will not be known at least until July 3 — 20 days from now — when voters' second choices are counted under B. C.'s new and controversial alternative-vote system.

The prospect is that this election ended in a stalemate, no party winning a majority in the 48 - seat legislature.

When tallying of votes ended for the night, only five candidates seemed sure to be elected on the first count. All were Social Credit.

Social Credit led in the count for nine other seats, the Socialist Co-operative Commonwealth Federation for 21, the Liberals for nine, Progressive Conservatives for three and veteran Labor member Tom Uphill of Fernie for the 48th.

Premier Johnson, who had a three vote edge over a C.C.D. candidate when the first count was completed in New Westminster, said "utter confusion exists" as a result of election. Politicians and public alike agreed with him. His own seat remains in doubt until July 3.

Under the alternative system, voters may mark preferences for all candidates rather than putting down a single "X" for one candidate.

Only about one - seventh of the returns were in on liquor and daylight-time plebiscites held in conjunction with the election.

The majority of voters in favor of sale of liquor by the glass was about 2 to 1 over the drys.

In the plebiscite asking whether electors favor retention of daylight time in summer months, those in favor outnumbered those against by more than 2 to 1. The cities voted heavily for daylight time, swamping the farmer vote in rural ridings.

Under the transferable vote if no candidate receives a majority on the first count, the candidate with the fewest votes is dropped and the second choices on his ballots distributed among the others. This process is repeated through as many counts as necessary until one candidate obtains a clear majority.

Voice of America Project Employs 60

The Voice of America project payroll now totals around 60 men, mostly Port Angeles, Port Townsend and Sequim residents, a J. G. Watts Construction Co. engineer told the Evening News yesterday. He emphasized that all hiring is done through union halls, and applicants should not apply at the project for work.

All houses and livestock are now off the project boundaries. Three bulldozers are clearing land necessary for surveying and to compile information for land contour maps. A large crane also is at the site now.

Nearly completed is a "batching" apparatus, which is used for making cement. The only buildings on the project are small tool sheds and an office building where engineers and draftsmen are working.

The zone is included in the county highway department's road oiling project. "Restricted Zone" signs mark the entry to the Voice boundaries.

Hodde Thinks High Taxes Will Continue

YAKIMA (AP) — State Rep. Charles W. Hodde, candidate for governor, said Thursday he can forsee no decrease in taxes.

House Speaker Hodde, here for the State Grange convention, predicted state legislators at the 1953 session will have to seek additional revenue to build more schools.

Hodde recommended that no new welfare initiative be approved in the fall election.

Urges Residents To Display Flags

Charles Church, commander of Walter Akeley post of the American Legion, today issued a plea for all local business establishments and homes to display the American flag on Flag Day Saturday.

"During the past few years we have been very lax in displaying our flag," Church said. "Many comments have drifted back to the Legion post here about the lack of patriotism shown in not displaying our flag. Let's show visitors to our community that we are proud of our city, our country and our flag."

SOUNDED OFF—Sgt. C. D. Chase (above), Ft. Ord, Calif., wrote a letter to Gen. Mark Clark criticizing his handling of the Koje Island incident. The Army ordered Chase courtmartialed because "he went beyond personalities and criticized national policies and Congress." The sergeant forgot the 89th Article of War, which forbids showing disrespect to a superior officer.

Chicago Landlady Gets 2 Years For Toting Gun to Court

CHICAGO (AP) — Mrs. Camille de Rose, who owned the all-white suburban Cicero apartment building where race - rioting broke out last July, brought a loaded pistol into criminal court Friday and was sentenced to two years for contempt.

Policemen, advised in advance that she had threatened to "shoot up the court if I don't get justice" seized her and took the pistol from her brief case when she started shouting in court in protest against a continuance in an embezzlement case.

Judge Wilbert F. Crowley immediately sentenced her to a year in the county jail for contempt of court.

Then she screamed: "Give me life. I want to read 'Cicero housewife gets life for being a landlady.'"

Judge Crowley then sentenced her to another year and ordered her held in the criminal courts building bullpen until she is examined by a psychiatrist.

She appeared in court as key prosecution witness against George C. Adams, Negro attorney indicted on a charge of embezzling two apartment buildings from her.

One of the buildings was stoned by a mob of 5,000 persons last July after she rented living quarters to Harvey Clark Jr., a Negro bus driver.

National Guard troops were called out to restore order after three days of rioting.

French Air Force Blasts Vietminh

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — The French Air Force blasted the Communist - led Vietminh main supply line with Red China Friday in the biggest mass aerial assault since the outbreak of hostitlities six years ago.

Fifty - four fighters and 20 American - supplied B-26 bombers roared over colonial route number three, blasting all spans and fords used by the Vietminh for transporting war equipment and supplies received from China.

Route three has long been the chief Vietminh link with China, over which they have been getting more than 1,000 tons of war equipment and supplies a month.

BAKERS STILL STRIKE

By The Associated Press

AFL bakers remained on strike in three Pacific Northwest cities today, holding firmly to their demand for Sundays off—the main unsettled issue in the six-week-old dispute.

Bakers in Portland and Tacoma rejected the employers latest offer Thursday and negotiating sessions in Seattle adjourned without an agreement.

Truman Urges Govt.-Backed Civil Rights Plan

By ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman called Friday for swift adoption of an all-out civil rights program backed up by "the full force and power of the federal government."

In probably the strongest statement on race relations he has ever made, Truman took sharp issue with the leave-it-to-the-states approach taken by some leading presidential candidates in both major parties.

He declared in a speech prepared for commencement exercises at Howard University, a Negro institution:

"I am not one of those who feel that we can leave these matters up to the states alone, or that we can rely solely on the efforts of men of good will.

"Our federal government must live up to the ideals professed in our declaration of independence and the duties imposed upon it by our constitution.

"The full force and power of the federal government must stand behind the protection of rights guaranteed by our federal constitution."

Specifically, Truman called for adoption of the full civil rights program he laid before Congress in 1948 — including a Fair Employment Practices Commission with power to enforce its decrees against job discrimination based on race, creed or color.

This is the issue that brought about a Southern revolt against the Democrats in the 1948 national convention and election.

IKE'S VIEW

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower seeking the Republican presidential nomination, at Abilene, Kas., last week stated his "unalterable support of fairness and equality among all types of American citizens" and added:

"I really believe we can do more by leadership in getting the states to do it than to make it a federal compulsory thing."

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, now leading the delegate race for the GOP nomination, is on record as favoring a voluntary FEPC rather than a compulsory one.

SEN. RUSSELL'S VIEW

Of the candidates in Truman's own party, Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia is against a federal compulsory FEPC while Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee favors state action although he has said he would go along with whatever stand the national convention takes.

The President recalled after World War I, "A wave of violence and Ku Kluxism swept over the country." Since then, he said, there has been great progress toward equal opportunity for minority groups.

He said this has been achieved without any of the disorder or disunity predicted by "the prophets of doom."

"Our country," Truman said, "is founded on the proposition that all men are created equal. This means that they should be equal before the law. They should enjoy political rights. And they should have equal opportunities for education, employment and decent living conditions."

Witness Says She Lived in Terror After Murder View

TACOMA (AP) — The state's star witness in the murder trial of Bill Smith, Jr., testified Friday she lived in terror for nearly three years after she saw Smith slay Noreen McNicholas, 17 - year - old beauty college student, here in 1948.

The statement came near the end of direct testimony by Ella Mae Cooper, a classmate of the dead girl.

It was Ella Mae's hysterical outburst in July, 1951, that led to Smith's arrest a short time later in Burlingame, Calif. She told authorities then Smith was Noreen's murderer, and has repeated the story on countless occasions since.

For the most part her testimony Friday followed the pattern of that she gave at Smith's first trial last January. The curly-haired carhop, who was a fellow student of the McNicholas girl, was granted a new trial on grounds the jury had been prejudiced before it brought in a first degree murder conviction.

Defense Attorney Earl Mann began a vigorous cross-examination of Ella Mae after she ended her testimony at 10 a. m. He attacked what he called "discrepancies" in her story of how Smith and a man named "Bob" forced her to show them where Noreen lived, picked up Noreen, drove to wooded Spanaway park and stopped the car.

There, Ella Mae said, Smith and Noreen quarreled over a man she had "dated" and for whom Smith had a perverted attachment. After that Smith strangled Noreen while "Bob" kept Ella Mae from trying to help her friend.

Prosecutor John J. O'Connell has said he will inject the homosexuality issue strongly into his case. It was O'Connell's reference to Smith as an "unnatural man" in his closing arguments during the first trial that was the basis for granting a second.

HOG PRICES STEADY

CHICAGO (AP)—Another reduction in hog supplies Friday failed to maintain the upward price movement of the last two days. Most values held steady and the extreme top slipped 10 cents.

Cattle were steady to 50 cents lower, vealer calves $1.00 to $2.00 off, and sheep were weak.

PRISONERS PEACEFUL NOW—Communist prisoners of Compound 77 on Koje Island move peacefully to their new compound escorted by only a few guards. They had witnessed the savage fight in nearby Compound 76 in which 38 prisoners died and more than 150 were wounded. One American was killed and 14 wounded.

Koje Island POW Resistance Ends

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

KOJE ISLAND, Korea (AP) —Brig. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner said Friday he has cracked the resistance of Koje Island's 80,000 once-defiant Red war prisoners.

Communist-led POWs knuckled under four times Friday to United Nations authority. Boatner, the tough prison camp commander, then suspended for two or three days operations to break up the large groups of prisoners. This was to permit construction of new enclosures.

Boatner would not go so far as to say that all resistance is ended. But it is "definitely on the ebb and I believe the worst is over," he told a newsman.

"I would not be at all surprised at some future incidents . . . but I have plans to cope with them."

Three prisoner compounds bowed meekly to Allied authority. Then prisoners in another, No. 85, responded to an ultimatum by Boatner and surrender 21 anti-Communist prisoners.

"I want no speeches," the hard-bitten commander told five Red compound leaders. "Get back to that compound and release those men by 5 p.m.!"

At 4:55, the leaders delivered the 21 to the compound gate. Three of the 21 dashed their Red-starred caps to the ground in what has come to be a gesture of anti-Communism on Koje.

All 21 told of being starved, beaten and tied. Nine were in such bad shape they were taken to the camp hospital. Two had to be lifted to a truck for removal, said Lt. Col. Walter M. Redden of Anniston, Ala., commander of a valley in which half the compounds are located.

MANY BRUISES

Some prisoners, Redden said, showed "gruesome" multiple bruises on the legs.

Compound 85 is where tank-supported American infantrymen forced removal of Communist flags and signs last week.

Six of Koje's 17 stockades of stubborn, Red-led prisoners have been emptied during Boatner's operation breakup.

About 27,500 prisoners have been dispersed into smaller stockades of 500 each, or transferred to new pens to await completion of smaller enclosures.

Adm. Radford Says China Nationalists Get Little Armament

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adm. Arthur W. Radford, Pacific fleet commander, said Friday deliveries of Chinese Nationalists on Formosa have been "disappointingly slow."

He told reporters that was one of the reasons why he is in Washington for a series of conferences with military officials here.

To news conference questions, Radford said he assumed deliveries of arms to the forces of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek were slow because of (1) the necessity for setting world wide priorities under the general military aid program and (2) the fact that production deliveries are slower than originally expected.

Did he think there was too much quirements?

"From where I sit, I think the priorities could be readjusted," Radford replied.

However, Radford said: "I'm not too pessimistic; we're making headway."

HAVE MANPOWER

The admiral recently went to Formosa to inspect the military situation there. He told reporters that the Chinese Nationalists have "the manpower and they have excellent potentiality." He added they are fairly well fixed on small arms but need artillery, transportation, communications and other equipment. He said their amphibious force was "very small."

He was asked if he thought Chiang's forces might attack the Chinese Communist mainland. He replied that "No, I don't think there is a chance."

10 Men Missing In B-29 Crash

HONOLULU (AP) — Ten crewmen of a ditched B-29 Superfortress Friday were reported missing in shark-infested waters 175 miles west of Kwajalein.

The pilot of the 11-man crew, an Air Force captain, was rescued by a Navy patrol craft four hours after the plane went down. He had a broken leg. His name was withheld.

The rescued man said the B-29 broke up quickly when it hit the water. He said he believed the others aboard were lost. One sank beneath a wave before he could reach him, the pilot said.

Navy patrol boats and a crash boat from Kwajalein picked up pieces of the crashed plane.

The Hawaiian Sea Frontier said two of the bomber's four engines apparently failed shortly after take-off from Kwajalein for Guam.

The pilot had radioed 16 minutes before the crash that he had feathered two engines and was losing power in a third. His last message said he was ditching — landing on the ocean surface.

Red Truce Head Says U.N. in No Position to Dictate

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

MUNSAN, Korea (AP) — The chief Communist negotiator in the stalled Korean truce talks Friday said the United Nations "is in no position to dictate anything either on the battlefield or in this conference."

The blast by North Korean Gen. Nam Il came at a 16-minute no-progress session at Panmunjom, one of the shortest in weeks. Otherwise, Nam used softer words for the second straight day but remained unyielding on the final issue blocking an armistice — prisoner exchange.

Major General William Harrison, the chief Allied negotiator, agreed to another session Saturday at 11 a.m. (6 p.m. PST Friday.) But he hinted to newsmen afterward that the U.N. may impose another recess if the Reds continue their propaganda blasts.

A Red charge that three civilians wounded by Allied artillery last week backfired on the Communists at meetings of liaison officers before and after the main truce sessions.

Marine Col. James C. Murray told the Reds they had been keeping combat troops within the zone. Another meeting of liaison officers was set on this question, which was not discussed by the senior delegates.

WHISPERED CONFERENCE

Harrison held a whispered conference with his aides before agreeing to Saturday's top-level session.

"We considered whether it was worthwhile to come back tomorrow," Harrison told newsmen.

The Allies took a three-day walkout last week in an unsuccessful effort to needle the Communists to change their insistence on return of all 169,000 Allied-held prisoners.

Tacoma Might Seek Council-Manager Govt

TACOMA (AP) — Tacoma electors probably will vote on the council-manager form of city government in November.

A Freeholders' Charter Commission voted Thursday night in favor of presenting the issue to the electors. It decided to bring in an outside expert to help draft the ballot proposal.

Under the proposed plan, the voters would elect a council, which would hire a manager. Tacoma now has a mayor-council form of government.

Murray Tells Aides 4 Issues Hold Up Steel Settlement

By WILLIAM G. SMOCK

PITTSBURGH (AP) — President Philip Murray of the striking CIO United Steelworkers told his policy making aides Friday that the union shop issues is only one of four obstacles holding up settlement of the 12-day-old steel strike.

Murray, who also heads the union's parent CIO, declared the steel wage-price dispute has become a political football.

The silvery haired labor leader told a joint strategy session of the USW executive board and wage policy committee:

"I do not profess to know how long the struggle (Strike) will last."

He was given a rising ovation when he said it is his purpose to "carry out your mandate and the mandate of the last convention."

He referred to a resolution adopted at the union's convention last May which urged a settlement based on recommendations of the Wage Stabilization Board.

The WSB recommended a 26-cent hourly raise for steelworkers now earning an average of between $1.90 and $2 an hour and also called for a union shop.

OTHER ISSUES

In addition to the union shop, Murray listed these other issues as blocking a final settlement:

1. The steel industry's insistence on a management clause in any new contract. Murray said such a clause, defining management's rights, would allow companies to launch speedups.

2. The question of seniority. Murray said the U. S. Steel Corp. wanted all seniority questions resolved to its satisfaction.

3. Incentive pay. The labor chief declared U. S. Steel also insisted on its version of incentive.

4. The union shop. Murray said the industry falsely gave out the impression that the union shop is the only issue. He called that "a plain unadulterated lie."

But he discussed the union shop at great length and ridiculed statements of steel executives that their opposition is based on principle. He said they already had granted a union shop to 50 per cent of USW members.

When Murray mentioned Sen. Robert A. Taft (R.-Ohio) and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, both candidates for the Republican presidential nomination, his audience booed lustily.

AUDIENCE YELLS

Murray said Taft should have more sense than to press for a court injunction under the Taft-Hartley Act. Various members of the audience yelled:

"What sense?" and "He ain't got no sense at all."

Murray called Eisenhower a "me too-er," because Eisenhower supported Taft's declaration that the Taft - Hartley Act should be invoked by President Truman to get the steel mills back in production.

Referring to the Korean situation, Murray declared there is no question "that the boys in Korea will be provided the equipment they need."

Murray opened his hour long address to newsmen in an almost unprecedented move by his union. Upon finishing his report on status of union-industry negotiations, newsmen were hustled out of the hotel ballroom meeting room.

Steelworkers at the strategy session jumped to their feet and gave Murray an ovation of several minutes. Then they went to lunch before going into executive meetings.

REMOVES MUNITIONS METAL

Meanwhile, Mobilization Director John R. Steelman tackled the problem of removing from the picketed steel yards and warehouses metal which already is finished or partly finished and delivering it to munitions plants. Union leaders attending a Washington conference agreed to present Steelman's proposal at the Pittsburgh meeting.

Fast breaking developments in the steel crisis turned the strike spotlight on Pittsburgh after the House Banking Committee in Washington voted 15 to 10 against a proposal that President Truman be empowered to seize the steel industry.

The Senate has served notice on Truman that he should use the emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act to get a court injunction against a strike.

Electrical Workers' Union Head Says Big Business Aids Rival 'Red-Controlled Union'

WASHINGTON (AP) — James B. Carey, leader of a CIO union of electrical workers, told senators today that a rival "Communist-controlled union" survives only because of "deliberate, active assistance and encouragement of big business."

Testifying before a Senate labor subcommittee, Carey specifically named General Electric Corp. He said it professes impartiality in the fight between his union and the rival union for collective bargaining rights in the company's plants but actually follows a "divide-and-rule" policy.

Carey is president of the International Union of Eelectrical, radio and Machine Workers (CIO).

The other union is United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers (UE) which was in the CIO for many years but was expelled in 1949 on grounds it was following the Red line.

It has been described as Communist-dominated by various congressional committees. Carey called it the "Communist party's pride and joy."

The Senate subcommittee is studying the question of whether legislation is needed to restrict functioning of Communist-dominated unions in plants having secret defense work.

Carey said he supported a statement by CIO President Philip Murray that legislation "is both unnecessary and unwise."

Instead of legislation, Carey suggested the Defense Department set up a committee composed of representatives of industry, labor and government agencies to determine whether a union representing employees of a contractor or a prospective contractor is a security risk.

COULD CANCEL CONTRACTS

If this committee found a union to be Communist - dominated it would have authority to refuse or cancel a contract.

"Because of its size and resources the UE has been both a source of funds and an ideological rallying point for other Communist groups," Carey said. And he added:

"UE offered the Kremlin's espionage and sabotage agencies a potential access to classified and secret weapon production up to and including atomic developments.

"In encouraging and assisting the survival of UE, the multi-million dollar corporations in our industry have committed something very close to treason."

Red China Will Get Diplomat Panyushkin

By EDDIE GILMORE

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Press announced to the public Friday the shift of Ambassador Alexander Panyushkin from Washington to China, and observers here attached great importance to the move.

The appointment of Panyushkin means the USSR is going to have one of its ablest diplomats—and one who possesses vast experience in dealing with the Chinese—in the post at Peiping.

Panyushkin, 47, is now on his way home from Washington. In China he replaces Gen. Nikolai Vassilizvich Roschhin, who, the press said, is being relieved of the duties which have kept him in China since 1948, first as envoy to the Nationalist regime of Chiang Kai Shek and then to the Communist regime.

The foreign affairs ministry has perhaps no diplomat to whom it would assign more responsibility than it would to Panyushkin.

Old Flagpole Atop Courthouse Comes Down After Pointing Skyward For Past 38 Years

For the past 38 years a 29-foot flagpole has pointed skyward from the top of the cupola on the Clallam County courthouse.

Yesterday the fir flagpole was cut into many sections and lowered to the ground by a crew under direction of County Engineer Harrison Hawkins.

Soon the flagpole will be replaced by a radio antenna serving the sheriff's new patrol car radio system.

The flagpole was erected in 1914 when the court house was built. Several years ago it showed signs of old age. Steeplejacks refused to climb it to renew broken flag halyards.

Last year a new flagpole was set in the lawn in front of the courthouse.

Steeplejacks knew what they were talking about when they refused to shinny up the old pole.

The base of the pole set into the cupola was badly rotted. High winds would have toppled it over, Hawkins said.

The workmen expected to find the pole made of long-lasting cedar. Instead it was fir, coated with aluminum paint which was badly flaked.

The ball atop the pole, probably at one time gilded, also was coated with alluminum paint.

Workmen were in the cupola yesterday when the big clock struck four. The strokes of the clock caused the old courthouse to shudder and shake.

When County Commissioner Walter Roberge took a look at the job yesterday, the crew purposely kept Roberge around on one excuse or another until the clock struck.

As the bell started bonging out the hour and the cupola swayed and shivered, Roberge grabbed his hat with one hand and a good hold on the cupola with the other.

"Darned near rocked me out into space" Roberge observed to Hawkins when he recovered his breath and balance.

Big Three Ponder Plan Whereby They Could Discuss German Issues With Russ

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) —The Western Big Three powers were reported seeking final agreement among themselves Friday on the precise conditions under which they would be willing to discuss German issues with Russia.

State Department officials said after talks between Secretary Acheson and the British and French ambassadors here that there was no basic disagreement on the subject of a Big Four meeting "provided certain conditions are met." They did not specify the conditions, but declared that none of the three Western powers was willing to agree to a session on Soviet-dictated terms.

The need for agreement among the three arises from the fact that the latest Western note in a long series of exchanges with Moscow is now in preparation. The Russians have been insisting on a Big Four session to take up the unification of Germany and the preparation of a German peace treaty.

In previous notes, the Western powers have insisted that prior to a discussion of those fundamental problems the four nations should agree upon a United Nations or other "impartial" investigation of the opportunity for free elections throughout Eastern and Western Germany.

When work on the projected new Western note started, Washington, Paris and London reviewed their positions and came up with suggestions as to what they should tell the Russians this time.

LIMITED CONFERENCE

The French have been reported favoring an offer to meet with the Russians at an early date provided the conference would be limited to the conditions for holding free elections in Germany and the circumstances in which the unification would be effected.

There have been some indications that the British also would be willing to make such a proposition but the United States has been represented as not favoring a meeting until agreement is reached with Russia on making an impartial inquiry into political conditions throughout Germany.

British Ambassador Sir Oliver Franks and French Ambassador Henri Bonnet conferred with Acheson late Thursday. They conceded the problem of drafting a note to the Russians had been discussed but that was about all they would say.

Nita Peterson-Robert Dahlquist Wedding Solemnized Saturday Evening in Sumner

White peonies, blue delphinium, and white cathedral candles in tall candelabra decorated the Sumner First Presbyterian Church June 7 for the wedding of Miss Nita Moyne Peterson of Sequim and Robert R. Dahlquist of Anchorage, Alaska. The Rev. Leonard C. Brown officiated at the formal 7 o'clock double ring ceremony uniting the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. J. Peterson and the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Dahlquist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown fashioned with a rising neckline, long sleeves pointed over the hand, and a modified train. She carried a white Rainbow Bible with a white orchid and stephanotis resting on top.

The bridal veil, which fell from a braided white satin coronet, was an heirloom, previously worn by the bride's grandmother and mother, and provided "something old." "Something new" was the gown, "something borrowed" a linen handkerchief from the bridegroom's sister, and "something blue" a garter made by an aunt in Kansas. A penny in the shoe was the goodluck token.

Miss JoAnn Peterson, the bride's sister and maid of honor, chose a ballerina length lavender taffeta moire gown. Her colonial bouquet was of sweetpeas and rosebuds. White nylon gloves and a yellow and lavender hair cornet of ribbon, net and sweet peas completed the ensemble.

Bridesmaids Miss Peggy Dahlquist of Seattle, the bridegroom's sister, and Mrs. Ralph Randall of Winlock wore the same type ensemble as the maid of honor. The nylon gloves were a gift of the bride. Keith Pickrell of Seattle was best man.

William White of Seattle and William Repenschek of Renton ushered 100 guests to pews sectioned off with white peonies and satin bows.

CANDLELIGHTERS IN PURPLE

Misses Darlene Romnes and Karleen Mathiesen, gowned in purple moire taffeta, gloves and yellow-lavender hair coronets, lighted the tapers. Mrs. Frank Osborne, accompanied by Mrs. W. J. Peterkin, sang "Because," "With This Ring I Thee Wed" and "The Lord's Prayer."

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Peterson chose a floor length gown of aqua, and Mrs. Dahlquist chose an ashes of roses formal. Both wore Cecil Brunner rose corsages.

Garden flowers, candles and crystal candelabra graced the white cloth-covered bride's table, where Mrs. Paul Clark of Tacoma, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Melvin E. Peterson of Sumner, a cousin of the bride, poured.

Wedding bells topped the Maltese cross wedding cake, which Mrs. Walter Logan of Sumner cut and served after the bridal pair cut the first piece.

Jerry and Jay Clark, cousins of the bride, passed the bridegroom's cake, and Miss Matthiesen handled the guest book. Miss Gloria Mocri and Mrs. Al Moffat of Sumner had charge of the gift table. Others assisting during the reception were Misses Maxine Hart, Rosie Woulfall and Carolyn Scott.

CRUISE ON PUGET SOUND

For a wedding trip, which includes a week-long cruise on Puget Sound, Mrs. Dahlquist chose a purple knit dress, white accessories and pink top coat. They will make their home at 5255 19th N.E., Seattle, upon their return.

Mrs. Dahlquist is a graduate of Sumner High School and a March graduate of the Central Washington College of Education at Ellensburg. The bridegroom is a North Kitsap High School graduate and is currently attending CWCE, where he is affiliated with Alpha Phi Omega.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Martin Enschede and children, Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Hargraves of Indianola; Mr. and Mrs. Rex Harrington, Robert Winn of Tacoma; Jack Schofield of Poulsbo; Mrs. William Sala and Miss Coleen Cassells of Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Syre of Port Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Peterson and children of Tacoma.

Episcopal Guild Hears Of Greek Relief Work

The Rev. John Como addressed the Sequim St. Luke's Episcopal Guild Monday at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Peterson. His talk concerned recent charity work for destitute persons in Greece.

In answer to a written plea from Greek citizens the Rev. Mr. Como sent clothing packages to the writers. He first checked with the Episcopal Council in Greece before sending the items.

The guild cancelled plans for an August picnic. However, they will hold a rummage sale that month. Summer vacation has started, with the next meeting scheduled the second Monday in September.

Mrs. Harry Peterson was co-hostess Monday.

SENATE GETS BASE BILL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House sent to the Senate Friday the administration's first regular money authorization bill to pass this session without being cut drastically.

The measure, authorizing $2,758,318,000 for worldwide military programs next year, was passed by the House Thursday on a 332 to 7 roll call vote. The actual appropriations will be voted later.

Administration requests were cut $19,434,000 by the Armed Services Committee but no further effort was made on the floor to propose heavier reductions.

Schmuck Implement Company Adds Foxbilt Feed Line

Schmuck Welding and Implement Company announces their new dealership for Foxbilt Feed, a vitamin-yeast rich feed for beef and dairy cattle, poultry, horses, sheep and hogs.

The feed is relatively unknown in the Pacific Northwest, but a favorite feed of Southern and Midwest farmers, Henry Schmuck says. Foxbilt is palatable to livestock because of its yeast and molasses flavor, and saves on grain feeding. It comes in pellet or meal form.

The Schmuck Implement Company in Carlsborg also handles Minneapolis-Moline Machinery and Delaval Milking Machines.

Sequim Flower Show June 14-15

Have you entered an exhibit for the Sequim Prairie Garden Flower Show June 14-15? The only qualifications for entry are (1) being an amateur (2) and residing in Clallam County.

The two divisions of horticulture and arrangements have a subdivision for junior entrants. This gives a wide variety of classifications for the exhibitors, with no charge for entry or admission.

On Saturday a style show is planned. Tea will be served both Saturday and Sunday. The multi-purpose room of the Sequim Elementary School is the place, with Saturday hours from 1 until 10 p.m. and Sunday from 1 until 6 p.m.

The club is not responsible for exhibitors' containers, but will furnish containers for horticultural exhibits. Entries must be in no later than 10 a.m. Saturday.

Flowers, single or in arrangements, drift wood, miniature arrangements, dish gardens, figurines, ribbons, flags, candles, and even fruits and vegetable arrangements or collections are acceptable.

The junior entry is a new subdivision in this year's show. Several young amateurs exhibited last year and the club was unprepared for their entries. Now the club has this special prize division and urges juniors to exhibit.

The miniature division qualification is any arrangement under six inches in height. In the all-white class, a white or glass container is necessary but any foliage may be used. The English classification calls for employment of a silver or pewter container, but any combination of flowers and foliage is acceptable.

Sequim Couple Fascinated By Leisurely Tour of Old Mexico in Their Trailer

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lewis are home from a seven-month trip down the West Coast of Mexico via trailer coach, but they are busily planning their next jaunt. The trip began from Gig Harbor, where they were visiting their daughter Mrs. William R. Strickland, the former Kathryn Lewis.

After a few weeks at San Leandro, Calif., and driving through Arizona, the Lewises entered Mexico through Nogales, a border town comparable to Tia Juana. And it was here that Lewis decided not to judge Mexico by the border towns so frequently visited by tourists.

January found the couple at Hernosillo (with the "H" and "Ll's" silent), 60 miles inland from the West Coast. While California battled rainstorms, the Lewises basked in the balmy Hernosillo weather. While walking down town in search of bread, Lewis encountered Mr. and Mrs. Lew Thompson of Port Angeles, who had made the trip by bus.

Athough the pair learned some Spanish, Lewis was having trouble asking for brown bread. All he could think of was the phrase for white bread. Finally, he thought he had the right word and joyously, but laboriously, gave the magic Spanish word, only to have the store keeper and shoppers break out in laughter. It seems he asked for "red" bread. He gratefully took the white bread and called it a day.

DEEP CONTRASTS

"Mexico is a land of deep contrast," Lewis said, "with the ancient living harmoniously beside the extremely modern." This is typical in architecture, roads, people, and transportation. Side by side would be a house more modern than those in the United States and an adobe house of the ancient school.

Warned thoroughly by friends that they would be "robbed," the couple found the average Mexican hospitable and more accommodating than American people. However, the situation may change as the tourist trade increases following the completion of the Pan-American Highway.

Of interest was Alamos, located high in the mountains. In Alamos the streets were exceptionally narrow, and so old that inhabitants did not know their age. Here in this once rich silver city were abandoned mansions of silver kings, and a historical cathedral.

The hotel where the Lewises stayed (they could not bring their house trailer up the tortuous road) was once a mansion, with barred windows and grating. The immense rooms had 20-foot high ceilings and walls three foot thick.

POPULAR ALAMOS TALE

Alamos' residents tell a story about the mansion-hotel. When a rich silver king lived in the mansion, he had a marriageable daughter. Finally the daughter was courted and after accepting a suitor, set her wedding date. The father decided her feet should touch nothing but silver as she walked from the mansion to the cathedral. Therefore he paved the entire route from her home to the church in the precious metal.

Further down the Mexican coast lies Mirrmar Bay, north of Los Mochis, the southernmost town the couple visited. Here the water was clear and warm, ideally suited for swimming, and shrimp fishing further out in the bay. A wide variety of fish are caught within the bay area.

Within less than 25 minutes Lewis caught over seven varieties of fish, not including fish of the same variety. Sea trout, mackerel, marlin and sail fish, which are common to United States fishermen, are also sportsman's fare.

At Mirrmar Bay are many of the wealthy people of Mexico, and the Lewises felt lucky to make the acquaintance of a wealthy couple. Here they were entertained royally and the Mexicans insisted that the Americans pay nothing.

HUGE PATIOS

Here the houses, as throughout Mexico, are built up to the sidewalk edge, but patios lie within the walls. In one area a huge patio covered an entire walled block, being cared for in communal fashion by several families whose homes opened out on the patio. Tropical plants and bright flowers make these patios like private parks, with rooms opening onto the patio.

The southernmost point, Los Mochis, is about 500 miles from the U.S.-Mexico border at Nogales. This beautiful town is in the less tourist-trodden area. Wild parrots add their brilliant foliage to the scenery. Domestic parrots chatter in Spanish, which is the only language they understand or learn to imitate.

After spending over two months in Mexico, the local people drove back through Yuma to Hollywood, visiting several weeks with friends. From there they went to Carmel, Calif., to visit relatives and another stop at Crescent City, Calif. to visit their son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lewis.

Finally home, but only long enough to plan another trip in their trailer-apartment.

Sequim Chamber To Cut Folder Size

The Sequim Chamber of Commerce has decided to reduce the size of the Sequim folder, which advertises "Where Water Is Wealth."

Carl Miller, Public Utility District Manager, suggested working on a small pamphlet with pertinent information as to short trips from Sequim. The pamphlet would be available to tourist at restaurants and service stations. No action was taken on the pamphlet at Tuesday's meeting.

The chamber opposed a suggestion by O. E. Heister to close stores the Saturday following July 4, which falls on a Friday. He stated this would give the merchants a three day holiday weekend. However, the chamber opposed the suggestion as being detrimental to business.

A letter indicated the Washington State Ferries carried 30,000 cars over the Memorial Day holiday, which was 3,000 more cars than the past high record. Cars to the Olympic Peninsula showed a gain of 30 per cent over the last high record for holiday traffic.

Peter Black of the housing committee reported that his committee had a number of houses, apartments and rooms available for any tenants who may be looking for housing. This project was undertaken in the interest of Voice of America workers.

Robert Staeger presented a Keep Washington Green award to the Sequim Press for its efforts in warning of fire hazards in the past and helping alleviate the devastation of forest fires.

Boys State Delegates To Leave June 15

Two Sequim High School seniors will leave Saturday for Seattle, where they will board a train for Ellensburg, scene of the annual American Legion Boys State each June. The boys are Pete Lochow, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lochow, and James Thomsen, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aage S. Thomsen.

Both boys are taking college preparatory courses in high school, with Pete leaning toward sports and James toward Future Farmers of America work. Pete was president of the junior class and won basketball and baseball letters this year. James was vice president of the junior class, held offices in FFA, and has started his future dairy herd with the project of raising a Jersey heifer. Both are honor students. Their trip to Ellensburg is sponsored by the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars. The VFW also sponsored a boy last year in addition to the Legion, which began the project.

At Boys State, boys from all over Washington learn the fundamentals of government in the weeklong camp. They conduct government activities, including election of officials. The activities are climaxed by an inauguration Ball.

On June 23 Barbara Beverage and Virginia Adams will leave for Girls State at Ellensburg. This has the same purpose as Boys State. The two girls are sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary and the Soroptimists.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

"Good Neighbor Policy"

Remember one time when I told about the old loose-stone wall that separated Easy Roberts' property from Handy Peterson's?

That was when they decided they really didn't need the wall between them in the first place — so they simply stopped repairing it.

Now I hear where a fellow, who bought the old Johnson place, wants to buy all those stones. It seems he figures a stone wall is just what's needed on his property.

From where I sit, if that fellow wants to build himself a stone wall, that's his business. But if it's not really serving any useful purpose he may sooner or later discover —just like Handy and Easy did— that he'd be just as well off without one. Even some old-fashioned walls of prejudice are disappearing— like those that would deny a person's right to a friendly glass of beer now and then. Most Americans are learning that "walls" can get in the way of the persons inside as well as the persons outside.

Kitch's Korner

By E. A. KITCHIN

Two weeks ago I wrote about getting our fishing boat ready for the coming season. Since then she has been high and dry, with her white sides, gray insides and dark green gunwales.

But waiting for the run of big fish to come in was just more than we could stand. So the other day out we went for our first cruise not expecting any big fish, nor did we catch any. Our bag consisted of two five pounders. One was a small tyee, the other curiously enough a small silver, a female with two skeins of undeveloped eggs.

It was a perfect day on the water, the sea calm with long rolling swells and a slight ripple that did away with the sun's glare. And the bright sun kept us warm all day.

PLENTY OF 'BAIT'

I enjoy such days out on the salt seas, whether the fishing is good or not. There is so much to see, so many wild things about you in the air and on the water. The bay seemed full of "bait" which was attractive to all we saw.

Many nondescript gulls were scattered all over the waves, mostly nonbreeding two-year-old birds that were just showing the blue-gray mantle, the sign of an adult bird. When a "ball of bait" came to the surface the nearest gulls swooped down, then in a few seconds others came pouring in from all directions.

I wondered at their keen sight. Birds three quarters of a mile away would see the downward plunge of the nearest gulls and off they would go for their share.

Most of their prey were driven to the surface by small bunches of sea birds, mostly tufted puffins that dove deep among the little fishes, sending many to the surface, and the waiting gulls. With the puffins were pigeon guillemots and strangely enough, marbled murrelets.

What this little bird of mystery was doing here at this time of year is really a mystery. They should be way up north breeding like the other sea birds. Very few of their nests have ever been found and recorded. I've always contended that some of the birds do breed with us, as more than once I've seen a small juvenile with the parent bird.

WATCHING PORPOISES

Once as we were jugging along we came on two porpoises. What a life they lead, up and down, up for a breath of air, down to secure some small fish, over and over again. They seem a happy animal and at times playful.

At another time the shaggy head and neck of a sea lion appeared in a tide rip, watching us with, one might say, friendly curiosity. I've never seen any of these strange mammals of the sea show unwarranted fear or anger toward man, which is a good thing at times for us.

The prize record of the day was seeing a large whale feeding quite near shore. It would come up for air showing a long streamlined body of a blackish-brown color when seen at a distance. It was not chunky-built like a killer whale, more of a tapering body from the middle back to the tail. They told us at the club house that it had been in the vicinity for some time, showing little fear of the passing vessels.

So in one morning not more than a half mile off shore we recorded a porpoise, a sea lion and a whale, beside the sea-bird life.

On land we stand at the bottom, on the floor. We see objects on our level, buildings, people, perhaps a cat or dog, while "upstairs" we see the birds of the air, the mountain tops, clouds and sky. We can see nothing through the earth's surface.

Out on the water everything is reversed. We look over only the "top of the ocean." All of it below our line of vision. It is full of salt water and we can not see into it.

We know life is there, more than on land. We know multitudes of living things are there trying to lead a life mostly of self preservation. One specimen lives on a lesser one, it itself preyed on by a more vicious foe.

But there is beauty down there too—the kelp, seaweed and other aquatic plants growing on the bottom and waving in the currents. We see the dainty tinted jelly fish pass, a blue one, a brown one, a yellow one, a red one. We know so little about this aquatic animation.

No wonder the other day that in leaning over the side of the boat and peering down into the water I said out loud to myself, "Hey. What goes on down there?"

Thorp Youth Heads State 4-H

PULLMAN (AP) — Keith George, a 17-year-old high school senior from Thorp, Thursday was elected president of the State 4-H Club Association.

George defeated two other candidates, Eddy Veenhuizan of Seattle and Elroy Adams of Kelso, in the election at the 28th annual 4-H encampment on the Washington State College Campus.

The new president has been active in 4-H work for seven years and was a state delegate to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago in 1951.

He succeeds Bill Mickelberry, Silverdale.

Vern Doty, 19 of Yakima, was elected secretary of the state association. The 700 young delegates here also picked vice presidents for each of eight districts. They are:

1—Barbara Freese, Ritzville; 4—Clayton Viebrock, Douglas; 3—Dale Tibbitts, Spanaway; 4—Roger Richert, Shelton; 5 — Donald Brunson, Ellensburg; 6—Don Steiger, Colfax; 7—Donald Peterson, Cathlamet; 8—Dale Annis, Snohomish.

The encampment ends Saturday.

Rocky Mountain States Expect Flood of Tourists

DENVER (AP) — A flood of tourist gold — close to three quarters of a billion dollars — is expected to pour into the Rocky Mountain States before a summer's end.

It will be spent by an estimated 20 million persons from other states. That's close to five times the population of the seven states with their lofty peaks, summer glaciers and high altitude coolness.

Despite the bites chewed from income by taxes and high living costs, nearly all of the seven states covered in an Associated Press survey expect more pleasure-seeking visitors than ever.

An American Automobile Association director last week predicted nearly 22 per cent of all American vacationists will visit Colorado, Wyoming and New Mexico this summer alone.

Wyoming, with only 290,000 residents, this year put on its biggest promotional campaign. Howard Sharp, secretary of the state's Commerce and Industry Commission, believes it will reap three million tourists and more than the $102,461,000 spent there last year.

OTHER STATE'S HOPES

In New Mexico, home of Indian ceremonials and 688,000 residents, state tourist director Melvin Drake believes that, at the present rate 6,500,000 visitors will spend 180 million dollars before they head for home.

Colorado officials, who count the tourist trade as a top industry, look for 3,300,000 visitors who'll spend $247,500,000.

The summer calendar is crowded with everything from greyhound racing to grand opera. But like the other states, scenery and high altitude cosiness are the main attractions.

Geologists Claim Canada Firm Has Plenty of Gas

OTTAWA (AP) — Two Calgary geologists testified Thursday that Westcoast Transmission Company, Ltd., is assured of sufficient natural gas reserves in the Peace River Area of Alberta and British Columbia to supply its proposed pipeline to Vancouver and Northwest United States.

Dr. T. A. Link and Dr. A. W. Nauss testified at a hearing by the Board of Transport Commissioners into the Calgary company's application to build the $111,240,000 pipeline.

Dr. Link said 1.75 trillion cubic feet of gas have been found in the Peace River fields and he was sure that deposits "many times more" would be found.

Douglas Fir Lumber Output Is Less Than It Was Last Year

PORTLAND (AP) — Production of Douglas fir lumber is running 6.7 per cent under that for last year, and with orders and shipments also down, stocks on hand are higher than at comparable times last year and the year before.

That was reported Thursday by the West Coast Lumbermen's Association. In the first five months of the year, production was 4,254,316,000 board feet. That is more than 300 million feet under last year at this time.

A year ago, despite record production, the output could not keep up with orders or shipments. This year, though, orders are a little below production and shipments are a slight amount over production.

Unfilled orders at the end of May were listed at 848,482,000 board feet while on the same date last year there were orders at hand for 1,089,110,000 feet. Gross stocks May 31 were 917,160,000 feet, about 150 million greater than a year ago.

Despite this seeming unfavorable comparison, Harris E. Smith, association secretary, pointed out that production was 4 per cent over the average for the past five years and had been hampered in May by a strike.

Eastvold Will Seek Attorney General Post

TACOMA (AP) — State Sen. Donald W. Eastvold will run for the office of State Attorney General on the Republican ticket, he announced Thursday.

Eastvold, 32-year-old attorney, son of Dr. S. C. Eastvold, president of Pacific Lutheran College, was selected Tacoma's young man of the year in 1951.

He was the first person to definitely announce his candidacy for the office. Atty. Gen. Smith Troy has said he probably will seek reelection on the Democratic ticket although he has not closed the door to the possibility of running for governor.

Taft Supporters Are Laughing Up Their Sleeves About a 1944 Rule

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supporters of Sen. Robert A. Taft are laughing up their sleeves these days.

It's about a rule put through in the 1944 Republican national convention controlled by the forces of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, long a Taft rival. The rule stipulates that only seating contests affecting delegates-at-large may be presented to the convention for settlement.

The rule was not strictly adhered to in the 1948 convention which gave the New York governor a second presidential nomination. But Sen. Taft has indicated he will insist on its application at the coming convention in Chicago.

If he does and is upheld in committees expected to be dominated by Taft supporters, the contests between him and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower over 77 delegates from five Southern states would be reduced to embrace just 18 delegates—four each from Georgia, Louisiana and Mississippi, and six from Texas.

Otherwise, the scrap would take in the entire delegations from those states—Georgia 17, Louisiana 15, Mississippi five, and Texas 38—plus two district delegates from Virginia. Eisenhower would be expected to benefit more from this broader field of contention, since Taft forces largely control the state convention and state committee machinery which are supposed to settle district delegate contests.

The deadline for filing notice of contests with the secretary of the national committee is 20 days or more before the July 7 convention opening. That is next Monday, according to committee officials. None had been filed up to Thursday, but inquiries of the rival slate leaders in the five states developed replies that their notices will take in district as well as at-large delegates, leaving a legal as well as personal battle for the national convention.

IMPORTANT

The delegate contests this year are of great importance since the decision on their final seating could swing the presidential nomination to either of the two leading contenders. The Associated Press tabulation of delegates lists 464 favoring Taft to 391 for Eisenhower, 130 favoring five others and 208 uncommitted or in dispute. A majority—or 604—will be needed to win. Thirteen delegates remain to be selected.

Return The Bathroom to Dad On His Day

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — A lot of late-shopping ladies are feverishly asking themselves:

"What can I get my husband for Father's Day?"

And they tear through a department store like a two-legged tornado in quest of a suitable necktie, bathrobe, or pair of slippers.

If the average father wore only what his womenfolk gave him, that's how he'd go to work—clad only in a necktie, a bathrobe, and new slippers.

Naturally a fellow appreciates these things. Who ever had enough haberdashery?

But, ladies, along with that necktie you present your husband this Sunday, who not hand him a real surprise? Why not give him back his bathroom?

There is no gift a man would rather have on Father's Day than a bathroom—his very own bathroom.

Ladies, you may object:

"But Dad already has his own bathroom."

Does he? He may in name—but never in fact. Whether you live in a log cabin or a marble palace of 100 chambers, the odds are he really doesn't have a bathroom he can enter and leave at his leisure.

I have never met a married man who felt he had a bathroom he could honestly call his own, except when the rest of the family was away on vacation.

The chances are that if they designed a house that was all plumbing except for the kitchen, father still wouldn't have that bathroom.

Here's what happens: A family in modest circumstances makes some money and builds a home that has a bathroom for every member—and one left over for the guests.

HARD TO BELIEVE

"This is your bathroom, dear," Mama tells Papa. He can't believe it. After all these years, his secret dream has come true. No more people pounding on the door and calling "hurry up" every time he starts to shave! How can life hold greater luxury?

It may truly be his bathroom for a week or a month. But then he comes home one day and finds the maid's dress hanging there. The next day it rains and he returns to find a drying unbrella in his bathtub.

Soon he learns his son has turned the room into a public library, his daughter wants to dry her hair there, and mother has hung up all her clothes in it while she cleans out a closet. Guests never seem able to find the guest bathroom, but they can always find his.

Everybody leaves a belonging or two in dad's bathroom.

"You got your own bathroom," he wails. "Why don't you clutter it up?"

This does no good at all, and only injures the feelings of his wife and children. Why is he so cranky? He is cranky because his very own bathroom has been turned into a cross between a warehouse and a railroad station.

A friend of mine, vexed sorely by this problem, made an inventory of the situation.

77 DIFFERENT ARTICLES

"I went into my wife's bathroom and counted 77 different articles in it," he said. "Then I went into what is supposed to be my own bathroom and counted 35 articles, of which exactly six belonged to me. The rest were my wife's.

"I can't go in my bathroom to wash after work without hearing her rap on the door and say, 'There's something in there I have to get. Hurry up, and come out."

That's what every man wants, ladies,—a bathroom of his own. If you can't give it to him on Father's Day, you might at least deed it to him in your last will and testament. That will give him something to look forward to.

Beer Can Proves Too Much For Fish

BEMIDJI, Minn. (AP) — A huge muskellunge that very evidently had had one too many was found dead recently on the shores of Lake Bemidku.

A beer can was lodged in the muskie's throat. Anglers opined the fish mistook the shiny container for a fisherman's lure.

Walt Ellis, who made the find, estimated the muskie weighed better than 70 pounds.

It was 65 inches long and had jaws 9½ inches wide.

Bison Won't Grace Barbecue Tables

YAKIMA (AP) — There'll be no buffalo in the barbecue pit Saturday at Rimrock.

Cecil C. (Buffalo Bill) Clark came in off the range, dog tired, and announced the delegates to the National Apple Institute would have to eat beef.

Clark had promised a buffalo for the Institute's big outing at Rimrock. He thought he would be able to cut one out of the O. D. Gibson herd which ranges the Lower Wenas country.

Gibson gave him the go-ahead but the buffalo wouldn't cooperate. For three dawn-to-dusk days Clark jeeped the range without even sighting a bison.

The outing is a sidelight of the convention, which brings apple men here from all over the nation.

State Grange Backs Marketing Agreements

YAKIMA (AP) — The Washington State Grange will ask the state legislature for an enabling act to permit state marketing agreements for farm crops.

A resolution to that effect was adopted Thursday at the farm organization's 63rd convention here. It was one of 38 acted upon at a session that barely made a start on proposed resolutions.

With 34 more committees to report and 148 resolutions yet to be considered, convention officials could be ended on schedule Friday evening.

Other resolutions adopted Thursday ranged from one advocating the death penalty for dope trafficking to a request for community action to stop garbage dumping along highways.

The convention also went on record favoring continuance of the state division of marketing, with headquarters here.

Miss Weller will lead the counselor-in-training unit of eight 17-year-old girls who plan to be counselors in a Girl Scout Camp next year, teaching camping skills to younger campers. They will become proficient in song leading, campcraft and outdoor cooking and will also study the administrative end of camping so they can understand more clearly the operation of a camp as a whole.

This program is relatively new, and Miss Weller will work closely with the National Girl Scout Organization on the training plan. She will turn the results of her findings into the national camping division and will assist in drawing up future counselor-in-training plans for the Girl Scout Organization.

The work of the unit this summer will benefit the National Council, the Portland Girl Scout Council, and the Girls who have the opportunity to test out the plan.

Miss Weller will return to Port Angeles July 5 for the day camp season at Forks and at the Sequim Bay State Park youth camp.

MANY AT ROSE FETE
PORTLAND (AP) — More than a quarter million people, by police estimate, massed along miles of Portland streets Friday as the annual Rose Festival parade went by with tootling bands and decorated floats.

There were 22 bands in the line of march.

Carrying out a theme of "childhood memories," the municipal float entry from Vancouver, Wash., won the non-commercial sweepstakes prize. The float showed a red-headed boy fishing from a rose-covered rock.

Camp Fire Council Hears Reports

Camp Fire councilors met in the Elks lodge room Tuesday evening to hear committee reports.

Dr. M. N. Carlson presided. Mrs. William Wenner gave the secretary's report in the absence of Mrs. John H. Haas. Morton Shusta gave the treasurer's report, and George Buck the report of the finance committee.

Mrs. Helen Dieckman, Camp Fire executive director, told the councilors a number of new leaders have been secured for Queen of Angels and Jefferson Schools. One more is needed at Washington and a number at Monroe and Lincoln.

The council will meet July 1 to discuss registration of children for the Camp Fire period at Camp David Junior. Mrs. Floyd L. McRevey, Camp Fire camp committee chairman, reported on the staff for the Camp Fire period at Camp David Junior, when the regular staff will be supplemented by four special councilors.

On the regular staff are John Peters, camp director; Mrs. Peters, who teaches handicrafts; Miss Harriet Lord, camp crafts teacher, and Miss Laura Arno, water front supervisor, who teaches swimming and water safety. Mrs. Joe Price is cook, assisted by Miss Sally Crowley.

Special Camp Fire staff members are Mrs. Dieckmann, Miss Lillian Bushnell, Mrs. John Driscoll, nurse; and Miss Betty Megzer.

Miss Bushnell, a graduate of the University of Washington, will teach creative dramatics and puppetry, using the children's camp experiences in their creation of plays. Miss Megzer, who holds a Master of Arts degree in social studies from the University of Arkansas, will head the Horizon group. These older girls will be quartered in the cabin by the water and will have a complete program of their own.

Mrs. McRevey asks campers to register as soon as possible so the camp director may know how many will attend during the period, and make food purchasing and menu planning easier. Registrations have been made from Dungeness, Sekiu, Clallam Bay and Sappho, she reports.

To save time in cooking, read over the recipe you plan to use before beginning; them assemble all the equipment and supplies you will need.

Italian Agents Say Iran Sells Oil

ROME (AP) — Fifteen thousand tons of Iranian oil are on the high seas in three tankers bound for foreign ports in defiance of British warnings, Italian agents said Friday.

The cargoes — destined for Switzerland and Norway — are believed to be the first bulk sales since Iran nationalized the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co.

The agents said the purchasers agreed to buy the oil at 18 per cent below the prevailing world market price.

Anglo - Iranian has threatened legal action against anyone purchasing Iranian oil while the nationalization issue remains unsettled. The matter is now being argued before the World Court at The Hague.

Truman Won't Say If MacArthur Breaks Army Regulations

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Neither President Truman nor the Pentagon appears willing to say whether they think Gen. Douglas MacArthur is violating Army regulations in agreeing to be the keynote speaker at the Republican national convention.

Truman told his news conference Thursday he regards the keynote role as political, but as to whether he thought MacArthur should retire from active duty before filling it, the President said that is the Army's problem.

In answer to another question, Truman said he had not discussed the matter with Army officials, but if he is not satisfied with what they do he said he would call them down.

Just wait and see, he told reporters.

The Army announced last Tuesday it was not considering any action in connection with MacArthur designation as convention keynote speaker.

Since then, it is learned, the the Army has made it plain it also does not intend to act later, that it will do nothing about the matter. That position is described as being predicated on the belief that when Congress created the five - star rank for certain Army and Navy officers it established a special category of rank, different from other.

All this had the effect of leaving an atmosphere of uncertainty around the status of any other general or GI who might decide to take an active part in the political campaign.

EXTEND PRESIDENT'S POWERS
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Friday adopted a House-passed resolution extending the President's war powers until June 30.

Without this action, he presidential emergency powers would have expired Sunday. Senate and House negotiators are working on a bill for a one-year extension of a limited number of the powers.

Wednesday Sets June Weather Record Here

Maximum temperature here Wednesday was the lowest in the histories of the two local weather station for a June day.

Maximum temperature means the highest therometer reading in any given 24-hour period.

Wednesday the highest temperature at the Laurel Bluff station was 50 degrees and at the Ediz Hook station the maximum was 49.

Volunteer Observer L. G. Sutton searched through the Laurel Bluff station records dating back 36 years and failed to find a June day when such a low maximum temperature existed.

Observer E. A. Brackett on Ediz Hook looked over the records of the half dozen years that station has been in existence and also failed to find as low a maximum for June..

There have been June days when the thermometer went lower than the minimum of 41 Wednesday. Sutton found the lowest reading on any June day was June 6, 1919 when the thermometer dropped to 35 degrees.

Other low maximums on Laurel Bluff were in June 1944, 1917 and 1933 when maximum of 52 degrees were recorded.

Temperatures were low Wednesday all over the Pacific Northwest. Seattle recorded a maximum of 51, a record for that station. Snow fell in Klamath Falls.

Snow fell on the hills back of Port Angeles some time during the 24-hour period.

EXPECT FEWER APPLES

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP)— Fruit experts attending the National Apple Institute here estimated the country's apple crop this year at 103,465,000 bushels, a drop of about nine million bushels from last year's production of 112,935,000.

The 1952 forecast is based on crop conditions as of June 1.

Washington State is one of the few expected to have any apple crop increase over 1951. Harold Copple, manager of the Washington Apple Commission, estimated the state's production this year at 23,068,000 bushels, under average but still better than last year's 20,034,000 bushels.

'Rocket Ships' Encourage Summer Reading

Rocket "trips" to other planets are proving fair competition for television this summer, according to Miss Alice Swanson, children's librarian for the city library.

The library's summer reading program this year offers each child a rocket ship on "earth" with his first book, and a "trip" to nine planets and a refueling station with each additional book he reads and reports on to the librarian.

By Thursday evening, 280 youngsters had signed up, and 100 already have read and reported on at least one book. "This is a remarkable response compared to the former three summer programs,' Miss Swanson said.

Those who read ten books during the summer get to keep their cardboard "rockets" bearing the owner's names, and also receive a certificate.

The children's room of the library has assumed a rocket-age atmosphere with clever tin "planets" strung before a blue cellophane sky. Earth, Mars, Venus, Mercury, Jupiter, Uranus, Pluto, Neptune and Saturn. with a spiral refueling station were made by Clare Howard and G. Lester Northup for the library. G. H. Ustler provided milk bottle caps as backing for the "rocket license" each member gets upon enrollment.

The club is open to youngsters entering the second grade next year, on through to high school age, Miss Swanson says.

Postal Clerk Finds Body in Automobile

Harry R. Kingsley, 24, died some time last night of carbon monoxide poisoning in his station wagon parked near the end of the Mt. Pleasant Road, Coroner Howard Doherty reported this afternoon. The gas entered the car through two bicycle inner tubes connected to the exhaust, he said.

Travis White, night postal clerk, discovered Kingsley's car when he drove up the Mt. Pleasant Road for a load of pulpwood this morning. He notified the sheriff's office at 10:45 this morning. Officials estimated the death occurred approximately 12 hours before they investigated.

Survivors include Kingsley's parents and a child by a former marriage.

Deputy Sheriffs Howard Breece and Victor Bomstead, City Police Lt. Harley Bishop and Doherty are investigating.

Gov. Stevenson Still Could Win Demo Confab Vote

By JACK BELL

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois apparently is doing nothing to discourage the rapidly growing assumption that he will not refuse the Democratic presidential nomination if it comes his way.

Although the governor returns a steadfast "no comment" to questions about a possible draft, his friends say he has not taken advantage of numerous opportunities quietly to scotch their moves pointed in that direction.

Jacob Aarvey, Illinois national committeeman, tells all comers that Stevenson will respond to a draft. All the governor says, publicly and privately, is that he doesn't believe any draft will take place. He says all he wants to do is run for re-election.

But if Arvey and others have their way, there will be a movement at the Chicago convention next month to put Stevenson in the race. He probably will get Illinois' votes on the first ballot. If New York and Michigan then swing behind him, a bandwagon movement might be started.

Stevenson looks good to many Democrats as a potential nominee because (1) he has proved he can carry vital Illinois; (2) has a clean-up record which would offset Republican "corruption" shouts against the Democrats; (3) is for continuity in the administration's foreign affairs program; and (4) supports its civil rights proposals without being obnoxious to rebellious Dixie Democrats.

On the other hand, Stevenson appears to be one of those rare politicians who really doesn't pine to be president. He would rather be governor again and finish his efforts to reorganize Illinois.

Marine - Air News

The injured seaman who was accompanied from Neah Bay to Seattle by Dr. Howard Terry of the Port Angeles Coast Guard air station arrived at Seattle Thursday. He was hoisted from the S. S. Herbert Croly by a shipyard crane to an ambulance, and taken to a hospital. The seaman, Matt A. Love, 32, Sacramento, Calif., suffered hip and leg injuries when he fell 35 feet down a hatch Monday when the Croly was 500 miles off the Washington coast.

Dr. Terry and a Coast Guard medical corpsman were flown to Neah Bay in a plane from the station here, gave the injured man emergency treatment and remained on the ship until it docked at Seattle. The Croly was en route from Calcutta.

Several sports fishing boats were out after salmon this forenoon in the strait off Ediz Hook. One fisherman had returned to the harbor by the middle of the forenoon and reported having no luck catching salmon. Dog fish are plentiful, the fisherman said. Local men who have been fishing for halibut recently also report that dogfish are so plentiful that halibut bait seldom gets to the bottom before the dog fish take it.

Puget Sound Pilots had a busy 24-hour period ending this forenoon. Seven inbound and three outbound vessels stopped off Ediz Hook for pilot service. The pilot station lookout reported this forenoon that the strait and harbor were as smooth as glass.

Two U. S. cruisers were reported cruising in the strait this forenoon far over by the Vancouver Island shore.

Shipping Strike Pinches Alaskans

By The Associated Press

Numerous agencies were reported Friday on the project of getting emergency ship service to parts of Alaska which are feeling the pinch on some foods and other supplies in the West Coast shipping strike.

Officials of the Coastwise Line said in San Francisco they are trying to arrange service to Southeast Alaska. Most shipping has been cut off to that area for three weeks by the Sailors Union of the Pacific (AFL) tieup of Alaska Steamship Co. ships.

Coastwise runs ships trom West Coast ports to the Alaska ports of Valdez, Seward, Whittier, Anchorage and Kodiak. They are not affected by the strike.

In connection with union clearance of a ship for the Military Sea Transport Service (MSTS), a spokesman at Alaska Command headquarters said the ship, when lined up, will carry goods for civilians wherever shortages may exist. It also will carry military cargoes.

He did not say specifically that it would go to the Southeast and to Nome, however.

He said the hardship areas will be determined by Gov. Gruening; that Gen. William Kepner and the governor are in close contact on the situation.

Russians Still Hold 2 German Newsmen

BERLIN — (AP) — The Russians Friday freed one German they had kidnapped from West Berlin, but they defied a British protest by continuing to hold two West Berlin newspaper men seized at the same time.

A young West Berlin woman also was arrested by Communist police Thursday night and as still in their custody. She was the first victim of a new Communist decree which extended to Berlin's boundaries the same severe measures which have sealed the East-West German frontier.

This decree, issued Thursday night, was the latest move in the Communist campaign to squeeze surrounded West Berlin, the Allies' last stronghold behind the Iron Curtain.

It was timed neatly to offset, in the worried minds of West Berliners, two measures taken by the West to boost Berlin's morale.

Only a few hours before the decree, the Allied High Commission announced its determination to counter any new attacks by Russia on Berlin, and joined with West Germany in providing economic aid for this city's struggling industries.
