3 Persons Injured In Highway Mishaps Over Holiday Period

Three persons were injured in highway accidents Wednesday and Christmas day, the State Patrol office here reports.

James K. Lindley, 536 W. 8th St., suffered a broken collar bone when his car hit a patch of ice on the Olympic Highway near Sequim Bay State Park and went out of control. Lindley's 1950 two-door sedan was listed as a total loss after it went into the ditch and overturned, about 5 p.m. Christmas Eve.

Virgil J. Montgomery, 505 E. 4th St., was released from Olympic Memorial Hospital this morning where he was treated for severe cuts and bruises after wrecking his 1942 sedan on Highway 9-A near the Lyre River at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Montgomery told patrolmen the car went off the road after a mechanical mishap, which he thought was either a blowout or a break in the steering mechanism. A passenger, J. E. Maulin, 511 E. 4th, suffered cuts and bruises.

Mrs. Hannah Monson, Route 2 Sequim, took out 40 feet of fence and a utility pole on the Woodcock Road, 4.1 miles northwest of Sequim, when she went off the left side of the road last night at 7:30. Mrs. Monson sustained minor bruises, and damage to her 1950 coach was about $500. She told investigating patrolmen she momentarily "blacked out."

In another accident near Sequim Bay State Park Wednesday afternoon Michael Chnymny, Portland, Ore., hit an icy spot on Highway 101 and slid into the ditch. Damage to his 1951 sedan was about $150.

Deer Park to Open Saturday For First Skiing Weekend

Deer Park will open for the first skiing weekend of the season tomorrow, although the snow level is only about half the depth that is normal at this time of year.

Olympic National Park headquarters reported only 24 inches of snow on the ground today atop Blue Mountain, with two inches of powder snow and a breakable crust.

Ed Halterman announces the lodge will not be open yet this weekend because of a failure in the water supply, so skiers will have to bring their own lunches. However ski equipment will be available for rental.

The ski tow will operate Sunday, but not tomorrow.

Park headquarters says chains are required for automobiles making the trip up the mountain.

It was below zero again in the Rockies and parts of the western plains.

It was below freezing all day Thursday as far south as Albuquerque, N. M., and Oklahoma City. Some warming was in sight.

The cold air was expected to cover wide areas in the eastern half of the country over the weekend.

It was 12 below zero in Butte, Mont., and readings of -5 to 15 below were reported throughout the mountain areas.

Sub-zero weather was predicted for north central regions Friday night, while temperatures ranging from 20 to 30 were predicted from western Texas eastward to Virginia.

Warmest spot in the nation was Orlando, Fla., with a reading of 78 above.

Winona Gets Back Only Day Late for Christmas Reunions

The Coast Guard cutter Winona came home again at 9 o'clock this morning to a joyful reunion when the mooring lines were made fast at the dock.

The cutter's second arrival was a happy ending after it had to pull out Tuesday afternoon to aid a distressed Canadian freighter, only four hours after arriving home from three months of ocean weather patrol. In contrast to the gloomy faces Tuesday when the crew's long-awaited Christmas plans disintegrated, this morning the dock echoed with chatter and laughter from the happy families and their men.

As the white ship came across the harbor, families of her personnel, including at least 20 children from babes in arms to teen-agers, composed an eager reception committee on the dock.

As soon as the gangplank was made fast, the families thronged aboard to exchange joyful greetings on the ship's decks.

Also going aboard the ship were toys earmarked for distribution among the crew that didn't have a chance to get on Tuesday. The men and their families were loaded down with packages as they brought off these, along with gifts purchased while they were on leave in Japan which were not unloaded during the brief time available at the dock Tuesday.

The Winona left here at 2 p.m. Tuesday to meet the Canadian freighter Maplecove, disabled 650 miles off the Washington coast with a damaged rudder. The Winona reached the freighter late Wednesday. A salvage tug, the Island Sovereign and the Coast Guard Cutter Koiner also went to the assistance of the freighter. But the Maplecove was able to navigate with the wind. After the salvage tug got a tow line on the disabled craft, navigation was about normal.

The cutters escorted the Maplecove well inside the cape past Cape Flattery and the tug towed her to Vancouver, B.C. for drydocking. The freighter was in a heavy storm zone when trouble first developed, but ran out of the storm before the rescue ships reached her.

Some of the children at the dock were decked out in Christmas finery their daddies had brought from Japan. Many of the tots spotted their fathers aboard the ship before the mooring lines were made fast.

It was only a few minutes after the ship was made fast that crewmen were pouring ashore for leave, followed by women and children loaded down with Christmas packages.

And their faces made a happy contrast to the air of gloom that overhung the dock Tuesday when it looked as if Christmas at home might be a long way off.

Blyn Man Jailed After Holiday Shooting

John Sylvia, 61, is in Olympic Memorial Hospital with a mangled right hand as the result of a shooting fray at his home in Blyn late Christmas Day.

Henry P. Beach, 69, who shot Sylvia with a 12-gauge double barrel shotgun, is being held in county jail for investigation.

Deputy Sheriff Victor A. Bomstead said the shooting occurred after a drinking party at Sylvia's home, where Beach and several other men were roomers. Sylvia told Bomstead and Sheriff James Morse that he had cooked a turkey dinner, and was about to call the men in for the meal when Beach appeared in the door of his bedroom and fired, from a range of about 13 feet.

Hospital attaches said Sylvia's condition was good this morning, although sheriff's officers said he might lose his right hand as a result of the injury.

Sylvia said Beach fired on him without warning, but Beach told the sheriff the shooting followed an argument between the two. When Morse and Bomstead entered the house last night, they found a damaged shotgun spattered with blood, leaning against a kitchen sink.

The two called back for Deputies Howard Breece and Henry Wise to assist them in making the arrest, when they found Sylvia's house dark, and knew Beach was inside with the gun. However Beach was asleep in a back bedroom with his gun leaning against the bed when Morse and Bomstead kicked open the door. He offered no resistance.

Also interrogated at the sheriff's office last night were Sylvia's stepson, Woodrow W. Leonard, 34; Plinio Rigalli, 65; and Walter E. Howell, 63, who witnessed the shooting. All were released except Leonard, who was to be questioned further today.

31 Groups Help Make Brighter Holiday For Needy

A white frost, looking almost heavy enough to be used by Christmas sleds, greeted Port Angeles folks Thursday morning. But the day was fair and the frost disappeared as the sun warmed up.

Downtown Port Angeles was deserted as families concentrated on church services, home Christmas trees and dinners.

Thirty-one organizations, including churches, clubs and lodges, distributed Christmas baskets to 109 family groups, including at least 400 individuals in the county.

Food baskets, candy, clothing and toys went out Wednesday to help make a brighter holiday for those in need.

The organizations cleared their giving through Beacon Bill, as coordinator for the holiday giving. Members of the various groups manned the Beacon Bill telephone for two weeks before Christmas and did the distributing in time for the holiday.

The cooperation among the various groups was so good that as far as is known no person in Clallam County in need was overlooked this Christmas time.

Last minute gifts of toys and candy were a big help. The Venture Club handled the toy distribution. Toys were given by several individuals. C. C. Breiland contributed more than 80 toys he repaired in his home workshop.

Most of the distribution was of gifts contributed by the 31 organizations that cleared through Beacon Bill. A small shortage existed and Beacon Bill took up the slack with food orders.

Many of the organizations had their own lists of persons to whom they gave gifts of various kinds. This was particularly true of churches and veterans' organizations.

The gift distribution was county wide, from Sequim in the east to Neah Bay and La Push on the coast.

"So many persons and organizations helped to make a brighter Christmas for so many people, Beacon Bill just gave a general thank you today for fear of overlooking some individual or organization."

Local Residents to Accompany Visitors From Germany On Trip to Winlock Monday

Port Angeles residents and the city's Bavarian visitors will spend a busy 36 hours starting Monday morning when they travel to Winlock to be that town's guests at a celebration.

Leo White, trip chairman, today oulined the itinerary of those who will drive in the caravan to the Lewis county town which recently completed a community study. He urged Port Angeles citizens to attend the celebration sponsored by Winlock's Greater Development Association, composed of the town's 37 organizations.

The caravan will leave from 1st and Lincoln Sts. at 8 a.m. Monday. White said drivers will change positions in the caravan so all will have an opportunity to lead.

First stop will be at Lilliwaup for coffee. The caravan will arrive in Winlock at 12:30 and will stop at Miller's Electric Co. All visitors will be taken to homes for luncheon, after which they will visit projects Winlock worked on during and after its study.

"We'll have a potluck dinner at 6:30 p.m. followed by a town meeting at 8 and party at 10," White explained. Winlock residents will provide sleeping accomodations in their homes.

The caravan will head homeward Tuesday morning with a stopoff scheduled in Olympia. There the travelers will tour the Olympia Brewing Co. brewery—of especial interest to the Bavarians—at 11 a.m. and eat lunch at the Oyster House. At 1:30 p.m. they will go to the state capitol where Lt. Gov. Victor Meyers will greet them in the absence of Gov. Arthur Langlie.

White emphasized the caravan still has room for more riders and urged residents to sign up for the trip. They may phone him at 3315 in the daytime and 4394 at night.

Iran Plane Crash Kills 23 Persons

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — An Iranian Airways plane crashed in a dense fog Thursday night a few miles from Tehran airport, killing 23 persons, including four Americans.

Only two passengers survived the Christmas night tragedy.

The plane, inbound from Isfahon, 210 miles south of Tehran, circled for a landing.

It bounced several hundred yards in an open field, then broke apart. There was a small fire that burned out quickly. Investigators believe the pilot miscalculated the altitude in attempting a blind landing.

The dead Americans:

Miss Cecil Ann Demoisy, 29, Point Four public health field nurse stationed at Shiraz, daughter of Charles Demoisy, Route Four, Ogden, Utah.

M-Sgt. Thomas Rispoli of the U. S. Military Mission, of Atlanta, Ga. He was stationed at Shiraz.

Mr. Blakemore, 38, Great Neck, Long Island, N. Y., a high school teacher making a study of the Middle East on a Ford Foundation grant.

James E. Blakemore, 38, Great Neck, Long Island, N. Y., a high school teacher making a study of the Middle East on a Ford Foundation grant.

Mrs. Arlene Blakemore, 37, wife of the high school teacher.

All the other passengers in the C-47 were Iranians. All members of the crew were killed.

The survivors were Adil Young, 70, and a Point Four engineer named Khasaie.

Both suffered minor injuries.

Allied Bombers Hit Red Supplies

SEOUL (AP) — Allied fighter bombers spewed death and destruction over North Korea Friday while American Sabre jets clashed with Communist jet fighters near the Yalu river.

A Fifth Air Force spokesman said the fighter-bombers wrecked 15 Communist supply dumps, six artillery positions, 10 troop bunkers and 27 buildings. Secondary blasts indicated ammunition stores were hit.

Allied bombs also cut rail lines in 16 places and damaged a bridge.

The Air Force reported 16 Sabres and 16 Russian-built MIG jet fighters clashed near the Yalu River border of Manchuria. There were no reports of MIGs destroyed or damaged.

On the ground, an Eighth Army patrol fought a bitter pre-dawn battle with 25 to 40 Communists near Kumsong on the Eastern Front.

Light patrol activity was reported on the Western and Central Fronts as the temperature dipped to two degrees above zero.

Christmas Holiday Accident Death Toll Passes 300

By The Associated Press

The nation's Christmas holiday accident death toll Friday passed the 300 mark.

Auto mishaps killed 251 persons since 6 p.m. Wednesday, local time. Twenty-three died in fires. Thirty-one other victims were killed by all other types of accidents.

With more than two and one half days of the extended 102-hour weekend still to come, it appeared the all-time record of 555 traffic deaths for a four-day Christmas holiday in 1936 may be exceeded before midnight Sunday.

Last year's Christmas week-end toll of all accidents was 789 deaths —535 of them in traffic.

STATE DEATH TOLL

Washington state's traffic death count stood at four Friday, midway of the long Christmas holiday.

All the victims were killed in separate accidents Christmas Eve. They were:

Edward G. Miller, 50, Rochester, crushed under his car after a rear-end collision with another automobile three miles south of Tenino.

Joseph D. Porter, 38, Sunnyside, trailer collided with a car north of Yakima.

Frank J. Thomas, Toppenish, struck by a car at a Seattle street intersection.

Bart Hughes, 53, Seattle, crushed to death under a bus being backed into the Greyhound Lines terminal at Seattle.

CHRISTMAS AIRLIFT — Mary Teresa Wilson, 2½, says goodby to her cat with a saucer of milk in her Brooklyn flat as she prepares to fly to Denver to visit her mother, Mrs. Teresa Wilson. The mother, wife of an Air Force sergeant stationed in Bermuda, contracted tuberculosis when Teresa was born and has only seen her child once. Christmas-spirited Denverites are paying for the airlift. Mrs. Wilson is in Fitzsimmons General Hospital in Denver.

Red Party Line Unchanged Despite Stalin's Statements

LONDON (AP) — Despite Stalin's stated willingness for talks with President-elect Eisenhower to ease world tensions, the Moscow newspaper Pravda harped away Friday on its favorite theme—charges that the West is preparing a third world war.

Just a day after Moscow radio gave the top spot in its news broadcasts to the Soviet premier's answers to newspaper questions, the radio quoted Pravda as saying in a lead editorial:

"The imperialists are seeking a way out of the sharpening contradictions of the capitalistic system on the path of preparing and unleashing a new world war.

"In the face of this western threat," the broadcast continued, "all peace-loving people are intensifying the struggle for peace and "international safety" with the Soviet Union in the front ranks as an invincible bulwark of peace."

Stalin's statement monopolized all Moscow radio broadcasts monitored here Thursday.

English language transmissions beamed to the United States reported the questions and answers 48 times in the early morning alone. It also was the lead item on the home news bulletins.

Dulles Answers Stalin's Offer To Meet With Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP) — The incoming Eisenhower administration Friday challenged Russia's Premier Stalin to put forth "concrete proposals" on promoting peace and promised they would be "seriously and sympathetically received."

A statement taking that position was issued by Jhon Foster Dulles, who will be the new administration's secretary of state, after Dulles had talked with President-elect Eisenhower by telephone Friday morning. Eisenhower is in New York.

The statement was the first reaction of the new administration to replies given by Stalin to four questions presented to him by the New York Times and published Thursday morning.

Stalin expressed willingness to meet with Eisenhower in response to one question and he also said Russia was interested in ending the Korean war.

Dulles made this statement:

"I have read with interest the published account of Mr. Stalin's views. If these mean that Mr. Stalin has concrete proposals to make to the new administration after it takes office, he can rest assured that they will be seriously and sympathetically received.

"Diplomatic or United Nations channels of communication are always available for such purposes and for exchanges of views designed to find ways to promote peace and international good will."

The normal diplomatic channels for contact between Washington and Moscow are the Soviet embassy here and the American embassy there.

At the United Nations Russian and American delegations have a constant opportunity of quick and informal contact.

There was a bit of cautious optimism on Capitol Hill, but in administration cirlces in downtown Washington the feeling seemed to be that Stalin had offered little if anything new in a reply to four questions submitted to him by the New York Times. The Times published his response yesterday.

STALIN'S ANSWERS

Stalin declared that "aggressive actions" taken in the West's cold war policy against Russia are the main causes of world tension and said (1) he regards "favorably" the idea of a meeting with Eisenhower; (2) war between the U.S. and the Soviet Union is not inevitable; (3) Russia is "interested in ending the war in Korea" and (14) the sources of world contention lie "everywhere and in everything wherever the aggressive actions" of the cold war find expression.

Stalin has on several occasions in the past responded to written questions posed by U.S. newsmen and almost invariably he has expressed a belief that a U.S.-Russian war is not inevitable and a willingness to meet with the U.S. chief executive.

Nor did there appear to be much fresh hope, from the Western viewpoint, in Stalin's expressed willingness to co-operate in any new diplomatic gestures looking toward peace in Korea.

This reply, it is true, created the most interest in Washington, but privately as to whether the Russian leader was sincerely interested in a new approach to the peace problem, or whether this was more of the same Kremlin propaganda.

In any event, it was evident that as far as the Truman administration is concerned something more than Stalin's words—some concrete evidence of hope for a change would be needed to create any real interest.

As for the idea of a Stalin-Eisenhower meeting Washington wanted more information on Eisenhower's attitude and on whether Stalin would be willing to take any affirmative action to bring about such a meeting.

GREAT BRITAIN'S PART

It was clear, from London dispatches, that Great Britain would want to sit in on any such talks. Thus, presumably, there might be conferences between Stalin, Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill reminiscent of the Big Three meetings of World War II days.

It was noted that Eisenhower has had considerable experience in dealing with the Russians at first hand. As supreme commander of allied powers in Europe in the war, he faced high Soviet officials across the conference table on numerous occasions.

And Eisenhower, during his successful campaign for the presidency, did pledge that he would go anywhere if it would promote peace. "There is nothing that I would not do," he said at June 7 news conference, "to promote the whole cause of peace and security for the United States in this world."

Truman in the past has taken the position that it is Stalin's turn to come to this country, and the Russian Premier has never said he would do that.

Capitol Hill comment was cautious.

"We should beware of Trojan horses in Russian peace talks," said Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.).

Sen. Mundt (R-S.D.) said Stalin should agree to come to this country, if he is sincere.

"It sounds like the same old line," said Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.), a member of the U.S. delegation to the United Nations.

Joseph Stalin Had Nothing to Lose By Giving Pleasant Answers to Questions About Peace

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joseph Stalin had nothing to lose by giving pleasant answers Christmas Day to questions about peace. By being pleasant, he made propaganda hay. If he had snarled, it would have been propaganda against him.

Actually, he committed himself to nothing when he said he was "favorable" to arrangements for a meeting between himself and president-elect Eisenhower and would "co-operate" in trying for peace in Korea. He has loopholes for doing nothing, if he intends doing nothing.

The New York Times on Dec. 18 submitted to the Russian Embassy here several questions to be forwarded to Stalin. The timing of the answers may have been accidental but, from the viewpoint of Russian propagandists, was excellent. The answers were delivered to the Times late Christmas Eve night.

Because the Times is a morning paper, the Stalin story had to appear in the Christmas morning editions. And, with news usually scarce Christmas Day, a Stalin statement was bound to get maximum attention. It did.

And, since Christmas is the one day when the Western world sings most longing of peace on earth, Stalin may have felt it was the day most appropriate for representing himself as big-hearted Joe, although it is well known he is no believer in Santa Claus.

One of the Times' questions said: "Would you welcome diplomatic conversations with representatives of the new Eisenhower administration looking toward the possibility of a meeting between yourself and Gen. Eisenhower on easing world tensions?"

Stalin answered: "I regard this suggestion favorably."

FOLLOWS PARTY LINE

Stalin was being consistent with the party line. The communists claim to be the genuine peace-lovers, even when blocking or destroying it, as they did with the invasion of Korea. Further, if Stalin was talking strictly for propaganda and doesn't want to meet Eisenhower, the wording of the question and the answer are general enough to give Stalin a big, wide out.

As the question indicated — and this was what Stalin said yes to—before he and Eisenhower ever got together diplomats on both sides would have to meet to decide what the two men should discuss when they met. But the Russians could easily prevent such a meeting, on Stalin's instructions, by squabbling with the Western diplomats until the whole business fell apart in disagreement.

Another Times' question said: "Would you co-operate in any new diplomatic approach designed to bring about an end to the Korean War?"

HOW COULD HE REFUSE?

How could Stalin say no? He wouldn't look good. He said: "I agree to co-operate because the USSR is interested in ending the war in Korea." And maybe at last Russia really wants the war ended. But it hasn't demonstrated any such inclination.

One of the troubles, or gimmicks, in Stalin's answer about co-operation is that what he calls co-operation may look to the West like downright wrecking tactics.

In view of the Russian record it seems unlikely Stalin intends his answers to have real meaning, although he could make them have it, if he wanted to.

Times Views Stalin's Peace Statements With Skepticism

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times said Friday in an editorial that Stalin's statement on world tensions should be viewed with skepticism.

Commenting on the Soviet premier's reply to questions submitted by the Times' diplomatic correspondent, James Reston, the Times said:

"Unfortunately, at first sight, and viewing Mr. Stalin's words in the light of the Soviet record, there is little reason to hope that they represent anything more than just another psychological warfare maneuver in the phony Soviet 'peace offensive' and another attempt to deceive the world.

"The Soviet record shows that whenever the Soviets have committed some particularly outrageous deed or were preparing for a new one Mr. Stalin invariably assumed his jovial 'Uncle Joe' role and issued some soothing pronouncement, either publicly or in diplomatic conference, to reconcile the world to Soviet falts accomplis and to avert any 'interference' with them.

"He fooled two American presidents that way and he may be hoping to fool a third."

Billy Graham Says GI's in Korea Call Truce Talks Farce; Favor Push

TOKYO (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham said Friday U. S. soldiers in Korea call the truce talks a huge farce and feel the Allied army should drive north to the Yalu River.

Graham said persons he talked with "have little faith in Stalin's new peace offensive. They feel it is only another anesthetic to lull the free world asleep again while the Communists make new plans for aggression."

Graham in an interview reviewed impressions of his 12-day tour in Korea. He flew back to Tokyo Thursday night after holding Christmas services at the front.

He said, "I never found one person, soldier or civilian, who thought we should keep this stalemate. They all said the peace talks are one of the biggest tragedies—one of the biggest farces—in history."

Graham reported:

An American field general told him the Allies could have gone to the Yalu River 18 months ago "against anything the Communists could have thrown at us, with less cost in life and material than we have suffered since the peace talks began."

A Korean pastor who escaped from the Reds two weeks ago told him:

"The people in North Korea are sick, tired and fed up with Communism. Ninety per cent of the North Koreans would welcome us if we started an offensive. And this applies also to those who profess Communism."

The evangelist met the pastor at a service in Seoul. The pastor was caught in the north by the Reds when the war started, but escaped two weeks ago when he crawled on hands and knees to the U. N. lines at the front.

Graham said he is convinced "our men in Korea are far more aware of the plans and dangers of Communism than the people at home."

IKE'S TRIP HELPED

U. S. President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower's trip to Korea, Graham said, "gave our men a renewed confidence and gave a shot-in-the-arm to the Korean civilians such as nothing they have had in 18 months.

"Moral conditions of our boys in Korea are better than those of the boys of the same age at home.

"I am convinced that morally, spiritually, physically and in every way our boys are in safe hands in Korea.

"The greatest need our boys have is the prayers of the people back home.

Yugoslavia Cuts Defense Spending

By ALEX SINGLETON

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — The Yugoslav government disclosed Friday it is cutting its planned military spending next year by 10 per cent.

The announcement added, however, that the cut will not affect Yugoslavia's ability and readiness to resist aggression.

Defense Minister Ivan Gosniak said the economy in the 600 million dollar 1953 military budget was made possible by a reduction of the training period for military reserve from three to two years, by demobilization of the home guard which was formed to operate against internal enemies, and by unexpected surplus from the 1952 budget.

Gosniak termed it a "peace" budget, obviously reflecting his government's confidence that Yugoslavia has less to fear next year from the possibility of a Cominform invasion.

The minister denounced both the Russian-led Cominform, which ousted Yugoslavia from the Communist partnership in 1948, and also assailed the activities of Italy and the Vatican.

Gosniak characterized the Vatican as the "main inciter" of anti-Yugoslav propaganda and said the Roman Catholic church does not see "that it is helping the forces of aggression."

He conceded Yugoslavia is "backward in aircraft production," but said his country next year will be able to produce a large percentage of military equipment needed for its armed forces and for its navy.

Svetozar Vukmanovic, minister of industry and deputy chief of Yugoslavia's economic council, told parliament there are "prospects to get extraordinary help from the United States" to help relieve the consequences of last summer's crop-parching drought.

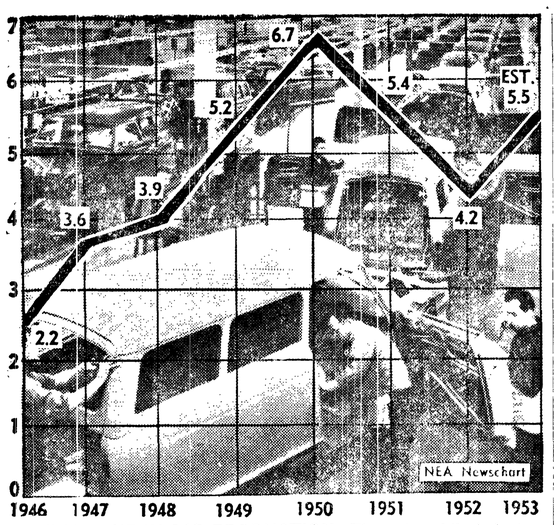
TWINS' CONDITION UNCHANGED

CHICAGO (AP) — No change was reported Friday in the condition of the Brodie Siamese twins.

The 15 month old boys have been in critical condition since they were separated in an operation on Dec. 17 at the University of Illinois hospital. The twins were born joined at the heads. Roger Lee has not regained consciousness since the operation and his condition has been described very precarious.

His brother, Rodney Dee, has been given the better chance to live. However, his condition is critical.

Mr. and Mrs. Royt Brodie, of Moline, Ill., parents of the twins, spent Christmas Day at their bedsides in the Illinois Neuropsychiatric Hospital.



SWING IS UP IN CAR PRODUCTION—The automobile industry expects to manufacture and sell and estimated 5.5 million cars during 1953. This is a gain of 1.3 million cars over 1952. Above Newschart traces car production from 1946 to the present. The banner year during this period was 1950 when 6.7 million cars were turned out, and the low year was 1946 when only 2.2 million cars were produced.

Man of House Is Mouse After Christmas

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The day after Christmas the man of the house is always a mouse.

The rest of the family seems able to take Christmas in stride. But it destroys him utterly.

On Christmas Day itself the man of the house is a mighty figure. He is up at dawn with the kids to help them open their presents.

He accepts his own presents with fine grace — a purple necktie from Sister, a blue necktie from Junior, a green necktie from Mother, and a new leather leash from Towser, the family dog.

He snaps the leash on towser, and they go for a long walk in the bracing air. The man of the house cheerfully calls "Merry Christmas" 167 times by count during this stroll, and mumbles "same to you" 154 times to people who greeted him first. He stops in briefly at five neighbors' homes, and admires all their presents.

The man of the house returns to find a torrent of children flooding through his own dwelling, yelling, screaming, and beating each other over the head with their gifts.

Five times he has to rescue the overturned Christmas tree and set it straight again.

The phone rings 413 times and each time the man of the house answers it with the same hearty refrain:

"Well, that was awful kind of you to call. Thank you, and a very merry Christmas to you, too. and a Happy New Year."

The lady of the house then says, "I work my fingers to the bone cooking this Christmas dinner, and then I can't get anyone to sit down and eat it. If you don't all come this minute, I'll simply throw it all in the garbage pail."

And the man of the house says tolerantly, "Now, mother don't get excited."

And he is a majestic figure then, the man of the house, a veritable king of the table, as he carves the turkey and serves his brood.

An hour later, reduced to his favorite easy chair and for the next five hours sits in a torpor listening to the radio sing Christmas carols over...and over... and over.

Finally the man of the house waddles heavily off to bed and thinks, as he falls asleep, "it's been a wonderful Christmas."

The day after Christmas this man of the house wakes up completely unnerved and exhausted. The spirit of good will has been replaced by the spirit of sodium bicarbonate.

"If you just hadn't eaten like a horse--" remarks the lady of the house.

The man of the house just wants to lie at rest and let time heal him. But no such luck. Sister wants to go right down town ane exchange to go right down town and exchange a gift sweater. And mother decides she'll go along and exchange a few things, too.

"You stay home and watch junior," she tells the man of the house. And he is too worn out to object.

When they are gone the man of the house goes to the refrigerator, opens it and sees the blasted ruins of a turkey. He shuts the door quickly. The phone rings..and rings ..and rings..

Junior runs in wailing bitterly, "I let Billy Jones play with my new drum, and he broke it."

Truman Pardons May and Thomas

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman has granted a full pardon to Andrew J. May, former Kentucky member of Congress who served nine months in prison on his conviction of accepting bribes for influence in awarding of munitions contracts.

The action, returning full citizenship rights to May, was disclosed Thursday by the Justice Department. May headed the House Military Affairs Committee for many years. He is a Democrat.

Truman also signed a Christmas pardon for J. Parnell Thomas, former Republican House member from New Jersey who once chairmanned the Un-American Activities Committee. Thomas served a prison term for padding his government office payroll.

On Christmas Eve, Truman granted pardons to an estimated 8,940 persons who were (a) convicted of desertion and dishonorably discharged from the armed services after court martial between the end of World War II and the outbreak of fighting in Korea, and

(b) those convicted of federal law violations who served their prison terms and served honorably in the armed forces for a year since Korea.

FIND BOY'S BODY

NEW YORK (AP) — The blood smeared body of a boy about 14 years old was found Friday in a rubbish-littered vacant lot in the Bronx.

Police said his head was badly battered, possibly by a 10-pound block of concrete which was found nearby.

It was apparent the body had been there at least over night, police said.

A nine-year-old boy whose home overlooks the vacant lot in the rear of a welding company found the body.

TOUGH 'HILL' FOR CAR

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — "I can't understand it, officer, this thing just won't climb this hill," an irate motorist told questioning policemen.

Officers L. H. Dye and R. E. Albee explained to the motorist patiently that the "hill" he couldn't climb was a concrete abutment guarding the approach to a viaduct—and then promptly arrested him for drunkenness.

Son of C. C. Kendalls Now Vice President Of Pepsi-Cola Co.

Donald M. Kendall, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kendall of Sequim, has been named a vice president of the Pepsi-Cola Company. He will head the sale of bottled Pepsi-Cola to government agencies, the armed services, theatre chains and drug and grocery chains.

He also is responsible for all fountain syrup sales, the branch of the company in which he began his rapid climb.

Kendall joined Pepsi-Cola in October, 1947, as a salesman and has risen steadily to a top executive position in the short span of five years. In November 1949 he became the fountain syrup sales division's sales manager for New York City. A year later he was promoted to sales manager of the fountain sales division for all company owned plants.

Kendall also established an outstanding record for himself in the armed service. In World War II he commanded a Navy patrol plane in the Philippines and China Sea area, where he won the Distinguished Flying Cross and three air medals, rising to the rank of lieutenant. He joined the Navy in 1942 while a student at Western Kentucky State College.

James Gates Cow Wins Gold Medal Award

Vol. Standard Christine, a registered Jersey cow owned by James R. Gates of Sequim, has earned the gold medal award of the American Jersey Cattle Club, according to a club release.

She recently completed a production record of 12,354 pounds of milk and 807 pounds of butterfat in 347 days. She is 7½ years old. All tests were supervised by the Washington State College.

Former Sequim Man Offers to Stop Rain

A recent Associated Press story from Washington, D.C. quoted Jack Hubbard of Olympia as offering to prevent rain from spoiling the inauguration ceremonies in January.

Hubbard, who operates Weather Projects, Inc., is a native of Sequim and the son of Lew Hubbard, Clallam County land agent. He was hired last summer to keep rain away from eastern Washington orchards, while wheat growers were hiring rainmakers to bring it on.

Former Sequim Man Has Poems Published

Claude H. Duckworth, former Sequim resident now living in Seward, Alaska, is the author of "The Call of Alaska," a volume of poems of the great outdoors.

The Exposition Press Inc. of New York City has published the book of verse which includes a poem about Puget Sound. "Idaho," "The Ross Dam" and "Springtime in Montana" are other Northwest poems.

Duckworth lived in Sequim in 1949 and 1950 and built a home on Prairie Street. The home was recently sold. While in Sequim he engaged in carpentry. Duckworth was born in Swanton, Md., and was educated in Maryland schools. He has lived and traveled over much of America.

In 1947 Gary Edwards of Sequim met Duckworth in Alaska where both were employed at Ladd Air Field. Edwards told his friend about the climate in Sequim and Duckworth came here for a short time. Edwards and his wife claim they knew nothing of Duckworth's talent until the book of poems arrived in June.

The cover synopsis described Duckworth's verse as "strong and manly, and it has vigorous, rolling force to it that gives the reader a feeling of independence, of freedom, and of life."

"Mr. Duckworth shows a strong faith in the North and its possibilities, and yet, for all the North's infinite expanse and riches, he sounds in his verse the first alarm calling for conservation, and pleads that this richness not be slashed and gouged away ruthlessly—as it has been the case in the American Northwest," says the publisher.

State Farmers Get More Dollars

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington and Oregon farmers are taking in more dollars this year than last, the Department of Agriculture reports, but may not end up with any more profit.

Department figures show that during the first 10 months of 1952, Washington farmers grossed $483,210,000 from farm marketings while their Oregon colleagues took in $386,447,000 — increases from their respective $454,282,000 and $350,141,000 grosses during a comparable period last year.

This increase is in line with a departmental observation that "although farmers' total gross income is setting another new record this year, higher costs of production are holding their realized net income at or a little below last year's level....."

In both states, the gain has been in crop marketings. Oregon picked up from $186,774,000 to $226,433,000 in this category while dropping from $163,367,000 to $160,014,000 in cash receipts from sale of livestock and products.

Washington had only a slight gain in the livestock and products gross—from $171,442,000 to $171,853,000—but increased its crop take from $282,840,000 to $311,358,000.

Students Present 'Christmas in Song'

Over 150 Sequim students participated in the community sing "Christmas In Song," Monday evening. The high school band, girls glee club, junior high glee club, mixed choir, nonette and boys quartet provided traditional Christmas music, under the direction of Philip Ager.

Sally Cays narrated "The Christmas Story" with the band, choir and ensembles playing background music. Acting as ushers for the evening were Frances Roberts, Pat Haggerty, Donna Joy and Darlene Van Brocklin.

The band led the program with a rousing march followed by "White Christmas" and "Jesu Bambino." Charlene Davis, Betty Bruce, Marsha Elzinga and Robert Dalton played incidental solos. After playing "Rudolph The Red Nosed Reindeer," the band ended with "Storm King March."

The junior high glee sang a clever arrangement of "Silver Bells," and "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear," "A Christmas Legend," and "Beautiful Savior."

QUARTET PERFORMS

A quartet composed of Ralph Robins, Jim Stevens, Robert Dalton and Robert Staeger sang an old favorite "We Three Kings." The nonette gave "Away In a Manger," and "Silent Night." Joan Dunlap, Janet Briethaupt, Betty Brown, Anne Hartshorn, Sandra Cyas, Betty Bruce, Charlene Davis, Carol Tait and Sandra Pearson comprised the nonette.

"Angels We Have Heard On High" was an introductory number by the mixed choir. "I Wonder As I Wander" featured Carol Brown in a soprano solo, followed by "Carol of the Bells" and "Echo Hymn." Carol Brown, Edythe Tulin, and Ralph Robins formed an echo chorus for the hymn.

Girls glee club presented four songs, including "Panis Angelicus" and the traditional "Jingle Bells." "Bless The Lord O My Soul" and "Today There Is a Ringing" were their other selections.

Several groups joined their musical instruments and voices in six other traditional Christmas songs, with "Joy To The World" bringing together the combined groups.

The audience participated in three Christmas carols. JoAnne Peterson was accompanist for the girls glee club.

Robert Dalton is president of the Band Council. Betty Bruce, Sandra Barker, Virginia McDonald and Jim Stevens are council members.

By MRS. E. MILLER

Mr. and Mrs. F. Bronner of Bremerton drove here early Sunday morning in time for breakfast with the H. F. Alexander's. Mr. Bronner is a grandson of Mr. Alexander and came to wish them a Merry Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hall and small daughter were recent guests at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hall. They expect to spend the holidays here as well.

John A. Johnson will be home for Christmas. He has been in Seattle since Thanksgiving after undergoing surgery. He will drive here with his daughter Emily who also will spend the holidays with her parents and sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis.

A large crowd was on hand at the school Friday night to enjoy the Christmas program of the students. It was opened with the congregation singing "Oh Come All Ye Faithful." The high school girls sang two carols with Mrs. Krattli accompanying on the piano. A band composed of grade school students played three numbers, finishing with Paul Robertson playing "Ave Maria." Murray Sands and Robert Stocking gave a poem about Santa Claus, then third, fourth, fifth, sixth and high school classes sang "Angels We Have Heard On High." "I Saw Mamma Kissing Santa Claus" was sung by the fifth and sixth grades, "Harrowing Reflections" by Palmer Erickson, Eleanor Corey, and Billy Hart. "I Heard the Bells," and "White Christmas," by high school girls. Three songs were sung by third and fourth grade pupils with June Liljedahl accompanying at the piano. The little first and second graders sang two songs. A play by the seventh and eighth grades finished the program. Then came the big treat of the evening for the small fry, Santa arrived and every child small and big received a Christmas treat.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hyden and Donny were dinner guests of her parents in Port Angeles Sunday.

Mrs. Florence Baskins of Port Angeles is receiving grateful thanks from the 4-H Club of Joyce for the lovely picture she painted and gave to them recently for a money-making project for their club activities.

William Duncan has returned home from the hospital at Vancouver, Wash., in time for Christmas. His health is much better after his treatment there.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anderson Friday. The occasion was the birthday of Mrs. Miller. Her son "Spud" arrived home from Bellingham later in the evening and helped in the celebration.

A plastic demonstration party was given at the home of Mrs. William Wasankari last week.

Sunday guests at the Harold Hines home were Mr. Hines' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stokke of Port Ludlow.

The Salt Creek Sewing Club held its Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Henry Liljedahl Saturday night. It was a family night with husbands and children attending. An exchange of gifts was the highlight of the evening. June Liljedahl played the piano and Mr. Buck assisted with his accordian. Henry Liljedahl sang a solo. Cards were enjoyed during the evening, with lunch at a late hour.

Sunday guests at the Henry Liljedahl home were their son Richard Liljedahl and family of Port Angeles.

Robert Hyden arrived home Sunday from Pullman for the Christmas holidays. Another college student home is Dennis Duncan from Bellingham, who will spend Christmas with his parents.

Mrs. Walter Baar is home from Spokane, Wash., after a two weeks visit with her daughter and son-in-law the Tom LaRues.

DOUBLE TROUBLE

HONG KONG (AP) — Bill Davis of Cookeville, Tenn., and Jesse Marley of Doniphan, Mo., joined the Navy in May, 1952, went through boot camp together and started Korean duty at the same time aboard the U. S. Cruiser Los Angeles.

Now they're in adjoining beds in the British naval hospital here.

A ship's cable snapped in port here Sunday, breaking the left leg of each.

Joyce Bible School Presents Cantata

Joyce Bible Church Sunday School presented its annual Christmas program Sunday evening at 7:30 to an appreciative audience of nearly 100.

The first of the program were contributions by the beginners, primary, junior girls and junior boys classes directed by Gail Sams, Mrs. Himple, Mrs. Myers and Geraldine Baar, respectively.

The choir, dressed in black robes with white collars, carried lighted candles and sang "Silent Night" as they marched through the church to their places. Their first selection, "Wonderful," was followed by "Bethlehem's Star," recited by Geraldine Baar.

The girls trio sang "Out of the Ivory Palaces," "Why Should He Love Me So," and "Only Glory By and By." Sammy Hurworth recited "Keep Christ in Christmas," Marva Sams gave "Prince of Peace," and Judy Anderson recited "Blessings." Gail Sams gave "It Is Finished" by Rose Tieche and the "Paradoxes of Christ."

During the three parts of the pageant "The Nativity" presented by the Young Peoples Society of the church "Christ's Life and Death" and "Christ's Second Coming," the choir sang "Angels From the Realm of Glory," "O Holy Night," "I Gave My Life for Thee," "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Christ Returneth." Bob Hines read the scripture selections.

Israelis Gladly Accept Hardships In New Country

WASHINGTON (AP)—There is stiff rationing of food, clothing and even of schooling for the very young in over-populated Israel. But, though there is black-marketing, a Tel-Aviv woman leader says most citizens willingly accept the sacrifices.

Mrs. H. Nofech Mozes, lawyer and editor, says rationing is necessary because the population has doubled in four years since Israel became a state. Of the 1,250,000 persons bulging the borders of the little country, some 600,000 are refugees from DP camps and Arabian countries. Each person is allowed only two eggs a week, four pounds of potatoes a month, less than one glass of milk a day. Only sick persons and children can have poultry. Only children can have tomatoes in winter. Tea, rice, sugar and fats are rationed, and Mrs. Mozes says meat is a myth. Each person receives 40 coupons a year for clothing. Children under 10 can go to school only three hours a day.

"It is better that each person should have a little than that some have all and some have nothing," Mrs. Mozes said. "These controls, which make people equal in food and clothing, are an antidote to Communism. Besides, we're so glad the Jewish people have a state that we're willing to bear the hardships. After genocide (race murder) and wars, what is it to go without some foods or an extra dress?"

Mrs. Mozes, a petite and most attractive young brunette, is a judge on the anti-profiteering court dealing with black marketeering. She is also legal adviser for the Israel Association of Women for Equal Rights, editor of a women's magazine and writer of a column dealing with divorce, alimony and maintenance. She is in the U. S. under State Department Sponsorship to observe domestic relations courts and marriage hygiene counseling centers.

She says mutual consent is all that is necessary to get a divorce in Israel but that divorces are granted only in religious courts and getting untied from a spouse is a solemn ritual taking four hours. If one party dissents, divorce is difficult, she said.

Wife of a lawyer and mother of two young sons, Isaac, 14, and Ronny, 7, Mrs. Mozes was graduated in law from the University of Geneva and speaks eight languages. She has also studied in England.

Eleven of the 126 members of the Israeli Parliament are women. The minister of labor is a woman, and there are about 600 women doctors. Military training is compulsory for both men and women between 18 and 21 and both sees are eligible to vote for Parliament at 18.

Ancients Used Many Gadgets For Medicine

WASHINGTON (AP)—Your savage ancestors had their own system for curing all their aches and pains. They combatted asthma, for instance, by posting a lock of hair in a tree. Toting around a rag doll was considered a sure way of getting rid of diptheria in those primitive days when medicine was a dark science.

The Medical Museum of the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology has a collection of gadgets that the ancients used for medical purposes.

A casual glance at what it calls "all sorts of weird and absurd objects" is enough to convince you of just how far man has gone in his knowledge of diseases and their cures.

We used to consider diseases as being caused by evil spirits, and the only way we knew to combat those diseases was to get good spirits on our side.

A small, round stone called the Bezoar stone used to be a pet cure. Men—and women too—had the idea old Bezoar could cure anything, from snakebite to smallpox. Powdered Egyptian mummy was considered to be another pretty fair cure-all.

Rheumatism? An iron ring or a copper disc somewhere in your vicinity was calculated to get rid of a backache always . . . well, nearly always.

Women wore plenty of jewelry in those days, but not because they were extravagant. They were just cautious. Precious stones, it seemed to our primitive ancestors, had their own protective powers.

"Witch balls" hung in windows kept out all kinds of diseases. And back in the 17th century King Charles II of England paid 15,000 pounds for a special formula for "Goddard's Drops." That tonic was made from raw silk.

Gold is almost invariably found in ores which produce silver.

LAND BIG STURGEON

WENATCHEE (AP) — Two Wenatchee fishermen Wednesday landed a 103-pound Sturgeon at Rock Island dam near here after a 2½ hour battle. It was the largest fish of its type caught here in many years, a local sporting goods store owner said.

Denny and Clyde Horton said they took the huge fish on 12-pound test tackle while they were trying for steelhead. Denny Horton was once a major league pitcher with the Detroit Tigers.

How Women Over 35 Can Look Younger
by Helena Rubinstein
The value of Estrogenic Hormones for the mature skin is now a proven fact. Thirty years ago I started using them on my own skin. Since then many, many more women using my Estrogenic Hormone preparations faithfully have helped ward off the signs of age—wrinkles, dryness, lined throat, crepiness.
For you see my Estrogenic Hormone preparations do far more than a surface job They work on the living layer of the skin beneath the visible surface. They influence the fullness, the texture, the smoothness and the color of the skin—and hence its youthful look.
Here's What Happens
Doctors have discovered that up to the age of 35, a woman's skin receives an abundant supply of natural estrogens through the blood stream. These natural estrogens enable the supporting under tissues of your skin to retain moisture. It is this moisture which helps give your skin the full, firm look that is the secret of a young woman's beauty.
But when nature's supply of estrogens begins to diminish after 35, your under skin loses this natural moisture, and your outer skin actually begins to collapse. Its radiant fullness and freshness disappear. The skin on your face and throat begins to show tragic signs of age—dryness, wrinkles, lined throat.
Your Skin Looks Younger
Now it is possible to counteract this aging appearance! When applied externally through gentle massage, the Helena Rubinstein Estrogenic Hormone preparations help your under skin retain its vital moisture.
Your under skin fills out normally, and your outer skin gently smooths out. Tiny lines become less visible. Excessive "flaking" — what the doctors call keratinization—is arrested. The hormones dilate your blood vessels, and stimulate skin circulation. Your skin looks smoother, fresher.
Overnight Use Gives Optimum Results
For proper absorption, estrogenic hormones should be left on the skin at least 5 to 6 hours to work their wonders. For the greatest and quickest improvement you should use both the cream and the oil. At night massage the cream on your face and the oil on your throat. During the day wear the oil on your face and throat under your make-up. The oil is instantly absorbed and leaves no shine.
Now, for a limited time, I can offer you both these preparations, the oil and the cream, at a sensational saving. It's a month's supply and I strongly advise you to use both Estrogenic Hormone Cream and Oil every day and night for at least 30 days.
The improvement in one week is amazing, a whole month's treatment produces wonders! Each product contains 10,000 International Units of natural estrogenic hormones per ounce.
During the years I have had many thousands of letters from grateful women who have already seen their skin acquire a more youthful, glowing radiance. Actually more women use the Helena Rubinstein Estrogenic Hormone preparations than any other brand—a tribute to their extraordinary results!
Life Can Be Beautiful For You Too!
If you are over 35 it is a thrilling experience when you begin to look younger. Compliments come your way. You are gloriously aware that you look prettier, brighter. Your husband starts courting you again. And life suddenly seems beautiful!
Save 2.50 on Helena Rubinstein's Special Estrogenic Hormone Offer!
Estrogenic Hormone Cream should be used on your face at night. Estrogenic Hormone Oil is for your throat at night and to use during the day on face and throat under your make-up. Hurry to get your supply during this once-a-year event. Soon you will be amazed by your smoother, younger-looking skin.

For a limited time only you can have this 6.00 value for only 3.50 plus tax.

GRANNIE OAKLEY — Mrs. Harry J. Barton poses with her beginner's luck. The 49-year-old grandmother of Cumberland, Md., shot a 110-pound doe in West Virginia one day and a 115-pound, six-point buck on her Maryland farm the next, each with one cartridge. It was her first deer hunting. (NEA)

Oregon Combines Jazz, Basketball

(This is the third in a series on prospects of Northern Division basketball teams)

By MATT KRAMER

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Bill Borcher, the young coach who managed to combine basketball and two-beat jazz, may be tuning up another surprise.

It will come as a special shock to the experts who expected Oregon to be a sorry, slowfooted entry in the Northern Division race.

Borcher's team has been anything but that in pre-season games. It's been as driving and bouncy as a halftime intermission with Borcher.

That's when the coach, now in his second season at Oregon, combines jazz and basketball by playing Dixieland records for his players. He maintains it relaxes them.

Few expected Borcher to come up with the outfit he has. The experts said he had only three top-flight players last season, and only one of them returned this year. He is Chet Noe, the 6 foot 7 center, who looks better than ever.

The two who did not return were forward Bob Peterson, 6 feet 5, who set a Northern Division record for grabbing rebounds, and Guard Ken Hunt, 5 feet 11, the top scorer on a team that finished third, behind Washington and Idaho.

But two things brought a change. One was the addition of two junior college stars — Ed Halberg, 6 feet 5, former Olympic J. C. performer, and Bob Stout, 6 feet 2, from Marin, Calif., J. C.

Halberg moved right into the starting lineup. Stout has provided the reserve legs needed in the Oregon run - run style. Both are forwards, teaming with Keith Farnam, a 6 foot 2 senior who was a reserve last season.

The other change was the regained shooting eye of the guards. Barney Holland, 5 feet 11, a junior who had a disappointing sophomore year, is living up to earlier promise now. So is Bob Hawes, 6 feet, another junior. And still one more junior, Ken Wegner, 5 feet 10, is looking even better than last year, when he was a regular.

Holland currently is the best shot of the three, but Hawes and Wegner are the real speed boys of the constantly milling Oregon attack.

With only two really tall players in the lineup — Noe and Halberg — Borcher, who plays a bit of trumpet himself, expected to have the backboard blues.

It has scarcely bothered him so far. His players' speed, ball-hawking and a general let's - get - the - joint - to - jumping attitude have kept him pouring out the happy tunes.

Neah Bay Hoop Squad Showing Much Strength

Peninsula league basketball teams are keeping their eyes on the Neah Bay Red Devils.

In the northwest tip of the United States a strong 28 man squad is turning out on the maple court under the tutelage of Bob Olson.

The squad includes:

Seniors: Jim Moore, Jerry Nichols, Marv Elvrum, Bill Ervine and Norman Hahn.

Juniors: Chuck Davis, Luke Markistum, John McCarty, John Parker, Cecil Sullivan, Bob Wheeler and Pat Wilkie.

Sophomores: Melvin Frantz, Dell Green, Elmer Green, Hallie Kallappa, Joseph Lawrence, Dick Parker, Stan Peters, Pat Swan, Tom Ward, and Tim Washburn.

Frosh: Lester Green, Harry McCarty.

Eighth Graders: Clark Davis, Dean Hahn.

The squad is built around Chuck Davis, Jim Moore, Jerry Nichols and Pat Wilkie who are returning starters from last year's team which finished second in a torrid Peninsula league race.

Davis is an exceptional shot from nearly any position and is a good board man. Moore is a driving, speed guard and is deadly around the basket. Wilkie is the play setter and has a good two-handed set shot. Nichols, who handles the pivot post, is good with either hand besides being a good backboard man.

At the present time, Coach Olson has Pat Swan, a sophomore, working in at the other forward spot. He is fast with a good shot from the key. Behind this five is Stan Peters, a 6-2 sophomore, who fills in at the post slot when needed.

Other capable reserves include Luke Markistum, a 6-foot junior; Bob Wheeler, a 235-pound 6-3 junior, who is an effective rebound man; Marv. Elvrum, a senior push shot expert, and Bill Ervine, another senior who does well out front and on the side.

Two juniors, John McCarty and Tom Ward, also have definite possibilities and are pressing for starting berths.

The Red Devils take on the YMCA Seniors tonight at Neah Bay starting at 8 o'clock. A preliminary game between the Roosevelt junior high Teddies and the Neah Bay reserves is scheduled to get under way at 7 p.m.

The Neah Bay schedule:
Dec. 26—YMCA Seniors at Neah Bay.
Jan. 2—Skykomish at Sky.
Jan. 9—Chimacum at Chimacum.
Jan. 13—Joyce at Joyce.
Jan. 16—Clallam Bay at Neah Bay.
Jan. 17—YMCA Seniors at Port Angeles.
Jan. 23—Forks at Forks.
Jan. 30—Joyce at Neah Bay.

MARTINEZ FAVORED IN TONIGHT'S BOUT

NEW YORK (AP) — Flash Vince Martinez was rated an 8-5 favorite to rack up his 12th straight victory Friday night at the expense of Don Williams in the main ten-rounder of a youth card at Madison Square Garden.

The wavy-haired, 23-year old bobby sox idol from Paterson, N. J., returns to the ring wars after a six months absence because of bad hands. In Williams, a 24-year old veteran of 70 pro contests, Martinez will be meeting his most experienced opponent to date.

Their 7 p.m. PST, bout will be telecast coast to coast.

HAWAII LOVES BOWLING

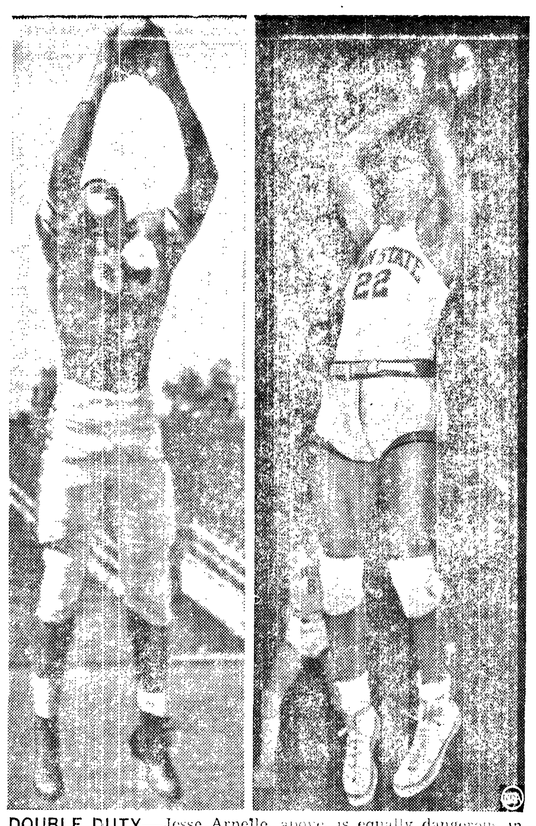
MILWAUKEE (AP) — Bowling has caught on in Hawaii and as a result the Oahu Bowling Association is the fastest growing group affiliated with the American Bowling Congress.

The Oahu association, with 2,393 teams, climbed into 21st place according to ABC figures at the end of the 1951-52 season. With an increase in alley beds available for league plays, the Oahu group is sure to climb higher before the end of the current season.

In 1948 there were only five establishments and 62 alley beds in the association. The latest report shows 21 places with 208 alley beds.

The Oahu group joined the ABC in 1950 and ranged 37th in ABC. Now they are 21st.

Newcomers up from the plebe squad are Joe Thomer, Johnny Strom, Dick Cardillo and Jerry Gilpin.



DOUBLE DUTY—Jesse Arnelle, above, is equally dangerous in both football and basketball. Penn State's star sophomore end caught 33 passes for a new school record this year, and established a cage single game scoring mark last season. (NEA)

Heavy Champ Gets Trophies

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano will have to build himself a big house to hold all the trophies being heaped on him these days.

Ring Magazine, the boxing bible, added another Friday by naming the Brockton (Mass.) blaster as "the fighter of the year" for 1952.

At the same time, Ring Editor Nat Fleischer, picked Chuck Davey, undefeated welterweight contender from East Lansing, Mich., for his Ring Progress award.

In his sum-up of the year's activity in boxing, Fleischer, a noted boxing authority, said that although a record number (16) of the title fights were held during the year, 1952 was not an "ideal" year for the game.

He warned that television was rapidly making boxing "just another puppet show" and said that more small clubs went out of existence.

In his ratings, Fleischer still listed the retired Sugar Ray Robinson as middleweight champion. Behind Robinson he rated, in order, England's Randy Turpin, Carl (Bobo) Olson of Honolulu, Charles Humez of France and Ernie Durando of Bayonne, N. J.

Behind Marciano in the heavyweight rankings, Ring rated Jersey Joe Walcott, Camden, N. J., Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati, Rex Layne of Lewiston, Utah, and Roland LaStarza of New York.

Harry Matthews of Seattle, who has been fighting as a heavyweight, was ranked No. 3 light-heavyweight behind Archie Moore, the newly crowned light-heavy champion, and Joey Maxim, the ex-titleholder.

North-South Game Is Tie

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Jack Scarbath's 64-yard touchdown pass to Jim Hook—the grand climax that threw the North-South college all-star football game into a 21-21 deadlock Thursday night and left 42,866 fans limp from excitement—wasn't planned by the coaches.

Hook, Missouri's top ground gainer, suggested the play to South Coach Andy Gustafson of Miami in the fading seconds of the thrill-packed contest as the South stood with its back to the wall, trailing 21-14.

"I'll have to put the ball way up there, Jim," warned Scarbath, Maryland's All-America quarterback, "and you've got to run like hell for it."

As the ball was snapped, Hook darted to the right, cut straight downfield to the North 25, then crossed in front of the North safety to take the skyscraper from Scarbath.

Michigan State's Johnny Wilson grabbed for the Missourian at the five but couldn't bring him down. It was a spectacular finish to the most thrilling battle in the history of the Shrine's annual classic for the benefit of its crippled children, and it boosted the organization's hopes that this game some day will pack the 65,000 seats of the Orange Bowl.

The play was uncorked with 20 seconds to go, and just 38 seconds after the passing combination that won Purdue a share of the Big Samuels to Bernard Flowers—had clicked on a six-yard touchdown play to boost the North into a 21-14 lead.

GIARDELLO IS LISTED WINNER

NEW YORK (AP) — As far as the ring record book is concerned, middleweight Joey Giardello will be listed as the winner over Billy Graham in their controversial battle a week ago at Madison Square Garden.

Editor Nat Fleischer said Friday he planned to list Giardello as the winner with an explanatory note about the reversed decision.

Robert Christenberry, chairman of the New York Athletic Commission, arbitrarily changed the card of Judge Joe Agnello and gave the verdict to Graham after Giardello had been declared the victor.

Fleischer said he might make a change if Giardello's managers sue Christenberry, as threatened, and the issue is decided in court.

Huskies Beat St. Louis U By 66-59 Score

SEATTLE (AP) — The Washington Huskies snuffed St. Louis University's new "Christmas candle" offense 66-59 in the first of two intersectional basketball games with the touring Billikens Thursday night.

The teams wind up the series with another game at Hec Edmundson Pavilion Friday night.

The new offense unveiled by the Eddie Hickey-coached Billikens had players lined up on both sides of the free throw line and one man far out with the ball.

The latter could either drive around for a shot or try a short one behind the screen set up on the free throw line.

The offense puzzled the Huskies at the start but they started rolling early in the second quarter and never again were threatened. They led 33-28 at the half.

Bob Houbregs, as usual, paced the winners, dropping in 24 oints to run his season total to 163. Jerry Koch was high man for St. Louis with 11 points, one more than Dick Boushka, normally one of the nation's leading scorers. Boushka was held well in check by Washington's Doug McClary.

Washington had a .510 shooting average for the game hitting 26 of 51 shots. St. Louis had .384 with 24 for 69.

West Favored In Charity Game

By RUSS NEWLAND

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Stars who made football headlines on many college gridirons this season combine talents here Saturday in the name of charity—the East-West game.

Players, representing practically every section of the country, will battle in the 28th annual classic that provides funds for the San Francisco Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children.

Weather permitting, a capacity throng of 62,000 will attend. The game was sold out last August. It will be televised nationally over the Dumont network and broadcast over Mutual network, both starting at 1:45 p.m. PST. The kickoff will be 2 p.m.

The West has been established as a six-point favorite. Its 25-man squad includes All America quarterback Don Heinrich, Washington, left half Billy Vessels, Oklahoma, and tackle J. D. Kimme, Houston.

On the East team, Tom Scott, end from Virginia, received Associated Press All America first unit honors this season.

The East team, coached by Clarence Munn, Michigan State, Ray Eliot, Illinois and Dr. Eddie Anderson, Holy Cross, will use the "T", single and double wing, and spreads. Munn's Michigan State outfit was voted the nation's No. 1 team this year.

Tom O'Connell of Illinois is slated to start at quarterback, with Don McAuliffe, Michigan State, at left half; hard hitting Bill Reynolds of Pittsburgh at right half, and 220-pound Joe Fortunato of Mississippi State at fullback. McAuliffe and safety man Al Brosky, Illinois, will be co-captains.

The West will operate from the "T" in the style used by Howie Odell, University of Washington coach. Jules Sikes of Kansas, who played here in Dec. 26, 1927 game as a Texas A&M star, and Chuck Taylor Stanford, are the other West mentors. Taylor played in the 1943 contest.

Besides All American, Heinrich, the West has another topnotch quarterback in Ed Crowder of Oklahoma. The starting assignment has not been decided.

Roughriders Play Raymond Hoop Team Here Saturday Night

A strong Raymond Seagull basketball team is expected to give the Roosevelt high Roughriders one of their stiffest tests of the still young season at Roosevelt gym tomorrow night.

Game time is set for 8 p.m. The Roosevelt junior high Teddies will tangle with the Roosevelt Ranger's second five in a preliminary starting at 6:45.

The Seagulls from the southwestern part of Washington perennially have a strong basketball team. Not too much information is available this season on the visitors but they have a 51-40 win over Castle Rock and an 88-63 victory over Toutle to their credit.

Usual starters for Raymond include Baker and Betrozoff, forwards, Ledford and Overstreet, guards and Albie Kamps, center. Coach Bill Madden of Roosevelt is expected to oppose this five with Bob Shideler and Dick Brown at the forward posts, Clark Stratford at center, and Arlen McDonald and Dick Kent in the guard slots.

Last season the Seagulls won 19 straight games but were eliminated from state tournament play in their 20th.

Radio KONP will carry a play-by-play broadcast of the game starting at 7:45.

Davis Challenge Round Monday

by GAYLE TALBOT

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — Developments over the hot Christmas Day here indicate the Australians will pit their strongest team of Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor against the Americans in the Davis Cup challenge round beginning Monday.

It earlier had been thought that the Aussies might use Mervin Rose with Sedgman in the singles and save McGrevor for the doubles as they did in their successful defense of the cup a year ago.

But it now appears that Rose has "had it."

In an obvious test match, with three Australian selectors watching Rose dropped the first set to McGregor, 5-7, then suddenly quit the court when trailing, 1-3, in the second set.

Harry Hopman, captain of the Aussie squad, announced that Rose had suffered a touch of the sun, but the concensus of spectators was that the lefthander had blown his chance to represent his country.

BIG SEVEN HOOP TOURNEY STARTING

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The annual Big Seven pre-season basketball tournament—often a misleading preview to the conference's titular race—opens in Municipal Auditorium Friday night.

Kansas University's remodeled NCAA champions and the Nebraska Cornhuskers start the eight-team scramble. Missouri and Iowa State complete the first double bill.

The first round will be completed Saturday night with Kansas State and Oklahoma and Colorado and Yale, the guest team.

Wisconsin Is Getting More Followers

PASADENA (AP) — Wisconsin, the best of the Big Ten Conference at the running game, is beginning to gain favor here for its New Year's game in the Rose Bowl with Southern California.

The ruling earlier this week that Jim Psaltis, star Trojan defense back, is ineligible for the game, has dropped USC stock considerably.

One Pacific Coast Conference coach, although clinging to anonymity, says the loss of Psaltis makes the difference between the teams.

He said he leaned somewhat toward Wisconsin, anyhow, but that with Psaltis unavailable to defend against passes and support the linebackers, Wisconsin's drives through the center, with Alan Amache spearheading the attack, are going to be mighty hard to stop.

The coach in question said he was not betraying any trade secrets when he mentioned that a team with a strong running game could beat Southern California, "and Wisconsin has an outstanding offense and there's none better ball."

Psaltis was ruled ineligible because he played junior varsity football at Santa Rosa Junior College. He ranked second, nationally in pass interceptions, with nine.

George Stirnweiss, former New York Yankee and Cleveland Indian infielder, was a backfield star for the University of North Carolina in the late 30's.

Portland Resident Says Ferry-Rider O'Brien Is Brother

PORTLAND (AP) — Michael Patrick O'Brien, the man who for the past 100 days has been riding a ferry boat between Macao and Hong Kong, was identified Thursday as a former Portland resident.

O'Brien, who has been on the ferry since Sept. 18 and who can't get off because he doesn't have a passport, is really Steve Ragan, his younger brother, Mike Ragan, said.

Ragan identified him from an Associated Press Wirephoto. He said the elder Ragan took the name of Michael O'Brien when he left Portland in 1927.

Mike Ragan said he had heard from his brother only once in the past 20 years. That was "an inquiry letter which reached me while I was in the Army in England during the war . . . As I remember, he was in some trouble as a prisoner of the Japs or maybe the British in the Orient," he said.

The younger Ragan, born in Tacoma, said he was not sure where his brother was born but he believes it was in Poland.

He said he'd like to help his brother but didn't know what he could do.

Interviewed in Hong Kong, the man who seems a perpetual ferry passenger, recalled living at Tacoma near "the Indian School on Puyallup Avenue," of playing semi-pro baseball at Rainer and of working at a sawmill at Hoquiam.

French Drive Against Red-Led Vietminh Continues

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — "Operation Bretagne," designed to clear several thousand Communist-led Vietminh from the important Buichu sector in the Red River delta, continued late Friday night but Thursday's strong contact had faded.

The French high command reported only minor skirmishes in the rich rice bowl, 70 miles southeast of Hanoi. The year-end mopping up action so far has resulted in nearly 400 enemy dead and at least 500 captured.

In the mountainous Thai country in Northwestern Indochina, near Na San, which some 20,000 Vietminh tried unsuccessfully to storm four weeks ago, only light contact was reported.

Meanwhile, pressure on the town of Sam Neuva across the Laos border, 50 miles south of Na San, eased. Two days before Christmas, the high command had expressed serious concern over its fate, fearing a new general thrust into Laos.

As the year end approaches, there are indications that the Vietminh winter offensive and French counterattacks will intensify. The French have imposed security restrictions concerning the present drive but observers expect a major development in the immediate future.

Group Says Situation Of Aged Unsatisfactory

WASHINGTON (AP) — "The situation o fthe present age is quite unsatisfactory" because of inadequate pensions, the National Planning Association has concluded, although it reported great progress in the last 15 years.

The association, a non-profit, nonpolitical research organization, prepared a report on pensions at the request of the Senate-House Economic Committee, which has had it printed as a government document. The committee made the report public Thursday night.

Average pension payments currently are still considerably below the subsistence level, the group said, and it added:

"Benefits are low, on the average considerably below subsistance except for those few, some 350,000, who are drawing pensions under both old age and survivors insurance and private plans."

The report said that payments at current levels probably will be far too low in the future which it pictured as an era of a 600 billion dollar annual income by 1975, with a vast increase on the number of aged persons living on pensions.

The study said that 15 years ago only six million workers were covered by any type of pension or retirement pay plan. It said that now the federal old age and survivors insurance systems blankets 47 million workers, and other government programs cover another 7½ millions.

Christmas Seal Sale To Finance X-Rays

Officers of the 46th annual Christmas Seal sale in Clallam County today appealed to residents to send in their dollars for the sheets of seals mailed out last month.

Gil Harper, treasurer of the Clallam County Tuberculosis Association, said the association faces a heavy financial outlay this year in bringing three mobile X-ray units to the county next month for a complete countywide X-ray program. Harper said the association will bear the entire cost of $4,719 to bring the mobile units here, because county commissioners were unable to provide funds.

He pointed out that the TB association's only source of revenue is the sale of Christmas seals.

The mobile X-ray units will provide free chest X-rays to everyone in the county, making possible early detection of tuberculosis. The association nationally also carries on a health education program, rehabilitation services, and medical research.

In the United States last year 30,837 persons died of tuberculosis, and the national association says nearly a half million unknown cases continue to spread infection among the apparently healthy population.

Marine - Air News

Launching of the salmon troller Lettie M. will be Saturday afternoon at 2:30 instead of noon, because of tidal conditions. The new fishing boat belongs to Capt. Half a million feet of bundled lumber is being loaded aboard a freighter at the Port of Port Angeles terminal today. The MSTS Pvt. Joseph E. Mann is being loaded by three longshore gangs and cargo stowing may finish late today. The government ship came to the dock late Wednesday but cargo handling did not start until this morning because of the Christmas holiday. The Joe Cecil and Port Tie and Lumber mills of Port Angeles and Sequim Lumber Co. cut the rough lumber. The lumber is mostly 4x4s, 2x4s and 6x6 consigned to oKrea.

Over Christmas 21 vessels stopped off Ediz Hook for pilot service, to register one of the busiest periods this year. Ten were outbound and 13 inbound. Three pilots were able to join the boatmen at the Ediz Hook pilot station for Christmas dinner.

The Coast Guard air station had no emergency calls over Christmas. Personnel and their families had their traditional Christmas party at the station.

Souvenir Shell Injures 4 Persons

CHICKASAW, Ala. (AP) — Explosion of a souvenir 45 mm. "tank buster" shell transformed a gay neighborhood Christmas get - together into a scene of tragedy in which four persons were injured Thursday night.

As a result of the accident, 16-year-old Mildred Childers lost both legs, and Mrs. Verbile McCrory had to have her right leg amputated.

Two others suffered burns and cuts. They were Joe McCrory, 14-year-old son of Mrs. McCrory, and Kenneth Andrews.

Police Chief M. H. McWhirter said the shell had been brought home by Pfc. James W. McCrory, 17, a Marine on Christmas leave from Camp Lejeune. He wasn't around when the tragedy occurred.

McWirter said McCrory's younger brother, Joe, was showing the shell to another person on the McCrory's front porch when he dropped it.

The exploding shell blew a gaping hole in the front porch floor and the living room wall.

Several other persons talking with neighbors in the front yard escaped injury.

McWhirter said the young Marine told him he hadn't realized the danger of the explosive.

An ordnance expert at Brookley Air Force Base in Mobile was investigating.
