An unusual music concert will be presented in the Roosevelt High School gymnasium tomorrow night when massed orchestras and choirs of seven high schools combine for a music festival.

Frank D'Andrea, Western Washington College of Education Orchestra director, will lead over 100 musicians in the orchestral portion of the program; and directing 370 voices in the massed choirs will be Wayne Hertz, head of the music department at Central Washington College of Education.

The choirs will sing four sacred numbers: "Bless the Lord, O My Soul," Ippolitov-Ivanov; "Ave Maria," Vittoria; "Emitte Spirituum Tuum," traditional; and "Jesu, Princeless Treasure," Bach. Their program also will include two spirituals, "Rock-a My Soul" and "Mister Banjo," and three secular numbers, "Woodchuck Song," written and arranged by Fred Waring; Sibelius "Vale of Teroni," and the folk song "Erie Canal."

The orchestral program includes melodies from "Der Rosenkavalier," by Richard Strauss; Finale from Beethoven's Fifth Sympony; overture from "Rosamunde," Schubert; "Procession of the Sardar," Ippolitov-Ivanov; "Buttons," by Merle J. Isaac; "Snow White Fantasy," Frank Churchill; and "Song of India," Rimsky-Korsakov.

Directors of the participating choirs are Ken Sparrow, North Kitsap; Mrs. J. Hart, Central Kitsap; W. Hopkins, South Kitsap; Mrs. C. Berg, Bainbridge; Robert Balcom, Port Townsend; Dick Rawson, Forks; and Harry Fitch, Port Angeles.

Three orchestras will combine for the instrumental program," North Kitsap, directed by Carl Wheeler; South Kitsap, Edwin Benson; and Port Angeles, Oscar Erickson.

The concert will begin at 8 p.m. and is free to the public. The student musicians will start rehearsals at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning ing under their guest conductors.

The musical event will be the first time Port Angeles has been host to a high school music festival.

Rayonier's Shelton Plant Will Reopen

SHELTON (AP)—The Shelton plant of Rayonier Inc., shut down since Jan. 18 due to a slump in the demand for chemical cellulose, will resume operations next Monday, Manager George Cropper announced Friday.

All four Rayonier plants in the state will then be operating on a 24-hour, 7-day week basis, he said. However, the Port Angeles mill plans to close Feb. 22 for about three weeks.

LINE UP FOR X-RAYS City and county officials lined up outside the mobile unit at 6th and Lincoln for their free chest x-rays when the unit opened the county campaign here Tuesday. And this wasn't just publicity—once the picture was taken, they all trooped in and had their chests x-rayed, even the photographer who took the picture.

Reading from left, they are Gil Harper, treasurer of the Clallam County Tuberculosis Association; Henry W. Davies, chairman of the county chest x-ray committee; County Commissioners Walter Roberge and Fred Evans; Dr. Philip Risser, district health officer; City Manager G. S. Vergeer; Dick Hansen, x-ray technician; County Commissioner Lyle Watson; Mrs. Bette Collier, TB association executive secretary; Mayor Ivor Smith; and Arnold Moen, radiological engineer.

2,000th X-Ray Given To County Resident

When Mrs. Helen M. Malvey walked up to the mobile X-ray unit at 6th and Lincoln Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock, she was the 2,000th Clallam County resident to get a free chest X-ray.

TB X-ray officials said Mrs. Malvey also was accompanied by her five-year-old son Richard, and Richard's dog "Tiny."

The technician on duty explained that children under 15 are not being X-rayed due to the extremely low incidence of tuberculosis in smaller children. However he wasn't sure that Richard was persuaded why Tiny shouldn't be X-rayed too.

The total time for the 2,000th X-ray, registration and all, was a little less than two minutes.

Also X-rayed yesterday were George W. Brooks of Arlington, Va., and Russell W. Allen of Schenectady, N.Y., who were in Port Angeles on business.

"We will X-ray every adult who reports to the mobile units," said Harold Puckett, X-ray technician. "However, these figures will not count in the county totals."

The X-ray program sponsored by the Clallam Tuberculosis Association has as its goal to X-ray every adult in the county 15 years of age and older.

High Voltage Power Bills Generate Shower Of Sparks in Both Houses of Legislature

By LEROY HITTLE

OLYMPIA (AP) — The 33rd Legislature met in a charged atmosphere Friday as two high voltage power bills generated a shower of sparks in both houses.

One of them, in the House of Representatives, was backed by private power advocates to short-circuit the public utility movement.

The other, in the Senate, would pull the switch on the PUDs method of floating bonds. The PUDs would have to put the bonds up for competitive bidding. They can negotiate their sale at present.

The battle in the House started Thursday, but was switched over to Friday's program to keep it from interferring with memorial services.

The controversy revolves around a measure to restrict PUDs' condemnation rights. The bill would require a PUD to obtain a certificate of necessity from the State Public Service Commission before they could take over private power facilities by condemnation.

And, before a PUD could obtain a certificate, it would have to prove: 1. That its existing sources of power were inadequate to meet its needs. 2. That the facilities it proposed to condemn would not impair the ability of the private power company to serve its customers, and 3. That the acquisition was in the public interest.

The lineup of legislators for private and public power gave an indication of the stand they may take on other power bills still pending in both houses.

It was the second test of strength on major issues before the Legislature.

The first came in the Senate Thursday when the solons turned down a proposal for expanding the education program. The measure would have permitted school districts to build and operate "residential schools" for handicapped children.

Sens. Jack Rogers, Bremerton Democrat, and Thomas Hall, Skamokawa Republican, led the fight to defeat that portion of the bill.

Sen. Nat Washington, Ephrata Democrat, carried the ball for it.

Hall and Rogers both said they were in accord with other provisions of the measure which would permit school districts to make agreements between each other for the care of handicapped children, but they were against that section authorizing construction of residential schools.

Hall said it would open the way for the school forces to come before the Legislature two years hence with a demand for more money to operate the schools. And, he added, the proposed residential schools would be coping for dollars needed to operate other phases of the educational program.

The bill finally passed without the section permitting construction of residential schools for handicapped children.

Legion Post To Conduct Seminar Here Monday On Anti-Subversive Activities

Walter Akeley Post 29 of the American Legion will be host to a 3rd District "anti-subversive seminar" Monday in Legion hall starting at 8 p.m., local Cmdr. Charles Church said today.

State Legion officials and others will attend the seminar, which is open to Legion and Auxiliary members. Otherwise the seminar will be invitational only, due to lack of seating facilities, Church explained.

William Conniff, district chairman of the department anti-subversive committee, will open the meeting. Conniff today said purpose of the seminar is "to begin to do something about communism at the local level and to advise people what to do and what not to do."

"In the past 15 years anti-Communists had to work underground," Conniff said. "Now they can come out into the open without fear of reprisals."

Conniff will fully explain the purpose of the meeting Monday after Cmdr. Church leads the pledge of allegance to the flag.

Lawrence Timbers, 1st District anti-subversive chairman, will speak on "What is This Thing Called Communism?" and "What Are Behind the Communist Fronts?"

He will be followed by Fred M. Fuecker, state adjutant, whose talk will be titled "Legion Anti-Subversive Activities, Past, Present and Future — And Present Mandates and Program."

Mrs. Jeannetta Nelson, state vice chairman, department anti-subversive committee, will talk on "What Each American Legion Post and American Legion Auxiliary Unit Can Do in Fighting Communism."

William Brown, Portland, Ore., member of the national American Legion committee on anti-subversive activities, will be a guest speaker. Conniff said Brown is chief of detectives of the City of Portland, was active in the investigation of the Harry Bridges case, has been active in anti-subversive work for years and was national sergeant-at-arms for several national commanders of the Legion.

Ft. Worden Donors Make Up Local Shortage Of Blood

Because Port Angeles citizens are not repaying Olympic Memorial Hospital's blood bank for blood borrowed, a crew from here had to travel to Ft. Worden yesterday, where soldiers donated 24 pints.

Acting Hospital Administrator W. E. Parr said this morning that "even though Army officers at the fort know Port Angeles should be well able to supply its own blood bank, they warmly received the local crew."

The blood came from soldiers stationed at the post awaiting discharge, who will not be there when the mobile blood unit makes its next visit.

Parr said donations of blood from anyone in the city would help, but responsibility for keeping the bank replenished lies largely with friends and relatives of those who get transfusions. "So far we haven't had to resort to any cash deposit as a replacement guarantee, as they do in some Seattle hospitals, and we don't want to," the acting administrator said.

The Ft. Worden post commander, Col. Bagley, and medical officer, Major Holden, furnished the four from the local hospital with a ten-bed ward to be used in drawing blood.

Members of the group, who were also shown through the post hospital, laboratory and pharmacy, were Eldo Florence, Mrs. Henry Wise, Miss Dorothy Hanson and Miss Dolores McHatton.

Clerks Union Signs For 7 Cent Increase

Representatives of the Merchants Trade Bureau and the Retail Clerks Union, Local 375, today announced signing of an agreement granting a seven cent increase in the scale of rates. The increase is retroactive to Aug. 1, 1952.

The new contract raises the beginners' minimum rate to 82 cents for women and 95½ cents per hour for men. The minimum scale under the new rate now goes up to $1.01 per hour for women with at least two years' experience, and $1.30½ per hour for men with two years experience.

Signing the contract were Peter R. Walker, Charles Willson and Allen O. Sawalish for the merchants, and Darrel, Tracy, Paul Hedge and Lisa Mitton for the clerks' union. Hedge is president of the local, Miss Mitton secretary, and Tracy, of Bremerton, is business agent.

Negotiations on the new contract have been underway since last June, Tracy said. Attorney Tyler Moffett represented the merchants in most of the negotiating meetings. Other union representatives sitting in on the conferences were Don Grinnell, Lillian Xamplas and Frances Johnson.

Also assisting in the negotiations were Larry Doyle and William Williver of the Washington State Mediation Service.

Steelhead Fishermen To Compete Sunday

The Port Angeles Steelhead dinner fishing tournament will take place Sunday, President Gene Caulkins announces.

This will be the second of the winter season club events. The first was in December, but one scheduled for January was cancelled because of high water.

Pitted against each other will be the Half Skeiners, Capt. Harry Coventon, and the Shingle Weavers, Capt. Bob Scoles. The latter team won the December event.

Deadline for weighing in fish will be 7 p.m. at the Golf Clubhouse. Dinner will follow the weighing in.

Steelhead fishing picked up this week after several weeks of high water that flooded the streams and made them discolored.

Good catches have been made in several west end streams the past several days.

One of the finest catches of the season was made by Bob Pirie who got the limit at the Bear Creek hole on the Soleduck river. His steelhead weighed 21½, 21 and 16 pounds.

Fishing with Pirie was Dr. Quentin Kintner, who caught two steelhead.

Dr. Kintner described fishing conditions as ideal, with the water in good condition and weather fine.

Some good fishing is reported also from the Hoh River, where several limit catches were made Thursday on the upper river.

Reports from the Quillayute say many steelhead have been taken there in the past several days.

REDS SENTENCE OFFICERS

BERLIN (AP) — The U. S. high commission newspaper Neue Zeitung reported Thursday that eight officers of East Germany's baby air force were sentenced to 25 years imprisonment each for planning to flee west in a Russian plane.

Sentencing of War Criminals Causes Big Stir in Alsace

STRASBOURG, France (AP) — Protests erupted Friday throughout the French border province of Alsace against a French military court's sentencing of 14 Alsatians for war crimes while members of Hitler's Elite (SS) Guard.

The tribunal in Bordeaux early Friday sentenced one Alsatian to death and 13 others to prison terms ranging from five to 12 years for their part in the wartime massacre of 642 villagers of Oradour-sur-Glane, France.

One German also received a death sentence, five were given prison terms and another was acquitted.

In addition to the 21 Alsatians and Germans tried in person in Bordeaux, the court sentenced to death in absentia 25 other former members—all Germans—of the SS division.

The people of this Rhineland area contended that their fellow Alsatians in the case should be dealt with leniently because they had been forced into the German service. As the court findings were announced, indignation spread through the press and in government assemblies.

The verdict was unjust, said the Catholic newspaper Le Nouvel Alsacien, "because our citizens were pushed into the horrible maelstrom in violation of international law and the rights of people."

"We can't accept the verdict because it gives the impression in the entire world that our soldiers, forcibly incorporated (in the German Army), were mainly responsible for the massacre of Oradour," the paper said.

Reports Claim 1,500 Die in Iranian Quake

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Reports reaching the Iranian government today estimated that about 1,500 persons were killed yesterday when an earthquake virtually wiped out the village of Torroud, in Northeast Iran.

Fifteen truckloads of soldiers and 16 Army jeeps loaded with blankets, medical supplies and food were sent to the distressed area.

The reports indicated that there were no more than 50 suvivors at the most in the village, approximately 90 miles from Shahrud.

The quake apparently occurred at noon on Thursday. At that time a slight tremor was felt in Tehran but no damage was reported.

ASKS SHIP POLICY REVIEW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Pelly (R-Wash) says he is asking the secretary of defense to review a policy under which contracts for building some small ships have been awarded in Canada.

He told the House Thursday he is also asking that any further such contracts be delayed until the ccilopa n bvd. reeeeiw y the policy can be reviewed.

Pelly protested in a House speech Monday against the award of ship contracts in other countries at a time when he said this nation's shipyards faced idle periods.

3 Die, 6 Injured In Bomber Crash

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A Carswell-based B-36 bomber crashed and burned 16 miles from Goose Bay, Labrador, Thursday night.

Three crew members were killed, six suffered major injuries and eight others were slightly injured, Carswell Air Force Base officials said here Friday.

The giant bomber returning from a flight to England, was making a scheduled stop en route to Carswell.

First reports from Goose Bay indicated the bomber was preparing to land when the accident occurred.

The weather was reported to have been clear and unrestricted.

A C-47 flew to the scene and a two-man para-rescue team jumped to render aid.

Deep snow prevented the landing of aircraft and early Friday morning air rescue service helicopters evacuated the dead and injured.

Israel Believes Russ Broke Diplomatic Ties To Intimidate Jews

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israel's first official reaction to the Soviet Union's break-off of diplomatic relations Friday blamed the rupture on a Kremlin desire to intimidate the estimated 2,500,000 Jews still behind the Iron Curtain.

Echoing an earlier press comment here, a foreign office spokesman declared:

"The true purpose is the utter desolation and intimidation of Soviet Jewry, for whose fate grave anxiety is felt."

The Soviets, in a sharp note to Israel, had blamed the rupture on Monday's bombing of the Russian legation in Tel Aviv, in which three Russians were injured—none fatally. They also accused Israeli leaders of inciting hostile actions against the Soviet Union.

Israeli Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion previously had denounced the bombing as a "senseless outrage" and offered apologies and compensation. The Moscow note, however, dismissed these offers as attempts by Jewish officials to cover up their responsibility.

The foreign office spokesman said the Russian decision to break relations was "in effect the culmination of a campaign of virulent slander and outspoken hostility against Israel, the Zionist movement, Jewish organizations, and Jews as such, which has been conducted within the Soviet bloc for a long time past, and has within the last few months been ominously gaining momentum."

Pope Intervenes For Rosenbergs

VATICAN CITY (AP) — L'Osservatore Romano said Friday Pope Pius XII has intervened in behalf of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, atomic spies sentenced to death in the United States.

The Vatican newspaper indicated the Pontiff has asked that, if possible, their lives be spared.

The newspaper said its statement was printed in reply to accusations in some newspapers (notably the communist press) that the Pontiff had remained "impassive" to pleas directed to him to intervene in the case.

"It is well known," said L'Osservatore, "that his holiness, even without being able to enter into the merits of cases, never refuses his interest when asked to save human life for superior motives of charity proper to his apostolic mission."

President Eisenhower declined Wednesday to commute the Rosenberg sentences and a new date for their execution at Sing Sing prison is expected to be set in a few days.

Dulles Confident of Europe Unity

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles says "there is a good chance" for ofrmation of a European Defense Community but he hopes that "concrete evidence" of progress will be forthcoming promptly.

Dulles gave that report of his impressions of a flying trip to European capitals, from which he returned Monday, in a radio and television broadcast to the nation last night.

He cautioned that the alternatives to formation of a European Defense Community are considered by President Eisenhower to be weak, and he said the security of Europe itself and in some degree the security of the United States against the power of Russia depend upon successful accomplishment of the undertaking.

Six European nations — Italy, France, West Germany, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg —signed a treaty to create the EDC last May. Dulles said it was then expected this treaty and related arrangements for tying it to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization would be ratified and made operative in six months. Actually, he noted, months have passed and ratification is still lacking.

This has been "disconcerting" to the U.S., Dulles said, because American security plans are based upon eventual inclusion of German military strength in the Western European defense system. That, he said, is what the EDC was trying to accomplish.

EDC was developed by European leaders, he declared, and in supporting it the U.S. has not "been tryint to impress an American scheme on Europe."

In the past seven years, he said, this country has contributed 30 billion dollars to Europe and stationed "tens of thousands of our armed forces" there because European security vitally affects American security.

UP TO EUROPE

"But our effort," he continued, "will not permanently serve Europe, or ourselves, or humanity, unless it fits into a constructive program for European unity. Nothing that the U.S. can do will ever be enough to make Europe safe if it is divided into rival national camps.

"President Eisenhower himself said recently that he was impressed with the 'feebleness' of alternatives to the European Defense Community."

The Eisenhower administration is understood to have no alternative plan for the defense of Western Europe under formal study, having committed iself instead to EDC.

There are at least two theoretical alternatives. One would be for the U.S. to make direct arrangements for the rearmament of Western Germany, though that is considered virtually impossible becasue of French opposition; and the other would be for the U.S. to make new plans for a "pheripheral defense" built upon bases in England, Spain, Greece and other positions outside the heart of Europe.

Latest Decontrol Order Will Cause Some Price Hikes; Dairy Products Still Curbed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's steady return to a free-market economy pried the price lids off more thousands of items today and tabbed some 2,000 price control workers for dismissal.

WASHINGTON (AP) —The Eisenhower administration Friday scrapped allocation controls on all steel, copper and aluminum which is not claimed by defense priority-holders.

This action was announced by the Office of Defense Mobilization.

An order released late yesterday decontrolled such things as poultry, eggs, soaps, gasoline, crude oil and all rubber products. The list also included paper and paper products, shortenings, most minor metals and scrap, paints and prefabricated houses.

All in all, they came to 15 per cent of the items which comprise the cost of living index, leaving about 17 per cent of these still under control.

Among those things still controlled are major items like milk and dairy products such as butter and cheese; oleomargarine; dry groceries; cigarets; beer; major metals, including copper, aluminum, steel and nickel; lumber, industrial and farm equipment; and the big household appliances.

The price order was the second within a week's time and a third is in the works, to be sent out within a few days. The first, issued last Friday, decontrolled meat and nearly all department store goods.

Another order the same day knocked out wage curbs.

Price Stabilizer Joseph Freehill said dismissal notices, effective March 15, will be handed out Monday to about 2,000 of the 4,500 employes in the government's disintegrating price control machinery.

A last-minute decision kept price curbs on milk and dairy products and took them off petroleum products.

EXPECT PRICE HIKES

Freehill said some price hikes will result from the order, notably on gasoline, crude oil and tires and tubes. He said prices on other items probably will not be affected since many already are selling below ceilings.

Controls went into effect two years ago last month. They are due to expire automatically April 30, but administration spokesmen have set April 15 as the ultimate target date for wiping them out.

So far, Eisenhower has not asked for standby power to re-impose controls should an emergency arise. Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.), who has introduced a bill to do this, has said the administration has assured him it has an open mind on the subject of standby controls.

COLD IN FRASER, COLO.

FRASER, Colo. (AP) — This tiny cattle and lumber town on the western edge of the continental divide reported the coldest temperature in the nation early Friday —21 degrees below zero.

Europe's Flood Areas Face New Disasters

LONDON (AP) — A relentless tide thundered against hastily-plugged gaps in the sea walls of Britain, Friday, threatening a new loss of life and property.

On both shores of the North Sea the battle to hold back the waves reached a new critical phase. The fight, against the greatest expected tides of the month, will continue until Thursday.

Britain, aided by the United States and eight continental countries, got a sandbag airlift underway. Millions of bags were loaded into planes and ships to strengthen the battered levees on England's east coast.

British, Dutch and Belgian servicemen and volunteers fought at a new tempo to hold back the sea. As new weaknesses appeared in the dikes, fresh crews rushed up to bolster the defense.

Britain and the low countries counted more than 2,000 dead from the storms and floods that swept against their shores from Jan. 31 to Feb. 2. All three countries are better equipped now to prevent more loss of life.

Finn Ship Loaded With Jet Fuel For Reds Still in Port

SINGAPORE (AP) — The Finnish tanker Wiima was anchored Friday 20 miles off Singapore awaiting orders from her owners whether to proceed, turn back or discharge here 7,000 tons of aviation jet fuel consigned originally to Communist China.

The 7,710-ton tanker has not moved since she dropped anchor on Wednesday. Capt. I. Merimac said he received orders not to continue as he rounded the tip of the Malay Peninsula.

A Washington dispatch said on Wednesday that American officials were understood to have approached the Finnish government recently to see if the ship owners could halt the Wiima before it reaches its destination, reportedly a port near Dairen, China.

The U. S. was reported willing to purchase the Wiima's cargo or arrange to have it diverted to a non-Communist port for sale to non-Communist users in order to keep the jet fuel from going to the Chinese Reds.

Large Part of Washington, Oregon Lumber Industry Rejects Woodworkers' Wage Boosts

PORTLAND (AP)—Wage increase demands of the CIO Woodworkers were turned down Thursday by a large part of the Oregon and Washington lumber industry, which offered to renew the present contract with some minor changes.

Negotiations here were recessed until Feb. 24 and the union began talks Friday at Klamath Falls with the Pine Industrial Relations Committee, another employer group.

Union demands of a $1.80 daily pay boost, a six-hour day and other benefits were described as "fantastic" by H. J. Greeley of the Long-Bell Co., general chairman of an industry committee representing a majority of employer groups.

Greeley told union negotiators here before the recess not to get the idea they could come back to the next meeting with the same demands scaled down.

But A. F. Hartung, Woodworkers president, said the union was "not about to settle" on employer terms, which included clarification of holiday and vacation clauses in the contract renewal.

Employers, he said, did not argue inability to pay the higher wages. "They indicated they had plenty of money," he added.

Operators have adopted a tougher attitude this year because "prices are lower than a year ago and in the meantime the workers have received the equivalent of a $1 a day increase, Walter A. Durham Jr., spokesman for employers belonging to the Lumbermen's Industrial Relations Committee, said.

Participating in the Portland negotiations, besides Long-Bell and the LIRC, were the Willamette Valley Operators, Columbia Basin Loggers, Grays Harbor Sawmills, Tacoma Industrial Conference Board, Columbia Basin Sawmills and Tri-County Loggers.

OTHER NEGOTIATIONS

Other negotiations scheduled, in addition to those at Klamath Falls, are Coos Bay Lumber Co. and Oregon Coast Operators, Coos Bay, Monday; Timber Products Manufacturers, Spokane, Tuesday; Tri-County Operators, Portland, Feb. 23, and Weyerhaeuser Timber Co., Portland, Feb. 26-27.

The Northwestern Council of the AFL Lumber and Sawmill Workers, decided at a Thursday meeting, meantime, not to set definite wage goals in its negotiations with employers, starting Feb. 25.

The union is interested in protecting workers against an uncertain future and possible inflation, Kenneth Davis, executive secretary of the council, said.

"We shall try to make a reasonable settlement if there are no indications of an inflationary period ahead," he said.

Human 'Guinea Pigs' Sealed Aboard Old Sub For 2 Months

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy Thursday announced the names of 23 human "guinea pigs" sealed aboard an old World War II submarine in a two-month test.

The Navy said members of the volunteer crew aboard the USS Haddock at New London, Conn., are undergoing identical conditions expected for the crew of "the world's first true submersible—the atomic submarine."

The Navy said in a statement that the crewmen have games, hobbies, phonograph records and movies—but there is no mail from home, no telephone connections for calls to friends or family, no radio or television entertainment.

"They will not see daylight, barring emergencies, during the two months the operation is scheduled to run," said the Navy.

That's the way it will be when the Nautilus and the Sea Wolfe, the two nuclear-powered submarines now being built and the world's first such craft, put out to sea. Their engines will enable them to stay submerged almost indefinitely.

Now, says the Navy, it wants to know "how the human factor will limit operation" of nuclear submarines.

Volunteers undergoing the test include:

William J. Copes, seaman, 20, son of Mrs. Anna M. Sooter of Maple Falls, Wash.

Merrill, Ward Are Candidates For Mayor

In a 10-minute town caucus Wednesday evening at the old town hall, Sequim residents nominated W. L. Merrill and Roy Ward as candidates for the position of Sequim mayor, with election scheduled for March 10.

Mayor W. T. Alton was selected as chairman of the caucus, but declined a nomination from the assemblage of 40 to run again for mayor.

Selection of four candidates for two positions of councilmen left a slate of Carl Thurston, William Schade, Dalton Thorne and Richard Dryke. The mayor's term is four years and that of councilmen two years.

Several latecomers missed the caucus completely, although forewarned by the ringing of the old town hall bell signalling the town meeting.

Merrill owns and operates the local shoe repair shop, and was a councilman for several years. Ward, his opponent, recently retired from the drug store business. Ward has been active in Sequim Rotary and the Port Angeles Toastmasters Club.

Thurston is active in business and is a past president of the Sequim Chamber of Commerce. Shade is a high school instructor and football coach. Thorne is also in business and is vice president of the Sequim chamber. Dryke is a logger and a Sequim volunteer fireman.

The town election will be in conjunction with the school election. All voters will go to the Sequim elementary school multi-purpose room on March 10 to vote.

Also on the ballot is a $49,000 bond issue, and the question of consolidating issue of the Sequim and Dungeness school districts. Dungeness voters will also go to their school on March 10 to vote on the consolidation issue.

Passage of the school bond issue requires a turnout of 40 per cent of the voters in the November, 1952 presidential election, of whom 60 per cent must approve the issue.

Preston Deys Back From 4-Months Trip

After a motor trip of four months Mr. and Mrs. Preston Dey are home again with a record 13,000 miles and 26 states covered in the journey. The trip began with a stop in Oregon and then in Idaho, but gained momentum after a visit at Boys Town in Nebraska and a three day sightseeing trip in Chicago, Ill.

At Columbus, O., the Deys inspected the headquarters of the Jersey Cattle Club, and went on to Gettysburg, Pa., and Washington, D.C., where they toured the capital buildings, White House, memorials, and other tourist attractions.

They viewed the changing of the guards at the Arlington Memorial Cemetery, and visited George Washington's Mt. Vernon home, Martha Washington's home in Fredericksburg, and Thomas Jefferson's home.

After a snowstorm in Virginia, the Deys headed to Florida for the cypress gardens, Silver Springs and the Ringling headquarters at Sarasota. At Orlando they visited Frank Wait, who is serving with the Air Force at Pine Castle Air Force Base. Mrs. Dey appeared on Tom Moore's radio program, "Lady Fair" at Winterhaven, where the Deys viewed the world's largest trailer court. At St. Petersburg they visited a block-square drug store, which claims to be the largest in the world. Anything from a tractor to a toothpick may be purchased there, Mrs. Dey reports.

On to New Orleans, La. for a quick tour and then to Sandia, Texas to the Knolle Jersey Farm, where 1,400 Jerseys were being milked in December. This farm claims another "world's largest" title.

CALIFORNIA YULETIDE
After a stop at the Carlsbad Caverans and Arizona, the Deys had Christmas in Chino, Calif., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Morell. Mrs. Morell is the former Miss Marilyn Dey. Also present at Christmas time was a son Lewis Dey, who is with the U.S. Navy in San Diego, Calif.

Motor trips in California included the missions of Capistrano and Riverside, Knott's Berry Farm, Palm Springs and Tiajuana, Mexico, after a short stay at San Diego.

Homeward bound the Deys stopped at San Gabriel, Calif., for a visit with Mrs. Lottie Wilber, who died Wednesday, and with her son Guy Ryan of Glendale. Both are former Sequim residents.

Their last sightseeing stop was at Forest Lawn Cemetery where they attended a lecture in conjunction with a 195x45 foot painting of the "Crucifixion" and "The Last Supper," which is done entirely with stained glass. The Crucifixion is housed in a special building at Forest Lawn.

A valentine theme of red and white formed a motif for the dinner Sunday evening honoring Grand Worthy Advisor Lenore Lawson with Sequim Rainbow Girls acting hostesses. Red and white carnations centered the main table and white candles with red hearts embossed were further decorated with white ribbon streamers.

The Rainbow Mothers Club served the dinner and Sequim worthy advisor Shirley Emmert welcomed the visiting official. Miss Emmert introduced Miss Jeannette Correia of Sequim, grand representative to Nevada, and Miss Judy Nelson, Port Angeles Rainow worthy advisor.

Also introduced were Mrs. Mary Brayton and Mrs. D. D. Beverage, past mother advisors to the Sequim chapter.

Miss Maureen Sherk was initiated during the regular business meeting. During the open meeting Miss Shirley Schmuck, Mrs. Vivian Tulin and Conrad Kirner received the grand cross of colors. Miss Dolores Lewis, who is in San Francisco, Calif., also was awarded the honor in absentia.

Sequim line officers and color stations presented a short skit, and the chapter presented Miss Lawson a "corsage" of $20 for her project, a girls camp.

READY TO BLOW SCHOOL
KINGSTON, Idaho (AP) — Police told Thursday of a self - styled little "hero" who didn't like school and bragged to classmates he was going to blow it up. And darned if he wasn't.

Officers checked on the boast and found a cache of dynamite hidden at the little Kingston school. The boy, 13, said he stole the explosives but lost the cap somewhere on the school grounds.

BOOK OF HEARTS . . . Open its shocking-pink cover and you'll find a half-ounce of captivating perfume.

Valentine Hinting May Be Needed

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

It's just being girl-human to expect a present on Valentine's Day. After all, for some girls there are just a few days in the year when their romantic swains or husbands will come forth with a gift. Other girls may be luckier with thoughtful males who even produce a gaily wrapped package on Washington's birthday. But these are few and far between, we are told.

So it behooves every young princess to take advantage of the social hint or slight nudge that some men need to prod them to a girl counter.

Scents and flowers are two favorite Valentine gifts. Some girls get both. But if your man is the type who shops hastily just so he has a wrapped package to produce on Valentine's Day, you'd better inform him of your heart's desire.

Smart and inexpensive for the budget shopper is a package containing a pair of hearts in which are imbedded two chesspiece bottles containing perfume. One striking shocking-pink "book of hearts" opens to reveal a half-ounce of perfume. Heart-shaped soap comes packaged in a shocking pink box.

Or choose your very favorite fragrance, even if it is not especially packaged for Valentine's Day. If your beau has that "I'm going-to-surprise-you" look in his eye you'd better give him that extra-special whammie hint so he'll know your favorite scent when he gets to the perfume counter.

Valentine's Day is an excellent opportunity to get that little gift your heart desires. If your grooming accesories budget is low and you crave a new compact, hair brush, atomizer, clothes brushes, lingerie bags or shoe bags, now is the time to put in your bid.

STARTS SUNDAY!
"The Case For The Double Bed!"

Time was, nobody ever heard of twin beds, except maybe twins.

In those days, beds, like bicycles, were built for two.

The double bed is half the work — easier to make up — and much easier to make up in. Yes, there's a lot to be said for the double bed.

And it's all said delightfully and delicately in the Stanley Kramer Company's new motion picture "The Four Poster."

Example: In the morning Lilli couldn't remember that just the night before she had said: "The divorce arrangements will be simple . . . I'll take the house, the children, and all the money . . . You can have her!"

This tender biography of a marriage — as interpreted by Rex Harrison and Lilli Palmer —happily presents all the joy, all the wonder, all the magnificence of two people in love, from the first night to the first baby — and through the years beyond.

When love was invented, it was meant to be as you'll find it waiting for you in "The Four Poster."

MILD WINTER CONFUSES LOCAL GARDENERS

Everyone who has a garden or is planning to have one is wondering what is going to happen. It is the weather and the season. Never before have we had such a winter. The whole month of January passed without even a frost.

Last fall our ground was very dry and hard, for lack of rain. There was little life in the soil, and the plants withered early. Then during the winter the rains came to balance things. The dry ground became soaked and still is, so with the lack of frost or freezing weather the bulbs in the ground have started to grow and are shooting up as if it were really springtime.

Now the question is, will this mild weather continue or will we get a severe touch of winter? And what would it do to the spring flowers already showing above the ground? My answer, when I look at the calendar, is that we still have a month of winter ahead of us when anything might happen. It is better not to rush things and not to prune anything.

When my tulips showed above the ground I went to my dead-leaf pile and covered them. Today, however, I see they are showing through this blanket, but I can't do more. They will have to take their chances, with my hopes and prayers.

It has been a good winter to plant shrubbery. The soil is in fine condition and even if we get a spell of winter and snow the freeze will not penetrate to the roots of the plant. A month or so ago I planted some small rhododendrons. They are doing just fine in the rain.

GOOD FOR BIRDS

It has been a fine wonderful winter for the birds. None have suffered and all will pull through in good shape if we don't get a deep snow. The song sparrows are singing and last week my friend Gil Leverett reported the meadowlarks on the Sequim prairies are in full song.

Gil is worried about what is going on around his house and feeding station. First it seems that every day six towhees come for their food, and all are male birds. Where are the females and what can be done about it?

I told him not to worry. Come March and these six birds will be hunting through the brush, and it won't be food they are seeking. Nature has her ways.

However his big worry is about a female grouse that spends most of her day moping in the nearby willow trees, always alone. Some time ago a grouse banged into his window and broke its neck. Now the female has no mate. She spent a week in one willow tree, eating the winter buds. Now she is in another willow tree doing the same thing.

I told Gil not to worry too much. At certain times of the year all female grouse act in a very coy manner, much like all the other females on this planet

Soon the sooty grouse males will be hooting from the high fir trees, so she will know what to do if she is a sooty grouse. And soon the ruffed grouse males will be drumming on a favorite log, so if she is a ruffled grouse she still will know what to do. Again nature has her ways!

The good gentleman seemed to be much relieved when I explained all this, so now he can start worrying about something else.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Just a Little "Outdated"

Back in December we sent out our yearly calendar. It listed the last date for renewing drivers' licenses, and things like the dates for registering to vote, when the hunting and fishing seasons open — even suggested you note down the wife's birthday, too.

I figured dates like these were important to keep in mind—and this was a good way to do it. Unfortunately, it now turns out I never really paid close attention to my own calendar!

Not 'til today that is—so here I am not able to drive the car this weekend until I get my driver's license renewed on Monday!

From where I sit, I guess good advice, like charity, should begin at home. I'm always advising all of you to worry less about your neighbors (what they do, or say, and whether or not they should enjoy a temperate glass of beer) and pay more attention to whether you yourself are doing the right thing. Guess I'll "make a note" to follow my own formula!

Heights Gardeners Meet For Luncheon

Lincoln Heights Garden Club met for dessert luncheon Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Marie Solf. Mrs. Carrie Gormley and Mrs. Jack Kirk were co-hostesses.

Guests were Mrs. Peter Nielsen, Mrs. Charles Heckman and Mrs. Margaret Farrington. Each member answered roll call by giving the name of her favorite herb and its uses.

Guest speaker Mrs. Earl VanAusdle of Agnew chose "Primrose Culture" for her topic. "Contrary to popular opinion, primroses do best in the shade," Mrs. VanAusdle said. "The climate on the peninsula is ideal for their culture."

She said the plants like a heavy soil with a mixture of peat moss and cow manure. "Primrose seeds have a tough coating and many fail to germinate unless the coating is cracked. Growers do this by freezing," she said. "Seeds are placed in trays, covered with water and frozen in the refrigerator. Then they are permitted to thaw, and again are frozen, then thawed and planted in hot beds or in the open ground."

Mrs. VanAusdle said it is unnecessary to divide the plants each year. They may remain undisturbed until the flowers begin to diminish in size. Then they should be lifted and divided, preferably in May.

She also discussed the damage caused by strawberry weevil and preventive measures to be used. She described a number of primrose varieties including the polyanthus, Floridae and auricula, and brought a number of potted polyanthus to exhibit, among them the new Cowichan and Juliana.

Mrs. VanAusdle began growing primroses as a hobby a number of years ago, and now has developed her hobby into a commercial enterprise. She grows a great many named varieites at her home at Agnew, among them many new and rare specimens that are not yet for sale.

One estimate of U. S. wealth of the United States, which excludes some items and which uses the value of the dollar in 1929 for all years, indicates that it grew from 164,200,000,000 dollars in 1896 to 518 billion dollars in 1951.

AAUW Members Hear Review Of Community Study

Members of the American Association of University Women heard a review of the history of the community study at their meeting Feb. 5. The group met at the home of Mrs. John Selby.

Mrs. H. E. Tomlinson described the origin of the study a year ago last fall.

"Several public spirited citizens who had read of Richard Poston and his book 'Small Town Renaissance' and what had been accomplished in Winlock, visited him at the university," she said. "They urged him to start a similar community study here.

"Poston wasn't sure a city the size of Port Angeles could conduct a program such as he described in his book. But he was ready to try it, and with a group of interested citizens, formed a steering committee."

Mrs. Tomlinson stressed that no organization sponsored the plan, just interested citizens. She explained the reasons for the community study, pointing out that true democracy as it was known in colonial days is becoming obsolete with the power of the people to regulate their own affairs being passed on to state and federal governments.

"The aim of the community study is to bring democracy back to our local communities, the core of the nation," she said.

Mrs. Tomlinson reviewed Poston's new book "Democracy is You," the guide to the local community study. In it he defines democracy as "a process in which people are free to exchange ideas in a personal manner, to examine themselves and determine their problems, and plan their lives accordingly."

Mrs. Wayne Stevens told how officers were elected, and discussed the problem of financing the study. She also told what the Winlock study had accomplished.

Miss Lee Hodson told the nature of the study meetings at the high school, how the buzz sessions functioned and how the discussions are recorded. She reviewed briefly the statistics resulting from the community census.

Mrs. R. P. Moore spoke of the visitors from Rosenheim, their reactions to the American way of life, and the value of what local people had learned from their German visitors.

Guest speaker, Mrs. Peter Larsen, discussed the bridge committee organized at the town meeting and told how much the caravan to Olympia had accomplished. She urged the group to ask friends and relatives in other parts of the state to write their legislators to vote for the No. 3 bridge.

She pointed out that the Bainbridge-Ft. Lawton bridge, the most direct route from Seattle to the peninsula, would provide continued use of the Agate Pass bridge, and the big four-lane highway close to Ft. Lawton.

The women voted to ask the bridge committee to draft a letter to be sent to AAUW branches in the state urging promotion of the Bainbridge route.

Refreshments were served after the meeting by the hostesses, Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Louis Mook and Miss Hodson.

Women Of The Moose Told Of X-Ray Work

Ted Opdenweyer, who is here with the mobile chest X-ray units, was guest speaker at Tuesday's meeting of the Women of the Moose. He talked on the purpose of the chest X-rays and described the benefits derived from them urging all the members to be X-rayed while the units are here. He supplied the chapter with time schedules for the three units.

Following his talk, Mrs. Lee Davis, senior regent, formally opened the meeting, the first business session in the new hall. Mrs. Hazel Meyers, recorder, read the minutes.

Mrs. Davis told the lodge that Mrs. John Brunner of Seattle, deputy grand regent, asks every chapter in the state to make a quilt for the children's beds at Mooseheart, if possible. Volunteers formed a committee to work on the project.

Mrs. Davis also read a communication from Mooseheart regarding committee projects and stressing the need for cooperation of the whole chapter in helping secure new members. The letter also stated that due to the generosity of the men and women of the lodge, the children at Mooseheart all had an enjoyable Christmas.

Mrs. William Kelly, child care chairman, urged everyone to attend the family potluck Feb. 18 and bring a friend. There will be games for everyone and Mandy Jones, whose "Blackouts of 1953" was such a hit at the last chapter night program, will present part of the entertainment.

After the close of the meeting, C. L. (Buck) Swan of Helena, Mont., regional director of the Moose lodge, addressed the chapter. He said officials were pleased with the recent move to the new hall and would help if help was needed.

Refreshments were served to the ladies of the lodge and to the men who also met that evening. Serving were Mrs. Charles Huntley, hostess chairman; Mrs. Irene Pringle, ritual chairman; Mrs. Roy Kienholz, Mrs. Gail Monds, Mrs. Joseph Rupprecht, Mrs. Virgil Andrew and Miss Dolores Davis.

Lincoln Address Features Meeting

President Lincoln's chief aim in the Civil War was to preserve the Union, not simply to free the slaves, Tyler Moffett told several hundred members of Naval Lodge of Elks last night following lodge session.

The local attorney spoke for Elks' observance of Lincoln's birthday. He said history sometimes is the only true judge of a man's greatness, but Lincoln was recognized as great in his own time.

"His greatness has merely magnified over the years as we have learned more and more about him," Moffett said. "I spent many years in the South and I have never met a southerner who was sorry Lincoln achieved his principal aim —preservation of the Union."

Moffett described Lincoln as a man of humor as well as deep political convictions.

"But I have never seen a picture of him smiling," he added. "It is indeed fitting Lincoln's profile is on the American penny because he was a man of the humble people."

Henry W. Davies, chairman of the current TB X-ray drive, urged all Elks to have X-rays taken of themselves, their wives and all children 15 years old or over. He said the X-ray goal in Clallam County is 19,000 during the 16 days the units will be in the county.

"They will travel all over the county so everybody can participate and help wipe out this killer," he explained.

A crab feed and social night also followed the lodge session.

Girl Scouts Aid In Celebration

Girl Scouts and Brownies of Clallam County are presenting cakes and birthday cards to the Boy Scouts and Cubs of their schools this week in recognition of National Boy Scout Week.

Sequim Girl Scouts marched in the Boy Scout parade in Sequim Saturday.

A group from Troop 1 led by Mrs. Gordon Hurning helped at the annual Clallam County Scouters dinner Monday in Roosevelt High School cafeteria. Serving were Judy Ann Boos, LaVerna and Paula Lou Cofer, Grace Harthill, Virginia Hurning, Carla Jean Smith and Nola Dorr.

CORONATION THEME

Costume jewelry is liberally sprinkled with traditional royal symbols this year. One big accent is the Elizabethan influence. A surprising vogue in jewelry is building up for the amethyst, aquamarine and topaz, many of these gems being set in palladium. The crown motif is used frequently, studded with small pearls, rubies and sapphires.

Congratulations...

... to all Clallam County Scouts and to all Scouts everywhere on your 43rd ANNIVERSARY ...

Airman Is Happy To Hold Medal In Fingerless Hands

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Tech. Sgt. Charles Edward Lint clutched the presidential air medal in the nubs that are all that remain of his fingers and said:

"I'm real pleased. I'm really happy about the whole thing."

One reason was that he could see the medal presented to him Thursday in Wadsworth General Hospital by Col. R. A. Bringham, manager of the veterans' facility.

Just 24 hours earlier, surgeons had removed bandages that had kept the 22-year-old Hollywood airman sightless for 14 months. Skin grafts had replaced the eyelids, nose and mouth burned away in a B-29 crash on Okinawa Dec. 4, 1951.

The plane, carrying 20,000 pounds of fragmentation bombs and 3,000 gallons of gasoline, crashed and burned shortly after taking off on a bombing mission over North Korea.

Only three of 14 crewmen escaped with their lives. Third-degree burns covered 53 per cent of Lint's body.

The air medal was presented for meritorious achievement in 12 flights over North Korea. Lint told reporters:

"They're fixing me up fine. I'm going to have some artificial hands that really work, and some new ears. And my eyes are okay now. That isn't all. My girl stuck by me."

He identified her as Jean Mowat, 20, of Oaklawn, Ill., a student at the University of Illinois.

"We're going to be married as soon as the plastic surgeons get done with me," Lint said.

"What a smoky land!"

Think of it! There are 45,000,000 families in the country...

smoking 50,000,000 packs of cigarettes every day...

and buying 54,000,000 copies of newspapers every day.

The cigarette habit is powerful—but the newspaper habit is stronger!

No wonder newspapers are in a class by themselves—with advertisers spending twice as much in newspapers as in any other medium.

Naturally! Doesn't it make sense for advertisers to depend on the medium that customers depend on?

FIR OUTPUT DROPS

SEATTLE (AP) — H. V. Simpson, executive vice president of the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, said here Thursday that the demand for Douglas Fir lumber fell off sharply last month as compared to January of 1952.

Simpson said sawmills in the Pacific Northwest took orders for 877,655,000 board feet the first four weeks of last month, compared with 994,285,000 the same month a year ago.

Heavy rains which forced closure of some mills were partly at fault, Simpson said.

Letters to the Editor

SOME SUGGESTIONS

Editor, Evening News:

I see by the paper where the county commissioners want to give Freshwater Bay to a private party. It seems to me the public should have one place left they could go to without having to pay for it. Freshwater and Crescent are the only two places left to the general public for an outing.

And as for surveying Laurel Street hill that has been given up years ago. I think the money could be spent for a better purpose such as eliminating the bottleneck between Oak and Cherry on 1st Street.

And after years of talking nothing has yet been done about the Tumwater route for logging trucks which would help our streets a lot.

OBJECTS TO FISH TAX

Editor, Evening News:

Senator Pearson's bill S.B. 234, as I read it in your paper, is as his other bill, brought out against the commercial fisherman, taking 2 per cent of the gross catch of our total poundage for the state of Washington. Taxing fish taken from outside the jurisdiction of the waters controlled by the state was ruled illegal after being taken to court by the fishermen at considerable expense.

At the present time the state is taking another case to the Supreme Court, on seasons for offshore fishing in international waters that had already been ruled illegal by a Washington court, in favor of the fishermen. If the state can dictate the use of international waters off Washington the Canadians can do the same thing off their coast. A number of American fishermen make their living on the Vancouver Island coast, quite a number of the local boats included.

In your articles regarding 50 Ilwaco and Grays Harbor fishermen winning their lawsuit from the state, approximately a dozen of them were from Port Angeles, myself included.

Two per cent of the fish buyers' poundage bought, of troll-caught salmon, goes to the state, supposedly for fisheries development, and is automatically deducted from the price fishermen receive. The last two years the price fishermen receive has been steadily declining, while equipment and repairs and moorage has steadily increased. Moorage at Port Angeles increased 50 per cent this last year.

The decline in price of fish per pound, if going on to the consumer, would not be objected to, but it doesn't. The price decline without a doubt is caused by duty free imports from Canada. Canada has a year-round season.

Canadian trollers take silvers and chinooks that are under our limit by 14 inches, ours is 26 inches. Our season on silvers is not open for a month and half after the Canadians fish them, on the same fishing grounds. We turn them back to water while Canadians catch and sell most of them on our Seattle market, including undersize chinooks, before our season is anywhere near opened.

Bill S.B. 234 by Pearson and Shank of Kirkland is stupid. How are fish buyers who freeze their silvers and some chinooks for winter trade going to dispose of all the stock by the first of November?

Why put all the burden on the minority, the commercial fishermen? Why not impose a $5 license on salt water sport fishing? Our licenses total $27.50.

The answer received, a bill was at the time drawn up along with the one introduced. But other members of the legislature wouldn't push it. Too many votes would be lost in their district if they voted on it. Kind of a poor attitude for lawmakers, and for raising funds for the fisheries department. I doubt if many salt water fishermen would object if the proceeds of a $5 license went to the development of fisheries, and not in the general fund.

Hollingsworth Wins February Camera Competition

A brand new member of Port Angeles Camera Club walked off with first and third place in February print competition Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. McLaughlin. Clare Hollingsworth won first with his salon print of "Spirit Lake" with Mt. St. Helens reflected in its surface.

Mrs. McLaughlin won second with "Be My Valentine," a baby's portrait in a heart-shaped frame. Hollingsworth's third place winner was a salon print of "Winter," showing a snowy street scene.

Fourteen Camera Club members attended the meeting, conducted by Vice President Eldon Anderson.

R. E. McLaughlin used his own lights for a demonstration and talk on lighting. With Mrs. Ernest Maltby as model, several members took pictures using the lighting technique. Vern Straight also demonstrated his new strobe lighting equipment.

The group judged three visiting salons, from the Y Club of Olympia; Grays Harbor Camera Club and the Valley Club of Puyallup.

In a report from the Northwest Council of Camera Club, the group learned that Conrad Dyar's salon print "Silver Sonnet" a snow scene at Ennis Creek, is an overwhelming favorite in the local show now touring the state.

Another favorite is John Horwath's "Jato," showing a jet take-off of a PBM at the local Coast Guard air station.

Guests at the meeting Thursday night were Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Bailey. Fred Strange became a member of the club. Mrs. McLaughlin served valentine cookies and coffee at the close of the evening.

Next meeting will be March 12 at the home of Mrs. Frances Gallagher. Of special note for the program will be Cmdr. and Mrs. Maltby's showing colored slides of their recent California trip.

HONORED BY GARDEN CLUB—Port Angeles Garden Club Monday afternoon marked its 20th anniversary in a springlike atmosphere of daffodils. The club also surprised Mrs. Lew Thompson, left above, charter member, by presenting her a leather-bound life membership card in the club. Mrs. (Grace Fisher) Thompson has held the presidency of the club several times and Mrs. Hugh Hankins, right, presented the membership in "appreciation of her work for the group."

Garden Club Honors Mrs. Lew Thompson

Port Angeles Garden Club members observed their 20th anniversary Monday, and surprised Mrs. Lew Thompson with a life membership.

The club met Monday afternoon at the Woman's Literary Clubhouse with Mrs. J. E. Niemeyer, vice president, in charge. Mrs. Paul Blatter, president, was called out of town due to the illness of her sister.

Mrs. Gene McGlenn, chairman, reminded members of the club's annual spring card party Friday at the Elks Temple.

Mrs. Thompson received a leather folder containing a life membership in the club, as a token of appreciation for her services to the organization. She is one of the 11 charter members who organized the Port Angeles Garden Club in February 1933, the same month the Washington State Federation of Garden Clubs was formed. Mrs. Thompson has been most active in garden club work, and has been president of the club several times.

In a surprise ceremony, Mrs. Thompson presented a rose and heather corsage to Mrs. A. B. Brown, another long-time member, honoring her recent 80th birthday.

Mrs. Hugh Hankins was program chairman for the afternoon, and introduced the guest speakers.

Mrs. John Wilson gave a humorous and interesting talk on "What to do in the Garden This Month." Her inference that her own gardening was less than perfect was belied by the many informative points she brought out.

Mrs. Lela Teigen spoke on "New Ideas in Planters, and Care of House Plants." She exhibited several of the newer type house plants and explained their culture and use.

A beautifully decorated 20th birthday cake was served at tea. Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Chris Morgenroth, another long-time member, poured. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Wayne Stevens, Mrs. Maurice Fisher, Mrs. Byron Winter and Mrs. Henry Davies. They decorated the hall and tea table with arrangements of daffodils and winter blooming jasmine.

WALLPAPER ADHESIVE

A new adhesive for wallpaper makes papering a room a breeze, according to those who've tried it. All the home decorator needs is a paint roller, a square flat pan to hold the adhesive, a clean cloth and a razor blade. The paint roller is dipped into the adhesive and applied to the entire surface of the wall, beginning at the upper left hand corner. The roll of wallpaper is held in the left hand, and gradually unrolled down against the adhesive-covered wall from the left-hand corner down. This is repeated along the wall until the wall is papered completely.

TELEPHONE CALLS TAKE TO SKY—This sketch by a Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co. artist illustrates how a new relay station on Blyn Mountain will help replace a submarine cable formerly used in international telephone service.

New Blyn Mountain Installation To Speed U. S.-Vancouver Island Telephone Calls

Telephone calls which used to go under water will take to the sky when Pacific Telephone & Telegraph's new radio system goes into use in April.

The company is constructing a high frequency radio system now between Seattle and Victoria, B.C.

The main channel for long distance calls between Seattle and Vancouver Island now goes overland via Bellingham, with submarine cable bridging the depths between the San Juan Islands. The submarine cable which spans the nine miles of Haro Strait between San Juan Island and Vancouver Island has had to be replaced every three or four years because of extreme tidal action and great depths, as much as 900 feet.

For this reason, when more Victoria telephone connections were needed, telephone engineers recommended the use of a radio relay system.

The new international telephone link being constructed at a cost of more than $220,000, will provide 16 new voice paths between Seattle and Port Angeles, and between Port Angeles and Victoria, B.C. Later, further equipment installations can increase its carrying capacity.

Although this system is a high frequency type and employes the "line of sight" principal in transmission, it is not the same as the Seattle-Portland microwave radio relay system which transmits long distance calls and television.

Pacific Telephone and the British Columbia Telephone Company will jointly operate the system. Application has been made to the Federal Communications Commission.

The new radio system will send messages from tower to tower with the speed of light. At Seattle's east telephone office on Capitol Hill, calls will be sent and received from a 10-foot parabolic or "dish-type" antenna to a relay station atop Blyn Mountain in the Olympic Mountains near Blyn, then to Port Angeles and on to Victoria.

The relay station at Blyn will consist of a small building and a tower of three 70-foot poles supporting a top structure on which will be mounted two "dish-type" antennas. One is to receive the signals from Seattle and one beams them on to Port Angeles. The tower has been engineered to withstand winds up to 100 miles an hour. At Port Angeles and Victoria, the antennas will be mounted on top of telephone buildings.

Construction of the building at the Blyn Mountain station began in January. Hall-Atwater Company of Seattle has the contract. The building is to be of fabricated metal, 20 by 30 feet. The Blyn repeater building will be unattended except for periodic visits of inspection. A system of alarms will notify Port Angeles telephone engineers of equipment trouble develops.

Marine - Air News

Island Tug and Barge Co. tugs brought two flat rafts of logs to Port Angeles harbor last night from Victoria. The rafts were left in intact out of three which left Victoria at midnight Wednesday. A steamer hit the tow and broke up one raft. Logs from one of the rafts were scattered in the strait.

A Coast Guard plane helped locate them, and many of the logs were picked up off Tongue Point last night by the tug Nancy Foss. An outgoing tide swept the tug and tow west to the Lyre River, but the logs were brought to this harbor today by the Nancy Foss and a Canadian tug. Three other Canadian tugs salvaged some of the logs off Trial Island and towed them here this morning.

Five Canadian tugs had three booms in tow early Thursday morning with about 3,000,000 board feet logs. Except for strays, most of the logs were salvaged. The logs were consigned to local industries.

Enroute here today from Port Townsend are two log rafts consigned to the Crown Zellerbach newsprint mill.

Tse shoaling condition at the Quillayute River bar has increased, the 13th Coast Guard district reports. Late reports indicate a gravel bar about seven acres in area now extends about 30 yards beyond the outer end of the south jetty. It covers both side of the jetty and bares to about four feet at low tide. A local knowledge of the condition is considered necessary to navigate the bar under present conditions, the Coast Guard says.

POSTAL RATES MIGHT RISE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General Summerfield Friday formally adopted the proceeding started by his predecessor for a new 35 per cent increase in parcel post rates.

Former Postmaster General Donaldson petitioned the Interstate Commerce Commission for such an increase a few days before leaving office. He asserted that the hike was necessary to cover a current deficit in parcel post operation.

Post Office Solicitor Roy C. Frank notified the ICC Friday that Summerfield's name should now be substituted as the petitioner in the case.

Forks Council Meets In New Town Hall

The Forks Town Council this week met for the first time in the new town hall recently constructed.

Councilmen considered the installation of parking meters on the city's streets if a survey of business houses determines the meters will be acceptable.

Lighting equipment for the Forks airport will be installed soon, Manager William Bransfield reported.

No definite action was taken on the appointment of a new town marshal, as the committee to examine applications was not ready to report.

ASK OIL DRILLING BIDS

EVERETT (AP) — The Bureau of Indian Affairs announced Thursday bids will be received here Feb. 24 for oil well drilling on the Sampson Johns property south of Ocean City, in Grays Harbor County.

Raymond H. Bitney, superintendent of the Western Washington Indian Agencies, said he would issue a call for bids Friday, including provisions designed to avoid confusion that marked previous drilling attempts.

Under these provisions the driller must reach a depth of 4,500 feet within one year or incur penalties ranging from $10,000 to $25,000, depending on extent of the work.

The bureau has jurisdiction because the land is Indian-owned.
