Engineer Believes Power Co. Has Best Hells Canyon Plan

By JOHN KAMPS

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former Power Commission engineer said Friday a study of all available government reports convinced him the Idaho Power Co. has the best development plan for the Hells Canyon section of the Snake River.

Robert DeLucia, now a consultant at Portland, Ore., said this during cross-examination at a Power Commission hearing on Idaho Power's applications to build three power dams in an area where a federal project has been proposed.

John C. Mason, Power Commission attorney, asked DeLucia to give the baasis for his conclusion that three low dams would be better than one high dam for comprehensive development of the Hells Canyon reach of the river between Idaho and Oregon.

DeLucia said he had studied all available engineering reports on the federal Hells Canyon Dam before deciding to accept employment with Idaho Power for the purpose of preparing a report supporting the applications.

DeLucia volunteered a statement that his studies show a five-dam plan once proposed by Idaho Power "would not provide proper development of this section of the river."

Mason led DeLucia into a detailed examination of a report by John S. Cotton, also a former Power Commission engineer, who compared opposing dam-building plans at the request of the Interior Department last year.

DeLucia and Cotton, now a consultant at San Anselmo, Calif., came up with opposite conclusions although the data they used in making their comparisons was generally the same.

DeLucia contends the three-dam plan is "much better" on grounds it would produce nearly as much power at site as the single high dam at one-third the cost. Additional downstream power credited to the high dam would be too costly, he believes.

Cotton testified last summer the high dam would produce more low cost power and provide flood control, navigation and other benefits. He said it would be superior "in every respect."

Mason's questions dealt with assumptions used by DeLucia and Cotton as to river flows, storage reservoirs to be built along the Columbia River and its tributaries, power capabilities and other engineering matters.

Construction to Start On New Sewer Lines

Pieler Construction Co. early next week will start laying eight-inch sewer lines in Clallam County Sewer District 1 above Lauridsen Boulevard, Palmer Kaas, chairman of the sewer district commissioners, said today.

Monday the contractor started laying the 18-inch trunkline southward from the foot of Francis Street to 4th Street, where it will connect with the district's 24-inch trunkline. Kaas explained the smaller trunk can be used from 4th and Francis because the sewerage has a faster flow in this area.

The 18-inch trunkline will be concrete from 4th Street to the top of the railroad grade at the foot of Francis. From this point north 600 feet into the bay it will be 18-inch cast iron pipe.

Last Sunday Andrew Severyns, sewer district attorney; Commissioners Louie Cnockaert and Virgil Read, and J. Ray Heath, consulting engineer, studied the North Beach Sewer District in Seattle. Engineers considered the district a model establishment. The local officials report they gained many ideas which can be incorporated into the local district.

Former Peninsula Forest Worker Dies

SPOKANE (AP) — Jack O'Sullivan, son of the late James O'Sullivan who was prominent in promoting Grand Coulee Dam and the Columbia Basin Irrigation Project, died in a hospital here Thursday night. He was 45.

O'Sullivan had been ill in recent months and went to the hospital Oct. 29 for an operation. He had worked for the U. S. Forest Service on the Olympic peninsula and in Idaho, He resided here with his mother and sister.

His father died in 1949.

Pacific Northwest Will Play Important Part in Coming Congressional Elections

By FRANK VAILLE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spokesmen for the Democratic and Republican congressional campaign committee differed widely Friday as might be expected, in their views of the election in Oregon and Washington. But they were in virtual agreement on the principal areas of combat.

Kenneth R. Harding, assistant to the chairman of the Democratic organization, claims his party has "a better than 50-50 chance of coming out of the Oregon-Washington elections with two or three seats" in the house as compared with the one it now holds.

But William S. Warner, executive secretary of the Republican group, says he is confident the GOP will retain its four Oregon seats and six out of seven from Washington.

Importance of the Northwest elections is easily seen by a glance at the present makeup of the House. Republicans now hold 219 seats, Democrats 215 and Independents 1. A gain of two seats in the Paciifc Northwest and retention of the status quo elsewhere in the nation would put control of the house in the hands of Rep. Reams (Ind-Ohio), who usually votes Democratic.

With one exception, the two party spokesmen agree they expect their toughest fights in the districts now represented by three Washington freshmen and the dean of the Oregon delegation, Rep. Homer Angell of Portland .

Harding contends Oregon's Multnomah County is preponderantly Democratic and with the proper candidate could be brought into the fold despite Angell's eight successive terms.

Warner also labels this district as "marginal" because of its Democratic registration but indicates he has little worry over the outcome. Angell, he said, "always has squeaked through."

Both camps predict bitter contests for Washington's 1st District seat—now held by Republican Tom Pelly of Seattle—and for the at-large seat held by Democrat Don Magnuson.

Democrats point hopefully to the fact that the 1st District has gone their way more often than it has Republican in recent years. They feel also that Pelly may have lost some ground in Kitsap County when the Puget Sound Navy Yard lost in its bid to build the super-carrier.

Warner agrees that statistics make the 1st a marginal district. Pelly, the first Republican to win the seat since Homer Jones turned the trick in 1946, polled only 51.4 per cent of the vote. In 1950 and 1948, Republicans got only 47.9 and 46.8 per cent respectively, but in 1946 Jones collected 63.8.

Warner discounts loss of the carrier project, pointing out that the Midway-class carrier conversion job which the Puget Sound yard did get provides more man-hours of work a year than would the suepr-carrier although the latter project would carry over three years instead of two.

In the at-large contest, both sides feel Magnuson may be hard-pressed to keep what is now the Democrat's only Northwest house seat.

Democrats are concerned that the former Seattle newspaperman, a political novice when he entered the wide-open race last year, may not be able to finance the type of campaign necessary to bring out the vote in a state-wide contest.

Republican strategists take a similar line of thought. Lack of a state-wide race other than that for the at-large seat may keep many voters home, they argue. Those who do show up at the polls —particularly those in what they consider safely-Republican eastern Washington—will swing the decision to a Republican, the GOP spokesmen claim.

SECOND DISTRICT

Warner and Harding part paths when they reach the 2nd District.

Democrats eye the northwest Washington region as primarily Democratic. Prior to Republican Jack Westland's victory last year, the seat had been held for six successive terms by the now Sen. Henry Jackson, a Democrat. They feel Westland has lost ground because of the closing of the Sand Point Naval Air Station and other installations in the district, and are hopeful that whatever polling power his national amateur golf championship might have generated will have disappeared.

Warner discounts these arguments and says his reports indicate Westland has "weathered" the Sand Point controversy and solidified his position since taking office with a 54.2 per cent vote.

Harding also lists the southwest Washington seat held by Republican Russell V. Mack and the Eastern Oregon seat of Republican Sam Coon, a first-termer, as "possibilities" but indicated a Democratic victory there would depend upon dissatisfaction among their respective lumber and cattle industries.

Other districts in the two states are considered likely to remain in the Republican camp.

200,000 Koreans Flee Huge Fire Raging in Pusan

By MILO FARNETI

PUSAN, Korea (AP) — A great fire raged out of control in this teeming seaport Friday driving possibly 200,000 persons from their homes and menacing millions of dollars worth of U.S. military installations.

Thousands of U.S. and South Korean soldiers fought the flames, which were fanned by 30-mile winds as they swept through the business district.

There were no reports of deaths, but authorities said it would be a miracle if no one in this crowded port had died in the roaring flames, which leaped 50 feet high.

A U.S. officer estimated already between two and three thousand buildings had gone up in flames, and that about 200,000 persons had fled the advancing fire.

Buildings were ablaze just across the street from Pusan's railway station and the headquarters of the U.S. Army's Korean base section, which operates this huge military port.

Some U.S. military installations had been abandoned, but no details were released.

The U.S. Embassy was only three blocks from the flames. The fire so far has spared all port facilities along the waterfront, and these, like the embassy, were in no immediate danger.

"We just don't know how bad it is," said one American officer. "No one can say now."

The fire burst out first about 8 o'clock Friday night in a shantytown area called "The Hilltop."

Entire blocks flashed into flame.

One Army officer said some homes "almost exploded. . . like a match that is lit with your thumbnail."

Another officer estimated in the early hours of the fire that as many as 1,000 to 2,000 houses and shacks had burned.

Pusan, a key port city on the southeast corner of the peninsula, was the war-time capital of South Korea.

Executive Secretary of WEA Says State's Teachers' Salaries Third Highest in U.S.

TACOMA (AP) — Salaries paid Washington teachers this year will rank third highest in the nation, Joe A. Chandler, of Seattle, executive secretary of the Washington-Education Assn. told delegates attending the WEA representative assembly here Friday.

"Washington has regained the national ranking in teachers' average salaries held in 1947," Chandler said. "Last year teachers' compensaiton in the state dropped to 13th in ranking among the states."

Chandler told the 250 delegates, representing 16,250 teachers, that this current ranking cannot be accepted without reflection upon the manner in which it was accomplished.

"Although legislative appropriations and special levies voted locally can account in part for the gain," Chandler said, "people in this state have sacrificed other parts of their school program and standards to make increased salaries possible.

"State support for kindergartens has disappeared and so has local support in many communities. Other services in the school program have been slashed in some districts.

"And overloaded classrooms, limited purchase of school supplies and curtailed school transportation have been forced in certain instances."

Chandler also pointed to a depletion in school district cash balances, increased federal aid and an increase in local assessed valua-tion as contributing factors.

Communism in the school system was discussed at length at a board of directors meeting preceding the regular convention.

A resolution aimed at combatting communism was scheduled to be read to the delegates Friday afternoon. It read:

"We recognize the necessity and obligation of teachers to explain the meanings and workings of all forms of government in the classroom and that the explanation of any foreign ideologies in the normal course of classroom work shall not be construed as subversive.

"But it is resolved that the Washington Education Assn. reaffirms its opposition to all organizations or persons who advocate the overthrow of our form of government by force or violence.

"Further, since the elected public bodies responsible by law for the conduct of our schools are the state and local boards of education, teachers called upon by these boards in matters affecting national security should be fully cooperative, provided adequate safeguards are provided to protect the individual teacher."

A highlight of Friday's meeting will be nomination of WEA officers.

Candidates for the president's office now held by T. Olai Hageness of Tacoma, are Margaret Weed of Wenatchee and Warren Morgan of Spokane. Seven new members of the WEA Board of Directors will be chosen from a field of 13 candidates.

'OPERATION ICE BOX' — The Cardinal-Inks super markets in Sacramento, Calif., promised 1,000 Thanksgiving turkeys to citizens for old ice box doors. The offer was made because so many small children had died when trapped in old and unused ice boxes throughout the nation this year. In that time 4,000 turkeys had been given away and company trucks are still hauling in boxes and doors. (AP Wirephoto).

French Premier Wins Confidence Vote, Will Attend Bermuda Talks

PARIS (AP) — Premier Joseph Laniel won a vote of confidence in the National Assembly Friday. The vote was 275 - 244. He announced immediately that he go to the Bermuda conference as planned.

Laniel and Foreign Minister Georges Bidault will fly on Dec. 2 to Bermuda for the meeting with President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill.

One hundred deputies abstained in the voting on a weakly - worded resolution on European policy which gave qualified support for the European army.

The action came after a tense day in the Assembly, where the lawmakers had not only the Bermuda conference to consider but also a Soviet offer to meet with the Western powers to dicuss easing of world tensions.

There seemed little doubt that Laniel had been aided by the Soviet offer of Thursday night. Almost all sections of the National Assembly had long urged such a meeting.

Early in the day it seemed that Laniel would have difficulty in getting approval from the deputies of his policy on European unity. Then at one point Foreign Minister Georges Bidault threatened to resign because he felt he had been slighted by the Premier.

At the afternoon session, however, the personal animosities faded as the deputies sought to give outward appearance of harmony.

The vote came on a resolution winding up a foreign policy debate that has occupied the Assembly for two weeks. Most of the debate had centered on the European army.

The resolution made no mention of the army itself, but approved government statements which noted that three conditions must be met before the army treaty can be ratified by France.

These were settlement of the Saar question, British agreement on close association with the European army and acceptance of additional protocols asked by France.

Laniel had told the Assembly earlier Friday he would quit unless he got a clear-cut approval of his policies.

"I do not want a government with reduced powers and limited responsibilities," he asserted.

Top Court Learns Powers To Stop Racial Segregation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department told the Supreme Court Friday that the court is fully empowered to strike down racial segregation in public schools.

In response to an invitation of the court, where five school segregation cases are pending, Atty. Gen. Brownell and his chief aides filed a brief asserting that the 14th amendment to the Constitution 'compels a state to grant the benefits of public education to all its people equally, without regard to differences of race or color."

The brief said the question is not "whether there is equality as between schools,' adding: "The Constitution requires that there be equality as between persons."

The cases before the court are from Kansas, South Carolina, Virginia, Delaware and the District of Columbua. Fourteen other states require segregation of Negro and White pupils and three others permit it.

The pending cases were originally argued many months ago, when the government filed a brief opposing segregation practices in the public schools.

Subsequently, the court ordered reargument for Dec. 7 and meanwhile asked that all parties, and the attorney general, submit additional briefs designed to answer questions in the mind of the court relating to the legislative history of the 14th amendment and its ratification by the states.

FORECAST WET WEATHER

SEATTLE (AP) — A couple of low pressure areas in the North Pacific, with a "ridge" between, are expected to keep Western Washington and Oregon predominantly wet for the next several days.

The U.S. Weather Bureau five-day forecast is for rain over the weekend, with a likelihood of a couple of days of good weather before showers come again in midweek.

The forecaster says the air movements have shifted to an almost direct west-east movement. The first low pressure storm system is off the coast; the high pressure ridge is approximately in mid-Pacific and the second storm system is near the north Asiatic coast.

Normal temperatures are in prospect.

Army Says U.S. Sgt. Confessed He Killed Colonel's Daughter

By FORREST EDWARDS

TOKYO (AP) — A married U. S. sergeant has confessed he killed Susan Rothschild, pretty 9-year-old daughter of a colonel, the Army announced Saturday.

An Army announcement identified him as M. Sgt. Maurice L. Schick, 29, who lived with his wife and two adopted Japanese daughters in the same sprawling U. S. Army housing area as his victim.

Schick broke down Friday night after prolonged questioning and admitted it was he who strangled the girl and left her body in a drainage ditch in the Sagamihara Army housing area 30 miles south of Tokyo, the Army said.

While the child had not been raped, Army investigators have said this appeared to be the motive behind the brutal attack and her attacker may have been frightened away.

Schick is the chief ward master of the U.S. Army hospital at Camp Zama. It was reported he was being held by military authorities there.

The hospital is near the housing area where Susan's body, a gag stuffed in her mouth, was found by her father.

Army authorities said Schick told them he had no intention of raping the girl and did not plan the murder before meeting her in a lightly populated area only two blocks from the home of her parents, Col. and Mrs. Jacquard Rothschild.

Army officials and Japanese police have been working around the clock on the case since the pretty little red-haired girl was found dead Saturday evening.

Her father began searching for her when she did not come home after leaving the home of friends where she had been playing during the afternoon.

An autopsy showed that she had been strangled only a few minutes before her father found her lying face down in a few inches of water in the drainage ditch.

An Army spokesman listed Schick's home address as 258 North Jefferson Ave., Canonsburg, Pa.

U. S. Says Russ Seek To Destroy Europe Unity With Big-4 Note

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)— The United States Friday branded Russia's latest note on a Big Four meeting as an obvious effort to slow progress on the development of "greater European unity and strength."

A statement released at the State Department also described the note as "a tactical retreat" by Russia in the sense that it is in effect "to gloss over the uncompromising nature of Soviet policy" toward the West.

The real substance of the Soviet note shows that Russia has not in any sense changed its basic positions on world issues and from this standpoint, therefore, "the note is disappointing," the department said.

The statement forecast that the Russian message, which was delivered Thursday night and called for a four - power foreign ministers meeting at Berlin, would be discussed at the Bermuda conference of the government chiefs and foreign ministers of the United States, the United Kingdom and France beginning in a week.

Evidence that the note was a thrust at European unity and strength, the State Department said, was found in the fact it was timed to coincide with the foreign policy debate in the French Parliament on the European Defense Community which would mean West German rearmament.

The statement called that "one of the most significant and obvious aspects" of the note and added that it "would appear therefore, to represent another Soviet effort to impede progress on EDC ratification and other steps toward greater European unity and strength."

A digest of the note Russia sent Thursday night to the United States, Britain and France became available in Paris. It indicated that if a Big Four meeting, of foreign ministers, were held the Soviets would immediately press for a follow-up, meeting including, Communist China.

Informed observers here said the result might be that instead of further postponing a four - power meeting by dispatching repeated notes on the Chines question, the Russians conceivably might allow the meeting to assemble, and then stall discussion of European problems while the Chinese issue was worked over again.

STUDY NOTE

In any case, the Russian note was under intensive study by secretary of State Dulles and his principal policy advisers to determine whether it is a serious step toward easing world tensions or a clever stab at the unity of the West.

Available information in Washington and Paris was that the note laid down no pre-conditions for a Big Four meeting, but gave clear evidence of Russia's continuing preoccupation with the status of Red China; that it proposed a meeting of foreign ministers without previous consultation on agenda, suggested Berlin as the meeting place and left the date open.

British Caution Russ Willingness To Talk With West May Not Mean Change in Attitude

LONDON (AP) — The British Foreign Office cautioned Friday that Russia's willingness to talk things over with the West does not necessarily mean a basic change in the Soviet attitude to world problems.

A Foreign Office spokesman said a Soviet note expressing such willingness emphasized also the Russians would press at Big Four talks for a wider conference to include Communist China.

The Russians, the spokesman added, gave no indication what level they sought for any five - power meeting.

The British spokesman said he wasn't ready to comment directly on the Soviet note itself until London consulted with Washington and Paris.

Western diplomats in London regarded the Soviet acceptance of an invitation to "Big Four" talks as a carefully timed propaganda move aimed at undermining the French government rather than a change in Kremlin attitude.

The Western powers gave indications they would come back with an answer right away. The British Foreign Office spokesman said:

"The note is being studied here and will be the subject of consultations between Her Majesty's government and the French and American governments, and we hope a reply will be dispatched without undue delay.

"If and when such a conference does assemble we shall certainly do our best to make positive progress on the formidable and difficult problems which will have to be discussed."

The French Foreign Office, in its commentary, said the Russian note was essentially concerned with German rearmament and "on that it appears that the Soviet position has not changed. It still opposes German rearmament, which the government of France feels is necessary to the security of Western Europe."

The statement said that the note makes no reference to Western demands for free German-wide elections before establishment of any rovisional all - German government.

France feels this is a fundamental issue and if agreement is reached "it might be possible to reach a settlement on other issues between the East and West concerning Germany," the statement added.

In Berlin, Allied officials said the Soviet Union's choice of that divided city as in itself a potential issue for disagreement. An American authority said the question of whether to meet in East or West Berlin could become an extremely touchy subject involving the matter of prestige.

But a possible meeting site was seen in the four-power Allied control authority building in the American sector. It is the Air safety center where all powers post their daily flights and the four flags of the occupying powers still fly there.

WANT NO PRECONDITIONS

A spokesman with the French government delegation at the European unification conference in the Hague underlined that the Soviet note, to be acceptable, must contain no preconditions for a conference.

"In principle we are agreeable to a conference provided of course that they are not posing any preliminary conditions, such as the inclusion of Red China or the abandonment of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Air Force Secretary Says Nation Lacks Titanium For Planes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Air Force Talbott said Friday this nation is "woefully weak" in supplies of the tough, lightweight metal titanium needed for faster-than-sound military aircraft.

Talbott said he was ashamed that the shortage of the metal "hasn't come to my attention sooner."

Without quantity production of the metal, Talbott added, the U.S. Air Force would be in a very inferior position.

He testified before a Senate subcommittee headed by Sen. Malone (R-Nev) which is investigating supplies of strategic minerals needed in war.

The subcommittee received testimony earlier from Air Force Brig. Gen. Kern D. Metzger that supplies of titanium should be greatly increased.

Talbott suggested offering immediate assistance to possible titanium producers as a means of bolstering supplies "without delay."

Other testimony taken by the subcommittee indicated that no quick or easy process for extracting titanium from ilmenite and other ores has been finally developed.

Talbott said the United States "should have our own production (of titanium ores) and protect ourselves in this country. I see no reason for going abroad for these ores."

Other witnesses have brought out that much of the titanium ores processed in this country are shipped from Australia and India.

Malone noted there had been testimony that use of titanium for stainless steel would cut the weight of eight - engine intercontinental bombers as much as 4,000 pounds.

He said some persons believed this could mean the difference between reaching a target and returning or not being able to get back.

Jury Will Look Into Union's Affairs

DETROIT (AP) — U. S. Dist. Atty. Fred W. Kaess Friday got quick approval on his request for a federal grand jury inquiry into the affairs of the Detroit-area AFL Teamsters Union and James R. Hoffa, Michigan boss of the union.

Kaess telephoned the office of Atty. Gen. Brownell in Washington, outlined the situation and got immediate permission to turn the matter over to a grand jury.

Kaess said the regular federal grand jury now in session would begin a study of the Teamsters' Union next week, probably Tuesday.

Representatives of Kaess' office, together with FBI men and internal revenue agents have been sitting in on a congressional probe of the Teamsters' Union activities here.

The announcement that a federal grand jury would look into the union's affairs came as a House labor and education subcommittee neared the end of its week long hearings by calling Hoffa to the witness stand.

The congressional investigators are particularly concerned with the teamsters' multi-million dollar health and welfare fund activities.

Official Describes Defense Problems

OTTAWA (AP) —Canadian Defense Minister Brooke Claxton says Canada and the United States can't afford a foolproof air defense system, even if one could be worked out.

He told the House of Commons Thursday in a general review of Canada's defense measures that Russia some day may be in a position to deliver "so devastating" an attack that North American military strength, actual and potential, would be seriously crippled.

Claxton's speech recalled President Eisenhower's declaration to Parliament Nov. 14 that Canada and the United States "can and will" devise ways to protect the continent against surprise air attack.

Claxton told Commons no means had yet been found to guarantee that every attacking aircraft would be downed short of its target. And even if such could be found, he added, the combined resources of Canada and her southern neighbor wouldn't be able to pay for it.

Claxton said Canada and the U. S. are in "general agreement" about what should be done to protect the continent and are working together. Their efforts are spurred by the knowledge that Russia possesses nuclear weapons, he continued.

WILL GO TO RED HOSPITAL

INCHON, Korea (AP) —A Communist Czech officer who was shot and wounded here will be sent to a Red hospital near Panmunjom in the neutral zone Saturday, the U. N. command said Friday night.

The officer, a member of a neutral nations truce inspection team working here, was shot in the head early Thursday. His condition is listed as serious.

The Czech, Lt. Col. Votjetech Bagda, was taken aboard the U. S. hospital ship Consolation shortly after the shooting. He will be flown from the ship to Panmonjom by a U. N. helicopter.

Other Czech team members did not allow American officers to question the wounded man. They reported he was shot accidentally when a pistol he was packing in a bag went off.

Sawdust Helpful For Dairy Farmers

By MELVIN G. MICHEL, County Extension Agent

You wouldn't think the lumber and dairy industries have much in common. But here in Washington, where both are big business, dairymen can profit by being close to a lumber mill.

Sawdust or shavings make splendid bedding, particularly for loafing sheds. They provide a dry, warm bed that's easy to spread and compare well in absorption capacity with other bedding materials, as this chart shows:

Water absorption capacity of bedding materials

Material	lbs. water absorbed per 100 lbs., of bedding
Wheat straw	210
Oat straw	250
Shavings	119-220
Sawdust	80-160
Dried peat moss	500-1,000

It's hard to beat a layer of sawdust or shavings in the barnyard. This covering keeps the cows clean. Of course paved yards are better, but they cost more.

A layer of sawdust at least a foot deep will do a good job of keeping cows out of mud. It must be put down soon, though, before the mud season starts. You'll get better results if you put the sawdust or shavings on while the ground is still dry.

Don't worry about losing your valuable source of barnyard manure for fertilizer. The mixture of sawdust and manure is a good fertilizer. It will take slightly more nitrogen to decompose sawdust in the field than is needed for straw. Mud-free yards more than offset the few extra pounds of nitrogen required by using sawdust.

AGRICULTURE SHOW OPENS

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's biggest agricultural show, the International Livestock Exposition, opens Friday night with some 5 million dollars worth of prize livestock and crops on exhibition.

The 54th annual exposition, which opens with a horse show performance, will run through Dec. 5, at the International Amphitheater at the Chicago stock yards. Some 500,000 persons are expected to attend the exposition.

Washington Co-op Dinner Is Dec. 5

Thirty-six years of continuous service to Washington farm families will be observed with a special all-day meeting of Sequim, Hadlock and Paulsbo district Washington Co-op members at the Sequim High School auditorium Dec. 5.

Members can make advance reservations for a turkey dinner at noon, to be served without cost to those who have secured tickets.

The meeting is primarily to nominate trustee candidates to represent this district on the association's board. It is also to bring the latest information to members about Washington Co-op operations and margins to date for this year, in a special message presented by General Manager Harry J. Beernink.

Other speakers will discuss fertilizers and their correct usage; the progress made in feed nutrition, and explain sales and promotion programs for association products.

All members who have not already done so should make their reservations now, says Russell Whitmore, Sequim branch manager.

"We must know in advance how many to prepare for so reservations must be in by Monday. Tickets are available from either the branch station or Washington Co-op truck operators," he said.

Eighth Graders Give School Assembly

The 8-1 class of Mrs. Livona Lotzgesell presented the Thanksgiving assembly for the combined junior and senior high assembly Wednesday. Philip Ager led eighth grade members of the band in patriotic songs. He led the eighth grade "Nonette" in the song "I Believe."

The program included a playlet written by the history class. Ernest Jones was master of ceremonies. Richard Edgington, class president, took part in the program; and Virginia Hare was group leader.

The class presented $18.57 to the band uniform fund. This prize was two per cent of the gross of the magazine subscription drive, given to the room selling the most magazines in the recent contest.

Dr. Shaw to Talk at Farm Bureau Dinner

Dr. A. O. Shaw, head of the dairy department at Washington State College, and Darrell Condron, sales director of the State Farm Bureau, will speak to Farm Bureau members and prospective members Monday. The occasion is the annual Farm Bureau dinner at Macleay Hall, scheduled for 11 a.m.

Gov. Arthur B. Langlie has named the first week of December as Farm Bureau Week. State and local groups will conduct membership drives during the week.

New officers will be elected for the Farm Bureau and the Associated Rural Women of the Farm Bureau at this time. Mrs. Harold Herrett is in charge of the free ham dinner.

Members invite everyone who is interested in Farm Bureau work.

Square Dancers Plan Christmas Party

Adam Baker, Harry Secor and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Byers called the dances for 42 members of the Buck and Wing Square Dance Club last Friday evening. Members planned their Christmas party for Dec. 18 at the Carlsborg school.

W. E. Bucknell and Ed and Walt Brueckner were named the music committee for December. The food committee for the Dec. 4 dance is Messrs. and Mesdames Fred Gillespie, Ernest Schmuck, Lester Clayton and Louis Smith.

Sequim Briefs

Ardella Machenheimer, decoration chairman for the Senior Ball, reports that by Saturday night the committee in charge will have changed the multi-purpose room of the grade school into a "Winter Fantasy." Blue flood lights will play on blue and white Christmas trees and blue and white pillars. The bandstand for Preston Scheid and his orchestra will be transformed into a sled. Refreshments will be served from candle-lighted tables covered with blue cloths.

Over 700 children and adults were served a Thanksgiving turkey dinner in the school multi-purpose room on Wednesday. Mrs. Jess Harleman is in charge of the school cafeteria and the special dinner. The meal was served for 30 cents to grade school children through the third grade, 40 cents to all other students and 50 cents to adults.

FARMERS GET LESS CASH

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department says farm sales were slightly bigger during the first 10 months of 1953 than in the same period lasy year, but the farmer received 5 per cent less cash.

The department report yesterday said the decline, a total of $24,800,000,000, was caused by lower prices.

However, it said the consumer paid more for goods in general, with prices of industrial goods rising slightly to balance the lower prices of farm goods. The report also noted a small boost in charges for transportation, rent, medical care and other services.

It said farm receipts from meat animals declined 7 per cent and for crops 2 per cent.

Walnut halves make a pretty garnish for a pumpkin pie. Use six or eight of the nutmeat halves, and space them evenly around the outside rim of the pumpkin filling just as soon as the pie comes out of the oven.

Young Mothers Club Hears Mrs. McGregor Talk on Kindergarten

Young Mothers Club members decided at their Tuesday night meeting to sponsor a kindergarten benefit dance Dec. 18 at the Legion Hall.

The music of Cecil Morse and His Beachcombers will be furnished through the courtesy of the American Federation of Musicians, Local 395. Mrs. Joe Turton is general chairman of the affair. Mrs. Creighton Daniels Jr. will handle publicity.

The Young Mothers Club went on record favoring an east end boat haven with Lehman's Dungeness property as the probable site. The secretary will write to the Port Commission to this effect.

The group will provide a Christmas party for kindergarten pupils on the last school day before the holiday. They invite parents of students to come.

If a parent brings a younger brother or sister of the kindergarten pupil, he is requested to bring a small gift for him. The club will furnish small gifts for each child enrolled. These will go under the Christmas tree that Mrs. Florence McGregor, the instructor, expects to have for the children.

Mrs. McGregor was introduced by Mrs. Joe Pettelle, and spoke to the club on the subject "How the Kindergarten Meets the Needs of the Five-Year-Old Child." Mrs. McGregor has taught primary grades in Sequim for many years, and quoted the book she is using in kindergarten work.

She used Foster and Headly's "Education in the Kindergarten" to explain the needs of the five-year-old child. From her own day by day experiences with the children, she told how she feels that kindergarten is meeting these needs.

Several children who were quite shy at the beginning of the year now join in the game with no hesitation. Also the children's adjustment to the large group has progressed until there is almost no quarreling as there was three months ago, she said.

The kindergarten meets a need since "generally speaking, motor development depends on chronological age and only in part upon practice and mental ability." Mrs. McGregor also pointed out that according to Foster and Headly, "in the development of language, chronological age seems to have a greater effect than the mental age."

Mrs. McGregor illustrated her talk with examples provided by the children themselves. The children entertain themselves and plan their own parties. Visitors are met at the door by one of the children and, when leaving, are escorted out by one of the five-year-olds. Each child introduces his own parent when he visits. The children themselves compose the thank-you note sent to a mother who has baked cookies for the class.

Mrs. McGregor quoted from Foster and Headly's book, and verified her statements from observations of the free play period.

"Gradually the child comes to appreciate the value of certain types of social behavior," she said. He tries out various ways of approaching other children. Some of these are found to be usually successful. Sooner or later he learns how to modify his behavior to avoid trespassing on the rights and feelings of others, while at the same time accomplishing the aim he has in mind."

Transportation is a problem in a rural area such as Sequim. Mothers interested in kindergarten instruction for their children have overcome this difficulty with car pools. Children come in each day from areas as distant as Agnew, almost seven miles from Sequim.

Mrs. McGregor's instruction is available to every child for $5 a month. Sessions are the usual two-hour a day, five day week schedule, similar to that formerly maintained by the public school.

Mrs. Ray Shumway and Mrs. Tom H. Cook served refreshments to 18 members at the home of Mrs. Cook.

Sequim Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Laugen and children of Seattle spent last week at the Ernest Marshall home in Dungeness.

Mrs. James Nicholson and son Mark of Forks spent Thanksgiving week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cook. Mrs. Cook's mother, Mrs. S. J. Hurse, was also visiting from Everett.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Tenneson spent last weekend in Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Smith and daughters were in North Bend for Thanksgiving at the home of her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. O. Johnson.

Some of the college students who are visiting with their parents for the holiday are Karen Iverson, Barbara Beverage, Betty Ballard, Sharon Fisher, Bob Dalton, Pete Taylor, Charles Lehman, Ross Flanders, Ray Franklin, Rena Schenck and Jack Stevens.

Add a little crushed thyme to snap beans when you are cooking them. This herb gives this vegetable delicious flavor.

Graysmarsh Herd Sets New Records

Graysmarsh Farm has put Sequim on the map in Guernsey circles all over the Northwest. This fall the show herd of registered cows took on all the best competition available. The five leading shows where they swept the field were the Evergreen Classic at Mt. Vernon, the Northwest District Fair at Lynden, the Pacific National Exposition at Vancouver, B.C., the Western Washington Fair at Puyallup and the Pacific International Exposition at Portland, Ore.

The herd made the completely unprecedented record of winning every first prize in all of the junior classes at all five shows. They were almost as invincible in the group classes, winning all but the produce of dam class at all shows.

The show herd of 18 to 20 cows won grand champion cow three times and reserve grand once. They won junior champion female at all five shows. Only one animal in the entire herd was not bred at Graysmarsh.

They were also the major factor in the herd that won the county herd class at Puyallup. This was won for Clallam County by Graysmarsh with four other breeders.

Some of the cows made outstanding individual records. Graysmarsh Patricia won three grand championship and one reserve in four shows. Graysmarsh Wanda was never beaten in her class and was twice junior champion. Graysmarsh Royal Gipsy won first in the two-year-old class in four of the five shows. Graysmarsh Princess Kathaleen was first three-year-old in three shows.

Graysmarsh Royal Norrine was first prize junior yearling and junior champion twice before being shipped to a sale in Ohio where she sold for $1,000.

This was the first time a Clallam County herd of any breed has made such a showing. The herd is owned by William G. Reed of Shelton and the manager, Lester J. Lancaster.

Want to stretch a little chicken, turkey or ham for a luncheon dish? Then add it to the filling for stuffed baked potatoes after you chop it fine. Sprinkle the stuffed potato tops with grated cheese or paprika before reheating under the broiler or in the oven. Serve leafy spinach or green peas and scalloped tomatoes with the potatoes.

INDICT EX-PATIENT

TACOMA (AP) — A former American Lake Veterans' Hospital patient accused of terrorizing the hospital's nurses the night of April 28 has been indicted by a federal grand jury on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Loren M. Smith, 29, of Chehalis, was named in one of five secret indictments returned here last week.

The jury heard testimony that Smith returned to the hospital after his release to visit a nurse. Smith said he became panicky when he couldn't find her, produced a gun and waved it at other nurses. Two sheriff's deputies finally talked him into surrendering the weapon.

Bail for Smith was set at $1,000.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

The Missus Keeps Posted

Ever since our electricity was cut off last year on account of me forgetting to mail in the payment, the Missus has been sort of leery about giving me letters to mail.

At first she'd ask if I mailed them, then double-check my coat pocket at night. She stopped that, and I figured she was convinced I'd learned my lesson.

Then yesterday, I got a postcard at the office in a familiar handwriting. I turned it over and by golly it was from the Missus herself! It read: "Thanks, Joe, for mailing my letters." Well!

Looks like she figured I still needed some checking-up and slipped that postcard in the last batch of letters.

From where I sit, an occasional check-up is a good thing. Check-ups on just how tolerant we are of other people's preferences and tastes, for example. I like a glass of beer with supper, you may prefer cider—but if I ever try to switch you to my choice, simply "address" me with a reminder of your rights.

Father of Five Perishes in Fire

SPOKANE (AP) — A 27-year-old father of five children died early Friday in a desperate attempt to escape flames that raced through the attic of a home where he was staying.

Duane Keck, a truck driver for a fuel company, was dead by the time firemen reached him. He was sleeping in the attic of the Charles Pangborn home (West 1927 Cleveland).

Fred Matsch, assistant fire chief, blamed careless smoking for the fire which was confined to the attic. He said Keck made a dive for the stairway of the attic, missed and was trapped on studdings near the eaves.

The Pangborns said they heard the noise but were unable to reach Keck because of flames and lack of oxygen. Death was blamed on suffocation and burns.

Keck is survived by his widow, two sons and three daughters (at East 6313 7th).

DEAR DEER KILLING

CAMP LEJEUNE, N. C. (AP) — A Camp Lejeune Marine recently lilled his first deer and had his first automobile accident at the same time.

A 6-point buck weighing 160 pounds darted out of the woods and rammed into the car of M. Sgt. Francis J. Incosky on a highway near this Marine base. The accident caused damages of $300.

Prominence Helps Top Homemaker

AP Newsfeature

WASHINGTON — What has Mrs. Richard Nixon got that we haven't got?

That's the question other A-1 housewives the nation over probably asked themselves when the pretty "Pat" was named "outstanding Homemaker of the Year."

The answer, girls, is a husband who is vice president of the United States — even though, in bestowing the honor, the Home Fashions League, Inc. cited her "exceptional combined talents as a homemaker, mother and partner in marriage."

While admitting scores of other American women do as good a job, "maybe better," on a smaller budget, under considerably greater pressure and with less professional help, a member of the league said Mrs. Nixon's position in the limelight as second lady of the land had a great deal to do with her selection.

"It's obvious," the member explained, "last year we chose Mrs. Estes Kefauver, wife of the Tennessee senator, whose husband had been a candidate for the presidency. The year before it was the wife of the former veep, Mrs. Alben Barkley."

To be fair, however, the exceedingly attractive blonde Mrs. Nixon, mother of Patricia, 7½, and Julie, 5, is a "homemaker in the true sense of the work," as the league points out, and has "remarkable qualities as an interior decorator, can design and create her own clothes and those of her children and is an excellent cook."

Those who know her will agree with the citation: "Her home stands as a monument to her good taste in home furnishings and to her abilities in running a well organized household. Also, aside from executing the hundreds of daily tasks generally attendant in housekeeping, Mrs. Nixon has served well as a very capable and charming hostess and helpmate in furthering her husband's career."

TRAVEL WARDROBE

She said her travel wardrobe, created by a Washington designer, contains six cotton dresses, one silk shantung suit for afternoon and cocktail wear, a brown silk afternoon dress and five evening and formal afternoon dresses. She said she will use the cottons mostly for actual traveling.

Talks On Tree Farms Slated By Foresters

Seattle will be the gathering point for some 600 foresters from the western states Dec. 9-11. They will attend their biggest meeting of the year, the 44th annual Western Forestry Conference. Sessions will be in the Olympic Hotel. This is the first conference held in Seattle since 1933.

Growing trees on small forest holdings is the program theme, according to forest counsel Stuart Moir, Portland, Ore. A half-day tree growers' forum, chairmanned by Col. W. B. Greeley, former chief forester, U.S. Forest Service, will accent that theme. Ten farm forestry specialists from the Douglas fir, redwood and western pine regions and British Columbia will discuss the "how" of raising junior sawlogs.

"Little forests are important in the nation's economy," according to Trustee P. D. Edgell. "Some 4,200,000 owners control about 261 million acres of forest land whose average sibe is less than 100 acres. In the western states small owners control 21,753,000 acres of potentially valuable timberland. The trees for tomorrow required by sawmills and pulp mills can and will come from those acres."

U. S. and Canadian forestry leaders who will appear on the program include R. E. McArdie, chief, U. S. Forest Service, Washington, D.C.; Edward Woozley, director, Bureau of Land Management, Washington, D. C.; D. A. Macdonald, director, forestry branch, Department of Resources and Development, Ottawa, Canada; F. W. Reichelderfer, chief, United States Weather Bureau; and E. W. Tinker, American Paper and Pulp Association, New York City.

Gov. Arthur B. Langlie will welcome the foresters. Two Seattle men will serve as panel moderators. Chairman C. S. Cowan, Washington orest Fire Association, will head the discussion dealing with forest protection problems of the tree grower. The Business of Forestry panel will be lead by O. Harry Schrader Jr., United States Plywood Corp.

On Dec. 8 the Puget Sound Section of the American Society of Photogrammetry will hold an all-day session, featuring new techniques in aerial mapping. The final half-day of the conference will be gievn over to discussions on civil defense and radio communications. The Puget Sound Section of the Society of American Foresters and the Canadian Institute of Forestry will sponsor the annual banquet.

TELL ROCKETS' CAPABILITIES

LONDON (AP) — A semi-official Royal Air Force magazine said Friday piloted rocket ships launched straight up from the ground will form a part of Britain's future defenses against atomic bombing. The magazine, Flying Review, said the stubby-winged rockets will hit 1,500 miles an hour and will be able to reach a bomber flying at 50,000 feet in less than a minute.

Chinese Crewmen Cause Riot Call

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Police sounded a riot call Thursday night after 59 Chinese crewmen of a British freighter chased a shipping official down the gangplank because they couldn't go ashore.

The Chinese, crewmen of the freighter Greystoke Castle, were denied visitors visas by the American consulate at Kobe, Japan before the ship sailed from there.

So, they went on a partial sitdown strike when the vessel arrived here and the 14 British officers went on shore leave.

Finally, the Chinese demanded assurances from the captain and the owners, the Lancashire Shiping Co., that such a thing doesn't happen again.

Agent W. A. Atkinson refused and started down the gangplank.

The Chinese crewmen took out after him. Cops in six police cars and two paddy wagons aided by 13 Coast Guardsmen quelled the disturbance. Some 37 of the Greystoke Castle's crewmen were jailed overnight.

FOUR-LEGGED THERAPY—Twelve-year-old Laurel Anderson, a patient at the University of Michigan Hospital at Ann Arbor, enjoys a new kind of therapy as Philip and Willie, two coati mundis make friends with her. Supervising the meeting is their owner, Mary Ann Bancroft, assistant head of the University Hospital school. During the day the nocturnal long-tailed pets live in a cage on the eighth floor of the hospital, but are transferred to Miss Bancroft's apartment at night.

Eastern Section Of U.S. Gets Snow

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cold and snowy weather, with temperatures near zero in some Midwest areas, extended over wide sections of the eastern half of the country Friday.

The cold air extended into the southland except for the western Gulf states. Temperatures dropped below normal as far south as Miami, Fla., which reported a low of 53 early Friday. It was 48 in Tampa.

But the early morning reading was 8 above in Cadillac, Mich., and 15 above in International Falls, Minn. Freezing weather covered most of the northern half of the country.

Snow fell early Friday in Southern Michigan, Northern Illinois, most of Indiana and Ohio, Western Pennsylvania and New York. Nearly a foot of snow was on the ground at International Falls and Bemidji, Minn.

Temperatures were around seasonal levels in most areas west of the Rockies. A small low pressure neared the northwestern coast and it spread rain as far east as Idaho and Western Montana .

30 Persons Escape From Ditched Plane

TOKYO (AP) — Twenty-five pasengers and five crewmen Thursday night climbed out of a ditched Army transport plane five minutes before it sank in the Japan Sea.

The Air Force said the C46 was coming in for a ground controlled blind landing at the U.S. Air Force Base at Miho, on the southern tip of Honshu, missed the landing strip, and was forced to ditch about three miles off the coast. It sank 10 minutes later.

A crash boat picked up all 25 passengers and five crewmen and brought them back to the base. One crew member received a broken wrist. Three others had minor bruises.

Among the passengers were 10 members of a USO troupe. The plane was on a scheduled courier flight from Iwakuni Air Force Base to Miho.

New Guinea and Borneo are each slightly larger than Texas.

TODAY'S BUSINESS MIRROR

Littleknown Group of Specialized Bank Firms Prove Big Aid to U. S. Industry

By STEVEN V. DAVID
(For San Dawson)

NEW YORK (AP) — American industry is doing millions of dollars of extra business each year because of the services provided by a littleknown group of specialized banking firms.

These firms have an odd name. They're called "factors". But the way they operate is as simple as this:

Suppose you are running a business and need cash to step up your output, to meet current bills or to expand your plant. But suppose also that you find most of your money tied up in what are called "accounts receivable"—that is, bills and installments which your customers don't have to pay until some future date.

That's where the factoring firm comes in. It will sign a contract with you to purchase your accounts receivable, in return for a commission based on a percentage of sales, and give you the cash right away. Then it's up to the factor to collect.

In effect, you've turned your business into a cash business and ended your worries about credit recisions, collection of bills, delinquencies or credit losses.

You may collect your payment against receivables from the factor as soon as delivery of goods is made to your customer. In this case, you pay interest for the use of the money from the date of drawing it until the maturity of the receivable. Often, the factor also lends cash to carry inventory, to finance production during slack sales periods, and to handle emergencies.

All this means that business has money sooner to do more business with. This year, factoring firms put up some three billion dollars for such purposes.

The biggest users of the factor's services are small and medium-sized firms. When they get big enough, they usually establish their own credit facilities.

For 150 years, factoring was almost exclusively devoted to financing the textile industry. But in recent years, it has penetrated at least 50 different industries like hardware, furniture, luggage, paint, paper and toys.

Basically, factors provide money, but their business rests upon intimate knowledge of credits and special knowledge of trends, public tastes and economics that affect the business fields in which each of their clients operates. Men in the business say major shifts in emphasis often are apparent to factors long before they are reflected in the business of individual firms.

PLANE CRASH KILLS 5

PARIS (AP) — A U.S. Air Force C119 Flying Boxcar from Donaldson Base at Greenville, S. C., crashed near Orly Field just outside Paris Friday killing all five occupants.

The plane had flown from Greenville via the Azores on a ferrying mission en route to the Rhine-Main base near Frankfurt, Germany, Air Force officers at Orly Field said.

Those aboard included the pilot, co-pilot, radio operator, engineer and navigator. All five bodies were recovered.

HE'S HAY-HAPPY — R. A. Spurlock, who raises cattle near Ava, Mo., sits atop a load of wild grass hay shipped in under the Missouri state drought-relief program. Spurlock was out of hay and out of pasture. He commented, "This hay cost me $15.50 a ton. Without the state program it would have cost me $36 a ton or more."

Personals

John A. Bayley is visiting his daughters Mrs. Vivian Boyd and Mrs. Harriet Molchior. The 85-year-old Auburn resident drove to Port Angeles Wednesday.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Weel here for Thanksgiving were their daughters and sons-in-law and families, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Anderson and Carol and Loretta of Seattle, and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Freeman and Diane and Larry, Bremerton.

George Bower, freshman at Olympic Junior College, was among those recently tapped at the School for Intercollegiate Knights, college service organization. Young Bower also was elected chancellor of the exchequer of the organization. He is now home for Thanksgiving vacation visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bower.

Thanksgiving guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Schmitt were their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William (Betty) Hooper of Tacoma; also their son Michael, and daughter Ann, from Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Camporini, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Tschimperle, and Mrs. Schmitt's mother, Mrs. Anna Oxenford, all of Port Angeles.

Mrs. J. O. Scherneck and her daughter Miss Mildred Scherneck, were among Port Angeles residents who saw the spectacular Sadler's Wells presentation of Swan Lake Monday evening at the Civic Auditorium in Seattle. Mrs. Scherneck said the reviewers' praises are not exaggerated and that the whole performance was "just wonderful."

Dan Janzen of Port Angeles is one of a number of students enrolled in the physics department at Linfield College, McMinnville, Ore., where opportunity is provided for undergraduates to do studies in experimental research laboratory. The laboratory at Linfield is carrying on investigations in both solid state and low temperature physics under grants made since 1946.

Among local Thanksgiving parties yesterday were the 17 who sat down to dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Steike. They included Mr. and Mrs. Chris Steike Jr. and two children, Bonnie Kay and Chris III, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Steike and daughter Sharri all of Bremerton; Mr. and Mrs. Ed White and daughter Winette; Palmer Kaas and children Jo-Lee, Kenny and Gary, and Donald Kaas, USN, home on leave from the USS Bradford to be with his mother, a patient at Olympic Memorial Hospital.

TREASURE HUNT

FROGMEN HAVE HELL WEEK

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Hell Week for Navy frogmen is the third week of a 12-week training course. The volunteer swins, hikes and crawls an obstacle course and must survive psychological tests. The day begins at 4 a.m. When weaknesses show up under stress of near exhaustion, explosions, lack of sleep or food, or even conflicting orders, it is a flunk for the candidate.

Frogmen usually precede an amphibious beach landing for reconnaisance and demolition.

In one class only 14 officers and 26 men qualified, of 17 officers and 52 man. In another only 7 officers and 15 men qualified from a starting group of 15 officers and 68 men.

Those who qualify are members of the Navy's Underwater Demolition Team. Courses are conducted twice annually here.

Many Join Search For Ex-Official

MOSES LAKE (AP) — A large scale civilian and air force search continued here Friday for Frank Lees, 80-year-old former Grant County commissioner.

The search has continued since shortly after he disappeared from town Wednesday evening. A search most of Wednesday night and all day Thursday failed to produce a clue to the old man's fate.

The search posse has reached as many as 200 persons. Two airplanes joined Thursday in scanning a five mile square area east of the town.

Officers fear the aged man, in poor health, may have fallen and died of exposure. Lees has been a county commissioner, a Moses Lake city councilman, county road supervisor and city planning council member.

The play, by Alberto Casella, and rewritten for the American stage by Walter Ferris, will be given at Roosevelt Junior High Auditorium. "Death Takes a Holiday" was first produced in this country by Lee Shubert in December, 1929.

Pilgrim Skit At Eastern Star Meet

Baskets of red berries and chrysanthemums, and a skit about the Pilgrims set the Thanksgiving theme for Esther Chapter, Order of Eastern Star meeting Monday evening.

"Priscilla Joins the Eastern Star" was title of the skit, with Mrs. Agnes Williams dressed in Pilgrim costume, Mrs. Knute Dorum and Mrs. E. B. Kindred acted out the story as the worthy matron, Mrs. Wilmer Weaver, gave the reading.

Other numbers on the program included Mrs. Bernard Kean with a musical reading entitled "Small Beginnings," and Mrs. James F. Hooker playing "Chauson."

The choir sang "Be Glad—Give Thanks, Rejoice," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Hooker.

Mrs. F. S. Sund and Mrs. R. A. Nelson were in charge of decorating; Mrs. Ted Schnase and Mrs. Robert Elwood, refreshments.

Mrs. Weaver reminded members to get their canned fruit and jelly to her right away, to be taken to the Masonic Zenith Home in Seattle.

Mariners Plan Christmas Party

Young girls of the Mariner Scouts made plans for their Christmas party for Sea Scouts of Ship 593 when they met recently at the home of their leader, Mrs. Steven Kish.

Claudette Hathaway heads the decorating committee, assisted by Joanne Nisbet, Laura Snoderly, Sandy Duncan and Louise Mayer.

Sandra Kish is chairman of the refreshment committee, with Dotty Coker, Phyllis Krosen and Janice Smith on her committee. "Fun" chairman is Diane Ross, assisted by Lynn Edmisten, Shirley Coker, and Gay Earl.

Diane Ross displayed the Mariner uniform which she wore representing troop 3 at the regional conference. After the business meeting, the group enjoyed games.

At the next meeting, as one of their annual projects the girls will make Christmas favors for the Veterans Hospital, with Joanne Nisbet as chairman.

Wiener Roast Marks Birthday

Girl Scouts of Troop 13 celebrate their fifth birthday Tuesday with a wiener roast and picnic supper at the Boy Scout hall. Games and dancing filled out the evening.

Mrs. Tony Masi, troop leader, presented five-year pins to Susan Clayton, Shannon Snowhill, Elizabeth Larson, Ellen Cofer, Leora Myers and Vicki Howell.

Four-year membership stars went to Loretta Gagnon and Linda Lowe. Shirley Domrude received her three-year membership star.

Guests for the evening were Sandy Lovell, Joan Hoff, Jane Murray, Beneta Sandberg, LaVerne Anderson, Judy Sharnbroich, Linda Ranta and Miss Nanci Laing.

Candlelight, Cake Mark Birthday

The third birthday observance of Girl Scout Troop 14 Monday included a yellow and green birthday cake and a candlelight service.

In the candlelight service, each girl gave one of the Girl Scout laws, lighted a candle and told what Scouting means to her.

Members of the troop committee presented fall awards, including crests, identification and troop numbers.

Pictures were taken of the group and the girls sat down to the yellow cake with three green candles. Green streamers extended from the candles to each girls place. After luncheon, each pulled her streamers and found her third star, according to Linda Scott, scribe.

200 Attend Cubs' Harvest Carnival

In the Lincoln school gym, decorated with cornstalks and pumpkins, Cub Scout Pack 474 Friday met with parents and friends dressed as farmers for their Harvest Festival Carnival.

Competing carnival barkers' cries rang from Mrs. Keith Wyman's candy and popcorn booth; Mrs. Lars Gustafson's and Mrs. Gail White's hot dog and pop stand; Mrs. Joseph Rupprecht's golf game and fish pond; Mrs. Walter Bristol's candle-squirt-gun game; Mrs. Gilbert Spencer's balloon dart game and Mrs. Ralph Meander's baseball and dart throw game.

Cakes, pies and cookies went to lucky winners on the cake walk managed by Mrs. John Turpin and Mrs. Joseph Wolfe, with Joseph Wolfe as supersalesman. Charles Beam showed movies and Dorothy Bohac and Mrs. Milton Beckwith, assisted by Diane Monpas, sold bright aprons from their booth. Ted Hopf took home the 15 pound turkey.

Mrs. Robert Edwards, in her gypsy tent, told fortunes and Dr. Gail White and Joseph Rupprecht handled another of the games.

Approximately 200 attended the carnival, a benefit affair for the Lincoln Cub Pack.

RETIRES AFTER 3 CAREERS

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (AP) — John Eberwein, a vigorous and rosy cheeked 71, came to this country 45 years ago from his native Austria and now he's going to retire after successes in three different ventures.

He worked at various jobs until he had enough in 1913 to open a meat market and built a large sausage business—the only one of its kind in this area.

Fiftenn years later he quit the meat business and, with two partners, started an ice plant, the largest of its kind i nthis vicinity.

That flourished until about six years ago Eberwein began an auto laundry, reportedly the first of its kind between Springfield, Mass., and Albany, N. Y.

DISTANCE NO CRITERION

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP) — Twelve years ago, Jess Kanady of Falls City, a painter fell 35 feet while on the job and walked away unhurt.

The other day Kanady took a 2½ foot fall and broke his arm.

FILMS HANDICAP INDIAN

POTTSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Tom Artego, a Mojave Apache Indian from Los Angeles, Calif., says the only chance he gets to wear his Indian regalia is in the east.

"I keep it here all the time," Artego said. "We're too near Hollywood out in California. There's too much competition."

Artego, who is a mission worker among Indian reservations, says he visits the east once a year on a speaking tour.

At a Canadian conference it was estimated that one Canadian in 60 is an alcoholic.

In 1840 there were about 675 American whale ships in the Pacific Ocean with about 15,000 crewmen aboard.

Christmas Charity To Be Coordinated

All organizations planning Christmas giving to needy people are invited to attend a coordinating meeting next Tuesday.

The meeting will be at 2 p.m. in the Public Assistance office on the second floor of the Harrington Building.

The letter sent to the various organizations reads as follows:

"Beacon Bill again offers his help in coordinating the efforts and plans of all organizations which wish to help others at Christmas.

"In past years, two aids have been set up for the month of December under the name of Beacon Bill. One is a master file of the names of all needy people who ask help and of the names turned in by folks throughout the county as needing help. The other is a Beacon Bill telephone.

"If the group so decides, Beacon Bill could help again in these or other modest ways.

"If possible, please bring to the December 1 meeting any plans your group has for discussion."

70 Warrants Issued To Parking Violators

The city police department has isued 70 arrest warrants for motorists who have not paid their fines on parking tickets.

Police Chief R. O. Ide said the tickets go back over a four-month period, and the violations range from two to 22 per person.

The police department first mailed out notices to all persons who had not paid the parking fines. City policemen started serving the warrants this week to persons who had disregarded the mailed notices after seven days.

The parking ticket holders are subject to a fine of $1 per ticket, plus $2 warrant costs.

Candidacy Open For West Point

Congressman Jack Westland announced today he will nominate one candidate for admission to the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1954. The vacancy to be filled by this appointment is the result of the resignation of a cadet who was appointed by Westland's predecessor.

Of the two methods of selecting candidates for nomination to the Military Academy, Westland has chosen the one whereby all eligible boys interested will be given a preliminary examination by the U. S. Civil Service Commission.

"By having a preliminary examination held throughout the district all who are interested may take it," Westland said. "I hope thereby to give every eligible young man in the district an opportunity to qualify for the wonderful education facilities at the Academy. Each one who takes the examination will know that he has a good chance for nomination as anyone else, since selection of principal and alternates will be made strictly on the basis of grades achieved."

Young men residing in the Second Congressional District who will be between the ages of 18 and 21 inclusive on July 1, 1954, may register for the examination by applying to Westland's district headquarters at 2828 Rockefeller Avenue, Everett, before Dec. 10. Those who apply will receive information furnished by the Academy to aid them in taking the test, which will be on Jan. 11, 1954 in the following cities: Bellingham, Everett, Mount Vernon, Port Townsend and Seattle.

Marine-Air News

A 12-foot rowboat was found adrift off Vanucover Island Nov. 17. The boat is painted green outside and gray inside and is in good condition. G. A. Yardley, customs officer at Victoria, is holding the boat for its owners, he notifies the Coast Guard air station here. It is possible the boat went adrift from this side of the Strait of Juan De Fuca, the official says.

Effective Dec. 6, two Pacific Ocean weather stations will be discontinued. The two stations are Sugar and Uncle. The order affects two Coast Guard cutters in the Puget Sound area, the Koiner of Seattle and Falgout of Tacoma. Both vessels are of the destroyer escort type. They are on loan from the Navy and probably will be returned to the Navy.

Puget Sound Pilots and boatmen had Thanksgiving dinner at the Ediz Hook station Thursday. Steward Jack Miller prepared turkey and all the trimmings. Vessels stopping here for pilot service Wednesday and Thursday were the Santa Maria and Hillyer Brown outbound for California, Napo for Victoria and Hailieh for Formosa. Inbound were the Liberty F., Harpoon, Idaho Falls and Edward Luckenbach, all for Seattle.

Two Foss Company tugs, held up by weather four days, were able to arrive here with their log cribs from the westend in time for the crewmen to spend Thanksgiving Day here. The delay was caused by mammoth swells following Sunday's storm.

A helicopter is due back at the Port Angeles Coast Guard air station today from the flood area of Southern Oregon. The helicopter flew from here several days ago and has been in use for flood relief.

SEEK MISSING MAN

PALOUSE, Wash. (AP) — Spurred by the promise of a reward, searchers planned Friday to renew efforts to find a Palouse insurance man missing in the Hoodoo Mountains east of here.

Mrs. Allen Lamphere, wife of the missing man, said Thursday she will pay $1,000 to anyone who can find her husband.

Lamphere, 67, was last seen last Friday when he left Palouse to drive to Moscow, Idaho, to pick up his wife who was visiting a daughter. His car was found stalled in the snow last Tuesday.
