The Sequim girl was chosen from a group of six queens of Clallam county by seven judges. She was crowned on the stage in front of the fair grandstand by Fair Manager Ed Hagerty.

Voting on the candidates followed a noon luncheon and the appearance of the candidates on the stage individually and collectively. They first appeared in print dresses and then dressed in formals and paraded before the judges and the audience.

The five other candidates received corsages and the queen received a different colored corsage, a crown and a cup. She will reign over the fair until its closing Sunday night.

Grandstand Show Opening Day Has Many Attractions

Movie Star Takes On Moscow Radio In Private Fight

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Movie star Kirk Douglas, recently the object of slurs by Radio Moscow, has some vocal ammunition to fire back.

Yesterday he recorded two speeches to be rebroadcast on Radio Liberation and Voice of America beamed to the Soviet.

"As a son of Russian immigrants," said Douglas in one speech, "I more than many others can appreciate the opportunities offered me in this country.

"My mother and father were born in Russia. They were married there. In Russia they were told one could find gold bricks lying in the streets in America.

"When they arrived here, they found not gold bricks but something more important — a way of life that enabled their son to grow up in freedom, to get a college education and go into the work he had chosen."

He said he resented the Soviet slurs against him because he had been used as an instrument in an attempt to picture Americans as lacking in culture and education.

New York Port Opposes Air Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Port of New York Authority has asked the Civil Aeronautics Board to deny a petition by Seattle and Tacoma, Wash., for immediate authority for United Air Lines to operate nonstop between Seattle-Tacoma and Chicago.

The New York agency said Thursday little weight should be given, in the light of the ending of the Korean War and the reduction of large-scale personnel movements, to Seattle-Tacoma forecasts of air traffic expansion due to military shipping at Seattle and to troop increases at Ft. Lewis.

Red Chinese Hit Offshore Island In Small Raid

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China today announced a small-scale hit-and-run raid on Quemoy, a Nationalist-held offshore island. There was no indication that it was a prelude to the Reds' loudly heralded threat of invasion of Formosa.

A Peiping radio broadcast said 40 Communist soldiers made two separate landings on Quemoy Monday night, killing 11 Nationalist soldiers before pulling back to the mainland 15 miles away.

Nationalist sources in Taipeh said the raid was one of several staged by the Reds in recent weeks to capture prisoners. They said one Nationalist soldier was captured and the Reds lost one man taken prisoner.

A SKIRMISH

U.S. officials in Washington labeled the raid no more than a skirmish and pointed out that even the conquest of Quemoy would leave the Reds far from their goal of "liberating" Formosa.

The Nationalist stronghold lies 100 miles across the Formosa Strait, guarded by the U.S. 7th Fleet and an American-equipped army.

For several weeks Peiping has threats to "liberate" Formosa and wipe out the Nationalist regime of Chiang Kai-shek.

In advance of any invasion, the Reds would be expected to seize a chain of Nationalist-held offshore islands running from Quemor north to the Tachens, some 200 miles northwest of Formosa.

DISCOUNT ATTACK

However, U.S. military experts have discounted the possibility of a Red attack on Formosa and have pointed out that there has been no large-scale Red troop buildup along the coast opposite the Nationalist island.

U.S. sources in Tokyo said today they regarded the Quemoy attack and recent threats to invade Formosa as a propaganda campaign aimed at the forthcoming Manila conference to map a Southeast Asia security agreement.

These sources said the Reds are trying to show conference participants that the United States will go to war over Formosa and the signers of any defense pact would be giving up any iniative in the matter.

2 State Couples Die in Montana Plane Crash

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — A Longview, Wash., flier's second attempt of the day to fly through cloudy skies over the continental divide ended in death Thursday for the pilot and three other persons.

The single-engined plane crashed and burned near the 5,000-foot level on Mullan Pass, where the late Cromwell Dixon made the first flight across the Rocky Mountains in 1911.

ALL OF LONGVIEW

The victims, all Longview residents, were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Richards and Mr. and Mrs. U. G. (Bud) Saunders, all of Longview.

The party took off from Helena municipal airport early Thursday for Spokane, Wash., but turned back because of clouds and rain. On the second attempt, the plane nose-dived into a timbered area and crashed about 10:20 a.m. (MST).

O. J. Clark of Missoula, fireman on a Northern Pacific freight train, witnessed the crash. He said the plane circled as it approached the pass, only 200 feet from its peak, wobbled and dived.

"The plane exploded about 1,500 feet from the railroad track," Clar said. "We pulled up opposite the plane and took two fire extinguishers to the scene. But the fire was completely out of control. . ."

Forest Service crews were called to halt the blaze started by escaping gasoline.

Sheriff Dave Middlemas said he was unable to determine which of the party was at the controls of the demolished craft.

British Laborites Plan More Trips To Red China

LONDON (AP) — Two more British Laborite delegations will visit Communist countries soon, it was reported today.

The Polish Embassy said between 6 and 10 Laborite legislators will travel to Poland for a two-week visit next month. It said they are seeking "first-hand knowledge of economic and cultural life in Poland, especially in the western territories."

The Communist Daily Worker reported a Laborite delegation including two members of Parliament will travel to East Germany next month.

A delegation of Laborites led by former Prime Minister Clement Attlee is now in Communist China.

Secret Is Out; Ike Suggested New Car Design

WASHINGTON (AP) — The secret's out. President Eisenhower himself thought up the idea for that new "greenhouse" which has recently adorned the presidential official car.

The Ford Motor Co. disclosed Friday that, at the president's suggestion, it had equipped the White House "parade car" with a transparent plastic roof so he won't be hidden from view at night or in rainy weather.

Newsmen accompanying the President first noticed the innovation last week when Eisenhower visited the Illinois State Fair at Springfield.

Ford's announcement Friday said that "at the suggestion of Mr. Eisenhower" a removable four-piece plexiglass roof was constructed to cover the entire rear seat of the open Lincoln touring car built for the White House in 1950.

RENT SPACE REDUCED

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has reduced the space it leases in Washington to the lowest total in 28 years, the General Services Administration said today. As of now, GSA said, the government is leasing 1,279,916 square feet in the District of Columbia.

AFL To Vote On Proposal To End Strike; CIO Studying Measure

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A plan aimed at getting a big part of striking sawmill and woods workers back on the job by Monday was up for ratification Friday — and the CIO Woodworkers were giving it fresh study.

AFL Lumber and Sawmill Workers' representatives and spokesmen for Douglas fir operators reached agreement at Olympia Thursday in a day-long conference with Govs. Langlie of Washington and Patterson of Oregon. Terms of the plan to which they agreed were not made public, but in general the men would go back to work while a fact-finding committee studied the issues in the prolonged strike.

CIO LEAVES

CIO Woodworker representatives, headed by A. F. Hartung, international president, looked in on the meeting, outlined objections to the governors' original plan and then left after asking that the dispute be put up to binding artibtration.

Hartung Friday talked by phone with Gov. Patterson, then said that the plan as now set up has certain changes from the original and the IWA policy committee would study the revised plan Friday afternoon. He said he would not comment on what the changes were.

It kept the door open for a chance that both of the big unions might join in the governor's peace plan.

Langlie and Patterson gave no details of the agreement with the AFL union but said it would provide a seven-man committee to study the issues and make recommendations. The committee would be made up of two men from labor, two from industry and three to be appointed by the governors.

Martin Deggeler of Harbor Plywood Co. of Aberdeen signed the agreement for representatives of the fir industry and said he will recommend to pine industry employes they also accept it. Industry leaders are expected to meet at Portland this weekend.

Kenneth Davis, executive secretary of the AFL Lumber and Sawmill Workers Union, said if the pine industry ratifies the pact he will recommend similar action by locals.

OTHER DEVELOPMENTS

The Olympia conference overshadowed other Thursday developments in the strike, which included:

1. Some 600 AFL workers employed by the Weyerhaeuser Timber Co. at Snoqualmie Falls, Wash., reversed an earlier vote and agreed to accept a 2 ½-cents an hour pay increase. They were to return to work Friday morning.

2. Four IWA locals and one AFL local were ordered to restrict picketing in a temporary injunction issued by Superior Judge Thomas Steiger at Everett. The injunction was sought by Weyerhaeuser after 50 to 100 pickets milled around the street outside the pulp mill Thursday. Four pickets were jailed for disorderly conduct but released when the IWA posted bond. The court order set Aug. 31 as the date for a hearing to show cause why the injunction should not be made permanent.

Controversial Side Issues May Pop Up in Senate Vote On McCarthy

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some controversial side issues, including a new effort to tighten investigation rules, may pop up in the Senate when it returns to Washington sometime this fall to vote on the matter of censuring Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

A resolution to tighten the rules was left on the calendar when the Senate quit a week ago today, along with six other Senate resolutions and 29 House-passed bills, most of them minor, which the Senate could still send to the White House.

PENDING RESOLUTION

A pending resolution which could plunge the Senate into controversy has been introduced by Sen. Mundt (R-SD). It would reimburse the Government Operations Committee, which is headed by McCarthy, for $24,605.67 of its funds spent by the Senate Investigations subcommittee to inquire into the McCarthy-Army controversy.

The subcommittee, headed usually by McCarthy but temporarily under Mundt's command for the inquiry, will make public next week its reports on McCarthy's battle with Secretary of the Army Stevens. That report will be before the Senate, along with the report of the special censure committee, when members return to Washington.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT

Sen. Hayden (D-Ariz) has proposed an amendment to the Mundt resolution under which the McCarthy subcommittee would have to comply with certain new rules before it could obtain funds for its investigations.

These rules would require advance proposal of the full Government Operations Committee — on which there are seven Republicans and six Democrats — before any new investigation is started. Formal notice in writing to the vice president would be required before the new inquiry was begun and the subcommittee chairman — in this case McCarthy — would have to certify that these conditions had been carried out.

In another controversial investigation resolution that might be called up, Sen. McCarran (D-Nev) has proposed that a Senate Judiciary subcommittee be given $37,500 to finance an investigation of alleged monopolies.

Court Reverses Man's Conviction On Treason Count

NEW YORK (AP) — The U. S. Court of Appeals Friday reversed the treason conviction and life sentence given former Army Staff Sgt. John David Provoo.

The court said Provoo should not have been tried in New York, and also the government had no right to cross examine him on a collateral issue of homosexuality.

Provoo, a former San Francisco bank clerk, was convicted of aiding the Japanese after the fall of Corregidor in the Philippines.

He was accused, among other things, of broadcasting for the Japanese, and of causing the death of a fellow American prisoner by giving derogatory reports on him to their captors.

He went to trial here Oct. 27, 1952, and was found guilty on Feb. 11, 1953. He was sentenced to a life term and a fine of $10,000.

The appeals court said the prosecution tried to draw from Provoo an admission he had been hospitalized at Army bases for homosexuality.

Provoo denied he was a homosexual.

The court said neither by court-martial nor by a civil court had Provoo ever been brought to trial and convicted on any morals offense.

Eight More Witnesses Add Stories About Terror in Hungary When Reds Took Nation

CLEVELAND (AP)— Eight more witnesses come before a House subcommittee on Communist aggression today to add their stories to testimony that rape, beatings and book-burnings attended the Reds' postwar seizure of control in Hungary.

In an ornate federal courtroom, Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich), subcommittee chairman, and Rep. Michael A. Feighan, Cleveland Democrat, listened yesterday while seven persons recalled painful memories of atrocities, persecution and deception.

The Soviets had planned the postwar government of Hungary even before that nation surrendered in World War II, Dr. Geza Teleki told the subcommittee yesterday. He spoke of his fight as minister of education to keep the Russians from dominating Hungary's schools.

The 43-year-old Teleki, now a professor of political geography at the University of Virginia, said he was one of three patriots who sneaked through Gestapo lines to petition to Allied forces in Moscow for surrender. Once there, he said, the three had no choice but to sign Foreign Minister Molotov.

Even before the Russians took over they began "loading the universities" with Communists and fellow travellers, Teleki said. He told of a plot to "infect the tools of doctors" so patients died from infection and the ensuing Red-inspired public indignation "destroyed some of the finest doctors at the University of Budapest."

French Bloc Seeks Delay On EDC Vote

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS (AP) — A group of powerful French politicians banded together Friday to ask for a new postponement in the debate of the National Assembly on ratification of the European Defense Community treaty. There were strong indications Premier Pierre Mendes-France's government would accept.

The long postponed debate had been scheduled to start Saturday.

The move for the new delay was organized by supporters of the treaty who fear that if the discussions go ahead now EDC will be defeated. In the group are ex-Premiers Robert Schuman, Paul Reynaud and Rene Mayer.

FOUR-HOUR MEETING

Mendes-France held a four-hour meeting with his cabinet Friday afternoon. As he left the Elysee Palace, the Premier said his government had decided to remain united.

The fact he was able to dissuade a number of ministers who are staunch supporters of EDC from resigning was taken as an indication that some sort of compromise had been reached.

Rumors ran through the Assembly corridors that the government would give in to suggestions of a agreement along these lines might be reached.

HUSTLED BACK

President Rene Coty hustled back from a vacation to preside over the cabinet meeting on the EDC issue Friday.

The deputies themselves, facing the showdown on EDC they had put off for 27 months, were in a turmoil of political intrigue that could end in the downfall of the two-month-old regime of Premier Pierre Mendes-France.

The Assembly was in session over Tunisian and Moroccan problems, but most of the deputies were in the corridors talking about EDC and the government's future.

Coty returned to Paris from vacation on the urging of former Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, a champion of EDC and bitter joe of the present government. Bidault urged that a full discussion be held on possible future policies before anything final is done to reject EDC.

These among the day's top developments:

1. The Assembly of the French Union, the top consultative body for France and her overseas territories, recommended by a vote of 100-65 that France reject the six-nation European army plan envisaged under EDC. While this had no legal weight, the vote was another indication that EDC will have tough going in the National Assembly.

2. A group of pro-European army ministers who had been under heavy pressure to resign immediately decided to stay on a while longer, at least until after the EDC vote. They feared the pro-EDC elements in the assembly would have no voice if the ministers resigned now.

3. The foreign office announced Communist Poland had offered France an alliance against Germany. A foreign office spokesman said the proposal—obviously timed to affect the EDC debate—would be rejected. Russia and her satellites have been working desperately to defeat EDC.

The half dozen cabinet ministers supporting EDC had been under pressure from powerful political forces to resign at once.

Mississippian Proposes Bypass On Segregation

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Gov. Hugh White has revealed another plank in the program to keep racial segregation in Mississippi schools.

He said yesterday he would ask the special session of the Legislature opening Sept. 7 to consider a bill forbidding anyone from stirring up race trouble by filing law suits.

The law would prohibit anyone except relatives of children attending schools from filing suits against school districts. It apparently means to strike at the National Assn. for Advancement of Colored People and its efforts to obtain integrated schools.

Preliminary Hearing in Indians' 151 Million Dollar Lawsuit Begins in Federal Court

SEATTLE (AP) — A preliminary hearing in a lawsuit in which nine Washington State Indian tribes seek $151,600,000 in damages alleging violation of the 1854 Treaty of Medicine Creek got under way in Federal Court Thursday.

Associate Indian Commissioners Louis J. O'Marr and William N. Holt, of Washington, D.C., heard testimony in the action brought by the Squaxin, Steilacoom, Puyallup, Nisqually S'Homamish, Steechass, T'Peiksin, Squiatle and Sa-Heh-Wamish tribes.

The tribes seek damages plus interest dating back to Dec. 26, 1854, when the treaty was signed. Four suits are invilved in the present action.

The Indians contend they were taken advantage of in the treaty, that the land was worth more than the government paid them, that the United States took away their hunting and fishing rights in several areas and on Puget Sound and that the government has failed in several instances to keep promises in the treaty in regard to payment, educational, social and medical benefitts.

Attorneys for the Indians are Malcolm S. McLeod and Frederick W. Post, of Seattle. Asst. Atty. Gen. Donald R. Marshall of Washington, D.C. is representing the government.

Marshall said the suits are some of many filed throughout the country by Indian tribes charging treaty violations. A total of from 20 to 50 billion dollars in damages is sought in all the suits, he said.

The Maldive Islands are in the Indian Ocean.

Army Battles Vice Dens in European Defense Center

KAISERSLAUTERN, Germany (AP)—As the hub of Uncle Sam's biggest defense buildup in Europe, Kaiserslautern teems with thousands of GIs who man depots, arsenals, supply dumps and warehouses.

The soldiers' monthly payroll runs into millions of dollars, and back-street dives and dens go after a cut of it. Wochenend, a West German illustrated weekly, figures that organized prostitution alone rakes off 17 million dollars annually. It describes the bustling defense center as "the paradise of easy girls," who concentrate on Negro soldiers.

The U. S. Army is intensifying a drive to protect soldiers from the vice traps. It conducts constant indoctrination courses at Army camps. Maj. Gen. Miles B. Reber, commanding general of the command, often goes along with military police on raids.

Burning Match Starts $100,000 Fire in Omak

OMAK, Wash. (AP) — A burning match set fire to a newly refinished bowling alley early Thursday and touched off a $100,000 fire on South Main Street in Omak's business district.

The bowling alley, a restaurant, a barber shop and second floor apartments were destroyed and a sporting good store was heavily damaged.

E. E. Valente, owner of the building, said the fire started about 3 a.m. when a burning match fell from his hand onto the refinished alley. He said the flames raced across the alley surface which was still wet.

Plate glass windows blew out as he rushed from the building, and went upstairs to rouse tenants who were sleeping in eight apartments. They escaped but lost their belongings.

Firemen from Omak and Okanogan fought the blaze, working until 9 a.m.

Sequim women bowlers met Aug. 16 to form a WIBC-sanctioned bowling association to be known as ths Sequim Women's Bowling Association.

City association officers elected to hold office until July 31, 1955, were Maxine Staeger, president; Eve Klint, vice president; Elizabeth Bailey, secretary; Dorothy Kinkade, treasurer and Rose Draper, sergeant-at-arms.

Marie Shaw, WIBC Northwest organizer, met with the Sequim group and read and explained the constitution of the WIBC. She told of the workings of the city association and of the leagues and answered all questions arising during the formation of the association.

All members and substitutes for the organized league and women who have signed up to bowl on the mixed league, are urged to attend the association meeting. This will be a short meeting to vote on recommendations made by the city association executive board.

A meeting of the organized league will be held immediately following the association meeting to vote on a league constitution and by-laws.

Any group of women interested in organizing another league, can contact Elizabeth Bailey, city association secretary.

For further information regarding the association and league meetings to be held Sept. 8 women may contact Elizabeth Bailey or Maxine Staeger, city association president.

Maryland Cowpokes Have Narrow Squeak

BALTIMORE (AP)—Durned if those fellers down there in Washington didn't nearly have Maryland's young cowpokes rising up in arms.

They went and passed a law making it a federal crime to ship fireworks into Maryland.

Maryland's cowpunchers nervously fingered their cap pistols. Did it mean them?

No, suh, said Charles Mathias, an assistant attorney general. Whipping out his law books, he ruled that caps are illegal because they explode and are fireworks. But pistols don't explode and are not.

"It was a close shave," confessed Mathias.

Soviets To Move Office From Kremlin, Newspaper Claims

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times in a dispatch from Moscow said today that Premier Georgi M. Malenkov and other top officials of the Soviet government are planning to move their offices out of the Kremlin.

The Kremlin is the tightly guarded, high-walled citadel of historic churches, museum and government buildings facing Moscow's Red Square. Stalin and other top officials lived and had their offices there.

The Times dispatch said:

The Kremlin will be reopened to sightseers, as it was during czarist times. Confirmation of this, rumored in Moscow for 18 months, was given to former British Prime Minister Clement Attlee and his Labor party delegation during their recent visit here by Communist Party Secretary Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Malenkov and Khrushchev already have moved from the Kremlin to private residences. Since Slatin's death, more and more government business has been transacted at offices elsewhere in the city.

It is believed the Soviets still will hold such formal functions as the presentation of credentials by diplomats and of medals and awards in the Kremlin.

Just how soon the area will be open to the public is not known. But in the past year public activities held there have included a series of New Year's parties for young people, university graduation dances and various conferences.

About one-seventh of the world's population lives in India.

Shipping Bans To Red Nations Being Eased

WASHNGTON (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Weeks Thursday eased restrictions on U. S. trade with the Soviet Union and other Communist countries of Europe, but he said he doubts there will be an early increase in the flow of goods across the Iron Curtain

Commerce Department sources said Weeks' order would reduce by one third to one half the list of goods now banned from commerce between the United States and the Red bloc in Europe.

ONLY POLICY

The announcement dealt only with policy -- the Commerce Department is to make public later lists of specific items to be freed from embargo.

Weeks' move came a day after Foreign Aid Chief Harold E. Stassen announced a similar relaxation of curbs on Red trade of friendly nations getting aid from the United States.

Both officials said existing restrictions still stand on trade with Communist China, North Korea, or the Communist area of Viet Nam.

NON-MILITARY

And both said the new policy toward trade with Communist countries in Europe would not let slip into the East-West trade stream anything of significant military value.

Voicing some skepticism that his new order would result in quick stimulation of East - West trade, Weeks' statement said "an early increase in the volume of trade with the Soviet bloc resulting from this action is...unlikely in view of the bloc's aim of self-sufficiency and its inability to provide desired goods in exchange for imports."

Helen Haller Embarks On 33rd Year In County Schools; Many Activities

By PAULINE KINNAMAN

When Sequim school bells ring Tuesday morning, Helen Haller, elementary principal, will embark on her thirty-third year with the Clallam County school system.

Of this period, 28 years were spent on the faculty of the Sequim Elementary School. The other four were divided between the Carlsborg, Dungeness and Dry Creek schools.

Many parents have a homecoming when they enroll their children at Sequim Elementary School. In all probability one out of four were former students of Mrs. Haller.

This to Mrs. Haller is the most satisfying part of teaching so long in one community—to see students grow into fine citizens and then be entrusted with the guidance of their children.

Another contributing factor to Mrs. Haller's satisfaction in her work is her firm belief that Sequim is the finest community in the state. She praises the friendliness and cooperation of its inhabitants She says children in rural areas generally come from good homes, are well fed, warmly clothed and happy—making them good subject matter for training.

As for the community's satisfaction with Mrs. Haller — that goes without saying. Her record in Sequim speaks for itself.

EDUCATION BEGINS AT SEQUIM

Mrs. Haller not only has spent most of her productive years in Sequim, but also began her own education there.

Born in Port Angeles, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Stroup, she went to Sequim in time to start the first grade in the little white two-story, four-classroom building which stood between the recently razed grade school and the present high school.

Her father was an agriculture teacher for the Indian schools and when she was in the fourth grade, she and her three brothers and one sister moved with their parents to Montana. Here Mr. Stroup taught on the Crow Reservation. The family later moved to South Dakota where he taught the Sioux Indians.

When Helen reached high school age, the family moved to Seattle. She graduated from Franklin High School and earned her bachelor of arts degree at Western Washington College of Education—then known as Bellingham Normal.

STARTS TEACHING

Mountain Home, Idaho, was Mrs. Haller's first teaching assignment. She stayed there only one year.

In 1921 she started her career in Sequim.

The elementary schools then included the first eight grades and Mrs. Haller taught in the upper classes.

In 1928 she became grade school principal in Sequim and added that responsibility to her daily routine of teaching. With increased enrollments, she discontinued teaching and devotes her entire time to executive duties.

Mrs. Haller says the biggest change in teaching technique is the change in the philosophy of teaching. Today more concentration is placed upon developing the individual child and taking into consideration the differences in personalities. She says educators now agree a well adjusted and happy child will automatically learn more rapidly.

During the summer of 1945 Mrs. Haller studied at Columbia University in New York City and received her master's degree. In order to keep up with new educational trends, she has done graduate work in nearly every college in the state.

ORGANIZATIONAL ACTIVITIES

Having her thumb in the progress of nearly 600 pupils has not absorbed all of Mrs. Haller's energies.

This spring Mrs. Haller was elected president of the Jack Grennan Post, American Legion Auxiliary, for the 1954-55 term—a position she has held before. Several years ago she served as district president of the Auxiliary.

Mrs. Haller this year completed her tenure of office as state president of the Business and Professional Women. She previously had been president of the Port Angeles BPW.

In the local Soroptimist Club she has served as president and is currently a club director.

An active member of Pilgrim Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, Mrs Haller holds an office in the chapter and is also a member of the Juan de Fuca Court, Order of Amaranth.

Another presidency was in Upsilon Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, the Clallam County Teachers' Honorary Society. For four years she held a state office in this society.

OUTSTANDING RECOGNITION

In February Mrs. Haller received an invitation from President Eisenhower to attend his White House Safety Conference in Washington, D. C. Upon her return, she addressed nearly 20 local organizations.

About 10 years ago Mrs. Haller had the distinction of being selected the first "Woman of Achievement" in Clallam County.

The past summer has been busy for Helen Haller. In June she attended the Administrator's Conference at Mt. Rainier.

In July she flew to the National Convention of Business and Professional Women in St. Louis, Mo., where she was a member of the national nominating committee.

A two-week Principals' Conference at Pullman and the American Legion Convention at Aberdeen completed the season's schedule.

HOBBIES

Helen Haller still has time for hobbies. Her first love is photography. She records all her trips on color slides and enjoys reliving them again and again.

She also enjoys ceramics and says she can relax best when creating with her hands

Although grandchildren are not generally considered a hobby, some of her most enjoyable hours are spent with Michael, Wendy Sue and Holly Anne Irick, her five, four and two-year-old grandchildren.

They and their mother Mrs. Frank Irick (Helen Haller) are making their home with Mrs. Haller temporarily while Mr. Irick is on business in Anchorage, Alaska.

They make up in part for Mrs. Haller's loss of her husband, Walter Haller, in 1953.

Is it any wonder she has never become bored or dissatisfied with her work in Sequim? She has not had time.

New Group To Seek Control of Huge Mail Order Firm

NEW YORK (AP)— Louis E. Wolfson, a new and spectacular figure on the American business scene, said Thursday he would seek to gain control of Montgomery Ward, and Co. billion-dollar-a-year Chicago mail order firm.

The one time Florida junk dealer, who now heads companies with 200 million dollars in assets, made the announcement at a jammed news conference in the Biltmore Hotel. He said he will challenge the leadership of 80-year old Sewell L. Avery, tough uncompromising chairman of the board of Montgomery Ward.

"We believe we now hold the largest block of shares in the company," said the 42-year old financier.

"Our continuing investment in Montgomery Ward stock, candidly, has been with the intention to strengthen our position in the company with a view to superseding the present management."

This set the stage for a proxy fight to win stockholders to his side for a showdown at the annual Ward meeting in Chicago in April 1955, when three members of the company's nine-man board, including Avery come up for reelection.

Wasn't Lost Just Leg Trouble, Man Says

GRAVENHURST, Ont. (AP)—Sixty-year-old Bert McConnell wasn't really lost the other night after a Blueberry picking trip. He was just delayed because his wooden leg kept coming off.

Searchers found McConnell yesterday at a farm house. He had become separated from a friend while picking berries near here.

"Why call the cops?" asked McConnell. "I know these woods like the back of my hand. It was my darn leg that held me up."

McConnell's left leg is severed at the knee.

"It kept getting caught, coming off, and I broke the harness on it. Otherwise, I'm all right . . . and I got the blueberries."

Car Thief Has No Gas Worries

MARLBORO, Mass. (AP)—Someone is driving a stolen car around the country without having much worry about buying gasoline.

That's indicated by gasoline bills received from 15 states by John L. Whelpley. His credit card, along with three blank checks, was stolen a month ago.

The car used by the thief was reported stolen July 28 in Putnam, Conn., from Emile P. Marquis of Webster, Mass.

The three checks, forged, were used to buy shoes, lodingings in a Framingham hotel and a bottle of liquor.

Another Builder Tells of Huge Housing Profits

NEW YORK (AP) — A Queens builder testified Friday he made almost five million dollars in windfall profits on a $20,000 capital stock investment in government-insured apartment developments.

Harry L. Osias, builder, said he had not distributed any of the profits from the excess of the mortgages over his actual costs and that he was trying to arrange private mortgaging to "take the government off the hook."

He told his story to Sen. Bush (R-Conn), conducting a one-man hearing for the Senate banking and suspected irregularities in government.

The witness said he formed 20 corporations to build five Queens projects that cost $23,981,187 and that he obtained Federal Housing Administration mortgages totaling $27,473,500.

Additionally, Osias received a mortgage premium of $579,716.

The land costs for the five Queens projects totaled $642,936 and he received a land mortgage of $1,449,960.

William Simon, chief committee counsel said the figures showed Osias received a total windfall of $4,879,258.

The projects were identified as the Kew Gardens Apartments; Kew Gardens Hills; Kew Gardens Hills Apartments; Jackson Apartments; and 102nd St. Apartments.

SERVICE GROUP GROWS.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Veterans Administration statistics indicated today more than three million servicemen have returned to civilian life since the outbreak of the Korean War. As of July 31, a monthly VA summary showed, there were 2,962,000 discharged veterans of service since June 27, 1950. Altogether, VA officials estimate there are now about 20,950,000 former service men.

Indian Leader Attacks Nehru's Foreign Policy

By EUGENE LEVIN

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The leader of India's 60 million untouchables criticized Prime Minister Nehru in Parliament today for his insistence that coexistence with the Communists is necessary and for his "hostility" toward the United States.

B. R. Ambedkar, Nehru's law minister until he broke with the Prime Minister three years ago, spoke up in a foreign policy debate which Nehru had launched with a call for the world to accept peaceful coexistence with the Reds as the "only alternative" to a world war.

This principle, said the leader of India's lowest caste, had been "adopted without much thought by the Prime Minister."

FORMER MEMBER

The former Cabinet member said Nehru has a "certain hostility" toward the United States and shows "repugnance" at anything suggested by America. This, he asserted, is one reason Nehru is against the U. S.-proposed Southeast Asia Treaty Organization project, adding that the Prime Minister also fears Russian reaction.

"The keynote of our foreign policy is to solve the problems of other countries, but not our own," Ambedkar said.

Earlier in the debate Nehru found himself in the unusual role of defending the United States when he told Communist questioners he does not believe the Americans are sending or will send arms to the Portuguese Indian settlements India wants to take over.

P. Sundarayya, leader of the Communist party in Parliament, had asked if American guns were being "flown into Goa," the largest of the three territories on the west coast.

NO ARMS

"I do not thing the United States is sending arms," Nehru replied. "I do not believe they will."

When Sundarayya persisted, claiming he could produce evidence of such shipments, Hehru shouted back as delegates cheered:

"I'm in a better position to know than my honorable friend and I think we should not care, even if anyone sends arms. A few more arms or few more soldiers will make no difference or pose no threat to India."

Turning to coexistence with the Communists, Nehru said the "only alternative is a world war — codestruction." He added:

"Whether one likes the present state of affairs in the world or not, one has in fact to choose between a policy which is likely to lead to war in the biggest scale and acceptance of the general approach meant by the word co-existence."

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — Warden Alvin Wangner of Newark Street Jail admired the expensive gold wristwatch worn by one of his prisoners, 44-year-old Acie Carter.

He asked for a look.

The inscription on the watch case read: "Presented to William Livett for a quarter-century service at Celanese Corporation — 1951."

Carter admitted "a man named Jimmie sold the watch to me for $40."

Police found that the watch belonged to Livett, a Newark man, who said he was mugged by three men Dec. 27, 1952.

Carter, jailed for arraignment on a morals charge, now faces an additional charge, that of receiving stolen property.

Four Pickets Arrested By Everett Police

EVERETT, Wash. (AP) — Police arrested four pickets and charged them with disorderly conduct Thursday after 150 members of the AFL Pulp & Sulphite Workers Union were prevented from entering the Weyerhaeuser pulp mill here.

The authorities said pickets attempted to remove workers from cars and trucks which were being driven into the plant.

The four men arrested were released on bail of $15 each.

Later a Weyerhaeuser official said the company would seek a court injunction against the picketing, which started Wednesday afternoon.

The company reported at least part of the night shift remained on the job Thursday after day shift workers were stopped by pickets.

Secretary W. W. Calkins of the CIO International Woodworkers' Everett local disclaimed responsibility for the picketing Wednesday.

ROBBERS GET $15,500

EUREKA, Mo. (AP) — A pair of armed bandits, entering just before closing time, robbed the Farmers and Merchants Bank here of about $15,500 yesterday after locking six persons in a vault and slugging a customer with a gun. The bandits, one of whom wore a rubber mask, abandoned their car about two miles north of here in a wooded area, apparently switching to another one. Eureka is 23 miles southwest of St. Louis.

HIYA—Pretty Gerry Johnson, of Nashville, Tenn., recently chosen "Miss Tennessee" waves a cheery greeting as she arrives in New York City. She will represent her state in the coming Miss America contest.

NO WEDDING PLANS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Debbie Reynolds and singer Eddie Fisher will visit this week in New York City but she says they don't have any plans to wed. Miss Reynolds and her mother flew East last night, because, she said, Eddie couldn't come to Hollywood because of TV and recording commitments.

Walt Disney Pictures To Challenge TV's Arthur Godfrey During Coming Season

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Look out, Arthur Godfrey! Here comes Disneyland:

The red-haired uke player has dominated the Wednesday night programming since the early days of TV. This season he will meet his strongest challenge when the ABC network unleashes its most ambitious program to date. This is the costly and promising Disneyland, a new venture in TV entertainment.

The show makes its debut Oct. 27 and will present a different type of program each week. Each will draw from the wide range of Walt Disney's interests, from space travel to the antics of Mickey Mouse, from American folk heroes to the habits of Alaskan seals.

WHOPPING $100,000

The shows are budgeted up to a whopping $100,000. I asked Disney how he could hope to turn a profit at that figure.

"We can't," he replied flatly. "Sometimes I wonder why the hell I got into this thing. But we have passed the point of no return, so there's no turning back.

"Actually, we entered the project without the profit motive in mind. We thought it would be useful to let people know what we are doing here at the studio. And the series will be helpful in developing new characters and interests which we wouldn't have developed otherwise."

SAW VALUE

Disney was one of the first film bosses to see the value of TV in publicizing movies for theaters. He did a few hour-long shows at holiday time to help ballyhoo films like "Peter Pan" and "Alice in Wonderland." Apparently the added push helped, because his profits have never been higher. Now most of the other studios have hopped on the TV bandwagon to help promote movies.

The profit outlook for the Disneyland series is not so bleak as it might first appear. All of the shows will be made in color, and some will be put together as feature films to be shown in foreign countries. There will be additional returns by the reruns of the shows on TV.

"We won't make more than 26 hour shows a year," Disney said.

"The network wants to put on 39 shows a season, so some will be repeated."

Puzzled Parolee Follows Orders, Gets More Charges

CINCINNATI (AP)—John Williams, 32, paroled from the Ohio Penitentiary Wednesday, was back in jail today because he followed the instructions of his parole officer.

The officer had advised him to register with Cincinnati police as a felon, even though he was not required to do so.

Williams signed up with the police yesterday. After the convicted forger departed for home, Patrolman Archie Stewart began a routine check. He uncovered four warrants charging Williams with automobile theft, automobile conversion and issuing false checks for $9 and $100.

"I can't understand it," said the puzzled parolee after his arrest. "I know I did time already on those automobiles and I thought that $9 check was taken care of. And right now I can't remember anything about the one for $100."

Old Soldiers Just Don't Fade Away

WASHINGTON (AP)—Women soldiers who helped Uncle Sam win World War II took their measure today and found they can throw around a lot more weight.

But that realization isn't adding to the cheer of the WAC Veterans Assn. gathered here for its eighth annual convention, a two-day affair ending tomorrow.

Former WAC Capt. Violette Powers Duffie of Silver Spring, Md., the convention chairman, complained she had saved her wartime uniform but couldn't get into it.

"Anyone who believes that old soldiers just fade away should ask his wife to put on her old WAC uniform," she sighed.

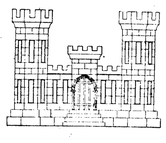
Heidelberg Castle First Introduction to Old Land

By JAMES C. FRITS

The young prince of Heidelberg lived in a story-book land, in a story book castle. The castle was our introduction into the fascinating beauty that remains from ancient Germany.

High on a hill overlooking the pink city and the blue river Neckar, Heidelberg Castle is toured by hundreds of German as well as foreign sightseers daily. Built of native sandstone, the ancient structure dates back to medieval times.



Only the oldest portion fits our conception of a castle with high tower and slit-like windows Most of it was built during the 17th century in true palace style with graceful arches and large windows.

Every little square and courtyard in the castle grounds is beautifully planted with flowers . . . masses of tuberous begonias in brilliant colors, gloxinias, gladiolas, marigolds, roses and many more, all laid out in formal style. Different flower displays were arranged by the various flower shops and professional gardeners in the city. Each had his name and phone number beside his garden plot. He furnished the flowers to the castle free for the advertising gained. We presume both parties gained because every different display was certainly a worthy selling representative of each man's skill.

Particularly outstanding were the tremendous hanging baskets of cut flowers in the great castle hall. There was one basket in each Gothic-archway surrounding the hall. The baskets were approximately three feet by five feet. Large blooms were massed in artistic designs in each basket.

We climbed to the highest parapet above the castle for a breathtaking view of Heidelberg, its swift flowing river and green valley. Up and down the valley as far as the eye could see, here and there on the hilltops were the ruins of other castles. Impressive homes built by lesser nobility in a bygone age of splendor.

The overall impression of a German city is one of compact arrangement as the tall, two and three story houses crowd each other along the narrow streets, with only an occasional square or circle courtyard to break the pattern. From the tower, Heidelberg is all shades of the same color. Every roof is tile, every house is plaster. All roofs are shades of tile red, all houses shades of beige and creams

There are no flat or hip roofed houses. All are the same style, with a steep pitched roof.

PERSONAL INSCRIPTIONS

Before we left the castle we noted two other things. Like Americans, Germans love to visit their national shrines, and they like to leave their personal inscripton on the tourist scene. The walls of Heidelberg castle in many passageways were covered with signatures of Germans from every town and hamlet.

In landscaping, the emphasis is on formal gardens. Lawns are planted but obviously are given less care. At Heidelberg, we noticed the lawns were cut by hand. In other towns, most park lawns were badly in need of cutting. Lawn mowers are not on the market here in any number because so few private homes have lawns. The houses are built right next to each other with common walls.

Out first night in Germany was spent in Eberbach, a small town near Heidelberg. It is a popular vacation spot for central Germans and has several good small hotels. After we were settled in our rooms, we explored the town. Bordering its curving cobblestone streets, many small, neat shops displayed attractive merchandise of every kind.

ONE SHORTAGE

We learned quickly there is only one shortage in Germany today. There is plenty of food, plenty of clothing, every kind of utensil and luxury item. The only shortage is money!

While almost everything from all over the world is available, it is expensive for the average worker. His salary is about 300 marks per month. A pound of hamburger is 3½ marks Coffee is 30 marks a pound. Average rent is 50 marks a month, for one room or perhaps two if the family is large.

A bit of quick budgeting will show you that the average family here can't afford very much very often. As a result, meat is usually on the family menu about once a week, coffee never. Beer is inexpensive and is universally drunk. Milk is fairly plentiful and almost every family buys some for the children. Bread and potatoes are cheap and the foundation of the German family diet.

HOUSING SHORTAGE

Families here have few rooms in which to live because of the tremendous housing shortage. Not only did the war destroy many of the houses, but the great and continuing influx of refugees from East Germany fills all available housing as fast as it is built.

The housing and money shortages, which go hand in hand and are parts of the same problem, make the American seem very rich.

We get approximately 4 marks to the dollar so the prices on products are not quite so high to the troops and their families. They insist on more rooms to live in, more food to eat. Naturally, we are accustomed to both space and food in America but in a cramped, crowded country it is sometimes hard to explain that such a dreamland as ours is real.

It's just as hard for us to believe that this Germany is real. The speed of our super-constellation dropped us too quickly into the green land and pink towns. We feel somewhat like Alice must have when she stepped through the Looking Glass. Only we stepped into a picture in a history book.

Jud Dailey suggests we go around pinching each other so we'll be sure it's us and that we're really here!

Thieves Take Safe While Maid Goes Out On Errand

NEW YORK (AP)— Thieves, waiting until the family maid went on an errand, yesterday broke into a home in the weathy Riverdale section of the Bronx and carted off a small safe containing nearly a quarter of a million dollars—mostly in securities.

The midafternoon burglary took place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Lichtenstern, currently vacationing in Pike, N.H. He is a vice president of Associated Metals and Minerals, Inc., New York.

A police alarm is out for a light blue station wagon seen around the neighborhood during the time of the theft.

The maid, Mrs. Helma Helmchen, said she found the family safe missing from a bedroom closet after she returned from a two-hour errand.

It was not immediately learned how many of the securities are negotiable.

EXPENSIVE NEST

WILLOUGHBY, Ohio (AP)—Workmen, remodeling Hellriegel's Inn, found a mouse's nest yesterday behind a wall board. It was made of $10 and $20 bills, torn into small pieces. Mrs. Mary Kochevar, part owner of the inn, estimated the cash redeemable value of the bills at $75.

Art At The Fair

By JEAN EARL

When an artist is invited to judge the exhibit at the Clallam County Fair, he is asked to bring several of his own paintings to add to the attraction of the show.

These professional and often sophisticated works help to make the fair exhibit a cross section of different types of creative expression.

Jule Kullberg, who judged the show this year contributed two water colors and two oils to the fair exhibit.

Miss Kullberg is a graduate of the University of Washington. She spent a year's graduate study with Dong Kingman at Mills college and was at the University of Oregon for a year on a Carnegie scholarship.

She has headed the art department at Edison Vocational School in Seattle for the past three years.

Churchmen Invite World Council To Meet in Hungary

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Churchmen from Communist Hungary invited the World Council of Churches to hold a future executive meeting there, with the promise of "full freedom."

Bishop Albert Berecsky of Budapest extended the invitation last night at a session of the council's assembly. He said:

"Without doubt the members of the assembly understand the far-reaching significance of the fact that such an opportunity for an ecumenical meeting is offered in Hungary."

There, he said, "within the framework of the World Council of Churches, the churches of the Western and Eastern parts of the world may confer with full freedom."

Bishop Berecsky, senior bishop of the Reformed Church of Hungary, expressed thanks to the assembly "for the signs of open-hearted Christian love and attention which we have received."

There are five delegates at the assembly from the Hungarian Lutheran and Reformed churches.

Two of them were elected last night to the council's Central Committee, its interim governing body.

Presumably, Berecsky's invitation was for this group to meet there.

Actor, Wife Sue Over Statements

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A million dollars damages is asked by James Mason, British movie actor, and his wife Pamela because, they said, published articles declared their marriage was shaky.

They said they have been happily married for 15 years and have no intention of separating.

They alleged "false and libelous statements" were printed in the Motion Picture and Television Magazine, a monthly publication, and the Daily News, a Los Angeles newspaper.

They asked $250,000 damages against Erskine Johnson, identified as the writer of the articles, and the Fawcett Publications, publisher of the magazine and $250,000 punitive damages against Johnson alone.

In another suit they asked $250,000 from the Daily News and $250,000 from Johnson.

Presidents, Present and Past To Contest With Wily Colorado Trout Next Week

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower and former President Hoover, a couple of experts with a trout rod, are going fishing together next week in the Colorado Rockies.

The Summer White House announced today that Hoover will be Eisenhower's guest "for several days" at a ranch retreat at Fraser, Colo., 70 miles northwest of here on the western slope of the Continental Divide.

The vacationing Eisenhower plans to fly back to Washington Monday to address the American Legion National Convention, and Hoover will return to Denver from the capital with the President that evening.

On the way back Eisenhower will stop at Des Moines for a brief informal talk at the Iowa State Fair, and Hoover will accompany him to the fair grounds.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said Eisenhower and Hoover will drive to Fraser either that eveing or Tuesday morning. They probably will remain there until Sept. 3 or 4.

Hagerty also announced the party may be joined there by Dr. Milton Eisenhower, the President's brother and president of Pennsylvania State College.

Headquarters will be the ranch—nearly 10,000 feet high in the Rockies—of two old friends of the President, Aksel Nielson and Carl Norgren.

Eisenhower vacationed there in 1952 and again last summer. This year, as on the last two occasions, he probably will do most of the cooking.

Like Eisenhower, Hoover — who was 80 years old on Aug. 10—has been a fishing enthusiast for many years.

Both men are experts at dry fly casting.

Tennant Denies Royal Romance

LONDON (AP)—The Eveing Standard quoted Colin Tennant today as denying there's a romance between him and Princess Margaret.

The romantic rumors blossomed recently when the press noticed the 27-year-old son of Lord and Lady Glenconner was a frequent escort of the blue-eyed princess.

Princess Margaret "has friends all over the world and deserves every one of them," the Standard quoted Tennant as saying when asked about the rumors. "What more can I say?"

Quadruplets occur about once in every 657,000 confinements.

Thompson Returns to Lineup and Helps Braves Win Some Games

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Bobby Thomson-Johnny Antonelli winter trade between New York and Milwaukee is shaping up more and more as the key to the 1954 National League pennant.

It's been almost all in the Giants' favor so far. Thomson broke his ankle during spring training and has been benched as a regular until this week. But Friday night and Saturday the Braves get their chance to reap a few dividends.

Milwaukee has beaten New York six in a row and when the Giants invade county stadium for this two-game series, they'll find Thomson fit and ready for the first time.

The Scots-born outfielder, a hustler with a natural flair for inspiring his mates, started the Braves' string over the Giants when he drove in the winning run as a pinch hitter in Milwaukee July 23.

In his second game in the starting lineup, Thomson Thursday drilled two doubles and a single as the Braves edged Philadelphia 3-2 and crept within 6 ½ games of the Giants.

Antonelli, the Giants' prize in the deal, won't show against his former mates. He worked Thursday, winning his 19th game by shading the Chicago Cubs 2-1 in the second half of a doubleheader. The Cubs snapped a seven-game New York winning splurge with a 4-3 verdict in the opener.

The defending champion Brooklyn Dodgers, 3 ½ games behind New York, were idle Thursday. They open a two-game series in St Louis Friday night.

The Cardinals held on to fourth place Thursday night although they lost 2-1 to Pittsburgh.

Cleveland edged Washington 2-1, New York thumped Detroit 11-2, Chicago split with the Philadelphia Athletics, winning 8-1, but losing 4-1, and Baltimore broke its 14-game losing streak, defeating Boston 5-3.

Doctor Stops Portland Bout

PORTLAND (AP) — The ring physician refused to let Bill Little, 220, Morton, Wash., come out for the fifth round here Thursday night in his scheduled 10-rounder with Portland's Jimmy Byrne, 225.

The Portland heavy had opened a cut over Little's left eye with several hard rights in the third round. The cut bled profusely then and again in the fourth round, when Byrne staggered the Morton swinger and had him holding on at the bell.

Other results: W. C. Cage, 163, Portland, knocked out Curtis Knox, 159, Seattle 3; Lexoy Hart, 194, Longview, knocked out Reuben Smith, 192, Seattle 1; Teddy Hall, 131, Seattle, knocked out Bob Peppy, 134, Portland 1; Ralph Colvin, 154, Portland, drew with Don Horn, 152, Seattle 4; Red McNally, 150, Estacada, Ore., drew with Dale Davis, 168, Eugene.

No-Hitter in Softball Play

BREMERTON (AP) — Pitcher Jack Hutchison of the Vancouver Selberg team stole the spotlight here Thursday as the Washington State Softball Tournament got underway.

In two opening round games, he pitched one no-hitter and gave up but three safeties in the other.

His no-no game was registered against the Everett Elks, which Selberg won, 6-0. Hutchison struck out 14 of the men who faced him. Earlier, he pitched Selberg to a 7-3 win over Lehman of Yakima, striking out 18 batters.

THURSDAY'S STARS

BATTING — Lanny O'Connell, Milwaukee Braves, drove in the winning run with a bases-loaded single with two out in the ninth 3-2.

PITCHING — Early Wynn, Cleveland Indians, gave up only two hits in winning his 13th game, 2-1 over Washington.

Amateur Champ May Not Play

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Mrs. Edean Anderson Ihlanfeldt said here Thursday her chances of playing on the Curtis Cup golf team were slim. The six-time winner of the Montana state women's amateur title, now of Seattle, was named first alternate on the team.

The Curtis Cup matches to be held at Ardmore, Pa., Sept. 2-3, pit eight top-American amateur women golfers against eight of England's best.

Mrs. Ihlenfeldt said her first big tournament will be Sept. 13-19 when she plays in the National Amateur in Pittsburgh, Pa. Following the national she will go to Thomasville, Ga., Sept 28 to Oct. 3 to defend her Trans-Mississippi Women's Golf championship.

ULRICH LEADS GOLFING FIELD

TORONTO (AP) — Hefty Wallay Ulrich was the man to catch as a par-busting field of 81 set out on the third round of the $26,500 Canadian open over the Scarboro Golf Club course Friday.

Ulrich, the Rochester, Minn., walloper, deftly stroked home a 40-foot putt on the final green Thursday for his second successive six under par 65 and the halfway lead with 130. And he needed that putt to withstand the brilliant second nine 31 carded by Bo Wininger of Oklahoma City. The Oklahoman's closing rush gave him a 66 and second place at 131.

Par golf was virtually forgotten, with 54 of the 81 third round qualifiers showing cards equalling or bettering the course's par of 36-35—71. Dave Douglas of Wilmington Del., the first round leader with only 63 strokes, followed that round with a two-under-par 69. The net result was to leave him in third place with 132.

Stan Leonard, still low Canadian with 134, was the only man in addition to Ulrich to shoot a 65 Thursday.

AID FOR THE YANKS?—Yankee Manager Casey Stengel warmly welcomes Jim Konstanty to Yanks dugout in New York as the bespectacled relief pitcher reported for his first game with his new club. Konstanty, who led the Phils to the pennant in 1950, hopes to give the Yanks the left they'll need to catch Cleveland this year.

Stars, Padres Remain Tied for Top Spot with Twenty Games to Go

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Twenty games to go, and Hollywood and San Diego still are deadlocked at the top of the Pacific Coast League standings.

Hollywood shellacked Seattle Thursday night, 7-1, while San Diego was hard pressed to edge Oakland 5-4.

Roger Bowman, talented Hollywood southpaw, gained his 19th win as he limited the previously red hot Seattle club to five hits. He had only one bad inning, the third, when he walked the first two men and the Rainiers scored their lone run.

Hollywood iced the game in the first inning, getting three runs on one hit. Dick Smith led off with a triple. A sacrifice, two errors, a double steal and a hit batsmen figured in the Stars' scoring spree against Seattle's Bob Hall.

The Bowman victory marked a milestone in Hollywood pitching. It was the first time in 13 games that the starting hurler was around at the finish.

San Diego got some very effective relief pitching from Theolic Smith and Al Lyons and always dangerous Earl Rapp poled his 19th and 20th home runs in the win over Oakland. Smith came into the game in the fifth and Lyons took over in the ninth. Oakland used five pitchers in trying to notch its first win of the series, and Chris Van Cuyk, who relieved Ernie Broglio in the third, was saddled with the loss.

Los Angeles was in a hitting mood as it plastered Sacramento, 14-2. The Angels collected 21 hits, Bud Hardin, Bruce Edwards and Fred Richards getting four each, while John Pyecha, gangling rookie, held the Solons to six. He fanned eight and walked four. Despite all the hitting there was only one homer, by Bruce Edwards. It was an Angel record for hits this season.

Fletcher Robbe's 10th inning home run into the right field stands gave the Portland Beavers a 7-5 victory over San Francisco. Portland won the hard way, for San Francisco jumped off in the first inning with five runs and had a 5-3 lead until the Ports tied it in the ninth. Jess Flores, pitcher in the eighth, got credit for the win.

WILLIAMS HITS ANOTHER HOMER

BOSTON (AP) — Ted Williams has climbed another notch in the home run record column.

Ted caught one of Bob Turley's fast balls Thursday night for his 361st major league homer as his Boston teammates lost to Baltimore 5-2.

The blow, Ted's 24th of the year, tied him with Joe Dimaggio, the retired Yankee Clipper, in fifth place among the all-time home run producers. Lou Gehrig is fourth with 493.

Unknown May Win Feature Shooting Event

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP) — A record field of more than 2,000 fired Friday in quest of trapshooting's greatest gold and glory in the 55th Grand American handicap.

The 100-target event in which shooters are placed from 17 to 25 yards back of the traps according to shooting ability, is the feature event of the roaring Grand American's week-long barrage here.

In keeping with a 54-year tradition, some unknown is expected to walk off with the top guaranteed prize of $1,500 and a possible $10,000 payoff if he plays the entire optional system.

The title most coveted in the clay target sport never has been won by a woman or an outstanding favorite. No one has won it twice, and in 54 years only five men have been able to break the entire 100.

Winners have ranged from a 14-year-old boy to a 70-year-old man.

Vern Thornborrow, 34-year-old Canadian from Hamilton, Ont., put the "kiss of death" on his chances to win Friday by taking the preliminary handicap Thursday with a perfect score of 100 from 18 yards. Only one man, R. R. Barber of Paulina, Iowa, has ever been able to take both the preliminary and the Grand American handicaps the same year. Barber did it back in 1905.

Thornborrow, a 5-foot-5, 134-pounder, who never before had won any trapshooting award picked up about $5,000 Thursday as he used a second hand shotgun to defeat a field of 1,683 in his first attempt here.

ABOUT PLATT

As a candidate for the office of prosecuting attorney of Clallam County, I would like to give you a thumbnail sketch of myself and my program, this first article being confined to my background and schooling.

Born in Edinburgh, Scotland where my father took his medical degree, I moved with my family after a year to the United States.

My family has lived since 1936 in Camas, Washington, a paper mill town very similar to Port Angeles. Summer employment in the Crown Zellerbach plant there helped me through college.

After my graduation from high school, I served in the Navy as an enlisted man. I entered Whitman College upon my discharge from the service and was graduated with a degree in business administration.

I received my law degree from the University of Washington Law School where I served as vice president of the Student Bar Association. After successfully completing the Washington State Bar Examination, I became a member of the Washington State Bar Association and established practice in Port Angeles, where I now live with my wife and ten-months-old daughter of whom I am very proud.

San Franciscans Still Battling Over City's Move To Cut Off Picturesque Cable Cars

By HAL BOYLE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Can you imagine the uproar in Paris if someone proposed razing the Eiffel Tower? Or the screams in Brooklyn if someone sold the Dodgers to Dallas?

Well, the same kind of turmoil has been going on here all year since they cut San Francisco's famous cable car system in half.

"If we're out to ruin the city, why not chop the Golden Gate Bridge in half, too?" demanded die-hard defenders of the cable car.

The cable car, long a symbol of San Francisco to the nation, was regarded as one of the wonders of the West after its invention here in 1873. Today thousands of motorists regard the antiquated little Toonerville - type trolleys, which are pulled along by whirring underground cables, as one of the unfortunate transportation blunders of history.

SLOW MOVING CARS

But the slow-moving little cars ("Ladies will remain seated; gentlemen may ride standing outside at their own risk") are beloved by tradition - proud native San Franciscans. Millions of tourists wouldn't think their visit to the city complete without one. It gives them the thrilling feeling of a brief journey back into an adventurous past.

But time has passed the cable car by in terms of efficiency. They cost three times as much to operate as a bus, move only about half as fast, and are great middle-of-the-road traffic blockers.

Faced with these stern facts, the board of supervisors last January cut the 11 - mile cable car trackage in half. It retained the historic lines that would give visitors the most picturesque views of the city.

But an immediate outcry arose, nationally and locally:

SAVE THE CARS

"Save the cable cars!"

Letters poured in from all over America urging that the cable car was the vocal soul of old San Francisco, and must not be lost. Indignant citizens last June passed, among other measures, an amendment to the city charter providing that the cable car should be part of San Francisco forever. But, significantly, some 60,000 voters straddled the fence by refusing to vote on the issue.

That should have settled the problem, but it hasn't. Sentimentalists, perhaps including many who haven't stepped on a cable car since the invention of the automobile, have kept the fight raging. They still feel, although bewildered officials protest 'tain't so, the curtailment of the cable car network is only the first step in a dark plot to abandon it altogether.

So sound trucks still roll through Chinatown blaring the embattled war cry in Chinese: "Save the cable cars!" A campaign is underway by enthusiasts to force the city to restore, or even enlarge the lost cable car trackage.

BIT OF DOING

If they succeed, this will take a bit of doing--as it would now require the cable cars to run part of their route the wrong way down one-way streets.

Support for this program is less than lukewarm among many city motorists.

"Some of these nuts probably would be in favor of going back to the ox cart," snarled one driver. "If they had to try to drive a car two blocks uphill through heavy traffic behind one of those cable monstrosities, that would cure some of their quaint ideas."

The odds seem to be that progress and the past will compromise. In an effort to pour balm on civic wounds, Mayor Elmer E. Robinson has appointed a committee to organize an annual four-day festival to honor the cable car.

"We hope," said a hopeful committee member, "the festival will some day rival the Mardi Gras in New Orleans."

It looks like the cable car, 91 years after its birth, will remain as permanent a part of San Francisco's scenery as its celebrated fogs.

Army Sergeant Misses On 'Game'

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—An Army sergeant last night demonstrated the hit-or-miss game of Russian roulette to patrons in a cafe.

The .38 revolver fired.

Sgt. Phillip Wilhelm, 40-year-old ROTC instructor at a Memphis high school, was repoted in "remarkably good condition" at a hospital where he was taken after the bullet crashed into his right temple and emerged at the top of his head.

Wilhelm blamed his bad luck on the strange gun, the cylinder of which rotates counterclockwise instead of the usual clockwise.

"I couldn't tell where the bullet was," the sergeant told hospital attendants.

The United States produced a record 133,500,000 tons of iron ore in 1953, and imported 12,400,000 tons, also a record.

Bonneville Power Schedule Shows No Wholesale Rate Hike

PORTLAND (AP)—The Bonneville Power Administration Thursday announced a proposed schedule with no increase in wholesale power rates for at least two years.

The schedule, filed in Washington with the Federal Power Commission, is for the five-year period starting Dec. 20, 1954. Its key provisions:

1. Continuation of the present level, basically $17.50 a kilowatt year, until at least December 1956.

2. An adjustment clause permitting a rate increase in December 1956, 1957 or 1958 if necessary to provide sufficient revenue to meet costs and repay the federal government.

3. A simplified billing procedure and discount provision for irrigation rates. BPA said this retains the incentives for its customers to making easier the billing work of BPA and its customers.

4. Minor changes in rates and associated general rate schedule provisions for purpose of clarity and to facilitate application of rates.

BPA said the schedule was prepared and submitted after a series of meetings with customers and Bonneville rate experts.

Measure Killed In South Korea

SEOUL (AP) — A government-proposed bill to restrict foreign news agencies operating in South Korea has failed to reach the floor of the National Assembly.

The Assembly's Education Committee said it has decided not to even discuss the passage of the bill "in view of freedom of the press."

The bill originally proposed by the government would have required foreign news agencies to get government permission to operate in South Korea. The government would be empowered to withdraw permission from agencies putting out "distorted or prohibited stories" which might be considered dangerous to the Republic of Korea.

Fugitive Gives Up To Detroit Police

DETROIT (AP) —Irving Goldfarb, a 32-year-old fugitive from Southern Michigan Prison, surrendered to Detroit police yesterday, saying, "We want the chance to start over again—with the record clean."

At his side was his wife Shirley.

"Shirley and I talked it over," Goldfarb told police. "We figured the best thing for all of us would be for me to give myself up and when I do get out, we can start clean. We've got a 3 - year - old daughter. We're thinking of her too."

Goldfarb escaped from a prison farm six weeks ago. He still has a minimum of five years to serve. He was originally sentenced in 1944 to a 7½ to 15-year term. Paroled in 1949, he was arrested in 1950 and sentenced to one to four years for burglary.

STRIKES INCREASE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Strikes were on the increase last month but the total was lower than usual, the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today. The bureau estimated 575 strikes were in effect during July, including 375 new work stoppages and 200 carried over from June, when the total was 550.

THE BUSINESS MIRROR

War Scares Are Less Pressing, But Defense Spending Important in Nation's Economy

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)— War scares are less pressing today but defense spending continues to play a sizable role as a built-in and fairly permanent bolster to American business.

Sometimes the spending is to maintain a defense plant for quick use if war comes—as the plan just announced to give businessmen contracts to keep plants in readiness.

Sometimes the spending is aimed more at bolstering a shaky part of our economy—as the plan recently announced to buy up more domestic lead and zinc for the strategic stockpile to take up the slack in civilian demand for these metals.

WELCOMES DECISION

Sometimes the spending coincides partly—as the calling for bids to supply cloth for new green uniforms for the Army. The depressed textile industry welcomes the Army's decision to change the color of its uniform.

And the shipbuilding industry—running short of commercial orders for new vessels—welcomes Washington's decision to spend a little money just now in the shipyards.

Defense spending often is an arm of the diplomats too. Contracts to buy Bolivian tin and Chilean copper for the strategic stockpile are aimed as much at bolstering foreign policy as at building up stores of metal for possible war needs.

CUT BACK

Government economy has cut back sharply in much defense spending in the last year and had much to do with pulling over-all industrial production figures down. This decline, with its accompaniment of canceled orders, plant layoffs and idle machines, took most of the spotlight.

But the backdrop of the picture is the solid amount of government money which continues to flow into industry.

The nation's defense buildup is expected to reach its goal in three more years. From then on, according to the present blueprints, the defense problem will be one of maintenance.

In a world where weapons and defenses change so rapidly, however, replacing obsolete military hardware will be a major piece of business for years to come.

MAKING PLANS

And the Office of Defense Mobilization is taking steps to see that industry is ready not only to maintain and replace military goods but to spring quickly into full-scale production should war break out.

Government - owned machine tools and production equipment are being kept packaged at or near the plants that would need them for war production. Each package contains all the tools that would be needed to produce a given military item.

And now privately owned plants and machinery that would be necessary to produce war goods fast are to be kept in readiness—with government cash. Maintenance contracts will be given various companies.

In some instances they will even retain a "human package" — a group of key managers, engineers and other skilled workers who know how to make the military hardware.
