$18,500 Damage Suit Over House Fire Enters Third Day in Court

A fire that completely razed a two story home on June 5, 1953, rekindled again in Superior Court as the $18,500 damage suit, Doss versus Harris and Schuller Sheet Metal Shop, entered its third day of heated sessions.

Countless objections and motions to testimony and questions presented by both counsels to statements made by Fire Chief Clay Wolverton highlighted this morning's sessions.

The plaintiff's, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Doss completed their testimonies at noon yesterday. The defendents opened their case with Lester Northup, a Harris and Schuller employe, and Wolverton.

The case was scheduled to close last night; however prolonged legal maneuvering brought the trial into its third day today.

MINOR BOMBSHELL

Chief Wolverton threw a minor bombshell into the hearings this morning as he testified about a conversation with Doss on Saturday, Sept. 18.

The chief testified yesterday that he had refused Doss's request to change certain portions of his testimony to be presented in court.

At the close of the conversation in the firehall, Wolverton said Doss had stated the only reason why they are having a suit is because they had such a big loss caused by the fire and that they might be reimbursed for some of the loss.

Plaintiff's Counsel William Weselhoef promptly objected to Wolverton's testimony. Judge Frank Ryan, Kitsap County, overruled his objection.

WORKED AT HOME

Northup testified he had worked at the Doss home previously and the plaintiffs told him they were satisfied with his work After the fire. Northup said, "Doss told me he would not press suit against me, but if he didn't know me it would have been different."

Chief Wolverton said he conducted investigations in the fire and considered the matter closed at that time. Wolverton testified, "I couldn't find any trace of arson and I considered the fire started from unknown causes."

Chief Wolverton brought new light into the case as he told about a discussion with Doss last Saturday, Sept. 18. The fire chief testified Doss asked him to change his story in court, before the trial.

The plaintiff requested Wolverton to give different testimony about incidents prior to the fire. "Doss had told me about lighting an oil heater just before going up to bed and he wanted me to change this story," Wolverton said.

"I told Doss I could not change my story," Wolverton said.

PROBABLE CAUSE

Probable causes of fire at the Doss home were discussed at length during Thursday's sessions. E. L. Smith, Washington State Chief Deputy Fire Marshal, stated, "As I recall you (plaintiff's counsel) mention seeing fire across the floor (bedroom) and around the chimney. I still say the chimney ignited the fire.

"If fire started from the stove it would have burned elsewhere downstairs," Smith testified.

Trouble with oil burners and probable causes of fire were outlined by Chief Wolverton. He stated the department has had a lot of trouble with oil burners that flood and shoot flames up the stove pipe.

Wolverton said sometimes "boofing"—a series of small explosions inside of the stove, caused by overmixture of oil and oxygen—can knock out flue stops.

Defense counsel introduced a tin flue stop, identified as similar to the one just opposite the stove pipe in the chimney at the Doss home, prior to the fire.

"We don't like those — we condemn them," Wolverton said, pointing to the flue stop.

Missouri Prison Officials Seek Riot Ringleaders

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Missouri prison officials today concentrated on rehabilitation problems growing out of the convict riot that virtually wiped out the state penitentiary industries.

They also sought ringleaders in the 15-hour rebellion.

When the revolt finally ended early yesterday, four convicts were dead, 30 others and three guards were injured. Damage to the penitentiary was estimated at three to five million dollars.

Three of the injured prisoners remained in critical condition.

Thomas E. Whitecotton, director of corrections, said he planned to make a thorough investigation before taking any disciplinary action.

He said he felt the ringleaders comprised a small group in the maximum security section where the rioting started.

Some prisoners claimed it resulted from pent-up resentment over food. Other prisoners and officials said they believed the riot was without purpose — instigated by unstable convicts and carried out by men who were victims of mass hysteria.

Whitecotton said the immediate concern on penal authorities was:

1. To get the penitentiary back to a near normal operating basis.

2. To attempt to solve the problem of carrying on until the next state legislative session can do something about reconstructing the wrecked buildings.

Judge Halts Local IWA Picketing

Thursday afternoon, after legal points of the matter were further argued in his presence, Superior Court Judge Max Church said he reached the decision that picketing of the Howard Clevenger operation by Local 23-90 IWA-CIO, would be enjoined, pending further hearing on the facts and issues involved

He emphasized, however, that no date has been asked for, nor set, for presenting any further issues in the case.

The actual order was being redrafted and will be filed later today, the judge said.

Bond of $1,000 will be required of the plaintiff, Clevenger, which is in compliance with statute in injunction proceedings.

CIO Steelworkers Vote To Bar Reds From Union

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) —The 1,200-member CIO United Steelworkers of America unanimously voted Friday to bar Communists from membership in the union.

Delegates to the steelworkers biennial convention approved a change in the union's constitution to keep Communists out of the organization. Previously, the constitution merely barred Communists from holding office in the USW.

Also excluded from membership are workers who "actively participate" in the Ku Klux Klan, "or any other fascist, totalitarian or other subversive organization. ."

The final session of the five-day convention also saw the 3,000 delegates pass resolutions:

1. Urging greater support of the CIO Political Action Committee in its backing of "progressive forces in both major political parties. ."

2. Asking a continued campaign for the repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

3. Conducting "the pro-employer bias exhibited in the new majority of the National Labor Relations Board, and the rash of anti-union policy changes issued by the new board."

Thursday, fiery John L. Lewis, who broke with both the CIO and AFL, wired the convention, "you are unfortunate in your affiliation. . ."

Two Ex-Convicts Shot To Death In Big Gunfight

CHICAGO (AP) — Two gun-quick ex-convicts, snared in a police trap, were killed in bullet-thick gun fight Thursday.

Cornered at a West Side garage, Chris Kanakes, 35, and Spiro Demitralis, 31, both of Chicago and wanted in half a dozen robberies, tried to shoot their way free.

But armed police hiding in trucks and stationed nearby opened fire with machineguns, revolvers and shotguns.

Detectives Larry Schupalsky and Bryan Connolly, who had been trying to track down the men for several months, said when they told the men to surrender, Kanakes pulled a gun and fired one shot wildly. He began running, Demitralis tailing after him. That's when the hidden police opened fire.

PUSAN, Korea (AP) — A sniper today fired a small caliber bullet into the U. S. Consulate here, narrowly missing Vice Consul Gordon K. Mott, Lakewood, Ohio, as he worked in front of a third floor window. Consul Charles B. Borell notified U. S. military police, who are investigating.

Oregon CIO Union Taking Strike Vote In Phone Dispute

PORTLAND (AP) — Oregon CIO Communications Workers are taking a strike vote against the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, a spokesman said Friday.

Negotiations are continuing, however.

The company has offered a $1.50 weekly increase to top scale plant workers and $1 to top scale traffic workers. The union wants $2.50 for plant workers and $1.50 for traffic.

The union also has asked for what it calls "equitable distribution" of overtime, and other benefits, including improved holiday pay and pensions, and a hospital plan.

Federal Mediator Bob McClelland has been called into negotiations.

Negotiations are stalled in Washington and Idaho where workers have completed a strike vote. But no strike deadlines have been set in any of the three states.

Libel Suit Against Pasco Paper Ready For Jury Action

SPOKANE (AP) — The $152,000 libel suit brought against the Tri-City Herald of Pasco by a former school business manager was expected to go to a Superior Court jury Friday afternoon.

Samuel Lamanna, former business manager for the Kennewick schools, has asked damages, claiming he was libeled in a 1952 Herald editorial which commented on school affairs.

Lamanna's attorney, E. B. Critchlow, argued Friday that the paper had failed to prove the truth of statements made in the editorial and asked that the full $152,000 be awarded.

The Herald, scheduled to present its final arguments later in the day, contends the editorial was based on facts obtained in an investigation of school district operations, and was fair comment on actions of a public official.

Superior Judge Carl C. Quackenbush denied a defense motion for dismissal of the suit or for a directed verdict after the last rebuttal witness was heard Thursday.

McCarthy Cancels Slated Speeches

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McCarthy, explaining he is under treatment for a sinus ailment, has canceled the three speaking engagements he had made for the congressional campaign period.

The addresses were scheduled at Omaha on Saturday, in Dupage County, Ill., on Sunday and in Bloomington, Ill., Oct. 1.

Richard O'Melia, one of his staff aides, said Friday McCarthy will not be hospitalized but that his physician has forbidden any public speaking for the time being while the treatments are underway.

He said McCarthy visited the U. S. Naval Hospital at nearby Bethesda, Md., Thursday to have the sinus drained and would have to make daily trips there over a period of days.

Death Toll Goes To 32 Following Blast in Germany

By TOM STONE

BITBURG, Germany (AP)—At least 32 persons were listed as dead today and five more believed missing in the explosion of a 120,000 gallon tank of American jet fuel. Investigators said they had not ruled out sabotage.

There were no American casualties in the blast here in the French zone yesterday, near the Luxembourg border. The colony of big tanks, at the end of a NATO pipeline from France, stores six million gallons of fuel for U.S. air force jet interceptors and fighter bombers stationed at Bitburg.

KNOWN DEAD

The known dead included 22 Germans and 8 Frenchmen. Another 16 persons were injured seriously.

Military property damage in the disaster was estimated unofficially at more than two million dollars. To keep the blaze away from other tanks, the 1,000 frantic French, German and American fire fighters pumped a million and a half gallons of fuel from nearby tanks into the Nims and Sauer rivers.

DURING DEMONSTRATION

The blast occurred during a fire fighting demonstration watched by French officials and German employes at the fuel depot. German federal police, joining French security agents in an investigation, said the "possibility of sabotage" would be explored thoroughly. French Army engineers and German police ringed the burned out tank today.

It was the second worst explosion in West Germany since the war. A blast in July, 1949, at the I. G. Farben Chemical works in Ludwigshafen killed 207 persons.

Bitburg municipal officials said as part of the fire fighting demonstration, gasoline was poured on top of the tank's concrete roof and lighted. The fire fighting apparatus was supposed to put out the test blaze almost instantly, but instead the tank underneath exploded.

The officials speculated that the test fire had ignited fumes in the exhaust pipes of the tank.

Airman's Condition Remains Unchanged

SPOKANE (AP) — William Fantz, 19-year-old Fairchild Air Force Base airman from Bremerton, was still unconscious Friday from injuries received Sunday in a motorcycle accident.

His doctor at the Fairchild Hospital said, however, that Fantz does not have a skull fracture. The youth's motorcycle went out of control and hit a retaining wall on the North Monroe hill here.

CONNELL, Wash. (AP) — James R. Crawford, 27, Spokane, was killed Thursday when his truck and trailer swerved off the road and overturned three miles south of here.

Cost of Living Shows Slight Decline, Government Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living dropped 0.2 per cent last month because of marked down price tags on food -- especially meats--and clothing, the Bureau of Labor Statistics announced Friday.

In each of the preceding three months the figure had edged upward.

The August consumer price index dropped to exactly the same level as in August 1953, at 115 per cent of the 1947-49 average.

Food prices dipped 0.6 per cent in August, the bureau said, and weakness in food prices in the early weeks of this month indicates the September average will be at least as low.

PRICE DECREASES

Food shoppers found price decreases for every cut of meat, reflecting bigger shipments of livestock to market. Pork showed the biggest decline; bacon, pork chops and leg of lamb were about 4 ½ per cent lower than in July.

Fresh fruits and vegetables also were cheaper, but the price drops--21 per cent for tomatoes, 17 per cent for sweet potatoes and green beans, 27 per cent for peaches--were mainly adjustments from the high July prices resulting from drought in many areas. The dry weather's effect on food prices was the main reason for the slight advance in costs in July.

SHOES HIGHER

Parents outfitting children for school found that children's shoes were up an average of about 50 cents a pair in August although clothing costs generally were down. Nylon hose, lingerie, men's suits and work gloves were among the lower items.

The living-cost decline brought no change in the sliding scale pay contracts for about a million railroad workers. The long sustained stability of the index has meant no cost-of-living adjustment for the rail workers for 15 months. About a million workers in the auto, aircraft and farm equipment industries got a penny-an-hour boost last month out of the three-month rise that ended with July.

Knowland Sets Date For Session On McCarthy

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The U.S. Senate will be reconvened at noon Monday, Nov. 8, to hear censure charges against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), Majority Leader Knowland announced Friday.

The date is after the fall elections.

Knowland said it was chosen "to assure that the ultimate action of the Senate would take place in an atmosphere free from pre-election tensions. . ."

Knowland said he had conferred with Minority Leader Johnson (D-Tex) and "he has informed me that this procedure will be agreeable to him."

Knowland's full statement follows:

"On Aug. 5 the vice president, acting on the recommendations of the majority and minority leaders, appointed the select committee pursuant to Senate resolution 301.

"I have now been advised by the chairman of that committee, Sen. Arthur Watkins, that the committee report and five volumes of the hearings will be available Monday, Sept. 27.

"In order that the members of the Senate might have ample opportunity to study the testimony and the report, to assure that the ultimate action of the Senate would take place in an atmosphere free from pre-election tensions and with the intent that all senators might have adequate advance notice to arrange their schedules so that a full membership would be present when the Senate has the matter under consideration I have recommended to the minority leader that the Senate be reconvened on Monday, Nov. 8, at 12 o'clock noon.

"He has informed me that this procedure will be agreeable to him."

Lewis Wire Hits At CIO Union

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — Fiery John L. Lewis, who broke with both the CIO and AFL, wired the CIO United Steel Workers Union Thursday, "you are unfortunate in your affiliation. . . ."

A telegram from the chieftain of the Independent United Mine Workers was read to the USW's biennial convention shortly after USW President David J. McDonald pleaded for a union of all of the nation's labor groups and declared he would not split with the CIO.

Both the wire and McDonald's speech drew loud applause from the 3,000 delegates representing 1,20,000-member Steelworkers Union that had been rumored ready to sever its ties with the parent CIO.

UN Pushes U. S. Atomic Power Peace Plan

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U. S. plan to develop atomic energy for peaceful purposes was put ahead at the U.N. Friday.

Dr. Eelco N. Van Kleffens of The Netherlands, president of the General Assembly, announced the 15 - member steering committee would meet Friday afternoon to consider placing the new question on the agenda.

His announcement came as delegates formally began pledging their support to the four - point program laid before the Assembly Thursday by Secretary of State Dulles.

Among those speaking in favor of the American program were Norwegian Foreign Minister Halvard M. Lange and Peruvian Delegate Victor A. Belaunde.

SECRETARY CALLS

Developing the ideas set forth in President Eisenhower's speech to the U.N. last December, the secretary called for:

1. Creation of an international agency to include "nations from all regions of the world." Dulles said it is hoped the agency will start work "as early as next year."

2. Holding of an international scientific conference under U.N. auspices next spring to consider the "whole vast subject" of the peaceful use of atomic power.

3. The opening in the United States early next year of a reactor training school "where students from abroad may learn the working principles of atomic energy with specific regard to its peacetime uses."

MEDICAL EXPERTS

4. Invitations to a "substantial number" of foreign medical and surgical experts to work with atomic energy techniques in U.S. cancer hospitals.

Dulles's proposals brought immediate expressions of approval from many other U.N. members. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief U.S. delegate, called for a quick meeting of the U.N. Steering Committee to put the proposed plan on the Assembly's agenda as an "important and urgent question."

The top - level U.N. executive group in a hurried session after Dulles spoke broke its five-day week plan and scheduled a meeting on the atomic plan for Saturday.

Air Force Reveals Use of 'Chutes'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force disclosed Friday that it is equipping B47 jet bombers with drag parachutes to cut landing approach speed, in addition to the larger 'chutes now used for braking on the ground.

The new parachutes are 16 feet in diameter, just half the size of the braking parachutes which B47s have been using for six years.

They were developed at the Wright Air Development Center of the Air Research and Development Command, at Dayton, Ohio.

Command headquarters at Baltimore said B47s now coming off the assembly lines are equipped with the new device, and plans are being considered to install them on the six-jet medium bombers already in operation.

Ike Pledges Consideration Of Labor Views

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President Eisenhower toild the American Federation of Labor's convention Friday organized labor's views will receive "sympathetic consideration" from his administration.

The President, who received a warm reception from delegates, said that he knew there are differences between his views and organized labor's but the right to disagree was an American tradition.

Despite these differences, Eisenhower said, "the views of this convention will be studied and sympathetically considered" just as are the views of all segments of the American economy.

The President said that while he and the AFL leadership do disagree on some issues they do agree on many things.

FIGHTING REDS

He said he supposed, for instance, that they agree on the need for fighting communism, on not raising taxes again, on not raising the cost of government, and that the Korean War should not be resumed.

Eisenhower said he had noted he had not redeemed his pledge to remove a union-busting provision from the Taft-Hartley law.

If he were making a political speech, the President said, he would remind his audience that legislation that would have removed that provision from the law was killed in the Senate at the last session of Congress by "a solid Democratic vote."

Eisenhower was interrupted with applause several times during his address and when he finished he was given a half-minute standing ovation.

SHOOK HANDS

Eisenhower shook hands on the convention speakers platform with AFL President George Meany and other top AFL officials. He then left Los Angeles to return to the summer white house at Denver.

After the President's speech, Meany told delegates while Eisenhower was still present that his address demonstrated that Americans enjoy the right to disagree. Meany said that while it is true the AFL often criticizes Eisenhower's administration "we have said a lot of nice things about you, too."

Eisenhower said he had great respect for what organized labor has done for the country and, despite some differences with its leaders on national issues, "I still am friendly to organized labor."

The President, after blaming failure to carry out his promises to amend the Taft-Hartley law on Democrats in the Senate, promised to renew his recommendations for T-H changes to the next Congress.

TWO CHANGES

He mentioned two specific changes—one, to let economic strikers vote in National Labor Relations Board elections where they are now barred from such balloting, and two, to remove the present requirement that union leaders sign non-Communist affidavits.

If necessary to secure these two changes, he said, he will recommend legislation covering only these two points and abandoning other T-H law changes he had proposed to the recent Congress.

The President said he was trying to do the best job he could for all the 160 million people of the country and that included the members of organized labor.

Just as he was sometimes criticized by AFL leaders, Eisenhower said, "I reserve the right too to say you're a bit wrong occasionally."

10-Month-Old Department Stores Strike Is Most Violent in History of Turbulent Steel Center

By WILLIAM A. SWARTHWORTH

PITTSBURGH (AP)— A 10-month strike of 12 AFL unions against Pittsburgh's five largest department stores stands as one of the most violent in this steel city's history.

Vandalism and picket line disturbances have marked the strike since it began last Nov. 27. Violence has increased in recent months and police fear new outbreaks may come anytime.

Officers patrol sidewalks in front of the stores on a 24-hour basis, seven days a week. Squad cars prowl the streets at night. There is an air of tension at the stores.

THREE OCCASIONS

On at least three occasions quick police intervention prevented picket lines scuffles from developing into full-scale riots.

Damage includes 29 display windows shattered and many damaged by glass cutters with the loss estimated at about $40,000. Three truckloads of furniture have been set afire. There have been numerous paint bombings of buildings and private homes.

Police have arrested 106 strikers and persons described as "sympathizers" on charges ranging from disorderly conduct and assault with intent to kill to felonious burning and inciting to riot.

Sixty-one of the 106 were fined; 31 were discharged; 1 was turned over to juvenile court and 13 were held for grand jury action. Eleven of the 13 have been indicted and await trial.

MEMBERS OF UNION

According to police, most of those arrested are members of striking AFL General Teamsters Local 249 and AFL General Warehousemen Local 636. The two unions have supplied a majority of the pickets.

Five store employes working as messengers also have been indicted on charges of riot and inciting to riot as the result of a fracas with pickets.

Stores struck are Gimbel's, Kaufmann's, Horne's, Rosenbaum's and Frank & Seder.

The teamsters local, which had about 800 members employed at the stores, touched off the strike after negotiations deadlocked on two contract issues. They are:

1. Whether the union or the stores should have the right to designate when parcel post is to be used for making deliveries in certain areas.

HELPER ISSUE

2. Whether the union or the stores should have the right to determine when helpers are needed on package trucks.

Shortly after the drivers walked out, members of 11 other smaller AFL unions struck in contract stalemates on an array of issues including wages and working conditions. Neither specific demands or pay scales have been disclosed.

Altogether, nearly 5,000 store employes left their jobs. About half, the stores report, subsequently returned to work even though their unions still were striking. Some 7,000 employes, many of them members of four CIO clerical unions, never left their jobs.

Store officials have declined to reveal figures on sales volume since the strike started. Most estimates put the over-all drop in business at between 25 and 40 per cent.

With regular truck deliveries shut off, the stores turned to parcel post and also are having goods shipped directly from manufacturers to customers.

Sequim Directors Approve Plans For High School Addition

Sequim school directors Monday night approved final plans and specifications for the junior - senior high school addition.

The board instructed Joe DeHart, from Mallis & DeHart, Architects, to forward copies of the plans to the State Department for approval.

With favorable conditions, bids will be let the middle of November and construction should start the first of January, 1955.

COOK ADDITION

The board authorized the purchase of eight lots of the Cook Addition at a cost of $255 per lot or a total of $2,040. A portion of this property has been used for the past few years as a bus parking area. The remainder of the lots will be utilized for a play area on the east side of the elementary school.

SUPERVISION OF FUNDS

Leonard Boll, Helen Ludier and Alfred McClurken were given authorization by the board to supervise and administer funds in their respective schools for the 1954-55 school year. Authorization was also given Mrs. Margaret Harleman to supervise and administer cafeteria funds.

BOARD POLICIES

Directors approved board policies which govern administration of School District No. 323.

The policies include a statement of aims, school board procedure to be followed at meetings, board-superintendent relationship, an administration flow chart, policies regarding instruction, student control, personnel, public relations, use of buildings, grounds, equipment and school busses.

The policies were drawn up from board decisions of previous years and have been compiled in booklet form for easy reference.

The board approved the placement of a pay telephone in the multipurpose room of the elementary building.

Dresden Theater Adds Cinemascope

The recent installation of Cinemascope in the Sequim Dresden Theater marks the most outstanding historical milestone in motion picture presentation Mr. and Mrs. Howard Taylor have experienced in their 40 years of theater business.

The Taylors began their motion picture career in 1914 at Selleck, Wash. with one projector. It was a hand-cranked Edison, one of the first ever made. They later purchased two power motor driven machines.

In the years from 1925 to 1930 various concerns in the movie industry experimented with synchronization and used recordings to accompany the pictures on the screen. The revolutionary result was talking pictures.

In 1930, the Taylors came to Sequim and took over the old Olympic Theater. Later they moved to the new Dresden Theater.

Cinemascope is the best equipment available for the "new look" in movies, and Taylor says "Dresden Theater is again proud to give to the public the best there is in movies."

"The Robe" will be shown Sunday, Monday and Tuesday nights.

Dungeness Club Votes on 2 Candidates

The Dungeness Women's Improvement Club Tuesday night voted its acceptance of two new members, Mrs. Alfred McClurken and Mrs. Gordon Nelson.

The business meeting opened with the assembly singing of "Last Night The Nightingale Woke Me" and closed with a penny drill.

Mrs. Muriel Bowman chose for her program topic "The Evolution of the Earth and the Oregon Territory Terrain."

She told how the earth came into being 200 million years ago. The first trace of human beings in this territory was 12,000 years ago.

Mrs. Bowman related how the Cascades and Olympics were raised in the jurassic and stood isolated in the sea. Successive lava flow caused the upheavals and the mountain peaks resulted.

Hostesses Mrs. Clarence Bell and Mrs. O. J. Hendricks had the hall decorated with fall flowers and served refreshments at the conclusion of the program.

Ecuador Seized, Holds Tacoma Fishing Vessel

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — The Ministry of Economy announced Thursday it has fined the fishing boat Sunstreak out of Tacoma, Wash., $12,000 for illegal fishing in Ecuadorean waters.

The boat, its skipper Jim Hori and its crew are under detention in the port of Guyaquil. Sunstreak was brought into Guyaquil Sept. 7 by an Ecuadorean patrol boat.

Jaime Nebot Velasco, minister of economy, said the Ecuadorean government would impose penalties on any foreign craft fishing in Ecuadorean territorial or insular waters.

He said that the Sunstreak had attempted to defy Ecuadorean authorities when intercepted off Santa Clara Island in the gulf of Guyaquil.

"Let this be a warning to fishing fleets from any part of the world," Nebot Velasco said. "Evasion of our legitimate jurisdictional rights in our waters must end."

Ecuador, Peru and Chile contend that their territorial waters extend 200 miles from the coast. They have threatened to take action against foreign fishing or whaling craft working those waters.

8-HOUR ORDEAL

CRANSTON, R. I. (AP)—Doctors today reported Mrs. Annie M. Regius, 75, suffered no outward injuries although she spent eight horror filled hours wedged in the coal bin of her home. Police said Mrs. Regius, who lives alone, tumbled and became lodged in the bin when she went to get some firewood from the cellar yesterday. Her plight was discovered eight hours later by a neighbor who came to visit and heard the moans.

Roosevelt Takes Third Spot On New York Slate

By HENRY LEADER

NEW YORK (AP)—Democrats today hailed the nomination of Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. for state attorney general and predicted he would give their ticket a big lift in the Nov. 2 election.

The son of the late President, defeated by Averell Harriman for the gubernatorial nomination, accepted the third slot on the slate yesterday and was nominated unanimously last night in the finale of the two-day convention.

Both Roosevelt, 40, and Harriman, 62, received rounds of applause when they posed together for cameramen.

SMART MOVE

One Democrat, who asked not to be identified, said Roosevelt's decision to take a subordinate place on the ticket--he declined to accept nomination for lieutenant governor—was a smart move.

The lieutenant governorship is a comparatively inactive "vice presidential" post but the attorney general has a chance to keep in the public eye with drives against crime.

If the Democrats lose, the Democrat said, Roosevelt cannot be blamed. If they win, he added, Roosevelt can claim that he was materially responsible for the victory.

Roosevelt must decline his nomination as a candidate for relection as Democrat-Liberal representative from the 20th Congressional District.

LIBERAL PARTY

The Liberal party, organized only in New York State, often has backed Democratic candidates in national, state and local elections. It sometimes has backed Republican nominees and at other times has run candidates of its own.

Harriman is expected to be nominated by the Liberal party at its state convention today.

At Syracuse, N.Y., today the Republican state convention was set to endorse Sen. Irving M. Ives for governor.

Ives has endorsed State Comptroller J. Raymond McGovern for the lieutenant governor spot on his ticket. But Republican leaders have been at variance on the attorney general post. Some favor Rep. Jacob K. Javits. Others have been pushing State Assemblyman Samuel Rabin. Harold Riegelman, GOP loser in the New York City mayoral election last fall, may be a dark horse.

Chinese Reds To Recruit More Men for Army

By FRED HAMPSON

HONG KONG (AP) — Peiping says that China's Red Army will recruit 450,000 men as "reinforcement and replacement to the armed forces."

This replacement pool to be recruited between Nov. 1 and Feb. 28, heralds a change in the Reds' system of recruiting.

The Communists have three types of army force—the Red armies, the provincial armies, and the militia.

The provincial forces seem lately to have become security troops for coastal and border defenses. Policing of the countryside seems to have been left to the militia.

SYSTEM SECRET

The Reds have never disclosed their system of replacements, but it appeared that the Red armies used both the provincial forces and the militia as agencies for picking out soldiers suitable for top service. This gave them soldiers not only of good physical stock but smarter than the average and safer material for Communist indoctrination.

Not much is known about the provincial troops. But the militia in Red China sometimes wavers politically, at least in certain places and occasions. Often during the land reform, stories leaked out about militia that sided with the landlords instead of the commissars. Not many, but enough to cause worry.

NEVER FULLY ARMED

Seldom are the militiamen fully armed and sometimes they aren't armed at all. Some are armed in daytime but disarmed at night. Some were armed and are now disarmed, but are still in the ranks. The militia is vast in size. Estimates have put it as high as 12 million.

As a source of manpower for the Red armies it seems not to have been wholly satisfactory, probably because the commissars are unable to screen out the political undependables from such a loose organization. So an in-between stage has been set up as a sort of political compression chamber in which selected militiamen will be gone over carefully before being stamped for Red Army use.

This will be the reinforcement and replacement pool of almost half a million. The Red Army in China is made up of four field armies and a North China special force, aggregating about three million men.

Coe Certifies Time Initiative

OLYMPIA (AP) — Secretary of State Earl Coe Wednesday certified Initiative 193 — the daylight saving time initiative — to the November election ballot.

Coe said the measure, which would bring back fast time during the summer months, was supported by 79,692 valid signatures of registered voters. State law requires 50,000 signatures to place an initiative measure before the voters.

Delegates also went on record as opposing Initiative 188 dealing with the licensing of chiropractors.

French Premier Will Have Proved To Be Superb Gambler If European Plan Works

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)— Pierre Mendes-France, the French Premier, will have proved himself a superb gambler, playing for the highest stakes, if he gets half of what he wants before agreeing to a rearmed Germany.

At the moment it is not clear whether he is gambling that he can make a deal close to his own terms or is really trying to block any German rearmament at all.

This week he laid down French conditions for letting Germany have guns again. If these conditions are agreed to by the Allies, he said, his countrymen might approve. He didn't say they would.

GETS A CHANCE

He gets a chance to play his cards next Tuesday in London at a meeting with Secretary of State Dulles, Britain's Foreign minister Eden, and the representatives of six other Allies, including Germany.

The United States and Britain, convinced Germany must be rearmed fast and made part of the defense against Russia, thought it could be done in a way that would not permit Germany to become a menace to her neighbors again.

This was through a single European army, called the European Defense Community (EDC). In the EDC army soldiers of West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg would have served side by side under a unified command chosen from among the own officers.

None of EDC's members would any longer have had its own national army. All would pool their military power in the new, supranational organization.

FEARED GERMANY

The French balked. They didn't want to give up their own army. They were afraid of a rearmed Germany without more safeguards than were provided in the EDC plan.

This summer the French Assembly, after stalling for two years voted to shelve EDC. Mendes-France, who might have fought to save it, didn't.

He may have been gambling that the United States, Britain and the other Allies—desperately anxious to get Germany into the defense picture — would start yielding to French terms for rearming Germany once EDC was killed.

The United States and Britain made their anxiety clear enough. Eden scurried around the continent looking for some plan to put guns in German hands again. Dulles flew to Germany and Britain last week.

Mendes-France also knew that the Allies, anxious as they were to get Germany rearmed, could hardly afford to lose French support. European defense, with Germany in it but without France would have a big hole it it, too.

A GAMBLE

He may not have been gambling when he let the French Assembly kill EDC without a protest from him. He may have felt that EDC was no good and, if no substitute for it could be found, that was just too bad.

But if he was gambling, it's dangerous business. If Russia should attack before Western defenses are solid, it may be unfortunate for both Germany and France.

This week Mendes-France made a speech, outlining the conditions under which he thinks France may approve getting into an alliance with rearmed Germany:

He wants British participation "to the greatest degree" in any defense organization that includes Germany.

And he wants the members of that organization to set up a council of some kind which will: (A) have power to limit the armaments of all the members and (B) be free to go into the member countries on inspection trips to be sure there's no cheating.

If he remains rigid on those terms and the Allies won't accept them, it would seem clear he doesn't want Germany rearmed. But he may be offering them only as a starting point for bargaining and compromise.

Nationalist Planes Pound Red China Coastal Area

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) — Nationalist warplanes struck with bombs and rockets southwest of Amoy Thursday and the defense ministry said four Red gunboats and a 2,000-ton landing craft were damaged.

Other warplanes again pounded the port of Amoy and nearby targets with what a communique described as "excellent results."

The ministry reported the latest aerial blows began at dawn, were resumed in the afternoon and continued into the night causing "the bandits (Communists) heavy losses."

The air raids followed closely a savage hour-long duel between Chinese Nationalist artillery on Quemoy and Communist guns on the nearby mainland Wednesday night. An army spokesman said 2,000 shells were fired.

Polishers Sailors Beat Up Red Guard, Leave Fishing Boat

WHITBY, England (AP)— Seven crew members of the Polish trawler Puszczyk strode ashore Thursday to tell authorities they had beat up a Red informer in their midst and seized control of their ship.

They asked political asylum in Britain.

The men told police they locked up the vessel's skipper, Capt. Kobryn Wiktor, the government spy and the other six members of the crew Wednesday night as the ship neared the English coast.

The informer, identified as "political officer" Naciszek Franciszek, was taken to a hospital with a knife wound in one hand and head and face injuries.

The Puszcyk was seen flying a distress signal as she approached the Yorkshire coast. She was escorted into harbor by the Whitby fishing vessel Provider.

Teddy Roosevelt was said to have clocked a lion which traveled 100 yards in 3 seconds.

Russia Beaming Propaganda At Servicemen

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army says Russia is aiming its propaganda radio at American servicemen stationed on the big and isolated air base of Thule, in northwestern Greenland.

It cites the Thule-beamed voice of Russia as part of the general Red propaganda effort directed "at undermining the American soldiers' morale, especially in foreign lands where American troops are stationed."

Reference to Thule is contained in a new troop training pamphlet, "Defense Against Enemy Propaganda," now being circulated by the Army. It does not discuss what, if any, effect the propaganda has on U. S. troops.

OUTLINES OBJECTIVE

The pamphlet outlines the objectives and types of Communist propaganda — "white" or open propaganda where the source identifies itself, "gray" which emanates from an unidentified source, and "black" which comes from a source pretending to be someone or something else.

In connection with the beaming of Soviet propaganda at Thule, the Army pamphlet says:

"Troops there hear a program conducted by an anonymous feminine disc jockey, dubbed Moscow Molly by the American soldiers. In addition to the recorded rumbas and fox trots the soft female voice quotes editorials from Pravda, the leading Soviet party newspaper in Russia. Although the men tune in only to hear dance music introduced by a feminine voice, which is automatically American in accent, they are, nonetheless, subjected to Communist propaganda."

HIGH IMPORTANCE

The pamphlet asserts the Soviet government attaches high importance to its propaganda program—including the operation of an estimated 6,000 special local schools, about 177 regional schools and approximately a dozen advanced schools for specialized training in propaganda dissemination.

In discussing the pamphlet, Army officers said today Communist radio stations are active in other areas of the world where American forces are stationed, including Japan and Europe.

Not all propaganda is built around music, a soft voice and entertainment.

In Europe, the American Armed Forces Network is finding its channel used in this propaganda manner by a Red station:

The Armed Forces Network operates at a frequency of 935 kilocycles, its programs ending at midnight. Its newscast is completed with the usual sign-off by the announcer, followed by a recording of the American national anthem. Then the Reds come in.

RECENT RECORDING

A reporter listened to one recent monitored recording. As the last bars of "The Star Spangled Banner" faded away a new voice, speaking flawless "American" — without exaggerated American accent—picked up on precisely 935 kilocycles.

News was read in e same style as the American broadcast. Part of the news seemed like legitimate, if dull, reports of production and agriculture and other economics of Communist countries.

But tucked away in the news, and pointed up in some obviously slanted reports under Washington and other Western datelines, were purely propaganda items.

At conclusion of its broadcast, the Communist station identifies itself as Radio Moscow and invites listeners to write program suggestions.

Earth Is Gradually Slowing Down, Scientists Explain

By JAMES M. LONG

ROME (AP)—Mother Earth's slip is showing. She's getting just a bit tipsy. And she's slowing down—her day is getting longer than 24 hours.

Just looking out the window, you wouldn't notice any of it. However scientists in Rome this week for a 42-nation geophysics conference reported that their instruments and calculations have detected all three changes.

Take the one about the day getting longer. It's the slightest change of the three, but in long-run effect on gravity or ocean movements it might prove to be the most important.

Dr. Roger R. Revelle, delegate from the U. S. National Research Council, and Dr. Walter H. Munk of the Scripps Institute of Oceanography, both of La Jolla, Calif., said that for the past 3,000 years the earth has been turning steadily slower on its axis.

The average slowdown amounts to 3½ seconds per thousand years. That works out pretty small per year, but the two experts reported that the rate of slowdown appears to be steadily declining. But what causes it?

factors probably are tidal friction flowing down the earth's turn on its axis, and the torque exerted on the earth by the sun through atmospheric ties. Other possible factors are changes in inertia, changes in the sea level, and transfers of momentum between earth's mantle and core.

Revelle said the two major

It was on that last point that Revelle and Munk reported the greatest change. They said there is a slip amounting to about 75 feet a year between earth's outer skin and her inner core.

The other change is the increasing tip in earth's axis. Revelle and Munk reported that over thousands of years this shift at the pole probably has averaged about a centimeter a year. They said it seems to be increasing. Estimates differed on the present rate. Some put the tilt at the pole in recent times as high as 10 centimeters (four inches) a year.

Sales of donuts in the United States during 1953 ammounted to 300 million dollars.

FBI Director Warns About Rising Crime Rate in Country

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover says crime in America will reach a record high this year if the present rate keeps up.

Hoover gave this estimate in reporting Wednesday night that the national crime rate for the first half of 1954 climbed 8.5 per cent over last year's level during the same period.

In the semiannual issue of the FBI's Uniform Crime Reports, compiled from police reports from across the nation, Hoover said 1,136,140 major crimes were committed in January - June of this year.

That's 88,850 more than a year ago and figures out to a major crime every 13.8 seconds.

The FBI summary said robbery increased 20.4 per cent between the two periods, burglaries 13.2 per cent, larceny 9 per cent and murders 0.9 per cent. It said the aggravated assault rate showed no change.

Rape offenses were listed as declining 1.2 per cent, auto theft down 2.3 per cent and negligent manslaughter down 3.9 per cent.

Urban crime was placed at 7.2 per cent higher than the January-June 1953 rate and rural crime 11.9 per cent higher.

Medical Association Ends Convention With Installation

SPOKANE (AP) — The Washington State Medical Assn. ended its annual convention Wednesday with the seating of Dr. M. Shelby Jared of Seattle as 1955 president and the naming of Dr. I. C. Munger Jr., Vancouver, as president-elect.

Dr. Jared succeeds Dr. A. G. Young, Wenatchee.

Other officers are Dr. S. P. Herrman, Tacoma, vice president; Dr. F. A. Tucker, Seattle, secretary treasurer. Dr. M. J. Buckley, Seattle, assistant secretary-treasurer; and Dr. R. A. Benson, Bremerton, and Dr. P. L. Zech, Seattle, delegates to the American Medical Assn.

Resolutions adopted at concluding sessions included a proposal members of the profession adopted a medical disciplinary act through which the association would "clean house" of unethical practitioners.

Slugger Wins the "Home" Game

Slugger White, the home town's star hitter, dropped by the other day to talk baseball, and to "tell one" on himself.

Seems Slugger had been babysitting. "I was doing just fine," he said, "until it was time for a 'change.' I called Mom for advice. Still didn't get it right. Then Dad set me straight."

"'Place the diaper like a baseball diamond with you at bat,' he said. 'Fold second base over home plate, and pin first and third base on home plate.' That did it—with no errors!"

From where I sit, Slugger's Dad had the idea. Often, like his Mom, a lot of us tend to give advice in our terms without considering the other fellow's way of doing things. Even in choosing your favorite beverage, it's best to think of your neighbor. If you like tea, and I prefer a temperate glass of beer, we should both "play the game" and try to understand each other's point of view.

Major Studio May Halt Production Of Movie Films

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Reports circulated in the movie industry Friday that multimillionaire Howard Hughes' RKO Studio will stop production.

The company has made only a few films the past three years. This year it has produced only one film of its own, the four-million-dollar "The Conqueror" starring John Wayne and Susan Hayward. RKO has only five unreleased pictures of its own and a few independent releases forthcoming.

Latest developments indicate the studio will be rented to independent producers, with perhaps no future filming by RKO. Two of its producers, Larry Tatelman and Robert Sparks, were dropped from the payroll two days ago. One of its top producers, Edmund Grainger, said this week he will make his films independently. Producer Harriet Parsons is on vacation.

Irish Bartender Relents On Name

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — Irish-descended William F. Condon, president of a prosperous Charleston department store, reported visiting a West Cork, Ireland, bar room looking for relatives.

Bar keep Willie Condon first gave him the cold shoulder because he thought this was another poor relation looking for a handout, Condon said

"Another Condon!" he quoted Willie as exclaiming. "They're coming from England, Scotland and even France because they've heard I've inherited a lot of money."

When Willie found he had adequate means of his own, Condon said, refreshments were on the house.

Stuffed Veal Cutlets — Mashed Potatoes
Broccoli with Lemon Sauce
Crusty Bread and Butter
Boston Cream Pie — Beverage

STUFFED VEAL CUTLETS

Ingredients: 1 pound thiny sliced and pounded veal cutlet, salt, pepper, 4 slices processed Swiss cheese (about ⅛ - inch thick), ¼ cup (about) flour, 1 egg (slightly beaten), ½ cup fine dry bread crumbs, 4 to 6 tablespoons butter or margarine.

Method: Make sure veal is sliced and pounded so it is no more than ⅛-inch thick, as it would be for scallopine, and that there are 8 pieces of about equal size and shape. Sprinkle veal with salt and pepper. Place a slice of cheese on four of the veal slices, trimming cheese if necessary so it will not come quite to edge of meat; place another slice of veal over cheese, sandwich fashion. Press edges of veal together well. Dip veal in flour to coat on both sides; dip in egg; then in crumbs. Heat half the butter in a large skillet and brown veal quickly in it on one side; add extra butter when you turn it. It takes only 4 or 5 minutes to cook the veal. Serve at once. Makes 4 small servings.

Bus Driver Is 'Good Samaritan'

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—A bus had to travel at a donkey's pace to save a Syrian from wolves recently.

To save them both, the bus jogged along as slowly as the donkey trotted. After several miles, the man and his donkey reached home.

NEW SUPPLY

BEDFORD, Pa. (AP) — Motorists who never had it so good had better watch their step here now. For the past 10 days no parking tickets have been handed out. The reason, said Police Chief Earl F. McGill, as he went about tagging cars again was simple. He had run out of tickets but it was a top drawer secret and only a few people knew of his crisis. Now, said the chief, he has an ample supply of tickets on hand.

Radioactive Particles Found

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—Dr. Gordon Shrum, director of the B.C. Research Council, said Thursday that a small quantity of radioactive particles from the recent Russian nuclear explosion have been found here.

Dr. Shrum said a test of rain falling in Vancouver Thursday "showed a radioactive count of 300 per minute."

He said count was not sufficiently high to be dangerous but indicated an atom device had been exploded perhaps within the last two weeks.

Dr. Shrum who is also head of the physics department at University of B.C., said a normal radioactive count at ground level was about 42 a minute and said a count of about 10,000 a minute would be high.

It is difficult to state how high the count must go before radioactivity in the atmosphere becomes dangerous, said Dr. Shrum. However he added that a count of 10,000 would be considered dangerous.

At the same time he discounted a Japanese report that the Russian device had been detonated on Wrangell Island in Bering strait.

"There is no indication that the explosion was very close," he said.

"If the device was set off on Wrangell and the winds were blowing in our direction, I think we would get a higher count than we do. The indications now are only that an atom explosion has occurred."

A spokesman at the Dominion Meteorological Bureau said winds have been blowing from northern Siberia down the Gulf of Alaska and over Vancouver for several days.

DO-IT-YOURSELF

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—Secretary of State Thad Eure received a letter asking for "two copies of every law that North Carolinians are supposed to abide by." Eure, thinking of the room where the laws are stored tier upon tier to the ceiling, thought of a solution. "I'll invite him to come here and browse around our store room. Let him see the situation himself."

Horse, Wagon Prove Troublesome

BALTIMORE (AP) — Patrolman John J. Bianca found an abandoned horse and wagon last night.

Sometimes walking and sometimes riding, he took them to the police department's stables. Officers there said they'd take the horse but there was no room for the wagon.

Bianca decided to take the wagon to the police impounding lot. To make the job easier he took the horse along to pull the wagon. But the impounding lot also refused the wagon.

Stymied momentarily, the resourceful patrolman then headed for the Northeastern Police Station. He parked the wagon across the street from the station. Then he walked the horse to the stables and walked back—alone — to the station house.

"My feet hurt," Bianca said after his four-hour sojourn. "Everything hurts."

Twenty-eight elephants were exported from India during the six months ending in September of 1953.

Engagement Results From Royal Tour

ROME (AP) — The recent royal tour of the Greek Isles had an engagement to its credit today — Princess Maria Pia, 20-year-old daughter of Italy's ex-King Umberto, and Prince Alexander of the exiled Yugoslav royal family.

Announcing their betrothal last night, the administrator of affairs of the deposed Italian royal family said the young couple would be married in Portugal, probably in January.

Maria Pia and Alexander were among the 200 or so royal guests who cruised through the Greek Islands recently with Greece's King Paul and Queen Frederika.

UNION DEMONSTRATES

TOKO (AP) — About 1,000 members of Japan's biggest labor union demonstrated before Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's official residence Friday night, demanding that he give up his plan to leave Sunday on a tour of America and Europe.

College Life Swings Toward Ultra-Modern Side, Researcher Says

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Now that several million parents have managed to dig up the required college tuition for their young hopefuls once more, a new trend is reported.

Some college students are demanding a rise in their standard of living, and are going back to their ivy-clad halls of learning equipped with such items as portable television sets, refrigerators, electric sewing machines and air conditioning units.

If this trend continues, imagine the plight of the long-suffering father who must prvide push-button appliances as well as tuition for his offspring, in order to induce them to expose themselves to a little of the world's learning.

ULTRA MODERN

The swing toward "ultra-modernity in college life" is reported by a young man who has built up a successful business by conducting polls among the nation's youth and reporting on their buying habits. He is Lester Rand, president of the Youth Research Institute, and he says:

"Unquestionably, campus life has undergone an amazing face lifting in the past few years."

Imported sports cars will be seen in greater numbers than ever before on college campuses this fall, he says, and the old-fashioned bicycle is giving way to the motor bike in some instances. The number of cars that go to college has increased to such an extent that a serious parking problem has resulted on many campuses.

INTERIOR DECORATION

In addition, Rand reports, students are taking up interior decoration in a big way, to transform drab college dormitories into rich and colorful suites.

One reason for all this college luxury, it seems, is the ability of students to earn substantial amounts of money during vacations, and even in some instances during the school year. Says Rand:

"It's not unusual for a young person to earn $1,000 during the summer."

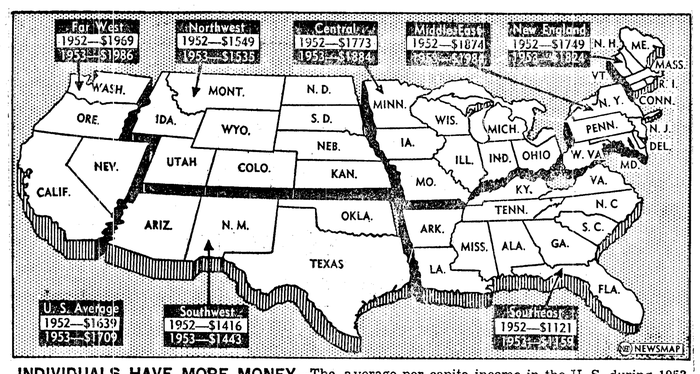
While the trend is still in its infancy, and restricted to a gilded few, there's one solid fact that may nip it in the bud. That is the resentment of the average student to another who tries to "put on airs."

In Eastern women's colleges, such as Smith, Wellesley and Vassar, the girl who arrives at the campus with a fur coat, a car and a big allowance is likely to find herself snubbed by her less solvent classmates.

The same is true at the more respected men's colleges and universities, where it's considered an an honor to wear old clothes, and undue ostentation is frowned upon.

CHURCHMAN HITS U.S.

LONDON (AP) — A Church of England vicar declared Friday that U.S. military authorities are letting young American soldiers fun wild in occupied Germany. The charge by the Rev. Bernard Croft appeared in the weekly "Church of England Newspaper."



INDIVIDUALS HAVE MORE MONEY—The average per capita income in the U. S. during 1953 ($1709) was an increase of $70 above the 1952 figure ($1639). Above Newsmap shows the per capita income in the eight regions of the U. S. during 1952 and 1953. The most notable increase occurred in the central states with a rise of $111 per individual. The only decrease was in the northwest with a decline of $14 per person.

Mrs. Wanamaker Critical of Possible College Closing

OLYMPIA (AP) — Closure of one of the state's three colleges of education at this time would be a shortsighted move, Mrs. Pearl A. Wanamaker, state superintendent of public instruction, declared Wednesday.

In a letter to the Legislative Budget Committee requesting that body to announce publicly that it does not intend to recommend such a closure, Mrs. Wanamaker said:

"The State Board of Education believes that it would be shortsighted to eliminate any one of the colleges of education or to curtail their education programs at a time of great growth in population and of tremendous progress in the development of the state."

Sen. Carlton I. Sears, chairman of the Legislative Budget Committee, declined to comment but said he would submit the request to the next meeting of his committee in November.

The committee recently announced it was considering the feasibility of eliminating one of the three schools as an economy move. The announcement suggested Central Washington College of Education (Ellensburg) since its physical facilities were more obsolete than those of the other two colleges.

Mrs. Wanamaker noted there is a shortage of teachers at present, that there would be no real economy in closing one of the schools. Such a closure, she added, would "seriously reduce the opportunities for higher education and teacher education in the state."

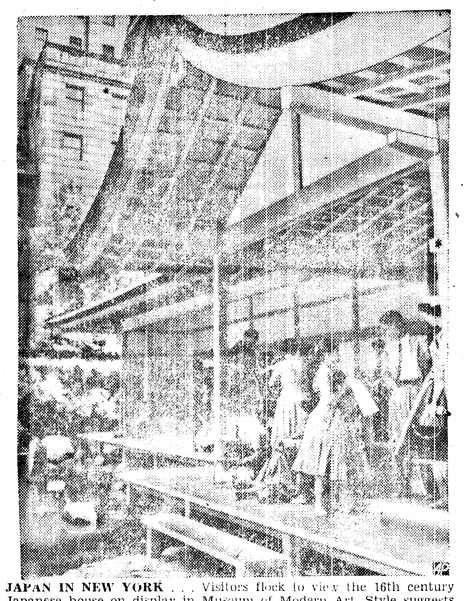
Airlines Show Rapid Growth

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's scheduled airlines, domestic and international, figure they now carry more passengers greater distances in a single month than they carried during all of 1940.

This estimate appeared today in a statement by Earl D. Johnson, president of the Air Transport Assn., the organization of scheduled airlines.

Johnson estimated that the scheduled airlines this year will carry 34 million passengers about 19 million passenger miles.

This would be an increase over last year of 9.7 per cent in passengers, and 7.4 per cent in passenger-miles.



JAPAN IN NEW YORK . . . Visitors flock to view the 16th century Japanese house on display in Museum of Modern Art. Style suggests modern ranch house. Architect Junzo Yoshimura stands at far right.

Japanese House Grandaddy of Ranch Style

By JOY MILLER
AP Newsfeature Writer

Japanese dwellings are easy on the spirit, hard on the knees and a sure preventive for claustrophobia, if the house on display in New York's Museum of Modern Art is typical.

The one-story house looks like the Oriental grandfather of the modern American ranch-type. Its architect, Junzo Yoshimura, says:

"Actually, if you remove the detail, the principle is the same."

This similarity to Western architecture is the reason it was chosen by the museum for display in its garden until the middle of October. Starting with Frank Lloyd Wright, American architects have been increasingly aware of Japanese ideas of open interiors, plain surfaces and skeleton frame construction.

The house, based on 16th and 17th century Japanese architecture, is basically the same type being built now — although contemporary styles are greatly simplified and the lumber is not of the same high quality.

Built in Nahoya, Japan, and shipped in more than 600 crates, the exhibit house was reassembled in New York by Yoshimura and the four workmen he brought with him from Japan.

Now, visitors — a thousand upward daily — exchange their shoes for paper sandals in the entrance hall and tread gingerly over the rice-straw mats in the bare rooms or sit on the broad veranda overlooking Japanese gardens.

When you come upon the house, the first thing you notice is the massive curved roof of reddish-brown Japanese cypress bark, supported by isolated columns of cypress. You run a hand over the blond wood, planed to an almost unbelievable smoothness. Yoshimura says the polished effect is accomplished by the Japanese plane, a handleless tool that the workman pulls toward him instead of pushing away.

The walls do not support the roof but are hung like curtains on the framework. They are sliding screens of paper or wood, with an infrequent thin wall of plaster. Consequently the house is open, light and flexible — convertible from five rooms into one to dispel that hemmed-in feeling that is probably purely Occidental anyway.

NO FURNITURE

There is no furniture, except for five square orange cushions on the floor in the main room and built-in desk and cupboards. Bedding (which is carried to any room in the house for sleeping) trays, low tables and boxes are put in storerooms when not in use. The theory is that the empty interior is made decorative by the structure itself.

Modern American houses look crowded to Yoshimura, who explains:

"It's difficult to get good harmony with so much furniture in a room. It's easier if you make the room simpler."

The house on display has five rooms when all the sliding screens are in place. Japanese rooms are measured, Yoshimura explains, by the number of mats needed to cover the floor. All mats measure 3x6 feet. The largest room is 15-mat size; the others are 10, 7, 6 and 4.

The kitchen of three centuries ago is a fascinating room on two levels, with its earth and waxed plaster stove that looks like three igloos strung together. Dishes are washed at the other end of the room in a sunken basin from a kneeling position. Yoshimura points out that Japanese kitchens these days are pretty much like ours.

Connected by a bridge to the main section of the house is a four-mat tea ceremony room. Outside the teahouse door the host will put a stone tied with a string if the room is unready for receiving guests—a courteous Oriental version of the "Do Not Disturb" sign.

Steelworkers To Remain With CIO

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) —The United Steelworkers Union Thursday decided to stay in the parent CIO and called for all American labor groups to join in immediate "organic unity."

Some 3,000 delegates to the USW biennial convention cheered as David J. McDonald, president of the 1,200,000-member union, declared he had no intention of leading them out of the CIO.

Then they quickly adopted a McDonald-approved resolution empowering USW officers "to take whatever action may be required in order to achieve honorable organic unity" with other unions.

It wasn't immediately clear whether the union—second largest in the CIO—thereby was calling for all unions to combine into one giant labor organization.

Although the resolution indicated such a move, McDonald didn't put it that way, and aides said they didn't think that was the intent. McDonald himself went into a private conference after his hour-long speech and couldn't be reached immediately.

"We are going to get complete immediate organic unity," McDonald told the delegates. "Talk about waiting around for a year or two for organic unity is pure unadulterated bunk."

The resolution itself said "The division that exists in the American labor movement is no longer justified" and said "it is not necessary to wait for the indefinite future" to achieve unity.

The convention action drew a prompt response from Secretary of Labor Mitchell, who spoke shortly afterward.

Departing from his prepared text, Mitchell said organic unity between the AFL and CIO would be "good for American industry and good for America."

Reports of a possible withdrawal arose several months ago as a result of a conference that McDonald had with John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, and Dave Beck, chief of the AFL Teamster Union.

There was speculation at the time that the three had discussed forming a third major labor organization. That speculation was increased as a result of noticeable coolness toward the CIO at the current convention.

Reds Have Trouble With 'Thought Control' Radios

Vienna (AP)—Communist "thought control" by radios which can't be turned off is being extended to Czechoslovakia.

Several Iron Curtain countries already have the "radio by wire" system: instead of a radio, you rent a loudspeaker. A wire into your home connects it to a central point in town.

By this method, you have to listen to what the Red broadcasters dish out. You can't change stations, listen to foreign programs or turn it off.

Although the idea has just been extended to Czechoslovakia, Hungary has been having trouble. Red newspapers complain unknown persons tear down the cables in villages. When the wires are put underground, they are mysteriously cut.

Mexico City To Erect Stop Lights

MEXICO CITY (AP)— The city fathers are adding more stop-and-go lights at street intersections throughout the Mexican capital because visiting motorists find the old system of swinging red lanterns at night too confusing.

Between 750 and 1,000 traffic lights will go up at busy intersections.

At present, such lights are used only on major streets, and on comparatively few corners on those.

At other intersections in the downtown area, the traffic is guided by policemen who swing red lanters at night. Most local drivers understand the signals but tourists often are baffled.

Dallas Has Sign Trouble With New Library Building

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Dallas' new public library is going up without a hitch but a sign at the construction site is causing no end of trouble.

After work on the two million dollar edifice had been under way about six months city officials noticed that a big sign listed every firm taking part in the construction—but didn't say what was being built.

A sign painter rushed to the scene and put up this sign:

"This is really a sign of progress. A new public library for the City of Dallas. Bonds voted, 1927, 1945 and 1952."

City dads were immediately beseiged to explain the lag between the 1927 bond vote and the 1954 construction date.

The sign painter rushed out again.

Now the sign reads simply: "A sign of progress. A new public library for the City of Dallas."

Arab-Israeli War Delays Era of Peace in Middle East

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—There is a great temptation to think that everything in the Middle East is going to be just dandy, following settlement of the Iran oil and Suez Canal issues on terms suitable to the British.

Any improvement is a net gain. But this part of the world—not only in the Middle East proper but in the larger Arab belt from Morocco clear through to Kashmir—still packs a larger load of dynamite than even Southeast Asia. There is no basis for stability.

The British talk about moving their Mid-East command headquarters from the Suez to Aden, Jordan or Cyprus. All are potential trouble spots.

Aden, at the southern edge of the Arabian peninsula, is still the most backward of all the underdeveloped countries of the Middle East. This fact was impressed on this correspondent during a recent visit to the Suez Canal area.

A BRITISH AIR MINISTRY information officer at Mid-East Air Force headquarters was giving a briefing on its mission. Aden, he explained, gives them a little trouble.

Many of the people there make their living by pillage. So when the tribesmen of any little sheikdom get out of hand, a British warning is sent out that their village would be bombed.

This gives them time to evacuate. Then on the appointed day, one plane flies over and pulverizes it.

This sounded terrible when it was reported in the press, the Air Ministry officer explained. But it was the only way to keep these chaps under control, when they got too naughty.

Here was something right out of Kipling, with a 20th century bomber thrown in to bring the story up to date. A listener could not escape the feeling, however, that if this is still British policy in the Middle East, there is a long way to go before peace comes to the area.

CYPRUS IS AGITATED by an independence movement and by an Athens-supported campaign for ceding of Cyprus to Greece.

The British-offered new constitution for an independent Cyprus smacks of old-fashioned colonial government. But the British have apparently decided to put down any opposition to this offer, by force if necessary.

Egypt, Saudi Arabia and the other Arab countries consider Jordan a completely British-subsidized puppet. If it were not for Jordan's check on Israeli expansion, there would be Arab agitation to get the British out of Jordan. It may come eventually, anyway.

Israel is of course the number one thorn in the side of all the Arab countries. Incidentally, they still blame the United States for this Israeli invasion of the Middle East. Anyway, the Israeli-Arab war is no nearer solution today than it has been at any time since the United Nations partitioned Palestine six years ago.

LEBANON, Syria, Jordan, Saudi Arabia, Egypt and Lybia have only the vaguest of ties in the Arab League. It is largely a paper and talking organization.

They are all so concerned with their own internal problems and struggling nationalism—freed from French and British colonialism for the first time. They have no fear and little knowledge of the threat from international communism.

The most remote problem they have to deal with is the resettlement of the million Arab refugees from Palestine and the fear of further Israeli expansion.

In this situation, any talk of a new era of peace coming to the Middle East before some better settlement of the Arab-Israeli war can be achieved is completely unrealistic and wishful thinking.

Once Famous Carl Hagenbeck Circus Goes Down Under Mounting Load Of Expenses

By TOM STONE
AP Newsfeatures

HAMBURG, Germany—The Carl Hagenbeck circus, remembered fondly by millions of Americans, has been drowned in red ink. The show started in a small way in 1887 but grew through the years. Later, when it toured the United States, it was one of the big bigtops.

At its peak it traveled in 120 railroad cars with 250 animals and performers and other employes to match. Lorenz Hagenbeck, son of the owner, and Carl-Heinrich Hagenbeck, a nephew, say they could not pay expenses and maintain their 12 - cent price for children's tickets. They closed the show rather than charge the children more.

The Hagenbeck name still remains in the circus world. There is a Wilhelm Hagenbeck circus and a Willy Hagenbeck circus. But the Carl Hagenbeck circus owners turned down a Spanish bid for their whole show. They did not want to see it operate under another name. Now it's scattered all over Europe.

Some lions and tigers went to Paris. A soccer-playing elephant team, some zebras and horses went to England. One of the animal trainers is touring Africa with his tigers. A giraffe was sold in Italy. Many of the animals are staying in Hamburg, however—in the Stellingen zoo which the Hagenbecks operate.

Even if the tent were packed at every performance they could not meet the $1,666 a day to keep the three special trains on the road, the owners say.

U. S. Officials Quietly Work On European Plans

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)— U. S. Military and diplomatic officials are quietly working on alternative European defense plans for possible use if next week's London conference fails to produce an acceptable German rearmament program.

Some authorities estimated that almost as much time has been spent on possible lines of action for the United States in the absence of French agreement to some German arms plan as that devoted to preparations for American participation in the nine-power London meeting.

One reason, informants said, is that State Department officials do not want to get caught again without substitute plans, as they were when the French Assembly shelved the European Defense Community project.

GREAT VARIETY

Work to date has produced a great variety of policy papers which informants said fall into three broad categories:

1. Peripheral defense — This would mean basing U.S. plans for resistance to any Communist aggression on positions in Britain, Spain, Italy and the Middle East. It would have grave political consequences because it would be interpreted by many Western European peoples as meaning U. S. abandonment of them. Both President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles are understood to be fundamentally opposed to this concept, yet it is described as having adherents, particularly in the military establishment, if it proved impossible to rearm West Germany.

DIRECT REARMAMENT

2. Direct rearmament of Germany — Under this formula the United States and Britain would go ahead, despite French unwillingness, to form German military forces after giving the West German government sovereignty in their zones. Some officials are convinced France would eventually have to follow suit in its zone. This would almost certainly involve a special treaty relationship among West Germany, Britain and the United States.

3. Interim German armament—The United States and Britain — with the cooperation or assent of France, if possible—would arm the West Germans, after granting sovereignty, but with a clear understanding that a political solution would still be worked out. In effect, the idea would be to say to the French: "We can't wait any longer to get German forces set up in the defense of Western Europe but we are willing to agree that limitations on the ultimate size and control of those forces and on arms production may still be established."

TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

Secretary of State Dulles is scheduled to go to London this weekend to attend the conference which will bring together also the foreign ministers of France, West Germany, Britain, Canada, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

According to present planning, subject to Dulles' own final approval, the American secretary will not take any U.S. proposal for solving the French-German dilemma.

The present thinking is that the United States will probably go along with any arrangement which can be accepted alike by West German Chancellor Adenaur, Mendes-France and Eden.

Phone Company, Union Deadlocked

SEATTLE (AP) — A deadlock in negotiations between the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. and the Communications Workers of America (CIO) continued Thursday.

Officials of the union and company met again with a federal labor conciliator here. The union has terminated its contract with the company.

Conferees reported the latest union proposal was for a contract renewal with $1 to $2.50 wage increases, as were granted recently in Northern California. The negotiations cover about 7,000 employes in Washington and North Idaho.

'Unreported' Checks Cited In Tax Trial

TACOMA (AP) — Testimony that many of the alleged "unreported income" checks of Mayor Edwin Lundgren of Aberdeen were deposited to his bank account was brought out by the government Thursday morning as the federal court jury hearing Lundgren's income tax evasion trial was led through a maze of dates, amounts and bank deposit slip figures.

On the stand comparing deposit slips with checks already introduced into evidence was W. H. Hatch, assistant cashier of the Grays Harbor branch of the National Bank of Commerce.

NUMBER OF CHECKS

Hatch testified a number of the checks, including one for more than $20,000 paid Lundgren by Arden Farms Inc. for construction work, were never deposited, although cashed.

Assistant U.S. Attorney J. S. Obenour was due to put the Aberdeen accountants who made out Lundgren's tax returns in 1946, 1947 and 1948 on the stand Thursday afternoon.

It appeared that the government's presentation would continue well into Friday. The trial is being heard by a jury of seven men and five women in U. S. District Judge George H. Boldt's courtroom.

GOVERNMENT CHARGE

The government charges Lundgren, Aberdeen mayor since 1948 and currently president of the Washington Assn. of Cities, failed to report $61,500 in income during those years.

Witnesses Wednesday testified to amounts they said were paid Lundgren in connection with his contracting business.

They included Arthur Ross, manager of the Aberdeen Elks Club and formerly a trustee of the American Legion's 40 et 8 society; Robert P. Bocek, Aberdeen road owner of an Aberdeen baking company; James Marshal of Seattle, vice president of Arden Farms, Inc.; Alex Lehmus, co-owner of an Aberdeen tent and awning firm, and Hatch.

Home Town Backs Dismissed Officer

RACINE, Wis. (AP)—A movement is under way here in Lt. Col. Harry Fleming's home town to support appeal of the Army officer's conviction of collaborating with his Communist captors in Korea.

Fleming, convicted Wednesday at Ft. Sheridan, Ill., has been ordered dismissed from the Army and must forfeit all pay and allowances.

The Reserve Officers Assn., of which Fleming is a member, met last night to organize a fund campaign. Kenneth Greenquist, a past Wisconsin state commander of the American Legion pledged full support of Legion Post 310.

Fleming will be greeted by a delegation of supporters upon his return here this afternoon.

Blind Man Gets Better After He Finds His Dog OK

CHICAGO (AP) — A big Boxer guide dog jumped onto a bed in Ward 53 of Cook County Hospital last night and licked the face of the blind patient, Leamon Bunch.

"That's my Bouncer," sobbed the 63-year-old man as he petted the dog. "He's not dead after all."

Bunch was taken to the hospital Wednesday after he shot himself accidentally while cleaning a .25 caliber pistol in his home. The bullet went through his left side and grazed Bouncer's head.

Hospital attendants said Bunch had cried since entering the hospital because he thought he had killed Bouncer, his guide dog for five years. Fared Hertwig, hospital warden, arranged to have the dog brought to the hospital.

"It is very unusual to allow a dog in the hospital," Hertwig said, "but we had to make an exception to the rule in this case."

Physicians said Bunch's condition improved considerably after an hour's visit with Bouncer.

Hensel Says U. S. Military Strength Reduced Some

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A Pentagon official says America's military power is reduced in some respects by the nation's rejection of the concept of preventive war.

H. Struve Hensel, assistant secretary of defense, added, however, that America is "militarily stronger by far than its challenger."

In a speech at the Golden Slipper Square Club, Hensel said he is opposed to preventive war, but added:

"It may be debatable . . . whether we should wait for a surprise attack by the enemey before deciding that there is no alternative" to making war.

He declared that "we are preparing ourselves to fight successfully when and as the threat to our security reaches the point where war is the only acceptable alternative."

Hensel said U.S. policy still seeks a powerful military alliance in Europe with France as a "pillar of strength" and with Germany a full and equal member.

He warned against delay in achieving collective security in Europe, saying " the French delays over the past years have cost us valuable time."

Awards Presented To 36 Employes Of Rayonier Here

Thirty-six employes of the Port Angeles division of Rayonier Incorporated were presented service awards Thursday at a dinner in the Elks Temple.

Gold wrist watches were presented to four men for 25 years of service by Clyde B. Morgan, Rayonier president. The men are Oliver Conrad, William P. Ditz, Frank P. Fisher and Roy W. Gustafson.

Many of the 367 other employes holding service awards were present at the dinner.

Service pins were presented by Resident Manager Harry A. Thurlow to nine employes for 20 years of service, 13 for 15 years of service; nine for 10 years and one employe for five years of service. Thurlow said seven out of every 10 employes at the local plant now have service awards denoting five years or more of continuous service with the company.

Twenty-year awards went to Ervin R. Braun, Oliver O. Finnerty, Boyd R. Grant, Owen C. LaBelle, Peter V. Munkeby, Riley P. Nelson, John R. Ohlin, Jack M. Smith, William H. Van Brocklin.

Fifteen years; Leland C. Burt, Albert G. Cozza, Lloyd H. Duback, Norman T. Gallaway, Clarence R. Johnson, W. Edwin McMillen, James E. Maxfield, Sebastian Mayer, Gilbert T. Mickel, Fred Minker, Jr., James A. Sobieck, William M. Stovall, and Jackson W. Thompson.

President Morgan, in presenting the awards, noted that 70 per cent of all local employes have had five years or more service with Rayonier.

He said Rayonier has been directing increased sales efforts toward export business and such sales this year are running 150 per cent compared with last year's export sales.

Essential to the company, he said, is Rayonier's ability to acquire continuing supplies of wood. Success in that depends on a favorable community attitude toward Rayonier. He urged all employes to foster such an attitude.

Port Angeles Man Nabbed By FBI

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A Port Angeles, Wash., man, sought two years on a charge of interstate transportation of a stolen vehicle, has been arrested here, FBI agents reported.

G. E. Gotschall, acting special agent in charge of the FBI, identified the man as Marvin Trent Reed and said he had been operating the Magnolia Radio and Television Service in nearby Magee under the name of Jack Fulfer. He was arrested Saturday, Sept. 11.

Gotschall said Reed was charged in July 1952 with transporting a vehicle from Austin, Tex., to Albuquerque, N. M. He said Reed obtained the vehicle with a worthless check.

The 24-year-old Magee resident is married and the father of three young children.

The FBI agent said Reed's arrest record dates to 1946 when he was placed on two years probation at Tucson, Ariz., for interstate transportation of a stolen vehicle.
