RESCUED—Eileen Fahey, 3, weeps tears of joy as the friendly arm of a police sergeant rescues her from between the walls of two buildings in Providence, R. I. Imprisoned for 18 hours, the child crawled into the eight-inch wide space in search of a cat. Police and firemen freed the child by knocking a hole in the wall of one building after being summoned to the rescue by a neighbor who spotted the girl from a second floor window.

Opening of Clallam County Fair Also Opens Port Angeles Playfair

When the 38th Clallam County Fair opened here today for three days, it also signalled the opening of Port Angeles' first annual Playfair.

Although Playfair week does not begin until Monday, the fair is considered the opener for the celebration.

Climax of the whole thing will be a two-hour long parade Aug. 31 and the annual Port Angeles Salmon Derby Aug. 31 and Sept. 1.

In between will be the week-long visit of three U.S. Navy vessels with numerous special shows and events arranged for all age groups.

Spicing the whole week will be the roving Keystone Kops and Choral Pranksters. The kops will deal with beardless or hatless residents through a "Kangaroo Kourt" and a portable hoosegow.

Planning and directing the whole affair is a committee made up of representatives of organizations in the city headed by Phillip Niemeyer.

Right now the committee is banking heavily on Playfair hat sales to give a needed boost to the celebration finances.

The committee received some donations from individuals and firms, but needs more. Treasurer William Eaton said any contributions should be sent to Playfair Fund, 101 W. 1st St., Port Angeles.

With the exception of three events, all other Playfair activities are free to the public. The exceptions are the salmon bake on Aug. 30, the grand Playfair ball the night of Aug. 31 and the junior ball.

Niemeyer said today: "This is the opening of Playfair and we want the whole community to join in the spirit of the celebration and enjoy it.

"The committee is doing the planning and the worrying. We want everyone to join in on the theme: "Anytime is playtime in Port Angeles.'"

B. C. Mountaineer Killed In Fall On Mt. Howson

TERRACE, B. C. (AP)—The death of one of Canada's foremost mountaineers in a fall while attempting to scale an unclimbed peak in northern British Columbia was reported last night.

Fellow climbers arrived here to tell of the death Tuesday of Maj. Rex Gibson of Saanichton, B. C., president of the Alpine Club of Canada, in a fall 250 feet down a gully of 9,000-foot Mt. Howson, 40 miles east of here. Two others of a five-member climbing party also were injured in the fall.

The climbers said the body of the major was left tied to a rock at the scene. A rescue party planned to fly there in a helicopter today.

Other members of the climbing party were Dr. Sterling Hendricks, Silver Springs, Md.; Don Hubbard of the National Bureau of Standards, Washington, D. C.; Dr. Alex C. Baberge of the University of Missouri; and Alvin Peterson, also of Washington.

Hendricks suffered a broken arm and Hubbard a broken knee in the fall. Baberge and Peterson were exhausted after bringing out the two injured men.

From a hospital bed, Hendricks told this story:

"Three of us were climbing the gully on one rope last Sunday with Maj. Gibson leading. Hubbard was the third member.

"A small rock falling from above hit Rex on the head, and we all fell about 250 feet down the gully.

'I went to get help from the other two at our base camp, and Don stayed with Rex. Rex died there two days later before we could move him."

Rosellini Appoints Two To Aeronautics Group

OLYMPIA (AP) — Robert L. Greenhalgh of Snohomish and Donald Sullivan of Seattle have been appointed to the state aeronautics commission by Gov. Rosellini, effective immediately.

Greenhalgh replaces Richard V. Willson of Anacortes for a term ending Dec. 31, 1960. Sullivan replaces Rex Allison of Bellevue for the term ending Dec. 31, 1958.

Both appointees are combat veterans of the 8th Air Force, the governor added.

WORKER DIES IN FALL

TACOMA (AP) — Delphus E. Bachman, 18, of Tacoma was killed Thursday when he fell to the pavement from the eighth floor of the new county-city building. Bachman, an iron worker, was a member of the construction crew on the building.

SEQUIM PRAIRIE TOPS GRANGE FAIR EXHIBITS

Sequim Prairie Grange took first place in Grange booth exhibits as the judges finished their task just before noon today. Pleasant Mountain Grange was second, and Black Diamond Grange third.

In the judging for artistic arrangement of the booth, Dry Creek was first, Pleasant Mountain second, and Sequim Prairie third.

Mrs. Lois Cnockaert's handmade coopercraft took first prize in the hobby section, Harriet Shore's painting second, and Wayne Tiller's woodworking third.

Braided rugs of different sizes each took a first, they are the work of Mrs. E. B. Fleetwood, Carlsborg, and Mrs. P. J. Reeder, Joyce.

In the floral exhibits, Mrs. Kenneth Knapman, Route 2, took both second and third prizes with her hanging basket displays, with the blue ribbon going to Mrs. J. W. Davidson, 531 West 9th St.

The judges were unable to decide between the Lincoln Heights Garden Club and Sequim Prairie Garden Club exhibits, and awarded a first place to each. Sequim Prairie Garden Club presented "Rainbow Garden," while Lincoln Height's theme was "Keep Washington Green Parade."

Showers and threats of showers dampened the opening of the 38th annual Clallam County Fair this morning and attendance was sparse during the opening hours.

The judges, however, were busy. In addition to the Grange and Floral Display judging, the cattle judges expected to complete both beef and dairy cattle judging by noon.

Blue ribbons will be in place for the first onrush of visitors for the grandstand show this afternoon.

Selection of the 1957 Fair Queen and placing of the blue ribbons will highlight today's events.

Hurricane Ridge Road Grading Job Completed

Supt. Fred J. Overly of Olympic National Park today announces he recommends to the director of the National Park Service that he accept as complete a grading contract for nearly seven miles of the new Heart o' the Hills road to Hurricane Ridge.

The grading contract in the amount of $393,180.10, was awarded to the late Hugh Govan, Port Angeles contractor, with work beginning November 10, 1954. The contract was completed by the estate following Govan's death in February of 1956.

That portion included in the Govan contract stretches from approximately one and one - half miles below Hurricane Ridge to the three tunnels, which are four and one-half miles above the park boundary at the Heart O' the Hills. This completes grading of the entire road.

PAVING CONTRACT

A contract in the amount of $682,757.00 for paving the 13.2-mile route was awarded the Acme Construction Company of Redmond, Wash. Preliminary work began May 14. This consists of the laying of 58,000 cubic yards of base and surfacing rock and gravel.

Paving will follow and according to specifications will consist of a 22-foot mat with two - foot shoulders on either side.

If weather permits paving will begin this fall and is expected to be completed in August of 1958, thus giving park visitors a short trip to a most spectacular view of the rugged Olympic mountains, Overly says.

To expedite construction visitor traffic is not yet allowed although Overly hopes that completion of the laying of the base course now in progress will allow use of the road during the winter skiing season. He explained plans call for moving ski runs from Deer Park to Hurricane Ridge. This will enable use of the Hurricane visitor center as a ski lodge, for which it originally was intended.

Stories direct from the 1890's will be featured in Monday's special Playfair section of the Evening News, including one about a pioneer who built a special coffin with compartments for tobacco, his pipes, flour, salt and bacon. Don't miss it.

GROUP GIVES UP ON HOFFA

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Rackets Committee suddenly broke off its questioning of James R. Hoffa Friday. Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) said it was useless to proceed because "the witness has no memory."

Then as the 44-year-old Midwest boss of the Teamsters Union sat silent in the witness chair, the committee slapped a subpoena on him for a later appearance.

McClellan, the committee chairman, said Hoffa would be recalled but that he couldn't announce a date at this time.

The committee's sudden decision to throw up its hands on Hoffa, at least for the moment, came after he pleaded he couldn't recall when asked whether racketeer Johnny Dio had sent him tiny microphones with which to "bug" a grand jury that was investigating Hoffa in 1953.

Hoffa testified he recalls that he did acquire some tiny recording device that can be concealed on the persor.

But he insisted he has no recollection that he ever assigned them for use in spying on the proceedings of a grand jury in Detroit, his home city.

He said his best recollection at the moment is that "I did not assign anybody to do any such a thing," but that in view of newspaper stories which alleged that he did, he could only state that he can not recall.

Though forgetful about what he may have done in the past, Hoffa was emphatic to the senators about what he would do in the future if elected president of the Teamsters Union.

He said he was "shocked and disturbed" by the presence of New York underworld characters in the union and would clean it up.

A complete list of Port Angeles Salmon Derby winners, photos of many and a story on the history of the Salmon Club will be included in the Evening News special Playfair section Monday.

SYRIAN CHARGES U. S. TRYING TO GAIN MIDEAST INFLUENCE

DAMASCUS, (AP)— Syria's acting defense minister has charged the United States raised a false threat of a Communist takeover in Syria in order to hide its own bid for greater Middle Eastern influence.

Khaled el Azem joined other Syrian officials in denying that Syria is falling under Soviet control as a result of leftist officers taking control of the army.

The United States knows Syria will not accept foreign influence, Azek told American reporters yesterday.

"You pretend we have become Communist and are under the influence of the Soviet Union. . . . You use this as a weapon and propaganda, hoping to frighten people who fear communism and who are afraid about their goods," the defense chief asserted. "You use it to force American and European public opinion to support American policy in the Middle East.

"If you told people frankly the real purpose, which is to replace British and French influence by your own and to guarantee the interest of oil companies and other monopolies, the American people would not help by giving you funds."

A statement read by Azem said the American people and President Eisenhower fail to understand the Arab mind and Arab aims. U.S. help to imperialism and Zionism "willing or unwillingly. . . . . is preventing any understanding between the Arab and American peoples," he declared.

"In addition, you (America) want to dictate your will to all people and want them to follow the same policy. You want to dominate large and small countries."

Azem said Russia "wants Syria to be entirely free from the influence of the West as well as the Soviet Union itself."

In London, diplomatic sources said Syria's anti-Communist neighbors plan to isolate her in an effort to cordon off Soviet influence. The Arab neighbors are Lebanon, Jordan, Iraq and Turkey.

The informants said the United States and Britain have decided against any open intervention against the leftist trend.

Crowds Welcome American Youths To Peiping

LONDON (AP)— Forty-one young Americans were almost mobbed by cheering Chinese youths when they arrived in Peiping Friday, the British news agency Reuters reported from the Red capital.

The Americans inquired almost immediately what the reaction in the United States was to their visit, Reuters said. They had been cut off from the outside world for nine days while crossing Siberia and northeast China on the Peiping Express from Moscow. Reuters also reported:

When told that President Eisenhower said they were ill-advised and had done a disservice to their country, a voice from the American group said, "We will soon set him right."

Dean Hoxsey, X-ray technician from Los Angeles, said, "I am an American citizen and so is the President."

The young Americans, many of them students, looked surprisingly fresh after the journey.

As the train pulled into Peiping's main station a crowd of about 100 Chinese began chanting "Long live world peace."

As the Americans stepped onto the platform they were immediately surrounded by a handshaking, clapping, back-slapping crowd which pressed flowers into their hands.

As Louis Alhonote, young actor from Brooklyn, with difficulty unfurled a large Stars and Stripes, the cheering redoubled and the band broke into "John Brown's Body."

The Americans stole all thunder from the seven other delegations, and great crowds were watching them from other platforms and outside the station when they boarded a bus which was parked under a large peace dove.

More Soviet Advisers Move Into Syria

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department said Friday that Soviet advisers have been moving into Syria in increasing numbers recently.

President Eisenhower has accused Russia of trying to convert Syria into a satellite and American officials have been deeply worried over that country's political swing to the left during the past two weeks.

Press Officer Lincoln White said Friday that Soviet technicians have been going to Syria for some time. In fact, he said, some military technicials have been in the country for almost two years since Syria—along with Egypt—started getting arms from the Soviet bloc.

White was told of reports in London that thousands of Russian volunteers are now moving into the Middle Eastern country in the guise of advisers.

Woman Lawyer Starting Campaign To Save Shaw's Alphabet Reform

By ALVIN STEINKOPF

LONDON, (AP) — Mrs. Clara S. Richter, a New York attorney and writer, has announced a new British-American campaign to save the alphabet reform fostered by the late George Bernard Shaw.

Mrs. Richter, a personal friend of the Irish dramatist who died in 1950 at 94, says she believes a man should be able to dispose of his estate in any lawful manner.

Shaw left a complicated will to further his project of uncomplicating the English language. He wanted it made easier to spell, speak and write. He thought the alphabet should have about 40 letters of invariable sounds.

His million-dollar will, which his executors struggled six years to interpret, provided that money be set aside to make preliminary studies of the problems of alphabet reform. Last January the Cchancery Division of the high court set aside that portion of the will.

Since then, British exponents of alphabet reform led by Isaac Pitman, a member of Parliament and a grandson of the inventor of a system of shortland writing, have campaigned to appeal the court decision.

Mrs. Richter announced here this week that she and fellow members of the American Theater Council have joined forces with Pitman. Mrs. Richter hired a firm of lawyers to undertake action here as a "friend of the court." The move would parallel Pitman's effort.

Shaw's will did not ask the executor to reform the English language, but merely to make a worldwide inquiry to determine how much time and money might be saved if the system of setting down English sentences were simplified. The Chancery Court held the plan was not feasible and directed the funds set aside for it be given to alternative benefactors named by Shaw, the British Museum, the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art and the National Gallery of Shaw's native Ireland.

Tonight Big One For Fair Queen Entrants; Selection At 8 P.M.

Tonight's the big night for one of six pretty Clallam County girls who will be chosen queen of the 38th Annual County Fair.

From Neah Bay (home of last year's queen Patty Arnold) this year comes Rosemary Ward, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ward. Miss Ward is 5 ft. 3 inches tall, has long dark brown hair and big brown eyes. She was cheer leader three years at Neah Bay High School, graduating last spring. She plans to attend Edison Technical School in Seattle this fall for business training.

Sequim's fair Fair candidate this year is Bonnie Wheeler, brown-haired daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wheeler. Miss Wheeler is the only 18 - year-old in this year's group of candidates. She is worthy advisor of the Sequim Rainbow Assembly and this spring received a $150 teacher training scholarship. She is also 5 ft. 3 inches tall, and has hazel eyes.

WEST END CANDIDATES

Forks queen candidate is Danya Caulkins, 17 - year old daughter of a Forks logger, D. J. Caulkins. Miss Caulkins formerly lived in Port Angeles and was cheer leader at the local high school a year ago. At Forks last year she was president of the Pep Club and song queen. She's the tallest of this year's group, 5 ft. 6 inches, with brown eyes and dark brown hair.

Sparkling, brown - eyed Diane Coy represents Clallam Bay in the queen's contest. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Miller, Miss Coy was cheer leader two years at her high school, president of the senior class and active in many other school groups. Her main hobby is boating and she plans to take PBX training in Seattle this fall.

LOCAL ENTRANTS

Barbara Dixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dixon represents Joyce in the county fair queen contest. Students at Crescent Consolidated School chose Miss Dixon even though the Dixons now live in Port Angeles. She served as cheer leader two years, and plays the accordion. She is 5 ft. 4½ inches, has brown hair and green eyes.

And Port Angeles High School this year enters Nancy Maloney in the fair queen contest. Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Maloney, and has been active in local school activities. She plans to attend Washington State College next year, taking a business course. She also has brown eyes and brown hair.

Judges for the queen contest are Clallam County Commissioners Val Cameron, E. L. Critchfield and Thomas Mansfield, Chamber of Commerce Secretary Ira Thomas, Air Station commanding officer, Cmdr. Robert Waldron, and Cmdr. Donald Luzius.

Venture Club girls have arranged a buffet dinner for the queens and local dignitaries tonight just before the queen selection and crowning ceremonies tonight. The ceremony will take place before the grandstand at tonight's show at the fair grounds.

IT'S A LONG WAY DOWN—Maj. David G. Simons, U. S. Air Force biologist who spent more than a day sailing some 19 miles above the earth in a balloon, made this photo at an extreme but undetermined altitude during the flight which began at Crosby, Minn., and ended near Frederick, S. D. Scattered cumulus clouds can be seen floating over the earth's surface. At lower right is a device for measuring temperature outside the gondola in which the major rode.

U. S. Sets Off 13th Blast In Series; Russia Resumes Tests

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)— A blood-red fireball burst over the Nevada desert Friday as the United States touched off the 13th atomic explosion of the 1957 test series.

The flash of the blast at 4:30 a.m. (PST) was visible over a large area of the west.

The device was exploded from a captive balloon 1,500 feet above the Yucca Flat test grounds.

Friday's test was roughly one-half of nominal in power. A nominal bomb is equal to 20,000 tons of TNT.

Friday's blast, code - named "Doppler," was originally set for Monday and was postponed because of weather and technical difficulties.

There were 41 missions by military planes, and eight scientific tests conducted in connection with the explosion.

Four hundred and fifty military observers viewed the test from trenches 3,000 yards from ground zero. Among them was a platoon from a crack Canadian regiment, the Queen's Own Rifles. The platoon was assigned here from its base at Calgary, Alberta.

The military men did not take part in any maneuvers after the blast.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia has resumed atomic tests with a blast of "substantial" power Thursday the Atomic Energy Commission announced Friday.

A brief announcement from AEC chairman Lewis L. Strauss said:

"The Soviet Union has resumed testing of nuclear weapons at its Siberian proving grounds. A detonation of substantial size took place on Aug. 22."

The development comes in the midst of Soviet maneuvers in the London Disarmament Conference with the ostensible aim of cutting off all nuclear tests.

The United States, while offering to call off tests for two years, is insisting on safeguards which the Russians reject.

Loomis Recalled By Beck Grand Jury

SEATTLE (AP)— Fred P. Loomis former financial adviser to Teamster president Dave Beck, was recalled to the stand Friday by a grand jury looking into Beck's income tax returns from 1951 through 1954.

Loomis, questioned for several hours by the grand jury, took the stand in the morning, interrupting the testimony of Ludwig Lobe, Seattle certified public accountant. Lobe's firm, Friedman, Lobe & Block, has prepared Beck's tax returns since 1943.

After Loomis' return appearance was completed, the jury recalled Lobe and delved into accounting work done in connection with Beck's financial affairs.

Waiting to testify were Carl Houston, a member of Lobe's firm, and John H. Davis and Fred J. Linghard, Jr., both of the accounting firm of Haskins & Sells.

Reds Blocking Disarmament, Says Britain

LONDON (AP) — Britain accused Russia Friday of blocking any genuine measures of disarmament except on Russia's own unacceptable terms.

In a heated criticism of Soviet negotiating methods at the U. N. disarmament talks here, British delegate David Ormsby-Gore said the West flatly refuses to accept Russia's demand for an immediate ban on nuclear weapon testing in advance of a wider disarmament pact.

Ormsby-Gore, commenting on Russia's demand for an unconditional ban on nuclear weapon testing, said:

"It is the Soviet government who are putting bstacles in the way of disarmament by posing unacceptable conditions.

Report On Eastern State Awaiting New Director

SEATTLE (AP)— Seattle attorney George Kahin said Thursday any report on a study of conditions at Eastern State Hospital at Medical Lake must await a conference with Washington's new director of state institutitons.

Dr. Garrett Heyns is due here soon from Michigan to take the post.

Kahin, who said he was acting for Gov. Rosellini, said the study at Medical Lake was similar to studies conducted at other state institutions.

He said the state has had many letters of complaint about all institutions but only about one out of 20 needed serious attention.

"Both the governor and I are especially anxious not to do a disservice to the great many dedicated employes at the state institutions, and the studies being made keep that constantly in mind," Kahin said.

NEW TEACHERS — These six teachers new to the Sequim district will greet returning school students when classes begin here Sept. 4.

School Opens Sept. 4; Kindergarten In Two Shifts; Driver Training Added

School Supt. M. C. Strauss reports that Sequim schools are about ready for the 1957-58 term. School will start Wednesday, Sept. 4 at 9 a. m. with several new features over last year.

Kindergarten has been reactivated and two shifts will be in session, one in the morning and one in the afternoon. The morning class will be transported to school by bus and taken home at noon by the parents. The afternoon group will be brought in by parents and returned home on the regular bus routes.

Every effort will be made to enroll children from adjacent homes to facilitate transportation, if requested by parents, said Strauss. Parents are also asked to tag beginners with their name and area lived in to assure assignment to proper busses at school.

New students are urged to register next week with the principal of their building.

The driver training program goes into effect this fall in high school. A dual control car has been set up for the course. A guidance program goes in effect on the high school level with William Schade as counselor.

The faculty is now complete, and all non-certificated employees are returning again this year.

The school lunch program will start the opening day of school at the same prices as last year, except extra milk which will sell at 3 cents per ½ pint due to increased cost. The school price on milk from the Sequim Dairy this year is 5.75 cents per ½ pint.

The school administrative office has been moved temporarily to the senior high building awaiting the completion of the new administration building. The vacated office area has been converted to an additional grade classroom.

The school board at the regular meeting Monday night reviewed the reports on summer maintenance work and elected teachers to the remaining faculty vacancies. They also granted the superintendent authority for surveying and purchasing necessary state surplus property.

The annual senior high school report was presented by Leonard Beil, high school principal.

LIBRARY

Included in the high school principal's report were the following figures on the junior - senior high school library:

The total book circulation last year was 12,396 books, with 235 new books entered in the library. One hundred and twenty - five books were rebound and returned to circulation. A rebound book lasts approximately three times longer than a new book, and on rebound books circulation jumps five hundred percent, according to Beil.

A total of 337 new books have been requisitioned and 203 books were discarded or withdrawn, worn out or found unsuitable.

TESTING PROGRAM

Principal Beil also reported on the high school testing program stating that all seniors who were planning on going to college and others who were interested took the Ohio State Physchological Test. This test is used in counseling students on courses they would have difficulty in and others which would perhaps be more suitable for them.

The Primary Mental Ability test is given every sophomore and all new students who have not already taken it. From this test is learned the student's IQ rating and relative capabilities in four areas of learning.

Standardized tests are now given in fourteen subjects, and this year the principal hopes to expand the program.

MILK SALES INCREASE

Beil reported that the milk dispenser in the high school sold 9,533 half pints of milk last year, an increase of 513 over 1955-56.

He reviewed the method of bookkeeping for the student body accounts and finances.

Approximately 20 members of the graduating class of 1957 plan to attend college this fall.

FAIR CATTLE ENTRIES

Leonard Beil, superintendent of livestock at the Clallam County Fair, reports Sequim entries this year of approximately 40 Jerseys, 40 Guernseys, and 15 head of beef stock.

J. O. Tretsven, of the Northwest Evergreen Breeders Assn., will judge the dairy and beef stock.

Steel rails once cost up to $250 per ton.

Turtons Honored At Housewarming

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Turton were honored by a surprise housewarming Saturday night at their new residence on Fourth Ave., and presented with a lamp for their home.

The guests brought refreshments and the evening was spent visiting and dancing. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Tozzer, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harwood, Mr. and Mrs. James McCourt, Mr. and Mrs. John Soderberg, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oswald, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gaston, and Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Brown.

One Driver Cited Following Collision

Fred Amundson, 20, of Port Angeles, struck the 1953 convertible of Barbara Pinkerton, 18, Rt. 2, Sequim, on Washington St., near Third Ave., Aug. 17, according to investigating officer Carl Klint.

The Amundson car pulled away from a parked position and the driver failed to see the Pinkerton car, said Klint. He estimated $150 damage to the Pinkerton car and about $35 damage to the Amundson car. Amundson was issued a citation for failure to yield the right of way.

Sequim Briefs

Stephen Olts talked to SEQUIM ROTARY Thursday and showed colored slides taken on his trip to the Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge. Visitors at Rotary were Walter Miller, James Glann and Alfred Anderson of Port Angeles Rotary, and Fred McIlroy of Port Townsend.

Following a potluck dinner of the PRESBYTERIAN MEN'S ASSOCIATION at the church Monday evening, an audience of approximately 100 heard the Rev. Cliff Chaffee give a travelogue on Thailand, where he has served as a missionary.

Frank Strahm will again be guest soloist at the PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH Sunday morning. He will sing "The Twenty - third Psalm" and "If With All Your Heart."

Strahm, who is visiting his parents Col. and Mrs. L. E. Strahm, is soloist of the First Congregational Church in San Bernardino, Calif.

Robert Clark, Dad Advisor, and two carloads of SEQUIM DEMOLAY boys left at 6 a. m. Thursday morning to attend the DeMolay Conclave in Yakima. They will return home Sunday.

Approximately 25 members of the PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION met for their annual picnic at Ramblewood on Tuesday.

Mrs. Chester Jenks led the devotional program. The afternoon was spent visiting and sewing for the Christmas missionary box.

Members of the PRESBYTERIAN WESTMINSTER FELLOWSHIP who are attending the Youth Synod at the College of Puget Sound include Tom Pearson, Sheryl Mersereau, Etta Emery and Shirley Pettett.

Members of the METHODIST YOUTH FELLOWSHIP went on a hayride Sunday evening, and stopped at Lona Jean Silberhorns for home made doughnuts, popcorn and punch.

The tractor pulling the trailer-load of hay and young people was driven by Rex Mantle. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Witte joined them at the Silberhorns.

This Sunday the MYF will meet at the Methodist Church at 5:30 for a potluck supper, entertainment and organization meeting.

The METHODIST MEN'S CLUB will meet Monday evening and view a film titled "The Maya Through the Ages." It is the story of the Maya Indians of Central America and Mexico and is a record of their aboriginal achievements and of their present day life.

The film was produced by the combined efforts of the Carnegie Institute, The United Fruit Company, the Governments of Mexico, Honduras and Guatemala, and the voluntary contributions of professional actors and directors Ralph Bellamy, Irving Pichel, Vincent Price and Kenneth Macgowan.

Scoutmaster Hague Reports From Munich

Raymond Hague Jr., who is touring Europe as Scoutmaster with Scouts of Region XI writes from Munich:

"We arrived here last night (August 12) at ten in a downpour but it lasted only an hour or so. We are seeing a lot of country, but not getting much time to shop. I sent a small cheese from Holland and it should arrive about the time I do.

Still a lot of evidence of bomb damage. In Frankfurt they were still leveling and relaying tracks. It has a huge rail yard. The buildings around the bridges, railyards and factories are hit very hard.

"Both Holland and Germany have good large roads, limited access, with Bike and slow traffic roads about the size of England's. Also both of these countries are much cleaner.

"Coming through the Ruhr Valley of Germany is like the Moses Lake area, only with more trees and beautiful reforestration. You can see for miles and they rotate their crops, potatoes, sugar beets, corn, wheat, and some dairy.

"Saw large henhouses and thousands of chickens. They even utilize the steep hillsides along the Rhine River. Much like riding the rail between Ellensberg and Yakima only much greener with rock built terraces and an area ten feet by twenty or thirty where grapes or a crop is being raised. These terraces extend right to the top.

LANGUAGE BARRIER

"The people look and act much like ourselves, only the speech is different, what a barrier, yet most of them know some English and the rest you can communicate with by sign language and mental telepathy. This is a great experience for the fellows and they are having a wonderful time.

"Today I plan to look around Munich and see the sights. We have a tour scheduled for this morning but this afternoon is free and tomorrow morning. May do a little shopping. Then we leave for Vienna by day train and tour.

"Oh yes, also along the Rhine you find someone has thrown a castle up on every fifth hill. Some are still in good condition but many in state of decay.

Some workmen started about 6 a. m. They are three stories down from us doing a reconstruction job on the neighboring hotel. Needless to say, the chambermaid didn't have to call us at 7. The beds are fine and we have had covers until last night, when we had sheets and a down-filled comforter that is wrapped in a sheet sack. Surprisingly it worked fine.

PEOPLE ALIKE

"We are having many wonderful experiences and find the people are alike all over. Too bad we can't all get along better. Well, it's coming on breakfast time, continental, cold cuts, bread, jam and coffee. Plenty of all of it.

"Still a lot of street cars around and car gas in Germany is 75 cents a gallon. Volkswagons are predominant, but lots of large trucks are on the roads also.

"I think my unit is the best. We have had only minor trouble and everyone seems very happy together."

Hague and his unit of scouts are scheduled to sail from LeHavre August 27, and are expected home early in September.

VFW Auxiliary Receive Awards

At the August meeting of Henry Echternkamp Auxiliary No. 4760, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post Commander James A. Minty gave an account of the gifts and awards presented to him at the Department Encampment held at Aberdeen in July.

Minty presented the auxiliary with the Marguerite Minty membership trophy won in the district membership contest for 1956 - 57.

The Auxiliary bowling team, winner of the Department Bowling Tournament at Aberdeen, was introduced. Captain Margaret Agren presented to the auxiliary the championship trophy presented to her at the Encampment. Minty gave each member of the team present a trophy inscribed "1957 Washington State VFW Auxiliary Bowling Champions."

President Agren presented Minty with a gift on behalf of the auxiliary for his outstanding year as district commander. He also received an honorary award for being the only member of the post or auxiliary eligible to attend a membership party given by the department president at the encampment.

Encampment reports were given by delegates Mrs. Ervin Boettcher, Mrs. L. R. Blair and Mrs. James Minty. One event reported was a program presented by the boys choir from the Rainier State School. The choir robes worn by the boys were a gift from the auxiliaries of the Department of Washington.

Mrs. Allison Knapp reported on taking a 4-H group to summer camp at Deception Pass. This group is sponsored by the auxiliary.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Anne Johnson, president of Quilcene Auxiliary No. 3213; Mrs. LaVern Ivorson, president of Clyde Rhodofer Auxiliary No. 1024 Port Angeles; Past District President Mrs. Lewis Tucker and Mrs. Robert Lyons, both of Port Angeles.

Refreshments were served following the meeting by Mrs. Ervin Boettcher and Mrs. Harold Sprague. The next regular meeting will be Sept. 3, place of meeting to be announced later. For further information call Mrs. Dick Cays, publicity chairman, or Mrs. Loren Agren, president.

Business Houses Broken Into Sunday

Two business houses in Sequim were entered Sunday night. Investigating Officer Carl Klint said it appeared to be the work of juveniles. The Sequim Swap Shop reported someone gained entrance by removing a bar across the back door. Apparently nothing was taken.

The Clallam Co-op feed mill was entered the same night. About $3 in change was taken and no other damage done.

Olivia de Havilland Gives Her Side Of Feud With Sister

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, (AP) — Olivia de Havilland's side of the famed sisterly feud between her and Joan Fontaine was told today for the first time.

Relaxing in her flower - decked Beverly Hills Hotel suite, the two-time Oscar winner declared a recent event in France prompted her to tell the story. Olivia lives in Paris with her husband Pierre Galante and her two children, and came here to star with Alan Ladd in "The Proud Rebel" for Samuel Goldwyn Jr.

"I was attending a party," she recounted, "and a woman asked me about the feud, saying, 'Wasn't it awful that your sister wouldn't shake hands with you?' I said, 'Oh, no, it was the other way around!'"

So she decided to get the story out and be done with it.

The major outbreak occurred after Olivia's marriage to novelist Marcus Goodrich, she related.

"Joan is very bright and sharp and has a wit that can be cutting," the actress said. "She said some things about Marcus that hurt me deeply. She was aware there was an estrangement between us."

In 1947, Olivia was up for her first Academy Award for "To Each His Own." She saw on the program that Joan was on the program as a previous winner. She knew she had a chance to win and that she might meet Joan backstage. She asked her press agent to protect her against such a meeting.

The press agent didn't, she said. Olivia was ushered through a door toward a battery of photographers. Joan stood by the entrance. Olivia turned away from her, and one lucky photog got the shot.

The backstage snub hit the headlines, and the feud of the two famous sisters became part of the Hollywood legend.

How did they make up?

"I swore that I would never reconcile with Joan until she apologized," Olivia declared. "But when I returned to Hollywood after my separation from Marcus, it seemed silly to demand an apology then."

So the two sisters became friends again.

URANIUM SALVAGE WORKS

RICHLAND, Wash. (AP) — The General Electric Co. said Thursday that it has completed a salvage job at the Hanford atomic plant which has added many tons of uranium to the nation's stockpile.

The uranium was salvaged from huge tanks on the atomic reservation which have been used as storage places for radioactive materials left over from the production of plutonium during World War II.

The salvage operation was started in 1952 and now is almost complete, said J.J. Courtney, metal recovery manager for GE's chemical processing department at Hanford.

PUD Applies To Build Wells Dam

WENATCHEE (AP) — Douglas County PUD No. 1 applied Thursday for a license with the Federal Power Commission in Washington to construct the 116-million-dollar Wells Dam on the Columbia River 45 miles above Wenatchee.

The proposed hydroelectric project will be located between the Chelan PUD's Rocky Reach Dam and Chief Joseph Dam.

The Douglas commission chairman, George Hamilton, said there would be with provision for future navigation and fish passages. Estimated construction time is five or six years.

The turbines would be rated at 93,500 horse power with driving generators rated at 67,000 k.w. with a total power production of 402,000 kw.

Youngster's Throat Still Paralyzed With Botulism

YAKIMA (AP)— Ten-year-old Eugene Coleman of Walla Walla was transferred from Yakima Valley Memorial Hospital to a Walla Walla hospital Thursday. He is the boy who was in an iron lung with botulism, the most severe kind of food poisoning.

Dr. Stanley R. Benner, Yakima district health officer, says tests by the State Health Department have proved that all members of the family suffered from botulism. Six-year-old Anita Marie Coleman died Aug. 4 on her way to the hospital from Mt. Rainier National Park where the family was on an outing.

The other four members of the family, Mr. and Mrs. Russell D. Coleman and two other children later became ill and were all given antitoxin. Eugene has been out of the iron lung for five days but still is in a wheel chair and his throat is paralyzed.

His physician says it will not be known for another five or six months whether recovery will be complete.

Samples of a canned glutin made of wheat paste and used by the family as a substitute for meat in stew were sent by Dr. Benner to the State Health Department for analysis.

"The results were positive," Dr. Benner said. "It was definitely botulism."

Two Children Die In Fire

SEATTLE (AP) — A fire which swept through a three-room apartment here early Friday claimed the lives of two children, 11-month-old Wade Patrick Casey and his 23-month-old brother, Clint Joseph Casey.

The boys' father, Dennis D. Casey, told firemen he and his wife awoke to find the apartment in flames. Casey said he threw his wife bodily through a window and then tried to rescue the boys, but was driven back by flames which filled the room in which they were sleeping.

William S. Girard Gets His Day in Court Monday

By GENE KRAMER

CAMP DREW, Japan (AP) — "I ain't got no comment. Anything I have to say, I'll say in court."

Repeating those words over and over, a young American soldier for seven months has held his tongue about the fantastic jam he is in.

Starting Monday, William S. Girard gets his day in court. That's when he goes on trial before three Japanese judges on charges of killing a Japanese woman brass-picker on a firing range.

Girard, 22, hopes he will be acquitted or get a suspended sentence in his claim that the Jan. 30 shooting was an accident while he was on guard duty.

Apart from the evidence, the slightly built, brown-haired Illinois soldier has one built-in argument in his defense — he can say he could not possibly kill a Japanese except by sheer accident, for he likes Japanese people and married a Japanese girl last month.

Girard's fondness for Japanese has even shaken his strong ties with his older brother. It is one of the most pronounced traits of the otherwise unspectacular soldier who never lived west of Illinois and never finished the first year of high school.

Prosecutors will try to show Girard was irresponsible, negligent and contemptuous of human life — especially Japanese — in pulling the trigger. But they may be hard-pressed to find anything in the soldier's humble Florida and Illinois upbringing to offset his demonstrated liking for Japanese.

After quitting school in his freshman year at Streator, Ill., High, Girard tried several jobs, working for 45 days at the Owens-Illinois Glass Co., plant shortly before enlisting in 1953.

LIKED ARMY

He liked the Army, which assigned him as a truck driver, and decided to make it his career. Until he went AWOL this month to drink beer outside the camp, the shooting was the only blemish on an otherwise good conduct record.

He arrived in Japan in 1955, reenlisted in 1956, and hopes to do so again this fall unless his trial interferes. As a specialist third class, he earns $140 a month.

For nearly two years, his constant companion has been Haru Sueyama, a short, freckled one-time bar waitress six years older than himself. They were married last month.

"This is going to be my hobby for the rest of my life," Girard once said, caressing the girl whom he nicknamed "Candy" because she likes sweets.

Since Girard came under investigation, she has loyally visited him every night in camp, often bringing him Japanese food which he likes.

They attend the movies, chat in half-English, half-Japanese or through an interpreter or play with the children of a friendly MP sergeant. Sometimes Girard plucks out tunes like "Love Me Tender" and "That Good Old Mountain Dew" on a guitar.

"Three years ago, I started going out with GIs and decided to disconnect myself from my past, which I'm not very proud of, working in bars here and there and all ever since my folks died," Candy recalled. "When I met Girard, he used to drink quite heavily and no one wanted to have much to do with him. I forced him to straighten out, even sold my belongings once to support him when he spent all his money. Now he hardly ever touches a drop."

COUPLE LIKED

Japanese villagers of Kagohara, Girard's camp, know and like the couple, and credit Candy with remaking Girard into "a good man."

Throughout his tribulations, Girard has been loyal to his brother Louis, 38, head of the Girard family in Illinois since the illnesses of his late father and his mother.

It was Louis who persuaded William to deny Japanese jurisdiction in his case and allow Stateside lawyers to wage a six-week court battle in Washington against the U.S. agreement to a Japanese trial.

"As you know, I was following the orders of my brother. How I felt about it didn't make any difference," William said afterward.

Girard has taken issue with his brother on two other matters. . . Louis' original opposition to his marriage plans and criticism of Japanese, including use of the word "Jap."

"My brother has never been in Japan and he doesn't think the way I do," William says.

Magnuson Proposes Annual Special Sessions On Budgets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash) today proposed a special session of Congress each November and December to be devoted almost entirely to fedral budget legislation.

In a bill prepared for introduction in the Senate, Magnuson suggested requiring the President to submit his budget by July 15 each year, and making the government fiscal year correspond with the calendar year.

Under such a plan, he noted, the lawmakers would have 3½ months to discuss the budget with their constituents, then two months of intensive work to act on it.

At present the federal fiscal year begins July 1. The President submits his budget the preceding January, just after the opening of each congressional session.

Magnuson's bill would permit handling of emergency items in the November - December fiscal session.

It would confine the regular congressional session beginning in January largely to legislative matters, although deficiency money bills could be considered.

Johnston Marked For Assassination On Mideast Tour

SPOKANE (AP) — Eric A. Johnston said Thursday he was marked for assassination by national zealots in both Israel and the Arab states during a visit as President Eisenhower's special envoy to the Middle East last spring.

"They had me surrounded by guards all the time, even while I slept," he told a reporter. "It was no secret that I was a target for assassins both in Israel and the Arab states as well as other countries I visited.

"I knew my life was endangered all the time I was in the Middle East but when the President gives you a job to do you do it. I probably will return there in the early future. The prospects do not frighten me.

"The zealots were afraid someone would sell their countries down the river. Knowing I was there to settle the situation if I could, some of them feared that a settlement would be to their country's disadvantage."

Johnston, a native of Spokane who still has business interests here, stopped off after returning from South America in connection with his duties as president of the Motion Picture Assn. He said he discussed increased exhibition taxes and other problems of the industry with officials in Argentina, Brazil and Venezuela.

'Freeze' Ordered On Guard Units

SPOKANE (AP) — A temporary "freeze" on enlistments in Army units of the Washington National Guard was ordered here Thursday.

Col. R. S. Phelps, commander of the 161st infantry regiment, said enlistments were ordered stopped pending "rearrangement of strength ceilings in Washington guard units."

Enlistments remain open in the Air National Guard.

Maj. Gen. Lilburn H. Stevens, Washington adjutant general, and Maj. Gen. George S. Cook, 41st division commander, will meet with senior commanders on strength ceilings here Sept. 8, Phelps said.

Letter To The Editor

SEED TO GERMANY

Editor, P. A. Evening News:

There is so much discussion in the papers concerning conservation and the preservation of our forest resources, that I am wondering how many of your readers know that something more than sixty years ago, the forests of Clallam County, Washington, were furnishing seed for the reforestation of denuded areas in the Black Forest of Germany.

There must be several people in Port Angeles, who remember J. M. Grant. He had a good home, a large house for the early days, on Front Street. He had a family, and some of their friends, including myself were surprised that he should suddenly dispose of his home and move to a small house in Sequim.

I asked him why, and all the answer I got was "To be closer to the woods."

That was unsatisfactory, but I got no more information, until early in the Spring of 1898, when I was at the Grant home, I asked him again.

"Come out here and I will show you," he said, and led me to a small building on the back of the lot. There was a large canvas spread on the floor; a small flail, such as many years ago, had been used for threshing grain. Several gunny sacks hung over a rack, and a few scattering cones littered the floor. All of which meant nothing to me.

Then he explained. He had been scouting through the woods, to learn the prospect for cones in the coming summer.

He gathered cones when the seeds were fully ripe; threshed out the seed; sifted and cleaned it, and when thoroughly dry, packaged the seed in one pound packages, and shipped it to a buyer, who sent it to Germany, where it was used in replanting bare spots in the Black Forest.

He (the buyer) used mostly red fir, but some Sitka spruce, and some hemlock. He got spruce and hemlock mostly from the west end of Clallam County. He sent only Douglas Fir.

I have no idea how much seed he sent that way. Just thought your readers might be interested.

Dust Off Those Old Airplanes, Folks, Collector Wants To Fly 'Em

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Tallman is a young flier with a soaring ambition — he wants to create a museum in the sky.

If you have an abandoned elderly airplane in your backyard (and pray who doesn't), call Tallman. He wants it. Thousands today collect antique autos. Tallman is a pioneer in a newer and limited field — the preservation of antique airplanes.

He is a leader in the small but growing number of enthusiasts who seek to salvage for posterity the remaining winged remnants of the early air age. But the airplanes he finds and rebuilds aren't destined, he hopes, for a dusty museum. He wants to put them back in the sky — at America's air shows — where they belong.

"I don't think it's quite enough to see the color and beauty of the past, unless it's out in the sunshine working," he explained.

Flying long has been the main interest of Tallman, a slender 30-year-old man with a straw-colored mustache that makes him look like a British sergeant major. His father, a World War I naval pilot, let him take over the controls of a plane at 5.

Since then Frank has logged more than 6,000 hours in more than 75 types of aircraft, ranging from 1910 Bleriots to flying boats, gliders, bombers and jets. He was a Navy flier in the last war, has served as a test pilot, and is one of a comparative handful of U.S. airmen licensed to fly every type of plane.

But today his heart is with the wood-wire-and-cloth relics of the days when the air was an opening ocean to man.

SEE IT, FEEL IT, SMELL IT

"I was in the tailend of the helmet and goggle era of the open biplane," he said. "And I believe the fun in flying was then—when you could see it, feel it, and smell it.

"The pleasure went out when they started putting on an oxygen mask, a hard hat, and an anti-gravity space suit — all worn in a pressurized cabin. When they took away the feel of the wind in your face, they took away most of the fun."

A year ago Fank made a hard choice — between a dream and a job. He quit a post as account executive for a broadcasting network and set out to assemble his flying museum.

So far Tallman has collected only nine obsolete planes (the 1910 Bleriot is his earliest, a Grumman Wildcat his latest), but at that his collection is one of the world's largest.

"The old planes disappear quickly," he remarked. "Do you know that of all the thousands of Spitfires built in the last war, only two are left in the British Isles? At least that is all I could locate there. Yet this is the plane that saved England."

Prize of his collections is a 1917 Sopwith Camel, the Spitfire of the First World War.

"Those planes had 1,634 confirmed kills — more than any aircraft before or, I believe, since," he said.

Collecting and flying antique airplanes has one advantage over most other hobbies.

"You have to be sure before you take them up," Frank said cheerfully. "You only get to make one mistake."

Second Boy's Body Recovered

TIMMINS, Ont. (AP) — Rescuers Friday uncovered the body of 15-year-old Ronnie Blakemore as they dug into a mass of debris wedged part way down a 1,400-foot mine shaft.

The body was found about 10 feet below the level where 16-year-old Bonar Scholes was rescued Thursday night. The boys fell into the shaft while dropping stones to hear the echoes. Three other tenn-agers scrambled to safety when timbers covering the hole collapsed.

The shaft, with 30 feet of water at its bottom, was blocked with earth, stones and rotted shoring from the 20-foot level for an unknown distance.

Scholes was saved after workers lowered by rope used their bare hands to remove the muck that had buried him waist-deep.

Truck Blamed For Starting 29 Fires

HOPE VALLEY, R. I. (AP)—State police today were searching for a diesel-operated truck believed responsible for starting 29 fires along Connecticut and Rhode Island highways.

The blazes were set off yesterday along Route 165 in Connecticut and Route 3 in Rhode Island. The most serious was in the Hopeville Point State Forest in Connecticut, where 40 acres were destroyed.

Police believe the fires were started by carbon sparks thrown off by a truck.

Cornell now has won the most varsity races — 18.

Blue ribbons for pajama outfits went to Frances Hilt, Patricia Leyendecker, Maureen Sherk, Lonny Grall and Suzzanne Winters. Red ribbon winners were Kathy Hughes, Judy Haggerty, Marna Paull, Carol Ann Fox, Alma Lee McCoy, Ann Ratcliffe, and Alice and Joan Cameron.

Winning blues with sports outfits were Myrna Mantle, Frances Smiley, Marjory Dunbar and Barbara Eacrett. Showing blue ribbon dress outfits were Chetta Winters, Mary Ross, Patricia Nyitray, Suzanne Brager and Juanita Booth. Sharon Witherow earned a red ribbon.

Others earning blue ribbons were Barbara Booth, party outfit; Kay Brueckner and Joan Cole, tailored outfits; Donna Ross, evening dress; Sylvia Sodergard and Sandra Atkinson, wool skirts; and Barbara Eacrett, made-over jacket.

Diane Witherow took a red ribbon with a child's skirt. Ribbons for blouses went to Sylvia Sodergard, blue; Sandra Atkinson, and Marna Paull, red. Winning awards with cotton dresses were Glenda Gilmore and Patricia Taylor, blue; Patricia Leyendecker, red.

Awards for accessories went to Patricia Taylor, blue; Glenda Gilmore, red. Joan Gilmore earned a blue ribbon for a sports garment and a red ribbon for an unlined jacket.

Showing prize winning cotton skirts were Lois Trudel, blue and Marilyn Swanson and Marna Paull red. Sylvia Sodergard earned a red ribbon with a weskit.

Other blue ribbon winners were Diane Witherow, child's dress; Marilyn Swanson, blouse, and Lorrie Reynolds, Judith Owens and Barbara Norkoski, outfits for home plan 1.

11 Countries Deny Women Voting Rights

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold says there are only 11 countries where women will have no voting rights and are not eligible for election.

He lists them in an annual report to the U. N. General Assembly on women's progress in political rights.

The countries are Afghanistan, Iran, Iraq, Jordan, Libya, Liechtenstein, Paraguay, San Marino, Saudi Arabia, Switzerland and Yemen. Saudi Arabia and Yemen, Hammarskjold says, have no political rights for men either.

In Egypt, Guatemala, Monaco, Portugal and Syria, he says, women's rights are more limited than men's. But in 69 other countries the two sexes are on an equal basis. The list includes 10 Communist countries and 59 non-Communist.

Donna Capps Is Honored at Shower

Bouquets of pink roses decorated the home of Mrs. Connie Anderson Wednesday evening when she and her daughter Miss Judith Eklund honored Miss Donna Capps with a bridal shower.

Miss Capps will become the bride of Robin Marterossian Sunday afternoon in the Seventh Day Adventist Church.

Each guest brought an original four line poem on "Donna and Marriage," which Miss Capps read. Judged winners were Mrs. Frank Capps, mother of the guest of honor, and Mrs. Schuler Luce of Sequim.

Other guests were Mmes. Jack Carver, Alice Palmer, Nettie Work, Susan Queener, Rose Thompson, Michael Fey, Ivan Shearer, Norman Houck, John Whitman, O. A. Hulse and C. W. Johnson and the Misses Ruth Carver, Sharra Gort, Charlotte Wilhelm, Holly Blake, Linda Luce and Jean Roup. Also attending were young Robert Anderson and Richard Luce.

The women played party games with prizes going to Mmes. Carver, Luce and Palmer and to Misses Gort, Wilhelm and Blake.

Refreshments were served buffet style after Miss Capps opened her gifts.

Friends Surprise Cecile Fitchard

A surprise potluck birthday dinner party Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Josie Mayer honored Miss Cecile Fitchard who was here from her home near Auburn visiting friends.

Places were set for Miss Fitchard, Miss Mayer and the Misses Nancy Davidson, Judy Reynolds, Rosalyn McRevey, Sandra Grover, Patricia Wallis, Patricia Bleck and Franci Cox. Joining the group later in the evening were the Misses Betty and Anne Ritchie who recently came to Port Angeles from Virginia.

Miss Fitchard moved from Port Angeles in January and has been attending Federal Way High School where she has been elected editor of the next school annual.

Zimmerschied Family Is Visiting Here

Here from Newport, R. I., visiting Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Zimmerschied is their daughter-in-law Mrs. Norman C. Zimmerschied and sons Gerald and Gene.

They will leave Monday for Wilmington, Calif., to sail on the USS Lurline for Honolulu where they will join N. C. Zimmerschied and make their home at Pearl City.

Zimmerschied, a boatswain's mate first class, is stationed aboard the USS Fessenden which will be based at Pearl Harbor the next two years.

He enjoyed a short leave in San Diego with his wife and children and his parents who met him there Aug. 4, when the Fessenden stopped over enroute from Newport to Hawaii.

HOT PEACH SUNDAE

Ingredients: 2 cups crushed peeled pitted ripe peaches, ½ cup sugar, ½ cup orange juice, salt, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, vanilla ice cream.

Method: Mix crushed peaches, sugar and orange juice together in a saucepan (about 2 quarts). Bring to a rapid boil. Simmer, uncovered, about 15 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in a dash of salt and the lemon juice. If peaches were very juicy, sauce will not be thick. Makes 1½ to 2 cups. Serve hot over vanilla ice cream.

Note: You'l need 6 to 8 medium-sized peaches to make the amount of crushed fruit called for. To peel the peaches, cover with boiling water and allow to stand off heat for a few minutes; plunge into cold water and strip off skin.

AT PORT ANGELES?

New Recording Of National Anthem To Be Free To Schools

NEW YORK, (AP) — A plan has been proposed to make a single, high-fidelity, long-play record of "The Star Spangled Banner" featuring about a dozen versions played by famed orchestras.

Under the plan the recording would be made available free to the nation's 150,000 schools, and for an as yet unspecified fee to all radio and television stations.

The project was announced yesterday by Louis Schweitzer, owner of FM radio station WABI, New York, who claims current recordings of our national anthem mostly are antiquated.

He said that top hi-fi recording firms have expressed interest in the venture. Individual recordings of the song would be played by orchestras that the firms have under contract.

Big New York Thruway Ends in Apple Orchard

SILVER CREEK, N. Y. (AP) — New York state's thruway proudly begins its 474 miles at America's metropolis and ends them humbly in an apple orchard.

A 41-mile section in the extreme western part of the state was opened officially yesterday by Gov. Averell Harriman.

The new section, which ends in an orchard at the Pennsylvania State line, brought the thruway's mileage to 474, highest of the world's toll superhighways. A 30-mile section, linking the new stretch with the main line, is still to be constructed.

A highway is to be built in two years that will cross Pennsylvania near Erie to connect with a projected extension of the Ohio Turnpike.

Pie-Throwing Urge Of Wives Makes TV Show Success

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Almost every wife has a hidden urge to throw a pie in her husband's face, I have discovered through some specialized research.

After she has thrown the pie, the wife almost always feel a lot better, and if the husband is an amiable type he usually laughs heartily — especially if he wins a whopping cash prize, and if his clothes are properly safeguarded by plastic coveralls.

This bit of applied psychology probably is responsible for much of the success of one of television's longest - running shows, Beat the Clock, says its young and beautiful coproducer, Jean Hollander.

This is the show in which contestants are picked from the audience just before show time, and are required to perform various undignified and hilarious tricks in a certain elapsed time. Some people have won as much as $64,000 on the show, says Jean. Nobody ever gets hurt and hardly anybody balks at the nonsense, she says, because—

"People seem to get rid of their inhibitions on the show. They throw china and break glasses and have a wonderful time. We had a rear admiral and his wife on the show one time, and the admiral got a pie in his face. His wife was overjoyed, saying it was something she always had wanted to do. As for the admiral, he said he also enjoyed it — the whipped cream tasted good. Of course we never use real pies — just paper plates full of whipped cream."

Governor Proclaims Newspaper Week, Newspaper Boy Day

OLYMPIA (AP) — Gov. Rosellini Thursday proclaimed the week of Oct. 1-8 Newspaper Week in Washington and Oct. 5 Newspaper Boy Day.

The chief executive's proclamation read:

"The newspapers of the nation have been among the foremost leaders in our progress and development. They are charged with keeping the public informed on the increasingly complex issues of the world, the nation, and the community. They are depended upon by millions for entertainment as well as information.

"In serving these two ends, the newspaper industry has devoted all the power of skilled men and women and of modern machinery.

"They have answered a need for fast communication and for fast service. Further, they have acted as defenders of truth and justice, and as protectors of our individual freedoms.

"Now, therefore, I, Albert D. Rosellini, governor of the State of Washington, by virtue of authority in me vested, do hereby proclaim the week beginning October 8 as Newspaper Week, and the day of October 5 as Newspaper Boy Day in the State of Washington and call upon the people of our state to observe this period in appreciation of the great contribution made by the newspaper industry."

Workers Paid Bonuses For Shipping Air By Railroad Freight

MOSCOW, (AP) — Pravda reported Friday that imaginative railroad workers in the Ural Mountains figured out a way to fleece the government of 14 million rubles ($3,500,000 at the official rate) a year. They ship air by freight.

Workers are paid in proportion to the volume of freight carried, so employes of the Sverdlovsk line built bigger crates. Each railroad car thus was filled with so much air.

The government "is paying millions for the transportation of air," the Communist Party Newspaper said. "And those who transport the air are getting bonuses."

Pravda said an investigation of the Sverdlovsk Railroad showed that each crate averaged 688 pounds less than was marked on the waybill. About one-third of a million crates are shipped a year.

"And this is on only one railroad," it exclaimed. "What about the whole country?"

The newspaper said it would be a relatively simple matter to eliminate this practice by checking the containers with a weighing device, if such devices were available.

In The Service

EARNS BARS—Robert W. Byers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ladd Byers, received his appointment as warrant officer recently at 30th AAA Group Headquarters, Ft. Barry. He graduated from the Internal Guidance Course of the Army's Antiaircraft Artillery and Guided Missile School and will serve as missile officer for A Battery of the 740th AAA Missile Battalion, Ft. Funston, San Francisco. Byers rose through the ranks, serving as sergeant first class before receiving his warrant officer bars.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Klepper

Klepper Believes Exchange Students Need Good Foundation in German

A good foundation in the German language for Port Angeles exchange students to Rosenheim is essential for an effective program in the belief of Hans Klepper, German industrialist and strong supporter of the exchange program.

Klepper believes the Port Angeles students can participate effectively in German classes during their year there if they have a good basis in the language.

In addition, he thinks no other single factor would do more toward furthering community participation in the program in Rosenheim, and in convincing the German people Americans are really interested in knowing them and their country.

Klepper, who is also an advisor for the U. S. State Department's American House in Munich, believes the slowness with which the exchange program has taken hold in Rosenheim is due to American servicemen's lack of interest in the German people.

He says most of the people's contacts have been with servicemen and their families who have shown no interest in the German language or customs.

But both Klepper and his wife, who were in Port Angeles last week as guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hoare, believe the exchange program is beginning to counteract this effect.

FUTURE PEACE

They feel the exchange program is one of the best ways toward future peace because it gives boys and girls an opportunity for fellowship with other peoples and to appreciate the contributions other nations have made in science and art.

The Kleppers plan to send their daughter, Gudrun, to Port Angeles to attend school in the fall of 1958. Gudrun, who sings and plays the piano and is interested in art and designing as well as all kinds of sports, spent this summer in England.

She left there Aug. 20 with her English friend who will spend six months with the Kleppers in Rosenheim, learning the German language and getting acquainted with the people there.

Klepper disputed the belief Rosenheim students lose a year by attending school here. He said his son, Fritjof, who attended school here in 1955-56 as Rosenheim's first exchange student, will graduate from the oberrealschule next spring with his own class.

He was not certain if Fritz Lux Rosenheim exchange student here this year, would graduate with his class, because he missed the German equivalent of his junior instead of his sophomore year.

Commenting on the effect of his son's year in Port Angeles Senior High School, Klepper said "Fritz may have a big knowledge of physics and mathematics from his German schooling, but the things he learned here are very important to living."

He says Fritjof learned to take responsibility, make friends, form his own opinion, speak, give reports and take part in discussions.

Klepper hopes Fritjof will succeed him in his business as manufacturer of the famous Klepper folding boats, and he thinks his experience in this country will help him do this better. The family's present plans call for Fritjof to return after graduation to attend the University of Washington in Seattle.

WINS FRIENDS

The German businessman and president of the Rosenheim Rotary Club, sponsors of Fritz Lux' trip here, says the Rotarians were enthusiastic about Jerry Fagerlund, local exchange student to Rosenheim this year.

Jerry spoke to the club in German and showed colored slides of the Olympic Peninsula. Klepper said "The exchange grows by Jerry." He commented Jerry's easy way of making friends and his sincere interest in the people and their way of thinking and doing made a strong impression on students and adults alike.

Klepper believes much of the success of the exchange program in Port Angeles is due to community participation through the Rosenheim committee and hopes to establish such a committee there.

He has already spoken to the mayor and when he returns he plans to present his idea to the Rosenheim Gemeinderat, or city council, of which he is a member. He says Ludwig Steinkohl, editor of the Rosenheim Volksblatt, is enthusiastic about the plan.

ANOTHER STUDENT

Klepper feels confident arrangements can be made for sending a Rosenheim student, either a boy or girl, to Port Angeles next year. He hopes the student can be on his way by October.

He plans to report to his Rotary Club Aug. 30, the day he arrives home. Mrs. Klepper plans to begin work immediately on finding places for Patricia Zimmer, Port Angeles' next representative to Rosenheim, to live.

This was Mrs. Klepper's first visit to Port Angeles, and her first trip to the United States. She was impressed, as so many women from other countries are, with the modern kitchens, supermarkets and the frozen and ready-to-eat foods, but she was even more impressed with the hospitality and friendliness of the people.

Mrs. Klepper said the people she traveled with on the train across the country were "so nice and helpful." She said the friendly people she met everywhere convinced her more than ever the Germans must look for friends in other nations.

While here she crowded as many activities into her days as possible. She is an ardent gardener and enjoyed the Northwest plants, many of which she could identify because of their similarity in her native Bavaria.

She water-skiied on Lake Crescent at the Hoare's home, hiked from Lake Ozette to the Indian village with her husband and the Hoares, and climbed Mount Storm King with them.

The Kleppers left Port Angeles Sunday to fly to New York. They sail today on the liner, United States, and expect to arrive in Rosenheim Aug. 30. In their baggage were numerous pieces of driftwood and a Japanese glass ball float, mementoes of their excursions on the beaches here.

NW Senators Would Block Inferior Private Dams

WASHINGTON (AP)— Six senators from the Pacific Northwest Friday proposed legislation to prevent the licensing of inferior private dams that would block construction of federal projects.

The senators, Democrats sponsoring Hells Canyon Dam legislation, prepared for introduction an amendment to the Federal Power Act. They are Sens. Jackson and Magnuson (Wash), Murray and Mansfield (Mont), Church (Idaho) and Neuberger (Ore).

The amendment would apply a new yardstick for licensing of power dams by the Federal Power Commission (FPC). It would require FPC to consider flood control, water storage, irrigation, recreation, navigation and other public benefits in issuing any dam construction license.

Under the amendment the FPC would be required to get specific authorization from Congress in order to license any dam not found to be best adapted to a comprehensive basin development plan.

Magnuson said in a statement that had this amendment been in effect, the FPC would have been required to obtain congressional authorization to license three private power company dams in the Snake River bordering Idaho and Oregon. The three dams, being built by the Idaho Power Co., will flood the site of a proposed high federal Hells Canyon Dam.

Legislation to authorize the federal dam was passed this year by the Senate but has been tabled by a House committee.

Santa Fe, New Mexico, was founded in 1610.

Retarded Children May Be Housed At Selah, Firland

WENATCHEE (AP) — Establishment of retarded-child centers at the tuberculosis sanatorium at Selah and at Firland Sanatorium will be discussed with the new director of institutions when he arrives, Gov. Rosellini said Friday.

The governor made the statement at a meeting of the Washington Assn. for Retarded Children in convention here.

The governor said 250 mentally retarded children could be cared for at Selah shortly after the tuberculosis patients are removed to other hospitals.

"At the Firland Sanatorium," Rosellini said, "we can house another 250 children within a short time and ultimately house perhaps 500."

Firland would continue as a tuberculosis sanatorium, but the retarded children would be housed in a separate wing.

Rosellini said he will take up the matter with Dr. Garrett Heyns when the new director of institutions arrives to take over his duties.

The governor explained use of the two centers is needed to reduce "terrible" overcrowding at Rainier State School and Village which now have 3,300 children and a waiting list of 750. Other ways of solving the problem are also being considered, he said.

Chicago — the first motorist speeder paid a fine of $10 for going 10 miles an hour.

Oregon Seventh Day Adventists Turn Down Money For Textbooks

PORTLAND (AP) — A state Seventh Day Adventist official said in Portland Thursday that Oregon schools operated by the church will not accept state money to pay for textbooks.

Elder George Belleau, religious liberty secretary of the Oregon SDA Conference, said, "liberties of American citizens are being threatened by efforts to break down the wall of separation between church and state."

He said churches operating their own schools have 'no right to ask Mr. Taxpayer to pay any part of the operating expense, and that includes textbooks."

He was referring to an Oregon law, which provides parochial school children with tax-purchased textbooks. He said the Portland SDA Ministerial Conference is opposed unanimously to the action.

"No interference with the state by the church, and no intrusion of the church into politics" are principles of genuine separation of church and state, he said.

Elder Belleau said 2,326 pupils are enrolled in Oregon's 60 SDA schools.

REAL SWITCH

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP)—Ernest Brown will appear in Hudson County Court Sept. 17 on a petition to change his name. His proposed new name: Nasir Ibnu-d-Din. Brown's petition said he has embraced Islam and wants a name "in accordance with the tenets of his religion."

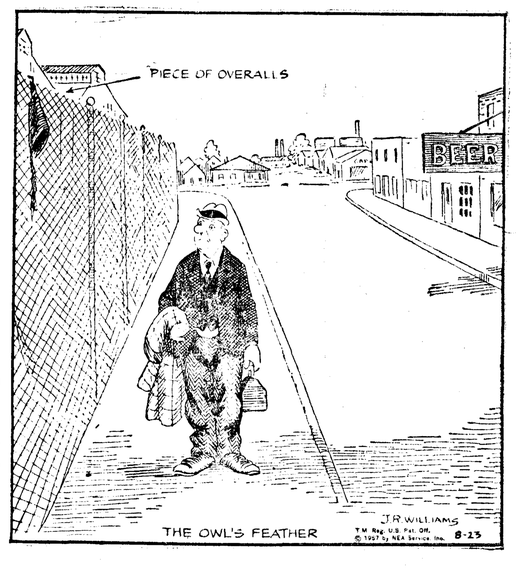
"Pop really gets to enjoy his vacation—he doesn't have to worry about going back to school like we do!"

OUT OUR WAY



By JACK HENSON

In this column several weeks ago was a story headlined "Smiling Olympics." Then the heading was appropriate but on the first week of vacation spent in the mountains I found the Olympics can frown as well as smile.

The clouds were down low and a drizzle of rain was falling and occasionally rain fell like a cloudburst.

Then, after the first week was over, the smiles came back to the mountains. Skies were cloudless, the sun shone all day and a full moon shone in the night sky.

When smiling weather comes to the mountains no place is more pleasant.

With the snow leaving the mountain meadows so early this year, the mountain flowers attained a new glory. Getting an early start in the snowless meadows, the flowers have unusually long stems and as you tramp the meadows you are waist deep in wild flowers.

A constant wonder is the variety of colors of the flowers in the mountain meadows. Predominating are blue, red, white and yellow blooms. Nature seems to have sprinkled them on the meadows to provide a contrast of colors that is pleasant to the eyes.

Some of the flowers have pleasant scents. With a slight breeze blowing the scent of the blooms just seems to waft gently through the air. A lakeside meadow, filled with vari-colored wildflowers, set in a backdrop of evergreen trees and with the scent of the wildflowers in the air provides an experience hard to forget.

HURRICANE RIDGE

As we look south to the sky line from our Port Angeles homes we see Hurricane Ridge.

Sometimes clouds obscure the ridge and are far down on its slopes, looking like a lace curtain fluttering in the breeze. Always the ridge is interesting. Its most interesting phase is when it stands out in front of a clear blue sky.

Now access to the ridge is over a narrow, steep and crooked road that takes off in the Upper Elwha River Valley. Hundreds of cars make the trip yearly over the road to the mountain meadows on the ridge. The ride is a tough one, frightening to persons not accustomed to mountain roads. Invariably, however, the drivers say the trip is worthwhile.

I have talked to persons who have been on the ridge and all concede that when the Heart o' the Hills National Park Highway is complete, traffic to Hurricane Ridge will attain proportions little dreamed of by local folks.

The new highway will have everything. Pleasant driving over a hard surface, marine and lowland views, then the climax of the ridge itself, its mountain flowers and the sweeping view of the snow-clad Olympics.

Olympic National Park visitors, that show a definite increase this season, will grow in numbers when the scenic highway is complete. It will constitute a definite goal for sightseers who, under present conditions, must travel a narrow fire control road to get a peep at the Olympics proper.

Also now camping spots, inside and outside Olympic National Park are overloaded. When the new highway is complete, thought must be given to take care of the increase in travel by providing more camping spots.

Camping out, in the past several years, has become an American way of life. Folks, like snails, now take their homes with them and all the old concepts of accommodations are shattered.

Camping out now seems the thing to do and places to camp must be provided in increasing numbers as the flow of tourist traffic grows heavier.

SOCKEYE PACK HIGH

Amount of sockeye salmon canned on Puget Sound this year, to August 7, is running ahead of same date in 1956 (82,284 48-lb cases in 1957, 72,621 cases in 1956), Milo Moore, director of the Department of Fisheries, announces.

Only once in past ten years has the cycle to which this year's sockeye belong produced more salmon. That was in 1953, when on August 7, 157,694 cases had been canned on Puget Sound. Figures for the same date in other cycle years are: 1945, 55,389 cases; 1949, 52,746 cases.

Pink salmon canning has just begun, but pack this year, as of August 7, is ahead of 1955 — 7,307 cases to 4,869 cases, although total as of that date has been exceeded twice in past ten years —in 1949 (9,008 cases) and 1953 (7,402 cases).

Total Puget Sound sockeye pack in 1956 was 84,218 cases. Pinks canned in 1955 totaled 412,044 cases. Pinks do not run in Puget Sound waters in even years.

HEAVY FISH PLANTING

More salmon for both commercial fishermen and sports anglers in the next few years. That much-desired prospect maybe nearer to fulfillment through the planting this year of record numbers of hatchery-reared salmon by the Department of Fisheries.

A review of operations by the new administration of the state fisheries agency, headed by Director Milo Moore and Assistant Director Clarence Pautzke, revealed plantings this year will total nearly 55 million young salmon, Moore announced.

These salmon are all reared to the best size for survival at sea—fingerlings for chinook and yearlings for silvers. In addtion, the department planted millions of fry of all species to add to the salmon population of the state.

Moore said the record plants this year are but indications of future salmon-rearing plans, which will vigorously emphasize production of all species and utilize techniques and methods not heretofore used in the state.

"We will plant nearly 55 million young salmon this year," Moore said. "Up to June 30 we had released 32,400,000 fall chinook fingerlings and 9,450,000 silver salmon yearlings. In addition we have about 13 million young salmon being held in hatchery ponds for future planting as advanced fingerlings and yearlings."

Previous high record was made in 1955, when 27,079,644 chincok fingerlings and 9,226,690 silver yearlings were planted.

Included in the record releases already made this year were 20,648,575 fall chinook fingerlings and 6,774,169 silver yearlings in the Puget Sound district. In addition Puget Sound streams have received 508,590 silver fingerlings, 8,215,000 chinook and 1,712,800 silver fry, plus 700,000 pink salmon fingerlings from the Hoodsport hatchery. The young pinks were reared from eggs obtained from the Skeena River in British Columbia as part of the department's continuing effort to create a run of even-year pink salmon in Puget Sound waters.

Plants in the lower Columbia River and its tributaries included 7,878,260 fall chinook fingerlings, 3,920,848 silver yearlings and 165,682 spring chinoook yearlings.

Plants in the Grays and Willapa Harbor districts totaled 4,374,081 fall chinook fingerlings and 1,571,225 silver yearlings.

PITCHING

Frank Lary, Tigers — Gave up only four singles, walked none and faced but 29 men while defeating Orioles 4-0 for first shutout by Tiger staff since May 14.

BATTING

Willie Mays, Giants — Hit 28th home run and two doubles, good for a pair of runs, in 6-2 victory over Cubs while edging within eight points of league bat lead at .332.

Two National League Stars Out With Hurts

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Injuries moved smack dab into the middle of the National League pennant picture today with right-hander Bob Buhl, a 16-game winner for first-place Milwaukee, and Stan Musial the batting ace for second-place St. Louis, hit by shoulder miseries.

Adding to the Braves' woes, outfielder Wes Covington has been sidelined for four or five days because of a pulled heel tendon. Shortstop Johnny Logan, outfielder Billy Bruton and first baseman Joe Adcock are already on the injured list.

Buhl, who has won seven straight in Milwaukee's climb to the top although bothered by an inflamed shoulder for a month, returned to Milwaukee for treatment last night as the Braves, playing like champions, plunked third-place Brooklyn 7½ games behind with a 6-1 victory at Ebbets Field.

Musial, the bat leader at .340, gave way with what a preliminary examination revealed as a torn muscle suffered while batting in last night's 6-5 victory at Philadelphia which kept the Cards within 6½ games of first.

Team trainers said Musial, who holds a league record for consecutive games played, may be out several days—"perhaps weeks."

In the other NL games, Pittsburgh beat Cincinnati 8-3, the Redlegs' 10th successive defeat and the longest slump of the year in the league. The New York Giants defeated Chicago's Cubs 6-2 with Willie Mays 3-for-4, including his 28th home run, for a runner-up bat average of .332.

The New York Yankees reverted to form and banged Kansas City 11-4, regaining a 6½-game edge over the idle second-place Chicago White Sox in the American League. Boston whipped Cleveland 11-3 and Detroit trimmed Baltimore 4-0 on the four-hit pitching of Frank Lary.

Boston's Ted Williams, hitless for two days, had two singles in four trips, putting his leading average at .386. Yankee Mickey Mantle, who also had been without a hit for two days, was 1-for-4, but lost another point for a .377 mark.

Chiefs Keep League Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The first place Wenatchee Chiefs continued their mastery of Eugene Thursday night, gaining another full game on the second-place Emeralds with an 8-0 decision on Jerry Johnson's two-hitter.

The decision, the second in as many games for the Chiefs over the Ems, gave Wenatchee a six-game bulge with the Sept. 2 schedule windup rapidly drawing near.

In other contests Thursday night, the Salem Senators blanked Lewiston's Broncs, 6-0, and the Tri-City Braves pounded Yakima 9-3.

Johnson was in command all the way as his mates tagged Eugene pitching for 14 hits. The Chiefs struck for one run in the fourth, two in the fifth, one each in the sixth and seventh and three in the ninth.

ANCHORAGE TEAM IS ELIMINATED

PORTLAND (AP) — Billings, Mont., and Lewiston, Idaho, were winners and Anchorage, Alaska, was eliminated in Thursday night's round of the regional American Legion junior baseball tournament.

Billings racked up its second straight win in downing Seattle, 5-2. Lewiston handed Anchorage its second defeat, 11-4, and knocked the Alaskans out of the double-elimination tournament.

Friday night's schedule will find Billings on the sidelines with a bye, while Lewiston and Portland tangle with the winner meeting Seattle.

DIES DURING FIGHT

SEATTLE (AP)— Frank Cubberly of Naches, a former member of the Republican State Central Committee, collapsed and died at Sick's Stadium during the Pete Rademacher-Floyd Patterson heavyweight title fight Thursday night, apparently from a heart attack. He was 50.

Bilko Still Big Hitter of Angels of Pacific Coast League

By DICK MEISTER
THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If Los Angeles had another Steve Bilko, the Angels might be leading the Pacific Coast League by a dozen games.

But then if there was another Bilko, there might not be any league to lead. Two Bilkos would tear the PCL to pieces.

Thursday night the 230-pound giant hit his 47th home run of the year, a grand-slammer in the bottom of the 10th with two outs that gave Los Angeles a 5-1 victory over Portland.

Homers also provided the margin of victory in Vancouver's 4-2 triumph over San Diego, with Jim Marshall hitting two. The Mountie victory, coupled with San Francisco's 5-3 loss to Seattle, put Vancouver three games from the league-leading Seals. San Diego, in third place, is five games out.

Sacramento won its fourth straight from Hollywood 4-2, keeping the fourth-place Stars seven games off the pace.

Los Angeles winner Ralph Mauriello allowed only four hits. After Portland's Solly Drake opened the game with a single, Mauriello retired 13 men in order.

Marshall's homers were his 21st and 22nd of the season. He also scored a run ahead of Kal Segrist's double to help Charlie Beamon to his 10th pitching victory of the year. Twenty-year-old Gary Bell, first of three San Diego pitchers, was charged with the defeat.

All San Francisco runs came in the first inning, Albie Pearson leading off with a homer. After that, winning pitcher Marion Fricano allowed only two hits while Seattle was getting to three Seal pitchers for nine. The Seals made two errors, setting up four Rainier runs.

Joe Stanka struck out 11 Hollywood batters. Jim Westlake homered for Sacramento with the bases empty.

Chopping Blows Put Rademacher Out In Sixth

By WARD T. SIMS

SEATTLE (AP) — "When somebody's chopping at you with an ax, it's bound to get you."

Pete Rademacher, the Olympic heavyweight champion, thus explained his knockout at the hands of the professional champion of the world, Floyd Patterson, in their title match Thursday night.

Pete, his big, bruised hands soaking in a bucket of ice, was unmarked despite the seven times he hit the canvass, the last time for the count.

Rademacher, his dreams of capturing the heavyweight pro title on his first outing vanished, said he hadn't decided what would be next on his schedule.

"I would like to fight Patterson again," Pete said, "but that's a decision that I won't make for a couple of weeks. Of course, I'll have to work up to it the next time, if there is a next time."

Pete won the Olympic title in Melbourne, Australia, and almost singlehandedly promoted Thursday night's fight with Patterson, the first time that an amateur heavyweight king had stepped into the ring in a title fight against the pro champion.

Rademacher, who decked the champion in the second round, said the punch had a lot of beef behind it.

"The knockdown didn't surprise me as much as it did Floyd," Rademacher said. "I saw the opening, and poured it home. It was a right to the side of the head."

"Floyd told us after the fight it hurt him," George Chemeres, Rademacher's trainer, chimed in. "It was a dandy punch.

"Pete fought the fight we wanted him to fight, but Patterson was just too strong — and fast — for him."

Rademacher said he bruised his right hand in the second round when he hit Patterson on the top of the head. Otherwise the challenger showed no marks of battle.

"I was very pleased to meet the champion," Rademacher said. "He was extremely fair and strong.

"His strongest punch is a short right hand to the head. Those were the shots that got me over the long haul. Each one took a little more out of me.

"His body punches didn't seem to faze me at all.

"Of course, he got to me in the third and it was tough getting up."

Pete said he felt stronger after the fourth round and was just getting his second wind early in the fifth when Patterson downed the Olympic champion four times.

"It was a little more difficult to get up after each knockdown," Pete said. "Those punches just took too much out of me."

Rademacher said he realized that he didn't make any money in his first pro outing — his Georgia backers didn't even get back the $250,000 they had guaranteed Patterson for the fight.

Floyd Patterson

"But that's okeh," Pete said. "I'm happy. I had a fascinating time arranging this thing and seeing it through."

Chemeres closed Rademacher's dressing room to everyone but his handlers and his wife immediately after he left the ring.

About 15 minutes later newsmen were ushered in and found Pete astraddle a bench, his hands in the bucket of ice.

His face, even though he had been defeated, still mirrored the confidence he had expressed before the bout.

Winners of Prelims Listed

SEATTLE (AP) — Results of preliminary bouts on the Pete Rademacher-Floyd Patterson heavyweight championship fight card Thursday night:

Terry Lewis, 237, Spokane, knocked out George Tavares, 213, in first.

Bob Woodall, Boston, stopped Bob Mitchell, Seattle, in third rousd of heavyweight match.

BOW AND ARROW HUNTERS GET CALF

SAN DIMAS, Calif. (AP) — A charge of grand theft has been filed against two bow and arrow hunters accused of setting up a do-it-yourself butcher shop in a farmer's pasture.

The sheriff's office said the pair killed and butchered one calf and wounded another.

Taken into custody were Robert E. Jackson, 19, Azusa, and Donald N. Jensen, 23, Claremont. Detectives Harold Graves and William Carlberg said they traced the arrows to a man who said he made them for Jackson.

The officers said the butchered calf was recovered from Jackson's deep freeze.

BATES GOES HOME

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP) — Stan Bates, the Washington State College athletic director who was hospitalized 17 days at Olympia with a virus infection, has returned home to recuperate.

Bates said Thursday he lost considerable weight but is feeling fine now and expects to resume his duties at WSC in a short time.

Patterson Is Knocked Down By Rademacher

By JACK STEVENSON

SEATTLE, (AP) — Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, knocked down for only the second time in his pro career before stopping amateur king Pete Rademacher last night, gave his foe full credit.

"I don't remember going down, so obviously it was a knockdown," the 22-year-old Floyd said in his hot, crowded dressing room at Sicks Stadium.

"Most everybody underestimated him," Patterson said of the 28-year-old Rademacher. "Fortunately, I didn't.

"I underestimated his punching power but not his ability. He's fresh from winning the Olympic heavyweight title, and eager. He has the qualifications of a future great fighter but he lacks experience."

Patterson said he was surprised by the knockdown but didn't feel he was in any trouble. He appeared unmarked as he dropped his hands in a bucket of ice water, and talked calmly.

"Rademacher was a much harder puncher than Hurricane Jackson but he doesn't have the stamina."

Told he appeared disgusted when Rademacher went down for his fourth count of nine in the fifth stanza, Patterson replied: "Why should I have been disgusted. I wasn't going down."

Floyd said Rademacher stung him after the second round but didn't again connect with a really stiff punch.

"I was catching him often but not catching him flush," he said of the six knockdowns that preceded the finisher.

Patterson was knocked down only once before in his career on a sneak right hand by Jacques Crecy-Royer early in his career while he still was a light heavyweight.

Asked the reason Rademacher's good early showing didn't surprise him, Patterson replied: "He was an Olympic champion. I was an Olympic champion once too and I know how tough they have to be."

Patterson's manager, Cus D'Amato, remained noncommital on future plans for the champion.

"I can't say at this time," was his only comment. Earlier he stated he has a pair of $250,000 offers already.

Fight Backers Take Big Loss

SEATTLE (AP) — One of the most unique fights ever staged, the Patterson-Rademacher heavyweight title bout Thursday night, found the champion reaping $250,000 and the challenger's backers losing about half that much with no surprise.

The Georgia business men who backed Pete Rademacher put up the $250,000 guarantee. They knew before the fight went on it could not possibly gross more than $400,000.

That was the outlook if all 25,000 seats were filled. They weren't. With both television and radio banned, the total gross gate was $243,030. The net was reported as $209,556.

Promoter Jack Hurley took 40 per cent.

The Rademacher camp took 60 per cent of the gate —the shares of both fighters. This would amount to about $125,730. But Pete's backers have said they looked upon the fight as an investment in their corporation, "Youth Unlimited Inc.," of which Rademacher is a vice president.

There were rumors that Cus D'Amato, Patterson's manager, might do as he did after the champion defeated Tommy Jackson in New York and take 40 per cent of the gate instead of the guarantee.

Said D'Amato: "Definitely not."

Logart Fights Byars Tonight

DETROIT (AP) — Cuban welterweight Isaac Logart risks his No.2 ranking Friday night against up-and-coming Walter Byars of Boston in a 10-round bout at Detroit's Olympia Stadium.

"I reesk nothing," said Logart. "I ween thees one beeg and then I ween championship—then I have beeg money."

Logart, who says he is two years younger than the 24 years the record books indicate, has a wide edge in experience over the light-punching Easterner. In 61 professional fights, Logart has won 50, lost 6 and fought five draws.

He is a solid 11-5 favorite to defeat the 25-year-old Byars, the ex-marine who has had only 21 pro bouts. Byars has been brought along rapidly and has won 16 of his 21 fights. He will be out to break a two-fight losing streak, having dropped decisions recently to Tony DeMarco, the No. 1 challesger to Carmen Basilio's title, and Virgil Akins.

Logart, too, will be trying to bounce back. He lost a 12-round decision to Gaspar Ortega his last time out on May 10.

Hollywood Wins Softball Game

BREMERTON, Wash. (AP) —The Seattle Hollywood Queens beat the Centralia, Wash., Stars, 15-0, and the Bremerton Green Jackets defeated Tacoma Hollywood Boats, 14-1, Thursday night in the opening round of the Pacific Northwest Women's regional Softball Tournament.

Friday night's schedule in the double elimination tourney sends Centralia against Tacoma and Seattle against the Erv Lind Florist entry from Portland which drew a first-round bye.

Bremerton plays the Forest Grove, Ore., Meadowlarks in a third game Friday night. The Meadowlarks also drew a first-round bye.

TRAIN SMASHES PLANE

CORONA, Calif. (AP) —Gene Maxwell's light plane is a wreck. It seems that a train hit it.

Maxwell, 31, was practicing landings when he lost power, brushed some trees and made a near-perfect forced landing — except for one detail. He landed on the Santa Fe right-of-way.

While he was checking his plane and his only injury, a scratched arm, he heard a train whistle. He and several bystanders were still trying to drag the two-seater off the tracks when a freight train, bound for Santa Ana, Calif., reached the scene.

Officers listed it as Corona's first train-vs.-airplane accident.

NW Can Become Smog-Ridden, Say Experts

TACOMA (AP) — The Pacific Northwest, land of tall trees and pure air, could become a smog-ridden image of Los Angeles if corrective measures are not taken to curb air pollution.

That is the consensus expressed by air polution experts attending the two-day Pacific Northwest Air polution training course at the Tacoma vocational school.

Joel Durnin, Tacoma's air pollution control engineer, said that automobile manufactuers are working on methods to curb pollution from exhaust fumes.

"Next," he said, smiling, "we may need a new kind of filter on pipes and cigarettes — one that will take out the irritants that go up in smoke."

Air pollution men have said the heavy moisture-laden air in Washington and Oregon makes a wonderful trap for smoke, holding it down in the valleys and over densely populated areas.

"Air pollution is dynamite on white shirts, curtains and the laundry that is hung on the clothesline to dry," said Durnin. "It also does some damage to plant and animal life."

Most of the air pollution men agreed Washington and Oregon have avoided eye-smarting smog to date mainly because they don't have enough automobiles and smoke-producing industrial plants to saturate the air.

Sulphur dioxide, the irritant that causes eyes and lungs to burn, is not present in abnormal quantities yet.

"But," said Durnin, "it's only a matter of time, if we don't act now."

Oregon Legislature Called To Provide Tax Reductions

BULLETIN

SALEM, Ore. (AP) — Gov. Holmes Friday ordered a special session of the Oregon Legislature for Oct. 28 to provide 17 million dollars of property and income tax relief.

The governor said that because the surplus in the general fund will be far greater than anticipated, he hoped the Legislature would:

1. Provide 10 million dollars of property tax relief during the present two-year budget period by increasing the basic school support fund by $10 per census child.

2. Provide 6 million dollars annual income tax relief through reduced income taxes.

The governor said the net result would be 17 million dollars of tax relief this year, and 22 millions per biennium thereafter.

The governor predicted that the general fund surplus would be 70 million dollars next June 30, compared to 48 millions now. The recent Legislature had anticipated a 37 million dollar surplus.

The governor blamed "inaccurate estimates by the previous tax commission" for the higher income tax rates adopted by the 1957 Legislature.

There is no limit on the length of a special session. There used to be a 20-day limit, but that limit was removed at the 1950 general election.

The last special session was held in 1935 to plan construction of a new capitol to replace the one that had burned.

Member of Former Local Family Hurt In Highway Crash

A member of a former Port Angeles family is in critical condition in the Shelton General Hospital following a car crash in northern Mason County early Thursday which took the lives of two other youths.

He is Ronald E. Goos, 19, son of the late Earl Goos and Mrs. John Kneeland of Shelton. Mrs. W. D. Morrisey, 1221 S. Chase, is the boy's grandmother.

The family moved from here about 12 years ago. Ronald, a 1957 graduate of Shelton High School, was a standout football player while in school.

Brazzi and Tozzi Both Singing Role In 'South Pacific'

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)— Who's singing the Ezio Pinza role in "South Pacific?"

You could answer Rossano Brazzi and Giorgio Tozzi and be right both times. And if you don't mind the observation — both rhyme with hotsy - totsy.

"I have sung a little bit," Brazzi told me before leaving for the "South Pacific" shooting in the Hawaiian Islands. "Mostly it was on the stage in the earlier part of my career.

"The studio has worked out a method like that used by Deborah Kerr in "The2 King and I." I'll do most of the songs, but Tozzi's voice will be used for the high and low notes. It has worked out very well. Although he was born in Chicago, he sounds like me."

Tozzi is the operatic basso who played the Pinza role opposite Mary Martin in the local civic light opera run of "Sopac" this summer.

BOONES MOVING

In 1958, California can add five more to the thousands who are coming to live on these shores. They'll be Pat Boone and family.

The crooner said the deciding factor would be how his film career pans out.

There doesn't seem to be much doubt about his film career — Twentieth Century - Fox figures him to be a draw long after the fad for Elvis Presley dies out. . .

LEAVES HIM COLD

I'm sorry to say that I couldn't care less about Warners' new release, "The James Dean Story." I read that it's well done, but I fail to see the point in it, except to capitalize on the waning and somewhat morbid craze over the late actor . . .

CHAMPIONS AGAIN

Marge and Gower Champion are putting on another of their fine shows at the Cocoanut Grove these nights. Seems to me they got a fast shuffle with their TV show. It had freshness and some wonderful dancing, but got dropped by an impatient sponsor . . .

Highly recommended: "The Pajama Game," as bouncy and breezy a musical as you'll find this season. John Raitt impresses as a virile singing star and Doris Day is wonderful, freckles and all . . .

M. S. YELLE DIES

OLYMPIA (AP) — M. S. (Sid) Yelle, former state official and brother of State Auditor Cliff Yelle, died here Friday after an extended illness.

Yelle, 50, formerly was executive assistant to former Atty. Gen. Smith Troy. During the past four years he was employed by an investment firm.

He is survived by his wife, Ruth; two brothers, Cliff and Clem Yelle, and a sister, Mrs. Gerald Drazen of Spokane.

DIES IN NEWPODT

NEWPORT, Ore. (AP)— A man vacationing here from Spokane died Wednesday evening of what the coroner's office said was an apparent heart attack.

The victim, Hugh D. Pace, 64, had been staying at a motel here since last week. The coroner's office said he was supervisor of parking meters at Spokane.

Survivors were listed as his widow, Edith, San Francisco, and a daughter, Mrs. Jayne Standish, whose address was not known here.

FORMER IWW DIES

PORTLAND (AP) — Funeral services are pending here for Tom Burns, a watchmaker, former member of the International Workers of the World and unofficial mayor of Portland's West Burnside Street.

Burns, who once remarked that he was in jail more times than he could remember when active is the IWW labor movement, died Monday. He was 81.

His widow and a daughter survive.

Russian Project May Test Theory Time Slows On Speeding Objects

By RENNIE TAYLOR
AP Science Reporter

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP) — Russian scientists are working on a project which might be used to prove or disprove the theory that time slows down on objects traveling at high speed.

Their immediate goal, as explained by one of them last night, is to produce an electronic wave which does not vary in frequency by more than one part in 100 million million.

The slowdown hypothesis is a part of the Einstein theory. In effect, it says that time passes more slowly on objects traveling at great speeds and that it stops altogether for one traveling at the speed of light.

Light travels at more than 186,000 miles per second. The most accurate methods of measuring at present do not detect any slowdown of time on objects moving that fast. They do show things traveling at near the velocity of light increase in weight and this added weight reduces their speed.

By developing a method to measure time in trillionths of a second or even finer than that, scientists might be able to detect incredibly small chronological slowdowns on things traveling at rocket speeds, such as velocities of a few thousand miles an hour. This might be done by harnessing a rocket with a microwave transmitter that would send out a wave of near perfect timing.

If this wave itself slowed down on the speeding rocket, it would demonstrate the validity of the Einstein relativity effect on time.

Steps toward producing such a precise wave were described to the Western Electronics Show and convention by Prof. A. M. Prochorov, a member of a 16-man Soviet delegation attending the meeting.

The work involves the use of an ammonia molecule, which vibrates naturally with great precision but not accurately enough to detect the Einstein effect. Prof. Prochorov described means of stabilizing this vibration by applying additional radiation to it.

Some progress has been made but the Russians still are far from their goal of high precision, the Soviet scientist said.

PSC Announces Fine On Logging Operator

OLYMPIA (AP)— The State Public Service Commission said Thursday it had levied a $600 fine against Silverdale Fuel and Transfer Co. of Silverdale, Kitsap County, for six counts of operating without permit authority and applying the wrong rate or billing.

Other penalties announced by the commission included:

Reid Priest of Port Angeles and Novak Logging Co. of Sultan, $100 each for operating without permit authority.

Estimated Damages Total $1,200 In Highway Accidents

A woman driver escaped serious injury and damage to two cars amounted to an estimated $1,200 in two accidents on Highway 101 east of the city Wednesday.

State Patrolman James S. Hughes reported Jennie W. Rothsweiler, 58, of San Lorenzo received only minor bruises when her 1956 sedan went out of control and overturned while rounding the curve on the east side of Morse Creek hill.

Hughs estimated the damage to the vehicle at $700. The accident occurred at 3:20 p.m.

A rear-end collision caused an estimated $500 in damages to a vehicle driven by John O. Dailey, 24, of Rt. 2, Port Angeles on Highway 101 just east of the city limits at 7:15 p.m.

Hughes said Dailey slowed to turn off the highway and his car was struck from the rear by a vehicle driven by Bert L. Whelard, 47, of Port Townsend. The patrolman reported Whelard's car was not damaged.
