Population jumps 3,000; issue carries 448-259

Port Angeles' population count goes up by some 3,000 persons following Thursday's annexation election.

Residents in the prescribed area south of the city elected to become a part of Port Angeles by a 448 to 259 vote. County Auditor R. A. Fleming estimates the population of the area at a little more than 3,000.

In contrast to the annexation election last Dec. 13, every precinct involved voted to be annexed. Only one precinct, Fogarty, voted for annexation in the first election.

HERE IS THE way the voting went by precinct: Mt. Angeles, 18 for, 6 against; John Donahue, 143-38; Fogarty, 192-90; Geraghty, 90-75, and Black Diamond, 5-0.

Out of the approximate 1,100 registered voters in the area, 707 went to the polls to cast ballots in the election. This is about 64.2 per cent of the registered voters. Approximately 63.6 per cent of the voters were in favor of the proposition.

FLEMING REPORTS 20 absentee ballots were cast, not enough to make any difference in the result even if the entire 20 voted against annexation.

There are two main steps left before the area officially becomes a part of the city.

First, the Clallam County Board of Commissioners must officially canvass the vote and formally notify the city of the result.

Then the City Council must pass an ordinance officially accepting the area as a part of the city.

A MEETING of the commissioners is scheduled for Monday to make the vote canvass. Unless the City Council decides to take action in a special meeting, the acceptance ordinance will come up at the May 4 meeting.

City Manager M. W. Slankard said this morning he was preparing a resume of the official procedure for Council members.

Still another task faces the city in connection with the annexation. Under present state law, the mayor must order a census of the area.

THE LAW STATES the city must make a count of the dwellings in the new area and multiply that number by 2.95. The census figures gained under this formula then must be reported to the States Census Board.

A new formula is provided in a law passed by the last State Legislature, but it does not go into effect until June 8.

In a statement Thursday night immediately after the unofficial vote tabulation ended, Mayor James E. Maxfield said the city is prepared to take over its responsibilities in the new area just as soon as the annexation becomes official.

Group seeks federal aid for irrigation

County Commissioner Val Cameron phoned Senator Henry M. Jackson in Washington, D. C. Thursday to expedite any federal assistance that can be granted a group of farmers for an irrigation project in the Sequim area.

Allen D. Busenbark of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service told the commissioners of the farmers' problem Thursday.

The 21 families, owning 1,814 acres of land three miles east of Sequim estimated the irrigation project they want would cost $71,000. They felt they could finance this by contributing $50 per acre and with the assistance of $17,500 promised them by the county Agriculture Stabilization Conservation Committee.

This committee, composed of local farmers, is authorized to apportion certain federal funds allotted to the county by the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture each year for conservation, Busenbark explained.

The lowest bid submitted for the project however was $95,777.

The commissioners told Busenbark they would investigate and see if any other assistance is available.

Meeting on Dungeness Spit access set

The Board of Clallam County Commissioners Thursday noted some progress in the problem of public access to Dungeness Spit which has attracted considerable attention from various interested groups for a number of years.

County Prosecutor Howard V. Doherty has been in touch with the owner of the property which blocks access from the end of a present county road to the Spit. He is Walter B. Mellus, now residing in Longview.

Mellus is agreeable to a discussion of the problem. Doherty, Mellus and the commissioners plan a meeting May 20 or 27.

Infant flown to Seattle hospital

A nine-month-old girl from Port Angeles is in fair condition at the Children's Orthopedic Hospital in Seattle following an emergency flight from here Thursday by a Coast Guard plane.

Susan Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Gray of Port Angeles was considered in critical condition when the flight was made. Her doctor reported her condition improved and she was taken off the critical list Thursday night.

Gray is an airman at the Makah Air Force Station at Neah Bay.

X15 blasts controlled speed mark

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—An X15 rocket plane, its big engine wide open, streaked 3,140 miles an hour today—a record for controlled flight.

Air Force Maj. Bob White topped by 235 m.p.h. his own mark of 2,905 m.p.h. set March 7 with the X15's 57,000-pound thrust engine at half throttle.

U.S. space agency officials were careful to point out this was a record for controlled flight, thus avoiding any conflict with Soviet claims of orbiting a manned capsule at 17,000 miles an hour. The man in the Soviet capsule, they said, apparently had little or no control over his vehicle.

White set his speed mark on the way up to a planned peak of 103,000 feet, far below the X15's record of 169,600 feet March 30. The stubby-winged X15 may eventually rocket 50 to 100 miles high but is not designed to go into orbit.

Ediz Hook may get new boating facilities

Additional facilities for fishermen may be available on Ediz Hook beginning this summer as a result of action taken by the City Council at its meeting Thursday night.

The Council offered A. C. Ramsdell a lease on 100 feet of property just east of the Shingle Mill burner on a year-to-year arrangtment. Payment would be $100 the first year, $200 the second year, with the rate to be negotiated each year thereafter. The lease would also include a clause protecting the city in the event Ramsdell sold the business.

RAMSDELL REQUESTED the lease to install a bait and tackle house and a small boat landing. He is a licensed boat operator and has been operating out of Port Angeles the past three years.

The Council whole-heartedly approved this type of development for the Hook but objected to the terms Ramsdell had requested, which would have tied up the valuable property for a long time.

Ramsdell had asked for a ten-year lease with an option to negotiate a renewal. He offered $25 per year and felt the Council's financial terms were "pretty high" compared to what the Salmon Club pays.

IN ANSWER to this, Councilman Nathan G. Richardson noted profits from the Salmon Club actually revert back to the city in benefits from the Salmon Derby held each September.

Joe Faires, operator of the Boat Haven, objected to the lease on the grounds that Ron Little had already made a big investment at the Salmon Club in an all-out effort to supply adequate boating facilities. He also felt the location of the proposed lease so near the Crown Zellerbach booming grounds would create problems.

Council members felt neither of these objections were the concern of the Council.

Courthouse grounds to get 'dressing up'

The grounds of the Clallam County Courthouse will take on a "new look" as a result of a monetary award from the Sears Roebuck Foundation for Urban Renewal.

The Port Angeles Garden Club's share of the foundation's grant to the Olympic Peninsula Dist. of Washington State Garden Clubs is 13 trees. These will be planted on the courthouse grounds, the club's tree committee headed by Mrs. J. E. Niemeyer informed the Board of Clallam County Commissioners.

Spring's sprung and that's all

WALPOLE, Mass. (AP)— The Mentor, a monthly newspaper published by the inmates of the state prison, came out today with an editorial on the arrival of spring.

Crocuses are in bloom along the walk inside the wall, the editorial reported. Trees, which can be seen over the wall, are budding.

In fact, said the editorial, "everything seems to be breaking out—except the convicts!"

County delays transfer

The Board of Clallam County Commissioners deferred until May 5 action on transferring funds from the treasurer to the current expense fund for operation of a number of county offices because the departments have not complied with the commissioners' earlier request to cut down expenses.

In their meeting here Thursday, the commissioners noted the budget cuts were made when the county's receipts did not meet the amount anticipated and feel they have to have the cooperation of county department heads to keep the county solvent.

FOLLOWING A hearing at 2 p.m., the commissioners adopted the customary one per cent levy on real estate sales.

In answer to a question from Nathalie Angiuli of Sequim, chairman Thomas Mansfield noted the tax was authorized by a 1953 law but must be levied each year on the request of the schools. All but one per cent goes to schools. One per cent goes to the county current expense fund. Six schools requested the tax be levied this year.

TAKING UP a matter, the commissioners have been considering for some time, they instructed Secretary Harriet Hansen to write City Manager M. W. Slankard inviting a City Council committee to meet with the commissioners May 19 to discuss consolidation of the city and county jails.

Commissioner E. L. Critchfield feels considerable money can be saved by both city and county residents by such a move.

A LETTER from Bert Cole's Department of Natural Resources' office in Olympia brought high praise for Durwood Clare, civil defense director for Clallam County.

The letter commended Clare for the work which the department felt was helping to eliminate the complacent attitude so many people had for this work.

Clare has given talks and showed films at several schools, Grange meetings and promoted a well-attended exhibit at the recent Home Show.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, the commissioners:

Granted the city a franchise to install water mains along certain county roads.

Accepted a bid of $1,205 for a six - volt weed sprayer from Rhodes Chemical Co. of Gates, Wash., allowing an additional $60 if it is necessary to get a 12-volt sprayer.

Approved transfer of a liquor license from William H. MacDonald to Ronald and Jack Little at the Thunderbird Boathouse, Ediz Hook.

REFERRED to the county prosecutor a contract with the Chicago Milwaukee Railroad Co. regarding relocation of an undercrossing just east of Morse Creek.

Noted $18,943 in transmittals from the Dept. of Natural Resources.

Approved transfer of the $60 rental allowed the prosecutor from the Aldwell Bldg. Corp. to the Evening News Building where the office will be located May 1.

Fresh guerrillas set sail for Cuba

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Undeterred by one defeat on Cuban beaches, from 500 to 1,500 fresh guerrillas are sailing in the direction of Cuba, exile sources in Florida declared today.

The original force that struck the southern coast of Cuba Monday has been variously reported at from 500 to 1,000 men. How many escaped into the mountains is not known.

Both sides admitted severe casualties in the fighting. Various roundabout reports from Cuba have said from 350 to 500 prisoners were taken by Fidel Castros forces.

A British correspondent in Havana said there were unconfirmed reports in the somber capital that thousands were killed on the invasion beachhead about 100 miles southeast of the capital in Matanzas Province.

The rebel radio on Swan Island off the coast of Central America asserted without confirmation from any other source that new but small landings already had been made in Cuba.

RADIO CHARGED

The Cuban radio charged Monday's invaders arrived in "North American military transports" escorted by "Yankee destroyers" after being trained by U. S. officers in Guatemala.

The insurgent "army of liberation" in a broadcast from the interior in turn charged that the Soviet Union, Red China and Communist Czechoslovakia were actively aiding Fidel Castro's forces.

John Bland, Reuters correspondent reporting from Havana, said there was no mass rejoicing in the tense capital when the Castro regime announced victory in the battle of the beachhead.

There were a few small parades by trucks filled with soldiers or militiamen but only thin crowds watched, he said.

The correspondent said there was no word in Havana of the fate of other landings reported in western and eastern Cuba.

Castro has not appeared in Havana and Bland repeated earlier reports that the prime minister was said to be somewhere in the interior directing the operations against the anti-Castro forces.

Bland found no confirmation of reports in the United States that Castro may have been incapacitated by bombing in the beachhead fighting.

"STUPID DECLARATION"

A Havana radio commentator, speaking about President Kennedy's declaration that the United States will not abandon Cuba to the Communists, called it "the stupid declarations of an illiterate millionaire."

Kennedy avoided further questions on Cuba at a Washington news conference today but said the United States is consulting with other American nations on the Cuban crisis.

The Swiss Embassy in Havana said at least 18 Americans had been rounded up but the total might be twice that number.

Cuban broadcasts said prisoners captured on the beach told of being trained and brought to the beachhead in "North American transports." Among the announced prisoners is a son of Dr. Jose Miro Cardona, head of the rebel movement in the United States, Havana asserted.

NO LINK UP

The broadcast asserted not a single invader succeeded in fighting inland to a linkup with guerrillas. But the insurgent broadcast denied this, saying the "army of liberation" is firmly entrenched in the Escambray Mountains of central Cuba.

May lag Russ 10 years

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy said today the United States may lag behind Russia in space for the next 10 years but is bending every effort to become first to the moon.

The President at his news conference studiously avoided questions about Cuba and the speech he made Thursday saying the United States would not hesitate to act alone against communism in this hemisphere if necessary to protect its own security.

And he said he has no new information on a cease-fire in Laos.

But on the general subject of Communist tyranny he declared, "It is a matter to which we must address all our energy and all our attention."

He described this as a major problem for a decade ahead.

Kennedy said his administration would carefully consider venturing into new space projects to determine "whether a real success can be achieved or whether we are so far behind now in this particular race we are going to be second in this decade."

Kennedy said the Saturn vehicle, the Nova and Rover projects are being speeded up with additional funds and that the government will spend about $2 billion on space next year.

But he said the Saturn would not get us to the moon and declared: "We have to consider whether there is any program now regardless of its cost which offers us hopes of being pioneers in a project."

Saturn is the U.S. project of building a more powerful rocket. Nova contemplates a cluster of Saturn rockets. Rover is a project to build a nuclear rocket.

This was the President's 10th news conference and 402 newsmen turned out. It was a closed meeting—taped for later broadcast or telecast.

Hook clean up

Council views improvements

A suggestion from Councilman Dalton W. Thorne to improve the appearance of Ediz Hook with parking area paving brought an objection from a city resident at the Council meeting Thursday night.

Thorne suggested City Manager M. W. Slankard be instructed to clean up refuse on the Spit and grade and pave the parking areas. William Schultz objected, saying he felt any available asphalt should be used on city streets.

THORNE'S SUGGESTION came up when the Council approved a request from Slankard to call for bids for 3,000 tons of asphaltic concrete for normal summer repair work.

The Council took no specific action on the matter other than noting that the areas on which the asphaltic concrete is used each year is at the discretion of the Council.

Turning to the problem of safe pedestrian traffic down the hill from Haynes Park on E. Front St., the Council instructed Slankard to see if some way could be found to prevent cars parking on the walking area, thus alleviating the problem to some extent.

THE COUNCIL has been considering a sidewalk for this area. City Attorney Tyler C. Moffett informed them last night this could not be done and charged against the owners. The area is to large.

A third claim for damages from last January's flood brought up the problem of insurance. A claim from C. E. Sylvia brought the total of flood damage claims to $21,000. Moffett noted the city's coverage for any one event is $10,000.

The Council referred this last claim to the attorney and instructed Slankard to review the city's insurance and report back to the Council.

THE COUNCIL also set a total price of $300 plus taxes and assessments on three lots on the hillside overlooking the Tumwater Truck Rt. as established by a Council committee.

A question from Councilman Murray F. Randall to Moffett started a discussion on the pending negotiations with the county regarding the lease for the fairgrounds. Randall wants to be certain the city's investment in the Go-Kart Track is protected.

Following the discussion, the Council instructed the attorney to negotiate the lease with the county as outlined in the discussion and submit it to the Council for approval.

BRUCE CUDD, representing the Olympic Saddle Club, asked permission to set in with the city attorney and county officials when the lease is negotiated. He noted it takes time to get the track in shape for the horse races.

Danny Smith of the Port Angeles Kart Club emphasized as he has before, all his group wants to cooperate in every possible way. Another Go Kart member told the Council the track had been dragged Wednesday night to take care of some damage that had been done.

The men noted the track was being damaged by motorists driving on the track, not go-kart drivers.

SLANKARD CALLED the Council's attention to errors in a letter to the editor from Cecil R. Bailey in Wednesday's Evening News. The figures Bailey quoted, Slankard noted, referred to 21 subdivisions from the Dry Creek Grange to Morse Creek and up to the Nursing Home, an area vastly greater than that voted on for annexation Thursday.

While Bailey's figures were probably right for this greater area, they would lead to misunderstandings, Slankard noted, if people thought they referred to the area voted into the city Thursday.

BEFORE ADJOURNING, Mayor James E. Maxfield noted a bill passed by the State Legislature this year, allowing cities to use private firms for their audits, thus saving cities considerable money.

These private auditors would have to be approved and pass examinations, and the audits would still be under the scrutiny of the State Auditor.

Maxfield brought up the matter because petitions are being circulated to put this on a referendum. He feels it is a good bill and sees no reason to retract it.

Fair funds trouble county

The problem of how to handle county fair funds went round and round for several hours at the Board of Clallam County Commissioners' meeting Thursday.

The question came up when members of the County Fair Board asked for a solution to the problem of making out a voucher every time they needed to mail a letter.

The answer to that was simple —a petty cash fund. The commissioners also noted a revolving fund could be established in a local bank during the month of the fair so that bills for the fair could be paid directly by check.

BUT JACK HOOVER, secretary of the County Fair Assn., wanted such a revolving fund on a 12-month basis. This could not be done, both commissioners and County Auditor R. A. Fleming agreed.

The problem is complicated by the several sources of county fair funds. Some comes from the state parimutuel funds, some from the county, some from county fair receipts and some from other activities of the County Fair Association.

UNTIL A FEW years ago all of the money was kept in the fair association treasury. When this was declared illegal, all of the funds were transferred to the county treasury, although moneys earned by the fair association, other than during the county fair itself, belong to the association and can remain in its own keeping.

Hoover was not happy with the commissioners' action. He wants the $7,000 now in the county fair budget put in a revolving fund in the association's name right now. If not, he said, he wants the association's own money back.

FLEMING TOLD him most of this surplus was used up in improvements at the fairgrounds last year.

Hoover based his arguments on a recent meeting he had with Fleming and one of the state auditors but he and Fleming disagreed on the meaning of the discussions.

Ed Gaul, chairman of the County Fair Board, emphasized Hoover's views did not reflect the opinions of the other members of the board.

The Fair Assn. was formed in 1933 to operate the county fair for the commissioners. By-laws of the association provide for one director from each Grange to serve on the County Fair Board.

Anita Boyd wins award at Auburn show local 4-H and FFA members attend

Anita Boyd, 16-year-old high school junior, was judged best "business man" of the Northwest Junior Livestock Show at Auburn last weekend.

Miss Boyd won the 4-H Practical Application Project award, based on excellence of record keeping and business management. She raised five head of beef cattle in her 4-H project the past year. Two of her sisters were entered in the show.

In addition to raising livestock, she has carried out a 4-H sewing project for four years, is active in church and school affairs and is an honor student.

The award was announced at the annual awards banquet Friday night, attended by 350 participating 4-H and FFA members, parents, vocational agriculture instructors, 4-H leaders and county agents.

There were 240 4-H and FFA members showing 280 head of steers, lambs and hogs at the show. This is the first year local 4-H members have participated and the second year for local FFA boys. Seven of them entered a total of 10 steers and took part in the fitting and showing, and judging contest.

They observed the selection of animals on the basis of market grading and saw their animals graded as to quality of meat: Prime, choice, good or standard grade. The animals were sold at auction on this grading basis.

THE GRAND champion 4-H steer, a 1,085 lb. Hereford, brought 91 cents per pound. The FFA grand champion Angus sold for 50 cents per pound. Other steers ranged in price from 27 to 35 cents.

4-H members attending were David Griffith, Terry Peterson and Anita Boyd accompanied by Mrs. Irvin Boyd.

FFA members from Sequim were Terry Jackson, Keith Medsker, Bob Stipe, Tom Needham, and Eugene Teesdale, FFA advisor.

Mrs. Nelson reports the group's goals for the coming year are continued displays of art work and better heating for the reading rooms. Members planned to contact newcomers to the area, distribute library information and take books to the rest homes.

Refreshments were served after the meeting to approximately 35. Among those attending were Mrs. A. H. Ferguson, local librarian, and Misses Hope Hodges and Primrose Bredl from the county library.

Striking Castro down could mean disorder

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — "When you strike at a king," Emerson said, "you must kill him."

If Fidel Castro is truly badly damaged, perhaps mentally, as some Cuban rebel reports say he was during an invasion bombing, then the anti-Castroites may have suceeded just as they were conceding their assault had fizzled.

Castro is the cement which holds his regime together, the rallying point for both his supporters among the masses and those close to him. If he's out of the way, Cuba may fall into disorder.

Because of that very possibility it is extraordinary, from a revolutionary standpoint, that an attempt was not made to kill Castro just before the invasion began. Maybe it was.

But in the meantime President Kennedy—who helped the rebel invaders with moral support, if nothing else—suffered damage in Western Europe and no doubt in the Communist and other non-Communist parts of the world.

BADLY TIMED

If the invasion was truly a failure—as reports indicate—then it appears to have been badly timed, poorly organized, and clumsily conceived.

Since nothing suceeds like success, if the invasion had overthrown Castro then foreign criticism of American support for the rebels might have receded, provided Castro's successors didn't set up a reactionary dictatorship instead.

Editorial writers from Sweden to Italy, including some in Britain, were critical of Kennedy's handling of the Cuban crisis. Almost all European journals brushed aside Washington's disclaimer of U. S. complicity in the invasion.

It seems reasonable to believe —if Castro has survived and his government has really smashed the attempt to unseat him—that Communist sympathy in Latin America and backward areas of the world will get a lift, for this reason:

RED HELP

Castro was armed with Communist weapons and, according to reports, had the help of Red satellite technicians in training his forces for just such an event as the attempt to overthrow him.

And the failure of the invasion against this Communist citadel only 90 miles from the United States is hardly likely to strengthen the will to resist among American allies in Southeast Asia so close to the gigantic Communist state of Red China and far from the United States.

Kennedy's tough talk to American newspaper editors here Thursday is still not clear in its immediate meaning for Cuba and Castro.

He said that if the 20 American Republics linked with this country in a treaty to resist "Communist penetration" in this hemisphere failed to live up to it, "then I want it clearly understood that this government will not hesitate in meeting its primary obligations which are to the security of our nation."

He did say this invasion was not the "final episode in the eternal struggle of liberty against tyranny, anywhere on the face of the globe, including Cuba itself."

New advance would carry past old high

By SYLVIA PORTER

We have now entered a cycle of economic advance which will carry us past the old business highs in the fall, on to unparalleled peaks by the year end, then into a broad expansion lasting through 1962 and into 1963 at least.

This is a generality based on the way our economy usually has acted after mild recessions, and by every yardstick except the rate of joblessness this has been a mild recession. It's also a fairly safe generalization in view of the evidence accumulating by the day that the low of the 1960-61 recession was touched in March and that we are now generating the forces for new growth.

But in the privacy of their research offices, economists are being a lot more specific than this. Just as I used the key indicators of the National Bureau of Economic Research to try to chart the over-all timing and pattern of the new expansion in yesterday's column, so they are using the record of each indicator in the previous three post-World War II upswings to project what might happen to each indicator in this upswing.

ONE WHO has done this is Dr. Leonard H. Lempert, director of Statistical Indicator Associates in North Egremont, Mass., and a long - time student of the NBER indicators. Lempert has plotted the percentage changes in our economy six months and a year after the recession lows were reached in 1949, 1954 and 1958 and from these has come to some informed guesses on possible percentage changes six months and a year following this recession low in March.

"It is a bit presumptuous," admits Lempert, "to forecast blandly specific levels six months ahead, let alone 12 months ahead" —and indeed it is, for this is so rigid a statistical approach, omits so many vital imponderables. Nevertheless, Lempert has done it and since I suspect you are as fascinated as I am by projections such as this, here are Lempert's "guideposts" for September 1961 and March 1962.

OUR TOTAL ECONOMY, meaning the value of all the goods and services we produce. Lempert sees our gross national product up 4.8 per cent by September, up 11 per cent from the recession low to an unprecedented $557 billion by next March.

Nonfarm employment. Up less than 1 per cent by fall, up 3½ per cent by next March — new records but hardly sensational increases.

Rate of unemployment. Down 2 per cent from the recession peak by fall, down 17 per cent by spring of 1962. This pace of decline still would keep our rate of joblessness at 5.8 per cent by the yearend.

Net corporate profits. Up 21.4 per cent by September, 43 per cent by spring. Impressive though these increases seem, they're much slower than the percentage rises after the 1954 and 1958 recessions.

Industrial production. Up 6.7 per cent by fall, 13.7 per cent in early 1962, matching the lowest percentage increases recorded in the three postwar advances before this one.

Common stock prices. Up 11.6 per cent by September, up 24.4 per cent in March 1962 compared with March 1961 — also matching the smallest percentage advances during previous economic upturns.

PERSONAL INCOMES. Up 3 per cent by September, up 7.7 per cent by next March — again matching the smallest advances previously attained.

Housing starts. Up 19.3 per cent and 26.3 per cent — much less than the rises chalked up six months and a year after the months and a year after the end of the 1958 dip.

Wholesale prices excluding food. Up about ½ per cent by fall, 2.2 per cent by next spring — retracing the 1958-59 pattern.

On the surface, the improvements appear glittering, but compared with what has happened during preceding upturns they are as Lempert points out, "neither unusual nor indicative of an especially buoyant economy." Clearly, what he is tracing is a mild recovery from a mild decline — but also clearly, if we're to solve our unemployment problem, we'll have to make the upturn considerably more powerful than this.

Scientists who discover a new element traditionally have the honor of naming it. In recent years Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg and his associates at the University of California, Berkeley, have detected and named americium, californium and berkelium.

DUAL POST—Kenneth Todd Young of New York, the new ambassador to Thailand, also is the United States representative to the South East Asia Treaty Organization.

Representative Paul H. Conner reviews state legislative action . . .

Editor's Note: The following report is a summary of the work of the state legislators from this district during the 37th session of the State Legislature as viewed by Rep. Paul H. Conner of Port Angeles.

By PAUL H. CONNER
State Representative

The actions of the 37th session of the Washington State Legislature which recently concluded have been well covered by the newspapers.

I would like to briefly outline some of the tangible results that affect our district, which your legislators, Senator Gordon T. Sandison, Representatives James L. McFadden, Roy R. Ritner and myself strived for.

Senator Sandison steered his bill, SJM13, which petitioned our National Congress for the establishment of a coastal highway from Neah Bay southward to La-Push through the legislature. This carries an appropriation of $1,500 to work with the National Park Service to get the program started. There were no dissenting votes in the Senate. However, a vigorous floor fight developed in the House by wilderness area and other conservation-minded legislators. Representative McFadden and myself led the floor fight to beat down all attempts to scuttle the bill.

IN THE PAST biennium Sandison discovered in the state treasury a special account set up by the state constitution of 1889. This fund; charitable, educational, penal and reformatory institutions fund (CEPRI) had accumulated over $8½ million since that time. No one knew what the monies was really earmarked for.

There was a desperate need for a medium correctional institution due to overcrowding of our present penal facilities. Sandison surmised that this was applicable to this fund.

His bill with an appropriation of $7½ million to build this facility at Shelton was enacted into law. Dr. McFadden and I led the fight in the House to beat down every attempt by other area legislators to change the site of this facility. Plant value when completed will be $12½ million.

BEFORE THE Legislature met, I was appointed to the Committee on Committees, which names all committee assignments. All legislators from this district were placed on the State Institutions and Youth Control Committee, which gave us added strength in this area.

Ritner was named chairman of the patronage committee and Sandison was on the patronage committee in the Senate.

Committee assignments were: Sandison; Chairman Higher Education and Libraries; Fisheries; Game and Game Fish; Highways; Insurance; Public Institutions; Ways and Means (Committee on Appropriations). McFadden: Banks and Financial Institutions; Medicine, Dentistry, and Drugs: Rules and Order; Social Security and Public Assistance; State Institutions and Youth Control. Ritner; Chairman-Liquor Control; Vice Chairman-Fisheries; Education; Reclamation, Irrigation and Conservation; State Institutions and Youth Control; Ways and Means (Subcommittee on Revenue and Taxation). Connor: Chairman-Licenses; Vice Chairman-Public Utilities; Education; Fisheries; Highways, State Institutions and Youth Control.

THE LEGISLATORS from this district were guests of honor at the dedication of a new Youth forestry honor camp at Belfair.

The Dept. of Institutions contacted me in regards to a privately owned chapel situated on the grounds of Fort Worden Youth Diagnostic and Treatment Center at Port Townsend. The boys at the center presently have no place to worship. Being on the grounds the chapel caused an enforcement problem. Valued at $75,000 by the institution, the Port Townsend Ministerial Association agreed to sell the chapel to the state for $10,000. Co-sponsored by McFadden this item was successfully kept in the budget.

THE COUNTY commissioners of Jefferson and Clallam counties were desirous to exchange county owned lands for state owned lands of equal value but were unable to do so as there was no provision in the law.

Jefferson County wanted the exchange for a garbage dump and Clallam County for park purposes on the Dungeness River. Sandison introduced the bill and McFadden and myself pushed it in the House to a successful conclusion.

We were able to acquire funds to purchase 85 acre Potlatch State Park on Hood Canal for $112,000. Ritner and myself also were able to keep in the budget $30,000 for 8,678 feet of waterfront on Hood Canal for public access purposes. As a member of the Appropriations Committee Sandison secured extensive capital improvement funds for state parks in Jefferson and Mason counties.

A BILL THAT would authorize establishment of a Juan de Fuca state park west of Port Angeles which I authored and co-sponsored by McFadden was allowed to die in Senate Rules Committee on the final day due to heavy local opposition.

Your legislators partook of ground breaking ceremonies for the benefit of television at the new state fish hatchery near Skokomish River on Hood Canal. Your three representatives asked the legislature to name this installation "George N. Adams Fish Hatchery" in memoriam to Mr. Adams who served as State Representative from this district for 14 years. This passed.

Ten of 11 bills which the port districts felt were needed to improve the industrial climate of our state were enacted into law. Sandison, McFadden, and myself were publicly honored by the Washington Public Ports Assn. for leading in this battle.

IN AN EFFORT to provide more monies for county current expense funds, I sponsored a bill which provided for proper investment of inactive local government funds which are held in various county government accounts, so that they would draw interest. This became law.

Sandison was able to arrange a hearing with State Game Director John Biggs for A. S. Gwynn and Leonard Schroeder and others in regards to increased plantings of steelhead in West End streams. Biggs assured the group, after their arguments, that increased stocking of these streams would be carried out.

THE LOCAL State Timber Utilization and Development Committee (STUD) under Al Hendrickson and A. H. Haley worked with State Land Commissioner Bert L. Cole in fostering a law which allows the State Dept. of Natural Resources to establish a forestry management account, financed by 20 per cent of revenues from state owned lands, to pay the cost of managing these lands. This is a major advancement in the management of Washington's state owned lands. More than 330,000 acres of state owned forest land is currently in need of re-forestation. I led the fight on this bill in the House.

The Shelton Freeway will be completed four miles nearer Shelton by a $1,800,000 appropriation.

AS A MEMBER of the House Highway Committee, I met in Portland one weekend during the Legislature with the Oregon Highway Committee where we worked cut details for the joint building of the Astoria-Megler Bridge across the mouth of the Columbia River. Oregon presently operates the ferries on this route at an annual subsidy of $200,000. Oregon agreed to pay 66 per cent, Washington 34 per cent, of this $24 million project.

Local Black Ball officials estimate that when this bridge is completed and traffic generated it will increase business on the Port Angeles-Victoria ferry run by $100,000 annually. This bridge will be in operation by 1965 should the Oregon State Senate accept this proposal.

PORT ANGELES achieved immeasurable publicity for Century 21 next year from House Joint Resolution 26 which was passed by the house. This publicizes the founding of Port Angeles as the Second National City in 1862 by President Abraham Lincoln. I got the idea for this resolution from Lorraine Ross. Jack Henson and William Welsh aided in drawing up the wording of the resolution which was co-sponsored by McFadden.

Official placement of the Heart of the Hills road on the State Highway System will be effective July 1st. There is a $10,000 appropriation for a location survey of this road. Eight hundred thousand will be spent to straighten the highway from Center to the Hood Canal Bridge. The truck lane on Highway 101 at the Elwha River; substantial improvement of Highway 9A west of Joyce, further survey of Highway 9A east of Joyce, participation in improvement of Burnt Mountain Road, and the survey of Morse Creek bottleneck are among major highway projects slated for this district.

VAL CAMERON as chairman of the Washington State Dairy Commission worked hard on the Milk Marketing Act. This is a self-help plan which Sequim milk producers need for their continued operation. I led the fight on behalf of this bill in the house. The bill passed the Legislature but is now subject to possible referendum action.

Sandison's bill to establish a Bureau of Indian Affairs was passed to the Legislative Council for a two year study.

As chairman of a state-wide Eagles committee, I spearheaded the fight to enact legislation to elminate discrimination in employment because of age. This was 'Jobs After 40' Eagles bill. Sandison was a member of this committee. The bill became law.

SANDISON'S BILL to allow school districts to invest and reinvest idle school funds so that they could draw interest when not needed was enacted into law. As a member of the Education Committee, I led the fight in the House. Our efforts were co-ordinated by Don Sleeper.

There was a definite move to redistrict the state. Population-wise cur district is entitled to only one representative, wheras we have three. Due to the key positions and seniority of your legislators and led by Sandison we were able to block this move. This problem will be studied in the interim by the Legislative Council, of which Sandison is a member.

LEONARD BEIL of Sequim contacted me the last weekend before the deadline in regards to enabling legislation which would allow fourth class counties, such as ours, to set up recreation districts. This would allow Sequim area residents, should they wish, to build a swimming pool. Co-sponsored by McFadden and with Sandisons help we were able to push this bill through in the final moments of the Legislature.

Local fishing groups at first advocated the proposed salt water fishing measure. When it became evident that the earmarking of these fees for the propagation and rehabilitation of our salmon were not ironclad, Bob Thomsen, Joe Scherneck, Walter Schibig, Ron Little, Joe Faires and John Sweatt attended a public hearing opposing the bill. As a member of the Fisheries Committee we were able to keep this bill in committee for further study.

JACK KING and Larry Venable worked with the local delegation for passage of a Surety Bond bill which provided regulations for the lease of property and also provided for performance bonds or security bonds in regards to port district properties. This bill was lost in the regular session when time ran out just as it was to be considered.

Without this bill, there was a definite possibility that the owners of the ferry Coho would not be able to continue winter operations of the ferry. The first morning of the special session, before anyone knew what was happening, we re-introduced this bill and passed it to the Senate and into law. McFadden and myself steered the bill through the house.

EARLY IN THE session we were able to pass a $5½ million appropriation for the repair of the storm-damaged Hood Canal Bridge, which is so necessary for our area. This bridge is now scheduled for opening July 1st.

As co-author of three bills affecting ferry operations we were able to again pass legislation to subsidize these operations so that there will be no increase in our already high ferry rates.

Legislation was also set up to refund and refinance the entire Puget Sound transportation system with a $40 million bond issue. With lower interest rates at the present time, than when the original issue was made, we can save over $1 million the first year in lower interest rates and these savings will increase.

WE WERE ABLE to get included a feasibility study of the entire Puget Sound transportation problem in regards to bridges and ferries for the purpose of consolidation and economy of our ferry runs as well as the location of possible future bridge sites.

Harry Peterson of Sequim originated the idea of setting up a self-sustaining $1 million guaranty fund to make studies of feasible toll projects on Puget Sound as well as a guarantee for bond issues. This would result in lower interest charges. Two years ago we legislators failed in this plan by a single vote. This session we set this plan in effect by better than a two to one vote. A quarter of a cent of gas tax will go into this fund until the limit is reached, then the quarter cent reverts to the highway fund.

SANDISON WAS re-appointed to the Legislative Council which is in effect the Executive Committee of the Legislature. This group studies the most pressing of state problems between legislative sessions.

Ritner was appointed as a liason between the Legislative Council and the Interim Committee on Education to co-ordinate activities.

As a member of the Reclamation Committee, Ritner was able to get substantial future state participation in flood control projects such as the Dungeness River Valley.

I was appointed to the Interim Fact-finding Committee on Roads and Bridges. This interim highway committee works closely with the state highway commission and the director of highways on the programming and planning our highway problems.

MCFADDEN WAS a member of the most powerful committee in the House: Rules and Order. Being the only practicing medical doctor in either house he was in constant demand to keep the legislators in physical trim.

Whatever the shortcomings of the past session of the State Legislature, and not speaking personally, the legislators from this district because of their seniority, legislative sagacity, friendships and just plain hard work, did an exceptionally outstanding job for the district. With one exception, they were successful with every piece of legislation which directly affected this area.

Any success achieved for this district came because we worked together as a team and kept each other informed as to what was happening in our various committees. We were certainly frustrated on many occasions.

According to many, it seems that whatever was accomplished was wrong. However, the entire delegation worked for what they felt were in the best interests of the majority of the citizens of this area and the state.

City Park Board Chairman Conrad E. Dyar thinks a person has to get his hands into the dirt pretty young to have a feeling for gardening. Dyar admits to having gardened in almost every place he has lived since he was a child.

As park board member and chairman this year, Dyar is particularly interested in the general appearance of our city arks. He thinks there is a great deal of room for improvement.

"After all this is only the second year we have had water available at Jessie Webster Park and Erickson Playfield. We hope to keep them green this summer."

DYAR POINTS out that 90 per cent of any park is lawn. "For a good lawn there must be adequate water and fertilizer to get rid of the weeds and promote the grass. In Port Angeles parks grass is now in a minority."

Dyar thinks his interest in city parks was probably inspired by his father's brother, Louis Dyar, who, "made quite a job for himself improving the appearance of every town he lived in."

When Con was young his uncle lived nearby in Kiesling, Wash., a rural community about 10 miles outside Spokane. Kiesling was named for Dyar's grandfather, who pioneered there from Minnesota in 1889.

HERE IN KIESLING, Conrad Emerson Dyar was born June 30, 1910, the only son of Ralph E. Dyar, director of the promotion department for the Spokesman-Review in Spokane. On the side the elder Dyar wrote several books and a Broadway play, "Voice in the Dark," successful in 1919.

At Kiesling the Dyars kept several cows, a pony and raised most of the produce needed for the family table.

Con Dyar and his four sisters attended grade school in the country but went into Spokane for high school. After a time Con's father moved his family to the city "to escape the country" and all the stock and gardening problems of rural life.

From Spokane high school Con entered the University of Washington in 1929 and graduated with a bachelor of science degree in chemistry in 1933.

IN 1935 HE JOINED Rayonier Incorporated at Shelton as a chemist. He was transferred to the Port Angeles mill in 1938, where he lived at the late Mrs. Ella Bradbury's residence, so popular with young people of the period.

In 1940 he married the beautiful Janet Olson of Seattle, who was a laboratory technician at the Shelton Hospital.

The Dyars have three daughters, Nancy born in 1943, Anne in 1945 and Mary in 1948.

Now assistant technical superintendent, Dyar's department is responsible for testing of pulp produced by the Rayonier mill here and seeing that the manufacturer's specifications are followed.

"We have to know that every shipment sent out is of the high quality the customer expects from the firm," he says. This testing is complicated by the dozen or so varieties of pulp manufactured here.

In addition to gardening Dyar has been an enthusiastic photographer most of his life. He says his photography progresses through hot and cold streaks with the latter uppermost at the moment. But those familiar with his work consider him one of the most able amateurs of this peninsula. He is a member of the Port Angeles Camera Club and the Photographic Society of America.

ANY DISCUSSION of hobbies with Con Dyar is sure to circle back to gardening and our city parks. Whenever the Dyars are away on a trip, Con makes it a point to visit city parks. This has led him to conclude Port Angeles has a much greater area in parks than most communities of comparable size.

A more generous budget for parks and playfields this year with more workmen provided will go a long way toward improving the parks.

Dyar believes credit should go to the City Council and city manager for their overall interest in the parks. "After all, if they didn't supply the money the work wouldn't be done."

Conrad E. Dyar

The park board chairman pays particular tribute to Park Superintendent W. C. "Babe" Adams, whom he considers as consicentious a city employe as we will ever find.

DYAR SAYS the park board members and the superintendent work closely together. His own interests are in the overall appearance of the parks. "Al" Haley is concerned with the recreational aspects and Dr.Melvin Bondelid, who has the longest tenure, is the voice of experience. The chairmanship rotates between the three members.

"At the present time we are interested in promoting greater utilization of our parks," the chairman says.

To this end tables have been added to Jessie Webster and Erickson Parks. Lights to be installed this year will permit night games at the tennis courts and at the Elks Playfield on Pine Hill. A city map with each park pinpointed will be distributed to tourists at the Chamber of Commerce.

THE PARK BOARD is also giving more attention to keeping the eight neighborhood playfields neat and attractive. Without water and the constant litter left by playing children this becomes something of a problem.

"As for park landscaping . . . that will have to come later after better and greener lawns. But we have planted a rose garden at Lincoln Park," Dyar says with pride.

This pride and his dedication to improvement of our city park system mark Conrad Dyar as a contribution of the Dyar family tradition. He will make Port Angeles a more attractive community . . . a better place in which to live.

More funds asked for Olympic

WASHINGTON (AP) — An additional $522,000 has been asked by President Kennedy for new construction at Mt. Rainier and Olympic National Parks, Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., said Wednesday.

The amount represents a 50 per cent increase over the $1,094,828 earmarked for the two parks in the earlier national parks budget submitted to Congress.

The $167,000 supplemental budget for Mt. Rainier includes $112,900 for a water and sewer system and $53,500 for an electric generator and distribution system at Ohanapecosh.

The expanded Olympic program calls for an additional $354,100 outlay, nearly all at Hoh River campsites and at Hurricane Ridge. Improvements along the Hoh would total $205,100 and at Hurricane Ridge $147,100.

The earlier budget for construction work in fiscal 1962 included $124,600 and $68,900 respectively for Mt. Rainier and Olympic for new roads and trails, and $523,586 for Rainier and $372,742 for Olympic for maintenance and rehabilitation of present facilities.

Strong showing planned at Hood bridge opening

(From Evening News April 19)

Port Angeles should be well-represented at the opening of the Hood Canal bridge next July.

Dr. Earl Mille told Chamber of Commerce members at their meeting Monday that the Port Angeles Yacht Club and the Coast Guard Auxiliary plan to have a large flotilla there. J. J. Dailey added that North Olympic Chambers of Commerce also are working with the State Highway Department on plans for opening of the bridge.

James E. Phillips told the chamber that federal loans and grants are available to Port Angeles as one of 88 economically distressed areas in the United States. He said these funds can be used for new plants, or for expansion or remodelling of existing plants. President E. R. Thomsen referred the matter to the industrial committee for study.

Chamber Manager Ita Thomas reported that chamber directors at their April 10 meeting authorized expenditure of $7.50 to place "Port Angeles, Washington" on a jet refuling tanker at Moses Lake.

Thomsen stated that next Monday's meeting will include a report from members who are soliciting chamber memberships.

Raymond Ray, from Olympia, spoke on brochures sponsored by the tourist committee. He said his firm plans to produce 40,000 booklets and 75,000 brochures.

Guests at the meeting were Buck Stewart and Dick Munson. Munson is the new club professional at the Peninsula Golf and Country Club. The Golf Club is a new member of the Chamber.

Speaker at Monday's meeting was State Senator Gordon Sandison. His talk is reported elsewhere on this page.

Reporters win state awards

Reporters Clara Crowell and Virginia Keeting attended the Washington State Press Women's meeting in Seattle Saturday and both brought home merit awards.

Mrs. Crowell, besides being elected secretary for the organization, won an award for her full page of pictures on the Clallam County Bookmobile published in the Evening News during National Library Week last year.

Mrs. Keeting received her award for her special section on the Sequim Valley Irrigation Festival last year.

Hart Smith describes some trips in Europe

(From Evening News April 18)

(Editor's Note — Hart Smith, who is on leave from School District No. 17, describes some of his experiences abroad. He writes from Licentiatenweg 33, Hamburg, Germany—)

We should like to take this op portunity to report on some of our activities in Europe and to tell you of mutual friends we have met in Germany.

Our eight months residence in this city has almost made us good "Hamburgers," but we have taken every opportunity to see th other parts of Europe as well. Among our journeys was one t Copenhagen, Denmark, where we were delighted with the excellent cuisine and pastry, and amused by the number of women smoking cigars.

The first week in October we had a week's vacation that we spent going down the beautiful Rhine River. There actually was an old medieval castle on the hilltop at every turn in the river It was wine-making time and vintagers worked by day and celebrated till the wee hours of the morning.

THE FIRST week in February all American Fulbright teachers and university students were guests of the Federal Republic of Germany. We were flown into West Berlin, housed in excellent hotels, and introduced to almost every aspect of life in that fast moving, beautiful, exciting, but extremely tense metropolis.

We crossed through the Brandenburg Gate into East Berlin. What a contrast, what a heap of rubble, and what hoplessness in the eyes of the older people. But 11,000 East Germans find their way to the refugee camps of West Berlin each month, and most of them eventually find jobs in West Germany's ever expanding labor markets. We visited one of these refugee camps and heard their tales of harassment.

ON THE TAKE-OFF at the Berlin airport we blew a front tire. Just before we landed, the stewardess calmly informed us that something had gone wrong with the front part of the landing gear and warned us to make our belts fast and brace ourselves. Two passengers were shifted to the rear to better balance the load. After a few heart skipping moments we made a perfect landing, coming to a stop surrounded by fire engines.

THE SCHOOL YEAR ended for all students and teachers in the public schools of Hamburg March 16. The new year begins tomorrow, April 5. We decided to spend our vacation in southern Europe and soak up a little sunshine.

At Bad Homburg, near Frankfurt, we visited a world famous spa which has seven distinct types of mineral water, each with its therapeutic value for different diseases. And just think of the possible combinations! The city park, the largest municipal one in Germany, contains a famous Russian Orthodox Church, a temple with a gold leaf roof presented as a gift by the grandfather of the present ruler of Thailand, two large golf courses, a miniature golf course, and ample space for the patients to stroll in the adjoining woods. Walks are a part of the therapy. An orchestra plays in the park twice a day.

WE STOPPED in Wiesbaden to see James Glann and his family but they were vacationing in England at the time. In Enkenbach we looked up Frau Klein, our grandchildren's babysitter while our son was stationed near Kaiserslautern a few years ago.

FROM THERE we drove to Heidelberg, a famous old university town in Germany, then along the beautiful Neckar River as it wound through the rolling German countryside, with its meticulously terraced fields, strip-cropped to prevent further erosion. Kurt Metz family in Tauberbischofsheim. Their little girl Martina is now four months old.

AFTER STOPPING briefly in Wurzburg, Ingolstadt, and Munich we came to Rosenheim. While walking along the street that afternoon, someone behind me shouted, "Why, Mr. Smith, we've been looking for you for two days."

It was Winifred Herzog who was on a three-weeks vacation in southern Europe. She had thought, since I was an exchange teacher, I must live in Rosenheim! After getting the facts straight about our residence in Hamburg, we visited with the four: Winifred, Margaret Mauer, who came to Port Angeles with the original visitors from Rosenheim, and two girls from the States who are teaching in the same Turkish school as Winifred.

HERR KLEPPER came to our hotel for an hour that evening and made an appointment to show us his factory the next morning. We had already invited Herr Dr. Baumann to dinner with us. Needless to say the Hugh Macauley family was the subject of much of our conversation.

The next day we were surprised at the extensiveness and efficiency of Herr Klepper's world famous plant. In the guest book we saw the signatures of Mr. Zellerbach, Earl Clark and Dorothy Sheeley.

After spending an hour and a half of his valuable time showing us his factory, Herr Klepper drove us to the Stadt Madchenerealgymnasium mit Oberrealschule in Rosenheim, where we met the school officials and Karin von Stockelberg.

THE HEADMASTER took me to the eighth form, which corresponds to our 12th grade. I talked to them briefly in German, then switched to English. Their main question was: What does America think about the unification of Germany?" They were an alert group and the teacher seemed most happy to meet someone from Port Angeles. Karin took us to the home of Fritz Lux, but he was on a vacation in Turkey.

IN INNSBRUCK, Austria, we rode the cable car to a ski lodge high up the mountainside. In another day we were basking in the sunshine of Italy. Venice was interesting and much as we had expected. We visited many cities in Italy but San Remo, on the Italian Riviera, was our favorite.

Delightful were the warm sunshine, the tropical trees, the flower gardens and the tasty food. We also enjoyed the countryside of eastern and southern France. Millions of fruit trees were in bloom with "sweet perfume."

WITHOUT A phrase book we would have been completely lost, for here they spoke only French. At one place near Lyon we asked the waitress if a certain entree were steak. She shook her head but we ordered it anyhow, and were not too disappointed when she brought us cold cuts, potato salad, and slices of deviled eggs and tomatoes.

Then we expected dessert. Instead, she brought us piping hot steaks, a large dish of green salad and the most delicious French fries. And then we had dessert! What a meal! With many pictures to reinforce our memories, it is an excursion we shall never forget.

Cubans refuse U.N. resolution

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —Cuba touched off a new round of U. N. debate today by declaring it would not accept a resolution giving the Latin - American countries primary responsibility for settling U. S.-Cuban differences.

The discussion delayed still further a vote in the U.N. Political Committee which had before it a series of proposals on the Cuban problem.

Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa declared that a resolution, sponsored by seven Latin-American countries, was an ambush set up by the United States to embarrass the government of Fidel Castro.

He said Cuba would accept no resolution which referred to the Organization of American States.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Silence, Please!

Cap Edwards' little boy started taking saxophone lessons a few weeks ago, and they tell me the noise on Upper Main Street was pretty bad.

Then, one afternoon, the Edwards' house was quiet again, and Mrs. Jackson next door figured the boy must have given up tooting his horn. Next time she saw Sis Edwards she asked her about it.

"Well," Sis said, "we knew that racket must be driving you folks crazy. So Cap got a soundproof telephone booth from the phone company second-hand. Junior practices in it to his heart's content. Even I don't have to hear him!"

From where I sit, Cap is living up to one of our oldest American principles — respect for a neighbor's privacy and feelings. You can be sure a thoughtful man like this never tries to force his opinions and preferences on anyone. He's the sort of man who'll go out of his way to have a bottle of beer ready to serve his guests even though he may not prefer beer himself. We can all learn a "lesson" in tolerance from Cap's phone booth.

Wynn chalks up win 285 in race for 300

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Early Wynn was one triumph nearer today to his 300-victory goal but the veteran Chicago White Sox pitcher was still three behind Warren Spahn in their spirited race to see who gets there first.

Wynn, 41, after three failures, finally notched his 285th major league success Thursday, pitching the White Sox to a 6-1 triumph over the Washington Senators. Spahn, the brilliant Milwaukee Braves' left-hander will try for his 289th victory in Pittsburgh tonight.

For once, no game was postponed because of rain, snow or cold weather. The New York Yankees, idled since Monday because of foul weather, swept a doubleheader from Los Angeles 7-5 and 4-2 to surge into a second place tie with Detroit. Minnesota, due to open its home season today, leads the American League race by one half game.

THE TIGERS pounded out an 11-4 victory in Cleveland. Kansas City, Baltimore and Boston, along with Minnesota, were not scheduled.

In the National League, San Francisco downed the first place Cincinnati Reds 2-1, Chicago's Cubs shut out Pittsburgh 3-0, Milwaukee edged Philadelphia 7-6 in 11 innings and St. Louis walloped Los Angeles 11-2.

Wynn received solid home run support from his White Sox mates. Among the 11 hits off loser Hal Woodeshick and two relievers were four-baggers by Roy Sievers, Jim Landis and Al Smith. Early was tagged for nine hits.

Mickey Mantle was nearly the entire show in Yankee Stadium where the defending champions increased their victory string to four. The slugging center fielder drove in five runs in the Yankees' opener, hitting his second and third home runs of the season. He had only one single in the second game but drew two walks that started Yank rallies and he scored one run.

RIGHT-HANDERS Art Ditmar and Bob Turley were the winning pitchers but both needed late inning help. Turley walked nine in 7 2-3 innings of the nightcap before giving way to Luis Arroyo. Eli Grba and Ned Garver were the losers. Former Yankee utility outfielder Ken Hunt hit two doubles, a triple and a homer for the Angels, who lost the services of third baseman Eddie Yost with a hairline fracture of the middle finger.

The Tigers jumped on Cleveland's Gary Bell for four runs in the first inning, featured by Rocky Colavito's double, and added three more in the fifth on Norm Cash's home run with two on. Frank Lary pitched his second victory while Bell went down to his second defeat.

Thomson leads round one of Houston play

By MA XB. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Peter Thomson, the Australian who has won the British Open four times, began the second round of the $40,000 Houston Golf Classic today with a one-stroke lead over Chick Harbert.

Thomson birdied the last two holes Thursday to overtake Harbert, the 1954 PGA champion, with a 32-33—65 for the 7,122-yard par 35-35—70 Memorial Park course.

Harbert birdied the final two holes to offset a pair of back nine bogies for a 32-34—66 posted half an hour earlier.

IN QUIETLY

Both Thomson and Harbert slipped in quietly. A major portion of the gallery of 20,000, a first day record for the 15-year-old classic, concentrated on Gary Player and Arnold Palmer, playing their first competitive rounds since their Masters tournament thriller two weeks ago.

Palmer, seeking his second classic victory, had a two-under 68. Player three-putted six greens and took a 72 that left him seven strokes off the pace.

A 10-foot putt that refused to drop on the final green knocked Palmer out of a tie at 67 with Jack Burke Jr., Julius Boros, Jerry Pittman, Johnny Pott and Gordon Jones.

Grouped with Palmer at 68 were Huston Laclair of Birmingham, Ala., Freddie Haas of New Orleans and Jerry Barber of Los Angeles.

PLAYER DISGUSTED

Player, the young South Africa star who took the Masters title from Palmer by one stroke, was disgusted with his late-afternoon finish. He bogied four of the last eight holes.

"My putting was bad, my chipping was bad," he said. "In fact, my chipping putting were pathetic."

Thomson meanwhile hit 17 greens while collecting five birdies and 13 pars. Harbert hit 15 while mixing 10 pars with 6 birdies and 2 bogies.

Pender not selling short older fighter

BOSTON —Champion Paul Pender refused to underestimate older Carmen Basioli in final preparations for their middleweight title Saturday night.

The nationally televised ABC, 10 p.m. scheduled 15-rounder at Boston Garden offers a contrast in fistic styles between the clever boxing Pender making his second defense and the hard-hitting challenger appearing in his 11th championship test.

Pender's crown has geographical limits in recognition—Massachusetts, New York and Europe. But Pender, 30, from Brookline, Mass., expects to get nearly $80,000 as his share of an expected $100,000 gate plus $75,000 in video rights.

Giving away four years in age and five inches in reach, Basilio expects to reap about $50,000.

"This is a good fighter," Pender said Thursday night after a light workout. "I'm making no miscalculations with Basilio.

"My left hand may be sharp, but don't go for the idea that I'm going to slice him up. Except for the Sugar Ray Robinson fight he has never been seriously cut.

"We have a plan. Barring something unforseen, I'll stick to it."

Pender, a 12-to-5 favorite, would not elaborate but the figuring is he will try to keep Basilio off balance with the left jab and minimize Carmen's announced body atttack plan. The bout is likely to go the full 15 rounds to a decision.

"I didn't take this fight to lose," countered Basilio. "Just don't make the mistake of underrating me.

Islanders take Coast opener 4-3

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Professional baseball made its debut in Hawaii Thursday night and the Islanders got off to a winning start as they raised the curtain for the 1961 season in the Triple-A Pacific Coast League.

A crowd of 6,041, described as disappointing, watched as Chuck Harmon rapped a pinch single in the ninth to give the Islanders a 4-3 win over Vancouver in the season-opener.

Three more openers were on tap Friday as the league headed into the 1961 schedule.

Spokane, the defending champion, scheduled a day-night doubleheader at Tacoma; Seattle was slated for a similar split bill at San Diego, and Portland had a pair at Salt Lake City.

The Islanders, who obtained their franchise after Sacramento bowed out of the PCL last year, broke a 3-all tie to grab their first victory.

The Hawaiians went ahead 3-1 after six innings but Vancouver tied it in the eighth on back-to-back home runs by Frank Torre and Howard Goss from offerings by starter Noel Mickelsen.

Fred Baczewski came on in the ninth to replace Mickelsen with two on and none out with a 1-2 count on Len Neal.

Manager Tom Heath sent Sam Miley in to pinch hit for Neal and Baczewski arrived on the mound. Heath replaced Miley with Harmon and the latter tagged one up the middle scoring pinch-runner Chuck Bennett with the winning run.

A pre-game ceremony that officially inaugurated professional baseball in Honolulu featured Korean and Japanese dancers.

Goalie Don Head named Western's rookie of year

SEATTLE (AP) — Portland goalie Don Head, who allowed only 2.74 goals per game for the best average in the Western Hockey League this season, has been named the league's rookie of the year.

Head, 27, got 118 votes out of a possible 120 in a poll of sportswriters and sportscasters. Bruce MacGregor of Edmonton was second with 28½ votes, followed by Dale Rolfe of Portland with 20.

Batting — Mickey Mantle, Yankees, drove in five runs with a pair of homers in the first game and started two rallies in the second game with bases on balls as the Yankees swept a double-header from the Los Angeles Angels 7-5 and 4-2.

Pitching — Glen Hobbie, Cubs, permitted six hits and struck out seven, pitching the Chicago Cubs to a 3-0 victory over Pittsburgh.

CLEANING OUT THE DESK DRAWERS: Comes a time at least every six or seven months when you just can't seem to find a thing in your desk and you have to do a little house cleaning in order to make things shipshape. It's sort of interesting what you come across . . .

Picked up the 1961 roster of the Washington Huskies football team and it's loaded with names that are very unfamiliar after the past couple of seasons. The two time Rose Bowl winners are currently knocking heads in spring practice at the university.

For past three years Port Angeles fans have been keeping their eyes on Sam Hurworth, who had the dubious distinction of playing fullback on the '60 Rose Bowl team and guard on the '61 eleven. The only Port Angeles player listed on this season's roster is Mike Briggs.

Mike is listed as a tackle, coming in at six foot, three inches tall and tipping the scales at 210 pounds. Mike played end last year on the frosh team and is being tried at tackle during spring practice. Now we can keep our eyes on Mike and wish him the best of luck!

In between a 1959 Baseball Guide and an illustrated book on "How To Be A Better Bowler," I came across the book that the Chamber of Commerce Convention Committee puts out entitled "Welcome to Convention City, U.S.A. Port Angeles, Washington." This book is a best seller at the C of C office on East 1st as it's free to all!

All of the area's sport activities are listed for the benefit of out of towners and even I didn't realize we had so many diversified activities for the sportsman. When you friends and relatives come visiting this summer be sure to take them around and see all of our sporting activities. We've got everything from bowling to roller skating. There's a sport everyone can take part in and a sport everyone can watch going on at all times in our Olympic Wonderland. You can act as a tourist committee of one all year round by telling everyone that the Olympic Peninsula is the sportsman paradise!

Down at the bottom of the drawer, sandwiched in the midst of a 1961 Baseball Playing Rules and a stack of old ball point pens that died aobut a year ago, I found a 1959 book of Tide Tables. It was interesting to note what they said about fishing spots around the state for salmon. For instance: Port Angeles—good for large chinook and silvers and a limited amount of halibut. Best months are June, July and August!

In same book I found out that squid may be taken with hand dip net gear only and that it is lawful to use fork, pick, mattock or shovel if hand operated when digging clams. Also, each digger should have his own container. (Mattock thru me for awhile, until I discovered that it is a pickax-like tool having blades instead of points.)

Well, that finally does it . . . got that bottom drawer cleaned out. Now all I have to do is find another drawer to put all this junk in, as I don't dare throw any of it away. I might need another column on the same subject in the future.

Salmon tagging in Alaskan waters heavy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Approximately $261,000 is being spent on salmon tagging in the Aleutian-Bering Sea area, Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall said Thursday.

The object, said Udall, is to learn more about the intermingling and migrations of North American and Asiatic salmon. Another $66,000 is being spent in studying the abundance and distribution of King Crab in the Eastern Bering Sea.

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., said the studies were undertaken to provide information needed for negotiations in 1963 on the North Pacific fisheries treaty with Canada and Japan. He said information is also sought because of increased Soviet fishing and crabbing.

Why you should read a newspaper every day...

ROBERT S. MACFARLANE

"We in the railroad industry have witnessed significant growth in public awareness and appreciation of our industry's problems as well as its important contributions to the nation's welfare and defense.

"While this is heartening, there is good reason to believe that many of us do not understand as much as we should about the operation of the economic principles upon which are based our social, cultural, educational and scientific structures. This is vitally important, for we must have knowledge and understanding to preserve and maintain these things.

"Lack of information or misinformation can lead to public attitudes toward business and industry which can hinder our economic and social progress.

"I can think of no better way to secure and nurture a thorough understanding of the issues that affect our lives than to read a newspaper daily."

Robert S. Macfarlane is President of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company with headquarters in St. Paul, Minnesota. He was graduated from the University of Washington law school, Magna Cum Laude, in 1922 and entered law practice in Seattle. In 1930, at the age of 31, he was elected judge in King County Superior Court. He resigned in 1934 to become assistant Western counsel of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, advancing to Western counsel, assistant to the President, Vice President and Executive Vice President. He became President in 1951. Mr. Macfarlane has been active in business and civic affairs in Seattle. He is past president of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, the Rainier Club and University of Washington Alumni Association. He served as a member of the Seattle Public School Board for 17 years and was named the University of Washington's most distinguished alumnus for 1953.

Robert Kennedy wants help in stopping crime

By JACK ADAMS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy asked the nation's press today for support and active help in the federal government's efforts to curb organized crime and racketeering.

In an address prepared for the annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, Kennedy said that when he was counsel for the Senate Rackets committee "about 25 per cent of the important leads which our committee developed came from newspapers."

"I think each of you can give us some assistance," he said in discussing the Justice Department's crime program.

"I don't believe newspaper reporters can substitute for a district attorney but a newspaper has a very valid investigative role. Newspaper reports on corruption in government, racketeering and organized crime conditions can be very helpful to your communities and the whole country. If the Department of Justice legally can aid or assist you, you will find us ready to do so. Some of you already have," Kennedy said.

The attorney general noted that he has shelved, at least for the present, his advocacy of a national crime commission—an idea which FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has opposed. Kennedy has indicated previously that he was not completely committed to the idea of a national crime commission.

In his speech today, Kennedy, 35, reported that substantial progress has been made in pooling information on known hoodlums in the files of all investigative agencies and some local ones. The pooling is being done by the department's section on organized crime and racketeering.

Not his idea

Eichmann denies executions

By RELMAN MORIN

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann told Israeli questioners that those Jews regarded as "the germ cell of Jewish rehabilitation" were to be specially marked for death, his tape-recorded testimony disclosed in court today.

But the former SS officer said that this was not his idea, and he repeatedly denied that he had anything to do with the executions during World War II.

Eichmann, on trial in Jerusalem for "crimes against the Jewish people and crimes against humanity" during the war, was interrogated for more than eight months before the hearings began. His words were recorded on tape and the tapes are being replayed in court now.

"The germ of rehabilitation," it developed, meant those Jews strong enough to survive the ordeal of the slave labor camps and potentially capable of procreating "a new Jewish development."

FINAL SOLUTION

This was brought up during the Wannsee conference in Berlin January 20, 1942, when Reinhard Heydrich, one of Eichmann's immediate superiors, told those present that Adolf Hitler had ordered "the final solution of the Jewish question"—and that this meant extermination.

Capt. Avner Less of the Israeli police questioned Eichmann about the conference and this exchange was recorded:

Less: "What does this mean here, 'These Jews must be treated appropriately?' "

Eichmann: "That is—that is a —this is from (security chief Heinrich) Himmler. 'Natural selection'—'choice made by nature' —that was one of his favorite terms. He liked to use these words."

Less: "Yes, but what does it mean?"

Eichmann: "Killed, killed, certainly."

Heydrich was quoted as telling the group at Wannsee:

"The remanant (of Jews) able finally to survive all this must be given treatment accordingly, because these people, representing a natural selection, are to be regarded as the germ cell of a Jewish rehabilitation should they be allowed to go free."

GLORIFIED SECRETARY

Eichmann said he attended this conference. But he represented himself as little more than a glorified secretary. He said he was ordered to issue the invitations to "higher officials." And he said he did not even speak at the conference.

Less asked then, after drawing out the meaning of "appropriate treatment," whether Eichmann's department was not among those to be advised about the order.

Quoting from a document, Less said, "all foreign office officials concerned should contact the competent department head of the security police. Does this refer to you?"

Eichmann, who has been disclaiming responsibility for the Nazi acts wherever possible conceded:

"That would refer to me. Yes, that would have been me."

Less pointed out during the questioning that the Nazi plan envisioned the eventual extermination of all Jews. He used the words "your plan" in this passage.

Port Angeles Reflections

FORTY YEARS AGO APRIL 21

A. W. Hall will demonstrate an Adapto Tractor on a plot of ground one-half mile from the McDonald berry farm on Dry Creek tomorrow afternoon. The tractor is a wheel attachment that goes on Ford touring cars, and Mr. Hall expresses great faith in the machine.

It is said that on the premises of the Rev. Dr. Sttvenson on Ennis Creek where he is interested in raising milch goats, are several fine nannies producing from four to tight quarts of milk a day. But the kiddies get the benefit of the rich lacteal fluid after the family dairy is supplied.

TWENTY-FIE YEARS AGO

Eventual construction of an emergency landing field on Ediz Hook for Coast Guard and navy use is contemplated under a project started Monday by WPA workers at the Coast Guard air station. The WPA crew now working on the Hook will clear off an area suitable for the emergency field and will conduct a general clean-up and improvement of the air station grounds.

Annual music festival Saturday in auditorium

The annual band and chorus adjudication festival of the Peninsula Music Educators Association is scheduled for Saturday at the senior high school auditorium.

Music Director A. Lee Freeman of School District No. 17 reports 518 band and chorus students from the peninsula schools will take part in the events during the day.

Judging the groups will be Walter Welke of the University of Washington and a Mr. Anderson from the Central Washington College of Education.

AS EACH GROUP performs the judges will record criticism. Following the performance the judges will either talk to the groups or work with them. There will be no ratings. The groups will perform for comment and criticism only.

Freeman explained the music educators feel this will provide a better learning experience for the students than a rating system.

The Clallam Bay Chorus opens the day's activities at 10 a.m. followed by the Forks chorus at 10:25, the Neah Bay chorus at 10:50, the Quilcene chorus at 11:15 and the Sequim chorus at 11:40.

THE BAND takes over after the lunch break. The Forks Grade School Band opens the afternoon performances at 1 p.m. Following at half-hour intervals are the Clallam Bay Band, the Sequim Band, Port Angeles Senior High School Band, Forks High School Band, Quilcene High School Band, Port Townsend High School Band and the Roosevelt Junior High School Band.

The day-long event is open to the public and there is no admission charge.
