City calls for water plan study

With so many areas outside Port Angeles wanting to purchase city water, the City Council dedecided to call in a consulting engineer on the problem.

A council committee reporting on the situation at last night's meeting noted that all the areas outside the city requesting water equal an area larger than the city itself.

The Council authorized the city manager to negotiate with the water line consulting engineer, R. W. Beck, to study the city's present and future water needs and the effect on the city's water supply if the areas outside the city were sold water.

CITY MANAGER M. W. Slankard expected to report at the next Council meeting on a fee and work arrangement with Beck.

He said that it would most likely require an additional two or three months to formulate a definite picture of the water situation and present a plan to the Council.

The council committee also commented in its report that first consideration for the use of the water must be given Port Angeles citizens. This would include a preliminary study and cost estimate for extending new water lines into the newly annexed area.

City officials have expressed hope of installing water mains in the new area this summer.

SLANKARD REPORTS that many of the lines in the area south of the Boulevard are inadequate and in bad shape. "The lines throughout the whole area will be replaced wherever they are needed when the job is done," Slankard said.

Commenting on the proposed action, Councilman James G. Caldwell urged speed on whatever was done. "We have been keeping the people outside the city dangling on a string for over two years, delaying until the water line was completed."

Councilman Sam Haguewood stressed to people outside the city requesting water, that the Council wanted to help them. "We must know where things are going for the next 20 years and the Council must have the engineering background before it can make intelligent decisions," he said.

INCLUDED IN THIS plan was the request by the Peninsula Golf Club requesting water at a flat rate. In a letter to the Council the club said that the greens would suffer during the summer if the club were unable to obtain a flat rate. Club officials pointed out that membership was always open to the public.

In conjunction with the regular meeting the Council held a ief public hearing on the seven- r street improvement plan be- bmitted to the state.

COMPREHENSIVE out- t be submitted to the rder to receive a new cent gasoline tax fund. ginning of the hearing reviewed the outline approved by the City Council at its last meeting.

The special fund amounts to about $40,000 per year added income to the city.

The money would be used only on arterial construction and could amount to only 75 per cent of the project cost .The remainder would have to come from some city source.

DETAILS OF THE proposed construction plan appeared in the Dec. 8 issue of the Evening News following this adoption by the Council.

The Council stressed it is only a tentative schedule, with each item subject to review before construction.

A Council Finance Committee recommendation concerning long delinquent local improvement district bonds was also approved by the Council.

The Council authorized the City Manager to negotiate redemption of the bonds from a revolving fund established for the purpose in 1944.

A recent act of the State Legislature has made it possible for cities to redeem bonds not more than 32 years delinquent.

THE ISSUE WAS brought up at the Council's last meeting by a letter from Punnet Inc., a Seattle investment firm. The investment company estimated there would be about $174,000 in old bonds eligible for redemption.

Slankard was authorized to negotiate for payments of from $.05 to $.10 on the dollar.

There were 10 distributors bidding for the city's gasoline, oil and fuel oil needs last night, in some very close bidding.

A TIED FUEL oil bid of $.092 per gallon by City Fuel Co. and McMahan Fuel, Inc. was split, with each company supplying the city for six months.

Texaco, Inc. was low gasoline bidder, with a bid of $.2122 per gallon for regular and $.2419 per gallon on high octane. Tide Water Oil Co. was low bidder on diesel oil at $11.61 per gallon.

These figures are all net cost to the city.

CLEANING UP — City crews lend a hand clearing debris washed up on the west end on the runway at the Coast Guard air station by Wednesday night's high winds. The winds which reached a peak of 61 m.p.h. combined with a high tide to wash some of the beach up on the runway and in lesser amounts on to the Ediz Hook road. City street crews quickly had the road cleared and turned their scraper to the heavy collection of rocks and drift wood on the runway. (Evening News Photo).

Living costs show slight drop; average buying power highest

WASHINGTON (AP) —Living costs as measured by the government declined in November by one tenth of one per cent.

At the same time, spendable earnings and buying power of the average worker rose to a record high.

Somewhat lower food prices, and modest declines in most other consumer buying categories brought the living cost index down to 128.3 per cent of the 1947-49 base period.

Announcing the figure today, Robert J. Myers, deputy commissioner of labor statistics, said a rise of seven-tenths of one per cent from November 1960, represented the smallest November-to-November living cost increase since 1955.

He predicted another small decline for December.

"We're pretty sure we'll have another little drop," he said. "The indications point in that direction. But we don't think we'll have any big decline."

In November, costs of both toys and sporting goods, items that are in heavy demand as Christmas gifts, were down by two-tenths of one per cent from the level of a year earlier.

Spendable earnings and buying power of the average factory worker rose to a new record level in November.

The factory worker's weekly earnings after federal income and Social Security taxes rose by about $1 from the October level to $85.03. The figure is for the worker with a family of four.

Over the year the average factory worker's spendable earnings have increased by more than $5

U.S., British chiefs agree on Berlin

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—President Kennedy and Prime Minister Macmillan today were reported in complete agreement on their next steps in the Berlin crisis, the results of the recent Soviet nuclear tests and the little they know about the confused Congo situation.

The two leaders of the Western alliance were expected to go deeper into all three situations, and others as well, in further talks before Kennedy flies back to Palm Beach, Fla., late today to the bedside of his seriously ill father.

They conferred for five hours in their first session Thursday and there was every indication that the atmosphere was harmonious. But their spokesmen emphasized that each subject was discussed only to a limited extent.

In their talk on Berlin, White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said, Kennedy and Macmillan concurred on "steps that can be taken in this particular field." Informants said this meant the position the West should take in trying to negotiate a peaceful solution with Moscow.

The next step, it was agreed in Paris at the Big Three foreign ministers' meeting last week, will be talks by U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in Moscow to determine if there is a chance for formal negotiations on a new Berlin agreement.

But informants said they still must decide on a further approach to Moscow; whether, for example, to work toward a foreign ministers' meeting and ultimately an East-West summit.

DEGAULLE

They also must discuss ways to bring French President Charles de Gaulle around. De Gaule insists that the tension over Berlin is all of Soviet making and therefore the Soviets must take the first steps toward easing it.

In the field of nuclear testing, Kennedy and Macmillan heard reports by their experts on the recent Soviet tests and what the experts have been able to deduce from them about Soviet advances in development of nuclear weapons.

NOT POLICES

Salinger said the discussion did not extend to policies — whether the United States should resume testing in the atmosphere—but it was felt the conversation may have strengthened Kennedy's hand with fearful European allies if he decides the United States must resume testing above ground to counter Soviet advances.

One source of tension between the two Western allies was eased by reports of an accord reached in the Congo between Premier Cyrille Adoula of the Leopoldville government and President Moise Tshombe of Katanga.

BACKED U.N.

The United States has staunchly supported the United Nations military action in secessionist Katanga while Britain has been critical of the fighting.

A joint communique issued after the first talk said the information on the Congo "is still very scanty," but added: "We must hope that a satisfactory solution is in the course of achievement on the spot."

Bermuda's governor, Sir Julian Gascoigne, gave a small dinner and reception for the President and the prime minister.

Kennedy was keeping in close touch with Palm Beach, where his father, former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, is seriously ill after suffering a stroke.

Congo premier sets deadline for Katanga

By PETER GROSE

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Premier Cyrille Adoula says next Wednesday is the deadline for Katanga to honor President Moise Tshombe's unity commitment—and there'll be trouble if it doesn't.

The chief of the Congo's central government told newsmen Friday his regime will take energetic actions to see that the eight-point agreement he signed with the secessionist leader is respected.

Tshombe said on his return to Elisabethville, his U. N.-occupied capital, that the agreement to end Katanga's secession was subject to ratification by his Cabinet and Assembly—"and that cannot be done for at least 10 days."

Adoula declared, however, that Tshombe had undertaken to send Katanga deputies and senators to the Congolese Parliament and start the unification process by Dec. 27.

Both government quarters here and Belgians in Elisabethville said they expected the United Nations to enforce the agreement, again resorting to force if necessary.

The Congo's information minister, Joseph Ileo, declared after the signing of the agreement "We do not intend to be outwitted again" by Tshombe.

Rejects Dutch plan

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno, who has ordered Indonesian armed forces to be ready to invade West New Guinea, today again rejected self-determination as a solution for the Dutch-ruled region.

His air force stepped up its activities along the borders of the disputed territory on the world's second biggest island.

Sukarno has demanded the Dutch leave the territory.

In a speech to a mothers' meeting in Jakarta, Sukarno declared: "I call on the whole world not to bother trying to get us talking about self-determination for West Irian (West New Guinea.) We definitely reject that sort of self-determination."

Sukarno repeated that Indonesia is ready to enter into negotiations with the Dutch—but only on the basis of a transfer of power over West New Guinea from The Hague to Jakarta.

Kennedy is improved

By FRANCES LEWINE

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Richard Cardinal Cushing visited his old friend, ailing Joseph P. Kennedy, today and reported the President's father was very much improved, and had spoken to him.

The cardinal, who is from Kennedy's home city of Boston, said he had told Kennedy, a former ambassador to Great Britain:

GETS ANSWER

"My dear friend, Mr. Ambassador, keep up your courage. We're all praying for you. You're going to be all right."

And, to this, he said the 73-year-old Kennedy, who has been partly paralyzed from a blood clot on the brain, replied: "I know I am."

This was the first time since his Tuesday stroke that the elder Kennedy had been reported able to talk. Previous reports from his doctors had indicated that he was unable to speak but he could recognize members of his family.

CAUTIONED KENNEDY

The cardinal said that he had cautioned his old friend not to say anything more so that he would not use up his reserve strength.

HELD SECURELY

ROCKLAND, Maine (AP) — Recently Vernon Y. Leach crash-landed a light plane between two apple trees in an orchard he was spraying. He walked away, uninjured.

Kitten leads girl from home

A lost kitten caused an unusual amount of concern in town early this morning.

The kitten's mistress Colette Hegg, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hegg, 1318 W. 5th, went looking for it in the rain dressed in a pair of light blue pajamas.

She was found in the 1300 block of W. 5th by some children who heard her crying. They took her home with them and she was then taken to Olympic Memorial Hospital until her parents could be located.

Dutch split on action

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) —The Dutch Cabinet was reported divided today on what approach to take toward negotiations with Indonesia, whose President Sukarno has threatened to invade Dutch-held West New Guinea.

A Cabinet spokesman said Foreign Minister Joseph M. A. H. Luns and Interior Minister Edzo Toxopeus favor bilateral talks only on the condition that the Papuan population of the Dutch territory will be granted self-determination.

He said three right-wing members head another faction within the 13-member Cabinet which proposes that talks with Indonesia be started without stipulating conditions.

The Netherlands retained West New Guinea in 1949 when it granted independence to the Netherlands East Indies.

Copters go to aid of youth

GOLD BEACH, Ore. (AP) — Helicopters headed toward the rescue today for a 19-year-old youth stranded on Castle Rock in the ocean off Cape Blanco.

The youth, identified as Rodney Spencer of Bandon, climbed onto the rock some time Thursday, then was trapped there by high tide.

A helicopter that had been doing work for the Coos-Curry Electric Cooperative at Gold Beach was sent to the scene to try to lift the youth off. The Air Force also sent a helicopter from Klamath Falls.

Spencer's plight came to notice when a private airplane sighted the youth on the rock at the mouth of Sixes River this morning.

The next low tide that would allow the youth to escape is not due until 6:30 p.m.

U.S. to take action against Communists

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department says it will take action next month against members of the U.S. Communist party.

The announcement came Thursday after Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy hurried back to his Washington office from West Palm Beach, Fla., where his father lies seriously ill, to map the government's next move against the Communist party, its officers and its members.

The attention now was focused on the party members, who number about 10,000 according to the FBI. A Dec. 20 deadline passed without any of them registering as agents of the Soviet Union as required by the Internal Security Act.

The act carries stiff penalties for noncompliance: up to $10,000 and five years in prison for each day of violation.

Just what action the Justice Department plans to undertake next month wasn't spelled out.

However, department spokesmen have explained that there is an elaborate procedure to be followed. Each party member must be accused formally before the Subversive Activities Control Board of belonging to the party. The board then must order each individual to register. This order is subject to court review.

GOOD WILL TOWARD MEN

Let us glory in God's promise of Joy and Peace on Earth, Good Will to all men.

Editors note: Following is the third in a series of articles written by ministers and laymen of local churches as part of the KEEP CHRIST IN CHRISTMAS program:

Why Christmas?
by
Herman Cohn of Gardiner

And the angel said to them," Be not afraid; for behold, I bring you good news of a great joy which will come to all the poeple; for to you is born this day in the city of David a Savior who is Christ the Lord." Luke 2: 10-11 RVS.

If Christmas is really what it is purported to be, namely a birthday anniversary of a person then one's thoughts are centered around that person who's birthday is celebrated.

Three outstanding realities are presented in the message of the angels. First: The message is not only to me or even to those shepherds watching over their flocks by night, no, the message of good news of great joy is meant to be for all the people.

True, there were only a few that night who were "privileged" to be the first ones to behold the Glory of God as it was revealed in His only begotten Son. But the shepherds were not selfish; they didn't keep this privilege for themselves for we are told that when they saw it (the baby lying in a manger) they made known the saying which had been told them concerning this child; and all who heard it wondered at what the shepherds told them (Verse 17-18.)

In this we see that this Christmas message is for you and me. Are you too wondering what "the shepherds have told you?

SECOND: This baby was born in the city of David, in Bethlehem. Why was this important? Would it have mattered where he was born? Perhaps in Jerusalem or Samaria or Bethany or even Nazareth? But, don't you see that Christ had to be born in Bethlehem. As a matter of fact I, being a Hebrew, would not accept a Messiah who was not born in Bethlehem.

The Messiah had to be born in Bethlehem because David was born in Bethlehem. Christ must come from the lineage of David. This makes prophecy come true. See also Micah 5:2. And finally: A Savior was born in Bethlehem. This fact is supremely important. It is so important that God sent His Son to be the Savior of the world. You and I need a savior because any sinner needs a savior in order to be saved. And all of us have sinned and come short of the glory of God. This is why His name is called Jesus (Math. 1:21).

So, then, whatever you might think of Christmas, these facts stand out: What the angels told the shepherds, the same message is meant for you. It was important that Christ should be born in Bethlehem. This must be so. It was not by coincidence that Caesar Augustus made a decree that eveyone should be enrolled, resulting in the coming of Mary and Joseph to Bethlehem. No, it was rather that events had to assist in the fulfillment of God's declarations. And lastly, there had to be a savior to save us from sin.

Christmas Letter
by
Richard Reed
Trinity Methodist Chruch

If "Keeping Christ in Christmas" is ever to become more than a slogan to be used for a few days each year and then promptly forgotten, we must remember that "Keeping Christ in Christmas" really means keeping Christmas in our churches and in our hearts.

Right here the task pyramids to include almost one third of the world's population. No one of us can have Christ in Christmas or in our churches, or in our lives until we surrender ourselves to Him.

A few months ago I was invited to a small dinner party at the home of a friend in Sequim. After dinner the conversation drifted to world affairs and the threat of communism, etc. Our host said, "We are a Christian nation, and with our wealth we have given generously to all the people of the free world. So why should we be so severely criticized?"

OF COURSE there is some truth in that statement, but the part I would challenge is that "we are a Christian nation." Within the last few weeks in six or eight or our largest cities, colored people came to "white churches" to worship and were turned away, in some instances by the police. Until we can show love and compassion enough for ALL of our fellow men we are far from being a Christian nation.

Our great country is covered with churches, from plush city sanctuaries equipped with all the gadgets of our time, to simple frame or log churches in our more remote areas and in a thousand grades in between these two extremes.

We have many churches and much "churchianity." "Churchianity" is what far too many of us subscribe to. We go to church and give "lip service" to God, listen to a sermon and enjoy the music. "Churchianity" is sort of a closed corporation which people join to enjoy the social contacts and have a little tincture of religion thrown in to salve our consciences.

DO YOU REALLY want to "Keep Christ in Christmas?" If so, it is time for us to level with ourselves, time to turn in some of our gadgets and turn to God. Time to surrender ourselves to Him, first by obeying God's law by giving 10 per cent of our income to God and His work, and second by coming completely out of our darkness into the light. Be a witness for our Lord, bring others to Christ—follow the star of Bethlehem from now to eternity and Christmas will have a deeper meaning for all of us.

Jane Ann and Lucinda Lee Josh were flower girls in frocks of sheer pink nylon and carried baskets of pink roses.

Donald Stone served as best man. Harry Fields and Peter Kimbrell were ushers.

A RECEPTION was held at the Ft. Lawton Officers Club after the ceremony. Assisting were Mmes. Annett Daniels, Harold Cloor, Joseph Josh, Thomas Patton Jr., and the bride's aunt, Mrs. F. L. Wilson.

After a wedding trip to Harrison Hot Springs in Canada, the young couple will make their home in Honolulu where the bridegroom is on duty with the Navy.

Mrs. Effie Poulson of Sequim, grandmother of the bridegroom, attended the wedding.

Ex-GIs recall their past war Christmases

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The greatest gift at Christmas time isn't prosperity.

It is peace—and family unity.

No group of our people realizes more the blessing of Christmas at home than the millions of ex-servicemen who spent past Christmases far from home in wartime.

Their minds this time of year turn back to those past times, their half-forgotten ordeals abroad, and their hearts surge with gratitude that they made it home at last. And they remember, with a pang, the fate of those who didn't.

Men are never more desperately lonely than at Christmas time on a battlefront. No matter how strong their faith in their cause, on this day that cause has an air of unreality and illusion.

"Why am I here?" each man asks himself. "Why am I not home? War doesn't make sense."

That timeless query rises in the breasts of thousands of men on both sides of a battlefront: "Why? What am I doing here? What are any of us doing here?"

And their only reply is the growling of distant guns somewhere over the horizon, or the throb of hostile engines in an unfriendly sky.

Life is bittersweet as well as lonely to troops at war on Christmas day. No one wants to have to pull a trigger or launch a bomb.

The men at the actual front drop back in clusters for a hot meal and maybe a religious service. They feel closer to each other than ever—because there is no one else near in that strange land to feel close to.

Unit loyalty has to take the place of family loyalty. The members of a platoon are all brothers—blood brothers. A man's platoon is his whole family.

But as he gulps his scalding coffee he looks around and wonders: "Will he be here tomorrow? Will I be here?"

Sometimes presents from home arrive on Christmas day. They are opened in reverence. A man peers into a battered package, then lifts out broken chunks of dried and crumbling fruit cake and passes them around to his buddies. Everpbody shares what he has.

The men who get mail take their letters and walk a little way apart. They want to read them alone. They don't want to show the sudden tears in their eyes.

Sometimes the soldier holding the mail calls out a name twice. "Well, do you want it or don't you?" he demands.

No one answers. No one wants to. Suddenly the soldier understands. He calls out another name as he puts at the bottom of the pile the letter that came for a man who could have read it yesterday, but today is deaf to news from home—and will be forever.

On Christmas night, back in the line, the troops lie in their foxholes and stare up at the stars, and that yearning query again rises inside with a strength that almost chokes them:

"Why?"

Helping their loved ones garland a Christmas tree now, many a man looks back and remembers a Christmas spent in snowy Belgium, or on some stinking Pacific island, or on a frozen ridge in Korea — and thinks a grateful prayer.

CHRISTMAS VACATION

Christmas Vacation at Port Angeles Senior High School started at 2 p.m. on Wednesday. Students were free to engage in their favorite pastimes or catch up on homework.

A number of winter sports will begin over the holidays, such as skiing and ice skating. Many PAHS students will engage in these.

Classes resume on Jan. 2, and from then till Jan. 29 the students will complete their first semester of work.

THE NEXT ISSUE

Angeles High Life will be done, starting with the next issue, by Elaine Butler.

She will do the column for the month of January. For February Pat Gallant will take over. The following month Alan Watts will do the reporting and in April Patti Heinonen will take over. May, as of now, is undecided.

CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS

PAHS Christmas decorations were very pretty and enjoyed by all the students and teachers alike.

The Girls' Club took care of the largest part of the decorations. Kathy Kirsch was the general chairman. Gretchen Possinger was in charge of the office. She and her girls turned the office into a rooms of fir boughs and holly. It was very colorful and pleasant.

Carol Schulte, also Girls' Club, headed a committee for decorations for the teachers desks. Cute paper Santa Clauses were made displaying a sign saying Merry Christmas. These Santas were clever and a colorful addition to PAHS. The doors were taken care of by Sue Wilhelm.

Her committee made hanging fir wreaths bound together at the top by ribbon and bells. The wreaths added color to the halls.

SANTA CLAUS visited school Thursday and Friday. Students from all classes sat on Santa's knee to have their pictures taken. Thanks were given to Frank Nelson who took the pictures and to the girls who helped with the arrangements.

The D E Club in cooperation with the Girls' Club and the Timberline staff conducted the canned food drive. This competition was won by the junior class which turned in 93 cans. The seniors and the sophomores turned in 68 and 67 respectively making a grand total of 228 cans.

The large tree put up in front of the library door was sponsored by the student council. Jim Hanson, traffic court judge, was in charge. This tree, decorated in tinsel, was pretty and colorful.

MUSIC ASSEMBLY

Port Angeles Senior High School had its annual music assembly on Dec. 20 at 9:30 a.m. in the auditorium.

The audience was very receptive to the program. They seemed to enjoy all of it and liked the orchestral effects brought out and all the solos.

First the orchestra under the direction of Oscar Erickson played "Winter Wonderland." Next Brandy Sundt played the solo part in "Trumpet Lullaby." "The March of the Tin Soldier" was then played. For the last number the orchestra played a medley of favorite Christmas carols.

Something new in the annual assembly was the oral reading of the drama class.

INTRODUCING THE different drama numbers were Dorothy Acorn, Cheri Cox, Sande Burgess and Rich Buck. The leaders for the different selections were, Sheri Simpkins, Cheri Cox, Pam Clerico and Lynn Baldovin.

Selections of the drama class were "Carol of the Advent," "Gospel of St. Luke," "The King" and "I Heard the Bells."

The Nonette, composed of Karen Kunkel, Carol Christensen, Paulette Willson, Raye Hall, Carla Peters, Gloria Ludke, Jean Rogers, Judy Read and Carol Pollard looked especially nice and sang exceptionally well.

The girls opened with the "Shepherd's Christmas Song." Karen Kunkel sang a solo or "Jesus, Jesus, Rest Your Head." Joan Rogers sang a solo of "Bethlehems Lowly Manger."

The Nonette finished with the "Carol of the Bells" which the audience enjoyed.

The choir, under the direction of A. Lee Freeman, sang "Bless Ye Lord of Hosts," "In Bethlehems Town," "Rise Up Early," Hush Ye It's Mary" and "Give to the World Thy Peace."

TIMBERLINE

Twice a month the Port Angeles Senior High School paper is published by the students of the journalism class. The class offers a number of opportunities to the student. He has a chance to write and see his work published. Experience can also be gained in advertising and photography.

A student is graded by the number of inches he has printed plus numerous other items. One is required to keep a notebook in which all one's published work is mounted.

JoAnne Hughes and Bob Grey have both taken journalism for three years. Don Peterson and Mike Wells have taken it for two years.

The new poloroid camera the journalism class has received is the reason many more pictures are now printed in the Timberline.

THE EDITORIAL STAFF is as follows: Co-editors, JoAnne Hughes and Bob Grey; sports, Don Peterson and Mike Wells; Evening News reporters, Pat Gallant and Patti Heinonen; Peninsula Herald, Una Black and Gerri Farley; reporters, Elaine Butler, Jack Headricks, Dave Schaefer, and Alan Watts; KONP reporter-Bonnie Downen; feature editor, Pat Gallant; news editor, Elaine Butler, and copy editor, Alan Watts.

The business staff is as follows: business manager, Frank Nelson; ad manager, Joel Rupprecht; assistant ad manager, Kim Smith; photographers, Frank Nelson and Bob Grey; typists, Eva Halko and Jon Scott; exchange editor, Carol McLennon, and advisor, Isabelle Whitfield.

Modern Programming ForModern People!

Dear Abby....

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a secretary and I resent the implication that just because my boss takes me to lunch three and four times a week there must be some funny business going on between us.

He takes me to lunch because it is his way of showing me that he appreciates a good secretary. We might even have a cocktail or two before we eat and I see nothing wrong with it. It has come back to me that there is talk in this office, and his wife has even asked the other girls questions about me. I wish you'd tell me just what two people could do between 12 and 1 in a crowded restaurant.

LUCKY MISS BROWN

DEAR LUCKY: They could make plans to meet after 5 where it isn't so crowded.

DEAR ABBY: I can't stand my husband when he is drunk and he can't stand me when he is sober. What should we do?

I am a nervous wreck. After being married for 14 years we have nothing in common. We do have five children, but you would think I found them in a cabbage patch for all the help he gives me with them. The only affection I ever get from him is when he has liquor on his breath, and that is when I would like to run a mile. What is a woman supposed to do in a situation of this kind?

HAD IT

DEAR HAD IT: It is difficult to tell whether your husband is miserable because he's drinking or drinking because he's miserable. Catch him when he's sober and ask him to lay his cards on the table Ignoring a poor relationship only makes it worse. It's time for some plain sober conversation. Start it!

DEAR ABBY: A neighbor got my 19-year-old daughter interested in corresponding with her (the neighbor's) 22-year-old "nephew" by showing her his picture. After writing back and forth for eight months a big romance bloomed. Now it turns out that this young man is not really her nephew, but the son of her best friend. She never told us that this fellow has had a nervous breakdown which has required psychiatric treatment off and on for years. His hobby is writing and my neighbor excuses it all by saying she thought it would be "good" for him to have a pen pal. In other words, she used my daughter as someone for him to write to. He is coming to this city soon. My daughter wants to meet him, knowing all about his background. We are against it We'd like your opinion.

HER PARENTS

DEAR PARENTS: It was dishonest of your neighbor to have withheld this revealing information about the man. Don't condemn him for having had psychiatric treatment. His mental state could now be better than that of others who need treatment but never have had it. If your daughter, knowing his history, wants to meet him, don't interfere.

FIRE SHOW

PARIS (AP)—The show at the Casino de Paris Wednesday night was terrific—for the guys outside.

A fire broke out in the rigging backstage and the girls fled to the street in their scanty stage attire. Firemen reported the flames under control 90 minutes later.

The audience filed out with a minimum of confusion.

Advice to homemakers

By MARTHA A. POOLTON
Consumer Marketing Agent
Written for The Associated Press

For Christmas week the fruits and nuts which are traditional holiday favorites are in good supply in Pacific Northwest stores. Among fruits, tangerines from California are in good supply to add to children's stockings, and they are reasonably priced. Excellent quality Navel oranges in the medium sizes are an attractive buy, too.

Cranberries, avocados, grapefruit and lemons are also in good supply at reasonable prices now. Anjou pears are available in the moderate price range, along with tangelos and fresh dates.

SMALLER CROP

Consumers will find large size Navel oranges and extra fancy grade Delicious apples run comparatively high in price, however, since the quantities on the market this season are smaller.

This year the crops of almonds, pecans and filberts have been particularly bountiful and they are in plentiful supply for holiday use in special recipes and for festive fruit and nut bowls for informal enjoyment. Walnuts and Brazil nuts are also in good supply, while chestnuts, which are coming principally from Italy, have risen in price this month.

VEGETABLES PLENTIFUL

Celery harvesting in California continues in good volume to meet the demand and it is currently quite low in price.

Shipments of new cabbage from California are increasing and it is another low priced vegetable along with carrots, potatoes and Hubbard squash. Lettuce is an item to watch since cold weather in the producing regions of California and Arizona have delayed harvesting recently, and prices are fluctuating.

Markets are offering turkeys of various sizes at the same low prices they sold for at Thanksgiving. Although hams are higher than they were last month, consumers actually will be paying prices comparable to last holiday season.

Ernie Davis makes big sacrifice to go Brown

CLEVELAND (AP)— Ernie Davis "sacrificed a very substantial sum of money" in accepting an offer to play with the Cleveland Browns, according to attorney Anthony W. DeFilippo, adviser to the All-America halfback from Syracuse.

Arthur B. Modell, front-office boss for the Browns, announced Thursday night that Davis had agreed to sign a three-year contract with the Browns for $80,000 —$65,000 salary plus a $15,000 bonus. This is the most the Browns ever have invested in a rookie, but Jim Brown, who reportedly received $31,000 this year still is the highest paid player on the club.

The Buffalo Bills of the American Footbal League also were bidding for Davis, and Dick Gallagher, general manager of the Bills, said Davis had been offered a three-year deal worth "well over $100,000." Reports were the Buffalo offer was worth $135,000.

Modell was delighted.

"There just aren't words to express my happiness now that Ernie has decided to play with us," the board chairman of the National Football League club declared. "It's certainly gratifying to know that young athletes like Davis consider their long-range future rather than immediate financial gain."

Brown preceded Davis at Syracuse, and many of the records the big fullback set there were broken by the 6-foot-2, 215-pound Davis. The two are friends. It was on Brown's advice that Davis went to Syracuse, and Brown presented the NFL club's case when Davis was trying to make up his mind on a pro career.

Modell and Coach Paul E. Brown had been sweating out that decision, for the Browns have gambled quite a bit on being able to sign Davis. Cleveland traded speedy Bobby Mitchel and a first-round draft choice to the Washington Redskins to get a chance at Davis.

Warmath not going to Army

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Minnesota coach Murray Warmath had a lot of laughs with his Gophers at Disneyland Thursday, the day's biggest laugh he tossed at a rumor he might be in line for the Army head coaching job.

Warmath, whose Gophers face UCLA New Years Day in their second successive Rose Bowl appearance, had this to say of a report listing him high among possible successors to Dale Hall at West Point:

"This is surprising news to me. If there is negotiating being done, nobody has contacted me. I think this is just press guessing.

"I am real happy at Minnesota. My home is in Minneapolis and I hope to stay there a long time."

Blanda, Faison win AFL honors

NEW YORK (AP) — Houston Oiler's quarterback Georga Blanda and defensive end Earl Faison of the San Diego Chargers, two players who may see a lot of each other in Sunday's American Football League title game, were accorded the two top player designations in their league today.

In an Associated Press poll, a special board picked Blanda, 33, as player of the year and Faison, a 256-pounder from Newport News, Va., as the loop's rookie.

Blanda, who spent 10 years as a pro with the Chicago Bears, got only slight competition from halfback Billy Cannon and end Charley Hennigan of his Eastern Division champion Oilers. Faison won in a breeze over Charley Long of Boston and tackle Ken Rice of the Buffalo Bills.

Blanda's honor as the league's top player went right along with the choice of his coach, Wally Lemm, as the AFL Coach of the Year. When Lemm took over in October—never to lose a game—he took Blanda off the bench and made him the Oilers' top quarterback.

Blanda, of LaGrange Park, Ill., completed 187 passes for 3,330 yards and 36 touchdowns; kicked 16 field goals and 64 extra points for 112 points.

Faison, 22, was the Chargers' No. 1 draft choice a year ago, and was particularly outstanding in the 1960 East-West Shrine Game.

ROSE BOWL WORKOUT—Minnesota coach Murray Warmath started the Gophers on twice daily drills for their Rose Bowl encounter with UCLA. Backfielders William Munsey, Judge Dickson, David Mulholland and Sanford Stevens, all vets of last year's Rose Bowl, run through their paces.

Roughrider coach plans a few lineup changes

Roughrider basketball coach Bob Klock sounded almost optimistic last night when talking about his team. Klock, who has maintained all along that the 'Riders would surprise someone this season and show some basketball, feels that the boys are beginning to show themselves in practice.

He has made few changes in this week's starting lineup which will give him a chance to take advantage of all the height the 'Riders have. One change is putting John Wunderlick at center and moving Gary Moore to forward. Wunderlick was rebounding well for the 'Riders against West Bremerton Tuesday.

"John isn't real tall, only about 6-1, but he has shown more authority at that position than anyone we've had there all season," said Klock. "Now I can move Moore to forward and Bruce Paynter to guard."

The starting five for tonight's game will be John Holmberg and Moore at forwards, Wunderlick at center, and Paynter and Mike O'Connor at guards.

Craig Shore has been hitting the hoop better in practice and Klock said he hopes to be using him more in the games. "He could be a help to the team if he keeps working hard and hitting," said Klock.

Klock said he is planning to use more boys and more than one defense. He plans to try both man-to-man and zone defenses. In fact Klock said he may try a full court press.

Klock said his boys aren't bad man-to-man defenders as individuals, but they have been a little weak as a unit on man-to-man defense. The way things stood last night this year's 'Riders are going to get a chance to demonstrate their worth on the man-to-man basis.

Port Angeles Rangers will play the Central JVs before the varsity game tonight. The game starting at 6:30 p.m. will feature Toby Williams and Dave Denny at the guards, Bob Peterson at center and Bob Hagerty and Dan Peacock at the forwards.

Ranger coach Marv Cross said he will use as many boys as possible.

Expect all 'Cat finish in Ky.

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—An all Wildcat final is expected in the ninth annual University of Kentucky Invitational Tournament, one of college basketball's richest.

Dangerous Xavier meets 4th ranked Kansas State and powerful Kentucky tangles with winless Tennessee tonight as the first round of play gets under way.

The least money the UKIT has ever paid each team was $8,000 the first year. Two years ago the tournament paid each team more than $15,000.

Kansas State's Wildcats bring a 6-0 record into the tournament while Kentucky's Wildcats are 4-1. Xavier is 3-3 and Tennessee 0-4.

For a long time I have been thinking about some of the very busy nights the tourist industry has here in August and their relation to the story of Mary, and Joseph and the baby Jesus.

Down through the years there have been mixed thoughts about the innkeeper's response to a plea for a room for his wife in Bethlehem. When I was younger, I used to think, "why didn't he just ask someone to leave, and give the room to the holy family?" In later years a closer association with the tourist industry has taught me that this just isn't done.

However, many of our motels and resort operators go to considerable effort to find places for families who find themselves on the north Olympic Peninsula at nightfall.

Granted, every night during the season isn't like this.

When I previewed Norman Vincent Peale's "The Coming Of The King," narrated by David Wayne it seemed to me that the words of the innkeeper heard in this beautiful story of the nativity was, in a way, much like the roll of our modern day innkeepers.

KONP is proud to present "The Coming Of The King" Saturday at 11:30 a.m. in cooperation with All-View Motel, Aggie's Motel, Chinook Motel, Uptown Motel, and Lake Crescent Lodge.

Oilers, Chargers dominate team

NEW YORK (AP) — Houston's explosive offensive unit and San Diego's stern defensive platoon dominate the 1961 American Football League all-star team.

Houston, which swept to the Eastern title with nine straight victories after a dismal start, placed five men on the offensive team selected by an Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters from the league's eight cities.

San Diego, the western champion, was just as heavily represented on the defensive squad, placing three front-line men and a pair of backs on the squad.

In addition, Houston had one defensive man and San Diego one offensive man, giving the two teams 12 spots on the 22 man team.

Each of the teams was represented. New York and Denver placed three each and Dallas, Boston, Buffalo and Oakland one each.

George Blanda, Houston's veteran do-everything quarterback, was the top choice of the voters, gaining all but one of the votes.

Baylor named NBA all-star

NEW YORK (AP)—Elgin Baylor, Los Angeles' versatile performer, was the only unanimous selection on the all-star teams named today for the National Basketball Association's annual East-West game at St. Louis Jan. 16.

Baylor was picked as one of the forwards on the Western Division team which will face a squad headed by Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia, the league's leading scorer.

Here are the rival lineups chosen by a vote of sports writers in the nine league cities:

East — Dolph Schayes, Syracuse; Tom Heinsohn, Boston; Chamberlain; Bob Cousy, Boston; Richie Guerin, New York;

West — Baylor; Bob Petit, St. Louis; Walt Bellamy, Chicago; Oscar Robertson, Cincinnati; Jerry West, Los Angeles.

Red Auerbach of the division-leading Celtics will coach the East squad. The West team will be handled by Fred Schaus of the Los Angeles Lakers, western pace-setters. Each coach will select five other players.

Mick repeats batting honors

BOSTON (AP)—Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees won the American League slugging crown for the third time in 1961, the official averages released today disclosed.

Mantle collected 353 total bases in 514 official times at bat for a slugging mark of .687. Norm Cash of Detroit was second with .662 followed by Jim Gentile, Baltimore, .646. Mantle also led in 1955 and 1956.

Despite 61 homers, a record for one season, Roger Maris of the Yankees finished fourth in the slugging competition with .620. Maris captured the title in 1960.

A slugging average is determined by dividing a player's official times at bat into his total bases.

The Yankees repeated as the team slugging champions. They slugged a collective .441. Detroit was second with .421 followed by Cleveland with .406, Los Angeles .398 and Minnesota, .397.

SANTA and the FLYING SHOE

by Lucrece Beale

SYNOPSIS: The Ipswitch has been identified. The monster is really a giant shoe. It returns to Polydora and the Minister of Science, now the new king, drives it away with a wave of his hands. But clinging to the departing Ipswitch are Santa and King Ferdinand, disguised as shoe shine boys.

CHAPTER FIFTEEN
AN OCEAN VOYAGE

"HANG ON!" cried Santa as he struggled to wrap the shoe laces around his waist.

The King was too busy to reply. He had lost hold of his shoe string and was inching frantically forward on his stomach trying to find a safe spot. At last his hands found a lace hole and he climbed into it and clung to the edge.

Up, up the Ipswitch went and then down, faster than falling rain, to land with a crash in some poor farmer's peach orchard, smashing the trees and shattering a nearby barn. Then up again and down, thud, thud, thud . . .

Santa swung around on the end of the lace like a ball on the end of a rubber band while the King bounced so hard in the lace hole he twice bounced right out of it and once went sliding all the way to the Ipswitch's toe before he caught himself on a scuffed piece of leather and dragged himself to safety.

"Suppose it never stops!" he thought miserable. He had a sudden awful vision of Santa and himself jouncing around on the Ipswitch's shoe for the rest of time. The more he thought about it the surer he was he was that this was just what was going to happen. He poked his head far out of the hole to explore the possibility of jumping off the next time they touched ground. What he saw caused his heart to miss a beat.

"Look! Look"

Santa saw the King's frightened face and turned and looked where he pointed. He, too gasped and shivered with fright for just ahead and below them stretched an endless ocean and it was clear as could be that the next step the Ipswitch made would land them all plumb into the bottomless sea.

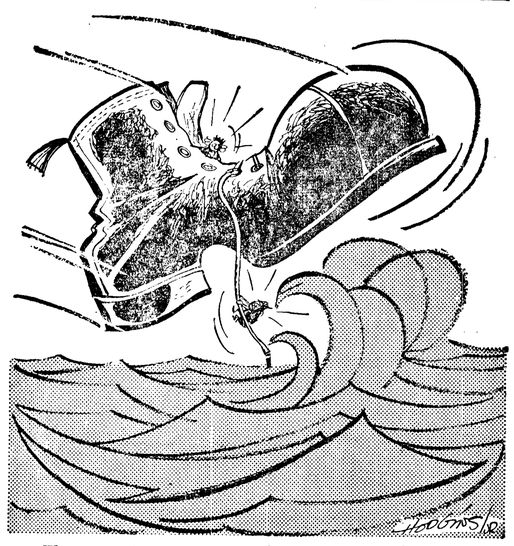
"Shall we jump off?" shouted the King.

Santa shook his head. "We must solve the mystery!" he shouted back.

The King hardly cared about the mystery any longer. He wished he were reading someone else's mystery in his own comfortable bed back home—even if it wasn't a king's bed anymore.

But it was all too late because now the foot was descending to the sea. The King shut his eyes and held his breath and waited for the cold water to cover him.

SMACK! The shoe struck the sea and the waves splashed over the King but though he waited and waited he didn't drown! He opened his eyes and let out his breath. The shoe, like an ocean going ship, was riding the waves with the greatest of ease and, as the King stared in disbelief, a sail suddenly sprang from inside the shoe, caught the breeze and sent the Ipswitch zooming over the sea.



The next step would land them in a bottomless sea.

Santa pulled himself hand over hand up the shoe lace and climbed to the King's side. "How about that! We get an ocean voyage as a reward for our troubles!"

But the King pointed ahead. "Not a long voyage, though. It appears we are headed there."

Straight ahead a small island grew inexplicably out of the sea. It was a lonely barren place of huge grey rocks and stony cliffs.

"Ah," said Santa. "I have a feeling the master of that island holds the key to the whole mystery."

"And when he sees us . . .?" asked the King.

"Let us not think of that until we get there," said Santa cheerfully.

Kennedy and Congress

The deaths of Speaker Sam Rayburn and Sen. Styles Bridges will impose leadership changes in the House and Senate that are certain to have an immediate impact upon Congress and the internal affairs of both parties.

By tradition and seniority, the speakership is expected to go to Majority Leader McCormack, who has not gone along with President Kennedy on all questions, either in their home state of Massachusetts or in Washington.

Mr. McCormack, in fact, shares credit for the defeat of the administration's aid to education program, and the administration will miss Rayburn's firm hand and ready acquiescence when such controversial issues as medical care for the aged, tax reform and foreign trade policy come up at the next session.

Senator Bridges' death reduces the ranks of influential conservative republicans. His chairmanship of the Senate Republican policy committee is likely to go to Senator Saltonstall of Massachusetts, a middle-of-the roader.

As a result, President Kennedy may find the going somewhat easier in the Senate, somewhat rougher in the House.
