Centennial goes into final days

Centennial week goes into its final phases tonight and Saturday.

The Centennial pageant played to an enthusiastic audience Thursday night.

Today is Industry and Century 21 night at the pageant and Shelton is the honor city.

Saturday's pageant, the last one, will honor the Brothers of the Brush. The brothers are asked to be at the pageant by 8:15 p.m. where there will be beard judging and perhaps some beards

At the final pageant performance, starting at 9 p.m. Saturday, International Good Neighbors will be honored as well as Victoria and Bremerton.

This year Victoria is celebrating its centennial as an incorporated city.

A BIG WIND-UP parade is here Saturday morning with the parade of cars by the Seattle-Tacoma Horseless Carriage Club.

The downtown parade is scheduled to start at 9 a.m. After the parade the antique cars will go to Lake Crescent where drivers will have lunch.

After Saturday's performance, the several hundred members of the pageant cast will have completed a task that started with rehearsals several weeks ago.

The participants in the pageant have been complimented all week over the excellence of the performances and the enthusiasm they have for their parts in the colorful historical show.

City gets early start on Christmas problem

Although the city is just getting its first warm breath of summer the City Council settled a problem about Christmas decorations at the meeting last night.

The Retail Merchants Assn. asked the city to cooperate in the installation and storing of the street decorations for the next Christmas season.

The decorations purchased in 1948 have at last become unusable and must be replaced. Hugh Hankins, speaking for the merchants, said his group would provide the equipment if the city would install and store it.

"WE CAN RAISE the money for the decorations and necessary replacements but we haven't got the time to put them up and service them," Hankins said. "Our busiest season is just getting underway when it's time to get the decorations up and take them down again."

The Council voted to cooperate with the merchants and delegated City Manager M. W. Slankard to carry out the city's part of the agreement.

In response to a request by directors of School Dist. 21 the Council considered plans for joint improvement of the area east of the new swimming pool and installing fences there.

THE PARK BOARD has recommended the area be blacktopped so as to provide a recreation and waiting surface and also to help keep dirt from being tracked ino the pool building.

Mayor James E. Maxfield appointed Councilmen Joseph W. Wolfe, Charles Willson and Sam Haguewood to meet with the school board and discuss plans for the project.

The Council referred a request of the First Christian Church for a street and alley vacation to the Planning Commission.

The City Engineer will be instructed to prepare a cost estimate in response to a petition submitted to the city requesting improvements to Chase St. between First and Second Sts.

SLANKARD ANNOUNCED he had received two petitions from citizens complaining of dusty streets. He explained the street department is unable to get enough sulphite liquor from Crown Zellerbach Corp. to adequately treat the streets.

"We are getting only four loads a day because one of the Crown tanks is not operating," Slankard said. "We are using water when the liquor available runs out but that is not very effective and oil would be prohibitive."

He explained that all the city can do is wait the three or four weeks until the tank is repaired.

THE MAYOR appointed Don Cornell to represent the Council as a member of the Clallam County Health Board. Maxfield also appointed Councilmen Wolfe, W. Ivor Smith and Willson to serve with him on the council finance committee which acts as watchdog on city investments.

Willson inquired if the city would consider sending its new councilmen to the one-day school for city and town governments in Seattle in August. Slankard said the budget provides funds for such educational programs.

THE COUNCIL approved payment of the water fund bill of $1,912; the pipeline fund of $65; the light fund of $53,450, and the general fund of $173,905. This last bill is higher than usual because it includes the LID progress payments approved at the last council meeting, Slankard said.

Other reports from the ciy departments were approved and placed on file.

THE REQUESTS for liquor licenses were granted to Olympic Distributing Co., Olympic Recreation, Fraternal Order of Eagles, M&C Tavern, Cherry-Eight Grocery, Log Cabin Tavern, Silver Dollar Tavern, Chinook Tavern. American Legion, Salad Bowl Restaurant, Larry's Tavern, Naval Lodge of Elks, Wagon Wheel Tavern, Handi-Spot Grocery, Enos Distributing Co., Haguewood's Restaurant, Harrington and Giles, Bailey's Grocery, Market Basket, Sunrise Grocery and The Harbor House.

The license formerly issued to Ron Little and Johnnie Sweatt was transferred to the Thunderbird Boathouse Inc., as Police Chief Harry Kochanek made no objection.

IWA denies agreement reached

PORTLAND (AP) — The status of contract negotiations in the lumber industry and the possibility of a summer strike by two unions remained puzzles today.

Representatives of the big employer group, the Timber Operators Council, and the unions —the International Woodworkers of America and the Lumber and Sawmill Workers Union—both denied reports that contract agreements had been reached.

The LSWU has called strikes at three mills in the pine region—the White Pine Sash Co. mills at Spokane and Missoula and the Herbert Bates Lumber Co. at Wallowa, Ore.

Earl Hartley, head of the union's Western Council, said the strikes were called because the mills had not increased wages to the 1961 level.

The unions seek a 30-cent hourly increase. The Timber Operators Council claims an increase is not justified.

The IWA policy council has said it will not disclose its intentions until next Thursday. Wayne Scott, editor of the IWA union newspaper, said the LSWU would join in an announcement at that time.

National Guard unit completes first week

National Guardsmen of Company E, Port Angeles, complete the first week of their annual active duty training period Saturday.

Captain John J. McGee, Company E, 2d BG, 161st Inf, Port Angeles, and his troops have been training in advanced phase field exercises utilizing the rifle platoons in the defense and attack with armored support.

The weather being favorable for manuvering elements, the men are preparing to bivouac in the Rainier training area next week where they are scheduled to perform Army Training Tests under the watchful eye of Army evaluators, Capt. McGee reports.

Evaluation teams are to observe the actions of Company E as the men get tactical problems in the field which are designed to test their proficiency under simulated combat conditions.

This period includes a complete tactical day of feeding the troops, and all other functions which they must perform, unit security and movement being constantly considered.

Sgt. Nick L. Kraft of Company E last year won the Colonel Rigby Trophy for proficiency in the manual of arms. The drill-down will be held at Northeast Fort Lewis again this year where the unit is located in "tent city."

An invitation is extended to spectators to witness the traditional event, since the competition is keen and performance of the individual is necessarily outstanding in the battle group.

No sign of life seen around wrecked plane

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A Boeing 707 Air France liner with 108 or more persons aboard crashed today on a forested hillside of the Caribbean island of Guadeloupe.

Circling search planes reported no sign of life in the wreckage. Debris was reported to have burned.

The $5.5-million plane met disaster as it headed in for a landing before dawn at the airport of Pointe-a-Pitre on a regular flight from Paris to Santiago, Chile.

JET CLEARED

The U.S. Coast Guard said the air traffic control center at Pointe-a-Pitre Airport reported the big jet had been cleared for its final approach when its radio went dead.

A small local plane later spotted the wreckage 2½ miles inland from the north coast of the Basse Terre section of Guadeloupe, the Coast Guard said.

CLEAR WEATHER

Weather was reported clear at the time, and the pilot had radioed he was making a visual approach to the field.

The Coast Guard in New York said its information was that the plane was carrying 102 passengers and 11 crewmen. The Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington said it was told there were 103 passengers and 5 crewmen aboard.

However, a list announced by Air France in New York showed 10 crewmen, counting the hostesses and stewards.

FROM AZORES

The crash occurred at about 4:25 a.m. local time (3:25 a.m. EST), the hour the plane was due to land at Guadeloupe on a flight from Santa Maria, the Azores.

First word that the Air France liner was in trouble came at 6:19 a.m. (EST) when the Coast Guard received this message: "Distress, Air France Flight 117, B707, overdue. . ."

An all-ships distress signal was flashed to naval vessels, asking them to proceed to the area. Two Coast Guard amphibious planes and a patrol boat were dispatched from San Juan, Puerto Rico.

WRECKAGE SPOTTED

At 7 a.m. came word that wreckage had been spotted. The naval assistance call was canceled, but Coast Guard planes continued to sweep the area to be sure there was no wreckage at sea.

Guadeloupe is composed of two islands, Basse Terre and Grande Terre. The airfield is on Basse Terre.

The plane had a crew of 10 and 102 passengers aboard on takeoff from Paris Thursday night. It made a stop at Lisbon and several passengers left and others boarded.

Air France said the plane was captained by veteran pilot Andre Lesieur.

REFUELING STOP

The plane put down for a brief refueling stop at Santa Maria in the Azores and was due in Guadeloupe at 3:25 a.m. It was to have flown on to Caracas, Venezuela; Bogota, Colombia, and Lima, Peru, terminating its flight at Santiago, Chile.

Capt. Lesieur, one of Air Frances's most experienced pilots, several times had flown President Charles de Gaulle.

The nationalities of the passengers aboard the Caribbean plane were not immediately known, but presumably few were Americans.

Gaudeloupe is an overseas department of France in the Leeward Islands, 300 miles southeast of San Juan, Puerto Rico, and 80 miles north of Martinique. The area, which produces chiefly sugar cane and bananas, totals 687 square miles. The population is about 275,000.

1500 FEET UP

The $5.5-million plane was named the Chateau Chantilly.

The U.S. Coast Guard at San Juan said the wreckage was on a hillside at an elevation of about 1,500 feet.

The pilot of a Coast Guard amphibious search and rescue plane which flew over the site radioed San Juan that the plane was so badly broken up he believed there could be no survivors.

He spotted some people near the plane, the pilot said, but believed they were all Guadeloupe islanders.

More criminal charges pile up against Texas' Billie Estes

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Fresh criminal charges piled up Thursday against Billie Sol jestes, the West Texas promoter whose chemical fertilizer, grain storage and cotton growing operations involved millions of dollars.

A federal grand jury indicted Estes, 37, on charges of mail fraud and conspiracy from one state to another.

There are 29 counts in the indictment, which also named three other men and a business firm. The same grand jury accused them earlier of fraud through mortgages on fertilizer tanks, charging some of the tanks never existed.

BY RECEIVERS

Estes' varied enterprises are in the hands of a court-appointed receiver. He testified last week that his debts exceeds assets by about $17.5 million.

Creditors are studying a plan to reorganize and operate the businesses in hope of getting all their money back. Otherwise they have been advised the federal court will order bankruptcy proceedings.

Texas Atty. Gen. Will Wilson said in Austin, at about the same time the indictment was returned here, that he will dig deeper into Estes' affairs in a court of inquiry at Pecos, the promoter's home town.

OTHER DEALINGS

Wilson has sought information about Estes' grain storage and cotton allotment dealings and his relations with Washington officials in six previous courts of inquiry. He has given notice of intent to file a state antitrust suit against Estes.

U.S. Dist. Judge R. E. Thomason said he would not require additional bond of Estes, who posted $10,000 bail on the other federal indictments, returned April 5.

The court's ruling also applies to the other defendants, free under smaller bonds. They are Harold Orr, 31, and Ruel Alexander, 36, of Amarillo; and Coleman McSpadden, 45, of Lubbock.

FIRM INDICTED

Orr is president of Superior Manufacturing Co., the firm named in the indictment. Alexander is secretary and McSpadden is a director of the tank building firm at Amarillo.

The latest indictment charges a scheme to defraud by selling fertilizer tanks and other equipment with promises for future delivery while the equipment never was built.

In Washington, U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said additional and better information on the case provided a basis for the latest indictment. The grand jury was discharged after advising Judge Thomason its investigation of Estes had been completed.

Seven or eight witnesses were being summoned for the court of inquiry at Pecos, Wilson said. He would not disclose their names or discuss what phase of Estes' operations would be probed.

Explosions roar in Oran as terrorism continues

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

ALGIERS (AP) — Five explosions roared out in Oran today. Smoke billowed up as fire followed the blasts, apparently set by diehard Secret Army Organization terrorists.

There were no reports of injuries in the western Algerian city, but two women who had taken refuge on a terrace had to be freed from wreckage.

A score of explosions rocked the eastern seaport of Bone during the night as terrorists continued defiance of a secret army-Moslem peace pact in Algiers.

BOMBS BOOM

Bomb explosions boomed out at 10-minute intervals. One wrecked a travel agency office. Another heavily damaged a low-rent housing office near police headquarters, injuring a 17-year-old European youth.

Terrorists also hurled a score of hand grenades into a largely Moslem housing area. No injuries were reported there.

The Secret Army Organization command in western Algeria reiterated its refusal to recognize the cease-fire agreement, but declared in a pirate radio broadcast Thursday from Oran that some other kind of dealings were in the works. It did not elaborate. The Oran command has been demanding the establishment of autonomous European enclaves in western Algeria.

TO NORMAL

Life in Algiers was returning rapidly to normal, but the secret army command here also spoke of fighting again—this time with French gendarmes.

A clandestine broadcast accused the French police of violating the agreement by continuing operations against Algerian Europeans and against Moslems.

Flocks of Moslems took advantage of the uneasy truce in Algiers to return to their jobs in European sections for the first time. There was a nearly 100 per cent return to work in vital city services.

A few stores and restaurants reopened, but the European part of the city continued to empty. Thousands of Europeans again besieged airline offices for transportation to France.

Contract let for new ONP camp ground

The National Park Service has awarded a $140,886.45 contract for construction of an Olympic National Park camp ground at Fairholm at the west end of Lake Crescent.

J. E. Work Inc., Bellevue, is the successful bidder on the project for constructing roads, trails and water and sewage systems at the camp grounds.

The project was announced several months ago as being approved as a unit of the National Park Service Mission 66 and federal funds are available for the job.

The announcement of the awarding of the contract was made to the Evening News by Senators Warren G. Magnuson and Henry M. Jackson.

Hear missing missionaries are safe

SAIGON, SOUTH VIET NAM (AP)—A mission director reported Friday "word has filtered through" that three American missionaries—one from Washington State—who were kidnaped by communist guerrillas May 30 are safe.

The Rev. Thomas G. Mangham, director of the Christian and Missionary Alliance in South Viet Nam, said he received word the three are alive and well but he doesn't know where they are or whether they will be released.

Th missionaries are A. E. Mitchell, 44, Ellensburg, Wash.; Daniel Gerber, 21, Dalton, Ohio, and Dr. Eleanor Ardel Vietti, 35, Houston, Tex. The Viet Cong kidnaped them from a leper colony 160 miles northeast of Saigon.

Mitchell's wife and four children and four American mission nurses were left behind and were moved later to nearby Ban Me Thuct. It was believed the missionaries were taken to care for wounded Red guerrillas.

Peace plans 'on' again

By ANTOINE YARED

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Prince Souvanna Phouma announced tonight agreement has been reached among the three Laotian factions on all points of difference which have been delaying the inauguration of a coalition government.

Souvanna, who will head the coalition, said the Cabinet will be installed Saturday.

Thus the off-again, on-again plans for establishing joint rightist, neutralist, leftist rule over this troubled land to make it neutral in the cold war appeared once more to be on.

The latest previous compromise agreement among the factions collapsed after less than 24 hours.

Sen. Case succumbs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Francis Case, R-S.D., a 25-year veteran of Congress, died today. He was 65.

Case, born in Everly, Iowa, on Dec. 9, 1896, served seven terms in the House and two in the Senate.

He was the ranking Republican member of the Senate Public Works Committee.

Case long had been associated with legislation concerning water conservation and the nation's highways.

He was treated at the nearby Bethesda Naval Hospital in mid-March for what was described as a mild heart involvement after an earlier bout with the flu.

He was taken back by ambulance from the Capitol Thursday night and died at 9:19 a.m. today.

Case, a former newspaper editor, raised Hereford cattle and saddle horses on his ranch near Custer in South Dakota's Black Hills. He was an expert horseman.

It was a Case resolution, adopted in 1939-40 while he was in the House, which produced the studies that led to authorization of the Missouri River Flood Control Act of 1944.

Philippines dispute British claim in Borneo

MANILA (AP)—President Diosdado Macapagal today claimed Philippine sovereignty over British North Borneo and proposed that Britain and the Philippines begin negotiations to settle the issue.

Macapagal told a news conference he had received a note from the British government asserting British ownership and sovereignty over the disputed territory.

"I have today instructed the acting secretary of foreign affairs to hand a note to the British ambassador embodying our position which is to assert ownership and sovereignty to North Borneo," the president said.

Macapagal discounted the idea that the Philippine claim might have disturbing effects in Southeast Asia.

He said the Philippines and Britain have always maintained friendly relations and "the government of the Philippines believes any dispute between the two countries can be settled amicably."

The Philippine claim is based on the contention that the sultan of Sulu leased and did not sell North Borneo to founders of the British North Borneo Company in 1878. The British contend the territory was sold.

Philippine congressmen have been urging the government to press the claim.

British North Borneo covers an area of 29,387 square miles at the northern end of the big island southwest of the Philippines. The other nine-tenths of Borneo—the world's third largest island—includes the British protectorate of Brunei and colony of Sarawak along the northern coast, and Indonesian Borneo. The Indonesian territory covers more than two thirds of the island.

EPIDEMIC KILLED SALMON

A few years before the turn of the century people living along the Strait of Juan de Fuca woke up one morning to find dead salmon on the beaches in windrows.

Some unknown epidemic killed salmon by the millions, and the tide brought them ashore where waves piled them up.

The dead salmon were loaded into farm wagons and hauled away to be used as fertilizer around fruit trees and on farm land.

No one ever explained what killed the salmon. They were all along the north side of Ediz Hook and the shores of the inner harbor.

WHEN MEN WERE MEN

Pioneer men on the Olympic Peninsula wore their hair long and had gold earings in their ears.

Beards were the rule rather than the exception. Old pictures show many of the men with long beards.

Men and some of the boys wore knee length leather boots. The toes of some of the boots were re-enforced with copper. This method of dressing did not become uncommon until the turn of the century.

EARLY FIRES

In the early days of Lewis County there were no ferries. Men would unload the wagons and ferry across in boats and canoes. Then they would tie two canoes together, put two wheels in each canoe and take the wagons over. The wagons would be reloaded, and after swimming over the horses, they would hitch up and start again.

Mountain climbers found safe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today the mountain climbing party that includes a grandson of Woodrow Wilson has been found in Nepal. All four in the group which had been unreported for weeks were reported safe but weak.

The White House said Army headquarters in Katmandu received word at 4 p.m. today (Nepal time) that the three Americans and one Swiss had been located at a village called Khum Jung in the area of Namche Bazar.

WEAK CONDITION

Press secretary Pierre Salinger said the cable received by the White House and State Department described the four as "in weak condition."

They have requested evacuation by helicopter. The U.S. Embassy in Katmandu is trying to arrange for a helicopter flight, Salinger said.

One of the quartet is Woodrow Wilson Sayre, grandson of the late president and brother of the Very Rev. Francis B. Sayre Jr., dean of Washington Cathedral. He is a Tufts University professor.

Nothing had been heard from the climbers since they left their base camp in eastern Nepal May 2 for the final attempt to ascend Gya Chungkang peak, 25,910 feet highon the Nepal-Tibet border. The peak had never been mastered. It is situated 12 miles east of Mt. Everest.

The White House had no details. It was not immediately known how the climbers had been found nor what contact had been made with them.

Advertising helped it happen

By stimulating mass demand, advertising helped create a mass market for facial tissues. As demand grew, more and more were made. The more of them made, the less each box cost. Result: new and better facial tissues mass produced for more and more people at lower prices by America's remarkable and competitive economic system. Is this worthwhile? Then, so is advertising worthwhile.

Scribbled on note cards in the skirmish around their stand, the judges had difficulty getting all the youngsters' names spelled right and in some cases got them in the wrong categories.

Bill Boyd was the sole winner of the second prize for the funniest costume. The others listed with him in the press release belonged in third place in the historical division.

In this group were Bob Morgan, Jim and Linda Markley, Mike Conrad, Bruce, Lynette, Corlene, Lesa and Londi Ensor.

QUICK ARRESTS

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—John Flories Otto, 19, arrested for speeding on two consecutive days, was convicted in Recorder's Court on both counts Thursday.

He was fined a total of $25 and court costs, and his driver's license was revoked for six months.

Patrolman D. L. Nivens followed Otto from the courtroom.

Nivens said Otto got into his car and started to drive away. Nivens arrested him for driving after his license had been suspended. Otto posted bond of $100 on that charge.

PARTY LINE VOTE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Representatives of the Pacific Northwest and Alaska adhered strictly to party lines Thursday as the House voted 215-205 to send the administration's farm bill back to committee, thus killing the controversial measure.

Voting to recommit the bill were Republicans May, Pelly, Tollefson and Westland, all of Washington and Durno and Norblad of Oregon. Rep. Horan, R-Wash., did not vote but was recorded in favor of recommiting the bill.

WENT WRONG

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — The tale of a trusted comrade who went wrong was related sorrowfully by Havana Radio.

Seems a storekeeper in the Havana suburb of Marianao joined the defense committee in his block and watched his neighbors for signs of counterrevolutionary activity—but all the time he was operating a black market in clothing at his shop.

Said the radio: "He infiltrated the defense committee to conceal his dark intrigues."

The fate of the luckless comrade was not announced.

DANGEROUS FIND

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A wrecking crew dismantling an abandoned drugstore uncovered 30 pounds of arsenic and large quantities of narcotics Thursday.

Detectives said the stock apparently was abandoned when the store was sold to the State Highway Department to make room for expressway construction.

COLLEGE JUMP

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—The University of Tennessee is considering a plan which would allow bright high school juniors to advance straight to college.

Under the proposal, the student would skip his senior year in high school and possibly receive a high school diploma at the end of his freshman year in college.

The idea is to encourage gifted students to advance rapidly.

New East Twin logging road to open big area

East Twin Road project now is well underway.

M and M Timber Company, which bought the Forest Service timber, is preparing to remove 22 million board feet from designated areas on the north slope of Snider Ridge. Six miles of new road are under construction by Carlson and Wahto Company, from the present end of East Twin Road No. 312 to the junction with Kloshe Natiche Road No. 304, 1.5 miles west of North Point Lookout.

INCLUDED IN THIS project is reconstruction of portions of East Twin Road involving 2.5 miles of crushed rock surfacing, straightening several curves, and reenforcing road shoulders at several places.

District Ranger Dale L. Robinson pointed out the new area not only will be opened for harvest and better timber management, but also will make some of the finest deer and grouse hunting in the district more accessible.

THIS NEW SCENIC route will connect U.S. Highway 101 at SniderWork Center directly with State Highway 9-A at the mouth of the East Twin River via North Point Lookout. North Point Lookout has long been recognized as one of the finest viewpoints on the North Olympic Peninsula, having a view of a major portion of the Peninsula including Mt. Olympus, Lake Crescent, Strait of Juan de Fuca, Vancouver Island and the Pacific Ocean.

Robinson says future plans call for recreation area development near the present lookout for the convenience of sight-seers and picnickers. Until the present project is completed access to North Point is from Highway 101 only and there is only limited parking area available.

Soleduck timber sales about over

All timber sales in Soleduck District, Olympic National Forest, for fiscal year 1962, will be concluded by June 30. The Mid-Calawah-Ridge sale was scheduled June 20, Section 17 salvage June 22, and Deep Creek June 29.

Mid-Calawah Ridge timber, south of Sappho in the Bockman Creek drainage, is on 2 clearcutting units, totaling 81 acres and 11 acres of road right-of-way timber over 1.85 miles of new road construction. It is developing an area that will give the Forest Service a road connection between South Fork Calawah River drainage and Soleduck River drainage.

SECTION 17 SALVAGE sale, also in Bockman Creek drainage, is a 9-acre clearcut against the Forks Burn that was windthrown during the heavy winds last winter. Road betterment, 5.6 miles, is included in this sale to bring Bockman Creek road to standard for logging traffic over the next 20 years.

The Deep Creek sale, located off Bear Creek Road connecting Highway 101 and State Highway 9-A, is composed of 4 clearcutting units totaling 258 acres and 28 acres of road right-of-way timber over 5.7 miles of new road construction.

Included also is .8 miles of road reconstruction on Bear Creek Road. The timber in Deep Creek is virtually untapped.

The total sales volume on the Soleduck District from July 1, 1961 to June 30, 1962 will be 112.9 million board feet of commercial timber. This exceeds the annual allowable cut of 58 million board feet setup for the Soleduck working circle.

Sale program and advance sale planning is calculated over a five-year period. At the end of five years the annual cut must average out to the annual allowable cut for the district.

A proposed program of timber sales to be offered between July 1, 1962 and December 31, 1962 will be released in the near future.

Strike talks deadlocked

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Efforts to end the month-long strike of the Iron Workers Union in the Pacific Northwest wound up deadlocked again Thursday.

Federal mediation men and representatives of the union and the Associated General Contractors met in Seattle to no avail.

Raymond Lewis, federal mediator, said the government had no further meetings scheduled, but, in Spokane, the union planned to meet with the AGC Monday.

The strike has tied up a large amount of highway and other construction in Western Washington and Oregon, and it has slowed work on projects in Eastern Washington and North Idaho, although no strike has been called in the latter areas.

About 2,500 iron workers are involved in the strike. It is estimated 20,000 persons in related crafts have been idled as a result.

The walkout began May 22 in Western Washington. A few days later it spread to Oregon.

Matters such as travel allowances, parking fee payment and union rights to set the size of some crews appear to be blocking settlement.

Contractors are reported to have offered raises of 45 to 50 cents an hour in a three-year contract.

Huge pageant thrills 2,500

With all the color of the past years shown to advantage, about 2,500 area residents watched the city's history unfold here last night in the opening of the huge Centennial pagean.

There might have been a few opening night jitters here and there, but there was no need to worry since the audience obviously was all for the cast and the presentation.

THE PRODUCTION rolled along smoothly with most of the cast loosening up and giving a good performance.

The colorful opening and closing with their myriad of flags and the church scenes were impressive. If you want to accept judgement of the youngsters in the school scene, they figured they drew the most laughs.

Filing out after the show some of the comments overheard were: "It was a good show . . . I was surprised . . . My, weren't those firemen funny . . . "

WITH THE EXCEPTION of sparse areas on either end of the building and one small section in the middle, the grandstand seemed to be fairly well filled. It seats well over 3,000.

Backed by formations of hundreds of youngsters representing the youth groups of the city and their fluttering flags, City Manager Matt Slankard opened the evening's show by introducing Queen Karyn Kunkel and her court. The Queen and Princesses were escorted to the front stage through an archway of pennants.

SLANKARD INTRODUCED Centennial Chairman Bob Gardner who presented the special guests of the evening. They spoke briefly for the communities honored by the evening's presentation.

State Senator Gordon Sandison brought the greetings of Gov. Albert D. Rossellini who was unable to attend the pageant because of prior committments at the Seattle World's Fair.

The honored communities and their representatives were Wilbur Washburn, Neah Bay; Charles Lisk, Sekiu, and James Aynsley, Clallam Bay.

The pageant-goers get an extra dividend in a fireworks display set off at the conclusion of the big show each night.

"THERE'S NO BUSINESS like show business" may be a cliche but The Centennial Committee is convinced it stems from solid fact.

When the local business people got involved in producing "Wilderness to Wonders" they had little experience but lots of enthusiasm.

None knew how much time would be required to make the giant pageant a success. None accept City Manager M. W. Slankard had worked with the John B. Rogers Co. in another town where he was city manager during a pageant production.

SLANKARD SPEARHEADED Port Angeles' effort in constructing the stage and sets but other committments forced him to resign as secretary yesterday. After all, he remarked, city business and work must go on every day, pageant or not.

Lorraine Ross was elected by the executive committee to replace Slankard. She joins Chairman Bob Gardner, Treasurer Jack Hoover and Evelyn Tinkham on the board.

Financing the pageant has been a king-sized headache too. It all costs money and everything has depended on the success of the ticket sale. From Podunk to Port Angeles show people know they have to live on faith that when the curtain goes up the crowds will be there and will love the entertainment.

WELL, THE show opened last night and the audience was happy. But one swallow doesn't make spring and one night's take won't pay all the pageant's bills.

"If we fill the grandstand every night all our troubles will be over," said Lorraine Ross. "The show is fun and everyone should enjoy the colorful pageant. It's hard to tell who's having the most fun, the audience or their friends who are acting out the historical incidents in Port Angeles' 100 year story."

"The committee has produced a pageant it feels sure everyone in this 'All America City' will enjoy. The seats are there and tickets are available. Everyone is invited. Come along!" urges Mrs. Ross.

Add new period to pool class schedule

Thanks to the new swimming pool, Port Angeles youngsters can go swimming twice as often this summer as they could at the old pool in years past.

The City Council and Park Board agree yesterday afternoon to add a seventh period to the swimming pool class schedule to accomodate the crowds of young people who have wanted to get into the water.

"THE INSTRUCTION will necessarily be less effective in large classes but after the summer recreation program closes in August smaller classes will be offered. That will give people of all ages a chance to improve their swimming and diving skills with more individual coaching from the instructor," Frisk said.

He reminds swimmers the afternoon recreation swim period is open to everyone, but children under seven must be accompanied by an adult.

"THIS DOESN'T mean just coming to the pool with an adult but being under his supervision at all times," Frisk said.

If one of the life guards sees an unattended child under seven years of age they will take him out of the water until his chaperone can be found to take over his supervision.

The evening schedule remains the same as it has been. Frisk said swimmers between 7 and 17 years of age may enter the team practice class daily from 7 to 8 a.m. He will act as coach.

Citizens, business community need information on govt.

Responsibilities of American citizens and the business community in particular to become fully informed on politics was discussed by three speakers at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon yesterday at Harrington's Skyroom.

Speakers at the meeting sponsored by Association of Washington Industries were Jerry D. Gregoire, Seattle; Newton Cutler, Olympia; and Luke Williams Jr., Spokane. C. Vern Basom, resident manager of Fibreboard and AWI director, presided over the meeting. There were probably 100 people in the audience.

Gregoire is Northwest public relations representative, Rayonier Incorporated, and a member of the AWI governmental relations committee. Cutler is director of the Washington Retail Council and a former AWI field representative. Williams is president of American Sign and Indicator Corp.

Newton W. Cutler

Basom in introducing the speakers told the group, "You cannot be critical of your government unless you learn about the issues and candidates. With 34-cents of every dollar earned going for taxes, we cannot afford to be apathetic about public affairs."

Gregoire was the first of the trio to speak and his talk concerned the growing danger of "centralism." The danger of the "gradual transfer of authority from the individual to larger units." As examples of this he used the individual income financing government, income, taxes, government employment and growth of bonded indebted ness in Washington State.

Cutler spoke of a few problems unique to the retailing industry. He pointed out there is no industry in the world that is better prepared or organized in the fields of marketing, merchandising and advertising.

"At the same time, there is no industry that is more poorly organized when it comes to protecting its own interests with government," said Cutler.

He said the council isn't ducking the issues, but it needed the help of all the retailers in the state.

WILLIAMS SPOKE on "Our Penmanent Partnership" with the government. He pointed out that "our partner" takes and we freely give, but we very often don't know the "board of directors" we elect.

Luke Williams Jr.

He concluded his speech and the meeting with this statement.

"Today I believe that our American way of life, based on individual freedom, is in jeopardy. whether we will respond as individuals and participate in our politics, or wait to be called, will very likely decide whether the future generations of our country will live in poverty and slavery, or abundance and freedom."

He pointed out that the government, "our permanent partner," received $4.50 for every dollar the shareholders in his company received.

Estimated 10,000 watch colorful parade kick off Centennial

The parade Saturday that took an hour to pass the reviewing stand, with several hundred participants and at least 10,000 spectators, was the greatest event of its kind in the history of the city.

Features of the big Centennial event were the many beautiful floats, bands and marching units, and antique cars and interesting costumes which in some instances were worn by walkers.

Particularly welcome were the floats and other units from Victoria. Port Townsend, Sequim, Olympia, Bremerton, Joyce, Fort Lewis, Auburn, North Saanich, B.C., and Esquimalt, B.C.

There were horses, burrows, and shetland ponies. Folks in cars and Davy Crockett and partner and a huge frontiersman with a long rifle and wife. At least 20 antique cars, from big to little ones, were in the line of march.

There were so many entrants, some of which were not listed as eligible for prizes, that judges list all of those who did not win prizes as receiving "Honorable Mention."

IN THE PRIVATE contest between the City of Port Angeles and Clallam County it was declared a draw, with Port Angeles featuring little angels declared best for beauty and the Clallam County float, featuring a brick courthouse and jail, first of the two for originality.

There were kilties with fife and drums and bagpipes. The Fourth Infantry Band from Fort Lewis was a feature and another band and marching unit from Port Angeles High School was one of the best in the line of march.

Leading the line of march, in an open car, was Senator Henry M. Jackson. In other cars were Mayor James Maxfield of Port Angeles and Mayor Whitney Domstead of Bremerton.

THERE WERE queens and princesses in great numbers. The PUD high-reaching mobile unit particularly pleased the crowd and little burrows from Long John's Corner made a great hit. There was also a little pony, drawing a tiny buggy that got plenty of applause.

Riding in a truck with the Brothers of the Brush was an impersonator of Mitch Miller, of "Sing Along With Mitch" fame.

Under the direction of Bob Wheeler the parade was well organized and moved away from the starting point on time. The first unit passed the 1st and Laurel St. reviewing stand at 11:45 a.m. after the two-mile walk. The last unit passed the stand exactly one hour later.

Spectators lined the street all the way along the line of march. Observers say an estimate of 10,000 spectators is very conservative.

Vancouver Island, with a score of entrants, led out-of-town areas for persons in the various units.

School board considers bids

Bid considerations for gravel, gym seating, furniture and gym equipment, a projector and typewriters went before board members of the Cape Flattery School Board at their June 11 meeting in the vocational building at Clallam Bay.

Present at the meeting were George Munro, chairman; Ruth Hinkle, clerk; Robert Bowlby and Don Nicholas.

THE BOARD accepted a financial status report and composite lunch and voucher list from Mrs. Hinkle. They also reviewed the attendance report which showed 450 days lost in attendance.

Western Washington Indian Agency requested a room at the Neah Bay School to be used once a month next year for handling Indian problems. The board will issue a permit on the condition that this use will cause no extra charge to the district.

Nicholas reported that the Hoko bus job and custodial work for the district is still open. Those interested should apply to Supt. Glenn Willison.

Tye Gill will teach 5th and 6th grades at Clallam Bay next year as well as coach basketball and football.

The board also discussed the lack of an instrumental music program at Neah Bay. They plan further study on this next year.

The next regular meeting will be July 9 at 7 p.m. at the Clallam Bay Vocational Building.

Carlsborg mill to re-open

Re-employment will get a boost next week when one of this area's large lumber mills goes back into production.

The Carlsborg Lumber Company's sawmill will start operation at 7:30 Monday morning. Resident Manager Stuart C. Smith made the announcement to the Evening News today.

Smith says this will bring total employment at the mill up to 50 to 55 men. Although the dry kiln and planing mill have been operating for a month employing from 10 to 20 men, the sawmill has been closed down since last winter.

Two added to welfare committee

Two more Port Angeles men have been added to the UGN Welfare Coordinating Committee.

Active for the past year as Co-Chairmen of the committee have been George Christensen and Capt. Loring F. Hyde.

The UGN Headquarters announced today that H. E. Sherman and Verne Samuelson will join Christensen and Hyde in coordinating immediate help to burn-out victims and other emergencies in Clallam County.

The committee calls representatives from the United Good Neighbor Health and Welfare agencies in the event of a disaster. The committee working with the agencies has given help during the past year to a number of Clallam County families.

The agencies involved are the American Red Cross, The Salvation Army, The Altruistic Club and Good Neighbor Relief.

Sherman is the personnel manager at one of the local mills and Samuelson is a retired businessman.

When a disaster strikes a family, any of the four men can be called. Failing to reach one of them, a call to the UGN office will get the message to them, UGN secretary Claudia Fields reports.

Governor cites tourist cash

"Hisorically Port Angeles' destiny has been tied to the forests and to the sea," Gov. Albert D. Rosellini said at a luncheon in his honor yesterday.

"Port Angeles still depends upon lumbering and fishing for much of its income. But a third industry has grown up around visitors who come this way to enjoy the hunting, fishing and natural beauty of the Olympic Peninsula, Tourism," he continued.

ROSELLINI SAID Port Angeles is an example of the first truly permanent settlements which grew up around lumbering and fishing in this state.

He went on to say that although these industries are still very important to this area a vast change has taken place.

"One of the greatest needs in Port Angeles today is to create opportunities for its young people and newcomers moving into the state," he said.

It is also the biggest problem the state faces.

"THE MOST VALUABLE and vital resources which we have today are our young people," he said. "Now we export the state's top two-fifths of graduating classes because employment opportunities are better elsewhere."

"To keep these young people and our best talents here, Port Angeles must join a statewide effort to provide the best possible business climate," Rosellini said.

"We must realize that our economy is changing. To continue to grow we must attract new industry."

Rosellini said Washington is the leading wholesaler state in the Northwest and has the greatest volume of retail trade. Many new industries are moving here and others are enlarging their plants.

"THE CLUE to Port Angeles' brightest opportunity is the growth of motels in this city," Rosellini remarked.

Tourist industry in the state has been increasing at the annual rate of 10 per cent. Rosellini urged citizens here to get their share of this tourist bonanza.

"Your destiny is not only tied to the forest and the sea. It is also linked closely with tourism and outdoor recreation," he said. "I know of no city in the state where the opportunity is greater. Chosen in 1954 as one of the first All-American Cities, Port Angeles has demonstrated it has what it takes to assure itself an unlimited future."

SEATED AT THE speakers' table with the governor were E. L. Critchfield, who acted as master of ceremonies, and his wife. Others were Rev. Lloyd Holloway, who gave the invocation, Mayor James Maxfield and Centennial Queen Karyn Kunkel.

Also at the table were State Representatives James L. McFadden and Roy Rittner, State Senator Gordon Sandison, Charles Lisk of Sekiu, Wilbur Washburn of Neah Bay and State Land Commissioner Bert Cole.

AVIATION SHOW

PORTLAND (AP) — A three-day Pacific Northwest Aviation Show gets under way today at Portland International Airport.

Two military missiles — the Snarc and the Bomarc — are among more than $10 million worth of Air Force equipment on display. Other exhibits include antique, civilian and homebuilt aircraft.

For a time Thursday string winds threatened to blow away a 60 x 270-foot tent sheltering some of the exhibits. Some lighter antique planes were moved into hangars.

CLAIMS RECORD

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The "Cuban Raider Command" claims credit for wrecking two trains in Castro Cuba.

Capt. Santago Perez, head of the ant-Castro exiles raiding unit, said Thursday three of his men got safely out of Cuba after derailing one freight train at Guanabacoa and another at Central Hershey. Both sites are in Matanzas Province, east of Havana.

The Castro government radio recently told of a freight derailment at Guanabacoa. The broadcast said the Camaguey-bound train's engineer was killed and its fireman was injured.

No word of a derailment at Hershey has been heard.

NEW DRUG

LONDON (AP)—Britain's Imperial Chemical Industries reported today it has developed a drug that controls the concentration in the blood of such fatty substances as cholesterol.

The announcement said the drug—atromid—was a major advance in the treatment of arteriosclerosis. It said the drug will not be available generally for prescription until completion of extensive clinical trials now going on in Britain, the United States, Canada and eight other countries.

NO FINGERPRINTS

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Police jailed a 22-year-old man on charges of stealing a sports car and burning it three hours later.

The man, W. J. Wisenhant, told officers he stole the car for a joy ride, then burned it to get ride of his fingerprints.

BOY IMPROVED

SPOKANE (AP)—The boy who received severe head injuries when his red wagon rolled into the street and was struck by a car at Moscow, Idaho, was reportedly slightly improved Friday.

Michael Swanson, 9, was still on the critical list but he rested better during the night, hospital attendants said.

Moscow has not recorded a traffic death since April of 1948.

Scribe recalls boyhood days in early Port Angeles as city observes 100th birthday

By JACK HENSON
(The Wandering Scribe)

A very young Scribe, wearing his first pair of trousers came to Port Angeles June 10, 1888. He observed the event last Sunday. His mother, Mrs. John Henson and his brother Fred and sister Alice landed at the Morse Dock, now the Black Ball Ferry Dock from the wood-burning mail boat Evangel from Seattle

The family came from St. Louis to Seattle by train and from there by boat to join John Henson, head of the family and member of the Puget Sound Cooperative Colony who preceeded them here.

Mother Henson made the trousers and the youngsters wore them to surprise his father. It was unusual for small boys to wear kilts until they were of about school age.

AS WE WALKED up the dock we saw Peabody Creek coming down Laurel St. heading for the harbor and then making an abrupt turn at Front and Laurel Sts. going west on Front St. and empting in the harbor at Front and Oak Sts.

A wooden bridge spanned the creek between the present site of First National Bank and the Harwooden bridges spanned Front between Laurel and Oak.

Father did not settle with other colonists at Ennis Creek but took up a 25-foot lot on the beach at what is now 119 E. Front St.

Washington was then a territory and it was federal tideland. The land was deeded to the state when it was created in 1889 and the family acquired title to the land from the state later.

WE LIVED IN A small house on pilings on the beach under which the tide came at its high stage. Front St., was a beach road. The road ended at Lincoln St. and was not extended east of there for a couple of years. Access to the east end of town was by a road that followed a ridge at what is the alley between Front and First. This road started at Laurel St.

Among first recollections was carrying water from Peabody Creek for home use. A little later the water came from the town pump at Front and Lincoln.

PORT ANGELES then was divided into two settlements called East and West ends.

The East End settlement was clustered around the mouth of Ennis Creek where members of the Puget Sound Colony had settled in 1887.

The West End settlement was mostly along both sides of Front St. between Oak and Lincoln and at what is now Second and Valley Sts.

Indain villages also were on the east bank of Ennis Creek and along the shores of the western end of the harbor.

ONE OF THE earliest recollections is seeing and hearing a group of Indians, beating tom-toms coming to town on Front St. and doing a dance on the bridge at Front and Laurel.

I remember hiding behind my mother's apron, peeking out to watch the Indians. First rumor was that the Indians were doing a war dance but some chinook-speaking citizens told us it was a peace dance.

Other contact with the Indians was later that year during the last potlatch at the Ennis Creek long house.

Mother and I and my sister walked the beach to Ennis Creek. The potlatch was going on and we peeked over the wall of the long house to watch.

All at once Indians burst out through the door firing guns. My sister and I headed for our Front Street home along the beach and arriving there crawled under a bed where mother found us when she completed her run from the potlatch.

WHEN WE CAME here in 1888 the national city of Port Angeles had been created for 26 years by the act signed by President Lincoln June 19, 1862. The government townsite, west of Peabody Street to the town's western border except for the tidelands, was deep forest that was not officially opened for settlement until 1894 but where squatters staked out homes in 1890.

WHAT WAS KNOWN as the West End was a settlement on Front St. This settlement was dominated by the Merchant's Hotel at the southeastern corner of Front and Laurel. Across the street to the east was D. W. Moorse's general store.

On the south side of Front, between Lincoln and Laurel was the weather bureau operated by the Signal Corps of the U. S. Army. Strung along the beach frm Laurel St. east was a row of dwellings.

These buildings extended east to embrace what is now known as Hollywood Beach. On the corner about where the First National Bank is was a long white building that was some kind of a lodging house. Back of it was an orchard and blacksmith shop and some other buildings.

THE COLONISTS at Ennis Creek had acquired considerable federal land in the area east of Peabody St. and some had built homes along the bluff on what is now east Front and First Sts., and south of there.

Then came the unofficial squatting on the reservation and many folks came here. Front Street build up. There were many people arriving in the hope of acquiring land on the reservation.

AMONG THE MEMORIES of childhood is that of attending school on the second floor of the Morse store. Teacher was a minister by the name of Howell. That was late in 1888 or early in 1889.

Although too young to officially attend any school I was allowed to sit in a chair near the teacher's desk in the temporary school.

I still was too young to attend the first term of the Old Central school that was in the fall of 1889.

HOWEVER IN the fall of 1890 I was sent to school. I lit out from the beach home up the newly built East Front St. road I was carrying a lunch in a coffee can with a handle on it.

Getting to the top of the hill I saw a young pal. Fred Rister, sitting on the lawn of his home east of the hill top. So we had lunch and I did not get to school that day.

Next morning mother escorted me toward school. I sat on the front seat in the school building and Jesse Taylor, uncle of Stanley Taylor was my teacher.

He kept me on that front seat the balance of the term because I was always playing with a slate and not writing on it. Stanley Taylor's father, A. N. Taylor, was school superintendent.

ANOTHER VIVID recollection was walking through the woods to what is now east Ninth St. with my mother. There she put down stakes and land that is now at 119 East Ninth St.

Enroute there we went through the old cemetery at Eighth and Oak Sts. Our land, comprising three lots, was eventually to become our home. On it my father built the present old two-story house in 1892 with lumber carried over a trail about a block by the carpenters who constructed it.

When we were settled in our new home on Cherry Hill, a one-room school house had been built at the present site of Jefferson School. It was in the woods.

I seemed to always sit in the front row of school rooms. W. B. Main, our teacher had me in the front row.

FREQUENTLY I crawled under the seats to the back of the school room to get a drink of water from a bucket near the front door Teacher Main became irked because when he looked down my seat was empty.

He kept a small piece of hose in a picket in his fraock coat and smacked me with it a couple of times. I still crawled, so for the balance of the term he tied me to my seat with a piece of hay rope, freeing me only during recess, noon and dismissal time.

AFTER A COUPLE of terms at what was then the Fourth Ward School I started again attending Old Central School.

Some of the vivid recollections of school days there was the chore of cutting willow switches on the school ground with which our teachers switched us lightly although we yelled very loudly.

Among the big events of boyhood was the day I got my first long trousers when I was about 14 years old. I had on the trousers and two bits in my pocket and went to a box social at the Germania Hall at the corner of Eighth and Peabody Sts. bid on a box and had lunch with the young girl owner.

This has been a chronicle of the very early days in Port Angeles. Another story is that of the following year when I attended grade and high school at Old Central until going to Alaska for a 20-year stay from 1902 to 1922.

$100,0000 THEFT

NORWALK, Conn. (AP) — Author Harold Robbins has told police a 20-carat diamong ring was among the loot taken by two men who forced their way into his home.

Robbins, whose novel "The Carpetbaggers" has been challenged as obscene in a number of cities, estimated the value of furs and jewelry taken at $100,000.

The robbery occurred Friday while Robbins and his wife were out shopping. Thier maid, Bertha Newman, told police two armed men pushed their way into the house after ascertaining that she was alone.

Fishing lines

Aldwell producing well; silvers show on coast

By HARRY COVENTON

Lake Aldwell continues to put out the best catches for the trout fishermen and should still be the best bet for the coming weekend.

Mel Hilt of Elwha Resort called into report numerous limit catches of rainbows during the past few days with still fishermen doing the best, although some good catches were coming in on flies as well as trolled flat fish or spoons.

A few large cutthroat trout are still being caught in Lake Sutherland. Kris Lundgren came in with a 4½ pounder and Jon Latvala a 1 pounder on trolled Canadian Wonder spoons. Both fish were displayed at Coventon's Tackle Wednesday.

Vern Sukert fishing Lake Leland Tuesday had a nice limit of fish taken on ford fender and worms. Vern reports still fishing slow on that lake, but good catches coming in on trolls.

Silver salmon seem to be plentiful on the ocean and La Push fishermen are doing real well. At Neah Bay the charter boats are brining in mostly slivers, but are going out beyond Tatoosh Island for their best fishing.

Sekiu fishing has been slow but has picked up considerably the past few days with some nice kings showing Pillar Point produced three nice eighteen pound kings for C. H. Pults and his visiting brother J. C. Pults Thursday. One other boat also came in with three nice fish. Pults reported the fish were scattered and fishing generally slow.

Wind and fog are still hampering local fishermen and no fish have been reported off Ediz Hook the past few days.

Tuesday: Olympic Rec. vs. Vannausdle's (single game 7:00 p.m.)

Thursday: Air Force vs. Merchants (6:30 p.m.) Vannausdle's vs. Club Billiards (second game)

Club Billiards and the Air Force scored upset wins in Clallam County fastball action last night at Elks Field.

In the evening opener, Club Billiards scored their first win of the season by handing the stumbling Comets an 11-7 lacing. In the finale, Air Force scored a 6-5 victory over Vannausdle's to move into a first place tie with the Merchants.

In last night's opener, the same old script prevailed as far as the Comets were concerned, as they committed eight errors to run their two game total to fifteen. The Club Billiards were not to be denied however, as they unleashed a balanced nine-hit attack to send the Recreation nine into the cellar.

The Billiards jumped into an 8-1 lead in the first three frames, and as in numerous games before, the Comets tightened in the later frames by scoring seven tallies but the game was already out of reach.

The Billiards jumped into a quick 2-0 lead in the opening frame on a walk and three Comet errors. In the second, hits by Denny Sullivan and Jerry Charles, plus a pair of walks and another Comet miscue gave the green and white clad Billiards three more tallies.

In the third, hits by Elmer Charles, Dave Percer and Leo Charles, and two more Comet throwing errors gave the Billiards three more scores.

Trailing 8-1 in the fourth frame the Comets scored a pair of runs on a Billiard error, a base on balls and Don Schlemmer's pinch hit single. In the fifth, hits by Uvila, Elvin Sofie, Roy Hale and Schlemmer gave the Comets their final four tallies. The Comets had scored their first run of the game in the third on Vern Uvila's long home run to right field.

In the sixth the Club Billiards put the game out of reach scoring three runs on hits by Jerry Charles, Denny Sullivan and a Comet miscue. Jerry Charles and Denny Sullivan led the Club Billiard attack each with two hits.

Uvila led the losers with three hits.

In the evening wrapup, Air Force scored their first win of the season over Vannausdle's and also their first in over four season's against the hardware sponsored nine. Each club battled relentlessly with the Airmen pushing over the tie-breaking run in the bottom of the seventh on a Vannausdle throwing error, after a single by Turk Markistrium.

Until the fateful seventh, each club battled on even terms, trading scores. Both clubs scored one run apiece in the opening frame. In the second, Vann's scored a pair on hits by newcomer, pitcher, P.K. Brown, Jim Critchfield and Sparky Redenbaugh.

Back came the Air Force in their half of the second. Walks to Markistruim and Hugh Brady, along with Jim Freeman's hit gave the Airmen two runs.

Vann's scored another pair in the fifth on two Airmen miscues, a walk and Harold Landry's sacrifice.

Air Force knotted the score at 5-5 in its half of the fifth scoring twice on a walk, a hit batter and Hank Glickmeyer's double to left field. Each club failed to score in the 6th and that set the stage for the seventh frame, when Turk Markistruim's hit iced the contest for the jubilant Makah Air Force Station nine.

On the depressing side of the evening's action, was the second straight player injury. Inserted as a pinch runner, veteran fastball hurler Red Crumb was cut down at the plate, and a collision resulted with Air Force catcher Hank Glickmeryer.

Crumb received cuts about the face and a severe knee injury and is out of action indefinitely. Crumb, one of the league's most colorful performers for over a decade will be missed considerably by his mates.

155 started scoring fairly late in the game. It picked up three runs in the third and five in the fifth to pull within one run of Sequim. After they once got rolling the 155 boys didn't quit. They put the lid on the scoring in the sixth with three.

Even after they got the winning margin the 155 boys still didn't quit. They scored two more in the last inning.

Lost—One big linebacker from Detroit Lions

DETROIT (AP)—Lost: One 246-pound linebacker—Dave Lloyd. If found, notify the Detroit Lions pronto.

"We might even have to offer a reward," said Bud Erickson, assistant general manager of the National Football League club. "We've sent wires, letters and tried to call Lloyd at several places and just can't locate him."

Lloyd came to the Lions in their six-player trade last March with the Cleveland Browns.

Bees drop Seattle twice to put end to Rainiers' PCL uprising

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Salt Lake City took both ends of a baseball doubleheader from Seattle Thursday night to end for the time being the Rainiers' threat to Bee supremacy in the league but San Diego kept its own challenge alive with a narrow win over Vancouver.

Seattle, tied with the Bees going into the doubleheader, dropped two games back after 7-6 and 3-1 losses at Salt Lake City. San Diego remained only a half a game out of first place with a 4-3 decision over Vancouver's Mounties.

SPLIT TWO

The Portland Beavers and Hawaiian Islanders split a twin bill, Portland winning 2-1 and Hawaii 3-1. Tacoma and Spokane also divided, the Giants winning 3-1 and Spokane taking the nightcap in 12 innings 5-4.

Billy Williams' three-run homer in the third inning of the nightcap completed the sweep for Salt Lake City, which had dropped two earlier games to the Rainiers. In the first game, the Bees scored three times in the sixth inning and fought off a Seattle rally that brought in four runs in the seventh, to preserve victory.

CHALLANGE GOING

San Diego kept its challenge going on Harry Anderson's pinch-hit homer with one on in the last of the ninth. The Mounties held a 3-2 lead as the Padres took their turn at bat in the ninth. Hal Bevan got on on an error and Sammy Ellis running for Bevan crossed the plate ahead of Anderson when the latter, batting for Marv Shultz, lifted one out of the park.

At Spokane, Bobby Prescott homered in the bottom of the 12th to give the Indians their victory in the nightcap. Tacoma won the first game on Jose Cardenal's two-run homer in the fifth. The night's activities left Tacoma 4½ games out of first place and Spokane still in the cellar 16½ games back.

SEVEN HITS

Audrey Gatewood allowed Portland but seven hits in beating the Beavers in the nightcap, and Jim Archer and Dan Osinski teamed in a four-hitter as Portland took the opener. Hawaii got only four hits in the second game, too, but made them pay off on the scoreboard. It was a hard-luck loss for Portland southpaw Mickey Lolich who left in the eighth after allowing but one hit and striking out 12 Hawaiians.

Lions lose twice in week's 'Y' league

During the first part of this week's play in the YMCA Olympic League the Lions' entry went down to defeat twice and the Eagles, Local 155 and Elks all won.

In Wednesday night's action the Eagles dropped the Lions 11-8 although Lions outhit them 11-5. Lions led 7-6 going into the fifth and added their final tally in the top of that inning.

Eagles were gunning for them though. They piled up five runs in the bottom of the fifth and shut the Lions out in the sixth for the winning margin.

Tuesday night the Local 155 entry rode the pitching arm of Brad Maier for a 6-3 victory over the Rotary entry.

It was another case of the losing team leading most of the game and being bowled over in the final inning. Rotary opened the scoring in the first inning and regained the lead in the third. Gary Hanson Rotary pitcher had run a real tight game until the sixth when the roof fell in. Up to the sixth he had struck out 12 men.

Local 155 scored its five runs on some walks, two doubles and a single in the last inning.

Turks showing well in world wrestling

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The Turkish star was rising today in the wake of a fine showing in the opening session of the World Wrestling Championships.

The Turks, who turned in a poor performance in the 1961 championships, moved into the lead Thursday night. They scored six victories against one loss and a bye in the first round and had fattened their score to eight victories part way through the second.

Russia, Japan and Iran had won six of 10 matches after completing part of the second round. The United States broke even with four wins and four losses, and two draws.

American League gets shakes; Yanks win one

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If the American League has the shakes today, there are two good reasons for it.

One is named Whitey Ford. The other is Mickey Mantle.

Together, those New York Yankee roommates may hold the key to the league's pennant race. They've been on the injured list—Ford with an ailing arm, Mantle with an injured leg — and the perennial champion Yankees went into a tailspin to fourth place.

COMING BACK?

It was beginning to look like the year the Yankees lost the pennant.

But Ford, a lefty who compiled a spectacular 25-4 record last season, sent a tremor through the AL with a sparkling, three-hit 3-shutout of Baltimore Thursday—which amounted to a firm declaration that he's back in top form.

And now the rest of the league is apprehensively watching Mantle, the switch-hitting super-star who had 54 home runs, 128 runs batted in, a .317 average and helped Roger Maris to a record 61 homers. Mickey's going to make the big test of his ailing legs in Detroit Friday night.

QUESTION MARK

If he's sound—and there's still a big question mark about it—it well could mean business as usual. Which is another way of saying the Ford-Mantle combo could trigger another Yankee drive to the top.

Ford's effort over Baltimore marked his first victory since May 9, ended a five-game Yankee losing string and pulled the Yanks to within three games of the top when leading Cleveland lost to Boston 3-1.

The Los Angeles Angels scrambled into second place, four percentage points ahead of Minnesota, on the strength of a 3-1 triumph over Kansas City while the Chicago White Sox beat the Twins 6-2. Detroit came from behind and stopped Washington 6-3.

Art Mahaffey's five-hit shutout brought Philadelphia a 3-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs in the only National League game scheduled.

Tracksters aim at new records

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

WALNUT, Calif. (AP)—Eight championships with several world records endangered, go on the line tonight as the National AAU track and field carnival starts a two-night run.

More than 400 athletes are gathered for this 74th annual meet and such world title claimants as Dallas Long, Frank Budd and Robert Hayes are scheduled to compete in the opening program.

HILL STADIUM

The site is Mt. San Antonio College's Memorial Stadium, a 12,000-seat arena tucked away in the rolling San Jose hills near Los Angeles.

Meet director Hilmer Lodge listed no less than eight world records which he feels are in danger, including tonight's 100-yard dash, the 120-yard high hurdles, the shot put and broad jump.

Other final events tonight are the 440-yard hurdles, the javelin and the 6-mile run.

SHOT STARS

Dallas Long, who has a claim in for the world shot put mark at 65 feet, 10½ inches, and Gary Gubner of New York, with a best of 64-11, dominate the event.

The 100 features Frank Budd, who holds the world time of 9.2; Hayes, who has tied 9.2, and Harry Jerome of Oregon, who hopes to improve his best of 9.3.

The 120-yard high hurdles might well be the top race of the evening. A veteran of 23, Hayes Jones, from Detroit, faces tough opposition from Jerry Tarr of Oregon. Tarr has a best mark of 13.3 this year.

Doug Ford leads golf tourney

BALTIMORE (AP)—Doug Ford Thursday shot a 3-under par 69 to lead first day scoring in the Eastern Open.

Bobby Nichols and newcomers Terry Dill and Moon Mullins had 70s.

Only a dozen out of the 119 competitors finished ahead of Mount Pleasant's par 72.

The 39-year old Ford had a four stroke stranglehold on par at the last hole. But he three-putted to finish 3 under.

The 72-hole tournament is scheduled to end Sunday.

Financier accused

NEW YORK (AP) — Jacques Sarlie, financier and art connoisseur described as a Wall Street associate of Edward M. Gilbert, who fled to Brazil, has been accused of fleeing to France and leaving a $754,000 stock order unpaid.

The Dutch-born Sarlie, 47, was sued in State Supreme Court Thursday by the brokerage firm of McDonnell and Co., Inc. The firm contended Sarlie fled to Paris June 9 or 10 to defraud creditors and to avoid payment for stock purchased during an attempt to gain control of Celotex Corp.

Gilbert, who flew to Brazil June 13, had been buying up Celotex stock and seeking a merger of Celotex with E. L. Bruce Co., the wood flooring concern of which he was president and a director. Gilbert faces claims arising from his admittedly unauthorized withdrawals of $1,953,000 from E. L. Bruce.

Sarlie, who came to America in 1940, amassed a personal fortune and, in 1960, collected $1,203,160 from a London auction of 51 of his paintings, most of them Picassos. He said at the time he would use the money to encourage the arts.

The court complaint against Sarlie stated that he ordered 17,800 shared of E. L. Bruce stock and 11,700 shares of Celotex between May 31 and June 8. On May 28 the stock market suffered one of its sharpest declines since 1929.

Favorite way back in women's golf tournament

PLAINFIELD, N.J. (AP)—The favorite Mickey Wright, found herself seven strokes back of the co-leaders in the J.E. McAuliffe Golf Tournament for women professionals today, after the first of four rounds.

Miss Wright, of Dallas, hardly justified her favorite role on the first day of play over the par 73 Plainfield Country Club course Thursday. The winner of the U.S. Women's Open three of the last four years took a 38-41—79.

Mary Lena Faulk of Sea Island, Ga., and Kathy Whitworth of Jal, N.M., each hit 72s to lead the 27 pros in the field.

The girls are shooting for $9,000 in prize money in the tournament, a 72-hole medal play event.

In third place, at even par 73, was Carol Mann of Olympia Fields, Ill. Beth Stone of Muskogee, Okla., and Barbara Romack of Grossingers, N.Y., were in fourth position with 74s.

CO-OWNER DIES

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Mario Crespi, co-owner of Corriere Della Sera, widely regarded as Italy's most influential newspaper, died Wednesday after a long illness.

'I'm changed person,' Bo Belinsky declares

KANSAS CITY (AP) — "I'm definitely a changed person," said Bo Belinsky, the young no-hit pitcher for the Los Angeles Angels just before he took the mound Thursday night to win his first game in a month, 3-1 against Kansas City, to put the Angels into second place in the American League.

The Athletics had him in hot water early but he wriggled out of it and capped the victory by retiring nine men in order over the last three innings.

SEVENTH TRY

It was his seventh try for his seventh victory of the season and his first since some all-night partying got him in $250 worth of trouble with Manager Bill Rigney.

A losing pitcher in the minors, Belensky catapulted to baseball fame when he pitched the season's only no-hitter against Baltimore in mid-May. He had a two-hit, 1-0 shutout against Boston on May 20 but then went into eclipse —as a pitcher.

Show business took him up in a gaudy whirl when the Angels returned to Los Angeles just before Memorial Day for a long home stand.

Bo and Dean Chance, another Los Angeles rookie flinger, left a party for Eddie Fisher at 4:45 a.m. in Bo's red convertible. At 5, Gloria Eves, 33, a cashier in a Hollywood steakhouse, ran from the convertible to a police car and complained Belinsky was beating her. Belinsky and his date, Bridget Whitaker, 33, said Miss Eves became belligerent, Bo ordered her from the car and she bumped her head getting out.

Miss Eves had a cut above her left eye but declined to press charges. The Angels fined Belinsky and Chance $250 apiece for being out after hours and Manager Bill Rigney read a riot act to them in front of the squad.

Listing Leftists Is Like Filling Sieve With Water

BY PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The most widely used directory of Communist, Communist-front and left wing groups of fellow travelers in the United States is the "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications." It runs 250 pages and sells for 70 cents. It may be ordered from Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D.C.

The list was compiled by House Un-American Activities Committee in 1957. A revised edition was issued Dec. 1, 1961. While it is still a valuable reference work, it is already out of date. Most of the organizations listed no longer exist. New organizations formed since the directory was compiled and active today are not listed.

Listings in the guide include only those groups that have been cited by federal, state and territorial agencies and investigating committees. The citations are given in every case. But the listings are not official findings of government agencies or the courts. So the guide must be used with extreme caution.

ONLY 21 OF THE 818 organizations listed in the guide are known to be active today. The list includes:

American Committee for Protection of the Foreign Born.
American-Russian Institute of Southern California.
American-Russian Institute of San Francisco.
Camp Lakeland-Kinderland (New York state).
Citizens Committee for Constitutional Liberties.
Citizens Committee to Preserve American Freedoms.
Emergency Civil Liberties Committee.
Farm Research Organization.
Fund for Social Analysis.
Labor Research Organization.
Los Angeles Committee for Protection of the Foreign Born.
Methodist Federation for Social Action (Ardsley, N.Y.).
Midwest Committee for Protection of Foreign Born.
National Assembly for Democratic Rights.
National Committee to Abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee.
National Council of American-Soviet Friendship.
National Lawyers Guild.
Northern California Committee for Protection of Foreign Born.
Veterans of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade.
Youth to Abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee.
Yiddisher Kultur Farband.

This is admittedly not a complete list since many Communist organizations operate under cover.

Others are "quickie" committees, organized to whip up propaganda on some current issue dear to the Kremlin heart, then disbanded before there can be any investigation.

THE ACTIVE ORGANIZATIONS listed above are those on which evidence of recent open operations is readily available and known to government officials keeping track on Communist party affairs in America.

Representatives shun 'lower house' title

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — You'd better smile, pardner, if you call the U.S. House of Representatives the "lower house."

Otherwise you're in trouble with House members.

For there is nothing in the Constitution which says the Senate is higher than the House. They are co-equal. As a matter of fact, some authorities feel that if either branch is expendable it is the Senate, not the House.

INFERIORITY COMPLEX

But though House members get the same pay—$22,500—as senators, it has long been surmised that many of them have hidden inferiority complexes. For one thing, the size of the House (437 as against 100 senators) tends to dilute an individual member's prestige. And to get any work done, the House has developed rules which regiment its run-of-the-mill members. No representative can make a marathon speech, for example.

At any rate, the House has long suspected the Senate of haughtiness. So now representatives have their backs up. They are insisting that the chairmanship of Senate-House Conference Committees appointed to iron out differences in appropriations bills shall rotate instead of always being held by a senator. This dispute has tied up several appropriations bills and many government exployes face payless paydays, including the valiant Secret Service.

Though the Constitution makes no mention of it, some people contend Congress has a "third house" —namely its system of conference committees. When Senate and House pass a bill in different form a conference committee usually is appointed to reconcile the differences.

Working in secret, conferees wield great power. Sometimes in the past they have altered legislation almost beyond recognition. And sometimes, especially in session-end logjams, Congress has passed the conferees' "compromise" without knowing exactly what was in it.

ONE CHAMBER

Suggestions sometimes have been made that America could get along with a one-chamber Congress. Many foreign countries and one American state, Nebraska, manage to do it. But it is inconceivable that either Senate or House would vote for a constitutional amendment to put itself out of business.

The present clash between Senate and House, though tense, is conducted quietly in gentlemanly fashion. Both chambers have rules against using the floor to speak ill of colleagues in either house.

GOOD OLD DAYS

Gone are the good old days when Congressman "Sockless Jerry" Simpson (1842-1905) of Kansas could arise on the House floor and call a colleague "a political cannibal autocrat."

WANDERING Scribe

A sharpshooter . . . with a BB gun . . . was sniping at the little burros . . . that marched in the Saturday Centennial parade . . . The little animals were the hit of the parade . . . When their owners . . . the Mel Runnions . . . took the animals back to their corral at Long John's Corner . . . they found a shot embedded in one of the hides . . . One has been unable to resume the job of packing folks around at the corral . . . The Runnions . . . who are very fond of their little animals . . . had them in parades here and Port Townsend . . . and this is the first time anyone has shot them . . . They were entered in the kiddies' parade of Wednesday . . . but could not march because of the wounds . . . Seems to Scribe the shooting of the patient little animals . . . is a very thoughtless and dirty trick . . . Tonight and Saturday night . . . are the last showings of the Centennial pageant . . . There will not be another centennial for 100 years . . . and now is the time for the present generation to participate in such an event . . . Many Brothers of the Brush . . . are planning to come out of hiding behind the brush . . . when the Centennial week is over . . . They will have a perfectly new identity to establish.

Guest speaker at the installation dinner will be Wheeler Graves, Seattle attorney.

Guest speaker at Wednesday's Rotary meeting was Dr. William R. Conte, Olympia, Supervisor, Division of Mental Health, Department of Institutions of the state.

He was introduced by Dr. Albert F. Mangan, program chairman for June.

The speaker said the state now has a well-organized and functioning department of mental health. The department is staffed with 75 doctors as compared with 19 in 1959.

There are now 5,300 persons in state mental hospitals compared with 7,500 in 1959. The patients are being released to their homes at the rate of 600 a month.

The speaker contrasted the brutal treatment of mental patients of years ago with the methods now used. Now every effort is made to cure the ill persons and return them to their homes.

Dr. Conte is a strong advocate of treatment on the local level by psychology under the direction of qualified phychologists.

The whole objective of treatment for mental illness is designed to quiet fear in the mind of the patient and return him or her to home environments to get along with people and become self-supporting citizens, Dr. Conte said.

He said the postponement was decided upon during a meeting in Seattle Thursday. Another meeting probably will be held in Portland in the fall to consider the increase, he said.

Jaycees to continue aid

Members of the Port Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce voted Wednesday to continue support of the school milk fund for needy children.

The action came after the club received a letter from School District 21 asking for support of the milk program.

A letter of thanks from the local club to Victoria Jaycees was read. The letter thanked the Victoria club for hospitality during the recent Ski-a-thon and invited the Canadians to visit Port Angeles.

Projects discussed were June Dairy month, Jaycees Little League and junior golf and tennis, seat belt clinic and restaurant ticket books.

Air-marine news

The 42-foot yacht Phoebe was hoisted on the port dock last night by the dock's mobile crane and Owens' Brothers derrick. Work on repairing to the vessel's damaged keel will be done at the dock.

The Phoebe went ashore near Portage Head on the ocean beach south of Neah Bay June 1.

Salvagers Ron Little and Johnnie Sweatt and assistants took the damaged craft from the beach and towed it to Port Angeles Harbor.

The salvagers worked under contract from insurance underwriters represented here by Capt. Loring F. Hyde.

The Norwegian freighter Kallgrin docked at the port dock at 6:30 a.m. today. The ship is completing a cargo of logs for delivery at Japanese ports. The ship came here with a partial cargo taken on at other ports.

Blacktopping of the new addition to the east end of the port dock started Thursday. It is one of the last phases of the job on which Owens Bros. Co. was the prime contractor.

Two charter boats and several smaller sports trolling boats are on the water here this morning. There is a fairly light westerly wind blowing in the strait. The prediction is for westerly winds from 8 to 16 knots later in the day. There was some fog early today.

Two salmon were weighed in Thursday at the Thunderbird Boat House. They were a 20 pounder taken by H. A. Miller and a five pounder by Charles Davenport.

Editorial

Letters

One of the important functions of a daily newspaper is giving the general public a chance to be heard through the "Letters to the Editors" column.

We like to get letters to the editor. We know our readers like them.

When our editorial policy runs counter to any reader's interest, opinion or information, this is his chance to answer back, to give us hell.

It is also his opportunity to give information to a large audience. Letters to the editor are widely read. People like to know what their friends and neighbors have to say, whether they agree with them or not.

We like our regular letter writers, too. We may not agree with them, but there will be others who do.

Or they may stimulate opposition that is vigorous and healthy in this country, where free speech is still the rule rather than the exception.

Occasionally we receive letters we cannot use because of an illegible signature or possibly the letter's libelous content.

The newspaper is just as responsible in court as the letter writer for libelous remarks. There is no such thing as the writer of a letter accepting "full responsibility."

Writers whose letters attack other writers or indulge in personalities are not used. Good taste should govern all letters.

Writers should limit their remarks to two or three hundred words. Only in rare cases is this limitation waived.

If you have written a letter and it does not appear promptly, that merely means lack of space. There is just so much space for letters as there is for editorials or any other feature.

Regardless of space limitations, we enjoy having your letters, even when you are attacking us. Evening News readers like to hear what you have to say. And we do, too.
