Playfield, water line problems tackled in City Council action

Yesterday's stiff rain seems to have washed out a couple of issues at last night's City Council meeting that had snarled the Aug. 2 City Council session.

One of these issues was the settling of complaints from residents in the Erickson Playfield area who objected to baseball on this diamond because the flying balls were a danger to their property and health.

The Council had referred the question to City Manager M. W. Slankard who was to consult the park board and the planning commission for a solution. Slankard read a report on the Aug. 7 meeting of the park board stating that since the baseball season was over for the summer at the Erickson diamond, baseball on the field should be prohibited and the backstop removed.

THE REPORT went on to say that Councilman Ivor Smith and Slankard recommended that measures be taken to raise the fence along the alley and move the diamond to a better location, dedicating it to softball. Slankard said that money to raise the fence had been included in the 1963 budget.

Councilman Joseph Wolfe objected to the field being limited to softball play because he considered Little League an important part of the summer recreation program. Councilman Sam Haguewood then suggested that the Council go on record favoring the continuance of the Little League baseball program under the suggested improvements for Erickson field or make provisions for it elsewhere. The councilmen voted to accept the report with this stipulation.

THE SECOND PROBLEM the Council tackled was a slippery one. It concerned problems created when plans were made to install a water meter at the Peninsula Golf Club east of the city.

Residents in the area who had been tapping the Golf Club line became worried about their water supply. At the previous meeting the Council had asked Slankard to draw up a map of the present water lines for study.

Last night councilmen reviewed a sketch of the water mains in the area. The situation was found to be make-shift with few adequate lines on private property. Mayor James Maxfield suggested that since the area was outside the city, the residents might meet with the water superintendent and the city manager to discuss metering and work on the water lines.

ONE OTHER matter having to do with the request for a sewer LID from residents in H and I street area north of 12th brought another discussion. A petition from the residents was heard, accompanied by a statement from the health department suggesting a possible health hazard exists in the area.

The area in the petition was incorrectly described according to City Engineer John Warder when it designated an area south of 12th.

Wolfe moved that engineer's estimates for the LID be made, and a proper description of the proposed area north of 12th be submitted at the next meeting along with a recommendation from the health department stating the extent of the health hazard. At this time the situaion could be declared an emergency, and steps to approve an LID could be made.

After comments from Warder on the inefficiency of septic tanks in the area because of the hard pan soil, the Council voted to proceed with the engineer's estimates.

Council sets rental rate at swim pool

The City Council set an hourly rate of $10 per hour for school rental of the community swimming pool at last night's Council meeting.

Mayor James Maxfield said that a minimum of two hours rental would probably be necessary since clean-up time would be included in the rental fee.

"I think there should be some continuity in the scheduling of rentals, but the pool management can work that out," Maxfield said.

SOME DISCUSSION followed as to the advisability of setting private rental rates, but Councilman Sam Haguewood suggested that rental be limited at present to School District 21. The other councilmen agreed, saying that private rental could be considered later.

IN OTHER CITY busines, the Council received two bids for the Pine Hill LID 184 bonds. Bidding were Southwick, Campbell, Waterman and Co. at 100.09 and Grandy and Co. with a bid of 100.12 per cent of par value. The interest rate offered by both was 4.20 per cent. Councilman Ivor Smith moved to accept the Grandy bid. It was approved with amazed remarks from the councilman at the closeness of the bids.

The Council renewed the sublease of Rayonier on the log booming area on Ediz Hook for 15 years at a yearly rate of $100, with the qualification that the city draw its own description of the area.

A NUMBER OF progress payments on LIDs 180 and 183 were approved. Mayor Maxfield raised a question on the rate of completion of the alley paving in Lower Peabody Heights. City Engineer John Warder answered that although the work was a month past the completion date, the street department was working as rapidly as possible. He stated that it took from three to five days to prepare an alley for paving, but that the Kilmer Construction Co. could pave five in a day.

City Manager M. W. Slankard presented three new ordinances for the Council's approval.

The first of the ordinances established a $100 fine or 30 days in jail for a conviction of anyone under 21 using fraudulent identification to obtain intoxicating liquor. The offense may not be suspended. The other two ordinances concerned parking zones.

Slankard reported a request from the city library to amend the minimum budget by $3,000 to meet emergency expenses. Slankard recommended that the Council defer the request until later, because he did not believe the situation called for emergency funds. The Council accepted his proposal and deferred the request.

TO PROBE CITY HALL

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mayor James H. J. Tate has signed a bill passed by the City Council appropriating $112,000 to finance a special grand jury investigation of alleged City Hall scandals during the administration of former Democratic Mayor Richardson Dilworth.

DEFENDS STOCKPILING CONTRACTS—Former Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey is shown as he appeared before the Senate Armed Services subcommittee investigating the stockpiling of strategic materials. Humphrey denied charges that the M. A. Hanna Co., of which he is honorary board chairman, had milked the government on stockpiling contracts.

Sen. Symington stings Humphrey in hearing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., angrily accused former Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey of insulting the Senate today and refused to hear further testimony on nickel deals involving Humphrey's mining interests.

Symington opened the second day of Humphrey's testimony by objecting to comments the former top Eisenhower administration official had made to the press.

He said the Humphrey statement Thursday was an insult to the Senate in that it charged the stockpile investigation was politically motivated.

Brushing aside demands by Sen. Prescott Bush, R-Conn., for a vote, Symington said he planned to adjourn the hearings for further investigation.

Humphrey started to make a statement, demanding to be heard.

"You wouldn't dare," Humphrey said, and Symington's gavel banged down.

"This hearing is adjourned," snapped Symington. "Don't ever try to tell a United States senator what he would dare or wouldn't dare."

Moscow prepares to acclaim space heroes

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet' capital donned carnival attire today for the arrival of the Soviet space twins, Maj. Andrian Nikolayev and Lt. Col. Pavel Popovich. Soviet officials announced that their big parade will come Saturday.

The astronauts' families have already been brought to Moscow for the festival. The celebration got an added boost by the announcement that air force day, previously scheduled for Sunday, will be moved forward to Saturday. Both astronauts are air force pilots.

FLOWN IN

The astronauts themselves have been flown from Karaganda, their landing area in Kazakhstan about 1,500 miles southeast of Moscow, to a nearer undesignated base. There they continued to rest and to undergo examinations.

Both were reported feeling excellent and apparently sprucing up for the big reception. A brief shot on Moscow television showed Nikolayev lathered up, as a barber stood by to shave his growth of beard from four days in space.

RAINY WEATHER

The bright weather that prevailed in Moscow during most of the astronauts' flights gave way Thursday night to rain, but preparations went ahead for their triumphal arrival. Red Square was full of cranes and construction machinery as platoons of workers threw up viewing stands and other trimmings that go with Moscow celebrations.

Take action on rocket stoppage

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government said today that barring an unexpected hitch it plans to apply for a federal court order today to end the four-day work stoppage stalling the moonshot program at Huntsville, Ala.

Stuart Rothman, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, told a reporter the government plans to move into court on an affidavit by Dr. Wernher von Braun, director of the Marshall Space Center at Huntsville.

Braun's affidavit says that continued picketing by electricians seeking union recognition is causing irreparable delay to the nation's space race with the Soviet Union.

U.S. faces 10-year crisis, President says; hits waste

PIERRE, S.D. (AP)—Prrsident Kennedy declared today the nation is entering a decade of crisis and "we cannot afford inefficiency and waste. We cannot afford endless debate and delay."

Standing beside South Dakota's vast Oahe Dam—the first stop in a weekend swing through the West—Kennedy pictured the country as in a race with a challenge.

PULL TOGETHER

And he urged in his prepared address that all parts of the economy pull together or else "the American people will be the losers."

Said Kennedy: "If the railroads prevent coal slurry pipelines from conveying the resources of our mines—if the mining interests prevent the use of nuclear energy for public and private transmission—if public and private power interests veto each other's progress, or if one region refuses to permit another to share in its abundance—then we shall be entering a decade of challenge and crisis with an inexcusable, vulnerable attitude of waste."

Kennedy noted that the Oahe Dam was the fifth of six great dams to control the mainstream of the Missouri River and to generate electrical power to nine states.

And he said, "The key to this century is power—power on the farm as well as the factory—power in the country as well as the city."

FLIES WEST

From here Kennedy flies further west, to Pueblo, Colo., and Merced, Calif., to look at more water projects and at least take a peek at the political picture.

The White House calls Kennedy's trip nonpolitical and the government is thus picking up the tab. But the President also has his eyes on the senatorial contests in South Dakota and Colorado and the race for governor between former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

In his speech here today Kennedy dropped a plug for old friend George McGovern, former food for peace director, saying he had served ably in the job.

Democrat McGovern is facing Republican Sen. Joe Bottum in South Dakota's Senate race.

Must have controls, U.S. says

By DORIAN FALK

GENEVA (AP) —The United States said today small underground nuclear weapon tests can be used for developing such new weapons as the pure fusion bomb.

For this reason the U.S. government cannot agree to any test ban treaty where observance is not guaranteed by effective control.

U.S. ambassador Arthur H. Dean told the 17-nation disarmament talks that "truly significanat progress in weapons development can be, and has been, achieved through underground tests which, although detected by a seismic network, could not be identified except by objective on-site inspection."

"Based on recent U.S. experience, relatively small tests conducted underground can be very important. Big results could come from small undetected tests," Dean added.

CAN BE DETECTED

He said that on the basis of new scientific findings even larger tests comparable to an explosion of 100,000 tons of TNT can be detected, but not identified, by a seismic network if they are conducted in seismic areas and in alluvium ground.

Dean did not elaborate on his reference to the pure fusion weapon, but technical sources described it as a thermonuclear device which does not require triggering by an ordinary nuclear explosion as did the first H-bombs. Nuclear fusion does not cause radioactive fallout.

The delegates have agreed informally to a two-month recess shortly before the opening of the next session of the United Nations Assembly Sept. 18. Plans are for the conference to resume Nov. 19.

Shelton man and four other Yanks released

By ANTOINE YARED

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Five Americans and a Filipino held captive for more than a year by pro-Communist forces were released today.

The men, who had all grown beards during their captivity, were cheered by a crowd of several hundred as they emerged from the twin-engine Soviet plane that brought them to Vientiane from Pathet Lao headquarters in the Plaine des Jarres.

Those released were Maj. Lawrence Bailey, Laurel, Md., assistant military attache at the U.S. Embassy in Vientiane; John McMorrow, Brooklyn, N.Y.; John Shore Jr., Galloway, Tenn.; Sgt. Orville Ballenger, Columbus, Ohio; NBC cameraman Grant Wolfkill of Shelton, Wash., and Lorenzo Frigillana of the Philippines.

LOSE WEIGHT

All six appeared to have lost considerable weight.

Wolfkill left soon after for Bangkok en route to the United States. NBC correspondent Jim Robinson, who accompanied him, said Wolfkill would leave Bangkok for New York as soon as possible.

The other Americans and Frigillana were flown to the U.S. Air Force Clark base north of Manila for a medical checkup and interrogation.

Wolfkill, Shore, McMorrow and Frigillana looked healthy and in good spirits, but Ballenger was haggard and looked tired.

Bailey had to be helped from the plane to the airport terminal.

An Army doctor, Maj. Estes Cohen, who made a superficial check of the men aboard the plane, said, "They are all okay except Bailey who is pretty weak."

'COPTER CRASH

Shore and McMorrow were civilian employes of the charter firm Air America, which flew for the right-wing Laotian government. Wolfkill was with them when their helicopter crashed behind Red lines May 15, 1961.

Ballenger had been missing since April 22, 1961, when four American military advisers were captured under circumstances the State Department has refused to divulge.

Bailey was captured when his plane crashed March 23, 1961

Frigillana, an Air America mechanic, disappeared in December 1960, during fighting between neutralist and right-wing forces for control of Vientiane.

Pathet Lao chief Prince Souphanouvong had promised their release following last month's Geneva accord, sanctioning a coalition government for Laos and pledging the country's neutrality.

Says action on Estes held back

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., charged today that evidence which would have nipped the Billie Sol Estes schemes was withheld deliberately from Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman by trusted aides.

McClellan gave the appraisal as he called John C. Bagwell, Agriculture Department general counsel, for another day of quizzing by the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

McClellan's subcommittee seeks to learn whether politicians used influence to help Estes amass a fortune from federal farm aid deals, and to snarl investigations of what Estes was doing.

Bagwell testified Thursday that not until last April 11 did Freeman receive his first real picture of what the Estes deals involved. It then took the secretary only about 48 hours to start a crackdown on the Pecos, Tex., promoter, Bagwell said.

In earlier hearings, witnesses swore that investigation after investigation of Estes had been attempted prior to April but never seemed to get anywhere.

Estes is awaiting trial on federal and Texas fraud and theft charges.

County queens return from Seattle weary, but happy and excited

By LORRAINE ROSS

It took only a minute to drive home the message that we were visiting a World's Fair when the five Clallam County Fair queen candidates and I visited Press Headquarters on the Seattle fairgrounds Tuesday.

The receptionist, reporter and photographer who graciously handled us, were quick to admit they had never heard of Joyce, Clallam Bay, Forks, Sequim or Port Angeles! Were they counties, states or what?

THE REPORTER (a mature Californian) dealt our combined egos a further blow when we suggested he evidently hadn't spent much time fishing if he didn't know of the seacoast towns of Port Angeles or Clallam Bay.

"Lord, no!" said he, rather astonished, "I'm no fisherman! Why, once I spent three or four months on a 53-foot boat, but we were pretty careful not to let anyone on board who might want to smell up the place with stinky fish! Nope, no fishing allowed, we just wanted to party!"

So that's how the other half live! No wonder they never heard of Port Angeles or Clallam County. Still we did our best to correct that situation then and there.

JOINING ME in this onslaught on Seattle and the World's Fair from Clallam County were Cherie Simkins, Miss Port Angeles; Billie Miller, Miss Clallam Bay; Lorrie Reynolds, Miss Forks; Patti Krafski, Miss Sequim and Charmain Duckett, Miss Joyce. Shirley Matte, Miss Neah Bay, injured in an auto accident recently, was unable to make the trip.

The size of our party was our greatest problem. We were fearful of getting separated and when we wanted to rest, there never was room enough for all of us at one place. So we walked on and on, choosing to visit the exhibits we could readily get in — we never waited over 10 minutes. In sheer desperation at one point we boarded the Fairliner for a tour just to sit down — at 50c each.

We decided a visit to the Space Needle would wait for another day or year because the sign at street level gave such joyous messages as "Waiting time: Elevator — 00.55 minutes; Restaurant—04:05 minutes."

About 5:30 p.m. we agreed to get out of the fairgrounds to have a leisurely dinner somewhere on the waterfront where we could sit in easy chairs without some footsore person looking longingly at us wishing we'd get up and leave.

AFTER TAKING the transit bus from the ferry and the Monorail into the fairgrounds early in the day, we decided it would be cheaper to taxi to the waterfront. It was. But the taxi driver was so excited at a full load of femininity he started to drive off with Billie just starting to get in and he moved 10 or more feet before we could convince him all was not well.

Cherie, who had scarcely eaten anything all day, suggested the new restaurant — The Polynesian on Pier 51 — and it sounded like a good idea to us all, a little adventure all its own.

We passed through the torch-lighted entrance into a strangely elegant, rustic interior with the dining room opened out on the whole of Seattle s waterfront and all its attendant marine activity. Here at last were people interested in our comfort — orientals anxious to serve just us!

EVERYTHING WAS absolutely perfect about it — a truly royal ending for a day with royalty — excepting for the huge dent it placed in our expense account. The meat cut price on the menu was just that — the price of the meat, nothing else! String beans, fruit cocktail, punch, rolls and coffee all were charged for in addition to the meat. It was the most "a la carte" menu of all.

Cherie put it this way, "the dinner at The Polynesian was an experience I may never have again —one I was certainly thrilled by!"

WHEN THE GIRLS were asked to share their experiences with their homttown friends, Patti said, "I especially enjoyed meeting and sharing new sights and ideas with the other contestants."

The General Electric home of tomorrow drew raves from Lorrie and Charmain, but Charmain really was more enthusiastic about the fashion show because dress designing is her hobby. Billie, as well as the others, counted the water ski show one of the favorites.

From 8 a.m. till 11 p.m. it was an exciting, royal day. Once again I am glad I don't have to pick the queen. They were all wonderful girls, proud representatives of Clallam County Fair, Aug. 24, 25 and 26 in Port Angeles, Washington, United States of America, Western Hemisphere, World, 1962!

House OK's veterans bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has rushed through a bill to reopen the GI insurance program to disabled veterans of World War II and the Korean War—but not to able-bodied ones.

The bill now goes to the Senate, where sentiment is strong for letting all 16 million veterans of the two wars apply for the government insurance, as the House bill originally provided.

Acting with a swiftness that caught most members unawares, the leadership called up the bill late Thursday, stripped it down to cover only 1.8 million veterans injured in military service, then recessed the House for 10 days.

The bill originally had been scheduled for action next week. It was hastily moved forward when a light legislative load presented a chance for a late-summer vacation.

The Veterans Administration has predicted only about 100,000 of the 1.8 million disabled veterans would apply for the insurance. They would get it at the rates that applied when the program was terminated Dec. 31, 1956, with $10,000 the maximum amount that could be purchased.

The program would be reopened for one year, beginning one year after enactment of the law.

FOR AFTER-THEATER DINERS

NEW YORK (AP) —Alexander H. Cohen, a producer long in favor of later curtains, now plans an early show for Broadway theatergoers.

Several years ago Cohen instituted a 9 p.m. schedule, explaining that the usual 8:40 start made people rush through dinner. But for "Beyond the Fringe," a revue which he imports from London in October, Cohen is arranging a 6 o'clock performance every other week. A combination ticket will entitle spectators to dinner after the performance at a nearby restaurant.

'Back to school' dinner Aug. 31

Sequim schools will begin their fall term Sept. 4 at 9 a.m. The school lunch program will also begin that day.

All new or unregistered students in the district are asked to register during the two weeks before school opens. Workshop sessions will be held Aug. 29-31 for all new teachers.

The annual "Back to School" potluck dinner for leaders of organizations in the school district will be held in the multi-purpose room in the elementary school Aug. 31 at 7 p.m.

This is sponsored by PTA and Sequim Educational Association. The guest speaker will be Louis Bruno, state superintendent of public instruction.

Guernseys make top records

Two registered Guernsey cows in the herd of William Reed and L. J. Lancaster have recently completed top official DHIR production records, according to the American Guernsey Cattle Club of Peterborough, N.H.

Cedarcroft Warriors Starlight, a junior four-year-old, produced 10,580 pounds of milk and 581 pounds of fat.

Cla Ore Liberators Bridget, a junior three-year-old, produced 13,880 pounds of milk and 584 pounds of fat.

The above records were produced over a period of 305 days with each cow being milked twice daily. The official records were supervised by Washington State University.

New starlet found in campus coffee shop

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Can lightning strike twice in the same vicinity? A starlet with the improbable name of Mimsy Farmer has high hopes that it could happen.

The story is this: Mimsy is a Hollywood High School girl who was discovered while munching a snack in a coffee shop near the campus.

Now don't go away. I know you've heard this song before. It's from an old familiar score that goes 'way back to a starlet with the then-improbable name of Lana Turner.

They say nothing changes in Hollywood, except the faces. So I went out to Warner Brothers to see if the ancient legend had truly been repeated.

MAKING MOVIE

Mimsy was on the set of "Spencer's Mountain," in which she appears with Henry Fonda, Maureen O'Hara, James MacArthur, Donald Crisp and Wally Cox. It was hard to tell whether she has the attributes of another Lana, since her hair was up in rollers. But the aspects visible checked out okay.

She is a petite blonde with green eyes and a pert mouth into which she sometimes puts a dainty foot. Such as when we were discussing with Maureen O'Hara the visit on the set of Gene Tierney.

"She's a real old-timer, huh?" said Mimsy, wide-eyed.

O'Hara collapsed in laughter, admitting that she and Gene were contemporaries at 20th Century-Fox—"and I'm not ashamed to say that I came to Hollywood 21 years ago."

That was four years before Mimsy was born.

Mimsy made an abashed apology and retired to a dressing room where she talked about her career thus far. Was the studio's publicity story true: That she was discovered eating a hamburger?

"No," she replied. "I think I was having soup. But the rest of it is true. I had noticed this man looking at me in the eating place. When I went outside he came up and introduced himself as Byron Griffith and asked me if I'd like to get in the business.

SIGNED UP

"I said, 'what business?' and he said, 'the movie business.' I said yes, and he gave me his card and told me to have my parents call him if they were interested. They called him and I signed up with him as my agent. I went to his weekly dramatic classes for four months before he started showing me around at the studios."

A few television jobs gave her some seasoning. Producer-director Delmer Daves tested her for "Spencer's Mountain" and persuaded Warners to sign her. She's on a 90-day option at present. But Daves is talking about her for "Seventeenth Summer," and studio opinion is that Mimsy is on her way up.

Back pilot charged in shipwreck

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The president of the American Pilots' Association has defended pilot Dewey Soriano against a Coast Guard board of review finding that he was responsible for the wreck of the Island Mail.

The Island Mail hit a submerged object off Smith Island in the Strait of Juan de Fuca last May 30 and was severely damaged. She has since been repaired and is placed on the American Mail Lines' Far East run.

Findings of the Coast Guard review board, released in Washington, D.C., Thursday, were that Soriano's negligence caused the wreck.

"Pilot Soriano failed to utilize the available navigational aids and accurately fix the vessel's position while navigating in the vicinity of a dangerous shoal area," Rear Adm. O. C. Rohnke, chief of the Coast Guard Office of Merchant Marine Safety, wrote to the Pilots Association.

Baby-sitting 'camp' is summer project

By JOY STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—My young daughter has made a premature entrance into the world of commerce. She is doing pretty well for a 12-year-old, too.

In a financial situation so disastrous that she didn't know where her next ice cream cone was coming from, Gay decided this summer it was essential to chase the wolf away from the door by her own efforts.

Enlisting the aid of two equally indigent friends, she started a nursery camp for youngsters in the neighborhood.

Entrance requirements for this establishment were made lenient —any candidate old enough to clutch 35 cents in his little fist was eligible.

FARMED OUT

The trio of would-be junior capitalists signed up a respectable number of wee ones, with grateful mothers waiting in line to farm their toddlers out for a couple of hours.

From the start the camp has been successful. They earn good money for their efforts. I give mine free.

No more sleeping late for me these days. I have to get up to get the counselor in our household up. The girls graciously agreed to mix the midmorning drink themselves after I balked at that job. But somehow I still fall heir to the task of cleaning up the trail of sugar and sticky spoons they always leave behind.

I'm not a licensed banker, but I am well-trained for the job, having been called on to make change for everything from a nickel to a $10 bill.

Since the camp is held closer to our dwelling than those of the other counselors it becomes the obvious place to supply the comforts of home to the kiddies away from home.

And somehow it's the most convenient storage spot for all the equipment — blankets dripping with grass and cockleburrs, mounds of broken crayons, torn books and lopsided piles of construction paper. I also furnish refrigerator space until refreshment time.

Maybe I won't have to put a stop to it after all, though. The thing may collapse of its own complications.

It seems that at the last camp period Jayne couldn't get there until 50 minutes late. Gay had to depart 15 minutes early for a doctor's appointment. Joan, however, was present for the whole two-hour session.

DAIRY FIRMS FINED

SPOKANE (AP)—Fines totaling $42,500 were levied against two local dairies and an official in District Court here Thursday after they pleaded no contest to price fixing charges.

U.S. can expect not so subtle threat from Khrush any day

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Premier Khrushchev—if he follows last practice—may give the West a barefaced nudge but won't try right away to top Russia's two-man orbit success with some new sensation.

This tubby Communist, one of the world's greatest press agents, has a brilliant sense of timing in public relations, whether it's pounding a shoe in the United Nations or bawling out American labor leaders.

Nevertheless, he seems to think it better to let each Soviet space achievement sink in at home and abroad, since each makes priceless propaganda, before trying a fresh spectacular.

THREATS FOLLOW

But he has from time to time quickly followed Soviet successes aloft with unsubtle threats to the West.

When Russia sent the world's first satellite around the earth in 1957, it came at a very convenient time for Khrushchev. He had just been through a life-and-death struggle with the old-line Stalinist Bolsheviks.

He got rid of them in a bloodless purge by banishing them to minor posts. This struggle at the top must have upset the Russian people and made them wonder about the wisdom, leadership asd direction of Khrushchev.

FIRST IN SPACE

Then Sputnik went up, making the Russians first in space. It gave them a sense of national pride which they could identify with Khrushchev. For him it was like getting an okay from the board of health.

Then three days later the Soviets announced the test of a "mighty hydrogen warhead of a new design" and at a great height. From this the West could draw a simple conclusion:

That the Soviets had tested a nuclear warhead on a missile that could span oceans and continents. Khrushchev didn't have to say anything.

OUSTED ZHUKOV

Within less than a month the Russian Communist party announced the ouster of its defense minister, Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov, one of Russia's great war heroes.

As if to erase the shock of this Russia the very next day sent up its second satellite, this time with a dog.

Khrushchev then boasted this showed Russia was capable of launching such tremendous intercontinental ballistic missiles that America's overseas bases, supposed to deter Rusia, had become out of date.

Three days later he called for a summit meeting. Here, as at other times, Khrushchev gave the impression of a man who had been watching American westerns on television.

BAD GUY

One day he was the bad guy in the black hat and the next day he put on a light hat and was the good guy. He's been swapping hats at a rapid rate for years.

He really hammed it up in September 1959. Just as he came here to visit President Eisenhower Russia hit the moon with Lunik II. He said the moonshot and his visit were just a coincidence.

And maybe they were. There were no more sensations for a while. But lunik was handy to have to his credit when he sat down with Eisenhower and later toured the United States. He used lunik like a status-seeker.

NOT MUCH

Except for some boasting, he didn't do anything much after Russia in April, 1961, sent the first man into orbit around the earth.

It might be argued—but not very reasonably—that he deliberately tried to pile sensation upon sensation after the Soviets sent their second man into orbit, this time 17 times around the earth, in August, 1961.

Just a few days after that, and it had to be by Khrushchev's order, the Communists rocked the Western world by throwing up a wall between East and West Berlin.

MUCH PREPARATION

And within another couple of weeks they announced they would end their voluntary ban on nuclear tests and start testing, which they did.

The decision on the Berlin wall could hardly have been a sudden decision. The Soviets didn't know whether the West might react violently. It had to be thought out and preparations had to be made for crisis.

Nor were the Soviet nuclear tests last fall something that could have been decided upon in a couple of weeks' time. Many months, perhaps years, went into the preparation for them.

Letter to the Editor

WON'T MAKE IT

Editor, P. A. Evening News:

I wonder how long the American people will sit quietly and let their government spend millions to put a man on the moon.

I am no prophet, but I venture to prophecy that it will never be accomplished. This earth is run in an orderly manner by an all-powerful Creator and that His plans were made even before it came into existence.

All the prophesies of the Bible have come true, or are in process of coming true, and there is not one that says man will ever reach the moon or any other planet. If there are other inhabited planets, we will never be allowed to come in contact with them and contaminate them with our wickedness.

History often shows us that God uses wicked men to further His plans, and to punish the wicked. We remember how He used the ancient kings to carry the Jews into captivity as a punishment for their refusal to obey the law. Perhaps we will witness the same thing in our time.

The movement known as communism was prophecied two thousand years ago, but the Christians have done very little about it.

Most scholars agree that the end of the world is near, we are living in the "latter" days, and that Christ may come at any time. Then and only then, the world will wake up to its danger, and if when He comes with a "shout, with the voice of the archangel and the trump of God," they are still asleep as they are at the present time, I believe they will really wake up, but that is going to be too late. Christ warns us to 'Watch," for in such an hour as ye think not, the Son of man cometh." But don't take my word for it, you have the Bible to read for yourself.

DIES AT CAMP

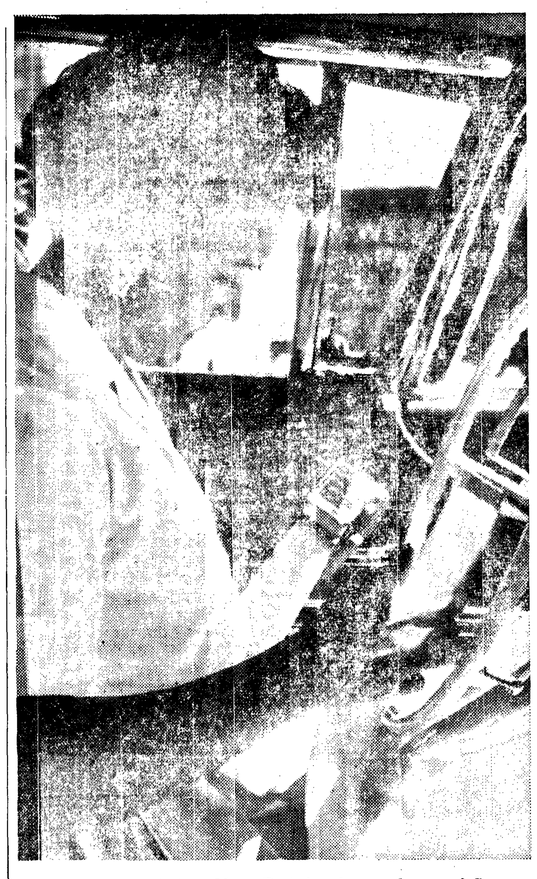
CLEVELAND (AP) — Elbert Hall Baker Jr., 73, the last surviving child of E. H. Baker, died Thursday at his Canadian Fishing camp near Pointe Auvaril, Ont.

The elder Baker was former chairman of the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

BPA SPEAKER

PORTLAND (AP) — Undersecretary of Interior James K. Carr will speak Monday at Bonneville Power Administration's 25th anniversary celebration.

Some 110 workers who have been on the Administration's rolls since 1938 will be honored during the day-long series of events.



PUSH SEAT BELTS — Many Port Angeles employees of Crown Zellerbach, including attractive Louise Caso, personnel secretary, are riding in safety these days after buying seat belts at bargain prices through the mill's purchasing department. When the division's central safety committee recently reviewed National Safety Council statistics on the effectiveness of seat belts, they recommended a mill drive to put seat belts into employees' cars at reduced costs through the payroll deduction plan. After the meeting, all ten of the safety committeemen present signed up for belts. Since then, belt sales have been brisk.

Jaycees, police, CZ push seat belt drive

The energetic Jaycees of Port Angeles, the police department and the Crown Zellerbach mill are all pitching in to make local automobile owners seat belt conscious.

Starting at 5 p.m. today the Jaycees have a three-day seat belt clinic going on Laurel St. In conjunction with this effort, the police department is showing a safety film on seat belts at the police station at 2 p.m. today and Saturday.

CROWN Z IS offering seat belts to all its employes at bargain rates and o na payroll deduction plan in an effort to make their cars safer.

Here is the way the Jaycees are operating their seat belt clinic. They have installation teams stationed on Laurel St. between 1st and Front with all the necessary tools.

They are selling belts approved by a safety agencies at a bargain rate and installing them free.. Chairman Don Baar of the clinic says they have enough teams working that there will be no long wait while the installation is made.

THE JAYCEE installers will be on the job from 5 to 10 p.m. today, from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday and from noon to 10 p.m. Sunday.

Baar said: "This is a dual project for us. We hope our campaign will result in saving some lives and the belt sale will help our treasury."

One of the many annual civic projects of the Jaycees is a Christmas party for needy children.

Two billion road dollars intended as pumper for nation's economy

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Faster pumping of government funds into the economy is being tried again in lieu of a quickie tax cut.

The sum so far committed—$2 billion to speed highway building is smaller than the $5-$10 billion cut in income taxes previously considered. But the object is the same — to get a slowing down economy moving again at a brisker pace.

PUMP PRIMING

The administration may think up other pump-priming moves toward the same end, while it waits for the tax cut and tax reforms.

Speeding up federal spending also was used in 1960 to nudge a lagging economy. Veterans insurance dividends, for example, were made earlier than usual, and tax refunds were speeded.

The $2 billion this time is being made available to such states as have highway projects far enough along to make immediate use of it. Only about a dozen are reported in that group. The object is to get construction contracts let in coming weeks and thus open up more jobs.

States believed able to use the money now include Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Illinois, Maine, Minnesota, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, South Dakota and Washington.

If all the $2 billion is spent within the next few months it also will trickle through the economy in the form of orders for materials, road equipment, and spending by workers who get whatever new jobs are created.

The accent is on doing a quick job. The $2 billion doesn't add to the total amount to be spent by the federal government as its part of the huge highway program. It is simply being made available now rather than in the future.

The money comes out of a special fund set up to finance the 41,000-mile interstate highway project.

MOST BY U.S.

The states put up part of the money but the federal government will put up most.

The states had been told they could sign contracts involving $3.8 billion of federal money in the fiscal year ending next June 30. The Commerce Department now says the special trust fund is big enough to take care of $5.8 billion in contracts this fiscal year.

And the department adds that the states can commit this federal money in this quarter, ending Sept. 30, instead of the $948 million originally allowed for this period.

If those states in position to sign contracts now use up the extra allotment, it will add $2 billion of potential spending in the immediate future. And it is in this current period of uncertainty that the federal government is most anxious to see more money spent, more plans started, more orders let.

Other gestures include the recent relaxing of depreciation allowance rules for tax purposes, with the hope that business would order more new equipment, plan more new factories and other facilities.

Several bills that would involve more federal spending are before the Congress.

Some economists question the long-term value to the economy of pump priming by increased government spending. But along with tax cutting it is one of the methods that comes first to mind when economic stagnation is feared.

Bans return of loaned books

PORTLAND (AP) — Circuit Judge Virgil Langtry has ruled in favor of parents seeking to prevent the Portland School District from reclaiming books loaned to parochial schools.

Langry Thursday overruled School District objections to a parents' suit asking that parochial schools be allowed to keep the books.

The Oregon Supreme Court said last year that public school funds can not be used to provide textbooks to parochial schools. But the court withheld its directive pending outcome of an appeal of the decision to the United States Supreme Court.

The School District then said it planned to reclaim the 98,640 loaned books.

Set dedication for new section

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) —Officials from Washington and Oregon are expecttd to attend dedication ceremonies next Friday for a new five-mile section of freeway north of Vancouver.

Gov. Rosellini will head Washingtons' delegation to the ceremony at Hazel Dell. Also on hand will be Highways Director William A. Bugge and members of the Highway Commission.

Invited from Oregon are Gov. Mark Hatfield, members of the Oregon Highway Commission and Mayor Terry Schrunk of Portland.

The $4.7-million stretch of highwax extends north from the end of the existing Vancouver Freeway and replaces Highway 99 in the Hazel Dell area.

Dear Abby....

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Am I foolish for being "jealous" of my husband's first wife? She is no longer living and I never knew her but, Abby, it's not easy to live in HER house, cook on HER stove, and sleep in HER bed. I haven't said anything to my husband about how I feel because I know he can't afford to replace everything all at once, but it's getting me down. Any advice to boost my spirits?

WIFE NUMBER TWO

DEAR WIFE: A little patience will go a long way. And your point of view needs changing. It's YOUR house now—and YOUR stove, YOUR bed, and more important, YOUR man. So if you love him, don't give him a problem he can't solve right now.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my husband. He says he isn't an alcoholic because he drinks only beer, but I have seen him drink 20 bottles at one sitting. He stops at a tavern on his way home from work every night and he comes in 4 to 5 hours late and loaded. Then he picks a fight with me because I refuse to heat up his dinner. I keep his dinner hot for an hour or so, but I don't think he deserves a hot meal when he comes home 4 or 5 hours late and drunk. Can a man become an alcoholic on beer alone? Your answer is important.

HEARTSICK READER

DEAR HEARTSICK: Yes, a man can be a beer alcoholic. Yours qualifies for A. A., but if he isn't ready to admit it and seek their help, you should investigate membership in Al-Anon. It's a non-profit (free) organization whose function is to teach non-alcoholics how to live with alcoholics. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: My wife is so superstitious it is getting my goat. If a black cat crosses the road in front of us, she makes me turn the car around and go the other way. She won't leave the house on Friday the 13th. You couldn't pay her to sit 13 at a table. How can I convince her that superstitions are a lot of baloney? Or am I the nutty one?

KNOCKING ON WOOD

DEAR KNOCKING: Superstition arises from ignorance. Hotfoot it over to the library and get a book on the origin of superstitions. (But don't step on a crack or you'll break your mother's back.)

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have a Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

How's the world treating you? For a personal unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

BOSTON (AP)—Pulitzer prize-winning novelist Edwin O'Connor has filed intentions to wed Mrs. Veniette C. Weil of Washington, D.C.

O'Connor, 44, listed his Boston address when filing marriage intentions Thursday at City Hall.

He won the prize this year for his novel, "The Edge of Sadness."

His "The Last Hurrah" was a best-seller several years ago.

Salmon fishing going well in local areas

By HARRY COVENTON

Reports from Thunderbird Boat House on Ediz Hook showed a very good take of both silvers and blackmouth with a sprinkling of good size kings both Tuesday and Wednesday.

Thirty salmon were weighed in each day. Thursday slowed down some mainly due to the heavy early morning fog and rain that held many fishermen on the beach.

Among the better catches the past few days was a limit to 27 pounds brought in by the old veteran fisherman, Art Lannoye. Mike Karpan weighed in a 28½ pounder, and Stan Friedman was really excited over his first king, a nice 26 pounder.

Crescent Beach Freshwater Bay area, after a slow start the first of the week, turned "hot" the past two days with limits being brought in by a majority of the fishermen. Some boats were bringing in mostly silvers, while others were bringing in blackmouth to 12 pounds as well as a few good size kings.

Reports from Pillar Point and Sekiu indicate improved fishing in those spots, with Pillar Point turning up some nice limits the last two days.

If the calm weather holds over the weekend fishing should be good in all these areas.

Trout fishermen on the Elwha River continue to do real well, especially the afternoon and evening fly fishermen. Ed Bruno, of Laurel Lanes Cafe, displayed another nice limit catch of rainbows from the Elwha Thursday at Coventon's Tackle. Ed took his limit in two hours standing in one spot using his spin casting outfit and a Dusty Miller fly.

Lake Aldwell is again producing well for the still fishermen, and several limits and near limits were coming in from that popular fishing spot.

Sea run cutthroats are reported to be hitting well in the Hoh River and some good catches of these fish are being taken along with a few summer run steelhead.

Padres widen lead in PCL; Seattle wins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The San Diego Padres, the Pacific Coast League pennant almost within their grasp, widened their league lead to 12 games Thursday night with a 3-2 win over the Tacoma Giants, the second win of the three-game series with the defending PCL champions.

The Padres got an assist from the last-place Spokane Indians who dumped the runnerup Salt Lake City Bees 5-3. Seattle beat Hawaii twice, 1-0 and 6-2 and Vancouver edged Portland 3-2 in 12 innings.

RUIZ STARS

Chico Ruiz was the individual star for the Padres as they turned back the Giants. In the first, he singled, stole second and third and scored on a single. He singled again in the third, went to third on a single and home on a wild pitch. Tacoma tied the score in the eighth on Dusty Rhodes' one-on homer but the Padres won in the same inning when Jim Pisoni, on by a fielder's choice, moved up on a bunt and raced home on Ruiz' double.

Three Spokane runs were credited to Rene Friol as the Indians took the series at Salt Lake City 2-1. Friol homered with one on in the fourth and his eighth inning triple drove in Stan Johnson who had singled. Bruce Gadner, the winning pitcher, hit an inside-the-park homer in the fifth.

THREE RUNS

Jay Ward accounted for Vancouver's three runs in the overtime victory over Portland. His 12th inning single with none out drove in the winning run. In the first inning, Ward's sacrifice fly chased in a run after a single, a walk and a fielder's choice, and in the third his fly to right centerfield brought in another.

Hawaii managed only one hit as the Rainiers won the nightcap of the twin bill at Seattle. That was a two-run single off Bill MacLeod in the third. George Spencer relieved MacLeod, retired the side and pitched 6 1-3 innings of hitless ball. Seattle won the opener with a three-hit attack that chased in the sole and winning run in the fifth.

Goerg to write on Alaskan hunting trip

One of Clallam County's most traveled sportsmen is off again on another hunting - writing expedition.

Al Goerg leaves Saturday for Anchorage, Alaska, for three assignments for as many publications.

Goerg will do a story for "True" magazine, "Gunsport" and "Guns." He may also do an article for "Sports Afield."

Hunting will be done with black powder rifles, pistols and shotguns. Game will be black bear, moose, elk, caribou and seal.

Goerg exptcts to base at Anchorage, where he will meet Roy Zahrobsky, son of Jim Zahrobsky, who will attend Goerg's Port Angeles business while he is away.

Goerg expects to work north of Anchorage and on Afognak Island, where he will be hunting Hoh River elk. These elk are offspring of elk traded for Rocky Mountain goats that were released on Storm King Mountain 40 years ago.

Goerg says all reports indicate the Alaskan Hoh River strain of elk is larger than the Olympic elk. He is eager to see for himself . . . close at hand.

He leaves Port Angeles Saturday at 3 p.m. to fly to Seattle. By traveling two hours west, he will save five minutes. The 8 p.m. Seattle jet flight arrives two hours later (7:55 p.m.) at Anchorage the same evening.

Twins edge Yanks, 9-8; Dodgers widen margin in NL flag race

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Big Frank Sullivan got credit for his third victory without a loss Thursday when Minnesota's Bernie Allen looped a one-out single to left field in the 10th inning, driving in the run that beat the New York Yankees 9-8.

It was Sullivan's third appearance against the Yankees this season and they haven't got a hit off him yet. He's credited with one victory and two saves against the World Champions.

Chicago beat Cleveland again, 11-6, and Kansas City won its 13th straight over Washington, 4-2, in the only other American League games scheduled.

IN THE NATIONAL League, leading Los Angeles widened its margin to 2½ games with a 7-3 victory over Pittsburgh while second-place San Francisco lost to Chicago 6-0. Cincinnati trounced Milwaukee 7-1 and St. Louis edged Houston 3-1. Philadelphia and the New York Mets were not schedule.

The Twins' victory over New York trimmed the Yankees' leading margin to 5½ games over idle, second-place Los Angeles. The third-place Twins, who were in danger of falling hopelessly behind, now trail by 6½.

SULLIVAN, WHO IS 6 feet 7, picked up from the Philadelphia Phillies, has to rank as one of the big reasons the Twins are still close. He's either won or saved the game the last three times Minnesota beat the Yanks.

One came in relief of Dick Stigman in the Twins' 5-4 triumph Aug. 6. One was in relief of Ray Moore in Minnesota's 6-4 verdict Monday. Then there was Thursday's victory. All were no-hit relief jobs.

FORTY YEARS AGO AUG. 17

Activity along the Quillayute river is springing up within the past two weeks due to the Washington Pulp and Paper Corporation starting a camp to get out pulp wood, and the statement by J. S. Waugh he would float a million-foot raft of fir logs down the Quillayute for towing to mills.

The Puget sound Mills and Timber Company are making preparations to have their camps at Twin and Harding Creek in full swing within the next ten days and a crew of sixty men left over the Milwaukee for Twin Tuesday morning to start work. The rainfall the past week caused Governor Hart to remove restrictions on logging.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Approximately 480 fishermen of Port Angeles and the Pacific Northwest caught an estimated total of 1,500 salmon off Ediz Hook Sunday in the first semi-final contest of the fourth annual Port Angeles Salmon Derby. The largest fish scaled 46 pounds 9 ounces.

The thermometer registered a minimum temperature of 41.4 degrees at 3:10 a.m. Saturday morning, coldest August reading since 1920, when a mark of 41 degrees was recorded, said Leon G. Sutton, retired meterologist. The lowest temperature on record here is 38 degrees noted on August 13, 1895. When the storm broke here Friday afternoon the mercury fell from the 70 degree mark to 54 degrees within an hour.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Red roses for the princess went to Miss Rena Jo Schenck last night when judges from the Port Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce selected her as Sequim's princess for Derby Week. Miss Schenck is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Schenck. Other candidates were Betty Ellis, Judy Evanson, Phyllis Bower, Delores McLane, and Barbara Beverage.

More salmon were checked in at the Salmon Clubhouse on Ediz Hook yesterday than on any one day for three years, Manager Roy Thomas reported this morning. Thomas said over 200 salmon were caught off the spit yesterday about 90 per cent of them silvers.

Blue Angels leave for regional

The state champion Port Angeles Blue Angels left this morning for the Northwest Regional Women's Softball Tournament at Portland.

Manager Al Haley said the Blue Angels take on the Idaho state champion team from Boise at Normandale Park at 9:30 tonight.

If the Angels win that game they clash at 10 a.m. Saturday with the winner of the Seattle-Lind Florist (Portland) game. The Lind Florists are the defending champions.

The Angels squad is made up of pitchers Myrtle Pierce, Cathy Benedetto and Sharon Elofson; catchers, Sharon Louck and Swede Helstrom; infielders, Barb Bell, Rusty Galles, Merle Gagnon and Tyna Barinaga and outfielders, Barb Blatter, Carol Ellefson and Cherri Hart.

The winner of the regional tournament goes back to Connecticut for the world tournament.

Sail yachts in PA Saturday

At least 20 sailing yachts competing in a race from Cadboro Bay to Port Angeles will take place Saturday Aug. 18. The race will start from the Royal-Victorian Yacht Club at Cadboro Bay, near Victoria at 10 a.m. and end at Port Angeles at about 2 to 5 p.m. depending on the amount of wind. On Sunday at 10 a.m., the race will be continued from Port Angeles to Cadboro Bay. Accompanying the sailing yachts will be several power cruisers.

Members of the Port Angeles Yacht Club are urged to assist in welcoming our international guest at the Club House. It is hoped that several of our local yacht owners will be on hand to escort the race yachts in from Ediz Hook buoy to the Yacht Club moorings.

The facilities of the club will be available to our international visitors.

As the year of 1962 is the Centennial of both Port Angeles and Victoria we feel this race would be another activity of the Centennial year. Mayor James Maxfield will officially welcome the visitors.

Hunt missing trio off coast

SEATTLE (AP) — A land and air search got underway Friday morning for an Everett man and his two sons, reported missing in their boat off the Washington coast.

Mrs. Lee R. McKee, (3315 Rockefeller, Everett), told the Coast Guard Thursday night her husband and two sons, Raymond and Alvin, were overdue at a resort on the Quillayute River in a 14-foot fibreglass boat.

The Coast Guard planned a beach search north to Cape Flattery and an air search south to Destruction Island and 20 miles out to sea.

The Coast Guard air station in Port Angeles reported late this morning one aircraft was searching the coast area and another one had just returned. No sign of the missing persons was reported up till that time.

Deny story of quizzing in mail robbery

BOSTON (AP)—Rhode Island State Police today denied a report that they are questioning an ex-convict who claims to know the whereabouts of the robbers who scooped $1.5 million from a mail truck in Plymouth Tuesday night.

Lt. Peter O'Connell, chief of the detective division, said that although three men were questioned about the holdup his department is not questioning anyone at present.

Providence, R.I., police said they questioned 12 men Thursday and that all have been released.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Boston gave an official figure of the cash haul—$1,551,277.

Boston police circulated throughout the country composite drawings of two of the white-gloved robbers. They bear a striking resemblance to the notorious Bobby Wilcoxson, 32, of Duke, Okla., and Albert Nussbaum, 27, who are wanted by the FBI for the murder of a Brooklyn, N.Y., bank guard.

Investigators earlier had ruled out the pair as participants in the mail truck snatch. They feel that a local gang was responsible.

It was pointed out that the way the crime was committed required intimate knowledge of the area. Also, the automobiles used were stolen in this area over a period of time, and detour signs placed near a bypass to divert traffic from the scene of the robbery were stolen in Massachusetts.

BRIDGE TRAFFIC

VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP) — Traffic over the Interstate Bridge between Vancouver and Portland in July increased by 131,411 vehicles over the same month last year.

If you have to strike this is the way to do it

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"If you got to strike," said the truck driver sitting in a leather chair under a beach umbrella, "this is the only way."

A nonstriking office employe of the W. E. Cooper Lumber Co. brought him a glass of cold water in the 90-degree afternoon temperature.

The walkout started Thursday when the Teamsters Union ordered its five driver members at Cooper to strike in a contract dispute. The drivers balked.

"We like our boss," said a spokesman for reluctant strikers. "None of us wants to strike the company."

But William G. Cooper, vice president of the firm, told them: "If you got to picket, you got to picket. That's all."

To prove there were no hard feelings, he furnished the men a beach umbrella, comfortable seats, portable air conditioners, a television set and a radio and set them up in front of his business.

Mrs. Finkbine gets OK on abortion

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Sherri Finkbine was told by Sweden's Medical Board today she can have an abortion here to end a pregnancy she fears will bring her a drug-deformed baby.

"I can't say how happy and relieved I feel," she said, tears streaming down her cheeks. "A heavy burden has been lifted from me."

It was not announced when the operation would be performed.

The 30-year-old Arizona housewife and television performer burst out crying when her teacher husband Robert brought her the news.

"It has been a great strain for her," Finkbine said while he was trying to comfort his wife. "Now we just hope that the operation can take place as soon as possible and that this affair can be forgotten. We have no other wish than to start a normal life again when this is over."

Finkbine also expressed thanks to the Swedish doctors and the Royal Medical Board for sympathetic appreciation of the case.

"We are glad that there is a country in the world where doctors act like this in spite of the enormous publicity our case has received," he said. "I admire the medical board for having considered our applications just like any other case. Sherri has been very near a complete breakdown these days in Sweden and I think it is a miracle that she has endured the long hard strains."

They arrived here Aug. 5 after Arizona courts declined to sanction abortion there.

Woman doctor eyes new post

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Leona Baumgartner, city health commissioner since 1954, says she has discussed with State Department officials the possibility of her accepting a post in the agency for international development.

Dr. Baumgartner said Thursday she discussed with Fowler Hamilton, head of the agency for International Development, the possibility of accepting an appointment in the agency.

Reports in Washington Thursday said Dr. Baumgartner had been offered the post of assistant administrator in charge of education and social development in the overseas aid program.

Marilyn leaves little over half million

NEW YORK (AP) —Marilyn Monroe's will, filed for probate today, left an estate estimated in excess of half a million dollars.

The blonde screen star died Aug. 4 of an overdose of sleeping pills.

The will, executed here on Jan. 14, 1961, was filed in New York County Surogate's Court.

It created a $100,000 trust fund to provide $5,000 a year for the maintenance and support of Miss Monroe's mother, Gladys Baker, who is in an institution.

The trust also provided for $2,500 a year for the maintenance and support of Mrs. Michael Chekhov, a friend and mentor of the actress.

The balance remaining in the trust after the death of Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Chekhov is to go to Dr. Marianne Kris, "to be used by her for the furtherance of the work of such psychiatric institutions or groups as she shall elect."
