Bomb to start derby finals

Finals of the 25th Port Angeles Salmon Derby start with a bang when a bomb explodes at 6:30 a.m. Saturday on Ediz Hook.

The event, in which Port Angeles Salmon Club members are fishing for prizes worth more than $10,000, ends with the blast of another bomb at 2 p.m. Sunday.

DEADLINE FOR registering for the event is 9:00 p.m. tonight. By that time members desiring to fish in the finals must have paid the final fees and registered for fishing on either Saturday or Sunday.

Forecasts are favorable for good weather on the two final days and registration is brisk. Club officials are optimistic and believe the registration of 687 for the 1961 finals will be exceeded this year. Salmon Club headquarters on Lincoln St., next to Eagles' Temple will be open for late registrants from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. Five other registration places will be open during today.

Prize awarding ceremonies will be on Ediz Hook at 2:30 p.m. Sunday. In charge will be President C. B. Chamberlin of the Port Angeles Salmon Club. William D. Welsh will be master of ceremonies and the guest of honor is Rear Admiral Peter V. Colmar, Seattle, commandant of the Thirteenth Coast Guard District.

Radio Station KONP will be on the air with derby highlights Saturday and Sunday.

Derby rules on the two final days will be similar to those of previous years.

REGISTERED FISHERMEN are advised to become familiar with the rules by reading the Salmon Club pamphlet available at all registration places and on Ediz Hook on final days.

Fishing will be in the area between the western limits of the Crown Zellerbach Mill and the eastern end of the Rayonier mill. Buoys will mark the eastern and western limits of the area. Coast Guard and Coast Guard Auxiliary boats will patrol the derby area. On the boats will be judges and registered fishermen must report to a judges' boat and have their salmon tagged before bringing it ashore to be weighed.

Police officers of the area will have charge of the parking and traffic control on the two derby final days. Salmon club officials will be on duty Saturday and Sunday to assist in the conduct of the fishing event.

THE ONE CHANGE in the rules this year is that any report on an infringement of derby rules must be reported immediately after the incident occurs.

An important rule is that a non-registered fisherman must not fish from a boat in which a registered fisherman is riding. The registered fishereman must boat his own fish. The exception to this is that a blind person or a woman may have assistance in boating the salmon.

SALMON CLUB OFFICIALS, including directors and past presidents will act as chairmen of the various committees. They have charge of the phases of the event including weighing of salmon, car parking, judging and the presentation ceremonies.

Warning bombs will be exploded each day at 1:30 p.m. and salmon must be at the weighing stand by 2 p.m. All boats must be west of the Coast Guard dock when the starting bomb explodes at 6:30 a.m.

Low tides here Saturday and Sunday will be around 11 a.m. and the high tide Saturday will be 5:38 p.m. and 6:03 p.m. Sunday.

CHILDREN UNDER 15 years of age may not fish in the senior derby but they can fish in the American Legion Junior Derby on Sunday, Sept. 9.

Monday is general holiday

Monday, Labor Day, is a general holiday. Stores, private and public offices will close that day and the Evening News will not be published.

In many instances the weekend will be a long holiday that starts Friday night as many persons do not work on Saturday. A number of offices and firms announce they are taking the long weekend holiday.

Labor Day is usually the climax of the summer tourist season and travel is usually very heavy here on that holiday.

Schools open here Tuesday and with the children starting school parents mostly plan on being back home by that time. The holiday also marks the end of the heavy tourist influx locally.

Urges highway toll kept down

CHICAGO (AP)—Safety officials—faced with a steady rise in the traffic death rate this year—urged today that the nation's motorists try to keep down the highway fatality count in the Labor Day weekend.

The National Safety Council estimates that between 410 and 490 persons will die in traffic accidents in the 78-hour holiday period starting at 6 p.m. (local time) today and ending at midnight Monday.

In the first seven months of this year 21,960 persons were killed on the nation's highways, an increase of 9 per cent over the same 1961 period, while motor travel increased 4 per cent.

The 3,840 persons killed in July represented a 16 per cent jump over the toll in July 1961 and was a record high for any July.

State crews burning slash areas

The Forks division of the Department of Natural Resources is carrying on a slash burning program at the present time.

Administrator Rodney Downen, of Port Angeles' headquarters of the department relays the information about the burning so that travelers who see smoke from the fires will not be concerned.

Thursday 90 acres in the Clearwater area were burned over, 85 acres of slash in the Bogachiel area were on fire and 180 acres in the Hoh were burnt under control.

Today there is slash burning in state controlled timber on 350 acres in the Clearwater area and 350 acres in the Hoh area.

Two persons throw big smallpox scare

NEW YORK (AP)—Two persons suspected to have smallpox causing a quarantine of 200 persons at Idlewild Airport early today, were diagnosed later as "most likely" having chickenpox.

The new diagnosis, by U.S. Public Health Service officials, was reported by Dr. Stanley Goldstein, night supervisor at Bellevue Hospital, a few minutes after the two persons arrived there.

The 200 at Idlewild were quarantined for periods up to five hours during investigation of the suspected smallpox cases.

Goldstein said the Public Health Service officials gave him the working diagnosis of likely chickenpox while a Philadelphia woman and her three children—two of them with heavy rashes—were en route from the airport to the hospital.

CHICKENPOX

Goldstein said he could not tell how long it would take the hospital to make a definite diagnosis.

The Public Health Service officials ordered the quarantine after they discovered what they considered "bad rashes" on the children.

Goldstein said they reported later that the cases were probably chickenpox and they ordered the family to the hospital for additional tests.

ON PLANE

The Philadelphia family was among a planeload of 132 persons arriving from Brazil.

The quarantine order covered the 122 passengers, 10 plane crew members and airport employes who had contact with those on the plane.

All the passengers were released from quarantine by 6 a.m. They had to wait at the field until their baggage was fumigated. The Pan American World Airways jet on which they arrived also was fumigated.

The quarantine was the second smallpox investigation in the city this month. The first came after a 15-year-old boy with smallpox arrived at Idlewild Aug. 11 en route from Brazil to Canada.

Public Health Service officials reported the rash in the family of Mrs. Erecema Castiglione of Philadelphia.

Just mites

NEW YORK (AP) — Two persons suspected of having smallpox definitely do not have the disease, Bellevue Hospital said today.

The cases had caused a quarantine of 200 persons at Idlewild Airport where they had arrived from Brazil.

Instead of having smallpox, the hospital said, the two persons were suffering from mite infestation.

Commercial fishermen get extra day in area

SEATTLE (AP) — Commercial salmon net fishing will open for an additional day this week in U.S. convention waters easterly of the Angeles Point-William Head line, the State Department of Fisheries announced Thursday.

Puget Sound Area 1 will open for purse seines and reefnets from 4 a.m. to 8 p.m. (PST) Friday. Areas 1 and 4 will open for gill nets from 6 p.m. Friday to 8 a.m. Saturday.

This will be followed by a complete closure until officials are satisfied that additional sockeye salmon fishing in the Adams River run is warranted.

That portion of Area 1 northerly of a line from Point Whitehorn to the Patos Island light will remain closed Friday and Saturday.

The International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Commission, which met with state officials, said Canadian convention waters of District No. 1, including the Fraser River, will open for 48 hours, effective 8 a.m. Monday.

The commission will relinquish control of U.S. convention waters westerly of the Angeles Point-William Head line Sept. 2. State regulations for this area will remain in effect as scheduled.

State gets more welfare

By JOE RIGERT

OLYMPIA (AP) — Washington will receive an extra $1.8 million in federal funds for its welfare program in the last nine months of the fiscal year, the Department of Public Assistance said Friday.

On top of that, the state could also become eligible for another $630,000 by the end of the fiscal year June 30 if it made certain administrative changes in the program.

The additional cash, provided under the new federal welfare law, places a policy decision before the Rosellini administration in an election year:

Whether to use the money to raise the grants of welfare recipients;

Or whether to keep it in the general fund as a "windfall" for the state's taxpayers.

Department officials say Congress did not specify the increased matching funds had to be used for boosting welfare grants, although this was the intent expressed in committee hearings.

The new law, aimed at shifting the welfare emphasis from relief to rehabilitation, offers an extra $4.20 a month starting in October for each case in three categories—disbility, blind and old age assistance.

The three programs covered about 53,500 cases last month in Washington.

The law also, for the first time, provides $7.50 a month for medical costs in disabled and blind cases if certain administrative changes are put into effect.

Soblen's new appeal denied

LONDON (AP) — The British Court of Appeal today upheld a government order for deportation of Robert A. Soblen to the United States and the Soviet spy's lawyers thereupon dropped their plans to carry the fight on to the House of Lords.

Solomon Kauffman of Soblen's legal team said that, instead of appealing to the lords, Soblen will make a plea to Home Secretary Henry Brooke, who issued the deportation order Aug. 2.

The House of Lords is Britain's highest tribunal, a last resort.

The Court of Appeal refused to free Soblen and dismissed his appeal for a writ of habeas corpus.

The ruling—fourth adverse decision Soblen has met in the British courts—means he may be deported to serve a life sentence in the United States for disclosing wartime secrets to the Soviet Union.

Soblen, 61, a psychiatrist, has been in England since July 1, when he stabbed himself aboard an Israeli airliner bound from Tel Aviv to New York. Since then Home Secretary Henry Brooke has been trying to send him on to the United States.

Soblen jumped $100,000 bail and fled to Israel on a bogus passport.

Leaders seek end to strike

CHICAGO (AP) — Leaders of the strike-bound Chicago and North Western Railway and the striking Order of Railroad Telegraphers met today in a third floor hotel dining room to discuss their dispute at a federal mediator's urging.

The management and union executives sat down with poker-faces for the closed door meeting with Francis A. O'Neill Jr., of the National Mediation Board.

Before the session, O'Neill commented to newsmen, "Both sides have an obligation to settle this strike." He said a lengthy strike would hurt both sides because the public is the only client, and can place much of its business elsewhere.

However, conferees indicated little hope that the walkout of some 1,000 telegraphers and idling of 16,500 North Western employes could be ended before next week.

The stoppage Friday made a ghost carrier of the big Midwestern rail system, third largest in the nation.

President signs satellite bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy signed the communications satellite bill today, setting up the legal framework for a privately owned corporation to handle this country's part in a global network for messages and pictures.

He said the space system will provide benefits for all people and "contribute to world peace and understanding."

A large group of top officials and congressmen surrounded the President as he used 15 pens to sign the bill.

Kennedy said the new law, cause of a long controversy in Congress, provides "many safeguards to protect the public interest."

"No single company or group will have the power to dominate the corporation," he said in a statement.

"The general public, the communications industry, and the federal government all will have a voice. All will contribute their resources and all may reasonably hope to benefit."

Outlining benefits expected from the satellite system, Kennedy said there will be "vastly increased capacity to exchange information cheaply and reliably with all parts of the world by telephone, telegraph radio and television."

"The ultimate result," he said, "will be to encourage and facilitate world trade, travel education, entertainment and the many kinds of professional, political and personal discourse which are essential to healthy human relationships and international understanding."

Proposes test ban talks go on

GENEVA (AP) — The United States proposed today that the three nuclear powers continue meeting during the recess of the disarmament talks to try to work out an agreement banning nuclear tests by the end of this year.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean told the 17-nation disarmament conference his government believes it should be possible for the American, British, Soviet nuclear subcommitee to complete this task by Nov. 1 so a treaty could become effective by Jan. 1, 1963.

The disarmament talks are to recess from Sept. 8 until Nov. 12 while the negotiators report back to the U.N. General Assembly.

First lady, Caroline end Italian visit

RAVELLO, Italy (AP)—Jacqueline Kennedy and her daughter Caroline said goodby to the Amalfi coast and their 11th century holiday villa today and started home to spend the Labor Day weekend with the President.

They left Rome aboard a Pan American World Airways jetliner for New York at 7:31 a.m. EST.

The Kennedy family plane, the Caroline, is to fly them on to the Quonset Point Naval Station in Rhode Island. The White House announced that President Kennedy would time his departure from Washington this afternoon to reach Quonset Point about the time his wife and daughter arrived.

Senator challenges claims in Estes case

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., challenged today denials that Billie Sol Estes got favored treatment from top-level Agriculture Department officials.

Senators investigating cotton acreage allotment deals by the Pecos, Tex., promoter, said Thursday their hearings proved the Agriculture Department is ripe for a structural overhaul.

NOT ENTIRE ANSWER

As the Senate Investigations subcommittee called Undersecretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy for a third day of questioning, Curtis suggested poor management couldn't be the entire answer.

"I cannot escape the feeling that somewhere in the top management of agriculture someone did respond to the gift-giving, free-wheeling, influential Billie Sol Estes to give him treatment far beyond what any other farmer in the United States would receive," Curtis said.

RECORDS SHOW FINES

Curtis said he could not believe that the alleged influence deals of Estes resulted only because the agency is "so undieldly that problems and even scandals were bound to occur."

Curtis said the record shows that Estes had been fined for his Alabama cotton acreage allotment manipulations because they had been labeled as a scheme involving "representations to the government that are not true" and wound up "not up only elevated to a high position but he had all of the attention that was given to him."

The subcommittee took an early luncheon recess after Curtis also contended that a departmental strategy designed to smoke out the truth about Estes' deals was full of loopholes.

TO SEEK OFFICE

OLYMPIA (AP) — Mrs. Esther Knox, vice president of the Olympia School Board, announced Wednesday she will be a candidate for a seat on the State Board of Education.

She will seek the seat left vacant by the death of William Luebke, Chehalis.

The position is being filled by Edwin Van Syckle of Aberdeen.

NEW POSTS, OLD TROUBLES—Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg, foreground, and Undersecretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz talk to newsmen in Chicago where they failed in attempts to head off telegraphers' strike against the Chicago & Northwestern Railway. President Kennedy has named Goldberg to the U.S. Supreme Court and Wirtz to succeed Goldberg as secretary of state, subject to confirmation by the Senate.

Executives ignore subpoenas

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top executives of four big steel companies defied subpoenas today from the Senate Antitrust subcommittee, failing to appear and produce data on production costs.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., the subcommittee chairman, denounced their refusal to appear as willful and premeditated contempt of Congress.

RECOMMENDS CITATION

He recommended that his subcommittee cite the steel executives for contempt. The subcommittee was expected to go into closed session to decide whether to do so.

The four companies—Bethlehem, Republic, National and Armco—have challenged the subcommittee's jurisdiction and contended the subpoenaed cost data is confidential information.

Contempt of Congress is punishable by a $1,000 fine or a year's imprisonment, or both.

The companies, unlike eight other major steel producers, have declined so far to submit detailed unit cost figures in response to subpoenas issued by the subcommittee.

SEEKS CHARGES

Kefauver said he would seek to have them cited for contempt if they persisted in their refusal.

Subpoenas were issued last April after major steel producers announced a short-lived $6-a-ton price increase that was rescinded after President Kennedy threw the full weight of the governmtnt against it.

Kefauver said at the time that production cost figures were essential to an intelligent evaluation of the need for price increases.

The steel companies contend disclosure of their unit costs would damage them competitively, both at home and abroad.

WILDERNESS BILL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Interior Committee approved Thursday a bill which would set up and preserve a huge wilderness area in this country.

Rep. Wayne Aspinall, D-Colo., chairman, said he would try to have the House consider the bill under suspension of the rules on Sept. 17. He said he believes it is too late in the session to get a rule from the Rules Committee to bring up the measure on the floor.

The Senate also has passed a wilderness bill but the House bill differs in many respects.

Rifled boxes may cause PO closure

A number of boxes in the post office were opened and mail taken again Saturday evening.

Postmaster Mary Brown has issued the following statement:

"Because of continual vandalism in the post office lobby after we close up at night, we are going to have to lock the office up before we leave, unless it is stopped.

"A number of boxes were opened and mail taken again last Saturday evening between the hours of 6 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. I hope any patron who observed loiterers in the lobby during that time, or on any other evening, will be good enough to report it to us.

"Tampering with the mails is a very serious offense. Every boxholder must be assured that no one is going to get into that box. The boxes have good combination locks, but it is possible to pry them open.

"Will you help us by being sure you lock your box each time you open it, and, especially, by reporting to us any person observed loitering in the lobby after closing time.

"The only other alternative is to lock the front door when we leave each night at 6 p.m. I know that will inconvenience many people who get mail during the evening, and I certainly do not want to do it if this vandalism can be stopped otherwise."

Stevens sell veterinary hospital, home

Dr. and Mrs. John D. Stevens have sold their combination home and animal hospital and acreage to Dr. and Mrs. George Bell of Raymond.

Dr. Bell is a 1954 graduate of Washington State University. His wife is the former JoAnn Crowley of Port Angeles. They have two children, Cynthia, six, who enters first grade Tuesday, and Kathy Jo, four.

Dr. Bell, a member of the Washington State, South Puget Sound and American Veterinary Medical associations, has practiced in LaGrand, Ore., Olympia and Raymond. He also is a member of the Lions Club.

Dr. Stevens, who has practiced in Sequim since 1930, designed and built the hospital in 1940. Although the practice will be taken over by Dr. Bell Sept. 1, Dr. Stevens will continue to help for a time.

Dr. and Mrs. Stevens, now living at the old Fred Booth farm, plan to build a new home soon near the Dungeness River south of the Burlingame Bridge.

The rest of the trip they spent in and around Pearrygin State Park near Winthrop, taking side trips to the Methow Valley, Okanogan National Forest and Northern Cascade primitive areas.

They visited Scheaffer's Museum at Winthrop ,once the residence of Owen Wister, author of "The Virginian." They also visited a ghost mining town at Hart's Pass in the Cascades, where a new gold mine will open in the near future.

Find clue in study of diabetes

By WILLIAM C. HARRISON
Associated Press Science Writer

CORVALLIS (AP) — Blood cholesterol may be a hereditary "carrier" clue to diabetes, says a University of Pittsburgh geneticist.

A correlation has been found between the cholesterol level of the blood of fathers and mothers whose children are diabetics, geneticist Joseph H. Sunder reported to the American Society for Human Genetics Friday.

NO CORRELATION

No similar correlation was found in control groups or random population samples, he said.

After finding that the correlation held for all parents of 47 juvenile diabetics included in a 10-year study at Pittsburgh, Sunder said he believes the parents may be carriers of diabetes. He also suggested a connection between diabetes and the fat-transporting mechanisms in the body.

His studies indicate that about two-thirds of the non-diabetic children of such parents are also carriers; that is, their cholesterol pictures match their parents' level more closely than normal.

BASIC RESEARCH

Another report as more than 4,000 scientists wound up a week-long series of meetings here told of using one of farming's oldest and costliest enemies—the nematode, a tiny soil worm—for research into basic life elements.

Dr. Ellsworth C. Dougherty and Jacqueline Godet explained the role of nematodes reared in a germ-free medium at the University of California in a study of cellular functions.

FUNDAMENTAL STUDIES

"What we have emerging now," Dougherty said, "are very fundamental studies of the biology of the organism, studies of nutrition, genetics, and biochemistry and other areas of physiology using the nematode as our research tool."

Since the life cycle of the species he studies runs only three days, egg-to-egg, Dougherty said, a researcher can watch the entire cycle.

Today ends a joint meeting at Oregon State University of the American Institute of Biological Sciences and the Pacific Division of the American Association for the Advancement of Science with affiliated societies.

TRANSPLANT WORKS

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — An Iraqi surgeon who transplanted a dog's cornea to a blind man's eye says the man can now see a hand move 18 inches away.

The surgeon, Dr. Salah Aldin Aljarah, said in a television broadcast some complications followed the operation but they were similar to those involved in corneal transplants between humans.

"We cannot give a final decision in the case until we have made further operations of the same kind," he said.

Spunky girl beats handicap

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (AP)—Della Derlien, paralyzed from the waist down, deaf and unable to speak seven years ago, has regained most of her faculties but probably is proudest of her most recent accomplishment of learning to swim.

The story of Miss Derlein's recovery was reported in New York Thursday at the meeting of the American Congress of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation.

Additions to the dramatic story of the girl's recovery and of her other accomplishments through her determination were described by her aunt, Mrs. Lorron Friedrichs of Sheboygan, with whom Miss Derlien, 26, lives.

REMARKABLE GIRL

"She is a remarkable girl," Mrs. Friedrichs said. "Not only did she learn to lip read on her own but this summer she insisted on going to a summer camp alone where she learned to swim."

"She probably is prouder of her ability to swim than she is of the many other things she accomplished — like fighting her way back after being hopelessly paralyzed with spinal meningitis.

"Della is a very cheerful girl and never talks about the years she spent in bed and of the long surgery on her twisted body.

"She works part time as a photo retoucher for a Sheboygan studio, moves about freely in a wheel chair, dresses herself, helps me with the meals and housework.

"She never lost the ability to speak but she had to teach herself to lip-read. She never took a course in that art.

"Now she eagerly is awaiting the return of her brother, Dennis, who will be released from the Navy in mid-September."

The Derlien children came to live with Mr. and Mrs. Friedrichs when their mother died in 1950. The father, Peter, lives in Wausau, Wis.

SPINAL MENINGITIS

Dr. Herbert A. Schoening, director of rehabilitation services at the Kenny Rehabilitation Institute in Minneapolis, said that seven years ago, on the eve of her graduation from high school, the girl was stricken by spinal meningitis.

Her body was left deformed, immobile below the waist, with the strain of muscle contractions dislocating her hips and cramping her legs in a crouched position. Her hearing failed. Year after year, she lay in this tragic state at her aunt's home.

Finally, her family placed her under treatment of the Kenny institute. A 14-man rehabilitation team went to work on her case.

Schoening said her restoration took 19 weeks. Miss Derlien underwent eight surgical operations and received intensive treatment, therapy and training.

WELCOMES "WANDA"

Youth held after murder

NEW YORK (AP)—Pretty 14-year-old Suzanne Grskovic is dead, the boy she had a crush on told police, because he "just wanted to see what it felt like to kill someone."

The ravished body of brown-eyed, blonde Suzanne was found Thursday in shrubbery off a dirt road in Queens, about five blocks from her home.

She had been strangled with her brassiere and strips from her dress. On her abdomen were carved an "S" and an "X"—made with a beer can opener.

Walter Tjunin, 17, on probation after spending a year at a state reform school, led police to the scene of the crime after a 6-hour grilling. He was charged with homicide and rape.

"I strangled her with her clothes," he told detectives. "I just wanted to see what it felt like to kill someone."

A search began for Suzanne when she failed to return Wednesday night from a dance. Later it was learned that Tjunin had left with her to walk her home.

Suzanne cared little for boys, but she did like Tjunin. Near her body was her charm necklace. It bore the inscription "Sue and Walter."

PA Lions plan annual light bulb campaign

The Port Angeles Lions Club is getting set for their annual light bulb sale, a once-a-year event that the local Lions Club uses to raise money for their many community betterment projects.

Lion chairman E. J. (Bud) McCall announces that the annual sale this year will be held Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 10th and 11th. The club hopes to wind-up most of the sale in one night, saving the second evening for clean-up activities.

Guests at the Lions weekly meeting Thursday included a visiting Lion from San Fernando, Calif. The far-away guest was George Witherage, who is in the floral business in the California city.

Another guest was Dr. Frank Anderson, from the University of Washington's Bureau of Community Development. Dr. Anderson was in Port Angeles in connection with a proposed television program.

5,000 DEFORMED

BONN, Germany (AP)—An estimated 5,000 German children have been deformed by thalidomide taken by the mothers during pregnancy, a West German health official said Wednesday.

Josef Stralau told a news conference the peak obviously has passed.

Western areas mostly clear while East gets storms

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain and thunderstorms spread across scattered sections in the East today but clear weather prevailed in most Western areas.

A flow of warm humid air from the Gulf streamed northward Thursday over the Plains states and clashed with much cooler air pushing eastward from the Rockies.

Thunderstorms broke out along the boundary between the two contrasting air masses from northern Kansas through eastern Nebraska and western Iowa into the western Great Lakes region and from Wyoming southward to New Mexico.

Rain and thunderstorms continued during the night and early morning in Midwest areas into the Central Plains with heavy downpours in northwest Iowa. More than nine inches of rain drenched Ida Grove, Iowa, in a 12-hour period, causing some flooding. Nearly seven inches doused Pocahontas with amounts from 3 to 4½ inches in other areas.

Light rain and showers dampened southern sections of the Middle Mississippi Valley. Fog covered scattered sections of the Great Lakes region, the Ohio Valley, Maine, along the coast in the Middle and Southern Atlantic Coast states, the Upper and Middle Mississippi Valley, the Central Plains and along coastal areas in the Pacific Coast states.

Coolest spots were in the Northern and Central Rockies with temperatures in the 40s. The 50s prevailed in the Northern and Central Plains and Central Plateau regions with the 60s and 70s across the major part of the country. Hot spots were in the southwest desert region.

Gov't renews civil action against GM

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Justice Department, in a civil suit, is renewing its attempt to prevent General Motors from allegedly trying to control prices at which its dealers sell cars.

The suit, filed Thursday, in the U.S. District Court in Los Angeles parallels a criminal indictment returned last Oct. 12.

In Detroit, a General Motors spokesman said the company had not received official notification of the civil suit. He referred questioners to a statement issued by Chairman Frederick G. Donner after the October criminal indictment.

Donner said then that the government's charges were without foundation.

Donner's statement said, in part: "General Motors has made no agreements with its dealers or anyone else, nor have we inflicted or threatened to inflict any sanctions on dealers supplying cars to discount house outlets."

Named as defendant in the new suit along with General Motors were these Chevrolet dealers associations—Losor Chevrolet Dealers Association of Los Angeles and Orange Counties; Dealers Service, Inc. of Los Angeles County; and Foothill Chevrolet Dealers of Los Angeles, Riverside and San Bernardino Counties.

The criminal indictment, now awaiting trial, was brought against the same defendants and three Chevrolet sales officials.

The civil suit accuses the defendants of trying to pressure Chevrolet dealers from selling to discount operators or referral services—both a widespread factor in California Chevrolet sales.

Job rests with hairdo opinion

SHEERNESS, England (AP)—Norma Sugg's job as a salesgirl rested today with the customers' opinion of her new hair-do.

Norma, 18, showed up recently sporting a bouffant hair style. Manager William Hossack gave her 14 days to change it. She didn't. He fired her. Norma appealed to her union.

Union Secretary Jose Mahney said the union will have to decide whether Hossack's order was reasonable.

"It could be that the customers objected," he said. "If they did, then the employers would be justified."

Frankfurter's court career begins and ends the same way

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The greatest irony in Justice Felix Frankfurter's life is this: At the beginning and end of his career on the Supreme Court an attempt was made to give him a red tinge.

It is ironic because this prim and pedantic justice who retired at 79 Wednesday because of illness went on the court as a hero to liberals and as the years passed increasingly disappointed them with his conservatism.

His whole life was dedicated to American constitutional and democratic processes but he could be painful. He lectured lawyers before the court, picking and pruning his way through their arguments.

ENDLESS OPINIONS

He wrote opinions endlessly, when he was with the majority and when he was against it, particularly when he was against it. These opinions were often tough to read and full of hair-splittings.

When President Roosevelt appointed him to the court Jan. 5, 1939, and the Senate Judiciary Committee held hearings on the nomination, extreme right-wingers protested and made the air of the committee room foul with anti-semitism.

It was Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling, author of the "Red Network," who tried to put the red tag on him. She said he had long been one of the principal "aides to the Red revolutionary movement in the United States."

ATTACKED COURT

Last May, while Frankfurter was home with the illness which forced his retirement, an extremely conservative Mississippi Democrat, Sen. James O. Eastland, attacked the Supreme Court in the Senate and said "a majority of the court voted in favor of the positions advocated by the Communist Party."

He put Frankfurter in the group. Eastland's performance was called a "disgrace" by the assistant Republican leader, Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California.

The day after Roosevelt appointed him, to the delight of liberals, the New York Times in a remarkably clairvoyant editorial predicted he would reveal an "organic conservatism."

CONSERVATIVE WING

Walton Hamilton, commenting in the Yale Law Review in 1947 on the mind of the conservative wing of the court, in which he placed Frankfurter, described this particular kind of mind as:

"So esoterically judicial that a slight deviation from court procedure—often existing only in the mind of the justice—is a mortal sin . . ."

Hamilton sized up the differences between the court's liberals and conservatives as the difference between the "activist" and "legal" approach to cases.

"LET'S GET MOVING"

It was the difference between the "Let's be cautious" and "let's get moving" view of jurisprudence as Frankfurter had demonstrated a year before Hamilton wrote his piece.

In 1946 the court refused to tell state legislatures they had to reapportion their membership to give voters in a state fairer representation. Frankfurter, writing the opinion, said the court should not enter "this political thicket."

The "activists" took over in March this year when a majority, brushing aside Frankfurter's view of 1946, ruled for the first time that the court had to take a hand in reapportionment. It was a landmark decision but Frankfurter was still against it.

West Indian Islanders quietly accept freedom

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad-Tobago (AP)—The islanders of Trinidad and Tobago momentarily muted their steel drums and calypso songs early today to solemnly raise the flag of independence over the Americas' newest nation.

The two southernmost islands of the West Indies rang down 165 years of British rule in a quiet midnight ceremony in the floodlit forecourt of Red House, the government building, before 35,000 citizens and guests.

It was a subdued beginning as an independent member of the British Commonwealth for the Caribbean islands known for their steel bands and improvised calypso songs of African origin.

Hours before, the bands and singers had been turned off the streets as many islanders flocked to religious services conducted by a Roman Catholic archbishop, an Anglican bishop, a Protestant pastor, a Moslem sheikh and a Hindu priest.

Representatives of 35 other nations—including the United States, the Soviet Union and Cuba—witnessed the ceremony.

The new nation's prime minister, Dr. Eric Williams, has said the islands' 830,000 citizens and 1,864 square miles will remain "unequivocally west of the Iron Curtain."

Attends conference

Attending the 13-state Western Conference of the Council of State Governments in Seattle this week is State Representative Paul Conner. Conner is chairman of the nominating committee and represents the Legislative Highway Committee.

Bicycles found

A girl's bicycle was brought to the police department yesterday at 3:15 p.m. City police also picked up an abandoned bicycle near the Children's Hall.

Apprehended

Sue Bladock, who escaped from the Fort Worden Diagnostic Center group while camping at Camp David Junior yesterday, was apprehended at 12:05 p.m. Thursday. She is a diabetic and authorities had feared she would need insulin shots.

Hubcaps stolen

Four hubcaps were stolen Wednesday night from Oliver H. Rowland's vehicle. They were the three-bar flipper type, Rowland told city police.

Fire calls

City firemen answered two calls yesterday. At 9:30 a.m. they went to the Dell Downing residence at 215 N. Eunice, where there was a fire in the kitchen.

A department spokesman said the fire was caused by a pan left on the stove. There was no damage, but firemen had to use the smoke ejector 30 minutes.

At 12:44 p.m. they were called to 1st between Lincoln and Laurel where a car belonging to Alan Clayton was leaking gas. The crew washed off the street.

Reports theft

A call from Interstate Asphalt Co. office on the Hoko Rd. to the sheriff's office yesterday reported a theft. The company representative told officers $300 worth of copper wire, two vehicle radiators and generators were taken Tuesday or Wednesday.

Mails statements

County Treasurer Robert Clark said today he was mailing second half statements on irrigation, real and personal property taxes.

The real and personal property taxes are due Oct. 31 and irrigation taxes Nov. 30.

TIME TO STOP

BALTIMORE (AP) — Herbert Herman's cleanliness helped a thief make a clean getaway.

Herman gave chase Wednesday when he saw a youth take a $200 ring and a wallet containing $94 from his bedroom.

When the thief ran out the back door, Herman stopped short, remembering he had been taking a shower.

Scribe had participated in all past 24 derbies as a contestant . . . until recent years . . . and always as some kind of an official . . . Expect to be on the beach checking salmon . . . Saturday and Sunday . . . To newcomers . . . it might be interesting to know . . . that the first salmon derby was in 1934 . . . and has been held annually . . . except during World War II . . . the years when Ediz Hook was closed for boat landing . . . The event is the oldest and largest civic fishing event . . . It is conducted on a non-profit basis by the Salmon Club . . . with no members or officers receiving any remuneration . . . Membership and fishing fees are returned in prizes . . . to club members who fish . . . This year 10 major and 20 minor awards . . . valued at more than $10,000 . . . Top prize this year is an 1962 automobile . . . Scribe's guess is that the salmon winning first prize . . . will be in the 30-pound bracket . . . Last year the big fish weighed 27 pounds, 10 ounces . . . A total of 79 salmon were caught on the two days in 1961.

28 more Cuban refugees arrive

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Twenty-eight more Cuban refugees have arrived in Key West.

Twenty persons, including three women and six children, were brought in Thursday night by a U.S. Coast Guard cutter which picked them up at Cay Sal, a British key 45 miles south of Key West.

Three more refugees arrived during the day in a 17-foot boat. Five others were brought in by a Coast Guard vessel. They were picked up at Marquesas Key, 20 miles west of here.

Ask for human barricade

ALGIERS (AP)—The rebellious guerrillas holding Algiers called on unarmed civilians today to bar the roads to the capital to motorized columns of troops advancing from western Algeria.

The guerrilla commanders of Wilaya No. 4 in Algiers sent out a call to the population to form human barricades against the regular army troops supporting Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella's quest for power.

Newsmen who drove as far as Affreville, 80 miles southwest of Algiers, saw half a dozen armed guerrilla roadblocks and groups of civilians answering the mobilization call.

There was no word of the advancing army columns. Thursday night they were reported about 150 miles from Algiers.

Pt. Angeles Reflections

FORTY YEARS AGO AUG. 31

S. Cone is opening a new and used furniture store in the building recently vacated by the Boston Tea and Coffee Company. He is a business man of good standing in Seattle, having been in business there for years, and comes to Port Angeles well recommended. He is moving his family here and will make this his home.

A community dance will be given tomorrow night in the High School gymnasium for the purpose of completing the gymnasium funds. An orchestra from one of the battleships will furnish the music which assures that it will be good and everyone who has danced on the gym floor pronounced it splendid.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The fall schol term opened in Port Angeles this morning with a registered student attendance in excess of the 1936 mark-youngsters at the high school, junior high, three grade schools and the Catholic school totaling 2,273, as against 2,127 last year. Between 12 and 15 students also are enrolled at the Seventh Day Adventist School.

Superintendent of Schools Forest M. Breakey and Father Bernard Neary both indicated the totals were below what the school authorities expect to be enrolled after the double Labor Day holiday as a number of families are known to be on vacation and will not return until next week.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Employees of Priest Logging & Equipment Co. last night voted almost unanimously to have their own independent Loggers and Operators Union, represent them in collective bargaining. No votes were cast for the CIO International Woodworkers of America, Local 2-90.

Olympic National Forest will sell about 49,600,000 bf of timber on 647 acres in the Forks fire area, at an oral auction at Olympia Sept. 8. The tract is in the North Fork Calawah River area.

Marine-Air News

Fishing was rather light in the Ediz Hook area Thursday but some salmon were weighed in at the Thunderbird Boathouse. Mostly the salmon were silvers. This morning a thick fog was hanging over the water but was burning away by the middle of the forenoon. Some Salmon Club fishermen were fishing today. Some of them were making a last effort to catch a salmon to qualify for derby finals at a reduced price. There is no limit however, to the number of club members who may fish in the finals but those who have not caught and registered a salmon must pay a higher entrance fee.

Ignores law for election

OLYMPIA (AP) — Washington's secretary of state says he again will ignore a 1959 law directing him to publish an expensive "Candidates' Pamphlet" for the November election.

Secretary Victor A. Meyers announced the decision Thursday, saying it would save the taxpayers more than $250,000.

The 1959 Legislature cooked up the pamphlet idea. The law directed the secretary of state to put out the document with photographs and campaign statements of any nominees who wanted in.

They would pay a fee, but Meyers said it would fall far short of the cost of getting the pamphlets to a million or more voters. The legislature didn't appropriate any money.

Meyers first ignored the pamphlet law in 1959. He says it should be repealed.

He explained the candidates' pamphlet should not be confused with the pamphlet containing arguments for and against initiatives and referenda. That will be published this year as usual.
