Council takes another look at parking

Surplus parking — a problem virtually unknown in other parts of the nation — was discussed Thursday night by the Port Angeles City Council.

The newly opened municipal lot near the police station has been yielding an average of $4.75 per day, according to a report made to the council. A proposal by councilman Joseph Wolfe that the lot be turned into an all-day facility was postponed.

The city engineer was instructed to prepare a cost estimate for a proposed LID for sewers near 12th St., beteen "H" and "I" streets.

BIDS WILL BE asked for installation of a new tire floor covering and for installation of a new lighting and heating system in the old library.

Two liquor licenses — one a renewal for Safeway on E. 4th St. and the other a new license for the Lee Hotel — were approved by the council.

Possible sale of Lot 3, Block 34, will be studied by a three-man committee appointed by Mayor James Maxfield. Councilman Wolfe, W. Ivor Smith and Dalton Thorne will determine if the city wishes to sell the lot, and if so, the minimum price.

A COST ESTIMATE for a possible LID in the 2nd and "K" streets area was disapproved by property owners. Several residents appeared at the Council meeting and indicated they wanted the city to cut the large grade existing in the area and prepare it for "a possible LID in the future." The Council tabled action on the matter pending investigation of the use of city funds in the area.

A progress payment of $10,249 for work and materials used in construction of the new library building was authorized. Final acceptance — subject to inspection — was voted of work done and material furnished by Olympia Oil and Wood Products on LID 180. The withheld percentage of $41,301 will be paid. LID 183 by J.D. Shotwell Co., was also accepted pending inspection, and a withheld percentage of $33,268 will be paid.

IN OTHER BUSINESS the Council:

Referred a submitted plat by Green Brothers to the planning commission. The plat includes Lot 8 and a portion of Block "A."

Approved bills totaling $61,275 and the August payroll of $69,393 for payment.

Authorized City Manager M. W. Slankard to attend the International City Manager's Conference in Philadelphia from Oct. 15 to Oct. 18.

Referred a request for weed killer spray on the Washigton Playfield to the parks department.

Decided to study the city's parking ordinance with the view of possible revision.

Decided to study a proposed new building code. City Attorney Tyler Moffett told the Council the new code was a modernized version of the present city code adopted in 1958.

Hold closed door parley on jails

A joint city-county meeting was held Thursday night to discuss the possibility of consolidating jail facilities and the moving of GAR facilities to another locaton.

Although the closed-door aspects of the meeting were protested by George Buck, Evening News General Manager, the City Council voted to exclude the public.

Buck told the Council that the public had a right to know the thinking of Councilmen and Commissioners on all matters affecting city and county residents.

COUNCILMEN INDICATED they would feel "hampered or hindered" in discussions if the press and public were present. "This is going to be in the nature of a bull-session or conference," Mayor James Maxfield said. He said that no action could be taken at a closed session.

"The public still has a right to know the thinking of its elected representatives," Buck said.

In a release this morning, M.W. Slankard, City Manager, reported that the conference decided to "contact various war veteran groups who utilize the hall and see if a plan can be worked out to discontinue use of the hall and a more suitable meeting hall elsewhere be rented.

"THE CITY IS concerned about the unsightly building and the traffic hazard because Fifth St. is not used to its full width where it connects with Lincoln."

During discussion on the joint jail facility, the City Council "pointed out that the present jail facility was adequate for the City and that if a saving of money by the City and County" was possible "consideration should be given to such a joint venture."

Various funding methods were discussed as to what the County could do to finance needed additions to the City's jail building to provide for a joint facility.

After further discussion the conference decided to secure more information regarding a joint operation and meet again in the future.

Commissioners back district school bond

The Board of Clallam County Commissioners unanimously passed a resolution voicing support of the Nov. 6 school bond issue at their meeting held yesterday at the Clallam County Courthouse.

The resolution, submitted by Commissioner Elmer Critchfield, commended the work and planning that has been done by the board of School District 21.

"A new college campus for Peninsula College will benefit the entire county," Critchfield said.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, the commissioners heard the monthly anticipated receipts report and found that income had been running close to $1,800 a month over anticipated revenue.

Commissioners divided the income received from the sale of national forest timber between the county's schools and the road department.

The 25 per cent figure that the county receives totaled $289,417.46 and a resolution was passed splitting that amount between roads and schools.

The county received piece of road from the state director of highways.

THE ROAD, which used to be the main part of highway 101 between Lake Sutherland and Lake Crescent was turned over to the county.

Commissioners referred the matter to the county engineer, who will see whether the road is of any value to the county and if the county should vacate the road.

No one was present for the hearing on the sale of Lot 4, Block 4 in the townsite of Forks and commissioners voted to place the lot for sale at the $350 minimum price.

In other board action, the commissioners transferred $3,000 to the Clallam County Park and Recreation Fund and followed up with other routine business matter.

Next regular meeting for the commissoners will be Oct. 5.

Birse says firing is political

SEATTLE (AP) — I. D. Birse was quoted Thursday as saying his dismissal as manager of the State Ferry System was politically inspired.

"They want a figurehead up here," Birse told The Seattle Times. "They want to pull the strings from Olympia."

Birse was fired Wednesday by the State Highway Commission, which appointed Charles G. Prahl, retired Navy captain, to the $15,000-a-year job.

The Times said Birse "just had emerged from a political storm center over the firing of an administrative assistant appointed by the governor over Birse's protest.

"Birse had recommended abolishing of the position, and two others, in an economy move nearly a year ago. His suggestion never was considered by the Toll Bridge Authority," the newspaper said.

The Highway Commission, in firing Birse, chided him for not following "the normal and accepted practice of channeling information of a policy nature to the public through the responsible policy making body."

"On other occasions when I followed the policy," Birse told The Times, "nothing happened."

Birse's office reported he was out of town Thursday.

Put off action on ship bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Final Senate action on a ship construction subsidy bill, amended Thursday to eliminate a 6 per cent differential for West Coast yards, has been put off until early next week.

The Senate voted 50-29 to write repeal of the 26-year-old differential into the bill, which continues the subsidy program for three years at 55 per cent of cost. Without the bill, the rate would drop to 50 per cent.

Later, by a voice vote, the Senate adopted another amendment providing that the differential still would apply to contracts for which bids had already been opened.

The differential applies to the construction of government-subsidized merchant vessels.

Russians refuse to pay on U.N. costs in Congo

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —In advance of an important policy address today to the U.N. General Assembly, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko served notice his government will not pay one cent to support the U.N. force in the Congo.

Gromyko indicated he might deal with U.N. finances in his address, which is expected to range over a wide area of cold war issues, including charges of U.S. aggressive designs on Cuba.

START DEBATE

The Soviet foreign minister's address will be part of the 108-nation assembly's general policy debate.

Gromyko's views on U.N. financing clashed with those of Adlai E. Stevenson, chief U.S. delegate. Stevenson told the assembly Thursday it should affirm "a policy of collective financial responsibility" for U.N. actions.

Gromyko stated the Soviet position on U.N. financing to a newsman who asked if he expected the assembly to approve the July 20 advisory opinion of the World Court that all U.N. members are obliged to pay for the special peacekeeping operations in the Congo and the Middle East.

NO PAY

"The only thing I can say," Gromyko remarked, "is that we are not going to pay for this—not one penny. Why should we pay for the crimes they committed in the Congo . . . the colonialists and their agents? It is against our policy, against our convictions."

Asked which crimes he ment, he mentioned the chaos in the Congo, the killing of onetime premier Patrice Lumumbo in Katanga province and the continued secession of that province.

The Soviet Union is one of more than 25 members who do not help pay for the U.N. force in the Middle East and almost 55 that do not help pay for the U.N. force in the Congo, despite the fact that all members are assessed for both operations.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY

The Soviet argument is that only the Security Council has the right to levy such special peacekeeping assessments and that the present assessments are illegal because they were levied by the General Assembly.

The Communist members of the 21-member steering committee—the Soviet Union, Poland and Romania—lost on two issues Thursday as the committee recommended the division of various issues for debate by the assembly and its seven working committees.

The United States got the Hungarian question assigned to the special political committee rather than the assembly. That will mean an earlier debate, perhaps before the U.S. congressional election Nov. 6.

The Communists insisted on a separate debate on withdrawal of foreign troops from South Korea. But the committee voted for a Greek proposal to have it bracketed for debate with the annual report of the U.N. Commission for the Unification of Korea.

U.N. plane Wreckage sighted

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—Wreckage was sighted today of a U.N. reconnaissance plane carrying 10 Swedes reported shot down over Katanga Thursday.

A report to the Swedish defense ministry in Stockholm said seven aboard were known to have survived the crash—four of them unhurt. One man was killed. The fate of the other two was not immediately determined.

GIVES WARNING

Robert K. A. Gardiner, chief of U.N. operations, who had advised the Katanga government by letter that search operations would start today, warned:

"If the helicopters should be harassed in any way, escorting jet fighters will immediately open fire on any movement."

Katanga President Moise Tshombe replied that orders had been given to his forces to avoid incidents.

Tshombe charged that the plane was downed by Congolese central government troops stationed in Katanga.

START INQUIRY

He said he was willing to "get together the necessary elements for an inquiry."

"For several days past," Tshombe said, "we have informed the public of Congolese troop concentrations in north Katanga.

"We believe U.N. denials of any operations in north Katanga but have good information that another attack is planned."

A U.N. spokesman in Leopoldville said it was "absolutely certain" the twin-engine transport had been shot down.

Tshombe has accused the United Nations of airlifting troops into his province to attempt to take it over the United Nations had denied the charge.

U.N. efforts to reunite the rich secessionist province with the central Congo government have faltered in the past month.

House sits tight on fund cut

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has turned a deaf ear to President Kennedy and approved a foreign aid bill that would slash spending overseas a massive $1.4 billion.

Not a voice was raised to support the President's contention that the cut in this year's appropriations "poses a threat to free world security."

With anti-Cuban feelings running high, three amendments aimed at choking off shipments to the Castro government got shouting votes of approval.

The appropriations measure now goes to the Senate, which has made it a practice to restore sizable portions of House cuts in foreign aid. As for the Cuban amendments, both the Senate and the President would have to approve before they could become law.

The House leadership, sensing sentiment for even deeper cuts in the $5,956,852,000 bill, decided to forego a floor fight to salvage the funds axed from the measure by the House Appropriations Committee.

The bill was waved to the Senate on a roll call vote of 249-144. The measure drew the support of 174 Democrats and 75 Republicans.

Development loan funds took the worst shellacking. While the President requested $1.25 billion, the House approved $775 million.

Thick slices were lopped off the requests for development grants, military assistance, the alliance for progress and the President's contingency fund.

Argentina president proclaims cease-fire

By FRANK N. MANITZAS

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—President Jose Maria Guido proclaimed a cease-fire in Argentina today and ousted three military leaders accused by army rebels of plotting to set up a military dictatorship.

His cabinet resigned to give him a free hand.

For the moment, at least, it appeared that Gen. Juan Carlos Organia, the rebel leader who demanded a return to democratic rule, had won. Whether his army rivals would bow out peacefully was not immediately clear.

FIGHTING PERSISTS

Reports said fighting persisted north and south of this capital as the president issued his communique announcing the cease-fire. The communique was a product of a session with his cabinet and rival generals that dragged into the early hours.

Ousted was the war secretary, Gen. Jose Cornejo Saravia, and the communique said resignations would be accepted from his two top army officers—Gen. Juan Lorio, commander in chief, and Gen. Bernardino Labayru, chief of staff, later in the day.

Guido himself assumed the post of war secretary.

SITUATION NORMAL

A presidential communique said "The military situation is normal. The troops have been ordered to return to their barracks."

It was not known how soon the cease-fire in the four-day crisis could be put into effect. A temporary truce, announced before the negotiations resumed soon after midnight, expired and despite reports the truce had been extended, troop movements resumed on both sides.

A new clash was reported between government and rebel troops at Florencio Varila, where 3,500 government troops were in position 17 miles southeast of Buenos Aires in the path of rebel tanks. Reports said rebel tanks were fired on by antiaircraft guns and returned the fire. There was no word of casualties.

PENETRATE SURBURB

The rebels penetrated to the industrial suburb of Avellaneda, across the Riachuelo River from Buenos Aires. Ten Sherman tanks and several truckloads of troops were seen in the area. Rebel forces guarded bridges with light machine guns.

At Olmos, about 50 miles from Buenos Aires, a rebel tank column was said to have broken government lines.

The rebel bastion was Campo de Mayo garrison 10 miles from Buenos Aires. Troop movements were heaviest in and around this capital, but there was military activity as far away as Salta, 775 miles to the northwest.

Discloses high tests by Russians

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union has detonated nuclear blasts in space at least 28 times as powerful as the U.S. high-altitude explosion which sent a new radiation belt whirling around the earth July 9, a comparison showed today.

The Atomic Energy Commission announced today that the size of the U.S. blast July 9 over the Pacific was put at the equivalent of 1.4 million tons of TNT. Other sources said the Soviet high-altitude blast of Aug. 5 was equal to 40 million tons of TNT.

SMALL DEVICE

Informed sources outside the AEC said the information was being declassified to show how even a relatively small nuclear device could create high-altitude radiation of considerable strength, and to give some perspective for judging Soviet high-altitude testing.

The U.S. blast knocked out communications from three U.S. satellites, as electrons from the nuclear explosion formed a belt around the earth.

The new information also set the altitude of the U.S. blast at 250 miles, some 40 miles higher than the previously reported altitude.

Nearly two months after the U.S. nuclear blast, the United States said the radiation belt created by it was much stronger than expected and might last for many years.

HIGHER UP

At that time, both the AEC and the Defense Department said there would be no danger to man-in-space programs, since the new radiation belt "clearly lies above the path of currently manned flights."

The Soviet tests are held high above the Arctic island of Novaya Zemlya, and so far there have been no indications of what altitude the Soviets have chosen to fire their blasts.

There was no statement as to what danger might arise for manned space flight from the Soviet blasts.

Ferry fares to be eased down some, TBA decides

OLYMPIA (AP) — The cost of riding state ferries will be reduced slightly Nov. 16, the Washington Toll Bridge Authority decided Wednesday.

The action was taken in connection with the expiration of the 10 per cent federal transportation tax on passenger fares Nov. 15.

The TBA, headed by Gov. Rosellini, decided to incorporate the tax into the basic rate structure, but the odd pennies will be cut back to the nearest nickle.

It is the cut back to the nearest nickle that provides the slight reduction.

Thus the basic fares will be increased to incorporate part of the 10 per cent federal tax, but the total cost will be slightly less because of the cutback.

Rosellini emphasized there would be no increase in the cost of riding the ferries. But, he added, the money formerly paid as federal tax will now be available, in part, to help pay for operation, maintenance and improvements.

Beck said the ferry system has been a losing operation for several years and will continue to be so until the state completes its cross-Sound bridge program. He said a subsidy for the ferry system will be required until bridges are built.

Under the proposal as adopted, the present rates, including taxes, will be changed as follows: from 72 cents to 70; 77 cents to 75; 88 cents to 85; 94 cents to 90; and $1.32 to $1.30.

Port Angeles included in study on tourism

A study of 25 areas — from Port Angeles to the Virgin Islands — is being conducted for possible tourism development.

The study is being conducted by Dr. L. J. Crampon, director of the School of Business Research, Colorado University. The Federal government is picking up the tab for the study with the view of promoting the tourist industry in the United States and particularly in small towns.

Dr. Crampon explained the survey to 21 Port Angeles citizens Thursday at Birney's Restaurant. The Port Angeles residents also gave Dr. Crampon their views on the local area.

Tourist destination areas are the main subject of research. The economic aspects rather than recreational angles are the sides to be studied, Dr. Crampon said.

"The ARA is very interested in creating new jobs. It is particularly interested in creating them in small communities. Here it is felt that the tourist industry shows much promise," he explained. "Nineteen million tourists go on vacations annually," he pointed out.

Dr. Crampon offered three major points for development of tourism. He suggested: Knowing what the area has to promote; develop these things completely; and know to whom the area will appeal and reach the heart of that market with promotion.

School Board adopts budget

Directors of Sequim School District No. 323, at a board meeting Monday night learned the assessed valuations for 1962-63 for the school district, as released by the county assessor, is $5,173,435. This is a decrease of $18,125 under last year.

Supt. Matt Strauss reported an increase in enrollment over last year of 75 students, or the equivalent of nearly three additional classrooms.

This increase is taxing the capacity of classrooms in all three schools and required the addition of a new bus route.

The school now has 13 established routes carrying 879 students, or 78 per cent of all enroled. The bus loads average 68 pupils per bus. A new 73-passenger bus will be delivered the middle of October.

The board adopted a final budget of $533,079.00 to present to the County Budget Review Committee Sept. 27 for final approval.

All bus drivers have been invited to attend a driver training refresher course in the School Service Building in Port Angeles Saturday from 1 to 5 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Kirk

Kirk-Emery wedding at Methodist Church

The marriage of Miss Etta Emery and Michael James Kirk was solemnized at an evening candlelight service in Trinity Methodist Church of Sequim, Sept. 8th at 8 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Forest M. Emery and the late Mr. Emery. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Kirk.

The double-ring service was read by the Rev. Vincent S. Hart Jr. in the presence of approximately 200 guests. The organ was played by Mrs. John Kirner. Donald Kirner sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "With This Ring."

GIVEN IN MARRIAGE by her uncle, Charles T. DeHaas, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white silk organza over taffeta, with a bell-shaped skirt, scoop neckline, and tea-cup sleeves. The gathered cummerbund was closed at the back with a petalled fabric rose, and her shoulder-length illusion veil was held with a matching rose.

The bridal bouquet was Talisman roses and stephanotis. For "something old," the bride wore a dainty gold necklace set with a diamond and two sapphires, which had been worn by the bridegroom's great-aunt at her wedding.

THE CHANCEL AND windows of the church were decorated with white candles, bronze Fujii chrysanthemums and gold foliage tied with gold satin ribbons. Bridal attendants carried bouqets of the same flowers tied with brown ribbons.

Miss LeNora Thomsen was maid-of-honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Laurie Lindsay of Anchorage, Miss Cherry Olson of Seattle, and Miss Patricia Hayes of Renton. They wore street-length gowns of emerald green brocade with high rounded necklines, buttoned backs, elbow-length sleeves, and bell-shaped skirts. Their matching coronets were made by Mrs. Einer Thomsen, mother of the maid-of-honor.

Michael Cooper of Sequim was best man. Ushers were James Adams of Bellingham, William Zagelow of Odessa, and Harvey Chenault of Sequim. Candle-lighters were Miss Marta Goldstein of Downey, Calif., and Keith Kingsbury of Seattle.

MISS GOLDSTEIN wore a gold brocade dress and coronet matching those of the bridesmaids, and a wristlet of bronze chrysanthemums.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Emery chose a beige silk sheath with matching jacket. Her accessories were beige and green, and her corsage a white orchid. The groom's mother wore a beige silk jacket dress with brown accessories, and a white orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was given in the social hall of the church. The bride's table and tea table were decorated with arrangements of Talisman roses and bronze Fujii chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Roy V. Emery and Mrs. Howard C. Taft, aunts of the bride, cut the bride's cake, a Maltese cross topped with white wedding bells. Mrs. Roy Chenault, aunt of the groom, and Mrs. Lester W. Emery, aunt of the bride, poured. Miss Sharon Emery, cousin of the bride, served the punch.

MISS PEGGY BRYANT, niece of the bridegroom, and Miss Taryn Schlaffman, wearing light green dresses and headbands of white stock, passed the groom's cake. Mrs. Neil Bryant, sister of the bridegroom, presented the guest book. Miss Marjorie Taft, a cousin of the bride, received gifts.

For travel, the bride chose a brown suit with paisley blouse and brown accessories. Her corsage was white rosebuds tied with brown ribbon.

After a short honeymoon on Hood's Canal, the young couple will make their home in Bellingham where the bridegroom attends Wester Washington College.

Crown Z employes honored at semi-annual service pin dinner

"The future looks good, looks real bright," Resident Manager F. W. Flynn of Crown Zellerbach told his audience at the firm's semi-annual service pin dinner here Wednesday night.

Flynn's remarks came in a brief address to more than 100 Crown Z employes and guests just before awards were made to employes for service ranging from five to 35 years.

THE 35-YEAR awards went to Alex O. Gosselin and Wilfred A. Rivetts of the paper machine crew, Joseph Mowbray of the electrical department and Virgil G. Andrew of the yard section.

In his remarks, Flynn noted the improvements made by Crown Z at a number of the firm's plant in this country and in Canada. He also noted the new one-machine mill under construction in Holland.

The mill will manufacture paper from pulp brought in by special ships also under construction.

GETTING CLOSER to home, he noted construction will begin soon at the local mill's warehouse to expand storage facilities to take care of the output of telephone directory paper, one of the Port Angeles division's newest products.

Other changes include the doubling of the jitney shop space, lengthening the No. 2 machine and changes in No. 3.

He explained the changes are a result of the Crown Z effort to maintain its position in the highly competitive papermaking industry.

HE NOTED: "We can't, in this business, stand still any place. If you stand still, you get caught in the dust of the other fellow."

Before turning to his observations of the future, he lauded the local mill's safety record and urged the employes to work toward a better one. Two mills in the widespread CZ organization hold better safety marks than the Port Angeles division.

Special guests at the affair were the wives of men receiving pins for 20 years or more of service and the mill's retired associates.

OTHERS WERE CITY, county and state officials, representatives of other local industry, service club leaders and newspaper representatives.

W. Seymour Howard, mill office manager, served as toastmaster. George Christensen, assistant personnel manager and safety supervisor, assisted Flynn in the presentation of the service pins.

The Rev. Alcuin Lawrence of the Queen of Angels Catholic Church opened the dinner with the invocation. After dinner entertainment was provided by the Angeles Singers.

LISTED BY DEPARTMENTS, here are the service pin winners:

ANCESTORS OF MAORIS

HONOLULU (AP) — Hawaii scientists digging in the Society Islands in the South Pacific this summer have unearthed 1,500-year-old objects that may shed light on Pacific man's origin.

Dr. Kenneth P. Emory, Honolulu archaeologist who headed the expedition, said the implements are identical to artifacts discovered in burial sites in New Zealand and believed to be more than 1,000 years old.

He said the shapes of implements, the fact that tools and fishhooks were buried beside a man and the burial position of the man indicate that ancestors of New Zealand's Maoris derived their culture from the Society Islands.

Glamorouus after 20 children

HOLLYWOOD (AP)— Maureen O'Hara, the screen's most successful mother, was talking in her soft Irish brogue about motherhood.

"A housewife stopped me the other day and said, "How am I goin' to compete with you? My husband adores you. Why do you have to be such a glamorous mother?"

"So I asked how many children she had. Four, she told me. And I said to her, "Why, isn't that wonderful. It shows how much your husband must love you."

EXPERT MOTHER

At 39, the onetime Irish colleen —who looks 25—has become an expert on motherhood.

She's had 20½ children and three grandchildren. One was adopted. A couple died at birth. She's even had twins.

But all but one—her 18-year-old daughter, Bronwyn Bridget, confined their hijinks t the screen.

Bronwyn is her daughter by her divorce-ended marriage to the late producer Will Price.

The others were the offspring of cinematic marriages with such famous husbands as Rex Harrison, John Wayne, Robert Young, Tyrone Power, Fred MacMurray, James Stewart and Henry Fonda.

The half child?

"Hayley Mills. She played twins in 'Parent Trap.' "

All this motherhood has given a new resurgence to Maureen's career, usually confined in early days to the hoop-skirted heroine in such swashbuckles as "Spanish Main."

And it hasn't lessened the attentions of her steady beau, Mexico City attorney Enrique Parra.

LAST FIVE

She's been a mother in her last five films. In her latest, "Spencer's Mountain," with Henry Fonda, they're parents of 9.

Being a mother really isn't new for Maureen, though it's given her career a boost.

"No one realizes that I've been playing mothers since I was too young to be a mother. I played a mother of a 6-year-old son in "Buffalo Bill" and I was only 20."

What does she tell the middle-aged women whose husbands nudge them and say, "Why can't you look like that, honey?"

"Any woman can be attractive. I know they're busy all day. But they can always set the alarm clock for 15 minutes before their husband gets home from work.

Roughriders host Centralia tonight

Our one word of advice to football fans tonight, is to be sure to get to Civic Field early and find a nice comfortable seat. Then sit back for some fast football action from Port Angeles and Centralia.

Coaches Marv Cross and Bob Klock have opened up the Roughrider attack this year and they will mix in plenty of passing and running. I might also warn you, not to get distracted, as the 'Riders run off their plays in a hurry.

Keep your eye on number 40 tonight. Henry Boni, the 170 pound senior halfback, wears that number and he will get the ball from quarterback Jon Roline plenty of times, off his stout showing last week against Bremerton.

Jim Aardal and Dennis Alwine should also be ready to pick up valuable yardage tonight, with Aardal on the inside and Alwine on the wide stuff from his wingback position.

Key linemen for the Roughriders will be Bob Peterson, Al Womac, Tex Hargraves and Terry Gossage. Look for those boys along with the rest of the starting line, to be on many tackles.

★ ★ ★

The Centralia Tigers, coached by Frank Smith, has his boys running a pro slot-T offense with plenty of spreads for a fine passing attack and plenty of speed in the backfield for a solid running game.

Watch Dave Draper and Darryl Danielson in the backfield. Both are speedsters, who hit fast. The Tiger fullback weighs 180 pounds and hits with authority. Gordy Brown is his name.

Along the line, the keys to Centralia success are Pete Loop and Corky Gower. The experienced lineman, who gave the Roughrider ball carriers plenty of fits last fall.

If the Tigers get in trouble, Danielson also likes to boot field goals.

From their showing last Friday, the Roughriders deserve a full house tonight at Civic Field and I'm sure that the louder you yell, the more they'll like it.

Hoppman vs. Baker duel anticipated by fans

PORTLAND (AP) — Oregon State and Iowa State were expected to arrive in Portland for workouts today, prior to their football game Saturday night.

It will be the first meeting in history between the teams, and a memorable one for a number of reasons.

Fans expect for one thing to see a duel between two of the nation's most explosive backs—Dave Hoppmann of Iowa State who led the country in total offense last year, and Terry Baker of Oregon State, an All-Coast selection as quarterback who has accounted for 2,703 yards in two seasons.

Hoppmann, who divided his time between quarterback and halfback in his team's 14-7 opening win over Drake last weekend, is expected to operate full time at halfback this week. That will increase the threat of his running ability. Larry Switzer will take over as quarterback.

Baker, who was under wraps much of last year — forbidden to run until the last 10 minutes of each game — also will be turned loose, coach Tommy Prothro of Oregon State said. It will be Oregon State's first game.

It also will be the first contest between Prothro and his former Oregon State assistant, Clay Stapleton, now Iowa Sate coach.

Prothro said he respected Stapleton's talents, but thought he had a winning team at Oregon State. Then he got the scouting reports on Iowa State's victory over Drake.

"I feel just like the poker player who's convinced he has the best hand, then gets beaten," Prothro said.

Nevertheless Oregon State is regarded locally as a one-touchdown favorite.

Weather forecasters say it will be cool with some clouds, but no rain is in the offing.

Rangers learn hard lessons; lose 26-0

The Port Angeles Rangers learned some football last night . . . the hard way. Chimacum's hard hitting Cowboys downed the Port Angeles sophomores 26-0 in a game played at Port Townsend.

The Rangers, never able to get their timing down until late in the game, trailed all the way. It was their fumbles on handoffs and key Chimacum pass interceptions that spelled defeat.

Chimacum opened the scoring in the first quarter, when a bad snap from center got away from Ranger punter Chuck Boyd and the Cowboys recovered on the Angeles 25.

From there, sophomore halfback Dick Morgan went in to score.

Morgan added another tally in the second quarter after a Ranger fumble gave the Cowboys the ball on the Angeles 33.

Morgan skirted right end from 13 yards out on that one.

A pass interception gave Chimacum the break that netted in another score. It took Chimacum three plays to go in from the 21-yard line with senior halfback Ron Inman getting the 6 points and Chimacum carried a 19-0 halftime lead to the dressing room.

The Rangers fought back hard in the third period, but could never get a sustained drive going. Ranger quarterback Bob Lovell had trouble with his passes and had seven intercepted for the game.

One went for 50 yards and a Cowboy score in the third quarter, when Inman snared a Lovell pass and edged down the sideline behind good blocking for the score.

The only Ranger threat came late in the final period, when, after taking a Chimacum punt on the Cowboy 34, the Rangers moved in 5 plays to the Chimacum 4.

A bad snap from center caused quarterback Gary Kerr to fumble and the threat died.

Coaches Bud Dire and Jack Crook had nothing but praise for the way their boys fought back in the second half.

"It was good experience for us," Dire said, "and sophomores playing juniors and seniors makes a big difference too." Dire was also impressed by the way Cowboy coach Bob Flaherty had his boys blocking.

"We learned a lot and have much work to do before next week's game against Coupeville," said Dire.

Briggs to start for Huskies

SEATTLE (AP) — Sweatsuits instead of shoulder pads were on the gridiron schedule Friday for the University of Washington Huskies as they scheduled a short but brisk limbering up for Saturday's game against Purdue.

The Huskies meet Purdue at 2 p.m. Saturday in Seattle.

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP)—Mumps will sideline halfback Mickey Rice during Saturday's game when the University of Idaho Vandals meet Utah State in Boise.

But, Vandal Coach Dee Andros said Thursday his team is "all set to go," with a replacement already added to the 34-man traveling squad.

Pass defense and protection were the centers of emphasis as the team worked out Thursday.

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP) — The Washington State Cougars were pronounced "r e a d y" Thursday after an hour-long practice session devoted to defensive dummy scrimmage.

"We're ready," said Coach Jim Sutherland. "No use tiring everyone out with a long workout at this stage of the game."

He said the squad would suit up in game uniforms Friday and take a couple turns around the field to get the feel of the turf.

WSU opens the season here Saturday against San Jose State.

Wildcats Evergreen favorites

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Central Washington Wildcats have had a couple of teeth pulled, but they're still favored to retain the Evergreen Conference football crown they won last year.

Coach Adrian Beamer, who guided the Wildcats to the title in his first season as head coach, pooh-poohs the pre-season favorite's rating.

He said the loss of center Bill Betcher and halfback Harvey Rath, both all-conference selections, would hurt the club. Betcher will assist Beamer this year. Rath has gone to Arizona.

Beamer was greeted by 72 hopefuls at the opening turnout. Fourteen of these were letermen, including Phil Fitterer, all-conference quarterback.

The Wildcats, who had a 7-2 record last year, open the season against Whitman at Walla Walla Saturday night.

In other non-conference openers Western travels to the University of British Columbia; Eastern goes to Linfield; Pacific Lutheran and Puget Sound visit the Oregon schools of Pacific and Willamette, respectively, and Whitworth tangles with Fresno State in California.

Weatherly swamps Australians

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP) — "Nothing's broken — only our hearts."

They were Australian hearts, and it will take the kind of weather that sends a landlubber to the nearest dozy fireside to mend them again.

Doug Fairfax, portly spokesman for the Australian group that mounted a million-dollar challenge for the ugly old America's Cup, described the state of Australian equipment and hearts late Thursday after the yacht Gretel straggled into Newport harbor, badly-beaten, b e h i n d Weatherly, the American defender.

AMERICANS LEAD

Tht victory, by the margin of 8 minutes and 40 seconds—about a mile of calm Atlantic water—gave Weatherly a 2-1 margin in the series. There will be no race today—the Australians again having exercised their privilege of skipping a day. The boats will tangle again Saturday.

The Americans will take today off, but the Australians will be out on the water all day, working to learn still more about Gretel, built in Sydney to challenge for the cup that represents world supremacy in yachting and never has been lost by America in the 111 years that men have sailed in pursuit of it.

SAME COURSE

The fourth race will be over the same triangular course on which Gretel scored her only victory Tuesday. Weatherly ran off with the first race, over the upwind-downwind course used for Thursday's runaway.

It appeared certain it would take more than a course change to better Gretel's fortunes.

The Australians need wind—lots of it. The history of this series, of Weatherly, of Gretel and of the Australian crew proves the Australians are at their best in what yachtsmen call heavy weather, winds in the 15 miles an hour and up range.

DEAD CALM

They didn't get them Thursday. On the second leg of the four-leg course on which Weatherly shot into a 23-minute lead, the Australians ran into practically a dead calm.

When the winds picked up they regained some of the precious water, but they were never really in the race again.

For a time, it appeared to be a question of whether the American boat could finish the 24 miles under the six-hour time limit—if it had failed it would have been "no race"—but the freshened wind brought her home with more than an hour to spare.

Portland wants 1968 Olympics

PORTLAND (AP) — Preliminary plans to support Portland's bid for the 1968 Olympic Games were unveiled Thursday. They call for:

A 90,000-seat stadium.
A 60,000-seat natatorium.
Parking for 40,000 automobiles
A 10,000-seat arena for wrestling, weight-lifting and fencing.

There also will be other features, including an Olympic Village and a soccer field.

Most of this would be in the Delta Park area, north of Portland and on the flats just south of the Columbia River.

Spokesmen for Future Unlimited, a group seeking a major sports development at Delta Park, said representatives will carry the plans to Chicago Oct. 15 to present Portland's bid for the games.

BATTING — Al Kaline, Tigers, hit his 28th home run and collected two singles, leading Detroit to a 5-1 victory over Minnesota that dropped the second-place Twins 4½ games behind the American League-leading New York Yankees.

PITCHING — Dennis Bennett, Phillies, checked Chicago Cubs on five hits, striking out six, in 3-1 victory.

Tigers, fresh from victory, will bring tough, slot-T offense

Port Angeles football fans will get their first taste of action tonight, when the Port Angeles Roughriders play host to the Centralia Tigers at Civic Field.

Game time is 8 p.m. KONP will broadcast the game starting at 7:45.

The Tigers, fresh from a Saturday 7-0 win over arch-rival, Chehalis, will bring a pro football touch to Civic Field, with their Slot-T offense.

Tiger Coach, Frank Smith, coached Tonasket last year in the Okanogan area. He played five years of Canadian football and has breathed new life into Centralia football, according to reports from that city.

The Roughriders, showing a strong running game in their 19-12 loss to East Bremerton last week, will be out to avenge a 15-12 loss at the hands of the same Tigers last fall.

Coach Marv Cross has made only one lineup change for tonight's encounter, that being Tex Hargraves, a 6-2, 208 pound junior, who has moved ahead of Larry Franson at right tackle.

The backfield will be the same. Jon Roline at quarter, Henry Boni and Dennis Alwine at halfs, with Jim Aardal at full.

Centralia will have speed to burn in a backfield that includes Dave Draper and Darryl Danielson. These two run from the slot formation and are quick. They use 180 pound Gordy Brown at fullback. Senior Steve Blanchard will call the signals.

Also slated for action is Tim Hudson, a senior halfback who ruined Port Angeles last year with long touchdown runs.

Halftime show will be provided by the Port Angeles High School marching band, under the direction of Harley Brumbaugh.

Sequim, Port Townsend square off in opener

The Sequim Wolves travel to Port Townsend tonight to face the Port Townsend Redskins in the first Olympic League game for each team.

The game is slated for an 8 p.m. start under the lights at Port Townsend Memorial Stadium.

Sequim, who will have Bill Alton, a 5-11, 150 pound letterman end available tonight, have lost the services of starting left guard Al Grall due to a practice injury. It is doubtful if Grall will see any action.

The Wolves, who lost 6-0 to Townsend in a quarter of jamboree action last week, lacked any kind of an offensive punch and head coach Bill Harriman says that if his boys play some rock-'em, sock'em football tonight, they will be right in the thick of things.

Harriman plans no changes in his backfield, it will be Lance Smith at quarterback, Lin Shepard and Nat Williams at halfs, with Dave Barnes at fullback.

The line will see Alton and Ken Schwabb at end, Jerry Lynch and Mike Schade at tackle, Robin Lynch and George Young at guard, with Jim Brown at center.

Twins blow another; Yankees close to flag

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Memo to the Minnesota Twins: When you're in a pennant fight with the New York Yankees, don't give anything away. They don't.

For the second time in three games the Twins blew one to the Detroit Tigers Thursday, giving up three unerned runs in the first inning and taking a 5-1 setback.

Minnesota, a surprise challenger to the Yankees in the American League race this season, is 4½ games back in second place, with the magic number dwindled to four. Any New York victories and-or Twin defeats adding up to four and the Yankee perennials are champions again.

THE YANKEES, off Thursday, have eight games remaining. They open a three-game set with the White Sox at Chicago tonight, then finish up at home with two against Washington and three against Chicago.

The Twins have seven left, three at Baltimore starting tonight, one at Cleveland and three at home against the Orioles.

Minnesota handed Detroit two unearned runs Tuesday and the Tigers hung on for a 2-1 victory. Thursday, Vic Power's first-inning error plus key hits by Al Kaline and Norm Cash and the Twins' failure to crack through on their own opportunities doomed Minnesota.

Pedro Ramos pitched a five-hitter as Cleveland beat Kansas City 5-2 and Chicago tripped Boston 6-4 with two runs in the eighth inning.

IN THE NATIONAL League, St. Louis' 5-4 decision over San Francisco dropped the runnerup Giants four full games behind the idle Los Angeles Dodgers; Pittsburgh nipped Cincinnati 4-3; Philadelphia and Chicago split, the Phillies winning the opener 3-1 and the Cubs taking the nightcap 4-1; and Houston beat New York's last-place Mets 7-2 and 5-4 in 12 innings, pushing the Mets to a league record-tying 115 losses.

Nicklaus, Lema pace golf play

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus and Tony Lema, 1-2 finishers in last week's Seattle Open, set the pace as the second round of the $25,000 Portland Open began today.

Nicklaus, winner of the $50,000 World Series of Golf the week before the Seattle Open, fired an 8-under par 64 Thursday to lead Lema by one stroke. At 66 were three-time Portland Open champion Billy Casper Jr. and Bob Rosburg.

Some 80 players found par an easy touch on the par 36-36—72 Columbia-Edgewater course. The field will be cut to the low 70 and ties after today's round.

Pt. Angeles Reflections

FORTY YEARS AGO SEPT. 21

Yes, by heck, the big Barn Dance at the high school gym has sure got the old home folks all het up and they are jest a rarin' to go. Gingham dresses and calico ones, too, will be the stylish things for the girls to wear while the boys will have on overalls and coveralls.

The United States is holding strictly aloof from political squabbles and intrigues that have brought Europe to the verge of another war.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

Further carrying out the program started several years ago by the health and fire departments, city firemen yesterday destroyed four vacated shacks on Ediz Hook. Under the plan carried out in recent years, shacks on the Spit have been burned as they have been vacated to remove fire and health hazards.

First showing here of the Fox Movietone newsreel that includes pictures of the Port Angeles Salmon Derby, will be at the Elwha Wednesday night.

Marine-Air News

Fishing for small salmon continues good in the Port Angeles area. Thursday and the last several days, best fishing has been in the eastern end of the harbor off Green Point east of Morse Creek. About all the boats that fished in that area got limit catches of salmon, mostly small blackmouth chinook. There is an area off the point where the water is shallow where halibut are also caught. Large schools of herring, candlefish or smelt are in the shallow water and the salmon are feeding on them.

Many of the logs in the harbor holding booms scheduled to be towed east to Puget Sound ports, have been towed out by Foss Launch and Tug Co. tugs. With fair weather towing logs from west end booming grounds to this harbor is normal.

CLOSES CONSULATES

MOSCOW (AP) — Unconfirmed reports circulated in Moscow today that Communist China has ordered Soviet consulates closed in the cities of Shanghai, Harbin and Dairen.
