SENATOR WORKS DEMANDS INTERVENTION IN MEXICO

CABINET DECIDES NOT TO CHANGE PRESENT POLICY

ADMINISTRATION RECEIVES ASSURANCES FROM CARRANZA THAT ONLY ONE BAND OF BANDITS REMAINS AT LARGE — QUIET RESTORED IN EL PASO.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 14.—Senator Works of California today introduced a resolution authorizing and directing the President to interv in Mexico(and to establish and maintain a government there until it should be safe to withdraw.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 14.—At today's cabinet meeting it was decided that the present policy toward Mexico would be maintained and that President Carranza would be depended upon to punish the bandits who killed the eighteen Americans near Chihuahua.

Carranza today telegraphed his ambassador as follows from his headquarters at Queretaro:

"The murderous attack on the passenger train near Chinuahua was made by the only remaining band of outlaws. This band is being pursued by troops with a view to insuring their capture, whereupon the punishment which the crime deserves will be applied to every guilty participant."

MADERA COLONY ATTACKED.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 14.—All Americans at Madera, Mexico, are reported safe in official dispatches received today by the State Department. These dispatches specifically deny the report of the murder of ten Americans and two English women. The American colony there was attacked by bandits who were routed.

RIOTING ENDS IN EL PASO.

EL PASO, Jan. 14.—United States army patrols were withdrawn from the business district today. Tranquility prevailed where last night's riotous scenes were enacted, attributed to resentment against the killing of the Americans at Chihuahua, when the disorders had passed beyond control of the local police, army patrols were sent to assist, but martial law was not declared.

A squad of about fifty soldiers, aiding the police, shortly before 10 o'clock last night, started through one of the main thoroughfares, according to their own statement, "looking for Mexicans." A little later they declared they had "cleaned up El Paso street," in the business section.

Earlier in the evening four soldiers dispersed patrons of a Mexican saloon. The rounding up at the jail of suspected Villa adherents continued during the early part of the night.

Street brawls between Mexicans and Americans occurred frequently.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Unsettled, probably snow, northeasterly winds, reaching gale force near coast.

GAME COMMISSION PLANS FEEDING OF WILD BIRDS

WILL USE FUNDS IN HAND AND ASKS DONATIONS OF FEED TO AID IN WORK—H. MAURICE FISHER ELECTED PRESIDENT OF STATE COMMISSION.

H. Maurice Fisher, who is home after attending the annual of the Western Washington Association of Game Commissioners and Game Wardens in Seattle, announces that the county game commission has a small fund in hand available for feeding the birds during this cold weather, and that this will be utilized immediately. He also asks the Herald to announce that the commission will accept donations of grain and other suitable feed and aid in the distribution.

The grain donated will be accepted at either Stakemiller's store or at the Clallam Abstract Company's office.

Mills Contribute Generously.

In Seattle and Tacoma, Mr. Fisher says, the grain commission and mills are contributing generously towards the supplies for the birds. Fisher Bros. Mills are giving sacks of grain, with "A New Year's Greeting to the Birds" printed on them. Lilly's firm is putting out cartons of grain with the inscription "To the King County Game Commission for the Birds," and so forth.

It is suggested that as Clallam and Jefferson counties are favorite hunting grounds for the people of the big cities and at the same time are sparsely settled, some contributions from the cities to the Peninsula game commissions would not be out of place.

Fisher Elected President.

Mr. Fisher and Clallam county were honored by the convention at Seattle by the election of Mr. Fisher as president of the association for the forthcoming year. The vice-presidents elected are W. M. Campbell, King county; W. E. Clancy, Pacific, and E. C. Nevitt. A. J. Beach, of Kitsap, was chosen secretary-treasurer.

A resolution was passed memorializing the United States department of agriculture that the condition of the nesting grounds of the different species of birds along the Alaskan shores should be investigated and steps taken to protect them during the nesting and breeding season.

A delegate sent north by the association reported great damage was done by the collection of eggs by the natives for the market and the raids of the nesting grounds by pothunters from the canneries.

VON PAPEN'S CONNECTION WITH BOMB PLOTS PROVED

BRITISH AUTHORITIES SEIZE PAPERS OF RECALLED ATTACHE WHOSE CHECK STUBS SHOW PAYMENTS TO SEATTLE AND OTHER PLOTTERS.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Copies of the correspondence seized from Captain Von Papen, the recalled German military attache at Washington, when he reached Falmouth on his way to Germany, have been turned over to the American embassy for transmission to the State Department.

They show that Von Papen made frequent payments to the persons charged with responsibilty to blow up works and bridges in the United States.

One check stub shows that about two weeks before the explosion in Seattle on May 30, he sent $300 to the German consul at Seattle.

In February Von Papen sent $1,300 to the German consulate in Seattle. One entry shows he gave $700 to Werner Horn, who was arrested in connection with the blowing up of the Canadian Pacific Railway bridge at payments to a spy who committed St. Croix, Maine. Other stubs show payments to a spy who committed suicide in a cell in an English prison.

GENERALS ARE EXECUTED

Rodriguez and Almeida Received Scant Ceremony.

EL PASO, Jan. 14.—Generals Jose Rodriguez and Almeida were executed at Madera shortly after their capture, according to a dispatch received by Mexican Consul Garcia from General Trevino today.

Garcia declared today in answer to a formal inquiry that no armed expeditionary force of Americans would be permitted to enter Mexico to run down Villa and his bandits.

NEW LEYLAND LINER IS REPORTED HIT BY TORPEDO

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—The new Leyland liner Huronian, from Galveston, was torpedoed on December 29 off the Irish coast, according to reports current in shipping circles. The International Mercantile Marine officials said they had received a cablegram saying the Huronian had met with injury and had been towed into port, but the message did not state what had caused the damage. The Huronian carried a cargo consisting chiefly of cotton, corn and wheat, valued at over $1,000,000, according to her published manifests.

JURY CONSIDERS EVIDENCE IN CASE OF "THE MENACE"

By Associated Press.

JOPLIN, Mo., Jan. 14.—Consideration of the evidence by the jury in the trial of the editors of the Menace, a weekly newspaper of Aurora, Mo., charged with misuse of the mails, began last night. A verdict of not guilty in the case of Rev. Theodore C. Walker, one of the defendants, was recommended to the jury in his charge by Judge A. S. Van Valkenburg, who said that the aged minister did not appear from the evidence submitted as having authority or established connection with the Menace Publishing Company.

Interest in the case was heightened because of the infusion into the trial of numerous references to religious matters, the charges against the defendants being based on articles accusing the Roman Catholic clergy.

WEATHER IN MIDDLE WEST.

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—The cold weather which has prevailed in the Middle West for the last 36 hours continued today, but the weather bureau predicted higher temperatures before night.

ARMISTICE DECLARED IN LITTLE BALKAN KINGDOM

CAPITAL OF MONTENEGRO REPORTED UNDAMAGED AND PEOPLE CALM—RUMORED ATTACK ON SALONIKA CONTRADICTED.

By Associated Press.

VIENNA, Jan. 14.—The capture of Cettinje, the capital of Montenegro, is announced today by the war office. The official announcement states:

"The capital of Montenegro is in our hands. Our troops, pursuing the beaten enemy yesterday afternoon, entered Cettinje. The residence of the Montenegrin king and the town are undamaged. The population is calm."

Austria Proposes Peace.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—A wireless dispatch from Rome, reiterating the report of an armistice between Austria and Montenegro, states that it was Austria which proposed the cessation of hostilities with the purpose of negotiating a separate peace with Montenegro.

Salonika Not Attacked.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—The fall of Cettinje, the Montenegrin capital, and reports from Rome that an armistice has been declared between Montenegro and the central powers, held the center of interest in the war situation today. Military critics are of the opinion that Montenegro now is in such a position that some form of arrangement with its adversary is imperative.

The report that the central powers had begun an attack on the Anglo-French at Salonika yesterday proved incorrect.

Recent infantry engagements in the West have been superseded by artillery fighting.

In the East, except for local engagements, a lull prevails along the entire front.

Rome reports artillery actions at many points on the Austro-Italian front.

SECOND FREEZING GALE EXPECTED DURING TONIGHT

OFFICIAL FORECAST AND LOCAL INDICATIONS POINT TO STIFF NORTHEASTER DEVELOPING — STATEWIDE NEWS OF THE COLD SPELL.

Local indications this afternoon as well as the official forecast of the United States weather bureau promise another stiff northeasterly gale for tonight, and residents are advised to prepare their homes for another siege of cold such as was experienced a week ago. The thermometer fell steadily today as the wind shifted from northwest to northeast and a bitterly cold night may be anticipated, with a repetition of the trouble with frozen pipes.

The light snowfall continues and in the country back of the city the blanket varies in depth from 16 inches to 2 feet 6. This is the condition along the railroad, according to Superintendent Field of the Puget Sound Mills & Timber Company, who announces that the logging camps have had to be closed down pending moderation of the severe weather conditions.

Telephone communication over long distance lines is somewhat deranged, but the highways used by the stage lines are being kept open.

Railroads Blocked.

Portland reports that railroad communication between Portland and Tillamook is completely blocked by heavy drifts of snow in the Coast mountains.

Spokane says Eastern and Central Washington experienced warmer weather, but the temperatures remained near zero. Helena, Mont., reported a temperature of 18 degrees below zero. The coldest temperature reported to the local weather bureau was 18 degrees below zero in Northern Saskatchewan. The cold weather has delayed transcontinental trains from two to six hours.

Mount Vernon says that the Skagit river is blocked with floating ice for the first time in six years. Construction work on the Puget Sound & Cascade railroad has been interfered with.

FORMER COUNTY CLERK A. A. RICHARDSON DEAD

Attorney Who Took Final Proofs From Many Angeles Settlers Dies in Asylum.

A. A. Richardson, attorney at law, and intimately associated with the beginnings of the city of Port Angeles, died in the state asylum for the insane on January 10, of exhaustion and senile dementia. Mr. Richardson was committed to the asylum from this county on October 23, 1914, and news of his death reached County Clerk A. J. Cosser and other friends today.

The late Mr. Richardson was born in the South 68 years ago and for many years resided in Quincy, Ill., where he practiced law. He came to Seattle in 1886, and in 1888 settled on a timber claim at Beaver. He sold this prior to the big rise in the value of timber lands.

In 1892 Mr. Richardson was elected county clerk of this county on the Democratic ticket and was re-elected in 1894.

During his term of office the Port Angeles townsite was proved up and he took final proof of several hundred settlers on Government lots, each bona fide settler being allowed to take up and buy lots of 50 by 140 feet each, at a very low appraisal.

Since 1819 and until his disease developed, Mr. Richardson practiced law in Port Angeles. The former wife and one daughter, Dr. Ethyl Richardson, reside at Quincy, Ill., and two stepsons and a stepdaughter reside in this county.

HUERTA, MEXICAN SOLDIER, DIES WHILE VIRTUAL PRISONER

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 14.—Gen. Victoriano Huerta, former provisional president of Mexico, died at his home here last night. He was born in Chihuahua in 1854.

Gen. Huerta, who succeeded Gen. Francisco I. Madero in executive power in Mexico City, and later left Mexico, died of sclerosis of the liver. He was surrounded by his family and servants when the end came. His death was not unexpected by his friends, who, however, assert that the end was hastened by his imprisonment by the United States government.

Guarded by military and civil officers of the former Huerta government, the body of Gen. Huerta was laid today in unofficial state at the Huerta home.

TRUST BUSTING AND THE ATTORNEY GENERAL.

Big business will be somewhat reassured by the statement of the attorney general of the United States that the department of justice has no intention of prosecuting unwitting offenders under the rather ill-defined provisions of the Sherman Act. The statement is made in response to a query addressed the department by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Rightly or wrongly, an impression has prevailed among those controlling large enterprises that the Sherman Anti-Trust has been used as a political weapon, or as a means of attracting popular support to the successive administrations at Washington. The average American has outgrown his hostility, largely the product of the muckraking campaigns of the magazines a few years ago, to big business as such. It is generally realized that many undertakings, especially those in the industrial world, can be more economically conducted by an organization having large resources than by those whose bank accounts are very limited. The real objection to big business was its control of politics. The American people objected, and objected strenuously, to the money power of the trusts controlling legislatures and law courts. But, on the other hand, they do not object to legitimate big business, in fact, admiration of things conducted on a great scale is a typical national characteristic.

In the statement made by the attorney general, with a view to clearing away misconception of the government's policy, it is clearly set forth that while the department of justice intends to vigorously enforce the provisions of the Sherman Act, it will not subject to prosecution persons who innocently lay themselves open to such prosecution. In other words, the department will consider the intent of those who break the law, and assurance is given that no prosecution will be undertaken without the most exhaustive preliminary investigation.

LIGHT FOR SENATOR JONES.

Senator Wesley L. Jones announces now that he is in favor of preparedness, and that what he wants to know is, what sort of preparedness the people want?

"Where does danger threaten?" asks the senator. "Is it from England, Germany or any other country? The defense depends upon the sea strength of the attacking nation, because we can be attacked only by sea by any nation powerful enough to engage in war with us."

Senator Jones is trying to see light. He wishes to "get down to cases," to understand just what menace the people who are urging preparedness fear. The answer is that a few fear England, more fear Germany and most fear Japan.

But this is only part of the answer. Frankness latterly has become a quality foreign to the editorial columns of many of our newspapers. This began with President Wilson's prayer to the nation to be "neutral." This was translated as a request to refrain from the expression of any opinion favorable or hostile to any of the belligerents. So the editorial writer, if impelled to denounce some act of Great Britain, hastens to qualify the criticism with a paragraph at the end saying that Germany is just as bad—or vice versa. This editorial method has brought the editorial columns into great disrepute with the thinking reader, because it is so obvious and so weak-kneed.

Let us be frank, therefore, and say that as a nation the American people do not know against what nation or nations they may be called upon to defend their hearths and homes. But they do not want to take any chances. Also, preparedness is urged by certain classes in the community; those who are interested in munition plants and other concerns that benefit by the equipment of the army and navy, and by those who believe in military discipline as an offset to Socialistic tendencies. Here is the nucleus, always active and ready, around which any preparedness movement may gather head.

But the nation is behind the present demand for increased military power and efficiency. Wise or otherwise, that is the sentiment and what the people want, that they will get. At the bottom of the movement is a strong feeling of resentment, that in this great world-crisis, the American nation is powerless to do aught but talk, and that the nations engaged in the war do not pay much attention to the talk. The value of a mailed fist behind an argument is quite generally appreciated.

Report of Retiring Engineer Shows Economy Practiced in Office.

The annual report of the retiring city engineer, Chas. Filion, shows work done by contractors in grading, extensions and sewer laying amounting in value to $153,318.02 during the year 1915. The engineer's payroll for the same period was $7,063.70, equal to 4.75 per cent. of the cost of the work.

The low cost to the city of the engineer's department for the supervision of the various contracts is a feature that has not been commented upon. A comparison with the engineering expenses in other cities reflects much credit upon Mr. Filion. During the same period in Everett, for instance, the expenditures upon work totalled $143,500 and the engineering cost was $15,000, nearly 10 per cent., and in Olympia similar work to the amount of $103,769 was performed during the year and the engineering bill was $9,918, or about 9 per cent.

Since taking hold of the office Mr. Filion has supervised work costing $500,000.

ONE MEMBER OF PARTY OF MINING MEN FROM CHIHUAHUA CITY ALONE ESCAPES TO TELL FEARFUL TALE OF CRIME PERPETRATED BY VILLA BANDITS.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—The Mexican situation has been brought to the boiling point by the execution of 16 or more Americans near Chihuahua. In Congress, at the White House, and at the State Department it entirely sidetracked all other international affairs. Secretary Lansing, after sending a demand for satisfaction to Carranza, the de facto president of Mexico, issued a statement declaring that it was to be deplored that the Americans had not followed the State Department's warning against exposing themselves in the guerrilla warfare region, and added "Every step will be taken to see that the perpetrators of this dastardly crime are apprehended and punished."

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—Secretary Lansing today telegraphed President Carranza of Mexico, calling for prompt punishment of the bandits who executed 18 foreigners, most of whom were Americans, near Chihuahua, on Monday.

Through Eliseo Arredondo, the newly appointed Mexican ambassador here, it was arranged to bring the bodies from Chihuahua to Juarez today on a special train.

EVERETT CLUB EXTENDS HOSPITALITY TO ANGELES

Reciprocal relations, already existing for the benefit of members of the Port Angeles Commercial Club, with the Seattle Commercial Club, are to be extended also by the Everett Commercial Club, which also possesses very attractive club facilities. The local club Monday accepted the invitation of the Everett organization.

Account Presented to Council Exceeds Amount Agreed Upon.

The city council last night refused payment of the monthly account of City Treasurer Harley for $19, $4 more than the $15 agreed to be paid out of general funds.

Councilman Filion said that it had been agreed when the salary of the treasurer was increased to $115 monthly that he must pay for any assistance he needed. The committee would pay the bill for $15 when presented, he said.

Surveyor G. W. Cunnard Chosen by Four Votes to Two.

G. W. Cunnard, surveyor, formerly employed on the Milwaukee land surveys and recently as assistant by Chas. F. Filion, city engineer, was elected city engineer over Mr. Filion by a vote of six to four at the meeting of the city council last night.

Mayor Walton said that as he had no appointment for this office to recommend it would be in order for the city council to elect an engineer by ballot.

Councilman Fisher was absent and the councilmen proceeded to the election by ballot. Mr. Cunnard subsequently was sworn in.

LAWN AND ORGANDY COLLARS AND CUFFS WORN WITH SUITS

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Comfort and convenience—these are the two qualifications attributed to sport clothes since the first woman dared don a skirt short enough to uncover the tip on her boot. Would these same sport clothes be quite so generally favored, think you, if these were the only words with which to commend them? If there were not something particularly youthful and becoming in the chic severity of these same sport togs, their sale would be quite limited, I am sure.

Wool Jersey for Suits and Frocks.

One of the most attractive of the new materials for suits and dresses is the latest phase of Jersey cloth. It is being used for the dresser frocks and the semi-tailleurs, for afternoon wear, indoor skating, tea, dancing, calling and like purposes, as well as for the regulation sport suit. It comes in all the new shades, blue, green, brown, and the various other tones now modish. Often on the more trimmed of these Jersey costumes there is a touch of taffeta or a bit of braid. These suits are fashioned after the belted Russian models, the smart flared coats and skirt, and for the strictly correct sport suit along the Norfolk lines combined with an equally severe skirt.

The Cape Dress

The New Cape Appears.

Among the new features which, of course, are but a revival of the old, is the cape. This appears upon all types of frocks and suits in the form of the shoulder cape, sleeve cape, and cape collar. The full-skirted, simple-bodied frock of taffeta, worn at an afternoon tea, the skating rink, or the concert, displays its cape collar, or series of collars, when it is not featuring a Puritan-like shoulder drapery, crossing surplice-fashion in front, and held in place in [illegible] by a girdle, from below which tiny coat tails or tabs appear. There is some indication, too, of the cape returning as a separate wrap; in fact, pelerines of quaintly quilled taffeta are being shown to wear over light summer frocks and are now being worn in the south. Many of these display the unfitted, rather bunchy-looking collar which accentuates the slope of the shoulders, thereby living up to one of the chief requirements of the present modes. Many circular and Directoire capes matching the hat are among the season's attractive fancies.

Alarming Width of Skirts.

Paris is reported as practically losing her head over the width of the skirt. She gave out the pleasing dictum of—"a trifle more length," just a while ago, and proceeded straightway to offset it by adding to their breadth. Many of the new skirts on Paris models, it is said, are gathering material in about the waist with no regard whatever to the figure beneath, in fact a woman wearing such a skirt or frock has much the appearance of an animated barrel or something equally ungraceful. The medium skirts with just a bit of fulness about the waist, combined with the simple quaint bodices now smart, are dainty and becoming, suggestive of the grace of the figure beneath, as they are. The new models so reminiscent of the days of 1830 and 1850, are full of charm if extremes are not indulged in.

Batiste Collars on Tailored Suits.

Collar and cuff sets of organdy, batiste, linen, and other like fabrics, are to be worn for spring with dark tailored suits and dresses. They serve to brighten the costume and add a fresh touch which is dainty and grateful to the wearer. Colored sets, in Russian embroidery, are particularly pretty. Neckwear in general is simple and plain.

Combination of Sheer and Heavy Fabrics.

The popularity of using a sheer fabric and one somewhat heavier in the same frock or blouse, is a notion that is attractive and economical. Crepe Georgette combines well with crepe de Chine, taffeta, or faille in blouse and frock. Serge and satin or taffeta, broadcloth and satin or taffeta, are favored combinations for the street dress, the touch of silk or satin in the same, or a contrasting shade, adding much to the beauty and the becomingness of the model. A simple serge frock gains much by the addition of a tiny turnover cuff, or a small collar of satin. Often the entire upper section of the skirt or bodice in the more dressy gown is entirely of taffeta or satin, while the lower section is of serge, broadcloth, or gabardine. Among the new materials for these simple dresses and suits, even for the more dressy models, one sees wool poplin and similar lightweight weaves.

From Thursday's Daily.

S. E. Dyson, Janitor, Loses Home Through Explosion of Air-Tight Heater.

S. E. Dyson, janitor of the Kuppler building, lost his home at Front and Francis street early this morning through a fire which, he believes, was caused by the explosion of an air-tight heater. Dyson started the heater when he got out of bed this morning betwen 4 and 5 o'clock, and then came down town to light the fires in the building. His home caught fire at 6 o'clock and the department was prompt in turning out, but could not save the house or its contents. The water supply was lacking.

The house, which is the property of Mr. Peterson, a Seattle man, was insured and there was some insurance on Dyson's furniture and personal property, which included a brand new suit of clothes which he had not yet worn, but he estimates his loss at between $300 and $400. It took him several years to get together his furnishings. Also Dyson lost $60 in currency which he had left at home.

LOCAL NEWS

From Monday's Daily.

Mary Brown, of Port Angeles, is visiting at Mrs. Tom Lauridsen's, at the Elwha.

Carl Setterberg has given up the buttermilk business and has gone onto a farm a few miles from Port Angeles.

T. T. Aldwell and wife returned from Seattle Sunday morning.

Mrs. Geurnsey, Past Grand Matron of the Eastern Star, left Angeles yesterday. She came to the city for the purpose of installing the new officers.

The body of the late Mrs. Julia G Merrell has been shipped to Dallas, Tex., for burial in her former home town, by the Fulmer Undertaking Co.

As a result of the recent supreme court decision which virtually insists upon the maintenance of the office of coroner in each county, C. E. Fulmer will, by virtue of being the former official, hold that office.

John Murphy, after six weeks' illness with asthma in the Port Angeles General Hospital, died yesterday. The body is being held at the Fulmer parlors pending receipt of directions from deceased's brother who resides in Seattle. Murphy was employed prior to his illness at Camp 6.

The Star will present tonight "The Lion's Bride" in two reels, which is exciting from start to finish. Besides this feature, "The Doll House Mystery," in two parts, will be shown, making a well balanced show.

County Game Warden J. W. Pike has the matter in hand and expects to be able to carry out Mr. Darwin's suggestions. Meanwhile he urges Port Angeles people to help out the birds in town.

Mrs. C. S. Stakemiller is visiting her new grandson, the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Abbott, of Anacortes.

F. D. Nims leaves today for Portland for a couple of days' business trip.

John Cain returned yesterday from Seattle.

The Eastern Star held its regular meeting Saturday night. The new officers were installed, the ceremony being performed by the Past Grand Worthy Matron, Mrs. Guernsey. Flowers were presented to the retiring worthy matron, Mrs. Luppen, and to the retiring treasurer, Mrs. Clegg, in appreciation of services rendered, and to the past grand worthy matron, Mrs. Guernsey. After the installation a pleasant social evening was spent and refreshments were served.

The officers installed were: Worthy matron, Mrs. Grubb; W. P., R. J. White; A. M., Mrs. Geisness; C., Mrs. Bigelow; A. C., Mrs. Twaddle; treasurer, Mrs. R. D. Wilson; secretary, Mrs. Harley; chaplain, Mrs. Webster; marshal, Miss Inez McLaughlin; Adah, Mrs. Burns; Ruth, Mrs. Redden, Esther, Mrs. Littlefield; Martha, Mrs R. Callarman; Electra, Mrs. Draper; warden, Mrs. Muck; sentinel, Mr. Twaddle.

October 11, home of Mrs. O. Mason, 409 East Second; assisted by Mrs. Wm. Brennand and Mrs. Harry Stiles.

TUG UNABLE TO PREVENT JANE L. STANFORD FROM RUNNING ASHORE — UNALGA STANDING BY—SECOND SNOWSTORM OF YEAR BLANKETS CITY.

At about midnight, when the northeast gale was at its height, the American barkentine Jane L. Stanford bound light for Puget Sound for a lumber cargo, in tow of the tug Prosper, was driven on Ediz Hook in spite of the efforts of the tug to keep her off.

The coast guard cutter Unalga received word of the mishap and steamed to the rescue, but the united efforts of the cutter and two tugs this morning had failed to pull the barkentine off the spit. The tide was high when the vessel ran ashore and the wind, still strong out on the hook, tends to keep her aground. With the falling tide this afternoon the efforts of the tugs were mainly confined to preventing the stranded craft from shifting to a worse position.

Wintry Weather Prevails.

The storm came up in the city last night about 11 o'clock accompanied by a steady snowfall which left another three inches of snow on the ground this morning. A little snow fell during the day and more threatens. The temperature fell about noon and this is probably the coldest day of the winter.

The additional snow covering the thin sheet of ice deposited by previous snows and rains on the roads and sidewalks rendered pedestrian travel decidedly dangerous in the city. Sledding continues the most popular pastime among the younger people notwithstanding recent accidents.

Young White Recovers.

Stewart White, 10-year-old son of the late Mayor White, who was hurt while tobogganing on First street Saturday, returned home yesterday, almost recovered from the effects of his collision with the Joyce stage. Another victim of the icy streets on Saturday was Sam Paterson, the express wagon driver, who slipped and fell, breaking two ribs. Raleigh Pinyard, who broke his arm in a bobsled accident on Lincoln street Saturday, is reported doing well.

Five New Hatchery Buildings Going Up—Spawn 60,000,000 More Than Last Year.

L. E. Mayhall, superintendent of fish hatcheries, and E. E. Sherwood, of the state fisheries department, are in the city today on their way to inspect the Elwha and Lake Crescent hatcheries. They report that the quantity of spawn taken this year exceeds by 60,000,000 the quantity of any previous year in the history of the department.

New hatcheries are being installed at Spokane, Morton, Humptulips, Satsop river and additional buildings at the Skagit county hatchery.

Mr. Mayhall also brings word that the fishing in the Columbia this season was excellent, the catch being much above the average.

State Game Warden Asks Co-operation of School Teachers and Children.

State Game Warden L. H. Darwin has addressed a circular letter to the county game wardens asking them to urge the people to feed the wild birds during this wintry weather and unusual snowfall.

"You will undoubtedly be able to obtain the co-operation of the press," writes Mr. Darwin, "and I think you can secure valuable assistance from the schools.

"I suggest if your county game commission will purchase some grain, that you take it to the various school houses in the county and have the teachers distribute it among their children with the request that they put it out near their homes for the birds. In addition to the grain, suet would be good bird food for this kind of weather."

JAMES M'DONALD OF SEATTLE NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH BY CLINGING TO REGAL, WHICH SMASHES INTO GEE WHIZ IN NORTHWEST STORM.

Running in the straits in the stiff northeaster last night with the snow blinding the men at the tillers, the Port Angeles power fishing boat Regal, Mr. Briggs, collided with the Seattle gasoline halibut boat Gee Whiz, carrying away part of the boat's guard and also her skipper, James McDonald.

McDonald was thrown overboard by the shock, but, reaching out, grasped the bulwark of the Regal and pulled [illegible] with only his legs wet. The boats drifted apart and the crew of the Gee Whiz, rushing on deck as a result of the collision, found their skipper missing, and arrived in port this morning with gruesome details of the passing of Mr. McDonald, who resides at 83 Battery street, Seattle, and is the happy father of thirteen children. Jack Murphy and John Reinhard of the Gee Whiz took the story to Frank Fisher of the customs, and Frank advised further inquiry before finding the sad news home. Very soon the Regal blew into port with Mr. McDonald, very much alive, as a passenger.

"I thought that was what had happened," said Mr. Fisher, who is a thorough-paced optimist when it comes to the dangers of the deep. "A man with thirteen children does not go out very easily."

The Gee Whiz left Seattle Thursday to put in the winter halibut fishing season out of Port Angeles. She is a small but able craft and she gets the halibut.

HOPKINS & HALBERG COMPLETE PLANS FOR ERECTION OF MODERN STRUCTURE ON FIRST STREET—PIPE ORGAN TO COST $3,000 WILL BE INSTALLED.

Encouraged by the growing popularity of the motion picture business in Port Angeles, and confident of the future of the city, Hopkins & Halberg, of the Dream Theater, announce this morning that they have completed arrangements for the construction of a first class, modern photo playhouse, which with furnishings will cost $15,000.

This is the first important building announcement of the year and is probably the forerunner of a long list of new building projects for which the city is greatly in need. The site selected by the enterprising firm is on First street, between Lincoln and Laurel, and the work of sluicing away the hill from the location will be commenced before the end of the week. Building will begin as soon as the site is leveled.

To Equal the Best.

Manager W. C. Hopkins, in telling the Herald of his plans, said that he would make a trip at an early date to Seattle and make final arrangements for the letting of the contract for the building and furnishings.

"The new theater will be equal in construction and equipment to any theater in the cities," he said, "but of course it will be upon a smaller scale. The building will measure 50 by 100 and will contain 800 seats. There will be a large and comfortable lobby, a ladies' rest room and other conveniences required by the developments of motion picture business.

"A feature of the equipment of the theater will be a pipe organ to cost $3,000, the first to come to the city, and an instrument that will provide the best musical accompaniment to the pictures. I am satisfied that this will prove a great attraction.

Best Feature Plays.

"We shall produce the best feature photo plays in the country, and we shall change the program daily. We shall show the famous 'Triangle' features, shown exclusively in Seattle at the Liberty Theater, the Paramount plays, the Fox features, the 'Big Four' plays and others of the first class only.

"The theater will be finished with a marble front of the same order as that of the Citizens' National Bank building. It will be steam heated and nothing omitted in the construction and equipment which will make for the comfort of our patrons. The building will be fireproof."

Local Power Company Offers Its Holdings to Seattle.

Through Thos. T. Aldwell, vice-president, the Olympic Power Company has offered its plant to the city of Seattle for $1,775,000 and has offered to take public utility bonds drawing five per cent interest in payment. Four other offers were made to Seattle of power sites, undeveloped, in connection with that city's proposal to acquire a municipally-owned power plant capable of filling the needs of the city for many years to come.

The undeveloped sites offered are at Packwood Lake, Deer Creek and Skykomish river and the Hebb site, near Tacoma.

The owners of the sites offer to build plants to suit the Seattle requirements at prices varying from $1,020,000 to $2,470,000, according to capacity.

August Mullich, 219 Boulevard, yesterday brought in a section of his service water pipe to the Herald office to demonstrate why his faucet had stopped running. The pipe was absolutely blocked with mud and the faucet itself practically so. The mud had been deposited by degrees in the past two or three weeks from the water furnished the city by the Port Angeles Water Supply Company.

That Port Angeles people as a whole are thoroughly in sympathy with the campaign of the Daily Herald for a better water supply system and that the great majority of these favor a municipally-owned and operated plant, has been clearly demonstrated by unsolicited letters and messages which have reached the office by hundreds since the subject first was mooted in this paper.

There seems to be in some quarters a misconception of the Herald's purpose however. The Herald has no intention of attacking the Water Supply Company. It has no sentiment of hostility towards that corporation. So far as the company, its stockholders and managers are concerned the Herald's attitude is one of absolute neutrality. The shortcomings of the company in regard to the water supply are mentioned as obvious facts and as urgent reasons for the Herald's policy of an adequate water system owned and operated by the city—that is, by the people themselves.

A Business Proposition.

The Port Angeles Water Supply Company is a corporation, lawfully constituted, having a franchise from this city giving it certain rights and privileges in return for certain services. It was organized as a commercial undertaking for the purpose of earning profits for its promoters and stockholders. Like all other commercial concerns, it has doubtless endeavored to earn as much profit as possible.

If it has failed to give the service for which it was granted its profit-earning privileges, then the city government, the ratepayers and this paper have an indubitable right to call attention to its breach of contract. The wretched water system installed and operated by the company does not fulfill the terms of the contract, and for this blame also attaches to the city government, which ought to have insisted upon its rights under the contract and did not do so.

Estimates of Cost.

In a previous article on this subject the Herald printed some rough estimates of the earnings and working expenses of the company. As the company has not informed the Herald that these estimates are not fairly correct, it may be assumed that they are—or at least that they do not err to the company's disadvantage. Further information to hand from other sources suggests a slight modification. The cost of maintenance was over-estimated by the Herald. It probably amounts to not more than about $550 a month, although directors in Tacoma may draw fees in addition. The local maintenance payroll consists ordinarily of the office of J. T. Dekay and the wages of three men, of whom not more than two are employed every day in the year.

As was stated in previous articles, the company recently has added considerably to its capital investment by reason of extensions and replacements rendered advisable by reason of the rapid growth of the city and the regrading. This expenditure, however, is made to increase the earning capacity of the plant and has no place in the profit and loss or the earnings and maintenance expense account.

Basis of Municipal Plan.

The Herald purposely did not attempt to make any exact estimates of revenue and expenditure of the company. It quoted the charges authorized under the franchise, but explained that some of these were so obviously excessive that the company had voluntarily reduced them.

These rough estimates were furnished merely to show water users approximately the basis upon which a municipal water plant could be financed. Whether the profits of the company are large or small really is of no importance. The city in managing its water supply would estimate the amount of interest on capital invested, cost of maintenance and other fixed charges and assess the water users accordingly.

The Herald has stated that the plant of the Port Angeles Water Supply Company could be acquired by the city, but it has not intended to advocate such purchase. Much technical information regarding the value of the company's assets, its water right, the possibility of securing a wholesome supply from that source, and the sufficiency of its distributing plant, would be required before the city could wisely commit itself to that policy. It may be that when more of such technical information is available, the Herald would advocate an altogether different method of establishing a municipal plant.

Obtains Franchise Extension.

That the Port Angeles Water Supply company itself appreciates the value of its franchise is indicated by the fact that with nearly 20 of its 25-year period to run, it recently persuaded the city council, without any concession in return, to advance the life of the franchise by another five years.

Some difficulty regarding the location of the station has delayed the removal here of the U. S. Weather Bureau from Port Crescent. Mr. Sutton, however, is expected to take up his residence here at an early date.

ZERO WEATHER EXPERIENCED IN PORT ANGELES FOR THE FIRST TIME IN MANY YEARS—CHANGE FORECASTED FOR TOMORROW.

Advices received by the Herald today from points all along the Pacific Coast are to the effect that the extreme cold snap prevails everywhere, bringing with it water and wire troubles and interfering considerably with railroad transportation. In Seattle a very heavy snowfall was followed by a thaw, but hardly had the snow commenced to melt and make the streets slushy than the temperature fell again, with the result that the roads and sidewalks are covered with ice, a condition that also prevails to some extent in most of the other cities.

In Port Angeles, for the first time in many years, zero weather prevailed early this morning. Various thermometers in the city at six o'clock registered a degree above or below zero. At 10 o'clock this morning the thermometer outside Coffey's jewelry store on Front street, registered fifteen degrees of frost or 17 degrees above zero.

The excessive cold put three parts of the water supply system of the city to the bad and few dwellings escaped frozen pipes. The official weather forecast today indicates that warmer weather may be expected some time tomorrow. Superficial indications locally are that there will be more snow before the change.

In response to the petition widely signed in Port Angeles for the elimination of the bird reservation on Dungeness Spit, George G. Cantwell, reservation inspector of the biological survey bureau of the agricultural department, is in the city and will spend several days here in an effort to more fully appreciate the situation.

Mr. Cantwell tells the Herald that the government, while regarding migratory game birds as national and not state property, is far from wishing to antagonize western sportsmen who have an hereditary right to hunt.

"The west is the chief field in the United States for the policy of conservation of game birds," said Mr. Cantwell, "the eastern birds having been exterminated in many localities owing to the lack of this policy in byegone times. Naturally the government is very desirous of preventing the same conditions developing in the west. The Dungeness reservation, however, is not a breeding ground; it is merely a refuge for the birds and for that reason has less appeal for the average citizen, who is apt to think only of the limitation of his sport or of the damage done by the birds to nearby property.

Wants Local Views.

"I am anxious to get into touch with the people who are interested in this question, either one way or the other, in order to get a fair idea of local sentiment. Sometimes petitions are signed by people because they are asked to sign them and not because they are interested in the object sought.

"I have tested the sport available at Dungeness and personally made a good bag, although I had been told that the hunting is very poor, outside of gun club shoots. The reserve has been in existence only one year and the government may feel that it ought to be given a longer test before being abolished."

AGREEMENT IS REACHED UPON DISTRIBUTION OF ROAD FUNDS

From Tuesday's Daily.

The monthly meeting of the Commercial Club, advertised to be devoted chiefly to a discussion of the county's road problems, developed last night into a get-together meeting between representatives of Sequim and Port Angeles, the announcement of a truce between County Commissioners Hanson and Dick, and of an understanding whereby available funds for road work will be fairly divided between the east and west ends of the county.

The delegation from Sequim, which arrived at 8:30 o'clock, consisted of J. W. Keeler, real estate dealer; J. H. Court, postmaster; T. G. Moreland, secretary of the Sequim Commercial Club; P. S. Cowan and August Hay, proprietor of the Sequim Press.

County Eingineer R. W. Remp, introduced by the chairman, T. T. Aldwell, who presided in the absence of President E. J. Walton, read a brief paper dealing with the road situation in the west end of the county. He said that the Pysht-Joyce road would cost approximately $100,000 and that it would serve several excellent farming sections as well as the big timber interests of the Merrill-Ring, Goodyear, Darling and other timber companies, and greatly aid in the development of mining and industry in that section and of the trade of Port Angeles. The Pysht road, he said, would connect up with the Hoko and Burnt Mountain roads.

A vote of thanks was accorded Mr. Remp. Mr. Aldwell said that as chairman of the club's road committee, he would report that good progress was being made. He reminded the audience that although the timber companies in the west end had contributed largely to the county treasury in taxes, they had received practically nothing in return.

Dick Announces Truce.

County Commissioner James Dick said that he and Commissioner Hansen had got together and had discovered that really they had very little to split over. In fact they had reached an agreement whereby both the Carlsborg-Sequim road and the Joyce-Pysht road might be constructed. "We people in the eastern part of the county," he said, "are not opposed to road construction in the western part, but we want our share of the money available. We need roads very badly ourselves and we have got to insist on our share of the money for that purpose. The irrigation project at Carlsborg makes that road especially necessary at this time."

Mr. Keeler, of Sequim, said he had heard nothing against the Pysht road project in the east end. "We would be willing to vote bonds for that road, if necessary," he said, "but we do object to giving all of the money available for road work to one section of the county, when we are so badly in need of road construction ourselves. I am glad to see that Dick and Hansen have got together.

Must Cater to Farmer.

"The development of this county ultimately must depend upon the settlement of the lands. The lumber industry is of great importance now, but it is only a temporary industry; if we are to prosper the farmer must follow the logger. I believe that the Commercial Club could not devote itself to a more important work than that of persuading the landowners to place their land on the market at a reasonable price. I have been handling the McClay estate and have some [illegible] acres, of which we have sold [illegible],000 worth at about $35 an acre, time payments. Some of our land will be sold at from $11 to $17, but the assessed price of Clallam county cut-over lands of $50 to $75 is too much. It is not a good business proposition for any man to pay so much. He cannot make of it a profitable investment."

Mr. Keeler urged Port Angeles people to aid in the development of the Sequim district and to help in getting permanent settlers. "The Sequim district is Port Angeles' greatest asset," he said.

August Hay, the new proprietor of the Sequim Press, also urged co-operation between Port Angeles and the other sections of the county. In regard to road prices he said: "I come from one of the state which literally went bankrupted by the excessive prices charged for the land. The result today is that some of the finest land in the west is lying idle."

May Day Celebration.

Secretary Morton, of the Sequim Commercial Club, reminded Port Angeles people of the annual May Day celebration and expressed the hope that a big crowd of people would attend from this city. He also urged Port Angeles business men to be more frequent visitors at Sequim.

Attorney J. W. Lindsay urged measures for providing cheap money for the farmer. Two years ago, he said, he wrote an article advocating the loaning of state school fund money for farm development, and it appeared that under the state constitution this money could not be devoted to the purpose. He then took up the matter with State Senator Peter Iverson, of Kitsap, chairman of the senate committee on logged-off lands, and learned that a bill similar to the measure he advocated had been introduced in the senate and referred to committee where it died in spite of the efforts of its friends.

School Fund Loans.

Mr. Lindsay advocated the submission to the people of a constitutional amendment providing for the apportionment of school funds among the counties, according to school population, to be loaned out by the county boards to farmers.

"The farmer who desires to clear up a farm," said Mr. Lindsay, "would then apply to the board and if the security is considered good the county board would lend the money required periodically as the work is being done, and approved by the county engineer. The school fund amounts to an enormous sum and if used in this way would greatly aid in the development of agriculture in the state."

A committee of the club was appointed to take up this suggestion, with J. W. Lindsay as chairman and W. J. Ware and Frank Fisher as members.

Mr. Zintheo, of the John Deere Plow Company, spoke in praise of the roads of Clallam county, which he said were remarkably good. He suggested, however, that in order to care for the maintenance economically the county should acquire a tractor and roller in place of the horse team now in use. That, he said, would accomplish a great deal more work at less expense. Mr. Zintheo said also that sooner or later the utilization of the stumps on logged-off lands for their chemical products would solve the difficulty of the high cost of clearing land for the farmers. He believed the stumps to be worth from $200 to $500 an acre in many sections.

POPCORN FREE FOR THOSE WHO FEED IT TO THE BIRDS

People wanting feed for the birds should call on the Port Angeles grocery for some of the popcorn deposited there for this purpose free of charge by Popcorn Jeff. The birds like it, and Popcorn Jeff is making this contribution to the cause of the feathered tribes.

Parent Teachers' Association Has Interesting Session.

Last night's meeting of the Parent Teachers' Association was fairly well attended and a very interesting program was presented. Miss Reed, the music teacher, opened the meeting with a solo and this was followed by an address by Miss Angeline Ritchie, on the subject of physical culture, which she dealt with very effectively.

Miss English opened the discussion of the principal topic of the evening, "What Books Children Should Read." Rev. A. H. Burkholder also spoke on this subject and others joined in the discussion, in which cheap current literature was criticised. The subject of motion pictures came up again and this time the view was expressed that the higher class of plays could do much to improve the child's taste in literature.

The association decided to purchase a good picture which is to be hung in the room of children whose parents and teachers make the best attendance at the meetings of the association. At the end of the year the room with the best record will acquire the picture permanently.

The local Oddfellows lodge assembled last night for the ceremony of installing the new officers and some special degree work. A pleasant and profitable evening was spent.

The following officers were installed for the ensuing year:

ASK EMERGENCY MONEY FOR ALASKA RAILROAD

The Port Angeles Commercial Club will join with the Seattle Chamber of Commerce in recommending to Congress the emergency appropriation of $2,000,000 for the continuance of work on the construction of the Alaska railroad.

The Seattle chamber forwarded a copy of a resolution drafted by its Alaska bureau, in which it was set forth that unless an emergency appropriation is made the work will have to be suspended until June 30, when the new fiscal year opens. Secretary of the Interior Lane is asking for the extra appropriation.

IRISH END OPPOSITION.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—John E. Redmond, parliamentary leader of the Irish Nationalist party, announced in the House of Commons this afternoon that the Nationalists would not further oppose the military service bill.

Friends Fear Alec Walgren, Fisherman, Has Been Drowned.

The Herald is informed that friends of Alec Walgren, the fisherman and clam digger of Washington Harbor, fear that he has been drowned.

Walgren's boat has been found floating upside down and various articles belonging to the boat have been picked up ashore. Walgren has earned the reputation of being a venturesome man and he was out during the recent storm.

The county commissioners, at a hearing yesterday, granted the petition of O. J. Sporseen and Otto Findram for a special election in the district of Happy Valley proposed to be organized as an irrigation district, and fixed February 1 as the date for the election.

Both the petitioners appeared before the board in support of the project which embraces 13,000 or 14,000 acres of land.

At the home of C. E. Fulmer yesterday the marriage of Miss Hester V. Cossins, formerly of New Mexico, and George L. Richard of Port Angeles, was celebrated. Mr. Richards is lineman for the telephone company. Quite a number of friends and also members of the Epworth League, who were holding a meeting at Mr. Fulmer's place at the time, attended the ceremony. The young couple later attended the Dream theater and as they entered a slide announcing the marriage and congratulating them flashed the news to the audience, which applauded heartily.

The funeral of John Murphy, the logger who died of asthma here Sunday, is being held this afternoon from the Fulmer Undertaking establishment. The deceased was 54 years of age and was born in Hastings, Minn. He was taken ill while employed in Camp 6. His brother, P. J. Murphy, of Seattle, came up today. Three sisters, two of whom are married, reside in the middle west, Mrs. P. S. Ryan and Miss Mary Murphy at Marion, Mont., and Mrs. Michael Farrell in Lake City, Minn.

The feature of the meeting of the city council last night was the presentation of a lengthy report by City Attorney George Venable Smith as to the status of the right of way for the Francis street sewer, deflected at Caroline street to the gulch and crossing a number of lots, including those of the syndicate represented by J. P. Christensen, of John Cain and the Terminal Land Company, over whose tideland lot the sewer flows.

Awaited New Council.

Mr. Smith's report covered the various proceedings of the council in regard to this matter. He said that he had preferred to await the conclusion of litigation and the election of a new council before reporting on the situation, and he recommended that the council take no further steps in the matter, relying upon the waivers signed by parties owning or representing the owners of the lots in question as securing the right of way to the city. He expressed the opinion not only that the city's title to the right of way could not be successfully attacked, but also that no such action would be taken by the parties interested.

He said that Mr. Christensen offered to sell the city the two lots of which he was trustee for an additional $300, but upon investigation it was found that there were tax and assessment charges against the lots amounting to $637.91, and could not advise the purchase. Mr. Christensen had been paid $700 for the right of way, and Mr. Cain $200.

Referred to Committee.

Regarding the talk current about a conspiracy, Mr. Smith said the city would gain nothing by taking any steps to verify or disprove the allegation. He advised that the warrant issued to the contractor on the work be paid. According to the statement of the contractors the district had been saved from $3,500 to $4,000 by the deflection of the sewer, and the right of way had cost the city only $1,100.

The report was referred to committee.

Four Clallam County Wives and One Husband Bring Suits.

Half a dozen causes have been docketed for hearing in the superior court next week, with possibly twice as many yet to be placed on the calendar.

New cases filed include five suits for divorce. They are: Ora vs. Con Buchet, divorce; Elizabeth vs. Wilfred Tooth, divorce; Marie J. vs. Antone; Jas. N. N. Lucasen, proprietor of a lodging house and until today of one small horse, has gone to jail. He will be cared for by Sheriff Bishop in that nice, warm suite of apartments in the basement of the county courthouse, where a man can rest easily and ignore the disagreeable qualities of the weather now prevailing.

It was all over the horse. The animal has been wandering around at large and somebody made a complaint. Mr. Lucasen was arrested and taken before the beak, where he was tried upon the charge of "unnecessarily failing to provide the horse with proper shelter." He was quite ably defended by Attorney Wm. B. Ritchie, but his guilt was so apparent that Mr. Ritchie could not get away with it. Judge Zent refused to have the wool drawn over his eyes. Prosecuting Attorney S. C. Rose, more than usually denunciatory, conducted the prosecution. It was a great legal battle.

Judge Zent assessed Mr. Lucasen $5 fine and costs. Lucasen, possessed of a happy thought, offered to give the horse to the judge in place of the fine. But the judge declined the offer with thanks, the judge not being much of a rider, anyway.

Lucasen went out of the court and gave the horse to a young man named Simmonds, who operates a delivery wagon, after all the butchers in town had refused it for sausage meat. Then he called again upon Judge Zent, obtained a commitment and journeyed through the snow to the courthouse, where Sheriff Bishop obliged him with a cell.

Costs amounted to $10. Mr. Lucasen expects that when he emerges the weather will be more pleasant. "I much prefer the jail to paying the fine," he explained.

MOUNTAIN RAILROADS BLOCKED AND MAILS DELAYED — CITIES OF STATE REPORT ON RECENT SEVERE WEATHER.

The cold spell which has prevailed in the Pacific Northwest since Sunday moderated somewhat today, according to advices received by the Herald from outside points. In most sections, however, the change of wind to the westward, raising the temperature considerably, was accompanied by a further fall of snow, which was very heavy in the mountains.

Trans-continental train service is seriously hampered by snow blockades, and mails are delayed. Wire troubles also are general.

Locally snow has been falling intermittently since last night, adding about two inches more to the snow already covering the streets. But the snow is wet and the frost about over for the present.

Various Cities Report.

Mount Vernon reports the coldest weather in five years Monday night, the thermometer registering 6 above zero. The usual results of a cold snap in Western Washington, where cold weather preparedness is unknown, followed, and plumbers are doing a land-office business.

Colville says weather records were broken. A twenty-five-mile northwest gale over a sixteen-inch fleece of new snow would have surprised the earliest settler in the Colville valley. Snowdrifts have piled high over the roads and fences. The low places have been filled so deep that traffic on the county roads has been suspended.

Chehalis reports the coldest weather of the season. Monday and Tuesday night the thermometer touched a point eleven degrees above zero.

Walla Walla Scores Record.

Walla Walla scored the record for the state Tuesday, the temperature at 7 a.m. being two degrees below zero. Plumbers had to work overtime caring for burst water pipes, and wood and coal dealers were flooded with orders.

Hoquiam says that with the worst cold snap in several years holding Hoquiam and the Grays Harbor district since January 2, the city is facing a serious wood shortage, and little relief in sight. Coal is being shipped in and will partially relieve the condition. It is estimated that at least 200 families are out of wood and are not equipped with coal burners.

Wenatchee says that the Big Bend is in the midst of one of the famous winter wind storms, according to telephone reports. A gale is sweeping over the plateau, piling up snow in drifts twenty feet high, blocking all wagon roads. Trains on the Mansfield branch of the Great Northern have been annulled. No attempt will be made to open the line with rotaries until the wind has subsided. The cuts fill up immediately, undoing the work of the plows. The Oroville train is tied up between Okanogan and Omak, bucking its way through the big snow drifts.

Commissioner Hansen Thinks Money Could Be Obtained for an Inexpensive Structure.

At Monday night's meeting of the Commercial Club, County Commissioner Hansen raised the subject of adequate quarters for the organization.

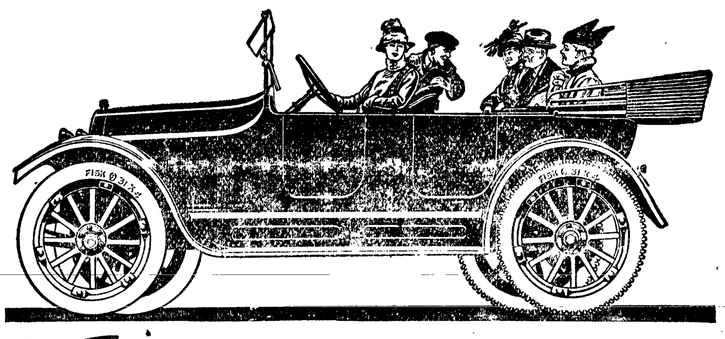
"This place," he said, "for which we pay $20 a month rent, is worth nothing. It ought to be possible to get enough money to build an inexpensive building either on a lot rented or on one of the county lots in the city. I believe there would be no objection to the county renting a lot for that purpose either at Second and Oak street, or at Cherry and Front street. The county might profit by holding on to this property until such time as it is needed for public purposes and temporary use of a lot in the way suggested would be beneficial to all parties."

Lewis Levy thought it would be hard to get the money just now, but might be possible in a couple of months' time.

The quarters of the Commercial Club are old, cold and uncomfortable, and the building long ago was ready for the scrap heap.

Overland

Model 75



$615

With Electric Starter and Electric Lights

Roadster $595, both f. o. b. Toledo

Four Inch Tires

HERE is another Overland Model. A brand new car at a brand new price. Many people prefer a car with the advantages of the larger and higher priced cars but that is smaller, lighter and more economical to run.

Model 75 is a comfortable, family car with virtually all the advantages of the very large cars at a price which is well within your reach.

The body is the latest full streamline design with a one-piece cowl.

It is handsomely finished in solid black with bright nickel and polished aluminum fittings.

Five adults can ride comfortably.

The tires are four inch all around because we believe in the advantage of large tires. They insure greater mileage and comfort than can be obtained from the smaller size used on other cars of similar specifications.

The motor is four-cylinder, long stroke bloc type, having a 3⅛-inch bore and 5-inch stroke. Horsepower is 20-25. It is of the most modern design.

It has high-tension magneto ignition. This is the kind used on the most expensive cars.

The electric starting and lighting system is one of the most efficient on the market. It is of the two-unit type.

The electric switches are conveniently located on the steering column. This is the same arrangement used on the highest priced cars.

It has the easy working Overland clutch which any woman can operate. The pedals are adjustable for reach. The steering wheel is large and turns easily. The brakes are large and powerful.

The rear springs are the famous cantilever type. These are probably the easiest riding and most shock absorbing springs ever designed. With these springs riding comfort is insured.

It has a one-man mohair top.

In short, there is everything that makes this car up-to-date and comparable with many cars costing considerably more money.

You will be delighted when you see it. And when you ride in it you'll know instantly that this is your ideal of a modern automobile at your idea of a moderate price.

Other Overland models are—Model 83 five-passenger touring car $750; the famous Overland Six seven-passenger touring car $1145. All prices being f. o. b. Toledo.
