ADVERTISING THE COUNTY

Being a Few Facts for the Thinking Business Man.

Not long ago we published two articles containing what we believed to be some pertinent facts regarding the above subject. The special edition of the Tribune-Times furnishes the opportunity of giving further point to the line of argument then set forth.

Right here in the beginning we wish to state we are sore — sore and don't care who knows it. We submit that, having the horrible example of the Jessup edition of the Townsend Leader before us, and hence knowing what was coming here, to be wrongfully accused of being disappointed and disgruntled was sufficient to make us sore.

The loudly heralded Sixteen Page Edition of the Tribune-Times contains, at a liberal estimate, three pages of matter of interest to the prospective investor and homeseeker.

The leading article by A. A. Smith is a gem of its kind. To be sure, it is an old story. We have been handed column after column of the same stuff almost every week for years past. The subject has come to be recognized as part and parcel of the editorial columns of the T.-T. It makes us all exceedingly weary. But perhaps such an article is necessary in an opportunity edition that the stranger may understand conditions past, present and future—and long experience has qualified Mr. Smith to treat the subject convincingly.

"Destined Scene of Enormous Activity," by Horace White is good. No man could write a better article on the subject, or cover the ground so thoroly in the limited space at his disposal. The only criticism we could make is upon the statement that railroad construction work has commenced. We believe the railroad will be built. We have believed it in times past. So have others. We were mistaken in our former beliefs. We may be now. Such advertising is held by some as being objectionable in that it causes people to come here, who, to quote the T.-T., "find nothing to do, and are forced to go away again." However, as we have heretofore stated, we are not prepared to admit the coming and going of such people is a disadvantage to us, as a community.

If the Sixteen Page Edition had been gotten up along the line of these two articles it would have been a success, instead of being the laughing stock of the town.

The dairying industry, by Louis R. Flowers, is the best presentation of the subject ever published in an Angeles paper. It is the best we have ever read anywhere, or at any time. Mr. Flowers is thoroly posted. In love with his subject, he puts his facts and figures in an entertaining as well as convincing manner. He believes, as do we, that dairying will be the great future industry of this county and the people who follow it will become not only well-to-do, but wealthy. His facts are surprising, even to the majority of people living here. The article is, without the least doubt, not only the best in the issue, but actually worth more than all else combined—and yet more. Had Mr. Flowers been given two pages of space for the dairying feature, we doubt not he could have utilized them equally to good advantage.

Had Mr. Flowers taken another page to treat of the climate of this particular section, drawing comparisons between it and that of the East; or that of Oregon; or between our climate and that of the Eastern Sound and Gray's Harbor country—showing especially the advantage of our climate to those engaged in dairying and in horticulture; had Mr. Flowers taken up the subject of Horticulture, on which he is as thoroly posted, and gone into it with like detail, the edition would have been an unqualified success. Every line would have been of interest to the prospective homeseeker.

We submit our opinion to the judgment of the business men of Angeles, that advertising along the above lines is just what this county needs.

Officers Re-elected.

At the regular session of the Booster's Club Monday evening, Wm. Barnett was re-elected president; E. A. FitzHenry first vice; E. Christopherson second vice; J. Lloyd Aldwell secretary, and W. S. Caldwell treasurer, all by a unanimous vote. Members of the three standing committees and also of a special park committee will be appointed by Pres. Barnett at the next meeting. W. L. Caldwell, J. Lloyd Aldwell, and E. A. FitzHenry were appointed as committee on taxes. Reports from committees showed favorable progresss in the various lines of work, except that of the matter of street signs, which is still held up in the city council. The secretary was instructed to take up the question of transportation with the steamship companies running boats between Frisco and the Sound.

COUNCIL IS BANQUETED

And Knuckles Down To Carrigan on Railroad Promoters' Franchises.

The Peninsular railroad promoters appeared before the council Tuesday evening, asking for the balance of the city's waterfront, viz: Railroad Avenue between Liberty and Oak and the right to cross streets between Oak and E necessary to be crossed in an extension of Railroad Avenue; and wharfage rights on B and C streets. The proposed ordinances stipulate that surveying must commence by June 1st, that a standard gauge railroad must be completed and in operation to a point at or near Junction City, in Jefferson county, a distance of about 35 miles, on or before June 1st, 1907, and that it shall have its said railway completed to a transcontinental connection at Olympia, on or before December 31, 1908.

The introduction of these ordinances causes no surprise; they have been expected ever since the Peninsular promoters also organized and incorporated the Port Angeles and Olympia.

The party of promoters and gentlemen interested with them arrived in the city Saturday. They were Lester Turner, A. A. Arthur, M. J. Carrigan, E. B. Southworth, L. M. Rice and F. W. Treat. Monday evening they gave the members of the city council a banquet and made known their wants and intentions. They stated that, in financing the Peninsular, or rather in raising funds to construct the first 25 miles westward, which must be completed this year, they were also able to arrange for funds to build 35 miles eastward; that in building east they would require Railroad Avenue and balance of city's streets for wharfs. And also that it was their intention to build at first to Ludlow, southeast of Townsend, thence to connect by ferry with Everett. The franchise is drawn with this point in view, requiring connections at Olympia, or elsewhere, by Dec. 31, 1908, or two and a half years.

On Wednesday evening the council met to go over the ordinances in detail with Mr. Carrigan. Mr. Arthur and Mr. Rice were also present.

It was pointed out that June 1, '07, sixteen months hence, was the first time limit; that the ordinance would not lapse and could not be repealed until that time even should no work be

Royal Baking Powder Absolutely Pure

Made from Pure Grape Cream of Tartar

In baking powder Royal is the standard, the powder of highest reputation; found by the United States Government tests of greatest strength and purity.

It renders the food more healthful and palatable and is most economical in practical use.

Housekeepers are sometimes importuned to buy alum powders because they are "cheap." Yet some of the cheapest made powders are sold to consumers at the highest price.

Housekeepers should stop and think. Is it not better to buy the Royal and take no chances—the powder whose goodness and honesty are never questioned?

Is it economy to spoil your digestion by an alum-phosphate or other adultered powder to save a few pennies?

SLOCUM BOARD TO INVESTIGATE WRECK

High Federal Commission Will Meet In Seattle Within a Few Days to Probe Into Valencia Disaster.

Washington, Feb. 7.—The president took a hand in the Valencia case yesterday. The result of his energetic action will be seen in Seattle early next week, when a high federal commission will meet there to take charge of the investigation into the serious disaster and the scandal and incidents which followed the wreck of the vessel.

The commission includes two members of the commission which investiagted the causes of the General Slocum horror a year and a half ago, will be assisted by Capt. W. T. Burwell, commandant at the Puget Sound navy yard.

The two members who will go from here are Lawrence O. Murray, assistant secretary of commerce and labor, and Herbert Knox Smith, deputy commissioner of corporations. Mr. Murray and Mr. Smith are thoroughly familiar with matters pertaining to the inspection of steam vessels, and the experience they acquired in connection with the General Slocum will be invaluable in the coming investigation at Seattle.

The determination to appoint the commission was reached early in the regular meeting of the cabinet yesterday.

Views of the President.

To the newspaper correspondents the president expressed h's deep concern over the Valencia disaster, and his determination that a searching investiagtion shall be made.

Secretary Metcalf took to the cabinet meeting a number of clippings of editorial and other matter from Seattle papers, and some members appreciated for the first time the real gravity of the disaster to the Valencia and the questionable incidents which followed.

Another important action was taken yesterday, and by the express direction of the president. He instructed the acting attorney general to send a telergam to United States District Attorney Frye, asking if it were true, as reported in a telergam from the Chamber of Commerce that he had said he was called into the investiagtion too late to do anything.

The telegram sharply directed the district attorney to use his best efforts in every way to bring out every fact in connection with the disaster, and with the failure of so-called rescue parties to lend assistance.

"What we want are the facts, and all the facts in this business," said Secretary Metcalf, "and we are going to get them."

Assistant Secretary Murray and Deputy Commissioner Smith will leave for Seattle as soon as they can wind up certain affairs in the department here. They will probpably start tonight or tomorrow morning.

Washington, Feb. 3.—An extraordinary investiagtion of the circumstances surrounding the wreck of the Valencia and the conduct of the officers of the Topeka and Queen, commensurate with the famous inquiry into the General Slocum disaster a year and a half ago, has been ordered by the secretary of commerce and labor. This telegram has been sent by Secretary Metcalf to the local inspectors of hulls and boilers at Seattle:

"Make thorough and searching investigation of Valencia; also full investigation of conduct of officers of steamers Topeka and Queen, pursuant to section 4450, Revised Statutes. Also investiagte all causes of wreck, the loss of life and any misconduct or neglect of duty on the part of any connected therewith. Give public hearings and take testimony of all available survivors of Valencia and of any witness who may desire to be heard. Your investigation must be thorough and complete and your report, with all evidence, forwarded to the department. Also forward me immediately full preliminary reports of facts as now understood."

It has taken a week for the government to realize the extent of the horror, but there is now no doubt that every effort will be made to sift the matter to the bottom and to take such steps as will prevent a repetition of the calamity.

President Roosevelt is thorouughly acquainted with the facts and it is probable that the revenue cutter service will be asked to explain how it was that no vessel of that service reached the scene of the wreck in time to be of assistance. Assistant Secretary Taylor said several days ago, as quoted in these dispatches, that the revenue cutters were under no obligations to go to the asisstance of the Valencia, because she was in foreign waters. It is doubted that the president will be satisfied to draw so fine a line.

The report of the extraordinary investigation just ordered will not pass through the ordinary official channels, but upon its receipt here will be considered by members of the same board that inquired into the General Slocum disaster. This board will report to Secretary Metcalf, and the secretary, in turn, to the president.

Secretary Metcalf was especially interested in the publication of the report that the lifeboat apparatus on the Valencia was defective and that some of the life preservers were made of inferior materials. These matters will be especially investigated.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY FRYE BEGINS INVESTIGATION

Seattle, Feb. 7.—United States District Attorney Frye has begun a personal investiagtion of the Valencia disaster in accordance with instructions received from the attorney general. All witnesses who testified before will be recalled. Cornelius Allison, of St. Paul, one of the survivors of the wreck was the first witness called, and the only one on the first day.

The witness was examined along practically the same lines as when he appeared before the marine inspectors last week. Marine Inspectors Whitney and Turner also interroagted the witness.

Allison has brought action for $5,000 damages against the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, and in his complaint alleges that the officers and crew of the Valencia were incompetent and unskilled and that the equipment of the vessel was faulty.

At the afternoon session, when he again took the stand Inspector Whitney held the complaint in his hand and took each individual charge made against the company as a basis of his suit and cross-examined him upon it. This action of the inspector considerably embarrrassed the witness. The witness was taken over the same ground that the attorney for the company will put him over when the civil suit is tired.

Allison reasserted his previous charge that the Queen could have sent boats in close to the wreck. He declared that a heavy sea was not running at the time and that it was his opinion that boats from the Queen could have been managed as easily as the raft was. He said the raft had been launched but a short time when the Queen turned back for Victoria.

The men on the raft then started to make for land but when they saw the Topeka they turned towards it. Allison also swore that the Whaler Orion went in within 100 feet of the wreck a short time after it was completely submerged.

Allison declared that there was no discipline whatsoever on the Valencia after she struck. The crew ran around in confusion and offered no aid to the passengers.

VALENCIA DEAD NOW ESTIMATED AT 118

Seattle, Feb. 5.—Identification of the body of I. A. Bruer, of Minneapolis, among the bodies picked up from the wreck of the steamer Valencia increases the number of known dead to 118.

Mr. Bruer boarded the Valencia only a few minutes before the ship left San Francisco. His name did not appear in the passenger list, so that it was not known as a certainty that he was on the ill-fated vessel until his body was identified at Victoria by his niece, Miss Mina M. Bruer.

THIRTY BODIES HAVE NOW BEEN RECOVERED

Victoria, B.C., Feb. 5.—A special dispatch to the Associated Press from Bamfield says the United States revenue cutter Perry landed a party at Bamfield creek Saturday and succeeded in getting nine bodies from the beach, and also took off Lieutenant Bromville and six men, left there the previous night. The Perry also picked up one male body at sea, badly decomposed. The United States revenue cutter Grant also found a male body, decomposed and unrecognizable. This is the thirtieth body recovered.

TELL TALES OF HORROR.

Daily Scenes of Blood All Over Russian Empire.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—A Daily News correspondent at St. Petersburg says:

Since the days of Ivan the Terrible Russia has not witnessed such another wholesale slaughter as that now in progress. The daily reports from various parts of the empire seem to rival each other in horror. People are shot without trial for belonging to the Socialist party and for carrying illegal literature or arms. In the province of Velna the governor general has is sued this order to his troops:

"Use your weapons energetically and without fear of responsibility."

Those unable to renew their liecnses are sent to jail for conspiring to diminish the revenue of the state. Where the treasury has been robbed, the generals order the inhabitants to make good the deficiency on pain of having the town destroyed. In places where it is suspected that there are revolutionists, the military chiefs order the townsmen to point out the guilty men or suffer bombardment. In one town where there were no revolutionists, the colonel in command of the troops carried out the threat.

In respect of the Jewish situation, the condition of affairs is appalling. Gomel has been razed by fire and many Jews murdered and burned. Eye witnesses relate that there were only twenty rioters and that the heavy patrols of Cossacks and dragoons did not molest them. Similar massacres are being plotted in other southern towns and the end of the martyrdoms cannot be seen.

INSURANCE DELEGATES PROPOSE NEW LAWS

Chicago, Feb. 5.—Delegates to the national insruance convention have embodied the results of their two days of deilberation in a set of comprehensive resolutions which were subscribed to by the committee as a whole.

Six states voted against the adoption of the resolutions and twenty-three voted in the affirmative. The state of New York, which was represented, did not vote, its delegates declaring that they did not care to express an opinion recommending legislative action until after the presentation of the report of the Armstrong committee.

The future policy of the states and territories represented in the convention was committed to a committee of fifteen members, the power being given to the committee, however, to enlarge its membership as it deems proper.

This committee is to prepare a report which will be submitted at a meeting to be held at the same time as the next meeting of the national insurance commissioners, some time in September in Washington.

In the resolutions adopted the system commonly known as the deferred dividend plan was condemned and declared to be unjust in operation. An annual accounting of the surplus funds in the hands of insurance companies was indorsed and the convention declared for a plan for the government of insurance companies whereby each policy holder shall have a more direct voice in the management of the affairs of the company.

The matter of the investment of the funds belonging to the policy holders and in the hands of the insurance compnaies can not, in the opinion of the convention, be reduced to a uniform basis and must be governed by conditions.

A standard form of insurance policy to the exclusion of all other forms, to be adopted by state legislatures, was declared advisable.

COUNT WITTE HOPES TO APPEASE PEASANTS

St. Petersburg, Feb. 5.—It is stated that the ministerial proposition for the solution of the agrarian question, a successful settlement of which is regarded as the crux of Count Witte's difficult task, is now nearing completion, and will be taken up for consideration by the council of the empire on February 10.

The operation will be accomplished through the Peasants' bank, which will purchase the lands and sell them to the peasantry on the installment system. The difficult point is the large sum necessary to carry out the project. As this is not obtainable in the country, it is necessary to add to the already large sum which must be borrowed abroad to meet the existing deficency in the budget.

The project will be turned over to the douma, Count Witte having repeatedly stated that no measure will be adopted before the convocation of that body.

Perusal of the project for the abolition of capital punishment shows that while the ostensible object of the measure is really a carefully designed plan to strengthen the hands of the government in dealing with armed revolution, it contains a "joker" remov ing certain categories of political crimes from the jurisdiction of certain district courts and making them triable only by court martial.

Lindsley Assistant Attorney.

Spokane, Feb. 3.—Joseph B. Lindsley has been appointed assistant United States district attorney for the Eastern district of Washington. He has been a member in the lower house in the last two sessions of the state legislature, and was a prominent candidate for the position of district attorney when the office was created.

OREGON ELECTION

TEN REFERENDUM MEASURES TO BE VOTED ON IN JUNE.

One Is a Million Dollar Appropriation and Five Others are Constitutional Amendments — Local Option and Equal Suffrage Are on the List to Be Submitted.

Salem, Or., Feb. 5.—Ten measures will be submitted to a vote of the people of Oregon at the general election June 4. One of these is the $1,000,000 appropriation bill upon which the referendum was demanded; five are proposed constitutional amendments and four are laws proposed by the initiative.

Saturday was the last day for filing initiative measures in the office of the secretary of state, and six measures were added to the four already on file. The bills and proposed amendments to be voted on are as follows:

The $1,000,000 appropriation bill passed by the last legislature and held up by referendum petitions.

The local option bill proposed by the Liquor dealers' Association as an amendment to the present local option law.

The bill filed by the owners of the Barlow road, requiring the state to buy the road for the sum of $24,000.

The proposed constitutional amendment filed by the Equal Suffrage league, extending the elective franchise to women.

A bill by the People's Power League making it unlawful for public service corporations to give free passes or free or reduced rate service to public officials.

A bill by the state grange, levying a license tax upon the gross earnings of refrigerator and sleeping cars and oil companies.

A constitutional amendment proposed by the People's Power League to amend section 1 of article 12 so that the public printing will be entirely within the control of the legislature, and may be let by contract, or a printer elected or appointed, upon a salary or other compensation.

RECLAMATION SERVICE AGAINST STATE CLAIM

Washington, Feb. 6.—The reply of the reclamation service to the request of the secretary of the interior for its opinion in regard to the claim of the state of Washington for 55,000 acres of land in the Yakima valley, has been transmitted to the secretary. The reply is entirely unfavorable to the state's claim, as presented by Commissioner Ross.

This was not a surprise, for it has been known from the beginning that only the attitude of the reclamation service prevented the approval of the state's selection.

Secretary Hitchcock has as yet taken no action in regard to the reply of the reclamation service.

ACROSS CHANNEL BY BALLON

Successful Trip Made from London to France.

London, Feb. 5.—The balloon of the Aero Club, which left London Saturday afternoon for France, successfully crossed the channel and descended in safety at Bermouville, twenty miles inland, in France. The entire time consumed from London to the place of descent was four hours and ten minutes. The occupants of the balloon were Messrs. Pollock and Dale, who are members of the Aero Club of the United Kingdom.

A strong northwest gale was blowing during the passage across the channel, which was made in an hour and three-quarters. Once the balloon ascended to 10,000 feet, where a snowstorm was encountered and the entire airship was encrusted with frost.

DO YOU KNOW

That we have sold more goods in our line this season in Port Angeles and vicinity than all of our competitors put together. Why is this? Because people often seeing the trees and plants of others say that our trees are bigger, have better roots, smoother trunks, more shapely heads, and buy of us every time. We warrant our plants and trees to grow and to be true to name. We stand behind to make good every time. We have always done so. We have a full line of goods in 2 and 3 year trees in Fruit and Ornamentals, Strawberry, Raspberry, Blackberry, and Logan Berry plants of the varieties that 15 years of experience have found to be best for Port Angeles. 12, 14, and 16 boxes of apples per tree are some of the records of our trees. We refer to John Hitch, Emil Dermul, and Frank Magley for these records. You can make no mistakes in buying from us. Our trees have done this for others, they will do it for you.

SEGUIN NOTES.

John Jones has purchased ten ton of fine hay of Walter Govan.

Fenton Gennan bought some fine dairy cows first of the week.

The Independent Telephone Co. announces that they will use two more wires on the Angeles line, thus giving parties along the road a chance to get service; they have been requested to do so by Messrs. Wm. Wooding, A. Wilde, Chas. Agnew, and others.

The Couger Mill has its logging road in operation and will start to cut shingles by March 1st. Messrs. Case, Baker & Case will operate it under a lease.

Mrs. James Grant, who was suffering from a severe illness, has entirely recovered.

C. Mullen, who cut his hand very severely some two weeks ago, has been unable to use it ever since and it is unlikely he will be able to for some time to come. He has a large family depending upon him and it would be well if the good people of Seguin would get up an entertainment or dance to help him, and we are sure it would be much appreciated.

J. B. Knapman is contemplating building an addition to the hotel recently purchased of E. T. Huff.

Dr. Mead was in Seguin Wednesday and Thursday attending to his dental practice.

The good weather which has prevailed for the past month still continues. The roads on the prairie are well dried up and in very good condition, but we are sorry we cannot say as much for our neighbors.

J. M. Grant has purchased a forty acre tract on the prairie, of Earnest Webster. Mr. Grant intends to improve same at once.

J. L. Keeler sold a nine acre tract of fine prairie land to E. B. Webster the first of the week at $45 per acre.

There is little excitement here as a result of the Tribune-Times' statement that the railroad is an assured fact, the Seguin residents are too well acquainted with that old story. Such positive statements are not considered good advertising, in view of the past.

M. E. Gibson purchased a fine driving horse last week.

A few more O.I.C. hogs at ten dollars each, J. L. Keeler.

George Snyder.

George Snyder, a well known pioneer of Clallam county and a Mason of forty years standing, died at his home in this city Tuesday morning last, age 79. The funeral was under the auspices of the local lodge of Masons, Rev. W.A. Whelan, Chaplain of the lodge, preaching the sermon at the residence, and the Rev. C. E. Fulmer, S.W., officiating at the grave. Mr. Snyder leaves a widow and scores of friends, all of whom mourn his loss. Interment was at Ocean View cemetery.
