

Cruisin' the Washington Fossil Freeway

with artist Ray Troll and paleontologist Kirk Johnson

"Cruisin' the Fossil Freeway" by Ray Troll

On Exhibit

Port Angeles Main Library
2210 S. Peabody, Port Angeles

360.417.8500 x7705

February 1-April 9

www.nols.org

"Dreams of Didymoceras"
by Ray Troll

"Leaves of the Apocalypse"
by Ray Troll

Exhibit Events

Exhibit Grand Opening Celebration - Friday, February 7, 6:30pm

Celebrate the opening of the Cruisin' the Washington Fossil Freeway Exhibit at the Port Angeles Main Library with artist Ray Troll. Hear the Port Angeles High School Choir Vocal Unlimited "rock" the library, followed by a talk by Ray Troll. Come early to get a seat and view the exhibit.

Art with Ray Troll - Saturday, February 8, 2pm

Learn how to draw cool fish, sharks, dinosaurs and more with Alaskan artist Ray Troll. Pre-registration required. Register online or call 360.417.8500 x7705 for more details.

Fossil Forensics with the Burke Museum - Saturday, March 1, 2pm

Learn about the fossil history of Washington with the Burke Museum and explore the science of fossils through guided inquiry with dozens of museum specimens! Guided by the instructor, children will recognize the differences between fossils and other specimens and understand how fossils can teach us about past environments. Offered for kids grades 2-5.

Pre-registration required. Register online or call 360.417.8500 x7705 for more details.

Dinosaur Extinction with Dr. Greg Wilson - Monday, March 17, 6:30pm

Celebrate St. Patrick's Day talking about dinosaurs! Dr. Greg Wilson, a University of Washington Biology Assistant Professor and Adjunct Curator at the Burke Museum of Natural History will talk about the extinction of dinosaurs and rise of mammals.

Cruisin' the Washington Fossil Freeway was organized by the Burke Museum at the University of Washington, Seattle, in collaboration with Ray Troll and Kirk Johnson. The Washington tour was generously sponsored by Wells Fargo. Exhibit development was supported by the Microsoft Corporation, the Paul G. Allen Family Foundation, and the Pendleton and Elisabeth Carey Miller Charitable Foundation.

The exhibit's appearance in Port Angeles is made possible by the generous support of the Port Angeles Friends of the Library.

Photographs for use in library publicity may be taken at library events.

