Re: Explore Olympic Peninsula Logging History at Clallam Bay and Forks Libraries
Attached: LoggingHistory-Forks.jpg

Immerse yourself in the rich history of the logging industry through a narrated video presentation and discussion. The Olympic Peninsula Logging History program takes place on Friday, Oct. 11, from 5:30 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. at the Clallam Bay Library, 16990 Hwy. 112, and on Saturday, Oct. 12, from 2:30 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. at the Forks Library, 171 S. Forks Ave.

Step back in time and explore a fascinating collection of Olympic Peninsula logging pictures from 1850-1930. Watch a DVD presentation showcasing the historical logging methods used by loggers on the Olympic Peninsula. William Sherrard and Jack Zaccardo organized and narrated the presentation using slides from the Bert Kellogg Photo Collection.

Following the presentation, there will be time for attendees to interact and engage in conversation with each other. Refreshments will be provided.

For more information about this event, visit nols.org/events, call 360-417-8500, or email Discover@nols.org. The presentations are supported in part by local Friends of the Library groups.
