The North Olympic Library System (NOLS) invites the public to a free online event, “Apollo 13: A Successful Failure,” on Wednesday, Jan. 22, beginning at 6 p.m. on Zoom. Join the presentation at NOLS.org/Apollo13.

Apollo 13 astronaut Fred Haise will share his firsthand experience of the 1970 mission that became a celebrated example of ingenuity and teamwork despite an explosion aboard the spacecraft. Haise and his fellow crew members safely returned to Earth thanks to the capabilities demonstrated by the crew and mission support teams.

Logan Jaeren, founder of STEAM4SPACE, will provide an overview of the Apollo 13 mission and Haise's career as a NASA astronaut. A live Q&A session with Haise will follow the presentation.

For information, visit NOLS.org/events, call 360-417-8500, or email discover@nols.org.

Astronaut Fred Haise will discuss his experience on the Apollo 13 mission at a free virtual library event.
