Free movie screenings are offered on the fourth Friday of March and April at the Sequim Library Temporary Location (609 W. Washington St.). The after-hours showings begin at 6:30 p.m.

On March 28, watch the comedy-drama “Are You There God? It’s Me, Margaret.” (2023; rated PG-13.) This film adaptation of Judy Blume’s 1970 novel follows the experiences of an 11-year-old girl as she contemplates life, friendship, and adolescence.

On April 25, the library will show “Jerry and Marge Go Large” (2022; rated PG-13), a comedy-drama based on a true story of a long-married couple that uses their lottery winnings to revive their small town.

This program is generously supported in part by Friends of Sequim Library. For additional information on programs at your library, visit NOLS.org/events, email discover@nols.org, or call 360-683-1161.
