Re: North Olympic Library System wants your ideas for the future

The North Olympic Library System (NOLS) is seeking community input to help shape its next five-year Strategic Roadmap. Whether you visit the library every week or haven't been in years, NOLS wants to hear from you.

To share your ideas, take a survey online at NOLS.org/survey, or pick up a paper copy at any NOLS branch, including the Bookmobile. The survey is also available in Spanish. Responses will be collected through Saturday, Aug. 30.

"Success to me looks like everyone in Clallam County having a free library card. I believe everyone should have access to free knowledge, opportunities and a welcoming space to connect with others," said NOLS Executive Director Noah Glaude. "This survey is your chance to help us create a library system that meets your needs and grows with you into the future."

As part of the 2026-2030 Strategic Roadmap development, NOLS has also been gathering feedback from staff through workshops at each branch. Feedback collected from staff and through the community survey will be analyzed and presented to the NOLS Board of Trustees in the fall.

Glaude has identified four areas of focus to help guide the strategic planning process:

Collections and Services that Matter – Providing the right tools, books and resources to support education, entertainment, connection and discovery.

Outreach and Accessibility – Making library services easier to access, whether at a branch, online, or across the county with the Bookmobile and home delivery.

Fun and Engaging Programming – Offering meaningful events and learning opportunities for all ages.

Supporting Our Local Economy – Connecting job seekers, entrepreneurs and small businesses with the resources they need to thrive.

What does success for NOLS look like to you in 2030? Your survey response will help NOLS design a future that reflects the values, aspirations and practical needs of our community.
