Re: Mehndi Madness for young adults at the Sequim Library

On Thursday, June 30 at 1pm at the Sequim Branch of the North Olympic Library System, young adults in grades 7-12 are invited to learn about the history and traditional uses of henna, and create temporary body art.

This event is part of You Are Here, the North Olympic Library System's annual summer reading program for teens and tweens, which begins on Monday, June 20 and ends on August 6. You Are Here encourages teens and tweens to continue reading during the summer months when school is out by offering free events and prizes. Young people throughout the County are encouraged to read books and submit written reviews at any of the four North Olympic Libraries: Port Angeles, Clallam Bay, Forks, and Sequim, to become eligible to win a Nook e-reader.

Mehndi Madness Inc. was founded in Edmonds, WA by Krysteen Lomonaco in 1998. She emphasizes natural temporary tattoos and strives to educate people about the rich culture and traditions of Henna and Jagua body art. All supplies will be provided. The products used are non-toxic, safe for any age, and guaranteed to be a hit! As space is limited, pre-registration is required. Call (360) 683-1161 or email Sequim@nols.org to sign up.
