Re: Graphic arts workshops at the Sequim Branch Library

Port Gamble S'Klallam artist Jeffrey Veregge will visit the Sequim branch of the North Olympic Library System (NOLS) to lead two free graphic arts workshops on Saturday, October 15. The workshops, presented in collaboration with the Jamestown S'Klallam Tribal Library, will explore the art of comic books and creating comic book cover art, and will take place in two sessions: the first, recommended for children ages 7-12, will take place from 10:30am to 11:45am, and the second session for ages 13-21 will be offered from 12:30pm to 1:45pm. Space in each workshop is limited, and preregistration is required. To register, visit the Sequim Branch Library events calendar at www.nols.org, call the library at 360.683.1161, or send an email to youth@nols.org. All materials will be provided.

About the artist

Jeffrey Veregge is a Native American artist and writer from the Port Gamble S'Klallam Tribe. An honor graduate of the Art Institute of Seattle, Veregge enjoys taking his passions and blending them with his Native perspective, artistic background, and the desire to simply be himself. "Basically I am just trying to have fun and get back to that kid that went to art school to begin with," he said. To learn more, visit the artist's website at www.jeffreyveregge.com.
