As part of the North Olympic Library System's annual Summertime Music! Outdoor Concert Series, Joy in Mudville will be performing at the Sequim Branch Library on Friday, August 25, at 6pm on the outdoor stage behind the library.

About the band

Joy In Mudville includes Jason Mogi and Kim Trenerry (co-founders of popular Olympic Peninsula bands Deadwood Revival and Tongue & Groove), Paul Stehr-Green (The Cornstalks and The Crocs), Terry Smith (The Soulshakers, Haywire, and The Olympic Big Band) and Mike Echternkamp (Windowpane). "Joy In Mudville combines influences from old-time bluegrass, folk, rock, country, blues, and funk with Jason on clawhammer banjo/acoustic & electric guitar/vocals, Kim on acoustic guitar/vocals, Paul on bass/vocals, and Terry or Mike on drums. Whether an original tune, a driving barn-burner, some roots-rock or one of many Grateful Dead covers, their music is super-high-energy with tight harmonies, clever arrangements, and grooves that make you wanna bust out those dancin' shoes." (from band's website)

This performance will take place on the outdoor stage behind the Sequim Branch Library. In case of rain or inclement weather, it will be held indoors at the Library.

More Information

In the case of rain or inclement weather, this concert will be held indoors at the Sequim Branch Library.
