The Hearts of Horses by Molly Gloss will be discussed at 3pm on Saturday, November 18, at the Sequim Branch of the North Olympic Library System (NOLS). The discussion has been moved from its regularly schedule time on the second Saturday of the month due to Veterans Day.

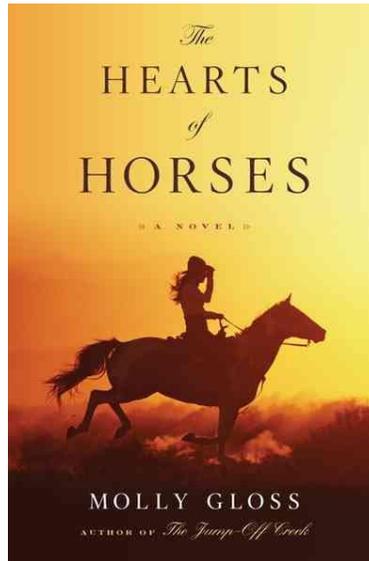

“A female broncobuster? It seems doubtful, but with most of the able-bodied men off fighting in World War I, Oregon rancher George Bliss decides to take a chance on Martha Lessen. Barely 19 years old, Martha has three times the natural horse sense as more seasoned wranglers. With a talent for breaking horses to saddle in a uniquely gentle way, she soon proves herself in a man's world, becoming an indispensable part of the fabric of the community in the meantime. Martha's tail end of the frontier adventures is chronicled in a delightfully down-home, matter-of-fact voice by the author of The Jump-Off Creek.” (Booklist Reviews)

Copies of The Hearts of Horses are available in various formats including regular print, large print, eBook, audio eBook, and book on CD. They can be requested online by visiting the library catalog at www.nols.org.
